Trunk Lines Burdened With Visitors From the Northern States Now in Texas

South Texas is overrun with visitors from Indiana, Ohio and some of the states of the Middle West. They are in Texas for the purpose of investigating the rice industry of the coast country and it is reported that there are more than 2,000 of the people.

Most of them went to the south part of the state over the roads via Fort Worth, while the Southern Pacific carried a good share of the excursionists. Many of the visitors came to Texas for the express purpose of making investments, having already made investigation of the diversified crops of the state. The majority intend to go into the growing of rice and will buy lands in the vicinity of El Campo and Bay City, Matagorda county seems also to be the stopping place of many of the land-seekers.

The trunk lines from the North and West have been burdened of late in caring for these movements, and it is understood there are large numbers of excursionists yet to come and will arrive in Texas within the next few weeks. West and Northwest Texas are catching many of the new-comers and only last week more than 500 people went up the Fort Worth and Denver City road prospecting principally in the Panhandle, where they are looking for desirable cattle ranches and farms.

The work of bringing these people to Texas from the overcrowded North and East is due to the energetic efforts being made by the Southern railroads. The majority pooled issues and started a scheme which would result in settling up the state. Captain Steel, who has charge of the matter, was recently in Texas and the coming of the hundreds of people from the North the past week is partially due to his efforts.

NEW TERRITORY ROADS

Directors of Great Eastern and Great Western Pushing the Enterprise

The promoters of the Great Eastern and Western railroad are pushing the enterprise in the Indian Territory. A meeting has just been held with the citizens of Mill Creek to ascertain whether that town desires the road had enough to give a bonus which will guarantee the location of a depot and yards. It was decided unanimously by the citizens to offer inducements asked by the railroad company.

Most of the right of way between Coalgate and the Santa Fe railroad has already been secured and over 40,000 acres in mineral has been taken.

TRIALS AND TROUBLES

Many Fall to the Lot of Railroads Doing Business in Texas

Nowhere are the United States are the railroads subjected to so much trouble from one cause or another as they are in Texas. They have been harassed by the commission, experienced inconvenience because of a shortage of freight cars, charged excessively with their rates, their charters, and now comes a shortage of laborers which is causing the roads in the state great annoyance, because they are unable to secure enough common laborers to do the work of construction under way by many lines. Laborers who have been working with the construction forces during the summer months have now deserted the railroad work and gone to the cotton fields, where they can get better pay and where they claim the work is not so hard.

The Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and other roads in the state are sending out agents looking for laborers and offering as high as $1.50 per day for their services. As long as the cotton picking season lasts, however, there will be difficulty in securing the desired number of men.

The Texas and Pacific has sized up the dilemma about right and has imported several hundred men from the republic and New Mexico. They are working along the line between this city and Dallas. Others have been sent to the east, while some are at work on the west end.

TEXAS MIDLAND EXTENSION E. H. R. Green, president of the Texas Midland railroad, has returned to Terrell from a trip east of several weeks' duration, and it is reported that Mr. Green, while in New York City, perfected plans for an extension of his road from Dennis to Waco.

In this connection it might be stated that some time ago there was a rumor to the effect that President Green desired to build his road on to Fort Worth. This extension, too, may have been under consideration by Mr. Green also.

ROCK ISLAND'S ST. LOUIS LINE Today the Rock Island will resume track laying on the west side of the Osage river for the Kansas City extension. The statement is made that the road through to Kansas City will be completed by May 1 of next year and the line will at once be placed in operation.

The Rock Island's passenger trains will run into the middle station over the tracks of the Wabash from Forsythe Junction. During the World's Fair season the Rock Island will use the Wabash terminals for its passenger business.

MISSOURI ELECTRIC LINE An Eastern syndicate proposes to build an electric line from Joplin to Kansas City. The road, if built, will almost parallel the Joplin-Kansas City line of the Frisco, and will take in Galena, Columbus, Weir City, Seaman, Pittsburg and Fort Scott. The line will be 17 miles long and will do a general freight and passenger business.

Letters to The Telegram To the Editor of The Telegram. As the policy of your paper is for the public weal of Fort Worth and for the correction of all the evils affecting her general welfare, we beg to call your attention of what we, together with DISTRESS AFTER EATING Judge W. T. Holland of Greensburg, La., who is well and favorably known, says: "Two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so, and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect." Sold by Druggists.

many other citizens, consider an infringement upon the rights of the public and ask that your paper use its efforts to have the same corrected. We refer to the so-called public worship upon the principal streets of the city by the Salvation Army and other would-be religious organizations. These people come upon the principal streets, yell so that they can be heard for half a dozen blocks away, beat drums and tambourines, blockade the sidewalks and streets, and thereby obstruct travel and endanger the lives of any who might be passing along said streets with a spirited horse.

On Sunday afternoons their practice is to get in front of the principal hotels and there for an hour or two to gather in the shacks. And this they do regardless of the fact that there is almost always some sick person in the hotels or vicinity, to whom quiet and rest are indispensable, as well as others who need the quiet and rest of the afternoon.

Now, we have no objections to any one worshipping according to the dictates of his own conscience, but we do object very strenuously to that one's invading the public thoroughfare and compelling the public to listen to his ravings, even though it be in the name of a religion. There are houses within the city which can be rented for such purposes. Let them be compelled to house, and let them be compelled to keep off the public streets with their so-called public worship.

MINERS VS. SETTLERS

Clash Threatened Between Two Classes in This Territory

There is every indication that there is likely to be trouble in the Territory between the homesteaders who accepted allotments under the government a year or so ago and those who have since filed, or attempted to file, on mineral claims. Attorney Frank B. Stanley, who has been retained as counsel for the allottees, has just returned from the territory, where he went to look after the interests of his clients. He was seen today and said that the situation was anything but favorable. The United States land offices hold through the ruling of the secretary of the interior that it is inadvisable for those who desire to file mineral claims over the homesteaders. This feature is what is causing the trouble in that country.

It is claimed that the government, when it made allotments reserved the mineral rights to all allotments, and on this account there is a decided conflict between the homesteaders and the miners, and the question has come up that must necessarily be adjusted by the courts of the United States.

Judge Stanley said today that the matter is likely to be called up in the federal courts in the Territory any day, and it will require a decision from that tribunal to settle satisfactorily the dispute.

The mineral lands in the Washita basin are being mined daily, and a mining camp of no small proportions is springing into existence in that country.

Things Heard In Hotel Lobbies

J. M. Potter, president of the Red River National Bank at Gainesville, was in the city yesterday on a business trip, conferring with parties from other parts of the state on a matter looking to the betterment of banking interests in a town which is not mentioned. Mr. Potter is one of the "old settlers" in Gainesville. He went there many years ago when the place was but a wide place in the road, and began teaching school. He has remained with the town through its prosperity and its adversity, and now he is one of the prosperous citizens of the place, heading a banking corporation which does a big business. He is brother of Colonel C. L. Potter, former state senator from that district.

George E. Pentecost, traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island, is spending the day in the city after a week at Thurber. Mr. Pentecost went to that section to secure business for his line, on the movement out of Thurber Junction under the auspices of the United States Workers of America. "I have never seen such excellent management in my life," he said. "The men obeyed every instruction of the officers of the union, and they maintained the best order. They were crowded out of the station Saturday to be moved out of there, when a telegram came to wait further orders as a settlement was being arranged. They took the news philosophically, and not a question was asked. They had gone into the thing and they decided to play it out to the end. It was a great lesson to those who looked on and watched the management."

W. W. Simmons, who had charge of the city ticket and passenger business at Gainesville for the Santa Fe a long time and under whose direction a new station at that place was opened up in the city yesterday. He is now an attaché of the Richardson Grain Company at Gainesville. He talks encouragingly of the grain business, and says that Texas is being looked upon as an excellent crop which is being raised. The Richardson Company is now erecting an elevator at Marietta, I. T., to handle the territory crop, and all of it will be sent through Texas to reach the gulf port. Mr. Simmons has a number of friends here who gave him a cordial welcome.

NO DANCE AT HANDLEY

The Cool Weather Causes Postponement of the Affair of Tuesday

For some time the pavilion of the Northern Texas Traction Company at Handley has been the scene of a delightful dance every Tuesday night. It has been decided by General Passenger Agent Forbes of that line that the cool weather is a little too much for the attendants of those delightful affairs, and in consequence there will be no function tomorrow evening. The regular dance for Saturday night, however, will be arranged. There were a large number at the resort yesterday afternoon and last night. The orchestra made pretty music, and cars were run regularly for those who attended.

FEW PRESENT AT CAMP'S MEETING

Funeral of Late Dr. S. H. Stout in Dallas Took Many Veterans From the City

The Sunday session of R. E. Lee camp was not largely attended, because of the fact that several members were in Dallas attending the funeral of Dr. Stout, who was prominent in Confederate ranks during the late war.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Assistant Adjutant Ball and approved by Commander Taylor, who presided for the first time, after being absent from the city several weeks. Commander Taylor called especial attention of the camp to the importance of getting all old veterans into membership with the camp. He referred to the fact that the old veterans were dropping off one by one, and he hoped to see every Confederate veteran in the county join Lee camp.

Judge Cummings made a report on the death of W. M. Ragland, who died Sept. 9. The report was as follows:

"Your committee would report that our late comrade, W. M. Ragland, died on Sept. 9, 1903. His descriptive list shows that he was too young for regular service in the Confederate army, but was attached to various stationary commands. He was a native of Florence, Ala., and was reared in that place. He had a brother in the Confederate service, and his sister, Mary Ragland, was a devoted nurse in our hospitals during the war, and his kindred having gone before to the other shore, he was kindly ministered unto by her and nursed to health."

"The last moments of our comrade were soled by watchful members of the camp, as he was alone in the world, many of his kindred having gone before to the other shore. Let us hope that he has found eternal rest and peace with them."

"M. J. PANKEY, "C. C. CUMMINGS, "M. D. MURPHY, "Committee."

LEE CAMP INVITED

Adjutant McConnell read a communication from the adjutant of Sterling Price camp at Dallas, extending Lee camp an invitation to be present at the Dallas State Fair on Confederate Veterans' day, Oct. 1. On account of a conflict in the date with the reunion of the old pioneers of this county, which is to be held at Grunewald's park during that week, there will probably not many veterans go to Dallas from Fort Worth. The invitation of Sterling Price camp, however, was received with pleasure by Lee camp.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

Adjutant McConnell read a report of General William E. Mickle, adjutant general of the national order, giving the financial condition of the order, including the per capita receipts and expenditures from Jan. 25 to March 31, 1903. The report shows the collection of $2,031.15. The amount paid out $1,267.55.

The report further shows that during the same period there had been thirty new camps organized, five of which are in Texas.

Adjutant McConnell made a statement that Dr. Homer T. Wilson's lecture, "On the Firing Line," will be given at the Tabernacle Friday night, Sept. 25.

Adjutant McConnell made the statement that a wrong impression has prevailed that the Confederate Park is owned by R. E. Lee camp, which the adjutant said was not true. That while individual members of the camp were stockholders in an association, the camp proper had nothing to do with it. This statement was thought necessary from the fact that the public had a wrong idea regarding the park, and on this account Lee camp members find it difficult to raise funds for its permanent members.

W. J. Lacy, commander of Denton camp, was present and occupied a seat on the platform.

C. E. Moodie of El Paso was invited to the platform. Four years ago Mr. Moodie left this city and located in West Texas. He was one of the pioneers of Lee camp and is well known in Fort Worth.

Colonel Abe Harris mentioned that the affairs of the coming reunion of old settlers in Grunewald's park, Oct. 2, 3 and 4, were well in hand. There will be a barbecue and an interesting program of music and speech-making.

Lee camp was invited to attend. Commander Taylor, on the part of the camp, accepted the invitation. Captain Sam Evans stated that if there was a desire on the part of Fort Worth citizens to see the remnant of his old company C, Twenty-first Texas Volunteers, they can be accommodated during the old settlers' reunion. Captain Evans said there were only a few survivors of his old company, and he was making special efforts to have them meet him here during the coming event.

There being no further business, the camp adjourned.

PLANS NOT COMPLETED

The building committee of the Old Fellows lodge, which has been empowered to arrange for the order in Fort Worth, was to have made its report at last Friday's meeting of the lodge, but did not do so in detail, and was given until next Friday night in which to finally report.

There has been considerable discussion among the members as to whether a two or a three story building should be erected, and it is on this proposition that the report of next Friday night will deal.

It is estimated that a three-story building will cost the lodge about $20,000, and some of the members believe that an investment of $20,000 is too much to put into the proposed "Old Fellows' home. There seems to be a growing desire for a building that will be only two stories high and cost much less. The lodge has already made arrangements for testing the bonds for the improvements and nothing is left to be done except to decide as to the dimensions of the building.

SCHOOL BOARD TO HOLD A MEETING

The article in The Telegram yesterday morning in which J. S. Carruthers, a book dealer, makes certain charges against the teachers of the public schools, has attracted some attention. There is to be a meeting of the school board at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the matter will likely be taken up. William Capps, a member of the board, stated Saturday that if Mr. Carruthers made charges against the teachers of the public schools that the board would take the matter up and give it a full investigation. Mr. Capps was not at his office this morning when The Telegram reporter asked him about the question. He said: "If a thing of that kind exists it should be looked into and should be remedied. I do not believe it, and in making a statement of that kind a man should know what he is doing. We will take the matter up at a meeting of the school board, and it will be thoroughly investigated."

ARTESIAN SUPPLY CORKED UP TODAY

Maybe it hasn't reached your house yet, but it is on the way and will arrive all too soon. The limp waters of the historic Trinity are trickling through the mains exclusively once more. Gone is the pure artesian flow that has delighted the people for the last months or two—or rather, not gone, but corked up. The Trinity dams are full and so there will be no security of water from that source during the shut down of the artesian system. Contractor Mead has departed for St. Louis and Chicago. At the first named city he will stop and procure the machinery which is to be used in tapping the well casings in order that the second pelux stratum may be struck and connect the reservoir with the intake well. All this work will consume twelve or fourteen days. Then the pumping of artesian water will be resumed and it will continue to monopolize the mains, it is to be hoped, like the happiness at the end of the fairy tale, forever after. There was no hesitation, and the work was completed quietly and satisfactorily. The scene, however, shifts to Fort Worth. There is to be a meeting in Fort Worth Wednesday for a conference and in the meantime nothing is to be done. President Marston will attend that meeting. Miners are remaining here until the settlement is reached. The brick works have not stopped here, and coal is being secured for the furnaces from the Rock Creek mines.

ALL SHOULD CLEAN UP

City Physician Chambers says there is much malaria in the city and that it comes from the pools of water which are allowed to remain in every section of the city.

The people of Fort Worth should not let this warning go unheeded. In every part of Fort Worth there is standing water. Small pools become stagnant, cesspools are allowed about the house, and these are breeding places for the malaria germ, which starts upon a mission of illness. Do not encourage it; do not let it exist. Clean up about your own home and tell your neighbor to do the same, and if it happens that upon public property near your residence there is such a place, fill it up. There are people who will allow a cesspool to breed disease in forty feet of their own homes and will not fill it up "because it is the city's business." Did it ever occur to you that while you are standing off waiting for the city to become diligent in its work that ill health and death are lurking in sight of your home? You would not stand inactive if a man assaults you with a revolver because the city policeman was not there to protect you. You would defend yourself, and think of the officer's duty later, when the trouble was over. Self-defense is a law of nature, and you should obey that law by cleaning up these germ-breeding pools wherever you see one, that health may be the lot of you and yours in your home. Think of the question from that standpoint and think of it now. Do not wait for the sanitary man, but decide that your own safety is more precious to you than his situation is to him, and that instead of waiting for him to remember his duty you will remember your own danger.

Take the warning of the city doctor who talks to you, and do something. HOUSTON'S BAD FIX The Houston Chronicle makes the announcement that a private water company has Houston at its mercy. The Chronicle says unless the city receives a proposition for a twenty-one year franchise from some outside corporation and accepts same and the new water company builds a plant, the Houston Water Company has a death grip on the city of Houston and nothing can shake it loose unless it releases its hold voluntarily. As far as the city is concerned, it is either purchase the plant of the waterworks company for $1,081,222, build its own system of waterworks or secure another corporation which will enter into a satisfactory contract with the city in consideration for a twenty-one year franchise. The council having rejected the valuation fixed by the board of appraisal on the waterworks company's plant, and the taxpayers having voted against the building of a municipal waterworks plant, the only avenue untried is the hoped-for bid for a twenty-one year franchise which is reported as coming from a Pennsylvania corporation. This has not yet arrived, and it is not known whether it will be satisfactory when it does come. There is no better argument for municipal ownership of public utilities than the condition in which Houston is thus placed. There can be but one argument against the city owning such things—and that is the political corruption that generally follows municipal control. This argument is not a good one, because there are certainly enough honest people in political affairs to see that the interests of the city are protected. Where municipal ownership obtains every effort to serve the people with the best is made. In private ownership, the corporations give the people that which costs the least money. Where municipal ownership exists the people have their chosen representatives in the council to see that they are properly protected in the service. Private ownership serves the patrons as it will, and there is no alternative but to take what is given. Fort Worth has municipal ownership, and the council is endeavoring in every way to better the supply of water which is being served. The Mead contract is a sample. It is hoped this contract will give that which will be sufficient and be pure, and so worded is the Business is warfare. It's a hard, constant fight to the finish. The moment a contestant enters the field of commerce he is challenged by a host of competitors. All his movements are disputed and opposed by those already in possession of the field. He must fight to live. He must conquer to succeed. So it is that a man of business is like a soldier of the regiment. And like the well-trained soldier who delights in the clamor of battle, the enterprising business man is eager for the struggle of competition. He delights to overcome those who oppose him and he finds genuine pleasure in outwitting his rivals. It is this spirit of rivalry that sharpens a man's intellect and spurs on his energy. And unless a man is possessed of this desire to overcome, to surpass, to stand first in his line, he can never hope to carry the day, he will never succeed in the fight. Profit, which is the reward of industry and ability in business, is not the sole object and consideration that actuates the really successful business man. The love of gain cannot inspire him to the highest endeavor. There must be something greater, something more enduring, during to call forth his supreme efforts and satisfy his ambition. And that something is the same spirit that is possessed by men of war who go into battle to do or die—who fight to win and forget all else—the Chameleon, Cleveland, Ohio, August issue.

convention between Mr. Mead and the city, if the improvement desired is not obtained there will be no obligation on the part of the city to pay for it. Houston has a private corporation serving water for the consumers and for fire purposes. This corporation so failed to give a proper pressure that a few years ago the city hall was destroyed and numerous other buildings were taken away by fire because of the lack of protection by the water company. It now develops that the contract with the water company in Houston provides that the city may be furnished with water from Buffalo bayou. That bayou may be a good argument in favor of water rates in handling freight, but it is a polluted stream, and the water is unfit to drink. The Chronicle would do Houston a favor if it would influence the people to vote for municipal ownership, and thus get a plant which would be owned by the city, and the people could regulate the benefits. Fort Worth is well satisfied with its waterworks system, and there is no better in the country. It is announced in Austin that ex-Governor Hogg has decided, after swinging around a circle which has Beaumont on one side and the Waldorf-Astoria on the other, to locate again in the capital city. Now that he declares his intention to be a citizen of Texas after trying life in New York and London, we can be prepared for a political announcement. Speak out, James. Thurber, Texas, deserves a place in the geography, that the children of the country may know of a difference between employer and employe which was conducted on a friendly basis, no hard words, no violence and no bloodshed. It marks a new era in such affairs, and the entire country would do well to read the story and profit by it. Senator Beveridge says that while in Maine he got drunk on nature. It is the only intoxicant allowed in that state under the prohibition laws. While nature has not been in the habit of creating such a condition, the senator is evidently possessed of that inventive power that comes from necessity and he knew how to fix it up. He is of the beverage family. El Paso captures the next national irrigation congress. It is a proper place. El Paso has been irritating visitors for many years, and it is all right to try a national contract on that line. It will not be necessary to increase the number of saloons. There are enough there now. The two candidates for congress in the Sixth Alabama district will make the race on kissing records. Bankhead has kissed all the babies in the district and Hiss has kissed all the kissable girls to be found in his tour of the country. William J. Bryan is very consistent since he retired from active politics. His coach horses are chestnuts. William is in good company when he is driving. CLEANINGS FROM... THE EXCHANGES

Judge King went out to Stop 17 Sunday morning and joined Ben Patel and Miss Nancy Vaughn in matrimony, immediately after which the happy couple boarded the east-bound trolley car for a bridal tour.—Arlington Journal. The judge evidently changed his mind. If he started out to stop seventeen and married two he had a more pleasant occupation. It requires rather a hefty fellow to stop seventeen. Jim Jeffries had trouble stopping one on a memorable occasion, and it might be added that the judge would have had a more difficult task trying to stop the two on matrimony bent.

The farmer who has kept up with his picking as fast as cotton has opened is again a great gainer. It classes from $2.50 to $3 a bale higher than that which has been raised, and to say nothing of the likelihood of a decrease in price when once cotton begins to come to market in greater volume. Besides, he will not have to pay pickers exorbitant prices, because with proper diligence he can get it out with the hands at his command.—Belton Journal-Reporter. Such advice should be heeded by the farmer. The producer could really afford to pay more for pickers, so as to rush his staple to market.

It should not be a very difficult matter to convince Mr. Rice that the railroad of which he is general manager should have a more commodious and comely passenger station in the largest city on its line.—San Antonio Express. Do you refer to Houston or Fort Worth? (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—To save the life of his wife, William M. Reeves, department manager of a large Broadway store, has sacrificed his own in the waters of the North river off Ninety-sixth street. It is said that when Mrs. Reeves realized her husband's fate she attempted to drown herself. Reeves and his wife were enthusiastic canoeists and had rowed across the river to visit friends at Fox Lee, N. J. The water was so rough and the tide so swift they were unable to land, and after floating downstream a distance Reeves headed back to New York. The tide around the pier at Ninety-sixth street was running like a mill race and the frail craft was capsized. Reeves, an expert swimmer, managed to secure his wife and help her to the overturned boat. He swam around the pier and was about to right the canoe when he suddenly sank in view of hundreds of persons ranging from boatmen near by hurried to the scene and watermen in time to prevent the frantic woman from leaping into the swift current.

ONE-CENT LETTER POSTAGE The revenues of the postal department are increasing so rapidly that from predictions it would seem the era of one-cent letter postage is not far distant. Such a change would result in the sending of many additional letters through the mails as the postal card has long been recognized as an unsatisfactory substitute for sealed envelopes. Substitutes are always unsatisfactory, especially in medicine. We would therefore caution everyone needing Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to only accept the genuine with their Private Stamp over the neck of the bottle. This celebrated remedy positively cures heartburn, indigestion, flatulency, dyspepsia, nausea, constipation and malaria, fever and ague. A trial will convince as of its value as a health restorer, strength builder and nerve invigorator.

Kidney troubles are so deceptive. Come back to you any time. Doan's Kidney Pills work lasting cures. Fort Worth people tell of cures which have stood the test of time. J. B. Peighal, passenger brakeman on the Houston and Texas Central railroad, living in the Register block at 6th and Rusk sts., well known on the run between Fort Worth and Ennis, says: "About a year ago I gave out for indigestion. A testimonial for the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills which have completely cured me of an annoying pain in my back which I have every reason to believe was caused by a weakness of the kidneys due to the constant jarring and jolting of the railroad cars on which I spent a great part of my time. I can add nothing to my original statement except this: No words which I could compose would be strong enough in their favor. Since making that statement I have suffered with a slight attack of recurrence. I resorted to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and they warded off the trouble even more quickly and effectually than they did when I first began using them, and I have no trouble since. My advice to every kidney sufferer in Fort Worth is to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Weaver's drug store and give them a fair and honest trial. I know that they will be justified by all dealers." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-McBurn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. COTTON TRADING AT MT. PLEASANT

Saturday's Business Was the Largest in the History of the Town

MOUNT PLEASANT, Texas, Sept. 21.—W. J. Roberson, one of the oldest citizens of this place, is in a precarious condition, the result of falling out of bed about ten days ago, while he was asleep. He has been unconscious for a week, and it is believed that his skull is fractured. Mr. Roberson is a veteran of the Mexican war, and took part in the leading battles of that conflict.

Saturday was the biggest day in the way of business Mount Pleasant has seen for several years. There were nearly 400 bales of cotton sold from wagons, and money was plentiful. Several merchants report the largest sales in the history of their business.

Elder Burnett of Dallas is conducting a protracted meeting at the Christian church, which is being well attended.

The Methodists have secured the services of Rev. Charles Malkey of Corsicana to hold a meeting here in November. He has just closed a meeting at Pittsburg, where there were over 300 conversions.

There has been a large number of prospectors here from northern and eastern states during the past week. Most of them were farmers, and quite a number of them bought land and will move here.

W. R. SMITH RETURNED

Colorado Congressman Would Not Yet Exchange Texas for California

COLORADO, Texas, Sept. 19.—Congressman W. R. Smith and family returned last night from several months' vacation on Catalina Island, out some twenty miles from San Pedro, Cal. He was delighted with his trip and gained much in health, but everything considered saw nothing there ahead of West Texas.

Captain Rogers of the Ranger force, with headquarters in this city, returned today from Thurber. He says an attempt was made yesterday to blow up the railroad track out about half a mile from Thurber. He left his men there and will return himself if any further trouble should arise. During the cool spell here the other day the thermometer fell to 42, and small frost was reported in places, though of course no injury was done.

PECAN CROP IS GOOD

Outlook is for a Good Business at San Angelo This Season

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Sept. 19.—Pecan dealers are looking forward to a big crop in this section this winter. Trees along all streams in this vicinity are heavily loaded and the nuts are of good size this season. Quotations cannot be had at this time as the season is just opening.

Cotton has been coming very regularly for some days past and it is believed a tolerably large crop will be marketed here.

FIGHT ON A POOR FARM

Difficulty Between Superintendent and Prisoner Near Hillsboro

HILLSBORO, Texas, Sept. 20.—A difficulty occurred at the poor farm last night between Superintendent Twitchell and a prisoner, Alf Cogsdall, who was serving a fine for an aggravated assault. It came up over a reprimand stock Mr. Twitchell was administering to a negro who was placed in charge of a paralytic negro. Cogsdall heard it and asked Mr. Twitchell if he aimed that for him. Mr. Twitchell's statement is that he replied no, and that Cogsdall said he did and that he was not armed he would give him a whipping, or a statement similar to it. Mr. Twitchell said he was not armed, and Mr. Cogsdall struck him, knocking him down and left, going in the direction of town. Officers in town were notified and arrested him when he came in. It is not known whether the wound is serious or not. Cogsdall had just sent a petition to Governor Latham for a pardon.

RUNS SHEEP AND CATTLE TOGETHER

Sterling County Ranchman Says That He Finds Much Profit in the Plan

COLORADO, Texas, Sept. 19.—R. B. McEntire, ranchman of Sterling county, was in the city today. He says his range is good and cattle in fine condition, nothing in the way of prosperity to the stock raiser except low prices.

He is running sheep in the same pastures with the cattle and is delighted with his experience on this line. Says the sheep for the past few years have been much more profitable to him than the cattle. On 1,500 head of sheep he has paid the entire expense of the ranch the past year, and better still, he says where the sheep are the cattle thrive.

KATY TO BUILD DEPOT

Plans to Erect a Commodious Structure at Waxahachie

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Sept. 21.—Unless there is a break in present plans, Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway Company will soon begin the erection of a handsome new passenger station in this city. The matter has been under advisement for several months, and at a recent meeting of the management an appropriation was made for the building and all the plans and specifications have since been prepared. The building will be constructed of pressed brick and is to cost not less than $100,000. It will have separate waiting-rooms for white and black ticket and telegraph office, closets and lavatories and will be modern in all its appointments.

Superintendent Harris and Roadmaster Sullivan were in the city yesterday looking for a site on which to remove the old building. Mr. Harris said work would be commenced on the new building at an early date and would be pushed rapidly until it was completed.

HOPES TO BEAT RECORD

Champion Cotton Picker is John Williams of Navarro County

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Sept. 21.—So far as is known, John Williams, colored, holds the state championship as a cotton picker. John is a native of Navarro county, but his wonderful record for gathering the heavy staple was made in Ellis county last fall. He is 22 years old and was born and reared in Corsicana. During the time intervening between cotton-picking seasons for the past four years he has worked for H. L. Scales of that city, and has the reputation of being an honest, hardworking and industrious young negro. He came to Ellis county early last season along with other negroes from Navarro county and found employment in the cotton fields on the Harrison farm, near Waxahachie. During the entire season he gathered a total of 48,200 pounds, or about thirty and a half bales. His highest record for one day last year was 1,937 pounds, but when cotton is in the open field he expects to make a new record this season.

Williams has the contract this year to gather the entire crop on the Harrison farm and has several negroes whom he brought from Corsicana to work under him. He was in the city yesterday after another gang of pickers and in conversation with the correspondent he said he worked five days last week and made $15.15, picking in the five days 2,922 pounds. His best day's work during the week was on Thursday, when he picked 637 pounds. He says the cotton he picked in last week was a little scattering, there being not more than three and four open bolls to the stalk. When the cotton begins to open more freely he expects to beat last year's record.

FED IN SUMMER MONTHS

New Plan of Fattening Cattle Proves Very Successful

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Sept. 21.—Colonel E. B. Harrold of Fort Worth and J. N. Spence of Italy began as an experiment last fall the feeding of beef cattle during the hot summer months. The cattle were placed on feed at Italy, the gentlemen starting with 400 head and increasing the number in a few weeks to 800 head. The first cattle have now been on feed about seven or eight days and are in excellent condition. They will weigh from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds. Results show that they have put on flesh faster than cattle fed during the fall and winter months. It also requires fewer hands and beans to put out feed and look after the cattle. The cattle are being fed on cottonseed hulls, and the experiment has proven entirely satisfactory.

A PURGATIVE PLEASURE

If you ever took De Witt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what a purgative pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but give tone and strength to the tissues and organs involved. W. H. Howell of Houston, Texas, says: "No better pill can be used than Little Early Risers for constipation, sick headache, etc." Sold by druggists.

O. W. was here Saturday night with Head Consul W. A. Fraser and delivered an address on "Fraternity." He will also speak at the unveiling at the cemetery today.

A Santa Fe passenger train smashed to pieces a wagon and team and badly injured two men near Alvarado Saturday morning. The accident happened at a crossing in a deep cut where one driving a wagon could not see an approaching train until on the steep downgrade where it is very hard to stop. The horses were killed and the occupants were at first thought killed and were very badly injured. Both were farmers en route from Boaz, Coryell county, to Fort Worth. Named respectively, C. V. Graham and C. P. Hill. They were carried to the town and cared for by local physicians. Those who saw the accident say that neither the parties in the wagon or train could have seen one another till too late to escape the collision. Graham is the worst hurt, having four ribs broken on the left side, gashes in the head and face and internal injuries. Hill has two lower ribs torn from the back home, his face bruised and other minor hurts.

Blum Poultry Association will meet Nov. 27 and 28. Secretary Oscar Pokue will give any desired information at Blum.

A. P. Ransome, T. A. Blanchard, W. Streetman and Harvey Will go to Temple next week to answer a tennis challenge from that city. Ransome and Frank Williams hold the Cleburne pennant.

Cleburne camp today held a celebration of the battle of Chickamauga. General Van Zandt of Fort Worth and W. P. Lane of the Sons of Confederate Veterans were the most distinguished speakers in the program, which was especially prepared for the occasion.

Music and Drama

EWING-TAYLOR COMPANY

The Ewing-Taylor company will open a three nights' engagement at Greenwall's opera house tonight, presenting for the opening bill "Home Sweet Home," the beautiful pastoral drama. A change of bill at each performance and some excellent specialties between the acts. Popular prices to prevail throughout this engagement. Matinees are to be given Tuesday and Wednesday. Ladies are to be admitted free tonight when accompanied by a person with a paid 30-cent ticket, if purchased before 6 o'clock tonight.

MARY J. HOLMES

It is safe to say that there are few of the female novel readers of the land who have not read one or more of the books of this author, as she has the happy knack of seeming to know what will appeal to femininity. "Darkness and Daylight" has proven one of her greatest successes. We are to have this book in dramatic form at Greenwall's opera house Thursday night, September 24. No one need say that it is a love story, not necessary to mention that it is full of domesticated matrimony, as it is, in the South, it is picturesque in its local coloring and characters.

"LOOKING FOR A WIFE"

"Looking For a Wife," a big musical farce comedy, will be the attraction at Greenwall's opera house Friday, matinee and night, September 25. The company is a large one and is said to be headed by some of the best comedians now on the comedy stage. The plot of the play is laid in New York and the first act of the piece shows the grand circle at the Broadway and Forty-ninth street entrance to Central Park. Every piece of scenery used in the play is carried by the company, and no expense has been spared by the management to make the scenic effects complete in every detail.

SERVIAN ELECTION DAY

New Skuptschina is Being Chosen for King Peter Today

VIENNA, Sept. 21.—Despatches from Belgrade say that more than the usual interest is manifested in the election of a new Skuptschina, being held in Serbia today. With the government in control of the electoral machinery the election of a majority favorable to the present regime is almost certain, though the element of doubt in the result is sufficiently strong to excite widespread interest. With the opposition in control of the national legislative body steps undoubtedly would be recommended immediately for a complete probe of the circumstances attending the massacre of the late King Alexander and his consort, with a view to ascertaining the connection, if any such existed, between King Peter and the conspiring regicides.

THEY WILL LIVE HERE

Young People Married at Springton to Make Their Home in Fort Worth

The bride is one of Springton's most highly esteemed young ladies and is liked by all who know her. She is a daughter of Mrs. Emma Bedecorax. The groom is a well-known young man of Fort Worth and is connected with a lumber company of that city. The newly married couple left Monday evening for Fort Worth, where they will make their home. Mrs. Miller has a large number of friends here who regret losing her from our town and community, but wish her much happiness and prosperity wherever she may go.

STRIKE AT TELLURIDE

Miners Will be Called Out at 6 O'Clock This Evening

TELLURIDE, Col., Sept. 21.—A special meeting of Miners' Union No. 64, held at Ophir to consider the question as to whether a strike should be declared on the Butterfly Terrible mines, decided to call off the miners employed at the mines in order to force the closing of the mill. The strike committee will wait on the miners and give orders for them to cease work at 6 o'clock this evening.

The mill men employed in the Caribbean-Montezuma and Silver Bell mills will be put on an eight-hour shift. The managers of these two properties agreed to do this two weeks ago.

MORE RIOTS

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest of all-around medicine for run-down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only safe and satisfaction guaranteed by J. W. Hooper, Inventor of the Electric Bitters.
