

PRESIDENT DUE IN WASHINGTON

After An Absence of Over Two Months He Reaches Home APPOINTMENTS FOR CANAL COMMISSION Valuable Plums Will Not Be Given Immediately It Is Said

WASHINGTON, June 5.—After an absence of over nine weeks, during which time he has traveled thousands of miles and visited the most remote points of the far west and northwest, President Roosevelt is due to reach the national capital at an early hour this evening.

Just how long the president will spend in Washington upon his return is not known at the White House. The supposition is that he will not tarry many weeks at his offices, and that he and his family will be installed at their summer home in Oyster Bay early in July, probably by the first of the month.

It is not thought to be likely that the president will take up for the present the appointment of an isthmian canal commission. The appointments involved in this commission are the best that will be given to the president in many years.

TO ATTEND WEDDING President Roosevelt is scheduled to make three more presidential trips within the next few weeks. He has accepted the invitation of Senator Hanna to attend the wedding of his daughter and Mr. McCormick of Chicago, and will go to Cleveland next Tuesday.

Mrs. Roosevelt is already making preparations for the summer sojourn at Camp Bay and will sail for the island with the family before July 1, if the president is detained here. The children will all be out of school a week hence, and will want to get away from Washington as much as their parents.

MACHEN'S CASE IS BEFORE GRAND JURY

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The case of August W. Machen, late superintendent of free delivery service of the postoffice department, who is charged with having received bribes to the amount of $10,000 in connection with the department contracts, was presented to the federal grand jury yesterday.

Assistant District Attorney Taggart represented the government. The first witness was Andrew McBeth, a chief of the first division in the office of the auditor of the postoffice department. He was under examination for several hours.

Inspector Mayer, who worked up the case against Machen, followed McBeth. Another witness who was present to give testimony was Mr. Eckliff, cashier of the Second National bank of Washington.

the south, where the receipts were all very largely below expenses and where carriers do not perform the amount of service for which they are paid.

He said that the question has not yet been taken up. A rearrangement of the divisions of the rural free delivery service, however, is one of the possible results of the investigation.

A LITTLE DOG WINS PARDON FOR MASTER

NEW YORK, June 5.—Although John Foley, once a dry goods expert with a salary of $15,000 a year, got on the downward track and lost friends, a single heart, beating beneath the shaggy coat of his little Scotch terrier, Boko, remained true through the road of despair and drunkenness that led him to the gutter, for it was in the gutter that he was found lying at the junction of Eighteenth street and Third avenue.

The little dog sat upon his breast, to the wonder and love of the crowd, valiantly barking and illogically snapping at those who would have got his master out of the danger of the police.

When they carried the man into the cell, Boko, the emotion in his heart too deep for a bark, cried to go with him. And Captain Gallagher consented. Boko passed the night in the cell by his master's side. With grave dignity he stood before Magistrate Zeller, prepared to accept his full share of responsibility for any crime.

"Go home," said the judge to Foley, "and learn a lesson in patience, courage and love from your friend."

HORRIBLE STORY BECOMING KNOWN

First Fears Regarding massacre at Smerdesch Are More Than Confirmed—Over Two Hundred Murdered

MONASTIR, European Turkey, Sunday, May 31.—Horrible details are arriving here of the slaughter of the inhabitants of the village of Smerdesch, south of Lake Presha, May 21, by Bashk Bazouks. It appears that on the arrival of Bashk Bazouks Shukaloff's band of insurgents withdrew to the mountains without sustaining any loss.

As no rebels were left in the village the inhabitants experienced no anxiety until, suddenly, at sunset the Turks, who had completely surrounded the place, commenced a regular bombardment, whereupon all the villagers assembled in the streets. Through the artillery ceased firing during part of the night, the Turkish infantry fired all night long.

The artillery bombardment was recommenced at daybreak, but as it was ineffective the Turks set fire to the village on all sides and commenced a general massacre, slaughtering women, children and the aged.

WORK WELL IN HAND

"The immediate task of caring for the homeless and housing, clothing and providing for them is well in hand. There is no suffering unrelieved. The spirit of the people is splendid. The conduct of the flood victims is admirable. The governments of the two cities have sanitation and policing well in hand. There are no disturbances; there is not even disorderliness."

SWIRLING STREAM AT ST. LOUIS

Mighty Mississippi Rising Under the Pressure of Northern Floods and Spreading for Miles Over the Lowland Farms

RIVERS ARE FALLING AT KANSAS CITIES

Waters Receding As Rapidly As They Rose, Leaving a Deposit of Mud and Slime—Rescue Work Is Progressing Successfully.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The river this morning attained a stage of 33.5 feet, a rise of 1.4 feet during the past twenty-four hours. The crest of the flood which is expected by Sunday may be 38 feet and may go even higher, as the rivers north and west are still pouring in their quantities of waste water. In north and south St. Louis the river is several miles wide. Along the river front it is encroaching on buildings, making it necessary to move household goods and business stocks.

RIVER FALLING AT KANSAS CITY KANSAS CITY, June 5.—The rivers here are now falling as rapidly as they rose before the flood. The Missouri river has fallen a foot and nine inches the past twenty-four hours and at 7 o'clock this morning the government gauge registered 21.

By Saturday noon the platform of the union depot is likely to be partially above water. Permanent wire communication has opened up between the two Kansas Cities today for the first time since Sunday, and this will aid wonderfully in the work of restoring order. Several thousand refugees from Armourdale and other districts who have been housed in convention hall were removed today to tents because of the unsanitary condition of convention hall.

STATEMENT OF CONDITIONS AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 5.—The citizens' general relief committee of Kansas City, Mo., has issued a statement to the public giving thanks and offers of aid and asking that assistance be sent to Kansas City, Kan. The statement follows: NOT A DISASTER

"As we decline, at this time, to accept assistance from without, it is because we believe it our duty to meet the situation which confronts us to the fullest extent of our ability. The calamity which has come to us is no doubt great, but it is not disaster."

THE CONDITIONS

"To the general public of the country not familiar with our city, it may be proper to state that the two Kansas Cities—that of Missouri and that of Kansas—are in the main situated on high bluffs. Between the two cities lies a low bottom country, which, owing to its accessibility, by railroads has grown up a great distributing center, where are located many of our wholesale houses and manufacturing establishments. Through this section flows the Kansas river. The same bottom country has many residences of the working people clustered about the manufacturing and wholesale houses, and to the south, up the Kansas river, includes the hamlets of Armourdale, Riverdale and Argentine, all in our neighboring state—Kansas. This bottom land known among us as west Kansas, is the severest sufferer. The water has reached here a level of ten feet, and there is every reason to fear that there has been great injury to the property of the poor and to the goods and possibly the buildings of wholesale merchants and manufacturers. But until these districts are accessible, and they will not be until possibly next Monday, it is futile to estimate the damage and to make any intelligent statement of the relief necessary."

WORK WELL IN HAND

"The immediate task of caring for the homeless and housing, clothing and providing for them is well in hand. There is no suffering unrelieved. The spirit of the people is splendid. The conduct of the flood victims is admirable. The governments of the two cities have sanitation and policing well in hand. There are no disturbances; there is not even disorderliness."

BLAME MASSACRE ON A NEWSPAPER

Russian Press Virtually Admits That Bessarabietz Inflamed the Populace By Its Anti-Semite Utterances

ST. PETERSBURG, May 23.—There is virtual unanimity of opinion in the press barring the anti-Semitic papers, that the author of the strained relations and of the ritual murder calumnies was the newspaper Bessarabietz.
A petition of the Jewish community of Kishineff to the director of the department of police, Lopoukhin, in pointing this out, says:
"In Bessarabia generally and in Kishineff properly there were no strained relations between Jews and Christians until a very recent date. This is explained by the peaceful and orderly character of the local population and the comparative prosperity of the province. During twenty years or more there had been no conflict whatever between the two elements of the population and when Jews were being pillaged all through the south and southwest Russia the ordinary peaceful life of Bessarabia remained undisturbed."
The Jewish society named the Bessarabietz as the direct instigator of the trouble.
"This newspaper was established five years ago," the report stated, "until its appearance there was no local organ of the press. It, therefore, found virgin soil and from the beginning had a tremendous influence. In its second year the Bessarabietz began a regular and systematic baiting of the Jewish population. In fact, Jew-baiting became its recognized speciality."
"This has long been known to every reader of the Russian newspaper scarcely a month passing without the citation of some anti-Semitic utterance of this paper by other papers."
"We could quote articles," the report continued, "which amounted to a simple call for the extermination of the Jews en masse."
The Jewish communication went on to say that the local censorship administered by the vice governor evidently approved the course of the Bessarabietz, and directed attention to the persistent refusal of the St. Petersburg press administration to permit the establishment of any other newspaper at Kishineff. The Bessarabietz continued preaching "death to the Jews" and "all Jews should be killed off" until the massacre, its attacks culminating in the accusation of ritual murder. The Jewish community established these facts and then related that leaflets were handed about the streets and posted in the cheap restaurants and taverns, saying "the czar has decided to kill the Jews during the first three days of Easter."

DINNER FOR THE MAN WHO FIGHTS POLICY
NEW YORK, June 5.—About 200 of the friends of Captain F. Norton Goddard and the Anti-Policy Society have given a dinner at the Hotel Savoy to signalize the society's work in the suppression of policy in this city. Among the letters read was one from President Roosevelt, which said:
"It is a matter of real regret to me that I cannot be present at the dinner to my friend, Captain Goddard. Not only do I value him as a friend, but I have always felt that if we had a few more men like him, each to do in his district the work Captain Goddard has done in his, the gain for decent government would be literally incalculable."

HONORS ACCORDED TO EDMOND ROSTAND

PARIS, June 5.—A brilliant assemblage was present at the reception just given to Edmond Rostand, the dramatist, by the French Academy, to which he was elected a member in 1901. The author of "Cyrano de Bergerac" was enthusiastically greeted. There were over 5,000 applications for tickets, and as the institute holds only 1,500 persons ticket-holders who were anxious to obtain good seats had men in waiting outside the building all night.

ASSURANCE COMPANY WITHDRAWS AGENTS

BERLIN, June 5.—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York has given notice to the government that it will stop taking fresh business in Germany June 20. This step was due to the fact that under the new Imperial Insurance law companies must conform to its provisions or refuse. The Equitable, with other American companies, was excluded from doing business in Prussia in 1895 and has been operating the concessions of some of the German states, notably the Hanseatic territories. The Imperial law embraces all the states.
Several British and two Scandinavian companies will also withdraw from Germany June 20.

LIBERAL DONATIONS TO KISHINEFF FUND

FORT WORTH'S TOTAL IS NEARLY $300

At Last Night's Meeting $98.55 Was Subscribed—Hearing Speeches by Mayor Powell, Capt. Paddock, Congressman Gillespie and Judge B. R. Webb

The sum of $98.55 for the survivors of the massacre of Jews at Kishineff, Russia, was added to the over $200 previously collected by L. G. Gilbert and B. Levison, at the meeting in the city hall auditorium last night. There were fully 300 persons in the audience when Chairman J. W. Spencer opened the meeting; it was a representative and earnest gathering.
The money collected by Messrs. Gilbert and Levison already has been forwarded to the survivors of the massacre at Kishineff and the money subscribed last night will be forwarded in the same way, through the general committee at New York.

If other cities throughout the United States contribute in proportion to population as liberally as Fort Worth, the oppressed Jews of Russia will be well provided for. Many of the survivors are reported as anxious to emigrate to the United States and a portion of the money subscribed will be devoted to furnishing them with transportation.
The invocation last night was uttered by Rev. Luther Little. Splendid speeches were made by Mayor Powell, O. W. Gillespie, Captain B. R. Paddock and Judge B. R. Webb.

MUSIC PROGRAM
There was an excellent music program in addition to the speeches. The favorite "Judith" was sung by Mrs. Maud Peters Ducker, who for an encore gave, "Mighty Lak a Rose." Miss Frida Glitky gave a vocal solo "Because of Thee." Miss Ida Goldstick who served as accompanist for the vocalists gave a piano solo. Mrs. Henry Compton's singing of "Esmeralda" brought such a hearty burst of applause that she gave for an encore one stanza of "Dixie," which was enthusiastically applauded. Prof. W. W. Heathcote was down for "reading," but being unable to attend the meeting he sent a favorite pupil, Miss Ethel Maynard, who gave a delightful rendition of humorous sketch entitled "His Courier." She was compelled to bow her acknowledgments several times. Miss Wasserman of Dallas gave several ballads including the "Banquet of Misery Hall."

RESOLUTIONS
The resolutions adopted by the meeting were as follows:
"Whereas, we have heard with deep regret of the numerous cruel atrocities which have been perpetrated upon the Jews resident in Russia, resulting in many instances in the death of the helpless men, women and children, therefore,
"Resolved, That believing, as we do,

THINGS TO KNOW

About Coffee and What it Does
"Here is a very hard worker and of an extremely nervous temperament. I fell into the habit of making coffee for both food and drink when my work was pushing me and my appetite poor," says a trained nurse.
"This I would do for a day or two and then be prostrated with heart trouble, fluttering, faint spells and other disagreeable feelings. One day I was persuaded to try Postum Food instead of coffee. I liked the Postum as well as the coffee and I found I could drink as much of it and as often as I wished, and instead of knocking me out, as coffee used to, I steadily gained in strength. I had no more trouble with my heart, no more bloating, and no more stomach sickness. I have now been using Postum 18 months in place of coffee, which means that I have given up coffee and sickness for all time. I will stick to Postum and be well in the future."
"My mother had been a great coffee drinker from her youth and had suffered all of the minor coffee ills, such as stomach trouble, heartburn, severe headaches, etc. She tried Postum, but did not make it right. Then I made some for her, boiling it 15 minutes, and did not tell her what it was; she wanted to know what brand of coffee it was that was so delicious. I had taken it out of her own box of Postum, and when I told her so, she was much surprised and pleased and has been drinking it ever since with the result that her coffee ills have disappeared and she is now healthy and contented."
"One of my patients (I am a trained nurse) is a girl suffering from ulcerated stomach and sometimes she does not eat a mouthful of food for several days. At such times she relies on Postum for nourishment. Since using Postum she gets over her attacks much quicker, is stronger and the attacks are less frequent than formerly. Her stomach seems to be getting better and we are quite certain that Postum will soon cure her completely."
"Another patient is a splendid example of what Postum can do. Her health had been very bad for three years, and a year ago she was a wreck from nervous prostration and the worst form of dyspepsia, heart trouble, etc. I made her leave off coffee and all other drinks and gave her Postum and she improved immediately. She is now able to attend to her home and says that Postum has given her a new lease of life. She feels like a new woman and is getting fat."

Albert Patterson, a student at the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, disappeared May 22. His hat, pierced by a bullet, was found on the campus the next day. The hat was blood-soaked. The following note was found on his desk: "No. 2. By May 29. Maximo."
He was engaged to marry Miss Hinman of Ann Arbor commencement day.
A butter plate has been found on a bank of the Huron river, near Ann Arbor, on which was pasted this message: "Albert Patterson's headless body will be found if the river is 'dugged' here."
It was signed by Patterson. He did not explain whether he had cut off his own head or got someone else to do it for him. It has been discovered that he was also engaged to be married commencement day to Miss Laura Fines of Cleveland. The police believe he placed the note on the notice and the butter plate was found and stuck to the message and he fled to the river to escape through the woods. He was seen by a man on the river bank.

LOAFERS AT DEPOT ARE NOT WANTED

A lady passenger at the Texas and Pacific passenger station lost her purse, containing a quantity of money and her railroad ticket, yesterday. The property is supposed to have been taken by a certain Fort Worth woman who was seen at the station a short time before the purse, which had been left on the seat a few minutes, was missed.
This loss has prompted the officials at the depot to announce that there is an ordinance prohibiting loafing or loitering of persons at the station who have no business there, and to inform them, both men and women, who are guilty of such practice that the law will be enforced.

ROUNDABOUT TRIPS OF LATEST NEWS

The recent storms in the west did great injury to the telegraph wires, but the daily papers came out each morning with the news of the world, and few people outside of the telegraph and newspaper offices knew how it was done or appreciated the expedients devised to get the messages through.
One night the wires were down between Omaha and Council Bluffs, just across the river. An electric light tower had been blown down upon them. All telegraphic communication with Omaha was cut off, but the messages came as usual and almost as quickly.
But they did a lot of traveling to get across the river. First they were telegraphed from Chicago to St. Louis, then to Kansas City, from Kansas City to Denver, and from Denver back to Omaha, making a distance of 2,000 miles to get across the Missouri river. This might have been shortened if the wires between Omaha and Kansas City had not been down also.
Recently the connection between Denver and San Francisco was broken. Dispatches were sent out from Chicago as usual, but could get no farther than Denver. There could be no question of their flying over a day or two. They simply had to go through. And they went, but by a roundabout way.
First they were sent back east, by way of Kansas City to St. Louis, and from there telegraphed down to El Paso, where they got on the Southern Pacific system, and reached San Francisco by way of Los Angeles. They traveled 2,000 miles out of the way to get there, but the morning papers had all the news the next morning.
Sioux City, Iowa, is only a little over a hundred miles from Omaha, yet one time, when connection was broken, messages traveled 1,500 miles to get from one city to the other.
The operator at Sioux City got a wire to St. Paul, Minn., and from there the dispatches ran down to Chicago and thence back to Omaha. In this case it certainly was an illustration of the proverb, "The longest way round is the shortest way home."

property of the working population than is now anticipated.

"And if so, we may have to call for assistance from without, but unless such a situation develops we see no cause for asking assistance."

"It is proper, however, to state that Kansas City, Kan., and the other neighboring towns in Kansas have suffered severely, and while Kansas City, Mo., generously came to their assistance, we must not stand in the way of assistance to our neighbors from other sections of the country. To all those willing to assist, these stricken towns we recommend that they address their offers to W. H. Craddock, mayor of Kansas City, Kan."

JAILED ON CHARGE BY HIS DAUGHTER

Joseph C. Leibel of Glenwood, whose occupation is given in the city directory as that of mining expert, was placed in the county jail this morning on the grave charge of attempted criminal assault.

The complaining witness is Leibel's own child, Laura, aged 13 years, and she alleged in the county attorney's office that her father had attempted the crime not once, but several times.

In Justice Rowland's office this morning a hearing of the case was set for next Monday morning. Meanwhile the man is in jail.

GAVE A CLEARANCE INSTEAD OF ORDER

Passenger trains Nos. 5 and 6, on the Texas and Pacific, collided at a point one and a half miles west of Jefferson yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Both trains are operated on fast schedules and the most fatal wreck in the history of the road was only narrowly averted. As it was, the engineers saw the approaching disaster in time to slow somewhat the speed of their respective trains.

DAILY SHORT STORY

ONE MAN'S HONOR.

BY VIVIAN CLARE HOWARD. "You are quite sure that you are really happy, dear—very happy?" And he looked over the side of a deep and lustrous sea, looking behind the friend's shoulder of the moon. Forgetful of the ubiquitous waiter, of everything but the sunset faded map before her, the girl impulsively stretched out both hands to him and said with shining eyes: "No, dear, happier than I ever hoped to be—happier than that at last the dream of my life is going to be realized—I shall go home, home to dear England again. I was very little when mamma and Grace and I left the old home after papa's death, but America has never seemed so beautiful to me as our dear home in Surrey."

"You cannot go back, Dick? Surely, surely you have not committed some crime which prevents you from going back. It isn't that? Say it isn't!" "Well, I'm not exactly a criminal, little girl, but I might just as well be," he said bitterly. "I should be treated like one if I went back, and everyone believes me to be the most despicable wretch on the face of the green earth."

"It's not good hearing for innocent ears like yours, little sweetheart; that is your right to know. I have told that when I came into my money at eighteen I kicked over all restraints and went the pace till—well, till I became the worst kind of a cropper. You see, Margrave and two or three others of the Oxford set came into their money at the same time, and, like a lot of hot-headed fools, we turned London upside down hunting for some very devilish in which to make ducks and drakes of it all. I

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated? He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

"But you cleared yourself, Dick?" He sighed a bit wearily. "No, dear, I didn't clear myself. Margrave was married to a sweet girl as ever lived—there were two little children when I got back—how could I tell? It would have meant social ostracism for them all—so I came out to New York, and met you. I love you, darling, and you shall judge. Shall we go back to England and straighten things out? It shall be as you say, little woman."

"But, Dick, think what it would mean to that other woman and those children—oh, I couldn't bear—and yet, when I think how you have suffered I could do anything, dear, dear Dick." She buried her face in her hands for a moment and the man watched her eagerly, anxiously.

"Dick, there is just one thing in the world I have always wanted more even than to go home; and that is to marry a hero. We'll stay here, dear, and you shall forget the pain and the hurt in my love."

CHRONIC SORES Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking, place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when rich, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

WASHES SAND OFF RAILS AT CURVES
The well-known El Paso and North-eastern engineer James Riddle is jointly interested in a recently patented device, which has for its object the increasing of the drawing capacity of locomotives, and is known as the DeLap railroad lubricator. It is well known among railway engineers that a train pulls easier on a wet rail than on a dry one, and to work over a wet rail is easier on an engine, provided it can be prevented from slipping. In drawing around short curves or up heavy grades an engineer frequently has to sand the tracks, which prevents the drivers from slipping, but makes the train pull much heavier. An idea of the great stress produced by a little sand on the track can easily be gained by anyone by merely pushing a handcar over a road crossing where there is a little sand or dust on the track. This new device is a hose from the tank, which ends in two flat nozzles, one over each rail back of the rear drivers and under the control of the engineer. When the engine strikes a curve or a grade the spray is turned on the rails and the train runs over a wet track, while all the sand used is washed off and friction thereby greatly reduced. The inventor, F. M. DeLap, who is now in Chicago, is an eastern man. Engineer Riddle is equally interested with the inventor and will endeavor to introduce the device on western roads. Mr. Riddle was in Chicago recently and since his return the invention has been given a trial on the A. & S. M. It was first put on No. 103, Mr. Riddle's engine, which makes daily trips up the hill to the log camp. Mr. Riddle says it makes a difference equal to about two cars in a train of fourteen, and he is able to pull bigger loads up the hill than ever before. The device will also be given an extended trial on No. 53 and one or more of the big compounds. To equip an engine with the DeLap lubricator costs less than $10 and is claimed will increase the drawing

SOME INVENTIONS LOST TO THE WORLD

A recent issue of the most prominent exponent of the steam engineering industry, Power, reviews a number of interesting instances which cannot do otherwise than convince even the most doubtful that engineering is today very far from having reached a pinnacle of perfection. Among other notes it states that it is hardly twenty years since John Waymouth, the Wolverhampton engineer and designer, discovered the motive power of heat, exhibited it in one of the simplest, cheapest and most useful engines imaginable and then deprived the world of its benefit. He had produced beforehand a round dozen of excellent inventions, which still bear his name, including the modern revolving chimney cowl, and, having made a large fortune, he devoted himself to harnessing the ordinary heat of a fire and making a new power of it. The idea was laughed at by all his friends, but after four years of study and experimenting he produced a stationary engine that gave double the power of any steam driven mechanism at about a third of the cost and also a small model heat locomotive large enough to draw a truck with a man in it.

KEPT THE SECRET TILL DEATH
He invited a committee of scientists and engineers, including Prois, Huxley and Forbes Brown, and showed them that his two machines worked to perfection. The affair made a great stir and it was proved that a great power of unlimited scope had been discovered. Waymouth was flooded with offers of huge sums for his invention, but, for no apparent reason, except, perhaps, the alleged madness of genius, he absolutely refused to either bring it out himself or sell the secret. He announced himself satisfied with the triumph of the invention and before his death, a year later, he destroyed all the papers and plans explaining the system and removed the essential parts of the two engines. These engines are still possessed by his heirs, but nobody has been able to make anything of them.

Still stranger was the famous loss of the recipe for the manufacture of diamonds, some fifteen years ago. Herbert Warner, who alone discovered and held the secret of diamond making, did not live to wreck the diamond industry, as people thought he would, and the circumstances of the loss were mysterious and tragic. Inferior diamonds can still be produced artificially, but only at a cost of about ten times their value. Warner, after years of experimenting, was able to turn out a genuine diamond of large size and of the first water at the cost of a small fraction of the complete stone's worth. He like Waymouth of heat power fame, manufactured his diamonds before an audience of scientists and produced three fine stones, which were tested and pronounced faultless. Two of them are still in existence and are the greatest curiosities the jewel world has ever seen. But within a fortnight of this triumph, before any new stones were put on the market, Warner utterly disappeared from his home on Harley street, London, leaving no trace whatever. So complete was his disappearance that from that day to this not the smallest explanation has been hit upon.

THE SECRET OF TALIAM
Then there is the lost secret of the wonderful new metal called "talium," which would certainly have been worth many millions to the nation and the inventor.

PANTHERS BACK IN SECOND PLACE

JACK JARVIS' FIRST GAME IS A WINNER

Dallas Finds Fireman's Curves Hard to Hit—Zook and Bateman Fight Out a Fierce Eleven-Inning Tie Game at Corsicana—Games Elsewhere

Corsicana's failure to win yesterday, while Fort Worth was overwhelming Dallas with runs, enabled the Panthers to just peep into second place. Fort Worth now leads Corsicana by one one-thousandth. Paris is almost too far away to be caught, and it looks like the laurels in the first championship series will be won by Ted Sullivan's team. The Steers open in Fort Worth this afternoon for a series of three games, and the way the Panthers are hitting the ball justifies the prediction that Ted's outfit will not get more than one game here.

The locals took a brace in their fielding yesterday, having only one error, and a field as they did yesterday Paris will have difficulty winning a game out of the series, as at present Fort Worth's pitching staff is doing grand work and the games that are lost are lost on fielding errors. In the Panthers' hitting department recently there has been nothing against which to lodge complaint.

JARVIS DID FINELY
Jack Jarvis pitched his first championship game of the season yesterday and he kept the six hits which he allowed well distributed. For the first five innings Dallas did not score. In the sixth Umpire Wirt Spencer scored Dallas' first run. It is the custom of umpires to overlook small advantages taken by baserunners when they move up a base on a fly to the outfield, as it is difficult to tell whether a player leaves the base just as the ball is caught or just a little before it. But when a player is fifteen feet off the bag when a ball is caught, as Clark was yesterday, it is such a flagrant steal that an umpire cannot with propriety overlook it. Clark moved up from second to third on a fly to Barrett and scored on an out. After that Dallas got two more runs.

LOCALS NEVER IN DANGER
Fort Worth was never in danger. While Jarvis was blanking his opponents the locals were running the bases and hammering the ball home after inning. The score was 7 to 0 when Dallas tallied her first run. Conover nearly threw his arm off trying to stop the locals, but in vain. They tallied, one in the second, one in the third, four in the fourth and one in the fifth. In the seventh they added three and in the eighth inning they rested from their labors.

Frederick, who on the preceding day batted in the only runs that came Fort Worth's way, again led in the stickwork with three nice drives, one of which was for two bases.

FIERCIE TIE GAME
Down Corsicana way a fierce battle was fought, which ended in an eleven-inning tie between Paris and the Oil City exponents. Zook, who received the pounding of the Parisians all the way. He was opposed by Bateman, who was batted out at the box the last time he pitched here. The score was one to one. Each side got eight hits, eight strike-outs, two bases on balls and one error.

THEY ALL SAY SO

Not Only in Fort Worth, But in Every City and Town in the Union.

If the reader took the time and trouble to ask his fellow residents of Fort Worth the simple question given below, he would obtain the one answer. If he would read the statements now being published in Fort Worth, which refer to this answer, it would surprise him to note that they number so many. As many more could be, and may be, published, but in the meantime ask the first person you meet what cures backache? The answer will be, Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a citizen who endorses our claim: W. S. Price, carpenter of 910 West Weatherford street, says: "My kidney complaint differs from the majority of those about which I read in the newspapers and from those troubled with that far too prevalent annoyance with whom I have conversed. I had little if any backache but there was a weakness of the kidneys and too frequent action of the kidney secretions. My attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and I went to Weaver's Pharmacy for a box. From the results I obtained I certainly entertain a very favorable opinion of that remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

NEW TESTIMONY AGAINST WOLF

Late this afternoon the jury will take charge of the case of Joe Wolf, who has been on trial for his life for the last three days in the Forty-eighth district court on the charge of murdering James M. Wilson on the evening of Friday, Jan. 9, last. The last testimony in the case was taken at noon today. When court reconvened at 1:30 o'clock Jeff D. McLean began the opening argument for the prosecution. He was followed by Judge B. D. Shropshire. The closing argument will be made by County Attorney O. S. Lattimore, after which the case will go to the jury.

It was the opinion of lawyers that the state has made out a stronger case against Wolf than it made against Lawrence, although Judge Shropshire said at noon that in his opinion the reverse was true. He held that the testimony of Mrs. Hampton, which was very strong against Lawrence, was practically valueless in this case. Mrs. Hampton is the woman who made an almost positive identification of Lawrence as the man whom she passed on the Fourth Ward schoolhouse lot about twenty minutes before the shooting of Wilson. She could not identify Wolf as the other of the two whom she met on the lot.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY

The testimony this morning developed some new points which are calculated to have weight with the jury against Wolf. Yesterday afternoon Wolf admitted that he was in the Turf Exchange on the day before the shooting. When it was introduced, was a partner of Harry Hampton in the possession of the Turf Exchange. This is the first time that the testimony of the witness, Mrs. Hampton, is given in detail. The witness testified that she saw Wolf on the morning of the shooting and that she saw him on the night of the shooting. She testified that she saw Wolf on the morning of the shooting and that she saw him on the night of the shooting. She testified that she saw Wolf on the morning of the shooting and that she saw him on the night of the shooting.

employe of Mr. Huey's, testified that when he received money, he signed his own name for it. Mr. Huey testified that he usually signed for "money" with the signature H. T. Huey & Co., although he admitted that he might have signed without the initials. He said positively that the particular signature referred to was not his own and added that Wilson, Champ and himself were the only ones who signed for money.

Judge Shropshire called both Mr. Huey and Mr. Champ to sign the words "Huey & Co." on a piece of paper and then offered the signatures for comparison with the one of the receipt book.

WOLF AGAIN ON STAND
Wolf again took the stand this morning to testify that he was not in the poolroom on the day of the killing. After he had entered his denial, Mr. Lattimore asked him if he would admit that he was in the poolroom that day, if he really had been there.

"I'll just fool you there," was the reply, with a smile. "I would admit it."

SHE KISSED WOLF
An unusual incident took place this morning. Mrs. Henry Reagles testified in behalf of Wolf yesterday. She is a young woman. While on the stand she testified that she was not related to the defendant and had no interest in the case.

Mr. Lattimore put her on the stand again this morning. He asked her if she did not testify on the day before that she was not related to Wolf and that she had no interest in the case. Her answers were in the affirmative.

"I'll now ask you," said Mr. Lattimore, slowly, "if you did not on yesterday afternoon, after adjournment of court, rush up to the defendant and kiss him?"

"I did," was the response, while the young woman blushed.

"That's all," said Mr. Lattimore, laughing.

PERJURY PHASE
J. T. Hale was put on the stand by the state this morning. He testified that he had heard Will Warren, who was with J. H. Higgins, Joe Lawrence and Joe Wolf for a part of the afternoon of Friday, Jan. 9, say while the Lawrence case was being tried recently that "if they stick those boys they are liable to indict a lot of us fellows for perjury." According to the witness, this remark was addressed to Higgins, who replied, said the witness, that if Lawrence were convicted he would leave town.

BELL TESTIFIES
M. H. Bell, a barber at the Congress, next door to the Turf Exchange, testified that Joe Lawrence entered his shop on the afternoon of the evening on which Wilson was shot. He wore a cap that afternoon. It was about 5 o'clock.

A number of other barbers employed in the Congress were put on the stand by the defense. They did not remember seeing Wolf for Lawrence that afternoon.

Among the other witnesses used in rebuttal were Assistant Chief Jim Dixon, Chief Hen. Nat Kramer, Mrs. Pope, Sels Maddox, Captain Joe Wheeler and J. Y. Cummings, the latter being used to testify in regard to the testimony of L. G. Mathews, taken at the examining trial.

DEFENDANT'S STORY
The defendant, in his story yesterday afternoon, of his movements on the day of the killing and the circumstances surrounding the shooting, was very full and detailed. He testified that he was in the possession of the Turf Exchange on the morning of the shooting and that he saw Wilson on the morning of the shooting and that he saw him on the night of the shooting.

GUSTAVE MEYER'S FORECAST FOR JUNE

Telegram readers who have followed the astrological forecasts of Prof. Gustave Meyer of Hoboken, New Jersey, as they have been published from time to time and have also noted the singular exactness with which many of them have been fulfilled, will note again with interest the forecast of events for June which is as follows:

The following is an interpretation of what the "Starry Messengers" signify and impart to me on "Coming Events" for the month of June, according to astrology.

At the above given time the zodiacal sign of Scorpio was rising on the eastern horizon and as the ruler of that sign is the fiery and evil planet, Mars, and as Mars was posted in the eleventh mansion of the heavens this signifies that much trouble is indicated to occur to our soldiers and home representatives abroad and our government should not trust our foreign friends too far, and the greatest evil is indicated to occur on the 3d, 9th, 10th, 11th, 18th and 25th inst.

As the lunation fell in the seventh mansion and as the planet Mercury was also posted and exalted therein this signifies that our commerce or foreign trade will greatly increase and that this will prove to be a more than fortunate month for the fair sex, and for marriages and forming partnerships, and marriages will be more numerous than usual.

Our president and government will receive eminent honors, much credit and esteem from the people of the world. However, during the 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th and 19th inst our government will pass through a very critical period and it will be well for our president to be very cautious to guard himself both in speech and actions, and guard his health and person with the greatest care and our government must guard his against riots and strikes, and much trouble will occur to the fair sex during this period.

During the 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 19th inst it will be highly advisable for our navy department to warn our naval commanders to be more than usually precautionary, otherwise some great calamity will befall our naval vessels.

On the 16th inst it will be highly advisable for our prison and asylum authorities to be more watchful than usual as fire, outbreak or some great calamity is indicated to occur in places of confinement and counsel authorities must be prepared for similar trouble.

Throughout the summer we must guard against revenue trouble, at the same time we will experience the most prosperous period in years, and the fair sex will make rapid strides towards eminence and gain honors and distinction, and the birth rate will be unusually large.

Calamities to public buildings, mines and underground places of employment and great loss and trouble to farmers, land owners and real estate men will be quite remarkable during the summer months, and the month of June will be a remarkable one for suicides and strange and sudden deaths will be alarmingly frequent.

Relative to foreign affairs, in England much trouble is indicated and the king should guard his health and person to occur to him. And in the flowery land of China crime and the murder of Europeans will be quite frequent.

The emperor of Germany will be very unfortunate and experience difficulty in more ways than one. I remain, "The Nation's Counselor," GUSTAVE MEYER.

THE LITTLE MOTHER ATTRACTED ATTENTION

A 14-year-old mother with a four-week-old baby in her arms was the center of attraction at the Texas and Pacific station for a few hours yesterday. The father and head of the little family was but 20 years of age, but he did not come in for the slightest share of admiration bestowed by the passengers and employees at the depot.

The little girl mother in her appearance as well as in her manner of attire presented more the model school miss. The depot matron, Jenny Vincent, said that she was in her fourteenth year. She said she and her husband resided in eastern Texas, and that they were going on the Denver road. The little mother did not exactly approve the wholesale curiosity centered upon her and her little baby girl, and would not tell them her name.
