FIND LEG AND BODY

ANOTHER MYSTERY DEVELOPED FOR NEW YORK'S POLICE

IN NORTH RIVER

BODY FLOATS IN NUDE CONDITION AND MINUS THE RIGHT LEG

CUT OF WITH A CLEAVER

Leg Properly Dressed Picked up Five Miles Away—Believed to Have Belonged to Same Person—Clew From a Ring

New York, Aug. 19.—The police have a mystery to solve in the finding in the North river, near the battery, of the body of a man with the right leg missing. Two hours later a right leg of a man was floating in Gravesend bay about five miles south of where the body was picked up.

What puzzles the police is the fact that while the body was found denuded of clothing, the leg was dressed in dark gray striped trousers, a white sock and lace shoes. The proportions of the leg and the body as reported by the police, indicate that together they make up one person.

The man was about 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighed about 225 pounds. The appearance of the leg indicates that it had been severed at the thigh by some sharp instrument much after the manner that a butcher wields a knife. In the trousers pocket was found a gold ring studded with three amethysts.

POSSE AFTER MURDERERS

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—It is reported that a posse has surrounded the murders of Watson Newman in a house on the summit of Bay Mountain, Jefferson county.

NEW JERSEY BOG BURNS READILY ON FORGE—BETTER THAN COAL

New York, Aug. 19.—Successful tests have just been made of the turf or bog of the New Jersey lowlands around New York to ascertain as to whether it can be used for a substitute fuel in place of coal or coke for the winter season.

Ex-Alderman O. L. Auferderheide, inspector of sewer work in New York, and John Kelly, an expert on Irish peat, dug up chunks of the turf and took them to a blacksmith shop. They were found to burn readily on the forge after becoming dry. It turned out a ruddy glow and seemed to hold its fire as long as anthracite or soft coal when once kindled.

There is almost an unlimited quantity of the turf or "Jersey peat," as they are beginning to style it, in the vicinity of Western New York.

Jefferson, Ohio, Aug. 19.—A mob has surrounded the jail here threatening to lynch John Grooms, colored, who is imprisoned there charged with assaulting two old white women. The victims were badly injured.

BUYERS IN NEW YORK

FIFTH ANNUAL CONVENTION TO DISCUSS MATTERS EFFECTING ITS CONSTITUTION

New York, Aug. 19.—The fifth annual convention of the Buyers' Association of America begins here today and one of the most important subjects to be considered is the establishment of a death beneficiary fund. Another matter that has been under consideration for over a year is a constitutional amendment to change the date of the annual meeting from August to February.

One of the topics of importance also to be brought before the convention is the establishment of a law department. It is proposed in this department to give information to buyers who may have trouble in any way relative to goods bought, sold, delayed in transit, damaged in transit or any other question of a legal nature that may arise, and put them in touch with reputable firms to conduct any lawsuit which may be instituted.

CATTLE DIPPING EXPERIMENT

Party of Fort Worth Cattlemen to go
Charles J. Larimer is engaged with the local cattlemen with reference to making a trip to Holliday to witness the cattle dipping experiments that will be made there next Saturday by Victor A. Norgaard. There will be present not only a government inspector but cattle inspectors from Colorado and Kansas, the two border states that are particularly interested in maintaining rigid quarantine regulations, and seeing that only absolutely tickless cattle are permitted to pass over their borders.

The new dip is said to be much more effective and practicable than any heretofore employed, and if successful it is proposed to send the cattle dipped in this occasion to Colorado and Kansas. The outcome will be watched closely for it is a matter of great interest to all stock raisers.

The party from Fort Worth will leave on the evening Fort Worth and Denver train and go to Wichita Falls. From there, conveyances will be provided to carry them to the scene of operations and return can be made to Fort Worth either that night or by Sunday morning's train.

Mart Robinson, the well known cattleman, will provide a barbecue for the enjoyment of guests, and a good time is expected incidental to the business of the occasion, as there will be cattlemen present from far and near.

Minneapolis Times: The latest hotel horrors had its scene not in New York, but in San Angelo, Tex. The location is immaterial, but the question is, when is some responsible villain to be sent to the penitentiary for life for a hotel horror?

BLOOD IS BEING SHED IN MINING DISTRICT

Nesquehoning, Pa., Aug. 19.—In a clash between striking mine workers and deputies here Monday night Patrick Sharp, a striker of Laneford, was shot and killed almost instantly by the deputies. The shooting caused considerable excitement and almost a riot for a time, but order was restored without any other persons being injured and the town is now quiet.

A deputy named Harry McElmoyle was arrested, charged with the killing of Sharp, and was taken to the county jail at Mauch Chunk.

Lansford, Pa., Aug. 19.—A battalion of militia under General Gobin arrived early this morning to put down any attempted riot.

LITTLE REPUBLIC INTENDS TO MAKE FIGHT FOR MEASURE BEFORE NEXT CONGRESS

CHANGE IN POSTAGE STAMPS

Island's Representative Coming Here to Consult With Secretary of the Treasury and Adopt a Style—Don't Like Present Design

New York, Aug. 19.—Senor Luis V. Abad, who was secretary and special representative of the Cuban economic delegation and of several Cuban associations in Washington during the last session of congress proposes to start a paper in the United States, probably in Washington.

It will be the purpose of this paper to make a systematic campaign in favor of the passing of a reciprocity measure in the next United States congress.

The Cuban government is considering the advisability of adopting a new postage stamp other than the one which was put into use by the American government and which is printed in the United States. Senator Bravo Cordoso has been detailed to consult with the secretary of the treasury and to come to a decision as to the style of stamp which should be adopted by the Cuban republic.

ROTTERDAM WELCOMES BOER GENERALS

Ovations Given to Generals Botha, Dewet and Delany by a Sympathizing People—Reception Accorded on Arrival at The Hague

Rotterdam, Aug. 19.—Generals Dewet, Delany and Botha and party landed here this morning. They were given a hearty welcome by the municipal authorities and the representatives of the Boer associations. Many ladies presented bouquets to the general's wives. Ships in the upper bay displayed flags, and the party proceeded to The Hague.

Generals at the Hague

The Hague, Aug. 19.—A public reception was accorded to the Boer generals on their arrival here today from Rotterdam. General Eyster in his speech paid a glowing tribute to their heroic deeds. General Botha replied, expressing the appreciation of the Boer officers at the warmth of their reception.

COLORADO ASTRONOMER SIGHS PLANET EROS

New York, Aug. 19.—Professor Pickering of Harvard has received word from Harvard station at Arequipaw, Peru, that the planet Eros has been rediscovered. The planet disappeared in May, 1901. Eros was first discovered in February, 1901. The light began to grow indistinct and in May faded out completely. On August 2 Professor Ling of Colorado caught sight of Eros and notified Harvard. Prof. Pickering has just received a letter and photograph showing the missing planet from the Peru station where the planet was seen over a month ago.

JOHN M. MOORE BETTER, HEMORRHAGES STOPPED

John M. Moore, proprietor of the Metropolitan hotel, is reported to be much improved this afternoon. The hemorrhages have ceased and his condition is so much better that he is now in a fair way to recovery. When he was first stricken down on Sunday night, and in fact, for a time yesterday, it was thought that there was little hope for his recovery. During the night and this morning, however, he has been gaining very rapidly. The cause of the hemorrhage was a ruptured blood vessel in the stomach.
Mrs. Moore, who has been spending the summer in California, was notified at once and is expected to arrive by tomorrow.

FORT WORTH STOCK YARDS

RECEIPTS TODAY SOME LARGER. MARKET STEADY WITH UPWARD TREND FOR HOGS

Fluctuations of Northern Markets Had Little Effect—Cattle Market Off at the North and Hogs 10c Higher—Today's Quotations

Receipts at the yards today were much better than yesterday. The quality is some better also. The market shows little change from yesterday, being controlled more by local conditions than foreign influences, as was shown by the falling off of northern markets yesterday and their recovery today. The fluctuation had little effect here.

Receipts at the stock yards were as follows: Lovelady & Shropshire, Big Springs, 86 cattle; G. R. Reynolds, Big Springs, 113 cattle; Mrs. M. J. Riggs, Odessa, 76 cattle; A. B. Pratt, Paul's Valley, I. T., 56 cattle; C. W. Lusk, Comanche, 71 cattle; D. H. Snyder, Jr., Talpa, 29 horses and mules. In addition to the above, which were brought in by the different railroads there was a considerable lot of driven in stuff, both cattle and hogs.

J. H. Brown, James Hill, E. C. Keller, M. P. Nelson, M. Finley, E. F. Gibow, J. B. Young and J. Johnson had driven in stuff on the market this morning.

During the past week packers bought 34 cattle and 684 hogs on this market. Other stock disposed of were 633 cattle, 429 hogs and 13 sheep.

Local Market Quotations
Quotations on the local market are as follows:
Choice fat steers, $4.00 to $4.25; medium weight steers, $3.00 to $3.50; light steers, $2.25 to $2.75; choice fat cows, $2.50 to $2.75; medium fat cows, $2.00 to $2.50; bulls, stags and oxen, $2.00 to $2.25; canners, $1.50 to $2.00; sorted heavy hogs, $6.60 to $6.65; heavy mixed hogs, $6.25 to $6.50; light fat hogs, $6.00 to $6.25.

The Northern Markets
In reviewing the past week's market the Fort Worth Live Stock Commission company says: The cattle receipts were the heaviest of the season on our market last week and while there were some sales of common thinness cows at rather low prices, the general trade was of much higher average than for several weeks. Everything was cleaner up. The Northern markets had heavy runs last week, Kansas City having her two biggest runs so far this season. The markets under these heavy runs declined from 10c to 20c on cows and 20c to 35c on steers. The Northern hog markets declined 5c to 6c during the week.

HEBREW POPULATION IN NEW YORK CITY

Estimated at 584,788. There Having Arrived 39,225 During the Past Twelve Months—Deaths and Birth Rate

New York, Aug. 19.—According to statistics based on the number of Jewish burials recorded by the board of health and compiled by the Jewish World, the Hebrew population of New York City is estimated at 584,788. In Manhattan almost every fourth man or woman is a Jew or Jewess.

The Jewish burials amounted in 1901 to 7,997, and as the death rate in the most congested Jewish district is little over 155 per thousand, this implies a population of 533,133 in the middle of 1901. Since that time no less than 39,225 Jews have arrived at New York and stayed here, while by natural increase of births over deaths, 12,400 would be added to August 1 of this year, making a grand total of 584,788. The number of Jewish marriages in Manhattan alone in 1901 was 5,662, which at a very high marriage rate of ten per thousand would imply a population of 568,200, to which has to be added the 70,000 Jews of Brooklyn and the increase by immigration and excess of births, as before.

BEFORE AND AFTER TAKING

Family Troubles and Delights as the Records Show

The district and county court records show the following entries relative to divorce suits and marriage licenses—one to sever the matrimonial bonds, the other to wed.

Bertha Embling vs. Jos. Embling, divorce.
Johanna Shaw vs. George Shaw, divorce.

May Ridge vs. John Ridge, divorce.
G. A. Roberts vs. E. P. Roberts, divorce.

Marriage Licenses

The above actions for divorce, however, have no unfavorable influence over the following couples:

L. S. Brown and Miss Willie Kincaid, J. S. Owen and Miss R. I. Boaz, W. C. Lackey and Miss Lizzie Kestler.

One damage suit appears on the file docket, styled:

J. M. Stewart vs. the International and Great Northern Railway company, action for damages.

The GRACIOUS WOMAN

“SHE doeth little kindnesses Which most leave undone or despise. For naught that sets one heart at ease And giveth happiness or peace Is low esteemed in her eyes,” quoted the woman softly.

The girl at her side followed her gaze to where it rested on a plain, middle aged woman who was advancing into the room, bowing slightly and smiling to the other occupants as she did so. “And is that the secret of her popularity?” she said. “I have often wondered, for she is not wealthy, beautiful or clever.”

“She is more than that,” returned the other; “she has the divine gift of graciousness.”

Then, as the girl was silent, she went on: “I wonder if you, or, for that matter, half of the women nowadays, recognize the value of graciousness. It would appear not, for the quality is plainly dying out, but it often means the difference between a happy and an unhappy life. You know there is a great deal of truth in the axiom that we receive in return the same coin which we pay out. If in our heart of hearts we distrust, we also shall be distrusted. If our hearts are full of kindness and we radiate smiles and good will, we call out to ourselves just those very characteristics to those with whom we come in contact. And that is the way with the gracious woman. A little smile, a bow, a pleasant ‘Good morning,’ a heartfelt ‘Can I do something for you?’ when another seems in trouble—these cost little, but mean so very, very much.”

“A woman may be a paragon of stern, unflinching virtue, and she will find no one to love her. More than that, she will do actual harm by making virtue seem unattractive and hard when it is only that she herself lacks graciousness. On the other hand, I am sorry to say, she may be a shining example of all that she should not be and yet attract young and old to her because she possesses graciousness.”

“I think I understand,” said the girl, “and graciousness doesn't always mean doing kindnesses either. You know how little groups of women will form on hotel piazzas, and sometimes, when they are very interesting, one doesn't always like to have a stranger come in and join them. Well, yesterday about five of us were talking cozily when Mrs. Hunterton came striding down the piazza in that uncompromising way of hers and proceeded to settle herself down in our midst. Well, of course she had a right to, for we all knew her, and yet for some reason we mentally resented it almost as if she were an interloper. Then five minutes afterward that gentle little Mrs. Smith came along and, stopping, said in her timid, graceful way: ‘Your group looks so interesting! May I join it and have a good time too?’ That was all, and yet we made room for her in a body. ‘It is born in some,’ she went on; ‘in others it is acquired. You will notice it in very little children—small beings, who radiate smiles and sunshine and whom every one loves—while there are others—mere tots, too—who stand aside pensively and distrustful and as a consequence are unloved. And yet their whole unhappy futures might be changed if their mothers realized that all they lacked was graciousness. It is the one quality that is the substitute for eternal youth, that makes the gray haired woman who possesses it the center of a little circle of which she is the queen, while her younger and more attractive rivals wonder why they are left to themselves.’

And the girl grew very thoughtful.

ENGAGE F. M. WHITE TO PUSH STREET FAIR

UNIFORM RANK KNIGHTS DECIDE ON DATE AND WILL NOW HUSTLE

The general executive committee of the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias has made two important decisions, that of the date for the coming street fair, and the selection of the promoter who will help make it a success.

The date of the fair has been set from October 14 to 18, four days. The man chosen to have general management of the promotion is Frank M. White, one of the best known promoters of the country, who has been temporarily located in Dallas. J. J. Langver, chairman of the general executive committee, has turned over the contracts he has had to Mr. White, who, while consulting with the committee, will have active control of the plans. Mr. White will open headquarters in Fort Worth next week and from then till October 18, will be the busiest man in town.

The choice of Mr. White was made from several excellent candidates, but Mr. White is an old hand and has the best of recommendations. He is one of the original street fair men and is now attempting to redeem street fairs and carnivals from the disrepute into which they fell a few years ago.

JONES DENIES PANAMA STORY

SAYS HE WAS NOT OFFERED POSITION ON ISTHMIAN CANAL COMMISSION

Does Not Consider Arkansas Senatorial Question Settled by the Primary Election—Believes Kansas City Platform Will Be Endorsed by Next National Convention

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, who is in the city today, in an interview denied positively that he had been offered a place on the Isthmian canal commission by President Roosevelt.

Senator Jones does not regard the result of the primary last spring in which he was defeated by Ex-Governor James J. Clark as having settled Arkansas senatorship, but he would not say positively that his name would be before the legislature next January.

The senator said he thought the Kansas City platform would be reaffirmed by the next Democratic national convention, and that the Democratic candidate for president would come from Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio or New York.

BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY COMMITTED IN STREET

A Young Negro Snatched an Air Gun From Little Son of A. D. Allan and Skipped Out

This forenoon while Walter Allen was returning home with his air gun which he had just had repaired he was accosted by a young negro at Tenth and Rusk streets, who snatched the gun out of Walter's hand and made off with it. The boy too amazed to say or do anything, and the last he saw of the negro was a flying pair of heels going through the lumber yard to Calhoun street. The matter was reported to the police and a search instituted. Young Allan says he could identify the negro if he should see him again.

ABOUT FT. WORTH

Mineral Wells Index: Dallas' fire chief has acknowledged the corn. He went to the Panther City and found that the fire ladders over there could get to a fire and have it put out before the Dallas boys had fairly got down the greased pole. He went back home determined to throw away his clapnet and buy an up-to-date fire apparatus. This is the first time in the history of the two cities where Dallas would acknowledge that Fort Worth had the edge on them.

San Antonio Light: ‘The Fort Worth papers announce that the postmaster there contemplates the purchase of uniform carts for his carriers,’ said a San Antonian last evening. ‘I know this to be a fact for when I was there recently I called on him and in discussing postal affairs he asked me about the San Antonio carts and said he thought that he would order the same kind that we use here. A woman has had charge of the post office there for a long while and things were not quite as up-to-date as they might have been but the new postmaster, Mr. Burroughs, is ‘waking them up’ and will get all that is coming to him. He has one collection cart something on the order of the San Antonio cart, but wants them all alike. The carriers at present have any old kind of cart that they can get, just as they did in San Antonio before Dr. Clifford took charge. Regarding the new carts postmaster Burroughs says: ‘When they do come we will have the men keep them clean and in good shape, and the result will add a great deal to the appearance of the department.’

AN END TO RUNAWAYS.

Invention That Supercedes Hitching Posts For Horses.

It is no longer necessary for a driver to fasten his horse to a hitching post. If provided with the fastening device here illustrated, he needs simply to slip his reins on the catch in the wagon, and the horse will be unable to run away. Mr. Phillis Mayoite of Wells, Mich., is the inventor of this new fastener. The construction of the device is very simple, says the Scientific American. Supported in a bracket on the vehicle is a spindle carrying a disk provided with hooks to serve as a fastening means for the reins. Beneath this disk is a ratchet wheel engaged by a spring pressed pawl. The lower end of the spindle protrudes from the bracket and is connected by a universal joint to a rod which telescopes in a tube carried in a bracket on the front axle. On the rod is a series of pins which project through longitudinally ranging slots in the tube, whereby the rotary motion of the tube is communicated to the rod.

At the lower end of the tube is a small bevel gear which engages a large bevel gear on the hub of one of the front wheels. The teeth of these gears are curved outwardly so as to allow for any unevenness in the road, and all play in the parts is taken up by a spring coiled in the tube and abutting against the end of the rod held therein. A lever on the rod connects with the top of the tube and permits the latter to be lifted sufficiently to disconnect the gears. This will be found useful in long drives, when it is desirable to save the parts from wear.

To fasten the horse one needs simply to wind the reins around the spindle and secure them under a hook on the disk. If the horse should start forward, the reins will be quickly wound up on the spindle and the animal suddenly checked. Any subsequent backward movement would have no effect, on account of the spring pressed pawl ratchet, which prevents rotation of the spindle in the opposite direction. Hence, whichever way the horse may turn, the wheels cannot be moved.

CHAFFE SENDS CABLE HOME

CONSIDERS CAMPAIGN AGAINST MOROS AS BEING NECESSARY

DELAY HIS LEAVING

He May Remain in Mindanao Until These Filipinos Are Made to Respect the American Government—Ladrones Fight

Washington, Aug. 19.—A cable dispatch has been received from General Chaffee stating that in his judgment an active campaign against the Moros in Mindanao was necessary in order to curb the opposition that has been growing against United States authority. The dispatch was considered of sufficient importance to be repeated to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

General Chaffee has been directed to use his own discretion in the matter and will no doubt engage in an aggressive campaign against the Moros. Some time before Secretary Root left Washington the Moro situation was under consideration, and from a dispatch then at hand the secretary was of the opinion that the Moros must be dealt with severely before they would respect the authority of the United States.

General Chaffee is now in Mindanao. If the campaign should continue for some time he is not likely to remain in the Philippines instead of leaving Sept. 30, as he had planned. It is understood that General Chaffee has sufficient troops to make an active campaign.

Fight With Ladrones.

Manila, Aug. 19.—A force of native constabulary engaged a band of ladrones in a sharp fight last Saturday near Caloocan, about four miles north of Manila. The arrival of reinforcements for the constabulary won them the victory. Four members of the constabulary were killed and one wounded. The ladrones left three of their number dead, but carried off their wounded.

The chase of the Cavite ladrones continues. Forces of native constabulary have had encounters with bands of Feluardo and Montallon. Several of the ladrones were killed or captured and a quantity of their supplies was destroyed.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. WILL KEEP OUT CHINESE.

Commissioner Sargent Will Increase the Guards Along Mexican Border.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Mr. Sargent, the commissioner of immigration, has received information that large numbers of Chinese are arriving in Mexico for the purpose of ultimately crossing into the United States. Some time ago the treasury department ruled that Chinese arriving at San Francisco en route to Mexico were not to be permitted to land. Since that time a scheme, it is said, has been evolved looking to the establishment of the steamship line to run directly from China to Mexico, landing its passengers not far below the American border.

Positive information in regard to this movement of Chinese in Mexico is lacking, but Mr. Sargent deems it wise to take precautions against any scheme of this character being carried out, and he will increase largely the force of inspectors at the crossing points on the Mexican border.

BANKER'S WIFE HELD UP.

Masked Robber Relieves Her of Jewels After Dressing for Reception.

Columbus, O., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Frederick W. Prentiss, wife of the president of the Hayden-Clinton National bank, was held up in her own home on West Broad street Monday evening by a masked robber and at the point of a revolver compelled to deliver $2600 worth of diamonds. Mrs. Prentiss had just completed dressing for a reception and had seated herself in her bed room to rest a moment. The first she knew of the presence of an intruder was when she heard a revolver click, and looking up faced a roughly dressed man over whose face was hung a handkerchief, and on whose cap were the words, "Gas Inspector." Mrs. Prentiss stripped her rings from her fingers, handed them over, when the door bell rang and the robber fled.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LEGACY ATTACKED.

Philadelphia, Aug. 19.—William Jay Turner, acting as counsel for the state of Alabama, has had an attachment issued against the Pennsylvania Insurance company executor of the estate of the late Thomas G. Corbin, United States navy, who died a few months ago, leaving an estate valued at $750,000. The state of Alabama asks for $25,000 of the estate to replace money alleged to have been stolen by a nephew of Commodore Corbin, Francis C. Randolph, who is an heir to the estate and who was elected probate judge of Montgomery county, Alabama, in 1886. The latter served a term of six years and was re-elected in 1892.

As probate judge Randolph had jurisdiction over the liquor licenses of Montgomery, Ala. In 1895 he disappeared and it is alleged took with him $25,000 belonging to the county of Montgomery. He went to Colombia, South America and that country having no extradition treaty with the United States Randolph was not molested.

Walked Seventy-Five Miles to Surrender.

Muskogee, I. T., Aug. 19.—Edmond Butcher, a full-blood Indian, walked 75 miles from his home west of this city and surrendered to the officers, stating he had killed his brother-in-law, Jack Fish, in self-defense. With him were his wife, two children and a black cur. Butcher told his story and the jail was pointed out to him. He went alone and entered without an officer for a commitment. His squaw turned her back upon the jail and with the children and cur started back on the long tramp to their home in the hills. Her bare feet were blistered by the hot sands, but she did not complain. Butcher will be tried at the September term of court.

Stock Range Denuded.

Beeville, Tex., Aug. 19.—A great many stockmen west of the Nueces river are shipping their stock east to pasture, and some are experiencing trouble in finding grass. Hundreds have died and the living ones are in poor condition, caused by the long drought, which has left the country a barren waste. Several residents of Beeville own pastures in Live Oak, Duval and Starr counties, and they report the country as having assumed such a serious aspect that unless rain falls soon or the stock is moved a heavy loss will be sustained. Bee county generally has plenty of range grass yet.

Held for the Grand Jury.

Fordsville, Ky., Aug. 19.—After a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Evans here J. H. Boatner and A. B. Schlitzbaum, charged with complicity in a conspiracy to defraud the American Express company out of $28,000, were held to the grand jury in the sum of $30,000. The charges of a similar nature against W. A. Ault were dismissed and he was given his liberty. Boatner and Schlitzbaum were unable to give bond and were removed to the Hartford jail.

Steel Purchased in Scotland.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 19.—The New York Shipbuilding company has purchased 80,000 tons of manufactured iron and steel from the Lancaashire Iron company of Scotland. This is one of the largest orders for iron or steel given in this country to a foreign company. The order was placed on account of the scarcity of iron and steel duties.

SERIOUS FIRE.

Two Persons Dead, Three Are Severely Burned and Another Badly Hurt.

Gering, Neb., Aug. 19.—Two persons dead, three more at the point of death, a sixth fearfully burned and a residence in ashes, is the result of lighting a fire with kerosene here.

C. M. McCormsey, whose wife has been ill for several days, was attempting to start a fire in a wood stove when the oil exploded, setting fire to his clothing and throwing burning fluid all over the room. He was fearfully burned and ran out of the house. Before help could arrive the fire had burned his helpless wife, a baby only a few days old, their 2-year-old son and two little daughters of Luther A. Cook, a neighbor, who were playing with the McCormsey boy.

McCormsey lingered in agony for several hours when he died. The baby is also dead. The death of Mrs. McCormsey and the two Cook children is expected.

SWEPT BY VOLCANO.

All Inhabitants of a Japanese Island Perish in the Eruption.

Yokohama, Aug. 19.—The little island of Torishima was overwhelmed by a volcanic eruption between Aug. 13 and Aug. 15 and all the inhabitants, numbering 150 persons, were undoubtedly killed.

The island is covered with volcanic debris and all the houses on it have disappeared. The eruption is still proceeding, and is accompanied by submarine eruptions in the vicinity which make it dangerous for vessels to approach the island.

Torishima is one of a chain of islands extending between the Bonin islands and Hondo, the biggest island of Japan.

Drugged and Robbed.

San Antonio, Aug. 19.—Carlos Mirands, a prominent miner and stockman of Zacatecas, Mex., was robbed of $3000 in cash while under the influence of drugged liquor given him in a side room of a saloon after midnight Saturday night, and on Monday an arrest of a bartender was made by detective, who claim to have a witness who saw the money taken from the drugged man's pocket. None of the money has been recovered.

Was Sleep on the Track.

Denison, Tex., Aug. 19.—R. M. Palmer, the negro who was run over at Oktaha, I. T., Saturday by section train No. 108, in charge of Conductor Hill and Engineer Jett, died Sunday morning at Muskogee. Palmer was lying on the track asleep when struck by the train.

Walkout on Union Pacific.

Omaha, Aug. 19.—The ranks of the striking shopmen on the Union Pacific railroad have been augmented by the walkout of nearly 200 carpenters, painters and coach builders in the shops at this point. Both the carmen and the machinists, however, say the strike is not a sympathetic one, and that the car shopmen strike is a protest against the piece work system recently inaugurated by the railroad company.

At Union Pacific headquarters it was stated positively that the strike was without significance as far as it may result to any inconvenience to the company's business.

Beyond a statement of Governor Savage that the state militia would not be called out, nothing new has developed in the situation.

Big Land Suit Filed.

Tyler, Tex., Aug. 19.—Suit has been filed in the United States district court here for the recovery of eleven leagues of land of the Manuel Rionda survey in Anderson and Freestone counties. The suit was filed by William H. Williams, Mary D. League, Samuel W. Campbell, John W. Campbell, Sarah P. Campbell, Mary C. Campbell, Annie W. Campbell against Amelia L. Howard, Harry S. Hardee, Francis C. Zachary, Caroline A. Owen, Emma O. Zachary, Florence D. Zachary, Florence T. Ellis and James A. Stewart. The plaintiffs are residents of Texas and other states and defendants reside in Missouri and Louisiana. The suit was instituted by Houston attorneys.

Hurt in a Runaway.

Dallas, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Sadie Warmack was badly hurt in a runaway here Monday. Her horse became frightened in the vicinity of Akard and started up Main at a rapid gallop. Turning the corner of Stone without slackening speed, the horse crashed the buggy into a water plug, dashing Mrs. Warmack and a small child that was with her to the asphalt pavement. Mrs. Warmack is reported to be in a serious condition, and was taken to the city hospital. The child was badly but not seriously hurt.

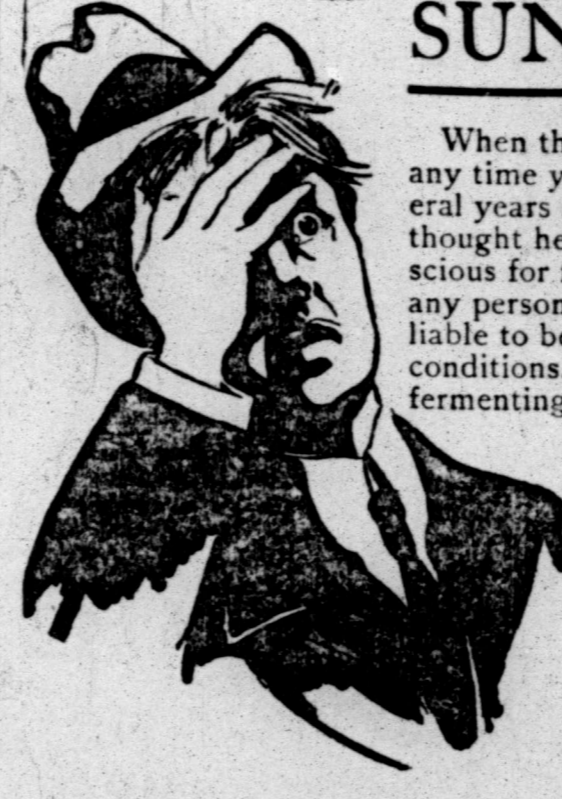

Growing Beets Successfully.

Waxahachie, Tex., Aug. 19.—H. H. Hicks, living near Oaks, this county, stated that he had planted an acre of sugar beets this year, and the other day pulled up one that was twenty-one inches long and seventeen inches in circumference and weighed ten pounds. He states they are very valuable for stock feed, and no trouble to keep through the winter.

Section Boss Killed.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 19.—John Richardson, a section boss in the employ of the Santa Fe, was found dead on the tracks near here. He was struck by a freight train. His head and side were crushed and a foot cut off.

SUNSTROKE INSURANCE

When the summer's heat gets about 90 degrees, you are liable to be sunstruck any time you are out in the sun, unless you take the proper precautions. Several years ago, the writer of this, who has spent much of his life in the tropics, thought he was safe from sunstroke. One day he collapsed, remained unconscious for five hours, and at times his life was despaired of. As a matter of fact, any person whose stomach and bowels are in bad shape in the summer time, is liable to be sunstruck in temperature that would be harmless under normal conditions. That's all there is to it. Stomach and bowels full of festering, fermenting refuse that forms acids and gases, raise the heat of the body and blood many degrees. Scientists have found that natives of the South Sea Islands, living on laxative fruit, bananas, coconuts, bread-fruit, have a temperature 20 degrees lower than that of white men who are careless about their food or their bowels. It has been found in years of experience, that a CASCARET Candy Cathartic taken at bed-time every night will keep the body clean and cool inside all day, and forms a safe and thoroughly reliable form of sunstroke insurance.

Des Moines Register: Gen. Jacob Smith's reception at Portsmouth, O., and the feeling manner in which he acknowledged the popular tribute, are proof that the General is a manly and sympathetic officer, and that his sweeping order in Samar was simply a temporary outburst of indignation over the treachery and atrocious attacks of the Filipinos. The order was probably as meaningless as the catharsis with which many men relieve themselves of sudden or pent-up indignation.

APOSTOLIC TRIBULATIONS---ENCOURAGEMENT

Christ Comforts His Disciples With Promise

A DAILY CHAPTER FROM THE BIBLE.

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues; yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you. But now I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me. Whither goest thou? But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send him unto you. And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment. Of sin, because they believe not on me; Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged. I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth; for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak, and he will shew you things to come. He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you. All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you. A little while, and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father. Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and again, a little while, and ye shall see me; and because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith. Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do you enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me; and again, a little while, and ye shall see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. And ye now therefore have sorrow; but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man can take from you. —John xvi., 1-22.

The young man had a weakness for automobiles, and, it is recorded, shipped the first to San Francisco, ever seen on the Pacific coast. The habit he cultivated there led to his death on the other continent. It was nothing for him to go at a fifty mile clip, and in Paris when he and his wife were dashed to death, the speed has been estimated between 64 and 115 miles an hour. Truly, young Fair died as he had lived.

BOOST, DON'T KNOCK

People in Fort Worth should not be in a hurry to cast criticism upon Paul Waples and Captain B. B. Paddock, president and secretary of the Board of Trade for what has been claimed in some circles, as apathy in the city's interest. Both, it seems, absented themselves at a time when somebody believed they should have been at home. Mr. Waples was away on a mission that will result in Fort Worth being nationally prominent for one day if no longer; and, Captain Paddock, when he returns from his protracted stay north, will, in all probability, bring a bundle of good things to hand Fort Worth.

These men are among those whom Fort Worth has to thank for its prominence and business progressiveness, and their usefulness is by no means ended. Through its establishments, one of which is headed by Mr. Waples, Fort Worth is known in every town of consequence in Texas. Those who have lived through the struggles of Fort Worth will not deny that B. B. Paddock has been one of its untiring friends and, it was ventured a few days ago, when he conducted the old Democrat some years back, every other column contained a boost of some character for Fort Worth. Had it probably not been for his efforts the Brownwood road, lately absorbed by the Frisco, and made the basis for a great trunk system in Texas, would still be among Fort Worth's hopes and possibilities.

Fort Worth has arrived at a point where harmony, not dissension, is most needed. Give to such men as these named liberal support, and with the enterprises already under construction, the dawn of commercial greatness will break tomorrow even to the most biased eye.

In other words: boost, don't knock.

Those contemplating having small-pox or other infectious disease this fall or winter had best cut it out—at least until the city and county authorities get together on the proposition as to whether the city or county is to care for them. Usually, when technical points are involved, some one volunteers to make a test case. Here is an opportunity.

A FEW STORIES

A physician who has written some "confessions" tells an amusing story about himself: "I received a request to call from an old patient, who was afraid she was taking scarlet fever," he says. "I responded at once. The patient was one of two elderly sisters whom I had attended for many years. I greeted her in the sitting room and noted her pulse while in the act of shaking hands with her. By some witty remarks I contrived to make her laugh, which enabled me to see her tongue. Then I said, in a playful tone, 'If you get me a glass of water I will treat you to some of my patent soda water.' She did so. I put a tablet in the water and she drank it. I want to know that I take pride in my original methods. I try to educate my patients to like and not to dread the visits of the doctor. In this case all of my work had to be done without the direct knowledge of the patient and I felt very good over it. So I bade my patient good-bye with extreme cheerfulness. She looked surprised, and then said: 'Of course, you will come upstairs and see my sister?' 'Not today,' I said; 'give her my respects.' 'Why,' she said, looking mystified and startled, 'how strangely you talk!' 'Strangely?' I echoed. 'Why?' 'Because I sent for you to prescribe for my sister and you decline to see her.' I had prescribed for the wrong sister. I was entirely too clever.'—Drover's Journal.

A man who carried a raised umbrella with a white ribbon streaming from the handle attracted attention in the Dearborn street station yesterday morning, says the Chicago Tribune. Waiting passengers wondered where the attendant was a good place, but as we had never seen each other, we arranged this umbrella business. Sue will carry one, too." Fifteen minutes later the policeman saw two umbrellas with white streamers attached bearing toward one another. He watched them until they were within ten feet of one another, and then both halted. The girl was extremely plain, and the countryman was not the only one who had been fooled. Simultaneously two right hands moved upward, and a moment later two umbrellas were closed. The man turned to the left and the woman to the right, and not a word was said. That was all.

A Memphis man who has just returned from New York, says the Memphis Scimitar, tells the following story of an incident that he witnessed at the Grand Central depot in that city on the occasion of his departure: "Two farmers were standing in a quiet corner of the lobby very much interested in the conversation they had under way. One was very gloomy and was saying things under his breath that were scarcely suitable for print, the other was gay and smiling and continued to chaff his companion. I dropped into a seat near them and could not help from hearing the conversation. "One was telling the other how he had been bounced out of $50 that morning, all the money that he had brought to the city with him. The other seemed to think that it was a huge joke. "How was it that they didn't get you?" asked the victim, irritably. "Why, I was too smart for them," replied the other with a smile. "I met a sprightly young fellow on the train who said he had met me somewhere. He told me how bad the bunco men were in the city, and I gave him my purse to keep until I got home. He is going to express it to me. I couldn't afford to take no chances on it, as I had more than $200 in that purse."

WATCH FOR A CHILL. However slight at this time of year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn, and an all tired out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at H. T. Pangburn & Co's.

CASE No. 113 By... Emile Gaboriau

Synopsis of Case No. 113 The morning of February 28, a man introducing himself as Count Louis De Clameran, an iron maker of Oloron, enters the bank of M. Fauvel and announces that he has come to draw 300,000 francs ($70,000) deposited in the bank by his late brother. A few minutes later the cashier, Prosper Bertomy, arrives and going in to open the safe, returns a few minutes later to announce that the safe has been robbed of 350,000 francs which he put there the afternoon before, expecting that Count De Clameran would call for it early in the morning before banking hours. The president, M. Fauvel, arrives and he and Bertomy accuse each other of the robbery. M. Lecoq and his assistant, Fanferlot, take up the case. While Lecoq goes into the banker's private office, Fanferlot oversees a passionate scene between Madeline, niece of the banker, and Bertomy and suspecting that they are in love and that Fauvel objects, accuses in his own mind, the banker of his robbery and attempts to prove his case. The attempt to follow this clue leads him on a wrong scent, his only discovery being that Mme. Nina Gipsy is a friend of Bertomy and he manages to get her to lodge with himself and his wife. In his investigation at the safe, Fanferlot discovered a long scratch on the door of the safe, but attaches little importance to it, while following up his pet clue, without his chief's knowledge. Mme. Gipsy leaves his lodgings and finally baffled and despondent Fanferlot goes to M. Lecoq and confesses what he has been doing. The chief after scolding him, shows him the importance of the scratch on the safe's door and producing a photograph of the rooms in which the robbery was committed he shows Fanferlot the exact location of the scratch. Then fetching out an exact reproduction of the safe, and similarly painted, he gets Fanferlot to attempt to scratch it with a key. The detective is unsuccessful and then Lecoq in order to get Fanferlot to see that two persons were at the door of the safe when the robbery was committed and that one used force to prevent the other, asks Fanferlot to attempt to pull his arm away while he stands in front of the imitation safe holding the key. Fanferlot obeys and the scratch on the door of the Fauvel safe is reproduced.

"Oh, oh, oh!" exclaimed Fanferlot in three different tones as he stood staring at the door. "Do you begin to understand now?" asked M. Lecoq. "Understand! Why, a child could understand it now. Ah, what a man you are! I see the scene as if I had been present. Two persons were at the safe. One wished to take the money; the other wished to prevent its being taken. That is certain." Accustomed to triumphs of this sort, M. Lecoq was much amused at Fanferlot's enthusiasm. "There you go off half cocked again," he said good humoredly. "You regard as sure proof a circumstance which may be accidental and at the most only probable." "No, a man like you could not be mistaken. There is no doubt about it." "That being the case, what deductions would you draw from our discovery?" "In the first place, it proves the cashier innocent." "How so?" "Because, at perfect liberty to open the safe whenever he wished to do so, he would not have brought a witness when he intended to commit the theft." "Well reasoned. But on this supposition the banker would also be innocent. Think." Fanferlot reflected, and all of his animation vanished. "It is so," he said in a despairing tone. "What can be done now?" "Find the third rogue, or, rather, the real rogue—the one who opened the safe and stole the notes and who is still at large, while others are suspected."

"Impossible! M. Fauvel and his cashier only had keys, and they always kept them on their persons." "Pardon me. On the evening of the robbery the banker left his key in the secretary." "Yes, but the key alone was not sufficient to open the safe. The word also was necessary." M. Lecoq shrugged his shoulders impatiently. "What was the word?" he asked. "Gipsy." "Which is the name of the cashier's griseette. The day you find a man sufficiently intimate with Prosper to be aware of all the circumstances connected with this name, and at the same time on a footing with the Fauvel family which would give him the privilege of entering M. Fauvel's chamber, then you will discover the real thief; then the problem will be solved." Exotistical, like all great artists, M. Lecoq had never had a pupil and never wished to have one. He hated assistants, wishing to share neither the pleasure of success nor the pain of defeat. Thus Fanferlot, who knew his patron's character, was surprised to hear him giving advice who heretofore had only given orders. "Chief," he ventured to say, "you seem to take a great personal interest in this affair—you have so deeply studied it." M. Lecoq started nervously and replied, frowning: "Don't be too curious, Master Squirrel. Be careful that you do not go too far. Do you understand?" Fanferlot began to apologize. "That will do," interrupted M. Lecoq. "If I choose to lend you a helping hand, it is because it suits me to do so. It pleases me to be the head while you are the limbs. Unassisted, with your preconceived ideas, you would never have found the culprit. If we two don't find him, my name is not Lecoq." "We shall certainly succeed since you are interested in the case." "Yes, I am interested in it, and during the last four days I have discovered many important facts. But I have reasons for not appearing in this affair. No matter what happens, I forbid your mentioning my name. If we succeed, all the success must be attributed to you. And, above all, don't try to find out too much. Be satisfied with what explanations I give you." These conditions seemed quite to suit Fanferlot. "I will be discreet," he said. "I shall rely upon you. Now, to begin, you must carry this photograph to the judge of instruction. I know M. Patrigent is much perplexed about this case. Explain to him as if it came from you alone what I have just shown you. Repeat what I have demonstrated, and I am convinced that this evidence will determine him to release the cashier. Prosper must be at liberty before I can commence my operations."

"Of course, chief. But must I let him know that I suspect any one besides the banker or cashier?" "Certainly. Justice must not be kept in ignorance of your intention of following up this affair. M. Patrigent will tell you to watch Prosper. You will reply that you will not lose sight of him. I myself will answer for his being in good hands." "And if he asks me about Gipsy?" M. Lecoq hesitated a moment. "Tell him," he said, "that you persuaded her, in the interest of Prosper, to live in a house where she can watch some one whom you suspect." Fanferlot rolled up the photograph and was joyously picking up his hat to go when M. Lecoq checked him with a gesture. "I have not finished. Do you know how to drive a carriage and manage horses?" "Why can you ask this of a man who used to be a rider in the Bouthor circus?" "Very well. As soon as the judge dismisses you return home immediately, make yourself a wig and the complete dress of a valet, and, having dressed yourself, take this letter to the agent on Delorme street."

"But—" "There must be no but, sir. The agent will send you to M. de Clameran, who is looking for a valet, his man having left him yesterday." "Excuse me if I venture to suggest that you are making a mistake. This Clameran does not come into the matter. He is not the cashier's friend." "Do what I tell you and don't disturb your mind about the rest. Clameran is not a friend of Prosper, I know, but he is the friend and protector of Raoul de Lagors. Why so? Whence the intimacy of these two men of such different ages? I must find out. I must also find out who this forger master is who lives in Paris and never goes to attend to his affairs; a high liver, who takes it into his head to live at the Hotel du Louvre in the midst of a tumultuous, ever changing crowd, where it is hard to watch him. Through you I will have an eye upon him. He has a carriage. You are to drive it, and you will soon be able to give me an account of his manner of life and of the sort of people with whom he associates." "You shall be obeyed." "One word more. M. de Clameran is irritable and, still more, suspicious. You will be presented to him under the name of Joseph Dubols. He will demand your certificate of good character. Here are three which state that you have lived with the Marquis de Stalmeuse and the Count de Commarie and that you have just left the Baron de Wortschen, who has gone to Germany. Be careful of your dress and manners. Watch the marquis's movements. Above all, don't overdo your part. It might arouse suspicion." "Don't worry as to that. Where shall I call on you?" "I will report to you every day. Until I change your orders don't step foot in this house. You might be followed. If anything important should happen, send a note to your wife, and she will inform me. Go and be prudent." The door closed on Fanferlot as M. Lecoq passed into his bedroom. In the twinkling of an eye he had divested himself of chief of the secret service. He took off his stiff cravat and gold spectacles and removed the close wig from his thick black hair. The official Lecoq had disappeared, leaving in his place the Lecoq whom nobody knew—a handsome man with a clear eye and resolute bearing. But he remained only for an instant. Seated before a dressing table, covered with more cosmetics, paints, perfumes, false hair and other unmentionable shams than the toilet tables of a modern belle, he began to undo the work of nature and make himself a new face. He worked slowly, handling his brushes with great care. But in an hour he had accomplished one of his daily masterpieces. When he had finished, he was no longer Lecoq. He was the large man with red whiskers whom Fanferlot failed to recognize.

"Well," he said, casting a last look in the mirror, "I have forgotten nothing. I have left nothing to chance. All my plans are fixed, and I shall make progress, provided the Squirrel does not waste time." But Fanferlot was too happy to waste a minute. He did not run, he flew, toward the Palais de Justice. At last he was able to convince some one of his wonderful shrewdness. As to acknowledging that he was about to obtain a triumph with the ideas of another man, he never thought of it. It is generally in perfect good faith that the jackdaw struts in the peacock's feathers. His hopes were realized. If the judge was not absolutely convinced, he admired the ingenuity of the whole proceeding.

"This decides me," he said, dismissing Fanferlot. "I will file a favorable report today, and it is highly probable that the accused will be released tomorrow." He began at once to write out one of those terrible decisions of "Not proved" which restores liberty, but not honor, to the accused man; which says that he is not guilty, but does not say he is innocent: Whereas there do not exist sufficient charges against the accused, Prosper Bertomy, in pursuance of article 128 of the Criminal Code we hereby declare that we find no grounds for prosecution against the aforesaid prisoner at this present time, and we order that he shall be released from the prison where he is confined and set at liberty by the jailer, etc.

When it was finished, "Well," he said to the clerk, "here is another of those crimes which justice cannot clear up—another file to be stowed away among the archives of the record office."

And his own hand wrote on the corner of the bundle of papers relating to Prosper's case the number of the package, "Case 113."

FAMOUS SAFE WASN'T SHOT

M. M. Brown, of the Brewery Tells How He Knows. "Speaking about safe blowing," said M. M. Brown, fireman at the brewery, "thieves who operate as 'peetmen' know one another as soon as they meet. This term originated from the name of 'peet' given to safes. In the last 30 months there have been about 400 safes blown open in surrounding country, and it is safe to predict dynamite has not been used on one of them. The prevailing explosive is nitro-glycerine. No safe is burglar proof. If a good 'peetman' wanted to go into a time-locked 'box' of a bank he could do so in sixty seconds and would not have to make more than five shots. When anyone says the Famous Shoe Store safe was shot open they are mistaken. It was opened with drills and punches. The day after the robbery I made an examination and upon wiping the door with a white handkerchief, failed to find powder black or smut. Had it been blown open this evidence would have been there."

HOLT KILLED BY HARRELL

Postal Clerk Known Here, in Trouble in San Antonio. Information came last night of the death of Thomas Holt in San Antonio at the hands of Harvey Harrell, a railway postal clerk. Holt was a son of Capt. William Holt, formerly of the army, and Harrell is a brother of Dave Harrell of Austin, one of the best known Hereford breeders in Texas. The men are said to have had a difficulty in a saloon when Holt struck Harrell with a chair. The trouble was renewed later and Holt was killed.

MONEY ORDERS ARE ISSUED ON SHANGHAI

POST OFFICE GETS ORDERS TO GIVE POSTAL CHECKS IN THE ORIENT. While Great Britain, Russia and other European powers quarreled about the invasion of China, Uncle Sam did a little invading of his own, the success of which has just been announced to the local postoffice. The present administrative force of the postoffice department at Washington has done many particularly interesting things, but the latest move is decidedly novel, namely, establishing a postoffice on foreign soil. The announcement comes here to the money order department calling attention to the fact that a money order on Shanghai can now be drawn for no more than one on Dallas, that is 3 cents minimum for orders up to $2.50 and 30 cents maximum for $100. The orders will be cashed in Shanghai by the United States postal agent and will be paid in Mexican money at the current rate on the day it is received. In the same way, parties at Shanghai can send an order to the United States, paying in Mexican money at the current rate, and the money can be regularly cashed at any postoffice in this country. The saving to people sending orders is a great deal, as heretofore international order forms have had to be used at a much greater cost. International money orders are payable in ten of the large cities of China. When the government coins a new dollar for circulation in the Philippines and the far East, the money order business will be still further simplified.

FELT FOR HER CHAPERON

Breezy Western Girl Protected the Duenna from Annoyance. From Boston Journal: The chaperon is not so much of an institution in the breezy west as she is in the east, and in some quarters there are rather hazy ideas as to her duties and responsibilities. One western girl, the friend of whose life had made her exceptionally independent and self-reliant, gave an illustration of this at an eastern summer resort. She was under the protecting wing of an eastern matron with very strict ideas of propriety. The matron found her charge one day sitting on the hotel veranda with a strange man, and naturally she was perturbed. She took a chair reasonably near them, to give the girl a chance to present the young man, but the girl ignored her. Finally, in desperation, the matron tried to instruct the girl by signals what to do, but the latter only smiled and shook her head. When the young man left the matron asked who he was. "Oh, he's from Denver," answered the girl. "It is a chaperon's duty to decide who are proper acquaintances for a young girl," explained the matron. "You should have presented him to me." "I suppose so," said the girl, nonchalantly, "but, you see, he hasn't a very good reputation, and so I thought it better you shouldn't meet him." On another occasion this girl, who thought it her duty to protect her chaperon, was present when an international marriage was under discussion. "Well," she announced decisively, "I'd never buy a husband, anyway." "Oh, this wasn't that kind of a marriage," explained one of the other girls. "Of course she's rich, but she didn't have to settle any part of her fortune on him. He is merely to have so much a year." "Perhaps that's safer," admitted the westerner, without any effort to conceal her contempt, "but buying on the installment plan always seems to me unsatisfactory and cheap."

A NEGRO'S BOLD RUSE TO SELL A STOLEN COAT

Lifted it While a Merchant Was Busy and Then Offered It for Sale—Looked Down a Gun Barrel. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock a negro named Ed French walked into Al Levy's second-hand establishment at Twelfth and Main and while waiting about the place for Levy, who was busy with another customer, French rolled a coat up and held it under his arm. When Levy approached the negro offered the coat for sale, and made a dicker with Levy as to price. Levy proceeded to tag the coat and place it on display before settling with the negro, and in so doing discovered his own private mark on the coat. Without further ado Levy picked up a "cannon" and drew a bead on the negro, at the same time telling him not to budge and called on a clerk to ring up an officer. Police Clerk Newby responded and locked the negro up. En route to prison the negro declared that he believed Levy would have shot him had he moved foot or hand. Levy expresses no doubt about his intention.

RAIN PREVENTS RUIN IN TEXAS

COL. "BOB" SANDERSON OF BIG SPRINGS HAS SAY

Lease Expirations Force Many Barons to Seek Pastures in Northwest. Western Drouth Had Been Severe

"Live stock was never in such demand in Texas," said Col. "Bob" Sanderson, the banker-ranchman of Big Springs, to the Chicago Live Stock World. "Cattlemen have sold all their two-year-olds without trouble, and after cleaning up that crop, northern men are buying up the yearlings. Paul McCormick has been down from Montana after yearlings and cattlemen are falling all over themselves in an attempt to clean up that supply. Texas had a big half crop last year, however, so that there is plenty of yearlings. Buyers seem to be willing to pay around $16 for them." "The demand for feeders is also abnormal. I own a bunch of threes and every man who comes along seems to hanker to get them in his possession. Kansas will have a good corn crop and the Sunflower state feeders are already rustling over the Panhandle region, looking for feeders. Threes are none too plentiful in that region and they will find no bargains."

"Recent rains have put Texas cattlemen in good shape. The timely moisture has saved south Texas from ruin. Save in the Pecos country few cattle were lost, but it was a close shave. The rain will have the effect of stopping the agitation for wiping out the quarantine line. It was born of the scarcity of grass below the line. Without feed themselves South Texas cattlemen believed that their condition would be ameliorated could they but drive their stock into the Panhandle country, and as long as there is plenty of grass below the line the cry is subdued."

"Many Texas cattle raisers are prospecting in the northwest," says Robertson, Winfield Scott and others whose pastures have been curtailed by the lapsed lease decision and rush settlers into West Texas, are up there and the railroads are offering Texans inducements to go up there and spy out locations. I think a lot of southern cattle will go to Montana and the Dakotas in first hands next year and in any case preparation will be made to take them up if only to insure an outlet. If northern grazers realize that the cattle will be moved anyway they will show more readiness to buy."

"The drouth in West Texas was severe. They talk about Kaffir corn and milo maize growing without rain but actually stood still during the drouth, although it did not die. The incursion by settlers, owing to the lapsed lease decision is playing havoc with the pastures of the big cattle men and ultimate results are hard to predict."

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT FROM THE HOT WEATHER

SUN CONTINUES TO SHINE WITH UNABATED HEAT—NO RAIN PROMISED

"De peafowl hab been cryin', de dust am whirlin' an' de sugar-bubbles went to de adidge of my cup dis mawnin' like dey was in a powerful big hurry, but all signs fail in of Texas an' I wouldn't be sprised if it didn't rain fo' a month yet," soliloquized Uncle Jasper this morning as he looked at the cloudless sky. Up in the weather bureau office Uncle Jasper's guess is verified in a little more scientific way, or something like this. Temperature 94, barometer 29.85 and falling, relative humidity, 18. To the indicated that means a regular rain period is away off, though a thunder storm might happen any time. The air is still comparatively dry and only the slightest falling barometer is hopeful. They had rain yesterday at El Paso which is not very promising for Fort Worth. A rain would help pastures and corn to some extent, but would not be welcomed in the cotton fields. It is needed principally to bring cooler weather, but Fort Worth people will still have to linger near electric fans and cool off with "Bet-sies" and "Ireeces" for some days yet.

Kodol Digests what you Eat Dyspepsia Cure

Just so sure as water dissolves sugar, just so sure will KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE digest your food; it's on the same general principles. It contains exactly the same elements as Nature's digestive fluids, so why won't it act in exactly the same manner? It will. It can't help it. That's why other remedies have failed. A little KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE after meals will prevent that terrible distress and belching so often experienced. "For years I sought a remedy in vain until I tried KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. It has no equal as a stomach and dyspepsia remedy and I have tried all I could find. M. C. Edwards, 1422-10th Ave., Altoona, Pa."

It can't help but do you good Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 50c. size. When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

ONLY INCREASED THE SPEED OF FLYING NEGRO

Policeman Temes Left to Hold the Horses While Sambo Hit the Grit for Tall Timber

Policeman Temes is good naturally allowing himself to be a target for well-meant criticism on the part of his brother officers because of what they term his poor marksmanship. They claim that John took four shots at a fleeing negro yesterday morning and failed to even raise the dust in the vicinity of the course over which the negro was speeding. In defense, John declares, he only made an effort to puncture the clouds in the hope of frightening the negro to a standstill. In this he failed, because with each shot Sambo increased his speed and was soon lost to sight.

It all came about in this manner. The negro was endeavoring to dispose of 15 or 20 bushels of wheat to Lilly's grain house, and the impression prevailed that the cereal had been stolen. Temes was called in to investigate, and so thoroughly satisfied was he that the negro had stolen the wheat that he decided to bring him to the station. The negro was instructed to drive his wagon up, and en route, and whills passing through a crowd of workmen near the brewery, the negro sprang out of the wagon and made a spurt east on Ninth street. Before Temes could get his gun in action the negro was a block away. Temes declares he could have brought him down even at long distance, but so many people were passing he dared not shoot lower than at an angle in direct line with the tower of the brewery, which only served to loosen up the darkey. The officer brought the team to the hall and later turned it over to the pound keeper, where the owner called later and took charge of it. It developed that the negro had borrowed the wagon and team and that the wheat had been purloined from freight cars at the granary in North Fort Worth.

BANKS WILL BE AFFECTED

DECISION OF INTERNAL REVENUE DEPARTMENT REGARDING TAXES FELT HERE

The Opinion of a United States Court Rendered in New York Will Cause the Further Collection of Over $300,000

Local banks will be affected by the recent decision of the Internal Revenue department that banks must pay a revenue tax on undivided profits for the year 1901. The collection will be on the undivided profits, accounts of banks, trust companies, or private banks and will amount to about $300,000 in the entire country. Immediate steps will be taken by revenue collectors to secure the amounts from the different banks. Fort Worth banks will have to pay their taxes to P. W. Hunt, internal revenue collector for this district. The tax is based on the war revenue act of June, 1898, which has since been repealed.

Under an opinion of the Department of Justice, the tax had only been collected on the capital and surplus of banks, but Commissioner Yerkes ruled last January that the undivided profit, or profit and loss accounts of banks, are part of the surplus, and thereby subject to tax. After this ruling was made, by request of representatives of the banks, the commissioner agreed, on January 27 last, to withhold collection, pending a decision by the United States Circuit Court, in a suit to be brought to test the question. This suit was brought in the Southern District of New York by the Leather Manufacturers' National Bank, of New York, and was decided a few weeks ago adversely to the banks.

The tax was repealed by the last congress, the repeal to take effect July 1, 1902, so that at present there is no internal revenue tax on capital, surplus or undivided profits of banks. The tax to be collected will be for the year ended July 1, 1902.

To My Friends

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had told me that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it.—Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals. His Sight Threatened

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Notice to Taxpayers.

The City Assessor's books are now ready and the Board of Equalization will convene on Monday, June 23d, in the City Assessor's office in the City Hall and continue in session every day thereafter, excepting Sunday, from 10 to 12 o'clock in the forenoon and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. All owners of real estate are requested to bring descriptions of their property with them when coming to inquire values.

It is very important that all owners of real estate should appear before the Board of Equalization as a great many changes in values have been made since last year. Many improvements have been made since Jan. 1st, last, that may possibly appear on the tax rolls for this year and all mistakes of this or any other character will be corrected by the Board of Equalization on application of the owners.

Be sure and bring descriptions of your real estate with you.

"Waken, Lords and Ladies Gay, On the Mountain Dawns the Day."—Scott. The sleeping-car that leaves Fort Worth on our night train is ready to receive passengers at NINE o'clock, each evening, and this car is set out at Colorado Springs for guests to vacate at their leisure. The place where the car waits is only about six miles from the mountains, and a beautiful sight greets the wakers from that long, refreshing Colorado sleep—under blankets. This night train also has a sleeper that goes into Denver, reaching there at a comfortable rising time. Both of our daily THRU TRAINS have those sleepers with "Large, Ladies' Dressing rooms," also meals served in our own Cafe Dining cars, a la carte service, 25c and up per individual. These special features of distinguishing excellence are among the characteristics that have, now for some time, made appropriate the "Only-One-Road" — and "You-Don't-Have-to-Apologize" verdict of persons who are capable of appreciating good service and making distinctions. GYRATIONS IN TICKETS

PREMIUM IS OFFERED

Box of Cigars Given With a 30-cent Ticket to Chicago—Cut Rate of Regular Offices Made Basing Rate by Scalpers for One-Way Ticket

The little passenger war that was on last week culminating in the fireworks of Saturday led to some curious work in the manipulation of rates and tickets, or at least, it seemed curious to the uninitiated layman.

Immediately after the reduction had become effective there was a stir among the scalpers. Their agents were seen running hither and thither and presently they hung out hastily scrawled announcements, naming the following rates:

To Chicago, $12.50; St. Louis, $11; Kansas City, $9.50.

Agents of the scalpers watched what was going on in other scalping offices and presently a cut was made in scalpers' tickets. These rates read: To Chicago, $9; Kansas City, $9; St. Louis, $7.90. Soon there appeared other announcements as follows: To Kansas City, $5.50; Chicago, $7.50; St. Louis, $6.50. A deal of noise followed these cuts in the scalpers' offices. People on the street did not understand the matter. At first many were deceived into believing that the scalpers were actually giving tickets away.

As the morning progressed, the scalpers hung out signs reading: "To Chicago, $2.50; St. Louis, $1; Kansas City, 50c." Then the absurdity of the situation began to dawn upon the minds of the unsophisticated. The play was kept up and one broker announced that he would sell a ticket to Chicago for 30 cents, and that as a favor, he would present each customer with a box of cigars. Another broker declared that he would sell a similar ticket for 10 cents and present each customer with a box of free lunch. Strangers in the city and curious ones made inquiry and were blandly informed that upon payment of $25.30, they could secure a ticket to Chicago with an order on the scalpers' correspondent at Chicago for a rebate of $25. In addition he would be given a box of excellent cigars to smoke while en route. The scalpers explained that they were using the cheap rates announced by the legitimate agents of railroads entering Houston as a basis for one way fares. They were selling one way tickets only. They did not do a very heavy business, however, though some roads did.

ONE ROAD'S INCOME

Texas and Pacific Issues Statement of Gross Earnings

Austin, Tex., Aug. 19.—The Texas and Pacific's monthly report to the Texas Railroad commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, shows that the total gross receipts for the entire line in Texas and Louisiana were $11,449,855, made up as follows: Freight $8,017,706.89, passenger $2,604,562.75, mails $271,130.81, express $220,756.66, other items $326,688.

The total operating expenses for the same period were $8,221,078.66, made up as follows: Maintenance of way and structures $1,872,872.12, maintenance of equipment $1,504,578.41, conducting transportation $4,597,540.30, general expenses $346,087.23.

The income from operation was $3,219,776.93. The net earnings are not given in the monthly reports to the Railroad Commission, but may be obtained by deducting from the amount of income from operating the amount of interest paid on bonds and taxes and a few other smaller items which are not reported to the Railroad commission in the monthly statements.

Notes and Personal Mention

Ivan Lee, city passenger agent of the Houston and Texas Central at Dallas, was calling upon the fraternity here yesterday.

Ely Ensign, traveling passenger agent of the Houston and Texas Central, was here yesterday, returning to his headquarters at Houston last night.

W. F. Sterley of the Fort Worth and Denver, left last night for Austin where he will attend a commission meeting to be held today to discuss rates.

The multitudinous suggestions received by the Rock Island management as a suitable name for their new Chicago-California through train is "C. R. I. S. P."—the initials of the Rock Island and the Southern Pacific.

PLENTY FOR LYING

A Negro Thief Now Knows the Value of Truth

A negro named Emmerson was taken before Harris yesterday morning charged with the theft of some tobacco from a local wholesale house. Emmerson, accompanied by his wife, went before the judge who asked him if he were guilty.

"No, sah, judge, yer honor, I se not guilty, but I pleads guilty and hopes you'll make it light on me."

"I can't take your plea then, you must go to jail and fight your case. I do not want an innocent man to plead guilty in my court."

Emmerson then twisted his old hat in his hands, shifted from one foot to the other, had a few words in conference with his wife and finally blurted out:

"I pleads guilty judge, yer honor, cause I is guilty and I wants to go on an' begin servin' my time."

"I will make it $15 and 15 days in jail. I add $5 and 10 days because you lied to me," remarked Judge Harris.

"Remand the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff."

Emmerson waddled away, his surprise and chagrin demonstrating to the casual observer that he realized it was not profitable to lie when the truth suited best.

TO DIVIDE THE ARIONS

Professor M. H. Bauer Selected to Lead This Popular Organization

The Arions are active in preparation for fall and winter entertainments, and it is semi-officially announced that the first date for an evening with the Arions will be during the latter part of October or early in November. It is also announced that Prof. M. H. Bauer will be the Arions' director to succeed John Douglas Walker, and at the next business meeting Professor Bauer will be duly installed to direct the organization to further successes. The Arions is the leading musical organization in the city, and their entertainment last winter and spring are pleasantly remembered. The new leader has been a resident of Fort Worth but little over a year, coming here from Galveston. He is a graduate of the Leipzig Royal conservatory and also spent nine years in the study of music in Europe at Vienna, Leipzig, Weimar.

THE FENCIBLES ELECT OFFICERS

B. C. Carter Is Chosen Captain to Succeed C. O. Elliott Who Was Recently Promoted Major

First Lieutenant B. C. Carter of the Fencibles was elected captain last night at a meeting held in the armory to choose an officer in place of C. O. Elliott, recently promoted major of the Fourth regiment. Second Lieutenant Harry Hendricks was elected first lieutenant and O. E. Paxton, formerly first sergeant, was elected second lieutenant. Captain Carter is anxious for recruits, the requisites being that all must be of good character and answer to the essential regulation requirements. The company has not yet received its new rifles. The regulation uniform of the government which will be changed to dark green, will be used as a dress uniform.

A DOCTOR IN TROUBLE

Acquired the Drug Habit in Trying to Relieve Himself of Pain.

Dr. H. L. Sullivan, a prominent physician of Ruth, N. C., was cured of the morphine habit by the British Medical Institute after he had made many attempts with other cures and failed.

Dr. Sullivan, in a letter to the Institute, writes as follows: "It is now over a year since you cured me of the morphine habit, and since that time I have never taken a dose nor had the slightest desire for the drug. For five years I have been using morphine in large quantities and had made more than a dozen attempts to be cured and had always failed. Your treatment is without a doubt the best and easiest treatment ever discovered, and I am satisfied that you can cure the worst cases with ease."

Dr. Sullivan has given permission to use his name and will verify the above statement.

The British Doctors also treat all forms of chronic diseases, including male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, cancer, gonorrhea, all blood and skin diseases and all diseases of the rectum with new and up-to-date methods.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne Co., Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s.

SCIENTIFIC KITE FLYING

A. Carroll's Chicago Airship Being Experimented With

A unique kite was flown from the roof garden yesterday by V. Jossenberger and H. M. Smith who constructed it. It is a box kite with fins and is 6 feet high by 6 ft 5 inches wide. The type is known as Carroll's Chicago airship. One peculiarity of it is that it sails at an angle of 30 to 45 degrees to the wind. Being built of red, white and blue cloth it makes a very pretty sky decoration.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Bally, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites, and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle at H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s.

IF YOU ARE CONSCIOUS OF FAILING STRENGTH AND ENERGY THIS MONTH, MAKE USE OF

Paine's Celery Compound

No Other Medicine Can Guarantee Such Happy Results.

Men and women, young and old, of every rank in life, freely admit that they are more conscious of overtaken nervous strength in the hot weather than at any other season.

When such a condition is experienced, Paine's Celery Compound affords advantages and results that no other remedy can offer with honesty. It vigorously cleanses the blood and regulates the tardy circulation. It strengthens and encourages the kidneys and enables them to filter from the blood all waste and morbid matters; it secures strong, firm nerves, gives sweet and natural sleep to the nerve-tired and brain-weary. In a word, Paine's Celery Compound is a true summer life giver and health builder. Mr. E. M. Stephenson, of the American Baptist Publication Society, 177 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., says:

"I used Paine's Celery Compound for an acute attack of nervous prostration at a time when I had a large number of engagements ahead. I took it according to directions, and kept on till two bottles had been used. All trembling, throbbing, and vertigo disappeared the first week. I kept on with my engagements after that week and gained all the time. From the start my appetite improved, and I assimilated my food and increased in weight. The Compound strengthened my voice also, preventing weariness in speaking and singing. A very noticeable effect was the strengthening of the eyes, making it easy to read on the trains."

NEW INDUSTRIES FOR TEXAS

Many Factories and Plants Will Be Built

The Tradesman of Chattanooga, Tenn., gives some of the most important industries in Texas announced during the week ending August 16. Strange to state, a new oil company has been organized at Beaumont. At Cooper a telephone company capitalized at $25,000 is announced. Hallettsville is to have a $10,000 lumber company and Cross Roads a $100,000 cotton gin. An oil company has been organized at Lampasas and an ice factory will be built at Marlin. A $200,000 rice company has been organized at Eagle Lake and a $400,000 oil company at Pecos. Italy will have a $6000 cotton gin. New Boston announces a $20,000 brick works. New Matagorda comes to the front with an oyster capitalization at $20,000.

DALLAS REPUBLICANS EXPECT LIVELY TIME

Indicated by Them a Bolt Will Occur in the State Convention Here Next Month—Dallas for Lyon

A story comes from Dallas that the break in the ranks of the Texas Republicans is widening daily.

Friends of former Chairman E. H. R. Green continue to push his name to the front, but it is semi-authoritatively stated that Mr. Green will not formally enter the contest unless he concludes he can win. In the meantime the Lyon and Terrell factions have drawn their lines taut and are preparing for vicious fighting. The Lyon men have control of the organization in Dallas county and will, in all probability, control the convention on Aug. 26.

Well informed Dallas Republicans who are perfectly frank say there will be a bolt at the State convention to be held in Fort Worth on Sept. 9. They anticipate one of the liveliest gatherings the party has ever held in Texas.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by N. E. Grammer, Druggist.

A TRIP FULL OF DELIGHT

MONTH SPENT BY FORT WORTH AND WEATHERFORD PEOPLE IN RECREATION AND PLEASURE

Personnel of Congenial Party Just Returned from Jaunt to the Pacific Coast—Down the Columbia—Wonders of Yellowstone Park

Several prominent Fort Worth people returned yesterday from a month's pleasure trip that was not only delightful but profitable as well. The party traveled as the Pullman car guests of Mr. W. H. Eddleman of Weatherford, and the personnel was as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eddleman, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kuteman, Miss Mary Kuteman, Miss Josephine Blair, Miss Willie Foster, Miss Frankie Lysaght, Miss Maggie Russell, Mr. E. Lysaght, all of Weatherford; Mr. W. J. Eddleman, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Newby, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Turner, Mrs. Emma C. Fakes, Miss Fakes, Miss Grace Fakes of Fort Worth.

The itinerary included visits at Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake, the Dalles of the Columbia, down the Columbia by boat to Portland, then to Seattle, to Gardner, Mont., and a trip to the Yellowstone park, then to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Chicago and home again.

The entire trip is described as one of unalloyed pleasure throughout unmarred by any untoward event. While there were interesting features constantly recurring the trip down the Columbia and the visit to Yellowstone park are mentioned as being among the most striking events, the former for its unique experiences.

The party spent five days and a half in the Yellowstone park, viewing its wonderful scenes, fishing and camping out. No hunting is allowed and all firearms are sealed up by the officers before visitors are allowed to enter, while soldiers are constantly patrolling the park to see that the rules for the park's protection are not infringed upon. Care must be exercised also in extinguishing all camp fires before leaving them. The air is delightfully cool, the average altitude being 7,500 feet, and much of it is 8,300 feet above the sea.

The visitors this summer have been more numerous than usual, and at one of the camps where this party stopped one night there were 127 people gathered. The hot springs and streams, the geysers and wonderful volcanic formations were the source of constant delight and interest. Fish can be caught from one side of a stream and then thrown into boiling hot water upon the other side where it is speedily cooked. The game animals are very tame and can be met with constantly. Never being hunted they have but little fear of man. Almost every night bears come nosing around the camp of the party, giving them a novel experience, to say the least. Deer and antelope were passed frequently, quietly feeding and other animals paid little attention to them.

The party was composed of old friends who in every way formed congenial companionships, so that all the conditions were present for a most enjoyable outing in every respect.

LOOK PLEASANT, PLEASE.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Ender's Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. MASON AND DIXON'S LINE

Resurvey of the Historic Boundary Authorized by Maryland

From the Memphis Commercial Appeal: The Pennsylvania Historical society is soon to be enriched by a relic of much interest—an old Mason and Dixon line stone, that was used in marking the state line between Maryland and Pennsylvania. The stone has just been recovered from the basement of an establishment in Baltimore, where it has been concealed for the past thirty years, and is at present in the yards of a marble company in that city, whose secretary, E. C. Wilson, tells the story as follows in the Philadelphia Press:

"Some years ago the American Historical society secured a stone from the vicinity of New Freedom. A duplicate was made by our concern and sent to New Freedom. "The Pennsylvania Historical society, hearing of the Marylanders retaining possession of one of the markers, made application to Captain W. C. Hodgkins of the United States coast and geodetic survey for one of the stones. He acceded to its request, and a duplicate of the marker was being made and was to be sent to Reed, Pa., while the stone at that point was to go to the Pennsylvania Historical society.

"In conversation with a number of residents of Washington county, Capt. Hodgkins learned that some thirty years ago a farmer in that county had found that one of the line stones interfered with his plowing, so he took up the stone, but becoming frightened at his action, shipped it to a leather concern on Lombard street, in which he was interested, and had it concealed. Here it remained until inquired upon the part of the captain resulted in a search of the cellar and the subsequent finding of the stone. Capt. Hodgkins has notified us to ship the stone to the Pennsylvania society and the duplicate to him, which will be put back in its original position, near Clear Springs.

The Mason and Dixon line runs from the Delaware boundary of Pennsylvania to the corner where Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania join. It is about 200 miles in length, and was run between the years 1762 and 1768 by two English engineers, Mason and Dixon. When the line was originally laid stone monuments bearing the arms of Maryland and Pennsylvania were placed at intervals of five miles as far as the Blue Ridge mountains. Beyond this the line was marked simply by heaps of stones. Pennsylvania's share of expense in running the line originally was about $171,000.

The resurvey of the line has been authorized by the general assembly and the act provided for the co-operation of the state of Pennsylvania, which will share half the expense. The resurvey has in view the repair and relocation of such of the old monuments as may be found, and the placing of new monuments where none at present exist.

When sufficiently large portions of the original stone are found they will be reset in a solid cement base.

A Cure for Cholera Infantum.

"Look Ma," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by N. E. Grammer, druggist.
