RUSHING WATERS RUINOUS

Waterspout in Pennsylvania Has Destroyed a Dam, Blotted Out Lives and Destroyed Much Property

DAWN BROKE ON A SCENE OF DESOLATION

Estimates of Dead Range From Fifty to Thrice That Number—Many Missing Are Not Accounted For Heavy Loss

GREENBURG, Pa., July 6.—A waterspout of immense proportions, striking in the vicinity of Oakford Park yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, created a flood that caused great loss of life and property.

A half hour later the cloudburst occurred and the umbrellas carried by the crowds were crushed like eggshells. The water in the lake north of Oakford Park began to swell and Manager James McGraw, believing that there was danger of a break in the great wall of the dam, in order to save the crowds of pleasure seekers who had gathered under roofs of the eating stands, the merry-go-round, the theater, the dancing pavilion and other buildings in line of the waterspout broke and warned them to run to the hills.

On both sides of the pleasure grounds there are high hills, the park being situated in a ravine about a fourth of a mile wide and a mile long. The people, professedly loath to leave the cozy places, and not until Mr. McGraw and his assistant, Charles E. Thomas, entered each building in turn and simply drove the crowds out into the rain, did they realize that the park managers were in earnest for they knew after careful study of the dam the awful flood meant probably the breaking of the big wall that held five acres of water.

LIST OF THE DEAD SO FAR AS KNOWN

JEANETTE, Pa., July 6.—Dawn broke on a scene of devastation and ruin along the French Creek valley, from the site of the break of the dam at Oakford to Williamsburg, taking in the towns of Jeanette, Limer, Greensburg, Irwin, Burrell and Manor.

The awful power of rushing waters following the breaking of the dam is apparent on all sides. The damage to property will not be less than $700,000, while the number of lives suddenly blotted out is still uncertain. Estimates are running the way from fifty to a hundred and fifty.

Almost with the first streak of daylight a bureau was opened here, where names of the identified dead, recovered and missing were registered, together with a description of all bodies recovered but not identified.

The revised list of dead and missing, so far known is as follows, but it may be days before the extent of the disaster can be determined.

- MRS. GERTRUDE KEEFER, aged 24, Jeanette; body recovered.
KATE KEEFER, her sister; body recovered.
JOHN FLEMING, stable boy at the old hill grounds, Greensburg.
GEORGE WHITMAN, West Jeanette.
MISS LELLA BAKER, West Jeanette.
JOHN M'GURKEY, aged 40, West Jeanette.
GEORGE WILLIAMS, aged 35, Jeanette.

MRS. SCHRAEDER, aged 70 years.
MRS. LUCY KRUM, who was with Miss Keefe of Jeanette.
The missing:

Curtis Moore of Jeanette.
Samuel Vogel of Jeanette.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fink of Jeanette.
Ed O'Brien of Greensburg.
Cousin John C. Light and family of Greensburg were at the park and at a late hour this morning had not been accounted for. They are said to have been in the waiting-room.
Two Silk sisters of West Jeanette.
Alfred Zepp, 9 years old, West Jeanette.
May Bird, Manor hotel, Jeanette.

Several persons are reported missing from their homes along the stream and many anxious parents almost frantic with fear traversed the streams all night searching for their lost children. Up to an early hour this morning many children had been found, but a few are still missing, who may have been drowned.

THRILLING RESCUES

Stories of thrilling rescues are heard on all sides, and many acts of bravery are reported, the heroes being persons who risked their lives to save others.

One man, whose name could not be learned, was seen by several persons to make a desperate effort to rescue a woman, presumably his wife. The man was in an apparently safe position among some saplings. In his struggles to get the woman he lost his hold and both were swept away with the torrent and probably lost.

ESTIMATE OF THE DEAD

JEANETTE, Pa., July 6.—At 10 o'clock this morning the estimated loss of life through yesterday's cloudburst and flood at Oakford Park has reached 75.

Twenty bodies have been recovered. Many are foreigners and have not been identified.

WAS TIRED OF LIVING

Italian Young Woman at Dallas Committed Suicide Today

DALLAS, Texas, July 6.—Anna Lanza, an Italian young woman, 22 years old, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting herself in the stomach with a .45-caliber revolver. To the police she made a dying statement: "I did it myself; I got tired of living and worrying."

SEVERAL OIL COMPANIES CHARTERED—TEXT BOOK BOARD IS IN SESSION AGAIN

AUSTIN, Texas, July 6.—The following companies were chartered today: Sour Lake Grain Company, Sour Lake, capital stock, $6,000; High Gin Company, Lamar county, capital stock $7,000; Bell Lake Oil Company, Sour Lake, capital stock, $25,000; Cleveland Oil Company, Sour Lake, capital stock $25,000; McKinney Fishing Club, McKinney, capital stock, $10,000; the Atlas Engine Company of Indianapolis was granted a permit to do business in Texas.

The text-book board resumed its session, the members all being present. There are four hundred volumes before the board, including twenty-three series of readers by as many different authors.

General Oppenheimer returned from the north today, where he purchased $75,000 worth of machinery for the state iron furnace at Rusk, which will increase the capacity of the plant to fifty tons per day.

After the state departments resumed business after being closed the greater part of last week.

COTTON MADE A BIG SLUMP

Opening Was Firm, But Later Turned Weak and Local Bears Hammered It

NEW ORLEANS, July 6.—The cotton market opened firm at 4 to 10 points under Liverpool's firmer cables and newspaper accounts of flood in Texas.

Amelioration in the pope's condition this morning is so unnatural, considering the gravity of his illness, that it is feared possibly it is only the last flickering flame.

During this brighter interval, the pope has resumed his habits of command and insisted on giving orders, appointing Mr. Vilpioni actual secretary of the consistorial congregation, a post made vacant owing to the promotion of Mr. Novella to cardinal.

The market became very active and sensationally weak shortly after the firmer opening, under heavy selling, said to have originated with New Orleans bulls. August opened at 12.55, was forced down to 11.70, a loss of 85 points; July sold at 11.75 and September at 10.70, a loss of 79 points from the opening. The excitement was intense and at the first indication of pool liquidation the local bears started hammering the list vigorously.

INSISTED ON WALKING

ROME, July 6.—2:15 p. m.—Only two bulletins regarding the pope's health have been issued today, the doctors agreeing that there are no sufficient changes in the condition to chronicle them more often. The pope insists on staying up and walking at intervals,

POPE IS AT DOOR OF DEATH

Vatican Officials Resent the Rumors That Those High in Authority Are Hastening the End

WALKED ABOUT TO DISPEL WEAKNESS

Somewhat Prostrated After an Exciting Morning and Took Much Needed Sleep—Condition Is Hopeless

ROME, July 6.—9:25 a. m.—In vaticano circles there seems to be dissatisfaction because rumors are in circulation to the effect that those in authority, instead of preventing the pope from overtaxing his failing strength, have for their own purposes urged him, contrary to his physician's advice, to further exertion.

It has been hinted there are those who might be eligible for the chair of St. Peter, and there would not be many regrets should the way be left open without more delay and that, regardless of the pontiff's feebleness, they worked upon his harmless natural pride in the vigor of his constitution and venerable age, to encourage him to preside at two recent consistories, as well as undertake numerous receptions of pilgrims and other visitors to the Eternal City, notwithstanding the precarious condition of his health since the operation, which has grown much worse during the last few months. Under the circumstances such insinuations are energetically repudiated by those concerned.

Monseigneur Bisset, master of the pontifical chambers, and Brigadier General Count Camilla Pecci of the Noble Guard, a nephew of the pope.

"NOW I AM READY"
The pope conversed for a long time with Count Pecci, even rising and walking about the room for a few minutes leaning on his arm. The pontiff on this occasion remarked: "Now, I am ready to depart, having settled all my affairs. I feel I have done all in my power for the good of the church and of humanity."

CONDITION IS HOPELESS
5:45 p. m.—For the first time since the pope's illness took a serious turn, Dr. Lapponi ventured to leave the vaticano at noon for one hour on urgent private business. The fact aroused hopes that the pontiff is on the way to recovery, but his condition remains very grave, though no immediate danger is apprehended.

MIND IS CLEAR
WASHINGTON, July 6.—The following cablegram was received today by the apostolic delegation from Cardinal Rampolla:
"The condition of the holy father is still grave, but no worse. The night was calm; he takes food without reluctance and his mind is perfectly clear."

CECIL A. LYON HAS BEEN SUED
SHERMAN, Tex., July 6.—Suit for $20,000 damages was filed this morning in the Fifteenth district court against Cecil A. Lyon, state chairman of the Republican executive committee, by John Lawrence, a telegrapher employed by the United States War Department at Carrizo, Zapata county.

LAURENCE ALLEGES LYON SENT A LETTER TO THE SECRETARY OF WAR IN JULY, 1902, SAYING HE HAD BEEN INFORMED THAT LAWRENCE WAS LEADER OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN ZAPATA COUNTY, AND HAD MADE PUBLIC INFORMATION THAT HAD GONE OVER TO THE TELEGRAPH LINE REGARDING THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IN THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, THAT HE (LAWRENCE) HAD LEARNED BY BEING A TELEGRAPH OPERATOR. LAWRENCE ALLEGES THAT THE LETTER MISREPRESENTED AND WRONGED HIM.

saying weakness is the worst part of his illness, against which the best remedy is activity.

ENJOYING A NEEDED SLEEP
ROME, July 6.—2:45 p. m.—The pope seemed somewhat prostrated after rather an exciting morning and is now enjoying much needed sleep.

CONDITION IS HOPELESS
BERLIN, July 6.—All Rome dispatches here represent the pope's condition as hopeless. The newspapers of this city are issuing extras containing the latest telegrams on the subject of the pontiff's health.

A FIT OF COUGHING
ROME, July 6.—4 p. m.—A fit of coughing disturbed the pope's sleep. The coughing might benefit him by relieving the lungs of catarrhal obstruction, but owing to his weak state, it is very trying and exhausting.

VITALITY OF POPE IS REMARKABLE

ROME, July 6.—As the pope objected to having oxygen-inhaling instruments continually under his nose, Dr. Lapponi arranged to improve the whole atmosphere of the room with oxygen.

"That is much better," said the pontiff. "Before I felt as though I had lost my liberty."

Although Dr. Lapponi continually recommends the patient not to speak and to pay no attention to what is passing outside, the pope generally refuses to abandon participation in what is going on.

He said, smiling, to Dr. Lapponi: "I know you say this out of your affection for me, but either my last day is rapidly approaching, in which case I must employ all the time which is left to me so far as I can, or else I shall recover again, postponing the end. If this is the will of the Almighty, nothing can change it."

NOTICED MANY PEOPLE
The pope wished to be carried near his writing table and then to a window overlooking the Piazza of St. Peter. Noticing many people in carriages, the pope said: "The piazza looks as it does when I am able to perform some public function."

Dr. Lapponi's chief task now is maintaining the pope's strength.

Some improvement is indicated this afternoon by the fact that the patient is more willing to take nourishment, which is administered at short intervals, and consists chiefly of Bordeaux champagne, raw eggs and broth.

The only persons allowed in the pope's bedroom this morning besides the doctor and attendants were Cardinal Rampolla.

LOUBET NOW IN ENGLAND

The President of France Was Warmly Welcomed by the People Upon Arrival at Dover and London

IMPOSING DISPLAY OF BRITISH NAVY

Every Effort Being Made to Show Executive of France That His Visit Is Enjoyed By the Country

BOULOGNE, July 6.—President Loubet arrived at 10 a. m. and was accorded a hearty reception by the assembled crowds. He proceeded immediately to the dock in order to attend the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of a new basin.

The town is overflowing with sightseers and the route of the president from the suburbs to the docks was lavishly decorated with Venetian masks, tropic streamers and triumphal arches. Fishing nets as representative of the chief industry of Boulogne, were also prominent features of the embellishment. The fishing industry was further represented by a triumphal arch carried out the harbor by the navy and decorated with fish barrels, life belts and similar articles.

Such an display of British union jacks has seldom been seen in France, while the American, Russian and other flags were numerous.

Troops lined the entire route and immense crowds throughout gave M. Loubet a memorable reception. On reaching a tastefully decorated presidential stand, M. Loubet carried out the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new basin.

YANKES ARE THERE
DOVER, July 6.—The United States European squadron arrived at Dover this morning and exchanged a salute with the British fleet.

ARRIVED AT DOVER
DOVER, July 6.—The French cruiser Guichen, having President Loubet on board, was sighted at 12:40 p. m. Immense crowds of people lined the sea front, which presented a gala appearance, the decorations being on a scale far in excess of anything previously attempted.

As soon as the Guichen was sighted the most imposing naval display ever seen off Dover.

All vessels were dressed from stem to stern and the crews manned ship and mingled their cheers with the roar of guns firing salutes and the strains of "The British flag" from the naval bands. Each ship gave the president a salute of guns of the Guichen passed and the band of each in turn took up "The Marseillaise."

The Guichen anchored off Dover shortly after 1 o'clock and exchanged salutes with Dover castle. The admirals and captains of the British fleet immediately repaired on board the French cruiser and paid official visits to President Loubet.

ARRIVAL AT LONDON
LONDON, July 6.—President Loubet arrived at the Victoria railroad station here from Dover at 4:15 p. m. and was accorded a great reception.

An hour after the arrival at Dover the distinguished visitors were on board train bound for London, where King Edward and a distinguished suite welcomed M. Loubet. After a brief visit to the French embassy the visitors were escorted to St. James' palace, where they are to stay during the visit to London.

Both at Dover and in London the public left nothing of its enthusiasm to the imagination. The streets in the vicinity of the railway station were crowded and bustling everywhere. A noteworthy feature of some of the decorations was the flying of the British and French flags and the American stars and stripes side by side.

According to official announcement, M. Loubet's stay in London will last until next Friday. The arrangements for his entertainment have been completed on an elaborate scale. Tomorrow morning the president will be a guest of the corporation of London at a déjeuner given in his honor at Guildhall, after which a short tour will be made of old London city.

Though this detail of the program has not been definitely decided, it is expected that a grand banquet which King Edward will attend will be given by M. Cambon and that M. Loubet will be invited to a state banquet at Buckingham palace. There will also be a review of troops at Aldershot which was postponed during the month. During his sojourn in London M. Loubet will inspect the French hospital and the Maison des Industries Francaises.

All the London papers and the people, indeed, generally want to see politics in the president's visit, so they endeavor by the warmth of their welcome to persuade the French chief executive that there is nothing in the caustic comments of the German press agent the alleged motives of King Edward in visiting France and inviting M. Loubet to repay the visit. Meantime those who are "in the know" are complacent.

NEGROES LIVE IN TERROR

Indiana Mob Battered a Way Into the Jail After Murderer of a Patrolman of Evansville

ALL NIGHT LONG PARADED STREETS

Culprit Had Been Removed for Safe Keeping and the Lynching Was Interfered With—Militia Is Called Out

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 6.—This city is quiet this morning and there is no sign of the mob violence that agitated the population all last night.

The chief demonstration of the night was an attack on the county jail between 10 and 1 o'clock. Seven thousand men crowded the street before the building and finally obtained entrance through the fortified gates to the yard, where they began to batter the windows of the jail. Efforts to prevent this were futile and the crowd held sway, the police being at the time occupied with holding sightseers from invading the front part of the building and ransacking the sheriff's residence.

After the mob had been thoroughly satisfied that the lynching of the negro Patrolman Massey was not in the building, they separated into squads of forty or fifty and paraded down the streets until daylight, shooting promiscuously and visiting the negro quarters. The negroes are nearly terrorized.

Local companies of the state militia have been ordered out and will be reinforced by companies from Southern Indiana.

The riot was the immediate outcome of the shooting of Patrolman Massey Friday night by Lee Brown, a negro. Brown and another negro, having used a quarrel and Brown had sworn to kill his antagonist. He ran toward his home to secure a revolver and Patrolman Massey hearing of the trouble, lay in wait for Brown. As the negro came back armed, Massey stepped from a doorway and laid his hand on his shoulder. Brown turned quickly, a revolver in his hand, and shot the policeman in the abdomen. The officer as he lay on the sidewalk shot at Brown and dangerously wounded him. He fell and then the two fired at each other as they lay on the pavement, emptying their revolvers.

Excitement became intense, and after the arrest of Brown the jail was guarded night and day. Saturday night a lynching was feared and the mob that surrounded the jail during the night was held at bay only by the weapons of dozens of deputies. Sunday an outbreak was feared and the negro was secretly removed from the jail and taken to Vincennes.

Patrolman Massey died late Saturday night from his wounds. It took twenty-five policemen to prevent the lynching at the jail Saturday night, but their bravery was not sufficient to avert the bitter race war. The mob smashed down iron gates and were part way into the jail before they were repulsed by the policemen. Their efforts to lynch Brown aroused the enmity of the negroes, who gathered about the jail Sunday afternoon and made a threatening demonstration.

The negroes were chased away by a crowd of white men. Mutterings of revenge were heard and a clash was feared.

The funeral of the late Howard Calvin was held this morning from the home of his mother on Railroad avenue. The services were conducted by Rev. J. B. French, D. D., pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church. The dead boy was bugler of the boys' brigade of the Broadway church and the members of the brigade met this morning at the church in full uniform and marched to the house where the services were held. Calvin's death occurred yesterday afternoon at 5:30. He was 17 years of age.

CAR SHORTAGE IS EXPECTED

Bumper Wheat Crop in Kansas Will Call for Much Equipment

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 6.—It is an assured fact that Kansas is to have a bumper wheat crop and the farmers of that state are correspondingly elated, but the size of the crop is causing officials of the railroads to begin to worry. Up to the present time there has been no great car shortage, but when heavy wheat shipments begin there promises to be some great scrambling on the part of shippers and others for cars, and the roads are not just sure how they are going to handle the crop.

Last year the car shortage was great and the roads assured the farmers that in 1902 they would not have to buy hundreds of cars had been ordered, and these would be ready for the wheat crop. The cars were ordered and arrived as per agreement, but will not be available now, as other business increased at a corresponding rate with that of the farmers, and the new cars have been pressed into merchandise service and are hardly available for moving wheat.

"Already the demands for cars have begun to mount, and are being bustling to supply them," said a freight official of one of the western roads. "I hope that the shortage this year will not be so great as that of last year, but it looks like it would be. Kansas has a greater crop of wheat, while that is a thing of joy to the farmers it is a nightmare to us until it is moved and marketed. We are already using all the cars we have and are importing other roads which have our cars to return them. Every car that is spared is being sent to Kansas, and will come back loaded with wheat. I estimate that we will use at least a thousand more cars this year than last in moving the crops, and this is only one road."

"We have got to have more cars, but where they are coming from I don't know. All along our line at every station requests have been filed for from one to a hundred cars, and everybody wants them at once. Of course we can't supply the demand that way and some have to wait, and if the person who is delayed happens to be at a station where our road is the only one, he makes remarks about the carrying corporation that won't do anything because it has a cinch on the business. It is anything but pleasant, this handling of the wheat crop, but it has to be done, and we will do the best we can to get it to the way and to the world's markets."

THE PASSING OF FRISCO

A railroad official, in discussing the Rock Island's purchase of the Frisco railroad, said last night: "Within six months the name Rock Island will be substituted for Frisco on all the cars and engines that are now being used by the Frisco system. In other words, the consolidation will be so complete that the Frisco name will be as much a thing of the past as the name of the Frisco purchased, the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis. You go into the Union depot at Kansas City and you'll see the cars of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, and you wouldn't know what you were talking about. It will be the same way with the Frisco railroad in six months."

BACK TAXES WANTED

Kentucky Seeks to Recover a Million From the Southern Pacific SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 6.—Geo. R. McLish, a representative of Kentucky's revenue agent, is here on a tour of the states and territories traversed by the lines of the Southern Pacific Company. The latter is a Kentucky corporation. It has not paid any taxes during the past five years and several weeks ago Revenue Agent Weller brought suit against it at Louisville to recover $1,000,000 in back taxes and penalties. Under the statutes of Kentucky a failure or refusal to pay taxes subjects delinquents to 20 per cent penalty in addition to the tax. The Southern Pacific owns no property in the state of Kentucky and the suit to recover taxes is based purely on the Kentucky franchise and the rights it gives the company to own stocks, bonds and other personal property. The company, through an attorney at Louisville, is preparing to contest the demand of the state authorities.

RAILROAD UP FOR SALE

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 6.—In railroad and financial circles considerable interest is manifested in the sale of the Fort Wayne and Western railroad, which takes place this afternoon at Ottawa, Ohio. The road extends from Findlay, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind., and it was originally designed to become a through system to Chicago, the original projector being the late Calvin S. Brice. It is thought that the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, which forms a connection with the road at Ottawa, will ultimately obtain control of the property.

AMERICA'S SUMMER RESORTS

A lot of these questions are answered and a lot of information given free in "Four-Track Series" No. 3, "America's Summer Resorts." Sent on receipt of a 2-cent stamp by George H. Daniels, general passenger agent, New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, Grand Central Station, New York.

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, July 6.—A report reached here yesterday morning that two men, names unknown, were drowned Saturday morning in Chamber's creek. While watching driftwood and other debris being carried down the stream two boys saw that the bodies of two men passed near them floating. They were fairly well dressed, but the boys did not recognize either of them.

INJURED IN AN AFFRAY

THE DAM HAS AGAIN BROKEN

Heavy Rain at Frisco Carried Away Improvements and Damaged the Wheat Crop

FRISCO, Texas, July 4.—After raining almost all day yesterday a very heavy downpour began about 6 o'clock and continued until after midnight, washing out many culverts, some bridges, washing land badly. Wheat thrashing was in full swing, but will be delayed into next week if it should not rain any more. The farmers are very uneasy about the wheat situation. The railroad dam, which was washed out during the heavy rains last winter, is being rebuilt and was near completion, but the unusually heavy rain of last night broke the dam again, damaging it to the extent of about $1,000. Work will be resumed and completed as soon as the weather will permit. The two days prior to the rain were the heaviest wheat-shipping days at this place this season, there being about 350 loads in the two days, with an average of about eighty bushels to the load, but a much heavier shipment is expected as soon as the weather fair's up and all the thrashers get started. The average yield has been about eighteen and twenty bushels per acre and an excellent sample.

RAIN AT GATESVILLE

GATESVILLE, Texas, July 5.—A very hard rain fell yesterday evening. For awhile it looked like the whole country would be overflowed. Reports from various parts of the county today indicate that no serious damage was done by the heavy rain yesterday except to grain in shock, which is reported to be considerable.

CROPS IN SMITH COUNTY

TYLER, Texas, July 4.—The tomato growers have been informed that tomatoes will not be received to ship in car lots until today. The canning factory will get the tomatoes. One man brought a wagon bed full to the factory today. Berries are nearly all gone. Corn prospects are fine. Cotton is late, but is growing nicely. Fall tomatoes are being planted very extensively around Tyler.

DAMAGE OF WHEAT

DENTON, Texas, July 6.—Thousands of bushels of wheat have been washed away in the shock in Denton county. The heaviest losses of wheat were in Hickory Creek and Clear creek bottoms, but the heaviest losses of corn and cotton crops were in Big Elm bottoms. Big Elm is more subject to overflow than any stream in the county, counting those that have their headwaters in the county, or those that only run through it. The source of Big Elm is far above this county and it drains a large area. And its bottoms are very wide and wheat, when overflow it does considerable damage.

Water Is Thirty-three Feet Above Low Water Mark and Is Rising

DALLAS, Texas, July 6.—The Trinity river flood at Dallas is the greatest since 1890. The water is thirty-three feet above the low water mark at noon, a rise of seven feet occurring during the last twenty-four hours. Buildings in the lowlands of the southwestern part of the city are submerged. Communication with Oak Cliff is cut off, except by rail. Much new railroad construction along the river district is damaged. Many cattle are reported drowned. There is heavy damage to cotton.

GREAT OFFICE IS TO PASS OUT

The passing away of a great officer, that of the commanding general of the American army, will mark an important change in our military system, says the Washington Post. In the course of a few months the office of senior, or commanding general of the army, will pass into history, and our military establishment will come under the administration of a general staff system.

The history of this high position, together with the eminent character of the officers who have from time to time occupied the office of general commanding the army, recalls the most interesting chapter in the military history of the republic. When Washington resigned his commission as general of the American armies, and peace was restored in 1783, he was succeeded by Major General Knox, in command of 1,000 men. The records of the war department show that Major General Knox was superseded by Captain John Doughty, who commanded only two light artillery batteries from August, 1781, to 1791.

Colonel Josiah Harmer was in command of the army with a minimum strength of 1,000 to a maximum of 2,322 men, by act of congress March 3, 1791. After the year 1791 the strength of the army was considered to be such as to entitle it to be commanded by a major general, and that office of command continued to be that of a major general until March, 1797, when the strength of the army was reduced to 4,000 men. In the meantime Major General Wayne having died, Brigadier General James Wilkinson assumed command, December, 1795, to July, 1798, the only officer of that rank who was ever in command of our armies.

When the war with France seemed imminent in 1798 the army was increased to 51,000 men, and Washington was called from retirement at Mount Vernon and appointed lieutenant general of the army. The act of March 2, 1799, abolished the office of lieutenant general and provided for an officer to be styled "general of the army of the United States." The same act increased the army to 40,000 men of all arms.

War with France did not occur, in the meantime Washington died as lieutenant general, and Major General Alexander Hamilton, who was second in command by the side of Washington, in case of war with France, assumed command of our armies from December 14, 1799, to June 15, 1800.

Congress in the year 1800 reduced the army to 2,000 men and limited the rank of its commander to brigadier general, which came under the command for the second time of Brigadier General Wilkinson, and remained until 1812. At the beginning of our second war with England the army was increased to nearly 65,000 men, with Major General Dearborn in command. From 1815 to 1823, a period of thirteen years, the army was on a peace basis and in command of Major General Brown. From 1823 to 1841 General Alexander Macomb commanded the army, with a maximum strength of about 12,000 men, which was increased by the Florida war of 1835.

When Major General Scott was placed in command of the army, in 1841, it was 18,000 strong, and it so remained until the war with Mexico, when acts of congress of 1847 made the increase to 30,000. By act of congress, February 15, 1855, Major General Scott, then commanding the army, was advanced to the rank of lieutenant general by brevet and pay to date back to 1847.

Brevet Lieutenant General Scott was in command of the army in 1841, when the civil war commenced. He was succeeded by Major General McClellan, who was in command until March, 1862. In New York, at the lowest possible average, 500,000 people live in rooms which ought to be considered absolutely uninhabitable, dark and without any window of ventilation.

Catarrh of the Stomach. When the stomach is overloaded, when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. STRIKE DELAYED STEEL

Northern Texas Traction Company Faces Unavoidable Obstacles

Frank M. Haines, manager of the Northern Texas Traction Company, said today that the steel for the new lines which are to be built in Fort Worth and for which the patrons of the road have been so long clamoring, will be here in about three weeks. It has been expected for some time past, in fact, was shipped several weeks ago. When she got on the stand it appeared to Judge Shropshire that there were some differences in her story as told this morning and as told to him some days ago. He asked her if any one had been talking to her about the case. Mrs. Ringgold thereupon pointed out Walter Scott, law partner of Jeff McLean, who is assisting County Attorney Lattimore, and said that he talked with her about the case yesterday.

Hill County People Just Hear of Poll Tax Amendment

HILLSBORO, Texas, July 6.—The attorney general was appealed to by some voters at Whitney to know if the poll tax law was now in effect as a report was circulated there that it did not go into effect until 1904. The occasion for the interest at Whitney is the election to be held on the 15th to abolish the corporation. The attorney general replied by quoting the poll tax amendment and ruling that the law became effective forty days after the amendment was adopted and that it applies now to any and all elections held in the state.

TO HEAR INJUNCTION

HILLSBORO, Texas, July 6.—About twenty-five citizens went to Cleburne today to attend the hearing of the motion to dissolve the injunction of A. J. Jones and J. D. Clifton against the city, which came up before Judge Poindexter today. Jones and Clifton were relieved as petitioners about six weeks ago by the city council and instituted injunction proceedings against the city.

THE DEFENDANT WAS PLACED ON THE STAND AND DENIED THAT HE USED ANY SUCH LANGUAGE AS THAT CREDITED TO HIM BY SAM JOHNSON.

C. W. Newby, police clerk, was called, but as he failed to bring his police register with him his testimony proved immaterial. The defense insisted to show by the register that Joe Wolf was in the police court on the morning of the day Wilson was killed. This was designed to refute the testimony of Morgan, the waiter.

MRS. BLACK, MOTHER OF JOE WOLF, THEN TESTIFIED THAT JOE WOLF WAS AT HER HOUSE SHORTLY AFTER 10 O'CLOCK ON THE MORNING OF THE DAY WILSON WAS SHOT UNTIL ABOUT NOON.

Mr. Lattimore then asked her, if this was the case, whether it was possible for Wolf to have been at the Higgins' house on the north side between 10 and 12 that morning, which she replied that he was not at Higgins' house that morning between those hours.

L. F. PATRICK'S TESTIMONY

L. F. Patrick, a barber, testified that Morgan told him about the case. Mr. Patrick first testified that he never had seen Wolf or Lawrence and would not know them if he did see them. Mr. Lattimore asked him if Morgan did not make this statement before he saw Wolf and Lawrence, and if he did not mean that Morgan said that he did not know them as Wolf and Lawrence. The witness was not permitted to answer the latter question, but in reply to the first one said it was before Morgan testified in the Wolf trial. He said that Morgan ate at only two meals a day and seldom came into the room—Patrick being his roommate—before midnight. He arose between 11 and 1 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Amory, another roommate of Morgan's testified to the same conversation with Morgan.

MRS. RINGGOLD TESTIFIES

Mrs. Bettie Ringgold testified in rebuttal for the state, denying certain portions of Mrs. Speck's testimony—An interesting scene in court

The Seventeenth district court was again crowded this morning when the taking of testimony in the trial of Joe Lawrence on the charge of murdering Jim Wilson was resumed. A number of witnesses were examined in rebuttal for the state, and then the rebuttal testimony of the defense was entered upon. Several interruptions took place at the instance of both sides, which at various times resulted in introducing rebuttal testimony rather than hold witnesses who had pressing engagements.

There were several interesting scenes during the morning. One occurred when Mrs. Bettie Ringgold, who lived at 105 Hemphill street at the time the two men involved in the Hemphill street clew roomed there, was testifying. Counsel for the prisoner had talked with the witness in the afternoon. She insisted that the dead man was a resident of Fort Worth and that he leaves a wife, who is out of the city.

NO MORE RAIN UNTIL TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Captain Reeder returned to his office in the city of the federal building this morning, after a vacation of two days, and has been afflicted all morning with reading complimentary notices about the rain which came on the Fourth after he had promised fair weather. Of course he didn't have to read the notices, but he did have to listen to the people who wanted to say something about it over the telephone.

To be sure, it wasn't his fault that a local shower came up unexpectedly and spoiled the day, but then he gets the credit for ordering it. He claims that he did his best for the Fourth, but conditions over which he could have no knowledge or control, wrecked everything.

The weather bureau was busy this morning endeavoring to make up for the time lost in the past two days. On that account the captain has not had time to make up a rainstorm today, so the next flood has been postponed until tomorrow.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 6.—A loaded bomb was this morning found under the saloon attached to Jacoby's garden. This report is one of the best known in the state. It is believed the explosive was placed there to blow up the place, but the motive is not clear.

GRAUSTARK

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

SYNOPSIS. Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy American globe-trotter, stumbles into acquaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair get left at the station when the "Flyer" stops for repairs in West Virginia. Lorry wires ahead to hold the train at the next town. He hires a wagon to drive them the intervening four miles. They catch the train. Lorry learns the young lady's name is Miss Guggenlocker and her companions are her uncle and aunt. They arrive in Washington and Lorry is asked to breakfast with the trio. They leave for New York. Lorry spends a day trying to work, but gives it up and rushes to New York hoping to catch a farewell glimpse of Miss Guggenlocker before she sails. Just as the Kaiser Wilhelm steams away he catches sight of her and throws a kiss from the tips of his fingers. To his great surprise the gesture is returned.

While he was still waving his handkerchief, debating savagely and joyously the wisdom of the act, she became a part of the distant color scheme. The blue figure faded and blended into the general tone and could no longer be distinguished. She was gone, but she had tossed him a kiss from lips that he should always see.

Uppermost in his bewildered mind was the question, Why is she not in the passenger list? Acting on a sudden impulse, he again sought out the clerk in charge and made a most thorough inspection. They was no Guggenlocker among the names. As a last resort he asked:

"They could not have sailed under an assumed name, could they?"

"I can't say as to that. Where are they going?"

"Graustark."

But the young man shook his head slowly, Lorry's shaking in unconscious accord.

"Are you sure that you saw the young lady on board?"

"Well, rather," exclaimed Lorry emphatically.

"I was going to say there are a lot of Italian and German singers on the ship, and you might have been mistaken. But since you are so positive it seems very strange that your friends are not on the list."

No Lorry went away discouraged and with a vague fear that she might have been a prima donna whose real name was Guggenlocker, but whose stage name was something more euphonious. He presently put away the thought and the fear. She was certainly not an opera singer—impossible! He drove back to his hotel and made preparations for his return to Washington. Glancing casually over the register, he came to the name that had been haunting him—Guggenlocker! There were the names, "Caspar Guggenlocker and four, Graustark." Without hesitation he began to question the clerk.

"They sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm today," said that worthy. "That's all I know about them. They came yesterday and left today."

Mr. Grenfall Lorry returned to Washington as in a dream—a fairy dream. The air of mystery that had grown from the first was now an impenetrable wall, the top of which his curiosity could not scale. Even his fancy, his imagination, served him not. There was but one point on which he was satisfied—he was in love. His own condition was no mystery.

Through the long hot summer he worked and worried and wondered. He must know all about her! But how?

The early months of autumn found him pale and tired and indifferent alike to work and play. He found no pleasure in the society that had known him as a lion. The doctor told him he was approaching nervous prostration. His mother's anxious eyes could no longer be deceived, so he realized grimly that there was but one course left open to him: He suggested it to the doctor, to his mother and to his uncle, and they agreed with him. It involved Europe.

Having fully decided again to cross the sea, his spirits revived. He became more cheerful, took an interest in things that were going on, and by the time the Kaiser Wilhelm sailed in September was the picture of health and life.

He was off for Edelweiss—to the strange Miss Guggenlocker who had thrown him a kiss from the deck that sailing day.

CHAPTER VI. GRAUSTARK.

TWO weeks later Grenfall Lorry was landed and enjoying the sensations, the delights, of that wonderful world called by the name of Paris. The second day after his arrival he met a Harvard man of his time on the street. Harry Anguish had been a pseudo art student for two years. When at college, he was a half fellow well met, a leader in athletics and in matters upon which faculties frown. He and Lorry were warm friends, although utterly unlike in temperament. To know either of these men was to like him. Between the two one found all that was admirable and interesting in man. The faults and virtues of each were along such different lines that they balanced perfectly when lumped upon the scale of personal estimation. Their unexpected meeting in Paris was an exhilarating pleasure to both, and for the next week or so they were inseparable. Together they sipped absinth at the cafes and strolled into the theaters, the opera, the dance halls and the homes of some of Anguish's friends, French and American.

Lorry did not speak to his friend of Graustark until nearly two weeks after his arrival in the city. He had discussed with himself the advisability of revealing his plans to Anguish, fearing the latter's ridicule with all the cowardice of a man who knows that scoffing is in a large measure justifiable. Growing impatient to begin the search for the unheard of country, its capital and at least one of its inhabitants, he was at last compelled to inform Anguish to a certain extent of his plans for the future. He began by telling him of his intention to take a run over toward Vienna, Budapest and some of the eastern cities, expecting to be gone a couple of months. To his surprise and consternation, Anguish enthusiastically volunteered to take the trip with him, having had the same project in view for nearly a year.

There was nothing left for Lorry but to make a clean breast of it, which he did shamefacedly, expecting the laughter and raillery of his light hearted friend as payment for his confidence. Instead, however, Anguish, who possessed a lively and romantic nature, was charmed by the story and proclaimed it to be the most delightful adventure that had ever happened outside of a story book.

"Tell me all about her," he urged, his eyes sparkling with boyish enthusiasm. And Lorry proceeded to give him a personal description of the mysterious beauty, introducing him in the same manner to the distinguished uncle and aunt, adding all those details which had confounded and upset him during his own investigations.

"This is rich!" exclaimed Anguish. "Beats any novel written. I declare. Begad, old man, I don't blame you for hunting down this wonderful bit of femininity. With a curiosity and an admiration that had been sharpened so keenly as yours, I'd go to the end of the world myself to have them satisfied."

"I may be able to satisfy but one curiosity. And maybe not that. But who knows of Graustark?"

"Don't give up before you've tried. If these people live in such a place, why, it is to be found, of course. Any railroad guidebook can locate this land of mystery. There are so many infernal little kingdoms and principalities over here that it would take a lifetime to get 'em all straightened out in one's head. Tomorrow morning we will go to one of the big railway stations and make inquiries. We'll locate Graustark, and then we'll go over and pluck the flower that grows there. All you need, my boy, is a manager. I'll do the arranging, and your little act will be the plucking."

"Easier said than done."

"She threw a kiss to you, didn't she?"

"Certainly, but confound it, that was because she never expected to see me again."

"Same reason why you threw a kiss to her, I suppose."

"I know why, I wasn't accountable."

"Well, if she did it any more wittingly than you did she is accountable, and I'd hunt her up and demand an explanation."

LILIES OF HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

The "Jersey Lily" Talks of Health and Beauty.

In a recent interview with Mrs. Lily Langtry, she wisely said: "The fact that I believe in the superior force of mind over matter does not blind me to the truth that the foundation of every successful life is good health; that the keystone to physical beauty is perfect physical health."

"A sick woman cannot be a beautiful woman, nor can she be anything but what we English call a poor-spirited woman. To a great extent a woman's beauty is measured by her vitality—by her health."

"Work, Sunshine, Exercise, Water and Soap, Plain, Nourishing Food, Lots of Fresh Air, and a Happy, Contented Spirit—these, as you say, 'honest and true,' is my working rule for youth, youthful spirits and youthful looks."

THE AMERICAN GIRL.

As a rule the American girl lives up to the rules as laid down by Mrs. Langtry, and that is why she has carried off the palm for attractiveness in most of the European capitals. The famous woman's specialist, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has always advocated for women's happiness absolute freedom from care and anxiety. At least eight hours' sleep out of every twenty-four, in addition a short nap in the middle of the day if possible. Simple in-door exercises or brisk walks in the out-door air. For some this is impossible, and many are confined to a continual in-door life because of disease of the womanly organs. To these is offered $500 REWARD. If they cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus or Falling of Womb. All the manufacturers ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

The financial responsibility of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, the manufacturers and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States, with most of whom they have done business for over a third of a century.

No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee. No other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its makers in publishing such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of a third of a century of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

HOW TO KEEP YOUTH AND BEAUTY. One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make-up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps for

THE HUMAN MECHANISM. The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women. The correctness of this advice is amply proven by the experience of many thousands of women—a large number of whom have written their experiences. The following letters are selected at random from a large number of similar ones, and are cited merely to illustrate the foregoing remarks upon what we consider the rational and scientific method of treatment.

"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails," writes Mrs. Dr. Nielsen, of 402 Langley Avenue, Chicago, Ills. "It is a certain cure for female troubles, diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration, intense pains in womb and ovaries and dreadful backache, which unfitted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill had to keep to my bed. The pains at times were so severe as to cause spasms, and a disagreeable discharge drained my life forces. In this extremity, after all else had been tried, I used 'Favorite Prescription,' and after using it for four weeks began to improve so rapidly, that I was greatly encouraged, as continued its use for three months and then I was well. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I only wish that every woman would try it, for I feel that it would certainly do her great good."

"I have had ample cause to be grateful to you for your wonderful medicine," writes Mrs. Hattie Tenabell, of 1123 Zanes Street, Louisville, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has saved many a woman's life, and eased and cured thousands of women, who, before taking this medicine, dragged wearily through life. Thanks to your remedy I am to-day strong and well. Have had ten children, seven boys and three girls, and my share of life's burdens. At age of 39 change of life began, and I felt the hot and cold flashes, extreme lassitude and nervousness peculiar to that period. After using your 'Favorite Prescription,' these symptoms disappeared and it carried me through the critical period safely and well. I heartily recommend it to any woman; it builds up the general health and surely cures troubles peculiar to the sex."

CONFIDENTIAL ADVICE. Very often a married woman or young girl does not know who to turn to for advice in circumstances where she desires to talk with the family physician about delicate matters. At such times write to Dr. R. V. Pierce for free consultation and advice and the same will be held as sacredly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends or persons without medical training. Dr. Pierce, as chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., has made a specialty of women's diseases for more than thirty years, and can advise you understandingly and thoroughly through and scientific knowledge of women's diseases.

Things Heard In Hotel Lobbies

George Richter of Gainesville spent yesterday in the city and had much to say of the recent flood in that locality. "There was never danger to the people of the town, as the sensational newspaper reports indicated. Some of the streets were running water, and it was the greatest flood the town has ever known, but it soon passed off, as Gainesville has an excellent drainage system. It is believed the first report was sent out by someone who believed it was a joke to say that nine feet of water covered the public square. The crops in the county are in fine condition, the damage reported being only in places, and not at all widespread. Gainesville anticipates the biggest trade ever known in that section. This result, following three years of crop failures, is gratifying to those who are in business in Cooke county. E. G. Myers of Dallas, treasurer of the Texas Printers' Supply Company, spent today in the city, coming over on the Interoceanic. Mr. Myers is better known among the newspaper men of the state than any salesman of printers' supplies making this territory. For years he made the entire state, visiting the country printer from day to day. In the deepest of press days he brought his smiling countenance to the side of the Washington land press and cheered up the tired editor-publisher, stood by the "country Campbell" while the home print side was being run, or he has met the more prosperous editor on his "tripod." He is always welcome, and in every print shop in the state there is a "glad hand" for "George." This morning as he stepped from the electric car he said, "I just thought I would take a run over and see the metropolis. The quiet times in Dallas are pleasant, but now and then I want excitement and I took a day off. We have already found out that Fort Worth grows so fast you can see the progress every hour, and I want to observe a little of it."

PANTHERS TAKE ENTIRE SERIES

MAKE IT THREE STRAIGHT FROM THE OIL CITY TEAM

The large crowd which attended the game yesterday saw the Panthers wallop the Oil City aggregation by a score of 4 to 1. Although Corsicana scored first, the home team made runs in a manner that made the contest a one-sided affair. Jarvis was in the box for the home team and was a mystery throughout the game. The six hits that were made off of his delivery were scattered, except for the two that came in the second inning. Incidentally he won his tenth victory out of eleven games pitched this season. Another change in the umpire was made yesterday. Laird resigned Saturday after the game and was replaced by one to take the place Lockhead was selected to take care of the game. His decisions were, all except one, satisfactory to both sides. The home team played another errorless game yesterday. There were lots of chances for errors on hard-hit balls, but not one was handled except in a clean manner. O'Connor saved Combs a mis-play in the last inning by not running. "Mike" was the first batter to get on base, stepped to the plate determined to put the ball out of sight. When he hit it just hard enough to knock a pop-up to Combs he threw his bat down with disgust and walked to the bench. His friends, and in whose memory the life of the departed is treasured with the kindest remembrance. The sermon by Rev. James S. Myers, pastor of the Christian Tabernacle, was from the text, "Victory Through Christ." The pall bearers to the church were the following members of the church: C. E. Greenwood, G. F. Ertman, H. M. Bennett, J. M. Bentz, E. K. Ray and W. P. Callahan. On leaving the church the following members bore the coffin: Messrs. Cetti, Turrows, Williford, Hogsett, McKee and Lidgell. NEWLIN WINS FIRST NEWS CONTEST

The Telegram's third news contest ended with yesterday's issue of the paper. The winners were as follows: Winner-Newsline, first prize, $5; 375 items. Argyle Purcell, second prize, $3; 328 items. William Batterson, third prize, $2; 124 items. This was the most successful contest of the three in which the Telegram's young readers have participated. It resulted in a larger number of items being sent to this office and in a larger number being accepted and printed, than in either of the previous two. There were only five entries to start with and two of these withdrew after dropping far back in the contest. The race between Newlin and Purcell was an unusually interesting one. First one lead and then the other, but in the final week of the race, which opened with Newlin having 215 and Purcell 208, Newlin was a little more successful than his opponent and increased his lead. William Batterson is to be commended for the improvement he showed during the race. He was a really little fellow and it was difficult for him to understand why some of his items were not used, but he took his medicine bravely and kept plugging away, finally winding up with a very good "rating" to his credit. The Telegram extends its congratulations to the prize winners. Purcell has now been in two contests, and he has done splendidly in both. The others got their first experience as news gatherers in this contest.

A MASONIC FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Sherman Horn, whose death occurred at his home, at Handley, last Thursday night, was conducted from the Christian Tabernacle yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services were in charge of the Masonic bodies of the city, of which societies the deceased was an honored member. "Mike" was the first batter to get on base, stepped to the plate determined to put the ball out of sight. When he hit it just hard enough to knock a pop-up to Combs he threw his bat down with disgust and walked to the bench. LETTERS TO THE TELEGRAM

CLEBURNE, Tex., July 2.—The Fort Worth Telegram: I thank you for sending my Telegram to my name, and I am proud indeed to know that Miss Jewell Roberts of Abilene, one of the two angels that caused me to take your paper, was a prize winner, and I am glad that Abilene can boast of such a worthy young lady. I had the honor of being with the late Mrs. W. H. White when the new city of Abilene was located for the T. and P. railroad and Mr. Merchant and his associate owner of said land, Colonel Simpson, and there was nothing there then but prairie dogs, but plenty of them. I had the pleasure of selling out the lots of that town at auction, and have seen that country develop into a farming country, as I predicted. Your friend, CAPT. J. A. H. HOSACK.

CO-OPERATION WANTED

To the progressive merchants and public-spirited citizens of Fort Worth: Having been chosen to manage and pull off a successful "Fall Festival" for the city of Fort Worth October 5-10, 1902, I want to ask the hearty co-operation of everybody, to the end that we may have an event that will reflect credit upon the community. The time is opportune to make Fort Worth the "Mecca" of all Texans each fall. It will take financial support to do it. It will take your individual showing of an interest in your city. By sending out personal invitations to your customers and friends to come to your city at that time, offer such inducements as will bring them to your store and let them know "where you keep." Hoping to merit the confidence of all, and to have the co-operation of every business firm, financial, military and fraternal organization, and that every individual will learn to feel that they can at least invite a few friends that will come and add to the magnitude of the event that is to make Fort Worth famous, I am, Yours for success, FRANK M. WHITE, Director General Fort Worth Fall Festival.

SELECTING DELEGATES

Representatives of R. E. Lee Camp to the State Reunion. At the regular weekly meeting of Robert E. Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, yesterday afternoon a committee comprising Messrs. McNeely, Littlejohn and Abston was appointed for the purpose of naming thirty-six alternate delegates to the state reunion at Sherman, Okla., this August 15. The delegates have been selected. Their names and those of the alternates, which will be selected this week will be announced at the regular meeting of the camp next Sunday. Colonel William F. C. Cameron will be extended an invitation to address the camp at a future date on the life of Robert E. Lee. D. C. Cameron was a visitor at the meeting of the camp yesterday. Cameron was recently honorably discharged from the Confederate Home at Austin at his own request. Colonel McCaughey of Hood county was a guest at the meeting of the camp yesterday.

DIDN'T FEEL THAT WAY

Pleasure of intoxication a forgotten memory to him. "I may have been drunk your honor, and I don't want to 'spite the officers' word, but if I was drunk, I didn't feel that way," said the defendant. He was tall, spare and long past middle age. The officer said that he had staggered and his wobbly walk would convince anybody that he was more than half seas over. Therefore the defendant, whose name was Phillips, accommodately said he'd take the officer's word for it, so Judge Brewett fined him a dollar and costs. "Then there was a fight on Grove street that started in a friendly banter and round up with cold rocks and a $3 fine for one of the participants. The other had his case passed. But on the whole, though the session was long and dragsy, it was a light morning in corporation court.

HE TOOK TWO SHOTS

TEXARKANA, Texas, July 5.—"Sunny" Franklin and Arthur Brown, two negroes from New Boston, Texas, became involved in a difficulty in this city today. Both negroes walk upon the "hunt" for each other for some time and had blood had existed between them. Franklin took a couple of shots at Brooks, but the bullets failed to do any damage to the fleeing negro. The trouble happened in "Swampoodle" and caused much excitement in that vicinity.

FORT WORTH MAN ABROAD

Sidney E. Farnsworth, a prominent attorney of Fort Worth, was in the city yesterday. He was enthusiastic over the prospects of his town. He believes it is the coming metropolis of Texas. Mr. Farnsworth said that two more packing houses were absolutely assured for Fort Worth. These are the Cudahy company and the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger Company. These will mean much for the future business interests of that town.—Austin Statesman.

CANNON AVE. REVIVAL

Two Large Meetings Held Yesterday and Good Sermons Heard. Those who heard Rev. W. M. Robinson's sermons at the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday were universal in their expressions of delight with the manner in which the evangelist handled his themes. At 11 o'clock his subject was "The Value of Man," his text being Matthew 8: 31. "Ye are of more value than many sparrows." He paid a glowing tribute to man as the crown of God's handiwork and declared himself wholly out of harmony with the "worm of the dust" theory, declaring that the degree of man's attainment depends on his competency to see his possibilities. He made a strong appeal for high ideals and a realization of the truth that underlying all character and civilization is the religion of the Bible. At the close of the service almost the entire congregation came forward in testimony of their desire to be used for the uplifting of the race, and especially for the betterment of Fort Worth. The evening discourse was devoted to a harmony of the gospels in a study of the life of Christ. He interpreted the four faces of Daniel and revelation as typical of the forefold view of Christ presented by Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The sermon was such as is seldom heard. It was replete with the beauty of suggestion and illustration and climaxed in the thought that the characteristics of Christ must and will be found in the true Christian. Rousing music added inspiration to the worshippers. Tonight the preacher's theme will be "Jordan is a Hard Road to Travel." Services will continue throughout the week, beginning at 8:15 p. m.

THREE DEAD NEGROES

Factional Fight at Texarkana Sunday Morning Resulted Fatally

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 6.—Six shots and three dead negroes show the skill and marksmanship by the record made in the northwestern suburbs of this city at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The killing resulted from a bad blood between two negroes of this city, one called Arkansas and the other Texas. The dead negroes are aged 16, 18 and 19 years. Flip Hardy is supposed to have started the trouble by killing Will Hopkins. The latter's two companions then killed Flip Hardy and Will Moore. An inquest was held by Justice Henry, but nothing developed. Officers are now at work and the guilty party is expected to be caught in a few hours.

ENDEAVORERS TO MEET

DENVER, Col., July 6.—Though it is two days before the international convention of the Christian Endeavor society is scheduled to begin its sessions arriving trains are already unloading hosts of delegates and visitors in Denver. For the most part the early arrivals are scattering to near-by mountain resorts and points of interest and will not return until Wednesday. Meanwhile preparations for the convention are rapidly nearing completion. At headquarters the officials are up to their ears in the work of receiving the delegates and distributing badges. At headquarters the officials are up to their ears in the work of receiving the delegates and distributing badges. As rapidly as they arrive the visitors are taken in charge by white-capped members of the reception committee and escorted to the quarters assigned them. Many private homes have been thrown open to the visitors and although the crowd is expected to be one of immense proportions, no difficulty is anticipated in providing every comer with plenty to eat and a place to sleep.

THURBER HAD A GREAT DAY

Celebration of July Fourth Was Marked by a Delightful Program—Sponsor Was Elected

THURBER, Texas, July 6.—Old Glory's birthday was celebrated with a "flourish of trumpets" in Thurber. Truly, the average inhabitant's soul burned with patriotic ardour, and his heart beat with gratitude as he enjoyed the blessings made possible through the priceless legacy of freedom.

Guests from Fort Worth: Mineral Wells, Strawn, Gordon and other adjoining towns came in vast numbers to share the day's entertainment and sports with the people of Thurber, and right royally were they entertained.

The parade, which formed promptly at 10 a. m., was composed of many striking features, and would have done credit to Fort Worth or Dallas. The music by the Italian band was good. Several different lodge organizations, with their beautiful banners floating, were in line. The Red-men, dressed in war paint, feathers and bright costumes, was especially noticeable, and made all the more complete by having a gayly decorated float, with two tepees, a tri-pod and kettle, an Indian squaw, an Indian man and several papooses, from babies up to 12 years of age, representing an Indian family in camp.

The Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Veterans, followed by their handsome and stately sponsor, Miss Ann Campbell Gordon, elegantly attired and riding "a fiery steed." Miss Gordon was accompanied by her maids of honor, Misses Lightfoot and Travis, who were seated in a beautifully decorated stanhope.

The parade was managed by Captain William Lightfoot, marshal of the day. After taking in the principal resident streets, the procession marched to Marston pavilion, where the following program was rendered: Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Earles. Reading of Declaration of Independence, by the bright and charming Miss Bessie Fatillo.

Address of welcome, by Rev. Mr. Wycough. Music by the band. Address, by W. C. Henderson, great prophet of the Redmen of the reservation of Texas.

Address to the Confederate veterans, by Hon. W. P. Lane of Fort Worth. Address to the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, by N. R. Tisdal of Fort Worth.

After a lunch at the club house, the crowd again assembled at 9:30 p. m. to enjoy the grand ball, which closed at 11:30 in order to publicly announce the decision in the contest for sponsor for the Sons of Veterans, which resulted in the election of Miss Elkin Mozell Lightfoot.

NATURE PICTURES FOR EXHIBITION VESTIBULES ON THE CARS

Scenes at Wichita Falls Being Put on Canvas or St. Louis Exposition—The Shriners' Special—"Timely Topics" by the Katy

Vernon White of Dallas was in the city this morning en route to Wichita Falls, where he will make sketches of the irrigation plant and of fields of cereals and vegetation, from which he will execute a fine painting for exhibition at the St. Louis exposition. Mr. White is in the employ of the Texas World's Fair commission. His painting will be in colors, in dimensions it will be sufficiently large to properly bring out the magnitude of the subject in hand. It probably will require a frame six by eight feet, and will be one of the features of the Texas exhibit.

IMMENSE MELON CROP

The cantaloupe crop at Wichita Falls is nearly ready for shipment. The yield has been much larger than was anticipated. T. L. Peeler of Dallas, industrial agent of the Katy, who was in the city today en route to Wichita Falls, stated that the shipments from that point will aggregate seventy-five cars. This product, which now exists in the patches about Wichita Falls, will be featured in the painting which is to be made by Mr. White.

BIG POTATO INDUSTRY

Mr. Peeler's parties at Wichita Falls are at present contemplating the cultivation of from five hundred to a thousand acres of potatoes for the fall crop. It has been demonstrated that this is a reasonably sure crop and there is a good market for potatoes.

THE SHRINERS' SPECIAL

The Katy pulled one of the finest trains that has ever left Dallas yesterday when the capture of the one hundred Shriners' cars for Saratoga, N. Y. to attend the imperial council. T. L. Peeler of Dallas, industrial agent of the Katy, was today telling his friends of the distinction which his road has attained in this wise. The train out of Dallas consisted of four of the finest Pullman coaches and a baggage car. Another Pullman will be picked up at Denison. In that order the entire train will go through to its final destination and will be used to bring the Shriners home from Saratoga. The cars will travel over the Big Four, which road will also provide a dining car from that place on to Saratoga. Many of the Texas delegation were accompanied by their wives. Among the special features of the train were the Shriners' Temple, W. P. Lindsay of Dallas, traveling passenger agent of the Katy, accompanied the special to Saratoga.

"TIMELY TOPICS"

The advance copies of the last edition of Timely Topics, a little booklet issued bi-monthly by the Katy, has been received in Fort Worth. The contents of the work was compiled under the direction of T. L. Peeler, industrial agent of that road. The current issue comprises fifty-six pages, besides a handsome cover. The printing is executed in two colors, the subject-matter being handsomely illustrated with half-tone cuts of features of Texas. Among other points in the pamphlet which are to receive beneficial to the state in general is the fact that of the cities on the Katy referred to in the booklet the names of the president and secretary of the commercial club in each place are given. It is stated that there may be chance to be interested in investments in any portion of the state may refer to such officials. The industrial and commercial departments of the Katy, and in fact, all other roads in Texas, are putting forth every effort to encourage immigration to the state, but the action of the Katy in publishing the names of proper persons in each city from whom information may be secured will add to the value of the work. The circulation of Timely Topics is more than 40,000. They are sent to Italy, Germany and many other foreign countries as well as to every state and territory in the Union. It is a method of advertising which the Katy has adopted some time ago in the form of a small folder. Texas development has warranted the enlargement of the system to the present magnitude.

WAXAHACHIE BUSINESS

For some time past T. H. Barrow, agent of the Houston and Texas Central Railway at Waxahachie, has been at work on a statement showing the amount of business handled by the Central at Waxahachie for a period of two years. The statement was completed yesterday and the statement as prepared by Mr. Barrow extends from Jan. 1, 1901 to Jan. 1, 1902, and shows the following:
Total tonnage of freight received, 129,844,992 pounds; earnings, $206,111.70; total tonnage of freight, 62,942,751 pounds; revenue, $192,924.40; total amount from sale of tickets, $84,648.55; excess on baggage collected, $1,090.90.

OFF TO DETROIT

On the night of Monday, July 12, the Texas delegation will leave for the international Epworth League convention at Detroit, traveling by way of the Cotton Belt route to Memphis, Louisville and Nashville, and then to Cincinnati, with a side trip to the wonderful Mammoth Cave of Kentucky. Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway to Toledo, and the Michigan Central.

After the meeting at Detroit is over a side trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo has been arranged, the option of taking this journey by rail or by lake steamer being given. Through sleeping cars will be operated from Texas points to Detroit without change, and the party will be accompanied by State President H. H. Haisell and State Secretary A. K. Hazdale and many others. If you have not already done so, it will be well for those who are going to enroll their names with the secretary at once in order that they may be assured of sleeping car accommodations.

This will unquestionably be one of the most delightful journeys that the Epworth League has ever taken, and besides the trip will be made at a very reasonable cost.

UNACCOMMODATING

Father—This report you have brought me from school displeases me very much. Willie—Yes, sir, I told the teacher it would, but she's that mean she wouldn't change it.—Philadelphia Press.

New State Law Will Make It Necessary for Motormen to Be Protected

Talking to the motorman will be impossible in Fort Worth when the new street cars which have been ordered for the Belt and other lines arrive, and when the old cars already in use are remodeled to comply with the state law which the last legislature passed, making it compulsory to provide vestibules on electric street cars between November 15 and March 15 each year.

This law has been agitated for several years and has come up before every legislature. It has been defeated every year until this, when it was passed by a large vote. It has taken nearly all of the street car companies of the state by surprise, but the Fort Worth company is probably better prepared for it than any other.

NEW CARS ARE VESTIBULED
The ten new street cars that were ordered in December are to be provided with vestibules according to the provisions of the law. These cars are not only to be built up in front, but the vestibule is to surround the entire platform. Doors like those on the Dallas cars will be used instead of gates at the sides.

Until these new cars arrive it will be impossible for the company to go on with the work of vestibuling the ones that are in service now. The company is so crippled by not having enough cars that it is impossible to withdraw any of the cars in service in order to put the vestibules on them. The work of vestibuling the old cars will be done in the company's barns on Daggett avenue. The entire front of the cars will practically be torn off in order to fasten the new part of the cars on.

The new cars were ordered to be delivered on the 15th of June, but the car company building them has been so rushed with work that it has been impossible for them to finish them in time. General Manager Frank M. Haines of the Fort Worth company has just returned from Cleveland, where he went to see about the new cars. He said this morning:

"Three of the new cars have been promised to be delivered within the next two weeks. I supposed that delay would come on account of the trucks and motors, but I found that they had been delivered and that the car company had not been able to finish the framework of the cars. Six cars were nearly done and will be sent on as soon as possible. Work will be rushed so that we can get the first three immediately."

WORK COMMENCED ON OLD CARS
Work was begun today on the first car to be vestibuled at the company's repair shops on Daggett avenue and Wheeler street. The sides of the car for about six feet on each end had to be torn off so that the new vestibule would be securely fastened. The work on the car is progressing rapidly and the car will leave the shops within a few days.

Manager Haines said in regard to the law today: "This law makes it harder for the motorman to run his car. He is not able to get as good a view of the street in front of him through the windows as he would if everything were open. Even in the Northern cities the cars are not all vestibuled. None of the cars in New York or Boston have vestibules on them, as they believe there that the chance for accidents is greatly increased by them."

The text of the new law is as follows:
"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any corporation or receiver operating a line of electric street railway in the state of Texas to require or permit the operation upon its lines of any electric car, other than train cars attached to motor cars, during the periods beginning November 15 and ending March 15 of each year, unless the forward end of such car is provided with a screen or vestibule which shall fully protect the motorman or other person directing the traffic, power by which such car is propelled, from wind and storm. Provided, that when excursionists are visiting any city, summer or open cars without such vestibule or screen may be operated as specials in addition to the regular service."

Sec. 2. Any corporation or receiver operating a line of electric car street railway in the state of Texas who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be liable to the state of Texas for a penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each offense."

KEPT THE TRACK HOT

Sunday was an exceedingly busy day on the Texas and Pacific between Fort Worth and Dallas. During the day and night twenty-one passenger trains passed over the road besides the usual freight run. The trains thus routed included besides the regular Texas and Pacific trains those of the Cotton Belt, the Katy and the Frisco, the last two being compelled to detour on account of a washout near Carrollton.

RAILROAD BRIEFS AND PERSONALS

F. O. Vaughn, chief clerk in the office of the superintendent of the New Orleans Pacific division of the Texas and Pacific, at New Orleans, was in the city yesterday en route to the Indian Territory, where he has personal business interests. Mr. Vaughn was accompanied as far as Fort Worth by his family, which was en route to Big Springs for an extended visit with friends.

NEW STREET CAR LINE

People of Chambers Hill Finally Get Regular Service

As a result of the agitation in The Telegram and the repeated complaints of the residents living out near East Front street, the new car service out that street to the city limits was begun today. Cars are running now every twenty minutes. The people of Chambers Hill are jubilant over the final giving in by the street car company to their demands. Hitherto it has been almost impossible for the people there to get into town. The interurban cars stop only when the motorman feels inclined to, and when anyone wants to get off an outgoing car, he was usually carried beyond his destination. The best service of the day was during the baseball game in the afternoon, when cars were run occasionally, but on no published schedule.

Double tracks have been laid from Beaz avenue about half way to the limits in order that the new line of cars will not interfere with the interurban trains.

When the appeal for help for the persecuted Jews in Kishineff was made in New York the Chinese gave a benefit performance in the Chinese theater and raised nearly $300. As Shakespeare might have said, one touch of abuse makes the alien races kin.

"We Want to Try Your Sherbet"

They say you make the best in town. "That's what the ladies say," was the reply.

"Give us some of your delicious sherbet," said two ladies this a. m. "The polite soda dispenser replied, "I am sorry, but we have not been able to get it made; it will be about 20 minutes before it is ready."

"Oh, well, we will just wait, as we want no other."

Try the Queen Anne Sherbet.
