Sets the Style in Fall Footwear!

Decide to buy whatever shoe you like best, but never forget one thing: That if you are particular and want to choose from a wide assortment of different styles. there is one place that originates all these styles, and offers them to you before they are copied by others. That place is THE FAMOUS.

THE FAMOUS carries twice as many styles as others consider necessary. To accomplish this there is a different pattern for every occasion and every need of service. It means a large extra cost to THE FAMOUS, but you get the exact answer to your every requirement-yet all this does not increase its retail price.

TRY IT ONCE.

found myself at Egan on my way to arrange for an auction sale at Denton. I had quite a delightful ride to Egan and on my way to Fort Worth on the main line of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, saw a great deal to engage my attention. I found Burleson looking quite well and seemingly dressing up. I was surprised at the improvement of that place, but it is surrounded by a fine country and a live set of people and will soon make a town, and that's what's the matter with Burleson.

Fort Worth is not only dressing up, but will have to enlarge her clothes, for she is getting wearing and I fear will soon want Cleburne as a part of her city. She can't get us, if she does even get Dallas.

My trip to Denton was pleasant, through fine country, and a great deal to be seen and en joyed, and reaching there I was met at the depot by W. H. MARJORIE IS POPULAR

There are fashions in girls' names as in pretty nearly everything else which concerns the sex.

At present, it appears that about eighteen or twenty years ago the name of Marjorie was all the rage at society

It is borne by some of the pretty young girls in English society.

At Lady Warwick's big country ball last December for the coming-out of her young daughter, there were three Lady Marjories included in the party-Lady Marjorie Greville, herself, in whose honor the ball was given; Lady Marjorie Erskine the second daughter of Lord and Lady Buchan, and Lady Marjorie Manners, the beautiful daughter of Lord and Lady

The following is a list of officers and tion and the Country Club is sponsor for one of the most brilliant gatherings ever attended by society. On Friday afternoon Mrs. Chalmers W. Hutchison, Mrs. Edward White, Mrs. N. Harding, Mrs. Joseph Boynton Googins, Mrs. William G. Turner and Mrs. B. P. Fakes entertained at the Country Club. Their friends by the hundreds accepted their invitations, and for the hours, 3 to 6, the hospitality of these delightfully charming women was accentuated by the luxury and elegance of the club quarters. At the door little Maud White and Florence May Jones received the cards, while the first greetings were extended by Mrs. Lily Peak Jones, Mrs. Harold Geoch, Mrs. M. Dayton-Chase and Mrs. Weaver. The hostesses came next, and then a long line of popular matrons. In the grill room were a bevy of maidens, chosen from among these of special beauty and winsomeness. The punch bowls were in the main hall, vine wreathed and flower laden. Here, too, blossoming maidenhood welcomed and served the limpid nectar.

Made Them So

After Years of Heart and Nerve Trouble.

Weak and hungry spells indicate a nervous affection of the heart. The nerves are not getting the nourishment they need, and unless treatment is speedily begun, disastrous results are sure to follow. When strengthened, invigorated and restored to their normal state he nervous system abounds in energy, vitality and nerve-force, and successfully resists the attack of disease and decay. Dr. Miles' Nervine is the true nerve tonic, furnishing, as it does, the exact element of nourishment and strength which the shattered nervous system requires, so that good results, noticeably pro-nounced, follow the giving of the first few doses. It is a wonderful nerve specific.

"For many years I was a sufferer from heart and nervous troubles. I would have spells when I would be uncommonly hungry even after eating; headache, sour stomach, griping pains, weak, trembling spells, me sometimes quite severe. The doctor gave only temporary relief from pain and I decided to try. Dr. Miles' Remedies. I began with one bottle of the Heart Cure and one of the Restorative Nervine, and they helped me so much that I got some more. When I had taken six bottles my nerves were as steady as clock-work. I could eat anything I wanted and as much as I wanted without it hurting me. I thank Dr. Miles for the good it has done me."—JOHN B. ADAMS,

If there is one thing more than all others that will give a man a forlorn and friendless appearance and make him morbld and "cranky" and disagreeable, that thing is dyspepsia. It makes one forget his friends and become morose and irritable. He is so wrapped up in his own misery that he is inconsiderate of every one else. Relieved of this terrible and depressing ailment, he again becomes a good fellow and a man among men. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are beyond question the most effective and popular remedy ever offered to the sufferers of Millions of boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold annually and they are but in the dawn of their popularity. Every mail brings letters of thanksgiving from grateful ones who have been cured of this terrible disease. The following is one of hundreds received each week:

Rev. J. R. Hoag of Wymore, Neb. writes: "For six years I have been troubled with dyspepsia. Last fall I became very much alarmed at some symptoms of heart trouble and came to believe there was a sympathetic relation between the two diseases, or rather, that the stomach trouble was the cause of the heart disturbances. I hit upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a remedy and invested a dollar and a half for three boxes, which lasted me three months, and I can eat any kind of food I want and have a good, vigorous appetite. Although I am 77 years old, I now feel perfectly well and without being requested by anyone I make this statement as a compliment to the virtues of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets." Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box.

R. W. TIPTON,

THEWEEK'S MARKET

While the receipts of cattle for the past week were a little short of the prevlous week's receipts, the market for the week closed about steady, showing possibly a small advance on cows and bulls. All classes of steers are selling at practically unchanged prices, best quality choice fed steers bringing $3.75@$4, medium fed $3@3.50, and the lighter grade butcher stuff of fair quality at $2.50@3. There has been a good demand for best quality heavy feeders, which sell at prices ranging from $2.75@3. The light common kinds, weighing around 600 to 700 pounds, are hard sellers and those offered last week generally sold at $1.65@ 1.90. Feeders are not looking for the fancy heavy steers, nor do they want the light common stuff, but instead they are after the heavy medium quality cattle, which may be had at a reasonable price, stuff that will put on good flesh and can be turned out of the feeding pens in the spring in prime condition.

Good quality range cows are quoted at $1.80@2, with an occasional bunch of ex- ways a bad day for the shipper and where tra good quality selling as high as $2.35; it is possible shippers should either ship but the bulk of the run for the week was Friday or hold for Monday's market. sold largely at $1.70@1.90. Mr. Thompson says that Texas stock is good enough for him and that Cassidy-Southwestern company, will do he will surely be back for the big sale. M. A. Smith of Clarksville, Tenn., last week bought a mixed load of big railroad mules and Texas chunks. Mr. Smith was a purchaser at the recent sale and 1,103-pound steers, which sold at $3.80. was well pleased with his stock. He promises to be an active buyer at the next sale.

R. C. High yesterday bought a load of heavy mules at Corsicana and had them shipped to the yards here.

C. B. Edwards of Brady, Texas, passed through the yards yesterday with 143 horses, en route to Denison, Texas,

A prominent stockman of San Angelo says that the Fort Worth horse and mule market is already having more or less effect on raisers in his part of the country. Instead of southern buyers coming to San Angelo and that section of the country for their horses as formerly they are now stopping in Fort Worth, where they can buy their stock and get direct railroad service to their destination.

W. L. Cooke of the firm of Cooke & Simmons spent Saturday in Mexia, where he went to buy heavy broke mules.

J. V. Tennant of Jackson, Miss., last week bought from a local firm one car of good broke horses, which he shipped out to Jackson Thursday.

Keep Wine of Cardui in Your Home

No. 210 East Jacob Street, Louisville, Kv., April 3, 1903, I am pleased to state that Wine of Cardui helped me through a severe siege of sickness and finally restored me to perfect health. I caught a severe cold which settled all over me and at the monthly period the flow was very scanty and painful and I had the most blinding headaches and nausea and finally I had to take to my bed. One of my friends, on calling on me, told me how much blinding had done for her, so I tried it and the results were all that I could desire, for I was able to be out in four weeks and feel in excellent health and am daily growing stronger and more robust. Pauline Davis I can therefore recommend it as a medicine of unus-

Wine of Cardui has been growing in popularity for over seventy-five years. There have been remedies for women sold but the greater number of them have been forgotten while Wine of Cardui has found its way into American homes and so complete and lasting are its cures that women never tire of telling one another about it. It was one of these grateful cured women that brought Wine of Cardui to the attention of Miss Davis and was the result of giving her health and happiness instead of misery and despondency. And Miss Davis regards it as her duty to tell you the same good news that her friend told her. It rests with you whether you will take advantage of the same relief Miss Davis took advantage of when she relied on Wine of Cardui to cure her. You have not only the word of Miss Davis and her friend, but the testimony of thousands of other women who have certified to the value of Wine of Cardui as a cure for female diseases. This pure vegetable tonic regulates menstruation and banishes all the blinding headaches and pains which torture women at the menstrual periods. It is a medicine to keep on hand for emergencies and also a tonic to be kept in the home and taken before the expected menstrual period as a preventive of the suffering of which Miss Davis speaks. Give Wine of Cardui a trial and you will be as well pleased as Miss Davis is. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 29.-Dear

Sirs:-The discovery in this city of a new absinthe at Maxim's. diuretic is saving thousands of lives. It is hard for people to believe who are not eye witnesses. You as a brother druggist expression in his eye. well know that up to this time chronic Bright's Diseas and Diabetes have been necessarily fatal. It is so no longer. And I not only know this by being on the ground, but I was also one of the patients. I had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and looked upon death as inevitable. I was so prejudiced I wouldn't buy the new treatment. I couldn't believe it. So they gave it to me to prove it. I not only recovered, but have since given it to some where near fifty patients and know of only three or four failures.

I am a pioneer druggist of this city have been doing business on my own premises for forty-eight years, and I now declare to you on the honor of a brother pharmacist the absolute curability of these dread diseases in about nine-tenths of all cases. I understand the business men who are placing it before the world have appointed you to represent them in your city, and I beg to tell you that there are lives to be saved and friends to be made. Yours sincerely,

Miss Wyman had not discovered the Up to this time the rules of the club art of pleasing a man. She made the her, but to himself. She overran her slender income by buying articles of dress she could not afford; she sought to convince Atwater of her common sense, her prudence, her wit-in short, all the accomplishments that may be considered desirable in a wife.

At this tail end of the outing seasonthat is, for people of moderate incomes-during the short period prior to Atwater's departure for his hunting club, Miss Wyman was very much put out by the appearance of a country cousin, Miss Lucy Trimble. The Wymans were under pecuniary obligations to Miss Trimble's father, Mrs. Wyman's brother, for a temporary loan which was now of five years' them for a fortnight's annual visit in lieu of interest. She had been invited for the last two weeks in July, when no one was at home, but for some reason had deferred her visit till the 1st of September. Her coming halved the hours Miss Wyman could spend with Mr. Atwater because she knew he would not countenance her shoving aside a guest. What was deficient as an art in the one was present naturally in the other. Lucy Trimble had never met so grand a man as Atwater. She sat in his presence like the timid little mouse she was, her eyes fixed on him in admiration and wonder. He never made a remark but she fancied it must conof admiration for his learning, his versatility. Atwater had been looking all as he appreciated himself. Here was a simple country girl who not only had discovered what others had failed to discover, but was sufficiently ingenuous not to be able to conceat her appreciation for him. "Oh, Mr. Atwater," she said, "you ought to be ashamed of yourself to be content with society and hunting when you would so shine in any profession! Who knows but you might be presi-

Atwater laughed, but he was delighted. He had often thought of taking up politics, but refrained from doing so because the country gentlemen of America do not run for congress as liament. He was delighted with Miss Trimble and considered how he could repay her for her appreciation.

"I have it," he said after a great deal of thought. "I'll invite Mrs. Wyentirely changed his habits, a fact which man and Marian and this little chicken is very much commented upon, not only to go down to the seashore for over in the offices of the departments, but by Labor day. > The outing was ended. The party were at the station waiting for the last train to go to the city that day or the party would have waited for a later one. Suddenly Lucy Trimble put her hand to her belt and announced that she had left her watch at the hotel. There remained fifteen minutes before train time, and Atwater offered to go and get the watch. Lucy declared that she alone could find it. The two went together. They found the watch and started to return to the station. The train came along and the others, seeing them within a short distance, got aboard. The train moved out and the party waited expecting to see the two missing ones come in from the last car. When some time had passed and they did not appear Miss Wyman suggested to Mr. Allison that he had better go back and see if they had got on. To this Mr. Allison demurred, stating that he did not propose to interrupt a tete-a-tete. When the train reached the city it was discovered that the missing ones were not aboard. Mrs. Wyman proposed to return, but there was no train to go on till morning.

> Of course when Mr. Atwater and Lucy Trimble returned they were man and wife. There could be no other result without the girl's disgrace. Mrs. Wyman always spoke of the matter as a deplorable accident, Mr. Allison as intentional with Atwater, while Marian Wyman said, "I must admit the little minx played it beautifully." Atwater says that he is rejoiced that an accident should have given him such

Not for an instant did I doubt the correctness of this identification. All the pictures I had seen of this wellknown society belle had been marked by an individuality of expression which fixed her face in the memory and which I now saw repeated in the lifeless features before me.
