County settles wage dispute

At its Monday meeting, the Castro County Commissioners Court finally agreed to pay Precinct 1's part-time workers' disputed wages.

The $2,588 needed to pay for the part-time workers and cover additional deficits was transferred from Precinct 1's gross pay account to cover the payment of $1,476 in wages after a heated debate. Pct. 1 Commissioner Harold Smith made the motion, which was seconded by Pct. 2 Commissioner Dale Winders. The vote was tied with Pct. 3 Commissioner Jeff Robertson and Pct. 4 Commissioner Vincent Guggemos voting against. Judge Polly Simpson broke the tie by voting in favor of the motion. "This is the last time we are going to bail you out," Simpson told Smith.

item to the road and bridge line item to cover $683 in bills owed to the City of Dimmitt and Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. for road materDimmitt and First Street in Hart. The motion passed.

In other business, Rick Hunter, ambulance service director for Plains Memorial Hospital, asked the county to allow the hospital to begin advertising bids for a new ambulance. Robertson made the motion and it carried. Clint McFarland spoke to the Commissioners about the results of the law enforcement survey. "Higher salaries for the sherriff's deputies are needed to keep dedicated people in the county," said McFarland. He asked the commissioners to to consider salary increases for the sherriff's deputies in the future budget. The court said they would have to wait and see how much money would be available in the budget.

The Dimmitt School Board considered bids Monday night for the rewiring of Richardson Elementary School, kitchen renovation at Richardson and replacement of the gym floor at the Dimmitt Middle School game gym.

The two Richardson Elementary projects were part of the proposed package defeated in a recent school bond election.

Herb Brashier, the school district's architect, attended the meeting to offer advice about the bids.

Three bids were opened for the electrical rewiring of the elementary school.

Newton Electric of Dimmitt submitted the lowest bid at $62,203.42, while Beck Electric of Pampa bid $62,292. The third bidder, Row-Wall Electric, Inc., of Lubbock, had a bid of $74,000. The board considered the two lowest bids, with the main problem being who could get the performance bond.

After some deliberation, the board voted to accept Newton Electric's rewiring bid, subject to Danny Newton meeting the legal requirements of a working bond in 10 days. If he does not get the bond, then the school district will award the contract to Beck Electric. If the school goes with Beck Electric, then the completion date will be extended two weeks. On the Richardson kitchen renovation and major equipment, the board accepted a base bid of $182,-432 from Ben E. Keith. The board also approved a bid of $6,490 from Keith for new baker and work tables, and the installation of the equipment, which would cost about $5,500.

Hey, fella, what are you doing with that flag and that torch?

I'm gonna burn it.

Why?

Because the United States is all screwed up, and the government isn't doing anything about it.

Then why don't you just say that, instead of torching a flag?

Because nobody will listen to me if I just say it. But if I burn this flag, by gosh, that'll get their attention, and then they'll listen.

Who are they?

The people who'll see me on TV and in the papers.

But what if the TV stations and papers just decide not to show up?

Don't worry-they'll show up. We're gonna have a protest rally, and we've notified the media.

I'm sure you have. And if the media do show up, do you know why they'll show up?

ials. The superintendent of Hart Independent School District, Phil Barfield, urged the commissioners to do something with First Street in Hart before school started. The intersections were his biggest concern and he added that the ditches needed to be lowered to prevent flooding of the streets. Simpson informed the commissioners that the Burlington Railroad will repair the railroad crossing on Rodeo Road. She added that she would ask the city of Hart to help with repairs on First Street. Robertson agreed something needs to be done before the roads got worse, so he made the motion to begin advertising for bids to seal coat and to repair Rodeo Road in Simpson then read a resolution opposing the postal increase, which passed and all the commissioners signed the resolution.

The commissioners approved the renewal of the yearly contract with KMK enterprises of Plainveiw for computer services.

After they approved the contract, Simpson and Guggemos gave a report on the jails they had visisted.

Seferina Davila and Bob Whorton from Panhandle Community Services reported to the commissioners about their transport system that offers public transportation for anyone in the county.

Smith made a motion to divide the money between precincts 'judicially and equitably.' It died for lack of second.

Smith then discussed the hauling of improved road building material by lowest bid. Simpson then reminded him of the formal motion passed at the last meeting with provisions on the use of the road

Other bids for the kitchen renovation were received from Golden Light Equipment Company in Amarillo and Plan-Ex Corporation in Lubbock.

Witt Builder's Supply bid $42,-000 on a new gym floor in the Middle school game gym. The board went with the higher bid because the lower-price floor offered might not work with the existing cement foundation, which is not level. The representative from Witt Builder's Supply said that it would be best to go back with a floor similar to what already exists. The new floor should last for generations, he said.

The board also accepted the bid of $6,388 from Witt Builder's Supply for the refinishing of the high school gym floor.

The bids for a vent hood were rejected by the board. New bids will be called for.

The board accepted a report by Gainell Minnick, curriculum director, on the results of the TEAMS and CTBS testing. She said that in the TEAMS testing, Dimmitt students had an 82.9% overall mastery for 1990, which is higher than the (Continued on Page 9)

Wide Garage Sale netted an estimated $27,000 total income to the 118 families participating.

Several participating businesses also experienced a surge of additional sales above what an ordinary Saturday would bring in, according to Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Delores Heller.

"I surveyed 29 individual garage sales, and they reported income ranging from $25 to over $1,000," Heller said. "The amounts reported by those 29 averaged out to roughly $300 per sale."

Heller projected that $300-persale average (with some bringing in more and some bringing in less) to the total 86 garage sale locations, arriving at a very rough estimate of $27,000 in total sales.

"Even a kids' lemonade stand at one of the sales turned a $60 profit," Heller quipped.

She added that 18 businesses displayed red ribbons as participants in the special event, distributing lists of the sale locations and contributing toward the drawing for $200 in Dimmitt Dollars.

"Eight of those businesses felt the event contributed to a dramatic increase in business, with some

The Third Annual Dimmitt City- reporting an increase as high as 60% over a normal Saturday's business," Heller said. "Five of the businesses noted some increase in customer traffic and were pleased to get people into their stores; and another five participants were disappointed in the results or couldn't tell any difference."

> Winner of the drawing for the $200 Dimmitt Dollars was Mary Hunter of Dimmitt. Hers was the first name drawn. The winner had to be present to be awarded the prize.

> A new feature introduced at this year's sale was the large-item auction on the Courthouse Square. Heller said 36 items were auctioned to 53 registered bidders, with half of the items actually sold. The other half did not meet the minimum bid asked by the sellers.

"We will not attempt another auction outdoors next year," Heller said. "We'll decide at a later date whether to try it indoors next year."

She added that auctioneer Johnny Davis "deserves a special award for getting us through the auction."

Heller concluded that a majority of the participants in this year's City-Wide Sale were pleased with the turn out and the profits.

Weather and market affect wheat harvest

Unseasonably hot weather and a terrible market are taking the starch out of an otherwise good wheat harvest, which is now getting under way with dryland cutting.

"When the wheat was first planted there was fair moisture, but during winter there was little moisture. And lately the rainfall has been below normal along with hot dry winds. This probably caused some of the test weights to be a few points lower than normal," said Bill Clark of Dimmitt Agri Industries.

The price for wheat Tuesday was terrivle according to Fred Bruegel of Bruegel and Sons Elevator.

Bruegel said, "Today (Tuesday) the price is 2.85 per bushel, but of Hart. Out at Sunnyside Grains, Ricky Byers reported that most of the wheat harvested around his area has been irrigated wheat which averaged over 60 pound test weight and less than 10 % moisture.

At Easter Grain, Eddie Matthews said harvested around Easter had been irrigated. The average test weight has been between 56 to 60 pounds and the moisture around 8% to 12%.

"The moisture content is about 14% on average and the test weight is around 58 pounds and up," said Monty Phillips at Dimmitt Agri Industries in Hart.

"It looks like a pretty fair crop this year. Dryland wheat looks pretty good — or the grain does anyway," said Coy Ethridge of Dimmitt Agri Industries in Nazareth.

Most of the elevators would not estimate yeilds so far because not enough wheat had been brought in.

Jarrell Sewell of Farmer's Grain in Hart said that most of the wheat coming in at this location has been very dry with test weights averaging around 55 to 56 pounds, which is lower than usual.

Our Flag

Today (Thursday) is Flag Day in America.

We Salute

It isn't a legal holiday. It's simply a birthday-the 213th for Old Glory-and we're all asked to fly our flags on this day in recognition of that birthday.

In Dimmitt, it will be an especially impressive Flag Day, thanks to the new flags downtown (including the beautiful new display of flags on the courthouse square) provided by the Rotary Club and individual sponsors.

But as we admire the regal beauty of our flag displays here, we will be holding our collective breath because of what might happen in other parts of the nation on this commemorative day.

The US Supreme Court ruled again this week that flag-burning cannot be outlawed because it is a form of free expression, and as such is protected under the First Amendment. President Bush, and many congressmen and senators, are advocating a constitutional amendment to make flag-burning a crime.

As the debate over the issue rages, a few anti-establishment types may choose this special day to burn the flag in public, to make one point or another. And a few other Americans may choose to punch them in the nose. There could be some ugly incidents, perhaps even of crowd proportions, to mar the day.

Let's hope it doesn't happen, for our flag has too proud a history and means too much to most of us to be used simply as a tool to start a fight.

For more than 200 years, our flag has been a visible symbol of our nation's struggle for freedom. Here's how one man described it when seeing it for the first time:

"We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes should go down to posterity representing liberty."

It was Gen. George Washington who said that, when the original Stars and Stripes was first hoisted above his two-year-old Continental Army.

Washington was saying, in specific words ("showing," "representing") that our flag is a symbol-a device that makes a statement. What is most important about it is what it symbolizes: our original colonies formed into one nation of individual states, all committed to a national independence and to individual freedoms.

With that in mind, let's fly our flags proudly on this Flag Day, and be glad we live in the nation that Old Glory symbolizes.

Fireworks donations are needed

Only two donations have been received so far for the 1990 Fourth of July fireworks display sponsored by the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce, and more funds are needed, according to Chamber Executive Director Delores Heller.

Heller reported that last year's display, "our biggest ever," cost a total of $1,560.

She added that $400 has been collected so far.

The display will be held Wednesday, July 4, at the Dimmitt rodeo arena as soon as it gets dark. "No donation is too large or too small," Heller said.

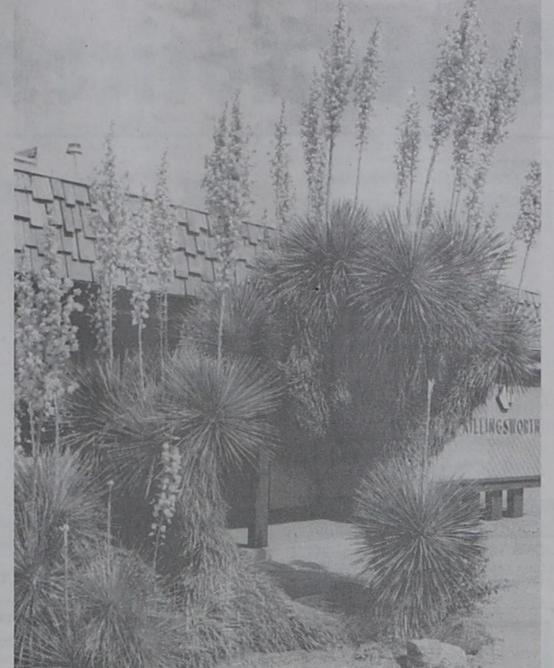

Chairmen of the annual display are chamber directors Stan McDaniel and Danny Newton. Donations may be given to any chamber director or to the chamber office.

Heller said that a certain amount of fireworks are reserved each year from a wholesale supplier in Lubbock, and any additional funds over the reserved amount are used to make an even bigger display.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Lee Roy Wood would like to express our thanks to all of you for your kindness and love you have shown to Lee Roy during his illness and to us in the loss of our husband, father and grandfather. All of your cards of sympathy, and gifts of food, flowers and your prayers did so much to console our hearts. A special thanks to Dr. Lee and the nurses and staff at Plains Memorial Hospital for your kindness during Lee Roy's illness.

To the people of Castro County and even the surrounding counties, our heartfelt thanks to you all for your thoughts, prayers and visits all through Lynn's hospital stay in Amarillo and now while we are here in Dallas. CARD OF THANKS

Dear Garage Sale Participants:

Thank you for making Dimmitt's Third Annual City-Wide Garage Sale Day a success. There is no law that says you have to participate with the Chamber of Commerce in listing your garage sale, but the response of 86 listings made publicity in area towns possible. We owe great thanks to John Davis, who is a professional auctioneer with Williams & Webb. He made our auction possible with his expertise. Thank you Dimmitt for helping us continue this fine tradition. We invite your comments and ideas for next year's sale.

Bruce Ayres of Wayland, formerly of Gruver, gave a music concert for the Sunday night service. He has been a good friend of Rev. David and Debra Fletcher for many years. For his concert, he played two different guitars, and sang. After the evening service, there was an ice cream fellowship in the fellowship hall, with everyone eating ice cream, cookies and cake and drinking iced tea and coffee. Bruce performed comical songs and did many impersonations of various country and western singers, and his son, Luke, accompanied him on the drums. Bruce is very gifted and was very funny, and is as good at impersonations as any I have seen. He must have impersonated a dozen or more, and not only sang and played like them, but looked and moved like them. We will probably have him back sometime so others can hear him. His wife also came with them.

Visitors in the Sunday morning services included Dr. Dorothy Mc-Coy of Plainview, former professor of math at Wayland, and a cousin of Verna Sadler. She had dinner with Willie Mae and Embree Roy Sadler.

Cindy Lawson of Lubbock, daughter of Gerald and Pat Elkins, underwent major surgery in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital Wednesday. Gerald and Pat and Rev. David Fletcher were with the family during surgery, and Pat stayed a day or two with her. She was doing fine, but still in the hospital Sunday. Whitney visited with Pat at the Sunday morning services.

Joan Norrell's aunt, Mable Skinner of Ackerly, was also in Methodist Hospital Wednesday for tests. Rev. Fletcher also visited with the family. Mable has several malignant brain tumors and is already paralyzed on one side.

Toots Holbrooks was dismissed from St. Mary's Hospita! in Lubbock Thursday and has been doing just fine. Ronald and Freda Henderson and Doyle spent Saturday night with her and Johnnie Wayne. Kevin and Vickie Henderson and kids spent Friday night and Saturday, which helped her.

until the 10:30 flight Sunday night, but Linda reported Ronnie was doing a little better, but not great. She was dreading her surgery, which was scheduled for Tuesday. She said to tell everyone hello and thanks for the prayers, cards and calls.

Deputy Joe Hoard spoke to the Neighborhood Crime Watch group on how to prevent child abduction Thursday night. Good programsmall crowd. Cookies and coffee were served.

Ezell and Verba Sadler went to Hubbard Creek Lake Wednesday for the Dixon reunion over the weekend. Louise Bradley, Sharon, Justin and Joel went down Thursday evening. Lee went down Friday night. Weldon and Irene Bradley and Elizabeth Worthington and her grandsons, Mark and Melton Miskia of Fort Worth, all went down Friday and came back Sunday. The grandsons have spent the week with Elizabeth.

Hershel and Retha Wilson entertained Lee Street Baptist Church Friday night with an ice cream supper. Rev. David and Debra Fletcher and Hadley were also present. Rose Iganaro and her niece, Terrie, from the Indian Reservation, spent the weekend with the Wilsons and they took her to the First Baptist Church in Ropesville Sunday night to give her testimony and speak to them of the needs of the Navajo people on the reservation at Crown Point, New Mexico. She will help Lee Street with their VBS. Rev. David and Debra Fletcher and Hadley took Haley and Harmony to Borger where his parents, Gene and Jo Fletcher, met them for dinner. The girls went home with them to stay until after the Southern Baptist Convention.

Judy Damron took Justin and Tracy to the airport Saturday morning to fly to Austin, where they will stay with Clyde's sister, Jeanne Carpenter and husband Jay, until June 25.

Judy Damron and Debra Fletcher participated in the garage sale in Dimmitt Saturday.

Hadley Fletcher helped with a car wash in Dimmitt Saturday to make money to go to Glorietta with the youth of First Baptitst Church, when he gets back from the Southern Baptist Convention Thursday. He will leave Saturday for Glorietta.

Madge Robb of Dimmitt, Emma Jean King and Teeny Bowden processed stories for Taylor Publishing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons into the evening and mailed the first 120 stories Friday morning along with the section on our historical markers, and the section on Castro County cen-

Two attend convention

Claudine Langford and Betty Freeman represented the Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary as delegates to the 47th annual Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries convention in San Antonio June 3-

The local scrapbook received honorable mention honors at the awards presentation June 5, with Langford accepting the award.

The opening session of the convention featured Dr. C. Everett Koop, former Sugeon General of the US, as the keynote speaker for the Hospital Association and the Auxiliaries. His topic was "State of the Nation's Health Care."

Joe Stevens, PMH administrator, attended the Association meetings.

Lila Cockrell, San Antonio mayor, gave the opening address and proclamation for the convention on Monday. The Sonshine Singers from Trinity Baptist Church gave a program, followed by the President's Tea. Theme of the convention was "Peace, Love and Devotion to Service."

Tuesday's program and workshops were held in the new River-Center's ballroom. About 1,006 delegates attended from over 300 Texas hospitals. At the Uniform odies.

At the closing session Wednesday morning, Margaret Hall of Houston gave her President's Acceptance Speech, naming her theme for the coming year as "Giving in Care . . . Care in Giving." Outgoing president Lorraine Mannering of McAllen also gave a report, and new officers were installed. The new officers were honored at the closing luncheon Wednesday.

ing the Riverwalk many times. They toured the Alamo, and shopped at the stained glass, blown glass and pottery shops, and enjoyed cooling off at the old church at La Villeta. They also took in the view from the top of the Tower of the Americas.

On their flight home, they had a school. "Singing Steward," who gave instructions to the tune of "The Yellow Rose of Texas" concerning putting seats in position, buckling seat belts, and so forth. He also played the harmonica. That relaxed all the passengers, but he didn't get a standing ovation-everyone did clap, though, they said.

sus records from the 1900 and 1910 censuses.

It was 104 degrees Tuesday afternoon, 102 Wednesday afternoon, and 100 or more on both Thursday and Friday.

Lee and Louise Bradley took. Joel to Dallas for his regular checkup Tuesday and came home Wednesday. He gained enough weight that he will have to have a new wheel chair, but everything else was about the same.

Teeny Bowden received a call from Ruby Maude Fulfer of California (Tooter Ferguson to me), asking if it was too late for her to get her story in for the county history book. She was told no, if she would hurry. In fact, she had talked to Winston Ferguson, her cousin who is also a former resident, and she may write a story on them also, as well as others. The Home Mission Board has appointed them as mission volunteers for their area of Southern California. Norris Fulfer has recently retired from the pastorate after many years.

Rev. David and Debra Fletcher and Hadley, Lillian Carson, Gerald and Pat Elkins, Clara Vick and Teeny Bowden flew to New Orleans Monday, June 11, to attend the Southern Baptist Convention as messengers for the Sunnyside Church. Some will return Wednesday, the rest on Thursday.

Susan Campbell, bride-elect of Joel Venhaus, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday in the home of Laura Small of Dimmitt.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses and the honoree's mother, Linda Campbell.

Special guests attending included the prospective groom's mother, Mary Lou Venhaus of Friona, and his grandmother, Lillian Venhaus of Nazareth; and the future bride's grandmother, Dorothy Yates of Dimmitt.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth with a peach underlay, and featured a centerpiece of peach and blue silk roses with blue statice. Crystal bowls held the fruit punch and a fruit assortment of watermelon, cantaloupe and strawberries. Assorted homemade cookies were also served to the guests, along with nuts and mints.

The 22 hostesses presented the honoree with a comforter and matching dust ruffle and pillow shams in a white and mauve rose design; an ironing board, electric mixer, brass wall clock, and set of mixing bowls; and a set of kitchen knives with matching steak knives.

June 14, 1990 Castro County News Literacy Council gives recognition

The Dimmitt Literacy Council held an ice cream social and awards program last month, with 18 attending.

Lucille Dollar was given a certificate of appreciation for keeping the council's records, and several were recognized for completion of materials.

Juan Martinez, Sammy Fernandez and Bobby Trayler have completed Level 1 of the Laubach Reading materials. Sabina Velasquez and Blanche Soler have completed Level 2.

Tutors new to the program are Gloria Esquivel, Joyce Vuicich and Connie Wilhelm. Of the 23 trained tutors, 11 have students. Over 500 hours of tutoring have been volunteered in the year and a half of the program's operation.

Courtenay Armstrong, Nila Fuentes, Norma Conard and Ed Freeman have given over 50 hours each.

Gerald Hanners, president of the council, urges area residents to refer both prospective students and tutors to Rhoads Memorial Library for contact and placement.

Hanners noted that students and tutors generally meet once a week for an hour or more in a private situation for one-on-one "learning to read" sessions. There is no cost for participation, because the cost of materials has been donated by local individuals and organizations.

Sales tax to increase July 1

The sales tax increase, signed by Governor Clements on Thursday, takes effect July 1. It raises the state sales tax from 6% to 6 1/4%. With local sales tax added, the new maximum rate will be 8 1/4%.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that Texas businesses will have very little time to prepare for the quarter percent sales tax increase approved by the Legislature to pay for public education and human services programs. "We will do everything possible to help businesses and merchants with this rate change," Bullock said. "The short amount of time puts a very heavy burden on the 467,000 businesses that collect sales tax from their customers." Bullock is mailing a postcard notice to all sales tax permit holders to notify them of the change. New 6 1/4 % and 8 1/4% rate cards have been printed and will be available by June 18. Bullock said that business owners and managers who have questions about the sales tax can call the Comptroller's Office toll free at 1-800-252-5555 or the local Comptroller office in their area.

LITERACY COUNCIL AWARDS for completion of Level II of the Laubach Reading Method are awarded to participants in Dimmitt's program.

1988 score of 78.2% overall mastery. She added that the biggest improvement has been in the area of writing.

Minnick also reported the results of the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS). For 1990, 62.4% of students in Dimmitt schools ranked in the upper halfof a nationwide average.

The board also accepted a report presented by Sue Summers, DHS couselor, on GED, SAT and ACT testing programs.

She said that from September through March Adult Basic Education classes were held at the school and the average attendance was six. From September to May, the English as a Second Language class had an average attendance of 10 students. This attendance is used to determine teacher's pay for teaching the course.

Summers also said that of the 10 people who took the GED test, eight completed all sections tested. Summers added that seven stu-

In other business, Jean Morris spoke to the board about the benefits of the current IBM computer lab located in the art room of the high school. Morris and several other English teachers agreed that the computers helped improve student writing capabilities. She said that the students were more motivated and less intimidated to compose on the computer. The computer lab also allowed the students to receive practicle experience in using computers.

Supt. Robert Ryan said that the administration is planning to place an English and art class in the room that is currently the computer lab. He added that it would be twelve months before there would be room for another computer lab.

IS IT WORTH A DIME?-Even children searched for bargains Saturday during Dimmitt's annual city-wide garage sale day. Among the children searching for something to spend their "petty cash" on were Jenna Acker, 3; Lacy Loudder, 8; Katy Loudder, 4; and Jake Loudder, 5. The annual event drew crowds from around the area and money raised from it totaled approximately $27,000.

Well, it's just that I grew up under that flag, and I've studied it and what it represents, and I served in the military under it, and I've buried a couple of friends under it. I'm not gonna stand for seeing it burned.

Smith then brought up the use of oil on the improved roads but Simpson said the commissioners would have to know the cost before approval would be granted.

Smith suggested applying for a grant for use in Coronado Acres, Summerfield and Hacker addition, but the county did not have the funds at this time to match the grant.

Smith made a motion to approve a petition for three new roads to be put under county maintenance with the landowner responsible for the trees, easements, gas lines, highlines or any other obstruction. Robertson seconded the motion.

· County Attorney Jimmy Davis said that the names on the petitions would have to be verified as landowners before they approved the petitions. The motion failed, with the other two commissioners voting against it and Simpson breaking the tie by voting it down. Simpson felt like there needed to be more discussion of the matter.

In other business, the Fair Committee asked the county to look into the cost of painting the west barn by the Expo Building. The Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce also asked the commissioners if they could budget $1,000 for the July 4 fireworks display, but the county can not donate money to any chamber of commerce. It can only make donations if it is a county-wide activity.

Of the 53 graduating seniors, 25 plan to attend four-year universities, 10 plan to attend two-year colleges, seven plan to attend vocational or trade schools, three plan to enter the military and eight plan to enter the work force.

After accepting these reports, the board passed a motion to employ Cornell & Company, CPA's from Amarillo, to perform the 1990 independent audit.

Board members approved the 1990-91 Chapter I, Chaper I migrant and Chapter II funding proposal presented by Minnick. The schools expect to receive an entitlement of $373,027 for Chapter I with $348,072 for salaries and career ladder, and the rest going to contracts, supplies, travel and indirect cost.

Ryan said that the computers currently being leased to the school will not be bought and then put into storage. He said that the rapid changes would necessitate the need to wait until the facilities are available before buying the computer system.

During an executive session, The school board accepted the resignations of five teachers, including Tony Anthony, high school biology teacher; Rhonda Burns, who taught high school tennis and biology; Melany Gruhlkey, who taught seventh grade reading; Susan Hanners, who was a part time instructor for the Gifted and Talented program; and Judy House, who taught first grade.

Castro County selected for Lifegift program

Human Services designated Castro needs have considerably increased. to be served by Lifegift in West nity to provide quality service to Texas.

Lifegift organ donation center has been notified by the Depart- ing closely with community leaders ment of Health and Human Services that they have received federal designation as the organ procurement organization for the panhandle area of West Texas.

Lifegift was fouded in Houston in October 1987. Lifegift's involvement in the West Texas area began when the previous program, the Center for Organ Retrieval and Transplantation (CORT) disbanded in September 1989. Lifegift was asked at that time to establish a program in West Texas that would work with the community to support local transplant programs.

According to Rebecca J. Davis, executive director of Lifegift, "We are very excited to have the opportunity to serve the West Texas community. Although we have many long range plans, one of our immediate goals is to support new transplant programs in the West Texas area. With the beginning of

Commission announces grant deadline

The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is accepting preliminary applications for the 1991 Survey and Planning Grants. Grants may be used to support local preservation planning activities and to identify cultural resources eligible for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places. Preliminary applications must be submitted by June 29. Projects eligible for grant funding include surveys of historic resources, National Register nominations, publications and resources protection plans. Grant funding priorities in fiscal year 1991 will emphasize phased projects currently underway, surveys of historic resources in endangered areas and preparation of national Register multiple property nominations. Cultural resources addressed by the projects, including buildings, sites, structures and objects, must predate 1945 and should be significant in American history, architecture, archeology or culture. Projects should treat resources on a community-wide basis. THC staff is available for consultation with applicants to devise preliminary scopes of work and cost estimates for proposed projects. The THC expects to award approximately $50,000 in grants, contigent on the availability of state and federal funding in fiscal year 1991. Grant awards must be matched on a one-to-one basis at the local level. Other federal sources of funding, with the exception of Community Development Block Grants and revenue-sharing funds, may not be used to match Survey and Planning Grants. Federal regulations also strictly prohibit unlawful discrimination in federally assisted programs on the basis of race, color and/or national origin. As the official state agency for historic preservation, the THC administers a wide variety of programs that protect the cultural and historical heritage of state.

The Department of Health and these programs, transplantation These advisory boards will guide County as one of the many counties Lifegift will work with the commuthis area.'

Davis said that lifegift is workand area hospitals to build a strong donor awareness program that is responsive to the needs of West Texas. To increase the number of organs and tissues available, Lifegift is focusing on both professional and public outreach programs. The enthusiastic community response to this challenge has been indicative of broad-based support.

David added, "It is not lifegift who will make this program work in west Texas, but how responsive the community and the hospitals are toward the donor program. That is what a partnership is all about."

The partnership concept is implemented by and advisory board in Lubbock. An Amarillo based advisory board will soon be formed. and direct the efforts of Lifegift Organ Donation Center in West Texas.

Charlotte Hoffman, who heads the Public Education Committee of the advisory board and whose son is an organ recipient says, "The key aspect of Lubbock's receptivity to Lifegift is their willingness to help their neighbors. It is the realization that this probblem does not just happen in Pittburgh, Oregon or Los Angeles. It is here-that brings it home for us."

Lifegift Organ Donation Center of West Texas advisory board is headed by David Seim, CEO of Lubbock National Bank, and consists of sixteen members. Through their efforts the activities during organ donor awareness week were a tremendous success.

Seim said, "The kind of cooperation and positive responce received from the community for this endeavor is encouraging."

Cotton Talks

High Plains cotton producers at sign-up time indicated the intent to plant 3.149 million acres to cotton in 1990, up 378,000 more acres than the 2.771 million planted in 1989, representing a 13.64% increase.

Those are figures compiled for its 25 member counties by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock, from the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) preliminary report on 1990 program enrollment. Although admittedly skeptical of anything labeled "preliminary," PCG believes the numbers indicate that earlier projections of 3.2 to 3.3 million acres may prove a little high.

Whatever the size of the increase, it stems largely from a reduction in the acreage conservation reserve (ACR) requirement,

One major factor is a reduction of almost 44,000 acres in the efffective base on enrolled farms from 1989 to 1990. At the 87.5% permitted planting rate, that alone could mean over 38,000 less planted acres. Also, there are producers who can't plant their full permitted acreage because of conservation compliance plans that mandate high residue crops on more than the 12.5% required ACR.

A gentle, general rain is needed all across the region, Supak said, "both for moisture and to get us into more seasonal temperatures."

was clearly demonstrated in 1988 and 1989. In 1989, with an ACR of 25%, High Plains producers planted 96.9% of permitted acreage on enrolled farms. In 1988 the ACR dropped to 12.5%, and farmers planted only 94.5% of the permitted maximum.

Interesting, "but by no means conclusive," PCG says, is the past record of the ASCS intended plantings report as an indicator of ultimate planted acreage. In 1988, the report missed actual plantings by just under 29,000 acres, on the low side. In 1989 the error was on the high side, but amounted to only 31,000 acres. For the two years, the report was off by .88% and 1.13%, respectively.

An attached chart showed 1990 total effective base acres, effective base acres on enrolled farms, 1989 planted acres and 1990 intentions for each of PCG's 25 counties.

Castro County's 1990 total effective base was shown at 87,788 acres, the 1990 enrolled effective base was set at 83,307 acres, 1989 planted acres were counted at 50,-153, and 1990 intended plantings were reported at 54,695 acres.

Farmers should know IRS definition of tax laws

Withholding income taxes for agricultural employees is mandatory, but farmers and ranchers should be cautious before they claim their workers as "independent contra ctors." If producers do claim farm or ranch laborers as 'independent contractors', the IRS could try to reclassify them as 'employees' and charge the produccer for unpaid taxes. Thus, it is useful to know the criteria the IRS uses to make the distinction between 'employees' and 'independent contractor.'

ment or tools, and is employed full time and does not work for others, then the worker is an emolyee. But if the employer has the right to control only the result of the work, not the way the work is done, and the worker is free to take jobs from other businesses, then the worker is probably an independent contractor.

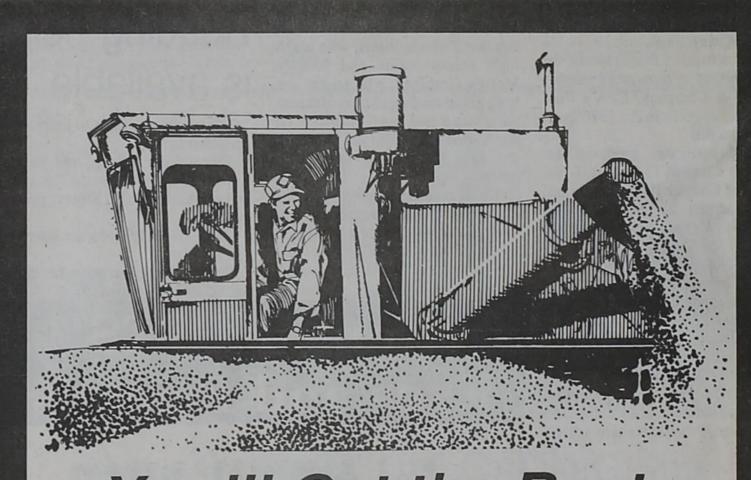

If workers do not meet the criteria to show they are independents, they may still be classified as independent contractors if it can be demonstrated that it is a longstanding custom within a particular industry to hire independent contractors. If the situation involving workers is still questionable, then the producer should seek the help of a competent tax lawyer of certified public accountant (CPA) and ask to discuss a situation as compared to Revenue Ruling 87-41 and Circular 530. There are several tests that are used to tell if a farmer or rancher is an employer. If the farmer/rancher instructs the worker when, where and how the work is to be performed, or trains the worker for the job, then the producer is probably an employer. Also, if the producer pays the worker by the hour, week or month, and the worker cannot delegate tasks or hire others to do the work, then the worker is considered an employee. Letter 'Roads not up to par'

DEAR EDITOR.

It is time for us to go forward in 1990. Castro County is an agricultural county. Our main source of income starts out on the farm. Our feedlots get a big part of their feed from the farmers of Castro County, American Fructose gets a big portion of their corn from these farmers. Wholesalers also sell a large amount to Castro County farmers. The farmers are vital assets to our county.

Our roads are not up to par with the rest of the United States. When I was in Arlington for a Road Surface Management Course, the instructors could not believe the condition of our roads. One of them thought the only dirt roads were those up in the mountains used for logging. They taught in the course that first to add sub-base, then base, then aggregate or gravel and then Most of the specs that the state put asphalt or concrete.

These books can be obtained at many places in Dimmitt and contain very good information. If we would only use this book it would help us in building better roads as well as helping us with our agricultural needs.

There is improved road building material in all four precincts which can be used for base. I think the caliche below most of the grade and probably can be obtained less The properly improbed roads will

They also have free books, and they will give this area a road building course for $200. This organization can be a great help to Castro County with our needs. They can only help with their technical assistance to small counties, but it is like the soil book, it won't do any good unless we use them. By putting in these improved roads it will lower our maintenance cost, because the roads won't need soils would be okay for sub-base to be maintained after each rain.

Hart Cemetery its new officers

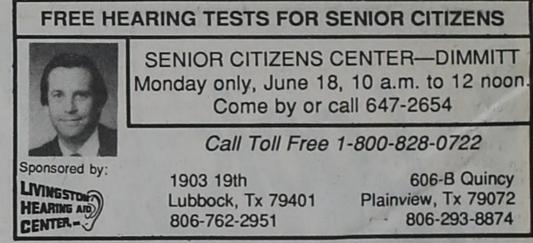

The Hart Cemetary Association elected Marguerite McLain as president during their meeting Monday at the Hart Golden Group building. Scott Rice was elected new director to fill the position held by Doug Higgins, whose term expired. Rice joins Wamon Foster and Elias Martinez as directors.

The association voted to have a Memorial Day dinner each year since many former residents of Hart return on Memorial Day to attend the Memorial Day services held at the cemetary.

The cemetary's maintenance and appearance were also discussed. They suggested that no new flowers be placed on a grave unless the old flowers are removed. They also Mike Robel of Castro Oil & Gas authorized the person maintaining the cemetary to remove any ornament not on the grave.

Public Notice

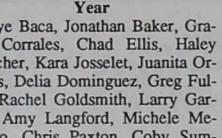

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.

Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.
