HOSPITAL WEEK affords opportunity to pay tribute to a group of men who, in ful-fillment of the Hippocrati: outh, have presented their lives as a sacrifice for the welfare of mankind.

Looking over the past 30 years, Ranger's long list of assets includes a long list of capable physicans and surgeons who've made their contribution to the health and longevity of area citizens. Of this group, some are deceased, some have v'ce, and others are a part of every phase of community life, standing ready to min-

Synonyms of healing are the names of W. P. Watkins and L. R. Gohlke, who have, and will continue, please God, to make our community home of healthy people.

So may we, in memory, is kindly thoughts, or by of mouth, salute these men of the Cadeuces with a heart fell "Thank you, Doctor."
