SERIOUS CHARGES MADE AGAINST GOV. BRADY OF ALASKA

PROGRESS RETARDED

FLETCHER OF SEATTLE SAYS FORMER WAS AGENT IN DELAYING SELF GOVERNMENT

EXPOSES GOBBLING SCHEME

Washington Man Says the Government's Police Permits Land Grabbing and is in Interest of a Few Favored Ones

St. Paul, Aug. 20.—Serious charges have been made in the Transmississippi congress by Donald Fletcher of Seattle, who asserted that the governor was the exponent of a policy of oppression and repression and was the active agent of the great commercial companies in delaying self-government while they gobbled up the best of a magnificent country.

He took issue with Governor Brady's recommendations in his last report to congress for the full extension of the land laws to Alaska, asserting that the recommendation had an ulterior purpose and was in the interest of the political element dominating the progress of the territory. Their application he charged, would be interminably delayed by quibbling and filibustering in congress.

"Then would follow years of waiting and waiting," continued the speaker, "while his bosses would go on gobbling up the best of that magnificent country worth many times the entire national debt. And that is part of the game."

He also asserted that Governor Brady had been consistently an enemy of the territorial government for selfish aims.

As soon as his address was completed, F. B. Thurber of New York, presented resolutions demanding an investigation of the charges. He took exception to Mr. Fletcher's strictures upon Governor Brady declaring that he knew the latter well and that he did not believe for a moment that his actions were dominated or dictated by any selfish motive.

Mr. Thurber created a stir while delivering a comprehensive address upon the cattle industry, by asserting that after three months investigation he has been unable to substantiate the charges that there is a "beef trust." His opinion was that the large increase in cost of all meats is due to natural causes, but prices having been advanced by the failure of last year's corn crop and the consequent increase of cost in fattening cattle.

After speaking exhaustively of the process by which beef cattle reach the butcher shops, Mr. Thurber asserted that there was no meat combine.

A number of the delegates took issue with Mr. Thurber on this question and the discussion was quite animated for some time.

New York, Aug. 20.—Nineteen Chinamen, tagged with express company labels, have been hunting around the city, guarded by United States marshals, looking for the proper certificate that would permit them to remain in this country. Before going each was tagged with a numbered express card so they will be known when they appear before the commissioner.

STOCK OWNERS SECURE AN INJUNCTION IN THE COURTS

BASIS FOR THE CLAIM

COWMEN OPPOSING PAYMENT OF FEE FOR INDIAN TERRITORY GRAZING

CAUSE HEARD ON SEPT. 19

Petition Says the Secretary of the Interior Has no Right to Enforce the Laws of Chickasaw Nation Against Them.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Application has been filed in the supreme court of the District of Columbia for an injunction preventing Secretary Hitchcock and other interior department officials from compelling cattle owners to pay the fee of twenty-five cents imposed by the Chickasaw nation for each head of stock not belonging to a member of the tribe grazing on their lands, and restraining the officials from seizing the cattle now grazing on the Indian lands in violation of the act of the Chickasaw legislature.

Justice Claybaugh granted a temporary writ and ordered Secretary Hitchcock to appear Sept. 19, and show why a permanent injunction should not be issued. It is contended in the petition that Secretary Hitchcock is only a ministerial officer and that he has no authority to undertake the enforcement of a law of the Chickasaw nation.

The petitioners are William G. Maxwell and Phillip G. Witherspoon of Gaineville, Tex.; Isaac H. Harness, Thomas Percy, R. L. Glover and Milton F. Ikard of Chickasha; I. M. Keyes, of Kansas City and J. B. Spragins of Ardmore, I. T. STREETMAN WAS NOMINATED FOR JUDGE

(Special to the Telegram)

Waco, Tex., Aug. 20.—After futile attempts of Streetman's opposition to unite forces, Sam Streetman of Cameron was nominated for judge of the Third Supreme Judicial District at 11:35 o'clock this morning.

Streetman's opposition could not unite on any man and finally the motion was made to appoint a committee of two from each county to retire and select a nominee.

The Streetman forces stood firm and refused to go into this. A caucus of the forces was then held and S. B. Hawkins, of Coryell county, announced the six votes of that county for Streetman. This caused a stampede and Nelson withdrew Fisher of Williamson; Rector withdrew Morris of Travis; Eugene Williams did same for Surratt; and Furman retired voluntarily, making the nomination of Streetman unanimous. Much enthusiasm prevailed. This was the third day of the convention.

M. Hall of San Antonio is in the city on his return from a trip to Midland, where he is interested in ranch property.

Before the riot, which began at six o'clock and lasted till after ten, was quelled and the mutinous convicts captured, Bishop was fatally wounded, Mulligan was shot in the shoulder and a negro convict, Albert Ransom of Louisville, whom the desperadoes had pressed into service, was hit by a rifle ball.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, AUG. 20, 1902

A man is judged by the association he keeps. Why not?

With Houston street paved, the business district would be in good condition.

Schwab, the million-dollar-a-year manager for the steel trust, even finds a business life too strenuous.

While the good Lord is endeavoring to get the clouds in working order to send rain, the weather man is persistent in predicting "far weather."

W. T. Eldridge, the railroad manager who killed Captain Dunovant, near Houston a few days ago, and admitted to $50,000 bail, insists he is yet one of the "plain people."

In England the latest fad is a slot machine by dropping a nickel in which one can get a cup of tea. What a money maker the institution would be in the Indian Territory.

The very wise are oftentimes the very foolish. For instance, the city boys sneer at the greenness of the country boy, but send the city boy to the country and--well, the cows would eat him.

A horse was killed at 511 El Paso street yesterday afternoon by Officer Neuman with the consent of the owner. --San Antonio Light.

"The Consent of the owner" must be a deadly weapon.

Kansas complains of an epidemic of fleas, which thrive on insect powder, carbofic acid and like delicacies. It is said Kansas people are praying for an effective exterminator. Wonder if "high-life" would meet with favor?

The disgusting story of May Yohe and her shameless man has received entirely too much attention of late. Even the cables have been burdened with this rot. One especially pleasing feature of the cable reports, however, is the statement made that neither intends to return to this country.

It is to be hoped that the mayor will have occasion to mention the Jennings avenue viaduct in his Thanksgiving proclamation as among the things for which the people should be thankful.

Houston street paving, too, should find a place in such a message.

John W. Gates gave a Saratoga waiter a $500 tip a few days ago, and the aforesaid husher ordered a carriage and a bottle of wine all at the same time.

COUNTY OFFICIALS REPORT.

The Board of Commissioners Make An Official Examination.

Quarterly reports of the district and county clerk, sheriff, July report of the tax collector and quarterly reports of Justices Mullins and Terrell have been gone over by the commissioners' court and approved.

The county clerk's report shows fines imposed in the county court to have been $2,370; trial fees charged, $835; jury fees collected, $45; civil jury fees reported collected, $54.

The monthly report of the county tax collector shows collections amounting to $3,334.83.

The quarterly report of Sheriff Clark shows that he paid to the county treasurer $1,376.25.

Frank Mullins, justice of the peace of precinct 1, reported fines imposed for the quarter, $270, and J. L. Terrell, justice for the same precinct, reported $583. The district clerk's report for the quarter shows that $155 was collected in fines, judgments, etc.

HOT FIRE WELL HANDLED BY FIREMEN LAST NIGHT

Last night shortly before 10 o'clock an alarm from box 39 carried the fire companies covering that territory to a two-and-a-half story frame residence at 618 West Fifth street, owned and occupied by John Fagan, revising clerk in the office of the Denver road.

Mr. Fagan was away from the house at the time, but the members of the family were at home and were sitting on the front gallery. A lamp explosion in one of the rooms up stairs attracted their attention, following which flames spread throughout the four upstairs rooms, and before an alarm could be rung in even the house was doomed.

Mr. Fagan carried $2500 insurance on the house and none on the furniture. The house and contents were valued at about $5,000.

Counterfeit $5.00 Bills

The secret service has discovered that some one is raising $1 bills to $5 by a clever method of changing the figures, and unless they are closely examined will pass unnoticed. It has also been discovered that many unscrupulous dealers are refilling the bottles of the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and offering them to the public as the genuine.

FORMER CITY OFFICIAL SUED.

Frank D. Jones and Sureties in Litigation Over Alleged Default.

In the county court a suit has been filed against Frank D. Jones and his sureties. Jones was formerly city assessor and collector, and it is on default of certain taxes alleged to have been collected that the suit is brought. The petition alleges that in March, 1899, Jones collected from M. C. Hurley, trustee, taxes due on certain lots valued at $15,000, the taxes and penalties amounting to $229.50.

CASE 113 By... Emile Gaboriau

Synopsis of Case No. 113

The morning of February 28, a man introducing himself as Count Louis De Clameran, an iron maker of Oloron, enters the bank of M. Fauvel and announces that he has come to draw 300,000 francs ($70,000) deposited in the bank by his late brother.

CHAPTER VII. ROSPER BERTOMY had been languishing in his private cell for nine days when one Thursday morning the jailer came to inform him that his case had not been proved.

"I am innocent!" he cried out. "I am innocent!" Two strangers who were passing stopped to look at him. They took him for a lunatic.

"On entering Chaplat street he stood before his own door, but hesitated to enter it. He suffered from the timidity which an honest man always feels when he knows he is viewed with suspicion.

"Ah, you here, monsieur? I told every one you would come out as white as snow, and when I read in the papers that you were arrested for robbery, I said: 'My third floor lodger a thief? Never!'" left this morning at 8 o'clock, he told me that a friend of his would take charge of your rooms until you should return.

"And where are my servants?" "Gone, monsieur. Your father paid and discharged them."

"Prosper was astonished. What could be the meaning of one of his father's friends being in his rooms? He did not, however, betray his surprise.

"Yes, I know who he is," he said. He ran up the stairs and knocked at his door. It was opened by his father's friend. He had been accurately described by the porter.

"Delighted to make your acquaintance, monsieur," he said. He seemed to be perfectly at home. On the table lay a book which he had taken from the bookcase, and he appeared ready to do the honors of the house.

"I must confess, monsieur"--began Prosper. "That you are surprised to find me here? So I suppose. Your father intended introducing me to you, but he was compelled to return this morning to Beaucaire, and I must add that he departed thoroughly convinced, as I myself am, that you never took a cent from M. Fauvel."

"At this unexpected good news Prosper could not restrain an exclamation of joy.

"Here is a letter from your father which I was charged to give you. I hope it will serve as an introduction between us."

"Prosper took the letter, opened it, and as he read his eyes grew brighter and the color returned to his pale cheeks.

"Exactly. This morning your father said to me: 'Verduret--that is my name--Verduret--my son is in great trouble. He must be helped out.' I replied, 'I am ready,' and here I am. Now the ice is broken, is it not? Then let us go to work. What do you intend to do?"

"This question revived Prosper's slumbering rage. His eyes flashed.

"What do I intend to do?" he said angrily. "I wish to seek the villain who has ruined me!"

"None. Yet I shall succeed, because when a man devotes his whole life to an object he is certain to achieve it."

"Well said, M. Prosper, and to be frank, I fully expected that this would be your purpose. I have therefore already begun to think and act for you. I have a plan. In the first place, you will sell this furniture, quit this house and disappear."

"Disappear?" cried Prosper indignantly. "Disappear! Why, monsieur? Do you not see that such a step would be a confession of guilt--would authorize the world to say that I am hiding so as to enjoy undisturbed the stolen fortune?"

"Well, what then?" said the man with the red whiskers coldly. "Did you not say just now that the sacrifice of your life is made? The skillful swimmer thrown into the river by malefactors is careful not to rise to the surface immediately. On the contrary, he dives and remains below as long as his breath holds out.

"He submitted to the ascendency of a nature more energetic than his own. In his helpless condition he was grateful to find a friend.

"I will follow your advice, monsieur," he said.

"I was sure you would. Let us decide upon the course you shall pursue. And remember that the proceeds of the sale will be needed. Have you any ready money? No, but you must have some. Knowing that you would need it at once, I brought here a furniture dealer, and he will give 12,000 francs for everything except the pictures."

"The cashier could not refrain from shrugging his shoulders, which M. Verduret observed.

"Yes," said he, "it is hard, I will admit, but it is necessary. Listen. You are the invalid, and I am the doctor charged to cure you. If I cut to the quick, you will have to endure it. It is the only way to save you."

"Cut away, then, monsieur," answered Prosper, submitting.

"Now tell me, who is this fellow?" "The term 'fellow' seemed to wound Prosper.

"M. de Lagors, monsieur," he said,

The rains prior to the down-pour of three or four weeks ago caused an accumulation of soil and sand in the gutters of many outlying streets, and in this soil and sand Bermuda grass grew in rank abundance. During the last rain the water was forced out into the streets and this accumulation and there now exists gulleys and wash-outs that are disastrous to vehicles, and detracts from the appearance of the

It is held in the palm of the hand with the short muzzle extending between the fingers. It is .32-caliber and carries seven cartridges, and is self-acting. It is a curiosity that has attracted considerable attention from passers-by.

Local members and representatives of the State Guard are much interested in the selection of an adjutant-general of the Texas division. They say that there is a strong preference for the reappointment of the present incumbent, Thomas Scurry, and an effort will be made to present the matter before S. W. T. Lanham when he is installed in office as governor in a manner most favorable to Scurry.

After a short visit with their relative, Morgan H. Jones in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Dickey have gone for Colorado Springs for a brief visit. Mr. Dickey is a member of the staff of the Columbus, Ohio, Citizen. He will return to Columbus in time to take an active part in the fall campaign in his city, county and State. Referring to the latter feature Mr. Dickey says already politics present a warm front. Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland, who is liberally caricatured as Mayor Tom, is in the field for the United States Senate against Editor McLean of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and there is an interesting fight on. Mayor Tom is quite popular with the masses, especially in Cleveland, on account of his efforts to reduce the street car fare in Cleveland to 3 cents.

JOHN M. MOORE PASSED AWAY LAST NIGHT

Another Internal Hemorrhage Occurred that Could Not be Stopped—Mrs. Moore Speeding Homeward From California—No Funeral Arrangements Yet.

John M. Moore died last night at 10:25 o'clock. The internal hemorrhages, which had been the cause of his illness, recurred and could not be stopped until he passed away. None had occurred since about noon on Monday and yesterday he seemed to be improving very rapidly, so that hopes were entertained for a speedy recovery. At 6 o'clock, however, the nurse observed a decided change for the worse and summoned the attending physician. All means were tried to stop the flow of blood, without avail, and it was soon announced that he could not live until midnight.

Mrs. Moore is speeding her way homeward from California. A telegram was received from her last night sent from Redlands Cal., saying she was on her way back. It was not dated, however, so there is some doubt as to the time it was sent. It is believed she cannot arrive until some time Friday. No arrangements have been made yet for the funeral, and instructions are awaited from Mrs. Moore. It is the opinion of the friends that the remains will be taken to Indianapolis, where relatives of the deceased are living and where one of his sisters is buried.

John M. Moore was 41 years of age, and was born at Indianapolis, Ind., where one brother still resides. He has a sister also living at Brazil, Ind. He came to Fort Worth 12 years ago, and conducted the, Stock Exchange hotel and saloon on the North Side, later moving into the city and taking charge of the Spring Palace hotel at Eleventh and Main streets, now known as the Oriental. About five years ago he took charge of the Metropolitan hotel and bar at Ninth and Main, which he controlled until the time of his death. At one time he served one term in the city council as alderman from the Third ward.

Mr. Moore made many friends among his associates and sincere expressions of regret have been uttered on all sides upon the news of his serious illness and since his demise.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne Co., Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness, 25c at H. T. Pangburn & Co.'s.

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. Contagious Blood Poison

Is the name sometimes given to what is generally known as the BAD DISEASE. It is not confined to dens of vice or the lower classes. The purest and best people are sometimes infected with this awful malady through handling the clothing, drinking from the same vessels, using the same toilet articles, or otherwise coming in contact with persons who have contracted it.

It begins usually with a little blister or sore, then swelling in the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, sores and ulcers appear in the mouth, the throat becomes ulcerated, the hair, eye brows and lashes fall out; the blood becoming more contaminated, copper colored spots and pustular eruptions and sores appear upon different parts of the body, and the poison even destroys the bones. Ten years ago I contracted a bad case of Blood Poison. I was under treatment of a physician until I found that he could do me no good. Then began taking S. S. S. I commenced to improve at once and in a very short time all evidence of the disease disappeared. I took six bottles and today am sound and well. R. M. Wall, Morristown, Tenn.

S. S. S. is a Specific for this loathsome disease, and cures it even in the worst forms. It is a perfect antidote for the powerful virus that pollutes the blood and penetrates to all parts of the system. Unless you get this poison out of your blood it will ruin you, and bring disgrace and disease upon your children, for it can be transmitted from parent to child. S. S. S. contains no mercury or potash, but is guaranteed a strictly vegetable compound. Write for our free home treatment book and learn all about Contagious Blood Poison. If you want medical advice give us a history of your case, and our physicians will furnish all the information you wish without any charge whatever. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Notice to Taxpayers. The City Assessor's books are now ready and the Board of Equalization will convene on Monday, June 23d, in the City Assessor's office in the City Hall and continue in session every day thereafter, excepting Sunday, from 10 to 12 o'clock in the forenoon and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. All owners of real estate are requested to bring descriptions of their property with them when coming to inquire values. It is very important that all owners of real estate should appear before the Board of Equalization as a great many changes in values have been made since last year. Many improvements have been made since Jan. 1st, last, that may possibly appear on the tax rolls for this year and all mistakes of this or any other character will be corrected by the Board of Equalization on application of the owners. Be sure and bring descriptions of your real estate with you. G. H. DAY, City Tax Assessor and Collector. One Bottle of Burnett's Vanilla Extract is better than three of the doubtful kind. Assistant Chief Allen and Claim Agent Rowan Tucker this afternoon recovered nearly $400 worth of stolen railroad brass, belonging to the Texas and Pacific, Frisco, Santa Fe, Katy, Denver and Central railroads. The stuff had been stolen and hidden away under a cane stock on the North side.

There were 2435 pounds valued at an average of 15 cent per pound, making a total valuation of $366.25. The officers have a lead on the thieves, and an equally as great a haul will likely be made now at any time on brass thieves.

KILLED THE CONDUCTOR

Negroes Shoot Him to Death on His Train in North Carolina. Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 20.—Roadmaster Fred Stevers of Stevers, Va., was shot and killed and Jim Mitchell, a negro porter, was dangerously wounded in a fight with disorderly negroes on a southbound Seaboard Air Line train near Middleburg.

When in the "Jim Crow" coach one of the negroes, named Joe Cole, struck at the conductor. Roadmaster Stevens came to the conductor's rescue. The negro pulled a pistol and Stevens clasped him around the body, but the negro twisted his arm around and getting his pistol against Stevers' head shot him, Stevers falling dead on the coach floor.

Passengers captured one of the participants and two jumped from the train, escaping to the woods. Blood-hounds are being used to chase them down. Requests for the use of the militia have been made, as there are rumors that a lynching may be attempted.

"Waken, Lords and Ladies Gay, On the Mountain Dawns the Day."

—Scott.

The sleeping-car that leaves Fort Worth on our night train is ready to receive passengers at NINE o'clock, each evening, and this car is set out at Colorado Springs for guests to vacate at their leisure. The place where the car waits is only about six miles from the mountains, and a beautiful sight greets the wakers from that long, refreshing Colorado sleep—under blankets.

This night train also has a sleeper that goes into Denver, reaching there at a comfortable rising time.

Both of our daily THRU TRAINS have those sleepers with "Large, Ladies' Dressing rooms," also meals served in our own Cafe Dining cars—a la carte service, 25c and up per individual. These special features of distinguishing excellence are among the characteristics that have, now for some time, made appropriate the "Only-One-Road" — and "You-Don't-Have-to-Apologize" verdict of persons who are capable of appreciating good service and making distinctions.
