ing yesterday afternoon in the office of Mayor Powell that relating to deprecations on school property. The matter was brought up on a report by Superintendent Hogg that a large plate glass window had been stolen during the night. The high school and another plate glass transom shattered by miscreants. When he appealed to Chief Rea, he said, he was informed that an officer could not be spared to watch school property. He, therefore, asked the board to take some steps. Trustee Capps suggested the offer of $25 reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone caught deprecating on school property.

Trustee Tucker then made a sharp attack on the police force by saying that the force was big enough to stop these practices. "Chief Rea can find some of his men most any night in the week sitting around the Sixth ward fire hall," he said. "Let them play dominoes at the schoolhouses instead of the fire halls perhaps some of these deprecations would be stopped."

On rainy nights he had seen the officers put their horses in aivery stable and sit around the fire hall playing dominoes. "Let them play dominoes at the schoolhouses," he said, sarcastically. "The talk about a scarcity of officers is burlesque."

The matter was passed without action. THE SCHOOL BOOK REPORT The expected report by the committee on text-books was not made. It is well understood, however, that the list of changes recently furnished by the superintendent of schools, Professor Alexander Hogg, after being adopted by the committee, was approved by the other members of the board.

The meeting was an unusually important one. It was decided that the schools should open on Wednesday, Sept. 16.

OUT-OF-TOWN PUPILS Trustee Van Zandt introduced a resolution which carried increasing the tuition for pupils residing outside the city limits. For the first four grades the rate is advanced from $1.50 to $2; from the fifth to the eighth grades the rate is advanced from $2.50 to $3; for the higher grades the rate is fixed at $5 per month. Instead of paying in advance for the quarter it was decided that the tuition of out-of-town pupils for the whole school year must be paid in advance. It is thought that this resolution will result in fewer pupils coming from the country, and thus will relieve the pressure in the city schools. It was stated that owing to the rapid increase in the school population it was necessary to take some steps to limit the attendance from the country precincts.

NEW TEACHERS Miss Lucy Nored was appointed to fill a vacancy at the Sixth ward school, caused by the resignation of Miss Carrie Roe; Miss E. Randall was appointed to fill a vacancy at the Ninth ward school, caused by the resignation of Miss Sarah Scheuber. Miss Nored's appointment is provisional on her passing the city teachers' examination.

The committee on school property submitted the following report, appointing janitors, which was approved, the committee being given further time in which to find a janitor for the Seventh ward: "We, your committee on schoolhouses and school property, recommend the following named persons as janitors for the public schools and ask their confirmation: First ward, Dave Moore; Second ward, W. O. Lee; Third ward, J. W. Hill; Fourth ward, W. P. Mooney; Fifth ward, M. V. Roberts; Sixth ward, A. McVean; Seventh ward, no selection; Eighth ward, S. M. Brock; Ninth ward, W. F. Grant; colored, E. Hines; high school, W. Ward.

On motion of Trustee Capps it was decided to pay the school census takers at once.

The following four colored teachers were added to the list of those to be elected: H. L. Fields, S. H. Fowler, G. W. Turner and Mrs. Alice Williamson. It was decided that the teachers should not be paid for their time in attending the preliminary normal institute.

HEALTH CERTIFICATES Trustees Thompson, Capps and Zurn were appointed to examine the health certificates submitted by the teachers. One teacher who submitted a certificate signed by a physician other than the regularly appointed examiner was informed that she must get a certificate from the official examiner.

It was decided that pupils hereafter will not be given problems in arithmetic for home work, inasmuch as the practice of older sisters and brothers, fathers and mothers of assisting the children in this study had a bad effect on them.

A new rule was adopted whereby teachers are not to be permitted to give private lessons; teachers also must attend the supervisors' meetings. The rules requiring teachers to be proficient in vocal music, callisthenics and drawing were repealed.

A resolution was adopted whereby printing a PURGATIVE PLEASURE

If you ever took Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not grip, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell of Houston, Texas, says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc." Sold by druggists.

cial and teachers are required to make a thorough investigation of the health conditions in the homes of the pupils under their charge, and it was left to Trustee Thompson to explain to the teachers the best way of doing this work.

Receipts of Cattle Lighter Than for Same Day Last Week—Hogs Strong

NORTH FORT WORTH, Sept. 8.—Last week's total of more than 9,000 cattle sold on the local yards will hardly be reached this week unless receipts take a phenomenal spurt tomorrow and Thursday.

Hogs this morning were strong and the demand was active. One load of stock hogs was received from Oklahoma. The receipts of stockers had picked up greatly during the past week and the demand is good.

Scarcely a day passes but some cattlemen visiting the stock yards express surprise at the market for feeders furnished at Fort Worth. It is not usual to see a dozen big feeders represented on the yards any day and as a result cattlemen who have feeders to sell and who ship them to Fort Worth, get the advantage of spirited competition.

F. M. Weaver of the firm of F. M. Weaver & Son was on the market yesterday looking for feeders. To a representative of The Telegram Mr. Weaver said that he expected to purchase about 4,000 head this fall to be used at the three mills he represented at Jackson, Ark.

Colonel W. M. Black of Menard county was a visitor at the yards yesterday. He was on his way home from Chicago where he has been on business, and he left yesterday afternoon for Brownwood and San Angelo. Colonel Black has for two years been experimenting with wheat, and while I only got eighteen bushels to the acre this year, an ordinary crop is from twenty-five to thirty-five bushels per acre.

Receipts today, which were estimated at only 1,200 this morning, were well up in the article several more cars at 10 o'clock and a string of eleven loads which arrived from San Angelo at noon. Total receipts for the day exceeded 2,500 cattle and 150 calves.

To James Brooks of Colorado City belongs the credit of fattening the best 21 years a dyspeptic.

One little cured me. I am now tapering off it by the spoon. I have recommended it to my friends. It is curing them, too."

Texas grass cow sold at the yards this season. The cow was sent in a load of twenty-four shipped by Mr. Brooks, and weighed 1,200 pounds, bringing $4.90 per hundred or $48. Another cow shipped in by Mr. Brooks weighed 1,030 pounds and sold at $2.75. The remaining twenty-two cows averaged 950 pounds and brought $2.50.

THURBER MINERS IN THE UNION

National Organizer Wardjohn Made Labor Address in Erath County to Those Recently Organized

BETTER CONDITIONS THE OBJECT SOUGHT

There Will be no Strike Unless the Company Declines to Pay the Scale Which Is to be Adopted

After all these years working as non-union miners, the Thurber coal miners, or at least a part of them, have organized a branch of the United Mine Workers' Association of America.

Messrs. Wardjohn and Havratty delivered two addresses to the miners of Thurber Labor day at Mineral City, at which several hundred miners were present.

Mr. Wardjohn spoke on the methods adopted by the miners' organization all over the United States, which had proved so satisfactory and beneficial to both the miner and the operator.

Mr. Wardjohn said that a few days ago posters were placed in conspicuous places throughout the camp, in which the declaration was made that none but non-union miners should be employed at the Thurber mines.

Mr. Wardjohn will return to Thurber tomorrow to complete the organization and to further instruct the men as to their duty, but his mission will not be to incite them to strike, as has been reported.

Arrangements are being made today to call a joint conference between the coal operators and one of the members of the field, which includes the miners camps at Thurber, Strawn, Rock Creek and all other coal camps in this part of the state.

The men are now paid $1 per ton. The scale is a sliding one by which the men are paid 8 cents advance provided they mine forty tons per month, or 10 cents advance if the number of tons mined a month reaches seventy.

The sale coal mined under the union jurisdiction would be $1.35 per ton, whether one ton or seventy is dug each month. The present scale paid the miners is $2 per day for ten hours' work, whereas, all over the United States the national day wage scale is $2.36 to $2.56, with eight hours' work.

THE LATEST IN RAILROAD NEWS

The railroads in Texas, which are annually depended upon to furnish stable cars in which to move cattle to the feeding pens at the various oil mills, and also in which to ship grass fat cattle to the markets, are very much perplexed at this time over the shortage of cars.

These cars are needed beginning at once and are used every year for a period of about ninety days for moving cattle to feed pens and also to market.

Owners of cattle to be moved are daily calling upon the railroads to supply them with the means of transportation, but they are unable to get stable cars in the numbers desired by the stockmen who are anxious to get their cattle to feeding pens and to market.

As a general thing all southern roads are pushed to supply stock cars, and the shortage gives them much concern, but the Texas and Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas roads are not feeling the shortage as sharply as other lines from the fact that they are having cars made for their own use.

COMPLAINS OF POLICE

School Trustee Tucker made a statement at the meeting of the board yesterday which should be taken up by the chief of police and if true, correction should follow. The trustee says the police spend their time playing dominoes at one of the fire halls. Mounded officers are expected to do duty at night in the saddle, protecting the people from deceptions which are committed by prowlers about private residences, school houses, etc. Mr. Tucker would not make his statements without some basis for the complaint, and he is a man responsible for all he may say. Chief Rea can find him whenever he is needed, and his public statements made at the school board meeting should cause the chief to follow the matter up.

In the meantime The Telegram would like to direct attention to the fact that others beside The Telegram are finding fault with the police. It has been the claim of friends of the department that this paper has made unjust accusations against the force. There has never been a denial of any charge made in the columns of The Telegram. Recently when this paper reported the failure of officers to give their numbers to a man who believed he had a grievance no effort was made by the chief to verify the report, although the evidence would have been forthcoming had The Telegram been called on for it. The chief, however, cannot ignore the complaint made by the member of the school board. Look it up Mr. Rea. Look it up.

THE PIPE LINE QUESTION

Alderman Lehane states that he desires to see the council take up the matter of the pipe line to the Ward place and investigate it thoroughly. That will probably be the course of the municipal authorities. If, as it is claimed, a contract exists providing that in consideration of the sinking of a well on the property of John Burford, which has since become the Ward farm, the city became obligated to furnish water to that property, the city will have to carry out its provisions. If no such contract exists, then it is too late now to make one. To agree to furnish water to that farm is a great undertaking on the part of the city. It would be a perpetuity which would involve a never ending obligation. If Mr. Ward has a well which becomes dry because of the Mead system, it would be establishing a dangerous precedent to reimburse him with free water, because such a precedent would bring demands from others. The subterranean stream belongs to those who tap it. The private enterprises which secured water were profitable to those who risked the expense. As long as the water flowed, they were repaid. When it ceases their investment is but a hole in the ground. The city has tapped that stream and the city is getting the benefit and it owes no man money consideration or explanation because of its good fortune. But the council should not fix bad precedents. There will be too many claims.

THE LOOP THE LOOP

The Wisconsin of Milwaukee is opposed to the loop the loop features which are performed at fairs and gardens and says they should be prohibited by the authorities. Attention is called to the danger attending such an act, by an accident to one Frank Putzin, who curled himself inside a large ball, which rolls down a long chute and around the loop. The ball fell from the loop, however. A young woman who tried the trick only two days before Putzin's attempt was injured badly. These suicidal tricks should be prohibited by managers and, if not by them, by the authorities, says the Wisconsin. The bait held out to a certain class of performers is alluring to them—little actual work, for which they are liberally paid, and the applause of a crowd of thoughtless spectators. Some morbid instinct impels thousands of people, educated and ignorant alike, to delight in the spectacle of a fellow man risking his life. If there is any element of skill in these morbid attractions it is not of interest to the multitude.

The number of showmen that make these sensational feats a part of their fairs, carnivals or circuses appears to be increasing. And as each trick loses

ADVERTISEMENTS

(Washington Star.) Why did the flow'et blush unseen amid the desert air? Why have some sages lived unknown in attics chill and bare? Why is reward withheld from men both talented and wise? The answer is as plain as day: They didn't advertise. To merely take the light from 'neath a bushel will not do. You've got to keep it blazing where the passing throng may view. No matter what you walk in life, this fact you can't disguise: You'll drop from the procession if you do not advertise.

THE CLEVELAND BOOM

In nominating former President Cleveland for the presidency, the Chicago Chronicle says: "If nominated for president next year he would poll every democratic vote in the land. His candidacy would reunite the democratic party. His leadership would take the organization out of the mire of dishonest money, class hatred, envy, malice and disorder. His nomination would solidify democrats and it would cast out of the party all the devils of radicalism and revolution." It is not possible for Mr. Cleveland to be nominated. The democracy is not disposed to favor a third term and the convention would hardly fix such a precedent. Mr. Cleveland would poll a big vote, however, but his candidacy would not reunite the democracy. There is a following which has been staunch in support of Mr. Bryan, which would not rally to the Cleveland standard, and while not supporting the republican ticket, it would remain away from the polls. It may be that this same following would refrain from supporting any but a representative of the Bryan theories, but it is desired to win them to the support of the ticket if possible. Votes are wanted and they are acceptable, it matters not from what source. Nominate a conservative democrat and invite all branches of the party to get together.

Governor Lanham is welcome.

He has many friends in Fort Worth who will appreciate this first visit here since he became the chief executive of the state. John D. Rockefeller has commissioned a Hungarian artist to paint his picture. Does John insist that only Standard oil shall be used? THE IDLER'S NOTE BOOK

It was at one of the new residences that are going up so rapidly along the streets of the south side, the kind that contain a reception hall, two parlors and three alcoves, and the various artisans who had been lucky enough to get work on the job had liberally filled the front yard with signs. One firm announced that it was doing the painting, another the plumbing, another the electric wiring and a fourth stated for the benefit of the passing public that it was laying the concrete sidewalk. The son of the owner was an enterprising lad of twelve, and early in the week on the building he made a bargain with his father to keep the yard free from shavings, chips, blocks of wood and the like as the work progressed. The boy watched the placing of the various signs by the firms on the building with increasing interest, and finally he spent a busy afternoon in the woodshed at home with five cents worth of lamplack and a quantity of linseed oil borrowed from an obliging painter.

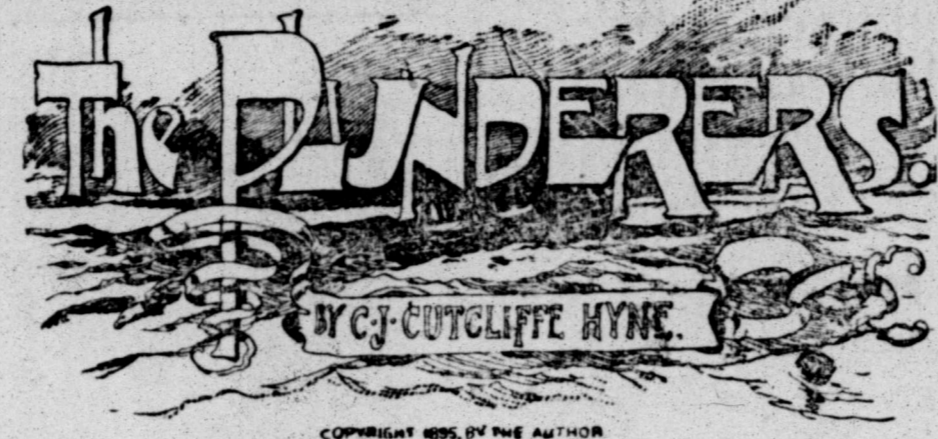

People going by next morning on their way downtown read a new sign in the yard with the new house. It was tacked higher than the others and had the additional advantage of being on the gate post, so that none could miss seeing it. The sign read: I AM PILING UP THE KIND LING HERE. JOHNNIE STI. LES.

THE IDLER.

I was touched yesterday by the unanimity of spirit which seemed to pervade the city regarding the observance of Labor day. Such a general closing of the places of business, so widespread a display of flags, and, above all, the extent and variety of the parade by the unions of the city, struck me very forcibly, and I wondered at the growth of the labor union idea in Fort Worth. The parade especially occurred to me as being symbolical of the unanimity of purpose which so characterizes the labor unions of the twentieth century, and last night while standing on the street corner with a friend who is a member of one of the unions of the city I remarked to him how the parade had appealed to me. I told him that it was evidence of the growth of the brotherhood of man idea, and a whole lot more such stuff. I believe I was feeling poetical at the time and I disremember all I did say. When I got through, my friend looked at me a minute, rather pityingly I must confess, and then drew a deep whiff of his pipe and said slowly: "Yes, it was a fine parade; I thought so myself. Them as didn't march was fined a dollar. It was very unanimous." And then I walked slowly and thoughtfully to the next corner, without even bidding my friend good night.

SYNOPSIS

Chapter I.—Amy Rivers, the ward of Theodore Shelf, a hypocrite, is engaged to a piratical scheme to Patrick Cambel, Shelf being under the influence of Mrs. Shelf. III., IV., V. and VI.—The scheme is to ship gold to New Orleans, overhauling it and wrecking it. Shelf and Cambel employ Captain Owen Kettle to command the steamer, the Port Edes, and to carry out the plan. Cambel sails in the steamer. As the Port Edes, laden with the boxes, leaves the dock, a man on shore declares she is doomed. The crew attempt to seize the vessel in order to secure the gold. IX.—But Captain Kettle subdues the mutiny. X and XI—Cambel, who has attached wires from his station room, makes the electric connection and causes an explosion. The ship appears to be sinking. Kettle sends Cambel below with the ostensible purpose of seeing what is the trouble. Cambel returns and by his appearance the men judge that the ship is sinking and take to the boats. This leaves only Kettle, Cambel and one man on board, which has all been planned. They steer for Florida. Cambel, coming from Point Sebastian, there is a pleasure schooner approaching with a girl at the tiller—Elsie Kildare, a sister of the girl who had refused him and made him what he was. They are on the Florida coast. They take the Port Edes into a bayou and are followed by a sloop whose crew are engaged in the illicit work of hunting plumes from the tropical birds of the Everglades. The plume hunters see the Port Edes' name and from newspapers know that she has gold on board. Amy Rivers, in London, hearing of the disaster to the Port Edes, attributes the explosion to the anarchists. Fairfax loses faith in Amy's guardian, Shelf. Two blind men return and with Nutt, a one-eyed man, and his partner, Hank—go aboard the Port Edes. Kettle discloses the swindle to them and says he will take the steamer to a faraway port, repeat and sell her. Nutt declares that he will keep the gold for him. A fight between the two plume hunters ensues in which Hank gouges out Nutt's eye and Nutt stabs Hank, thus ridding Kettle of both. Cambel goes to a Florida water resort, where he meets Elsie Kildare and learns that her sister, being caught in a cyclone with Elsie, he tells her that he loves her, and she responds. Her confessions the swindle to her and asks her to share the plunder. She declines.

He did not know the smallest secret about his advent. As the newspapers had told them already, he had been on the unlucky Port Edes when she came to grief, but had managed to get ashore, by a wifely streak of luck and found himself at a spot where less than a year ago he had been wandering about on a shooting expedition. Thence he had made his way in a dugout, bought from a Seminole, to the hotel on Point Sebastian. Voilà tout. There was nothing surprising about it. He had had several opportunities for drowning before this, but none of them had ever come off. So he supposed that the Parca marked him out to live. And—what would they have? His shout. At that period Mr. Patrick Cambel was feeling extremely pleased with himself. He hated the work at which he had been engaged, as any man must hate being mixed with a crowd that is so small. And the end seemed near; the end, conjoined to full success.

He had had a struggle for it, because once more Captain Kettle had felt inclined to fight for his own hand rather than do all things for mere employers who only paid him a paltry salary. It was when Cambel woke up that he slept on the wheel grating of the upper bridge and came down to learn of the tragedy of the plume hunters, which had taken place during his unconsciousness, that he got the first hint of this. The little captain received him with cold stiffness, was wroth when asked for any suggestion and snarled when Cambel inquired what ailed him. It was the donkeyman who put the difficulty into words.

"And, captain, now," said he, "how much might yez be getting out of all this for yerself?" "Five hundred pounds." "Begor, it's a mighty lot of money and little enough too. I wish I'd myself an more. I'd like a house ashore, my wife, an an ass that I might drive her on in like a gentleman, besides other things." "Oh, stop that! Don't tell me what a man might do if he'd his pick of the money in this ship. I can figure that out for myself, without suggestions from any blasted Irishman."

"Ah, now, captain, dear, don't be cross wid me, because I was going on to say that in case of trouble, in case there was, we'll say, a thrilling argument, I'd be on your side. Mr. Cambel, yer a gentleman, an I like ye well, but the captain here's me officer, an—well, sor, a boy must look after himself sometimes, specially when there's a chance like this ready to his fingers. 'Twon't come again in a lifetime." "Probably not," said Cambel. He lay back in his chair, with linked fingers behind his head. "Look here, Kettle, if you want to shoot me, pull out your gun and get it over. Then you and Sullivan can run the cargo where you please and share it how you like. But that's the only way you'll make me consent to your taking what's beyond your due. Shelf trusted me, and, by Jove, I'm going to act fairly by Shelf if he were a ten times bigger thief than I know him to be already. Now, then, jump quick—let's have it over." They were in the chartroom. Captain Kettle puckered his head for a minute's thought and then, getting up, shut and locked the starboard door. He took that key and the key also of the other door which gave upon the deck, and he handed them both to Cambel.

"Now, sir," said he, "you lock me and the donkeyman in here and go and do as you like. But I advise you to take your gold somewhere out of this ship, because as sure as it's there when I next come out of this room so sure do I go and look it. That's my bank there, bang above the place where it's stowed, an I've sat on top of those sovereigns like a hen every watch below I've had this voyage and heard 'em chinkle and wondered what they'd hatch out into. CONSENT OF SULTAN

University of Chicago is to Make Explorations CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 8.—President Harper has secured the consent of the sultan of Turkey to an exploration of the country in the vicinity of ancient Babylon.

It is understood that a party has been formed and that it will leave the university this fall.

The place where the exploring party will have special privileges is Tel Abrahim, long regarded as a part of Babylon. In this vicinity are supposed to be the ruins of the temple in which Nebuchadnezzar offered sacrifices and the explorers hope to find the tomb of Abraham.

MUNICIPAL ENGINEERS VISIT THURBER TODAY

The Association of Civil Engineers, which met here yesterday, perfected its organization late in the afternoon electing John B. Hawley of Fort Worth president, C. G. Wells of Galveston vice president and Carl Zane-Cetti secretary.

After the organization had been completed an adjournment was taken to meet again at Thurber this afternoon at 2 o'clock, for which point the members left over the Texas and Pacific at 8:30 left over the Texas and Pacific at 8:30 left over the Texas and Pacific at 8:30.

When the business of the session had been completed yesterday afternoon the association members were shown through the waterworks plant and later driven to the Country Club, where they were served with an elegant dinner.

The paper by John B. Hawley on "The Status of the Engineer" was interesting and provoked favorable comment from the members of the association. In part he said:

"In our republican form of government, state, national and municipal, there are three distinct co-ordinate branches, each with its own peculiar functions—legislative, executive and judicial. One makes the laws; the second sees to their execution; and the third, when called upon, must see to the legal and propriety of the actions of the other two."

"I wonder if the idea ever occurs, even to our best clients and well-wishers that every engineer must in his work combine and perform the functions of all three? We must design and lay down the law for the construction of each piece of work in plans and specifications; we must stand over that work during its construction and see that the law of the job is being properly complied with; we must then, when the work is over, or for that matter, during its progress, judicially pass, and finally pass, on every question of dispute, and so long as we keep within our powers, are a final court of law and equity."

"We every once in a while hear an engineer criticized for deciding some point in the contractor's favor. This is very good evidence that the people at large do not understand the engineer. Even judicial functions of the engineer. Even properly written contract for public works recites that both parties thereto agree upon the engineer as the final arbiter of disputed matters. Can be thought that he must decide every dispute in favor of the party who happens to pay his salary or fee? Do we citizens of Texas, just because we pay the salary of our district or supreme judges, insist that they should make every ruling in the state's favor? No, we simply expect of them that the rights of both sides shall be respected, and rulings made and decisions rendered accordingly."

"Again, it sometimes—often, but at rare intervals—happens that after ten years of hard-earned technical education, fifteen years of unlearning part of same and twenty years of really valuable public service, all accompanied by great personal frugality, an engineer retires with a princely fortune of some $30,000 or $40,000. He has probably been the directing, responsible, check-drawing power on say $50,000,000 worth of work. In the realms of that work he was the autocrat, was Pericles, Kaiser Wilhelm and Solomon, all in one, and yet when he quits and goes into the shade of his own vine and fig tree there might be heard a voice saying: 'Oh, yes, he has retired; got plenty; stood in with the contractor.'"

"They don't say it of the doctors. God bless 'em, when they, after their days and nights of bringing into and carrying out of the world the souls committed to their charge, have to go to rest, but the bread and meat of their declining years. They don't say it of the men who have successfully discussed tweedle-dee and tweedle-dum for a half century, and I mean no disrespect to our local friends; but, as to us and our cousins the contractors, Kipling tries to voice the sentiment of the times."

"Let us by constant study of the old and the new, by careful attention to details, by dealing out even-handed justice to both client and contractor, and in all things, so conduct ourselves as to not only merit, but compel, the opinion that engineering, both in theory and practice, is the broadest and most important of the learned professions."

to, according to the opinion of several members of the company which is ready to build the line.

Robert McCart says his company is willing and anxious to do the right thing by the Traction company, and believes that the people of Arlington Heights have a right to get into Fort Worth over the car line, and should not be thwarted in their efforts.

It has been known some time that an extension of the interurban has been in contemplation from Fort Worth south to possibly Cleburne, thence to Dallas, forming a loop and, while the officials of the Traction company evade discussion of this feature of their enterprise, it is understood that such an extension is under consideration. There is also another side to this question. There is talk that another company proposes to build a line from Fort Worth to Mineral Wells, via Confederate park, Azle and three or four other small places en route from the city to Mineral Wells. It is understood that one man who owns property on the proposed line has agreed to give $50,000 besides right of way for such a line, while others interested in the building of the line will donate liberally. The Traction company has been asked to investigate the proposition, but thus far it has not been done. Now it is learned that an independent company, at the head of the matter and determine just how badly the line is wanted by residents along the proposed route.

The matter has gone so far that several of those to be interested in the line have made trips over the route. When the discussions have been reached, however, are not known definitely, but it is learned that much encouragement is shown toward the promoters of the line.

The matter may take a definite shape within the next few weeks.

MOTOR CYCLISTS

A National Protective Association is Organized

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Motor cyclists to the number of eighty-seven, representing almost every state in the union, have met at Manhattan Beach and organized a national protective association under the name of the Federation of American Motor Cyclists, with officers as follows:

President, E. G. Betts, New York Motor Cycle Club, New York city; vice president for eastern district, Dr. George H. Perry, New Haven, Conn.; vice president for southern district, N. M. Austin, Daytona, Fla.; vice president for western district, B. E. Birt, Chicago; vice president for Pacific district, Don E. Campbell, San Francisco; secretary, E. L. Ferguson, New York city; and treasurer, Dr. G. B. Gibson, Westborough, Mass.

A constitution was adopted, which provides for territorial divisions and offices which may ultimately become state divisions. A general convention is to be held annually between July 1 and Sept. 1. The principal object of the organization will be to secure legislation of the motor bicycle as a bicycle and to free it from the restrictive automobile laws which now apply to it in some states.

Music and Drama

The second week of popular price amusements at Greenwall's opened last night, the Holten Comedy Company presenting "Nobody's Claim."

The play is one of a western mining country, where people are rough and villainous, but the ever present friend of right and the oppressed is ready with his protesting arm. John A. Freeman as Ward Devereux is a manly fellow, in build, in voice and in action. He defends the woman who is insulted and cares for the wail of the mountains who is being educated in all the vicious things which are known to her companions, who have deceived her as to her true station in life and as to the wealth which is due her because of the property rights of her father. Miss Katherine Field is the wail. She is an attractive little woman, and won the hearts of her audience.

A specialty by one of the company who danced as he jiggled, was very much enjoyed. One specialty, however, in which he performed was a pantomime exhibition of a young lady making her toilet would have been better left out of the play. The management could give a better performance without such an act, and it would be better appreciated by the audience. With this exception the company is a very good one. It gives a very good performance and it will be liberally patronized. The house was crowded last night. Tonight the company will present "Under Two Flags," and one lady will be admitted free with every 20-cent ticket.

HERRMANN THE GREAT

Herrmann the Great, the most wonderful of all modern necromancers, will appear at Greenwall's opera house Monday, matinee and night, September 14.

Herrmann is truly a remarkable man. Without preparation he accomplishes the most astounding feats of sleight of hand and prestidigitation. Skill, dexterity and inventive genius; these are his marked characteristics. His feats far exceed in wonderful results those of all other magicians, past or present.

By a tour through India, Herrmann has been enabled to obtain many of the surprising feats of the famous Hindoo and other eastern fakirs, and his spectators may imagine themselves at Calcutta or Bombay, as they witness the wonderful transformations which have heretofore only been known by reading, or by the description of some lecturer.

JUDGE MAYTON Tells How DR. THACHER'S LIVER AND BLOOD SYRUP Cured His Neighbor's Son of Dropsy When Doctors Failed

In a recent letter to the Thacher Medicine Company, Judge Z. T. Mayton, Ex-Judge of Hemstead County, Arkansas, now a member of the firm of Mayton & Jones and a prominent citizen of Sardis, Arkansas, says:

"For some time I have handled Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I recommended it to A. B. Taylor, a customer of mine, who had a son about twenty-five years old afflicted with a severe case of Dropsy. This son had been treated by several of the best physicians in Hope, Arkansas and Hemstead County, who had given him up as hopeless. His case had baffled the best medical skill. The young man showed distinct improvement from the first bottle; after using several bottles he was restored to perfect health. This they attribute solely to the merits of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup."

What Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has done for others it can do for you. On the market since 1852, it has proven its efficacy over and over again in thousands of cases and is curing more people today than ever before in all its long life.

ANTI-CIGARETTE LEAGUE

If There Ever Was One, It Has Dropped Out of Sight NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—If there ever was a National Anti-Cigarette League, it has dropped out of sight, says a Tribune dispatch from Philadelphia. The address given as the headquarters of the organization in this city is a vacant building and persons employed in stores in the vicinity are weary of telling inquirers that they know nothing of the league.

At the postoffice there is a stack of letters several feet high, addressed to the league, and they are continuing to come at the rate of thousands daily. The postal authorities have tried vainly to stop the stream of correspondence for which there is no claimant. Some one with an endless chain scheme to stop cigarette smoking is said to be responsible for the flood of letters.

SHE SHOOTS HERSELF

Mrs. Purinton Prefers Death to a Surgical Operation

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Helen Worthington Purinton, wife of Helen Holman Greene Purinton, prominent in Masonic and National Guard circles, committed suicide last night at her home by shooting herself in the mouth.

Espionacy over continued ill health, coupled with the dread of a dangerous surgical operation, which her physicians had told her was inevitable, is thought to have been the cause of her act. The weapon with which she took her life was a heavy army revolver of thirty-eight caliber, and was a wedding present given her by her husband's Knights Templars comrades on the eve of her departure for the Philippines with Colonel Purinton three years ago.

JERRY COLUMBUS FALLS UNDER CAR WHEELS

Jerry Columbus, a young negro, about 20 years of age, was killed by the cars shortly after midnight last night in attempting to cross the tracks of the Rock Island at Ninth street crossing. He was on his way home from attending the festivities at Douglass park under the auspices of the colored people of Fort Worth.

Young Columbus left the park, so it is reported, about midnight and reached the railroad crossing half an hour later. It probably will never be known just how he fell on the track. The wheels passed over his body just above both hips. Columbus was carried home and died shortly afterward from the effects of his injuries.

The dead negro was employed at the Rhodes-Haverty Furniture Company, on upper Main street, as a driver, and is said to have been an industrious colored boy. He formerly had charge of the elevator at the Worth hotel.

THE STATE ACCEPTS PORTRAIT AND BUST

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 8.—The touch of deat and dexterous hands were everywhere apparent in the hall of the house of representatives last night as the representatives laid out the bust and portrait of Governor Lubbock in the name of the state.

The speaker's stand and desk in front were decorated with ferns of a dozen varieties intermixed with which were pot plants which added much to the charming effect. Colonel John L. Foster of Austin acted as the master of ceremonies, who stated among other things that the bust and portrait of Governor Lubbock was the gift of his wife to the state and that the present occasion was in obedience to a resolution adopted by the last legislature.

After a few graceful preliminary remarks he introduced ex-Lieutenant-Governor L. J. Story, who had been elected by the legislative committee to make the presentation speech of which the following is a summary:

"When the young republic of Texas sprang into existence, and when the smoke of battle had scarcely cleared away from the glorious field of San Jacinto and while the president of the republic of Mexico, the self-styled Napoleon of the west, was still a prisoner of war of the victorious Texans; and while that galaxy of great first congress of the republic of Texas was in session on the banks of the Brazos, at Columbia, the young, the vigorous, energetic and intelligent Frank Richard Lubbock, then but 21 years of age, landed at Velasco and at once became a citizen of the republic of Texas, espousing her cause and dedicating his life to her service."

"The fiendish and wanton massacre of her citizens at Goliad and the Alamo by the Mexican authorities were still fresh in the memory of her people, and the battle cry of 'Remember the Alamo; Remember Goliad,' was still sounding along the hillside and valleys of Texas."

"Here at Velasco he found his young brother, Thomas S. Lubbock, afterwards a gallant colonel in the Confederate States army, whom he had fitted out and sent to Texas as a soldier by and member of the Louisiana Grays. To him he listened with eagerness as he told the story of that long and arduous march of 200 miles on foot across the wilderness of Texas, to San Antonio, and the thrilling events of the storming of Bexar under Ben Milam and Frank Johnson and the capture of a portion of his company at Goliad."

"In 1851 he became the war governor of Texas. At the end of his term he declined re-election and became a Confederate soldier, was assigned as assistant adjutant general on General Green's staff, and afterwards, June 22, 1864, President Davis appointed him on his staff with the rank of colonel of cavalry."

"In the discharge of his duties as a public officer and as one of the capital board he aided extensively in securing the erection of this magnificent capital building out of Texas granite."

"And as treasurer of the state reforms were introduced, and as you go policy of Governor O. M. Roberts was greatly aided by the treasurer."

"It is no criticism of other state officials of this great state to note for the purity of its official records, to say that no cleaner official record has ever been made by any of its many able, efficient, pure and patriotic officials."

"And now, Mr. Chairman, the official record of our friend is made. An earnest, energetic and faithful public servant is nearing the sunset of his life, and as he glides gently down the stream of time, it is meet that the twenty-sixth legislature should have passed that resolution, accepting this splendid oil painting, and marble bust of Governor Lubbock, bequeathed by his wife to the state of Texas."

"Let them take their place upon the walls of this great building alongside its portraits of Houston, Austin, Lamar, Jones, Pease, Roberts, Coke, Ross and other great men, now ornamenting the walls of this structure."

"And let the young men of our state, as they begin to mould their characters, look upon the faces of the great, the brave and true men of the past, and learn to study their characters and imitate their virtues."

"Hon. R. C. Duff, member of the last legislature from Jefferson county, selected by the committee having the arrangements of these interesting and historic ceremonies in charge, received the bust and portrait of Governor Lubbock in the name of the state. Mr. Duff in discharging the duty imposed upon him by the committee, adverted in eloquent terms to the heroism and patriotism of the early fathers and pioneers of Texas, and commented upon their wisdom as foundation builders and statesmen."

Governor Lubbock was one of this matchless galaxy whom the people delighted to honor."

His service had been long and faithful.

HE PAYS MONEY FOR YOUNG MICE

Wanted—Will pay 2 cents a piece for all good, live, healthy mice, age 3 months to 1 year, brought to my store by 8 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 5. Hugh H. Lewis, corner Thirteenth and Main.

The foregoing advertisement appeared in The Telegram one day last week. Naturally everybody supposed that a practical joker was at work, and that he was trying to make a "Pied Piper of Hamelin" out of mice. Everybody also thought that in the next day's paper there would appear an advertisement worded somewhat after this fashion:

Wanted—Will pay $1 a piece for all good, live, healthy cats, any old age, brought to my store under my old time, and please hurry. H. H. Lewis, corner Thirteenth and Main streets.

But, to the surprise of everyone, no such advertisement appeared. A reporter for The Telegram was dispatched to the scene to ascertain what great philanthropic work Mr. Lewis had in view in thus attempting to rid the city of rodents. Mr. Lewis told him to call another day, as he did not wish to give out his secret until he had enough mice on hand.

Yesterday evening the reporter again sallied past the Lewis store. In the window he beheld a small cage containing a revolving cage, in which a little mouse was running for dear life, and with the same effect one witnesses when a squirrel is engaged in a like enterprise.

"But why did you advertise for mice between the ages of three months and one year?" asked the reporter.

"Well, you see, the mice are not so wise as their elder brothers, and they give me a good run for my money before they find out that it is useless to expend their energy on the treadmill. I hate to try it for a few whirls and then quit while mice run until they are exhausted and then, after a rest, are ready to tackle the 'blamed thing' for another heat."

NORTH SIDE AND ROSEN HEIGHTS

The Nash Furniture Company.

The people of the North Side are jubilant over the rapid progress which is being made on the street grading and car tracks by Contractor Townsend and his men. The street is graded and the track is set almost to Marine, and by the middle of the month it is hoped that the work will be entirely completed. Therolley poles have not been set further than the creek, but it will take only a few days to put them in place after the work on the track is completed.

HERE'S A HUSBAND FOR SOME MAID

Captain Cumble of Salvation Army Agrees to Receive Proposals by Proxy

"Life in the Salvation Army is not without its humorous side at times," said Captain Cumble, commander of the local brigade this morning. "For instance, to-day I received a letter from a solicitous mother in a neighboring city which requested me to find a wife for her son. This is a bit unusual, but if there is an honest girl in Fort Worth who is not afraid of life in a small city, say of 5,000 inhabitants, and who would not object to a husband whose hearing is affected, I would like to hear from her."

Captain Cumble says that if he receives any proposals by proxy he will use his best office in sending the same to their destination.

WANTED—A HOME
Captain Cumble is working hard to get a list of weekly subscribers for the support of an emergency home.

"You have no idea how greatly one is needed here," he said. "Look at the work that would be taken off the hands of the county and city authorities by such a home; there are many cases that now go to the calaboose to become associated with the vilest and filthiest classes of humanity that might be cared for in an emergency home if there was one. If say fifty or sixty persons, would agree to give me a dollar apiece every month we might make a fine start and the donors would feel repaid every day of their lives by calling on us once in a while and observing what was done with their money. I now have $11 which was subscribed for such a home."

CASES ON HAND
In speaking of the cases he now has in hand, Captain Cumble said that the family living in two tents on the north side near the bridge, was being looked after every day. Green, the head of the unfortunate little family, an account of whose troubles was given in The Telegram several days ago, is slowly recovering his health.

Thursday of this week a new case will come into the hands of the Salvation Army. It is that of a girl-wife, between 16 and 17 years old, who has been deserted by her husband and who has just passed through enough accommodation under most hopeless circumstances. The girl is provided for until Thursday.

Captain Cumble has a number of deserving cases on hand at this time.

FILES ANSWER IN A LAW SUIT

In a suit pending in one of the courts of this county, an answer was yesterday filed in which the defendant sets up a counter claim against a law firm which sues him on a note. Under the provisions of the law the names of the parties at interest cannot be given.

Plaintiffs sue on a note. In making answer defendant states that the note represents no consideration, that he had a claim against a transportation company and was solicited by a member of the law firm to sign a contract with that firm to bring suit. The firm agreed, says the answer, to pay $50 cash and after that $25 per month to defendant until the suit was decided. The dates on which payments are alleged to have been made, extending from May until October, 1902, are set forth. About that time the grand jury began an investigation of certain alleged violations of the barometry statute. The answer, states the defendant on this last suit, was approached by a member of the law firm and was asked to sign the note covering payments made by the firm to him, in order that the firm might be protected in case the investigation should reach it. He says he was assured that no attempt would be made to collect the money. He thereupon signed the sum. The suit against the company was decided. The defendant claims that the law firm agreed to pay costs in this case, which amounted to $121.48, but after losing the case refused to do so, whereupon he was forced to pay the sum. He then proceeds in his answer to set up a counter claim for work done for the firm in soliciting cases. He makes his claim for $165.

THREE SHOTS ARE FIRED

Yesterday afternoon, while everybody was feeling good and celebrating after his own fashion, excitement was raised at the Palais Royal by someone firing three shots. The police were called in and several arrests were made on charges of shooting, but no one was able to give any enlightenment on the shooting. The police worked hard to ascertain the identity of the man with the pistol, but the efforts were unsuccessful.

Deadly

Grasp of Grip Prostrated Me.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

Of the millions of people, who today suffer from nervous or heart weakness, a large percentage trace the cause directly to deadly LaGrippe. It is a germ disease, and makes a direct attack upon the nerves, putting an extra strain upon them at the time their vitality is at the lowest ebb. If LaGrippe has left you with a shattered nervous system, with loss of appetite, lack of energy, insomnia, frequent headaches and morbid tendencies, you should strengthen the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will undo all that grip has done, bring back appetite, rest and restore the nerves to their normal activity.

"I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from that dreaded disease—LaGrippe. I suffered several weeks with it, and nothing I tried seemed to benefit me in any way, shape or form (I suffered almost death), and finally my daughter recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to me and I can truthfully say from the first day I felt better than in weeks. It gave me relief, built up my shattered nerves and gave me a splendid appetite. I cannot speak too highly of it and want to say, each and every one who has suffered from LaGrippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Insist on having it and take no other. It is simply splendid. Hoping this will benefit some poor sufferer I remain,

SHOWERS PROMISED BY THE FORECASTER

It appears that there is a "trough of low pressure" over the upper Mississippi and the Missouri valley sections, which "trails southwestward to the Rio Grande, with a secondary development in the Panhandle," so it is probable that it is all this disturbance of the meteorological situation which is to be thanked for the cooling rains we may have tomorrow afternoon.

Showers, it is further alleged, have been distributed from and including Missouri northward, and it is cooler in the northwest. Heavy frost is reported from Wyoming and light frost in Utah. Happy Mormons!

It is hot in Fort Worth. The heat is both unexpected and unwelcome. Fort Worth has been enjoying pleasant weather for several weeks, but today the mercury is again doing business in the nineties.

A three-gallon jug of whisky distilled in 1803 by the grandfather of Colonel Dick Alexander of Bell's Ford, Ky., will be opened on October 29, when the colonel will entertain a party of intimate friends. This century-old juice of the corn is said to be the oldest in the United States.

According to the weather forecaster tomorrow will be partly cloudy and there is a probability of showers along in the afternoon.
