Rotarians To Observe 57th Anniversary

This week the Rotary Club of Ranger will observe the 57th anniversary of the founding of Rotary, world-wide service organization of business and professional men.

In observing the occasion, the Ranger club joins a worldwide celebration planned by more than 11,000 Rotary Clubs in 120 countries.

A distinctive aspect of the 11,000-plus weekly Rotary meetings held around the globe is the many languages spoken at these gatherings. They include Arabic, Afrikaans, Portuguese, Welsh, Gaelic, Hebrew, Tamil, Korean, Tagalog, Icelandic, and many others.

But diversity of tongues in no way hinders the efforts of Rotarians to further world understanding through personal contacts at international Rotary gatherings and through inter-country exchanges of correspondence, programs, publications, and of students who cross boundary lines to live and study in another nation under various plans of Rotary clubs.

Ranger Woman Charged In Justice Court Here Friday

Mrs. John T. Robertson of Ranger, entered a plea of not guilty to charges alleging attempt assault and murder with a motor vehicle Friday morning in Justice of the Peace Ruby Springer's court.

Mayor Newham told the audience that the city was making an effort to pay off bonded indebtedness of the city and recently purchased $30,000 worth of bonds. He said that it is difficult for the city to pay off this indebtedness and still offer job service to citizens of Ranger.

Sections discussed were: Miss Maddocks, South Hedges; Mrs. Pulley, Main Street and Hodges; W. J. Sipes, Lakeland Addition; and Dr. Nickels, Cooper Addition.

Three tickets were issued to Mrs. Robertson, including negligent collision, failure to stop and render aid and leaving the scene of an accident.

School Board Discusses Area Consolidation

"No official action for or against the consolidation of the six districts of this area has been taken by the Desdemona School Board," said John Holland, president of the board. The board discussed the situation at length. "Some members indicated that they had signed the petition, not necessarily indicating favor of the move, but a desire to have the move voted upon by the people of this area," according to Holland. He stated "As a quit, the board is desirous of making it clear that they have not acted in any way."

Thomas A Edison

The challenging words of Thomas A. Edison, whose birthday, February 11, opens National Electrical Week, are a constant reminder to seek new efficiencies that will help serve you better and make your electric service an even greater value.

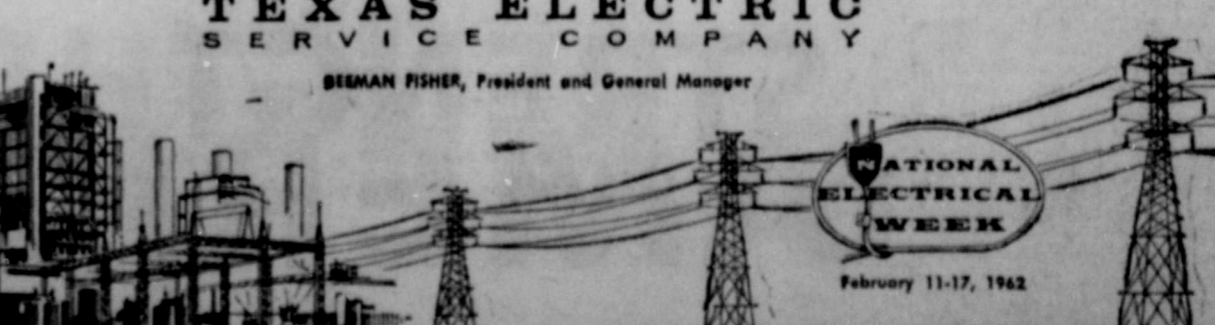

The electric power systems of only a relatively few years ago cannot compare in efficiency with the electric generating, transmission and distribution systems of today.

Each new Texas Electric power generating plant, the power lines, and all of the many other facilities have been designed to take advantage of the advancing technological knowledge in the industry.

Texas Electric has pioneered in the construction of outdoor-type power plants which have made possible new efficiencies and economies in power plant construction. A new steel-tower transmission line now under construction will ultimately carry more efficient, higher voltages than were possible just a few years ago.

Through research, such as participation in the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, the company is looking to the future. You may be sure that Texas Electric will continue to seek the better way to keep electric service constant and dependable.

Texas' 49th Division On Field Maneuvers

The 49th Armored Division culminated 12 weeks of intensive combat training Feb. 12-15 with the largest field maneuver in its 15-year history. Operation Anvil. Many men from Ranger will participate in the maneuvers.

The former National Guard division, called to federal service at the height of the Berlin crisis last fall, will move to the field with some 15,000 well-trained, fully-equipped soldiers, most of whom are Texans.

For them, Operation Anvil will be the pinnacle of a rigid training period that has brought the division from a partially-trained National Guard unit to a combat-ready Army fighting machine.

will help prepare the unit for the actual maneuver. Maj. Pressley Garrett, an assistant in the G3 Section which has charge of training said, "A command post exercise is one in which all moves are made on paper. No one will be driving a tank, digging a foxhole or handling a rifle."

"But each individual will be involved, just the same. He will be a figure on paper to be manipulated by the commander."

Following the CPX, the field work begins. The entire division pulls out to test the ground what was worked out on paper. Its units will stretch to all areas of spacious Fort Polk.

Since the division arrived at Fort Polk during the latter part of October, the men have been trained progressively. Maj. Garrett explained that "they trained first at individual and small section levels, then at platoon and company and on up through battalion and combat command."

"Now they're ready to put all this together for the division's first full-scale maneuver," he said. "During this problem the men will eat and sleep on the run 24 hours a day a simulated combat situation to test the readiness of the division," he added.

The entire division has moved to the field on several occasions during annual summer encampments at Ford Hood, Tex., as a National Guard unit, but not on a division-wide maneuver of this size.

Operation Anvil doesn't end the division's training. Following the initial training period, operational readiness training goes into effect. Lt. Col. Karl E. Wallace, the division's general staff officer in charge of training, said, "They'll start over on their weak points and retrain."

Plenty of familiarization on weapons firing, battlefield tactics, camouflage and concealment procedures, medical evacuation practices and proper processing of prisoners is slated for the Lone Star Division.

Plans are also in the mill to familiarize each man with the Army's new M-14 rifle and the machine gun.

The 49th Armored division, one of two National Guard divisions mobilized when the Berlin crisis worsened and the only one of its type ever called to active duty, had 95 units in 74 Texas towns.

TELEPHONE TALK
by Archer R. Marx, Jr., Manager

SPECIAL KIND OF LANGUAGE

Ever occur to you how often on the telephone you say "Thanks for Calling" and "I'll Call You Back" . . . or "Give Me A Ring"? Probably not, for these like many other expressions we use almost every day have become as common-place to us as "Good Morning" or "How Are You?"

When we say "Thanks for Calling," example, we seldom stop and consider the wonderful convenience of just being able to talk to a friend or relative by phone—at any time of the day or night. And when we ask someone to "give us a ring," we rarely think of the vast amount of telephone equipment needed to bring the voices we want to hear into our homes from almost anywhere in the world.

Telephoning has become such a habit in our everyday living that we take it for granted. So it's only natural that telephone expressions have become a part of our everyday language.

SHOPPING BY PHONE

I have a neighbor who has three small children, all of them under five years of age. As most of you mothers can appreciate, raising a lively young family is quite a chore. My neighbor's three youngsters keep her pretty well tied up, too. "How do you do it?" I asked her the other day. "Of all people, you should know," she replied. And then she started a commercial. I should confess it was music to my ears.

"When you have to do everything for three small children, it's not easy to leave the house even for essential shopping," she said. "I've really appreciated our telephone. I can do all my shopping and visiting in a matter of minutes without ever leaving the house."

"I couldn't have done a better job if I had written the script myself," I told her.

Shopping by phone saves wear and tear on tires and shoe leather—and people—and will give you more time to do other things that crowd your busy day. Why not try it?

CAN PEOPLE FIND YOU?

The time is here again for new Ranger telephone directory. Will your name, your son or daughter's name, be in our new directory? A missed call for a date could be rather disappointing to a teenager. Their own name in our new Ranger directory is only 30¢ a month, or a penny a day for better, more complete service for your family. Remember, anyone living in your home can be listed in our newbook. Don't forget, the deadline is February 19. Call the Business Office now.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

"Strengthen America . . .
Character Counts"

The purpose of Scouting as stated in the Federal Charter granted by Congress on June 15, 1916, 'shall be to promote, through organization and co-operation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train themselves and others, to train them in scoutcraft and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues by placing emphasis upon the Scout Oath or Promise and Law for character development, citizenship training and physical fitness.'

Under their new program of national purpose today's 3,800,000 boys and 1,400,000 adult volunteer leaders have adopted the theme: "I Will Do My Best to Build, to Serve, and to Achieve."

EMPHASIS

The emphasis of this years Boy Scout Week is on the Boy Scout Family. Scouting contributes to family life in American and recognizes the contribution families make both to Scouting and the American way of life. The movement will recognize and dramatize the family as a tremendous important facet of America's strength.

SALUTING OUR LOCAL . . . BOY SCOUTS 52nd ANNIVERSARY

We extend our sincere congratulations to all the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and Scout leaders for their contribution in making our community a better place to live. These boys and men can be justly proud of being members of the Boy Scouts of America. This organization, locally and nationally, has done a marvelous job in helping boys to become well-informed, well-adjusted members of our society.

One Thing After Another—

... can and may happen in the life-span of every business. Good years and bad follow one another in quick succession. The same is true in the work we do or the profession we follow. If we own real estate, for example, the titles are subject to the ups and downs of every-day happenings. There are numerous pitfalls that can wreck a title in a single day, some of them beyond your control. The abstractor is your title guardian—advise with him often.
