Russian Ships at Port Arthur Attempt Another Sortie, But the Ever Watchful Japanese Force Them Back to Cover

THIS MEANS SOMETHING

Fact That Remainder of Fleet Is Trying to Get Out Indicates That Enemy Is Storming Fortress and That It Is Uncomfortable Inside

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 16.—News of the defeat of the Vladivostok squadron added another crushing blow to the Russian before Port Arthur. No public announcement has yet been made of the sinking of the Rurik. Chefoo reports a sortie of Russian warships from Port Arthur, but naturally this can not be confirmed and the admiralty is puzzled to know whether it refers to the ships which remained in the harbor when the main squadron went out August 10 or to the ships of Late Admiral Witthof's original squadron. In either event, however, it is construed as evidence the shells of the Japanese ships and batteries are falling in the harbor, rendering it impossible for the ships to remain there any longer. It is also interpreted in some quarters as indicating the eve of the storming of the fortress.

THE RUSSIANS MAKE AN EARLY SORTIE

CHEFOO, Aug. 16, 2 p. m.—The Russian ships at Port Arthur made a sortie early today. They are now being pursued by the Japanese. A severe engagement is expected.

CHEFOO, Aug. 16, 3 p. m.—The Japanese fleet kept off some distance from the entrance to Port Arthur during the past night, fearing danger from torpedoes in the darkness. The battle, it is now believed, will pit into this vicinity.

CHEFOO, Aug. 16.—The Russians, it is reported, did not encounter the Japanese fleet. Nevertheless they returned to Port Arthur.

CRUISER PALLADA IS REPORTED LOST

CHEFOO, Aug. 16, 4 p. m.—A creditable report states Russia's protected cruiser Pallada was sunk by a torpedo during the engagement on the night of August 10.

TOKYO, Aug. 16, noon.—It seems certain the Russian protected cruiser Pallada was torpedoed and sunk during the naval battle August 10. She failed to return to Port Arthur and has not been reported since Admiral Togo's fleet departed on the various missions the night of August 10, when the Russians retreated. Related reports from various vessels continue to reach Admiral Togo. The Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats made a series of attacks during the pursuit of the Russian warships. One destroyer reports she hit a vessel of the Pallada type and it is thought the vessel foundered and it is believed to be probable the entire crew was either killed or drowned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Official advice received here today states the Japanese commander-in-chief reports the Russian cruiser Pallada was sunk by Japanese torpedo boats on the night of August 10. A cablegram on the subject received by the Japanese legation from the office at Tokyo says: "According to the latest reports Admiral Togo, a Russian vessel of the Pallada type is believed to have been sunk by our torpedo boats during an attack on the night of August 10."

THEY CLAIM TO HAVE SUNK A JAP VESSEL

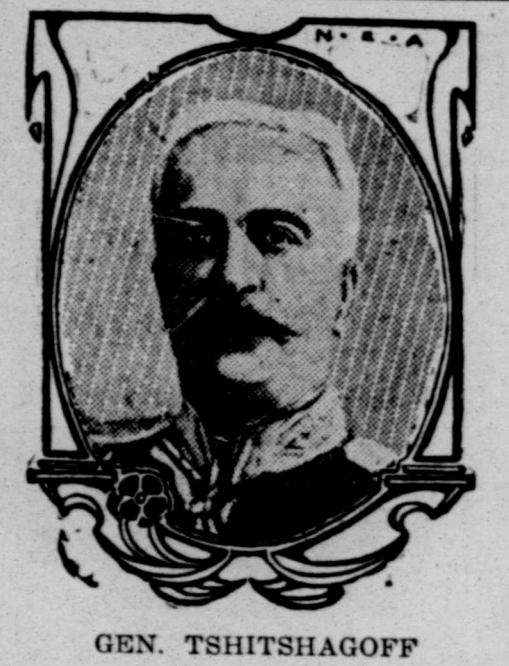

CHEFOO, Aug. 16, 4 p. m.—A telegram just received from Tsing Tsin says the officers of the Russian battleship Czarevitch insist a Japanese battleship sunk within full view during a battle on the night of August 10.

DAMAGE TO THE AMERICAN TRADE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Representatives of the various commercial bodies of San Francisco are considering action in relation to the threatened injury to Pacific coast commerce with the Orient on account of the Russo-Japanese war.

Opinion is expressed the danger to the American vessels is by no means over because of the recent defeat of the Russian fleet, but the danger will continue as long as the war lasts. A committee has been appointed to draw up resolutions to be forwarded to Secretary Hay and also to confer with officials of the Pacific Mail Company. The Pacific Mail Company is reported chartering the ship Aztec to carry merchandise to the Far East.

ENGLAND PROTESTS AS TO NEUTRALITY

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 16.—The formal protest against the treatment of neutral ships was delivered to the Russian government today. It follows the lines of Foreign Secretary Lansdowne's and Premier Balfour's recent statements on the subject in parliament.

FOR THE REPAIRS

TSING TAU, Aug. 16, 1 p. m.—The Russian battleship Czarevitch and three torpedo boat destroyers are now in the hands of the local German government for repairs and have been dismantled.

RUSSIA PROTESTS TO ALL THE POWERS

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Ambassador Benckendorff, carrying out the instructions of Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, presented this morning to Foreign Secretary Lansdowne an official protest from his government against a flagrant violation of international law and neutrality by the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers at Chefoo. The protest is in the nature of a circular to all the powers and recites the facts as already published.

FRANCE PRESENTS RUSSIAN PROTEST

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Russia's protest against Japanese violation of Chinese neutrality at Chefoo has been transmitted to the mikado's government by the French legation at Tokyo acting purely on account of the latter permitting a breach of neutrality in its territory is officially confirmed.

JAPAN SATISFIED WITH THE GERMANS

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Japan has notified Germany that she is entirely satisfied with the latter's course toward the Russian vessels at Tsing Tsin and Germany has advised Japan that she is quite willing to permit a Japanese vessel to enter the Tsing Tsin harbor so that her commander may convince himself that the Russian ships are really disarmed and to leave the harbor within twenty-four hours.

WE OFFER THEIR LIVING FOR OUR DEAD

TOKYO, Aug. 16.—The Russians are generally comparing the treatment accorded the crew of the Rurik to that accorded by the Vladivostok squadron to those on board the transport Hitachi, which was first to be sunk during the night of August 10. A prominent official said to the Associated Press today: "Japan has avenged the Hitachi. Admiral Uriu rescued and succored those who sided in the battle of the Rurik. We offer their living for our dead."

WITH KUROPATKIN AT LIAO YANG

LIAO YANG, Monday, Aug. 15.—Army and other officials remaining here have attended a special service in the Russian settlement in honor of the emperor's general Kuropatkin's review at Anshanshan yesterday in the rain, when the troops passed before the commander and staff through mud and growing Chinese corn, testified to the emperor's slams engendered in the ranks. Two days of fighting ended yesterday on the south front of the army. The Twelfth Siberian regiment, which has been honored by a dispatch from the emperor, appointing his son colonel-in-chief, is distinguished by its participation in the battle of Chutien-Cheng, and in the fights along the Fung Yang Cheng road, including that of July 31. The Japanese are reported to be much nearer Anshanshan on the southeast than twelve miles and Lieutenant General Zaslavitch's troops, who had a severe skirmish with the enemy, are now in daily touch with the enemy. The latter's advance guard, beginning a few miles south of Anshanshan, swing around to Sanchengstang and occupy Liang Sian Kuchiatzu, about thirty miles southeast of Liao Yang. The hills opposite Fenshiway (on the Taitz river Yang.) Grand Duke Boris, who has been recalled to St. Petersburg, departs tonight.

THE VETERANS

Twenty-five Thousand Old Soldiers Were in Line of March When Parade Moved at the Grand Army Encampment

GORGEOUS DECORATIONS

Magnificent Display Arranged in Center of the City Consisting of Flags, Bunting and Streamers in Honor of the Boys in Blue

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—Today dawned clear and fairly cool for the great parade of veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and in honor of the occasion the day was generally observed by all classes. From California to Maine and from the states between the coast, many had come and at 10 o'clock the hour set for the parade to move, 25,000 were in line. Along the line of march at every available point, reviewing stands had been built and these began to fill early, particularly those on Boston Common. Arrangement had been made for the veterans who were physically unable to engage in the parade or who did not care to do so, to view the procession from a stand in Winthrop Square. During the night final decorations were placed and today the center of the city is one mammoth display of flags, bunting and streamers of red, white and blue. Decorations have never been more general, nor more elaborate for any event in this city.

In the formation of the parade Edward H. Kiskey Poet of Boston was given the place of honor, that of escort to Colonel John C. Black, commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Charles H. McConnell, chief of staff. Forty-two states and two territories were represented in the column, besides the Potomac division made up of old guards of Washington. Each state was represented by a division with the exception of Massachusetts, which was in two divisions, there being 130 posts in line from this state.

New England posts numbered about 7,000 men, New York had two battalions, West Virginia eighteen posts, Kentucky twelve posts, North Dakota ten and Minnesota thirteen posts. The Maryland delegation numbered about 1,000 men and that from Ohio about 779. California was represented by two posts and Oregon by one. It is estimated the column required about three hours to pass one point. The parade started at 10 a. m., being concluded at 2 p. m. The line of march being down the long line of bobbing route, all over smooth asphalt streets, was from Commonwealth avenue to Arlington street, to Beacon street, to School street, to Devonshire street, to Summer street, to Washington street, to Temple place, to Tremont street, to Boylston street, to Park square.

From every porch, window and roof of every building along the march people looked down on the long line of bobbing and to these spectators the veterans sent back cheers and hand waves of greeting. The human flag that the G. A. R. committee had planned so carefully was all that could be hoped for. The stand especially constructed for it was on the Common facing Temple place, through which the parade passed on its way to Park square. The parade passed both the state house and city hall, giving both state and municipal officials an opportunity to review the ranks. With military precision the veterans of Antietam, Gettysburg, Vicksburg and Appomattox swung into line at the appointed hour, ready for the command to march. A platoon of police led the column. Following the bands, drum corps and Commander-in-Chief Black and his escort came the several departments of the Grand Army, with the department of Illinois in the van. Naturally Massachusetts turned out the largest representation. Throughout the parade was strictly military, no women, children or grotesque costumes being permitted. The few carriages in line were reserved for the use of disabled veterans, who came in for round after round of hearty cheers all along the route.

WATCHMAN FIRES INTO A CROWD EIGHT SHOTS

Being Accused as a Strike Breaker He Becomes Enraged and Shoots at Random, Wounding Two

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Accused of being a stock yards strike breaker, Robert E. Close, a watchman for the Santa Fe railroad, has fired eight shots into a crowd of men standing near the Archer avenue bridge and wounded two of them. One of his victims, Frank Holleran, was wounded in the side, and is at the county hospital, and Andrew Bloom, 76 years old, refused to desert his post at the crossing of the Chicago and Alton tracks, although he had a bullet in his thigh. Close was arrested. Both of the wounded men were taken to the police station and Holleran asked that he be removed to a hospital. It was not so with Bloom. "No; I must go back to my station," he said. "After the trains all have gone through, then maybe I'll go to the hospital, but until then I can't leave." To the remonstrance of the police he replied: "I have been shot before. I lost my arm at the battle of Antietam, and I carried a bullet in my side for nine days. This hurts, but I must get back to my post." The shooting was caused by a mistake. Close was patrolling the tracks of the Santa Fe road near Ashland avenue, he says, when he saw boys stealing from a freight car. He followed them to the Archer avenue bridge where the men were standing. Some one shouted that he was a strike breaker and Holleran tried to stop him. Close became enraged and drew his pistol, firing at Holleran, and then into the crowd, which promptly scattered.

MEAT STRIKE

Statement of Conditions in the Conflict as Figures Show for the Entire Period Up to Last Saturday Night

LOSSES VERY HEAVY

Strikers Being Supplied With Provisions From Six Commissaries Which Have Been Opened—Market Is Demoralized by Heavy Receipts

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The following is a statement of the strike situation from its inception to last Saturday night: RECEIPTS CHICAGO STOCK YARDS August to Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, Cars, date 1902-1903 234,959 150,642 9,267 Same period 1903 126,600 254,557 175,207 11,120

With grains at high figures, the farmers have been obliged to sell their consignments at reductions, and the country is full of fat cattle and hogs. It is costing the growers much money to hold them for better markets.

Should the strike be settled within a few days, the stock yards commission men predict for this week the greatest receipts of stock ever known at Chicago. For weeks, they declare, there would be more than the normal amount of work for all employees of the packing plants, and there would be no difficulty in placing all the men familiar with the industry. The result of last week in the packing houses was a perceptible increase in the output.

The largest gains were made in the hog department, where the number of animals killed approached most nearly the work done last year. Of the total of 100,000 hogs killed 54,500 were handled by the big packers. Last year there were 123,000 hogs slaughtered in the Chicago plants. To the declaration by President Donnelly of the butcher workmen that the average wages for the unskilled men was $6.50 the packers replied that laborers in the killing gangs were paid an average of $8.24 last year. They also declared the men worked an average of forty-four hours a week instead of thirty-five, as asserted by the union leaders. Many of the smaller dealers in the stock yards district have been driven out of business by the strike. Florists, decorators, shoe dealers, and confectioners have been the first to feel the business depression. A number of the shoemakers have practically abandoned trying to do business, although keeping their doors open. The latter are now turning over their effects to brewers and closing their places. Six relief commissaries were open distributing to strikers, who thronged to the stations. There was little disorder, although those recognized as cooler heads among the strikers were drafted heavily for picket duty within the yards. Picketing within the inclosure has been carried on quietly and on a small scale ever since the strike opened and along such lines that it could not be prevented without excluding all competitors. SHEA HALTS TEAMSTERS' TIEUP. Meat deliveries proceeded last week with little interruption, because of an order issued by President Shea of the teamsters. Shea overruled the desires of the local teamsters' union officials, who wished to tie up completely the business of markets which attempted to handle the big packers' products.

"No meat from the big packing companies will be hauled by members of the Chicago Market Drivers' union," was the announcement which Secretary Dean of that union had made in the morning. "Our men will refuse to deliver such meat even from markets to families." Shea declared this amounted to a violation of contracts, and modified the order to read that only the meat which had been placed in the cold storage warehouses since the strike was declared should be barred. The order had been taken into the cold storage plants previously to the strike.

PACKERS SEND OUT MUCH MEAT

The packers promptly took advantage of the distinction, according to the teamsters, and sent out many wagonloads of so-called "unfair" meat. President E. G. Wickert of the Grocery and Market Drivers' union declared warehouse receipts had been changed to show the meat sent out had been in storage since before the strike. The effect of Shea's order was that meat was moved more easily than at any time previously since the teamsters entered the strike controversy. Armour & Company and Swift & Company were reported to have sent several loads from their storage warehouses at Sixteenth street to the downtown district. Cudney & Company, 373 State street, admitted receiving a supply from the packers, while a downtown department store also secured a wagonload. The market men were pleased at the release of the meat, which enabled them to secure their supplies, but the teamsters showed signs of dissatisfaction with the order. President Wickert of the drivers said the order probably would be changed at the meeting of the teamsters' joint council. In the cold storage warehouses of packers it was estimated there was enough meat to last for a week or more, and it was declared by the union officials that if the order issued by Shea was adhered to, the packers for some time would suffer no difficulty in meat deliveries to their customers.

Great Day for Members of the Order in Louisville, Where Hosts Are Gathered for Supreme Lodge Session

A GRAND ENCAMPMENT

Low Rates Offered by the Railroads Attract Many to the Gathering and Knights and Sir Knights Are There From Many States

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 16.—This has been a gala day in the history of Louisville, and though the city has been the scene of many large and imposing gatherings in the past few years, the spectacle witnessed today is conceded to have been one of the most impressive in the city's history, and to have brought within her confines the largest crowd ever seen on the streets.

The low rates on the railroads went into effect Saturday, and since Sunday the people have been coming in from all points in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and other states. The railroads expected to carry 30,000 people or so, but the rush has been far beyond these figures. The great crush came today, as the special attraction was the parade of the Uniform Rank and the subordinate lodges, which marched through the principal streets of the city. All public and private buildings were gaily decorated for the occasion, and everywhere along the line of march and on the principal streets the Knights of Pythian colors, calveled with national flags, floated from windows and balconies or hung from ropes stretched across the streets.

When the hour for the parade arrived the people began to station themselves along the line of march, and on both sides of the street the masses of human beings filled the courtyards, crowded the sidewalks and pushed along the street and stood for two hours watching the agent. Supreme Chancellor Bangs and the officers of the supreme and grand lodges, he city and state and county officers, showed the parade from the reviewing stand. The column, consisting of fully 15,000 members of the Uniform Rank, started at 2 o'clock, the officers, numbering about 500, all being on richly caparisoned steeds. The Kentucky brigade of several regiments and bands led the march. Indiana and Illinois came next with the largest number in line. Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, California, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and other states were well represented. More than a score of states in all were represented in the Uniform Rank, and as many were in the subordinate lodges, the members of the latter in the parade being about 25,000.

Another mass meeting was held at Collier's grove last night. The meeting was fairly well attended. C. W. Woodman, the state organizer of the American Federation of Labor, delivered an address to the audience and told them that arrangements had been completed to take care of all who needed food, clothing or homes during the strike. He was followed by C. E. Schmidt, vice president of the Butcher Workmen and Meat Cutters' Union, who spoke on the subject of "The Spirit of Discontent." In his talk he told of the progress labor unions had made and went over their past history. Announcements were made of meetings to be held at Dallas on Wednesday and at Thurber on Thursday. Promise of medical assistance was also made to any one of the local union who needed it or for their families during the time of the strike. Saturday night the town had a mad-dog scare. A dog suffering with rabies was seen by some boys, who chased it to the Cotton Belt tracks, where O. R. Montgomery came up with the boys and shot the dog. For a few minutes there was considerable excitement in that part of the city. A bicycle was stolen from John Parker about two weeks ago. Sunday Chief Howell went to Dallas and recovered the wheel, which had been sold to a boot-black for $2.25. A person has been arrested, charged with the theft of the wheel and is now in the county jail. The strikers are now holding meetings every morning at the Marine school house at 19 o'clock. These meetings are for members of the local only. MARKET PLAN IS MEETING WITH SUCCESS

Committee Has Raised Nearly All of the Fund Which It is Estimated Will Be Needed for the Enterprise

The cotton committee soliciting funds from the merchants will conclude its soliciting this week and there will probably be another meeting of citizens at the Board of Trade rooms, possibly on Friday night, at which a report of the work done by the committee will be made. It was stated by the committee today that while the entire amount of $3,000 has not yet been secured, the sum will undoubtedly be secured by the time the meeting is held. Wherever the committee has gone it has met with encouragement and secured liberal contributions. The merchants have shown a commendable spirit in the movement and have donated very liberally. They realize that the results following such a move will prove beneficial in more ways than one, hence they offer no objection, donating of their means. It means that the trade relations with the farmers are to be encouraged as they have not been encouraged in years. Hundreds of farmers living in Fort Worth territory have for years been selling their cotton crop to the smaller towns just because the country merchants have been paying more for cotton than the Fort Worth merchants. It is to stop this that the present move was originated, the plan being to pay the farmers more for their staple than any other town can possibly furnish. The plan to be followed will come up for consideration at the meeting which, as stated, will likely be held Friday night or Friday afternoon. Paid cotton buyers will be put on the list to see every farmer who brings a bale of cotton to town in his wagon.

THE CROPS IN TEXAS

Apples raised at Denison are so large that it was shown yesterday by a raiser of this fine fruit to take only thirteen apples to make a peck. These are said to be the largest apples ever seen. They are known as the Blodsoe apples and are finer and larger than the Mann apples of Oklahoma. Cotton pickers are being rounded up around Corsicana and in Navarro county, and the cotton picking season has opened up in earnest. A third of a bale to the acre is what the farmers in the neighborhood of Cleburne expect to gather off of their fields. The San Saba Farmers' Institute will begin at San Saba on the 15th and continue for three days. A fine program has been prepared and the farmers who are expected to attend are counting on an excellent meeting. Three new bales of cotton have been received at Georgetown. The prices paid were 10 1/2c and 12c. The latest melon crop for years is being marketed at Terrell. Many wagon loads are sold on the streets daily and but little of the crop has been shipped. The Grayson County Potato Growers will meet at Sherman on the 15th to plan the planting of the crop for the coming year. First bales were received yesterday at Arlington, Ferris, Bridgeport, Garland and Cleburne. The prices paid ranged from 3 1/2c to 12c. Corn of the strawberry variety was on exhibition at Waxahachie yesterday. The corn was raised by H. H. Hamilton, who lives three miles south of the town. Reports from farms in the vicinity of Ennis are to the effect that the soil weevils are doing considerable harm to the cotton and the planters are becoming much alarmed. The warm weather at Frost has caused the cotton to open up and now pickers can be seen in the fields. Over twenty bales have already been brought to Frost and marketed. The prospects of good crops around Longview are far from being as bright as they were two weeks ago. Buds of the past week have produced the boll worm and the pest has created all kinds of havoc. Picking will begin the latter part of the month. The weather of the past week around Winona has been cloudy and has retarded the growth of cotton. Bolls are in evi-

ACCUSED OF MURDER MRS. KRAUSS IS CALM

 HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Aug. 14.—If Mrs. W. R. Krauss poisoned her step-daughter, Crystal, she must have had a motive. This is what the state is busy with now. Prosecutor Burns declares the motive might be a double one—jealousy and greed.

W. R. Krauss, father of Crystal, is a prominent druggist here. Crystal, who had lived here all her life, was easily the most popular girl in the town. She moved in the exclusive circles which the city boasts.

Mrs. Krauss, who was Miss Rae Anderson, has lived here twelve years and is the daughter of a physician. She never has been prominent socially.

Many people thought that after her marriage to Krauss three months ago she would be taken into the social whirl. The new Mrs. Krauss and her step-daughter apparently agreed splendidly, and in public Mrs. Krauss was very affectionate toward Crystal.

During the last six weeks there has been a great deal of entertaining in local society. Crystal was out nearly every evening, attending a ball, party or lawn fete.

Mrs. Krauss did not attend these affairs. W. R. Krauss' first wife was the owner of valuable property. She left this to Crystal. In the event of the girl's death, Crystal was to inherit it. According to the will, Crystal was to come into possession at the age of 19.

A peculiar coincidence in connection with the case is that Crystal would have been 19 on August 29. She died just three weeks before she would have become the absolute possessor of her inheritance.

Mrs. Krauss, when she married Krauss, signed an agreement to accept $2,000 on her dower right and leave all the rest

FIGHTS SURGEONS

Negro Who Was Badly Cut Becomes Unruly While Stitches Are Being Taken in Wounds by the Doctors

BREAKS UP FURNITURE

Unusual Experience of Two Local Surgeons With a Half-crazed Patient—Police Are Called in to Restrain Him by Force

There is a trail of blood this morning leading from the corner of Seventh and Houston up to the office of Drs. J. H. McLean and L. A. Barber, in the First National bank building.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night the above doctors had a terrible and at the same time unique experience with a negro named Bruner, who was discovered on the corner of Seventh and Houston streets by Dr. McLean, bleeding profusely from a knife wound which has severed the temporal artery.

Dr. McLean was sitting in front of the Elks' Club when he saw the bleeding negro pass, and summoning Dr. Barber, who was near, the man was taken to their office to dress the cut.

When they had finished the operation, several stitches having been taken, they told the man that he could go.

The negro, crazed from loss of blood, began to show a maniacal tendency, and with a wild look in his eyes began to overturn the furniture in the room. Chairs were overturned, instruments and instrument cases broken and still the negro raged.

Drs. McLean and Barber grappled with the man and attempted to quiet him; it was useless.

The man was suffering from acute delirium, caused by anemia of the brain. He raged, he swore, he shrieked and kicked and bit at the doctors. He yelled and fought like a tiger, the doctors being unable to restrain him, due to the slippiness of the man's bloody clothing.

At this juncture a third party arrived and joined forces with the physicians, but it was of no avail. The negro in his struggles had reopened the cut, which was spurting blood over the room and the clothing of those who were trying to restrain him.

POLICE ARRIVE
 Seeing that a total wreck of the office would result if something was not done to restrain the temporary maniac, the doctors sent in a hurried call for the police. The officers soon arrived in the ambulance, conveying him to his home at 1708 East Fourth street. Once or twice in the ambulance he became unruly, but was simply overpowered.

HOW HE WAS CUT
 When accidentally quieted to talk, Bruner stated that he had been cut by a man with whom he had some trouble. The affair occurred in the rear of the Board of Trade building.

A LIST OF CASUALTIES
 The office of Drs. McLean and Barber looked as if it had been struck by a hurricane this morning and could be fittingly described as appearing like a slaughter house after an explosion.

Two suits of clothes belonging to the doctors were completely ruined by being soaked with blood; about $15 worth of furniture and instruments were wrecked. It required several hours of diligent cleaning to restore anything like normal order in the office this morning.

THE MAN'S CONDITION
 The physicians stated this morning they have hopes of the man's recovery. He lost over a quart of blood, which is nearly enough to kill a man.

CITATION

The State of Texas, in the District Court, Tarrant County, Texas, October Term, A. D. 1904.—To the Sheriff or any Constable of Tarrant County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded, that, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the county of Tarrant four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summon Albert S. Hall and wife, Annie Hall, whose residence are unknown, to be and appear before the district court, to be holden in and for the county of Tarrant, at the court house thereof, in the city of Fort Worth, on the second Monday in October, A. D. 1904, the same being the 10th day of said month, then and there to answer the petition of the Watkins Land Company, a corporation, as plaintiff, filed in said court on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1904, against D. E. Wolff and wife, Sallie A. Wolff, and Albert S. Hall and wife, Annie Hall, as defendants, said suit being numbered 2352, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit: That plaintiff is the owner of 4 1/2 acres of land in Tarrant county, Texas, on the waters of Denton Creek, about 15 miles north 24 east from Fort Worth, being the north half of a 99-acre survey, patented to James Joyce, assignee of William Y. Allen; that said land was conveyed by D. E. Wolff and wife, Sallie A. Wolff, to defendant Albert S. Hall on the 21st day of January, 1885, by general warranty deed, and in making the joint acknowledgment the notary, W. W. Motlans, improperly described Sallie A. Wolff as F. A. Wolff in two places, while in the third place he properly designated her as Sallie A. Wolff.

And that defendants, Albert S. Hall and wife, Annie Hall, on September 26, 1885, sold and conveyed the property by general warranty deed to L. L. Eastly, and in making the joint acknowledgment before the above named notary, he described the defendant, Annie Hall, as Alice Hall in two places, property describing her in the third place, both of which were clerical errors not affecting the goodness of title; that plaintiff has demanded of the defendants to correct the error by making a new deed, signifying the correction and tendered them the money necessary to pay for same and they have refused to make the correction. Wherefore, plaintiff prays for citation in terms of law, and upon final hearing hereof, the cloud cast upon the title by reason of the misprision of said notary be removed, for costs of suit and general relief.

Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Witness JNO. A. MARTIN, Clerk of the District Court of Tarrant county, Texas, on my hand and seal of said court in Fort Worth this 15th day of August, A. D. 1904. JNO. A. MARTIN, Clerk District Court, Tarrant County, Texas.

All evolutionists believe that organic evolution began in the sea. Now comes M. Rene Quinton of the Laboratory of Pathologic Physiology of the College de France, who asserts that as the cell itself has persisted in living organisms, being practically the same in the human body as in our earlier marine predecessors, so the conditions of its life closely reproduce those of primordial times. The cell in our own bodies is bathed in a fluid that closely resembles sea water in chemical composition and that approximates in temperature to that of the ocean when life first appeared in it.

Market Quotations

NORTH FORT WORTH, Aug. 16.—Receipts of cattle today showed a slight increase over yesterday. Thirty cars arrived with about 1,200 head, and with drive-ins, total receipts were estimated at 1,400 cattle.

The supply of steers was moderate, mostly of medium grades, with about four loads of fairly well-finished cattle. There was a good demand from packers and with some competition from feeder buyers the general trade ruled active, with sales showing another advance over yesterday of from 10c to 15c, the best selling at $3.75 and the bulk around $3.50.

Receipts of hogs were moderate and the market ruled active and strong at a range of from $1.50 to $2, stags selling as high as $3.

Receipts of calves were moderately liberal and mostly of good quality. A good demand from both local houses caused an active and steady market and all offerings were weighed early, with the top today $3.50 for 100-pound vealers.

Only a light supply of hogs came in today, and were hardly enough to make a market quotable. Two shipments arrived with about 300 head. The quality was medium and taking this into consideration the general run of sales ruled strong to 5c higher compared with yesterday.

The top today was $5.47 1/2 for one sorted bunch averaging 173 pounds.

COTTON. (By Private Wire to M. H. Thomas & Co.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The weekly cotton bulletin, issued today, shows the following summary:

A more or less decided deterioration in cotton is indicated over much of the greater part of the cotton belt, with the exception of Oklahoma. Complaints of shedding are received from every state and rotting of lower bolls is reported from portions of central and western districts.

Boll weevils are causing much damage in southwestern, central, eastern and coast districts of Texas and are proving destructive to northern counties. In that state, however, the plant and fields are in good condition.

THE SMITH CASE GOES TO WACO FOR TRIAL

Celebrated Criminal Cause of Bell County Is Removed on Change of Venue to McLennan County

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 16.—The case of the state of Texas against T. E. Smith came up in the district court at Temple yesterday and upon defendant applying for a change of venue same was granted and the case set for hearing at Waco, in McLennan county, on September 5 the court announcing to all witnesses that the same summons would hold them for the appearance before the court at Waco that had been served on them here.

The case is a celebrated one in the criminal annals of Bell county and its outcome is awaited with a great deal of interest. T. E. Smith was the possessor of a large tract of fine farming land situated about six miles north of Temple near Pendletonville. Upon this land he had borrowed money amounting to $10,000, and had put off the fatal day of payment until there came a time when the creditors would wait no longer. Suit for foreclosure was entered and the land taken for the debt. The holder of the judgment sold his interest in evidence of course, the mills being taken in lieu of the debt. Upon being informed of the trespass Grubbs in company with another deputy went back to the farm shortly afterwards for the purpose of again dispossessing the Smiths.

Grubbs was killed. Mrs. Smith and her son, Addison, were arrested and placed in jail charged with the killing. That was over a year ago. Mrs. Smith was tried and sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary. The court of appeals at Austin remanded the case for re-trial on several counts. The case of T. E. Smith and the son Addison Smith are yet to be tried.

All parties connected with the affair are prominent in the county and the case has excited a wide amount of interest.

OVER SIX FEET HE STANDS AND IS ERECT

Former Sheriff and Now a Lawyer of the Chickasaw Nation Is a Visitor to City of Fort Worth

Judge Michael Flore of Bennington, Jackson county, I. T., was a visitor in Fort Worth yesterday. He was accompanied by Joseph Zions. They came here to sell two loads of cattle and to size up the cattle market.

Mr. Flore is one of the finest specimens of a man ever seen in Fort Worth. He is but 29 years of age, with a handsome face, and a figure superb. He weighs 280 pounds, is six feet two inches in height, and has a chest measurement of fifty inches. He is erect as an Indian, for he is one, or rather about half Indian blood courses through his veins. He is of the Chickasaw Indians, and is celebrated for his wonderful physical strength and endurance.

For four years "Mike" Flore was sheriff of Jackson county and during that time he spent his spare minutes in studying law. The people honored him at the last election by electing him county judge. He is an unmarried and is said to be the richest Indian in the Chickasaw nation. At the Texas and Pacific depot last evening he was the center of all eyes, as he stalked toward one he looked like a giant on a horse.

To talk to Mr. Flore one would never suspect that he was anything but a highly-educated American, which he is in the truest sense of the word. Both gentlemen returned home last evening.

GETTING READY TO OPEN SCHOOLS IN SEPTEMBER

School Trustee Sprinkle Talks of the Coming School Year Which Soon Is to Commence in This City

School Trustee Sprinkle said this morning that the work of putting the ward buildings in good condition is progressing with dispatch and that they would be ready for occupancy by the time the fall term begins, which will likely be September 15. The exact date, however, has not yet been determined and will not be until the return of Superintendent Hogg, who has been out of the city for some time.

There is some complaint reaching the trustees from residents of the Fifth ward that the building in that ward will not be in proper shape and that many of the residents in order that their children may attend other ward schools. Mr. Sprinkle asks The Telegram to note the fact that the building in the Fifth ward will be in every way just as comfortable for the pupils as any other ward building, and Mr. Sprinkle added that it will be much more comfortable than the buildings in some other wards. The rooms, he says, are being put in good condition and there is no occasion on the part of Fifth ward citizens to find fault on any cause whatever.

Two rooms each are being added to the school buildings in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth wards. Two additional rooms are also being built to the South Side colored school. The work, Mr. Sprinkle states, is being pushed along with all possible speed in order that the improvements may be made and the buildings in shape for the opening date.

Superintendent Hogg of the city schools is expected to arrive home today and the members of the school board will then take up the question of calling a special meeting to elect a principal of the Second ward school and take other steps necessary for the opening of the schools. It is not considered likely that this matter will be delayed until the next regular time for meeting, September 1, as that date will be too near the time set for the opening of the schools.

In the meantime the additions to the various buildings and the other work necessary to put them in good condition for the coming term is being pushed forward rapidly and City Engineer Hawley has stated that it will be fully completed by the time set for the opening of the term. Today Mr. Hawley is visiting the various buildings and investigating the work and the progress being made. These improvements and addition were outlined in The Telegram at the time they were authorized by the city council.

No rainfall occurred at any point in the state yesterday according to the reports sent out by the government stations this morning. Georgia, however, experienced heavy rains accompanied in some places by destructive winds. It is thought to have done great damage to the cotton crop of that section.

Clear weather is reported this morning by all the stations with a few exceptions and temperatures generally are about normal.

The prediction sent out for East Texas forecasts clear weather with the exception of the northwest portion, which will probably have scattered showers.

FORECAST. The forecast for Texas east of the one hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, is as follows:

East Texas (north)—Tonight, fair, except probably showers in extreme west portion. Cooler in extreme west portion. Wednesday, scattered showers.

East Texas (south)—Tonight and Wednesday, generally fair.

WEATHER CONDITIONS. D. S. Landis issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning:

of the Upper Missouri and Mississippi valleys, also along the middle Gulf coast, are dominated by high pressure, accompanied by clear weather conditions. Low pressure is over the southwest, and over the northeast quarter of the country. The lake regions is in a rainy condition. Thunder storms occurred at Kansas City, Chicago, Dodge City, Jacksonville, Detroit, Cairo and Phoenix.

JUST A LITTLE TOO PREVIOUS

We have but little patience with a certain class of merchants who advertise "New Autumn Goods" in August, and "New Spring Styles" in December and January. Any lady who would pick up the book of that kind of merchant certainly will be a sucker, and she'll find herself wearing last year's clothes, thinking they are "advance styles."

It is a well-known fact which every paper in the land has published, that the new styles in millinery and ready-to-wear garments are only given out in Paris, August 15, then they are copied by the other trade centers like Berlin, London and New York, and would it be likely they could be shown in Texas before anyone except the originators had seen them?

The merchant who thinks he is buying new styles before September 1 is a dupe and his customers also who think THEY are getting new styles.

Yesterday we received from a manufacturer a package of new styles—"advance styles" he called them; saying he knew our customers would be looking for the new styles. We modeled to suit his taste on which he had been keeping his hands at work and as he had made them up he had to "work" some one to sell them.

Fort Worth merchants will show new styles about as early as anyone outside the large cities, but they will not show new styles for a month yet—i. e. real, new styles.

D. S. LANDIS, Official in Charge. SOUTH BOSQUE OIL FIELD. WACO, Texas, Aug. 16.—It is considered almost certain that there will be developments in the South Bosque oil region this week which will either widen the field or indicate that an area of "dusters" has been encountered. One or two drills are right down about the point where oil is expected, and may bring in a producer at any time. It is thought by those in charge of development work that some dry wells will be brought in just as they have been elsewhere. One or two in the proposition of a pay field seems to be stronger than ever, though of course it may be limited as to area. At any rate it is thought that this week will make known some things which are now only guess work and speculation.

Governor General Tsou of Canton is said to have urged the empress of China five times to declare war against Russia, and to have sent telegraphic messages to all the leading mandarins in the empire to support him.

HOUSTON'S INDIAN BRIDE

One of the most unique characters ever on Texas soil was General Sam Houston, and around his life was woven some very romantic and interesting episodes. Leaving the wife of his bosom and resigning the office of governor back in Sunny Tennessee, he disappears from the public eye and finally comes to light in the Indian Territory among the Cherokee Indians. These Indians had afforded him shelter when he ran away from home as a boy in Tennessee, and he remained among them several months before he could be induced to return to civilization.

There has always been some question of whether or not Houston married while with the Cherokees in the Territory. It is known that his morality was at a very low ebb about that time, and he has been severely criticised for leaving his Indian bride in the manner he did when he cast his lot with the struggling Texas colony. Dr. Emmett Malcom Starr of Claremore, Indian Territory, is writing a history of the Cherokees, and the work, which was begun in 1893, will appear some time in October. A chapter of this work is devoted to the life of Sam Houston, and throws some additional light on the actions of that great genius when he was a citizen of the Cherokee nation. In the matter of Houston's marriage and alleged desertion of Tiana Rogers, a Cherokee girl of unusual beauty and intelligence, is characterized as false. Dr. Starr says the woman refused to accompany Houston to Texas, where he desired to go to fight the Mexicans. Following is his version of the affair:

Governor Houston resigned the governorship of Tennessee April 16, 1829, and immediately repaired to Tah-lou-tee-skee, then the capital of the Cherokee nation west. He was adopted in the Cherokee nation by an act conferring citizenship in the Cherokee nation on Samuel Houston, approved by the council October 21, 1831. Houston married Mrs. Tiana Gentry, nee Rogers, and settled near the lower falls of the Verdigris river, where he opened a small trading station. He was deputed by the government of the United States and the Cherokee authorities to induce the Texas Cherokees to return to the Cherokee nation, in December, 1832.

He told his wife and friends that he intended to stay in Texas and join the revolution, and that his ambition was to be the first president of the Republic of Texas and annex it to the United States, and by the popularity of that act succeeded to the presidency of the United States. His wife refused to leave her home and kinsmen, so he went alone, and even after he had become established in his new home she obstinately refused his entreaties to join him.

Certainly, the above ought to establish the fact that Sam Houston did not deliberately desert his fair Cherokee bride for the promptings of his ambition. The testimony given in the above is to the point and clears away one dark spot that has rested on his character. Sam Houston was not a perfect man, for like many men of genius, he had some very glaring faults. He was so addicted to the use of fire water, as the Indians term it, during his residence among the Cherokees, that he acquired the suggestive appellation of "Big Drunk." From the home he had established among the Cherokees he journeyed to Bexar, in the guise of an agent of the United States government, to negotiate a treaty with the Comanche Indians. As a result of this trip he wrote a very remarkable letter to President Andrew Jackson, in which he tells Old Hickory that the time is ripe for the acquisition of Texas by the United States. This letter, which is still in existence, has given some color to the theory that there was a clear-cut understanding between Jackson and Houston on this subject, and that Houston came to Texas in the interest of that understanding. At any rate, he left the side of his Indian bride for good, and cast his lot with the struggling colonists, where he was worth much in the struggle that ensued for Texas independence.

Houston was a man with a considerable military reputation before his association with the Texas revolutionists. He made a reputation in the Creek Indian war in Alabama, long years before his appearance in the west, and was a very brave and intrepid soldier. It is strange that with his military skill and knowledge, he should have smelted gun powder but once during the entire campaign for Texas independence, and that was at the memorable battle of San Jacinto, where Santa Anna was captured and where the Texas heroes really won their independence.

It is true that Houston was all the time rendering the struggling patriots invaluable service. It is true that if his orders had been carried out there would have been no massacre at Goliad and no fall of the Alamo, but the fact still remains that General Sam Houston was present at but one decisive engagement during the war for Texas' independence, and while he was given the major portion of the glory and renown there were others perhaps more justly entitled thereto than himself. It is not intended by this to detract from the reputation of the old hero. There are no doubt cogent reasons why he was not in the lead at every brush had with the enemy. That he was a great man and a genius is appreciated by all Texans, and there are none who would detract one particle from his reputation nor that of the Indian girl who was his wife. May they both rest in peace.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts is ninety years of age and still able to work at her desk with remarkable regularity. The baroness is one of the most remarkable women of modern times, and has perhaps given more to charity than any other woman the world has ever known. She still occupies the house in London where she has lived and worked for seventy years.

It is reported that the railroads of the country have recently laid off and discharged 300,000 men for alleged motives of economy. If they would discontinue the practice of extending the free pass privilege so generally in all of the states they would perhaps find it unnecessary to contract such violent spasms of economy toward their employes.

The eastern democratic press characterizes Governor Hogg's speech at the Houston convention as secession, and speaks of his alleged defection as a heavy loss to the party, having in mind his 300 pounds of avoidance. But by gattling, the governor is still true to the old moorings, and will be a thorn in the side of some of his critics for many years yet.

Grover Cleveland once said he would not accept a renomination at the hands of the democratic party, but Grover found it was just as easy to change his mind as it was to spit on his bait when he went fishing. Judge Parker would have an illustrious example should he later find it necessary to yield to the demands of a triumphant democracy.

It is stated that John D. Rockefeller has just made an offer to buy the bank of England, and if he is really at a loss to know what to do with his coin he can probably learn something to his advantage by communicating with George Bruce Cortelyou, who is badly in need of funds in a frantic effort to save the country.

Tom Watson, the Georgia populist, who is the nominee of his party for presidential honors, exerted all the wind there was in his atomizer in an attempt to blow out the fuse between Nebraska populism and democracy, but did not succeed. The two parties have fused on terms very advantageous to Thomas' party.

Germany has yielded the honor of being the first in the production of beer to the United States, but when it comes to the matter of consumption that is a wholly different proposition. Germany yields the palm to no other in that respect.

In referring to our presidents in his speech of acceptance, Judge Parker speaks of them "from Washington down." He evidently had the present incumbent firmly in mind when he used that expression "down," for Mr. Roosevelt is far below the Washingtonian standard.

Paul Morton is said to have introduced some business sense into the naval department at Washington that is positively refreshing. He has given the old barnacles such a shaking up that they can only stand around and wonder where a progressive idea is going to strike next.

People can say what they please about the Russians as fighters, but their record as sprinters is absolutely above reproach. Their warships and torpedo boat destroyers may not be much in a naval engagement, but when it comes to an emergency they can show a powerful clean pair of heels.

In 1900 the republicans carried Pennsylvania by 288,000 and the democrats saved Texas to the extent of 140,000. Pennsylvania now has it on a little in the size of majorities given the respective parties, but the day is not far distant when we will make her little old 288,000 look like 30 cents.

The McKinley policies have been dumped into the cellar at the White House by the present occupant, who proposes to give to the world an exhibition of rough riding over everything guaranteed to the citizen by the federal constitution.

Wisconsin republicans are so busy scrapping among themselves that they are giving the democrats of that state the finest kind of an opportunity to carry the state in the impending national election. And democracy is not indifferent to the opportunity.

The democrats are not worrying about Henry G. Davis saying anything foolish. They know he'll let his money talk.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ill-peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, Mrs. ROSA ADAMS, 819 12th St., Louisville, Ky."

"Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified indorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week, for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more. I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, Miss ELSIE DANFORTH, 208 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

SAW-OFF GAMES TO BE PLAYED FOR PENNANT

Twenty-one Games Will Follow the Close of the Season, Eight of Them to Be Played in Fort Worth

The Texas League season has closed. Yesterday afternoon the final games were played, Ardmore at Fort Worth and Corsicana at Dallas.

It has been decided that there will be twenty-one games in the "saw-off" series between Fort Worth and Corsicana.

It looks as present as if Corsicana will win the pennant, that is, judging from the strength of the two teams.

The Panthers will, no doubt, make a bold stab for victory and the pennant, but they have an uphill fight before them.

A JEAM FOR THE TERRITORY A bunch of players has been gotten together by Umpire Dan Crotty to make a tour of Indian Territory towns.

CORSICANA TALK The Oil City fellows, as a result of the recent addition of players, feel very confident of twisting the Panther's tail in the "saw-off" series.

A BRIEF REVIEW

The past Texas League season has not been a successful one in any sense of the word. The games afforded have not been of a high order and financial results were not what might be expected.

Ample arrangements have been made for the coming season, however, and with the formation of a new and larger league Texas fans may expect better results in every way.

FORT WORTH WINS IT

The last game of the season failed to draw a large crowd, though it was the best game, probably, of the series. Dunn made his debut upon the local diamond in the box and was effective throughout the game.

Moulder did the honors in the box for the visitors and the half dozen hits appropriated by Fort Worth was in a measure offset by a liberal indulgence in the pass habit in the early part of the game.

Dugan continued the fielding star of Ardmore, and played a sensational game at short. The score: FORT WORTH AB. R. BH. PO. A. E. THE RECALL OF A DIPLOMAT OFTEN IS TRUIBLE

Recent Negotiations in Turkey Brings Out Stories of Ministers Who Were in Danger in That Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The threatened recall of Minister Leishman from Constantinople revives interest in the meaning of such a procedure and the circumstances attending it.

When an ambassador is recalled, he must leave the country officially within 24 hours. His departure is to be followed by a proclamation of war, but in recent times it has become the custom to consider the recall itself as tantamount to a declaration—that is, unless the order is the result of the ambassador's own wrong-doing.

Recalls have often led to some strange experiences, and the homeward journey through the state is often accompanied by thrilling adventures.

Perhaps the most curious cause of a recall was when a French ambassador was ordered home for refusing to fall in love. This was not the actual reason assigned by the government.

At last her father put the matter in plain terms before the ambassador, and offered a tempting dowry if a marriage could be arranged.

When, five days later, they were rescued by an English vessel the official was given a workman's outfit, and, clad in this, he landed at Constantinople, where a demonstration awaited him.

Ambassadors shall not fight duels—that is another unwritten law. But it was once broken by a diplomatist at St. Petersburg, who believed the cause of his recall, which he had just received, to be a lying report by the minister to meet him before he left the city.

At a time when anti-English feeling was strong in Berlin the British minister had to adopt a disguise to leave the city. Although it is the duty of the government to guarantee safe conduct to the accredited minister at such times of panic as the one alluded to, these "guarantees" are of little practical value.

A RIOT OF COLOR

It is hard to tell whether the fall horse show in the east is a horse show or a dress show. The hats this year promise to give the whole a flower garden appearance.

Never have the colors in millinery been prettier and more attractive. Two-toned effects are carried out in flowers, ribbons and veils. Daring shades are combined with daring effects. Though Frenchy in appearance, some of the most elaborate of these horse show hats are made in this country.

The hats are large. For the most part they are flat, low crowns, though no effort is being made to introduce, thus early, the extreme high crown.

Here are shown three French hats. The artistic design can be followed, but the color affords much of the beauty of each hat. No. 1 is shown to illustrate the extreme high crown. One side of the hat has a flare and a decided roll. The other side rolls slightly and is covered with a rich black plume. The body of the hat is of black chantilly lace. The crown is of tiny black silk violets. The same flowers form a band about the brim. The top of the crown is indented from front to back, very like the crease in the old English walking hat. The hat is worn with the gayest of gowns, not with black.

No. 2 shows the new cornflower color combinations. The shades are in blues and purples. The brim is of a purplish blue maline, flat, made to set well to the front of the head, a little shorter in the back than in the front. The crown is low, but not immoderately large. Across the front is a mass of great roses in artistic line. The petals are shaded from pale purple-blue to the deep blue purples. The back is ornamented with a shirring of ribbon, falling slightly and brought forward half covering the crown. The ribbon matches the maline in shade. The hat will be worn with silk and satin gowns of purple and lavender tints.

No. 3 is another hat of new color combinations. In the maline ribbons and roses are found various and rich mahogany shades. The soft satin ribbon, elaborately shirred, crosses the back, lines the brim a little more than half way to the edge and forms a fall, half way between the back and side. This shirring is caught under the brim, near the hair, with a cut steel buckle. The roses are in the many mahogany shades, each petal veiling with the others in the exquisite blending of shades.

Veils will not be worn with these elaborate hats. The hats are designed for the woman who drives or for the woman in the box.

TO WIN LIBERTY OR DEATH
Messages from Port Arthur, since the investment of the fortress, are carried by desperate convicts. A long-term prisoner is promised liberty if he gets the message through safely. It he's caught, he is shot by the Japs. The Jap outposts keep a sharp lookout for these messengers, and have dogs to help them capture the couriers. They shoot on sight, anyone stealing along the shore, as that is the only way the messengers can escape. These messengers try to move only at night.

COLOR LINE IS DRAWN IN THE NEW CLUB

Republican Organization Will Not Allow Constitutional Right to One Race—No Negroes Need Apply

As stated in The Telegram last evening, President Forbess of the Central Roosevelt Club made the appointment of the committee which is to draft a constitution for the club and which will be submitted to a meeting of the members Saturday night in the court house. The committee is Frank B. Stanley, chairman; N. A. Dodge, N. B. Moore, S. B. Hovey, Dr. C. P. Brewer, J. N. Winters and H. B. Robb.

A forecast of the constitution as it will be presented to the club indicates that the color question will not enter into its composition, and the negro will be let severely alone so far as the laws that will govern the club are concerned.

The president said today that it was not intended to interfere with the colored republicans in any shape. They will organize their own clubs and maintain an organization independent of the white members of the party in this city.

At the meeting last Saturday night the matter of barring negroes was discussed, and the more conservative republicans thought that it was the better plan to let the negro question alone; that the colored members of the party would not think of attempting to make application for membership in the white club, consequently there was no necessity to legislate to keep them out. It was the consensus of opinion that negro republicans would make no effort to mix with their white brethren in any shape whatever.

It was maintained that they would organize their own clubs and proceed along lines that are followed in religious and social circles.

From what can be learned the constitution will contain no reference to the negro whatever.

SENATOR BAILEY TO SPEAK
EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 16.—It has been decided by the executive committee of the Southwestern Irrigation Association to request Senator Joe Bailey to deliver the address of welcome to the 3,000 delegates who arrive here in November to attend the 12th annual convention of the National Irrigation Congress.

Senator Bailey will extend the welcome of the state of Texas to the visitors. NO REPORT OF A RIFLED MAIL SACK

No report has reached the headquarters of the railway mail service in this city of the finding of a rifled sack in the woods near Texarkana.

The sack was lost or stolen on August 1 and notice of this was sent to the inspectors by the local office on the following day. All efforts to find the sack proved futile, however, and it was found yesterday by accident by two farmers, who at once reported the matter to the postmaster at Texarkana.

The missing sack, which was one made up by the clerk on the run from Shreveport to Bloom Springs, consisted of a number of registered packages and about 150 letters.

When found the letters were undisturbed, the registered packages, however, being missing.

A horse being driven by a young colored boy, Alvin Fulbright, belonging to Walter Terrell, 306 Hemphill street, ran away last night at 8 o'clock near the Texas and Pacific depot and threw the driver out of the buggy, badly injuring his right knee. The horse fell on Main street near the roundhouse, and when it got up on its feet again began to run. It was stopped by coming in contact with iron awning supports in front of the Alamo saloon. PROSPECTS FOR PEACE SLIGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Despite Mayor Harrison's intervention, the prospects for peace in the packing house strike is far from reassuring today. The packers at a meeting held last night at Swift & Co.'s office, appointed a committee to represent them at a conference with the mayors, but today an official of one of the big companies poured cold water on the enterprise by declaring: "There is nothing on earth the mayor can do to bring about a settlement."

The packers' attitude was, while nothing of benefit could result from a meeting with the mayor, it would not do to refuse to go to the city hall.

On the other hand the strike leaders were equally antagonistic. President Donnelly declared he did not expect to be present at the time the conference was to meet.

R. H. BUCK HAS BEEN OUT WEST

Assistant County Attorney Tells of Need of Railway Facilities in Floyd County

R. H. Buck returned today from a trip to Floydada, the county seat of Floyd county, where he went on invitation to address a picnic and barbecue gathering. He delivered two addresses there and one at Plainview, the county seat of Hale county.

Mr. Buck says the people of Floyd county are very anxious to have some one build a railroad into that county. There are a dozen counties in that part of the state without railroad facilities, the nearest railroad point to the Floydada country being the Fort Worth and Denver City, 100 miles away. A stage line operates between Floydada and Childress on the Denver Road and a 100-mile trip is made in one day.

Mr. Buck added that the citizens of that great expanse of country desire to do their trading with Fort Worth and that if a line was constructed into those counties all the live stock and crop shipments would come to this city instead of being sent to Kansas City, as is the case now.

"A railroad from this city to Floyd county would mean many hundred dollars yearly to Fort Worth," said Mr. Buck, "and it should be built by all means. The country is in a very prosperous condition. This is the second year that the farmers of these counties have experimented with raising cotton and thus far the trials have proved successful. The crop this year is a good one although the plant is not large, but it is full of forms. In consequence of the prospective good cotton crop several gins are now being built in various places. The plains country will grow any sort of a crop. There is a large acreage of milo maize, Kaffir corn and other forage which are raised in great abundance all over that section of the state. The farmers are growing rich off the products of these crops, and if they had a railroad into that country which is 300 miles from Fort Worth, it would be a great advantage to both this city and people of that western country. As it is now the farmers and stockmen of Floyd and other adjacent counties are compelled to ship their stuff to Kansas City, at least 250 to 300 miles further away. The vegetable crop is now just coming in, and a finer crop I have never seen anywhere. There is plenty of good, cool pure water in Floyd county and it is secured at a depth of forty feet in many places. The only thing they need there is a railroad to develop that section of the state into a veritable garden of Eden."

The death of Mary Bennett, aged 85 months, occurred yesterday morning at 55 North Second street. The remains were shipped this morning to Sherman where interment will be made today.

HORSES IN DEMAND IN TOWN OF TEMPLE

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 16.—There is a very lively demand for horses just now in this market and any kind of a decent looking nag will bring an easy $100. While a few redeeming traits will cause the animal to fetch $25 or $50 more, great many of the animals purchased are being shipped to Mississippi and horse dealers as a rule are unable to give any explanation for the demand, save that it exists and horse flesh is unusually high.

A needle nearly two inches long has been removed from the knee of Mrs. Davis Thomas by Dr. E. F. Apeldorn of Berwyn, Pa. The needle had entered her right leg about thirty years ago. The average cost of food per family in 1890 was $318.20. In 1896, the year of lowest prices, it fell to $296.76; in 1902 it reached the highest point of its period, being $344.51; while in 1903 it fell slightly, to $342.75.

That telephones at street corners, either on the telephone pole or on the same post with the mail box, may be a future convenience of many cities and towns is asserted. Already they are in use to a limited extent. Keyless stations opened by merely turning the handle and which contain the pay station and a directory, being the equipment. Hollow iron posts allow the necessary ground wires.

Property Loss Will Be Heavy as Several Cars in One of the Trains Were Destroyed by Fire

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 16.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Santa Fe at Lampasas water tank last night. A double-headed east bound train made a side swipe of a freight train west bound, the latter not being in the clear. Both engines of the double-headed train were burned and the engine and six cars were destroyed. The property damage is great.

The Fort Worth Humane Society wishes to call the attention of the public to the condition of a horse driven to a water wagon in this city.

The horse has two sores, one on each shoulder, just where the collar runs. If the horse is continually driven, which has been the case, these sores will not heal.

The poor beast suffers greatly from the chafing of the collar against these raw spots. A water wagon is a very heavy vehicle and filled with water is a great load.

Several ladies of the humane society have spoken to the driver of the wagon. It is our desire that through your paper the public may become aware of this cruel and inhumane procedure and also that the city authorities may take proper action concerning the matter.

Respectfully yours, PRESS COMMITTEE, Fort Worth Humane Society.
