town with civic pride? If there is one who would sound a note of pessimism, we invite said person to drive down Main Street and note the cleanliness of the area, thanks to a faithful sanitation department. Store windows are veritable showplaces, adorned to depict both the gala and sacred aspects of the season. Even windows of the vacant first floor of the Joseph Building display outdoor scenes, the work of local artist Molly Day who, by the way, has figures for sale when you begin that over-all decoration to enter the residential lighting contest which begins today (Thursday).

WITH ONLY 18 more shopping days until Christmas, may we suggest that you include on your shopping list a wealth of information avail-able in the 1970-71 edition of Mrs. Westmoreland the Texas Almanac, a limited 1:07 a. m. Monday in Permian supply now on sale at the Times Office for $1.95 each, plus tax. . . Unlimited is the supply of Subscriptions to the Times, ideal for former residents, friends or even to make friends out of your enemies. Third suggestion is the indulgence of the desire to "plant a tree in memory of one you love." Simply leave order with Ranger Garden Club and the tree will be planted on the campus of Ranger Junior College in January.

FOOK MHO.2 HELPING SANTA!

GLYN GILLIAM

BILL TERRY

BILL PARNELL

Come in and tell these fine people how much you want for Christmas expenses-and they'll tell you how to finance it.

Your application will really be handled fast. The First State Bank loan officers certainly don't want you climbing down your chimney with an empty bag.

Besides the really fast service, you'll like the low interest rates with spread-out payments and insurance included.

So if you want extra cash for the holidays, just stop by the First State Bank and ask one of our Santa helpers.
