TWELVE VILLAGES PUT TO FIRE AND SWORD

WOMEN, CHILDREN AND THE AGED MASSACRED INDISCRIMINATELY—PRISONERS MURDERED BY THEIR ESCORT—MAY ASSASSINATE CONSULS TO PROVOKE EUROPEAN INTERVENTION

LONDON, August 26.—According to a Sofia telegram to the Times the Turkish repressive measures in Macedonia have reached the utmost limits of barbarism and it is evident that it is the intention to accomplish by degrees the total extermination of the Bulgarian population.

Within the last few days, says the Times correspondent, twelve more Christian villages have been handed over to fire and sword and the women, children and the aged have been massacred indiscriminately. Convoys of prisoners dispatched to Monastir have been murdered by their escorts on the way. A private letter from a foreign resident in Monastir says even the local Turks are disgusted and meditate assassinating the consuls in order to provoke European intervention.

The insurgents are doubtless taking a terrible revenge and are executing the revolutionary program to the letter. The reported concentration of large Turkish forces in the Adrianople district at Mustafa-Pasha, Kizylagach and other points on the Bulgarian frontier is regarded with much apprehension in Sofia as it is well known that in case of war an invasion would occur from this direction.

In the special dispatches from the rear east published this morning a gloomy view is taken of the crisis in the Balkans. According to reports from Constantinople a rumor was current that war had already been declared against Bulgaria. It was proved to be unfounded, but the state of popular feeling is said to be such that no other issue is regarded as possible.

It is further stated that although the Russian squadron was withdrawn from Inada it continues to cruise near the Bosphorus.

It is reported that several Italians have been murdered by Turks at Ismid, a seaport Asia Minor. Fifty-three miles southeast of Constantinople. From Belgrade it is announced that a big mass meeting of Macedonians intended to be held August 23 was postponed to August 30 by order of the government on account of Turkish protests.

It is also stated from Monastir that the revolutionary committees are appealing to the Christian population to refuse to pay taxes and that their appeal is meeting with much success. The insurgents in the Debr district are said to be destroying the villages and murdering their inhabitants.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 26.—The government has decided to call to colors all remaining European reserves belonging to the Second and Third army corps and a number of other reserves, which will bring the total Turkish soldiers in Macedonia up to 350 battalions, or almost double the force utilized in the Turko-Greek war. The enrollment of such large bodies of troops indicates the seriousness with which Turkey views the situation and a determination to use all means at her disposal to suppress the rebellion. Ibrahim Pasha, the new commander of the troops, is a young and capable officer.

Seven battalions have been dispatched to Florina from Monastir. The walls of Monastir and Salonica telegraph they are now able to guarantee a maintenance of order in their respective towns.

JOHNSON IS IN THE SADDLE

Mayor of Cleveland Runs Over Zimmerman in the Contest for Gubernatorial Nomination in Ohio

FORMER LEADERS ARE ALL IGNORED

Cheers for Mayor Tom Are Heard Whenever the Opportunity Allows—Speakers Talk of His Progressive Policy—The Platform

COLUMBUS, August 26.—Although the "fighting" was all over last night, the auditorium and galleries were packed long before W. J. Frey, chairman of the state central committee, called the democratic convention to order at 10:20 a. m. today.

Great demonstrations had been arranged for several places in the order of business, notably in the entry of Mayor Johnson, the presentation of his name for governor, his acceptance and participation in the endorsement of a candidate for Senator Hanna's place, and those expecting a good exhibition were not disappointed.

There were no portraits displayed in the hall as usual and few faces of what are known as "old wheelhorses." Many of these old timers had been seen about during the week, but they were not delegates. Among those who were unseated were Lewis G. Bernard, leader of the democratic party at Cincinnati for a quarter of a century, and ex-Congressman J. A. Norton, who frequently sounded keynotes as chairman of former conventions. Formerly these men were cheered as they entered the hall.

Before the convention assembled some of the Johnson men who were opposed to Clark, offered again to support John L. Zimmerman for senatorial endorsement, but Zimmerman would not accept.

Before Rev. John Hewett offered prayer, one of the delegates displayed one of the Johnson banners, with a large portrait, and three cheers were followed by other demonstrations with the band joining in the chorus.

Mayor Johnson was loudly cheered as he entered the hall. After reviewing the work of the past campaign and congratulating the party on the prospects of the present canvass, Mr. Frey announced the temporary organization and introduced Hon. G. M. Saltzberger as temporary chairman.

Mr. Saltzberger was frequently interrupted by applause. In discussing what he termed the progressive views of Johnson there was quite a demonstration. The majority report on credentials, sent to the president of the convention, was greeted with cheers.

Then followed the minority movement with a series of motions. Speakers for the minority were interrupted by calls to "sit down" and "order." The majority was defeated by an overwhelming vote. The majority report was adopted.

J. H. Goode of Wapakoneta was then elected and introduced George Poland, a farmer living near Ennis, was sent to drive the cow home. The cow became greatly heated and while mad with rage made a vicious lunge at the boy and horse. The boy, seeing his danger, ran to his horse and after an exciting race of about one hundred yards the cow caught the horse and plunged one horn full depth into the animal's side, making a serious but not fatal wound.

Young Poland jumped from his wounded horse and made his way over a fence just in time to avoid an attack from the infuriated cow.

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., August 26.—A few days ago the little son of George Poland, a farmer living near Ennis, was sent to drive the cow home. The cow became greatly heated and while mad with rage made a vicious lunge at the boy and horse. The boy, seeing his danger, ran to his horse and after an exciting race of about one hundred yards the cow caught the horse and plunged one horn full depth into the animal's side, making a serious but not fatal wound.

WASHINGTON GIRL ASKS DAMAGES OF JILTING LOVER

BRENNHAM, Tex., August 26.—Attorney Mathis & Face of this city and C. G. Krueger of Bellville have filed suit in the district court of Washington county for Miss Martha Krueger of Burton against Aug. Jagger, also of Burton, for breach of promise and ask for $10,000 damages.

The petition alleges that they were engaged to be married and that Whitson, May 31, 1903, was the day set, and that just the day prior to the time set, without any excuse, the defendant backed out, much to the disappointment, humiliation, etc., of the prospective bride.

DOG REVEALS A MURDER

The Finding of an Unknown Man's Body in Indiana

ROCHESTER, Ind., August 26.—The body of a man who probably had been murdered some time ago was discovered near here today. While hunting Oliver Johnson watched his dog dig into the earth and uncover a dead body in a cluster of weeds. The body was that of a man about five feet and seven inches tall, with the head severed and the flesh gnawed by muskrats.

MONUMENT TO GEN. GRANBURY

Movement to Raise the Funds for This Purpose Is Started in Hood County

GRANBURY, Texas, August 26.—A movement is on foot to erect a $10,000 monument to the memory of Senator H. B. Granbury, who was killed in the battle at Franklin, Tenn. Local committees have been appointed, while Commander Neely of the local camp has been instructed to appoint soliciting committees over the entire state and South.

Sheriff Sandlin's suspicion was directed to a young man who had sold a good horse and saddle for $30. He chased the fellow to Weatherford where he learned that the boy had taken the horse from his father. He immediately gave up the chase.

Work has begun on the steel elevator at the new plant of the Hood County Milling Company. It will store about 25,000 bushels of wheat.

The cotton oil mill is being hastened with all possible speed, but it still will be a little late, not being able to open at the beginning of the season.

Reports from various sections of the county indicate that the boll weevil has not done much damage to cotton yet. The cotton is better this year than for three years past.

NEWTON, Kan., August 26.—The teachers of Harvey county, at the close of the institute today, adopted with enthusiasm the following resolutions:

"Whereas, Our fathers came to Kansas in pursuance of a high and holy desire to establish the institutions of freedom and equality on Kansas soil, and did heroic service in the dark and bloody days of the border war to establish constitutional liberty in this state; therefore,

"Resolved, That we view with alarm the tendency of school boards in certain parts of Kansas to adopt harsh and oppressive measures in restriction of our sacred and inalienable rights.

"That to submit to such tyranny would prove us to be unworthy children of such noble parentage.

"That the larger part of our teachers being marriage, we urge upon all the necessity of vigorous and unceasing reprobation against his attempt to deprive us of our right to court and be courted."

GREAT WAR GAME OFF THE MAINE COAST

BATTLESHIPS ENTER PORTLAND HARBOR WHILE TUMULT OF CANNON FIRE WAS CONTINUOUS. SCOUTS OF HOSTILE FLEET ARE DISCOVERED AT MIDNIGHT BY ARMY PICKETS ON SHORE

PORTLAND, Me., August 26.—Through the dense smoke and amidst the tumult of continuous cannon fire, the battleships Kearsarge, Illinois and Alabama entered this port early today, having stormed the Maine coast and at daybreak the battleships came up the channel.

The victory, if any, is not apparent to shore observers. The night was a sleepless one, not only for the actually engaged in the maneuvers, but for many in the city. It was hardly midnight when the searchlights of the forts disclosed two torpedo-boat destroyers in the outer harbor. Firing began at once and then ceased.

An hour later the presence of a battleship was revealed by the searchlights and several forts opened fire upon her. This vessel returned the fire and after that the cannonading became general. A cutter and launch containing landing parties were captured.

A BIG GARRISON

Not since the days of the war, when phantom Spanish fleets drove sleep from the eyes of Portland's citizens, has the Maine coast known such martial times as now prevail. Major General A. R. Chaffee, commanding the department of the east, arrived here to find a sturdy garrison of nearly 4,000 men, including twenty-eight companies of coast artillery and regiments of volunteers from Massachusetts and Maine, as well as two companies of the signal corps of the New York National Guard, New York city's contribution to the defense of this threatened city.

General Chaffee, adjutant General Thomas H. Barry, who will act as fifth arbitrator in the great war game, and Colonel E. A. Garlington.

The enemy's main fleet, is commanded by Rear Admiral Barker, who raises his flag on one of the most powerful fleets ever assembled in eastern waters.

War is run by time table here. The channels were provided with dummy mines that ring their presence like an alarm clock when the fated ship comes too near; and the whole artillery district is brought up to a fighting basis. While in point of fact preparation began for these maneuvers six months ago, these dignified and serious generals are "playing" that it only began when from nowhere came the news of the approach of the hostile fleet two days' sail from the Maine coast.

IT WILL BE SIMPLER

The war game this year promises to be simpler, less confusing to the civilian, a little less spectacular than the great game at Newport and the eastern entrance to Long Island sound last year. In the first place there is only one set of fortifications concerned. In the second, there is no line of batteries to run. It is to be simply the attack of a huge fleet upon this, the most northern of the fortified places on the Atlantic coast, with the idea of capturing it after reducing its fortifications. There is no dash by, no attempt to steal in New York unobserved.

When the fighting is all over it will be indecisive. All the magnificent battles of the last maneuvers resulted in no decision. The umpires met and wrote an opinion, but never attempted to award laurels. To try both the army and navy in a grand war game for the sake of giving valuable experience to both is the purpose of both sides.

"After all, it isn't a football game," said one of the most prominent of the officers who took part in last year's maneuvers. "It is a test of personnel and material of effectiveness of preparation and of the readiness for action of an artillery district. The matter of points and victory is minor and will presently be dropped, for, don't you see, it's absurd to think that points could estimate real happenings in war."

THE TEACHERS WANT TO MARRY

Meeting at Newton, Kansas, Declares Right of the School Marm to Be Counted

NEWTON, Kan., August 26.—The teachers of Harvey county, at the close of the institute today, adopted with enthusiasm the following resolutions:

SUES BROTHER FALL TO DEATH

Scaffold Gives Way and Painter Is Caught From Near By Window

NEW YORK, August 26.—From an insecure position on a window sill ninety feet from the ground George Brunner saved his brother Edward from being dashed to death on the paved courtyard below.

By the fall of a swinging scaffold William Carpenter was instantly killed and the lives of the two brothers were saved only by the greatest strength and agility of George Brunner, who caught and held his brother with his left arm while clinging to the sill with his right.

The three men were painting a public school in West Forty-fourth street and had suspended a scaffold from the roof. A chimney from which one end of the scaffold was hung gave way and the carpenter fell to the ground. Edward Brunner had just stepped from a fifth-story window to the other end of the scaffold and fell past the window in which his brother was standing. With one arm the brother grasped him as he fell.

JUDGE GRAY NOT A CANDIDATE

He Says the Boom for Him Will Not Result in His Nomination

NEW YORK, August 26.—Judge Gray has returned from Birmingham, Ala., where he acted as chairman of the arbitration board which settled the coal strike, says a dispatch from Wilmington, Del., to the Tribune. Regarding the action of the Lackawanna county, Pennsylvania, democrats in launching a presidential boom for him, he said:

"I have read the stories mentioning my name as a presidential candidate, but I do not take any of them seriously. I do not think there is anything in any of them. I know that it cannot be, and for that reason I give the matter no thought. It is not even a possibility. The so-called boom will amount to nothing, and for that reason I do not care to discuss it, or, of course, I am pleased to think my friends think so highly of me, and I appreciate their compliment."

THE CONQUERED PENNANT

BY LORAH K. STANBURY
(With apologies to Father Ryan.)
Furl that pennant! We are weary,
Hope is gone; the outlook's dreary,
Furl it, take it out of sight,
For there's not a horn to toot it!
E'en the fans have ceased to "root" it;
Maidens fair are heard to hoot it,
Corsicana well may moot it—
Take Ted's measure should he loot it!

Furl that pennant! Furl it sadly.
Once the rosters cheered it gladly—
Cheered Pointexter wildly, madly,
When he whacked a winning run!
Cheered Buchanan's unsolved pitches,
When the foe thought bases ditches,
Said too late and spoiled their breeches,
How we cheered the game we won!

Dallas refuses to recognize the league's action in the Barrett case, although it is in every way similar to the action in the Gray case. In the latter case Manager Gardner of Dallas voted with the other managers in throwing out the games. AN INTERURBAN CAR REFUSES TO STOP

RESIDENTS OF CHAMBERS HILL LEFT WAITING IN THE STREET, BY TRACTION COMPANY, WHILE MOTORMAN SUNG OUT, "TAKE THE NEXT CAR." THE "NEXT" WAS CROWDED

To The Telegram.
Residents of Chambers Hill who desire to patronize the Interurban line to Handley have a complaint of the failure of the cars to stop for them at the place designated as a regular stop in that locality. It has been understood that the "Rock Store," at the corner of Chambers avenue and East Front street, was a regular stop for passengers desiring to take the Interurban cars. The schedule of the company provides for a car leaving the city at 8 p. m. east-bound. This car is due at the Rock store at about 8:10 o'clock. Last night there was a party of nearly a dozen persons, ladies and gentlemen, waiting at that corner for the car. Some of these had purchased tickets and expected to take the first car. The regular 8 o'clock car came and instead of stopping on the signal to take on the passengers, the car whizzed by at a rapid rate, the motorman singing out as he passed, "Take the next car." The crowd at the time on the car was not so large, but that others could have been accommodated. It was a regular trip, the prospective passengers were at a regular stop and desired to go to a regular station on the line. The motorman could not know whether those waiting for the car desired to go to Handley, Dallas, Arlington or Grand Prairie. We had a right to take this car, under all rules applying to a common carrier. The next car did not come until forty-three minutes later. We had been refused transportation on the regular trip and waited in the street for the coming of the next and as each of the minutes of the forty-three elapsed the time appeared to be longer and the wait more tedious. When finally the "next car" arrived it proved to be a train, crowded from front to rear, and we could not get seats. One of our party waiting complained by telephone to the office of the Traction company, but could get no satisfaction.

COURT ENTERTAINED BY BUSY MODISTE

Mrs. Nolan, a dressmaker, who was charged with using abusive language, entertained the police court this morning with an eloquent plea for a prompt trial. "The use of abusive language, I suppose, means the use of epithets and swear words," she said to Judge Prewett. "If that is true, I am innocent. I have taken time away from my work to come here today and I don't want my case passed over to tomorrow. I have been out fifteen dresses between now and Saturday evening and I just can't afford to spare the time."

ANARCHIST PAPER IN STATE OF VERMONT

MONTPELIER, Vt., August 26.—A. A. Adee, acting secretary of state, has formally complained to Governor McCullough of the revolutionary and anarchistic character of a paper published in a foreign language at Barre. The governor has turned the matter over to State's Attorney Bailey with instructions to investigate the matter thoroughly, and if the laws justify such action, to suppress the sheet.

MASKED MEN ROB ALASKA GOLD MINE

CHICAGO, Ill., August 26.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Vancouver, B. C., says: Four masked men last night held up the watchman of the Featherstonhaugh mines in Atlan, Alaska, and stole nearly $20,000 worth of gold dust which had been collected from the sluices during the day. Twenty workmen had just gone to supper, leaving the watchman in charge. He was caught from behind, pinioned and gagged and in twenty minutes the big clean-up was in canvas sacks which the robbers brought for the purpose. They fled in the darkness.

UNITED STATES TO BE GREAT NAVAL POWER

BOSTON, Mass., August 26.—Lord Brassy, eminent naval authority and president of the London Chamber of Commerce, who is here looking over the business and shipping interests, has expressed the belief that the United States, with her tremendous resources, is undoubtedly destined to be a naval power. He predicts, owing to present conditions, at least a partial disarmament on the continent, in France, Germany and Russia.

THE VALUE OF STREET SIGNS

The advantages of having the streets of Fort Worth properly designated by plainly lettered name plates are not better appreciated by anyone than those whose duties require them to drive over the city. A communication with the latest reference to the fund sets forth the advantages which such an improvement will bring. A remittance of $1 from J. A. Goodwin, a dealer in coal and wood, was followed by a similar contribution from Hugh Leslie and John Jones, both of whom drive for Mr. Goodwin. The last two named gentlemen say they desire to assist in hastening the day when every street in the city will be properly marked with street signs, as has been undertaken by the ladies engaged in this movement.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 1, 1903.—To H. T. Pangburn & Co.—Dear Sir: As agent for the Fulton Compounds in Fort Worth there are some facts in the Call office in this city that should interest you and the editor of The Telegram, as well as newspaper men generally. We copy now from a letter from Clifford House of the Call: "However improbable may seem the statement that Bright's Disease and Diabetes are now curable in a great majority of all cases, it is well within the province of some of us in the business department of the Call to know that it is true. Mr. Edward Short of this department was given up by his physicians as a victim of Diabetes, and is now perfectly well. The mother of one of the editorial staff has also recovered from Diabetes. This was so conclusive that I told a friend, a well-to-do citizen of Duluth, Minn., who had Bright's Disease, and he, too, recovered."
We will also add that an ex-supreme judge, with offices in the Call building, is a late recovery. You are authorized to proclaim to the world that the most deadly chronic kidney diseases yield to the new diuretics evolved during experiments made upon himself by John J. Fulton of this city in his memorable and successful struggle against the ravages of Bright's Disease. Yours very truly,

If the Northern Texas Traction company management is not at fault for the manner in which passengers were left at the roadside last night, but the occurrence was because of the personal action of the men in charge of the car, the company can satisfy the public by making a statement to that effect.

There are but two days until the traction company must have cars running on those extensions.

SYNOPSIS Chapter I.—Amy Rivers, the ward of Theodore Shelf, a hypocrite, is engaged to Hamilton Fairfax. II.—Shelf proposes a piratical scheme to Patrick Cambel, Shelf being under the influence of Mrs. Shelf. III, IV, V, and VI.—The scheme is to ship gold to New Orleans, over-insuring it and wrecking it. Shelf and Cambel employ Captain Owen Kettle to command the steamer, the Port Edes, and to carry out the plan, Cambel sails in the steamer. As the Port Edes, laden with the boxes, leaves the dock a man on shore declares she is doomed. The crew attempt to seize the vessel in order to secure the gold.

CHAPTER VIII. GROUND BAIT. For reasons the Port Edes took the "north about" course—that is, she headed across south of the banks of Newfoundland nearly to Cape Hatteras and then braved the three knot current of the gulf stream by passing down the Florida channel on the western side of the Bahamas. They had carried good weather with them—light head breezes or calms—all the way, and although coals were dear, owing to a strike, and the day's outlay was limited to 28 tons by order, the steamer usually averaged 10 1/2 knots despite the unskillfulness of the engine room staff.

There was no word about the sea on which the author had spent his life or of the things of the sea with which he had had all his dealings. He knew about these as few men did, but they seemed common to him and unclean. Consequently he had delivered himself to an ode of that spring which he had never witnessed and given love songs to ladies he had never met outside the covers of cheap fiction. It was all imagination, and untutored, uninspired imagination at that.

As a result, Cambel found the poems too killingly funny for words and was consumed with a wild desire for laughter, but that red bearded little savage, their maker, glared anxiously at him from the opposite shadow, he dare not look so much as the tail of a smile dance from the corner of his mouth. He had to enjoy and endure in silence, and with the exercise book thrust out to the yellow light, then he read on through the stanzas diligently.

In one, evidently autobiographical, the writer spoke of himself as a "timid, frail gazelle," in another he addressed his red cheeks from the mouthpiece of a "coy and cooling turtle dove" to a "syllphlike maiden of haughty mien" who at the time of narration was the "bewitching, entrancing, unparalleled queen" of another gentleman's hearth. An "Ode to Excellence" which commenced "Hairy Alfred, brother bard," was evidently directed at a contemporary, but the poet was careful for in "Cleopatra, a Lament," which a footnote stated could be sung to the tune of "Greenland's Ice Mountains." Probably as a collection Captain Kettle's was unique in its clumsy, maudlin sentiment and its general unexpectedness.

Meanwhile the author was fidgeting nervously. He had not got over that initial nervousness which publication gives. He hungers for a criticism—favorable if possible. At last he made bold to ask for it. "You're a wonderful man, Kettle," returned his companion, quite meaning what he said, "and unless I had seen those verses for myself I'd never have believed you capable of producing them, no matter what had been told me about your powers."

The poet gave a sigh of relief, and was going to pursue the subject further when something fell upon his ear which turned his thoughts into a very different key. "By James, there's the engines stopped. What's up now, I wonder?" He jumped to his feet and stood with neck craned out, listening. The ring of heavy boots made itself heard on the engine room ladders. Then there was a murmur of voices and a patter of footsteps from the forecastle, and presently a steady stream of men began to ascend the bridge deck ladder. Among the growing babel of voices came references to the gold, "Half a million yellow sovereigns, boys!" and threats there was no mistaking, "Fetch the old man manners or put him over the side."

By an evanescent previous arrangement the men were massing themselves on the port side of the bridge deck. "Mutiny, by James, that's what this means!" commented Captain Kettle in an undertone. He was cool as ice and on the moment had decided how to act. "Now, Mr. Cambel, slip into the chartroom for your pistol. I have mine in my pocket. It's us two against the lot of 'em, and we'll finish out top side. Oh, don't you make any error. It'll be a red night's work for those dogs. But we'll rub the fear of death into them before we've done this time—into those that are left, that is. Get your pistol, quick, sir, and skin your eye for handy shooting."

CHAPTER IX. MUTINY. Patrick Cambel came out of the chart-room with all the armament he could lay hands upon—to wit, three revolvers. He gave one to the captain and put the others in his own jacket pocket, so that they had a brace apiece. From the other side of the bridge deck the clamor of the men rose high into the night, and the steamer's fore truck began to swing past the stars. Her engines had stopped, the quartermaster had deserted the wheel, and the gulf stream was taking her as simple flossam whether it listed.

There was no starboard ladder to the upper bridge, but Kettle swung himself lightly up by a funnel stay and a stanchion and climbed over the canvas dodger. Cambel followed as nimbly. The mate of the watch received them with a frightened sidelong glance, but no words, and then he vanished into the darkness. Captain Owen Kettle stumped cheerfully across to the port side of the bridge and looked down. Beneath him, massed and moving, was apparently every man of his crew. The electric lamp from inside the head of the companionway blazed full up on them, dazzling some of the group and blinding the others with dense black shadow. With folded arms he looked down on them for a full minute with a silent sneering laugh till the upturned faces which had been quiet in expectation began to grow clamorous again. Then he waved them to uselessness and spoke. The man's words were not conciliatory. He addressed his hearers as dogs and wished to know in the name of the pit why they had dared to leave their duties and their kennel and come to sully his bridge deck. The harangue was brief and beautifully to the point. An ordinary seaman stood out into the middle of the circle of light and made reply. "You gall us togs, and you dreat us as togs, and we're no going to schtandt it no longer. Dis grew tenants its rights."

"Hello," said Kettle, "got a blooming Dutchman to speak for you! Well, you must be a hard up crowd. See here, now, if you want to talk, have your say and if you want to fight, English is the official language on this ship. Understand that and don't waste my time."

STEAM ENGINEERS MEET

AUSTIN, Texas, August 25.—The first state convention of the National Association of Steam Engineers was held at the Driskill hotel, a state body being organized with the following officers: President, George Cushman of San Antonio; vice president, George Stephens of Sherman; secretary, M. S. Hatcher of Austin; treasurer, J. W. Turnpaugh of Fort Worth.

After the acceptance of delegate credentials committees were appointed on by-laws, ways and means and on statistics and legislation. This last committee is the most important of the organization, their work consisting in keeping a careful record of all accidents in their profession and discovering the causes for the same. While not antagonistic to labor unions, the organization favors the best salaries for the best men, and this committee has that end in view in tracing accidents to their source if caused by incompetency.

At noon the meeting was adjourned to meet at San Antonio within six months at the call of the president. The delegates to the meeting were Messrs. Cushman and Orr of San Antonio, Mr. Stephens of Sherman, Messrs. Fellows, Pitts and Hatcher of Austin. The Fort Worth delegation failed to arrive for the meeting.

Miss Willie Hemphill has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the C. C. Hornsby Grocery Company.

Miss Alma Carruthers of Alvarado made a short visit with the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore the first of the week. She left yesterday for Mangum, Ok.

COTTON CHANGES FOR THE WORSE

Boll Worms Appear to Be Doing the Greatest Damage to the Crop in Texas at the Present Time

SHEDDING IS DUE TO HEAVY RAINS

Weevil Is Operating On Large Scale in Some Sections—The Acreage About the Same as Last Year—Season Three Weeks Late

HOUSTON, Texas, August 26.—The Houston Post has received reports of the cotton crop from all parts of Texas and makes this summary of the general situation:

The reports on the present condition of the cotton crop of Texas go to show that there has been a decided change and that for the worse, since the issuance of the July report. Most of the correspondents state that this change has come about within the past two weeks.

There are several causes for this: In the southern, south central and eastern sections of the state the heavy rains and the boll weevil; in the northern portion of the state dry weather; in north central the bollworms. Of the causes giving the bollworms appear to be doing the greatest damage, for they have a wider field of operation and in some counties in central Texas both the worm and the weevil are at work on the crop.

As a rule, the reports state that the plant is looking fine. From the northwestern section of the state, which raises a large percentage of the crop, there are no complaints of any of the drawbacks existing in other sections, and the crop is doing well in every particular. Elsewhere it looks well, but there has been a deal of shedding due to the heavy rains and the work of the insects. As a rule the weevil is growing finely, but it is not fruiting as it should in order to produce in the manner expected of it.

In south and central west Texas there have been heavy rains, and the weevil is held to be conducive to the work of the boll weevil, which has apparently been taking full advantage of its opportunities. The rains have also caused the plant to throw off small bolls to an alarming extent, and considerable of its energy now appears to be devoted to making weed. Picking is not well under way, the plant having regained none of the three weeks' loss in the early part of the season.

On the other hand, there is a complaint of a lack of rain in north Texas, and the rate of the crop depends largely upon the moisture proposition. The bollworms are also reported as doing a great damage, and this is not confined to any particular section of that territory, but appears to be general. The farmers do not know exactly how to combat them, and their ravages give no appearance of an early cessation.

It is noted by several of the correspondents that the cotton is doing better where it was planted in rows that are wide apart, the sun getting a better chance at developing the bolls. There is also mention that frequent plowing has a very good effect on the plant and that it seems to decrease the number of boll weevil and the amount of damage that is done by them.

As to the weevil, the correspondents in the following counties report that considerable damage is being done: In some of them the statement is made that the weevil are very likely to prove the utter ruin of the crop, though all are not so pessimistic. Anderson, Angelina, Austin, Bastrop, Bee, Bell, Bosque, Burleson, Burnet, Caldwell, Colorado, De Witt,

Falls, Fayette, Fort Bend, Freestone, Frisco, Goliad, Gonzales, Grimes, Guadalupe, Hardin, Harris, Hays, Henderson, Houston, Jackson, Jasper, Karnes, Lavaca, Leon, Liberty, Limestone, Live Oak, Madison, Matagorda, McLennan, McMullen, Medina, Milam, Montgomery, Navarro, Polk, Robertson, San Jacinto, Travis, Tyler, Victoria, Washington, Wharton, Williamson and Wilson—fifty-four of them.

From the following counties there are reports of the presence of the weevil, but the statement is made that the insects are not doing a great deal of damage: Bandera, Cherokee, Cooke, Coryell, Koochichewi, Refugio, Rusk, San Augustine, Walker and Waller—ten, making a total of sixty-four counties which report the weevil. It may be that there are other counties which actually have the pest and which do not report it, but this is to be doubted.

The situation as it now stands: The acreage is about the same as that of last year. The weevil is generally fine, but there has been much shedding owing to a large portion of the belt. The boll weevil is doing damage in sixty-four counties, greater in some than in others, but there is another crop of the insect to be added a little later on. The bollworm affects many of the counties which do not report the weevil and are doing even a greater damage. There has been too much rain in some sections of the state and not nearly enough in others. The weevil still three weeks late and this renders the possibility of an early frost cutting the crop short much greater than if the picking were now well under way, as it should be over south and central Texas. The outlook is not so flattering as it was a short time ago, but there are still indications that the crop will be a fairly good one, and there is no reason for any cry that the whole crop will be an utter failure.

The C. T. C. tournament players were given a delightful entertainment at the home of General and Mrs. J. A. Styron at the conclusion of yesterday's game. They will play the last of the series tomorrow and will play Temple next week.

Mayor J. P. Keating, J. R. Ransone Jr. and wife, Keating and Ruth Ransone, former of Enterprise, J. E. Pitts, and wife and daughter Robbie; City Ad. Man Otis Poole and wife and son Eugene; ex-City Secretary Oscar Poole and wife, ex-City Marshal A. C. White, Mrs. White and son Lois came in from their Gainesville fishing trip. Others who went were D. E. Waggoner, J. D. Olliger, County Treasurer Watts and family, A. A. Hale, Mrs. James Doby, Frank Boyd, Miss Ethel Osborn, Misses Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Murphy.

Manager Charles Thacker has come in from Wichita Falls, where the Cleburne team was defeated yesterday. He also conducted on the Austin and Northwestern, is here in the interest of his patent electric brake and a self-lubricating brass for heavy journals.

News was received here today that Rev. J. H. Colhard had struck it rich in Mexico mines in which he is interested. C. Spivy & Co. have opened a furniture business here.

COLLIN COUNTY COTTON

McKINNEY, Tex., August 26.—McKinney received her first and second bales of this season's cotton Monday. The second bale—in the seed—reached here about 4 o'clock, being raised and brought in by J. M. Furr, who resides a mile and a half east of town. It was at once taken to Burger's gin.

Later in the afternoon, while it was at the gin, another bale, already ginned, was brought in and marketed. It was raised by C. I. Marriott of the Clear Lake community, and was ginned at Dump. Being the first bale of this season's cotton marketed here, Mr. Marriott, under the offer of the McKinney Board of Trade, received 17-1/2 cents per pound for his cotton, while Mr. Furr received the 15 cents offered to the raiser of the second bale.

Mr. Marriott's bale weighed 290 pounds and he therefore received $50.25. Mr. Furr's bale weighed 465 pounds and he received $69.75.

WORK OF THE WORMS

TYLER, Texas, August 26.—J. T. Mourfield, living five miles south of Tyler, who is a good farmer and conservative and reliable in his statements, says that in a well-cultivated field of cotton planted on good land and with a good stalk the bollworm has practically destroyed all the leaves. He says it was noticed ten days ago and that now it will not average above three bolls to the stalk. He has grown cotton from boyhood in this county and knows how to judge a crop. He says that he does not hope to get more than one bale to five acres of land. His neighbors, he says, tell him that their crops have suffered in the same proportion with his.

East of Tyler a similar report is heard. Messrs. Hall and Reynolds, living west of Tyler seven and four miles, report a like loss on their farms and all through their settlements. From Flint and Swan similar reports come. The bulk of the crop has been destroyed and the only hope left is that there is about three weeks yet in which time blooms will produce cotton if let alone by the worms.

REMAINED WITHOUT BAIL

BOYD, Tex., August 25.—The statement in The Telegram today relative to the preliminary trial of Drs. Jones and Gordon of Springtown, was in error in regard to Dr. Jones. Dr. Gordon, however, has a preliminary trial and was remanded to jail without bail. Miss Ella Furman is visiting relatives in Fort Worth. J. U. Thompson was called by telephone this morning to the bedside of his sister, who is said to be dying in Alford.

DENTON COTTON CROP

DENTON, Tex., August 26.—The continued dry weather is doing considerable damage to cotton, particularly the earliest planting. Denton county does not ordinarily boast as a producer of the fleecy staple, wheat being the product of which she makes the boast of being the great producer, but she usually makes a good deal of cotton, and the prospects two weeks ago were good for her to make a fair crop this year. If it will rain in the next few days early cotton will have time to put on a top crop and the late cotton will make a good yield. The best land in the county, the black land, is generally run in wheat, and as a rule the most sterile land planted in cotton. Generally early cotton produces the most, but from the way it looks now the higher percentage of chances are in favor of the late cotton this year, and fortunately the late planting predominates.

CHRISTIAN UNDER ARREST

DECATUR, Texas, August 26.—Pete Christian, charged with the murder of Ruth Sturdevant, has been arrested and is in jail at Decatur. He will probably get his examining trial today.

DEPOT AT KENNEDALE BURNS

KENNEDALE, Texas, August 26.—The Houston and Texas Central depot burned down yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Most all of the records were saved. The agent thinks the engine of the local caused the fire. On account of the scarcity of water it was impossible to save it.

SEVERAL FIRST BALES

MERKEL HAS ONE MERKEL, Texas, August 25.—Merkel's first bale of new cotton was ginned and marketed here today. It was grown by D. O. Huddleston and sold to W. P. Thurmond & Co. for 17 1/2 cents. A premium of $50 was given by the merchants.

ONE AT BOYD

BOYD, Texas, August 26.—Boyd received her first bale of cotton yesterday. It was brought in by Dutch Mabry and sold to D. E. Walcott for 17 1/2 cents and a premium of $15.

CORSICANA GETS TWO

CORSICANA, Texas, August 25.—Two bales of cotton, the first of the season, were received here today. Both bales were raised in the eastern part of the county—one near Chaddler, the other near Korona. The same price—17 1/2 cents—was paid for each, both being classed as middling. A premium of $13 was paid for each.

PREMIUM AT GAINESVILLE

GAINESVILLE, Texas, August 26.—Gainesville received her first bale of cotton of this year's growth Monday evening. It was brought in by W. B. Gilliland, living two miles west of Rosston. This morning Sheriff Pat Ware sold the bale at auction to the highest bidder. It was purchased by Major Powers of the William Kilgore Company at 13 cents per pound. Mr. Gilliland also received the premium, which amounted to $21.60. The bale weighed only 355 pounds and brought $57.10. The cotton was of the variety named Mr. Gilliland $58.70 for his cotton.

TWO AT WEATHERFORD

WEATHERFORD, Tex., August 26.—Last night at midnight the Edmund I. who lives two miles south of Springtown, marketed Weatherford's first bale of cotton. The bale weighed 590 pounds. Mr. Edmund received $40 as a premium raised on the bale. The bale was sold to the Texas Cotton Co. at 12 1/2 cents per pound. He bought the bale, paying 12.05 cents per pound. Shortly after Mr. Edmund brought his bale in F. G. Crow, who lives two miles south of Millport, brought in a bale weighing 440 pounds. He received a premium amounting to $30. The Weatherford cotton mills bought the Crow bale.

GALVESTON BUYERS WORRY

GALVESTON, Texas, August 26.—The cotton men of Galveston are greatly worried right now over the reports they are receiving about the devastation that is being wrought by the boll weevil, especially in southwest Texas. The following telegram received by a local cotton man from James Lea Macklean & Co., cotton brokers of New Orleans, exhibits the sentiment that exists in Galveston:

"Gordon Houston, our traveling representative, reports from Houston to San Antonio, via Cleburne, he considers prospects for cotton in that section very poor. Cotton pillars, weevil and constant showers playing havoc." Reports received during the past few days from central and eastern central Texas are just as bad and are not indicative of a large yield. The weevil have evidently been working overtime during the past fortnight and the weather has been propitious for their propagation. Unless a spell of dry and hot weather sets in this week there will be a daily shrinkage of the crop prospects. Another thing that has had a tendency to dull the cotton market is the extreme lateness of the crop this season. The crop will be no further advanced on Sept. 1 than it ordinarily is on August 1 and the estimate of the bureau that will be made next month should properly be compared with the estimate made for conditions on August 1 of last year, which estimate of 75 per cent was, however, entirely too low.

DRY IN WEST TEXAS

Grass Is Fast Being Consumed and Rain Is Needed BAIRD, Texas, August 25.—It continues dry in this and adjacent counties, and the water in the tanks in the pastures is becoming very scarce. Some are resorting to well-digging and some to removing their stock to where there is more water, but these are the exceptions, as most of the cattlemen have large tanks, which will have water in them for perhaps a month. The grass is becoming very dry and, of course, will all be consumed before long if it does not rain. The N. H. Green of Lancaster, N. H. Newton of near Cottonwood, in Callahan county, says that several farmers in his locality report some bollworms in their cotton and a few report the boll weevil, but that the present dry weather may drive both kinds of insects entirely out, and that the worms are already laying the plant, but fear the work of the weevil.

BETTER THAN GOLD

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. J. Fisher and the Rouses Pharmacy.

CHANGE PLACE OF THE WEDDING

Texas Boy and His Bride Left the Cake and the Guests, to Wed Elsewhere

NEW YORK, August 26.—St. George's church, Hanover square, and not Trouville, has been the scene of the marriage of Miss Kuhn Beverage, the American sculptress, to William B. Branson of Johannesburg, says a London dispatch to the Herald. The marriage was to have taken place at the summer house of the Baroness Von Wrede, mother of the bride. Invitations were sent out to this effect, but at the last moment it was found that owing to the marriage laws of France the wedding could not be celebrated in that country. The wedding party came on from Trouville, but a number of the invitees could not be notified of the change of place, and upon their arrival at Trouville they found the wedding dinner and even the wedding cake, but no bride and groom. The bridegroom is a Kentonkian by birth, but has for several years been connected with large mining interests in South Africa.

THE ROOF GARDEN

Tonight Miss Dale and the company will appear in the four-act sensational comedy-drama "In His Power," presenting it with special scenery and elaborate stage settings. This play gave such universal satisfaction when last seen here that it was reserved for the farewell week. Miss Dale will appear in a delightful role giving her plenty of opportunity to display her talents. By special request of a large theater party that will attend the performance Miss Dale will sing her sweet "Whip-o-Will" song. The specialties tonight will be of a high class introducing the Morrisons in new songs and refined vaudeville acts. Miss Winchester will appear in her illustrated songs. A large audience should be the rule every night this week. Next Saturday night the company will give its farewell performance and the roof garden will be closed. No one should let the chance go by of seeing the city from the top of the Wheat building and at the same time see the best popular-priced company ever seen in this city.

MAN'S NERVES ARE SHATTERED

Husband Claims His Wife Has Put Him Under a Great Strain

KANSAS CITY, Mo., August 26.—It is not unusual for women in bringing divorce suits to contend that harsh treatment by their husbands has caused shattered nerves and subsequent illness. It remained for A. C. Loker, in divorce petition filed yesterday against Gussie M. Loker, to establish a new precedent for men. These two were married in 1891. In his petition Loker says that Mrs. Loker is a jealous disposition and that she is in the habit of falsely accusing him of wrongdoing, thereby greatly humiliating and distressing him to such an extent that his nerves have been affected and his health impaired. Besides these unjust accusations, says Loker, his wife has treated him in a violent manner. The petition then reads: "Plaintiff says that his business is that of an engraver. The necessities of his trade require a very great nervous strain. Plaintiff has frequently explained to his wife that he should have peace and repose at his home and not turmoil and distress to the end that he might be fitted to carry on his calling. Defendant, however, unmindful of her duties, persisted continuously in her harsh and cruel treatment."

Best for Rheumatism, Prescription No. 1861. Celebrated on its merits for many effectual cures. Defendant, however, unmindful of her duties, persisted continuously in her harsh and cruel treatment. Houston, Texas, Sole Agent.

LAWYERS IN SESSION

HOT SPRINGS, Va., August 26.—An intellectual looking assembly of several hundred leading jurists and members of the bar filled the assembly room of the Homestead hotel at 10:30 o'clock this morning when President Francis Rawle of Philadelphia called to order the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Bar Association. After thanking the Virginia representatives of the profession for the cordial reception tendered the vision, the president read a short list of the most noted jurists present, who were invited to seats upon the platform. Among the number thus honored were Judge LeMay B. Colt of Rhode Island, who will deliver the annual address; Professor William A. Glasgow of Roanoke, Va., and George W. Marchway, dean of the Columbia law school. President Rawle then proceeded with the reading of his annual address, which was masterly in its logical construction and perspicuous diction, and which was followed with the closest attention. The recent epidemic of mob violence and its remedy were touched upon in the address and the survey of the recent enactments of some of the states was another subject which interested the listeners immensely. It was a long paper, but the scholarly character of the address and the bright humorous flashes which relieved the long review served to induce patience and prompt good nature among the listening throng. The annual address of the president and the reports of the other officers and of the executive committee occupied the opening session. This evening the association will listen to a paper by Sir Frederick Pollock, the eminent English lawyer and law writer.

BOX BOARD TRUST

Independent Concerns Are to Form a Strong Organization. NEW YORK, August 26.—By a novel plan of compromise leading interests in the United Box Board and Paper Company and the independent corporations in the same line of business are about to settle their difficulties and are negotiating, says the Herald, to unite their interests in such a way that about 90 per cent of the box board output will be consolidated. The plan is based upon a system dependent upon contracts which place the handling of the combined properties within the power of a single corporation. There are now about thirty independent companies and it is understood that later will be taken up for final amalgamation of the box board and heavy paper manufacturing interests.

KLEBER VAN ZANDT, JR.

K. M. Van Zandt Jr., who has been in the city since Saturday, has received a cordial welcome from his many friends in Fort Worth and during his two weeks longer here he will be the recipient of many courtesies.

When "Kleber" Van Zandt left here in 1896 there was not a more popular or better known man in the city. His friends were numbered by his acquaintances, and in bidding him farewell as he started to Mexico many believed he would stay but a short time, tire of the land of the Montezumas and return to join the "crowd" once more. But he has not fulfilled such expectations. Occupying the position of consul of the United States at Manzanillo and having interests there which are valuable in a financial way, he has satisfied himself with his location, and it is but for a glimpse of the old home that he comes back for a few days in Texas.

"I will be here a couple of weeks longer," he remarked when asked about his visit. "I expect to spend the next

"Goldie" Haywood, aged 16, a sunny-haired Missouri girl, with bright blue eyes, is in charge of the Salvation Army at 303 Rusk street. She has not enough clothes to go out upon the streets in search of work and is, in fact, in a most unfortunate predicament unless the good women of the city shall come to her rescue with gifts of wearing apparel.

The girl applied to Captain and Mrs. Cumble for succor and they promptly took her in. Captain Cumble has found a place for her to work, and where she will be given a good home, but she is unable to take advantage of the offer until she obtains clothing.

The girl's story is a sad one. Both of

FORT WORTH OUGHT TO BUY COTTON

J. A. Graves of the Nix-Graves Furniture and Storage Company hits a nail good and square on the head in a suggestion that he made this morning to a reporter for The Telegram.

Mr. Graves deprecates the lack of a cotton market here in Fort Worth like every other merchant in Fort Worth wants to see something done to bring back the good old days of a decade ago, when the cotton season lived up to things and meant much for the city. Mr. Graves' suggestions are worthy of consideration and discussion, and The Telegram hopes others in the city and elsewhere will send in letters on this subject.

Said Mr. Graves: "What is the matter with Fort Worth having a good cotton market here this fall? Something is wrong somewhere. Whose business is it to take up a matter of this kind? Is it the Board of Trade? Fort Worth has not had what could be called a cotton market in ten years. Arlington, Mansfield and Grapevine have bought more cotton from wagons than Fort Worth has in many a year. The reason is because there is a better market in those towns than here. Where a man sells his cotton there he will buy his goods and spend his money. And the latter just what the business men of Fort Worth want to look after. Let it be known that Fort Worth is paying the very top price for cotton and then have five or six buyers here, and sure enough buyers, too, and things will

NEW BALE AT TERRELL

TERRELL, Texas, August 25.—Terrell's first bale of cotton for the season of 1903 arrived in the city shortly after noon yesterday and found the bins of the city not yet ready to handle it.

The honor belongs to Ben Clayton of the Rose Hill community, who brought in 1,450 pounds of seed cotton, which will, when ginned, make a bale of the required size.

There has been considerable rivalry over the first baled bales, as a premium of $15 awaited the man who brought it in, and A. Calhoun had offered to pay 15 cents a pound for it.

Following are the dates upon which first bales have been received in Terrell since 1890: August 7, 1900; August 11, 1901; August 5, 1902, and August 25, 1903.

Mr. Clayton sold his cotton in the seed to the Lowery round bale gin, receiving $3.60 per hundred therefor.

THE GROWTH OF OUR IMPORTS

For the first time in the history of our country the imports have exceeded the billion dollar mark, but when you consider the wonderful growth of the country the above only seems reasonable. There is also a most wonderful amount in excess of stomach, liver and bowel disorders made by the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters during the past few years, because more people are learning of its wonderful curative powers every day, and having once tried it, will use no other. Its success, however, only seems reasonable when you remember that in its composition only those ingredients will benefit these organs are used. It therefore appeals to all sufferers from headache, loss of appetite, sour stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, liver and kidney ailment, or malaria, fever and ague. Try it.

TRIED AND TRUE

Story of a Newspaper Woman's Trip Over the Rock Island

The following letter from Mrs. J. D. Claybrook of Austin, relative to a recent trip which she made to Chicago over the Rock Island will be of interest to many in Fort Worth owing to reference to local officials and employees of that road:

"The old parable of the house which, built upon the rock, withstood the flood, is vividly brought to mind by tourists traveling over the Rock Island railroad through the recently flooded part of the country in and near Kansas City.

"That the floods came and the rain descended is not to be disputed when the awful demolition is seen on all sides from the—Wichita—Highway. The roof of the roofs of houses, household furniture lies scattered in hopeless heaps, ruined and never to be reclaimed, on the sodden banks of the swollen river. Yet above, beyond and around all this, a frightful catastrophe of nature the Rock Island passed on—passed on—for were not multitudes of men engaged in repairing as fast as the storm-swept track was damaged by wind or waves or fallen stones? And in surprisingly brief time—the fewest days—the Rock Island trains went flying into Chicago and other western destinations at regular schedule time.

"It is a wonderful system—the Rock Island—with its miles of steel track, its handsome and perfectly equipped coaches and courteous officials.

"The service on the dining cars certainly deserves the highest commendation. The most fastidious cannot but be pleased with the excellent menus prepared. Many claim that they are the finest found anywhere in traveling.

"However this may be, there is never any difference of opinion regarding the uniformly kind and courteous conduct of the Rock Island agents. None can surpass them.

"Beginning at Austin with Charles Mallott, up to Fort Worth, where, at the head of them all, is W. E. Smith, the general passenger agent. George Pattee, traveling passenger agent, and Victor N. Turpin, city passenger agent.

"Mr. Turpin is unremitting in his care and consideration for passengers. No personal request is ever denied and he always personally sees to the comfort of ladies traveling alone, being especially solicitous when they are either ill or in trouble, often holding the train for unavoidable delays. The Rock Island truly affords every convenience that a critical public can demand."

THE BIBLE AND THE EMPIRE STATE EXPRESS

A Bible student has recently been figuring on how long it would have taken the people to make the journey from Dan to Beersheba if they could have had the benefit in the olden times of the Empire State Express. He figured that the train would have made this journey in less than three hours, although from a reading of the account in the Bible one would think it was a long journey, and it was for those days with their limited means of transportation. Ezekiel, the Chaldean prophet, had in his mind's eye something like the Empire State Express when he uttered the words recorded in the first chapter of his prophecy. Look this up and see if you do not agree with the idea.—From the Troy Daily Times.

FIRST COTTON
IS HERE TODAY

The first bale of cotton from the Fort Worth market was delivered today by G. T. Hughes, residing on the Hagood Bros. farm, 14 miles northwest of the city.

The delivery is about one week later this year than last, and while Tarrant county is not the first in the state to report cotton marketed this season, it is not far behind, even including the southern markets.

Mr. Hughes' cotton is strictly a Tarrant county product. The bale weighs approximately 400 pounds and will be sold at auction in front of the Board of Trade this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A premium fund is being solicited. The donations are large and are being given freely.

DALLAS GETS A BALE

DALLAS, Texas, August 26.—A farmer named Anderson, near Kemp, in Kaufman county, brought the first bale of new cotton crop to the Dallas market today, driving forty miles with it last night.

It sold for 15 cents per pound and $100 premium raised by Dallas cotton buyers.

W. S. Kirby is having the first bale of Dallas county cotton ginned this afternoon two miles from the city. He says he will bring it to town tonight or tomorrow morning and receive a hundred dollars premium offered by the Dallas Commercial Club for the first bale of new Dallas county cotton.

WILL BAR UNION MEN

The railroads and shippers at Kansas City have announced that they will not tolerate interference from outside interests in the movement begun last week to relieve the congested conditions in handling freight in Kansas City. Besides freight traffic, the offices of Kansas City lines whose headquarters are in that city, and general superintendents, who are duty bound to be at the next conference, a few other persons have been asked to meet with the railroads and shippers. The railroad people state that if the committee appointed by the Industrial Council, representing the labor unions, attempts to force an entrance into the conference it will be told plainly that it is not wanted.

Colonel Smith has been out of the city for the past week attending the encampment at Austin and visiting relatives there.

Letter Thus Addressed Is Sent to John T. Montgomery

It must be the idea of Postmaster Burroughs that John T. Montgomery, city secretary, runs Fort Worth. A letter from Oklahoma arrived at the postoffice today addressed to the "City Director," and it was sent to Mr. Montgomery without delay.

The letter is from a man named Ed Stevens of Union City, Ok., who says: "City Director—Dear Sir: I am in the hay business and would like to have the prices on hay."

Mr. Montgomery forwarded the desired information to the writer today.

All these men were members of the ship's crew and the fight took place between them in the forecastle of the steamer on Monday morning. The cause of the fight is unknown. Lewis, who was the stabbing, was put in irons and will be handed over to the police.

TEXT BOOK PROCLAMATION

AUSTIN, Texas, August 25.—The governor issued a proclamation today giving books, name of publishers, prices and exchange prices of books to be used in the public schools of the state for the ensuing year.

The state board of education held a short session. The local board of managers of the Southwest Texas Normal at San Marcos reported that everything was in readiness for the opening of that institution in September.
