Oil Brings Over $2.6 Million To Eastland County's Economy Yearly

More than $2.6 million a year of economic stimulation for Eastland County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association showed today.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Eastland County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president.

"Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Eastland County in 1965 produced 562,900 barrels of crude oil, valued at $1.7 million and 6.9 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $388,700 and ranks 142nd among Texas counties in production.

In addition, plants which process natural gas for liquid such as natural gasoline, butane and propane in 1965 produced more than 32.3 million gallons of liquids valued at $1.6 million.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $319,350.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 30 wells in Eastland County. Of these 4 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $653,790 in drilling last year, of which $292,519 was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $138,850 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $76,641 and natural gas production, $62,209.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show that some 344 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations accounted for a payroll in excess of $1.7 million.

Additional value is given oil and gas from the operation of processing plants. The Oil and Gas Journal lists 4 natural gasoline plants in the county with a capacity of 71.3 million cubic feet per day.

Mrs. Bigby Retiring After 25 ASCS Years

Mrs. Novella M. Bigby will retire June 30 after 25 years with Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Mrs. Bigby said, "I plan to cook, keep house, and care for my family as usual. We also plan to spend some time at Lake Leon."

"I have enjoyed my work and the people with whom I've worked. I've enjoyed my association with the farmers and contractors in the county."

Mrs. Bigby was honored at a dinner at Lone Cedar Country Club Friday. She was presented a 25 year certificate of service award by Mr. L. F. Bain, ASCS District Fieldman from Stephenville.

Fellow workers gave her a silver meat platter.

Her husband, C. L. Bigby retired May 31 from Texas Electric Service Company.

The Bigbys have two sons, Johnny Clay of the home and James Lewis of Fort Worth, Texas, who is Assistant to the Superintendent of Production for Texas Electric. He has three daughters, Bryna, Susan, and Sandra.

FOURTH OF JULY PAGEANT SCENES

July 4 History Pageant Nears Final Rehearsals

The big Fourth of July Pageant recreating Eastland County's history, at the Kendrick Theater Tuesday night, is shaping up nicely and final rehearsals will be held Friday and Saturday nights, it has been reported.

The show will be exciting from start to finish bringing back memories of the early days and happenings since the beginning of the county, for old-timers, and an educational look for the younger set, as to "how it used to be."

Several old settlers from different communities in the county have called and visited the production center, midway between Cisco and Eastland at the Kendrick home.

In fact many details and outlines have been adopted for this the premiere production, but naturally everything can't be put into the first show. A total of 24 major events are being staged to fill out the two-hour, free show.

This show promises to be exciting from the beginning to end, as it includes things which have happened since before the Indian up until the present time, and there are few counties in the state which have had a more picturesque history.

The cast includes people from throughout the county, also Mineral Wells and Weatherford. The show will start at 8 p. m. on the 4th of July, with an hour of music preceding the main western pageant which will cover 24 scenes of the main events that have taken place since the beginning of Eastland County.

To mention a few: The great oil boom of Ranger and Desdemona along with the saloons and shoot outs of the early days; the Santa Claus robbery of Cisco which has made nation wide history; the story of Old Rip that is known throughout the world, covered wagons, cattle drives, Indians and many other scenes to keep you entertained throughout the show.

The show is free to bring your chair or a cushion to sit on the ground or you can rent a chair for the duration for 50 cents each. The concession stand will be open to serve you.

MANOR RESIDENTS MEET FOR REGULAR WEEKLY WORSHIP

The time was 7:05 p. m. on Tuesday. As one approached Western Manor and Convalescent Home, 460 W. Main St., an increase in number of cars parked near the building was noticeable, but none of the 48 residents were seated on the patio nor in the well kept, flower-bordered lawn.

This scene could be any Tuesday evening, because Tuesday is "special" at the home for senior citizens. It is church night and a very large per cent of the 25 ambulatory residents and those in wheel chairs have, in the truest sense of the word, "gone to church."
This weekly opportunity for a genuine worship experience is made possible by local church groups who count it a privilege to share the program of their congregations with those who cannot attend regular services.

The spacious living room becomes a sanctuary where, under the direction of ministers and laymen, the residents become a participating audience. The program is sufficiently formal to be reverent yet felicitous enough to meet the needs of those who attend.

These services came into being in response to the expressed desire on the part of Manor residents for public worship. Ten churches, Methodist, Catholic, Church of Christ, First Christian, Church of The Nazarene, Pentacostal, Presbyterian, Christian Science, Baptist and Jehovah's Witness are represented in the group whose combined years of church membership totals several centuries.

Many of these can recall the days when they held places of leadership in their congregations, days when they and their families were faithful in attendance and support of the work. These memories become all the more precious as they join the Manor family in singing such immortal hymns as "Amazing Grace," "Oh! How I love Jesus," and "When The Roll is Called Up Yonder", and as they join their hearts in prayer and listen to the reading of God's Word.

When the short service is completed, visiting musicians answer requests for favorite selections and visit those who, though bed-ridden, are able to appreciate the ministry of music.

To borrow a phrase from a commercial: "A little trouble? Yes, but a lot of satisfaction." It may ever be said to the credit of the owners and staff of the home, as well as all who have a part in the perpetuation of the program, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto these, my brethren, ye did it unto me."

Jay L. Jones and granddaughter, Kathy Moore of Prescott, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reese and Mrs. Dick Bahr of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mills of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Covington and family of Grand Prairie, were recent guests in the homes of Messrs. and Mmes. W. W. Jones and Jack Redford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson and family have returned from a vacation trip to New Mexico. Points of special interest were Carlsbad Caverns, White Sands and El Paso.

Rev., Mrs. Tribble Honored With Reception

The Rev. and Mrs. B. Thomas Tribble and children, Kathy, Bailey and Danny, were honored at a reception in Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church following the evening worship service on Sunday, June 25.

Gaston Dixon, president, and the Women's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Walter Daniels, president.

Background music was presented by Mrs. Chas. Smith, pianist.
Spring flowers in shades of pink were used effectively throughout the hall and at the tea table where refreshments were served to approximately 100 guests who called.
Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. S. Wayne Reynolds and family of Cisco.

The affair was co-sponsored by the Board of Stewards, Advertising Pays Dividends
