HEAVY YIELD CAN ISSUE THE BONDS

WILL BE COTTON TO PICK ALONG THE FRISCO

BETTER THAN IN 1900

LATE RAINS PUT THE CROP IN THE MOST FLATTERING CONDITION

SHOWS NO SIGNS OF WEEVIL

About Stephens, Grapevine and Frisco, Cotton Will Go Three-Fourths of Bale to Acre—Plant is Healthy

The Frisco system has issued the cotton bulletin showing the condition of the staple and the probable yield along the route between Denison and Brownwood.

The average tributary to the line is 27 1/2 bales in most cases with 30 1/4 a fair average to the acre. About Stephens, Grapevine, Frisco and Grapevine, the crop will be about three-fourths of a bale to the acre.

"There will be cotton to pick along the Frisco," says a bulletin from the office of General Freight Agent Peterson, sent to agents and connecting lines today. The late rains have put the crop in the most flattering condition and the prospects are for a better yield than in 1900. The plant generally is in a most healthy condition, and shows no signs of weevil or worms.

A fair estimate of the number of bales that will be marketed at stations along the Fort Worth and Rio Grande is 100,000, and along the Red River, Texas and Southern, 100,000.

THE DENVER WILL BUILD

Intends to Spend $10,000 for Employees Building

The Fort Worth and Denver will spend $10,000 in an employees' building at Parkdale, near the city. It was intended several months ago to contribute $5000 toward the movement, the Y. M. C. A. and the citizens of Parkdale making up the remainder. The company has now decided to put up the building and allow the association to conduct it.

The building will be lighted by electricity and heated by steam, containing sleeping apartments for the Denver men running in there who have no homes, both rooms and gymnasium. The company will also keep the building well supplied with reading matter.

WASHOUTS ON THE DENVER LINE

Heavy Rains in Upper Panhandle Country Did Damage

The Fort Worth and Denver had two washouts on its line between Tascosa and Texline yesterday, one a 150-foot bridge over Parker creek, near the Canadian river, and the other a small piece of track north of there. Heavy rains were reported early yesterday morning in the upper Panhandle country, and late in the afternoon the flood water did the damage.

The break was not repaired until 10 o'clock this morning.

Notes and Personals.

Walter S. Keenan, general passenger agent for the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, is here today.

T. T. McDonald, city ticket agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, returned this morning from San Antonio.

Congress Not Having Granted Reciprocity, United States Cannot Prevent Island From Facing Existing Crisis

The Election in Oklahoma Hung on Allotment of Indians to Which the New Leader Was Opposed The Vote

New York, Aug. 7.—Regarding the Platt amendment, the Cuban government can be compelled to yield.

High officials here say the congress of the United States not having granted reciprocity cannot prevent the Cuban seeking money to face the existing crisis and to pay recognized and valid debts.

It is believed the loan proposition can be brought within the provision of the Platt amendment and that it will not be necessary for President Palma to veto the bill.

CAPTAIN JOHANNSSON'S STORY

Deposed Officer of Polar Expedition Tells His Side

New York, Aug. 7.—A cable dispatch to the New York American over the signature of Captain Johannsson of the Baltic-Svea polar expedition, which has just returned to Tromsø, says:

"Regarding the troubles on board the America I cannot speak freely.

I was deposed from the command of the vessel as has been reported, and have laid a protest before the authorities here asking the America be prevented from leaving this port until the sworn declarations of the officers and men have been taken.

"So far as I know there were no deaths during the voyage.

"Further than this I have nothing to say for publication just now."

MONUMENT FOR FALLEN HEROES

Lord Dundonald Speaks at an Unveiling at Ottawa

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 7.—Lord Dundonald, Canada's major general, spoke at the unveiling of a monument to the Ottawa soldiers who fell in South Africa. The monument was the gift of 20,000 children.

Lord Dundonald said the offering was an honor which the king or parliament could not bestow. If Canada were ever attacked, he said, the army of Natal and the Cape will rush to its assistance as eagerly as Canada to theirs.

There were 17 soldiers from the vicinity of Ottawa who died from wounds or disease in South Africa.

AN OLD TIME ACTRESS IS DYING IN NEW YORK

DECLINE OF MRS. ELIZA YOUNG WHOSE CAREER COVERS SEVENTY YEARS

New York, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Eliza Young, 92 years of age, the oldest actress in America, is dying at the actors' fund home in West New Brighton. She has been ill for ten days and hopes had been entertained of her recovery, but they were finally abandoned. A fall which fractured her hip brought on the decline.

Mrs. Young's stage career in England and America covered a period of nearly seventy years. She came to the United States about 1830 and played with Clara Morris, Edwin Forrest, Lawrence Barrett, Edwin Booth and Mrs. Langtry. Her last appearance before the foot lights was in this city in 1885.

COTTON MILLS TO CLOSE DOWN

Goods Can Be Made More Cheaply in the South

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 7.—Walter M. Smith, general manager of the Greenwood division of the Mount Vernon-Woodbury Cotton Duck company, has received notification from the company's head offices at Baltimore that the Greenwood mills, which employ about 700 hands, will shut down September 1, for an indefinite period.

When asked the reason for closing down the mills, Mr. Smith said: "I presume that the company can manufacture more cheaply in the South."

RECENT RAINS RAISE SPIRITS IN THE WEST

Producers' Telegram: The cowmen over most of the ranges in New Mexico are feeling easier at present than they have for two or three years past.

Last year the drought caused heavy losses and this year it began to look as if they would be utterly ruined, but during the past few weeks there has been an abundance of rain in nearly every part of the cow country except a few localities in the north central part of the territory. The Pecos valley suffered immense losses from the drought last year, and more heavily this year, only about 50 per cent of the calf crop being saved, but the continuous rains of a few weeks since, were sufficient to bring the grass out and provide an abundance of water, and plenty of grass for the winter is assured.

Down in Grant and Luna counties, the cattle region of southwestern New Mexico, there have been five or six general rains, and the losses were not so heavy in that section as in the Pecos valley, as grass was in better condition all through the spring. W. H. Greer, manager of the Victoria Land & Cattle company in New Mexico, said recently that the Victoria or Diamond cattle were pating up so rapidly that he would be able to "work" them and ship to the California ranges much sooner this year than he anticipated.

Up the Rock Island road all the way from El Paso to Dalhart, Tex., the country has been thoroughly soaked, but between Santa Rosa and El Paso more rain is needed to keep the young grass from burning up. South of Dalhart the sedge grass is nearly two feet high. On the Middlewater division of the X I T, on the L. E. and the "100" the grass is particularly fine. The Portales country, north of Roswell, was never in a more prosperous condition. Every acre of range with water anywhere near it is covered with cattle browsing into wealth. The available agricultural land around Portales has been taken up by "nesters," who will raise an immense late crop of feedstuffs this year, which will come in handy in the event of a hard winter. The Mesilla and Rio Grande valleys, where much of the feed stuff grown in New Mexico is produced, have had hardly any rain whatever, and there will be much suffering among the Indian farmers unless they are visited with early rains. On some of the farms only one cutting of alfalfa has been made. A greater percentage of the New Mexico lamb crop was saved this year than was at first reported, but as yet no accurate estimate has been made of the losses.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, AUG. 7, 1902

Plant hogs, ye farmer of Texas. There's money in it.

Good evening! Has your house escaped the bold, bad burglar this day?

Maybe, after all, it is Tracy who is showing the Italian hand in the local hold-ups.

And while you are talking about the packing houses, all ye, brother editors, don't forget to emphasize the advice to your farmer readers, "Plant hogs."

Now if Weather Observer Reeder will only come down out of his tower long enough to associate with us common people we'd vouch for a change in this torrid temperature.

Let's see, wasn't it Mr. William C. Whitney who said the Democratic party is without a leader and then coupled up the statement with a suggestion that he was out of politics?

Everybody loves a brave man. A man who fights has our admiration.

Congressman Littlefield of Maine, who is one of the speakers that the house delights to listen to, and whose voice is a rare oratorical equipment, tells this story about himself:

It was up in Buffalo, in the 1896 campaign. A local lawyer and I had been assigned to a big meeting.

"Three cheers for the speaker for finishing!" some one yelled.

"The cheers were given, and then I was introduced. It was a tough proposition.

Give Cuba a chance. Every political party has its extremists and they are fairly active fellows, too.

Whatever the facts may be as to their capacity, nothing could be more impolite, more productive of mischief than such contemptuous comment and such offensive assumption of superiority.

Certainly a decent regard for our professions should constrain us to keep appearances of consistency and disinterested devotion for a while longer.

The Des Moines Register says: When Captain Hobson was at the Chautauqua assembly at Ottawa, Kas., he entered a barber shop where he was not known.

Of course, it was a nery thing to do, and Hobson did it well enough, but that little trick at Santiago bay turned out to be boy's play.

"Not so you can notice it," said the barber. "Over at the Marsh house they told me he had come over here to get shaved."

"Yes," came the reply in that deep, full voice that belongs to the hero of the Merrimac, "I'm Hobson."

"Danced divinely," remarked the third.

Ex-Congressman Cable of Illinois has a charming daughter who is receiving her education in France.

"But," persisted her father, "think how much money this room full of gold would be. Think how many things you could buy with it. Don't you think I'd better let the man have little brother?"

"No," said the daughter, "let's keep him till he is older. He'll be worth more then."

Drovers' Journal: Those in close touch with the hog situation say that the quality is likely to be poor for some time, or at least until farmers get rid of their brood sows and common, rough hogs, which are generally cashed in at this time of the year. Packers are apathetic and wouldn't buy good hogs with much confidence, so that shippers cannot expect fancy prices for rough hogs for some time. The range in prices is gradually widening, which is natural under present conditions.

STREET FAIR PLANS GROW

PROMOTERS ARE SENDING IN REQUESTS FOR SPACE AND TERMS

Committee Will Be Called Together to Inaugurate an Active Movement Making Toward Ultimate Success

Chairman Langever of the committee working on the street fair proposition is in receipt of numerous letters from promoters, owners and managers of novelty features. Among them are many that have made similar features successful in large cities. In fact, to use his own expression, he has a bushel basket full of such letters and literature pertaining to them. Mr. Langever declares he is in line to secure some of the most meritorious attractions ever seen at a street fair and he has devoted considerable time to correspondence. He will call the committees together at an early date for the purpose of inaugurating an active movement to perfect arrangements. So many people, business men and others are just at present out of the city that final action is being postponed pending their return.

The location for the main features of the fair will in all probability be on the vacant block in front of the Catholic church, permission having already been secured from the Sisters, who have the property in charge. The proposition will be submitted to the city council and board of trade in an effort to get the co-operation of these two bodies, and all arrangements will no doubt be perfected by September 1. It is proposed to pull the fair off during a week in October.

CORONATION SERVICES AT TRINITY CHURCH

WILL BE HELD SUNDAY MORNING AND NOT SATURDAY MORNING

To the Editor:—Kindly allow me to correct an erroneous impression in regard to the time of the Coronation Festival service at Trinity church, Pennsylvania avenue and Hemphill street. It is not to be held on Saturday, but on Sunday morning at the usual hour, namely, 11 o'clock. This will make it a public service; and I desire that it should be so. All are invited.

In my sermon, I will endeavor to show reasons why all our American fellow-citizens should celebrate the coronation with as much sympathy and gratitude to the good Lord of Heaven and earth as the most loyal Britisher amongst us. Faithfully yours, ROBERT HAMMOND COTTON, Rector of Trinity Church.

Case 113—the new Telegram serial story. Commences next Sunday.

ANNOUNCEMENT

BEGINNING NEXT SUNDAY, AUGUST 10, THE FORT WORTH TELEGRAM will be printed on each Sunday morning in place of each Saturday evening. This change will make the Telegram a six-day paper as heretofore. This change, on the part of the new management, is made in response to the demands of the reading public of Fort Worth. The Sunday paper will be made a model of its kind. That issue will never be less than sixteen pages and will be replete with news and miscellaneous reading matter to suit all tastes. There will be ample and sufficient telegraph news service and the features will include the service put out by the New York Herald. The Woman's Department will be made especially interesting. So will that for the young people. A fine new serial story entitled, Case 113, by Emile Gaboriau, will be commenced in next Sunday's issue and will be continued daily in the Telegram. It will be the aim to make the Sunday Telegram as complete and as interesting a publication as is possible, and improvements will be added as rapidly as conservative management will allow. The subscription price, including the Sunday Telegram, will be 50 cents a month, and where paid by the week, 12 cents weekly, collections to be made as desired by the subscriber. The new management of the Telegram is mindful of the kind words that have been expressed over the small improvements that have recently been made. Other improvements that are to be made will speak for themselves.
