HAPPY HOBBOES, a hundred strong, enjoyed "stew" with all the trimmings at Willows Park Saturday evening.

A friend of ours recently handed us a clipping written by Paul Harvey, well known columnist.

Harvey was questioning government officials about the $600 a year which is allowed taxpayers for each dependent.

The government spends $7,000 a year to feed, clothe, house and train a youngster for the Job Corps.

Under the Cuban refugee program, the U. S. allows a minimal upkeep allowance of $1,200 a year, and if the Cuban boy or girl is attending school, an extra $1,000.

It costs the government $2,300 a year to maintain each prisoner in the federal prison. Under Social Security, the government pays $166 a month.

The VISTA program took $3,100,000 last year to turn out only 202 trainees.

The government will pay more than $800 a year to upkeep an illegitimate child. "Either we're allowing you too much or you're not allowing us enough," Harvey declared.

IH 20 Completion Due In County In 2 Years

It may be two years before all of the Interstate Highway 20 work in Eastland County can be completed, District Engineer E. M. Pritchard of Brownwood has reported.

Work is progressing satisfactorily, however, and Resident Engineer R. P. (Buddy) Haun reported with a 5.6 mile project from one mile west of Cisco eastward around that city, virtually complete. The paving contract of the strip is expected to be let in 1968, it was said.

A second major leg of the new county bypass project extends from the first leg eastward 5.374 miles to just east of State Highway 6 and will include the west half of the bypass around Eastland. This job is about 15 per cent complete, reports show.

The east leg of the Eastland bypass likely will be put under contract this fall, Pritchard forecasted.

There will still be two other projects in the county besides the Cisco and Eastland bypasses. They include the bypass around Ranger joining the already completed I-20 east of Ranger, and some up dating to interstate standards of the four-lane divided route between Eastland and Ranger. The Ranger bypass will get priority of those two jobs, Pritchard said.

Construction is scheduled to begin this year for the last 36-mile stretch of IH 20 from Weatherford to the Eastland-Erath County line where it will join already completed IH 20 in the eastern portion of Eastland County east of Ranger. And the last portion of the bypass around Eastland is expected to be put under contract late this year.

One of the most participated in 4-H projects is that of Foods and Nutrition. The 4-H Foods Show is an Achievement event for all of those girls and boys completing a foods project. Miss Barbara Williams of the Gorman 4-H Club is an outstanding young 4-H Club member in all projects. Barbara is a junior leader in foods and clothing and has done an excellent job. Recently Barbara received a blue ribbon at the County Foods Show and placed first (a red ribbon) at the District Foods Show.

For the Foods Show, Barbara chose a Muffin Buffet bread. The food chosen is not only different, but is very nutritious. Through Barbara's work in her foods project, she has learned proper table settings, obtained much knowledge about food—its nutritive value, food preparation, buying of food, and meal planning and preparation. Her leadership ability has been greatly developed as she guided 8 girls through their foods projects and 4 on to the County Foods Show.

During Barbara's five years of club work she has completed projects in foods, clothing, poultry, leadership, home improvement, and public speaking. She has received many local, county, district and area honors and awards for her work in 4-H. Barbara, 14, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams.

Hats off to one of Eastland County's outstanding 4-H Club members—Miss Barbara Williams.

The Eastland County 4-H Gilt program essays will be due in the Assistant County Agent's office on or before May 1, 1967. Don't forget to send the essay in.

Eastland County 4-H Club girl, Sandy Warlick, has obtained some good foundation stock that have the makings of a good Shorthorn herd. The majority of the animals are coming from Rambo Farms at Rosebud.

Any young 4-H'er who is interested in working with pecan budding and grafting with an eye toward building a clientele and a source of part-time income could find plenty of opportunity in Eastland County. There is a shortage of people with pecan and other fruit budding and grafting skills in this area. A start on the part-time basis could easily provide skills and training that could be used on a full-time basis and maybe even a business for this. If you are interested in learning how you can avail yourself of this opportunity come by the County Agricultural Extension office and talk with one of the County Agents.

Dr. Stubblefield Retires in Baird After 50 Years

Dr. M.L. Stubblefield, Eastland County native and brother of three counties, closed his office door in Baird in late April after 22 years in that city and some 50 in the medical profession. Dr. Stubblefield received his medical degree from the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston in 1917 and entered the U. S. Navy. After service, he returned to Eastland County and opened an office briefly in Carbon, moving to Gorman in 1919.

He moved to Baird in 1945, and he and Mrs. Stubblefield live at 950 Cherry St. there. They have two children, Dr. R. L. Stubblefield and Mrs. Jack Bishop, both of Dallas. Mrs. Stubblefield is the former Adele Poe, daughter of the late C. B. Poe of Carbon.

Dr. Stubblefield is brother to Mrs. H. M. Gilbert, Mrs. H.W. Gilbert and Frank Stubblefield, all of Carbon.

225 Attend Teachers Dinner Tuesday Night

A report on the work of the Texas State Teachers Association and a review of the current legislative program was given by S. M. Anderson of Big Spring, the state president, in a talk Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the Eastland County Teachers Association.

The meeting was held at the Victor Hotel in Cisco with some 225 persons in attendance. R. B. Golemon of Ranger, the county association president, presided.

Mr. Anderson who is superintendent of schools at Big Spring, reported that the state association now has 118,067 members and that good progress was being made in all phases of the TSTA program. New officers of the association were installed by the state president.

James Couch, Cisco Junior high principal, was named president to succeed Mr. Golemon. Mrs. Oleta Wade of Oden was re-elected secretary. Other new officers named are Dave Smith of Gorman, first vice president; Rod Carter of Rising Star, second vice-president; and Keith Watkins of Eastland, treasurer.

Entertainment and dinner music was provided by the State Band of Ranger Junior College. The invocation was given by Charlie Garrett, and O. L. Stamey gave the benediction.

Rodney McCoy Finishes Basic With Marines

Marine Private Rodney L. McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McCoy of 18 New St., Eastland, Tex., completed recruit training at the Marine Corp Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., graduating as Honorary member of his platoon of some 75 men.

With the honor goes a Dress Blue Uniform presented by Leatherneck Magazine, and a meritorious promotion to private first class.

Marine recruits undergo more than 75 hours of physical conditioning, spend more than 80 hours learning how to drill, and devote two weeks to rifle and pistol marksmanship in their eight-week training program.

In physical fitness training, recruits run, lift logs, climb ropes, conquer five different obstacle courses, progress through a variety of body-building exercises, are taught water survival and participate in organized games. To measure their progress they are given two strength-measuring tests.

Following graduation, the new Marine reports to Camp Pendleton, near Oceanside, Calif., for individual combat training.

A graduate of Eastland High School, Eastland, Tex., McCoy entered the service in February, 1967.

What Is Fort Griffin Fandangle? It's Having Fun — Western Style

What is a fandangle? It is singing, dancing, and showing off—Western style. And the Fort Griffin Fandangle this year is a centennial celebration of the founding of Fort Griffin.

Presented annually by the people of Albany since 1938, the show is different each year—each production a fresh and happy blend of new songs and old favorites from past Fandangles.

The show is presented on an acre-size stage in its own Prairie Theater, carved from a hillside overlooking Albany. The theater fuses past and present, a ranch country heritage is unlocked from the dusty trunk of memory, polished bright, and transformed into enchanting entertainment.

Performances will be June 15, 16, 17, and June 22, 23, and 24. All seats must be reserved. Prices are: box seats, $5; Chairs $3.50 and $2; and bleachers, $1.50. Tickets may be ordered from Fandangle Office, Albany.

LVN TO MEET

The Licensed Vocational Nurses Association, Division No. 64, will meet in the Conference Room of the Eastland Memorial Hospital Monday, May 8, at 7:30 p. m., and all members have been urged to attend.

HOMEMAKERS HINTS

By JANET MEYERS
Home Demonstration Agent

Plans and arrangements for 4-County Camp were recently made by Home Demonstration women from Eastland, Comanche, and Brown and Mills Counties. The 4-County camp will be hosted by Comanche County on July 6. At the planning meeting from Eastland County included Mrs. C. T. Brockman, H. D. Council Chairman from Morton Valley, and Mrs. Joe Bond, H. D. Recreation Chairman from Olden.

These ladies reported that the day's activities will include fun as well as educational information. All women in the county are encouraged to make plans to attend.

Durable - press clothes are being bought today. One of the great advantages of durable - press is that they reduce the work required to keep family members well-groomed.

Proper laundry methods help retain the easy-care features of these fabrics. Launder before fabrics are heavily soiled and as soon as possible after soiling. Turn garments inside-out to help reduce "fraying" or wear on creases. Launder in the coolest water that remove soil. If warm or hot water is used, then rinse in cool water before machine spinning or hand wringing.

For heavy, oily soil, perspiration, and food stains, measure heavy duty liquid detergent required for entire load and apply full strength to the most soiled area of garments. Soak in hot water, let water cool to 90-110 degrees, then agitate for six to eight minutes.

Shorten the wash cycle to the minimum required for soil removal. Use slow agitation or a stop-and-soak, followed by a short time of normal agitation. Advance the control dial to shorten cycle.

Rinse well in cool water. If your water is hard, use a water softener in the first rinse or fabric softener in the final rinse. Fabric softeners reduce the static charge which attracts soil. Softeners also decrease clinging of man-made fibers.

For less wrinkling, dry in small loads, about half the dryer capacity. Dry at normal heat unless your dryer has a setting for "wash-and-press" or permanent press. At the end of the dryer cycle, let the clothes continue to tumble for a cool down period of five to ten minutes after the heat is off.

As soon as the dryer stops, remove garments and hang or fold. If you have no dryer, shorten the final spin in the washing machine by advancing the dial, or remove the garments while dripping wet and hang on rust-proof hangers. If touch-up pressing is needed, use the iron at the low setting.

DATES TO REMEMBER
May 5 — The Home Demonstration Agent will be in Gatesville for a planning meeting to plan the District 8 4-H Congress to be held in Stephenville on June 13-15.

Ciscoan Writes of Viet Nam

MILTON KING of St. Louis, son of Mrs. Sam King of Cisco, is a member of a Naval Reserve unit that recently spent two weeks on active duty in Viet Nam. A member of the unit prepared a very interesting story about their experiences.

Because of the local interest, we felt that you'd enjoy the article — which follows:

In the blackness of night, my glowing watch dial told me the coast of Viet Nam should be passing below. We had lived day and night for this moment since reporting to the Naval Air Station, Olathe, Kansas, a week ago for our two weeks' annual training duty.

As I stared downward, I thought of the events of the past few days. The C-118 "Liftmasters" of Naval Air Reserve Transport Squadron VB-882 flew from Olathe to Point Mugu, Calif., to pick up high-priority cargo, then landed at Barber's Point, Hawaii, to refuel. Some squadron personnel had to stay in Hawaii because fuel and cargo weight would not permit everyone to go "all the way". The crewman going to Viet Nam would get extra shots, malaria pills, eat cold box lunches, and end up in a sweltering combat zone.

The flight over the Pacific would involve hours of discomfort and boredom, interspersed with periods of anxiety about weather or mechanical problems. But there is no shortage of volunteers, and after a steak lunch, the crew met in a comfortable air-conditioned room for briefing. Included in the briefing is advice not to walk on the east side of the airstrip at Da Nang due to the threat of snipers, to watch for snakes, and at Da Nang deliver priority cargo, and get out as fast as possible.

At 3:30 p. m., on March 8, we boarded our plane, which was filled so full it seemed impossible to unload the cargo without dismantling the aircraft. We took off on schedule at 5:20 p. m. The dark blue sea was speckled with whitecaps and the islands soon faded into the haze as we flew toward the Marines at Chu Lai in Viet Nam. Going with us was a Navy Seabee assigned as supercargo to oversee delivery and unloading of the cargo in Viet Nam. Part of this war material would go to his unit in the hills of South Viet Nam. The rest was for the Marines at their jungle airstrip at Chu Lai.

Ten hours after take-off, we landed at Wake Island. Our sleepy crew shed gloves and jackets as the warm, humid breeze came through the cabin door.

We parked between dull green and brown combat planes and silver transports which dwarfed our four-engine craft. After fueling and reading weather maps, we climbed aboard. Then a refueler asked us for a state-side newspaper. We found a several-days-old Los Angeles paper, and four Navy men under a light pole eagerly divvied news from home.

We took off for Guam. It was cold in the air, and blankets came into use. Six hours brought us to Guam at dawn. Orange clouds began to appear out of the gloom below like grotesque giants pushing back the night for us. After landing, one of the crew crawled onto the wing and caught a rope thrown by the truck-driver manning the gasoline truck. Soon the fuel line whipped under pressure, like an agitated snake, as the plane's tanks were filled with high-octane.

Now our second plane, which followed us all the way from Olathe, rolled in next to us. The third plane was one day behind because of an extra cargo run. Above Guam, Air Force B-52's returned through the clouds from a Viet Nam bombing mission.

After a short rest on Guam, we took off for Viet Nam. As we neared the coastline, we de-pressurized the cabin to lessen damage in case a Viet Cong gunner pierced the fuselage with a lucky shot. Carbines and 38 revolvers were loaded and passed out to crewman. The cabin lights were turned out to make us less conspicuous from the ground. We stared out the windows hoping not to see any orange flashes or balls of fire rising toward us. For the first time, the fiery glow of the engines' exhaust pipes seemed like a neon sign advertising our presence. We wondered how many eyes were looking up.

Suddenly a whine and quiver told us that the flaps and wheels were down. The four engines idled back and the three screamed in protest as they hit the runway. It was 3:15 a. m. in a hotly-contested piece of jungle at a dangerous time. We opened the cargo-door and were greeted by warm rain and the sickly sweet fumes from jet fighters rolling past us. The only lights were flickering flares along the taxi-ways. Then two dim lights snap on and move toward us. As we scrambled over the cargo, yanking off tie-down straps, a tanned face appeared under the hatch. A broad-shouldered marine climbed in and waved toward the moving lights, which provided to be part of a fork-lift. Few words were spoken as aircrews and ground parties labored with skill and speed to unload crates that weighed several hundred pounds a piece. Two of the aircrew inspected the underside of the plane with flashlights. Finding all in order, they began to refuel. The 10,750 pounds of cargo were unloaded when crewman discovered an oil leak in Number One engine.

Annual Spring Field Day To Be In Ranger May 16

The annual spring field day of the Eastland County Pecan Growers has been planned for May 16th at Ranger. DeMarquis Gordon, County Agricultural Agent, said the program will feature talks and discussions on control of diseases and insects affecting the pecan.

The program will begin at 9:30 a. m. at the Paramount Hotel in Ranger. Two outstanding horticulturists, George Madden of the U. S. Pecan Field Station, Brownwood and Tom E. Denman of the West Cross Timbers Experiment Station, Stephenville will be on the morning program.

A short business session will be held, according to J. M. Cooper, president of the group. Delegates will be named to attend the annual convention of the Texas Pecan Growers Association at the Green Oaks Inn in Fort Worth in July, Cooper said.

After lunch in the hotel the group will assemble at the Freeman pecan orchard 10 miles south in the Chaney Community. The orchard is now leased to Chester Marrs, formerly of Goldswaite. The group will check on the stage of the pecan nut case bearer, the most destructive of all of the pecan insects.

Men and women interested in developing the pecan industry, not only from Eastland but from adjoining counties as well, are welcome to attend the all day event.

International Postal Rates Are Increased

An increase in international surface and air mail rates went into effect Monday, May 1, Postmaster Ross Hodges announced today.

The new international rates, he said, will not apply to mailings for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Domestic postage rates are applicable to mail addressed through APO's and FPO's.

The rate increases for both surface and airmail — averaging 13 per cent — were first proposed on January 14 and publicly confirmed on March 1. The Department explained at that time that they were needed to help offset a deficit of about $16 million in international mail operations.

Specific information on the international rates can be obtained from the service window at the post office, Postmaster Hodges said.

This was the first general increase in international rates since July, 1961.

The increases are:

1. Airmail letters to Central America and Caribbean area from 13 cents a half ounce to 15 cents.
2. Airmail to the rest of the Western Hemisphere remains 15 cents a half ounce, except for Canada and Mexico.
3. Airmail to Europe and Mediterranean Africa from 15 cents a half ounce to 20 cents.
4. Airmail letters rates to the rest of the world remain unchanged at 25 cents a half ounce.
5. Aerogrammes and air post cards increased 2 cents each from 11 cents to 13 cents.
6. Items sent by air, other than letters and parcels, such as airmail packages, books, periodicals and other printed matter increased 10 cents per piece to all countries except Canada.
7. Most letters going by surface transportation to all nations (excluding Canada and Mexico) increased from 11 cents to 13 cents. Post cards raised from 7 cents to 8 cents.
8. Most printed matter, including publications, increased one cent a piece. For 2nd class publications to Canada only, the one cent increase will be deferred for six months to become effective November 1, 1967. Also, the present bundling rate which permits postage to be computed on the bulk weight of packages of publications addressed to Canadian post offices will remain in effect until November 1, 1968, at which time it will be discontinued.
9. Surface parcel post rates to all nations increased 20 cents a parcel, an average of 7 per cent.

"Postage rates for surface first class letters and air letters and surface 2nd class type printed matter to Canada and Mexico correspond to U. S. domestic rates, which are set by the Congress, and are not being changed at this time," Postmaster Hodges said.
