CAPTURE OF KIN CHOU BY JAPS CLOSES FIVE HOURS HARD FIGHTING

JAPS IN PURSUIT OF FLEEING RUSSIANS

Position at Kin Chou Is Lost as Well as That on the Southern Heights

ARTILLERY STILL AT IT

Story of Loss of 15,000 Japs Is Discredited—Have Made
Their Position Strong

TOKIO, May 27, 10 a. m.—After five hours of desperate fighting, the Japanese captured Kin Chou yesterday evening. Nanguan Ling, the stronghold of the enemy, was taken later after a hot fight. An artillery duel still continues.

The Russian gunboat bombarded the Japanese left flank from Tallienwan bay, while the Japanese warships worked with the army from Kinchou bay.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN FROM THE HEIGHTS

LONDON, May 27.—A dispatch from Tokyo to the Central News, dated today, says:

The fighting which culminated in the Japanese occupation of Kin Chou was practically confined to an artillery duel, which, beginning at dawn of May 26, continued without intermission for five hours. Three Japanese warships in the Kin Chou bay co-operated during their heavy guns on the Russian positions. The Russians' gunboat in Tallienwan bay also joined in the fight and bombarded the left flank of the Japanese army.

TOGO HAS BLOCKADE AROUND PENINSULA

TOKIO, May 27, 10 a. m.—Vice Admiral Togo has now established a complete blockade around the southern end of the Liao Tung peninsula. This completely envelopes Port Arthur from sea, and probably marks the opening of the final investment of the town and its fortifications.

JAPS SWEEP RUSSIANS FROM THEIR DEFENSES

TOKIO, May 27, noon.—The Japanese troops have swept all the Russians from their defenses west of Tallienwan bay. It is now probable that the latter will be capable of offering any further serious resistance in the territory north of Port Arthur.

HAYASHI DISCUSSES PLANS OF JAPANESE

LONDON, May 27.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, in discussing the recent fighting north of Port Arthur, said today:

"Kin Chou will be occupied as the first base. The neighboring hills will be strongly fortified so that they can be held indefinitely. For food supplies and ammunition Port Dalny will be the second base. The position of Kin Chou will be of invaluable aid in the campaign against Port Arthur. The hills command a position in the country for several miles in the direction of Port Arthur.

ST. PETERSBURG FULL OF WILDEST RUMORS

ST. PETERSBURG, May 27, 1:50 p. m.—Owing to the fact that communication with the defending army of Port Arthur is cut off, the war office here admits that it is not in a position to question the Tokyo reports that the Japanese have carried the outer works at Kin Chou, but from what is known of the disposition of General Stoessel's forces, the authorities apparently are convinced that only the old town of Kin Chou was taken. The heights to which the Russians are said to have returned, are really the key to the entrance of the Kwan Tung peninsula. They are called Liao Hushan. The position was strongly fortified and was of exceptional natural strength, due to the fact that it could not be reached by the guns of the warships. If this position has been taken the war office believes there must have been very heavy loss on the side of the attackers.

It is not believed that the Japanese will venture to cross the neck as an advance toward the position (Liao Hushan) in their rear would subject them to attack both from Liao Hushan and from General

PRINCESS' NECKLACE SELLS FOR $88,000

NEW YORK, May 27.—The total sum realized from the first day's sale of jewels belonging to the late Princess Mathilde, says the Herald's Paris correspondent, was $93,483, almost all of which was paid for a single number, a splendid pearl collar of seven strands, comprising 384 pearls given by Napoleon I to the Queen of Westphalia.

M. Mannheim, an expert, valued the necklace at $100,000. The bidding began at $20,000, but leaped immediately to $50,000. After spirited bidding the necklace was sold to a dealer for $88,000.

The next highest price of the day was $3,120, paid for a diamond and ruby bracelet.

M McNALLY LEAVES LESS THAN MILLION DOLLARS

CHICAGO, May 27.—The widow, children and other immediate relatives of Andrew McNally are made the beneficiaries in his will, which has been filed for probate. The personal property is valued at $400,000 and the real estate at $100,000.

Delia M. McNally, the widow, is bequeathed the Chicago homestead and the winter home at Altadena, Cal.

Frederick George McNally, a son, is to hold in trust the stock held by the estate in Rand, McNally & Co. The dividends are to be divided in five equal parts for the widow and children.

OPIUM FIEND CUTS THROAT WITH RAZOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 27.—With his throat cut from ear to ear and windpipe completely severed, P. M. Darst, at one time one of the bright young reporters of the Atlanta Constitution and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, is lying at the point of death at St. Anthony's hospital in this city, with little prospect of recovery.

Dependent of the recent death of his wife and because of the fact that he could not resist the opium habit, Darst attempted to dispel what appeared to him the nightmare of life by cutting his throat with a razor at about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the J. J. Prewett boarding house, 28 East Seventh street.

BIONDI'S GROUP WAS IMMORAL

The Italian's Conception Was Good Art, But an Offense to Decency—He Will Sue

NEW YORK, May 27.—Signor Ernesto Biondi, it is reported, has instructed his attorney to bring an action for breach of contract against the trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in reference to his group entitled "Saturnalia."

According to Signor Biondi, the Metropolitan Museum of Art contracted to place "Saturnalia" on exhibition for a year. It was installed in the new east wing of the museum, but the National Sculpture Society of New York, for certain of its members, decided that it was not good art, but an offense to public morality, and protested against its acceptance by the museum. Signor Biondi declares that he received an offer of $1,000 as compensation for the non-exhibition of the bronze, which he indignantly refused.

He asserts that the only reason he seeks is the exhibition of the Saturnalia, which was awarded the grand prix at the Paris exposition of 1900, and of which a replica has been bought by the Italian government and placed in the national gallery in Rome.

MURDERER REHEARSES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 27.—"Dutch" Fisher, the condemned murderer from Toledo, sentenced to die July 7, was yesterday the subject of a mock electrocution in the penitentiary.

At his own request, Fisher was taken to the death chair. The clamps were adjusted, the straps tightened, and the black cap slipped over his face. He laughed as the cap was taken off.

"I'm not afraid of it," he said. "I just wanted to see how it felt. One is certainly looked in tightly."

He walked back to the death cell as if he had forgotten how fatally his next "sitting" would result.

LONG DISTANCE PHONE LINE FROM THE SOUTH

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 27.—The Bell Telephone Company today began estimates for a long distance line between Kansas City and Joplin, to connect with a new line that is being built from St. Louis to Joplin and thence through the Indian Territory into Central Texas. Over a million dollars have been appropriated for these extensions, which, with the Bell connections east of St. Louis, will make the longest telephone lines in the world.

PERJURY CHARGED IN CRIPPLE CREEK TROUBLE

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 27.—A warrant charging perjury has been sworn to by Attorney F. J. Hanks of the Miners' Union for the arrest of Charles H. McKinney, released from jail yesterday after a long confinement awaiting trial for alleged attempted train wrecking.

THESE ARE DULL DAYS IN THE "STREET"

Being No Lambs to Shear, the Brokers Are at a Loss to

2500 CLERKS "FIRED"

Even J. Pierpont Morgan Cuts
Stenographers' Salaries
Twenty Per Cent

NEW YORK, May 27.—Wall street is having such a period of business depression as it has not experienced in several years, and one result of it is that hundreds of clerks have been dismissed.

One of the largest operators on the stock exchange says he believes that no less than 2,500 clerks and other employes have been dismissed by the brokerage and banking houses in the last two weeks.

The firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. was among the first to reduce its working force. Others followed suit in rapid succession. Another firm has sent notices to all of its force of clerks and stenographers informing them that they must either accept a 20 per cent cut in salary or take vacations without pay.

LOREE TALKS OF THE SOUTHWEST

Rock Island Railroad President Speaks of Conditions As
He Found Them on His Trip

NEW YORK, May 27.—President Loree of the Rock Island railroad, with W. H. Moore, J. H. Moore and D. G. Reid, has just returned from a seven-thousand-mile inspection trip over the system which they controlled. In speaking of the trip President Loree said today:

"I found general conditions, and particularly crop conditions, considerably better than I had been led to expect. Wheat in all sections excepting Western Oklahoma looks very well. I should say that throughout the entire winter wheat belt we may expect about an 85 per cent crop."

"I notice particularly in the southwest the fact that where winter wheat was killed or did not promise a fair crop the farmers have plowed it under, and have planted corn and cotton. The railroads get better returns from an acre of corn than from an acre of wheat, and about the same return from an acre of cotton as from an acre of wheat. Therefore, a partial failure of the winter wheat crop does not affect the earnings of the southwestern railroads to such an extent as the failure of the crops in the north would affect the roads in that territory. From present prospects, therefore, I should say that the promise of next year from a traffic standpoint is excellent throughout the entire southwest. For the remainder of the present fiscal year I expect that the gross earnings of the Rock Island system will show a slight decrease, which may be offset to a great extent by decreased expenses."

CATCH 160,000 POUNDS OF FISH IN ONE DAY

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 27.—The largest catch of halibut for a single day's fishing ever made by any vessel in the world fell to the lot of the steamer New England, Captain Froeman, early this week. Off Cape George, Dixon entrance, the New England in one day caught 160,000 pounds of fine halibut, thus beating all previous records. The New England reached port today.

BURGULARS FIND TWO WATCHMEN NO OBSTACLE

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 27.—A bold robbery was perpetrated here shortly before midnight by five masked burglars, who broke into the Oneka woolen mills, in the northern part of the city, overpowered and bound the two night watchmen, dynamited the safe and escaped with its contents.

The robbery occurred about 11:30 o'clock. One of the watchmen was overpowered after a struggle. The other watchman rushed to his aid and was also gagged and veer witnesses to the blowing open of the safe. The burglars remained in the mill for nearly two hours. A few minutes after their departure one of the watchmen managed to free himself and telephoned to police headquarters.

FORTUNE COMES TO ONE MOST IN NEED OF IT

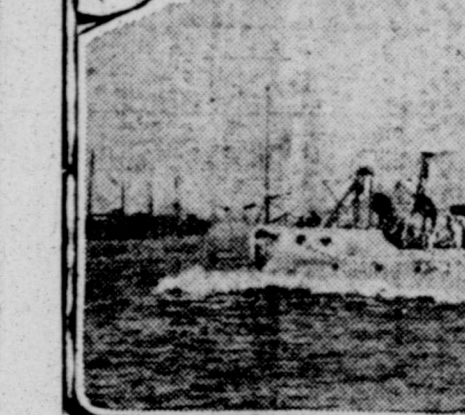

GLEN FALLS, N. Y., May 27.—Blind, almost deaf and with his mind impaired, Lewis Mosher, after years of wandering and other years spent in hospitals, has been restored to his relatives here, where a fortune of $15,000 awaits him.

Mosher went west twenty years ago, and three years later all trace of him was lost. A short time ago his relatives learned that he was in the state hospital at Medical Lake, Wash., and brought him home. Mosher lost his sight and hearing as the result of a mine explosion. It is thought that his mental condition will rapidly improve.

VERDICT GIVEN IN BABY FARM CASE

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—After short deliberation the jury in criminal court No. 2 has returned a verdict of guilty against David F. Mosier, tried for malpractice. Sentence was suspended, pending a motion for a new trial. Bail was denied.

ADMIRAL "BOB" EVANS BACK FROM THE PHILIPPINES

NEW YORK, May 27.—"Fighting Bob" Evans has arrived here from the Philippines with his fine fighting machine, the first-class battleship Kentucky, and anchored off Tompkinsville, Staten Island. The admiral is in splendid health and said to the reporters who greeted him on board when the Kentucky dropped her anchor, that "he felt twenty years younger than he did twenty years ago."

The king of Italy visited the ship at Naples on April 29 and exchanged courtesies with the American admiral. The latter said of the visit of the king:

"When the king came on board the Kentucky we were taking on coal from lighters on both sides and the ship was in no condition for inspection. His majesty was accompanied by the minister of marine and spent about an hour on board and complimented the Kentucky very highly. The next day I dined at the royal palace in Naples with the king and queen. The king knew more about America and the American navy than I had given him credit for."

Car on Top of Them

HURLED FIFTY FEET

All Came About Through the Desire to Take a Quick
Ride Through Park

NEW YORK, May 27.—After a wild flight for half a mile through a narrow lane, a big touring automobile containing four men went over an embankment twenty feet high in Riverside, in the Bronx district, and two of the men were pinned under the car, which turned upside down, and were injured so seriously it was necessary to hurry them to the hospital. Although hurled fifty feet, the other occupants of the machine escaped with slight cuts and bruises. The auto was demolished.

The men decided to take a short cut through a narrow and steep lane. When about fifty feet along the lane the driver tested the machinery and found that the running gear was broken and that he was unable to control the car. The power was on full, and the car shot forward at racing speed.

The men got ready to jump, but finally decided to stick to the machine. The auto zigzagged for about half a mile, gaining in speed with every yard, and at a sharp corner shot into the air, and making a half turn, landed squarely on its top. Undersneath were two of the men, their faces pressed into the ground. They were scalded by boiling water dropping from the engine. The others were shot from the rear seats the moment the car left the lane and landed together fifty feet from the embankment. They escaped serious injury by striking soft ground.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The department of agriculture today announced that an ant has been found in Guatemala that is the enemy of the boll weevil. It will be immediately introduced into the cotton states.

The greatest significance is attached to the discovery, which was made by O. E. Cooke, the botanist in charge of the tropical agricultural investigations of the bureau of plant industry.

ENGLISH CHAMPION TO MEET JOE GANS

BALTIMORE, Md., May 27.—"Jewey" Cooke, hailed as the champion welterweight of England and South Africa, is to have a chance to display his powers against Joe Gans, the American champion, in a fifteen-round bout tonight before the Eureka Athletic club in this city. This will be Cooke's second fight in America. His first encounter was with Dave Holly, a clever Philadelphia negro fighter. They met for six rounds, and Cooke, while not having any the better of the bout, made a fair showing. Gans is in good shape for the bout and expresses confidence in his ability to dispose of the Englishman with little difficulty.

METHODISTS HAVE PICNIC MANSFIELD, TEXAS, May 27.—The Methodist Sunday school here had a picnic yesterday, which was ended by a glorious rain. The railroad bridge at Kennedale is reported under water and the crops are greatly benefited.

ANT FOUND THAT IS ENEMY OF BOLL WEEVIL

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The department of agriculture today announced that an ant has been found in Guatemala that is the enemy of the boll weevil. It will be immediately introduced into the cotton states.

COOK, THE BOTANIST IN CHARGE OF THE TROPICAL AGRICULTURAL INVESTIGATIONS OF THE BUREAU OF PLANT INDUSTRY.

Instructions were cabled to have him report immediately to the department what assistance he needs in the way of men and money.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The observing politicians here think they have discovered what Senator Gorman is figuring for in holding out hopes that the St. Louis convention will fall to nominate Judge Parker, and that the chance for a compromise ticket will be excellent. David R. Francis of Missouri and Senator-elect Rayner of Maryland are said to compose the ticket which the Gorman manipulators are figuring for.

It is claimed that Mr. Gorman has given up hope of securing the nomination himself and that he will only desire to be the power to dictate the nomination. The Maryland state convention to be held on Thursday is expected either to instruct for Gorman or select delegates to be placed in the hands of the senator, to be cast where his will shall direct. Mr. Francis was in the Cleveland cabinet in its closing days, and while opposed to Bryan he is said to have been regular in 1896

MARYLAND SENATOR STILL HAS HOPES OF CONTROLLING THE ST. LOUIS CONVENTION—ISADOR RAYNER FOR SECOND PLACE

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The observing politicians here think they have discovered what Senator Gorman is figuring for in holding out hopes that the St. Louis convention will fall to nominate Judge Parker, and that the chance for a compromise ticket will be excellent. David R. Francis of Missouri and Senator-elect Rayner of Maryland are said to compose the ticket which the Gorman manipulators are figuring for.

It is claimed that Mr. Gorman has given up hope of securing the nomination himself and that he will only desire to be the power to dictate the nomination. The Maryland state convention to be held on Thursday is expected either to instruct for Gorman or select delegates to be placed in the hands of the senator, to be cast where his will shall direct. Mr. Francis was in the Cleveland cabinet in its closing days, and while opposed to Bryan he is said to have been regular in 1896 and 1900. Mr. Rayner got into the senate against the wishes of Mr. Gorman, and it is said to be Gorman's wish now to see him unloaded on the democratic national organization. He is a popular man and a finished public speaker. The republicans around headquarters here have concluded that the democrats are not going to nominate Parker. What they fear is that at a moment of unexpected sanity the St. Louis convention will take up Judge Gray of Delaware, who is regarded by the republicans as the most dangerous man in the line of democratic possibilities.

As to the republican ticket there is a strong current setting in favor of the nomination of Senator Fairbanks as the running mate of Mr. Roosevelt. Somehow the Hitt boom thus far has not taken well with the party leaders. It is claimed that the senate caucus has set out to effect the nomination of the Indiana senator and that nothing else will do.

Cardinal Gibbons was asked to write to the Vatican concerning the fact which led to this decision, and to ask for advice and a modification of the decree, which would make its enforcement possible. The archbishops then decided to do nothing more in the matter until a reply should be received from Rome. At the same time there appears to be some dissension among the American bishops, all of them not holding out for the decision of the Washington conference, but, on the other hand, appearing to favor the literal enforcement of the decree from Rome. Thus, within the last few weeks, Bishop Keiley of Savannah has eliminated women from the choir in his diocese, and a tentative step in the same direction has been made by Archbishop Foley in regard to the choir of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York city.

PEOPLE TRAMPLED ON THE ELEVATED

NEW YORK, May 27.—Several hundred people were thrown into a state of terror by an accident which occurred at the Adams street station of the Union Elevated Railroad in Brooklyn, and while there was many narrow escapes, few persons were injured.

Just as the train was pulling out of the station one of the gates between the second and third cars broke from its fastenings and fell across the third rail. Immediately there was a loud report and a long-continued display of electric sparks fell into the street for nearly fifteen minutes. A panic was created among the passengers and many were knocked down and trampled upon in the rush for the doors. The train was made up of five cars, two of which caught fire and several of the wooden ties beneath began to blaze. Firemen tried to extinguish the blaze, but the fall of the gate continued to act as an electric connection, and the whole station seemed to be on fire. The circuit was finally broken and the firemen soon had the fire extinguished. Half a dozen passengers were injured.

PREACHERS AND ACTORS EAT AT SAME TABLE

BOSTON, May 27.—About forty delegates attended the annual convention of the Actors' National Church Alliance here. Rev. Dr. Slicer of New York presided. At a luncheon at Hotel Bellevue, the guests included Bishop William Lawrence and Joseph Jefferson. Among the speakers were Miss Katharine Merrill of Topeka, Kan., and F. W. Bliss of Cleveland, Ohio, again.

At the previous trial it was brought out that Mrs. Taylor cut up the trunk of the body and put it in a cloth sack and placed the sack in a washtub, which was put in the cellar. The older woman took a Mrs. Taylor took the ashes and bones from the stove and pounded up the bones and fed them to the chickens. The skull was not burned, and it was brought back to the house and put in the stove again.

Ida says she went to bed and left Yerkins and her mother together with the body. When she arose the next morning Yerkins had disappeared and her mother was still burning the body.

Mrs. Taylor again took the ax and tried to cut off one of Taylor's legs, then laid the ax down before she had succeeded. Yerkins took the ax and finished cutting off the leg.

RAGE WAR INMORIENT NEAR MUSKOGEE, I. T.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., May 27.—James Van Hook, a resident of Sodom, a settlement eight miles north of Muskogee, came in last night after officers, saying that there was a race riot on at that place. Mr. Van Hook, on coming home, found his effects thrown out of the house and a notice on the door giving him twenty-four hours' notice to leave.

Sodom is a settlement which is composed principally of negroes and the trouble is over the fact that the white people of that part of the country have participated in the hunt for the negro who committed rape on the white woman at Wagoner last week. The negroes of Sodom are sending their families out of the place and both whites and blacks are armed. Van Hook, himself, having a shot gun and six-shooter in his possession. The whites are incensed over the deed committed by the negro at Wagoner, and it is found will undoubtedly lynch him on short notice.

RAILROADS WILL LAY OFF 75,000

Wholesale Reductions in Working Force in Order All Over the Country

NEW YORK, May 27.—It is estimated by those familiar with the railroad situation that before the end of the present move for retrenchment in the working forces of the railroads of the country more than 75,000 men will have been laid off. The following statement, it is said, gives an approximate idea of the number of railroad men to be put out of employment between April 15 and June 15: Pennsylvania system, 13,000; Vanderbilt lines, 12,000; railroads out of Chicago, 20,000; Gould system, 1,500; Hartman lines, 8,000; Northwestern lines, 19,000; Southern railway, 3,000; other roads, 2,000. Total, 75,500.

A large proportion of these employees are losing their jobs under orders from company headquarters to discontinue from the freight departments every person not absolutely needed. Train hands, station men and clerks have been receiving notices to quit since April 15, and by June 10 it is expected that the weeding-out process will have been completed.

With the exception of the panic period, beginning in 1893, this is the most wholesale reduction of railroad working forces known at any one time. The main cause of this sweeping wave of railroad economy is the rapid falling off in freight shipments within the last six weeks. Freight traffic managers, both east and west, report that the outlook is not bright for the summer.

During the past year the railroad employees in the United States numbered about 1,150,000. The present reduction in forces therefore amounts to about 7 per cent of the whole number. Experienced railroad men say that under ordinary circumstances about 2 per cent of the employees are laid off during the summer months. The present condition does not seem to be felt more severely by the eastern than by the extreme western roads.

UNITED STATES REALTY AND CONSTRUCTION CO.

NEW YORK, May 27.—It is announced that already more than a majority of the stock of the United States Realty and Construction company has been pledged to the success of the reorganization scheme. To correct some errors the announcement is made that the total issue of new securities will be $20,000,000. This amount includes the $13,500,000 convertible bonds. The plan provides that an amount of stock equal to the issue of the bonds will be kept in the treasury so that if the occasion arises when the stock becomes more valuable than the bonds the holders of the latter will be able to convert them into stock.

CUT WAGES OF MEN TO PREVENT DISCHARGE

NEW YORK, May 27.—A remarkable departure in cutting wages has been made by the head of an electrical equipment concern of New Jersey, which notified its 1,200 employees that all wages in the company had been cut 19 per cent. The cut takes effect on June 1 and begins with the president and extends without exception to the lowest priced employe. Only 800 men are on full time at present, owing to the decrease in business. The president, whose salary will be cut more than a thousand dollars, announced that the horizontal reduction was the only thing that would save the discharge of 19 per cent of the men. He promised that the wages should be restored as soon as conditions warranted.

JAKE HODGES SAYS OPPOSE ROOSEVELT

Democratic Party Should Pick Out Specific Acts and Criticise Them

Colonel Jake Hodges of Paris, one of the best known of Texas democrats, was in the city last night, and this morning left for Mineral Wells. Colonel Hodges has recently had an attack of diphtheria, contracted while nursing a sick child, and he is going to Mineral Wells to recuperate.

"I can not say whom the democrats will nominate. My opinion is that the platform should make an attack upon Roosevelt, and do it in regard to specific acts. Let the campaign committee pick out that which he has done, and show it clearly to the people. It will be an effective fight to make out if I am not sure that the people will quibble over the nominee. There is no danger the democratic party will make a mistake in the selection of the man who is to lead the party, and the howl of those who continue to interfere with harmony is out of place."

TELLS OF THE GLORIES OF STATE OF TEXAS

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The United States geological survey in its latest bulletin, says:

A state with an area of 265,780 square miles, most of it undeveloped, must be considered a state with a future. Texas is proud also of having a past. Its location is the keynote of its strenuous history, as it is the corner stone of its prospects. Its fierce struggle for existence seemed to develop strong individuality in its people and its institutions from the beginning. To be sure, there are only 3,048,719 people in all that vast area, but they are not minded to let themselves or their state be forgotten by the rest of the nation. A Gazetteer of Texas, such as the United States geological survey has just published as Bulletin No. 224, is therefore likely to be of interest to many people besides the residents of the state. This is a second edition, the first edition having been published in 1902. Mr. Henry Gannett, geographer of the survey, is the author.

Besides the gazetteer proper, which enumerates in alphabetical order all the villages, towns, cities, creeks, rivers, bays, canons, hills, mountains, etc., and locates them, sometimes appending a brief description, the bulletin includes numerous introductory chapters on the area, topography, drainage, climate, forests, population, industries, lands, surveys and railroads of Texas. The bulletin will be a helpful book of reference to all who are interested in the development of the state. It is published for gratuitous distribution and may be obtained on application to the director of the United States geological survey, Washington, D. C.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

Sunday being Trinity Sunday, the anniversary services of Trinity church will be held. At the morning service at 11 o'clock the rector will endeavor to state the doctrine of the Trinity. He has found that no Christian doctrine has been more the subject of unconscious caricature, at the hands both of believers and unbelievers; hence the need that it should be accurately stated and understood, notwithstanding its ultimate mystery. At the night service the rector will preach the sermon that he was prevented from preaching a year ago by reason of sickness on the topic, "The Unitarian or Individualistic Conception of the Source of All Things and First Principle of the Universe. Not Only Untrue, But Logically Unthinkable."

AUSTIN NEWS NOTES

AUSTIN, Texas, May 27.—State Health Officer Tabor was advised by Sanitary Inspector Hayes, now in Mexico, of three cases of yellow fever in Bona Cecilia, a suburb of Tampico.

The commencement exercises of the Austin public school was held last night. The high school auditorium was jammed and packed with interested people.

Governor Lamm is expected to return from St. Louis next Monday.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 27.—The amount of $9,600 appropriated by the last legislature for the maintenance of the asylum for colored deaf, dumb and blind children has been exhausted and thus another deficiency is added to the appropriations made by that body.

The governor has approved an application for $700, which is thought to be sufficient for the maintenance of the institution until September 1, as the school will be in ten days and the expense of maintenance be greatly reduced.

FLYING MACHINE FLIES THIRTY FEET AND DROPS

CHICAGO, May 27.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Dayton, Ohio, says: "The Wright flying machine, invented by Orville and Wilbur Wright, brothers, of this city, who made a successful flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in December last, has been given another test near this city, which the brothers say was successful. Scarcely was maintained about the test and few witnessed it."

The machine, after being propelled a hundred feet, rose twelve feet in the air and flew thirty feet, when it dropped. This was due, the navigators say, to a derangement of the gasoline engine that furnishes the power. In the fall the propellers were broken and the test could not be repeated. The Wrights decline to give any information when asked as to their future purposes.

Nicholas' coronation.
 A special dispatch from Liao Yang also reports with slight variations the report cable to the Associated Press May 23 regarding the loss of 15,000 Japanese before Kin Chou, saying the enemy's columns got into a cross fire from General Fock's artillery. This seems to have no real foundation in fact, and the idea that the Japanese movement upon General Kurapatkin's position is awaiting upon result of the present operations against Port Arthur is strengthened.

The Russian correspondent of the Associated Press at Liao Yang last night mentioned the existence at Russian headquarters there of a belief that there had been a change in the enemy's plans. General Kuraki is bringing up heavy supplies and guns to his position at Feng Wang Cheng.

JAPS STORM THE HEIGHTS THOUGHT TO BE IMPREGNABLE
 TOKIO, May 27, Noon.—The Japanese swept the Russians from Kin Chou last evening in a desperate night attack storming the almost impregnable position of the Russians on Nanquan Hill, west of Tallenwan. The battle raged in the hills all through the night and a telegram from Japanese headquarters reports that the engagement is still in progress and that the Japanese are still pursuing the Russians south of Nanquan and at the head of Tallenwan bay.

JAPS IN PURSUIT
 Stoessel's main force, which the Tokio dispatches say is across the lower end of the neck.

The statement made by the refugees from Port Dalny that the Japanese have occupied Shan Shi Li Pu almost due west of Port Dalny is reported that the Japanese bombarded the coast near that point. St. Petersburg is filled with all sorts of rumors regarding the fighting, which the general staff here for three days been convinced is in progress on the lower part of the Liao Tung peninsula, but nothing official has been received. For instance, a story is going the rounds that General Fock, who is in command of the Russian's advanced position at Kin Chou, got all through the night and a telegram from Japanese headquarters reports that the engagement is still in progress and that the Japanese are still pursuing the Russians south of Nanquan and at the head of Tallenwan bay.

had been fully developed. To this end the Japanese began a series of careful reconnaissance. Their officers worked their way close enough to the Russian position to draw the enemy's fire and they thus secured fragments of shells for the purpose of ascertaining the caliber of the Russian guns.

SAY ANOTHER JAP BATTLESHIP IS SUNK

NEW CHIWANG, May 27, morning.—The Russian authorities here declare that a Japanese battleship has been sunk by a submarine boat, and that three craft of this class are now at Port Arthur and another is en route to Vladivostok by rail.

A French priest, who has just arrived from Mukden, says that 20,000 Russian troops are stationed there, and that an army of 100,000 men is at Liao Yang with heavy reinforcements arriving daily.

Feng Liao Keli, who was deported by the Russians in July last and escaped, has recently returned and has gathered 5,000 brigands near Kwan Ling and is harassing his old enemies.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Fort Worth Telegram will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given at the office, Eighth and Throckmorton streets, Fort Worth.

HARD TO BELIEVE The Telegram cannot believe that St. Louis hotel keepers are overcharging the people who go to St. Louis, although some of the newspapers appear to think so.

Secretary Hay stayed at St. Louis a week, and his hotel bill was $777, although there were only four persons in his party. This is a fair illustration of the shameless greed of the hotel and boarding-house keepers of St. Louis, of which much has been said of late by those who were so unfortunate as to fall into their clutches.

We are disposed to think that Secretary Hay got the service he wanted and that he paid for it, which is perfectly proper. He goes in a class of very fast people, he rides instead of walks, he has attendants at his beck and call, his rooms must be sumptuous and the service up to a high standard.

Col. Watterson suggests that the pert paragraph of the editorial page be allowed to die a natural death. The colonel is certainly not appreciative or grateful.

The San Antonio Gazette says "The Fort Worth papers are having a hot old race as to which shall use the most red ink. Up to this time The Telegram is several heads ahead."

Low Dockstader is having a hard time. He waited in Washington four days for it to quit raining so that he could take moving pictures in which a fake presentation of the president is shown, and now Mr. Roosevelt and his cabinet have confiscated the films.

It is all right for Bacon to be accused of writing the plays of Shakespeare, but when a Fort Worth daily accuses Jefferson of the words of Richelieu, "the pen is mightier than the sword," it is really doing an injustice to Bulwer Lytton.

Alliteration has been known to be an artful aid in ads., would it do the same in politics? How would it do to have Pattison of Pennsylvania for president?

There must be a big profit in running a poolroom if the poolroom men can afford to pay such fabulous prices for the telegraph service.

OLD CHICAGO HOTEL IN NEW HANDS. New York Herald. After nearly forty years the Palmer house, for a long time the best-known hotel in Chicago, has passed from the hands of the Palmer family into the control of the Chicago Hotel company, recently incorporated.

A HUMAN HYENA The meanest man has been found. He lives in Chicago. It is this way: Twenty-two years ago Julius A. Coleman was sent to the penitentiary of Indiana.

Mr. Coleman, after many hard struggles to get up in the world, went to Chicago, where he entered in the practice of the law. He was careful, painstaking and upright and ultimately gained a large clientele.

The other day a man whom he is prosecuting for alleged crimes—a man high up in Chicago business circles—caused an action to be brought disbaring Coleman on account of his commitment to the penitentiary.

REFUSED LIFE INSURANCE ON ACCOUNT OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mr. William F. Montgomery, the Largest Coal Merchant of Albany, N. Y. Was Refused Life Insurance on Account of Bright's Disease, but After Taking Warner's Safe Cure Was Accepted and Now Has His Policy.

Mr. WILLIAM F. MONTGOMERY, of Albany.

Mr. Montgomery is a living testimonial of what this great medicine will do for any man or woman who has kidney or bladder trouble.

If you have any symptoms of kidney disease write the Medical Department, Warner's Safe Cure Company, Rochester, N. Y., for symptom blank, interesting medical booklet, and free doctor's advice.

"Instead of writing this letter I wish it were possible for me to see and talk with all those who are suffering from kidney troubles. I could tell them in one brief interview what your medicine has done for me, what I know it will do for them. I enjoyed vigorous, good health up to a year ago, when overwork seemed to undermine my constitution. I paid little attention to the matter until it was brought home to me forcibly at an insurance examination. I failed to secure my policy, and after consulting the doctor who made the examination I became aware of my disease.

"Of course, I was alarmed and had repeated tests made of the urine for albumen, and the horror of the thing grew upon me when the doctors all pronounced the case Bright's Disease. Complications of the stomach set in, and although I doctored with well-known specialists I grew rapidly worse. This condition of affairs continued until last November. At that time my strength had diminished, and it seemed to me that I could not get well unless some relief was soon found. It was at this stage that interested friends brought to my attention Warner's Safe Cure. Cases were cited where it had accomplished good results. There being no objections, and all hope having been despaired of, I procured the first bottle. After a few days there were some encouraging indications. The slight improvement noted continued and grew and in a month albumen was entirely eliminated from the urine. I gained rapidly in strength and health and am now in perfect condition. My life insurance has been granted me and I feel that I owe my health and life to Warner's Safe Cure."

Yours truly, WM. F. MONTGOMERY, 53 Hamilton st. Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10, 1904.

Warner's Safe Cure has been used by leading doctors, and prescribed in their practice, and sold by druggists everywhere, for over 30 years, as the certain cure for all diseases of kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that cures and leaves no dangerous after effects. 50 cents and one dollar a bottle.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES AND IMITATIONS. They are worthless and often exceedingly dangerous. Ask for Warner's Safe Cure; it will cure you. WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

CLUBWOMEN DISMANTLED PETTICOAT. From a St. Louis Letter. The New York delegation, sixty strong, to the convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs was on its way to the St. Louis exposition.

Just before St. Louis was reached the club women were thrown into a panic. Somebody remembered that the local biennial board had requested all arriving delegates to wear a knot of pale blue ribbon on the left side of the corsage, so that the committee who met the train might identify them. Not one of all the sixty had provided herself with the ribbon.

Mrs. Charles A. Maething, however, was wearing a beautiful underskirt, whose luxuriant flounces were threaded with yards of baby ribbon. A lifted frock betrayed this to the watchful eyes of the president, and Mrs. Maething was straightway shorn of her adornment and her ribbon was promptly confiscated.

AMERICAN POSSIBILITIES IN PARIS. New York Press. It begins to look as if the boulevards of Paris and the little tables set before the cafes on the sidewalks, surrounded by groups sipping their coffee, would remind Americans newly arrived in the French capital of Fifth avenue or Sherry's and Delmonico's at what New Yorkers sometimes call the "cocktail hour."

Chicago Youth—Yes. By the way, professor, dark is the Latin for "Wouldn't that jar you?" Best for Rheumatism, Prescription No. 2851. Celebrated on its merits for many effectual cures. E. F. SCHMIDT, Houston, Texas, Sole Agent.

"JUST AS GOOD" "Hear about Grimsby, the druggist?" "Who? That stingy fellow down at the corner? What about him? Has he stopped asking people to give him back the ends they mind off of cigars?" "Better'n that. His wife asked him to take her to the seaside."

"Did he?" "Wait. He told her he couldn't afford the expense, but he would give her something just as good."

"And what did he do?" "Filled her shoes with sand, took all her money away from her and blistered her nose with a sun glass."

DISASTROUS WRECKS Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary.

Mrs. Lois Craig of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by Matt S. Blanton & Co., Reeves' Pharmacy, W. J. Fisher, druggist. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

ROUTINE ONLY "It is embarrassing sometimes," pursued a direct line of questioning," said President Eliot of Harvard in telling about a recent visit to New York, says the New York Press. He just had dined at a hotel in Fifth avenue, where the man who takes care of the hats at the dining room door is celebrated for his memory about the ownership of headgear.

"How do you know that is my hat?" the colleger asked as his silk tie was presented to him. "I don't know it, suh," said the doorman. "Then why do you give it to me?" insisted President Eliot. "Because you gave it to me, suh," replied the doorman. He got his quarter of a dollar.

Porto Rico is no place for a poor man, but sugar, coffee and fruit industries are carried on with large capital and can be made remunerative. It is a particularly fine grazing country, and it would not be surprising if stock raising would eventually become one of the island's important industries. There are some paying tobacco plantations, and good tobacco lands can be bought for $50 to $100 an acre.

A CHILLY RECEPTION George Ade, at a recent banquet, was asked to speak on success, says June Success. "I suppose that failure is more familiar than success to all of us," he said. "We work away. Four things fail. The fifth thing succeeds. The hardest workers have the most failures, but then they have the most successes, too."

"One of my early failures was a melodrama that I traveled all the way from Chicago to New York to sell to a manager. This was in my youth, when I had confidence in myself. The manager returned my melodrama. He said he didn't care for it. "I pointed out the merits in it which he had overlooked. I proved that he would make a great mistake if he should not accept this work. But he shook his head. "Can't you use it at all?" I asked, desperately. "Well," said he, "I might grind it up and use it for a snowstorm."

PROMOTIONS WON BY PUNS Canon Melville, who died the other day in his 82 year, owed his earliest promotion to a pun, affirms Tay Pay's Weekly. When the late Earl of Dudley, who knew Mr. Melville sufficiently to remember that his Christian name was David, had a living at his disposal he received a letter containing only the words, "Lord, remember David." The Earl's reply was no less terse and scriptural: "Thou art the man!"

Rev. Dr. Mountain, who was the son of a beggar, owed nearly every step of his successive promotions in great part to his facetiousness, and won the last step of all by a single jest. When he was consulted, as Bishop of Durham, by George II as to the fittest person to fill the vacant archiepiscopal see of York he replied: "Sir, hadst thou faith as a grain of mustard seed thou wouldst say to this Mountain (dramatically striking his breast): 'Be thou removed and cast into this sea (see).'" That George II should so understand and appreciate the joke as to accept its suggestion is perhaps the strangest part of the story.

MEXICO AS A CATTLE COUNTRY

Visitor Here Tells Why the Republic Offers Superior Advantages to Stock Raisers

William B. Goldsmith of St. Joseph, Mo., was here yesterday on his return home from a trip into Mexico. Discussing the cattle business in the republic, he said, among other things:

"Owing to the fact that the day of great ranches is about past in the United States, there is a heavy demand for land in Mexico suitable for grazing purposes. Numerous tracts have been bought up by large cattle dealers of this country and from what I was able to learn while in the republic, negotiations are pending for closing some very large deals.

"While in a large number of cases lands suitable for ranch property in Mexico have the advantage of being remote from the railroads, yet their cheapness, compared with similar lands in the United States, is a strong recommendation. Then, too, it is evident that the matter of railroad communication is only a question of a few years. It is believed by men who are in touch with affairs that the cattle industry in Mexico will go forward within the next few years by leaps and bounds. In Southern and Southwestern Mexico especially there are lands which are especially adapted to cattle raising.

Grass and water are abundant and climatic conditions can not be excelled. "The cattle on hoof will be exported for the reason that freight rates would be excessive and the journey so long that the loss by shrinkage of cattle would certainly be enormous. On the contrary, it is thought that eventually great packing and refrigerating plants will be established in the seaports of Mexico and the beef products shipped in cold storage by steamer to United States and European ports.

"For years Argentine has been exporting frozen meats and the industry has grown to be the greatest in the republic. Even now Argentine is figuring on establishing a line of refrigerator steamers between Buenos Ayres, Tampico and New York City and selling beef and mutton in the City of Mexico in competition with the local, as well as with the American product.

"That Mexico can make a great success of the business is doubted by none familiar with the situation and surrounding conditions. I learned while in the republic that the conditions there for the industry are as favorable as they are in Argentine, and the market for the product is thousands of miles nearer."

BOARD OF TRADE IS ADVERTISING

Secretary Paddock Is Sending Fort Worth Literature to the Northwest

The Fort Worth Board of Trade is doing a good work advertising the claims of this city among the people of the north and east, and as far to the northwest as the Dakotas. Secretary Paddock has circulated much literature detailing the advantages offered by this city during the past six months, and as a result of this judicious advertising, many inquiries are reaching Board of Trade headquarters. Every day brings letter from parties desiring to know more of Fort Worth. This morning's mail brought a bunch of four letters from parties at Saurkville, Iowa; New Castle, Pa.; Cloquet, Minn., and Austin, Junction, S. D. Advertising matter will be forwarded to the inquirers tonight. Secretary Paddock incidentally stated this morning that never before was there so many people asking information about Fort Worth as now, and he looks for a great influx of home-seekers during the next few months.

POLICE NEWS

Happy in having seen the World's Fair, even though he 'went broke' in St. Louis, G. B. Vamell, a 14-year-old boy, told his honor in the police court this morning that he was heading his way back to his home in Hillsboro. Accompanied by a companion only 3 years his senior, the boy was picked up along the International and Great Northern railroad by Special Officer Duff and a charge of trespassing lodged against the pair. To the officer they recounted wonderful stories of their trip and what was to be seen at the exposition, stating as their only regret the fact that they were unable to remain for the opening of the Texas building. No information has been sent out from Hillsboro saying that the boys are missing and the story is looked upon as a hoax. The youngster was dismissed, however, owing to his youth. WANTS INFORMATION Mrs. Mary A. Thomas, of 814 St. Peters street, Trinidad, Col., writes here for information of her husband, W. H. Thomas, who left home May 2. She urges that if he hears of her request for information that he let her know at once where he is and that he return home. GRADUATES OF THE UNIVERSITY GET DIPLOMAS

Twenty-second Annual Exercises Held Last Night, After Which a Reception

Commencement exercises marking the advent of the twenty-second class of Fort Worth University into the world were held last night in St. Paul's Methodist church, Dr. George MacAdam, president of the university, presiding. Diplomas were awarded to 125 students, the graduates of the various departments of the University, and the degree of bachelor of arts was conferred upon Rev. R. E. Chandler, pastor of the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church, who has been pursuing special studies in the college department. Dr. Chandler delivered the bachelor oration, choosing as his topic 'The Development of Ideas,' which was treated in a masterful style. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. C. B. Wilcox, D. D., of Colorado Springs, who treated of Christian education and the part it must play in maintaining organized liberty, the ideal of the American republic. 'Education of the masses,' he said, 'is the great necessity of our age. Knowledge is a power for evil, unless it has a conscience behind it. We need Christian education. Every patriot who loves his country ought to favor Christian education. We need Christian universities—institutions like the Fort Worth University—to finish the education of our young men and women. 'The mission of the great American republic is to maintain organized liberty. Only once in history has the world seen order and liberty established together by a nation, and that, in the course of time, we preserve order, though we enjoy liberty. Other governments maintain order by destroying liberty. Ours is the only true republic. Mexico is a republic in name only. So with the republics of South America. France is not nearer to the standard of the American republic than any other republican government; but France must educate and liberate her peasantry before she can enjoy such order and liberties as are enjoyed in this country. Quoting the prediction of foreign powers as to the ultimate outcome of the American government, he urged education for the mass of children, the offspring of foreign parents, and concluded: 'The schools must be relied upon to educate the children of the foreign element and of the poor, so that they will have the intelligence to qualify them for orderly and liberty loving citizenships and that the public conscience may be kept pure, as many as possible of the young should be given a Christian education.' Musical numbers by Professor Pease were rendered at the opening and to the closing of the exercises, which were largely attended. Following the commencement exercises the president's annual reception was held in the parlors of the Warth hotel, which were beautifully decorated with jasmynes and potted plants. Dr. MacAdam and Mrs. MacAdam stood first in the receiving line and were assisted by Professor Heller, Miss Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler, Professor Pease, Mr. Whitten, Mrs. Allison, Miss Lewis and Miss McLean. Miss Jessie Myers Fitch presided at the punch bowl, with the following assistants: Misses Ada MacAdam, Gertrude Hall, Toy Mahew, George Cox and Ruth Collins. The reception was a short one, but owing to the lateness of the hour, but during its progress a large representation of the student body, as well as friends of the university and graduates, found occasion to greet the president and congratulate him upon the successful ending of another year in the history of the institution.

LABOR QUESTION AROUSES DENISON

Clerks and Merchants are at Outs Over Closing Hour and Bans of Boycott are Many DENISON, Texas, May 26.—This city is all torn up over the labor situation. About three months ago the clerks' union made a request of the merchants that they close their places of business at 6 p. m. This the merchants refused to entertain. The closing hour is 7 p. m. The clerks' union offered to compromise on 6:30 p. m., but the merchants declared the incident closed and are observing the 7 o'clock closing hour. The Trade Council, embracing a large majority of the labor organizations, has taken up the clerks' union grievance, and nearly every business house in the city is under the ban of a boycott. Speakers have been imported and the labor people are holding meetings nightly and are mapping out a vigorous campaign against the merchants. The tension has never been so great in the history of the city. Both sides are equally determined. The merchants have organized the Industrial union, which has an influential membership of over three hundred. The purposes of the organization is mutual protection against the aggression of the labor union, boycotts, strikes, etc. The women, families of the labor people, have organized and are also holding meetings. If a member of the labor organization is known to trade with the boycotted merchants, he is fined $2 for each offence. Two or three merchants have gone over to the labor people and their establishments are crowded with patrons to the sidewalk. The boycotted merchants also have their friends and are doing a brisk business. Everything is at a white heat. It is intimated that the railroads are interested in the situation and in a quiet but effective manner are giving their support to the merchants. The leader of the merchants' movement is George Stoner, Missouri, Kansas, and Texas freight agent. He is working day and night to organize the Industrial Union. Circulars of all descriptions are thrown broadcast throughout the city. Several of the leading agitators of the clerks' union have been discharged. Where the matter will end no one can surmise, but the conservative impression is that the merchants will win the fight.

MR. SHEPHERD TO GO TO SEWANEE

A Change in the Head Master of St. Andrew's School in This City

Going from head master of a parochial school in this city to the position of master of the English department of the grammar school of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., is a promotion for a young man, as the selection of a graduate of Harvard as head master indicates that the local school is striving for the best material to be had when a change is to be made. For three years David A. Shepherd has been head master of St. Andrew's school, Rev. Bartow B. Ramage, rector of the parish and the school, announces that Mr. Shepherd has resigned to accept the position at the well known Episcopal school at Sewanee. Mr. Shepherd will leave soon to locate in his new home. He has many friends in this city. He married here, and during his residence has become very popular. Rev. William Hall Williams of Boston, Mass., will have charge of the school next year as head master. Mr. Ramage continuing rector. Mr. Williams graduated at Harvard with highest honors and took his B. D. degree at the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge. He has had nearly fifteen years' experience in teaching and in conducting schools. He is a warm personal friend of Mr. Ramage's, they having been roommates at Harvard. Mr. Williams leaves next month for a summer in Europe, reaching here in September in time for the opening of St. Andrew's school.

AMUSEMENTS THE SUBJECT AT TENT

Evangelist Smith Will Deliver Address Tonight at Meeting East of the University

This evening at the big tent east of the university, Evangelist Smith will deliver his well known address on 'Popular Amusements,' which the Canton, Ohio, Journal says, 'is the wisest and kindest ever given here.' People are urged to attend this evening. Some of the finest music yet heard in these meetings will be enjoyed tonight. At 7 o'clock at the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church Mr. Smith will conduct a meeting for young women only. Another meeting occurred last evening, when fourteen more were added to those who accepted Christ as Savior. Great plans are being made for Sunday, the closing day of the meetings. The churches engaged in the effort will join in a great service at the tent at 11 a. m. A mass meeting for men only will be held at 3:30 p. m., when Mr. Smith will deliver a confidential talk. At 6:30 p. m. he will conduct a union young men's rally at the Broadway Presbyterian church and at 8:30 p. m. at the tent.

OVER BACKWARD.

The Horse Fell on His Rider. The sustaining value for hardest working horses is wonderful health-bringing properties of proper food were never shown better than in the case of a Colorado man who received an injury to the stomach and intestines from a horse throwing himself backward and falling upon him. He says: 'For 11 years I suffered untold agony from eating, any food distressed me beyond description. At times I was able to work but this gave me an appetite which I tried to satisfy with the common and substantial fare which we buy here. In the average farmer's wife, but almost immediately after the meal I would be seized with cramps and convulsions so severe that my life was despaired of. Only the best medical skill and careful nursing saved my life. At these times, the injury had caused strictures and adhesions in the stomach and intestines which the rough food could not pass through, thus causing obstruction of the bowels, which is so often fatal. 'These attacks occurred with great frequency for 11 long years until I was a physical wreck. My heart had become very weak, my pulse slow, I had lost much flesh and one of the best surgeons in Denver told me I must be operated upon at once in order to save my life. He said I would surely pass away in one of those spells unless I submitted to the knife. 'Now, after these spells I always had to diet for some time until the inflammation had subsided and I was able to move around again, but then would come another attack. After one of the most severe of these spells, during which I became unconscious and unable to eat a morsel for hours, the doctor told me I would never again be able to eat solid food or work hard. 'I had tried a sample of Grape-Nuts food and found I had no uneasy feeling following, so I began to confine myself almost entirely to Grape-Nuts and in a remarkably short time I began to gain flesh and feel like working again. The more Grape-Nuts I ate the better I liked them, so I made this almost my entire food with Postum Coffee, the doctor having advised me to quit coffee on account of its action on my heart. 'And now at this writing more than a year has passed away since my last sick spell, for I have not had one since I commenced eating Grape-Nuts. I am working every day right along beside other men in the garden and farm, do everything and anything that is required of the farmer—plowing, hoeing or pitching hay. I never have any more pains, in fact, I can almost forget my injury. 'When I come home from market a saucer of Grape-Nuts is my breakfast and I can then go to work and feel that I can live and be as other men again. There is no other feeling like getting back your health. 'I will give the physicians' names who attended me during those years if you wish for them.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Good food that can be digested will cure most any disease. 'There's a reason.' Look in each package for the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.'

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost. 'I was troubled with scrofula and came near losing my eyesight. For four months I could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to walk, and when I had taken eight bottles I could see as well as ever.' SUSAN A. HAIR, 208 Withers N. C. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

9 p. m. will occur the final meeting. This service will be at the tent.

THE UNION OF THE CHURCHES

In view of the widespread interest in the movement to unite the churches, Rev. James S. Myers will speak next Sunday night at the Tabernacle on 'Church Union—Is it Desirable? Is it Practicable?' Rev. Mr. Myers heard the discussion on the union question in the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly at Dallas this week, which resulted in a two-thirds vote in favor of uniting with the northern Presbyterian church. He will review the situation as presented there and as it will be presented to all the churches.

NORTH SIDE AND ROSEN HEIGHTS

Various Contests Enliven Catholic Fair and Every Indication Points to Its Success

Nash Furniture Company.

The ladies who have charge of the Catholic fair have every reason to be complacent over the prospects for a complete success, as every indication points to that end. Last night the hall in which the display of beautiful articles are shown was crowded throughout the entire evening and everybody had a good time. He contests which have been started are attracting a great deal of attention and an unusual amount of interest is being taken in all of them. For the most popular foreman at the packing plants Mr. Howard of Armour & Co. leads by a slight margin of forty votes. There is more or less speculation on the outcome of the contest and the Swift men are preparing to make a grand finish, as they, like Armour's men, claim the most popular man. Little Miss Flossie Majors leads the contest for the most popular young girl under the age of 10 years, with Kate Lorin second and Lizzie Kifer third. Several babies were entered in a contest for the prettiest baby last night, the prize being a beautiful doll. The two leading entries are Ruby Proctor and Norva Johns, both of the North Side. The crowd last night was even larger than that of Wednesday night, and the ladies expect even more to attend tonight.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Z. J. Steen, formerly of Alice, Texas, are visiting relatives on the North Side. Mrs. Hartman of Cisco is the guest of relatives in North Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Prossley and two children have been visiting their parents on the hill. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller have moved to Rosen Heights. Mrs. Crouch and three children have been visiting Mrs. Crouch's sister, Mrs. Walter Carson, this week. The children of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ganey are suffering a relapse from the measles. Misses Lizzie and Eva Cantrell were visitors in North Fort Worth this week. Mrs. A. C. Chase and daughter, Estelle, visited Mrs. J. P. Williams Wednesday. Misses Myrtle Merrill and Ruth Morris were in North Fort Worth this week.

TEXAS CENTRAL LIKELY TO BUILD TO AMARILLO

AUSTIN, Texas, May 27.—There seems to be some reliability in the rumor, although it has not been authoritatively stated, that the Texas Central Railway will build an extension from Stamford, its present western terminus, a distance of over a hundred miles to Amarillo, to secure connection with the Southern Kansas and Fort Worth and Denver City. It also stated that the same company will construct an extension from Dublin, in Erath county, to the Thurber coal mines, a distance of some thirty-five miles. One of the reasons given for the belief that the Central will build these extensions is that in addition to the business of this portion of the state, which is increasing rapidly, the company owns considerable land along the proposed route which would thus be brought into market at more money than it could now be sold for. These considerations, in addition to the connections established, make the extensions very desirable from the Central's point of view.

POTATO SHIPMENT OUT OF SHERMAN

SHERMAN, Texas, May 27.—The first potato shipment of the season was made Tuesday, two cars, one for Kansas City and the other for Chicago, going out over the Katy line in the afternoon and three more cars were loaded yesterday. Others may follow today, but indications are that the growers will be in no rush to dig on the present condition of the local market, which offered only about 70 cents for the best yesterday. Some say the crop will keep well for some days yet, and they are willing to allow time for competitive buyers to get on the market, believing that the short crop will prevent a further drop in prices.

Buy Your Choice of a lot on Beautiful Rosen Heights!

DO YOU OWN A HOME? The chance is now yours and such a chance as has never been offered before. In the face of the proposition we here offer, it will be discreditable to any man of reasonable industry NOT TO OWN HIS OWN HOME.

THAT IS THE FIRST SIMPLE STEP. If you now pay $12.50 a month rent, we will furnish you the lumber and material to build a three-room house, and the rent you now pay will pay for your own home. If you wish to enlarge it later, form your plan of building with that end in view.

For $15.00 a month we will furnish you lumber and material to build a 4-room house. For $20.00 a month we will furnish you lumber and material to build a 5-room house. That is the second simple step and all there is to it.

Every lot we sell, every house you build, increases the value of surrounding property. YOU CAN'T LOSE ON THIS PROPOSITION. If we believed you COULD lose, we would not make the offer. Our prosperity depends upon your success. This offer may remain open for a few days only. BETTER ACT NOW. There is but one question to decide—it's this: Do you prefer to pay rent, which is gone forever or pay the same amount on your own property and save it all. On these lots the buyer pays no taxes for 1904 and 1905, pays no interest, no payments when sick, and in event of death of purchaser lots will be deeded free to his or her beneficiaries.

Rev. John Albert Murphy of Kansas City, who has been attending the Cumberland Presbyterian meeting at Dallas, was in the city yesterday, a guest of his son, Y. Y. Murphy. Rev. Murphy was pastor of the First Methodist church in this city twenty years ago. Rev. James S. Myers has gone to Denton to deliver an address to the union men of that city. Mrs. J. W. Ward, wife of Superintendent Ward of the Texas and Pacific, west end, returned to her home in Big Springs today.

Word was received in this city today that an 18-month-old child of Harry Hendricks, a former well known resident of Fort Worth, but now living in Amarillo, was seriously ill as a result of drinking a quantity of coal oil. Carpenters were at work repairing Mr. Hendrick's house and left a can of kerosene standing on the first floor. The child discovered the oil, drank a quantity of it and poisoning was the result. Only immediate medical attention saved the baby's life.

The International and Great Northern is preparing to locate a new townsite at Bell Branch, forty-five miles south of Fort Worth. Surveyors are already at work laying out the town, which will be under construction in a few days. J. D. Trammell, engineer for the International and Great Northern, returned from the new townsite today. Mr. Trammell reports excellent conditions at the new location and predicts a thriving little business center.

Walter B. Scott, grand foreman of the Ancient Order United Workmen of Texas, returned today from Wichita Falls, where he went to deliver an address during an old-fashioned picnic held in a grove near that town. Other speakers were G. E. MacGruder, commercial agent of the Denver road; Judge Skoen and Edgar Eyo; Grand Recorder Hassell was down on the program to deliver the leading address, but was unavoidably detained and this duty devolved upon Mr. Scott, who is said to have acquitted himself as a public talker. The day was pleasantly passed by a very large crowd of people from that immediate section.

A white woman from this city camping with five negroes near Weatherford was taken into custody, together with her companions, yesterday by the officers of that city, who communicated this morning with the local department. An investigation upon the part of the police showed that one of the horses used by the party in the wagon in which they were traveling had been hired at Marlow's stable here by the white woman, who told the liverman that she wanted the horse to go to Cold Springs for a day.

WEATHER FORECAST

A heavy rain amounting almost to a cloudburst occurred at Mansfield yesterday afternoon, leaving all the fields under water. As a result both the corn and cotton crops are reported badly damaged. A number of bridges in the southeastern part of the county are reported washed away. A light rain is also reported as falling at Weatherford, although the government station at that place reports none. At Dallas a heavy thunder shower fell, with a total precipitation reaching 56 inches. Other points receiving light rains were Brownwood, Greenville and Springtown. Locally, the most oppressive day of the year was experienced, the weather turning cooler, however, by night. Showers are reported for tonight and Saturday.

WACO PROVIDES DUTIES FOR DEACONESS

Waco, Texas, May 27.—Miss Elizabeth Taylor, the deaconess assigned to Waco under the new arrangement in this church whereby the deaconess order was created, has reached the city and will assume her duties at once. She will be a kind of city missionary and will preside over the home where girls of moderate means are provided comfortable rooms at actual cost. There is a great field of activity for the deaconesses, and the Methodist church is expecting fine results in this new move. Waco gets one of the first deaconesses ever appointed.

AMERICAN ROYAL LIVE STOCK SHOW

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 27.—The Kansas City Commercial Club, at its last regular meeting, cordially endorsed the American Royal Live Stock show and commended it to the hearty support of the business men of Kansas City. T. J. Wornall of Liberty, Mo., secretary and treasurer of the show, by invitation, appeared before the club and presented the claims of the institution for the endorsement and support of the business interests. In a short session he outlined the object of the show and gave some figures showing what it had accomplished in the past. Mr. Wornall said the show was supported by the National Association of the four leading beef cattle breeds, the Herefords, Shorthorns, Angus and Galloways, and that each of the four associations contributed $4,000 annually for prizes.

Mr. Wornall said the plans for this year's show contemplated a more elaborate exhibition of purebred breeding stock than had ever before been held in the city. He said the breeding associations had made the usual amounts for premiums, notwithstanding the fact they had contributed heavily toward the added premiums at the World's Fair live stock show. He said $5,000 additional to what the associations and the stock yards company had contributed would be needed to make up the desired fund for prizes. A large part of this sum would go to the carlot exhibit of fat and feeding cattle.

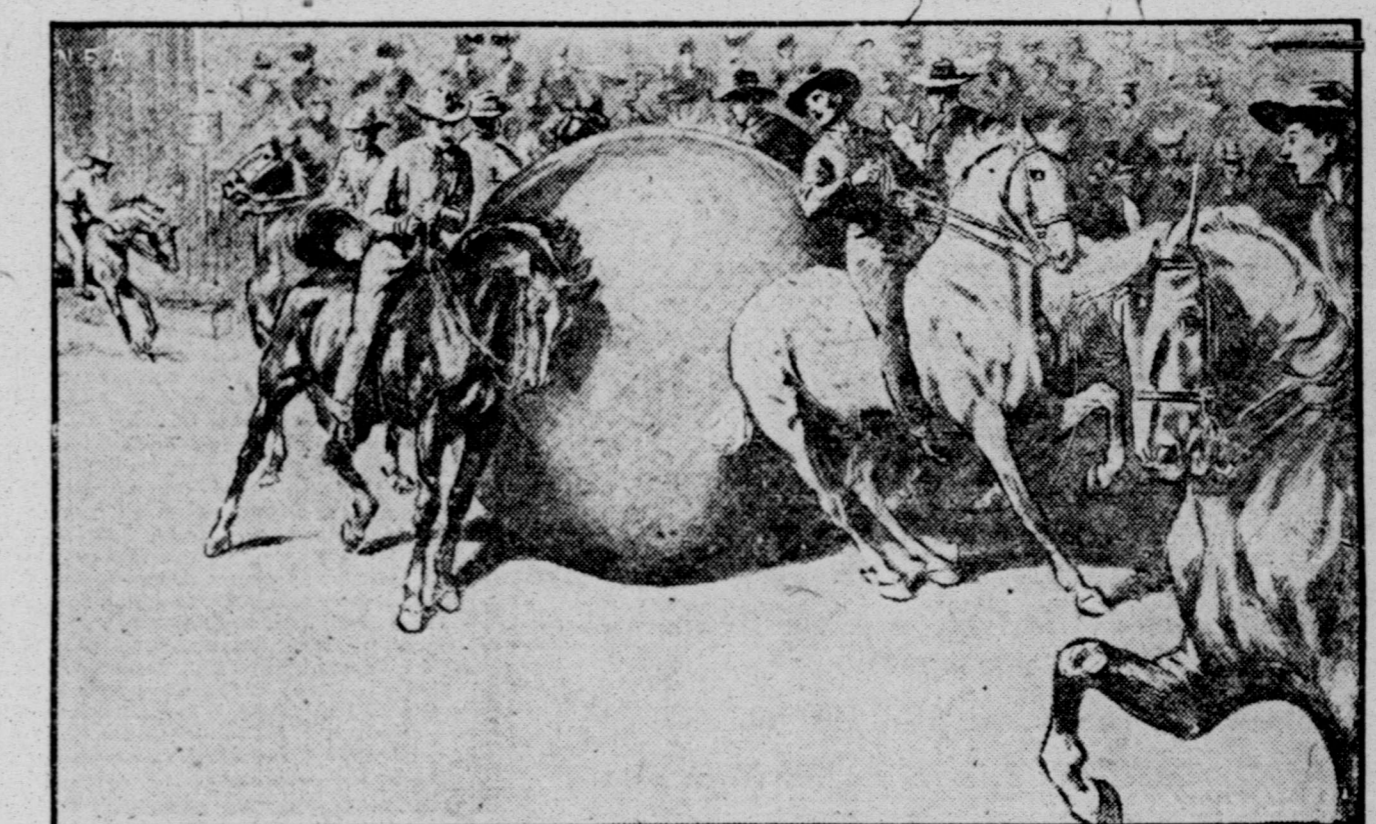

He said that the largest exhibit of ranged cattle ever held in this country was expected at the American Royal this year. Mr. Wornall is making a canvass of the business firms of the city for contributions toward the prize list of the show and is meeting with much encouragement. The merchants are taking a lively interest in the show because it will bring a large crowd of the best class of country visitors to the city during the week of October 17 to 22, which is the same week as the horse show in Convention hall. A large exhibit of draft and coach horses will be a feature of the royal. World's Fair visitors will be granted stopovers at Kansas City on World's Fair tickets in order to be able to visit the show. This is expected to make the attendance this year larger than ever before. The fact that the range cattle exhibit at the World's Fair was the best of the American Royal is expected to add materially to the number of range bred cattle exhibited here this year. It will give the range men a good opportunity to stop off here with their cattle, rest them and put them in the pink of condition for the St. Louis show.

TOO MANY COWS KEPT IN WACO

WACO, Texas, May 28.—For several years past the number of people in Waco keeping cows has gradually increased until today an unusual condition is said to prevail, in that the butter market has become overstocked, prices have declined somewhat and cold storage and shipments to other points have been resorted to in order to get rid of the accumulation of butter.

Some of those who make an especially good article of butter have tried to hold it up to 25 cents, and even in a few cases to 30 cents, but in a good many cases small producers are selling as low as 12 1/2 cents per pound. This has caused some persons to want to get rid of cows, with the result that the prices on these animals also came down. The commons about Waco are daily dotted with hundreds of cows, taken out from the city by professional herdsmen who go each morning and gather them up, bringing them back at night, all for about $1 per month per cow. Families keeping a cow usually try to sell enough butter and milk to pay for the feed of the animal, thus securing their own milk and butter free. But the number appears to have exceeded the demand, at present, anyway.

PUSHBALL PLAYED WITH TRAINED HORSES

BERLIN, May 27.—Mounted, pushball is the latest sport in Berlin. In general it resembles football, or the game of pushball as played in the gymnasiums of England and America, with the difference that horses are brought into the game. Mounted on frisky little steeds, the players try to get the ball over the goals. The horses enter into the spirit of the game with eagerness and little learn to use their weight to work the ball across the field. The riders are often thrown and sometimes horse and man go down together.

RUSSIANS ARE IN THE LAST DITCH

ST. PETERSBURG, May 27.—The foreign office has received dispatches from both Chefoo and Pekin, reporting from Chinese sources the bombardment of Port Arthur May 25. It is the true it indicates that Vice Admiral Togo used the guns of his ships to make a diversion at Port Arthur and pave the way for a final assault on the Russian positions around Kin Chou yesterday.

As this is a holiday, the anniversary of Emperor Nicholas' coronation, no expression could be obtained at the war office on today's dispatches from Tokyo. But the Japanese have succeeded in crossing the neck the general impression in military circles is that, although Kin Chou is twenty-five miles above Port Arthur, the Russians will be able to offer little resistance until the enemy reaches the perimeter of the fortress.

THE PENALTY OF HASTE.

Samuel Untermyer, who is to conduct the defense of the Amalgamated Copper Company against the suits of Thomas W. Lawson, is a foe to hasty measures of all kinds.

"It is best," Mr. Untermyer said at a recent dinner in New York, "to go slow always—to go slow—to keep cool—to be calm."

"I remember to have heard of a certain police official who once came to grief through his hasty and rash methods.

"There was a tumult of some sort in this man's town. The populace was angry, and an outbreak of some kind was feared.

"Well, in the midst of these alarms, the police official was walking homeward very late one night. As he passed a certain tall post, he saw a placard on it.

"Ha!" he said to himself, "this is a placard of a revolutionary, anarchistic nature. I'll tear it down."

"And, accordingly, though he was a heavy man and long past middle age, the official climbed to the top of the tall pole, tore off the placard, and descended with it in his teeth.

"Safe on the ground again, he struck a match to read the paper. It contained, he found, the words 'Fresh Paint!'"

Mrs. Rebecca Mayo, the last surviving widow of a soldier of the revolution, is now over seventy years of age, though when she married Stephen Mayo, a soldier of the Virginia line, she was very young.

She lives in Newbern, Pulaski county, Va., and congress recently increased her pension $25 a month.

BRYAN LECTURES ON THE VALUE OF IDEALS and after the stage of ripeness comes decay.

HIS THREE AMBITIONS.
In speaking of the importance of an ideal he said that in his early life he had three ambitions: To be a Baptist preacher, a farmer or a lawyer. He was tired of his first ambition upon attending a Baptist immersion and being told that every time a new member was added to the flock it was the preacher's duty to go into the water and immerse him. He said that he gave up this ambition at an early stage in life. He then turned to the second ambition, that of a farmer, but he found that many of his republican enemies now claim that this was an early indication of his democratic faith—his shunning of water. In his second ambition to be a farmer he said that thousands of people now rejoiced in the fact that he had attained at last an opportunity to adopt that ideal.

In his ambition to be a lawyer he told of how when a barefooted boy it was his daily custom to go to the court house where his father presided on the bench and watch the proceedings of the court. He listened to the eloquence of the lawyers to the jury and their earnest appeals to the judge in behalf of their clients. Later his course finally led on to the path of this ambition and after completing his college course he moved to Nebraska, where the state was republican, the district republican, the county republican and even the precinct republican. His nomination to congress by his party was considered a joke by the opposing party, who looked at it in the manner of a demagogue in the sacrifice of a young man who had not been a resident long and had been taken unawares. He told of how he went to congress as a result of a joke, but said that the joke of many of the congressmen was on the constituents.

A POLITICAL IDEAL.
He urged the importance of a political ideal. He said that sometimes one found a man who was too good to take any hand in politics, but that there was no man too good to offer his assistance in helping his government and studying the science of self-government, and when he found a man like this who thought himself above politics he put him down as a man not worthy of a voice in the government of his fellow-citizens. He implored the American mothers to rear their sons to engage in politics and learn the science of government with a view of purifying the political situation instead of becoming contaminated. He told of how during the time of the Roman empire mothers raised their sons to be great warriors and said that mother should rear their sons with an ideal to lead them and one that would lead them to the front ranks of their countrymen in studying out the problems of government and politics, which would make them an asset to the country in the direction of their nation's affairs.

HE ARRIVES LATE.
Under the auspices of the philanthropic department of the Women's Department club of the city, Colonel William Jennings Bryan lectured to a crowded house last night at the city hall on "The Value of Ideals."

Colonel Bryan has lost none of the magnetism which has made him a leader among men. In fact the only change in his personal appearance from a few years ago is the addition of a few more wrinkles and the loss of his black curly hair, which is now inclined to grow only around the side of his head and hang in loose folds in the back. He still possesses the voice and characteristic personnel which has marked him as an orator among orators and does not fail to bring from his audience the same inspiration and confidence that carried him to the front as the leader of his party and made him the hero of battles lost to his principle and cause. Owing to a delay in the train, Mr. Bryan did not arrive until after 8:30 o'clock. He was met at the station by Colonel Wynne and driven direct to the hall, arriving there at 8:45. On the platform were Colonel Dick Wynne, Mrs. Wynne, Mrs. Frank Brady, president of the Women's Department club of this city, and several other members of the club. Colonel Bryan was introduced by Mrs. Brady, who paid him many compliments and stated that although he was daily assaulted by the press of the country for his ideas and views on the political situation he today is one of the most influential citizens in this country.

In beginning his address Colonel Bryan made due acknowledgment of the compliments paid him by Mrs. Brady, and stated that he was hardly deserving of so many nice things, but said that it was nice to be the recipient of such expressions and it took a surplus to offset the mean and undeserved things that are said. He told the story of a young girl who was very homesick and at a supreme moment her sweetheart told her she was beautiful. Upon retiring to her closet she thanked God that love was blind. He said that it was indeed a pleasure for him to be able to talk to an audience on a subject other than politics as he had been making political speeches for the past eight years and judging from their results a majority of the people of this country found exceptions with his political views. He then announced that he would talk on the subject of the "True Value of an Ideal."

He spoke of the value of an ideal in any stage of life and how an ideal was oftentimes responsible for a complete change in a man or woman's life. Even on the impulse of the moment men had been known to completely change and thereafter lead an entirely different life. "Let us not measure life by what others do for us, for then we will be disappointed; but let us measure it by what we do for others and there can be no disappointment," he said. He told the story of how he was asked once as an honorary member of a class to suggest an appropriate name for the class. He suggested "Evergreen." A number of the class raised objection to this upon the grounds that they were not green and did not expect to be evergreen. In the word "Evergreen" he said there is a big meaning, as in the period of greenness there is growth.

He took up the discussion of party ideals and appealed to his listeners for ideals and ambitions along these lines. He denounced the practice of commercialism in politics and deplored the fact that even party leaders were subject to contamination and many were in the sea of politics for the pay there was in it and not the good they could get for their world and their country with their life. In his appeal for higher principles he said that a man was now measured by his wealth and not his worth to the world. As an illustration he said that in some parts of the country entire communities consisted of the generations between themselves and honest work, and said that now the utmost aim of many of the young men of today was to make a fortune at some get-rich-quick scheme quick, instead of living and working for what they could give the world, instead of what they could get out of the world.

Contamination, he said, had brought politics down to where it was not a principle and ideal with many, but the pay they could get for their support. He told numerous instances throughout the north and east where votes were bought and sold and said that when accused of bartering votes the democrats defended themselves by saying that they were imitating the republicans. He said that people should not fight the devil with fire, as the devil knows more about fire and gets his coal for his stoves from it. "There is not a man under the American flag who loves his party more than I love the democratic party." Here his sentence was interrupted by the prolonged cheers elicited by the remark and when it ceased he continued: "There is one man who has more reason to regret a lack of harmony than I.

"If we had one-half of the adherents we have who had a higher ideal and conception we would have an overwhelming majority," said Colonel Bryan. "The fault is not with the people, but with the office holders, who sell the rights of the people and put the money in their pockets."

He criticizes no man for his belief, and says that if the people want a thing they should have it. "They should have any and everything they want," he said, "and if they want the gold standard they should have it. What more could I concede for harmony than this."

One thing and one thing only, he says, is higher than money with every-day life today, and that is conscience, and with honesty and integrity right will triumph with the party that seeks to have authority from the masses of the people. He admitted that he had been thoroughly thrashed and that a great many people rejoiced in it, but that if the people had a better government now he rejoiced with them. He stated that he had been the victim of criticism for making political speeches in his interest during the campaign and that he was glad that the president had on his recent tour done the same thing, as he now had company in bearing the odium "of the lowering of his dignity."

"If my opponents can devise a better system of government than I can, they are not my enemies; they are my friends," said Colonel Bryan. His peroration was a tribute to the American flag and what it represents, and he described the transfer of the Island of Cuba to the people of that section, fulfilling a promise the United States had made to the world. It showed that the flag does not stand for the rights of the people over which it floats, but for the protection of humanity.

INTERVIEWER IS NICELY PARRIED

Leading Questions Do Not Elicit the Answers Desired.

Some Covert Shots at Parker

An interviewer does not get much out of Colonel Bryan. The editor of the Commoner has gone against the man with the pencil so often that he meets the thrust with a nice parry, and turns the point of the weapon from a vital spot. He does not accept hypothetical questions, believing more in dealing with real things. A reporter for the Telegram asked him the direct question:

"Suppose Judge Parker is nominated, will you support the ticket?" "I can not suppose such a thing," replied Mr. Bryan, "as it is one of the impossibilities. I would not answer a hypothetical question of that character because I do not consider it at all probable."

"Who is your choice for the presidency?" he was asked. "I have no choice. I am for a man who has opinions and is willing to state them, a democrat who is not too cowardly to say what he believes and why he believes it. A democrat who can be suppressed as easily as he is, is not strong enough with the people to be the nominee. The democratic party has never been a party of cowardice, it has never failed to declare itself and it never will. The people will not accept as a nominee a man who skulks and hides his views."

"Will Mr. Hearst get the united support of the labor vote?" he was asked. "I have told you that I will not discuss candidates, and I will not." This was said in rather a vexed tone.

Colonel Bryan then turned to devote himself to the visitors who came to shake his hand.

A VERY LATE DINNER AT DELAWARE HOTEL

After the lecture at the city hall, Colonel Bryan was the guest of party workers R. M. Wynne and others at a dinner at the Delaware cafe. Covers were laid for twelve, the board being decorated with pink carnations and ferns. Those attending were Colonel William J. Bryan, Colonel and Mrs. R. M. Wynne and son, Mrs. Frank Brady and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Stephens, Judge J. F. Cooper of the supreme bench of the Philippines, Clarence Ulsley, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Watson.

The dinner was quite a pleasant affair.

A RECEPTION TODAY

This morning at the Delaware hotel parlors for two hours Colonel Bryan held a reception and a large number called to shake his hand. There were numerous readers of the Commoner present, and a large number of his former supporters. Former Senator J. M. Pressler of Coahuila was of the party of visitors and he made the Nebraska smile by telling him that he is as popular in Texas today as he ever was, and that the people of Texas would like to support him again for the presidency if they believed he could be elected.

Early came Colonel R. M. Wynne with a copy of the last Commoner, which has been issued since Colonel Bryan left home and which under the rapid mail service has overtaken him on the road. Colonel Bryan took the folded copy of the paper and immediately opened it to see if his Cleveland cartoon was published. It was there, and shows "Lady Macbeth Cleveland" endeavoring to wash from hand the discoloration which was labeled, "Bond Issue," and below it was the line "Out, Damned Spot." Colonel Bryan smiled at this picture, and turning showed it to the crowd gathered about him. With Colonel Wynne came General Passenger Agent Forbess of the Traction Company, Colonel Paul Waples, T. T. D. Andrews, Judge I. W. Stephens of the court of civil appeals, former Judge Hunter of the same court, D. W. Humphreys, Drew Pruitt and others.

Mr. Forbess tendered Colonel Bryan a special car on the Interurban for himself and those who will accompany him, and stated that a request had come from Grand Prairie, in Dallas county, that the car stop for five minutes that he might address the people. Colonel Bryan declined the special car if he went alone. "I do not like special cars," said he, "although I appreciate the courtesy offered. It is rather lonesome traveling alone, and unless there is a party to go with me I would prefer a trip on the regular car." He agreed that if the car will wait at Grand Prairie he will make an address to the people.

At 11 o'clock this morning after two hours of handshaking, Colonel William J. Bryan took the regular car to Dallas, accompanied only by Colonel Wynne, General Passenger Agent Forbess of the Traction Company arranged that the car is to stop five minutes at Arlington for a speech and five minutes at Grand Prairie. "Night at Dallas, under the auspices of the Jefferson Club, Colonel Bryan will make a political speech. The traction company will run special cars at 5 and 8 o'clock this evening, with a round trip rate of $1. Cars will return to Fort Worth after the speaking, so that all who desire to go from here will have the opportunity.

LUKE WILSON ON INDEPENDENT PLANT

One of the Promoters of the New Packing Company Is Here Today

Luke F. Wilson, one of the promoters of the Independent Packing Company, is here today, a guest of the Delaware. Mr. Wilson arrived here yesterday on private business and attended the Bryan lecture last night. This morning he was prepared to talk of the work of the independent plant. "We are getting along all right in our work," he said. "We are now working in Kansas, and we expect to make up the total in a short time. As has been announced we have secured the option for the Doid plant at Kansas City and we hope soon to have enough raised to start the wheels going. The Kansas people are coming to the front on the proposition. I have not heard from Mr. Martin. He is working in the extreme west, but it is understood generally that he is having success in his work. We have no promotion fund, and therefore we must work slowly. We want to raise $500,000, which is less than 10 cents a head on all the animals in Texas. Mr. Wilson is disposed to criticize the people of Texas for holding back on the independent movement. "The people of Texas go round with pistols on their hips, but when it comes to a proposition like this they show very little bravery," is his remark.

IN THE COURTS

In the Forty-eighth district court this morning the J. B. Miller forgery case was reset for Monday, May 30. The case was to have been tried today, but on account of absence of material state witnesses the trial had to be postponed.

Gus Bader alias "Dutch" Bader, charged with murder, was brought into the Forty-eighth district court today for trial, but the case was reset for the fourth week of the present term. Attachments for several witnesses were ordered by Judge Dunklin returnable May 30.

The John Chapman murder case will likely be called for trial in the Forty-eighth district court tomorrow. A special venire of 100 men was ordered by Judge Dunklin. Chapman has been indicted with Eugene Faulkner by a Dallas county grand jury for the murder of Constable Pate of Garland, some months ago. Faulkner was admitted to $7,500 bond in Judge Mike E. Smith's court a few days ago, which was given with a prominent Dallas banker as surety. These two cases were brought here by a change of venue.

Judge M. E. Smith of the Seventeenth district court is hearing the divorce case of Frank Lewis vs. Sarah T. Lewis. The principal grounds alleged why legal separation should be granted are that the defendant applied "harsh and abusive language" to plaintiff.

Only one transaction was done in this court today. Judge Milam approved the report of the sale of the estate of Emma Billington.

FARMERS' UNION IS TO MEET SOON

C. W. Woodman Is Endeavoring to Have the State Convention Held in This City—Two Hundred Charters

State Secretary C. W. Woodman of the American Federation of Labor returned this morning from Denton, where he held a conference with the state executive committee of the Farmers' Union and reports the possibility of securing the state convention of the organization for this city.

At the conference held yesterday the holding of the convention, which will take place some time in August, was discussed and Fort Worth suggested because of its railroad facilities.

Speaking of the matter this morning, Mr. Woodman said: "There is no reason that the convention can be secured for this city, provided we can offer the convention the use of an auditorium free and provided we can secure favorable railroad rates. Should the convention come here it would mean the gathering of over a thousand of the representative farmers, coming from eighty counties in the state and acting as the delegates for 90,000 farmers."

A decided impetus has been given to the organization of the farmers this spring and during the past two months over 200 charters for locals have been issued in this state alone, a record never before made in the labor movement with whose unions the farmers are affiliating.

Burnett's Vanilla Extract is the fixed standard of excellence. It has outlived this morning from Denton, where he held a conference with the state executive committee of the Farmers' Union and reports the possibility of securing the state convention of the organization for this city.

TRIP TO HOLY LAND SUBJECT OF SERMON

Rev. Boeys of St. Paul's Methodist church, who returned last night from his trip to the Holy Land, will possibly make the experience of the trip the subject of a series of sermons. At both of next Sunday's services references will be made to the trip. In the morning a memorial sermon will be preached to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and upon this occasion the topic will be "America Among the Nations," the subject matter for the address having been culled from experiences upon the tour.

At next Sunday night's service Dr. Boeys will make a formal report to his congregation of the "World's fourth Sunday school convention," the holding of which in the city of Jerusalem was the primary object of the trip.

It is also likely, although not definitely decided, that on successive Sunday evenings thereafter the thirteen different countries visited will in turn be taken up for discussion.
Speaking of the trip this morning, Dr. Boeys said: "The convention, which was composed of about 1,500 delegates, representing thirty-five nationalities and forty-two different denominations, was the first gathering of the sort ever held in the city of Jerusalem. Of the delegates 900 were from this country, 400 from England and the remainder from the other parts of the world, including almost every nation. Texas was represented by seven delegates, three ministers and four laymen."
"Although the convention proper was in session only three days, the whole trip was practically one long convention, the 900 delegates from this country being all aboard the one ship. When I started upon the journey I wondered if I would be able to tell my people anything about it upon my return, but now my only fear is I will never be able to say all I wish."
Dr. Boeys will be tendered a welcome tonight at St. Paul's church by his congregation and friends. An address of welcome will be made by Dr. MacAdam, to which Dr. Boeys will respond.
