THANKSGIVING—That special season to express gratitude to the great Creator for all that we have and are; a time to extend to family and friends words of appreciation for what they have done to enrich our lives and a time to exempt ourselves from that which might make the occasion less happy for any fellow creature.

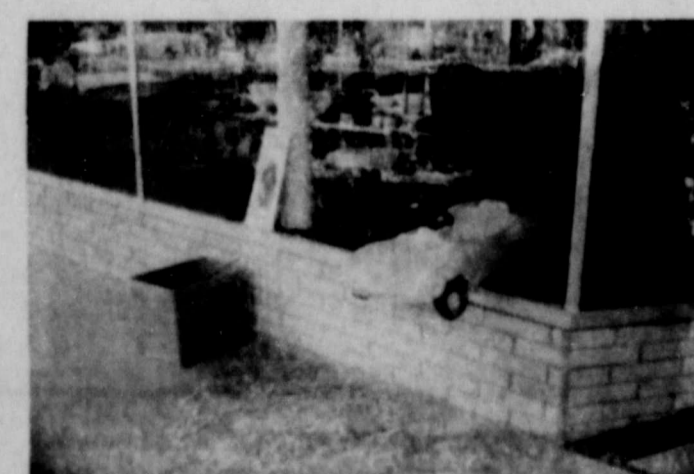

THE TIMES appreciates its friends; those who make possible the paper we publish those who cheer our hearts by expressions of gratitude for our efforts. We join fellow businessmen in a holiday, and join them in saying "see you Friday."

DISTRICT 10-A football goes into regional play this Friday as DeLeon faces Munday in a game to be played in Stamford.

GAGGLE was a term frequently used by David Brinkley during his talk at Casco Junior College Saturday evening. He referred to a gaggle of reporters, a gaggle of politicians, etc. When he defined the term (an unspecified number of geese not in flight) he suggested that much could be accomplished if a gaggle of voters would express themselves in letters to congressmen, citing where such expression had been effective in certain needed reforms.

The question and answer period could have gone on all night. In the beginning, the speaker promised to answer or evade questions submitted. His wealth of knowledge and his frank honesty in saying "I do not know" made this an impressive and with Brinkley's enunciation, it was an evening of good listening.

FROM CALIFORNIA comes a letter from Ollie Langerak with renewal of subscription for herself and entering Joe Weeks on subscription list. Thanks, and may the papers reach you promptly and contain news you'll like to hear.

NEW OPENING at Ben Franklin Store was suddenly created by the sonic boom on Tuesday morning. Size of the gap is indicated by the large sign which was merely an innocent bystander.

DRAWING TOWARD GOD is a book designed to apply scriptural truth to everyday living. By means of some 50 full-page drawings interspersed in the text, the reader is led to reflect with the artist-author on the great issues of life. Over a billion impressions of Jack Hamm's religious art have been printed in the U. S. and 17 foreign countries. For the first time he sets down his reasons behind the drawings. Winner of four national cartooning awards, Hamm contends that the nature of God and man's nature need to be, and can be, related one to the other.

"Jack Hamm has a way of using his brush, crayon, and words to cut through to some of the great theological truths that concern us all. This is a marvelous book for individual meditation, or for any group of dedicated people who wish to have a guide to promote inspirational discussion. Jack has a rich imagination and a fine sense of fundamentals. We have been blessed in our world with many great editorial cartoonists, but I know of no other man who has been able to turn his talents to interpreting religious truths as has Jack Hamm." From The Introduction By CHARLES M. SCHULZ Creator of "PEANUTS"

"The work of Jack Hamm. He has a great gift for illustrating, and therefore making simple, important truths that would be difficult to express in words." DR. NORMAN VINCENT FRANKS

"A fine artistic portrayal . . . bringing the inspirational Word of God into American homes." J. EDGAR HOOVER Director of F. B. I.

"The most difficult task for a cartoonist is to sustain a point of view over a long period of time, even when the subject is the Word of God. Jack Hamm has kept his work in such sharp focus that it sustains the believers among his readers and most certainly gives hope to those who need it." MILTON CANIFF Creator of "Steve Canyon"

"Jack Hamm is helping to create a moral and spiritual atmosphere throughout the United States." BILLY GRAHAM

"How better to reach people of all ages than with the timeless scriptures retold in timely pictures." PAUL HARVEY

Newsletter From RHS Band Director

By Richard Helmeamp

There are three things that make a band director what he is. First, he has to have students that are willing to work and to follow his guidance. These kids have to have pride in their band, in themselves and in their director. Ranger is very lucky to have the quality of students that it has in Ranger High School and I am the luckiest person in Ranger to be associated closely with 57 of the best. The students that make up the Spirit of Ranger" would do anything for their band. This is the pride that it takes to have a successful band. The second thing that makes a band director what he is is a Band Booster Club like the one we have here in Ranger. There is not a finer group of men and women anywhere. From the people that have always donated material things to those that stand up and volunteer to work, the members of the Band Booster Club have supported me and my programs as faithfully as any director could hope for.

The third thing that makes a band director what he is is a family as wonderful as mine; an understanding wife that is willing to give more than a wife's normal share of giving and yet is always there when needed, is a man's greatest asset. Mr. wife is my greatest critic, and friend.

All of these three things combined Saturday to make the U I L Marching Contest held here in Ranger a great success. Many directors said this was the best organized and smoothest run contest they had ever been to.

I could never find words to thank everyone so I will use this means to say "Thank you" to any and everyone that was in any way remotely connected with Saturday's event or with any band activity for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Russell are spending Thanksgiving Day with relatives in Newcastle.

IT HAS BEEN

By Vada Arnold

Thanksgiving as we know it should be a day of prayer, prayer for everlasting peace, a day in which we should be very grateful for the many blessings which God has given us, and a day when we should dedicate our services to mankind for a better brighter future for all peoples.

When we pause to meditate to give thanks and compare our multitude of blessings with the hardships and deprivations of the Pilgrim Fathers (our forefathers) we are brought to shame as we think of our complacency our unshared blessings and our failure to give thanks to our allmighty God who created all men equal and has "given us all things richly to enjoy." As we think of the Pilgrims and their first "Harvest Festival" in October 1661, in a new land, among savage Indians, wild animals, crude homes and a scarcity of food & how they cleared land, planted crops, suffered illnesses and death, yet they found time to be thankful to God for the blessings they had.

These new settlers made friends with many of the Indians, among them their Chief Massasoit who was a good friend and ally of the colonists. Along with the chief a number of the tribe joined in a three day festival of feasting and thanksgiving. There was plenty of roast turkey, for there was a "great store" of the wild birds in the area of Plymouth. Wild berries, roasted corn, nuts and wild plums were worked into goodies for the feast.

The year following the first celebration of the harvest festival brought misfortune galore and the colonists did not hold a festival. They counted the days until spring and crop planting and food for their families. After crops were planted in the spring a terrible drought set in and all vegetation was burned to a crisp brown. Settlers called a day of prayer for rain. They prayed with faith and were rewarded with a long, refreshing rain. Added to the blessing of rain a ship loaded with friends and supplies landed on their shore.

A day for "public thanksgiving" was set by a governor; but this day was different from the present Thanksgiving Day. No account is given of feasting following the long church service.

In 1636 we find a record of celebration similar to the day we now keep. "The colonists of Scituate, Plymouth, Colony, gathered in the meetinghouse, beginning some half an hour before nine and continued until after twelve o'clock"

Thanksgiving

In the spirit of our forefathers, let us all give thanks

On Thanksgiving Day let us all join together, friends and family, to give thanks for all that we have. Let us also remember all the good times, shared throughout the year. We wish all our neighbors and patrons a joyous and happy Day of Thanksgiving.

We are thankful for the opportunity we have of serving Eastland Countians ... The finest people on earth.

HORTON TIRE CO.

with Psalm singing, prayer and a sermon. "Then came merrymaking to the creatures, the poorer sort being invited by the richer."

The Continental Congress appointed December 18, 1777 to be observed generally as a day of thanksgiving. In the first year President George Washington served as president he issued a proclamation recommending that November 26, 1779 be kept as a National Day of Thanksgiving for a form of government that stood for safety and happiness.

For years the festival was confined almost exclusively as a New England institution. Services were held in all churches, often times the sermons were political addresses and families met in their old homes.

In 1864 president, Abraham Lincoln issued a proclamation that the last Thursday in November be set aside as a National Day of thanksgiving.

In December 1941 Congress passed a resolution making the fourth Thursday a legal holiday. The day is now celebrated in all of the United States and its possessions.

The Gordon Spot

By DEE GORDON
County Agricultural Agent

November 21-27 is National Farm-City Week. This is a mighty good time for us, as American consumers, to express our appreciation for the "Miracle of production." We spent a smaller portion of our disposable income for food and got the best quality of any nation in the world. The economists tell us that the average family spends only 17 per cent of its income for food. This figure has dropped steadily since 1900 when the average family spent 40 per cent of its income for food.

One farmer now produces enough food and fiber to feed and clothe himself and almost 50 others. This farm efficiency benefits every consumer every day throughout the year in a steadily declining percentage of earnings required for family food needs—a record unmatched by any other industry or nation in the world.

I went to Mason Nov. 18 to judge the Mason County pecan show. An entry of Choctaw was named champion. The reserve champion ribbon was placed on an entry of Eastern Schley. An entry of Brake was shelling champion. These three entries were very high quality pecans.

The Eastland Co. pecan show, to be held in the county courthouse lobby, is expected to have some of the highest quality pecans in the state.

Our show will be held Dec. 12 and 13. Eastland County has been moved from the West Texas region to the Central Texas region for regional pecan show purposes. This means our top pecans will compete with Bowie, Comanche, Hood, Johnson, Montague and Wise Counties in the Waco regional show January 8, 9 and 10.

The Eastland Co. Livestock Raisers Assn. is already working for the 1970 County livestock show. H. L. Ferguson of Cisco was recently elected as president. Sam Kimmell reports the committee is still working to get the new building donated by Lone Star Gas Co. moved to the county show grounds.

I recently received confirmation from Houston that two Eastland Co. 4-H boys, David McCaghren and William Donham, both of Nimrod, have been selected to compete in the 1970 Beef Scramble at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Feb. 28. Congratulations to the two boys. We sure hope they both catch calves in this event. If they do, they will be given money to purchase registered beef heifers.

Many reports that their yields are better than they had expected while others are very disappointed. This crop is expected to pump between four and five million dollars into the county this year. Of course, this is not all income to the farmers. Did you know they spent up to $187 per acre to produce peanuts on irrigated land?
