He Will Take the Trade From Islands of Curacao and Trinidad Off the Coast of Venezuela

PENALTY FOLLOWS HELP GIVEN REBELS

He Will Issue a Decree Which Will Prevent Reshipment From Ports of the Islands Because of Assistance Given to Insurrection

NEW YORK, August 13.—President Castro of Venezuela. It is reported in this city, is formulating plans to take away the trade of the islands of Curacao and Trinidad because of the aid given by them to the recent insurrection against the Venezuelan government.

This trade, it is understood, President Castro will endeavor to divert to Venezuelan ports. The reshipment of goods from here is done because of a lack of facilities to reach some of the small Venezuelan ports direct.

The decree which is soon expected from President Castro also will have the effect of placing a check on the wholesale smuggling that is now notoriously carried on between the islands and the small ports of Venezuela.

PARRY TALKS OF THE MOB SPIRIT

He Denounces Organized Labor As a Standing Mob to Over-ride the Laws of the Several States

IT'S WILL SUPERIOR TO THE CONSTITUTION

President of National Association of Manufacturers Is Drastic in His Criticism of the Men Who Compose the Unions of This Country

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., August 13.—D. M. Parry, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today delivered one of the most important addresses before the conference on "The Mob Spirit in America."

He said in part: "In this country in the last year there have been many mob spirit outbreaks, but to my mind most dangerous of them all is the mob of organized labor. No man, I take it, can object to any kind of association of labor or otherwise which is organized for lawful and beneficial purposes, but organized labor as it is conducted today stands convicted by its own leaders as a lawless organization, in that it seeks by physical force to override individual rights and continually railing against laws and denouncing courts and public officials for enforcing these laws it fails all the requirements of the definition of mobocracy. Unlike lynching bees and vigilante committees, it is what might be termed a standing mob under fair discipline by its officers and ready upon occasion to commit overt acts of outrage and destruction which are outward manifestations of the mob spirit. It declares to the effect that its will is superior to customs, traditions, governments, regulations and even the constitution of the country. It asserts that the individual has no inherent rights that cannot be taken from him and that, therefore, it has the right to say that no man shall work and that no industry shall run without its consent."

TRAINMEN CLING TO TREE TOPS

Rock Island Has a Serious Wreck Where Hendricks Creek Bridge Has Been Weakened by Cloudburst

A CAR IS HANGING OVER WATER'S EDGE

Fisherman Finds and Rescues Unconscious Engineer Who Was Caught in the Swollen Stream and Washed to the Branches of Tree Near By

TOPEKA, Kan., August 13.—The engine, mail car and baggage car on the Texas express of the Rock Island, which leaves Topeka at midnight, went through a bridge near Hendricks creek, near Alma at 1:30 o'clock this morning, killing Fireman John Leggett of McFarland, Kan., and seriously injuring Engineer John McSteen of Kansas City.

The baggage and express men jumped when the shock came and were swept by the waters into treetops, from whence they were rescued at daylight by William Graves, a fisherman.

Graves also found the engineer unconscious and entangled in the limbs of a tree. The engine is at the bottom of the creek out of sight. One car is dangling from the end of the bridge and another lodged on the bank of the stream, partly under water.

"That a fearful loss of life did not follow is due to the narrowness of the stream where the disaster occurred. A cloudburst had filled the creek and weakened the bridge.

NOTHING KNOWN HERE

The news of the wreck had not been received at the general offices of the Chicago, Rock Island and Texas Railroad Company when a reporter for The Telegram called this afternoon.

A LION HUNTER FROM SINGAPORE LOST HIS WAY IN THE STREETS OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

NEW YORK, August 13.—By the grace of the British consul in New York sailing home to India with strange tales in his head is Abdul Khadir, lion hunter and elephant trainer, who achieved local fame by losing himself in Brooklyn.

Dressed in Oriental robes, Abdul came ashore from the British ship Indramaya, from Singapore to Brooklyn, to buy a package of cigarettes. The British captain advised him to take little money with him. Abdul had, in a spirit of adventure, shipped on the Indramaya. He obeyed the captain and, lacking money, nearly died in Brooklyn streets.

He lost his bearings and persons could not understand him. During four days he starved and slept in parks. On August 5 he emerged from a little park adjoining the Kings county court house. He was exhausted. He fell to the pavement and mumbled to passersby. In despair he knove toward a passing automobile. The occupants took him in the automobile to the department of charities. There he collapsed. An ambulance surgeon said he was suffering from starvation. He was fed and removed to the Home for Aged Men, where Abdul refused to associate with the inmates.

For days he was taken about the city trying to find a person who could identify or talk to him. In this way the strange party met an officer of the British ship Indro, who knew Abdul Khadir in Singapore. They talked and Abdul's story was made known.

While Abdul was wandering his ship called at his home but with the aid of the British consul the lion hunter has now started on the voyage to his home country.

BOTH BOXERS CONFIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., August 13.—Harry Forbes and "Frankie" Neil, after finishing training this morning are in fine shape for deciding their claims to bantamweight honors in their 20-round contest in this city tonight. Forbes expresses himself confident of winning under any rules, and that Neil is in good heart is evidenced by the manner in which Neil money is being freely offered about the resorts where sporting men congregate. It is finding takers, without odds in a manner that makes it certain that a large sum will change hands on the result of the match. The contest will take place under the auspices of the Yosemite Athletic club in Mechanics' Pavilion, where the heavyweight championship battle between Jeffries and Corbett is to be pulled off tomorrow night, and delegations from many cities who are here for the big fight will help to swell the crowds at the ring side tonight.

Forbes and Neil will clash at 116 pounds, round above the bantamweight limit. Tonight's encounter will be the second meeting between the two. Their first tilt was at Oakland, where Forbes won in the sixth round, after Neil's seconds claimed their boy had been fouled. They were re-matched the day preceding the fight and his brother Clarence, who was substituted in place of Neil, was defeated in the seventh round.

"You see, Judge, it was this way: I am working with a Rock Island gang just outside the city limits. Last night I got my time check and came into town. I was unable to cash it until this morning and, after walking around, I really had a time going out we decided to crawl into a box car and sleep until morning. It was a pretty long walk and we were tired. Well, sir, the next thing I knew some-

ROCK ISLAND HAS THE SEABOARD

The Telegram Made the First Announcement of Change in Control in Yesterday's Paper

FINANCIAL AGENTS CONFIRM THE STORY

Great Systems Are More Firmly Cementing the Railway Transportation Interests of the Country—To Prevent Demoralization

The Telegram yesterday published the statement in an Associated Press dispatch from New York that the Rock Island had secured control of the Seaboard Air Line. The item of news was generally discussed in railroad circles after The Telegram was issued, and later a dispatch from New York by Associated Press gives the following details of the change in control:

Ludenburg, Thalman & Co. announce that they have completed negotiations whereby new and important interests have become identified with the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company. E. F. Yoakum and H. Clay Pierce and R. F. Guinness of Ludenburg, Thalman & Co. and Oleigh Thorne, president of the North American Trust Company, have been elected voting trustees of the Seaboard.

President John Steiner Williams announces that R. F. Yoakum, H. Clay Pierce, Oleigh Thorne and S. B. Van Vorst have been elected directors of the Seaboard Air Line railroad. The change of personnel of voting trustees of the Seaboard Air Line Company does not mean the purchase of the company by the Rock Island or Frisco interests, although the Frisco lines extend into Birmingham and are a part of the Southern system. It does, however, emphasize the fact that all the great railway systems are carrying out the policy of more closely cementing the railway transportation interests of the country, which will greatly retard and it is hoped, entirely prevent demoralization of the whole Southern system or the unnecessary construction and duplication of property.

"Attention is called to the fact that with the discontinuance of any further construction by the Seaboard Air Line, the value of the properties is greatly enhanced. And another gratifying fact at this time and which is further evidence of the future disposition of the railways of the United States, is that this deal does not call for any financing or supplying of new money."

One of the voting trustees, when asked to state the real significance of the deal, said that it meant a "better understanding among the interests that have at various times conflicted."

The policy of the Seaboard Air Line for a long time was one of absolute independence, so much so as to make it at times inimical to the interests of opposing roads. The developments, it is thought, will do away with such trouble in the future.

The new directors take the places of E. R. Pemberton of New York, R. C. Davidson of Baltimore, H. B. Eddison of Richmond and W. W. Mackall of Savannah. R. F. Yoakum, one of the new directors, is president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, for which Morgan & Co. are fiscal agents.

The reason the so-called Morgan interests represented by the Southern railway and the Seaboard Air Line during the last few years has been a sharp one. The effort of Thomas F. Ryan and his associates to get a foothold in the Seaboard or, as suggested, control of that company, was accompanied by rumors at the time that he was acting in the interest of the Southern, but this was denied. The laws of some of the southern states prohibit one company from controlling a competing road. This rendered it impossible for Mr. Morgan to turn the Louisville & Nashville road over to the Southern. Instead of that it went to the Atlantic Coast line.

The Seaboard made a strong bid for the Louisville road, and when it was refused even a part ownership in it, it was intimated that another alliance would be made, perhaps with the Gould people. In contrast with the old-time rate-cutting which the Seaboard indulged in, it has been significant that in recent years it has had a sort of silent understanding to maintain rates so that all of the railroads in southern territory would be able to get as much profit out of their traffic as possible.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, operating 2,611 miles of road, was formed under the laws of Virginia in 1890, to succeed the old Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina railroad. The system now extends from Richmond, Va., to Tampa, Fla., with connections extending west to Montgomery and to Birmingham by way of Atlanta, and east to Charleston, Wilmington and Norfolk. Under a traffic agreement with the Pennsylvania railroad a through passenger and freight service is maintained between Washington and New York.

The Seaboard Air Line also owns the Ray Line of steamships, operating between Baltimore and Norfolk.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS:

With moderate receipts of cattle this week and light receipts of both hogs and sheep, we feel justified in saying prices on all classes of cattle have ruled fully 10c higher.

1050 to 1200-lb. Cotton Seed Caked Steers . . . $3.90 to $4.15	800 to 950-lb. Grass Fat Steers . . . $2.90 to $3.25
900 to 1050-lb. Cotton Seed Caked Steers . . . 3.50 to 4.00	700 to 850-lb. Grass Feeder Steers . . . 2.40 to 3.10
900 to 1000-lb. Grass Fat Steers . . . 3.25 to 3.75

Extra Fat and Finished Grass Cows . . . $2.30 to $2.50	Canner Cows . . . $1.50 to $1.85
Good Fat Grass Cows . . . 2.10 to 2.30	Calves, 175 to 200-lb. . . 3.25 to 4.00
Medium Fat Grass Cows . . . 1.85 to 2.00	Heavy Calves . . . 2.50 to 3.25

Receipts have been the lightest of any week since opening of packeries, and prices have been abnormally high, occasioned by Northern markets advancing some. Aside from this there was quite a good many outside buyers here wanting hogs, which advanced the price to $5.90; one load having sold at those figures, and several loads at $5.85. The Northern markets are quoting today 10c to 15c lower, with receipts liberal. We sold one load today, averaging 189 pounds, at $5.72 1/2.

We expect a good active market next week, and advise our customers to ship here, believing your hogs will net more money here than on Kansas City and Wichita markets. We quote top hogs, $5.60 to $5.75; mixed, $5.50 to $5.65; feeders weighing 60 to 120 pounds, good quality, $5.00 to $5.50.

Yours truly,

CASSIDY-SOUTHWESTERN COMMISSION COMPANY.

STOCK YARDS NOTES
J. R. Dendinger of Dallas was at the yards yesterday on his way home from Roswell, N. M., where he has been on his ranch. Mr. Dendinger reports the country in the vicinity of Roswell to be in a flourishing condition. He was here to arrange for the shipment of some cows here a little later. Mr. Dendinger has also 400 sheep on alfalfa, which will probably be sent here this fall.

Lige Runnels purchased 246 sheep yesterday afternoon, which he will send to his ranch at Allen. He has already about 200 sheep on the ranch. The sheep bought yesterday were of good quality, though light and, with the exception of the lambs, will come back to this market in the fall.

Goats go begging at the yards when a consignment arrives. Yesterday afternoon a consignment of Angora bucks was offered and the entire lot was finally disposed of at 75 cents per head. The goats were re-sold later in the afternoon at $1 apiece.

G. B. Pruitt of Orr, I. T., C. A. Beaver of Woodbet, T., and J. L. Keith of Ad-dington, I. T., formed a trio of territory cattle shippers who were at the yards yesterday.

W. L. McLaughy of Granbury was at the yards yesterday with a shipment of seventy-seven cattle, which sold at satisfactory prices. Twenty-five steers of the lot averaged 628 pounds and were bought as feeders by W. O. Bowman at $2.35. Fifteen heifers averaged 475 pounds and brought $1.75.

J. N. Craig of San Angelo sent in seventy-eight head of cattle for yesterday's sale.

M. L. Sansom, president of the Stock Yards National Bank, is at the yards today, where he will address the Old Settlers' Association, of which he is president, at its annual meeting today.

F. P. Neville, president of the Farmers National Bank of Henrietta, was a visitor at the stock yards today.

W. W. Parks of Cresson was at the yards today with a car load of cows.

T. P. Maddin of Kremlin was the first Texas shipper in several weeks to be represented by a consignment of hogs on the local market. He was rewarded by a price of $5.72 1/2. They averaged 188.

D. A. Pearson of Travers and J. P. Cattle of West Lake are buyers at the yards' market. Each had a car load of cattle.

OF INTEREST TO STOCKMEN
A dispatch from Laramie, Wyo., says that the Union Pacific expects to feed about 5,000 cars of sheep, 2,000 cars of cattle and 1,000 cars of horses at that point this season. The new stock yards to be built for the purpose will be the largest on the system, excepting those at South Omaha.

The National Provisioner says that there is talk of Swine Co. buying 100,000 acres of ranch lands in Michigan.

The new stock yards soon to be thrown open on Herr's Island at Pittsburg have been the cause of the formation of the Ohio Live Stock Commission Company, which will apply for a charter this week, says the National Provisioner. The incorporators state that the company will erect large abattoirs and compete with the largest packing-houses of the country within a few months.

The Suffolk Leather Manufacturing Company has been chartered at Boston with a capital of $5,000,000. It is practically admitted that the incorporation means the formation of a leather "trust" to control the manufacture of all kinds of leather goods.

J. K. Chestnut of the botanical division of the Department of agriculture has left Washington for the west to investigate methods of destroying the loco weed and also endeavor to determine the cause which at certain times makes lupins poisonous to cattle. He will visit Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana.

Edward Tilden, president of Libby, McNeil & Libby, and ad director of the Sioux City Stock Yards Company, is authority for the statement that there is no truth in the story that the Armour's intend withdrawing from Sioux City, and says they will rush work on their $1,500,000 plant at that place at once.

COTTON QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, August 13.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of a point to a decline of 3 points. The declines were due to disappointing cables which were attributed by private advices to better crop reports. Locally, however, the selling was represented by rather low temperature reported in sections of the belt.

There was also some light bull support, and after the opening the market is fairly steady with August selling up to 12.44 on demand from shorts. Later, however, these positions sold at 12.39, and the balance eased off under the realizing, only to recover and mild fairly steady.

HAD THE WRONG NEGRO
WHITESBORO, Texas, August 13.—Intense excitement was caused here about noon yesterday by the report that a negro had chased a young white woman, causing her to become prostrated from fright. Soon dozens of armed men were scouring the country in all directions, and several suspects were caught, one of whom was thought by the woman to be the one who gave her the scare. He was placed in the calaboose and is being guarded by officers. He is being held to await further evidence. Mrs. Hart is a young married woman, who was chasing along a side street, she declares the negro came out of an old unused barn and tried to grab her. She screamed and ran and the negro fled, making his way eastward. The negro being held in the calaboose suits the description. He gives his name as Brown and says his home is in Waco.

Later in the day the negro was taken from the calaboose by a mob and carried to the oil mill. A rope was placed around his neck and he was repeatedly swung up in an effort to force a confession from him. Deputy sheriffs came over from Sherman and the officers rallied in force and finally got the negro back to jail, where later he was placed in a buggy and taken to Sherman.

INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

Wheel Passes Over John Kane, Driver of a Moving Van
At 2:35 this afternoon a team of horses attached to a moving van driven by John Kane, became frightened while at Sixteenth and Terry streets and dashed away at full speed. Kane was thrown from his seat and sustained serious injuries. One wheel passed over him. He was picked up and removed to a boarding house at Sixteenth and Elm streets. Dr. Loving was called and after a hurried examination pronounced the injuries serious but not fatal, unless complications, resulting from internal injuries, should ensue.

The team continued on its mad rush until it collided with the awning in front of Martin's grocery, at Seventeenth and Elm streets. There it was brought to a halt. Some damage was done to the front of the store.

A KILLING AT BONHAM
BONHAM, Texas, August 13.—Fred Burnett, colored, shot and killed Innon Johnson, colored, here yesterday afternoon.

In the early part of the day they had some words and had not met again until the killing. Johnson was delivering some furniture in a negro settlement called Locksboro, when Burnett drove up within about twenty yards and threw a rock at him. Johnson jumped out of the wagon and Burnett fired at him with a 41-caliber revolver. The ball struck him in the heart and caused instant death. Burnett was caught in a short while and placed in jail.

The colored population of the town seems to be considerably wrought up over the matter.

The New Cream!

Which we are introducing today is something out of the ordinary, and is sure to make many friends.

As yet we have not decided on a name. We will give a season ticket at our fountain to the young lady who will suggest the best name. These are a few of the comments heard:

- "A strong rival of Cherry Cobbler."
- "That is the only thing you'll have to keep me out of."
- "That is certainly very delicious."
- "What do you call it? I like it better than anything you have ever made."

A CREAM TELEGRAM?

IF NOT, TRY ONE!

Miss Holley Wins

Fort Worth, Texas, August 12.

MR. R. A. ANDERSON, 712 Main Street.

Dear Sir: I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of the season ticket to your fountain awarded me for suggesting the name adopted for the new cream dispensed by you, and to assure you of my deep appreciation of this unique courtesy.

I cannot say why I suggested the name "A Cream Telegram," except that there appeared to be a singular propriety in associating in name two such sure winners as our evening paper and the new cream. I have no doubt the "Cream Telegram" will quickly attain the popular favor it merits. It is by far the most delicious cream I have ever tasted. This opinion is expressed without dissent by every friend of mine who has spoken of it. Sincerely yours, FAMA HOLLEY.

YOU WILL NEVER, NEVER FORGET IT!

SAM EVANS CALLS HIS OLD COMMAND

The following notice has been issued to the ex-members of company C, Twenty-first Texas Volunteer Infantry: On Friday, Oct. 2, 1903, the old settlers of Tarrant county meet under a call made by President Abe Harris for a three days picnic and barbecue at the east end of Belknap street, Fort Worth.

Sleeplessness

Is akin to insanity. Many a woman realizes this as she lies awake hour by hour, peeping the darkness with phantoms starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes. Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

$500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

ber of said company to be present at this grand reunion, wearing a suit of gray cut in the Prince Albert style, or, in other words, a captain's uniform, as in these days there are no Confederate soldiers with a rank below a captain. I deem and request this reunion necessary for the reason it has been nearly thirty-eight years since we were disbanded. I hereby appoint and request F. F. Collins quartermaster, Jesse Jones first assistant quartermaster, Enoch Evans second assistant quartermaster and James Scott third assistant quartermaster, whose duties it will be to see that the grounds are properly prepared, tents erected, provisions provided, proper badges supplied and to provide a Confederate flag.

I hereby also appoint T. O. Evans treasurer and R. W. Jones assistant treasurer. All donations and subscriptions to make this grand reunion a success may be left at R. W. Jones' store, west of the courthouse, and will be received by either the treasurer or the assistant treasurer.

Boys, come one, come all, and bring your boys and your wives and children and grandchildren and let us organize and hereafter meet once every year. Bring your wagons, carriages, buggies and provisions. There will be plenty of room for horses and wagons and tents, and the quartermaster will see that there will be plenty of feed on the grounds that can be bought at reasonable prices.

SAM EVANS, Ex-Commander Company C, Twenty-first Volunteer Infantry.

It is hoped all newspapers friendly to this reunion will copy this notice, that it may be read by all the Confederate members in Texas and elsewhere.

HAVE THREE OPINIONS

Commissioner is Divided Regarding Recognition of State Railroad AUSTIN, Tex., August 12.—The railroad commission seems to be hopelessly tied up on the proposition to recognize the state road at Rusk as a commercial railroad or common carrier, each entertaining divergent views. Chairman Storey is in favor of recognizing it when Mr. Knox agrees to organize a company and procure a charter from the state for the construction of additional mileage. Commissioner Colquhitt is in favor of recognizing the road when the board of penitentiary managers ask for it. Commissioner Mayfield holds that the road is not a public highway, is not engaged in the business of a common carrier and the commission has no jurisdiction in the matter.

ITS SIDETRACKS NEARLY FINISHED

The work of constructing longer side tracks at the important stations on the Texas and Pacific railroad between Fort Worth and Dallas is being prosecuted with much activity in order to complete them as soon as possible.

L. S. Thorne, first vice president and general manager; J. W. Everman, assistant general manager, and Superintendent E. W. Campbell of Dallas, were in the city this morning and returning made various stops along the line where the work is going on.

The siding at Grand Prairie, when completed, will be two and one-fourth miles in length, more than a mile of this improvement having been constructed. The siding at Eagle Ford is one and one-fourth miles in length and is completed.

At Arlington the grading is now being done for a side track one and one-fourth miles long. Superintendent Campbell said today that the improvements which the Texas and Pacific is making at this time are only side tracks. The company, he said, is not double-tracking between Fort Worth and Dallas, although he admitted that in the future should the company decide to make such improvements it would be an easy matter to merely connect the long sidings now being built.

The modern facilities for railroading, by which the length of all freight trains has been more than doubled, rendered the former provisions for side-tracking at these points on the Texas and Pacific almost useless. It was impossible to get one long train past another without the usual see-sawing and accompanying loss of time. Passenger trains were delayed by such operations, and the business on portions at the present day as to necessities just what is being done by the company now to relieve it.

Superintendent Campbell said the Texas and Pacific west yards, back of the local freight depot are being rapidly filled with stone in order to better enable teams to get up to certain tracks there in rainy weather. Heretofore there has been much complaint from this source, but when the fill is completed a permanent remedy will have been effected. The fill is more in the form of a pavement, the details of which have been referred to in previous issues of The Telegram.

TRAIN STRIKES FARMER'S WAGON

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, August 12.—Pel Simmons, a farmer living near Howard, this county, was the victim of a terribly accident this morning. He was coming to town in a wagon and when crossing the Katy track in the edge of the city the wagon was struck by a north-bound passenger train, completely demolishing it.

Simmons was thrown under the train and both legs crushed into a pulp, besides a number of severe injuries about the body. One mule was killed outright and the other was so badly injured that it was shot by the sheriff. The injured man was brought to town and his legs amputated. His injuries are considered fatal.

QUEER MACHINES LOOK DANGEROUS

A visitor at the railway mail service offices in the federal building this morning would have been struck by the deathlike stillness which was prevalent. Every clerk walked on tip toe and watched one of the desks out of the corner of his eye as he went by.

The reason was that two mysterious machines were received at the office last night. They were not labeled "dangerous," but their general appearance makes one think twice before wanting to handle them. The machines are made out of thin plates of iron and are cylindrical in shape. The tops and bottoms are held together by two pieces of wire, which are riveted at the ends. One of the top wires on each machine has a curve in it, as though it was meant to fasten something to it. The tops and bottoms are covered with iron plates. The only parts of the instruments which remain open are where the circular pieces of iron come together. Even there the observer can not get more than a glimpse as the machines are packed tight with cotton. Each machine is about four inches in height and two inches in diameter. These two instruments were received at the mail service offices last night. They were originally found by Mail Clerk William M. Young, who runs on the Houston and Cuero train No. 301. They were found Sunday in a sack of mail matter forwarded from the New Orleans and Houston train No. 9, which was put up by Mail Clerk George V. Watts. The machines were not wrapped up, nor did they have any address on them, so as to show for whom they are intended.

At present the manner in which they got into the sack is a mystery at the postoffice. The chances are that they were either placed there with malicious intent or that the wrapping in which they were originally placed became loosened and they fell out.

Nothing is known yet as to whether the package contains explosive substances or not. Superintendent Gaines gave orders that the casing should not be forced open until orders were received from headquarters concerning the final disposition of them.

If the packages contain explosives they will have to be forwarded to the dead letter office by express, as the laws are very precise in forbidding the carrying of such things in the mails. The packages were forwarded to the offices of the division here from Houston by registered mail.

THE CLERK'S REPORT

Ordinarily all pieces of mail matter which cannot be delivered to the addressees are turned over to the postmaster, who keeps them a short period and then sends them to the dead letter office if no owner can be found. Assistant Postmaster McKee, who has charge of the postoffice during the absence of Postmaster Burroughs, refused to take charge of the machines this morning. He claimed that if they were explosive they had no right in the mails and he would prefer that the mail service take care of them.

THE IDENTIFICATION that came with the machines is the report of the clerk, which was fastened on them. The report reads as follows: "August 9, 1903. Under this sack label found these instruments with no label attached. They were loose in the sack. William M. Young, Houston and Bevelville." Assistant Postmaster McKee said that he thought that they were cartridges intended to be discharged in oil wells. The little hook on the top is probably for the wires which are fastened to the top, and which are used for the electric current when the cartridge gets to the bottom of the well. As the machine is entirely of iron, it is probable that a small part of the explosive is allowed to touch the iron covering and when the current is sent through the machine the explosion takes place. One of the clerks in the mail offices thought that the machines were not "infernal" machines at all, but were nothing but water filters. He pointed to the small crack in the sheet of metal was nearly touching and claimed that the thing could be lowered into the water and the liquid allowed to filter through the cotton. But the two machines are being handled with utmost delicacy and they will not harm the mail clerks even if they are dangerous, because no chances of an explosion are being taken.

THE COMING FIGHT

Mr. Corbett and Mr. Jeffries will meet next Friday evening to dispose of the undecided question regarding superiority of merit, two methods of reaching the decision being available—the survival of the fittest or the judgment of an expert as to which of the two gentlemen demonstrates better the finer points of the fistic arena.

There is great interest in this contest between the two representatives of the manly art, and the outcome is awaited with interest. Possibly no sport attracts more attention than that of the prize ring. Men who would not care to see a fight, who would shudder when the exchange of blows in such a contest draws blood, who would turn from the sight when an unconscious pug lay sprawling while the referee is giving the count, or who would shiver as the one or the other of the groggy contestants is led to his corner as the bell sounds to save him a defeat, would stand about the bulletin board for hours watching the report of the affair by rounds. Men who would not waver a cent on any contest, will read of the odds offered and express an opinion as to which they think will win. In fact interest is general, and the results of Friday night's meeting between these two will be the all absorbing question of Saturday.

The Chicago Chronicle explains that unusual interest is manifested in the approaching fight between Jeffries and Corbett for several reasons. In the first place, the former is reported—truly or not—to be at a disadvantage as compared with the latter in the matter of training. The champion is declared to be erratic and uncertain in his work, while Corbett has been unremitting in his attention to muscle-building apparatus and to the lighter form of preparation.

If these stories of Jeffries' neglect of training be true they are significant of trouble for the champion. No man, no matter how strong, can afford to go into the prize ring in anything save the top of condition. With such an antagonist as Corbett the champion will need all his wind and muscle to score a victory.

Moreover, the belief appears to be quite general among the experts that Corbett is a better man today than he ever has been before. The theory is at variance with all pugilistic tradition, which places the maximum period of prize ring effectiveness between the ages of 22 and 28, after which most fighters are believed to "go back." Fitzsimmons, however, has disproved this theory so far as he himself is concerned and it is not impossible that Corbett may do likewise.

At any rate Corbett has hitherto "stood off" the champion for twenty-three rounds and it is claimed in his belief that he can do as well next Friday. If that prophecy be true he will at least have a chance to draw.

A gratifying and unusual feature of the preliminaries to the fight is the absence of boasting and vaunting in both camps. Both men express confidence in the outcome, but there is none of the tiresome talk about "winning in a punch" which is usually considered the proper thing before a prize fight. The prospective adversaries have met before and they both know that the proceedings on Friday night are not going to be in the nature of a picnic.

The fight will be another contest between the speedy, scientific boxer as exemplified by Corbett and the brawny, muscular slugger typified by Jeffries. It has been said that Corbett cannot hurt Jeffries, but it should be remembered that he hurt John L. Sullivan, who was somewhat of a pugilistic celebrity in his time. At any rate, to use the ring terminology, Jeffries will know he has been in a fight.

There is very little chance for the military companies of Texas in competition with the two companies located in Austin. The new Krag-Jorgensen rifles which are to be supplied to the state troops, have been received by the state and will be distributed during the state encampment.

In the meantime the two Austin companies have been supplied and the members are drilling with them daily, so that when they go to the encampment they will have a decided advantage over those members of the guard who have never had experience with the improved rifle. There is a great deal of difference between the Krag and the old Springfield. Adjutant General Hulen ought at least to give all an even chance with the new guns.

The Telegram has always advocated a change for municipal franchises. If the right to occupy streets of the city with car lines is worth anything to the car company which asks it, it is worth something to the city. If revenue can be raised this way it will reduce the expense on the real property. While car companies going in business now may find that it is not a paying business for a few years, it will some day pay and the city should arrange that the future good business pays tribute to the owners of the streets along which the franchise is granted. This has always been the mayor's idea about franchise grants.

State Superintendent Arthur Lovejoy of the educational department, suggests that the trustees throughout the state delay the opening of the schools beyond the first Monday in September, to give the contractors time to print the books. This is because of the late date at which the school board made the award. The Telegram stated a month ago that unless the board made its report within a short time it would delay matters. The board was in session thirty-seven days, trying to find out what books to adopt, and finally took nearly all of those which have been in use for the last five years.

The Dallas Times-Herald says that the city of Dallas uses more water per capita than any city in the world. Fort Worth had the world beat a city block on that proposition until meters were put in. Did you every try measuring it on a fellow and charging him for what he uses? If you have not, make the experiment and you will find that he does not use so much.

With Cooke county in the dry column the run of the "whisky train" will no doubt be extended. At present it operates between Gainesville and Ardmore, L. T. At regular intervals the United States marshal meets the train at Ardmore and empties precious drops of the genuine article on the ground. He has been several times that it is not a good liquid with which to irrigate land, but he continues to confiscate it. If Gainesville fails to furnish the liquor, the run of the train will no doubt be from Fort Worth. It is only two hours longer.

Friends interested in the welfare of the city, took particular pains to have the ordinance granting the independent telephone franchise, provide that a per cent of the gross receipts, after a certain number of years, be paid to the city. The same friendship for the city should obtain whenever a grant is made. Take care of the 2 per cent and the tax payers will have a lighter burden of taxation to bear.

The uniform primary provided by the new election law will puzzle the old campaigners. They have been swinging about Texas for years following the primary from place to place. The primary is like a circus, when there is no uniform date. It is here today and there tomorrow, and there are politicians in Texas who have followed this circus every day during each campaign.

Do not forget that the Fort Worth Free Fall Festival will bring many people to Fort Worth, and every visitor will leave a dollar or two here. Help the committee get the thing started right.

It is just sixteen days until the time allowed the Northern Texas Traction Company to occupy its franchise along West Seventh street will expire. It will require a great deal of hurry work to get the rails down before that date.

The Tyler Courier is painfully silent when asked to produce the proof that the Sayers' administration and two legislators were bought up by corporation lobbyists. Speak out and tell what you know or forever after hold your peace.

Candidates for attorney general are coming out in all parts of Texas. Waco, Galveston, Sherman and Jefferson have favorite sons whom they will push forward. Next year's campaign will be a lively one, no doubt.

The printers will meet in St. Louis next year. The old "bonus" habit is still strong with the craft. They go there to get the benefit of the World's Fair as well as to have the annual convention.

The popular serial story, "Graustark," soon to be completed in The Telegram will be followed by another exciting romance of intrigue and love. Watch for announcements.

CLEANINGS FROM... THE EXCHANGES

Whipping a white woman of celebrated family in a Georgia jail may cost the prison commission something it did not bargain for.—San Antonio Light. A man who would whip a woman, whether she be in or out of prison, ought to be put in stripes. The man who will strike a woman would turn and run from a man.

The story that Cardinal Sarfo bought a return trip ticket when he left Venice for Rome is incidentally interesting as showing that either Italian railroads or Italian magistrates haven't contracted the passenger habit.—El Paso Herald.

Possibly the Texas railroad commission has ordered Italian railroads to call in passes. If the commission has overruled Italy it is the only excess of authority it has not attempted.

Folk is a very useful man. He is following Hogz of Texas. Hogz made the people the right kind of a county attorney and they made his district attorney. He made the people the right kind of district attorney and then the people made him attorney general of the state, and having made the only one the state had ever had these same people made him governor of Texas. These positions were given to him twice each, and today the voters of Texas are anxious to place him back in any office he will accept. Now, then, if Hogz makes a mistake in the people of his state they will stand by him in all of his aspirations.—Tyler Courier.

Hogz is altogether different from Folk. Folk is enforcing the law as he finds it and is prosecuting men who have been guilty of high crimes. Hogz made one grandstand play after another, threatened to put stripes on men because they had money, played the demagogue while his claqueurs shouted and finally is turned down on every proposition he suggests because the people have found him out. It was only a question of time with Hogz. He has reached the end of the rope.

A bright, pretty woman stood on the side of the Bowie band, so what matters it if all the world stood against them in favor of cheaper music. Ergo, the Bowie band will furnish music at the Pelham reunion in Bowie.—Bowie Cross Timbers.

What man or men will care how the world goes as long as a pretty woman stands on their side. Woman rules the world and a pretty woman is a world herself.

The Tyler Courier has not indicated its choice for the democratic nomination for president.—Waco Times-Herald.

The day of Tyler's deciding the issue is passed. It is no longer the indicator in Texas politics.—Austin Statesman.

Tyler finds it more profitable to raise fruit than politicians.

ARE PUTTING IN PIPES

Superintendent of Water Works Improving Houston Street. The paving on Houston street will not begin yet for several days. The report that was in circulation this morning that the first wagon load of dirt had actually been carted away was occasioned by the fact that the superintendent of the water works has a gang of men at work laying new six-inch water pipes at the intersection of Weatherford and Houston streets. It is the intention of the department to have new water pipes laid along Houston street before the asphalt is put down, so that it will not have to be torn up for them.

Work was begun yesterday afternoon on the paving with brick of the block between Ninth and Tenth streets on Main, which was not paved at the time the rest of the street was covered with brick.

GRAUSTARK. By GEORGE BARR MCGUTCHEON. Copyright, 1901, by Herbert S. Stone.

Greenfall Lorry, an American, wealthy, globe-trotter, meets by accident charming young lady foreigner while traveling from Denver to Washington. Taking exercise on the station platform during the temporary stop the train, they are left by the flyer. He telegraphs to hold the train at the next station, procures a wagon to drive four miles. They separate at Washington; she goes to New York with her aunt. Finishing business, he tries to meet them in New York. Reaches there in time to see the young lady, Miss Gugenstocker, sail. She saves to him from the steamer. Then follows a chase. Lorry leaves for Europe with a companion and starts a continental tour in search of her. One evening while rambling about the grounds of the castle where dwells the neighboring prince of Graustark, they overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters. Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he hears the prince despatching a messenger to Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Gugenstocker. Danno, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He tells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. Lorry quarters in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring prince of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Lorenz is a cad and Dawsbergen also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetteve tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. Lorry, discovering kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Graustark as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. Yetteve commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the princess' help. Lorry escapes. Axphain offers Graustark a consideration to have Lorry executed before Nov. 23. Yetteve offers a reward for the capture of Lorry. Lorry prevails upon Quinnox, an emissary of the princess, to conduct him secretly to the castle. He will surrender himself to save the realm. The princess assures the offer of Gabriel. Gabriel surprises the princess and Lorry in secret consultation. Quinnox claims to have captured Lorry and brought him to the princess.

(Continued From Yesterday.) Sitting beside him on the divan, she told of Gabriel's visit and his dismissal, the outlook for the next day, and then sought to convince him of the happiness it afforded her to protect him from an undeserved death. He obtained for Quinnox the royal pardon and lauded him to the skies. So rejoicing were the moments, so ecstatic the sensations that possessed them, that neither thought of the consequences if he were discovered in her room, disguised as one of her guardsmen. He forgot the real import of his reckless visit until she commanded him to stand erect before her that she might see what manner of soldier he was. With a laugh, he leaped to his feet and stood before her—attention! She leaned back among the cushions and surveyed him through the glowing, impassioned eyes which slowly closed as if to shut out temptation. "You are a perfect soldier," she said, her lashes parting over so slightly. "No more perfect than you!" he cried. She remembered, with confusion, her own masquerading, but it was unkind of him to remember it. Her allusion to his uniform turned his thoughts into the channel through which they had been surging so turbulently up to the moment that found him tapping at her door. He had not told her of his determination, and the task grew harder as he saw the sparkle glow brighter and brighter in her eye. "You are a brave soldier, then," she substituted. "It required courage to come to Edelweiss with hundreds of men ready to seize you at sight, a pack of bloodhounds." "I should have been a miserable coward to stay up there while you are so bravely facing disaster alone down here. I came to help you, as I should." "But you can do nothing, dear, and you only make matters worse by coming to me. I have fought so hard to overcome the desire to be near you, I have struggled against myself for days and days, and I had won the battle when you came to pull my walls of strength down about my ears. Look. On my desk is a letter I was writing to you. No, you shall not read it. No one shall ever know what it contains." She darted to the desk, snatched up the sheets of paper and held them over the waxed taper. He stood in the middle of the room, a feeling of intense desolation settling down upon him. How could he lose this woman? "Tomorrow night Quinnox is to take you from the monastery and conduct you to a distant city. It has all been planned. Your friend, Mr. Anguish, is to meet you in three days, and you are to hurry to America by way of Athens. This was a letter to you. In it I said many things and was trying to write farewell when you came to this room. Ach, what perill you are in here! You are innocent, but nothing could save you. The proof is too strong. Mizrox has found a man who swears he saw you enter Lorenz's room." "What a damnable lie!" cried Lorry lightly. "I was not near his room." "But you can see what means they will adopt to convict you. You are doomed if caught by my men or theirs. I cannot save you again. You know now that I love you. Could you not have been content with that last good-bye at the monastery? It is cruel to both of us, to me especially, that we must have the parting again." She had gone to the divan and now dropped limply among the cushions, resting her head on her hand. "I was determined to see you," he said. "They shall not kill me, nor are you to sacrifice your father's domain. Worse than all, I feared that you might yield to Gabriel!" "Ach! You insult me when you say that! I yielded to Lorenz because I thought it my duty and because I dared not admit to myself that I loved you. But Gabriel! Ach!" she cried scornfully. "Greenfall Lorry, I shall marry no man. You I love, but you I cannot marry. It is folly to dream of it even as a possibility. When you go from Graustark tomorrow night, you take my heart, my life, my soul, with you. I shall never see you again—God help me to say this—I shall never allow you to see me again. I tell you, I could not bear it. The weakest and the strongest of God's creations is woman." She started suddenly, half rising. "Did any one see you come to my room? Was Quinnox sure?" "We passed people, but no one knew me. I will go if you are distressed over my being here." "It is not that—not that. Some spy may have seen you. I have a strange fear that they suspect me and that I am being watched. Where is Captain Quinnox?" "He said he would return for me in an hour. The time is almost gone. How it has flown! Yetteve, Yetteve, I will not give you up!" he cried, sinking to his knees before her. "You must, you shall! You must go back to the monastery tonight! Oh, how I pray that you may reach it in safety! And you must leave this wretched country at once. Will you see if Quinnox is outside the door? Be quick! I am mad with fear that you may be found here, that you may be taken before you can return to St. Valentine's." He arose and stood looking down at the intense face, all aquiver with the battle between temptation and solicitude. "I am not going back to St. Valentine's," he said slowly. "But it is all arranged for you to start from there tomorrow. You cannot escape the city guard except through St. Valentine's." "Yetteve, has it not occurred to you that I may not wish to escape the city guard?" "May not wish to escape the—what do you mean?" she cried, bewildered. "I am not going to leave Edelweiss, dearest. It is my intention to surrender myself to the authorities." She gazed at him in horror for a moment and then fell back, with a low moan. "For God's sake do not say that!" she wailed. "I forbid you to think of it. You cannot do this after all I have done to save you. Ach, you are jesting. I should have known." He sat down and drew her to his side. Some moments passed before he could speak. "I cannot and will not permit you to make such a sacrifice for me. The proposition of Bolanz is known to me. If you produce me for trial, you are to have a ten years' extension. My duty is plain. I am no cowardly criminal, and I am not afraid to face my enemies. At the worst I can die but once." "Die but once," she repeated as if in a dream. "I came here to tell you of my decision, to ask you to save your lands, protect your people and to remember that I would die a thousand times to serve you and yours." "After all I have done—after all I have done," she murmured piteously. "No, no! You shall not! You are more to me than all my kingdom, than all the people in the world. You have made me love you, you have caused me to detest the throne which separates us, you have made me pray that I might be a pauper, but you shall not force me to destroy the mite of hope that lingers in my heart. You shall not crush the hope that there may be a—some day!" "A some day? Some day when you will be mine?" he cried. "I will not say that, but for my sake—for my sake—go away from this place. Save yourself! You are all I have to live for." Her arms were about his neck, and her imploring words went to his heart like great thrusts of pain. "You forget the thousands who love and trust you. Do they deserve to be wronged?" "No, no—ach, God, how I have suffered because of them! I have betrayed them, have stolen their rights and made them a nation of beggars. But I would not, for all this nation, have an innocent man condemned—nor could my people ask that of me. You cannot dissuade me. It must be as I wish. Oh, why does not Quinnox come for you?" She arose and paced the floor distractedly. "He was revolving a selfish, cowardly capitulation to love and injustice, when a sharp tap was heard at the door. Leaping to his feet he whispered: "Quinnox! He has come for me. Now to get out of your room without being seen."

MILLED MACARONI WHEAT YEARS AGO

At the recent meeting of the Texas Millers' Association in this city the members present listened to a very interesting address from Professor M. A. Carleton, cerealist of the agricultural department at Washington, on the subject of Nicaragua or macaroni wheat.

CLAIMS FOR NEW WHEAT

Professor Carleton told of the advantages of growing macaroni wheat, especially in Texas. He said it is properly a spring wheat, but in this state can be grown as a winter wheat.

CREW IT IN 1889

Harry Landis of New Braunfels said that the macaroni or Nicaragua wheat is what he has heard termed the "poor man's wheat."

Another pronounced peculiarity of the wheat was its dress, which was of the days before the war. J. F. Weiser of Hico gave some of the most interesting personal experience with macaroni wheat of any of the members present. Mr. Weiser stated that he had handled that variety of wheat thirty years ago when he was in the milling business in central Iowa.

Mr. Weiser stated that while he was able to reduce from twelve to fourteen bushels of ordinary wheat per hour with his equipment at that time, he was not able to handle more than three bushels of macaroni wheat per hour by the same method. He said the latter contained more rosin than other varieties of wheat, and for that reason the old-style burrs would, after running only two days, become thoroughly coated with that property of the grain.

According to Professor Carleton's statement, the total yield of macaroni wheat in the United States in 1901 did not exceed 75,000 bushels. In 1902 it was 3,000,000 bushels and in 1903 it is estimated the yield will be 10,000,000, indicating with what favor it is being received at the hands of farmers who have adopted it.

CALLER—Dear old Jack, I just read in the paper about your being sun-struck, and rushed right over. I'm awfully glad you're as well as you are. You're lucky. Now, old man, I don't want to work the old "I told you so" gag on you, but the way to prevent sunstroke is to keep the bowels clean and cool, and the blood from being over-heated, by taking a CASCARET Candy Cathartic at bed-time. They work while you sleep, and keep you safe and comfortable all day.

HE IS HEARD FROM NEW YORK, August 12.—John Conroy, who mysteriously disappeared last April from his home in Bloomfield, N. J., and who had been pronounced as dead by his wife and two children has been heard from in St. Louis, Mo., where he is employed on a railroad. Conroy dressed himself April 26 in his best clothes and, accompanied by his son, went out for a walk. When they had gone only a short distance he kissed the lad good bye, and bade him return home. This the lad did. It was supposed the father had disposed of himself in the Morris canal and its waters were dragged several times in the hope of recovering his body.

Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne Co., Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge. The first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at H. T. Pangburn & Co's.
