A Grown-up Child Writes to Santa

by ROXIE WOODS

Dear Santa: I have been a long time since I have written to you. I have moved to a new home on Harry Drive in a house of loveliness and doubt, which stands at the end of delusion and all of the gloriously bright little bubbles that I had in years gone by are now either broken or tarnished and stained.

Please bring me a few of those precious toys that I once had. The shiny bubbles of joy; the tinkling bell of cheer that rang in my voice; the candles of faith that shone in my eyes; the mirror of steadfast hope that strengthened my soul and loads of a ark of universal love that gleamed in my heart.

In the years past, I realize that I did not appreciate those priceless treasures or care for them as I should have. Now I repent my carelessness and humbly ask you to remember me with a great supply this Christmas.

I will hang my empty heart right by the chimney, Santa and please this is what I want: Give me a large basket of forgetfulness with which to cover up all the bitterness and brooding; a large box of forgiveness for those who robbed me of laughter and filled my eyes with tears; leave me enough cement of hope to mend the fragments of joy. Tuck in a little song of cheer and please, Santa, leave quite a lot of plain old-fashioned faith, understanding, self-faithness and tolerance.

Sincerely and thankfully,
Roxie Woods.

RJH, RHS Are Re-Accredited By Southern Association Group

AUSTIN — The Ranger Junior and Senior High School of the Ranger School District the Ranger Independent School District was accredited for the 1968-69 school year by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools at their annual meeting in Atlanta, Ga., in early December. This school has been a member since 1948.

The school is among the 542 member schools from Texas that are accredited by the Secondary Commission of the Southern Association. This program is operating in 11 states and involves some 3000 secondary schools, or better than 30 percent of the secondary schools, in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. It also has the responsibility for the accreditation of American Schools in Latin America.

Sunday To Be Special Day At Church of Christ

Sunday will be remembered as a "Special Day" in the life of Mesquite and Rusk Street Church of Christ, according to the minister, Norman Westergard.

All regular services were conducted with 198 in attendance and an offering of $1,055. The minister delivered messages of the day.

Following the morning service, members above sixty years of age were honored at an Appreciation Dinner in the dining area of the church. Seasonal decorations provided appropriate atmosphere for the traditional Christmas menu served to 65 persons.

Gerald Dempsey of Frederick, Maryland will arrive this weekend to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dempsey.

Accreditation by the Secondary Commission of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools means that the school meets standards established by high school principals, school administrators, and college educators, describing a program of continuing self-improvement for teachers, materials, curriculum and facilities. Member schools have come to depend upon the mechanics of accreditation as the most effective means of achieving quality in their educational programs. Benefits accruing to a school, such as creating public confidence in its educational program and protecting it from groups or individuals who would use the school for their own personal gain or advantage, are inherent in the accreditation process.

Say It With Numbers

With Christmas shopping delirium in swing, my checkbook becomes a depleted old thing; so I step into the Eastland Bank "On the Square." A glistening white Christmas tree greets me there, and my good friend Ruth comes up with a smile to pass the time of day for awhile. Finally, I stroll to the counter thereof for books saying, "Pay to the order of."

"What's your electronic number?" they asked. My checks are all gone and I forget fast. "Let's see, am I 32-127-5?" I query hape alive. Numbers start spinning round, in my head, but not the right ones — others instead, such as Texas Electric and telephone and Book-of-the-Month, but bank number has flown.

I come home into an envelope to dive to find checks of last month marked "Paid 88-2175." But that's not MY number I soon discover. Mine is the one twist the left and the other.

Frustrated with this new math I decide to look in my billfold where bills sometimes hide. A Federal Reserve Note greets my eyes with the simple word "ten" in print of good size. But to my horror it has a number, too — G4526-5101A. "Whew!"

So with these electronic numbers and the credit cards, I have a tendency to feel jarrred and scared. You see, my name has a number become, such as 23-409-21.

Now when I give a check to pay a bill, I no longer write "to Charlie Hill." Rather, I scrawl with that pen of mine, "Pay to the order of 5429."

And I laugh to myself when I recall how my checks used to say, "For Joe's new ball" or "For Pop's Christmas cuff links and ruby studs" or maybe my girldie and other duds.

For you see, I've become very math modern, too. On my checks I write, "For McGreggor, size 42" or "For Exquisite Form, No. P901" or "For Seamless 480, tan in the sun."

It's quite a game that I've begun to play. It makes Christmas buying fun each day. And my friends in the bank now have to guess if what I have bought is a skirt or a dress.

Try chuckle checks like these while you're shopping — your furrowed brow will no longer need mopping!

During the gift exchange, the members filled a box for the state home at Abilene.

The home of the hostesses was ablaze with Christmas lights and candles in the yard, on the steps, and over the entrance inside, the same Christmas decor was evinced by a lighted tree, poinsettias, Santas, and a serving table covered with a red cloth and centerpiece by a Nativity scene.
