WU TING FANG HAS NO PANG

KIND WORDS AT GOING BUT NO GREAT REGRET

HIS FAREWELL ADDRESS

Before Embarking at San Francisco He Thanks America and Talks of China's Future—Says His Country Is Progressing, But on Account of Its Size, not Rapidly

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Former Chinese Minister Wu Ting Fang has made public the following farewell to the American people:

"People — It is nearly six years since I came here, and during my residence in America I have found it very pleasant. On the whole, I have been received in a very kind and courteous way by the American people, the highest officials and all.

"Before leaving this hospitable shore I want to express my grateful appreciation of the uniform kindness and courtesy shown to me by all classes of people I have come in contact with. I shall carry with me very pleasant remembrances of my stay. I am glad to notice that the friendly relations between this country and mine have been always cordial and within the last days closer than before, and I hope this state of things will long continue.

"As to the future of China politically and commercially, I will say: I have been away from my own country nearly six years, and although people think that it is not progressing but is standing still, when I go back I will see many things that are new to me. China is progressing, it being such a large country, with such a large population and with people educated to and brought up in such a conservative way, you cannot, although the idea of reform is taking root, expect it to make a sudden and radical change as you might think possible in a smaller country; but, nevertheless, China has made reasonable reforms in many ways within the last few years. Her commerce will be developed and will be increased with that of this country. This Pacific coast, in particular, would reap a large harvest by having a larger trade with China.

WRECK ON SOUTHERN KILLS AND INJURES

STOCKMEN MAY KILL MERGER

NATIONAL CONVENTION TAKES UP THE FIGHT.

RESIST PACKING COMBINE

Those Reputed to Be on the Inside Say That the Attitude of the Men That Raise the Stock Has More Influence Against the Merger Than Government Suits.

(Special to The Telegram.)

Kansas City, Nov. 24.—That the National Live Stock convention which meets here in January is not only in earnest in its tremendous fight on the proposed packers' merger, but that it is a thorn in the side of that great octopus has been more than proved in the last few days. Since the open assertion made in its letter of invitation that the stockmen's convention would "go after" the combine, and the reply to it by the packers' attorney, Attorney Alex New, at the Commercial club meeting last week, lines have happened to show that bad blood is brewing between the raisers and the slaughterers of the meat supply of the world.

Swift's Stock Slumps.

Not only this, but the battle's early start must be having an unexpected effect on the proposed merger, for the stock of Swift & Co., one of the principals in the move, has slumped badly in the market lately, and without Swift there can be no merger. It was stated yesterday that it had gone off more than 50 points since the first of the week.

This would indicate that there was a hitch in proceedings. Those on the inside say that the one greatest obstacle to be overcome in the formation of the trust is Swift & Co. The financial condition of this concern is so different from that of the others that an equitable basis of adjustment has not wholly been arrived at, and there seems little likelihood of a satisfactory adjustment.

Secretary Martin of the convention, says: "It is the policy of the National Live Stock association to encourage the fullest discussion of all mooted questions affecting the interests represented by that organization. The topic of the utmost importance to stockmen right now is the packing house merger, and while members of the association are firmly opposed to the movement, they have acted fairly by inviting representatives of the concerns supposed to be embraced in the proposed merger to attend the convention in January and show wherein the stockman can expect any benefit from having all packing houses placed under one management. So far the parties asked to address the convention have disclaimed all knowledge of any merger being intended and the invitation has been declined with thanks.

"We know to a certainty," continued he, "that every arrangement has been made looking to the merger. The only thing the packers are waiting for is the restraining order issued by the United States courts to be dissolved, as they hope it will be. If they want ahead now and perfected their organization, they would be in contempt of court. It has been argued for the merger that its effect would be to cut down expenses of operation and management and make meat prices lower to the consumer. This is hardly possible. The merger proposed represents an investment of $100,000,000, in round numbers, and it is proposed to capitalize at $500,000,000. It will require close figuring to pay dividends on $400,000,000 of water, even at the margins the packers now allow themselves, and it is not probable there will be sufficient saving effected by the consolidation to materially benefit the beef-buying public. The original difficulty in getting the concerns proposed to be merged together was that a certain large packing concern that is bonded for $30,000,000 and has a floating debt of 43,000,000 wanted to come in on the same basis as the Armour interests.

NEW YORK ACCOUNT FOR DELAY

Capital Needed for Consolidation Is Slow in Coming.

New York, Nov. 24.—Chicago's pack-

PARKER-LOWE HAS IT FOR LESS.

ing house combination is in a bad way. This is a fact, not a rumor. To quote an authority, it is "sick." This means a great deal.

Insiders in the deal have raised approximately $20,000,000 with which plants have been purchased in order to be merged. While the money borrowed has been invested in substantial properties, there is no doubt high prices have been necessarily paid. Therefore, although these big loans are represented by sound assets, it is reasonable to assume such an indebtedness would not have been incurred except for the purpose of reselling and distributing the cost in the form of securities to be disposed of to the public.

In view of the immense sums thus far expended in the acquisition of plants, the necessity for $20,000,000 of underwriting capital becomes more apparent. It is easy enough also to see that such an amount as that cannot be raised for a considerable period. The insiders will be obliged to carry their obligations and hope for the best. Sickness and death are not synonymous terms in a financial any more than a medical sense, but they are equally suggestive of chance.

ALL RELIGIONS LOOK ALIKE TO THE SULTAN

(By Associated Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 24.—Heads of the non-Mussulman communities have attended the Sultan's birthday levee and made congratulatory speeches to his majesty. The latter in replying is quoted as having said: "I make no distinction between my Mohammedan and my Christian subjects. They are all alike to me and all stand on the same level in my estimation."

The correspondent says that as this was the first time the Sultan thus expressed himself in public, his declaration has attracted considerable attention.

SALOON QUESTION AT VERNON

THE OIL STRIKE IN GALVESTON COUNTY

LEAGUE CITY, Tex., Nov. 24.—Considerable interest is manifested here today over the reported oil strike on the Camp rice farm, four miles west of League City, in Galveston county. They commenced to bore at this point some two weeks ago, claiming that they were making a water test. They secured expert men from Beaumont and work has been moving on quietly.

A few days ago it was reported that they had found some oil at a depth of about 200 feet, but the report could not be verified. Yesterday R. W. Camp, proprietor of the rice farm, visited here and spent the day at the well and has come out with a positive statement that they have found oil of a superior quality at a depth of 244 feet. He has purchased considerable more land adjacent to his 1,000-acre rice farm and now claims that he will go extensively into the oil business.

ANARCHIST MEETINGS NEAR POLICE STATION

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—As the outcome of the arrest of two Italians fighting fiercely in the street, the police of the Oak street station in this city believe they have discovered an anarchist meeting place within a stone's throw of the station. The prisoners gave their names as Dominic Santo and Tony Menz. Santo had a big revolver, with which he was trying to shoot Menz. The latter carried a dangerous looking knife. When searched, fifteen cartridges were found in Santos' pockets. Besides, there was an unopened letter from Cannatelli, Italy.

WILL MEET TO NAME DIRECTORS

IMPORTANT SESSION OF FORT WORTH BOARD OF TRADE

RAIN HINDERS THE CANVASS

Total Membership, However, Has Been Increased More Than 200 in Excess of List Recorded at Regular Meeting Two Weeks Ago Tomorrow Evening

The postponed session of the Fort Worth Board of Trade for the purpose of electing seven new directors to succeed those whose terms have expired and those resigning, will be held tomorrow evening at the rooms of the board in the Hoxie building.

The following invitation was mailed today to old and new members of the board by Secretary B. B. Paddock, Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 24, 1902.

Dear Sir:—The adjourned annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock, at which time directors for the ensuing year will be elected.

The old members will entertain those who have recently joined the organization and there will be light refreshments (S. P. C.) and good cigars served.

Please favor us with your presence. B. B. PADDOCK, Secretary.

New Members

It took almost five dollars worth of stamps more than were required to send off similar notices to members of the board two weeks ago, to get over the list this morning.

That is one way in which the growth of the board during the past two weeks can be measured. Two weeks ago last Tuesday evening at the regular annual meeting there were less than fifty members who had signed to pay monthly dues for the coming year. Since then the work of the committees has resulted in a present membership of 259. By tomorrow evening 275 are expected to be enrolled. Work of soliciting new members has been delayed by the weather during the past few days, though even in the rain some of the members of the committees have worked faithfully. Following are four names recently added: E. C. Hoadley, W. E. Sunnes, T. A. Coughlin and E. J. Overall.

The Board's Expenses

For the benefit of those who have a vague or an erroneous idea as to how the monthly contributions to the Board of Trade are expended, it may be mentioned that during the past three years the board has spent for entertainment of visitors coming to the city and public affairs, the munificent sum of $17. In every case where an entertainment was to be provided, the members of the Board of Trade in addition to paying their regular monthly dues, contributed out of their own pockets to the affair. At the recent entertainment of the Chicago visitors, members of the board contributed $4 each for the breakfast which was served at the Texas and Pacific dining room. After all expenses were paid there was a balance on hand of $14 which was promptly turned into the Board's treasury to offset the $17 spent.

The actual figures are at present an outlay of $3 for three years in entertaining foreign visitors. In time it is hoped this debt will be wiped out, that is if there are any dissatisfied with its expenditure.

The entire receipts of the board are spent for furthering the interests of the city and the individual members receive no more good from them than do the citizens who are not members. This is apparently not generally known, or else some choose to ignore it, and for this reason the facts in the case are given.

RAILROAD COMMISSION ISSUES EXPLANATION

Circular Letter Regarding Its Recent Ruling on Miller's Rates.

When the state railroad commission issued its last order regarding milling-in-transit rates on wheat and other grains, one of the state papers published the announcement with the accompanying statement that the decision was a sweeping reduction in favor of the Texas millers.

A local miller was interviewed on the subject at the time, and he admitted there might be a slight advantage to Texas millers, but it would not be material. The chief trouble with the flour rates and the Texas millers has been and is that Kansas millers can ship their flour to points in this state for less freight than Texas millers have to pay for shipping in wheat from Kansas, milling it and then shipping the flour to the same points. The relief sought after by Texas millers is a law or a ruling, compelling Kansas and other millers outside the state to pay enough additional freight on flour shipped to Texas to equal the sums paid out by Texas millers for importing the wheat and re-shipping the flour. This does not seem to have been yet accomplished.

The whole status of the Texas millers and the state railroad commission is one of the most involved puzzles in railroad history. As yet no local miller will admit that he understands the situation thoroughly, and one local freight official who has followed the matter carefully, and in fact has made a special study of the flour rates, threw up his hands in despair when confronted with the commission's latest ruling.

"Give me time," he pleaded, "and I may know something about it. The whole thing is complicated and all I can say about it is this much: The less talk about flour rates and the fewer changes, the better it will be."

Following is a circular letter issued by the commission in explanation of the ruling. Alliance Milling Company, Denton, Texas.

Gentlemen: Replying to your letter of the 21st instant, in which you ask us to quote through rates as provided for by our circular No. 1721, in the following milling-in-transit shipments, viz:

1. Wheat originating at Gainesville, milled at Denton and the flour destined to Rockwall. We have to advise that the new rules would not affect the rate on this shipment, which is the tariff flour rate of 16 cents under existing rules.

2. On shipment, the wheat from Fort Worth, milled at Denton and the flour destined to Clarksville, the through rate will be 17 1/2 cents per cask that rate is reached under regular rules and is the maximum rate under circular 1721.

3. On shipment, the wheat from Fort Worth, milled at Denton and the flour destined to eBaumont, the through rate will be 17 1/2 cents per 100 pounds, that being the new maximum rates and is less than existing rate.

4. On shipment, the wheat from Ponder, on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, milled at Denton and flour destined to Pecos, the through rate will be 25 1/2 cents and is made by adding the differential flour rate of 8 cents for the differential territory west of Abilene to the maximum common point rate of 17 1/2 cents.

Briefly stated, the rates provided for in our circular No. 1721 are maximum rates only; that is to say, old rates must be used until the figures named in circular No. 1721 are reached. It should also be understood that the rates named in circular No. 1721 will not apply on shipments, the wheat billing of date prior to that on which the circular becomes effective. (Signed) J. L. THE NOTORIOUS MINNIE STRAUSS

AGAIN IN THE MESHES OF THE LAW FOR DEVILTRY

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF $45

Inveigled Another White Man Into Her Trap and "Touched" Him, It is Charged — A Notorious Negro Who Gives the Officers and Courts No End of Trouble

The notorious Minnie Strauss, negro, is at it again — up to more deviltry. The ink is scarcely dry on a court docket before she is on the chute again ready to be dumped into the court house. She invariably enters the court house through the city prison—a sort of belt line circuit like unto a merry-go-round.

Minnie was only recently acquitted of the charge of murder. There is pending in the district court a strong case of theft from person. Thursday night she was arrested for an assault on a man, having carved another darkey.

Now comes Minnie Strauss again on another charge of theft from person. The complaining witness is a white man—in fact, both charges for theft from person are brought by white men. This last one is said to be an employee in a prominent hardware establishment and the amount lost is said to be $45.

Officer Coley was yesterday afternoon called to Minnie's room on East Eighth street, where it is claimed the money was lost. Officer Coley searched the house and Minnie but no money was found. She was locked up for further investigation.

How an intelligent, self-respecting white man will allow himself to be inveigled into this negro's web is past understanding. They do it, however, and many cases are never reported by her victims. She wears silks and satins, jewels galore, and always has a firm of attorneys at her command.

AT FIRST GLANCE

It Would Appear That Local Remedies Would be Best for Cure of Catarrh

It would seem at first glance that catarrh being a disease of the mucous membrane, that salves, sprays, etc., being applied directly to the membranes of the nose and throat, would be the most rational treatment but this has been proven not to be true.

The mucous membrane is made and repaired from the blood and catarrh is a blood disease and any remedy to make a permanent cure must act on the blood, and when the blood is purified from catarrhal poison, the secretions from the mucous membrane will become natural and healthy.

In this climate, thousands of people seem scarcely ever free from some form of catarrh; it gets better at times but each winter becomes gradually deeper seated and after a time the sufferer resigns himself to it as a necessary evil.

Catarrh cures are almost as numerous as catarrh sufferers, but are nearly all so inconvenient and ineffective as to render their use a nuisance nearly as annoying as catarrh itself; anyone who has used douches, sprays and powders will bear witness to their inconvenience and failure to really cure.

There are a number of excellent internal remedies for catarrh, but probably the best and certainly the safest is a new remedy, composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar antiseptic remedies and other valuable catarrh specifics.

This remedy is in tablet form, pleasant to the taste and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and anyone suffering from catarrh may use these tablets with absolute assurance that they contain no cocaine, opiate nor any poisonous mineral whatever.

A leading druggist in Albany speaking of catarrh cures says, "I have sold various catarrh cures for years, but have never sold any which gave such general satisfaction as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. They contain in a pleasant, concentrated form all the best and latest catarrh remedies, and catarrh sufferers, who have used douches, sprays and salves, have been astonished at the quick relief and permanent results obtained after a week's use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets." All druggists sell full sized packages for fifty cents.
