

TRAGEDIES OF THE INNER CITY WHEN PT. ARTHUR WAS SHELLED

Japanese Shells Burst in Small Pieces Not Harming the Buildings of the City to Great Extent—Bombardment Kept Up Only From 2 P. M. to 2:45 Daily

BARONESS FRANCK'S HEAD TORN OFF

It Hung by the Hair on a Nail, Horrifying Her Unharmd Guests Who Were at a Dinner Party—The Russian Marksmanship Was Very Bad

NEW CHWANG, China, May 9.—We reached here last night, after dark and in a driving rainstorm. All day yesterday we rode at a rate varying from ten to thirty miles an hour across the yellow plains of Manchuria. At the railway station between Tiensin and the Great Wall there had been soldiers of all nations, but after leaving the wall we saw none but Chinese for a few stations. Then the Russians began to appear and as we neared the end of the journey the RUSSIANS INCREASED rapidly in number. The railroad ends at Yingkow and we were tumbled out, bag and baggage, into a rainstorm and found ourselves on a dark platform. Two hundred yards away was the great Liao river, but no sign of a wharf or landing place. Stumbling down the steep bank we huddled ourselves into a sampan (native boat) and started on an hour's struggle with rain, wind, tide and current, each of which was doing its best to make us miserable. At last the boat bumped on the rocks on the opposite shore, and stepping out we were the officers. The result is the men are hardly acquainted with their guns, either in the fleet or the forts. "The extent to which 'squeeze' (graft) is carried by the Russian officers can not be understood by the mere telling. Not the smallest item escapes and it runs from

TOP TO BOTTOM of officialdom. "After the second bombardment we got used to the Japanese shells. Each afternoon we went up on the hills, as I have said. The Japs sometimes would bombard—always from about 2 p. m. to 2:45 and no longer—then we would all return to town, shops and cafes would open and at 5 o'clock everybody would go out for a turn in the park, where a military band gave a daily concert. "On the night of the first bombardment one of the leading attorneys of Port Arthur, M. Sidorsky, together with Baron and Baroness Franck and Miss Waleiko, were dining at the lawyer's home

A SHELL BURST just outside. The lawyer was leaning against the mantelpiece at the time. He was struck in the chest, throat and head and was instantly killed. For some reason or other the body did not fall, but remained standing for fully a minute before the startled guests carried it to a couch. Miss Waleiko was terribly wounded and died in an hour, but the most ghastly thing of all was the effect of the shell upon the baroness. She was sitting at a small table and her head was CUT COMPLETELY OFF and hurled across the room, where the hair caught upon a picture nail and he fell fast. The headless trunk still sat in the easy chair, while the head, facing the horrified diners, hung fully ten feet away. None of the other guests were hurt in the least.

So the refugees regaled us until bed time with stories of their troubles, while outside the rain continued to pour down and the only other sound was the splashing of the Cossack's big boots as they tramped up and down the streets—for martial law prevails in this Chinese town and the Russians are lords of all they survey.

The martial law was not particularly strict, except in the matter of shipping, contraband of war or indeed any sort of cargo from the port. Aside from this one only had to be in bed by midnight and his LIGHTS OUT and to be careful not to try, either by day or by night, to go beyond the limits of the city except to go across the river to the railway station.

Our first evening decided us that we were in a rough and rugged country, surrounded by rough weather and rugged people, but the night showed us that our beds were the roughest and roughest things in Manchuria and as we slept we dreamed we were lying on a wagon load of fragments of shells from Port Arthur.

PAGE MAY WRITE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH KANSAS CITY, May 18.—It seems that the efforts of the Missouri division of the Daughters of the Confederacy to get Thomas Nelson Page to write a history of the south, from the southerner's viewpoint, are likely to be successful.

Mrs. R. E. Wilson of this city, chairman of a committee which was appointed at the last state meeting to communicate with Mr. Page in regard to the matter, announced yesterday at a meeting of Stoneywell Jackson chapter, U. D. C., that she had received a letter from him, in which he said that he had the matter under serious consideration. He has received a proposition from a magazine for such a work, but is undecided as to its acceptance, considering that he can do almost as much by his stories reproducing southern conditions and characteristics as he can by more formal history. The Missouri division will urge him to write the history.

AFTER SEVEN YEARS WILL DIVIDE ESTATE NEW YORK, May 18.—After years of litigation the death and date of death of Arthur Heckwith have been fixed and his estate amounting to more than $500,000 will be divided among the heirs by the courts.

Beckwith was a member of a family socially prominent in New York, Newport and Paris. He disappeared mysteriously from a sanitarium at Flushing, L. I., in 1894 and left not the slightest trace. After much litigation it was decided in 1902 that he was dead, but it remained for the courts to decide upon the date. This has now been fixed at exactly seven years from the day of his disappearance.

THEIR AIM DEADLY. The Russian ships, even those that are still doing business, are a badly battered lot. "The Russian marksmanship good or bad?" "Bad; and the reason is that the money which should have been spent for target practice ammunition has been stolen by

WACO CALABOOSE HAS NO INMATES

WACO, Texas, May 18.—For the first time in quite awhile the Waco calaboose doors swung wide open yesterday, there not being a single person of any sex or color incarcerated there. Officers have recently been vigorous in pursuit of persons who are idling about, and the policy of pulling "rags" has sent many to the country in search of honest work.

YELLOW FEVER AT TAMPICO AND VALES

AUSTIN, Texas, May 18.—The state health officer was advised this morning that there is a case of yellow fever in Tampico and one in Vales. There is no restriction on travel between these places and Monterey, which Dr. Tabor says complicates the Monterey quarantine situation.

HEARST WINS IN CALIFORNIA

Delegation from That State Is Instructed to Vote for Him at National Convention

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., May 18.—By a majority of nineteen votes the democratic state convention last night instructed the delegation to the national convention at St. Louis to vote for Congressman W. H. Hearst for president. The vote stood: For instruction 365, against 346.

The platform presented by the committee and adopted, says in part: "We demand a strict and impartial enforcement of all existing anti-trust laws and the enactment of such additional acts by federal and state governments as will prevent the formation of monopolistic combinations and trusts which control prices. We believe that the federal government must assert such control over combinations of capital that the evils of the trust system be eliminated without loss of advantages that accrue from a more perfect organization of industry and trade."

Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal, will be less than that received by him from the railroad company. Mr. Wallace's salary will be nearly double the sum he hitherto received.

EXECUTION OF TWO JAP OFFICERS AT HARBIN

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—Details have been received here from Harbin regarding the execution on April 21 of two Japanese officers, Yu Koka and Okl, for attempting to dynamite bridges and destroy telegraph communication on the Eastern China Railway. The prisoners admitted they were part of the detail numbering 100 men whose purpose it was to destroy the railway at various points. When told that they must have been extremely brave people, they replied: "Not at all. We are only carrying out our duty and the order of the Mikado."

Both prisoners were executed April 21 between the new and old towns of Harbin in the presence of a large crowd. Upon the order of General Kurapatkin they were shot instead of being hanged. A strong guard was thrown about the spot to hold back the public a distance of 400 yards. No photographs were allowed to be taken. The younger prisoner refused to give a bandaging of his eyes. When told it was necessary according to the Russian law, he asked that an exception be made in his favor. The elder Japanese staff officer wept and fainted, but finally allowed himself to be blindfolded calmly. One of the men was a Catholic and made his last confession to a Russian priest, there being no representative of the Catholic priesthood in Harbin.

JAPS WILL SOON ENTER NEW CHWANG

TIEN TSIN, May 18.—Lloyd's agent at New Chwang has telegraphed under Tuesday's date as follows: "The Japanese division which landed at Kai Chow, May 16, under heavy firing of the Chinese men-of-war is marching toward New Chwang. The evacuation by the Russians has been nearly completed. The Japanese are expected to arrive shortly. All is quiet at New Chwang and shipping shows favorable progress."

LAND ATTACK SOON ON TOWN OF PORT ARTHUR

LONDON, May 18.—A dispatch to the Central News from Liao Yang, dated today, says, according to news which reached there today from Port Arthur, that there had been no further attacks on the beleaguered port since May 13. The Japanese who landed at Pitsewo, it added, appear to be pushing preparations for a land attack, which it is expected will be accompanied by a renewal of the bombardment by the Japanese fleet.

JAPS SKIRMISHING ON BOTH SIDES RAILROAD

CHIEF FOQ, May 18.—As a result of the engagement which the Japanese had on Monday with the Russian garrison at Kai Chow on the west coast of the Liao Tung peninsula, the Russians were driven out of Kai Chow, which is the nearest point to New Chwang, with the exception of the Liao river, where there is sufficient water to allow landing of troops. The Chinese who recently arrived here from New Chwang, while confirming the above, also say that the Japanese are skirmishing on either side of the railroad of the Liao river, which will be used for the Japanese operations having for their object the clearing of the Russian's mines from Kerr bay.

THIRTY RUSSIAN GRAVES FOUND NEAR ANJU

THE NEW PARKER SHOULD TELL WHERE HE STANDS

This Is the Opinion of the People Down Brownwood Way—Bryan and Hearst Sentiment Predominates, But People Will Support Democratic Nominee

BROWNWOOD, Texas, May 18.—People along the Frisco at the present time are living in a land of plenty. The crops are in excellent shape and all are evidently contented with crop prospects. All, however, are interested in national politics and the question as to who is to be the democratic nominee for the presidency is the absorbing topic of the hour. A straw vote taken on the Frisco passenger train to Brownwood Monday evening indicates as much as anything could the division of sentiment among the voters. This vote showed nine for Parker, seven for Hearst, one for McClelland, one for Bailey and thirteen undecided, but willing to support the nominee.

CANVASS AT BROWNWOOD

Tuesday number of citizens were canvassed as to their candidate. Some favor Alton B. Parker, others William R. Hearst and many had no choice, but wanted the man selected that could best hold the confidence of the entire democratic party and bring the party together in harmony and unity. Among those seen are merchants, professional men and those in almost every walk of life. Here are a few expressions from some of those seen:

WHERE DOES PARKER STAND?

W. A. West, Druggist—I would just as soon have Cleveland as Parker. We know where Cleveland stands, but we do not know the present position of Parker. I do not think it right to nominate a man for such a responsible position unless his party knows more about him and the principles he represents. To nominate him and then accept his views in a platform would be the height of folly. Parker has in no way committed himself on the issues of the day. Honest democracy demands that a prospective candidate for such an important office speak before the time for the convention. As I admire I admire his policy, as he is now pursuing it and believe he is much more acceptable to the voters of Texas.

J. C. Crum, Grocer—Hearst is the man for me. He would make a fine president. I believe this is the best man for the fourths of the voters of Brown county. Parker has never expressed himself and although it is taken for granted he is a democrat, the majority of the voters have no proof of it.

R. C. Cross, Retired Contractor—I am a democrat and if Hearst was nominated I would stick with him to a finish, but I am for Parker. The talk that Parker should speak out is wrong. Let the party make the platform and then set the candidate. The majority of our voters are made black at the beginning, now look with contempt and indifference—often with prejudice and hate—upon the brothers, the negroes, who have retained the color that God gave them."

Such was the declaration of the Rev. H. M. Turner, senior bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal church in an address in Quinn chapel before one of the sessions of the church's annual conference. The chapel was packed with negroes who are leaders in the religious work of their race, and all applauded almost wildly.

"What we negroes need is more education," continued Bishop Turner. "We need not only the parochial schools now under control of our church, but we need proper instructions imparted. We should build schools of our own, scientific treaties of our own, in harmony with our color and our race. And don't learn songs like, 'Wash Me and I Shall Be Whiter Than Snow'—I would not tolerate such in my presence.

"I do not want to be misunderstood, though, and I will say to the credit of the white man—whose race is at the same time the meanest I ever saw and the best—that wherever I see him, he tries to rise as a general rule he will help us."

WILL PROVIDE FOR BANK AT PANAMA

NEW YORK, May 18.—Interests identified with the National City bank of this city have, according to the Times, filed with the controller of the currency an application for permission to establish a national bank on the Isthmus of Panama within the zone under the control of the United States.

It is explained at the banking house here that technically the application was not made by the National City, because of the provisions of the national bank act. For that reason it was said, the application was made by men prominent in the National City bank, including James Stillman, William Rockefeller and other representatives of Standard Oil interests.

It is stated by the Times that, under existing law, no national bank could be chartered for the canal zone and the application is merely being taken advantage of an opportunity which may arise in future.

DETECTIVES WATCH WIFE THOUGH SET FREE

CHICAGO, May 18.—Mary Biszak, wife of Stephen Biszak, the man supposed to have been stranded and thrown into the Illinois and Michigan canal last Saturday, has been set free by the Brighton Park police, although detectives still are seeking evidence against her. A constant watch will be maintained over the woman, who during three hours more of questioning continued to deny that the body found was that of her husband.

"GROWING" DAYS FOR COTTON

WORK HARD TO PREVENT BOLT

Indications Are That Entire Republican Ticket Will Be Renominated.

MADISON, Wis., May 13.—Feeling between the republican factions prior to the opening of the republican state convention at the university gymnasium today was keyed up to the highest pitch. The question, "Will there be a bolt of the anti-third termers?" was asked on every side, and remained unanswered in any definite way.

The key to the situation apparently is held by former Congressman Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, a candidate for governor, with over 120 delegates pledged to his support. Without the adherence of Mr. Cook to any plan of withdrawing from or bolting the regular convention such a bolt could hardly avail anything tangible.

NO CONCESSION IN ILLINOIS FIGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 13.—Restlessness was on the increase today among the delegates to the republican state convention. Many announced the intention of going home and leaving a few of their associates to vote for their respective delegations. In the rank and file there was a growing inclination for a recess of thirty days, but so far as is known no candidate is favorable to such a course.

SCIENTISTS DO NOT DISCUSS THE NEW LAW

E. H. Lowe Says the Secret Society Legislation Does Not Affect the Members Except Those of Mother Church

Little effect is being experienced locally from the recently promulgated amendment of the Christian Science church, as announced in the Sentinel, the official organ, to the effect that a new by-law was to be added to the rules of the mother church providing that members of that church should not be made members of clubs or organizations that excluded either sex. An exception to the ruling was made in favor of the Masons.

E. H. Lowe of this city, a prominent member of the church, stated yesterday that he knew nothing in regard to the matter further than the announcement in the Sentinel. As he understood it, however, the ruling would apply only to members of the mother church at Boston and would not apply to members of the local church, other than those who had had their membership in the mother church.

It is possible that a similar by-law may be adopted by the branch churches throughout the country, but as yet the matter has not been discussed by the members in this city.

MARY BAKER EDDY CONSTRUES BY-LAW

BOSTON, May 13.—Mary Baker G. Eddy, pastor emerita of the First church of Christ, Scientist, who framed the recent by-law on organizations adopted by the church, has given to the Christian Science Journal the following explanation of this by-law:

"I beg to inform my beloved members of the mother church that the by-law in article XXVI of its manual, does not require members of benevolent and progressive organizations such as the Free Masons, Odd Fellows, temperance societies and those of similar cult, to resign their membership. It specifies in plain English that individuals who become members of our church shall not thereafter be made members of clubs or other organizations not named in its manual, and wherefore? Because our religious denomination demands the faithful attention and labor of its members in all philanthropic, therapeutic and progressive Christian work for the human race, and relies upon the adequate scientific source and resource thereof."

THEY BELIEVE FIRE WAS NOT CAUSED BY PAPER

Superintendent Alexander Hogg of the public schools does not accept the theory which was advanced in a local item in The Telegram yesterday that the fire which destroyed the Fifth ward school building was the result of hot ashes and paper under the building.

"We are very careful about the buildings, and no hot ashes are put out. We try to keep the campus at each school clean, and in this way keep out an element of danger. I am still of the opinion that the fire was of incendiary origin. It may not have been one of the boys connected with the school, but that it was by a boy there is no doubt."

Professor R. L. Paschall, principal of the Fifth ward school, said yesterday: "I want to say in justice to him and to the teachers that every effort is made to prevent any paper blowing off the ground. Not all the paper blowing around town comes from the school grounds. I believe that one can find more paper on the cross streets between Main and Houston almost any day in the year than on Missouri avenue. For years the teachers at their own expense have bought barrels and boxes to put the paper in. On very windy days we have not been able to prevent some of it from escaping or blowing under the house, but we have done the best we could."

"Every one competent to judge with whom I have conversed believes the fire to be of incendiary origin. Its rapid spread was due to the paper which had accumulated under the house. Much of it was there when I took charge of the school more than ten years ago. I may add that no corporal punishment was administered on March 4, the day of the fire, nor for some time previous."

POOL ROOMS TO GET NOTHING OVER WIRES

The chances are that the action taken today by Robert C. Clowry, president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, will have more effect than the Hancock bill passed by the legislature, and that it will put the pool rooms out of business.

The Hancock bill was designed to stop the operation of pool rooms in this state. The rooms closed when the law became operative, but in this city and in others in Texas telegraph companies were organized, the plan being that these companies were simply transmitting the money of the bettors to some fellow located in Louisiana or Arkansas, who was taking the other side of every wager laid. The pool room here has continued on this line all the time, but it is understood that the new order affects the whole country and that racing reports will no longer be carried over the wires of the Western Union.

The telegraph company lobby was very powerful during the session of the last legislature to prohibit the passage of the bill, but Representative Hancock managed to carry it over this great opposition.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the reports are supposed to start and at that hour today there was a crowd in the pool room on Main street, awaiting the "odds on the ponies," so they could play. A few sat about in the chairs, others leaned over the "dope sheet," and others stood about and figured combinations. The hour arrived and the telegraph instrument did not give out a sound. There was no click and the board marker awaited anxiously for the "odds" which were due "from the track," but nothing came. While they were waiting a representative of The Telegram strolled in and told of the executive order from the headquarters of the Western Union. The pool room authorities had heard nothing and could not discuss the matter.

Manager E. L. Otto of the Western Union at 2 o'clock had heard nothing from headquarters on the subject.

The Associated Press dispatch to The Telegram says:

THE EXECUTIVE ORDER NEW YORK, May 13.—Following the action yesterday discontinuing to all subscribers in this city the report of racing at the various tracks of this country, Colonel Robert C. Clowry today notified the general superintendents of the company at New York, Chicago, Atlanta and San Francisco that the collection and distribution by the Western Union Telegraph Company of horse race reports would be discontinued forthwith.

The text of the notice to the superintendents read as follows: "It has been decided to discontinue forthwith the collection and distribution by this company of horse race reports. You will please act accordingly. Acknowledge receipt."

NO RACING SERVICE TODAY

At 2:30 o'clock the caller in the pool room announced from the desk that the Western Union had just advised there would be no racing service today.

WESTERN UNION CUTS OFF ALL RACING NEWS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Colonel Robert C. Clowry, president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, suddenly shut off the service of racing news to all classes of subscribers in this city. This action by Colonel Clowry, taken entirely on his own initiative, without instructions from his board of directors or any pressure from the authorities, was the result of claims recently made public by the police officials that the pool rooms of New York city could not exist without the Western Union service. Recently a civic organization called the City Club made suggestions that if the Western Union would assist them, the pool room evil in this city could be overcome. The action of Colonel Clowry is the result.

District Attorney Jerome began today an inquiry into the pool room news matter. He had before him Captain Norton Goodard of the Anti-Police Society, Superintendent Burke of the same society and a man named Jones, Burke and Jones, it is stated, told of arrangements made with a racing wire was to be placed in Burke's house.

ALL REPORTS ARE THIS CASE IS DESERVING

Mrs. Fountain, a widow, is very fit at her apartments in the Eagle Plaza, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, on Main, and every report to The Telegram is that it is a case which appeals to the charity of the people.

Mrs. Fountain has a child, a boy, aged 11 years. She has been working, having made her home here for two years. She endeavored to make a living for a while after getting out of employment as a palmist, but was taken ill, and is now down with a severe case of erysipelas. Dr. Jones, the county physician, has attended her one visit and prescribed for her. The police were advised of the case and investigated it and reported it to The Telegram as worthy of assistance. The Telegram then communicated with Captain Cumble of the Salvation Army. He has investigated it and says that it is worthy of help. He is without the means to assist her as she needs. She has very comfortable quarters and some of the neighbors have been providing meals for her. Dr. Jones states that he will request a permit from Judge Milam to have her moved to the county farm, and there is no doubt this permit can be secured if she will agree to go there. He says she is quite sick and needs attention. She has a brother in Gorman, Texas.

PRINTERS HOLD AN ELECTION TODAY FOR OFFICERS

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the polls were opened for a vote on international officers of the International Typographical Union, the balloting being in the office of the Union Banner in Labor Temple, Chas. H. Smith, financial secretary, having charge of the polls.

This is the biennial election of international officers, and for delegate to represent local union No. 198 at the meeting of the international in St. Louis in August. The Typographical Union has a suffrage law which is something like the general laws of the country as to elections. In every local union in the world today, which is under the jurisdiction of the International Typographical Union, the members are voting on the international officers.

The vote for delegate today is being held everywhere, just as the vote for international officers. It is a system of referendum and suffrage which is ideal in its working and fits because of this system of government that the Typographical Union is successful at all times.

SHARP BREAK IN COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 13.—There was a sharp break in the cotton market today under active liquidation and bear pressure, encouraged by the sudden weakness from the New Orleans market that the leading bulls were in doubt. The decline followed a steady opening and was accompanied by great excitement. From 13.46 for July futures were carried down to 13.11.

John A. Stephenson will speak for the local grain dealers. He will be responded to by Vice President J. Z. Keel of Gainesville, after which the annual reports of the president, secretary and treasurer will be made.

There will also be an address delivered by Charles S. Clark of Chicago, on matters especially interesting to the members of the grain dealers in Texas. The appointment of different committees will conclude the business of the first morning's session.

Friday morning will be devoted exclusively to the reading and discussion of various papers, among them the following: "Reasons Why Grain Drafts Should Be Paid on Presentation," "What Can the Texas Grain Dealers' Association Do to Secure or Provide an Official or Efficient System of Weights and Grades of Grain?" "Relation of Texas Grain Dealers to the Texas Millers," and "In What Has This Association Failed to Improve Unfavorable Conditions Effecting Our Grain Trade, which Existed Prior to Our Organization, or Arisen Since, and What Are the Remedies?"

During Friday afternoon the visitors will be given a trolley ride over the city and to Lake Erie, where they will be served with a barbecue.

At night the grain dealers will be taken to the stock yards and the packing house district.

Saturday morning there will be another business session, beginning at 9 o'clock, after which additional papers will be read and discussed.

WACO TO HAVE BEST KNIGHTS TEAM

WACO, Texas, May 18.—Under the leadership of Dr. J. M. Strayhorn a drill team of the Knights Templars is to be conducted until a stage of satisfactory proficiency shall have been reached, the desire and intention being to keep up the work until the best drilled team in the state shall be here in Waco. The drills are held from time to time at West End and here both ladies and gentlemen assemble, going through interesting evolutions. At the close of the drill a lunch is spread, and thus pleasant social features result as well as the matter of stimulating drill interest. Some good work is to be done and about thirty members drilled until they know their parts well. Corsicana is to offer a handsome silver service for the best drilled lot of the Knights Templars, but Waco is specially interested in keeping here the flag which was won several years ago for excellent work along this line and which has remained here since.

PRIMARY CLASS OF POLYTECHNIC IN EXERCISES

Excellent Affair Last Night. Musicals of the Fort Worth University — Business College Graduates.

There was a large crowd present at Polytechnic college last night. The auditorium was filled to its seating capacity, many from the city going out to attend the exercises of the primary department. This department is under the direction of Miss Kate Miller, and so thorough has been the training of the little folk that an entertainment of much merit was provided.

A feature of the affair was that all numbers were short, and although the program was a lengthy one, it was not of that length which tires, but rather entertaining. No encores were allowed, and as the numbers followed each other, it was but added pleasure to those who attended. Rev. O. S. McCarver opened the exercises with a prayer. The first number was an instrumental duet by Ruth Boaz and Ina Dillow. Then came a reading by Alena Rowland.

Three little boys—Dudley Ingram, Leonard Jones and Lloyd Sigler—took part in a dialogue. One of the boys endeavored to persuade another to take a drink of liquor, and the boy refused. He then offered money and finally offered a silver watch if the boy would take the drink. The answer was "If I do not drink it I will some day own a gold watch." This gave the name of the dialogue "A Nibble Answer."

There was a reading by Edith Boaz, a vocal duet by Bobbie Campbell and Kate Coffman, and a dialogue by Gladys Strang and Ruth Boaz.

"When Pa Tried Mental Healing" was a humorous reading by Stella Adams.

Ina Dillow, Florida Spear, Florence Adams, Connie McCarver and Ethel Morris represented the "Gossips," and gave a clever showing how an innocent story is exaggerated by the numerous tongues which pass it along.

Maud Ogilvie gave a "Goon Song" and there was a reading by Florence Adams.

"The Gossip of the Flowers" was participated in by the following characters:

Fairy—Kate Coffman.
Flower—Edith Boaz.
Nasturtium—Ruth Boaz.
Lily—Connie McCarver.
Oleander—Bernice Rascoe.
Mignonette—Gladys Strang.
Larkspur—Florence Adams.
Almond—Florida Spear.
Columbine—Mildred McCarver.
Peony—Ethel Morris.

This was a very pretty feature of the entertainment, resulting in the rose being declared the sweetest of all flowers.

Ina Dillow and Maud Ogilvie sang a duet, "Under the Old Umbrella," and there was an instrumental solo by Florence McCarver.

The affair closed with a contest for the laurel wreath. Alena Rowland was the queen and Edith Boaz attendant. The contestants for the wreath were, Music, represented by Ina Dillow; Mother Love, by Florida Spear; Military Valor, by James Campbell; and Pleasure, by Alena Stark. Each stated the claims for the wreath, which was awarded to Music. Military valor was presented by a well arranged march by numerous boys carrying American flags, and Pleasure by little girls carrying wreaths of flowers.

All in all it was a delightful affair. The annual commencement exercises of the college will commence Friday evening. The public generally is invited to all of the exercises. The following is the program:

Friday, May 20, 8 p. m.—"The Turn of the Tide," Philosophical and Korean-Literary Societies.

Saturday, May 21, 8 p. m.—"Antigon," Susan M. Key Literary Society.

Sunday, May 22, 11 a. m.—Commencement sermon, Rev. H. D. Kniekerbocker, Dallas, Texas.

Sunday, May 22, 8 p. m.—Sermon to Undergraduates, Rev. Jerome Duncan, Hillsboro, Texas.

Monday, May 23, 10:30 a. m.—Inter-Society oratorical contest (for Dr. Frank D. Boyd medal).

Monday, May 23, 3 p. m.—Oratorical contest (for G. W. Armstrong medal).

Monday, May 23, 4 p. m.—Field day.

Monday, May 23, 8 p. m.—Annual debate.

Tuesday, May 24, 10:30 a. m.—Oratorical contest (for W. Erskine Williams medal).

Tuesday, May 24, 4 p. m.—Annual address to literary societies.

Tuesday, May 24, 8 p. m.—Concert, music and oratory classes.

Wednesday, May 25, 10:30 a. m.—Graduating exercises and baccalaureate address, Dr. Alonzo Monk.

FORT WORTH UNIVERSITY

The music department of the Fort Worth University gave an interesting entertainment at St. Paul's Methodist church last night.

The first features on the program were piano selections by Miss Horn. Miss Horn is an accomplished young woman and the university should feel proud of having a student of her talent.

Miss Preuit then gave a vocal solo, "O Mio Fernando." The song was beautifully rendered, being sung with great expression and feeling. Miss Preuit's voice is as clear as a bell, and while she sang the audience listened in rapt silence.

The remainder of the program was varied with piano selections by Miss Horn and vocal solos by Miss Preuit.

As the closing feature Miss Preuit and Mr. Pease sang a duet. Mr. Pease then announced that after the entertainment refreshments would be served and invited every one to remain.

During the entire evening there was not a dull moment, the program was so nicely arranged and the selections of such high order that every one was pleased beyond their highest expectations.

Real Estate Men and Board of Trade Arranging to Receive the Immigration Agents of the Katy

Arrangements are being made today by Secretary B. E. Paddock of the Fort Worth Board of Trade, and Dell Modlin, representing the real estate dealers in the city, for the reception and entertainment of the 175 or 200 land and immigration agents and homeseekers who will arrive here Friday night at 7:45 over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad from the north. The party left St. Louis last night for Texas, and will make a tour of the entire state, visiting en route all the important points of interest in the state.

An effort is being made to have the visitors remain in Fort Worth an hour or so longer than the present schedule provides. The party is now scheduled to leave this city at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday over the Interurban for Dallas. General Passenger Agent W. C. Crush of the Katy was wired this morning and asked to delay the leaving of the party an hour or so. If this is done the local committee will be able to better entertain them.

The party is to be taken for a ride on the street cars around the Belt line, and in the rounds visit the stock yards. After which they are to be treated to a Dutch luncheon at the brewery, provided present plans are not altered. However, lunch may be served the visitors at the Stock Yards Exchange.

The coming party will be something similar to that of the Frisco, which came to the state some months ago, except that there will be among them more homeseekers—men looking for desirable locations. These gentlemen, especially, will be shown the city by the real estate dealers and conditions generally explained to them.

Local agents realize that it is necessary to make a good impression before the land hunters who will be with the party, and to this end everything possible will be done to show the visitors a good time while in Fort Worth.

MORGAN JONES HERE

Colonel Morgan Jones, president of the Wichita Falls and Oklahoma railroad, which has been under construction north-east from Wichita Falls Oklahomaward for some months, arrived in Fort Worth last evening and is here to confer with other members of the company.

The line has been completed to the present terminus, Byers, which is twenty-two miles from Wichita Falls. It is learned here today that further construction will be delayed until details looking to an extension into Oklahoma has been arranged. It is understood that the line is to be eventually built to Oklahoma City, and possibly further.

The present terminus is within one mile of Red river. While the twenty-two miles of road is completed and ready for active operation, service, passenger and freight, will not be instituted until June 1.

New Yorker Comes Through the City En Route to Mexico and Is Entertained at Country Club

The special car of M. K. Ryan, a New York railroad man, arrived in the city yesterday on train No. 1, Texas and Pacific.

Mr. Ryan is extensively interested in several railroads and is now on his way to Mexico to look into the interests of the Chihuahua and Pacific, which is being constructed.

Mr. Ryan is accompanied by his wife and child. Yesterday afternoon they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wharton at the Country Club. Mr. Wharton made every effort to show the visiting railroad man the city and also to give him a taste of Texas hospitality.

Mr. Ryan is much pleased with Texas and says he finds Fort Worth a booming town. "I was surprised, though," said Mr. Ryan, "to find such cool, pleasant weather here."

Today, on train No. 3, Texas and Pacific, the special left for El Paso.

An effort is being made to procure from the museum of Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, the "ancient harp of Tara's Hall," to be exhibited at the St. Louis fair. This harp is said to be the one played by Brian Boru, who lost his life in 1014, when the Danes were defeated by Ireland at the battle of Clontarf.

AN UNWRITTEN LAW.

A jury in New York state has upheld an unwritten law and James Newman, who killed the man who had wronged his home was given his liberty, and the jurors commend the killing with which he was charged.

Last January James Newman of Wappinger's Falls shot and killed Wilber Van Tassel in front of a hotel in Poughkeepsie. Van Tassel was about to enter a hotel with Newman's wife. He had met her on more than one occasion before, and the husband had been informed through a letter that just such a meeting was to take place again.

The first panel of the jury, numbering fifty, was soon exhausted under a battery of challenges from the attorneys. Then another panel was taken. Twelve peers of the land were finally selected. They were all married men, most of them having children. They swore that they would give Newman a fair and honest trial, and not one of those twelve men will allow any one to say that he did not do what was right under the circumstances.

This unwritten law has been enforced in Texas from time immemorial, and the chances are it will continue for a long time to be observed. It is a question, however, whether two wrongs ever make a right. The man who invades the sanctity of the home does wrong, it is true, but there is no one will question but that the woman extends the invitation or encouragement necessary to persuade his coming.

Secretary of War Taft is reported to have the "society liver," whatever that may be, and is indisposed. The secretary has been going a rather rapid pace since he resigned a judgeship in Ohio to go to the Philippines.

THE NATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

That the people will not madly accept what may be offered, when it is an unknown quantity, is shown in the present ante-convention conditions in the democratic party. It is contended by both parties that New York's electoral vote is a factor which must be figured with, and that without New York no candidate can be successful.

The democrats every four years spend the greater part of the time trying to find some one who can carry New York, and they urge the possible strength in that state of every candidate proposed. The republicans do not worry about New York so much, but yet they generally carry it. This year the friends of Judge Parker of New York have put him forward as a candidate for the presidential nomination by the democratic party, and New York has endorsed him, but contrary to expectations there has not been a rush to the band wagon.

doubt he will be heard of before this contest is over. The Telegram is not opposing Judge Parker, but The Telegram believes that the people would be better satisfied with him as a candidate if he would break the awful silence which has continued at all times in his vicinity.

Statures of Houston and Austin have been placed in stately hall in Washington. If the people of the nation will but read the story of the pioneer work in war and in colonization which was accomplished by these two men they will know why the people of Texas honor them. No country in the world has greater cause to honor its early settlers than has Texas to pay a tribute to these two.

The man who interrupted the services at the First Baptist church Sunday night to say that the penitentiary system of the state is wrong, is said to be demented, but there is no doubt he hit the nail on the head. Every state which has ever used convicts in mines has come to a day of repentance on the subject.

Queen Lil saw the fair and paid her own way through the Pike. The fair management did not recognize royalty in the matter of admission tickets, and she made the tour incognito, and while in her apartments at the hotel refused to see any one. The queen has returned to Hawaii via San Francisco.

It is rather discouraging to the fellow who really agrees with President Roosevelt on the race suicide question, and who has a large family, to be turned from house to house and flat to flat because the owners do not want to rent to those who have children in the family. With such restrictions growing on the part of house owners, there will be no place for children except in a tent.

The candidates of Tarrant county are to meet next Thursday at Arlington, which will be the first meeting of the campaign. There will be a final meeting in July, and possibly the majority of those now running will call it Waterloo when they select the place and get together.

The volunteer firemen of Texas raised a fund to purchase a bronze statue to surmount the monument in the capitol grounds at Austin instead of the stone figure there now. It is a wise movement, as the present figure is anything but imposing.

During this week it might be well to get in a little preliminary work on house cleaning and yard cleaning to be ready for the Cleaner Fort Worth campaign which is to start May 23.

Mr. Bryan says that he will go to St. Louis in an obscure and private capacity. Does that mean that he will be hog tied and gagged?

Next week is that fixed time for the spring clean-up. Let every one do his and her share.

NEW YORK SOCIETY SUFFERS FROM CONFESSION. If New York society is not controlled by money, what is it controlled by? Not brain. Here is no homogeneity. One sits at dinner between the president of a university and a stupid, callow youth. Certainly not similarity of principles and point of view. The Sunday bridge player, and the lady who never drives, even to church, on Sunday, are the best of friends.

A JOKE ON FRANK DANIELS. A recent incident which occurs to my mind, relates to a joke played upon me during the engagement of "The Office Boy" at the Victoria theater. What is generally regarded as the best of it, and the piece is a ditty written especially for me by Paul West and John Bratton, entitled, "I'm On the Water Wagon Now." A BIT OF SCOTLAND IN CANADA. At a point 145 miles north of Toronto on the Grand Trunk Railway System is reached one of the most magnificent districts in the Highlands of Ontario, known as the Lake of Bays District. The region comprises a series of connected lakes, over which large steamers are navigated. What greatly adds to the lake and sportsman's resort is the unmatched purity of the air one breathes upon its heights. The visitor forgets his ills under its reviving influence in less than a week, and sees life's problems in a smoother light, enjoying the good things of this life, which Nature and Providence have prepared for him. Its bracing morning breeze which rivals the celebrated atmosphere of Pike's Peak, Colo., imparts new lung power and fresh vitality.

FAMILY SNAKE CAME FROM FIREPLACE. ("New Orleans Times-Democrat.") "Ever wake up in the morning and find a snake crawling down through the cracks of an old-fashion country brick fireplace toward your bed?" asked the man who is fond of it's yards. "Ever have the jimmies? It's about the same. I had a number of years ago, when I was living in Arkansas I had just exactly this experience. I was stopping with a friend of mine over night, and as he had but two rooms in the house we had to sleep on the floor in the room set aside for the men folks of the family. It was a dilapidated old place, and the house was rapidly crumbling away. There was a double fireplace between the two rooms. When I roused from the night's sleep I had my face turned to the fireplace. I did not pay much attention to the thing at first, and, in fact, was dozingly looking about the old brick mantel, not being thoroughly awake at the time. But very soon I was wide awake. A striped snake about eighteen inches long was slowly making his way down through a crack in the old brick fireplace, and the crack reached the floor about six inches from my headrest. I was afraid of embarrassing my friend by calling out to him, but you know there are times when we can not afford to be as considerate as we would like, and this was clearly one of the times. I poked my friend in the ribs and told him there was a snake in the house. He merely grunted something at me, and was evidently not much disturbed by the thing. In the meantime the snake kept on coming down toward the floor. "Hey there!" I yelled at my friend again, "this darn snake is right here on us, and will be in bed with us in a minute." My friend yawned. THIS PITCHER'S ARM WAS HIS FORTUNE. PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 18.—The second chapter of a romance that started on a baseball diamond two years ago was made known today by Abram Nelson, of New Market, who announced the engagement of his niece, Miss Mabel Lefler, one of the Fair heirs, to George Whitley, of this city. Miss Lefler was the favorite niece of Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who supported her since she was a girl of 6 years. Under the terms of the settlement made between the Fairs and the Nelsons, Miss Lefler will receive $200,000. Young Whitley is a draughtsman in a local machine shop, and is without means other than his wages. He is a crack amateur pitcher, and won the heart of Miss Lefler when he twirled the ball for the New Market baseball club, of which Abram Nelson is president.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News. Law Offices of Henley & Costello, San Francisco, Feb. 17. To the legal profession of Texas: I was a witness to the following: About two years ago Prof. Yost of Palo Alto who was in an extreme condition due to advanced Bright's Disease, came to my office. He was attended by his physician who was himself a victim of Diabetes. The object of the visit was to meet a prominent business man who had for months been investigating an alleged cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and heard his verdict. He declared that the claims were fully proven and that the cure had been discovered. Both Prof. Yost and his physician at once adopted the treatment. Within six months both were so well along towards recovery that they considered themselves beyond danger, and at this date neither Bright's Disease nor Diabetes held any terrors for them, and the physician is successfully using the treatment in his practice.

Learning that my old law partner, Judge R. R. Bigelow, for many years chief justice of the state of Nevada, had Bright's Disease and that though he had had four or five of the best physicians, yet that he had been discovered. Both Prof. Yost and his physician at once adopted the treatment. Within six months both were so well along towards recovery that they considered themselves beyond danger, and at this date neither Bright's Disease nor Diabetes held any terrors for them, and the physician is successfully using the treatment in his practice.

CHURCHES TO VOTE ON A RESOLUTION AT THE MEETING

General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterians Is to Meet in Dallas for an Important Action

Rev. J. W. Caldwell and R. B. Bishop of this city, who, together with L. C. Curtis and Judge Templeton of Waxahachie, will represent the local presbytery in the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, will leave for Dallas tomorrow to attend the sessions of that body, which promise to be eventful ones in the history of the church.

At the coming sessions the question of the union of the Cumberland church and the American Presbyterian church, generally known as the Northern Presbyterians, will be taken up and in all probability decided in the affirmative.

One year ago the question of uniting was taken up by the general assemblies of the two organizations and referred to committees by each. The committees thus appointed both reported to their bodies in favor of the union, and therefore with the adoption of this report by the Dallas assembly, only one step will remain in order to consummate the plan. This final step will be the reference of the decision to the various presbyteries of the assembly for a ratification of their action by a two-thirds vote.

COMMITTEE FAVORS UNION. That the union is favored strongly by the committee is shown by the following extract from their report, which will be submitted for action:

"The union shall be effected on the doctrinal basis of the confession of faith of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, as revised in 1903, and of its other doctrinal and ecclesiastical standards, and the scriptures of old and new testaments shall be acknowledged as the inspired word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice."

"In adopting the confession of faith of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, as revised in 1903, as a basis of union, it is mutually recognized that such agreement now exists between the systems of doctrine contained in the confessions of faith of the two churches as to warrant this union—a union honoring alike to both. Mutual acknowledgment also is made of the teaching and doctrine of essential evangelical doctrine held in common by these churches, and of the divine favor and blessing that have made this common faith and service effectual. It is also recognized that liberty of belief exists by virtue of the provisions of the declaratory statement, which is part of the confession of faith of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, and which states that 'the ordination vow of ministers, ruling elders and deacons, as set forth in the form of government, requires the reception and adoption of the confession of faith, only as containing the system of doctrine taught in the Holy Scriptures.' This liberty is specifically secured by the declaratory statement, as to chapter 2 and chapter 10, section 3, of the confession of faith. It is recognized also that the doctrinal deliverance contained in the brief statement of the reformed faith, adopted in 1902, by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, for a better understanding of our doctrinal beliefs, reveals a doctrinal agreement favorable to reunion."

The Cumberland Presbyterian church, which numbers about 200,000 communicants and which has over 2,900 churches, owes its separate organization largely to the wave of religious fervor which spread over the south and west in the early days of the nineteenth century.

These revivals began in the southwestern part of Kentucky in a portion of that country which lay to the north of the Cumberland mountains. This revival did not meet with the approval of all the ministers of the Transylvania presbytery. There soon came to light a portion of the sentiment among them, some holding stoutly for the revival and contending that it was God's work, others were just as tenaciously opposed to it.

Very soon there were three issues between these parties. The first was the revival itself. The second came of a modification of the preaching standard, and the third issue involved doctrinal differences.

In its efforts to answer calls for preaching the Cumberland Presbytery decided to ordain men who did not come up to the Westminster standard of educational requirements. A bitter war was waged between these two parties, both in and out of the presbytery church courts, and in 1806 the Cumberland Presbytery was dissolved by the Kentucky synod as a disciplinary measure. Among those connected with the revival party and affected by the dissolution of the Cumberland presbytery were the men identified with the formation and foundation of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Finally, after four years of waiting for the Kentucky synod to reinstate them and after they had made every effort for reinstatement as a body of preachers they resolved themselves into an independent presbytery. The ministers who participated in this organization were Samuel McAdow, Finis Ewing and Samuel King. Thus through a peculiar chapter of accidents leading up to its birth the new church started upon its mission in the far west.

In the three years succeeding its organization the new church had grown in membership and had expanded so much in the territory covered that its division into presbyteries was necessary. According to the first Cumberland Presbyterian synod was formed in 1812.

It is the confident hope of the members of both churches that the division of their fathers may be settled at the coming session by the union of their sons.

FISHERMAN FALLS IN HOLE 150 FEET DEEP

TRUANT HUSBAND COMES TO GRIEF

Indian Territory Man Resorts to Subterfuge to Marry Neighbor Girl

BRISTOW, I. T., May 18.—The sequel to the desertion of a wife and eight children seven months ago was enacted at Bristow today when City Marshal Holmes Davidson arrested Harvey Anglin, alias U. L. Simpson, charged with bigamy.

It will be remembered that Harvey Anglin lived a quarter of a mile from the family of A. Stubblerfeld, near Sapulpa, for a year and by representing to the daughter of Mr. Stubblerfeld that a cousin of his from Kentucky desired to correspond with her, carried on the correspondence himself surreptitiously and later deserted his family, disguised himself, went to his own house to see if his disguise was complete, passed on to Stubblerfeld's, remaining two days and nights, and then married the daughter of Stubblerfeld as U. L. Simpson. Immediately after the disclosure of the deception officers were placed on the track of Anglin, but to no avail, until a few weeks ago, when the victim of his infamy returned to her parents, who had moved near Bristow. By means of decoy letters Anglin was introduced to Bristow ostensibly to reclaim his new wife. He was identified after his capture by Mr. Stubblerfeld and son.

THE PRESBYTERIAN GEN'L ASSEMBLY

Canvass of Delegates for Their Candidate for Moderator Spirited

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 18.—For two days commissioners to the Presbyterian general assembly, which convenes in the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, have been coming in, and at noon nearly all of those who will attend were in the city. Many of the delegates from the far west came in by special trains. Every arrangement for the comfort of the 700 commissioners has been completed, and the spacious auditorium of the great church is ready for the moderator to call the gathering to order. The canvass made today by the supporters of the various candidates for moderator has been active, though good natured. President James D. Moffat of Washington and Jefferson College appears to lead the race. Other names most frequently heard are those of Rev. Dr. J. Addison Henry of Philadelphia and the Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, secretary of the assembly's evangelistic committee.

The board of foreign missions held its ninth annual conference today in the Central Presbyterian church. The Rev. Robert F. Coyle, D. D., of Denver, presided, and the participants included many well known ministers, educators and missionaries.

TUNNEL SYSTEM WILL HANDLE CHICAGO MAIL

CHICAGO, May 18.—As a result of a conference in Chicago between special representatives of the postoffice department from Washington and officials of the Illinois Tunnel Company it is announced that within sixty days through mails received at the LaSalle street and Union stations will be transferred between these two points through the tunnels. By November 1 the entire tunnel system, it is stated, will be equipped to handle the mails between the railway stations, the temporary postoffice building at the foot of Washington street, and all sub-stations.

It is claimed that the use of the tunnels will be less expensive in the end than the present method of carrying the mails by wagon. The cost of the wagon service is about $107,000 annually.

E. R. THOMAS GIVES FUND AS MEMORIAL TO FATHER

NEW YORK, May 18.—Discouraged by their inability to raise sufficient funds for their projected new hospital building on the eve of renouncing $125,000 in conditional donations, the board of directors of the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat hospital have received from Edward R. Thomas $40,000 as a personal memorial to his father, General Samuel Thomas.

This unexpected gift will secure for the institution the conditional gifts which were about to be returned and makes possible the erection of what the directors predict will be the "finest special hospital in the world." The Thomas family a year ago donated to the same hospital the sum of $50,000.

SEN. QUAY'S CONDITION IS LESS ENCOURAGING

WASHINGTON, May 18.—United States Senator M. S. Quay's condition is reported to be less encouraging. Every precaution is being taken by those about him to prevent a relapse.

Miss Fanny J. Crosby, the blind hymn writer, has just found in the Presbyterian church of Metuchen, N. J., the organ she played fifty years ago while an inmate of the New York institute for the blind. She recognized the instrument at the first touch, and was so overjoyed that she burst into tears.

NORTH SIDE AND ROSEN HEIGHTS

Nash Furniture Company.

With covers laid for over two hundred guests, L. G. Pritchard, the new mayor of North Fort Worth, tendered to the city council and their friends an informal banquet at Rosen Inn, North Fort Worth, last night.

The dining hall was beautifully decorated with red, white and blue bunting and numerous long tables heavily laden with everything that is good to eat.

W. R. Booth of Fort Worth acted as toastmaster and the toasts responded to by the city officers present were short, but highly appreciated by the guests present.

Alderman Arthur responded to the toast, "Waterworks." He said: "It is very pleasing to me to have the opportunity to express my views on a subject which is at the present time of so much importance to us. As you all know, I am and have always been in favor of a water works system for North Fort Worth and will continue to express my views in this direction until we finally get a good system."

In response to the toast, "City Hall," Alderman Lydon said: "My mouth is full, but not nearly as full as my head on the city hall question. We need a city hall and we need one badly, and if Lydon could have had his way we would have had one two years ago. He pointed to the necessity of a city building, where the offices of the various city departments could be maintained and where the council could convene in a hall that would be able to hold its meetings."

Alderman John P. Grant, in response to the toast, "Bond Issue," expressed his views, which were along the lines of public improvements as necessitated by the issuance of bonds, but thought that there plenty of time yet to take up this matter, as the city was yet in its infancy.

KNOCKED OUT

Took a Clergyman From the Pulpit.

How improper food knocked out a minister so completely he had to resign from the pulpit and a simple change of diet restored him to health and vigor is an interesting tale.

"In November, 1901, I was compelled to surrender my life work as minister of the Gospel and move from Minnesota to California for my health. For twenty years I had suffered untold misery from constipation although I tried nearly every remedy I heard of and got only temporary relief. The constipation brought on various other troubles and finally broke my whole system down.

"On the following January I entered the hospital a physical wreck after two operations for constipation. My diet was a source of much worry.

"One day my wife heard something about Grape-Nuts food and insisted on my trying it. So she got some and I began eating Grape-Nuts without even an idea it would cure my constipation. But that's what it did for me by day I got better and better and the result is I have gained twenty pounds and am so strong and healthy I can actually do a hard day's work at manual labor.

"Simply by the change of diet alone the Grape-Nuts food completely cured me and I got something all the operations and medicines and remedies couldn't do. I believe after my experience there can not be a case of constipation so severe Grape-Nuts won't cure it. I will gladly answer any queries about this wonderful food. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Food to cure constipation must be rich in nutriment and completely assimilable, with very little waste. Grape-Nuts food is made on scientific lines to meet these requirements. Constipated folks should eat Grape-Nuts with the richest freshest cream they can get, for this milk is not advisable for an adult who is at all constipated. Trial proves.

RESTRAINS STUDENT BY AN INJUNCTION

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 18.—Ernest H. Hurd, a Yale senior, has been restrained by an injunction issued by Judge James Bishop from communicating with Mrs. Lavinia H. Foy, 96 years old, either by letter, in person, or in any other manner.

Hurd, whose home is in Wilton, Conn., is working his way through the university and has made his home at Mrs. Foy's. The latter, who has helped many poor students at Yale to gain an education, is wealthy and noted for her philanthropy.

The injunction was secured by her son and heir in conjunction with the trustees of the estate, who assert that Hurd has unduly influenced Mrs. Foy to give him large sums of money and has estranged her from her relatives.

Japan, with her 47,000,000 population, has 4,302,828 pupils in her elementary schools, or ninety-one in every 1,000; while Russia, with 130,000,000 population, has only 4,183,894, or thirty-two in every 1,000.

For Children, Too.

Mr. Wiley Hunt, Ennis, Texas, writes: We gave Drake's Palmetto Wine to two children who were afflicted with bed wetting. Two bottles of Drake's Palmetto Wine cured both. It is now a month since they took the last of the wine and no return of their trouble. I told a neighbor who had a child troubled same way what the wine did for our children. They got a bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine and in one week their child had no more trouble with bed wetting. The Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill., will send a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine free and prepaid to any reader of this paper who wishes to test Drake's Palmetto Wine without expense. A trial bottle often cures. One dose a day will cure any bladder or prostate trouble to stay cured.

FARMING LAW IN BASEBALL IGNORED BY THE MANAGERS

One section of the national baseball agreement is already a dead letter. That is the one which declares: "The practice of farming is prohibited," and then provides alleged methods of prohibiting it. By farming in baseball is meant any arrangement whereby a major league club loans a player to a minor league club, with the understanding that the same player or some others shall be returned to the loaning club at a certain time, usually the end of the current season.

league recipient of the loan cares to repudiate the arrangement or finds that he can do so without soiling his own hands in public, the major league manager is likely to lose the player magnate is likely to lose the player. The only effect of the new agreement has, therefore, been to make the major leaguers more cautious as to whom they loan players, as it depends wholly on the honesty of the minor leaguer whether the players are returned or not.

FAMOUS RUNNERS IN THE GREAT BROOKLYN HANDICAP

NEW YORK, May 18.—With the Brooklyn handicap less than two weeks off, turf interest is largely centered in this, the first of the great prizes of the eastern turf. It will be the race of a lifetime, unless all signs fail. With such great race horses as Africander, McChesney, Irish Lad, Hermis and Hamburg Belle facing the starter, to say nothing of full half a score of slightly lesser stars in the turf firmament, why would it not be a great race? If only Waterboy could join the band nothing else could be desired by the horse enthusiast, except of course a fast track, a clear day and an even start. All of these crack-a-jacks will be on edge when the day of the big race comes, with the possible exception of Hermis, who, as usual, is rounding into form somewhat slowly.

Elwood eligible, and Elwood will probably run. J. A. Drake has several eligibles, of whom Savable, winner of the 1902 futurity, or Runnels, which ran a bang-up race at Morris park, will be the selection. Mizzen is pretty sure to carry the colors of August Belmont, while to the Logan, which was second in the Metropolitan, James R. Keene will entrust his chances. Orthodox, a rattling 2-year-old, is among the prominent 3-year-olds who will answer bug's call, and John E. Madden is quite likely to add Pulsus on Robin Hood to the company. Besides these are several others, but those already mentioned are sufficient to make this year's renewal of the Brooklyn the greatest in its history.

CRANKY HUSBAND

A Detroit business man with "troubles of his own" caused by overwork and stomach trouble, is responsible for the following statement: "I was about the ugliest tempered man in ten counties. Dyspepsia and an unusual amount of work and business worry had so played upon my nerves that I was in a fit condition for a home for cranks. "Of course I took the usual amount of tablets and bottle stuff with little result. Anything in the shape of medicine was about as aggravating as a red flag to a mad bull. "They had been eating roast goose and onions, while I had been having my usual 'infants' food. Upon inquiry I found they each took Floyd's Dyspepsia Tablets and from chronic dyspepsia they had become healthy normal individuals, able to eat anything they pleased. Luckily I was not used to such a pointer and since the day I commenced taking Floyd's Tablets, not only has my dyspepsia vanished, but my disposition, as my wife says, has improved a hundred per cent. "Floyd's Tablets DO cure Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. They not only aid digestion, but remove the cause of the disease. Sold by all druggists or by mail, 50 large tablets for $1. A liberal sample will be sent free on request. Floyd Medicine Co., Detroit, Mich.

PAYING FANCY PRICES FOR OIL AND GAS LANDS

TULSA, I. T., May 18.—The Los Angeles Cherokee Oil and Gas Company is engaged in leasing large tracts of land in the Cherokee nation, two or more miles out of this place, and is paying fancy prices for the leases. Last week more than $10,000 passed into the hands of the people. Ten per cent royalty will be paid on all oil or gas produced. One-third of the bonus is paid down and the remainder is promised when the lease is approved by the secretary of the interior. The Cherokee citizens of that community are in high spirits over the prospects and are anxious to take allotments. Those holding an excess of land are having no difficulty in disposing of their improvements to their neighbors at prices ranging from $10 to $20 per acre.

HAVE MARRIAGE BY CONSCIENCE IN SWEDEN

COPENHAGEN, May 18.—Marriage contracted without either a civil or religious ceremony are becoming popular here since Miss Gronwall and Henry Exner set the example. They had gone to Paris a few months ago to study painting. Recently they published in the Parisian papers and in the Copenhagen Politiken the following announcement: "We have the honor to announce that we have become united in bonds of friendship and marriage free from formalities, without church or state to help us. For our friends such a declaration will be sufficient. We feel convinced that mutual happiness does not depend from the obligations imposed by law, but from mutual esteem and love, and we gladly renounce the friendship of those who shall not recognize the validity of our act without legal restraint." Following this first example, two young students of the Gutesburg University, Miss Garling and Frithjof Palmer, gave notice in the local papers that they had contracted a "conscience marriage" a few days ago without ecclesiastical or civil sanction. This announcement caused great excitement in the small university town. The family of the girl cast her off and the rector of the university publicly denounced the marriage. The action of the latter, however, was made the subject of a strong protest to the government, sent by more than 400 students.

BACKACHE

Backache with women means ovarian trouble. It means that something is very wrong with the delicate female organism. How dangerous the trouble is any sufferer can imagine when she feels the unbearable agony as if flesh were being torn from flesh. Nature is giving its own warning. No words could make it stronger.

The back is really very strong, and if it aches, look to the delicate organs which surround it. The ovaries and the kidneys cause the trouble.

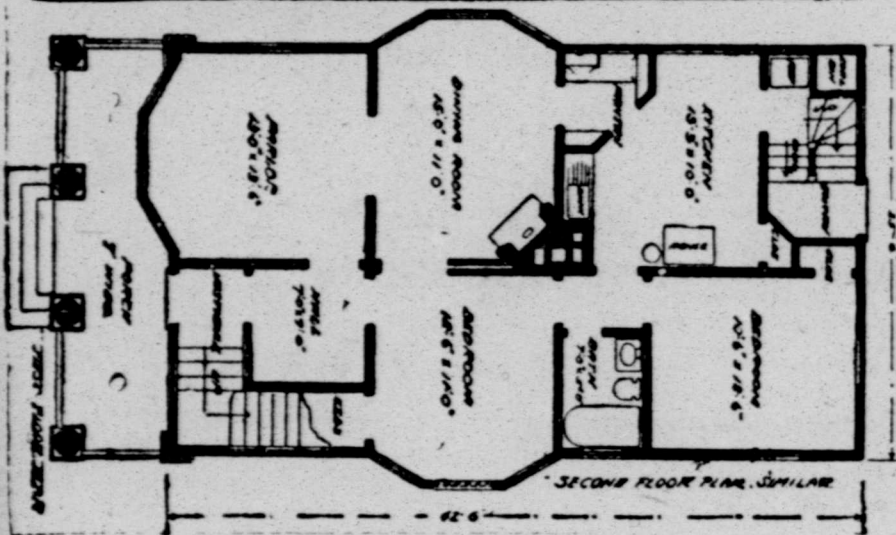

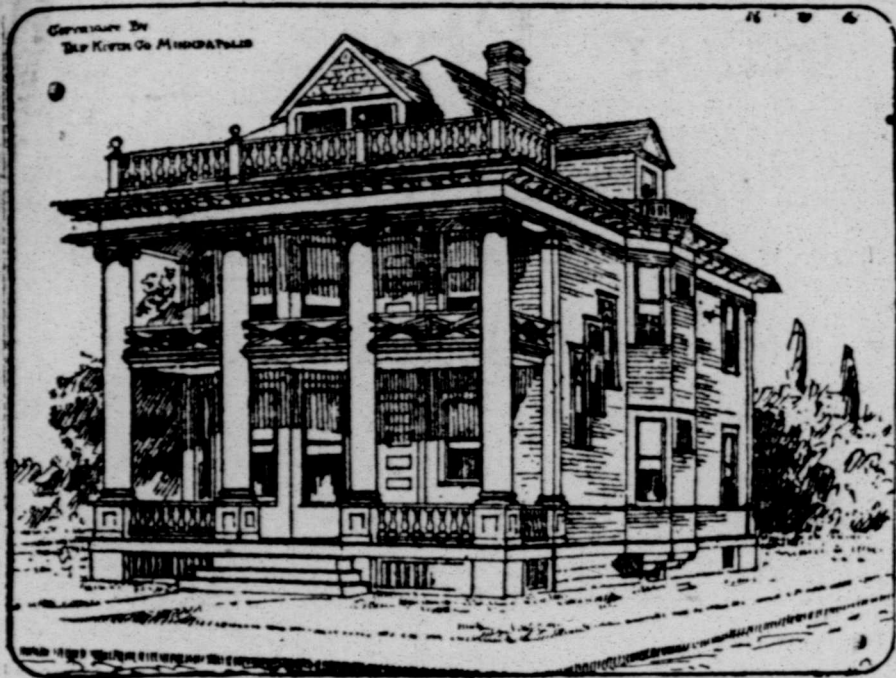

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui cures these so-called backaches because it regulates menstruation, relieves bearing down pains and strengthens the ovaries. It invigorates the organs of womanhood and naturally restores perfect health. No drastic drugs, but simple herbs do the work. Wine of Cardui, by imparting tone to the pelvic organs, removes the cause of kidney and bladder troubles. Don't wear out your life with unnecessary pains. Don't keep on calling it JUST COMMON BACKACHE. Cure yourself at home by taking Wine of Cardui. You can secure it of your druggist in $1.00 bottles.

GREENFIELD, ILL., July 10, 1904.
It gives me great pleasure to recommend Wine of Cardui, as I have used it for several months past for ovarian trouble of a very serious nature.

A TWO-FAMILY HOUSE BY WALTER J. KEITH

This design is for a class of building that is becoming very popular in the west and has been popular for a number of years in the east, namely, a "two-family" house.

As an investment for the average householder of moderate means they are held in high repute, the usual custom being for the owner to occupy one of the suites himself and rent the other. This gives him his own rent practically free. For the income derived from the extra apartment generally carries the property, pays the taxes and keeps it in repair.

At the same time many people have made very profitable investments by building these houses in numbers, of course, varying the style and plan somewhat to suit a varying demand and making a business of renting them.

The house is designed as narrow as possible, so that it will go on the average city lot, and there are two separate front doors, one for the lower apartment and one for the upper, thus keeping the families separate.

A columned archway between hall and parlor of first flat can be used if preferred to the single door opening, as shown on the plans. The living room or back parlor is of course to be used as the dining room, and a feature not often found in a flat is the liberal pantry between the dining room and kitchen, fitted up with shelving and cases for dishes and all conveniences.

There are two good bedrooms, besides bath, which, located between the two, is easy of access from both. There is ample space in the attic or third story for a servants' room for each flat, if desired. It will be noticed that in the back hall, there is space left for a refrigerator to stand. The second floor arrangement is practically the same as the first, except that the hall extends to the front of the house and there is a door opening onto the splendid porch which is provided for the families occupying either floor, so that each one has its own independent porch room. The basement is divided into two parts with separate heating apparatus in each.

The heating apparatus, of course, would be omitted if the house were to be built in Washington, Oregon or California, where the winters are mild, and in such event, this expense could, of course, be saved. There is also a laundry in the basement for the joint use of the occupants of the two apartments.

The stairway, hall and two main living rooms would be finished in oak or birch, balance of the rooms pine, poplar or cypress, painted or stained.

The cost of the building under the prices quoted below and a condition insuring a goodly amount of real competition among contracting builders, would be $3,100. If prices varied from the schedule quoted or the conditions were such as would deprive one of a goodly and fair amount of competition among the builders, the cost would, of course, vary accordingly; but after one has been up and down the house building proposition, it would be difficult indeed to find a design that can be built for any less money than this plan, that would give the equivalent. The prices forming the basis of the estimate as above noted are as follows: Excavating, per cubic yard $1.10 Rubble stone work, per perch (16 1/2 cubic feet) 1.50 Brick laid in wall, per 1,000 9.00 Lathing and plastering, per yard .14 Dimension lumber per 1,000, No. 2, 11.00 Flooring (No. 2, D. & M. fencing) 12.00 Sheathing boards (6-inch, D. & M. No. 3) 10.00 Shingles, "A" 2.25 Siding, "C" 17.00 Finish lumber, $20.00 to 30.00 Tin work, per square 6.00 Carpenters, per day, 9 hours 2.25 Masons, per day 3.00 Common labor, per day 1.50

PROTECT FOREIGNERS

ADMIRAL YATES STIRLING.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Uncle Sam has ordered Admiral Yates Stirling to proceed to Chefoo with the cruiser New Orleans to protect foreign interests. The Russians are evacuating the place and before the Japanese take possession it is feared that the Chinese brigands will loot and maybe murder all foreigners.

The mission of the New Orleans is, therefore, to protect all foreigners, although many Americans are in business there.

Admiral Stirling was born at Baltimore, Md., May 6, 1843, and was appointed to Annapolis in 1859. He was graduated in '63 and was assigned on the Onondago on the James river. He saw much service during the war and was promoted rapidly. He was assigned to command the naval station at San Juan, P. L., in 1890, but later was sent to Puget Sound and thence to the Asiatic station.

Admiral Stirling is considered a careful, cool officer, but brave and determined, just such a man as is needed in a delicate situation.

OFFICERS FOR THE MEDICAL COLLEGE ARE SELECTED

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Worth Medical college last night directors were elected as follows: Dr. Frank Gray, Dr. W. R. Thompson, Dr. James Anderson, Dr. Bacon Saunders, Dr. Frank D. Boyd. The directors elected Dr. James Anderson president, Dr. Frank D. Boyd vice president, Dr. Bacon Saunders secretary and treasurer. This schedule of officers insures the election of a faculty for the next year which will choose Dr. Bacon Saunders as dean of the faculty, which position he now holds. Dr. Saunders has been a tireless worker in behalf of the college, and it is contended by physicians who know of the school that the success of the institution has been through the efforts of Dr. Saunders as dean, assisted by an excellent faculty. The stockholders believe that any change now would be detrimental to the institution, and they want to grow and believe that the growth can only come with the same man at the head of the faculty who has had such marked success.

CZAR OF RUSSIA IS 36 YEARS OLD

Celebration of His Birthday Today Recalls Perilous Incidents of His Life

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—The foreign ambassadors called upon the czar today and on behalf of their respective sovereigns and rulers presented their congratulations on the occasion of the czar's 36th birthday. The anniversary was observed throughout the empire with decorations and special services in the churches. The capital was ablaze with color, but owing to the situation in the Far East the customary court reception and other social functions were not held. May is a month which the czar has come to regard as the most eventful of the twelve.

He came hazardingly near death in May. When traveling in Japan, before he became czar, he was attacked on May 13, 1891, by a fanatical Japanese, but the upraised sabre was dashed aside by Prince George of Greece. The coronation day of the emperor comes in May. Though he ascended the throne on November 1, 1894, Nicholas II. was not crowned until May 27, 1895. In Russia's war with Japan the czar is under fire even more than his admirals and generals. They must answer to him. He must face the criticism of the whole world. If he would seek to lay the blame on headstrong bureaucrats, he must expect to hear himself called a feeble judge of men. Where there is one man power, there is one man responsibility.

DIFFERS FROM HIS FATHER

Physically and mentally, Nicholas II. differs in a striking degree from his father, Alexander III. The son is of medium height, measuring 5 feet 6 inches. His figure is inclined to frailness. His face indicates a sensitive, even poetic nature. His eyes are those of a thinker rather than a man of action. They convey thought rather than seek to read it in others. Most of these characteristics the czar inherited from his mother, Alexander III. possessed a huge body, a practical, blunt mind, and a pessimistic opinion of human nature.

Unlike most men of artistic temperament, the czar is methodical in his habits. He rises punctually each morning at 8 o'clock, an early hour for Russian noblemen. He breakfasts with the empress at 9 a. m., and at 9:30 a. m. he shuts himself up in his study, where for an hour he reads newspapers or corresponds of special importance. At 10:30 a. m. he takes a walk in the palace gardens, and at 11 a. m. he returns indoors to confer with his ministers.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the czar has luncheon, after which he takes a drive. Later he holds audience with court officials, and at 4 p. m. he goes back to his study, where he consults himself with his books for four hours. Dinner is at 8 p. m., and then the czar swings to the very opposite extreme. Leaving the solemn library, he robes himself for the banquet hall; for there is no royal table so luxurious as that of Nicholas II.

If there are guests the czar spends the rest of the evening with them, and retires at 11 p. m. If not, he returns to his study at 10 and labors there until midnight. He is fond of having the czarina by his side when at work among his books and papers, and she silently sews as he reads.

IS DEEPLY RELIGIOUS

The czar is deeply religious. Those who have seen him at prayer often tell how at such times he seems to lose that cold reserve which usually characterizes him. He often weeps in church, and brushing away the tears, he smiles as if his heart was lightened of some burden.

In spite of all the brilliancy of the Russian court, there is a shadow on the life of its young ruler which many persons in many ways have tried to explain. Some say the czar is the victim of an incurable disease. Despite official contradictions, the report every now and then emanates from his palace that he is an epileptic. When a child, it is said, he had fits every four months, but of more recent years they have increased in frequency and violence. At one time the czar was compelled to give up all mental work and consign the cares of state to his uncle, the Grand Duke Michael. In 1899 the czar's skull was trepanned, an operation which is said to have relieved him considerably of his sufferings from cerebral pressure.

RAILROAD NEWS

The air is full of railroad rumors these days, and if the new lines which are proposed are built there will be some changes in the railroad map in southwest as well as in existing traffic arrangements. The Santa Fe railway, from Santa Fe to Fort Hays, N. M., a necessary link in the new extension. As a corollary of this deal, the present Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge line from Santa Fe to Antonio will be widened to standard gauge. It is said, however, that the Rock Island will quietly allow the former road to get possession of the Santa Fe Central. Whether the building of the Denver and Rio Grande into El Paso by the Gould interests closed a deal for the widening of the Santa Fe railway, from Santa Fe to Fort Hays, N. M., a necessary link in the new extension. As a corollary of this deal, the present Denver and Rio Grande narrow gauge line from Santa Fe to Antonio will be widened to standard gauge. It is said, however, that the Rock Island will quietly allow the former road to get possession of the Santa Fe Central. Whether the building of the Denver and Rio Grande into El Paso by the Gould interests means they are heading for tidewater on the Pacific coast, as well as the Rock Island is left to the imagination of students of railroad situations. But in all this the El Paso and Southwestern seems to be in a measure involved, and Douglas is thereby interested.

AN INTERURBAN SYNDICATE

A syndicate has been organized in Illinois for the purpose of constructing an interurban railroad 250 miles long, using Springfield, Ill., as a center from which to diverge in various directions. The company is to be known as the Decatur, Springfield and St. Louis.

The first construction on the line was commenced last year upon 150 miles of the road extending from Decatur, Ill., west to Springfield and south from Springfield to East St. Louis. For convenience in financing the enterprise it was found better to divide the scheme into small railroad corporations. The name of the Decatur, Springfield and St. Louis railroad company was dropped, and the St. Louis and Springfield railway company is now building a road south from Springfield and the Illinois Central Tractor company is constructing a line east from Springfield.

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

The directors of the Mexican Southern railway have recommended the payment of dividend of 2 1/2 per cent per annum on the outstanding stock for the nine months to December 31, 1903, amounting to $5,000,000, payable to the stockholders on or before June 1, 1904. The stock is valued at $200,000,000, and carrying forward $3,567,000 sterling. It has been known for some time that a dividend probably would be declared on the stock and, as a result, there has been a material advance in price of shares.

MILL GIRL MANAGER GREAT DUKE FARM

NEW YORK, May 18.—From a mill girl to the manager of property valued at millions of dollars. From an employe at the factory to the virtual boss of a force of 400 servants on the largest "landscape farm" in the United States. From wages at the loom, which averaged $40 a month under the most favorable conditions, to a salary of $5,000 a year and Christmas gifts of blocks of profitable stock. From a modest frame cottage to a granite palace with servants at her command. And all within ten years.

This, in a nutshell, is the story of the meteoric career of Margaret Smith, who runs James E. Duke's great farm at Somerville, N. J. Although the tobacco king's suburban property covers 2,500 acres and nearly $2,000,000 already has been spent in beautifying it, he persists in calling her "Maggie." He makes nothing there but sufficient hay and vegetables to meet the needs of his horses and servants.

Maggie Smith is the manager of it. Mr. Duke has so much confidence in her that he authorizes her to draw all the checks for vast expenditures on the estate in her own name. Her sister, Kate, is the housekeeper of this great bachelor home and a cousin is her assistant.

MAYOR ELOPES AND IS OPEN TO FINE

Baltimore Executive Who Ran Away with Widow Breaks City Statute

BALTIMORE, May 18.—Mayor Robt. M. McLane of this city, when he eloped a few days ago, overlooked an old statute and is himself subject to fine. The mayor probably did not know it, but there is an old statute on the law books, placed there to discourage elopements, which provides a fine of $100 for two persons resident of Maryland to go outside of the state to marry.

Mayor McLane eloped to Washington with Mrs. Mary van Bibber, a charming widow of Baltimore's most exclusive set, and was married to her by the Rev. George C. Carter, rector of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church.

The first news of the wedding came from Mayor McLane over the long distance telephone at Washington immediately after the ceremony, when he called up Assistant Solicitor Poe at the city hall and apprised him of the happy event. The plans of the couple were most carefully guarded and, while some friends believed that Mayor McLane was engaged to Mrs. Van Bibber, none had any intimation that a marriage was so soon contemplated.

Mrs. McLane is the widow of Dr. John van Bibber, who died about 12 years ago. For several years Mr. McLane has been devoted to her, but all inquiries about a marriage have been met with the reply by both parties that it was a personal affair of their own. Mrs. McLane is considered one of the handsomest and most intellectual women in Baltimore, and at the same time one of the best gowned. Both Mayor and Mrs. McLane are about 36 years of age.

WHITE MAN SPENDS HOUR IN PILLORY

For First Time in Years Delaware Punishes Man Before Public in This Way

DOVER, Del., May 18.—For the first time in several years a white man stood in the pillory in the presence of a large crowd of curious persons. The unfortunate was Daniel W. Jackson, a Milford horseman, who, while drinking, forged an endorsement upon a check and obtained $6, including some merchandise.

In court he attempted to defend himself, but made such a poor lawyer that his case became ridiculous, the jury convicted him and he was sentenced to one hour in the pillory, one year in jail and to pay a fine of $500.

During the hour of his confinement song birds made merry in the trees of the grove surrounding the jail, but the unfortunate man, alone in a crowd, reached for his hat with the hand that could clutch the rim and pulled it over his eyes to cover his humiliation.

MEXICO HAS NOT CHANGED FRONT

Mexican Consul Says Texas Officers Had Present Rights A Month Ago

EL PASO, Texas, May 18.—Hon. Francisco Mallen, Mexican consul at this point, discussing the statement of State Health Officer Tabor that Mexico has changed front and has granted concessions to the state of Texas regarding the quarantine, says:

"Mexico has never refused to allow the health officers of the state of Texas or of the United States to come within her borders, but has always extended them every courtesy, and to the knowledge of the people of this city, the state and United States quarantine officers stationed here have been crossing into Mexico unofficially for years, or ever since their offices were created here.

"Mexico has not changed her original position, as Dr. Tabor says, but is now in the same position that she was at first—willing to allow foreign health officers to come there and to show them every possible courtesy, but having never recognized them officially. Our superior board of health was willing from the first to allow the state of Texas to send its health officers to any point in the republic, and to show them all courtesies, just as it is now, and there has not been the slightest change in this from the very first, as far as Mexico is concerned."

PRESS PARLIAMENT AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 18.—Everything is in readiness for the opening tomorrow of the world's press parliament, in which journalists from all parts of the civilized world will take part. The program for the opening day calls for addresses by Secretary of State Hay, Charles H. Taylor of Boston, Paul Adam of Paris, Governor White of West Virginia and numerous other men of note. The sessions are to be held in Festival hall of the World's Fair.

The clock placed in the hall of the Holborn (England) borough council is at least 250 years old, and has been in the possession of the local authorities for that period. It still keeps good time.

FACTS IN NATURE.

The fertile fields lay fallow until an unfortunate wind carried the seeds of some wild and worthless plants there, and they quickly took root and flourished. This is the case too with the thin body, weak from overwork, brain fag, nervous prostration, for in such cases the seeds of disease, which are the germs of grip, typhoid, catarrh, pneumonia, gain entrance to the body and there find a fertile field for development and soon a train of diseases follows. Almost any grave change in health is at once betrayed by the loss of flesh, which shows most often in the face. This co-exists with impoverished blood, a feeling of weariness and languor.

NATURE'S HEALTH-GIVING PLANTS.

Improved. When persons find themselves losing weight they should heed the warning, and use the proper means in time before disease fastens on them. The food is taken into the body at intervals, but the system requires nourishment constantly and without interruption. To strike a balance in the supply and demand is the function of the liver, which takes out the nourishing part of the food and stores it up till needed by the tissues. For this reason a certain degree of plumpness and roundness of the features is an index of good health, and on the contrary, wrinkles and protruding bones are an indication that either the system is not getting enough food or that it is not being properly assimilated, and nine chances to ten it is the latter, the trouble being located in the stomach. A tonic alternative is needed to digest the food. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made up of roots and herbs, is a concentrated extract of nature's health-giving plants, found in the woods and fields; of purely harmless ingredients, containing no alcohol or narcotic. For forty years it has stood the test of time, and stands to-day in a proud position of superiority. It works in the natural way, purifying the blood, toning up the stomach and gently stimulating the liver and bowels to renewed effort. It reaches the root of the disease and stamps it out from the system, so that the patient is cured to stay cured. The following letter is only an example of the many that are received daily by Dr. Pierce from grateful patients:

"I consider Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the most wonderful blood remedy that a sick man can use," writes Mr. P. Schug, of 653 Lake Street, Appleton, Wis. "Nine bottles changed me from a physical wreck to a well man within a few short weeks. Some two years ago, through complications in sickness I became blood-poisoned, which spread through the entire system, making me very miserable. Skin became yellow, eyes glassy, and step slow and heavy. A general falling off of flesh followed the loss of appetite, and I became thin and emaciated. I felt much worried, as the doctor's prescriptions did not help me any, but after I had taken only one bottle of Golden Medical Discovery I felt that I was on the road to speedy recovery, so I continued taking it regularly for ten weeks, and am glad to say that at the end of that time the poison was eliminated from my system and I was in wonderfully good health and strength."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, over 1000 pages, is sent by Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of 21 cents in one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound.

PATIENT TELLS OF PASTEUR INSTITUTE

Policeman McMillan of Dallas Back After Three Weeks Treatment at St Louis

SNYDER, Okla., May 18. Jonathan DeLay and his 17-year-old bride were married Saturday evening, after a strategic movement that consumed more than a week in its operation. The bride, who was Miss Effie Bills, is the daughter of a prominent farmer, J. W. Bills, who, together with his wife, refused their consent to the marriage. The girl was incarcerated for a week in a room from which escape was deemed impossible. The girl's brother returned home, learned the facts, and took the girl's side. A chum of the two, Tony Summers, went to the Bills farm and engaged Bills in conversation. While thus engaged DeLay and young Bills drove up in a buggy. The father called to his wife, ordering his shotgun brought out; the wife was obeying when she was seized suddenly by DeLay, who held her a captive and at the same time Summers made the father a prisoner. Young Bills approached the house, kicked in a window, aided his sister to the ground and together they escaped down the road until DeLay and Summers caught up with them.

DALLAS, Texas, May 18.—Policeman R. L. McMillan returned home last night after having undergone four weeks' treatment at the Pasteur Institute at St. Louis, Mo. Mr. McMillan was bitten on the right hand on the night of April 19 by a dog supposed to have been mad. In speaking of his trip to a reporter Mr. McMillan said: "As soon as I had set foot in the Pasteur Institute I was given a hypodermic injection of some of the Pasteur medicine, and was given one each afternoon at 4 o'clock during my stay at the place. The treatment has a tendency to excite the nerves and produce fever, yet on the whole is not so bad, when you stop to consider the benefit to be derived. I was in bed on the first day of my arrival and the doctor informed me four days later that I did well in coming to St. Louis when I did; there is no doubt in my mind that the dog which bit me was mad. I took my first treatment Sunday, and fifteen days from that date I will know whether or not I am safe from the effect of the bite. The officials in charge of the institute informed me that if I had had the wound cauterized immediately after it was inflicted I would have been safer. The record of the institute shows that 149 out of every 150 whose cases were the same as my own recovered; where the wound is cauterized 249 out of every 250 come out all right. "The Pasteur Institute is a splendid institution, well managed and patients are shown every care and consideration. There are patients there from all over the world. "Dogs are not permitted to run loose in the city of St. Louis, and every dog I saw while there was on the end of a chain. If dogs are permitted to run at large they should be muzzled." Mr. McMillan visited the World's Fair several times while in St. Louis, and states that the Texas building is the finest state building on the ground, and that not only Texans but all visitors pronounce it as such.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, May 18.—Marketable cattle made the best showing today than for any day this week, the supply for local trading figuring close around 1,450 head.

With the exception of the very best prime steers the market on this class of butcher cattle ruled 5 cents lower. Several loads of good heavy steers of 1,000 pounds and better sold at $2.85 with the bulk at $3.55@3.75.

Cows generally sold slow and weak with little if any change in values from yesterday. The best sold around $2.50 @2.75, with the bulk at a loss of 25c. The best changing hands around $2.75 @2.85. Salesmen are discouraging the heavy receipts of this grade of cattle, as they claim they have no substantiality.

The hog market with a fairly good supply offered and influenced by higher openings elsewhere, opened strong at a small advance over Tuesday, closing slow and dull with practically all advance lost. Missouri valley points, while showing a strong opening, lost 5 to 10 cents during forenoon trade, late receipts having a depressing effect on local trade. Best hogs sold early at $4.80, the bulk of good hogs landing around $4.65@4.75.

The recent rain has done some good, but was not sufficient to make the grass come in a hurry, says the Colorado Clipper. The death rate for some is great, while for others it is light. We believe that stockmen must get down to business and run their business by business methods and not to be governed by men who have had no experience. The state of Texas said through its commissioner that sixty-four head could be run on a section while experience of fifteen years teaches that twenty-five head is sufficient, and we believe that when these rules have been faithfully kept not one hoof of cattle has been lost more than during any other ordinary year. If we want to raise better cattle we must protect them by giving them food.

REPRESENTATIVE SALES

STEEPS—Excepting the best quality heavy fed steers, salesmen were generally of the opinion that current values today were 5c lower than yesterday. Prime fed cattle of 1,000 pounds and better sold steady at $3.85, the bulk changing hands at $3.15@3.65. The sales:

POWER OF THE DIME

Never Greater Than Now

Little Coin Will Now Bring Sixteen Superb Views of the World's Fair That The Telegram Is Distributing

Some great rich man (it is forgotten whether he was good or not) when at the point of death thought of some important engagement he ought to keep and exclaimed: "A million dollars for an inch of time!"

That was surely a war-value which he placed on time, but now we are in the golden era of peace and prosperity, and things are cheaper.

Practically speaking, a little dime will now buy what it costs millions of money and years of time to produce.

For instance, a single art portfolio of the "Forest City" series of World's Fair views conveys clearly and accurately to the mind and gives perfect ideas of the immense exhibition structures and elaborate exhibits which involve vast sums of money.

And just think, sixteen of these views, worth at retail, if purchased as original photographs, fully $8, can be had for a single dime.

It is fortunate for the cause of intellectual advancement that an object of such artistic and educational value can be secured for so trifling a sum, so trifling, indeed, that there are none so poor as to be unable to secure it, each week and thus become possessed of the best and most reliable pictorial and descriptive history of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition which will be given to the public.

Never before has so artistic and so valuable an educational work been offered at a figure so low, and that this fact is fully appreciated is evidenced by the great popular demand for the portfolios, which is increasing from day to day.

This paper is glad to place within reach of its readers a series of views in the highest style of art, and at a price everyone can afford, as may be seen from an inspection of the views themselves and a perusal of the offer which appears from time to time in our announcements.

INSANE YOUNG MAN SHOOT HIS MOTHER

NEW YORK, May 18.—William Hedermann, 13 years old, has shot and seriously wounded his mother in East Chester.

At the hospital Mrs. Hedermann said she did not think her son was of sound mind, as he had frequently declared that as soon as he got money enough to pay his way to Washington he was going there to kill President Roosevelt. The immediate cause of the shooting, she said, was his refusal to give her son money with which to buy whisky.

GIRL RUNS AWAY FOR CIRCUS LIFE

Daughter of Famous Calvert Family of Maryland in Rash Escapade

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Members of northern society in Washington are discussing with great interest the escapade of Elizabeth Calvert Austin, a daughter of the famous old family that settled in Maryland with Lord Baltimore, who dressed herself in a suit of her father's clothes, cut off her hair and ran away from home to become a circus rider.

She is seventeen years old, tall, dark and pretty. The fact that she was taken back to her home, repentant and tearful, was due to the good sense of a brakeman on the Virginia fast freight, who notified the Washington police that a very pretty girl, dressed in man's clothing, had stolen a ride on his train from Proffett Station to Alexandria.

When they reached Alexandria the brakeman took her to the house of a woman friend, who supplied her with feminine garb, bought her a railroad ticket and started her home.

HER SON IS MISSING

Chief of Police Rea has received a communication from Mrs. M. L. Perry of 513 West Third street, Sal Lake City, asking the help of the local police department in helping her to find her missing son, Mazo Perry, who came to this state some time ago.

Recently he was located at Mansfield, but they are now between the St. Louis and the Pacific coast. The mother believes, however, that the lad, who was only 15 years of age, is in the vicinity of this city.

NO TRACE OF BROWN

No trace has been discovered as yet of J. E. Brown, who disappeared mysteriously from North Fort Worth, as told in yesterday's Telegram. The department also announces that no clues have been obtained.

COTTON BELT DEPOT AT TYLER REJECTED

AUSTIN, Texas, May 13.—It was thought the row between the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company and the people of Tyler would be ended, when the railroad commission issued on the 18th of February an order requiring the Cotton Belt people to erect an adequate depot in that city.

SOLDIERS LOOK LIKE TOMMY ATKINS NOW

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The American soldier in a very short time will look so much like Tommy Atkins and do so many things the British soldier is required to perform that it will be hard to distinguish one from the other.

The latest approach to the British look is accomplished by an order issued today by Acting Secretary Oliver, directing a number of changes in the caps of officers.

POLICE NEWS

Truly, the way of the transgressor is hard. It may seem fine to play hooky, borrow a bicycle without permission and go off for an afternoon's sport, but a little white boy who tried it yesterday is presently doing some Buster Brown resolving in the city calaboose.

All went well until he fell off the wheel, taking the greater part of the skin off his face, and then to add to his misfortune he fell into the hands of Officer Turner, while leaving the wheel at a repairing shop to repair the injuries done to it.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY BARGAINS in CHILDREN'S OUTFITS

CLEVELAND'S NAME RECEIVED WITH APPLAUSE

Cleveland's Name Cheered and Assistant County Attorney Fails to Remember When He Starts to Quote Parker

Reference to Grover Cleveland as the man who had twice carried the country and as one who could do it again was received at the Parker meeting in this city last night with a painful silence, lasting but a few seconds, and then as one of the more bold broke into applause, a wave of approval swept over the assembly and the remarks of Captain Paddock, the speaker, were drowned for a time in loud applause.

Preceding this remark, Captain Paddock, who consented to speak only after frequent urging, had said that he was a Parker man because in his opinion the jurist was the strongest man but one who could be put before the country. That other had not been put forward as a candidate.

The meeting, which had been called for the purpose of organizing a Parker Club, was held in the county court room, twenty-seven persons, including three reporters and an editor being present.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order and its purpose explained by Q. T. Moreland in a few brief remarks, summing up the sentiment for Parker. As he concluded his name was suggested for temporary chairman by Senator Hanger and chosen by acclamation. John Beavers was named for temporary secretary and later upon motion both men were chosen as the permanent officers of the organization.

On motion of Drew Pruitt a committee of three was appointed to draw up a pledge to be signed by the members. This committee was composed of Drew Pruitt, T. C. Richardson and B. D. Tarlton.

While the committee retired to an adjoining room to prepare the pledge a number of those present were called upon for speeches.

Among the first to respond was Assistant County Attorney Buck Eggen, in his maiden political speech, he launched in a eulogium of the New York jurist, giving as his reasons for supporting the man the fact that he considered him the best representative of conservative democracy and because he was the strongest man with which to carry the doubtful states. Continuing, he said: "I am for Judge Parker because he says—" and a titter in the audience caused the attorney to go on desperately and say for the silent jurist that he was a man who represented the party and was not bigger than the party, and that he was a man who stood for high American ideals without being afflicted with a running-over at the mouth.

Among those present last night were: Judge B. D. Tarlton, W. P. McLean, Jr., Hon. William Capps, Senator W. A. Hanger, C. T. Rowland, Harry McCart, Sheriff John T. Honea, Captain B. B. Paddock, A. J. W. P. McLean, Jr., favored Parker as the man who would run Roosevelt the hardest race and be likely to beat the present occupant of the presidential chair. He also criticized the manner in which the Hearst campaign was being carried on, saying that the man was excusable, however, having been born rich and brought up to think that anything could be bought.

The strongest speech of the evening from a political standpoint was made by A. J. Baskin, who urged Parker as the man to carry the needed states and urging that a declaration for Hearst in states that did not contribute to the democratic electoral vote should not be allowed to govern.

Captain Paddock in his speech touched upon the negro question as the real question of the day and as presenting far graver dangers than any experienced in this country. The Civil war not excepted. The first effects of the negro's false exaltation he predicted would be felt not in the south, but in the border states. President Roosevelt he characterized as the most unsafe man ever placed in the presidential chair, not excepting Andrew Johnson. Clarence Ousley followed upon similar lines, announcing to the meeting the repetition of Judge Reagan's advice to Bryan.

The pledge committee reported back to the meeting, submitting the following pledge for the Central Democratic Parker Club of Tarrant county:

To the Honorable Q. T. Moreland, Chairman of the Central Democratic Parker Club of Tarrant County: We the undersigned committee, appointed to draft a pledge to be signed by those becoming members of this club, beg leave to report the following pledge to be adopted:

We, the undersigned members of the Central Democratic Parker Club of Tarrant county, recognizing the eminent fitness of the Honorable Alton B. Parker, gentleman, jurist and loyal democrat, for the nomination to the exalted position of president of the United States, do hereby pledge ourselves to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of the Honorable Alton B. Parker of New York for said nomination.

DREW PRUITT, Chairman.
T. C. RICHARDSON.
B. D. TARLTON.

On motion the chair was authorized to appoint four committees of three members each to circulate the pledge and secure signatures. These committees were later given power to appoint subcommittees as found advisable. It was also decided to have the pledge offered for signature at tomorrow's meeting at Arlington.
