OUR NAVY COSTS EIGHTY MILLIONS

Figures for the Fiscal Year Just Closed Show Big Increase in Expense of Battleships and Cruisers WASHINGTON, July 2.—The surplus of the United States treasury in its operations for the fiscal year closing Tuesday is $52,710,935, as against a surplus of $2,193,390 for the fiscal year ending a year ago, and against an estimate made by Mr. Shaw, the secretary of the treasury, some months ago, that the surplus for this year would not exceed $45,000,000. It may be stated that the increase of $50,000,000 in the surplus above the estimate of the secretary is due almost entirely to heavy importations of unmanufactured merchandise within the last six weeks of the year, when the daily customs receipts of the treasury have gone on from day to day at higher sustained figures than was ever before known in the history of the government.

Pension cost $125,425,617 this year, against $128,485,010. The interest charges of the government were reduced about $600,000 this year on account of bond purchases.

THE AUSTIN TRAGEDY
 The tragedy at Austin which sent a shudder throughout Texas is one of those inconceivable affairs of which no adequate explanation can ever be afforded. State Comptroller Love, a popular and efficient officer, appears to have been the victim of a man maddened to desperation by his failure to secure a coveted appointment to a subordinate place, and the manner in which the deed was done shows how insecure is life where men go about armed with deadly weapons. In the death of Comptroller Love the state loses a faithful and efficient officer and a valuable and popular citizen, while his bereaved family sustains an irreparable loss.—San Antonio Express.

GRAUSTARK

 SYNOPSIS.
 Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe-trotter, is introduced to a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair get left at the station when the "Flyer" stops for repairs in West Virginia. Lorry wires ahead to hold the train at the next town. He hires a wagon to drive them to the intervening four miles. They catch the train. Lorry learns the young lady's name is Miss Guggenlocker and her companions are her uncle and aunt. He is invited to dine with them.

"And, Aunt Yvonne," she said, in conclusion, "the luck which you say is mine as birthright asserted itself. I escaped unharmed, while Mr. Lorry alone possesses the pain and unpleasantness of our ride."
 "I possess neither," he objected. "The pain that you refer to is a pleasure. It is the pain that a man endures for a woman and always be a pleasure," said Uncle Caspar smilingly.
 "But it could not be a pleasure to him unless the woman considered it a pain," reasoned Miss Guggenlocker. "He could not feel happy if she did not respect the pain."
 "And encourage it," supplemented Lorry dryly. "If you do not remind me occasionally that I am hurt, Miss Guggenlocker, I am liable to forget it."
 "To himself he added, 'I'll never learn how to say it in one breath.'"
 "If I were not so soon to part from you, I should be your physician, and, like all physicians, prolong your ailment interminably," she said prettily.
 "To my deepest satisfaction," he said warmly, not lightly. There was nothing further from his mind than servile flattery, as his rejoinder might imply. "Alas," he went on, "we no longer see that we part. May I ask where you are to sail?"
 "On Thursday," replied Mr. Guggenlocker.
 "In the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse," said his niece, a faraway look coming into her eyes.
 "We are to stop off one day, tomorrow, in Washington," said Aunt Yvonne, and the jump that Lorry's heart gave was so mighty that he was afraid he could see it in his face.
 "Uncle has some business to transact in your city, Mr. Lorry. We are to spend tomorrow there and Wednesday in New York. Then we sail. How long for Thursday?" His niece's frank lead led to the depths from which it had sprung. It required no effort, his part to see that he was always more than his existence.

waiting to himself. She was not to be seen in the waiting rooms, so he rushed to the sidewalk.
 "Baggage transferred?"
 "No, sir."
 "On, sir!"
 "These traps and checks and rush my stuff to—W—avenue. Trunks just in on B and O," he cried, tossing his burdens to a transfer man and giving him the checks so quickly that the fellow's sleepy eyes opened wider than they had been for a month. Relieved of his impediments, he returned to the station.
 "Good morning, Mr. Lorry. Are you in too much of a hurry to see your friends?" cried a clear, musical voice, and he stopped as if shot. The anxious frown flew from his brow and was succeeded instantaneously by a glad smile. He wheeled and beheld her, with Aunt Yvonne, standing near the main entrance to the station. "Why, good morning," he exclaimed, extending his hand gladly. To his amazement she drew herself up haughtily and ignored the proffered hand. Only a brief second did this strange and uncalled-for hauteur obtain. A bright smile swept over her face, and her repentant fingers sought his timidly, even awkwardly. Something told him that she was not accustomed to handshaking; that same something impelled him to bend low and touch the gloved fingers with his lips. He straightened, with face flushed, half fearful lest his act had been observed by curious loungers, and he had taken a liberty in a public place which could not be condoned. But she smiled serenely, approvingly. There was not the faintest sign of embarrassment or confusion in the lovely face. Any other girl in the world, he thought, would have jerked her hand away and giggled furiously. Aunt Yvonne inclined her head slightly, but did not proffer her hand. He wisely refrained from extending his own. "I thought you had left the station," he said.
 "We are waiting for Uncle Caspar, who is giving Hedrick instructions. Hedrick, you know, is to go on to New York with our boxes. He will have them aboard ship when we arrive there. All that we have with us is hand luggage. We leave Washington tonight."
 "I had hoped you might stay over for a few days."
 "It is urgent business that compels us to leave so hastily, Mr. Lorry. Of all the cities in the world, I have most desired to see the capital of your country. Perhaps I may return one day. But do not let us detain you if you are in a hurry."
 He started, looked guilty, stammered something about baggage, said he would return in a moment, and rushed aimlessly away, his ears fiery.
 "I'm all kinds of a fool," he muttered as he raced around the baggage room and then back to where he had left the two ladies. Mr. Guggenlocker had joined them, and they were preparing to depart. Miss Guggenlocker's face expressed pleasure at seeing him.
 "We thought you would never return, so long were you gone," she cried gayly. He had been gone just two minutes by the watch. The old gentleman greeted him warmly, and Lorry asked them to what hotel they were going. On being informed that they expected to spend the day at the Ebbitt he volunteered to accompany them, saying that he intended to breakfast there. Quicker than a flash a glance unfathomable as it was, brief passed between the three, not quickly enough, however, to alert since the beginning of his acquaintance with them, in conjunction with his ears, to catch something that might satisfy in a measure his burning curiosity. What was the meaning of that glance? It half angered him, for in it he thought he could distinguish annoyance, apprehension, dismay or something equally disquieting. Before he could stiffen his long frame and give vent to the dignified reconsideration that flew to his mind the young lady dispelled all pain and displeasure, sending him into raptures by saying:
 "How good of you! We shall be so delighted to have you breakfast with us, Mr. Lorry, if it is convenient for you. You can talk to us of your wonderful city. I am sure we cannot trouble you much longer."

THE AUSTIN STATESMAN AND THE KILLING OF LOVE

Like the proclamation of King Peter Garagevitch, who accepted a kingly crown, one offered, from the hands of the assassins of the royal pair of Serbia, reads the editorial in the Austin Statesman in regard to the assassination of Colonel R. M. Love, late comptroller of Texas. They are alike in that the proclamation of the King finds a reason for the assassination which gave him his "rightful succession to the throne" of his native country, and thus excuses it, and the Austin Statesman finds a reason for the killing of a public officer.

The Statesman says:
 In seeking for the cause of this cruel and bloody tragedy the people of Texas must recognize one great and ruthless truth. It is chargeable directly and unquestionably to the pretense that "the victor belongs the spoils" of office. It has been an accepted dogma, not only in the politics of this state, but in other states, that the man who wins an office shall be entitled to all the benefits that accrue under his triumph. As a result it was not an infrequent incident for practically a clean sweep to occur in a department when a new head was chosen to preside over it.

The Telegram submits that such an expression by a paper supposed to occupy a prominent position in the affairs of the state, the oldest paper in Texas but one, is dangerous to the community—to the state at large. The Statesman urges civil service should now follow, because, forsooth, an anarchist has brought mourning to the official family of Texas, following a long period of brooding over a "fanatical wrong," and says:
 "The offices belong to the people. The subordinate places are created in the service of the public. When a man is given one of these places it should be because of fitness for its duties, and the law should provide that he should retain that place during good behavior."
 It is true, the offices belong to the people, and they confer them. The heads of department are selected and very wisely the constitutional and statutory right is conferred upon the person elected to select those who shall assist him in administering the affairs of the office he is to hold. He is allowed to select men who are loyal to him, men who are his friends, men who are in his opinion competent. If he desires, he can make a clean sweep, and often he does, and the fear of this clean sweep which is probable at any time is no doubt a wholesome influence to honesty on employes who might otherwise have a tendency to dishonesty.

The Telegram submits that the Statesman has uttered dangerous words. There is no excuse for the assassination of Colonel Love. It was the cold-blooded, premeditated work of one who, if not an anarchist, has become so familiar with the literature of the people of that class that he wrote a pretty good letter of the Emma Goldman-Czolgosz-Guiteau type. Read where he says, "I shall strike a blow." Is there not dangerous literature? Love had done this man no harm. He had not deprived him of his right to live, and his right to earn a living. He had simply relieved him of the custody of a jewel belonging to the state of Texas—a position in a state department—over which jewel the comptroller had been given jurisdiction by the people of the whole state. When a man holds a position so long that he believes it belongs to him he is dangerous.

Though it may not be running by that time, Fort Worth might as well celebrate the coming of pure water July 4. It will be a convenient date to remember by.

When it occurred to Governor Lanham to announce that all speaking by representatives of the text book companies be "out in open meeting," the state's chief executive made a good bid for well-deserved popularity.

Catarth of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarth of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarth of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by all druggists.

MILLS WAS FINED $60 AND COSTS

HE CAPTURED A BROTHEL IN "THE ACRE"

Held Two Women and a Negro Captive at Point of Pistol—Charge of Carrying Pistol Made Against L. G. Lem, Yesterday Acquitted of Murder

S. P. Mills of Temple, Tex., was fined $60 and costs in the corporation court this morning on a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying a pistol. Following this he was fined $5 and costs for using abusive language.

It was all about a woman named "Josie." As the man did in the "Ballad of Reading Road," Mr. Mills, it appeared from the testimony, wished to "kill the thing he loved." Therefore, pistol in hand, he betook himself to Mabel Thompson's establishment in the hot lava district, entered in a room and entered with a negro porter named Albert Washington.

Albert told him he would summon "Joey" providing Mills would promise to be good, whereupon Mills, according to the testimony, leveled his pistol at the negro and took him captive. He then forced the negro to march up stairs, Mills following, and in a room on the second floor, in passing a room, Mills caught sight of a girl named "Virgie." He went up to the room, was admitted, and entered with them and lined them up. Mabel Thompson by this time was apprised of trouble in the camp. She went up to the room, was admitted, and was lined up with the other two prisoners. According to Mabel's testimony in court this morning, she coddled and caressed the women until she became mollified and even docile, and at her request put away the ugly pistol and took his departure.

There is a case in the corporation court against L. G. Lem, who yesterday was acquitted of the charge of killing Gilbert Kay, a negro. Lem is charged with carrying a pistol. The case was called this morning, but in view of the fact that Mills was intoxicated at the time the offense was committed, he would let him off with a fine of $60 and costs. Mills then pleaded guilty to using abusive language and was fined $5 and costs.

NEWS OF BROWNWOOD

BROWNWOOD, Texas, July 2.—About $2,000 is being expended on Brownwood's waterworks system. Small pipes are being replaced by six-inch mains and a thousand feet more will be used in extending the system. On Baker street, beginning at the corner of Hurlbut Hardware Company's place, 800 feet of new six-inch main will replace the small pipes now in use. On Hand street, 1,100 or 1,200 feet of the same six-inch size will be replaced by small piping. This will give the residents a much better pressure and give them greatly increased protection from fire. On Austin avenue new six-inch piping will be put in from the round-bellie gin for the street, where this is an extension long wanted by the people of that section and will be greeted by them with much pleasure. Fifteen new fire plugs will be added.

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 2.—Gus Thompson, a negro man, charged with beating his wife in this city some days since, from the supposed effects of which the woman died on the west side yesterday, was called before Justice Henry this morning.

Expert testimony taken as to the real cause of the woman's death showed that it was due to malarial fever and could only have been superinduced by the injuries alleged to have been inflicted upon her.

Thompson was held in the nominal sum of $150 bail.

A TERRIBLE CLOUDBURST IS REPORTED

Reports Received From Austin and San Antonio Say It Is Rumored Two Hundred Lives Were Lost Shortly After Noon Today

AUSTIN, TEXAS, JULY 2.—A MEAGER REPORT FROM BEEVILLE AT 1 O'CLOCK SAYS A CLOUDBURST OCCURRED THERE AND THAT TWO HUNDRED LIVES WERE LOST. THE TELEGRAPH WIRES ARE DOWN BEYOND SAN ANTONIO.

THERE WAS A BIG WASHOUT ON THE ARANSAS PASS RAILROAD AT A POINT NEAR BEEVILLE.

ALL WIRES DOWN (Special to The Telegram)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—All wires are down between here and Beeville and it is impossible to obtain any confirmation of the reports of the cloudburst which is known to have occurred somewhere near there shortly after noon today. There was a washout at some point on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass, making it impossible for trains to get there, but all telegraph and telephone wires are down and it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage or even the exact point where the washout occurred. Reports are current here that 200 lives were lost at Beeville, but the report cannot be confirmed.

Beeville is the county seat of Bee county, in the extreme southeastern part of the state. It is situated on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass and Southern Pacific railroads. The census of 1900 gives it a population of 3,000. The Aransas river flows south of the town.

THREE BONES IN THE YARD
EL PASO, Tex., July 2.—The committee investigating the conduct of officials of the Las Vegas insane asylum reports a number of irregularities in the treatment of patients. It says the bones of Mrs. Mary Leonard, who has relatives in St. Louis, were thrown about the grounds after her death.
Failure to locate relatives led the authorities to take the skin from the body to make a skeleton. The doctors changed their minds and, according to the report, threw the bones out. This started the investigation.

HAND IN HAND

Where You Find One You'll Find the Other.

Health and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy are boon companions; they travel together hand in hand, and where you find one you'll find the other.

The countless testimonials received by the Doctor from sufferers who have been cured of the numerous diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and Female Weaknesses is splendid proof of this fact.

Put some urine in a small glass and let it stand 24 hours; if you find it pale and discolored; if it has a sediment; if it is cloudy andropy; your Kidneys and Bladder require immediate treatment and there is no medicine in existence that has made such remarkable cures as Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

It has convinced the most doubtful; and if you are doubtful, if you have no confidence in the curative powers of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, it will cost you the price of a postal card TO DISPEL THE DOUBT. It is a matter of absolute indifference to us how many physicians or specialists have prescribed for you without bringing you relief; write your full name and address on a postal card and send it to the D. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y., and you will receive absolutely free a trial bottle of DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY, of sufficient quantity to convince you of its rapid relieving powers, and that a continuation of its use will cure any disease of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood.

Druggists sell it in New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

Dr. David Kennedy sells and recommends Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S ROSE JELLY, radical cure Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in Head, 50c.

WOMEN AND JEWELS

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles. We can get this reliable remedy at W. L. Smallwood's and Smallwood & Walkup's. Price 25c and 75c.

Just About Bedtime

take a Little Early Riser—it will cure constipation, biliousness and liver troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are different from other pills. They do not gripe and break down the mucous membranes of the stomach, liver and bowels, but cure by gently arousing the secretions and giving strength to these organs. Sold by all druggists.

Dancing Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, Lake Erie Auditorium. Round trip 25 cents.

THE ONE WITH THE IMP—How in the world do you keep your baby so quiet and happy this dreadful trying weather?
THE ONE WITH THE CHERUB—Why it's the easiest thing in the world. I take a CASCARET Candy Cathartic every night at bed-time. It makes mother's milk mildly purgative, keeps the baby's bowels cool and regular, stops sour curd and wind colic. They work while you sleep, you know—greatest blessing for nursing mothers.

A TERRIBLE CLOUDBURST IS REPORTED

Reports Received From Austin and San Antonio Say It Is Rumored Two Hundred Lives Were Lost Shortly After Noon Today AUSTIN, TEXAS, JULY 2.—A MESSAGER REPORT FROM BEEVILLE AT 1 O'CLOCK SAYS A 'CLOUDBURST' OCCURRED THERE AND THAT TWO HUNDRED LIVES WERE LOST. THE TELEGRAPH WIRES ARE DOWN BEYOND SAN ANTONIO. THERE WAS A BIG WASHOUT ON THE ARANSAS PASS RAILROAD AT A POINT NEAR BEEVILLE. ALL WIRES DOWN (Special to The Telegram.) SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 2.—All wires are down between here and Beeville and it is impossible to obtain any confirmation of the reports of the cloudburst which is known to have occurred somewhere near there shortly after noon today. There was a washout at some point on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass, making it impossible for trains to get there, but all telegraph and telephone wires are down and it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage or even the exact point where the washout occurred. Reports are current here that two lives were lost at Beeville, but the report cannot be confirmed. Beeville is the county seat of Bee county, in the extreme southeastern part of the state. It is situated on the San Antonio and Aransas Pass and Southern Pacific railroads. The census of 1900 gives it a population of 2,000. The Aransas river flows south of the town.

Local Officials of the Rock Island Deny Report Here
Commercial Agents of the Rock Island and Frisco. It is Said, Will Both Be Located in Wheat Building—General Passenger Agents at Hot Springs

John C. McCabe, general freight agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Texas Railroad Company, was called upon this morning to confirm or deny a well-founded rumor to the effect that the offices of the local commercial agents of the Rock Island and Frisco are to be consolidated.

Others say differently. From another source it was stated that H. C. Callahan, commercial agent of the Rock Island, has been instructed to prepare to move his headquarters from the present location in the city ticket office, at that corner Fifth and Main streets, to that occupied by the local commercial agent of the Frisco, in the Wheat building.

Whatever the plans of the Rock Island and Frisco in Fort Worth may be, they are being guarded very closely. It is not conceded by anyone that they are not known by local officials, but the general interpretation of the cause for such profound silence is due to the attitude of the joint secret meeting of commercial agents of the Rock Island and Frisco roads, in Fort Worth, yesterday.

CHANGES AT MEMPHIS The following report of the action of the Rock Island and Frisco, is indicative of the methods of the companies when it is made possible by non-interference of commercial officials there today.

THE SPANISH WAR VETERANS MEET

A command of the National Army, Spanish War Veterans, was formally organized in Fort Worth last evening. The meeting was held at the courthouse and was presided over by H. S. Leffler as temporary chairman. J. H. Karlberg acted as temporary secretary.

The new company starts off with a large, enthusiastic membership. A name for it will be selected later, the following committee having been appointed for the purpose of selecting a name: Captain George West, J. H. Karlberg and R. H. Beckham.

On motion the secretary was authorized to collect from each of the twenty charter members 50 cents, which is to be used in the formation of the command and in securing a charter, which will be sent for at once.

The officers to be chosen for the command are a captain, first lieutenant, second lieutenant, chaplain, adjutant, quartermaster, adjutant aid, and sergeant of the guard. These officers will be elected at a meeting to be held later, possibly as soon as the charter has been received from Washington.

The charter list will be forwarded to L. C. Dyer, adjutant general, at Washington within the next few days. The order being organized throughout the state and it is expected that nearly all those who were enlisted for service in the Spanish-American war will become members. All soldiers and sailors of the regular and volunteer forces are eligible to membership in the organization, which is one whose objects are purely patriotic and social. Particular stress is laid on the fact that the movement is non-political.

RACE IS ARRANGED FOR LADY DRIVERS

A fine program of races has been arranged for the matinee events at the track of the Fort Worth Gentleman's Driving Club on the south side on the afternoon of the Fourth of July. The program already being printed in The Telegram, but yesterday a new race was added, which promises to prove more interesting than any of the others. It is a race for lady drivers, in runabouts, and consists of half-mile heats, best two in three, for both trotters and pacers. Entries for this race may be made with J. H. Maddox at Central fire hall. All Fort Worth ladies are eligible and no specifications have been made in regard to the weight of drivers. MEN NOT KNOWN IN FORT WORTH

AMERICAN PROVISION COMPANY INCORPORATED IN DELAWARE

This City is Given in Dispatches as Headquarters—Inquiry Has Not Yet Revealed Identity of Persons of Names Mentioned as Incorporators

The American Provision Company of Fort Worth, which dispatches from Wilmington, Del., state was incorporated in that city July 1, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, it is believed has been misappropriated to Fort Worth. Inquiries from various sources have failed to reveal the identity of either the reported incorporator from Fort Worth or the one mentioned in the dispatch as residing at Paris, Texas.

THE DELAWARE REPORT—Wilmington, Del., July 1.—The American Provision Company of Fort Worth, Texas, filed a certificate of incorporation with Secretary of State Layton of Dover on Tuesday. The provision company has a capital stock of $1,000,000, and is chartered to buy and sell hogs and cattle, to own and operate ranches and to fatten and sell cattle and hogs for market. The incorporators are Fred A. Bell of Fort Worth, Texas, Albert Schaeffer of New York city, and John Martin of Paris, Texas.

DON'T KNOW BELL—Inquiry was made at several places today with a view of ascertaining who is Fred A. Bell. Real estate men, stock men and residents of the city having the same name do not know of such a person. Commercial agencies could give no information.

John Martin of Paris, Texas, is also reported as unknown to prominent men who formerly resided at Paris, and who, at present, have extensive interests there. There are Martins in Paris and Bells in Fort Worth, but as far as can be learned they are not associated in any way with the organization of the above company.

WOULD RECOVER MONEY—Cases Growing Out of the Sale of Railway Bonds

NEW YORK, July 2.—Papers have been served in seven cases for the recovery of money aggregating $48,523, from the banking and brokerage firm of Zimmerman & Forshey of this city. The cases grow out of the sale of bonds of the United Railways company of San Francisco. The plaintiffs, who also are brokers, assert that during April, May and June, 1902, the defendants contracted for the purchase of bonds of the company, which were not to go on the market or be delivered to the defendants until February, 1903. During the summer some of the bonds were sold in San Francisco, with the understanding that they were to remain there, but in some day some of them turned up in the East. When delivery was made to Zimmerman & Forshey in February last they refused to accept the bonds. When the agreements about the purchase were made the bonds were selling around 90. In February last they were selling around 80, and it is for the shrinkage in value that the plaintiffs are suing, since they were forced to sell the bonds at the reduced rate.

Charged With Slashing Another Mexican at Marshall

MARSHALL, Texas, July 1.—The officers today succeeded in capturing a Mexican who is charged with cutting another Mexican with a razor in this city yesterday. He was captured in the woods about four miles from town and brought in and lodged in the county jail.

PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN

Marshall Meadows and "Cyclone" Jim Davis arrived in this city today to take part in the prohibition campaign now on in Harrison county. The election comes off July 19, and will be one of the strongest contested elections in the state.

"Cyclone" Davis addressed a large audience tonight in the city tabernacle and he and Meadows will stump the county till the election.

Granville Jones is also expected to be in the campaign, and a very strong effort will be made to vote the county dry.
