County Follows National Trend

Castro County gave President Johnson a whopping margin over Senator Barry Goldwater Tuesday — as it tallied 1,865 votes for Johnson-Humphrey and 626 votes for Goldwater-Miller.

The county agreed with the State vote as the Lone Star state helped send a native son to the White House. Lyndon Baines Johnson rolled up a better than 2-to-1 plurality in the Tuesday Presidential election as he gained Texas' 25 Electoral College votes.

Johnson jumped into an impressive lead over Sen. Barry Goldwater with the first count after the polls closed at 7 p.m. and was never threatened.

Castro County gave Ralph Yarborough 1,668 votes over his Republican opponent, Bush. Bush tallied 763 votes.

Countians turned out in record numbers this year as 2,641 total votes were cast here in the election.

This city once again became the seat of the executive branch of the federal government as President Johnson moved back to his home grounds for an expected prolonged post-election stay.

The President preferred to vote in person at his old box in Johnson City, rather than cast an absentee ballot.

An elaborate communications network was prepared for the election day party here. Hundreds of national press, radio and television representatives accompanied Johnson to Texas Monday night.

Major developments are anticipated at the vacation White House during days immediately following counting of the votes.

The President, while resting up from the campaign, undoubtedly will be formulating his plans for the future and staying abreast of national and international developments at this important period.

He is scheduled to entertain at least one distinguished visitor at the LBJ Ranch. Mexico's President elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz will visit him November 12-13, according to early reports.

Most observers predict the President will remain at least until mid-November, possibly longer.

COURTS SPEAK— Court of Criminal Appeals criticized state courts of inquiry but declined to declare unconstitutional the law authorizing such procedures.

Hutton scored on a four-yard off-tackle play. Dimmitt ran the extra points.

Dimmitt will play Friona here tonight at 6 p.m.

Issue came before the court in the appeal of Pasadena Attorney N. A. Smith who claimed his constitutional rights were violated in a court of inquiry into Pasadena city finances. Judges ordered Smith freed of contempt of Court charges arising from his refusal to testify at a court of inquiry held on June 2.

Court of Criminal Appeals also ordered a new trial for Arthur Geter on marijuana charges in Harris County, citing a new U.S. Supreme Court decision that legal representation in trials is a constitutional right. Geter began serving a life term in 1952.

Supreme Court refused to review a dispute between City of Athens and Gulf State's Telephone Company over phone rates. It thus left standing the lower courts' decisions that the East Texas city's 1961 and 1962 rate ordinances do not permit the company a fair return on its investment. City asked higher court to review the case.

In another case the Supreme Court agreed that Connecticut General Life Insurance Company is entitled to collect $408,661 in overpayment of occupation taxes for 1952-57 and for 1959.

It left standing the lower court findings that United Press International libeled Bruce B. Mohs, a Madison, Wis., pilot in a story concerning a seaplane landing. Court of Civil Appeals has questioned the accuracy of most of the story. Mohs as awarded some $7,500 in damages.

Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools cannot negotiate a new water-supply contract with the City of Big Spring, according to a ruling by 53rd District Judge Herman Jones. City attempted to have the Austin court set aside a 1937 contract under which it agreed to furnish water to the Big Spring State Hospital at a cost of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. Estimated cost of furnishing this service now is set at 32 cents per 1,000 gallons. It is expected that the city will appeal ones' decision.

BUSINESS CLIMBS— Texas building permits rose to a near-record level of $155,000,000 in September.

It was the 43rd month of the current Texas business expansion—a record longest peacetime cyclical up-swing since December 1854. Longest period was March 1933-May 1937.

Business index as measured by University of Texas Bureau of Business Research was 12 per cent above September, 1963—one per cent below all-time high of 152 per cent last July. Researchers registered an optimistic outlook for the remaining months of 1964.

APPOINTMENTS— Gov. John Connally has selected Richard M. Price of Abilene a 104th District Attorney. He succeeds Tom Todd who resigned the post effective November 1. Price was the only general election candidate for the office. District includes Fisher, Jones and Taylor counties.

Connally reappointed Bay City Mayor Richard C. Gusman to the Battleship Texas Commission and selected Lofton O. Wells of Houston and Mrs. Mack J. (Viola) Webb of El Campo as new members of the Commission.

Appointees yet to be made total 72, on 29 state agencies, including the Sabine River Authority, Texas Water Commission, Neches River Conservation District, State Seed and Plant Board, Red River Authority, Water Development Board, Texas Liquor Control Board and 22 other administering bodies.

CLEANUP— Water Pollution Control Board announces its intention to adopt and enforce stringent new regulations on all sewage treatment plants in Bexar County.

ESTES JUDGMENT ENTERED Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports that the 108th District Court in Potter County rendered a $547,500 summary judgment against one-time West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes, winging up the state's suit against Estes and Commercial Solvents Corp.

State claimed Estes and the firm combined to unlawfully injure and drive out competition in anhydrous ammonia fertilizer in the high plains area by selling below cost and through other schemes violating the anti-trust act.

Commercial Solvents earlier paid $150,000 under an agreed judgment but it admitted no liability.

Lions Clubs Pay Tribute To Camp

Members of Lions Clubs throughout Texas this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 7,000 handicapped youngsters a new dimension of freedom since it was opened in 1953.

The camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to crippled, blind, deaf or mute children from the ages of seven through sixteen. The 16 permanent buildings and other improvements dotting the 504 hillside acres represent an investment of more than $600,000.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

While the Lions are paying tribute to their camp, we would like to pay tribute to the Lions and their friends who have supported this great venture of the heart. We know a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a crippled child.

Dimmitt Lions Club welcomes any donations for the camp for crippled children. Contact Cecil Vandiver, Joe Cowen, M. E. Cleavinger or Russell Nelson if wishing to make contribution.

Farm Census Coming

Census takers will visit every farm and ranch in the United States during November or December as part of the 1964 Census of Agriculture, conducted by the U.S. Bureau of the Census. Census questionnaires will be delivered by mail; the farmer will answer the questions and keep the questionnaire until the census taker calls for it. Answers are confidential and are used only for statistics. From the last Census of Agriculture in 1959 the nation learned that the number of farms had dropped by about 1 million in five years, but farm production had increased.

Faye Marie Hall Named Crew Leader For 1964 Census

Faye Marie Hall of Dimmitt, Tex. has been named a crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture, Percy R. Millard, director of the regional office of the U.S. Bureau of the Census at Dallas, announced today. The new crew leader is one of about 1,825 persons throughout the U.S. to receive his appointment.

The new crew leader will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit all farms and ranches in Castro County to collect official census questionnaires from farm operators. Enumeration of all farms in the county will take place in November and early December.

The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionnaires to all rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionnaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proved troublesome.

The crew leader is a key person in conducting a Census of Agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms, and conducts difficult interviews.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in "4" and "9" together information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventories, and information on farm equipment and improvements and income and some production expenditures.

The information will be published starting in 1965 for counties, States, and the nation.

Cotton Farmers Can Fight Bollworms

Now that the cotton harvest is nearing completion, farmers should begin thinking about accomplishing cultural practices which will reduce or prevent winter carry-over of pink bollworms and boll weevils.

In areas of the state where stalk destruction is recommended, this practice should be carried out immediately after harvest. In Northwest Texas low temperatures generally eliminate the need for fall stalk destruction to reduce pink bollworms. However, overwintering boll weevil populations can be reduced, especially if harvest is completed before frost and there is still green cotton in the area.

Late season infestations of these ravaging pests are developing in some area of the state, report Weldon Newton and Philip Hammon, Extension entomologists, Texas A & M University. These buildings have been especially noticeable in the Colorado River area of South Central Texas.

Stalk destruction not only reduces pink bollworm and boll weevil populations through mechanical destruction but also destroys feed supplies and breeding places, thereby greatly reducing the number which survive the winter, explain the entomologists.

Early stalk destruction is both economical and effective. Stalk shredders are highly recommended since these machines kill many pink bollworms left in the field after harvest. Rotary-type shredders have been found to kill 60 to 80 percent of pink bollworm larvae while flail-types have consistently killed better than 90 percent. Thus the flail-type shredder should be used if at all possible, says Newton and Hammon.

Furthermore, the residue should be plowed under to a depth of at least six inches within five days after shredding, advise the entomologists.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Seale of Abilene visited in the home of his sister and nephew, Mrs. Leona Rothwell and Junior Saturday.

Walter Rogers' WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Space science has been in the news again recently. The increasing momentum behind U. S. and Soviet manned space activities brings stronger focus on one of the unsolved problems affecting these great adventures: The position nations, particularly our own, should take in defining the upper boundaries of their territorial airspace and their sovereign rights involving it.

In the Air Commerce Act of 1926, a provision was included stating: "that the Government of the United States has to the exclusion of all foreign nations, complete sovereignty of the airspace over ter-lands and waters above the United States." The legal status of national airspace as part of the territory is not subject to question. However, in the dawn of the space age, the concept of air-space existing in 1926 is no longer applicable. Where now does it end?

The United States has the same right to control movement within its airspace as it has to control movement on its land and waters. But Congress has not acted to establish the upper boundary of our national airspace territory. This unresolved matter becomes important in determining whether foreign spacecraft are to be permitted to fly within 25 miles, or 50 miles, or 100 miles above the U. S. From a technological standpoint 25 miles above sea level is approximately the maximum height at which aircraft requiring aerodynamic support can sustain flight by air-breathing motive power. Fifty miles above sea level is approximately the maximum height at which the atmosphere is sufficiently dense to provide any appreciable aerodynamic lift. A point somewhere between 75 and 90 miles is the lowest point of practical orbital unpowered flight, the beginning limit of "outer space."

Where precisely does outer space begin? It is an important question, because the United States has supported a United Nations resolution declaring that outer space is a Highway remaining open to all nations, free of any claim or rights of sovereign control by any nation.

The flight of spacecraft through national airspace in taking off to landing poses one part of the problem calling for an early decision on what constitutes the sovereign territory. Experts say that up to now flights have been confined to U. S. and Russian airspace in their ascents and descents. As orbital flights become more frequent and diverse, we must make a determination whether or not foreign spacecraft should be permitted to use our territorial airspace in ascending and descending. We will need to know whether we will be permitted the same privileges in the airspace of other countries.

Treaties and other international agreements are now required if an aircraft is to enter and use our airspace. There are no general rights of passage. An airplane approaching our shores and intending land here cannot proceed past the outer boundary of the airspace above our territorial waters unless it has specific authority to do so. Free passage is permitted aircraft over the high seas as it is ship sailing on them. Up to now, our sovereign position in control of our airspace has not been questioned because atmospheric factors limit the altitude at which conventional aircraft may operate. The new problem is posed by spacecraft able to operate beyond limits of the atmosphere.

The legal status of space needs to be clearly defined not only for reasons of national sovereignty but also in order to avoid the possibility of armed conflict over terririal rights to outer space. It is possible that in the absence of clear definitions, the space race could become one in which military development of spacecraft and weaponry is emphasized and exploration and peaceful scientific advancement are minimized.

Up to now, man's main concern with space has been getting to it, surviving there, and returning. These will continue to be problems and billions of dollars will be spent in improving space technology. At the same time we move forward scientifically, we must seek answers to legal questions posed by the space age.

REPAIRING ROD GUIDE

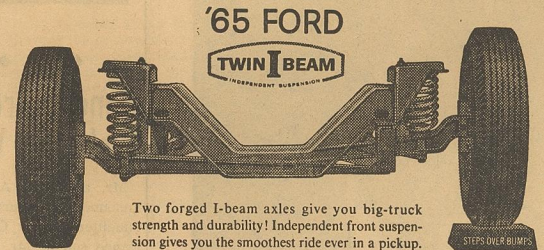

A hairline crack in a rod guide can wear fishing line thin in a very short time.

To fix it temporarily, wrap a section of line carefully all around the guide. Weave it around and around and lay it up smooth. Then lash it to supporting arms.

It will last for several days. Early attention may prevent loss of the lunker fish.

FARMERS WINNING BATTLE OF THE BOLL WEEVIL!

BATTLE RECORD TO DATE

SPRAYING	ACRES SPRAYED	COMMENT
Number 1 (Beginning Sept. 15)	303,000 acres (Originally estimated 240,000 acres. Total includes Skip-row)	First application was hampered by rain, wind, etc. Migrating weevils caused increase in size of control zone. Extremely high adult and unemerged weevil populations encountered.
Number 2 (Beginning about October 4)	281,000 acres (Reduction due to acreage desiccated or harvested)	Field checks indicated effective kill of adult weevils but continuing emergence kept new weevil population up. Additional planes brought in to speed up sprayings.
Number 3 (Beginning about October 13)	230,000 acres (Continuing harvest and desiccation)	Field examination showed great reduction in number of adult weevils, with low occurrence of weevils in diapause stage. Also fewer unemerged weevils.
Number 4 (Beginning about October 21)	190,000 acres	Few unemerged and very young weevils left. Practically no weevils in diapause stage.

CONCLUSION: Remaining unemerged and young adult weevils will be kept from going into hibernation either by frost or a fifth spraying. Entomologists agree that hibernating weevils will have been reduced by more than 90 percent by end of this year's program.

Financial Arrangements

- Compresses to collect 50c per bale, and remit to a special boll weevil control fund in bank — no connection with P.C.G. regular funds.
- While compresses collect on all cotton, the contribution is voluntary for individual farmers who may request and receive refund.
- All funds are under direction of a Certified Public Accountant firm.
- Monthly financial reports by U.S.D.A. and Boll Weevil Steering Committee will be made — Complete audit will be published at the end of season.
- Any unexpended Steering Committee funds will be placed in interest bearing account for continuation of Boll Weevil Program next season. Unexpended U.S.D.A. funds must return to Treasury, as all appropriations are on annual basis only.

IN APPRECIATION....

With us, the T. A. Singer family, an era has drawn to close with the sale of West Texas Telephone Company. The efforts of our family have been centered on the development of West Texas Telephone Company and the Dimmitt area since 1929. We have seen our company and the Dimmitt community, in which we are so deeply interested, develop and prosper almost beyond our fondest dreams. Our husband and father, T. A. Singer, made every effort to render the very best service possible through the facilities of West Texas Telephone Company, while at the same time expending his every energy in the general development of his community. This has also been the policy of his family since his death in 1957.

While remembering all of the difficulties accompanying the operation of a growing business in a growing community, we are mindful of the many courtesies and helpful cooperation we received from the fine people of Dimmitt and Castro County during difficult times as well as during prosperous times. Your understanding and loyalty are responsible for whatever measure of success we may have enjoyed. Although we have sold our business, Dimmitt will continue to be our home and we will continue to be interested in its growth and well being and it will be our purpose to continue to take an active part in the civic and business affairs of our wonderful city.

Finding words to express our deep appreciation and thanks to our many friends and customers is all but impossible, but it is with humble and profound gratitude that we say "THANK YOU."

WBC Student Has Poem Published

A poem by Mrs. Gwyneth Wood, Dimmitt, has been selected for the autumn 1964 issue of "Rectangle," the official publication of Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity.

Mrs. Wood's poem was selected from the May, 1964, Wayland Literary Magazine. Also appearing in the "Rectangle" are poems by Bill Barnes, who graduated from Wayland in 1961, and Linda Baten, former student now at University of Texas.

Mrs. Wood, who is a member of the local chapter of Sigma Tau Delta and of Alpha Chi, national scholastic fraternity, is a senior mathematics major at Wayland Baptist College.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

You may be able to choose the water you drink and be selective about your choice of food but whatever air is around you is the air you are going to breathe.

As a matter of fact, you automatically breathe about 80 pound or 15,000 quarts of whatever air is available each day, while you only eat about three pounds of food and drink at the most about four quarts of water.

A healthy mind and body requires clean, fresh air. This fact coupled with the growing air pollution problem caused by an ever growing human and industrial population is causing a growing concern about the state of our air.

And because of this concern, President Johnson set aside October 25 through 31 as Cleaner Air Week.

This is an excellent period for all of us to evaluate the air cleanliness of our communities. If it's not all that it should be, then it is time to evaluate the efforts the community is making to control air cleanliness.

It isn't only the big industrial cities that have difficulties. A Texas town that has any kind of industry—chemical plants, petroleum refineries, cotton gins or such may have air pollution without realizing it. Should there be such a problem, it certainly would be well to take inventory of the efforts your community is making in your behalf, regarding cleaner air.

Already there is much study and effort being done in Texas to evaluate and remedy some of the air pollution problems.

The State Department of Health has completed its part in a national air pollution appraisal.

In addition, the Health Department, through the cooperation of local health units, and the National Air Sampling Network of the Public Health Service, maintains twenty-four air sampling stations in points of highest population around the State.

Air samples collected at these stations are analyzed for degree of pollution loading and radioactivity. One city and two other cities have their own separate programs for studying air pollution. And several

Winterize Machines For Longer Service

Whether you own a two-horsepower lawnmower or 20-hp combine, a good job of preparing machine for storage will pay off in longer service and lower repair bill according to an agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University.

"Parking the machine in a building is just a small part of good winter storage," says Beverly Reeves, Extension agricultural engineer. "You need to make sure it won't rust or deteriorate while it sits idle."

No matter what kind of a machine you store, Reeves says there are three things you need to do to get it ready for storage: Clean it. Lubricate it. And eliminate any stress on parts.

The agricultural engineer suggests removing trash, lint, dirt and dried grease either by washing the machine with kerosene and rinsing it with water or by steam cleaning.

The machine should be lubricated and then run a few minutes. Chains and adjustment bolts should be coated with a rust preventive oil.

Motor preparation takes eight steps according to Reeves.

1. Clean the air cleaner and fill the oil cup to the proper level with new oil.
2. Change the oil and oil filter; then idle the engine for 15 minutes.
3. Add permanent anti-freeze or drain the radiator and engine block. If you drain the motor, leave the radiator cap loose and the drains open to let condensation drain. Reeves also suggests putting a tag on the machine that says, "Don't use Cooling system drained."
4. Drain the gas tank to avoid buildup of gum and residue in the fuel line and carburetor jets and passages. Flush diesel tanks with a diesel flushing oil and white kerosene. All fuel tanks except L.P. Gas should be left empty during storage.
5. Put two tablespoons of oil through the spark plug openings. With the plugs removed crank the engine several revolutions to coat the combustion chambers with oil. Then replace the plugs.
6. Seal the exhaust, air cleaner intake and crankcase breather with tape to prevent the entrance of foreign matter or moisture.
7. If the motor has a clutch, depress the pedal and fasten it to keep the flywheel from sticking to the clutch plate.
8. Store the batter in a cool dry place.

Every cleaner air program needs individual support of all its citizens. What do you know about the air you breathe?

The Sixty-First Annual State Convention of the statewide general farm organization which is an affiliate of the National Farmers Union, will be held in Austin at the Driskill Hotel on November 12 through 14. The National Farmers Union was founded at Point, Texas, in 1902.

Secretary-Treasurer Tony T. Dechant of the National Farmers Union, Denver, will keynote a pre-convention organizational seminar at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel on Wednesday, November 11, which is designed to train county officials for various organizational duties. The participants in the seminar will be honored at a luncheon to be given by the Board of Directors of the state Farmers Union on which all county presidents serve. This Board will hold its annual pre-convention meeting Wednesday, November 11.

To highlight convention activities appealing to the younger members of the farm families attending the convention, Mrs. Flossie Nikkel, Director of Youth Education for National Farmers Union, will speak at a 7:00 a.m. breakfast on Saturday, November 14. Mrs. Nikkel will discuss the organization of youth programs in county Farmers Unions and will counsel youth leaders in undertaking Farmers Union youth training program. The young people attending the convention will also be entertained with a party following the banquet on Friday night, November 13.

Pre-convention activities will include a meeting of the Program Committee which compiles resolutions from the county Farmers Union organizations to be written into the state program which will be adopted on Thursday, November 12. Key farm leaders from over the state appointed to serve on this committee are: Dr. Lester J. Patton will discuss his views on the convention theme which is "The Farm Price-Consumer Costs Gap." The national farm leader has alleged in recent speeches that farm prices are being manipulated and controlled by powerful food chain store interests. The National Farmers Union has strongly supported the investigation for which a National Food Commission has been appointed by President Johnson.

Congressman Jake Pickle of the 10th Congressional District will address the convention at its opening session on Thursday and will welcome the delegates and visitors many of whom will be constituents from the 10th District. Other speakers scheduled on the program are Senator Ralph Yarborough, President H. S. Hank Brown of the Texas AFL-CIO, and Ray Novak, General Manager of National Farmers Union Insurances. Meat Shoppers Should Consider Three Guides

Three safety guides should be considered by the consumer when buying meat. They are the inspection stamp, grade stamp and appearance of the meat itself, says Frank Orts, Extension meats specialist, Texas A & M University. There should be no confusion between the inspection stamp and the grade stamp. Inspection should be associated with health, and grade, with quality, the specialist points out.

Federal inspection, established under the Meat Inspection Act of 1906, is supervised by the Meat Inspection Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, USDA. Its primary purpose is to protect the consumer by guaranteeing that all meat so inspected and passed is from healthy animals, slaughtered, processed and packaged under sanitary conditions; that it is entirely suitable for consumption when leaving the processing establishment; and that no labels carry misleading statements.

All meat packing plants which slaughter or otherwise process meats or meat products intended for out-of-state shipment must operate under federal inspection. Orts points out. Meat establishments whose products do not enter into interstate commerce must meet applicable state and or city inspection regulations where they are in effect.

BOBCATS INCH PAST LOCKNEY WITH THREE PENETRATIONS

Dimmitt Bobcats grabbed an early lead against the Lockney Longhorns Friday night here and then had to fight off a fourth quarter rally to win their first ball game on penetrations 3-2.

The Bobcats received the opening kickoff and returned it back to their own 32 yard line. Lockney held and on the fourth down Ronnie Kenmore kicked the ball down to Lockney's 27 where the Longhorns took over. Lockney used their power sweeps and passing to move the ball down to the Dimmitt 34 yard line before they were held on a fourth down run that failed to gain enough yardage.

The Bobcats took the ball and on the second play broke into the open on an option play from Steve Hutton to Tony Young that gained 36 yards before Young was pulled down. Three plays later Dimmitt had their first penetration of the game when Ray Bradley carried the ball inside the Longhorn 20 yard line but a fumble on the next play stopped the drive and the Longhorns took over.

The teams exchanged punts and the Longhorns had the ball at the start of the second quarter on their own 8 yard line when the first score of game was set up. Muriel Bussey tackled Longhorn halfback Neil Mitchell and jarred him loose from the ball and Dickie Dyer recovered. On the first play from offense Steve Hutton carried the ball over and Dimmitt led 6-0. The try for extra point was missed as Kenmore's kick went off to the side.

Dimmitt kicked off to Lockney and held them. Neither team was able to move the ball with any success until the closing minute of the first half when Dimmitt took the ball on a punt and using sweeps and counters moved it up to the 50 yard line. Here Steve Hutton rolled out and threw to Ray Bradley behind the defensive halfback and Bradley ran the distance for the second Bobcat touchdown. Hutton carried the ball over for the extra points and Dimmitt led 14-0 at the half. Neither team could move the ball in the third quarter but with one minute gone in the fourth period, Longhorn quarterback Dale Galloway hit right end Paul Barker on a 67 yard pass and run scoring play. Galloway ran the extra point try over and the Bobcat lead was cut to six points.

Lockney wasn't through as they covered a loose ball on Dimmitt's 37 yard line and moved it down the field and scored on an off-tackle power play. The score was tied up 14-14 and the try for the extra point came when Dale Galloway tried for the one point with a kick which went wide and Dimmitt won on penetrations 3-2.

"Muriel Bussey did a good job on defense for us by continually putting pressure on their quarterback and throwing the mfor big losses, commented Coach Covington.

"He also caused the fumble that set up our first touchdown," declares Covington.

Steve Hutton and Danny Land led team in tackles and assists. Covington emphasized, "We had good team effort on both offense and defense with the linemen turning in one of the best blocking games this year."

Dan Petty and Gene Carson were back at full strength and it helped strengthen the Bobcat plays.

According to Covington, Dimmitt is faced again this week with a team that has plenty of speed and good passing. Abernathy has good size and can break and go all the way on one play. Last Week Friona had Abernathy down 26-6 in the fourth quarter and the game ended 26-21. This shows how quick Abernathy can score.

Coach says, "We will have to play heads up ball to beat them."

Dimmitt Book Club To Have Review

Dimmitt Book Club will meet in the Community Room of the bank on Wednesday, Nov. 11. Business meeting at 3:30, review at 4:00. All guests are welcome.

Mrs. Ted Sheffy will review "The Woman in the White House" by Marianne Means. It is written to illustrate how the president of the United States may or may not be influenced by the First Lady. The book is of 12 First Ladies, but Mrs. Sheffy will only give four of these in her review. "Many mothers have looked at new born sons and thought, he may be president some day, but no mother has ever thought of a new born daughter as First Lady of the Nation."
