NEWS × NOTES × BRIEFS Town Talk is etched on paper much earlier than deadline. This paragraph was pecked out Thursday about lunch time. And at that time if Ranger's polltaxed voting strength were a determining factor, by gosh, we couldn't even elect a dog catcher!

Now if you'll eye-ball the nearest calendar, you'll note that Jan. 31, deadline date for payment of poll taxes, is only five days off - Friday

We liked what our old friend A. E. Crawley, the chairman of Eastland County's Democratic executive committee, said the other day: "Voters really get their money's worth for their $1.75 this year."

There's a poll tax order blank in The Times. Also, just drop in at Jimmy and Lukey Smith's L&J Supply here in Ranger and they'll fix you up. Do it Monday!

JAYCEE UNIT WILL LAUNCH HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CANVAS FOR POLL TAXES MONDAY

TIMES

Members of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin knocking on doors Monday, starting a vigorsystem to members of the Ro- our five-day campaign to secure payment of 1964 poll

NUMBER 44

Charles Arnett, chairman of the drive to qualify a maximum number of citizens as voters, is completing plans for the house-to-house canvas and will make assignments to Jaycees over the weekend.

SPECIAL TELEPHONE SERVICE

If you are not able to visit L&J Supply Co. in downtown Ranger to pay your poll tax, just call Charles Arnett of Ranger Jaycees and he'll see that you get personal service at your home.

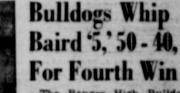

His number at Arnett's Texaco Station is MI 7-1515. Or you may contact him at his home, phone MI 7-1128.

Poll tax payments in Ranger, over the county and over the state have been lagging far behind, according to reports.

The polls may be paid at L&J Supply Co. in downtown Ranger.

Up until 5 p. m. Friday, only about 300 poll tax re-ceipts had been issued to Ranger citizens.

Arnett said Friday that badges bearing the words "I Have Paid My Poll Tax — Have You?" will be distri-buted to be worn by citizens who have paid the $1.75 fee which qualifies them to vote in this year's important local, state and national elections.

The population explosion and increasing educational demands of our flourishing technology have focussed grave atten-

Not only is enrollment in institutions of higher learning increasing by leaps and bounds, but the 23 with a tacky party and technical requirements of our society are adding more courses to the educational formula. There is increasing talk of the possibility of adding the first two years of college to the high school years already

In this respect, Eastland county stands at a door of opportunity, limited in the most serious sense by the problem of finance. Needless to say this is a great and possibly insurmountable problem.

But the opportunity is intriguing, and worthy of at least speculative thought in view of the almost certain prospect that sooner or later by some means, local or national in character, an upward expansion of the public school system is bound to occur.

Eastland County has two accredited Junior Colleges offering the Freshman and Sophomore years of Senior College. Bruce Both are well established, well integrated in the national secondary education complex, admirably staffed and conscientiously operated.

If some means could be worked out whereby every graduate of a High School in Eastland County could be assured of Bill Collings, assisted by Mrs. two years of college training in either of these institutions R. L. Hamrick, presided at on the same basis that a High School diploma is offered, it would mean not only increased educational benefits to the county's youth, but great economic benefits to every community in the county.

Not the least of these benefits, as we see it, would be the attraction of younger families to the county in the prospect that this training would be available to their youth at the reduced costs made possible. It would mean a great saving in money to be retained in the economy of the area.

Another advantage would be the improvement it could Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Gafner, bring about in local High Schools such as ours, through location Mmes. F. U. Bourland, L. D. of college type courses in these schools under an expanded collegiate program.

Still another advantage would be the impetus toward consolidation of adjoining county rural districts with such as and the host and hostess, Mr. ours in the prospect of the higher educational facilities.

There are other advantages, such as improvement in cul- hostesses. Mmes. HOME COOKING - THAT'S WHERE MANY A MAN TODAY THINKS HIS WIFE IS!

See by The Times where E. F. (Art) Arterburn was recently honored with a birthday dinner. We know it was a happy event. We'd like to pay a little tribute to Art, too. He's one of our old reliable printing customers and it has been wonderful to serve him down through the years. Thanks, Art, and good wishes for the continued success of your firm, Art's Tool & Supply!
