Today's Fort Worth Telegram,

Today's issue of The Fort Worth Telegram contains, pages and an illumined cover-7 pages in all. The particular raison d' etre of this issue lies in the belief that the time is ripe for the sending broadcast throughout the land some idea of the strides that Fort Worth is making in this rapid age of progress and prosperity, of depicting in story and picture the growth and development of Fort Worth—the coming metropolis of a Great Southwest.

The Telegram feels it as a matter of great pride that an issue so large and so complete as this one is, almost in its entirety, a product of its own plant. Particularly is this matter of pride one of self congratulation because of the really limited facilities that are at hand with which to get out, what The Telegram believes, is the largest and handsomest piece of newspaper enterprise that has ever been accomplished in the state of Texas. When The Telegram's new press is at work the publication of an issue of this kind and character will not be such an undertaking.

Greater Fort Worth! Only those who have been living in Fort Worth for some time can really feel the thrill of pride that goes with the suggestion. Only those who have been residents of the city for five years or more feel the significance of those two magical words. Those who are now numbered among Fort Worth's 35,000 will be able to verify the many evidences of prosperity in Fort Worth that are shown in this issue of The Telegram. To others not so fortunately favored The Telegram merely suggests that they come and see for themselves. It is to these people that The Telegram is making its particular appeal.

Thousands of copies of today's Telegram will be sent out of Fort Worth. They will go to almost every corner of the civilized globe,, bearing their message of progress and prosperity. This seeding will bring forth rich fruit for the community.

To every merchant, to every business man who has given his aid in this undertaking The Telegram expresses its highest appreciation. Without their assistance this undertaking would have been Greater Fort Worth! A toast to which The Telegram rises to drink with its every reader. May our every wish and every desire for our beloved city be fully gratified during the years to come. THE FORT WORTH TELEGRAM CO.,

$25.00 Given to Purchasers of Lots!

These lots will be sold at $200 each, payable $10 cash and the remainder in monthly installments of $10 each.

Every purchaser receives a certificate that entitles him to share in the distribution of lots and money aggregating $2,500 in value that WILL BE GIVEN AWAY ABSOLUTELY FREE. GREATER FORT WORTH

It is in the air that Fort Worth is the coming city of the Southwest. Everybody is talking Fort Worth. The great packing houses of Armour and Swift, located in North Fort Worth, are now employing people enough to make a good sized city, and they have only begun operation. They will repeat history, and do here what they have done in South Omaha and South St. Joseph, and that means a city of 15,000 people in North Fort Worth. When that time comes, these lots will be worth $1,000 a piece. Lots in adjoining blocks are now selling at $250 to $400. There is an active demand for lots in North Fort Worth, and if you don't want to miss this opportunity, come at once, before the lots are all sold.

Thousands of Yards of Colored Cotton Dress Fabrics

At the Lowest Prices Recorded This Season

SOUTH ROOM

ING COTTON has not lost his prestige-in fact, just the reverse-for wash weaves were never more popular than at the present time. In view of this fact it seems anamalous to offer the best styles and patterns of the season at such reductions from the regular asking. Circumstances over which a merchant has no control often conduce to break prices just when an act is least expected. We'll not particularize, however, on the reasons wherefore these reductions. They are sufficiently important to attract customers, for they make

Prices Touch the Lowest Level of the Season

Women who need another summer dress or two, or who wish to buy for future use, would be wise to take advantage of an opportunity such as this whereby they may effect a considerable saving and at the same time secure the choicest weaves that come from the looms.

Graduating Day Gifts

But two short weeks remain until the all-eventful day in the lift of many a youth or maiden will be here-Commencement Day. Naturally the minds of many friends and dear ones are turned to the problem of some suitable present as a memento of this proud day in the life of a graduate. Of course there will be flowers in profusion, but most people would like to give something that would be kept always as a sweet reminder of the happy occasion. We should suggest a book, a favorite poet, beautifuly illustrated; for example, "The Christy Riley Book," or some popular work of fiction like "Under the Rose." Then there are Fans, beautiful silk and gauze ones, hand-painted and point lace, trimmed, with dainty ivory sticks; or you might prefer a parasol in some dainty color or combination of silk and chiffon to match a pretty gown. We can please you in any of these things and help you to

It is a miserable superstition, a superstition which has done a great deal toward degrading the world.

A true marriage is indeed holy, but a false marriage is of all things the most unholy; and those who have been fortunate enough to get out of such marriages ought certainly to be allowed to marry again.

So speaks the world's common sense. So speaks mankind's straightforward, unsophisticated sense of right and justice; and if the bishops and their clergy won't marry them the marriage will have to be per-

COMPANY MARINE

Wholesale Druggists & Fort Worth, Tex.

It is with some pride that we announce to the drug trade of Central, North, South and West Texas, as well as to the Indian Territory and Oklahoma, our position as jobbers of Drugs and Druggists' Sundries. This business was commenced at Weatherford, Texas, and met with so much encouragement, that the managers concluded to come to Fort Worth, increase the capital stock and build a house suited to our requirements. We landed here in November, but were not fully prepared to serve the trade until January 1. Since that time, our business has increased and our horizon has grown brighter each day, until we are now busy from morning until night, shipping goods to our hundreds of friends who find Fort Worth their logical market. We wish to call attention to the fact that this city has eleven trunk lines of railroad which make Fort Worth easily the best distributing point in Texas. The vast territory west, southwest and northwest of this city should come to Fort Worth for their drugs, for the reason that we can reach this section of the country on a lower freight rate than any other jobbing point, and make quicker delivery. North and south of us we can reach many towns more readily than any jobber outside of Fort Worth, and as a consequence our trade is good from these sections also.

Our Graveling Men Will Soon be Covering the Greater Portion of Texas

And we also receive a splendid trade from Indian Territory and Oklahoma. Having so recently located here and receiving orders as we do from customers hundreds of miles away in various directions. it is naturally the case that most of our constituents we have never met, and we want to take this opportunity of saying to them one and all when you come to Fort Worth, be sure to look us up, we want to shake your hand and show you one of the prettiest and most convenient drug houses in the state. We want you to make our house your headquarters while in the city, and do not fail to call on us for any favors you may require.

To the dealers whom we have not had the pleasure of knowing in a business way, we extend an invitation to visit us; write us, and send us an open order, and we will show you how well we can serve you by making prompt shipments and correct prices. Fort Worth has advantages as a railroad center and distributing point that are causing it to be freely predicted that our population will double inside of five years. While we are not prophets nor the sons of prophets, we think the above suggestion strictly within the limits of probability; and while the country is developing and the city is developing, we expect by adhering to strictly business principles and treating our friends as they deserve, to go forward step by step until we occupy a place in the minds and the hearts of the people.

Second to no Jobbing House in the Southwest

We are prepared to do business with the least possible expense, as we own our building, which is situated on the railroad track for handling car lot shipments; we have every facility obtainable for dispatch of business and are constantly perfecting our force in the house and on the road, and we have ample capital to discount our purchases so as to enable us to make the best prices possible. These advantages and this policy indicate success and permanency and you may rest assured that the new house which is reaching out for trade will always show more solicitude and go further to please than older firms that feel sure of their position and are jealous of fancied rights. The former is ambitious and enthusiastic; the latter independent and as a rule exacting. We kindly request that after having noticed this announcement, you will sit down before you forget it, make out a mail order and send it direct to

Telephone Co.'s Lines

Operating west of Weatherford, by The Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, involving nearly 1000 miles of wire and about forty towns in western Texas, including Abilene, Cisco, Eastland. Strawn, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells and Granby, is but another of the Southwestern Company's many progressive steps taken during the last year towards the development of their extensive territory. Copper metallic circuits are to be strung and the lines put in first-class condition. The fact that the Southwestern Company has acquired these lines may be taken as sufficient assurance that the public will be given the same prompt and efficient service that characterizes their service elsewhere, and Fort Worthians may congratulate themselves on securing these long sought connections.

Additional toll and exchange facilities made necessary by the continued and remarkable growth in telephone traffic during 1902 will doubtless have to be added to during the present year, as they are all but outgrown. This enterprising company has completed

 DEHORN CATTLE, CASTRATE AND

DOCK LAMBS

It pays to dehorn your cattle when they are on good grass, and use Shoo Fly Horn Paint. It is a positive remedy to prevent flies from blowing the wound after the removal of the horns. Has been used on 15,000 cattle the past 3 years, during fly infested months. Not one animal was fly blown. One trial on a few head will fully convince any one; only one application is necessary. Neither age nor air will destroy the effectiveness of the Paint. Good any time. One quart is sufficient for 125 herd of yearlings or 100 grown cattle. Sold at $1.25 per pt. $2.00 per qt. $3.50 per ½ gal, and $5.00 per gal. Endorsed by leading cattlemen. Write for circular giving full particulars and testimonials.

After castrating and docking lambs, paint the cuts with Shoo Fly Horn Paint. It prevents infection by flies, stops the blood, corrects putrification, and heals the wound quickly. One quart is ample for 300 lambs.

Discovered and manufactured by H. B. READ, Postoffice, Ogallals, Neb. For sale at leading stock yards and druggists at the county seats throughout the west, south and southwest.

The location of his ranch in the Cherokee Strip had given Colonel Dean abundant opportunity to observe the disastrous effects of cattle from parts of Texas and the Indian Territory going into or passing through the cattle pastures of the Cherokee Strip and Kansas. He had noticed that when cattle from the timbered region of Texas and the Territory were put into or driven through pastures in the strip or Kansas, the native cattle invariably died in large numbers in thirty to forty days thereafter, while no such results followed the introduction of cattle from the prairie region. THE CHAMPION HUSBAND.

The champion married man and exwidower is Fritz Kottman, a citizen of Creglingen, in the kingcom of Wurtemberg. He has been married eleven times, and he as only just turned fifty. Fritz is simply an honest fellow who had hard lines with wives and they, in turn, had the hardest luck. The entire batch died more or less dramatically. Each one of his first three dieu auer nine months of honeymoon. His two following wives were drowned accidentally. Two more met their deaths in an avalanche. The next one committed suicide. The tenth was torn to pieces by a mad bull, and the eleventh, his present wife, has only one arm and one leg, the missing limbs having been carried away by a railroad train.

A number of wells have been sunk, which are being connected by subterranean tunnels, and up which the water is brought to the surface. This work, now almost completed, has undergone tests which guarantee its ability to provide a daily supply of 10,000,000 gallons, or enough to provide for the wants of a city of 150,000 inhabitants. As this supply can be easily increased at any time by boring more and deeper wells, it is felt that the problem of a pure water supply has been solved for a century to come, even making allowance for the anticipated growth of the

The wholesale trade of Fort Worth is To I large and it is increasing very rapidly Brow throughout the immense region of what To I is generally called by jobbers "our terri- Balli tory." This region, as shown in an article To I elsewhere, includes some 250,000 square Roge miles where there is no competing city To I and where we have advantages in freight Mila: rates over any other jobbling joint. This To D territory stretching from a line due north $60 miles, covers a quarter circle to a point due west for the same distance. Besides this territory, covering an area equivalent to two average states, sales are made to the southwest and south of this city to a large extent, with an advantage on all except for those cities and in those articles where ocean transportation becomes an important factor. We have, therefore, the Fort Worth territory and the debatable region.

The following figures show the rates on freight as between Fort Worth and Dallas over the different railroads:

Raising Poultry 2 2 2 In Texas

Poultry raising does not receive the attention in Texas to which it is entitled. While the finer breeds of poultry have been introduced on many ? farms, the old barnyard stock still predominates. On account of the short & and mild winters, it is an easy matter, with generous treatment, to induce the early hatched pullets to lay all winter. and it is also easy to hatch chickens in winter and get them ready for market early. The same will apply to ducks and geese. The raising of poultry is considered a business of minor importance and is greatly neglected though. pound for pound, poultry meat can be X raised for less than half the cost of either pork of beef, and generally sells | at a higher figure. There are better $ promises, however, shead for the poulry business in Texas.

Agony From Inherited Heart Disease. Cured Me.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Unless promptly treated a weak heart will easily become a diseased heart. A little extra strain from any cause is sufficient to bring on this deadly malady, the most common cause of sudden death. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will tone up the heart's action, enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

"My trouble began with catarrh and I have always supposed it caused the trouble I have experienced with my heart. I had the usual stipation, palputation of the heart, shortness of breath and pain around the heart and under left arm. My mother suffered in the same way and I suppose mine was an inherited tendency. At one time I was in agony. I suffered so severely and became so weak that my doctors said I could not live thirty days. At this time I had not slept over two bours a night on account of nervousness. The least exercise, such as walking about, would bring on palpotation and fluttering of the figures given elsewhere. Were the the heart so severe that I would have to give crew. It reeled into Fort Worth over the implest, bumplest track ever laid. But train wasn't drunk, nor the people. It was evidently laboring under great excitement, and despite all obstacles it was determined "to git thar." The Texas & Pacific railroad had topped like a balky mule at Dallas. A bag of feed was held up beyond its nose in the shape of the biggest lot of land within the city of Fort Worth ever offered any road. A half section of land, 320 in a strip 1,500 feet wide clear across the city, now worth a good, round million dollars. The mule started toward it and then balked; got as far as Eagle seen that it would have to b towline" came into use then for a grand lows at this end of it. pany was organized to construct, build, maintain, operate, engineer, finance, wreck or ruin railroads in and for Tarantowit, et cetera. This was the first piece of failway that was ever constructed without money and yet built on a level and handled on the square. Stock in the T. C. C. C. was payable in hay, cets or stubble, in labor of men, horses, oxen, mules or jackasses. The road had to reach Fort Worth by July 20, 1876, in orfer to secure the immense bonus offered. When the road came within a few miles of the city and the time grew short, such mailroad building was never seen before nor since. The ties were slapped down on the unbroken sod four feet apart, the light tails tacked on loosely, and on they went, lown into the valley of Sycamore Creek up out of it and on, on. On a prominent spot was seen Colonel Zane-Cetti, city engineer. He was planted on the east boundary line of Fort Worth, and when that wheezy old engine "crossed the line" there was as much noise as aboardship on merchant vessels. There were cheers, shouts and an everlasting din from that wheezy but game old locomotive.

Fort Worth's enterprise in bringing in the Texas & Pacific road has been apprecisted by that road in a practical way. There is located here the finest passenger station in the world in any city of less than 40,000 people. Its railway shops here employ a large number of men. Its new freight house is one of the largest and finest in the state, while its many lines of tracks, stretching east and west, afford fine facilities for making up trains for this and other roads. The road paid some $30,000 toward the cost of our new fron viaduct spanning these tracks and connecting the business portion of the city with its most rapidly developing residence store for Fort Worth.

No agency in promoting the growth of a city is more important than the press. There is no indication of future progress so alert as a live newspaper and so efficient in pointing the way to greater development. The Telegram for less than a year under control of the present management has quadrupled its circulation and vastly increased its business. It has made a Sunday issue, heretofore tried unsuccessfully, a great, an overwhelming success. By the use of new type, attractive headlines, special illustrating and news features and especially in the proper and legitimate development of news, society and literary features. The Evening Telegram has gone ahead rapidly, substantially and irresistibly to the very front rank in the journalism of the Southwest. But the end is not yet. Having outgrown its present facilities, Mr. Reimers announces the purchase of a fine $14,500 color printing press, equal to the best used in cities the size of Denver or Minneapolis.

This special edition is the outgrowth of an ambitious and masterful purpose; of the energy and intelligence which makes great newspapers and makes them a power for good. Busily engaged in my own special line of journalism, I was asked to write the leading articles and to edit this number of The Telegram. It has been a labor of love and of supreme faith in this city of great possibilities. If this issue of The Telegram is well adapted to push the name and fame of the "Greater Fort Worth" buy copies by the dozen for your uncles, aunts and "cuzens" and send them broadcast all over the country.

REPAIRS OF BRICK AND CLAY WORKING MACHINERY A SPECIALTY.

Builders of the "ACME" Gasoline Engines

The company is now established in its new buildings on Main and North Second streets (across the river from the Court House, by the bridge). Its new quarters are ample in space, its capacity greatly increased, and its facilities for the quick and efficient filling of orders is unsurpassed by any similar establishment in

The plant is now in operation and every class of work heretofore turned out from this massive plant will be given special and prompt attention.

Several years experience in the manufacture of Artesian well-drilling machinery have brought us in business contact with practical well drillers all over the state, and rendered us fully acquainted with the wants of the trade, and the insufficiency of the various kinds of machinery heretofore offered to fill them. We have long been thoroughly alive to the necessity of a machine for drilling wells that would be light to handle, strong, durable and simple in construction. This perfection has been attained in the construction of "The Fort Worth Well Machine," which is built by us, and which combines all the best features of other machines without their defects.
