MERCHANTS OF RANGER MEET TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR A FASHION SHOW TO BE HELD IN THE FALL

Merchants of Ranger met in the office of the Retail Merchants association Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of planning and discussing a fall style show to be held in Ranger.

All present were heartily in accord with the plans and agreed to co-operate in the every way possible to make the show a success.

John Hassen presided at the meeting at which much interest in the show was manifested. After some discussion it was decided to let a committee decide upon the details in connection with the show and to report back to the body.

John Hassen was asked by those present to appoint the committee and after the meeting adjourned named Ray Fesmire, Walter Harwell and F. D. Hicks to aid him on the committee. Mrs. Alice D. True, secretary of the Retail Merchants association, will also serve as a member.

Some discussion was had by the group as to whether the show should be held outdoors or in some auditorium, and it was generally thought that in the approaching fall season the weather was so uncertain that it would probably be best not to attempt to have the show outdoors.

Discussion on possible locations for the style show brought out several suggestions including the auditorium of the high school building, but this was left to the committee to determine.

Mr. Hassen said Thursday afternoon that he was going to try to hold a meeting of his committee Friday morning, at which time the subject would be gone into more thoroughly and more concrete plans formulated.

At the beginning of the meeting Thursday E. A. Ringold appeared and urged them to co-operate in cashing teachers' warrants, but warned them to be sure that they were properly endorsed.

Hal Hunter of the Lone Star Gas company was present and pledged the whole-hearted support of his company to the project and the merchants may call on the company to have the band furnish music for the occasion, which may take on the form of a combined entertainment and style show.

Burns Machinery Co Equipped For Almost Any Job

Few people in Ranger, unless they have had occasion to visit the plant in order to have work done, realize the size or the ability to turn out complicated work at the Burns Machinery company, East Main street.

A visit to the plant by a Times representative showed much activity in the machine shop, though the place was spotlessly clean for a plant of the kind and everything seemed to be in its proper place.

Hardly three years ago when Burns took over the shop, which was then the Bishop Machine shop, the plant was poorly equipped and had little machinery. Today it is equipped to handle the most intricate jobs and can do aluminum or brass moulding of all kinds.

It is the only shop nearer than Fort Worth, Waco or Wichita Falls that gear cutting machines or milling machines installed and operation and much work for this section of the state is turned out.

Thursday the plant was reboring a 24-inch cylinder, was casting an aluminum piston and was making piston rings. The cast iron piston weighed 260 pounds, while the aluminum piston, which gives much better service, will weigh, when completed, between 120 and 130 pounds.

Any kind of brass gear for machinery can be cast from an old, broken gear, and it will wear many times as long as indicated by a casting that was made, a gear bracket, that weighed 160 pounds, when cast from brass, that was made by the company at the same cost a cast iron bracket could be secured from the factory, and which was reported to have lasted five times as long as the original.

The company casts a large number of brass hammer heads, which are used around gas properties of the Lone Star Gas company, because they do not cause sparks, which might prove dangerous.

Any job up to 200 pounds can be cast in either aluminum or brass and no job is too small nor too intricate for the company to handle.

Three skilled machinists are on the job all the time, in addition to Mr. Burns, while at times more are employed.

The company enjoys a good business from an area of almost 100 miles from Ranger, because it is the only plant within that radius that can turn out the vast variety of work that the Burns shop can handle easily.

Bobsleigh Is Tip For English Race

LONDON.—Bobsleigh is the present hot tip for next year's Derby. Experts declare that he is the best two-year-old in the country at the present time. Bookmakers are cautiously offering odds of 10 to 1 against him for the great classic.

Bobsleigh ran green at the Ascot meet, his first appearance, but at Goodwood at the end of July, he won the Richmond Stakes in smashing style. He was a 1 to 3 favorite at the off, and romped home by four lengths.

The colt is the property of Lord Derby, who is lucky to have such a good animal to step into the racing plates of his Derby winner Hyperion, now retired. Bobsleigh possesses much more range and scope than Hyperion did at the same age.

There is nothing flashy about this chestnut colt, but when you come to look him over carefully you find it exceedingly difficult to pick a flaw in him.

Interest in Horse Raising in Texas Indicated at Fair

DALLAS. — Increased interest in Texas as a breeding state is evidenced in the fact that among reservations for stall space for more than 800 race horses for the fall meet at the State Fair of Texas, opening on Saturday, Oct. 6, there are more than one half of this number owned and trained in Texas, according to Julius G. Reeder, general manager of the track for the fall meet.

Among the horses are many that are famous throughout the country such as Croon, Clarify, Miss Corinne, Bien Fait, Hoy Valet, Westy Fox, Fabulous, High Bottom, Brown Molasses, and many just as famous.

Stall space is available for only 1,000 horses at the State Fair, and Judge Reeder has said that it is assured now that every available stall will be occupied during the 19 days of the fall meet at the State Fair of Texas.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON
WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Well, the John Donovan case finally made all the front pages because it enabled the National Labor Relations Board to exhibit its strength and integrity by socking General Johnson in the eye while he was engaged in a running battle with the rest of the administration over the future of NRA and himself.

Around town, however, the army of 30,000 government workers is wondering whether to recognize Donovan's reinstatement as indicating a future change in relationship with the boss—Uncle Sam.

Do they have a right to organize and protest bad working conditions, discriminations, and other grievances? Apparently they do. Union organization among them is now taking a spurt.

No question, federal employes are a privileged class in certain important respects. Civil service still protects most of them. Pay cuts—and raises—are rare and not very drastic. Some have sinecures and others are over-worked.

On the other hand, they are up against the petty intrigues and jealousies of small bureaucrats, the stifling of initiative and imagination, the stagnation of promotion and similar handicaps. There is no genuine protection against long, grueling overtime work such as most NRA codes and union organization provide in private industry.

NRA attorneys, trying to find reasons why President Donovan of the NRA union shouldn't get his job back, delved deeply into the separate legal status of government employes. They read Sidney and Beatrice Webb and other labor authorities.

They finally concluded there just wasn't any "law" on the issue, so the question wasn't brought up and didn't figure in the NLRB decision.

There are two national "unions" of federal workers—the National Federation of Federal Employes and the younger, more militant American Federation of Government Employees. The latter is affiliated with the A. F. of L. and is the parent of the NRA local.

The federal civil employes in Washington present something of a problem to local merchants because they are all paid twice a month at the same time. The result is a great rush on the 1st and 15th of each month to banks, stores, and other places where checks may be cashed and money handed out.

The Board of Trade has just protested this schedule, urging that paydays be staggered so the clerks can get rid of their money in more orderly fashion.

But the general accounting of the fees, the mechanical bother of changing the system would be enormous and many new sets of complicated regulations would have to be issued. The GAO work already is two or three months behind, what with all this New Deal spending.

But it's interesting to observe that officials have informally left the question up to employes themselves. And the two federal employes unions, after preliminary checks with members, had no great enthusiasm for the change.

Ringold Talks On Thrift at Lions Meet Thursday

The Lions club Thursday heard an unusually good talk, "Thrift," given by Lion E. A. Ringold, who began his discussion by telling of the teachings of Benjamin Franklin, America's pioneer in the field of saving.

It was 41 years after the death of Benjamin Franklin that the first savings and loan association was started. That humble beginning was in the form of a few men, serious-minded, honest, thrifty men, who banded themselves together and pledged the depositing of $5 per month until those payments plus the interest made from the loaning of the money had grown to $500 when it was to be withdrawn and used to build or purchase a home. The idea once put into practice grew slowly but steadily until in 1929 there were more than 8,000,000 investors in building and loan associations and more than $5,000,000,000 invested.

When the financial crash came in 1928 and 1929 over 15,000,000 workers and wage earners were thrown into unemployment. These millions, some of whom were investors in the savings and loan stock, naturally came to need their money and sought to withdraw it, but there were others in the 15,000,000 unemployed who had borrowed on their stock to build or buy with and as they were without funds were unable to pay the associations, therefore the savings and loan associations along with the banks of the nation were floundered or becalmed in a Saragosa of finance.

The government, Mr. Ringold said, enters the picture just here with its founding of the Federal Home Loan banks, which partly filled the need for aid to the distressed home-owner but which were pointed the way to a better way of helping which is the founding and chartering of federal savings and loan associations in every community that desires and will make possible the chartering of such an association.

Ranger just last week completed the necessary arrangements and there is now in the hands of authorities an application for a charter for Ranger for a federal savings and loan association that will pull money out of postal savings accounts and other places where money is placed for safe-keeping but where it is also stagnant. Money put into the federal savings and loan will be loaned locally by a local board for the improvement and repair of local residence property by local craftsmen.

In conclusion, Lion Ringold asked that every Lion work toward a bigger and stronger association for Ranger for two seasons. It will help the investor to save and it will help the home-owner borrower and the home-town building craftsmen.

After the regular order of business, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the reports of committees, several guests were introduced. They were Dr. Hal B. Parks, who heads the science department of the Ranger Junior College; Mr. Rupert Ringold of the English department of the Ranger High School, and Mr. O. G. Lanier, who for a number of years has been associated with the Ranger school system.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK—Detroit will be a sentimental favorite over New York in the world series, provided the Giants repeat, which they should.

There is no longer much question about the American League standard bearer. How are the Yankees going to repel a club that spots the opposition anything from three to nine runs, and comes on to extend a remarkable winning streak?

New York probably will be a slight choice in the wagering, however. Everything else being equal, most gamblers prefer to stick to a champion until he is beaten. It's hard to plunk down your money against a consistent outfit that plays the common sense baseball of Bill Terry's men behind pitchers like Hubbell and Schumacher.

Some also will figure that the Giants will have an advantage if having been through one of the trying fall tests, but I doubt that this gives them an edge.

The fact that only three of the Tigers, Cochrane, Gossin, and Marberry—four now, with Crowder—have tasted the glory and gold that come with first place in the majors has had as much as anything else to do with the success of the Detroit entry.

Fire of Youth in Club

THE average age of the Tigers, including the 35-year-old Marberry, the 24-year-old Gossin, the 23-year-old Crowder, and the 31-year-old Cochrane and Gehring, is less than 28.

You can imagine how the 22-year-old Rowe and the 23-year-old Greenberg and other Tiger cubs listen when Gossin and Marberry relate their own careers during when the Washington club with which they played first scaled the heights to make Buckey Harris a boy wonder.

The dash and daring and ambition of youth has played a big part in carrying the Detroit outfit along, and it isn't likely to be content with a one-year run.

With the best infield in baseball, and three brilliant young pitchers around whom to build a staff, the Tigers next season should meet Connie Mack's demand of an outstanding club, and may go a great deal farther. The venerable leader of the AAAAAAAA's says that a club unable to duplicate a flag-winning performance has no right to permanent renown.

Built for Future Conquests

MICKEY COCHRANE'S team is built for the future. Charley Gehring, the finest pitcher in the game today, is at his peak at 31. Bill Rogell is 30, the vastly improved Marvin Owen only 26, and Greenberg, as related in the foregoing, only 23.

Schoolboy Rowe appears ready to take his place among illustrious pitchers, and Tommy Bridges, one of the nearest curve ball hurlers in the profession, is only 27. Eldon Auker, 24 years of age, 6 feet 3 inches in height, and scaling 197 pounds, has struck a shutout stride in recent weeks.

Detroit has excellent minor league connections and an alert fleet of scouts. Everybody connected with Frank J. Navin understands the business. Proof of this is that practically every member of this year's rampant array, with the exception of Cochrane, Gossin, Rogell, Crowder, and Fischer, was developed within the organization.

Bright Spot On Business Horizon Continues in Texas

AUSTIN.—A bright spot on the business horizon continues to be the relatively small number of business failures, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

According to the weekly reports compiled by the Bureau, Texas during August totaled 17, the same as in July but only about half the number as for August last year.

Liabilities of $200,000 were 20 per cent lower than in July and 73 per cent below August, 1933.

BOBBITT ASKS DEMOCRATS IN VOTE ON LIQUOR

GALVESTON, Sept. 11.—A demand for submission of prohibition promptly to the voters of Texas was made in the keynote speech of R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, at the state democratic convention here today.

Bobbitt made the speech as temporary chairman of the convention.

"Our party is a liberal party, believing on fundamental principles of local self government and state rights and we are going to stand for those principles," he said.

"The people of Texas are more interested in bread than they are booze. They are more concerned in hogs and hominy than they are in hooch and horsing." "They are more interested in the wide and just safeguards around the homes and the schools than they are in boxing arenas, pool halls or any scheme of so-called legalized gambling.

"Let us promptly submit the question to the voters and then as honest democrats who believe in the majority rule, abide by the results.

A number of disagreements appeared in prospect.

Tom Love, Dallas dry, was ready to fight submission.

A proposed plank condemning horserace betting also may cause a scrap.

Selection of Jim Kilday of Houston as permanent chairman may be fought by the delegation from his own county, though Tom Connolly, who was opposed to his selection, has said he will not fight Kilday.

County Represented At Relief Assembly

Eastland county was represented today in San Angelo at the six-state drought relief assembly by H. E. Driscoll, county administrator.

The administrator is expected back tonight.

RANGER MERCHANTS APPROVE OF FALL STYLE SHOW PLANS

There has been quite a bit of discussion among the merchants and retail dry goods dealers in Ranger the last few days in regard to having a fall style show some time the latter part of the month or probably about the 29th.

In talking with John Hassen this morning in regard to the show Mr. Hassen had the following to say: "I believe we should have a Fall Style Show and that we should get busy and meet and put the show on not later than next week." The people are expecting the merchants to hold some sort of entertainment and show them the new styles for fall. "I do not believe we should sit idly by and let an opportunity like this pass, as for me you can count on us to help at all times for the things that will help bring people to Ranger."

Mrs. J. C. Smith of the J. C. Smith Store had the following to say: You can tell the world that I would be in favor of cooperating in a style show if it is put on from a cooperative stand point and if it is possible, let all the merchants come together and hire some responsible man or woman and then let him in turn be responsible for the show in every particular. I mean by this, see that each merchant is given a certain part in the show, each girl is given a certain garment to model and that the merchandise that is modeled is taken care of and returned to the merchants. This will relieve the merchants of a lot of responsibility and detail — of course I do not mean that the merchants would not assist, because all of them will help in any way with the director for the show. Of course these are only suggestions, but I would really be interested in a style show that is cooperative and properly conducted."

Saul Perlestein and Morris Bendix of the Globe both spoke as being in favor of anything that would bring the people together and show them the new things for fall and winter. Now would be a good time for such a show as the kids are all in school and the folks are back at work. "Let's get together and go into this matter before it is too late," said Mr. Perlestein.

Mr. Nelson of the J. C. Peiney company spoke as believing that a style show if properly handled and that all the merchants wanted it he would be in favor of a real style show, one that would be conducted so as to represent the entire community. He said the entertainment would be splendid for the people and if properly handled serve as a good advertising for the merchants and business of the city.

Mr. Hutchins of the Scott Store said he felt sure a fall style show at this time would greatly aid in letting the people of this territory Ward was very optimistic over the now the class of merchandise Ranger firms carry.

Ray Fesire of Montgomery plans to have a real style cooperative style show and not one put on by two or three. Mr. Fesire said you can quote me on the following: "Montgomery Ward wants to cooperate with all interests to keep the town up and on its toes we believe the people will be appreciative of this effort. We have lots of new merchandise, just received and we feel that the merchants should have a meeting immediately and going to this style show proposition from every angle." We also think all the merchants should attend this meeting and take a part in the discussion and all agree on certain, definite plans and then see that they are carried out."

Mr. Joseph in discussing the style show said it was a splendid thing for the business men of any city to get together and work out

37 MEMBERS OF BAND OUT FOR FIRST PRACTICE SESSION

The Ranger high school band, under the direction of R. L. Maddox, met Monday night at 7:30 at the high school for the first practice session of the year.

There were 37 members present, some of whom were old members and some starting their first year in the senior band, having been in the junior band last year.

Officers were elected for the coming year. Jack Davenport was elected president; John Thomas Scott, vice president, and Ernest Glazner, reporter. Roy Hanson, who has been drum major for the past several years, will not be back this year and Bill Hurch was unanimously voted to succeed him.

There will also be a band sweet-heart this year. She will be chosen in the near future.

With the number of members present Monday night and others who will start later, this promises to be a good year for the band.

Everyone is cordially invited to visit band practice, which will be held every Monday and Thursday nights.

San Angelo Game Daylitter, Night Game Out, Petty

Eastland Mavericks will play the San Angelo Bobcats on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 22, in San Angelo, in lieu of the night engagement, Coach S. J. Petty announced Monday, because, the coach said, the Bobcat light installation would not be completed by that date.

The San Angelo engagement marks Eastland's ice-break on the season schedule. On the horizon is the Breck-Eastland game, Oct. 12, Eastland's first conference game.

Sanitation Project Underway in County

Thirty-one persons in Eastland county have received employment in the county sanitation project which started Friday for nine weeks duration, under the supervision of the state and national departments of health, J. G. Reagan of Cisco, county foreman, stated Tuesday.

The program is a miniature replica of that which was discontinued several months ago and projects for the most part are those of construction of pit privies and septic tanks, the director of the program said.

Persons who desire construction of the type the department concerns itself with have been advised by the director to send their applications in early as the rule of first come, first served applies.

Floor at Josephs Now Re-Decorated

A decided improvement in the appearance of the Joseph Dry Goods company store has been made with the re-decoration of the floor, which not only adds much to the attractiveness of the store, but adds to the lighting effect so that more light is available for the shoppers and clerks.

The floor has just been re-painted, with orange and gray as the predominating colors. The colors are painted in three-foot squares, with orange squares and gray squares alternating. The effect is quite unique and presents an attractive appearance which is quite noticeable as one enters the store.

35 LETTERMEN IN OIL BELT COMING OUT

Thirty-five lettermen in the Oil Belt football district are coming out this year for their respective teams, according to information available.

Eastland has five lettermen being coached by S. J. Petty and H. L. Hart. Lettermen: Captain John Garrison, fleshy quarterback; Derold Tully, one of the heaviest members of the Maverick squad, fullback; Clifford Cook, center; D. C. Frost and Billy Joe Bagley, sturdy guards.

Ranger's eight lettermen have built to date the threat that they will be among the Oil Belt leaders. Five of the eight are regulars and two of them the principal stars of last year's team. Those returning are Captain Aaron Anderson, fullback; Rankin Britt, end; Jacoby end; Warden, guard; Walsh, tackle; Banton, center; Westbrook, end, and Billy Payton, tackle.

Breckenridge has nine lettermen. It is thought that possibly the team which has been out of the top place since 1930 will this year lead the district. Lettermen, Captain Bernice Collins and James Cudd, ends; E. E. O'Rear and Kenneth Russell, tackles; Bob Pitzer, guard; Spud Taylor, quarter; Elton Hodges, Dale Hall and Earl Clark, halves.

Moco Magness this year is gone. Tackle and center positions will be left to the newcomers.

Cisco has six experienced performers. Dexter Shalley's some 30-and squad at present, it is said, will ably fill the three positions left to the incoming football players. The six, Sentell Caffrey, Popeye Beasley and Frank Shackelford, backs; Norris Littlepage, center; Gerald Markett, guard, and Theron Graves.

Abilene's team has five lettermen and is augmented by a few who lacked a few quarters last year to earn their letter. The five, H. J. Jones, center; Eho Howell, guard; A. W. Halfam, end; Benton Collins, tackle; Gervis Galbraith, back.

Brownwood, with one of the largest squads in the belt, has only two lettermen, these being Edward Stanley and Ralph Hickle. They are matched against Thomas Jefferson at San Antonio, one of the strongest teams in the state last year. Jay Keeling replaces Coach Gene Taylor, who has assumed the same position at Daniel Baker.

Mack Miller, Keeling's assistant, has occupied his position for several years.

88th Grand Jury Returns 21 True Bills Thursday

Indictments against Clifford Doggett, Elmer Van Cleve and Mary Lou Howell, all in the Eastland county jail, allegedly implicated in the murder of L. F. Threet, Cisco rancher, and Buddie Motley, charged by the state with murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of Clarence D. Herring in Eastland, was made by the 88th District Court grand jury, which recessed Thursday afternoon, subject to call.

Doggett, Van Cleve and Howell are charged by the state assault to rob Motley, who is under $6,500 bond, is charged by the state with murder.

The cases will probably be set for in the weeks of Oct. 1 and 22 when special venues will be called, it is understood.

JOHN WILLIS GETS DEATH IN ASSAULT CASE

TYLER, Sept. 11.—John B. Willis, 41, former Louisiana convict, covered in his cell here today closely guarded by officers who feared he might attempt to "cheat the electric chair."

Willis was sentenced to death last night for criminally attacking Mrs. Maxwell Herring, 18-year-old bride, who, with her husband, was kidnaped and robbed the night of Aug. 25.

When Willis was told the verdict he almost collapsed, crying, "they got the wrong man." Several days ago while waiting trial Willis wrote a note to relatives denying guilt and saying he intended to kill himself. Guards were posted at his cell to prevent his suicide.

$15,550 Difference By Decimal Point Error in Austin

An Austin state relief clerk's decimal point error in making out Eastland county's check for the first two weeks in September meant the temporary difference of $15,750 from $17,500 to $1,750 to Eastland county relief officials.

The intended amount of the check was $17,500. The amount sent $1,750. Officials wrote the state office and advice from Austin indicates the check should be in now.

The amount estimated for relief needs in the county this month was $49,964.74, as prepared the latter part of August. The county will receive $35,000.

Plan Proposed to Aid Producers of Farm Raised Oil

WASHINGTON.—A program to aid 3,000,000 dairy, livestock, cotton and other farmers by reducing the surplus of more than a billion pounds of home-grown edible fats and oils in storage was announced here by the newly formed Institute of American Fats and Oils.

The organization is composed of representatives from the cattle-raising and cotton sections of the country and is headed by C. O. Moser, formerly president of the National Cotton Co-operative association.

"Despite the drought, which has reduced the supplies of cottonseed, peanuts, corn and livestock, and which has also affected the dairying regions, there is a growing surplus of domestically produced edible oils," Mr. Moser said. "It is our hope to make this oil available, in foodstuffs, to the public at reasonable prices and to help remove the tremendous burden represented by the surplus of oils now in storage."

The program, Mr. Moser said, calls for the elimination of cheap foreign oils which have entered into competition with American-produced oils and with butter, and the removal of trade barriers which now exist and which seriously handicap interstate commerce in certain foods manufactured from oils.

"As a startling paradox to the overabundance of edible fats, the American public consumes far less than the amount required for normal health," Mr. Moser asserted. "The department of agriculture estimates that the annual need of a person for fats is 52 pounds. "Of this, the department says, 36 pounds should be in the form of table spreads. Last year, the per capita consumption of table spreads was only 20 pounds. If it were brought up to the normal requirements, a huge part of the surplus of American oils would be wiped out, and the cash income of the farmers, the original producers, would approach the 1929 income, from which it has fallen to less than half."

"The sad part of the business," Mr. Moser continued, "is that while there is sufficient fats in storage to provide energy producing food for 25,000,000 people for one year, fully 25,000,000 people, according to an estimate of the department of agriculture of Iowa, are doing without the recognized table spreads, butter and margarine. This group is either unable to purchase butter or is prevented from buying margarine because of the restrictions set up by the federal and state governments."

To protect producers of butter, the Institute of American Fats and Oils advocates the elimination of foreign produced oils, and to make margarine available for more people, it advocates free trading among the states for a product manufactured entirely of American-grown oils.

"Our program," Mr. Moser said, "will still provide a more ample control of margarine than is set up for any other food product, will protect butter from unfair competition, will provide an outlet for the surplus of American grown oils, and will relieve the consumer of unjust and discriminatory taxes on his table."

To bring the truth and force of these facts to the attention of federal and state lawmakers and the public generally, is an educational task beyond the financial ability of the impoverished farmers, according to Mr. Moser. Recognizing the common interest which they have with the processors and manufacturers of the finished products in increasing their consumption, the representatives of the farmers concerned recently met at Chicago, and invited the processors to join with them in setting up the Institute of American Fats and Oils.

The following officers and directors were elected: C. O. Moser, New Orleans, pioneer co-operative marketing leader and for many years president of the cotton co-operatives, president; F. E. Molin, executive secretary, American National Livestock association, Denver, vice president; G. Henry, general manager, Mid-South Cotton Growers association, Memphis, treasurer, and Rae Epstein, formerly assistant secretary, the American Cotton Co-operative association, New Orleans, secretary and assistant treasurer.

Other directors are: B. A. Staffeborne, president, Texas Co-operative council, Dallas; T. H. Gregory, president, National Cottons and Products association, Memphis; H. B. Davidson, vice president, Institute of American Meat Packers, Chicago, and John F. Jelke Jr., manufacturer, Chicago.

Lois Dowdle Cobb, well known home economics authority, lecturer and writer and former president of the Southern Agricultural Workers association, has been appointed home economics adviser.

OLD CLOCK ACCURATE
CENTERVILLE, Kan. — Frank McGee's father bought a grandfather's clock from a pedler who passed the McGee home at McGee's Mills, Pa., in 1832. A "Prune Deal" Rules Idahoans

BOISE, Idaho.—The New Deal has brought a "prune deal" to Idaho this year, according to Henry McBirney, president of the Prune Growers' association.

Marketing regulations now in effect establish the following prices below which no prunes can be sold by local dealers:

- $.325 on softboxes.
- .375 on faced lugs.
- .575 on jumble half bushels.
- .625 on faced half bushels.
- .675 on four-basket crates.

The local Idaho dealer and shipper is tied hand and foot to maintain this market for the grower, McBirney said, and it is up to the grower to see that it is lived up to. If the grower sells at a lower price to outside sources, he can make it possible for some organization to wreck the entire set-up.

A man has been found who remembers Dr. Wirt, but he couldn't explain why, except that he has a good memory for the most obscure facts.

Izaak Walton League Urges Game Shelter

LINCOLN, Neb.—Inclusion of a program to provide wildlife feeding and nesting grounds within the shelter belt project recently approved by President Roosevelt is advocated by the Nebraska Izaak Walton league.

Ever since the president's shelter belt project was announced the Izaak Walton league has been recommending planting of an undergrowth of shrubs, berry-bearing bushes and smaller trees, in order that song and upland game birds and small game might be provided with adequate cover and with attractive nesting and feeding grounds.

The league has been informed that U. S. forest service now is planning to include the planting of shrubbery in the tree belt.

Teachers Interest Shown for Degree Work in Eastland

Interest has been manifested by teachers of Eastland, Carbon, Olden and Morton Valley in taking study towards degrees from Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Hardin-Simmons professor, Abilene, who may instruct weekly in Eastland, W. P. Palm, Eastland high school principal, said Tuesday.

Mr. Palm, who is aiding Dr. Wiggins in rounding up those who may take a course, believes that possibility of the instructor making regular trips to Eastland a boon to teachers who may study and make headway for degrees.

Selection of Dr. Wiggins study, which if he comes, will be made by registrants in the course, has not yet been decided, Palm stated today.

Ford to Build Huge Steel Mills Soon

SPORN, Mich., Sept. 9.—Ford is today in full swing of the final move that will give his industry an absolutely independent supply of the 36 different kinds of special steels which it requires.

The move involves the building of two huge new steel mills, installation of a vast amount of special machinery and sufficient additions to his present power equipment to drive the new mill.

The construction will require eight months to complete and will cost between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000.

When the new mills are ready, Ford can produce 3,000 cars a day without buying a pound of steel in the market.

He will have attained a position, so far as steel supply is concerned, achieved by no other private manufacturer in the world. All other great manufacturers using steel are dependent on outside producers—even the great European and American ordnance and railroad equipment manufacturers.

Ford's move will tend further to make the Detroit area a great steel producing district by the addition of 500 tons of finished steel a day.

Workers have already nearly completed the sinking of the caissons for the foundations of the two big mills which will be erected to the east and west of the present open hearth and steel mill buildings. That to the east will be a continuous cold strip mill capable of turning out sheets up to 84 inches wide; that to the west a continuous hot strip mill, turning out strips 48 inches wide.

Built of steel and brick in the same design as the present steel mill, the new buildings will provide 229,400 square feet of floor space and this, together with 64,500 square feet of floors in the present buildings will be required for the new operations. They will provide sheet steel for Ford bodies and frames.

The buildings alone will cost $650,000. Into them will go special machinery and equipment, costing more than $6,000,000—a 54 inch blooming mill, huge reheating furnaces, roughing mills, hot finishing mills, cold mills, 500 feet of continuous pickling tanks and several annealing furnaces. The plants will give employment to 500 additional men.

To produce the additional power needed to drive the new mills will involve a practical duplication of the present Rouge Plant power equipment. Orders for turbo-generators to cost $2,000,000 were placed a few weeks ago. They will be housed in space provided years ago in the present powerhouse. In addition to this will go a new high pressure boiler and turbines, condensers, metering and control equipment, feed and circulating pumps and other machinery will bring the total cost of the new power development well above $6,000,000. The combined cost of power and steel developments will be approximately $12,750,000.

The present steel productive capacity of the Detroit area, including the Newton Steel company at Monroe, is approximately 6,000 tons a day. Ford's new operations will increase this production by 25 per cent.

Sunday night closed the old-time religious services which Rev. Lovell has been conducting across the street from the city hall.

Sunday morning a sunrise prayer service was conducted, at which a large number were present, after which a fellowship meeting was held at the Willows from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. The group was divided and from 10:15 to 11 o'clock Bible study was held, and from 11:15 to noon Rev. Lovell brought the morning message to the congregation, after which a wash tub offering was made.

Dinner was spread on the ground and was enjoyed by a large group.

At 1:45 songs were sung and at 2:30 Rev. Lovell brought the afternoon services.

At 4 o'clock a large crowd witnessed the baptizing at Cooper's tank.

During the meeting in Ranger there were some 60 conversions, with a large number baptized. Sunday night Rev. Lovell preached the last sermon of the revival.

Tom Mix Predicts Return of 'Westerns'

TYLER, Texas.—The public is tiring of screen romance and adventure, predicts Tom Mix, veteran motion picture actor, and will turn again to "he man" and western pictures.

Mix has starred in western pictures for 27 years. He appeared here in a circus, of which he is half owner.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—Arthur H. Hoffman won an oyster eating contest at an outing and profited by finding a small pearl in one of the shells.

Several burlesque troupes have dropped Louisiana from their routes. The competition from free home talent acts is too heavy.

Texas Woman, 63, Is Still Able to Handle Ranch

BAY CITY, Tex.—Mrs. May Cleveland is 63, a little wisp of a woman but even now she can twirl a lariat, throw a half-breed Brahmin or slap on a branding iron with the best of the vaqueros.

"A cow and a horse, that's all I know," she said. "And I'd rather be dead, yes, I really had, than not to be able to handle my own cattle."

But from appearances she does not have to worry about that for several years at least. When branding season comes she dons a ten-gallon hat, bit-roeled spurs, high boots and riding pants and goes out on the range to help in the branding.

She is one of the last of the old order of cattle-women reminiscent of Amanda Burks of the last century, the so-called cattle queen of Cotulla who drove herds of South Texas cattle over prairie trails to northern markets.

Mrs. Cleveland comes of hardy stock. Her father was Norman Savage, early day cattleman. Her own grandmother, back in the late 40's killed an Indian with a rifle down near the old town of Matagorda.

She was born and reared in Matagorda county where her grandparents settled during the war with Mexico in 1847. She has known the range all her life.

And a short conversation with her is convincing that she inherited a large quantity of her grandmother's qualities.

"A good cow pony and a six-shooter, they're the best friends the cattleman ever had," she said. "Then she will relate the story of her "best cowpony," how it would keep the mother cow away while Mrs. Cleveland applied the branding iron to the calf. The pony was so adept, she recalled, that only on rarest occasions did the cow ever succeed in putting the woman vaquero to flight.

The calves of the Brahma cross-breed are difficult to handle, because of their strength, especially for a woman. But Mrs. Cleveland "knows the tricks of the trade."

She has been in the saddle

since childhood, ridden virtually every kind of horse known to the South Texas range and in all her life has never been thrown but once, she said.

Cattle thieves still infest the ranch. Mrs. Cleveland resorts to the old method of handling cattle thieves, the six-shooter, an important bit of the code of the old West.

"Somebody has been stealing our calves," she said. "My son's going down to the pasture tonight to lay out and try to catch 'em at it."

Then turning to the son, she advised him in that code of the old West:

"Take the six-shooter, and if you catch 'em just send into town for the undertaker."

Wonder what the rattlesnakes will do for thrills now that biting evangelists is going out of style?

Veterans Making Artificial Lures

KERRVILLE, Texas, Sept. 10. Profitable hobbies among patients at the U. S. veterans hospital at Legion include making artificial lures for fishing, and extensive use of the hospital library.

Paul F. Carrington, patient from San Antonio, is a devotee of angling and carves out his own game-fish lures. He has named his favorite "Tom Thumb," which is a minnow whittled from cedar and painted bright colors.

Carrington has caught bass as long as 20 inches with his hand-made bait. He frequently adjusts hooks, spinners, and colors after trying out the lures.

Louis J. Magenis, native of Ireland, also a patient entered from San Antonio, reads books and newspapers and follows world affairs. He considers William Butler Yeats the greatest poet his native land has produced. Magenis has done newspaper work on the Poughkeepsie Evening Enterprise (N. Y.), and the Del Rio Evening News and San Antonio Express in Texas.

ZOO GAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—When Patti Sue, prize orang-utan of the St. Louis Zoo, celebrated her first birthday, attendants held a party for the animal. Patti Sue wore a dress and bonnet especially made for the occasion.

JUAREZ, Mex.—The patriotic society has asked the expulsion from the national revolutionary party of Mexico of all public officials who fail to take part in celebrations and marches on the 16th of September, Mexico's Fourth of July.

260 Registered at Eastland Hi School

Registration at Eastland high school Monday reached a mark of 260, approximately the same as last year for first-day registration, W. F. Palm, principal, stated Tuesday.

Principal Palm voiced the opinion that the figures would be considerable throughout the week by late registrants.

Tuesday, when studies began at Eastland high and other schools, was confined to assignments given by the teachers and other than late registrants enrolling, bore all the earmarks of an ordinary school day.

WHEN YOU'RE HEALTHY YOU'RE HAPPY!

The blame for "blue" days can be laid often to common constipation. It may bring loss of appetite and energy, sallow and pimply skins, even serious illness. Correct it by eating a delicious cereal.

Research shows Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to relieve common constipation. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this better than taking patent medicines—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily, relieve most types of constipation. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Get the red and green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STATE EMPLOYEES ARE UNEASY ABOUT JOBS

NEW OFFICIALS MAY PUT NEW PEOPLE IN JOBS

Several Who Have Served Long Time May Be Returned in Positions.

AUSTIN, Sept. 10.—Uneasy lies the head of the average state employee these days. Changing administrations means hunting for new jobs.

Re-elections of the state treasurer, state comptroller, land commission, agricultural commissioner, and state school superintendent, bring a feeling of comparative security to employees in their departments.

There will be a new attorney general and probably new heads for many other state departments. Texas politicians always have been good believers and staunch practitioners of "to the victor belongs the spoils."

Possibility of the return of former Adjutant General W. W. (Ranger Bill) Sterling is rumored. He was ardently for Alfred and a frequent visitor at Alfred offices during the campaign.

Dick Waters, Texarkana, campaign manager for General Alfred, is being mentioned as likely to be the next secretary of state.

The staff that assisted General Alfred is making plans to scatter into private law offices. Everett Johnson has returned to a San Antonio law firm, headed by his brother, Ralph Yarbrough, who proved to be one of the most successful land lawyers the department ever had.

Highway and institutional employees, who make up a big part of the state payroll, will be little affected by the change of administration. A new governor names one of three highway commissioners and one of three members of the board of control.

SHE WENT "PLACES" BELLINGHAM, Wash.—"Move over, we're going places!" commanded a young woman as she climbed into a car occupied by two men.

Hard Headed Negro Seeks New Opponents

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Life has been a long series of hard knocks for "Baby" Anderson, 65-year-old Nashville negro. Taking licks is sport, however, to "Baby"—he claims to be the champion "head-butted" south of the Mason-Dixon line.

"I don't aim to bruise my hand on nobody," smiled "Baby." "I uses my head. I've made many a nigger holler quit. All you got to do is to have the hardest head."

The negro, now a porter in a local meat market, came to the United States from Jamaica when a lad. During the Spanish-American war, he went to Cuba and the Philippines.

Former V. President Recalls 1874 Drouth

TOPEKA, Kan.—Speaking of drouths, Charles Curtis, former Vice-President of the United States, has seen some of them here. He wrote to a friend here: "I feel sorry for our people. I think I know what they are going through. I remember a number of drouth years in Kansas, but the one I will remember the longest was in 1874."

Governors Called Out the Guards in Many States

State governors, exercising greater power over the National Guard units of their states than the president does over the federal army, have "called out the guard" in 26 states at various times within the last year.

So great is the governor's power over the National Guard that he can become a virtual military dictator, according to Henry E. C. Bryant in an article in the current issue of the magazine, "Today."

Although the federal government furnishes $35,000,000 a year to provide equipment, rent money, maintain National Guard property, for payrolls and summer camp expenses, the War Department has almost no power over the various units.

Use of the National Guard in strikes often has resulted in bloodshed. An exception was at Kohler, Wis., model industrial community where strikers welcomed the guardsmen after two of their number had been killed.

Elsewhere—in San Francisco, Minneapolis, Toledo and Portland—the presence of guardsmen antagonized strikers and led to violence, use of firearms and bayonets and tear and nauseating gas.

BABE BORN WITH TWO TEETH KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Sonya Zaremha is starting life "two up" in the matter of teeth. She was born with two teeth already cut.

Charters Granted in Texas Increase During August

AUSTIN.—New charters granted Texas corporations during August rose sharply from July, both in number and capitalization, but were somewhat below those of August, 1933, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The number of new charters granted during August totaled 119, a rise of 13.4 per cent from July but a decline of 3 per cent from August last year while capitalization of $2,300,000 represented an increase of 10.2 per cent over a month ago, but a drop of 15.6 per cent from last year.

Groups showing an increase in comparison both with July and with August last year were: Oil, real estate-building, and out-of-state permits.

Moody Argues Cigaret Tax Law

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Former Gov. Dan Moody today closed a four-hour argument in district court, most of which was an attack on validity of the state cigarette tax statutes.

The former governor appeared as one of the counsel for former Attorney General Claude Pollard, charged with consenting to the use of counterfeit cigarette tax stamps. Moody's effort was to quash the indictment.

Frontier Museum Size Is Increased

KERRVILLE.—Frontier relics donated by early settlers became so numerous that the size of a pioneer museum which receives about 1,000 visitors a month at Bandera, 25 miles south of here, had to be doubled in size.

CASTS 75th VOTE

MARION, Kan.—"Uncle" John Fox, 93, cast his 75th vote in the recent primaries. It was his 74th ballot for the Democratic party.

An economist says the depression has sharpened the nation's intellect. We'll never believe it as long as there still are people who slap you on the back and keep repeating, "You nasty man, never do that."

It looks like a hard autumn for midwest poets. The pumpkin crop is short and they have no place to put their frost. The textile strike situation must be much worse than it appears at first glance. Primo Carnera is reported to be wearing shorts. If they could inject a little more sex appeal in this Gran Chaco, some smart movie mogul might be able to find a spot for it.
