Around Town

No Major League Baseball game has ever been played with more determination than the Little League games of the Ranger Little League. This can be substantiated by a look at the scores.

All are very close and hard fought games. I can very well see why they have the support they do — justly deserve.

In a little chat over coffee, Don Yarbrough, president of the Ranger Jaycees told me that the ladies are also carrying their share of the work load in the rebuilding of the Rodeo Arena.

Rosy cheeks and frilly dresses have turned into sunburned cheeks and paint splattered blue jeans. The girls are painting just about everything out there.

Before we leave the subject of the re-activated rodeo program I will pass along another bit of news. Don says that box seat sales are going fast and if anyone wants to be sure of a good seat at every rodeo, they had better hurry and get their box seats now. He has a few left.

Passed the new Convalescent Home this evening about sundown and saw Dr. and Mrs. Watkins leaping against a star horse. I'll bet a shiny new dime their thoughts and conversation were on landscaping. Any takers?

It's nice to hear people say good morning again.

I was the guest of Mr. W. T. Eaton at the Rotary luncheon and meeting Wednesday, at which Mr. W. F. Creager Executive Vice president of the Commerce State Bank of Ranger was the speaker.

After many apologies for not having prepared a program Mr. Creager proceeded to give a very enlightening program indeed. He talked on various aspects of the Banking Industry which most of us outside that field have very little knowledge.

After all these years I now find out that Banking is not all 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

While visiting a man who recently retired to a farm (if one can actually retire to a farm). He told of going into the woods and picking acorns so that his few pigs might have a little treat. He said his thoughts at the time were, "Is the first time in my life that I could afford to pick acorns". It is strange perhaps that a little comment like that might make so much sense. When was the last time you picked an acorn?

I was invited out by Mr. Don Yarbrough Thursday to hear the Lions roar.

We were shown films from the recent Minstrel Show which was produced by the Lions Club and starring the Lions Club and many other non-Lion cats. Although the room in which the films were shown was not exactly as dark as an indoor movie house, I was able to see enough to come to the conclusion that everyone had a heck of a good time and in doing so put on a very entertaining show.

18 New Members Join Chamber Of Commerce Here

Membership for the Ranger Chamber of Commerce has climbed to 119, with the addition of 18 new members, it was revealed at the monthly meeting of the directors of the organization last Wednesday. Five old members have also increased their annual dues. President Richard E. Henderson presided at the meeting and reports from the various committees were presented. During the six April track meets which were held at the new cinder track at the Ranger Junior College hundreds of athletes and coaches were brought into town. Securing accommodations for these visitors was a part of the active work of the chamber.

American Legion Memorial Service Is Set May 26

The Ranger American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary have preparations for the Memorial Day Services well underway.

The services will be held at Evergreen Cemetery at 3 p. m. Sunday, May 26th.

The Legion and the Auxiliary have been working hard and long hours to make this service the very best ever. Everyone having a plot at the Park is urged to see to it that it is clean and cared for prior to day of the Memorial Services.

Mrs. Powell of the Women's Auxiliary reports that the Monument will soon be up. The Monument will carry names of men who lost their lives in the service of our Country. The listings on the Monument will start with the Civil War and run progressively through all wars in which the United States has been involved; the Spanish American War, World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

The Monument will also list the names of all other men who have lost their lives through the service of their country other than in battle. Mrs. A. H. Powell of the American Legion Women's Auxiliary reports that Tuesday at 4 p. m. will be the cut off time for getting names on the Monument. If you have someone's name that you would like to have on the honored roll please call Mrs. Powell while there is still time. The men of the Legion have been working on the foundation for the monument and it is nearing completion.

10-10 C. B. Club Meeting Tuesday

The Eastland County Ten-Ten C. B. Club will meet Tuesday, May 14, at Smith Brothers Chevrolet Co. in Gorman. The club has recently been accepted in the Radio Emergency Association of Citizens Teams and stickers and cards will be distributed at the Gorman meet.

Other business include the discussion of details of the club picnic and plans will be made to assist with the Type III polio vaccine drive to be held in Eastland, May 18.

All persons interested in citizens band radio, wives and visitors are welcome to the meeting. Darrell Basham of Eastland, said.

Frank Miller Elected RJC Band President

Ranger Junior College Band students held the annual election, Wednesday, May 8, in the band hall with close races for key posts resulting in David McCarty from Fort Worth, being named the "Outstanding Bandsman of the Year".

McCarty has served the 1962-63 school term as president of the band.

Frank Miller a student from Ranger was elected president. James Loven from Fort Worth was elected vice-president in a close runoff, and Butch Owen, a student from Ranger was named sophomore councilman. The freshman councilman will be named in September, 1963, when the incoming freshman students enroll in the band.

Gracie Tankersley, student from Eastland, won in the runoff for the place of secretary.

The band, under the direction of Roger C. Martin, has had a very successful year. It was organized in August, 1962, under Martin and has built up a sizable reputation in the short time since then. The band marched in the Cotton Bowl Parade, was the only band in Texas invited to play at the opening of the Neuman-Marcus store in Fort Worth, has completed a spring tour, playing in 16 high schools in as many towns in a 150-mile radius of Ranger, has played at all at-home and out-of-town football games, has marched in three local parades, and has played for assembly at Hardin-Simmons University.

The full band program includes the marching band, the stage band, and the concert band, and then the Dixie Downbeats have organized to play for local parties and college dances.

Tony Torres of Fort Worth is drum major and will again hold his post next year.

A. L. Larson Retires From Texas Electric Co.

A. N. Larson, manager of the Texas Electric Service Company, for the Ranger area for 40 years, retired on May 1, after a notable record with his company and a long record as a civic leader in Ranger. He has been actively connected with many phases of development for the town during all that period of time.

Born in Northern Wisconsin in 1896, he served in the army during and before World War I, for three and one-half years, one of which was on the Texas-Mexican border. He was later stationed at Waco, with the 32nd Division and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the latter part of the war and transferred to the 3rd Division, where he served until July, 1919, in Germany. He moved to the States in September, 1919, and has lived in Texas since that time.

He married in the spring of 1920 and moved to Ranger where he was employed by the Oil Cities Electric Co., which later became the Texas Electric Service Co., and has been their Ranger manager since 1923, with the last year and half as consultant. He was twice president of the Chamber of Commerce, member of the school board for 14 years, past president of the Ranger Lions Club, member of the Board of Stewards for 20 years and its chairman for four years.

Heading a committee from the Lions Club, he was instrumental in obtaining the land for the Willows Park on West Main Street, donating one lot personally. All of the land for the park was donated to the city without cost to them.

Mr. Larson is past president of the Ranger Lions Club and has been an active member for 40 years. During the same span of time, he was intermittently a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and was a WTCC director for three years. His special interest was highways and he headed many chamber of commerce committee groups on trips to Austin in the interest of highways that would benefit Ranger.

Mr. Larson organized the first chamber of commerce tour advertising the Ranger Junior College in which over 100 cars participated. These tours were annual affairs for several years and did much to bring the college before the people of this section.

He headed a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to secure the local lightweight aggregate plant, which was later taken over by the Featherlite corporation, and has grown to be one of the largest lightweight aggregate plants in the world, working about 80 people and operating 24 hours a day.

Larson also headed a committee from the Ranger Lions Club that sponsored the organization of the Ranger Country Club, and he and other mem-

Accident Injures Odessa Couple

The automobile in which Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Reese of Odessa, Texas were riding overturned near Thurber Wednesday injuring both occupants.

The cause of the accident was not definitely known but Mr. Reese reports that it was apparently a blow out which sent his car out of control and caused the back wheels to leave the pavement. The car overturned two times coming to rest on its top near the fence across the ditch from the highway.

Mr. Reese was thrown from the car and was rendered unconscious for several minutes and, as a result was a little cloudy about the details. Mr. Reese received three broken ribs in addition to the many cuts and bruises on his head and arms.

Mrs. Reese who remained in the car during the accident received cuts and bruises about the head, arms, legs and feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese are former residents of Ranger and plan to return to their home here in the near future.

Second Year Chapter Farmer pins. Six received Third Year Chapter Farmer pins.

Dwight Rogers who received the Chapter Star Farmer Award has been recommended for the Lone Star Farmer Degree, which, if approved will be awarded at the State convention at Tarleton State College in July. Only the top 2 percent of the State are eligible for this award.

Mr. B. S. Dudley Jr. Agriculture Teacher at the Ranger High school reports that he and two delegates from this chapter will attend the Area Convention at Tarleton State College Saturday.

Joe Bradford Listed On ACC Honor Roll

Joe Michael Bradford, Abilene Christian College senior, has been listed on the Dean's honor roll for receiving twelve hours of A during the fall semester.

Bradford, an agronomy major, is an officer in the Trojan social club and the Agronomy Club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bradford of Route 3.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY, GRANDMOTHER

Grandmother is better known as "Mamaw Maudie" to her seven grandchildren. When asked what brings her the greatest joy and happiness, she quickly replies, "My grandchildren — I hope I never get so old I don't enjoy children."

Several years ago, Mrs. Carroll underwent very delicate eye operation and was so thankful that even with limited vision she could see her loved ones and her friends, including many of the younger set. In discussing this with a friend one day, she calmly remarked, "It's good to see them, but I already know what they really looked like from the deeds they had done. People who do beautiful things are beautiful people." This could go a long way in revealing just how one looks to other people.

Mrs. Carroll, daughter of Mrs. Ira Uutz, was born August 18, 1910, in Stephenville, later moving to Ranger, a brother, Bill Johnston, lives in Ranger, and another brother Joe lives in Odessa.

The first seven year school years were spent in a special school in Austin where highly skilled teachers taught her Braille. Later, she went to Ranger High School. This was hard — no, not because she couldn't grasp it, it was because in her former training extreme emphasis was placed upon specialized courses, preparing her for the things which she would encounter each day. From the first grade, she had received lessons on cooking, sewing, typing, music, etc. Public school systems did not present programs such as this.

Her school days in Austin are filled with memories of endless pleasure. She firmly believes every girl should have the rewarding experience of going off to school that, within itself is an education, she contends. She vividly recalls the time when the class, consisting of 36 girls her own age, didn't want to be outdone by an older group who had sort of played hockey and received the equalizing punishment for such. So they decided they would not show up for classes at their appointment.

ed time. When the teacher called, they all scrambled to an adjoining closet that is, all did, except three who decided to report at once to class. Well, the little storage room was not exactly meant for 33 little giggling, active girls. Teacher showed up to see about the girls and why they had not reported — now, being used by the pranks and capers that only the young get away with, the school marm quickly surmised the situation and with a quick twist of the wrist, locked the door to the hideaway. "Sardines were never packed tighter," Mrs. Carroll said. A window supplied plenty of air, but did nothing to help (Continued on Page Eight)

Hoover Food Store Entered By Burglars

Hoover Food Store of Ranger lost approximately $50 in money and a small amount of cigars and cigarettes as burglars entered their building last Thursday night. The store was entered through a rear window. Police Chief Bill Ogden reported that a man was being held in the city jail Saturday for questioning in the case.

Dress right! It is a great idea, but what does it mean? While there are many interpretations of this phrase, here are some suggestions for a more helpful.

The tips are from the American Institute of Men and Boy's Wear, and can serve as basic guidance for selection of apparel.

1. The Suit. As the foundation for any wardrobe, the suit should be selected carefully with an eye to appropriateness, flexibility and quality. Three suits for winter and three of lighter weight for summer wear are the suggested minimum for a man in the public eye.

2. The Accessories. A wise selection of a wide range of accessories will add color and variety to your suit. One bold touch is enough for any ensemble. Do not use checks on checks, or stripes on stripes, unless you have the skill to do it properly. No single element should clash with any other.

3. The Shirt and Tie. Consider these points: Does the collar style flatter your face? Does the style of the shirt blend with the suit or sport-coat or general style of your outfit? And does the color and patterning of the shirt match the occasion? Neckwear is one of the best ways of expressing yourself.

4. The Hat. Many fashion authorities and most businessmen believe you cannot be correctly dressed without a hat. Besides its practicality, a hat adds a touch of maturity, and assurance flattering to every man.

5. The Shoes. The really well-dressed man gives his shoes as much attention as any other item. Shoes are chosen to complement the color and style of the suit.

6. The Outerwear. The choice of overcoats and outercoats should be in keeping with the tenor of the wardrobe. The current trend is toward shorter, height-adding lengths.

7. The Measure of Fashion. Watch for the following indications of poor fit in a garment and make sure they are marked for alteration: wrinkles in the coat, trouser sag, too much or too little collar exposed, cuffs too long or too short and improper coat length.

8. The Basic Ingredients. Next to an adequate wardrobe of appropriate-fitting clothes, the most important ingredient in dressing right is good grooming. A daily shave, shower and change of linen, regularly scheduled hair cuts and nail trims, a clean shirt and a pressed suit, polished shoes. All of these are musts for the well-dressed man.

9. The Care. Proper care and cleaning of your wardrobe will increase its useful life. A well-organized clothes closet, trips to the dry cleaner, careful packing and a small investment in wear and care accessories, like shoe trees, wishbone hangers and a shine kit, are a vital part of dressing right.

10. The overall effect. The size and variety of your wardrobe is determined by what you need and can afford.

RJC Canadian Student Tastes West Texas Sand

Ernie Huykman, a Canadian student at Ranger Junior College, got his first taste (no pun) of West Texas sand last weekend while a visitor in Crane, Texas.

He had accompanied Craig Adams, RJC golfer from McCarney, to West Texas where Adams was playing in the Crane Invitation Golf Tournament, at Crane Country Club. Huykman said he noticed all the excitement as a dirty looking cloud began moving in from the Northwest but not until the thing hit did he realize just what they meant by "a sand storm coming in".

The 65-mile-an-hour wind brought in a rain and the temperature dropped from 92 degrees to 57 degrees in a short time. This was about 5 p. m. Saturday.

Huykman was quite impressed, though it didn't seem favorably so, with West Texas weather. He said he had heard about it but "truly, you have to see it to believe it".

Sporting a bright pink complexion, the blonde Huykman said he received the burn from following Adams around the golf course. To some of those initiated to West Texas sand storms, the suspicion is that a lot of it is wind and sand-burn. "Anyway, it was really something. It surely makes the country around Ranger look lush," he said.

Incidentally, the golf finals were called off because of the weather and Adams is one of the four finalists who will play the last 9 holes of medal play, Saturday, May 11.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation 109. At all drug counters.

Magnified a Thousand Times
... is the common conception that it makes no difference, so why worry? The fact that a loaf of bread is taxed about 70 times has little outward criticism from the masses as we resolve ourselves into the complacent attitude that we can do nothing about it. But we should! It isn't Communism, nor Cuba, nor unpredictable Russia that are our greatest threats to survival, but taxes. If you happen to be a common laborer are one of thousands of small business men, better wake up!

A SAD STORY
FOR SALE

Behind many "For Sale" signs there is a sad story: A family borrowed more than they could afford to pay for a home, or payments and interest rates were too high; the home had to be sold, often at a loss. This tragedy could often be avoided if the families would seek help from a home loan specialist, such as our Association.

We work with you to arrange for a loan that's as easy to handle as monthly rent.

Mrs. Alworth Continues Trip To Istanbul

(Editor's note: This is the second article concerning travels of Mrs. C. D. Alworth and two friends in Europe.)

Wednesday, March 27th, we were not in such a hurry and got away about 9 a. m. The drive was pleasant and pretty, passing along the coast, the inland past several lakes, and up the usual winding hilly road and sharply down again to the very lovely town of Kavala. It has a wonderful setting, it is divided into two and each part sits on a steep hill with a narrow strip in the middle. On one hill, there are the ruins of an old Frankish fort and also a long Roman aqueduct. Very romantic-looking indeed, but on going through the actual town, there is plenty of squalor. It is, however, the center of the tobacco industry in that area, and has some lovely homes, and quite large foreign colony, some of whom have retired there. The mountains in the background were still thickly covered with snow, and the view was most impressive.

The weather by now was clearing nicely, and we hiked along merrily in pretty country, very neat and tidy and all spring planting done and showing lovely patterns of green and brown, like a patchwork quilt. By now, we were seeing storks galore, every village had its quota of nests on house chimneys and the churches. Also since we were getting nearer the Turkish frontier, we began to see signs of the century-long Turkish occupation of Greece. There were mosques and minarets in many villages, and we even noticed the Turkish influence in dress, though there are also some citizens of Greece who are still Moslem. We saw several old men in the black Turkish baggy trousers, and very many of the women were swathed in long black shawl-ulster combination, and some even wore Turkish trousers. None had their faces veiled, though they pulled their shawl tightly around their head.

We entered Komotini, which is a very Turkish looking village, and which obviously contains many Moslems. Along here, we drove over a causeway, which is rather reminiscent of Florida. It runs between a lagoon of very shallow stagnant water and an equally shallow arm of the sea. It was somewhat smelly. The road then became much hillier, and we ascended for some miles around the usual horrible curves, with every now and then a bus or a truck charging around the corner, always on the wrong side. This was my first experience of driving on this kind of a road, but I heard no gasps from Vito, so concluded I was doing all right. She didn't talk much, however! At one point, round a long shallow curve on the downward side, there was a lovely view of snow-clad mountains in the background.

We arrived at the last large town and port this side of the frontier, Alexandroupolis, at about 5 p. m. and stayed at the Tourist Hotel, bang on the sea. All around here, there were evidences of heavy flooding after rains, and the hotel garden was one mass of mud. The main floor had even been inundated, and still looked muddy.

Up to this point, we had had no trouble with the road surface, except in a few spots, where the heavy winter snows and frosts, most unusual this year, as elsewhere in Europe, had damaged the road. There were a lot of pot holes and it was impossible to avoid every one as one was driving. But the Ford took them pretty well, though it was a bit of a strain on us two drivers. We had intended to take what we term "the low road" into Istanbul, as it is much shorter, but we had been warned that if the weather had not dried up, it would be impossible to a heavy American car. We asked the Tourist Police for in-

Students of the Texas government class of Ranger Junior College returned to Ranger Thursday night from their field trip to Austin, where they gained firsthand information about the operation of various aspects and agencies of the state government. The consensus is that the trip was a profitable one for students of government.

Upon arrival in Austin the group toured the Governor's mansion and then had lunch in the Employment Commission Building. Next they visited the Sam Houston State Office Building, where former Ranger attorney L. H. Flew-eilen, member of the Texas Board of Control, explained the operation of the Board to them.

They spent some time in the State Archives Building where they examined important historical documents and artifacts deposited there, and then went to the Senate and galleries where the group was recognized and introduced from the floor by Senator Tom Creighton in the Senate and Representative Wayne Gibbs in the House. Of special interest were the discussions heard of the San Angelo College Bill and the tax bill.

Next in order was a tour of the Capitol, including the vault, conducted by a member of the Governor's staff. Last they visited the Courts Building, where they were guests of Ernest Beicher, Commissioner of the Court of Criminal Appeals, and S. H. Johnson, Chief Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The students were accompanied to Austin by Mrs. James P. Morris, who made arrangements for the trip. Students making the trip are the following: Buddy Marshall, Armando Cerna, Johnny Valadez, Jim Eager, Karen Lance, Melba Sue Wright, Stanley Neal, Linda Jones, Jan Duke, Janie Riebe, Tommy Green, Craig Adams, Don Fox, Lynn Corn, Ernie Huykman, Annette Miller, Marilyn Young, Alyce Pounds, Beverly Craddock, Betty Weisener, Murrell Robinson, David Ramsey, Tony Torres, Jerry Rench, Harold Parrish, Robert Moore, and Tom Loudermilk.

formation and they weren't very enthusiastic, and recommended us to take the longer road. This turns north at Alexandroupolis and goes to the frontier at Edirne, formerly called Adrianopolis, but is almost twice as far. We asked a German driver who was returning home to Istanbul and he said he intended to go the short way. We went to bed undecided and determined to "play it by ear" the next morning.

Can you find the water heater in this picture?

It's under the counter between the sink and the dishwasher to deliver hot water faster where it's needed most frequently. Because an electric water heater is flameless and needs no flue, it can be installed almost anywhere, close to the point of greatest use. This ends long waits for hot water to reach the faucet and reduces waste due to water cooling in the pipes. An electric water heater with immersed heating elements is fast and efficient, too. It heats the water, not the tank. And because it's flameless, it's clean, safe and completely silent in its operation. See the quick recovery electric water heaters now on display. ADVICE-- On Advertising...

Those who are considering their advertising programs might be interested in advice from the American Bankers Magazine, as follows:

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

Miss McEver Is Chosen As Teacher Of Year By Seniors

Senior Class members of Ranger High School chose Miss Anna McEver as the outstanding teacher of the year. Mrs. J. D. Johnson, president of the P.T.A., presented the program in the form of "This is Your Life."

Miss McEver was born in Bennett, Texas where her father was bookkeeper for Acme Brick Company. She was never afraid of work. Once at the age of 12, when her step mother was a surgical patient, a woman was hired to do the housework.

In high school, she was an outstanding speller and represented her school at the county interscholastic meet. In those days, the spelling contest was done orally on a stage in a crowded auditorium of the county seat school. Miss McEver lost the meet by mis-spelling the word "decit."

Because of large medical bills, the family budget would not allow but one to go to a two month "subscription school." She insisted that her younger sister go instead of her.

After the death of her step-mother, she became home-keeper for her father and sister. She still insisted that her sister go on to college. Some 20 years later after the death of her father, she took up her college work and in a few years earned her AA degree from Ranger Junior College.

Williams Begins Spring Football Program At RJC

The spring football program started at Ranger Junior College May 3 with seventeen boys of some thirty returning from last season reporting.

Gerald Williams, head football coach for Ranger Junior College, was on campus setting up the spring football workouts. Coming to Ranger from Blinn Junior College, he was signed on the coaching staff several weeks ago.

Williams said that no boys were brought in last week end, but that this week thirty boys from different high schools will be on campus, coming from all over Texas and some from Louisiana.

The training sessions will last for three weeks, through May 25. Practice will be held on the college practice field during the day and on the RJS football field at night.

"Our purpose is to find some boys who are capable of playing good junior college football," Williams said. He expects to put a good football team on the field in September from a group of fine young men.

(Continued from Page One) the current space problem. Not to be whipped down, and in the spirit of taking advantage of the situation, the girls entertained themselves with songs, ghost stories, and the likes which really did not require added space, anyway.

In 1923, she became a June bride, marrying Robert Carroll. They are the parents of four children, Robert Lee of Eastland, Ronnie of Sanderson, Mrs. Ralph (Helen) Franks of Waco, and Mrs. Gene (Hazel) Gourley of Ranger.

Grandchildren are the two Gourley children, pictured with her, and Judy and Sherri Carroll of Eastland, Randy Carroll of Fresno, California, and Mike and Denise of Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll were seriously injured in a two-car crash in Odessa shortly before Christmas, while enroute to visit Mrs. Franks and her family. Many days in the Odessa Hospital followed and they were finally transferred to Ranger General Hospital.

Recently, they were dismissed and went home to 1108 Desdemona Blvd. They especially enjoy the afternoon and evening rides that their daughter, Mrs. Gourley, sees that they receive. Then there is always the added joy of the presence of the grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are members of the Mesquite and Rusk Church of Christ.

GEORGE R. WORLEY

Think you could talk without your Adam's Apple — your larynx and your vocal cords, that is? Sure you could! Thousands of men and women do and so does George R. Eighteen New . . .

The aviation committee is engaged on a project of installing landing lights at the airport and painting the hangar along with improving the overall facilities there. The 2,000 foot east and west runway paving project has been completed.
