Visitors present included Judge Scott Bailey of Eastland and Ronald Butler and Chuck Malone of Ranger.

Following the meeting a short organizational meeting was held by the board of directors.

Abilene Chamber Pledges Support for Ranger Oil Museum

The Abilene Chamber of Commerce will write a letter commending the Ranger Chamber of Commerce for developing the Texas Oil Museum as a tourist attraction, The Abilene Reporter-News reported Friday morning.

"The Abilene Chamber also notified Ranger Chamber president W. T. Eaton that it will assist his efforts to assemble the museum in any way possible," the newspaper said.

Eaton told The Times Friday afternoon that local interest is mounting in the project and the task of collecting items and relics of the fabulous oil boom era is well underway.

Members of the Oil Museum committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce earlier this week inspected several initially adequate buildings which would be suitable for use in exhibiting valued artifacts and mementoes, he added.

Individuals, firms and corporations having old oil field equipment, relics, articles or items of any and every description, regardless of size or location, are urged to contact the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 57, Ranger, Texas, telephone Area Code 817, Mitchell 7-1411. Financial contributions also are being accepted. Checks should be made payable to "Texas Oil Museum Fund."

Those desiring to donate or loan such items or property for exhibit in the museum, following notice by mail or telephone, will be contacted by the Museum committee. In addition, correspondence from old-timers, drillers, rough-necks, operators, lease holders, royalty owners and others of

Outstanding Experts To Appear on Program Of Sheep & Goat Event

Some of the state's outstanding authorities will be on the program for the third annual Eastland County Sheep and Goat Field Day, Tuesday, July 21 at Ranger, according to county agent J. M. Cooper.

The event is again being sponsored by the county agent's office and the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

It will be staged at the old Tiffin Pumphouse of the Sinclair Oil Company, three miles north east of Ranger, according to W. T. Eaton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who will open the all-day affair with a message of welcome to ranchers attending. The old building is now under lease to Ranger Junior College and is ideal for this type of meeting.

W. J. (Bill) ANDERSON of Anderson Chevrolet Co., and winner of a recent trip (in company with his wife) to New York and the World's Fair, made some interesting comments about the nation's largest city.

New York is so large, he told Town Talker, that at every telephone in the metropolis there is a rack holding seven king-size telephone directories.

The people of Gotham have a friendly attitude. The city is so large it makes Dallas look like a country town.

The New York Hilton Hotel hasn't merely a coffee shop or dining room, but seven restaurants.

And his most interesting observation of all:

When Mr. and Mrs. Anderson came out of a theatre where they had seen the Broadway play, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," they saw a mob of thousands of people, heard screaming police sirens, policemen trying to control the surging mass of humanity, and other cops mounted on horses aiding in holding them back.

"My first thought was that we were in the middle of a race riot," Anderson said. "Then we asked a policeman what was going on. He said the same thing happened every night about 11:45."

"That is the time that El-

MR. AND MRS. BILL ANDERSON of Ranger recently jetted to New York and the World's Fair. As owner of Anderson Chevrolet Co., he was one of the 38 winners in Chevrolet's January-February "The Great Performers" sales campaign. While in New York, the Andersons stayed at the New York Hilton, dined at many swank restaurants, such as the Copacabana, the Latin Quarter, and Toots Shor's. They saw the Broadway Play, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," and took a conducted tour of New York. The highlight of the four day trip was a full day at the fabulous New York's World's Fair.

Chief Urges Precautions To Prevent Burglaries

BREAD of Life

All death can do is to throw his shadow across the place. Shadows never hurt any one. We have nothing to fear.

periods during vacation trips, precautions should be taken to protect their dwellings against burglary, Police Chief Bill Ogden said Friday.

"Thousands of persons throughout our state take summer vacations each year," Chief Ogden reminded. "In the process they exercise the greatest care in where they are going, what their activities will include, what they will wear, etc.; however, very few consider what can happen while they are gone."

It is estimated that over 300,000 burglaries were committed throughout the country last year, he explained. This means that a burglary was committed about every 35 seconds, day and night, every day of the year. Burglary continues to increase each year, at a greater percentage than the population growth.

During the coming months, the burglary rate will probably increase directly proportional to the number of persons taking vacations and the degree of carelessness with which they leave their homes unprotected.

The Texas Police Assn., Chief Ogden said, has been conducting a campaign to call attention to the seriousness of burglary and suggesting precautions which can be taken

Ranger Rodeo Set to Go, Jaycees Say; It'll Be Action, Thrills Aplenty

The second annual action-packed Ranger Rodeo will be unveiled here in the Jaycees' arena, U. S. Highway 80 west, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 9-10-11.

Arrangements for the stellar three-day thriller have been completed, Doyle Gentry, president of the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced Friday night. Advance ticket sales, he said, indicate that attendance is likely to top the record-setting 1963 rodeo, the first staged here since 1955.

An open amateur show, the colorful three-day cowboy competition opens with a gala parade in downtown Ranger Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Hundreds of visitors are expected to swarm into the city to watch the procession which will feature several sheriffs' posses, riding club groups, and commercial floats and displays.

Also adding luster to the parade will be the current Ranger Rodeo Queen, Miss Glynda Wilson, and a bevy of other beautiful cowgirls who are aspiring candidates to succeed her. She has reigned since the 1963 show.

One of the most sensational special acts in today's increasingly popular rodeo sport will be a highlight of the three nightly performances. It'll be a pair of fabulous, mirth-provoking monkeys aboard sheep dogs — rounding up goats. The monkeys, nattily attired in genuine cowboy regalia, ride the dogs in miniature saddles just like a for-real cowhand handles his horse working cattle. The act is trained by Clint Harlow of Llano.

Arena events in which contestants will vie for prizes include calf roping, steer wrestling, bronc riding, bull riding, team roping and cowgirls' barrel races. And, of course, there'll be added hilarity and excitement from the antics of rodeo clowns. A boys' calf scramble is another popular feature of the 1964 show.

Some of the toughest, wildest rodeo stock in the Southwest will challenge the talents and skills of plucky cowboy contestants, and the Jaycee arena spectators will see plenty of dust as the turf gets scarred by flashing hooves. Owner of the string is Lloyd Woodley, producer, who has been providing action and thrills for avid rodeo fans for 15 years.

16 Rangerites Attend Boy Scout Camp

Sixteen boy scouts and their two sponsors have spent the week at scout camp, Billy Gibbons, which is located near Richland Springs of the Brady Creek. Approximately 70 scouts and their leaders are attending this last week of the camp.

The boys receive instruction in riflanship, archery, swimming, lifesaving, leather crafts, canoeing, and many other things.

Each boy had the opportunity before leaving to enter the mile swim.

Fred Bennett, Gary Don Bennett, and James Dixon left Ranger Thursday to attend the campfire services. They returned with the boys Saturday.

Leaders going with the boys were Carlos Martinez and Jack Robinson. Scouts making the trip were Ronnie Huff, Billy Guess, Phil Sanders, Bobby Spies, Billy Anderson, Ronnie Spies, Steve Campbell, Pat and Mike Campbell, Ricky Hatfield, Garry Willingham, David Allsup, Allen Robinson, Clinton Eaton, Jerry Reeves, and Paul Ausburne.

Chief Isbell Urges Check Fire Hazards

With a rash of grass fires recently and with fire prevention a year-round effort, Chief Charlie Isbell of Ranger Volunteer Fire Dept. urges all residents to check that their homes meet these standards:

Be extremely careful when burning trash or refuse, and even more so during dry, windy weather. Keep the area around trash containers free of inflammable refuse.

Determine if wiring system meets today's electrical demands (fuses blowing out often, flickering lights, appliances operating slowly are warning signals that wiring is out of date).

Old clothes and furniture and newspapers are removed from attic, basement and garage.

Only rags and paint-strained cloths are disposed of or kept in closed metal containers. Only mops should be hung up so air can circulate around them.

No leaves or grass cuttings are near building foundations.

Periodic home fire drills are held with instructions on what to do should fire start from an uncontrollable cause.

"The one sure way to successfully fight a fire is before it starts," Chief Isbell said.

Mrs. Vonceil Hopper Is Named to Directorate Of Ranger Hospital

Mrs. Vonceil Hopper of Ranger has been named as a new member of the City-County Hospital Board which supervises operation of Ranger General Hospital, Bernard Hanna of Eastland, president of the six-member governing body announced this week.

The board met Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the hospital dining room and transacted routine business. The hospital, first opened in 1923, has 36 beds.

W. J. Herrington is administrator and Mrs. Dortha Harris is business manager of the institution.

The new board member is a joint appointee of the Eastland County Commissioners' Court and the Ranger City Commission.

County Judge Scott Bailey said the Commissioners' Court action was taken back on May 25.

In a letter to the board,

The area of gushing pay discovered by the famed McCleskey No. 1 in 1917, encompassed a 40-mile radius around Ranger. Within one year $100 million worth of oil was produced from wells which averaged an initial flush flow of 712 barrels. The first discovery exploded Ranger from a small rural community into a wild, bustling boom town of 30,000 population.

Four hundred wooden rigs were simultaneously spinning probing bits into the earth at the peak of the Ranger boom which marked the discovery of lucrative oil production in West Texas still atop more than one-fifth of all U.S. proven reserves of crude. During the frenzied height of activity the total outlay for leases, expenditures for drilling and private and public construction averaged $1,650,000 per day. Money paid for leases in one year alone totaled $75 million. And building permits in Ranger averaged nearly $600,000 per week.

The percentage of producers to dusters also was amazing, remarkable — 92 per cent of the tests stabbed brought oil in paying quantities. Ranger also was bloody and brutal. Records of Hays City and Abilene in Kansas, historic Tombstone in frontier Arizona — or other famed boom towns — never near equaled blood-splattered, rip-roaring Ranger. It was murder and mayhem, robbery, fraud, swindling, gambling, every vice — rampant and wide open. The known number of murders and suicides was fantastic in a lusty, boisterous boom town where men went from rags to riches or lost fortunes overnight.

Since the Texas Oil Museum project was conceived by members of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce in May, the proposal has received widespread publicity. In addition to the museum, re-creation of two blocks of Main Street of historic Ranger as it was in the fabulous oil boom era is planned as a tourist attraction. The original McClekey rig will be re-born — and perhaps a realistic old Texas gusher will blow black gold over the top every hour to rekindle the breath-taking, feverish excitement of yore.

Ranger, now a quiet, reminiscent community of slightly over 3,000 population, is located on U.S. Highway 80 (Interstate 20) and on the main line of the Texas and Pacific Railway, midway between Fort Worth and Abilene. Other members of the Oil Museum committee, in addition to Chairman Eaton, are Dr. Theodore Nickick Jr. of Ranger Junior College, vice chairman, Mayor Morris Newnam, Roy Plumley, W. F. Creager, Mrs. D. E. Pulley, Billy Bourdeau, Bill Marslender, Glyn Gilliam, Fred Bennett and Dewey Cox Jr.

VISIT IN RANGER Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Raney have had as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gorrell and children, Leland and Synthia.

MRS. HOPPER (Continued From Page 1)

County Judge Bailey said: "On behalf of the Commissioners' Court let me express our appreciation for your hard work and complete cooperation on the various matters that are so important to all of us."

Mrs. Hopper is the only joint appointee on the board. Three of the members—Chairman Hanna of Eastland, Don Parker of Eastland, and Dr. Charles Ballew of Cisco—are appointed by the Commissioners' Court. Three other members—Dr. W. P. Watkins, J. Floyd Killingsworth and Mrs. D. E. Pulley, all of Ranger—are appointed by the Ranger City Commission.

Mrs. Hopper, wife of Roscoe Hopper, regional manager for S&H Green Stamps, is active in church and civic affairs and an outstanding worker in the Democratic party on both state and local levels. A native of Ranger, she is a graduate of Ranger High School and Ranger Junior College.

She also is prominent in affairs of the Eastland County and Ranger units of the American Cancer Society and has served as county chairman.

Mrs. Hopper, a member of First Methodist Church, is a life member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. She also is a member of the 1947 Club, the Ranger Garden Club, and the Child Welfare Club.

The Hoppers have two children — their daughter, Kaye, 20, is employed at the Texas Pavilion at the World's Fair in New York City, and their son, John, 16, is a Ranger High School student. He also is an Eagle Scout.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q—Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premium? A—Yes, you may. You should notify the Insurance Service of the Veterans Administration Office where you pay your premiums to hold future dividends to your credit, at interest, to meet premiums if you should fail to pay when due.

Q—I served less than a year in the Army between 1942 and 1943 and was honorably discharged at my own request to accept employment in essential industry. Will I be entitled to a pension when I become 65 years old? A—Pension may be granted at any age if a veteran has the requisite honorable service and is unable to follow substantially gainful employment due to disability.

Q—I had service during both World War II and the Korean Conflict but I have heard that the later period would be used in determining my deadline for a GI loan. Is this true? A—Ordinarily yes. However, if the computed time based on a long period of service during World War II would establish a later deadline than a short period of service during the Korean Conflict, the World War II period may be used.

80 Players Make Up Fast Field for Lakeside Tourney

Medallist Don Wilson of Mineral Wells and Defending Champion Don Johnson of Cisco were the favorites as 80 players teed off in the 16th annual Lakeside Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament Saturday morning. Match play will end with the finals Sunday afternoon.

Wilson fired a three under 69 Friday afternoon to win medal honors. Johnson qualified with 75, even par, as did Rives McBee of Garland, winner of the Lone Cedar Country Club title two weeks ago.

Eddie Smith of Coleman, winner of the Men's West Texas title at Brownwood last week, and several other top swingers were in the top bracket, assuring the tournament of outstanding play.

A team captained by McBee won the pro-am Friday afternoon with a 62 score. Playing on his team were Jim Smith of Eastland, Bill Perkins of De Leon, Evelyn Daniel of Eastland, Hiro Kuni-shige of Stephenville and Gene Townsend of Ranger.

Teams led by Don Wilson and Dwight Nevil of Denton tied for second with 64s. Playing with Wilson were P. Shackelford of Putnam, J. L. Stafford and George Owens of Cisco, John Wilson of Mineral Wells and Charles Freyschlag of Eastland. On Nevil's team were Delbert Schaefer, H. H. Wedeman, Dub Sims, Arthur Merritt and W. Q. Verner.

Another big "thanks very much" to an out-of-town subscriber, D. W. (Slim) Blackwell, 1211 N. Grant, Odessa, who writes: "I enjoy reading the Ranger Times very much. After I have finished with it, I have several neighbors here from Eastland County who give it the once-over. Guess I should charge them extra for the news!"

Our gratitude to you, and your friends, Slim, for those kind words. MAYOR and Mrs. Morris L. Newnam attended the "Institute for Mayors, Councilmen and Commissioners" at Austin Monday and Tuesday. The informative conference of top city officials from all sections of Texas was sponsored by the Texas Municipal League. Mayor Newnam received a certificate for his participation in the seminar held at the Villa Capri Motel. President of the TML is Mayor W. B. Strange Jr., Richardson city head.

Mayor Newnam said the sessions stressed the responsibility of public officials to the people they serve and accentuated the importance of good public relations.

Tickets for the Jaycees' 1964 Ranger Rodeo are now on sale and may be purchased at three places downtown: Anderson Chevrolet Co., Arnett's Texaco Service Station. And at the Commercial State Bank. If you want to watch some real tanbark action, get your tickets early. The Jaycees have rigged up a show that really is well worth the very small toll.

ENTHUSIASTIC, goodwill-Ranger Jaycees made their first Rodeo motorcade jaunt Saturday. They left town about 8 a.m., returned late in the afternoon after visiting in Eastland, Cisco, Rising Star, Dublin, Stephenville, Gordon, Mingo and Strawn. They were plugging, of course, their upcoming Rodeo set for July 9-10-11. Charles L. Fox, son of one of the nation's best known pioneer rig builders, visited Ranger last week and offered his services in the building of an exact replica of the original old McCleskey rig which ushered in the oil boom in 1917. Fox now makes his home in Fort Worth, vividly remembers Ranger "back when"...

When an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation visits our town one day and a Texas Ranger the next, we get to wondering what's cooking—or who's cooking—on the front burner... Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shinn represented the Ranger Jaycees and Jayceettes at the national convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce held in Dallas during the past week. We know they had a big time... And finally, this eyebrow-lifting quote from the Eastland Telegram: "There a new 1-piece ladies' bathing suit on display in a downtown window. In the truest sense of the word new, and of the description, one-piece. It's red, and proves that Eastland is just as stylish as San Francisco."

HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Killingsworth who'll be celebrating a happy wedding anniversary on Monday, June 29. May the JFKs enjoy many more!

by citizens to combat the continuing increase of this crime. Basic precautions that can be taken by all homeowners during the coming months include: 1. Make sure all doors and windows are securely locked. 2. Tilt your venetian blinds on the ground level of your home so that persons approaching your house or ringing the doorbell can not look in. 3. During evening hours make your home look "lived-in" by leaving a light burn. Automatic timers, connected to a lamp, can accomplish this ruse every evening when you are away. 4. Don't advertise your absence. An empty garage is a sure give-away of your absence. 5. Don't advertise your absence by announcing your departure in the newspaper columns. 6. Notify your nearest neighbor of your leaving, and, if possible, leave a key with him so he can check your home periodically. 7. Arrange to have milk deliveries discontinued and your newspaper subscriptions to follow you during your absence. And, a most important point is to notify your Ranger Police Department when you are leaving and when you expect to return. This enables them to make periodic checks on homes and investigate any irregularities. Remember, the house and property you're helping to protect this summer — is your own!

BROWSING with BEV.....

By BEVERLEY NICHOLSON
Eastland County Home Demonstration Agent

June is a time of brides and bridal showers. An appropriate gift for the bride sometimes becomes a difficult decision for friends to make. A choice the bride will appreciate is one or more basic small tools which most homemakers use every day.

The list to select from might include these categories:

Pots and pans: a large chicken fryer, a small frying pan with cover, one-quart, two-quart and three-quart saucepans; an oblong cake pan or large utility pan; a loaf pan; a covered casserole with pie-pan lid; six custard cups; and a coffee maker.

Kitchen tools: a measuring cup or cluster of cups; a set of measuring spoons, a set of mixing bowls; a perforated mixing spoon; one spatula; a rubber scraper; a paring knife; a vegetable peeler; a vegetable brush; a small strainer; an egg beater; a rolling pin; a can opener; a pancake turner; a long-handled fork; a grater.

Some first additions: A cooking sheet; a cooling rack; a tube cake pan; 2 pie plates, 9-inch size; 2 round cake pans, 8-or-9 inch size; one muffin pan; a teakettle; 1 or more salad or pudding molds; a potato masher; a wooden mixing spoon; a utility knife, and a carving knife.

Now, some tips on how to give him the right styles in a collar for:

The Long, Lean Face: Wide-spread collars with cutaway effects of the point. This makes the neck seem shorter, and the face wider.

The Full Face and Heavy Jaw: Pointed, semi-spread collar, worn low. This gives added length to the face.

The Thin Face: Spread collars that fit moderately high on the neck. This gives added width to the face.

The Round Jovial Face: Collars of medium length and spread, slightly rounded ends. This softens the mouth lines formed by smiling and hearty laughing.

A SAD STORY
FOR SALE

Behind many "For Sale" signs there is a sad story: A family borrowed more than they could afford to pay for a home, or payments and interest rates were too high; the home had to be sold, often at a loss. This tragedy could often be avoided if the families would seek help from a home loan specialist, such as our Association.

We work with you to arrange for a loan that's as easy to handle as monthly rent.

Denison Doctor Named Texas Baptist Father Of The Year

DENISON. — A 39-year-old medical doctor from Denison, Dr. W. S. Fry, who attends church "every time the doors are open and is one of the few doctors in the city who will make house calls" has been named the 1964 Texas Baptist Father of the Year.

Dr. Fry will be honored during special Father's Day services Sunday, June 21, at the Parkside Baptist Church of Denison as recipient of the state-wide Baptist award.

A special committee representing the Baptist Standard and the public relations office for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the award's co-sponsors, selected the Denison man to receive the award, citing him for "always being available when he is needed by his community, his church, or his family, no matter how busy he might be."

Dr. Fry and his wife Opal have two daughters — Elsie Marie, 16, and Ester Lynne, 9. Each of the family members is an active church worker.

The church's pastor, the Rev. W. S. Kelly, who nominated Dr. Fry for the award said he had never known "a man with more genuine concern for the Cause of Christ, the program of his church, or the need of mankind."

Dr. Fry is chairman of the deacons, an active Brotherhood (men's fellowship organization) worker, an usher, a

Missing Vehicle Mystery Baffles State Officials

AUSTIN—The "Mystery of the Missing Vehicles" has been baffling Texas Highway Department and police officials for a long time.

Each year approximately 17,000 automobiles are stolen in Texas. Most are recovered eventually but a relatively large number—about nine percent—never are found. They seem to vanish like the vapor trail of a high-flying jet.

"We don't have even a single clue," says R. W. Townsley, Director of Motor Vehicle Division, Texas Highway Department.

Townsley is a member of the Texas Police Association's Major Crimes Committee. The committee is holding seminars around the state to solicit the aid of small-town officials in watching for these and other stolen vehicles.

Police statistics show that an automobile is involved in over 90 per cent of major crimes committed in Texas, and it is through license plate identification that many a car has been traced and criminal apprehended. Hence Townsley's place on the committee.

None of the missing vehicles—in toto or in recognizable part—ever have turned up in Texas or in any surrounding states. It's as if they never had existed.

Usually, stolen vehicles turn up somewhere, Mexico, for instance. But our neighbors South of the Border haven't uncovered even one of the missing cars.

Searching of junk yards has proved fruitless, too.

The wrecking yards are checked anyway by Department personnel. It's just policy. Current plates on wrecked automobiles are picked up by THD field men and destroyed on the spot, says Townsley, to prevent reuse of stolen automobiles.

Until 1961, scrapped cars—complete with plates and negotiable ownership papers—could be purchased for $50. To prevent both plates and papers from falling into the hands of auto theft rings, the Texas Legislature passed a law in 1961 requiring each salvage yard operator in Texas to remove immediately the current plates from any vehicle purchased as salvage. The plates and papers then are kept under lock and key until claimed by the Highway Department.

"We pick up an average of 10,000 titles and 3,000 current license plates per month," reveals Townsley.

Meanwhile, officials of the Texas Highway Department and the police seek a clue to the missing vehicles.

Accent on Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN—Your eyes are your window to the world. But, even if you are able to read this, your vision may still be defective.

Chances are slightly more than one out of two that something is wrong with your eyes, on the basis of statistics.

Close to 80 million Americans wear glasses. At least two million of these have inadequate vision even with glasses. About one million persons are blind. Another 30,000 Americans become blind each year.

Unfortunately, many misconceptions and myths about eyes are still popular today.

Take eye strain for example. Ophthalmologists — physicians who specialize in eye care—usually agree that there is no such thing as eye strain. Those pains and discomforts that sometimes follow long hours of watching a jumpy television screen actually are due to eye fatigue. Your eyes need to rest, too.

Children do not outgrow crossed eyes, and this condition should be treated as early as possible. Otherwise, some loss of sight could result.

Good vision is important to safe driving of an auto, but perfect vision is by no means required. The driver who has a few drinks under his belt is much more dangerous than the nearsighted driver whose defect is reasonably well corrected with glasses.

You've probably heard that eating plenty of carrots is good for your eyes. Eating carrots, however, does not necessarily improve vision. Carrots do contain vitamin A, but only a very small amount of it is needed. And it is found in many of the foods we eat, as well as carrots.

Glaucoma—the most common of the serious eye diseases—cannot be cured. But it can usually be arrested by treatment, and further loss of vision can be prevented. Regular checkups for glaucoma are most important, particularly to those past 40.

Children should have their first medical eye examination at the age of three or four, and should be re-examined each year. The small child may have grossly defective vision and not know it.

What can you do to protect your eyes and vision? Make sure that you and everyone in your family — especially the children — have regular eye checkups. Any noticeable change in vision is a definite tip-off that an examination is needed.

MOTORISTS ARE ASKED FOR HELP IN HOLIDAY TRAFFIC

MIDLAND — Major Leo E. Gossett, commander of the 49-county, Midland region of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has asked each individual motorist for their sincere help to save their own life as well as the lives of the "other fellow" this July 4th weekend.

"Operation Motorcade" will begin at 12:01 a.m. Friday, July 3, and end at 11:59 p.m. Sunday, July 5. It has been estimated that during this three day period 32 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents in Texas. "This is only an estimate," explained Major Gossett, "and with the aid of every person that drives, or walks, we can come well under this estimate."

"Our accident statistics in region 4, as well as statewide show that over 50% of the fatal accidents are one vehicle accidents. Our records also show that in almost every fatal accident, there was one or more violation of the law. The leading violations were: Speed to fast for conditions, driving while drinking and wrong side of the road. Fatigue also is a big contributing factor to our accident picture," stated Major Gossett.

The Highway Patrol Service will be strengthened by the License & Weight Service and the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service in an effort to keep the estimated deaths from occurring.

In 1963, there were 2,720 people killed in Texas traffic accidents; this was the worst year ever recorded in Texas traffic history. Compared with the same period in 1963, we have a 15% increase in deaths, and we will probably have over 3,000 persons killed in Texas by the end of the year if we do not turn the trend downward.

Major Gossett stated, "I each individual would make his or her driving a personal responsibility we could reduce the estimated deaths for this period and save many lives throughout the year."

LIFE AND LIVING
by Dolly Hunt

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a woman of 31, and have been going with a man of 33. I was sure that we were about at the "ring" stage when, about a month ago, he told me he had become infatuated with another woman he had just met—that he was sure he was still in love with me, deeply hurt, but agreed to his suggestion. Now, after a month of silence, he has phoned to tell that he KNOWS for sure that I'm the one he loves and "always will love". I admit freely that I love him very much, but somehow the idea of being part of such an "experiment" bothers me. Do you think I should resume with him?

V. E. C.
DEAR V. E. C.: If you really love him, resume your romance with him. Maybe the experiment WAS good for him and made him appreciate you all the more.

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a girl of 16 and go steady with a boy of 17. We see each other at least five nights a week, and so sometimes we run out of conversation and entertaining things to do. So we go riding in his father's car, park in some out-of-the-way spot, and have a session of necking.

deprive myself of it. If my husband really loves me, as he keeps saying, then he should be reasonable about this. What do you say? K. L.

DEAR K. L.: Your husband loves you and wants to be proud of you, but you're making it tough for him because you evidently love food more than you love him. There are men who just don't go for fat women, and evidently you're married to one. So, for the sake of your appearance, and (very important) for the sake of your health, cut down on that calorie intake!
