NUMBER 17

Enrollment In Ranger Schools Reaches 627 During Second Week

The enrollment in the Ranger Public Schools totaled 627 the second week of school compared with 625 the same time last year. More had enrolled last week Supt. James Clark said but even more had moved since then.

Hodges Primary has 61 in the first, 66 in the second and 54 in the third for a total of 181. The combined Kindergarten has 34 enrolled under Mrs. Bruce Golemon.

Young Elementary has 60 in the fourth, 50 in the fifth and 45 in the sixth for 155 total.

In the junior-senior high school the enrollment from the seventh grade up is 54, 47, 54, 42, 48, 39. Total is 291.

The enrollment should increase by a dozen in the next few months Clark said over the number who move out.

Hodges lunchroom fed 250 total meals while Young School served 153 meals. The high school students eating are included in the Hodges figures but the number is about 65 to 70 each day while a bus to Hodges for lunch daily. Most of those eating are regular Clark said and rarely miss eating in the lunchroom.

About 23 meals are served free in the district to pupils whose parents cannot afford to pay Clark said. We do not intend for a pupil to go hungry if the parent is unable to pay for the meal or for part of the children in the family he said.

Clark said he feels that there are several students in Ranger whose child should be in Title I Kindergarten. If in doubt the parent should telephone Hodges Oak Primary School he said.

Mrs. Vann Rigby has been selected to assist Mrs. Golemon in the Kindergarten this year and Mrs. Golemon, registrar, she is doing a wonderful job. She is the wife of the agriculture instructor at Ranger Junior College.

* Probable Starters (offense)

The 1968 football season will open for local fans as the Cisco High School Loboes play host to the Bulldogs of Ranger High School in non-conference play at 8 p. m. Friday at Chesley Field in Cisco.

Both teams will be in top condition for the contest, and fans in both cities have been pleased with the showing of their teams in pre-season scrimmage programs. Cisco appears to have the strongest team in several years, and Ranger has been picked to win its Class I-A district again this year. Cisco plays in Class 2-AA.

The Loboes will be out for revenge as Ranger racked up a 12-7 victory when they met in Ranger last year. The bands and pep squads of both schools will be out in full force, and a capacity crowd has been forecast for this renewal of ancient rivalry.

Cisco and Ranger both won their two pre-season scrimmage games. The Loboes had a 30-man squad that has been equally divided into the varsity and junior varsity teams. Ranger had 43 boys out and both "A" and "B" team schedules will be played.

Cisco's better outlook is based on more depth. The 25-man varsity squad is made up of 11 seniors, 13 juniors and one sophomore. For the first time in several years fans feel that they have a potential breakaway team in Sam Fletcher, 170-pound senior halfback.

Probable Cisco starters were announced as follows: Offense — Ends: Al Heyser and Mike Benton; tackles: Jack Hailey and Tommy guards: Keith Farrow and John Morris; center: Steve Linebarger; quarterback: David Smith; halfbacks: Sam Fletcher and Randy Honea; and fullback: Lorenzo Chriesman.

Defense: Jerry Martindale and John Morris; tackle: guard: Jack Hailey; linebackers: Keith Farrow and Mike Farnsworth; cornerback: Larry Pence; halfbacks: David Smith and Lorenzo Chriesman; safety: John Fletcher.

Co-captains of the Loboes are Sam Fletcher, Jack Hailey, Randy Honea and David Smith.

Honea will handle the kicking off and extra point kicking, and Smith will do the punting. Managers are Ricky Morton, Richard Wende and Randy Nix.

Coaches of the Loboes are Manning Davis, Paul Mosley, Delbert Schaefer and Jim Coats.

The Bulldogs, who went to the quarter finals in last year's Class I-A circuit before they were stopped, have another out-and-out team in prospect. They have eight seniors, 12 juniors, four sophomores and three freshmen on their varsity squad of 27 players.

The Bulldogs will rely on Bill Watkins, quarterback and Tom Fox and Bobby Sipes for most of their running game, and Brad White and Armando Renteria are their top pass catching ends.

Probable offense starters for the Bulldogs were named as follows: Ends: Brad White and Armando Renteria; tackles: Dennis Kennedy and Gene Bilby; guards, Floyd Parks and Phil Sanders; center: Jimmy Dumith; quarterback: Bill Watkins; halfbacks: Larry Williamson and Bobby Sipes; and fullback: Tom Fox.

The defensive team will have a few different players. Co-captains are Watkins, Floyd Parks, White and Renteria.

The Bulldog coaching staff is composed of Charlie Smith, Tommy Walter, Boone Yarbrough and Bob Blair. Managers are Bob Revels and Mike Campbell.

The junior varsity eleven of the two schools will meet at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at Bulldog Stadium in Ranger.

The regular Third Sunday Singing will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 1 at the Congregational Methodist Church at Gorman. Many visiting singers are expected, H. A. (Pete) Tyrone announced.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Pep Rally Set Thursday On Main Street

In preparation for the season's football games, two pep rallies will be held weekly, according to head cheer leader Margaret Williams.

At 7:30 p. m. each Thursday, a rally will be held on Main Street in front of Swaney's Pharmacy. The second rally will be staged in the High School Gym at 11:30 a. m. each Friday.

Parents and fans of the Bulldog Team are invited to be present for these rallies. It is a fine way to manifest an interest in the sport, the school and the town.

MEET THE 1968 RANGER BULLDOGS — Bill Watkins, quarterback and one of the captains of the '68 Bulldogs is a senior this season. Last season he was named to the All-District team, and also named as one of the "Most Dedicated Players" by his teammates. At right is Floyd Parks, guard and also a captain of the Bulldogs and a senior. Floyd received a certificate at last season's football banquet for recovering the most fumbles. He also was named to the All-District team.

BILL MANN

"Singing Revival" To Be Held At First Methodist Sept. 16-18

"Three Nights for God" is the theme of a "Singing Revival" to be conducted by Bill

Mann in First United Methodist Church of Ranger, Sept. 16-17-18.

"Blessed Assurance" is the theme song of the evangelist singer who has dedicated his life to singing for Christ. Area residents thrilled to his fine tenor voice and keen interpretations during a similar series of services in Eastland last year as well as during Laymen's Retreats at Glen Lake, Glen Rose.

Accompanist for Mann will be church organist Mrs. Chas. Smith. The Chancel Choir will also sing each evening.

A native of Bessemer, Ala., Mann is now Director of Methodist Church of Dallas. He has traveled to all parts of this country in concert work, evangelistic campaigns and important meetings of all denominations.

In issuing the invitation to residents of Eastland and adjoining counties, the pastor, Rev. Thomas Tribble said:

"We will have opportunity to sing our favorite hymns and thus express our faith as we are led by Bill Mann. I invite your prayerful participation in our Singing Revival, beginning at 7:30 p. m. on above dates."

Funeral Services Held Wednesday For A. Sanders

Funeral for Alex R. Sanders, 64, resident of Ranger for 11 years, was held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Killingsworth Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. J. C. Atkins, Church of God minister of Mineral Wells and the Rev. Leo Fields, pastor of East Side Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Breckenridge Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Vern Peterson, Aris Sadler, Lee Crawford, Albert Shipley, Melvin Kincaid and Lowe Wallace.

Mr. Sanders died at 7 p. m. Monday in Jack County Hospital in Jacksboro.

Born May 6, 1904 in Wayland, Stephens County, he married Pauline Odum March 10, 1938 in Fort Worth. He was a former Breckenridge resident and lived in Valley View prior to moving to Ranger. He was a nurseryman and was employed by Peterson Nursery in Ranger.

Mr. Sanders was a member of East Side Baptist Church. Survivors include his wife of the home; two sons, Donald R. of Euless and James R. of Dallas; three daughters, Mmes. Walter Thompson of Wilmer, Henry Allison and Donald Underwood, both of Dallas; three sisters, Mmes. Elva Taylor of Ranger, Louise Ewing of Merkel and Nacie Shipley of Pottsville, Ark. and 12 grandchildren.

In this corner, with COLLINS

RECENT EDITION of a Los Angeles, Calif. newspaper informed readers of the Teddy Neeley Benefit Concert to be held in Ranger on Sept. 14. This information comes from L. A. residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harper who are houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins. We intended to list the No. 1 song of the week, but polls vary. Our vote goes to No. 26 on the 40-star Survey, a thing called "The Category Stomp." It is a bouncy tune resembling "Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious" only more so. And what could be more so (popular, that is) than "Mr. Touchdown" as band and fans follow Ranger Bulldogs to Cisco Friday evening for their first victory of 1968.

TO DALLAS, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradshaw left last weekend to make their home in that city where Mr. Bradshaw is employed and their son, Terry will attend University of Texas in Arlington.

TOP SALESMAN for Taylor Chevrolet, Abilene, for August was former Ranger salesman Harmon Shockey. Harmon and Verna Faye now live in Clyde and manage to get back to Ranger occasionally for a visit with their many friends.

DUE TO college orientation, the meeting of Ranger Ministerial Alliance was postponed until Monday, Sept. 16.

Advice Is Given On Complaints About School

Patrons of the Ranger Public Schools who have a complaint of any type or who desire any information about their child or their school should telephone or visit that particular school Supt. James R. Clark said today.

The principals of each school desire that they be contacted or the teacher. The principals want to be given an opportunity to solve their own school problems where they can and to answer questions about the school, the teachers or the program.

The policy book of the school trustees call for the above approach by parents.

Clark emphasized that if parents call trustees or his office they will be helped if possible, but it will speed up many answers if the principal of that school is called first. School officials want parents to ask questions and want them to present their problems to them so they can at least try to solve them.

The principals have asked the superintendent to make this request in procedure.

Anyone who is interested in showing beef calves is invited to attend and participate in the program. HEIDENHEIMER'S

Ranger Manager George Kloos presented the honoree with a diamond studded white gold wrist watch.

Ward's employees and their families made up the large group attending the dinner.

A native of West Virginia, Mrs. Roberts moved with her husband to Big Spring in 1940 and later to Temple where, on April 10, 1943, she accepted a position as sales clerk for the city's Wards Store. Two years later, she was promoted to head of the Catalog Order Dept., a position she held for six years prior to coming to a like position in Ranger where, for 17 years, she served the company and the customers in a highly creditable manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts reside on E. 2 Ranger. Reading is their mutual hobby and they are noted for their fine vegetable gardens for which Mrs. Roberts gives her husband most of the credit. The couple has one daughter, Mrs. Howard Brown, three grandsons and one granddaughter, all of Littleton, Colo.

Mrs. Roberts summed up the reason for her contentment and success in three words: "I like people." Whether they be customers, neighbors or fellow tourists, she enjoys being with people and making new friends. Laughingly, she added that, since the first 25 years were probably the hardest, she plans to continue. This is good news to all whose lives have been touched and blessed by her congenial spirit and efficient service.

County Dairymen Attend State Meeting Held In San Antonio

Riots and demonstrations during the Democratic National Convention and other such events were compared to activities of "the bully boys of Hitler's brown shirts" in an address at the recent convention of Milk Producers, Inc., in San Antonio, according to Ernest Reich of Cisco, a delegate to the meeting.

The speaker was Dr. George Mehren, professor at the University of California and a former assistant secretary of agriculture, and some 2,000 Texas milk producers were in attendance. Others attending from Eastland County were D. Williamson and Weldon Tankersley of Morton Valley.

Dr. Mehren also commended that some members of the "Poor People's March" on Washington several months ago said in essence "We want what you have right now," and held up a box of matches to show what could happen if they didn't get it.

"Somehow, some parts of this minority group seem to think that the Almighty God has blessed these groups with the ultimate truths, and they seem to think that if anyone doesn't agree with them they are square, perverts, prostitutes, and totally unhuman," Mehren said.

"We have seen these groups before, in the bully boys of Hitler, who had the single truth; the 'thought police' of Japan, the Red Guards of China the black shirts of Mussolini.

"I, for one, do not believe these minorities have the single truth," Mehren said, to the applause of the audience.

The Convention Center ballroom resounded time and again while Mehren spoke with Public Invited To Pecan Tour Friday, 9 a.m.

Friday, Sept. 13, is the date for the Eastland County Pecan tour sponsored by the county pecan growers association. Anton White, president of the association, invites everyone interested in pecans to go on the tour.

The tour begins at Fred Perkins' orchard at 9 a. m. Perkins' orchard is located on highway 183 — 11 miles south of Cisco and eight miles north of Rising Star. Other orchards to be visited are C. T. Barton's orchard at Pioneer, Leroy Livingston's orchard and C. E. Smith's orchard near Rising Star.

De Gordon, county agent, says two Extension Service specialists will be on the tour to discuss pecan production problems. They were Dr. J. W. Worthington, Area Horticulturist from Stephenville, and Jerral D. Johnson, Plant Pathologist from Texas A&M University.

A business meeting will be held following lunch at the Elite Cafe in Rising Star. The members of the pecan growers association will discuss plans for the 1968 county pecan show. Representatives from towns desiring to host the pecan show will extend invitations at this time. White says members of the association who have paid their 1968 dues by Friday will have an opportunity to vote by mail ballot on the site of the pecan show.

America is a pluralistic community, that operates within rules of self-discipline, order and decency, Mehren said.

"What next for agriculture?" he asked. "You should ask instead, what next for America? Unless we resolve, and resolve quickly, where the nation goes, there will not be time or resources to worry what next agriculture.

"There will always be an agriculture, so long as man is born of woman, wants to eat, drink, clothe himself and live in a house.

"In most of the things that really matter to agriculture, it doesn't really matter whether there is a Republican or Democratic administration. No Mediterranean fruit fly coming into Brownsville knows the difference."

"The government can't really do too much for you," Mehren told the dairy farmers. "They can only provide the legal authority for you to operate. You and only you, can make it tick."

Mehren said there are only a few basic issues that confront America today.

One is Vietnam and Communist aggression. He said he and his wife were in Europe when Czechoslovakia was invaded by Russia, and his wife's relatives were for the first time in months trying to cope with being bludgeoned into submission.

"Those who say the United States should not defend itself are fools," Mehren said. "They forget 1920 and Japan, 1930 and Hitler and Stalin, Mussolini and Tojo, and Korea.

"There has been more equality in this country at all times than any other nation in the world. The average American Negro earns more per capita than the average United Kingdom (England) wage earner."

Mehren said current riots and demonstrations are the first step of anarchy, which has the next step of dictatorship.

"For my part, I am not ready to concede defeat to the kinds of people who are trying to destroy this country," he concluded, receiving a standing ovation.

Education Report Detailed: But All Answers Not Given

Texas can have the best public school system in the nation with ten years according to a report just released by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education, entitled: "The Challenge and the Chance."

The "Challenge" is a history of educational mediocrity which finds Texas traditionally ranked among the lowest one-fourth of the states in measures of educational achievement and financial ability. The "Chance" will be of once-in-a-century combination of stable school enrollments, a projected 60 percent increase in economic activity, and a rich harvest of prospective teachers produced by the population boom of the past 20 years.

To take advantage of its opportunity, "Texas must set its educational house in order, eliminate inefficiency and financial favoritism, and make an all-out commitment to excellence, the Committee warns. State aid formulas must be made flexible to promote new educational approaches, and the results must be carefully measured.

Proposed innovations include regular summer programs to utilize otherwise empty school buildings and to offer year-round employment for teachers who cannot support a family on nine months' pay; encouragement of vocational program expansion geared to the actual opportunities in Texas business and industry; preschool training beginning at five years of age with top priority for those in greatest need—and eventually a program for four-year-olds with "educational handicaps."

For teachers, the Committee proposes salary increases, contracts with a regular work-week providing time for conferences, planning, lesson preparations, and grading papers, and staff aides for non-professional chores. To get her with provisions for sick leave, periodic developmental leaves at State expense, and Texas the "best State-guaranteed personnel program" in the nation.

The base salary would be $600 per month for a beginning teacher with a Bachelor's Degree. Addition of a tenth-month to the schedule in 1970-71 would make the annual salary $6,000 for beginners. With summer instructional assignments a man with a Master's Degree and five years experience could earn more than $10,000 a year.

Committee proposals for a "Supplemental State Aid Program" would provide extra personnel and operating funds and higher salaries for districts with heavy concentrations of educationally handicapped children. The proposals reject the concept of "equal education for unequal children."

To manage the expanded educational programs efficiently and assure provision of comprehensive educational opportunities, the Committee recommends that every school district have a 12-grade system and that it either (1) contain a minimum of 2,000 students or (2) be at least countywide in size. County superintendencies would be eliminated and a new system of regional offices of the Texas Education Agency would replace Educational Service Centers established last year.

The proposed plan to make Texas a national leader would require an average increase of about $126 million a year over the ten-year period. But the bill for the taxpayer will not be as painful as it looks at first glance.

School enrollments will stabilize in the next decade because the number of births in Texas has decreased steadily for the past eight years. Fifty thousand fewer children were born in 1966 than in 1960. But the economy should continue to grow at a rapid pace.

Current taxes on property, sales, natural resources and other forms of economic activity will grow enough to avoid a big gap between income and proposed expenditures to support the 10-year program. Texas can finance a top quality educational program by matching the commitment of other leading states, the Committee contends. By investing only four percent of their income in public education, Texas can have the best public school system in the nation.

Authorized by the Legislature in 1965, the Committee of 15 laymen and professional educators has spent nearly three years on a study which examined every facet of public school education in Texas.

Citizen attitudes toward the suggested changes will be as important as their willingness to pay more money for excellence in public school education, the Committee believes. Almost every recommendation—from school district reorganization to new formulas for determining the amount each district will pay to support the program; and from teacher pay increases to the establishment of public kindergartens and adult education programs—requires legislative action. The Legislature is responsive to public opinion, and the Committee has carefully sampled that opinion as a part of its comprehensive study.

Statewide surveys of adults and teachers have indicated general approval of the new educational approaches which the Committee is recommending. The results show recognition of the need to strengthen educational programs as a means to providing improved standards of living for a responsible citizenry. And most important adds the Committee, attitudes have changed to demand an emphasis on reaching the individual child rather than trying to "mass-produce" uniform "batches" of students.

The Committee report contends that investments in improved education is a saving for the future. Dropouts and students who graduate without job skills to support themselves frequently wind up being supported by the State—on welfare or in a correctional institution. Education should fit the student for responsible citizenship and make him a contributor to the economy rather than a drain on the State's resources.

At the request of the Legislature the Committee will continue to work until June 1, 1969. General recommendations on organization and finance will be applied in specific detail to every district in the State through a Supplement to the Committee's report, due in about six weeks.

Members of the Committee are: Mr. Leon Jaworski, Chairman, Houston; Mr. Paul Haas, Vice Chairman, Corpus Christi; Mr. Joe E. Chapa, Linn; Mrs. J. O. A. Conner, Waco; Mr. M. K. Hage, Jr., Austin; Mrs. George Hawn, Port Aransas; Dr. Harold Hitt, San Antonio; Dr. Frank W. R. Hubert, College Station; Dr. June Hyer, Houston; Mr. Morgan Jones, Jr., Abilene; Mrs. Savannah Cross Locke, Troup; Dr. James McCrock-ton, Eastland; Mr. Walter Madden, Jr., Amarillo; Mr. Loyd Turner, Fort Worth; Mr. Dick West, Dallas.

Soil Survey Is 65% Finished In This County

Soil surveys are completed on about 65 percent of Eastland County. During the coming year, an additional 98,000 acres are planned to be completed. Joe Moore and Fred Coburn, soil scientists with the Soil Conservation Service, are making the survey.

Conservation District are the main users of the soil survey. Knowledge of the soil and its capabilities and limitations is the base of all sound conservation treatments. City planners, road builders and many other groups are also finding the information helpful.

The Soil Scientist making this survey walks over the land to prepare the map. He carries an auger and spade to examine the soil, a hand level to measure the slope of the land and an aerial photograph on which to record observed information. He studies soil characteristics such as depth, texture, permeability, structure and color of the soil. Soil samples are taken in some areas for laboratory studies, and correlation with surrounding counties.

The Eastland County Soil Survey is a part of the National Cooperative Soil Survey, which is a cooperative project of the Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The purpose is to get a complete inventory of the Nation's soils and to learn as much as possible about how the soils react to different kinds of use and management. In addition to the Experiment Station's tests on these soils, soil scientists note the types of use and management that seems best suited for each particular soil. Yield data and other useful information is accumulated throughout the survey.

When the survey is completed, the information will be published in book form. It will include aerial maps of every section of the county, a description of the soils, information on agricultural and engineering uses and detailed weather data of the county. It will have a section on geology, range, wildlife, cropland and other informative pages about Eastland County. The published soil survey will contain more information about the soils of Eastland County than any other published book.
