HEAVY RAINS HAVE DESTROYED LAST CHANCE OF FARMERS

TRAINS ARE STILL DELAYED

Running of Trains is Still Delayed—Roads in Dallas County Greatly Damaged Brazos River is Rising Rapidly at Waco

(Special to The Telegram.)

LONGVIEW, Texas, Nov. 25.—The unprecedented heavy rains which have fallen in this section for the last twenty-four hours have entirely ruined the prospects for a top crop of cotton and rendered the running of trains between Dallas and Longview almost impossible.

Last night the first passenger train came through since the heavy rains began Friday night and all trains from the West this evening were several hours late and are losing time on account of the bad condition of the roadbed caused by the rain.

DALLAS ROADS ARE DAMAGED

(Special to The Telegram.)

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 25.—Two thousand bridges and culverts and every mile of road in the county damaged, is the result of the recent rains in Dallas county.

BRAZOS RIVER RISING

(Special to The Telegram.)

WACO, Texas, Nov. 25.—It is almost clear and is much cooler today. Brazos river rose eighteen feet this morning, the first rise since rains began. The top crop of cotton is almost ruined.

SWAM TO THEIR DEATH

(Special to The Telegram.)

TERRELL, Texas, Nov. 25.—Two negroes attempted to swim Bushy Creek, west of here yesterday. One was drowned and the other barely escaped alive. Their names are unknown.

ALL IS QUIET AT HAVANA, CUBA

(By Associated Press.)

HAVANA, Nov. 25.—The street cars are running today without interruption. No further disturbances are reported. Veterans have taken steps to bring about the meeting between the strike leaders and President Palma. It takes place at noon today.

There are indications of a break in the strike. The mayor has issued a proclamation calling on the strikers to maintain order. The number of persons injured in yesterday's riot is one hundred and six. Two strikers and one fireman were killed today as the result of a collision between a fire engine and an electric car.

AN INCENSED NEGRO

Placed Where He Can Meditate in Quietude—Only a Little Mud

Will Edrington of the Traders' bank yesterday caused the arrest of a negro named Tom Moss, charged with using abusive language and acting threateningly toward Edrington's driver. Mr. Edrington was being driven home and it was raining. The storm curtains of the carriage were drawn. In passing a street corner where Moss stood some mud was splashed on Moss and he at once commenced a tirade of abuse towards the horse's driver, and made threatening demonstrations. Mr. Edrington replied, emphasizing his remarks in manner better imagined than printed, and ordered his driver to proceed at once to police headquarters for an officer. In response to Mr. Edrington's request Officer Newby went out and arrested the negro.

The report in the morning paper that the negro struck Mr. Edrington is erroneous.

Make the Suggestion that the Miners and Operators Get Together and Adjust Among Themselves Their Differences—Mitchell is in Washington Today to See Wayne McVeigh

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America arrived here this morning. He admitted that the object of his visit at this time is for the purpose of holding a conference with Wayne McVeigh, in furtherance of the suggestion of the anthracite coal strike commission that the parties to the controversy get together if possible and adjust differences among themselves. Clarence Darrow also arrived to participate in the conference. Mitchell said he did not expect to call on the president during his stay in the city.

Later Developments

The conference of President Mitchell and his counsel with Wayne McVeigh over the proposition for the adjustment of differences between miners and operators was concluded at one o'clock. Attorney Darrow announced that little was done this morning and that another conference was being held this afternoon. He said there were a number of differences which have to be adjusted. He expected an agreement would be reached this morning, but found further conference necessary.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OLD

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—It is just sixty-five years today since a baby boy destined to become world-famous as a philanthropist, first saw the light of day at the little town of Dunfermline, Scotland. The boy was Andrew Carnegie. His parents brought him to this country while he was still a mere child and at ten years of age he began his career in the blue uniform of a district messenger boy in Pittsburgh, a city which has since benefited incalculably through his benefactions. In most of his biographies the date of Mr. Carnegie's birth is given as 1835, which would make him sixty-seven years old today, but Mr. Carnegie himself is authority for the assertion that he is but sixty-five. As a matter of fact the lord of Skibo is as sensitive regarding his age as he is concerning the subject of death. Those most intimately acquainted with him aver that the mention of either subject in his presence is offensive to him. However true this may be, a number of his friends and business associates of this city made bold today to cable their congratulations on the occasion of his birthday. Mr. Carnegie is now in London recovering from a slight illness. Within a fortnight he is expected to return here and take up his residence for the winter in his magnificent new home at the corner of Fifth avenue and West Eighty-first street.

WEDS THE HERO WHO SAVED HER AT A FIRE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The presence of numerous army officers in full dress uniform gave a pretty setting today to the wedding of Miss Katherine Craig, daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Robert Craig, and Mr. Harold Williams, Jr., of Boston. The ceremony was performed at noon in the historic St. John's church, Lafayette Square. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Kendall of this city, and the bridesmaids the Misses Lillian and Elva King of Irvington, N. Y., Miss Sara Turner of New York city, Miss M. C. Williams, Miss Agnes Lincoln, and Miss Grace Dabney of Boston. Mr. George McCure Sargent of Boston acted as best man. Following the ceremony at the church there was a large and brilliant reception at the Craig residence.

Quite a romance attaches to today's wedding. At the time of the Windsor Hotel fire in New York city Miss Craig was visiting relatives in the hotel and was in the parlor entertaining Mr. Williams. The fire had penetrated to the very door of the drawing room before the young people discovered their danger. Mr. Williams, seeing no aid at hand, took Miss Craig in his arms and fought his way through the flames to a small veranda, where both were brought to the pavement by firemen. The engagement was announced about a year after the fire.

MRS. GORE DID NOT SUICIDE

POST-MORTEM EXAMINATION POINTS TO THIS.

MADE BY FOUR AMERICANS

The Autopsy Was at the Instigation of the State Department at Washington—The Gore Case Bids Fair to Be a Notable One in Annals of French Crimes.

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Independent post-mortem examination over the remains of Mrs. Ellen Gore, made by a commission of four American doctors appointed by Consul General Goddard at the instance of the state department at Washington, was made this morning at the morgue. It failed to establish the fact that Mrs. Gore did not commit suicide. Before the doctors separated they agreed to formulate a written report, which is not expected to be completed before tomorrow. Rydzenski is at liberty, but is under strict surveillance and if he attempts to leave the country will be liable to arrest as a fugitive.

LETTERS FROM MRS. GORE.

Wrote Friends Expressing Aversion for De Rydzenski.

(Special to The Telegram.)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Ellen Stoddard Gore, who met a tragic death in Paris, France, Wednesday evening, the details of which have aroused friends on both sides of the Atlantic, was formerly a resident of this city.

With her mother and brothers she resided in Broadway. Much of her childhood was spent near Ravenna on a farm that had been in the family for generations. Her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Slater, resides at No. 35 Quincey street, Cleveland. Her brother, Chas. Stoddard, is a resident of Ravenna. Her Cleveland and Ravenna relatives have had numerous letters from her, in many of which she had expressed aversion of the Russian, De Rydzenski.

Cause of Divorce.

(Special to The Telegram.) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 25.—Thomas Sinclair Gore, the former husband of Mrs. Gore, who recently met with a tragic death in Paris, made a statement for publication today in which he paid a high tribute to his former wife's character. He explained that their divorce was brought about by the woman's fondness for music. Mrs. Gore absenting herself from home for months at a time with the purpose of seeking a musical education. They finally agreed to separate. She sued for a divorce and he did not contest and gave her half of his fortune.

PLAN INTERESTING REVIVAL.

First Baptist Church Making Preparations for an Extended Campaign.

Interest in reference to the revival which is to begin at the First Baptist church next Sunday morning is spreading and many people besides members of the church are making inquiries about the meetings. The coming of Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Minneapolis, is of special interest as Dr. Riley is one of the best known speakers of the city in which he resides.

Speaking of the coming meetings today, Rev. Dr. Little said that there will be from four to seven services every day, in connection with the meetings. Rev. L. R. Scarborough, pastor of the Abilene Baptist church will be here for a few days. It is also certain there will be a number of other visitors before the meetings are over.

"This is going to be the greatest effort of my life for soul-winning," said Mr. Little today.

MAKES APPOINTMENTS.

Two Important Positions Filled at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The president decided today to appoint Ashley M. Gould, United States district attorney for the District of Columbia, as associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia to succeed the late Justice Bradley. Also decided to appoint Francis M. Wright of Illinois to the vacancy on the court of claims vacated by the death of Judge Davis.

PARKER-LOWE HAS IT FOR LESS.

BURNED-OUT MOTOR CAUSES TROUBLE

The Telegram is printed this evening at The Register office. A burned-out motor is the cause. Hardly had the last paper of yesterday's issue been printed, when the big motor that runs the press, suddenly let go. It was impossible to make repairs in time for today's issue and through the courtesy of The Register, subscribers to The Telegram will receive their paper as usual, though somewhat late tonight. The indulgence of readers is asked for a few days until the trouble at The Telegram office can be overcome. It will be necessary for press hour to be a little earlier than usual and consequently news matter will be somewhat curtailed.

GAVE UP THE HEATHEN TO WIN A SWEETHEART

Morristown, N. Y., Nov. 25.—A pretty romance will culminate at the altar this evening when Miss Addie May Beach of this city will become the bride of Rev. Henry Cunningham of Harrisburg, Pa. The bride is a handsome young girl just out of her teens. When she was a young girl of sixteen or seventeen, Mr. Cunningham, then a student in Lafayette College, made a visit to this city in the interest of missions. He spoke at the First Presbyterian church, and was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beach. It was mutual love at first sight. He found that she thought missionary work should begin at home, and straightway he gave up his lifelong plans of carrying the gospel to foreign lands and resolved to become a home pupil orator. To further his work he took a three years' course in Princeton Theological Seminary, from which institution he was graduated last year.

SIGN WAITS FOR WALL ON WHICH IT GOES

It is rather unusual for sign painters to have to quit work until the wall on which they are painting is built, but such is the case at North Fort Worth on the building of Armour & Co.
The immense sign, with gigantic letters, which is being painted on the west wall of the main building, stands unfinished because the brick wall on which the letters "P. A. N. Y." will go, has not yet been built. As the wall for these four letters will be as big as the side of an ordinary office building, the sign will not be completed for some time.
"Armour & Co." is the way the sign now reads and will read for some time, or till the big wall is finished. One of the rural visitors at the stockyards site recently asked if "Mr. Com" was from Chicago or Kansas City, saying he had known a fellow by that name back in Indiana.

Another piece of unintentional humor on the part of the builders of Swift's office building to the north of the main plant, is the elaborate care with which they have fitted the heavy door with a combination lock to the big vault which will be on the first floor of the office building. The vault isn't built yet and anyone wishing to get in can step over the bricks of the foundation wall, but the door is in place with the combination set, ready for the opening of business.
Work on the building of the Fort Worth Stock yards Co. and about the new pens has been greatly delayed by wet weather, but will now be resumed. All that could be done during the past few days was a little inside work in the new Stock Exchange building. This will be rapidly finished, weather permitting, and will be ready for the opening of the plants.

MAN IS KILLED IN A COLLISION

TWO FREIGHTS COME TOGETHER ON FT. WORTH AND DENVER.

TWO CARS ARE DEMOLISHED

Traffic Not Interfered With as Trains Are Sent Around to Henrietta Over Missouri, Kansas and Texas—Details Are Meager.

In a rear-end collision of two Fort Worth and Denver City freight trains near Carlyle, a small station near Wichita Falls, about 5 o'clock this morning, one man was killed and two cars were demolished. Details of the wreck are lacking, the only information being received at the general offices in this city, being substantially as stated.
From Wichita Falls comes the story that the engineer of the rear train, forgetting, or disobeying orders, ran into the caboose of the forward train, which had stopped at the small station. A man sleeping in the caboose of the forward train was instantly killed and the caboose was demolished. Two cars of oil, according to the report, were set fire to and burned, the flames also destroying the wrecked caboose.
Whether the engineer and fireman of the rear train escaped injury is not learned.
The wreck caused no delay of traffic, as arrangements were made by which trains were transferred from the Fort Worth and Denver City tracks at Carlyle to those of the Katy, run over that line to Henrietta and then down to Fort Worth.

KATY HAS TROUBLES OF OWN.

Shreveport Division of the Line Suffers From Washouts Last Night.
Washouts on the Shreveport division of the Katy are reported last night and traffic from that section has been affected by the trouble. Some trouble from high water is also said to have existed between Dallas and Hillsboro as trains were run up to Denton and then down to this city last night, instead of in the usual way.

DENVER OFFICIALS PROMOTED.

W. F. Sterley and A. A. Glisson to Be Advanced First of Month.
Promotion comes to two popular officials of the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad December 1 by order soon to be issued by Vice President D. B. Keeler of that line.

Effective December 1, the offices of Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent, and General Agent Passenger Department, held by W. F. Sterley and A. A. Glisson, respectively, will be abolished. W. F. Sterley becomes General Freight Agent and A. A. Glisson, General Passenger Agent of the road.

Both gentlemen are popular among railroad men of the city and the state and have earned their promotion by effective work in behalf of the Fort Worth and Denver's interest.

FRISCO RESUMES OWN TRACKS.

Damage From High Waters Repaired and Trains Running Today for First.
For the first time in several days, or since the high waters began, the Frisco started using its own track between here and Sherman this morning. The waters have sufficiently receded and necessary repairs have been made to make safe running possible. No more difficulty is anticipated.

Railroad Notes and Personals.

The Fort Worth and Denver irrigation lake at Wichita Falls now has a 17-foot stage of water. The lake covers about 2300 acres and the big dam is being closely watched by a force of men. The danger, however, is all believed to be past.
W. H. Etheredge, formerly of Local line, has been checked in as Texas freight agent of the Fort Worth and Denver City, vice J. C. Stevens, resigned.

G. M. Hall, superintendent of bridges and buildings on the Texas and Pacific, with headquarters at Baird, was in the city today.

Conductor O. Hartman of the Texas and Pacific, left this morning for a visit at El Paso.

The special train bearing the body of the late J. C. Loving, and a party of about fifty, left for Weatherford this morning about 10 o'clock.

W. R. Scott, superintendent of the Fort Worth and Denver City went out last night on a trip over the line.

HOW SALT COOLS COFFEE.

A Little Experiment Worth the Trying Out of Mere Curiosity.
Between bites of the simple breakfast he had ordered the young clerk gazed nervously at the restaurant clock. It was plain he had overslept himself and was paying the way to future indignation by bolting his food. The coffee was the stumbling block. It was hot—very hot—but the clerk needed it badly, and he sipped it carefully, having due regard for his mouth and tongue.
But time pressed, and, with a parting glance at the clock, he reached for his glass of ice water and prepared to pour some of the frigid fluid into his cup.
"Don't spoil your coffee, young man," said an elderly gentleman who was eating his breakfast on the other side of the table. "You take all the good out of it by putting ice or ice water in it."
The clerk was at first inclined to resent the interference, but the patriarchal appearance of the other man tempered his resentment.
"What am I to do?" he asked. "I am late for the office, and I want this coffee badly."
"Let me show you a little scheme," said the elderly man. Taking the cylindrical saltcellar from the table, he wiped it carefully with a napkin, then, reaching over, deposited the glass vessel in the cup of coffee.
"Salt, you know, has peculiar cooling properties," he said, meanwhile holding the receptacle firmly in position. "They put it with ice to intensify the cold when making ice cream. It is used extensively in cold storage warehouses for cooling purposes, and being incased in glass does not affect its power to any great extent."
As he spoke he withdrew the saltcellar from the coffee and motioned to the younger man to drink. He raised the cup to his lips and, to his surprise, found the liquid cooled to such an extent that he could drink it without inconvenience.
"The uses of salt are manifold," said the elderly man, with the air of one beginning a lecture. "I remember once when I was in Mexico—"
But the clerk, with another glance at the clock, thanked him profusely and dashed out of the restaurant.—New York Mail and Express

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

On last Thursday night some one or more persons stole the showcase of F. Seimers, the watchmaker. He keeps this case in front of his business house on Main street, and was, with his son, at work in his shop about 10 o'clock at night, when he went to close up the case and contents were missing. Providing himself with a lantern he made a search and found the broken showcase in the rear of the yard, contents gone. Monday morning a negro presented a watch to another watchmaker for sale. It was identified as one of the Seimer's watches. Later on Detective Thompson arrested a negro boy, Walter Howard, and Officer Moore arrested another negro boy, Lon Nichols. They were locked up on suspicion of having committed the robbery.

THE STATE HAS LOTS OF MONEY

THE VALUATION OF TEXAS PROPERTY INCREASES $35,000,000.

IN SPITE OF BAD CROPS

Controller Love's Annual Report Will Show a Healthy Condition in the State's Finances—The Total Valuation Will Reach the Billion Dollar Mark, the Greatest in Its History.

(Special to The Telegram.)
 AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 25.—State Controller Love has issued advance sheets of his annual report, from which the following are extracts:
 "It is gratifying to note the healthy condition of the state finances and the corresponding steady growth and prosperity of the various industrial enterprises of her people as evidenced by the assessors' returns. The valuation of property for the year 1902 rendered for taxes has turned the billion point, the highest mark ever reached in the history of the state. The total valuation for 1902 is $1,017,571,722; for 1901 it was $914,007,634, and for 1901 $882,187,865. The increase of $35,000,000 this year in the face of probably the worst crops made for years indicates that the phenomenal increase of the year before is on a substantial basis.
 Following is a comparative statement of the general revenue account: 1901. 1902.

Balance at beginning of fiscal year	$1,159,587	$1,173,370
Total receipts	2,865,238	3,148,468
Disbursements	2,851,455	3,187,382
Balance at close of fiscal year	1,173,370	1,134,455

The controller estimates that the net receipts in this fund for the year ending August 31, 1903, will be $3,050,000 and for the year ending August 31, 1904, $3,100,000. He estimates that after deducting living appropriations subject to draft, the general appropriations for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1903, and deficiencies from the general revenue balance above mentioned and the revenues for the year ending August 31, 1903, there will be a general revenue surplus at the date last named amounting to $37,115.

The permanent school fund account shows bonds on hand of $1,061,651.90, and a cash balance of $293,596.01, subject to investment.
 The controller refers to the decision of the United States supreme court declaring that the Houston and Texas Central, the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio and Washington County railroads had discharged their debt to the state as represented by bonds held in the permanent school fund. He says: "It would appear, then, that the general revenue account is indebted to the permanent school fund in the amount involved, $591,455.46. If further proceedings are not contemplated toward obtaining settlement from these roads, and if it seems from the decisions cited that the matter is practically settled against the state, some legislative action should be taken to adjust the account."

Should Overhaul Fund.
 The controller invites attention to the necessity of overhauling this fund. Prior to 1899 there was no provision for restoration to the fund of amounts paid as premiums on bonds, such payments amounting to a large sum.

In regard to the distribution of the available school fund, it is recommended that the law be amended so as to permit of the remittance of the funds direct to local treasurers instead of through the coupon system, as at present.

The public debt is stated at $3,989,400, maturing as follows: In 1904, $1,647,000; in 1906, $1,647,000; in 1909, $1,269,000; in 1910, $298,000; in 1913, $334,500, and $152,900 on the option of the state. The controller suggests that if the $891,455.65, appearing to be due the permanent school fund on account of the railroad bonds mentioned above, is regarded as a valid charge against the state provision for funding should be made. The amount, he says, might be covered by a bond to run thirty years at 3 per cent. He also suggests that it would be wise to make similar provisions for funding the entire bonded debt of the state.

Confederate Pensions.
 In regard to Confederate pensions the controller says:
 The present number of pensioners on the roll is 7082, of whom 2343 are widows. I am of opinion that the law should be so amended as to allow the widow the right of succession to the husband's pension in cases where she establishes her right to a pension under existing laws. According to the provisions of the law now in force, applicants can not begin to draw until the first apportionment made after the filing of their application, which causes widows under these circumstances to miss two quarterly payments at perhaps the hour of their greatest need. It is earnestly recommended that the law be so amended as to allow the widow, after establishing her right, to succeed to her husband's pension and draw whatever sum he would have drawn had he continued to live."

CAN'T DISTURB CATTLE IN CHICKASAW NATION
 Judge Townsend Grants an Injunction Restraining the Indian Agent From Interfering on Cattlemen
 (Special to The Telegram.)
 ARDMORE, I. T., Nov. 25.—Cattlemen of this territory won their contention against the Chickasaw Nation tax yesterday. United States Judge Hosea Townsend granted a temporary injunction restraining Indian Police Agent Schoenfelt and his subordinates from removing or disturbing cattle in the Chickasaw Nation. The case will be heard on its merits by Judge Townsend in Ardmore on December 15. Pending the restraining order collection of cattle taxes will close.
 The petition of the cattlemen in their application controverts the authority of the Federal government to enforce this tax. It is alleged that cattle are removed without authority and that much damage to stockmen has resulted.
 It will be remembered that prior to last July the tribal government was attempting to collect the tax of twenty-five cents a head on cattle in the domain, but with little success. The Chickasaw legislature in July passed an act providing for the collection of this tax by the federal authorities, who have been enforcing it with varied success. Cattlemen have fought the tax vigorously and the stock has been ejected time and time again because of their refusal to pay it.
 Revenue Inspector Cobb was here. He said that he had directed the Indian police now at Marietta to cease operations till further orders. The police intended to drive cattle out but Inspector Cobb ordered them home. Before departing, Mr. Cobb said that practically the same questions involved in the case are now before the supreme court of the District of Columbia, in the case of Morris et al. vs. Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock et al., which case was argued last month, both sides filing briefs in support of their contention on a later date. The decision of the court has not as yet been handed down.
 In the injunction case to be heard, William B. Johnson, United States attorney, assisted by Inspector J. W. Zeverly, will represent the government. W. O. Davis will ask the court to make the injunction perpetual.

A Dangerous Month
 This is the month of coughs, colds and acute catarrh. Do you catch cold easily? Find yourself hoarse, with a tickling in your throat and an annoying cough at night? Then, you should always have handy a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. J. A. Anderson, 354 West Fifth street, Salt Lake City, writes: "We use Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and colds. It gives immediate relief. We know it's the best remedy for these troubles. I write this to induce other people to try this pleasant and efficient remedy." 25c, 50c and $1 at H. T. PANGBURN & CO'S.

ASLEEP AMID FLAMES.
 Breaking into a blazing home, some firemen lately dragged the sleeping inmates from death. Fancied security, and death near. It's that way when you neglect coughs and colds. Don't let Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption gives perfect protection against all Throat, Chest and Lung Troubles. Keep it near, and avoid suffering, death and doctor's bills. A teaspoonful stops a late cough, persistent use the most stubborn. Harmless and nice tasting, it's guaranteed to satisfy by W. J. Fisher, 502 Main street and 413 Houston street. Prices 50 cents.

HE COULD HARDLY GET UP.
 P. H. Duffy, of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down. I sold by Reeves Pharmacy, Ward Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

Luck in Thirteen.
 By sending 13 miles Wm. Spirey of Walton Furnace, Vt., got a box of Buckley's Arnica Salve, that wholly cured a horrible Fever Sore on his leg. Nothing else could. Positively cures Bruises, Felons, Ulcers, Eruptions, Bolls, Burns, Corns and Piles. Only 25 cents. Guaranteed by W. J. Fisher, 502 Main street and 413 Houston street.

To the Public.
 Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better. Three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. I am most respectfully yours for health, Ralph S. Meyers, 64 Thirty seventh St., Wheeling, W. Va. For sale by N. E. TEXAS NEWS IN BRIEF.

No Motive for Killing.
 No motive has yet been found for the triple killing Saturday in Runnels county and Sheriff Kirk and County Attorney Ballinger have returned to Ballinger.
 The body of Earl Moore, the young man who was shot and killed at Wingate Saturday by County Commissioner C. J. Horton before the latter killed his wife and himself, was also brought and buried yesterday evening at that place. The remains of Horton and wife were buried at Wingate.

Charged With Kidnaping.
 Sheriff Magill of Burnett county went to Hereford yesterday after a man who was arrested a few days ago by Sheriff Burnham of Castro county on information from Burnett county charging him with kidnaping a girl 14 years of age. He is said to have a wife and children, and was found by Sheriff Burnham traveling across the country. Sheriff Magill got his prisoners and left with them in the evening.

A Desperate Negro.
 Navarro county was the scene of unusual excitement when Deputy Sheriff Warren Bradley, with a number of citizens of Richmond, deputized to assist him, surrounded a negro cabin in the south end of the county on Saturday, where it was reported a negro was located who was wanted in McLennan county on a charge of highway robbery. The posse was stationed near the house in the brush and Bradley rode up to the house, in which were five negroes, and demanded the surrender of the party. Four of them responded to his demand, but the fifth, who is the man wanted, started to run. He was armed with two 45-caliber revolvers, and fired six shots at the members of the posse, who returned the fire and brought the negro down with a load of shot in the left breast and another in the leg. He surrendered and, with his four companions, was brought to Corsicana yesterday and lodged in jail. His wounds are not thought to be serious.

Methodists at Terrell.
 The preliminary work of the North Texas annual conference of the Methodist church, South, is being done at Terrell.
 Several committees are at work preparing reports to be submitted when the business session opens Wednesday. The following twenty-one counties are embraced in the territory of the conference and have representatives here: Dallas, Tarrant, Kaufman, Rockwall, Franklin, Hopkins, Delta, Hunt, Collin, Denton, Wise, Jack, Archer, Wichita, Clay, Montague, Cook, Grayson, Fannin, Lamar and Red River. The territory of the conference is divided into ten districts, with a presiding elder in charge of each district.

Jumped On a Ten Penny Nail.
 The little daughter of Mr. J. N. Powell jumped on an inverted rake made of ten penny nails, and thrust one nail entirely through her foot and a second one half way through. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly applied and five minutes later the pain had disappeared and no more suffering was experienced. In three days the child was wearing her shoe as usual and with absolutely no discomfort. Mr. Powell is a well known merchant of Forkland, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and heals such injuries without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by N. E. Grammer, druggist.

A Good Fruit Cake

To End the Bull Weevil.
 W. B. Adams of Devine, a prominent merchant of that place, claims to have discovered a remedy for the bull weevil and has written to Congressman Slayden, who has taken no little interest in finding the planter some relief from a pest that threatens to destroy the cotton raising industry in Texas, asking him to use his influence in having a practical test made in order that the value of the remedy may be fairly demonstrated. Mr. Adams does not indicate in his letter the character of his discovery, but he expresses the greatest confidence in it.

New Charters Filed.
 Austin, Tex., Nov. 25.—The charters of the following corporations were filed yesterday in the department of state:
 The Mathewson Laboratory of Marshall; capital stock $10,000. Purpose, the transaction of a manufacturing business. Incorporated by N. C. Mathewson, L. H. Henley and W. C. Pierce, Jr.
 Whitsett Brick and Lumber company of Corsicana; capital stock $100,000. Purpose, the transaction of any manufacturing business, but especially

A GREAT HEREFORD SALE.
 The ranch men and breeders of Texas will be afforded an opportunity to buy Hereford cattle from three of the largest and best herds of Hereford cattle in the world, on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 25th and 26th at Ft. Worth, Texas. The cattle will be sold in the northern pens at the Ft. Worth stock yards, so buyers from north of the quarantine line will run no risk in buying the cattle.
 One of the consignors of the sale said, in speaking of the cattle to be sold, that they were the best lot that they had ever sold in Texas. This is saying a good deal, as this is the fourth sale these parties have made at Ft. Worth, and they have always sold an exceptionally good lot of cattle.
 Parties wanting bulls or females to add to their herds should not miss this opportunity. Read their ad. in this issue.

The Glamour of Love

(Original.)
 I met Cristobel at the seashore. She was then eighteen years old, and I was thirty-four. I was introduced to her the evening I reached the Ocean House, and we were members of a party to go to the beach by moonlight. Cristobel had a pair of brown eyes with which she looked at me in a way that showed she was greatly pleased with me. In the soft moonlight it struck me that she was very beautiful. There was a ripple of chat from those about us, a plashing of the breakers on the beach, a slender girl beside me, and I was supremely happy. The next day we all bathed, and naturally I expected Cristobel to avail herself of my assistance. She stood on the beach a moment before going into the water, and though she had on a becoming bathing suit, she did not look as beautiful as the evening before. Her figure was somewhat angular, and her complexion in the sunlight was not what it had been in the moonlight. John Caldwell, a man of forty, stepped up to her, and as she looked at him I saw the same satisfaction in her eyes I had noticed in my own case. He gave her his hand, and they were soon merrily rising and falling with the waves. I had a very slow time. Every minute I was watching Cristobel.
 In the evening when I met Cristobel on the piazza I was sulky. She noticed it and asked me what was the matter, but without waiting for a reply started for the beach, a short distance from the hotel. Of course I followed her, and it was not long before I showed her that I was jealous of John Caldwell.
 "Mr. Caldwell!" she exclaimed. "Why, he's old enough to be my father."
 This comforted me, though I remembered that I was but six years younger than Caldwell. Cristobel and I sat in the moonlight till 9 o'clock, and though it was but the second day of our acquaintance, I was making love to her. She was very easy to make love to. Indeed she seemed to draw it out of me irrespectively of my own volition. Before we parted I had been transported to heaven by a kiss.
 Hearing the music at the hotel, she proposed to go back and have a dance. We waltzed once and separated. Not being in a mood to enjoy the society of any one else, I sat on the piazza smoking and thinking of my new found love. Then I went down to the place where we had been sitting. It was occupied by another couple. I was turning away when I recognized John Caldwell's voice, followed by Cristobel's laugh.
 The next morning when we all started to bathe I was very cool to Cristobel, but she made no scruple of joining me and good naturedly bantered me on being what she called "so cross." By the time we were ready to go into the water she had succeeded in bringing back my good humor, and I assisted her in bathing. There were splendid broad billows rolling in over a gently inclined beach before breaking, and the exhilaration was delightful. Cristobel was as excited as a child. "She is a child," I said. "How stupid of me not to give her the leeway of a child! And yet how delicious to be loved by one so innocent!"
 If there is any time when it is impossible for a woman to look attractive, it is when she is leaving the water. And yet as I watched Cristobel going to the bathroom it seemed to me she had the figure of a sprite.
 When Cristobel left us, she was not engaged to me or to John Caldwell, though in comparing notes afterward we discovered that she had fooled us both. She went abroad and stayed away three years. When she returned, I heard of her at the seashore and concluded, largely from curiosity, to run down and meet her.
 Perhaps the circumstances under which I met her this second time were unfavorable. At any rate, I was very much shocked at the change in her. Was it in her or in me? Had not the glamour been worn away? Not finding her in the hotel on my arrival, I strolled down to the beach. It was the bathing hour, and a hundred people were in the water. Presently a long, thin, bony looking girl with spindle shanks emerged and came walking up the sand toward me.
 "There is a woman," I remarked to myself, "who should never show herself in bathing clothes. She looks like a drowned grasshopper."
 The girl came on and when within a few yards of me threw up her hands and exclaimed:
 "Well, upon my word! Where did you spring from?"
 A loud I replied: "Delighted to meet you again. How well you are looking!" Inwardly, I exclaimed: "Great heaven! Is this Cristobel?"
 We met in the evening on the piazza. She had put on her finest dress and when I joined her received me with her most winning smile. Alas, her cheek was bony and her complexion that of a quadroon! Her voice, which three years before had sounded so melodious to me, was harsh. Perhaps there was still some magnetism in the eyes, but the other features were so faulty that these alone did not move me. Really she was but little altered. It was I who saw through other eyes.
 "Your manner toward me is changed," she said, with a pout.
 "A girl can't expect to hold all her lovers all the time," I replied.
 "What do you mean by that?" she asked coldly.
 "After you left us John Caldwell and I compared notes."
 She gave me a look to observe whether there was any of her old power with me. I left, then made an excuse to leave me. I departed early the next morning without seeing her.

Ordinance No. 851
 An ordinance amending Section 123 of the revised ordinances of the city of Fort Worth, fixing the credit for days work of all persons fined in the corporation court and compelled to do public work for the city.
 Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Fort Worth:
 Section 1. That section 123 of the revised ordinances of the city of Fort Worth, known as the Riley and Adams revision, be amended so as to read as follows to-wit: All male persons who shall be compelled to work upon the streets, alleys, public grounds, or public buildings of the city, or on the city's workhouse, shall be entitled to a credit, on such fine, of fifty cents for each day, or portion thereof that such male person may so labor, and if on account of the inclemency of the weather, or for any other cause it shall be impracticable for the male prisoners to be placed at work, then each male prisoner shall be entitled to a credit of fifty cents for each day such male person may be confined in the city prison or workhouse.
 Section 2. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, be and are hereby repealed.
 Section 3. This ordinance shall be in force and effect after ten days publication required by law.

University Begins Suit.
 There was called for trial in the district court of Austin yesterday the case of the State vs. M. Mehan et al., involving 250 defendants, who own land in El Paso county. The case was brought for the university, which claims 20,000 acres of good land lying along the Rio Grande, but held by others, under part of which is known as the San Elazar grant, ratified by the state legislature. The conflict in title results from a dispute as to the boundary line, which has been changed by the Rio Grande and a tributary creek deviating from their former courses and forming new channels. The university contends that the grant contains much more land than was contemplated by the legislature, hence the boundary has been moved, and so as to include 20,000 acres had it surveyed.
 It is a puzzling case, with many witnesses, many defendants and a good stake involved.

A Violent Attack of Croup Cured.
 "Last winter an infant child of mine had croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist, of Filley, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by N. E. Grammer, druggist.

 Dear West 117th St., New York City.
 Oct. 15, 1901.
 "I had been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; could hardly drag myself along. Even my mental capacity was giving out, and often I wished to die. It was then I saw an advertisement of yours in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it, had it not promised a sworn guarantee with every bottle of your medicine, assuring that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable, and does not contain any harmful drugs. I am seventy years and four months old, and with a good conscience I can recommend Swamp-Root to all sufferers from kidney troubles. Four members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases, with the same good results."
 With many thanks to you I remain,

Georgia Convention Which Meets Today Will Take Up The Subject of Child Labor, Among Others
 (Special to The Telegram.)
 ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 25.—The annual convention of the Georgia Womens' Suffrage association, which began in Atlanta today, has attracted a large number of earnest, broad-minded women, who are united in their common desire to advance the interest of their sex along every line of development. The sessions, which are being held in the Universalist church, will continue through tomorrow. Prominent among the subjects to receive attention are child labor, age of consent, and the employment of women as state librarians. A special effort will also be made to advance the interests of working women by demanding an equal wage standard with men, and to obtain proper legislation opening the doors of the state universities and schools of technology to women.

If the Mississippi Bubble wasn't a great novel The Telegram wouldn't say so. It couldn't afford to.

Some kind soul made a pathway of cinders and ashes through the mud of Houston street at the corner of Seventh. Peace be to his ashes!

The anomaly is presented in Fort Worth of a city unanimously in favor of paving one of its principal business streets and yet the entire population wading unopposedly through the mud of that street month after month.

If there is anyone who doesn't feel the necessity of paving Houston street and paving it quick, he must be either in the gum boot business or the proprietor of a shoe shining establishment. Speaking of gum boots, can it be possible that there is any gum shoe business going on in this paving controversy.

A popular impression that the state of California leads in the acreage under irrigation is incorrect. Colorado, with its 2,000,000 acres of crops, scientifically watered, has that distinction. In a report recently made to the government Colorado is shown to have 200,000 more acres under irrigation than California. At least 3,000,000 acres are under ditches and 2,000,000 under cultivation.

In a state that has a record for great men, James C. Loving easily stood among the greatest. During his lifetime he was identified with the business of cattle raising, and as that industry is the foundation of the present greatness of Texas, so has James C. Loving woven himself permanently into the state's history. But above all that, he was a man. No finer tribute was ever passed on anyone than Burke Burnett's words yesterday: "Men, Jim Loving was the best man I ever knew."

EMERSON HOUGH

Emerson Hough, the author of the Mississippi Bubble, at one time resided in New Mexico; and in the grand solitude of that vast region his mind broadened and developed until it reached the fullness of power that made possible the production of a great work of fiction. It was there, in the close communion of nature and man, that he learned the few essential truths of life. It was there that he grew accustomed to judge men and women not by the artificial standards of civilization, but by those of God.

As a product of the cities or of the East, Emerson Hough would have been known to fame as a contributor to the Ladies' Home Journal, perhaps, or the Smart Set; but with the spirit of the untrammeled West about him, his genius grew and broadened, until it took form in a novel of life and action that may place his name among the first of great writers of fiction. Only the future can decide whether the Mississippi Bubble will take its place permanently in fiction along with the works of Hawthorne, Cooper and Howells; but it is certain now that in interest and the elements that make a book popular in this day, it equals the best work of any of these. The Mississippi Bubble will soon be published serially in The Telegram. Read the opening chapters.

ON FRANCHISE GRANTING

Mayor Powell was on the spot yesterday with a veto for the franchise granted by the council to the Northern Texas Traction Company to construct a car line on Hill and Hemphill streets and Summit avenue. The mayor gives as his reason for this step that undue haste was shown in granting the franchise; and in this, without entering at all into merits of the case, all good citizens will support the mayor.

There is no call for haste when the question comes up of giving over the best part of a street owned by the people to a corporation that isn't in business for its health. It is probably true that the streets of Fort Worth are not worth much at present for street car purposes, but they will be some day. In assigning them away then, this fact should be taken into consideration.

Anyway, there's no hurry. Haste in such matters always looks bad. Especially when the franchise-granting party has a reputation for dilatoriness in matters pertaining to the streets. In paving, for instance.

UNIONISM

There is little left to working people except union. The conditions of progress have placed in the hands of the strongest few the control of production. The shoe maker's bench has been swept aside, along with the loom and the spinning-wheel. New methods of manufacture have been discovered in all lines, and in the struggle have come into the possession of those who are the quickest to think, the strongest to act, and, often, the most unscrupulous.

According to a fundamental practice of mankind these use the new conditions, first to their advantage; second to that of the rest of mankind. This is a sort of natural law, and is not to be wondered at. Neither, then, should there be any wonder that those naturally weaker or less fortunate should adopt the only defence of their interests and well being that is open to them. They are forced into forming associations among themselves for the common welfare. Their strength through unionism is as natural and just as is that of the comparative few that have grasped and hold the instruments of production.

The argument is frequently used against unionism that it restricts individual initiative and inventiveness in workmen; that it puts a person in a rut and keeps him there. Such argument is mere sophistry. There are plenty of ways to circumvent and rise above the restrictions and restraints of unionism, if one really has pre-eminent ability and will make sacrifices to that end. That is proven by thousands of instances of men who have done so.

Those who really are strong to think and act, don't need the protection of unionism, but the great majority of those of ordinary capabilities do. They need it to secure the right to labor a certain reasonable number of hours at a certain reasonable pay. History shows that they have gotten this right only by making common cause of their rights and enforcing their demands.

The president of Harvard university, one Eliot by name, said that organized labor is not the friend of education. The Texas Federation of Labor gives the lie to this statement—or, more politely, contradicts it—by going on record as favoring compulsory education. Another of the resolutions that calls for favorable comment is that that calls for the enactment of a law prohibiting all children under sixteen years of age working in factories. For breweries and distilleries, the limit is fixed at eighteen.

Insurance Companies Refused to Insure the Rev. J. W. Yeisley Because He Had Kidney Trouble.

This case is but one of thousands where the head of the house was refused insurance, because he had kidney trouble. Mr. Yeisley had given up in despair when some friend recommended Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it cured him.

Mr. Yeisley writes: "My kidneys and liver were in bad condition and I was anxious for relief. I had tried many remedies without success and when I bought a bottle of 'Favorite Remedy,' it was with but little faith in its ever helping me, but in a short time it effectively proved its merit. Perhaps the best proof I can give that it has completely cured me is to state that I have since been accepted by four different life insurance companies."

The Rev. Mr. Yeisley is the pastor of the First Reformed Church of St. Paris, Ohio, and is as well the editor of the St. Paris Dispatch.

There is no question that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the best and surest medicine in the world for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, as well as the weaknesses peculiar to women. It quickly relieves and cures inability to hold urine and the necessity of getting up a number of times during the night. It puts an end to that scalding pain when passing urine and corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer.

THE IDLER'S NOTE BOOK

They say we are a thoughtless people, and that the sufferings of others rest lightly on us. That they rest lightly it cannot be denied, but I do hold that there be no people whom a light touch of pity moves so far as are the Americans.

Not the rich, or the very rich, who give perhaps to another some consciousness that needs the sedative of a generous act to be nursed back into forgetfulness; but the common, ordinary American who has no reasons for giving other than those of humanity.

As a proof, bear witness that some few days ago, little tin boxes were put about by officers of the American Volunteers. Over each swings a little tin sign bearing a modest appeal for help in getting a Thanksgiving dinner for the poor of the city.

The givers to the fund are unknown. There is no subscription list and no record of the class of people who answer the appeal, but it is true and you'll find it so, that the boxes placed in restaurants, drug stores and saloons of lower Main street are heavier than those anywhere else in town.

I know it, because I've been lifting them.

I sat in a restaurant half an hour the other day watching the people who came in and ate at the lunch counter. The little box was placed near the cash register so they could not fail to see it when paying for their lunch.

The men who ate at the counter modest meals costing from fifteen cents to thirty, were more than twice as responsive to the mute request for charity as those who ate more elaborate meals at the tables in the same room. A fellow who has been once down with a nickel between himself and hunger is the one who remembers longest the needs of others.

I was watching the crowds pass a street corner the other afternoon where a street beggar was playing execrable airs on a hand organ. More laboring men, men whose average income comes one would guess ranged from $1.50 to $2.50 per day, dropped pennies, or nickels or dimes, in the cup than those of any other class. Perhaps the better paid and better dressed class recognized, or thought they recognized, a fake. He doubtless was the hired servant of some begging agency, yet the appeal of the silent beggar, dolefully turning an organ handle, moved many to generosity. The beggar was averaging about fifty cents an hour, better wages than any of those who contributed to the tin cup ever made in their lives, and yet they yielded to a generous impulse of the moment.

The common American people are generous but they're sensitive about it. The only way to prove it is to give them an opportunity to exhibit it where nobody will find it out.

By the way, how much have you done towards making a good Thanksgiving for somebody?

Dry Humor

He was an old grizzled farmer from Western Kansas. He evidently had money, for though his clothes were plain they were expensive. He was smoking a good cigar, too, as he sat in the lobby of the Worth and watched the crowds with a half cynical expression on his well-browned face. "Wet, isn't it?" said one of the regular loafers, scenting a chance for some fun out of the old man.

SHE WILL WED A BARING

Mrs. Maud Lorillard Tuller, daughter of the late millionaire turfman, and leading social figure in New York, who obtained a divorce from her former husband, T. Sufferen Tuller, is said to be engaged to Cecil Baring, brother of Lord Revelstoke, of the great London banking house of Baring Brothers.

ular loafers, scenting a chance for some fun out of the old man. "Yes," assented the other. "Been kind of dry up till this month," ventured the loafer. "In fact so dry that this rain hasn't gotten to the bottom of the dust on Main street yet."

"So?" queried the farmer. "Fact," asserted the other, "its been so plagued dry that a ranchman out West here always had as likely a herd of steers you ever saw at the beginning of the summer. He went out the other day to look at them and found them all lively as ever, but blamed if they weren't all dried beef."

The old man smoked his cigar for fully two minutes and not even a smile revealed he had heard the other's effort. "Young man," he said finally, and with great slowness, "Back up in the country where I come from, Kansas, you know, its been so extremely dry there are frogs three years old that haven't learned to swim yet."

And soon afterwards the loafer went out. So very simple is the human heart. We, envious, wonder at some nervy fellow's means; When'er he speaks of dining a la carte, E'en though his orders be, mayhap, but pork and beans. —THE IDLER.

AMUSEMENTS

The Wizard of the Nile

The appetite of the modern theatergoer must be as varied as that of a globe-trotter if he is to enjoy everything offered with equal gusto. There could hardly be a wider range than between the sombre drama, "Lord Strathmore," offered Saturday, and the sprightly musical extravaganza, "The Wizard of the Nile" presented at Greenwall's last night.

Victor Herbert has credit for being the foremost composer of comic opera music in America today and "The Wizard of the Nile" is regarded as his best effort. The "book" is clever and amusing, while the company presented by Jules Grau leaves nothing to be asked. John Henderson makes a good Kibosh and Herman West supports his share of the dialogue as Ptolemy, king of Egypt, equally well.

Good voices, a shapely corps de ballet, and effective stage settings helped make the production the best of comic operas seen here this season. 'Tis the way of the book, but unfortunately, that "The Wizard" doesn't give Della Nivens as Ptolemy's second wife, more chance to sing. The few notes she is allowed are just enough to make one wish to hear her wonderful voice at its best. More opportunity will be given to night in "El Capitán" and she will undoubtedly score a triumph.

Her voice, what little of it was heard last night, was far above the usual range found in comic operas. Another sweet singer, who had a little more opportunity to sing, and who scored two of the most enthusiastic encores of the evening when he embraced it, was Jos. Smith as Court Musician. He has a pure, strong voice that has been well trained.

But one jarring note crept in. After hearing all the extra verses to "Star light, star bright, tell us it is so," one feels like asking the stars how much mileage Mr. Grau gets for introducing the verse about the Southern Pacific Sunset Limited. In Fort Worth a better hit could have been made by a few verses regarding Armour's bacon or Swift's Premium hams.

This afternoon the company repeated "The Wizard of the Nile" with great success and tonight will present Sousa's "El Capitán" with all its stirring music and glittering costumes.

"Janice Meredith" (Thanksgiving) Sword fights on the stage, as every one knows, are usually a sort of "draw-boys-and-at-tem" affair with a half dozen quick thrusts, an obviously studied stroke, and an impossible finish. In "Janice Meredith," however, a four-cornered fight occurs, one of the officers being armed with a bayoneted rifle that has resulted not a few times disastrously for Mr. Bonelli.

whose pleasant duty it is to guard himself from three men at once. The fight—a feature of the play, by the way—takes place in the fourth act. Fowles, the spy, is captured in the Hessians headquarters. He manages to free himself for an instant, grasps a heavy cavalry sword and begins to fight his way coolly through a room full of Hessians. The fight, engaging four men, begins to the left of the stage, works across, and ends at the head of a stairway on the opposite side. The men who fight the mimic battle were three weeks in "working it up," and as is done perhaps is one of the most realistic exhibitions of swordsmanship ever seen in a stage battle. Chairs, tables, lamps and even the Christmas tree are chopped and hacked as the men move across the room. "Janice Meredith" comes to Greenwall's opera house Thursday, (Thanksgiving), matinee and night, November 27.

Paul Gilmore in a Laughing Success Haddon Chambers' comedy of temperament, "The Tyranny of Tears," will be produced here at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, November 29, by Paul Gilmore. No comedy of recent years has dealt so gently and yet so humorously with the affection existing between husband and wife, when that affection is dangerously near to developing into jealousy on the part of the wife. Haddon Chambers has peopled his play with characters as witty, humorous and lovable as those in "Because She Loved Him So," and the play is deserving of all its popularity because of its literary merit.

"Thelma" which will be presented by Aiden Benedict's excellent company at Greenwall's opera house Monday night, December 1, is a romantic drama taken from Marie Corelli's story. The first, second and fourth acts take place in Norway, third in London. The scenic features are out of the ordinary and the play follows the book closely enough to satisfy the readers of the Corelli story. The last act is the most spectacular of the four. It shows the Alten Fjord and the rainbow bridge in midwinter. The snow avalanche is another well handled effect in the last act, which is the most interesting of them all.

One Minute Cough Cure Is the only harmless cough cure that gives quick relief. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, pneumonia, asthma, lagrippe and all throat, chest and lung troubles. I got soaked by rain, says Gertrude E. Fenner, Muncie, Ind., and contracted a severe cold and cough. I failed rapidly; lost 48 lbs. My druggist recommended One Minute Cough Cure. The first bottle brought relief; several cured me. I am back to my old weight, 148 pounds. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the phlegm, relieves the cough at once, draws out inflammation, cures croup. An ideal remedy for children.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT. Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they have never found so safe and reliable a remedy for throat and lung troubles as this great medicine. Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

Best Liniment on Earth I. M. McHany, Greenville, Tex., writes, Nov. 2, 1900: "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks; tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Liniment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Liniment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1 at H. T. PANG-BURN & CO'S.

EDITOR DUBOIS RETURNS HOME

DELEGATE TO FEDERATION OF LABOR AT NEW ORLEANS BACK.

THE BEST ONE EVER HELD

Summarizes the Meet as One that Will Be Productive of Most Important Results—Local Union Men Are Planning to Hold Another Mass Meeting.

C. H. DuBois, editor of the Union Banner, and delegate of the Fort Worth trades assembly to the meeting of the American Federation of Labor which has just closed its sessions at New Orleans, has returned home after being delayed en route by floods on the eastern division of the Texas and Pacific. He reached the city yesterday afternoon.

Relative to the convention as a whole, Mr. DuBois said: "It was the largest and most successful convention that has ever been held in this country and with the most important results. A spirit of harmony prevailed throughout, and while there was a complete discussion of all the important topics, it was handled in a thoroughly business-like way with no waste of time on unimportant issues.

"Matters that may have seemed to outsiders to denote discord and contention really were the settlement along the lines involving conciliation and arbitration so as to reach conclusions in the interest of harmony.

The Gompers Matter. "The supposed opposition to President Gompers indicated by one of the resolutions introduced by Delegate Sheridan of the Amalgamated Steel Workers, showed that it was really no case involved, it being an attempt on the part of Sheridan, who is the rival of Shaeffer for the presidency of the organization. While there has been some feeling between Gompers and Shaeffer, arising out of the steel strike, nothing was said at this convention but what shows on the part of both men a large spirit of fraternalism that characterizes the union movement.

"President Gompers was re-elected and his salary raised from $2100 to $3000 per year. Secretary Morrison's salary was raised from $1800 to $2500. All the vice presidents were re-elected. The president, secretary and vice presidents constitute the executive council who give their entire attention to the work of the Federation in promoting the organizations, arranging differences, and general union work.

Socialism Test. "The most important development of the session was the strong feeling shown in behalf of Socialism. On a test vote the Socialists mustered over 4100 out of the total of about 9000. Max S. Hayes of Cleveland, a prominent Socialist, was elected one of the fraternal delegates to the British Trades Union congress, by a unanimous vote. On the other hand, all the radical elements united in the re-election of the officers as before stated, every one of whom are conservative men along trades union lines and not in favor of Socialism. This shows that divergent opinions do not lead to hostility in the conventions.

"The vote for Boston as the next meeting place was almost unanimous. The reasons given were that Boston is at the center of the textile industry, as well as the manufacture of shoes. That the president of Harvard University, having lately expressed an opinion that a 'scab' is a godly type of a modern hero, we propose to carry the war into the enemy's country and 'beard the lion in his den.'

"Two significant lines of work will be pushed during the next year, the organization of the street car men and of the teachers. The result of the convention in New Orleans will be the addition of at least 1000 men to the union membership. The barbers and bartenders will be organized, the retail clerks greatly strengthened, and a general development of unionism promised. For 1904 the convention will no doubt be held in St. Louis."

May Have Mass Meeting. If contemplated arrangements regarding the securing of speakers can be completed, it is likely a union mass meeting for labor men will be held here this week or next, at which Mr. DuBois will make an oral report of the meeting of the Federation and F. C. Southern will report on the meeting of the State Federation at Houston, to which he was the delegate of the local unions. These two reports would regularly be delivered at the meeting of the Trades Assembly which will be held Tuesday evening, but if other arrangements can be made they will undoubtedly be deferred till a public meeting.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY. J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least a half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward Pharmacy and Arlington Drug Co.

A Thanksgiving Dinner. Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, exposes the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol relieves the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach.

TWO BOHEMIANS TOURING THE WORLD AFOOT

Started From Prague, Bohemia And Have One and a Half Years in Which to Complete Their Trip

Two Bohemian newspaper men from Prague, Bohemia, were callers at the Telegram office yesterday. They speak several languages fluently, but are shy on English. However, they can be understood. They gave their names as Jarsalov Tuzar and Jan Nahodlie—one tall and one short. They are on a three years' tour around the world, afoot, and have been out one year and seven months. They departed this morning west over the Texas and Pacific for El Paso, from which place they will go through New Mexico and Arizona to San Francisco. At San Francisco they take a steamer for Yokohama, Honolulu and Manila, and eventually to Vladivostok, Russia, and Moscow.

They have been in Texas visiting various Bohemian colonies, for nine weeks. They were furnished passage from Prague to New York by a newspaper syndicate, and steamer passage from San Francisco to Austria by Wm. R. Hearst of Chicago. For these courtesies they send descriptive letters of their travels, and upon their return to Prague will write a syndicate story.

They are making the trip without funds and at each place they call they get an autograph letter stating that they had so called. These letters will be produced as evidence upon their return. They spent three weeks in a Bohemian colony near Ennis, Tex., resting up. Being of athletic build and ambitious, they feel that the remaining one year and five months will give them ample time for the trip, and at the same time give them much time to study the country and people. They declare Texas is larger than their entire country, and make peculiar gestures when referring to it, as being "great," "big," etc.

THROW BLOCK IN CAR.

Vandals or Robbers Frighten Passengers on Fort Worth and Denver Train.

The Fort Worth and Denver City train arriving here last evening had a badly broken window in one of the passenger coaches and several passengers on board who were badly frightened on that account.

When the train was near Trinidad, about 8 o'clock in the evening, some one, either a vandal or a robber, threw a large block of wood through the window of a passenger coach. No one was near enough to be cut by the shattered glass, but there was considerable excitement on the car for a little time after the occurrence. The place where the block was thrown was but a short distance from where Express Messenger Hollis W. Scheibler of Fort Worth killed a train robber who attempted to hold up the Denver train one night last week. This circumstance added to the general fright of the passengers, but nothing further than the broken window gave them cause for alarm.

OF FACTS ABOUT OUR FACTORY SALE OF HIGH GRADE

PIANOS

AT 300 MAIN STREET. ONLY FIVE MORE DAYS TO SECURE A GOOD

PIANO

FOR $197 ON EASY TERMS.

Our factory is among the largest and best equipped institutions in the United States for turning out high grade pianos. We are making twenty-five finished instruments daily, as good as money, skill and experience will build. We guarantee them in your home for five years, against any and all defects in material and workmanship used in their construction, or in other words, it really gives you five years to try them.

Another very important feature of our factory sale is: We sell you an instrument direct from the factory, thereby saving you the jobbers' and agent's profits, which amounts anywhere from one to two hundred dollars. Every piano is marked in plain figures, from which there is no deviation, which makes it as easy for a child to buy as the shrewdest business man. Our one price system is the only honest way to sell any article, and especially pianos, as nearly all retailers or agents have the reputation of jockeying prices, so that a customer gets confused, and never knows whether he is getting value received or not.

In conclusion we wish to say that we will give callers or intending purchasers references from some of the best people in Fort Worth and vicinity who have bought instruments from us during this factory sale. This sale closes Saturday night at 9 o'clock, and if you are not a customer by that time, your opportunity is gone.

JAMES C. LOVING BURIED TODAY AT WEATHERFORD.

LARGE PARTY AT FUNERAL

Executive Committee Cattle Raisers' Association Adopt Resolutions. Many Floral Offerings—Personnel of Funeral Party—Mr. Reynolds Tells of Close Call in Indian Fight.

The funeral party accompanying the remains from Fort Worth to Weatherford this morning was sufficient in number to fill an entire coach furnished by the Texas and Pacific management. The coach was attached to the regular westbound passenger, which was two hours late. An effort was made to secure an engine for the purpose of going earlier, but the road is so tied up with business and washouts that an engine could not be provided.

With the family and friends were those members of the executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' association who were here.

Rev. J. B. French also accompanied the party, and will assist the Weatherford minister in conducting the funeral services there.

Dr. F. D. Thompson, family physician, was one of those to go.

A delegation of Masons was at the depot to see the body aboard the train.

There were in the party: Mrs. J. C. Loving, widow of deceased; Mr. and Mrs. George Spiller, daughter and son-in-law; Oliver Loving, son; George, Jr. Berkley, Carrie and Loving Spiller, grand-children; Mary Loving, granddaughter; Mrs. Sarah Flint of Young county, oldest sister of deceased; Mrs. Dr. Raines of Mineral Wells; George B. Loving and family, brother of deceased; Joe L. and Dr. Roy Loving, nephews; Mrs. R. E. Buchanan, Miss Irene Graham, Miss Helen Oldham, nieces; Mr. and Mrs. Colston and daughters, and Miss Fuller, deceased's office force; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart of Jacksboro; members of the executive committee of the association of which deceased was secretary; H. C. Halloway, E. B. Harrold, Charley Ware and other Fort Worth friends.

The party will be met at Weatherford by other relatives from Mineral Wells and Weatherford, including Mrs. Annie Roach and Mrs. Sue Roach, sisters of deceased; Messrs. Horace and Jim Wilson, nephews, and other friends.

Many Floral Offerings.

The executive committee contributed a magnificent floral design, "A broken shaft," Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Reynolds, a pillow; J. W. Colston and family, a standing anchor; a wreath (no card); box of flowers by Miss Helen Spence; large bouquet, Mr. and Mrs. Cowan. The three first mentioned were arranged by Mr. Poole, with Baker Bros.

There was a large crowd of friends at the union station, there as a mark of respect to the memory of deceased and family.

The party returned on the 4:10 train this afternoon.

Committee Met Yesterday.

The executive committee met yesterday afternoon and passed resolutions expressing the sorrow of the committee on the death of its secretary-treasurer. It was signed by S. B. Burnett, D. B. Gardner and W. W. Turney, committee.

Members of the executive committee present included the following: President Murdo McKenzie of Trinidad, Col.; Hon. W. W. Turney of El Paso, A. G. Boyce of Channing, S. B. Burnett of Fort Worth, C. B. Willingham of McMillan, N. M.; R. H. Harris of San Angelo, Dr. E. B. Frayser of Vinita, I. T.; D. B. Gardner of Dickens county and Richard Walsh of Palodura, Tex.

To Hold Business Session.

The executive committee will hold a business meeting this evening for the purpose of transacting the business for which the quarterly meeting was originally called, and, in addition, to elect a secretary to fill the unexpired term of J. C. Loving, deceased.

Members of the committee declined to discuss possibilities with reference to a possible selection.

Mr. Reynolds's Close Call.

In The Telegram yesterday mention was made of the fight with Indians while in camp on the night of June 16, 1871, in which Charles E. Rivers was shot, and later died. When the Indians attacked the camp Mr. George T. Reynolds, now of this city, was under the same blanket with Mr. Rivers when the latter was shot. They were bunking together on the ground. Mr. Loving's camp was 400 yards away.

MORE HEREFORDS COMING TO TEXAS.

These cattle will undoubtedly be the best lot ever sold in Texas. They will be sold in the northern pens of the Ft. Worth stock yards on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 25th and 26th. They come from three of the largest and best known herds of Hereford cattle in the world, Guggell & Simpson, Independence, Mo.; Scott & March, Belton, Mo.; and Sunny Slope Farm, Emporia, Kan. For four years these parties have been making an annual sale at Ft. Worth. They now announce that they will sell the best lot of cattle that have ever been sold in one sale in Texas, which means that people wanting Herefords will have an opportunity to buy some of the best cattle from Kansas and Missouri, without going to the expense of a trip north to get them. These breeders have shipped good cattle to Texas, have done by their customers as they agreed to and are worthy of the confidence and patronage of the Texas cattlemen.

SOME OF THE LATE THINGS OF FASHION

OUR FASHION LETTER.

Pretty and Inexpensive Things For House Wear.

DAINTY GOWNS OF THIN STUFFS

Some Taffeta Costumes For Evening Wear—Points About the New Tailor Made Suits—Hats For Fall and Winter.

Pretty and inexpensive negligees are made of white or ecru point d'esprit trimmed with point d'esprit lace or the heavier varieties. Pale colored chilies are also inexpensive, as they only require a touch of lace and a sash brought up empire wise from beneath the arms.

Nearly all the pretty negligees are made empire style, although there are a few who try to revive the Greek draperies. One of the easiest ways of making an empire house gown is to arrange a princess slip of tuck material run through with perpendicular bands of insertion. At the bottom should be two or three ruffles of the material, either full or accordion plaited. Over this comes a short bo-same embroidered material. Thus a costume of dark blue cloth will have cuffs and revers of pale blue embroidered in green or white. A black or iron gray costume will have touches of scarlet.

The simple but effective tailor made shown is of iron gray mixed goods, trimmed with very narrow black braid. The blouse waist opens in front and is decorated with embroidery on either side of the opening. The skirt is quite plain, with the exception of two wide strappings around the bottom and two perpendicular strappings on either side of the front gore.

GRAY SUIT.

The new belts are quite elaborate. Most of them have the position effect in the back in the shape of two ribbon tabs held together on the belt proper by means of an art nouveau ornament. Velvet is the favorite texture, with moire a close second.

Wonderful are the knottings of the new sashes. One of these is tied six times at irregular distances. Another lery jacket with elbow sleeves. This is of all over lace. Then under it and crossed over the front comes a sash of pale hued silk, which is fastened into a soft knot with long ends behind.

A dainty negligee is the one shown. It is made of fine white mull. The collarless yoke is laid in fine tucks crossed by beadings of lace run through with pale blue ribbon. The bertha is slashed here and there and is trimmed with narrow lace and the beading. The sleeves are tucked to the elbow, and from there they puff into a tight wristband. The bottom of the gown is trimmed with a gathered ruffle headed by beading and ribbon, which is caught at intervals with big bows.

NEW FASHION HINTS.

For evening wear nothing can be smarter at present than a dress of plain pale colored taffeta appliqued with rich yellow lace. Dresses of this sort are made with many pin tuckings, with soft fronts covered with the applique and chiffon sashes. They are decorated with little embroidered medallions and dainty touches of every sort.

One of the prettiest gowns seen recently was of pale pink taffeta with the skirt tucked on the bias and inset with pale yellow narrow lace. The waist was tucked straight across, with a high collar of the lace and narrow made of black satin has its two ends knotted in the shape of flowers, in which is sewed an artificial yellow center.

The new fur models show very fancy sleeves and a tendency toward position coatfalls. Brocades and laces are introduced to soften the general effect. Three-quarter coats of broad-tail, Persian and moleskin promise to be very popular.

Evening coats of black bengaline silk lined with white satin and chiffon and having ermine collars and cuffs are always extremely smart.

One of the newest designs in fur coats is here shown. It promises to be popular this winter. The double cape and the revers are faced with white and gold brocade. The sleeves are especially smart with their double ruffles at the wrist.

THE SONS MAKE ENDORSEMENT

THE GALLANT FASSOUX FOR COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF

A POEM "SOUTHERN SWORD"

Joint Committees Named for Work Next Week During the State Session of Daughters of Confederacy—Committees Out Soliciting Funds

At the meeting of the Sons of Confederate Veterans last night there were committees present from the veteran camp and from the chapter of Daughters—it being purposely a joint session to further arrange for the coming of the Daughters in state session here next week.

First Lieutenant Commander, W. P. Lane, presided. The attendance was fair, weather conditions considered.

W. A. Dixon reported the committee appointed to assist the committee from the veterans in soliciting funds for entertaining the Daughters, to be Comrades W. J. Gilvin, J. M. Adams, Judge W. R. Booth, W. S. Jarratt, W. E. Nicholson.

A. A. Seale was elected a member of the camp.

Comrade Nicholson reported that the Veterans and Sons had divided their committees into five precincts of one Veteran and one Son each, and that about $100 had been raised.

W. A. Dixon reported the committee to arrange for the lecture of Rev. Armstrong, and succeeded in making satisfactory arrangements and that the date of lecture would be announced later.

Additions were made to the escort committee, to receive the Daughters at the various trains and escort them to homes assigned. All the committee members are expected to be at the meeting of the veteran camp next Sunday when plans and badges will be given out: R. C. Armstrong, E. J. Archibald, Knox W. Anderson, G. W. Armstrong, T. D. Andrews, R. L. Bullock, R. E. L. Bratton, A. J. Baskin, O. W. Gillespie, S. H. Williams, John A. Kee, Dr. R. B. Grammer, Felix Z. Gaither, John Honea, Albert Leach, W. P. McConnell, Dr. C. A. Parker.

It was decided to appoint ten Sons to assist the ladies in decorating the Tabernacle next Monday. Commander Lane will announce his selection later.

Resolutions were offered by Comrade I. J. Stockett, action to be taken two weeks later.

"At the last meeting of the Federation at Dallas, the vote of this camp being cast for our present Commander-in-Chief, Thomas P. Stone, proved the turning point in his favor as against William McLennon Fassoux of New Orleans, who magnanimously withdrew and cast the vote of the Louisiana division for Thomas P. Stone, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that this camp favor and pledge itself to support William McLennon Fassoux for national commander at the next meeting of the Federation in New Orleans to succeed Thomas P. Stone of Waco and will do everything possible to secure his success in the event he submits his name for consideration. Be it

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this camp that no officer, elective or appointed, shall be eligible to succeed himself."

Comrade Howard Peak, the first white child born in Fort Worth, has displayed on a wall in his home a war relic—a sword. Comrade Peak wrote a poem, the Southern Sword being the inspiration. He has dedicated this poem to the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and last night Commander Lane read it to the camp.

A motion prevailed that it be accepted, a rising vote of thanks being tendered, and that a copy of it be spread upon the minutes.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They fail to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

PITTIABLE CASE OF DESERTION

GIRL IN SERIOUS CONDITION HAS NOT PROPER CARE

CITY LACKS AN AMBULANCE

Great Deal of Suffering Caused By This Fact - A Young Girl Cruelly Deserted At a Downtown Hotel Only Taken to the Hospital After Serious Delay

Deserted by relatives and friends, and with no one to administer to her wants other than the regular service at a cheap hotel on Jones street, a pretty girl of perhaps eighteen years of age, attractive in personality, was allowed to remain until this morning.

Last Friday night Jennie Smith, at least that is the name she registered, arrived at a hotel on Jones street. She was driven to the hotel in a carriage and the night clerk at the hotel tells that she was accompanied by a man and a woman who professed to be her father and sister. The two latter did not enter the hotel but waited outside until the girl, who was in a delicate condition, reached the inside of the building and was assisted to the desk by the night clerk. The other two people drove away in a carriage. She wrote her name Jennie Smith of Beaumont, although later she told that her home was in Houston.

She was taken to a room and a physician, who was boarding at the place, attended her.

Saturday night she gave birth to a child, which died immediately. The hotel people, on learning of her condition, wished her removal to a hospital and referred her to the Rescue Home. The police were called and they responded with the regular patrol wagon which was not suitable for such a case and the girl was allowed to suffer alone in a room in the hotel until this morning when the ambulance of the infirmary was secured and the girl was taken to the Rescue Home.

The girl was well dressed and appeared to have money.

GENERAL PRESS COMMENT

Detroit Free Press: Almost any Michigan cow is worth $30 after she has been shot by an amateur hunter.

Chicago News: If Emperor William's book does not sell at home he should not be discouraged before he hears the returns from Milwaukee.

Philadelphia Press: The Hon. J. Edward Addicks declares that he began in 1893 his work of making Delaware a Republican state, and that he has expended $250,000 on the job.

Minneapolis Journal: Senator Clapp predicts the ultimate union of the United States and Canada. The prediction is good, but what we want now is reciprocity. Our statesmen must not waste time dreaming about annexation when reciprocity is the task at hand.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The state supreme court has declared void the constitutional amendment allowing three-fourths of a jury in any court of record to render a verdict in civil suits. There will be no further trouble from the "obstinate eleven" in these cases.

Washington Star: When railroads have more business on hand than they can comfortably handle, it is difficult to see why any of them should feel the necessity of combining to hold up rates. A project to increase facilities would appear to be more in keeping with the situation.

Minneapolis Times: Congressmen who are in a position to know whereof they speak have announced that there will be no ship subsidy legislation at the coming session. The unpopularity of the idea, particularly in the West, has been so fully demonstrated that even its original supporters are disposed to fight shy of it.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: It appears it was all a mistake about Booth Tarkington's election to the Indiana legislature. He wasn't elected. On the contrary, he ran behind his ticket considerably. Which seems to show that while there is a good deal of fiction about politics, you can't mix the two professions successfully.

Indianapolis Sentinel: From a practical standpoint it is useless to impose penalties on both vote-buyers and vote-sellers. That simply insures immunity for both. The only possibility of stopping the demoralization of voters is to make vote-buying so dangerous that people will not engage in it. It is the vote-buyer who has the initiative. If nobody were offering money for votes none would be sold.

THE WORST SINCE 1888

That is What Those in Hillsboro Say About The Rains. HILLSBORO, Texas, Nov. 25.—Citizens who are posted say the present wet spell is the worst since 1888. Business is practically suspended. But little cotton has been picked during the past three weeks and very little marketed. Roads are as bad as they can be. There is some difference among the farmers as to the damage to cotton. Some say it has been injured but little and others declare it is ruined. Wheat is almost large enough to joint.

Trapped

"Are you fond of birds?" she asked innocently, as she stood at the piano fumbling the music. "I dearly love them," he replied with never a shadow of suspicion. Then she ran her slender fingers over the keys and began to sing: "Oh, Would I Were a Bird." A new nest will be built in the spring.—Chicago News.

Paine's Celery Compound CURES RHEUMATISM

The Only Medicine that Prevents a Return of the Terrible Disease.

Rheumatism, which does its terrible work in the muscles, joints and tissues, is caused by uric acid which gathers in the blood. To get rid of this poisonous acid which produces the irritations, pains, agonies, inflammations, and swellings peculiar to rheumatism, Paine's Celery Compound should be used without delay. No other medicine gives such prompt, cheering, and happy results. It is the only medicine that prevents a return of the dreaded disease. Paine's Celery Compound braces the nerves, the blood is quickly cleared of all irritating poisons, tissue and muscle are built up, and the digestive organs perfectly toned. Do not treat with indifference the slightest rheumatic symptoms; the early use of Paine's Celery Compound will save you weeks and months of suffering. Mr. S. D. Conway, St. Louis, Mo., was permanently cured by Paine's Celery Compound after repeated failures with other medicines and physicians; he says: "I am 64 years of age, and have lived in St. Louis 27 years, and all this time with the exception of three years, I have served in the Engineers' Department as Inspector. Last winter I contracted rheumatism and was laid up. I tried all remedies and doctors, but all failed until I struck Paine's Celery Compound, which has made a permanent cure in my case. I have recommended it to many, and they have used it with the same result."

CHAMBERLAIN STARTS FOR SOUTH AFRICA

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 25.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain started for South Africa today amid the cordial farewells of a large circle of friends. The couple traveled by train to Portsmouth, where they boarded the armored cruiser Good-hope. The warship is stocked with many live sheep, chickens and three hundred cases of wine.

COTTON DOWN TEN POINTS AND THEN UP

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Cotton opened weak today. There was a decline of four to eleven points. It soon rallied on reports of heavy rains in the cotton belt and all other parts of Texas, with prospects for a heavy freeze tonight. Reports from Arkansas are in and show conditions of the staple to be very poor.

COLORADO WANTS SHOPS.

Sees Evidence That the T. and P. Railroad Will Move Them There. (Special to The Telegram.)

COLORADO, Tex., Nov. 25.—Division Superintendent J. W. Ward of the Texas and Pacific Railway company was in Colorado a few days ago to confer with the leading men of the city in regard to damming a creek in the edge of the city to make a large reservoir for the use of the railroad. The dam will more than likely be built and the people of Colorado are much elated over it, for they believe it is unmistakable evidence that the machine shops will be moved from Big Springs to this place. They were overflowed and very seriously damaged at Big Springs this summer during the big rains.

A large crowd of the Woodmen of the World from Colorado camp attended and participated in the unveiling services at the monument of Sovereign J. D. Mitchell, a prominent stockman, at Gail last Sunday. A large crowd assembled and a very imposing and affecting service was performed.

Consul Commander Lofton of the Dunn camp, fourteen miles north of here, died Sunday night. Mrs. J. C. Clark, wife of a prominent and good citizen, died Monday.

The monuments to two Woodmen will be unveiled here December 7 and all Woodmen are cordially invited to attend and participate, especially those in the surrounding counties.

Cotton is coming in nicely now. A pretty fair crop will be made, better than was at first expected. The seed is commanding a fancy price. The weather has been very mild thus far and nice showers have been falling the past week. Grass is good, cattle fat and prospects are unusually promising.

Chicago is the best organized city of carpenters in the country, having a membership of nearly 6,000.

The Women's Butchers' Union, at the Chicago stock yards, has 600 members. St. Louis has a similar union.

A BUSINESS DAY IN VARIOUS COURTS

In the seventeenth district court at the noon adjourning hours Judge Smith charged the jury in the case of C. M. Templeton vs. J. H. Armstrong et al.

In the Forty-eighth district court the case commenced yesterday, that of J. W. Bicknell vs. J. M. Moore, et al., is still on. However, the cause was dismissed as to J. M. Moore and wife, and was put on trial with Winfield Scott as defendant. The suit grows out of a proposition in the nature of a contract to purchase the Metropolitan hotel.

In the county court the case of L. S. Eddings vs. the Texas and Pacific Railroad company, suit on alleged damages to shipment of stock, taken up yesterday, had not been concluded when an adjournment was taken at noon.

Sheriff Hoena yesterday afternoon served those of the indictments returned last Saturday on prisoners already in jail, among them being—Roy G. Robertson, forgery, four cases.

A. M. Newman, theft from person. James Murphy, theft from person. Joe Burnett, theft of over $50. Harrison Douglas and Chas. Saunders, robbery.

Minnie Strauss, assault to murder. Lizzie Walker, alias "Little Bit," theft from person. Maggie Price, burglary.

Defendants in the other cases have not been arrested hence names are withheld.

Commissioners in Session The county commissioners are in session today. They passed on a number of claims, and approved the individual appointments made by the reorganized court. The only appointments considered today were those of J. D. Chapman, in charge of convict camp No. 1; Joe Fuller, camp No. 2; Sid Higgins, camp No. 3; Thos. J. Wood, camp No. 4. The salaries are $50 per month, and camp No. 4 will not be established until after January 1, 1903.

Henry Yates was made head jailor at the court house and Jack Page assistant, salaries being $60 and $50 respectively.

One Marriage License Abe Mery was granted a license to marry Miss Sattie Sandfield.

Suits Filed There were three divorce suits filed, two of which are for cruel treatment alleged on the part of defendants. The names must be pronounced on the installment plan, and if your tongue doesn't become paralyzed in the attempt, then it is up to you. They are: Mollie Oikentzky vs. Albert Oikentzky.

M. M. Rolafstzcky vs. W. G. E. W. Rolafstzcky.

P. C. Gomez vs. Lottie Gomez, abandonment alleged.

Minnie Strauss in Jail Minnie Strauss, the negroess, is in jail on a charge of theft from person. The story of Minnie was told yesterday. After a half day's examination she waived further investigation and was bound over in the sum of $750, in
