

THIRTY-ONE DAYS AGO A FRISCO TRAIN ON THE TEXAS & PACIFIC TRACKS TORE AWAY HILL STREET BRIDGE. REBUILD IT

CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN FOLDS MAN CLAIMS

IN NEW YORK THE TWO PARTIES ENTER UPON THE LAST DAY OF THE FIGHT WITH ABSOLUTE CONFIDENCE BEING EXPRESSED BY THE LEADERS OF BOTH SIDES—VICE CHAIRMAN NICOLL INSISTS THAT THE DEMOCRATS WILL HAVE SUFFICIENT ELECTORAL VOTES TO ASSURE THE ELECTION OF JUDGE PARKER—A BRIEF STATEMENT OF THE CLAIMS BEING MADE IN ALL STATES BY THE LEADERS OF THE TWO GREAT PARTIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—With fair weather promised for tomorrow from New York to Buffalo, an extremely large vote is looked for in this city and state. No speeches, except for one or two, to be delivered today, will be made, and all preparations for getting out and protecting the vote has been completed. Both sides continue to express the utmost confidence in the results.

IN MASSACHUSETTS
BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The campaign managers of both republican and democratic parties the day before election expressed confidence as to the respective state tickets. Still, the last day brought little relaxation of the campaign activity. Democratic leaders devoted continued energy making sure a solid vote for Candidate W. L. Douglas of Brockton, Governor Bates' veto of certain labor measures having been one of the main campaign issues in the state. The last day's work was chiefly confined to preparations for getting out the vote in the manufacturing centers and to the distribution of campaign literature. Final efforts are also being directed to turning the socialist vote, aggregating about twenty-five thousand, into democratic channels.

Regarding the congressional vote, there is still much difference of opinion and both sides are doing their utmost to verify the pending claims. The republicans to elect twelve out of the fourteen districts in the state and the democrats to carry the Third, Fifth and Eleventh districts, as well as the Ninth and Tenth districts conceded by the republicans. Each party claims it will show gains in the legislature.

IN OHIO
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The republicans adhere to the claims that Ohio will give Roosevelt the largest plurality the state ever gave a president, the highest being 65,036 four years ago. They even predict the average plurality of 75,592 at state elections for the past ten years will be maintained, if not exceeded, and they will hold seventeen of the twenty-one congressmen and gain one or two.

IN RHODE ISLAND
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 7.—Save for a last rally by the republicans arranged for tonight in this city, active canvassing of this so-called doubtful state is at an end. The republicans predict the defeat of Garvin, the democratic candidate for governor, and the endorsement of President Roosevelt by about 65,000.

IN VERMONT
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Nov. 7.—The carrying of Vermont by President Roosevelt is conceded by the leaders of the democratic party.

IN ILLINOIS
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Today was devoted by the state leaders of both political parties to a revision of the forecasts on the last reports from the state and preparing to bring out the vote in Chicago. Republican leaders claim a plurality of 120,000 for Deenee, the candidate for governor, while the democratic managers do not bind themselves to figures, but reiterate confidence in democratic success.

IN MAINE
PORTLAND, Maine, Nov. 7.—The day before election brought no particular change in the presidential campaign from conditions which prevail since the state election in September. Neither of the leading parties will make any particular attempt to bring out a large vote.

IN INDIANA
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—Republican managers are confidently claiming the state by from 20,000 to 30,000. The democrats claim the state, but are using no figures. A full list of state officers will be elected and two United States senators will be named should Fairbanks win the vice presidency.

IN MARYLAND
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 7.—Although the campaign in Maryland practically closed Saturday night, meetings will be held today in a number of counties and in Baltimore there will be conferences of leaders in reference to important details of tomorrow's election. Republican State Chairman Hanna and Democratic State Chairman Vandiver returned from their country homes today and resumed charge at their respective headquarters. The last state campaign fund was disbursed on Saturday. It is agreed on both sides the campaign funds available this year are smaller than any presidential year campaign for many years. Each congressional district has been compelled almost wholly to rely upon its own resources. Both parties continue to claim the state.

ELECTION RETURNS

The Telegram has arranged for a leased wire service Tuesday night by which returns of the election will be delivered by private wire into the office of the paper, corner of Eighth and Throckmorton streets. The leased wire will be that of the Postal Telegraph company, and will be through to New York and other centers where the news will be most available.

Bulletins of the result of the voting will be shown on a canvas by stereopticon on the Eighth street side of the Telegram building, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to visit the building and hear the result. This service is arranged at great expense, but it is believed there is interest enough in the national result to induce many to take advantage of the opportunity to hear the early returns.

TUESDAY NIGHT, EIGHTH & THROCKMORTON

RAILROADS DO NOT PUT BACK HILL STREET BRIDGE

Thirty-one days ago the Hill street crossing was torn down by a Frisco wreck train on the Texas and Pacific tracks. Inquiries this morning from all parties who could be found failed to disclose a meeting of the interested parties to make an arrangement for the replacement of the structure. City Engineer Hawley, who should be present at such a meeting, stated this morning that none had yet been called to his knowledge.

citizens are anxiously awaiting an answer from Attorney General Bell to the letter of Judge Beckham calling for action and relief under the Texas statutes. Up until noon today no answer had been received though one is hourly expected.

one that will have a decided enlivening influence on the railroad interests involved. Although attention has been called to the matter repeatedly in The Telegram, no statement has yet been sent out from the Texas and Pacific offices, notwithstanding the fact that both the Frisco and traction company officials have declared their readiness to proceed at once and charged the delay as due to General Manager Thorne of the Texas and Pacific.

ELECTION WEATHER

- WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The weather bureau today issued the following special forecast for election day: Fair weather and seasonable temperature indicated for all parts of the United States Tuesday, except some cloudiness, showers and snow flurries in parts of New York, northern Pennsylvania and New England, and rain in the extreme north Pacific coast.

MITTEE DECLARE THE DEMOCRATIC VOTE IN NEW YORK CITY WILL BE OVERCOME WITH A GOOD MARGIN TO SPARE BY THE REPUBLICAN VOTE IN THE UP-STATE COUNTIES.

An interesting feature of this year's campaign in New York is the canvass made by Thomas E. Watson, populist nominee for presidency, and some attention is attracted to the claim of Melvin Falliser, the populist state chairman, that Watson will poll from 40,000 to 50,000 votes in New York.

As usual, the day before the election brings out a story of colonization and alleged attempts to force through the votes of men not entitled to cast the ballot, but there is nothing to show that the city is likely to be disturbed.

There will be a full force of poll watchers for each of the parties, and every policeman in the city will be on duty and the courts will sit all day to settle whatever disputes may arise.

Both parties entered upon the last day of the campaign with expressions of absolute confidence on the success of their respective candidates. Members of the democratic committee were at headquarters early. Vice Chairman Delancy Nicoll was in charge of democratic headquarters and Urey Woodson, secretary of the committee, and J. G. Johnson, member of the committee for Kansas, was also there.

Secretary Woodson entertained a number of newspaper men with stories to illustrate his confidence in the result. Mr. Nicoll, in a more serious frame of mind, expressed the opinion, which heretofore has been given, that the democrats will have sufficient number of electoral votes to elect Judge Parker.

The chairman of the republican committee came to national headquarters about noon. Considerable activity was observed around headquarters. A great many men who have been making speeches and who have been actively engaged in work of the campaign were in the committee rooms closing up the business with the national committee. The statement in a reply to that given by the democratic committee last night was prepared and issued by representatives of the sound money league of the campaign four years ago. Governor O'Dell, chairman of the republican committee, just prior to leaving republican headquarters for his home in Newburgh, expressed absolute confidence the republicans would carry New York state. Asked as how far Higgins would run behind Roosevelt, he said thirty or forty thousand.

IN INDIANA
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—Republican managers are confidently claiming the state by from 20,000 to 30,000. The democrats claim the state, but are using no figures. A full list of state officers will be elected and two United States senators will be named should Fairbanks win the vice presidency.

IN LOUISIANA
NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 7.—The state will go for Parker by 20,000 or more. There is great interest in the municipal fight, with the regular municipal democratic nominees slight favorites.

IN GEORGIA
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 7.—The populists now claim Georgia for Watson. The claim is dismissed without consideration.

IN ALABAMA
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 7.—Alabama is expected to give Parker 50,000 majority.

IN NEW HAMPSHIRE
CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 7.—The state is generally believed safely republican. The result for governor is doubtful.

IN VERMONT
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Nov. 7.—The democrats concede the state to Roosevelt.

IN NEBRASKA
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 7.—Republican State Chairman Burgess claims Nebraska will give Roosevelt the largest majority in the history of the state.

IN DELAWARE
WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 7.—Democratic leaders are today claiming Delaware by a substantial majority.

IN CONNECTICUT
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 7.—Both sides persistently claim the state.

IN KANSAS
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7.—Kansas is conceded to the republicans.

IN IOWA
DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—Iowa is republican by over 100,000.

IN NORTH CAROLINA
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 7.—The outlook is a sweeping democratic victory in North Carolina.

IN MISSOURI
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 7.—Democratic state headquarters today give out reports of all sections of the state confirm the estimated democratic majority of 50,000 to 75,000.

IN WISCONSIN
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 7.—The political campaign in the state has been wound up today. The LaFollette faction, the republicans and democrats are both the confident of the result of the state. The opinion is general that the legislature, which elects a United States senator, will be deadlocked.

IN MICHIGAN
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Michigan is conceded to Roosevelt by the largest majority ever given. The fight for governor may be close.

IN MINNESOTA
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—Both sides claim success for the heads of the state ticket. The democrats made no claims on the national ticket.

IN COLORADO
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 7.—Both parties are confidently claiming victory. The national ticket is generally conceded to Roosevelt.

IN WYOMING
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 7.—While the democrats will make gains, it is admitted Roosevelt will get the state.

Japanese outposts within a mile of the gates of Hamhung and immediately appear upon the Japanese infantry making a sortie from the city. The Japanese forces on the other coast are less than five thousand in all. Reinforcements of 15,000 are understood, however, to be on the way.

At Huangshantze the Russian center has thrown advance posts across the Shalke river. Both armies are still strengthening their positions all along the line. The slightest movement on either side is a signal for fighting, which occasionally occurred all night. Undoubtedly the most decisive, if not the greatest battle of the year will be fought in the vicinity of the Shalke river.

The Sunday services generally are conducted by divinity students, and at the time they were due the prisoners, evidently by preconcerted arrangement, gathered about the corridor entrance. As the door was opened to admit the students there was a rush. Doorkeeper and students were hurried aside and a dozen prisoners fled in all directions. They had not gone many yards before jailers and visitors were in full cry after them, the prison officials firing as they ran. Most of the fugitives quickly surrendered and only two succeeded in getting away. They are Samuel Barrett and Louis Clark. The former was recently sentenced to a seven years' term. One of the divinity students, a member of the Wilmington Conference Academy football team, overtook Clark and tackled him. There was a short but severe struggle. The prisoner was getting the worst of it when he drew a razor and compelled his captor to release his hold.

ARMIES ARE IN CLOSE TOUCH

SITUATION ON EASTERN COAST OF KOREA

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Regarding the situation on the eastern coast of Korea, advices from the Herald's correspondent at Gensan are to the effect that 15,000 Russian troops are south of the Tumen river with thirty-two guns.

Of these 6,000 of the main body are quartered at Kyungsuung, 2,000 along the coast in town garrisons and 4,000 cavalry are thrown out westward in small bodies, menacing the Japanese lines of communication and railway construction between Pingyang and Wiju by frequent cross country raids who never strike twice in the same place or come to close quarters.

The remainder of 3,000 are operating in strong scouting detachments to the south.

The Russians have reoccupied Hamgung Pass, a small force of Japanese retreating to Yaksungung upon the Russians approach.

Thus the outposts of both the east coast armies await developments some thirty miles apart.

The Russian cavalry by long detours frequently appears in the rear of the

HER MOTHER-IN-LAW LAID HER ACROSS HER KNEE AND SHE REBELS—MARRIES ANOTHER MAN

LIMA, Ohio, Nov. 7.—A school girl of 16, Ollie Sisson, married Amos Sisson here six years ago. They went to reside with his parents in St. Marys. She says, she was mistreated, and in two days had twice been "spanked" by her mother-in-law. She ran away, entered a music hall and met C. H. De Varo, a theatrical man.

Believing, in her childish way, that when she told her legal husband she would "give him a divorce," she had absolved herself from legal relations, she married De Varo.

Mrs. Sisson-De Varo returned with her husband to this county yesterday, and her legal consort caused the arrest of both, the child brigand being held from a magistrate's court to answer before a higher court.

FOOTBALL PLAYER TACKLES ESCAPING PRISONER

DOVER, Del., Nov. 7.—A number of prisoners have made a dash from the Kent county jail. The man hunt which followed depleted the attendance at the various Sunday schools and dotted the roads and marshes with pursuers for the remainder of the day.

The Sunday services generally are conducted by divinity students, and at the time they were due the prisoners, evidently by preconcerted arrangement, gathered about the corridor entrance. As the door was opened to admit the students there was a rush. Doorkeeper and students were hurried aside and a dozen prisoners fled in all directions.

WOMAN TIRES OF A MAN'S ATTEMPTS TO MAKE HER LEAVE HER HUSBAND AND SHE USES A KNIFE ON HIM

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 7.—This city was aroused today over a case similar in every way to that of Mrs. Rosa De Petrie in New York, who killed Michael Rigo in defense of her honor.

After months of repeated insults and attempts to alienate her from her husband Mrs. Mary De Shatinno, 24 years old, pretty and popular with her neighbors, stabbed John Bitoli in her home, No. 73 Delancey street. Five times she drove the blade into her tormentor's back. Then she followed the man as he staggered from the house, attempting to complete her work.

Her husband, who was asleep in his room, hearing the sounds of the struggle, ran down stairs with a revolver and discharged five shots at the man who had sought to wreck his home. None of them hit him. Bitoli was found dying in the middle of Delancey street.

Mrs. De Shatinno was arrested, and when taken to the police station she expressed the utmost satisfaction over her mad act.

"I am glad I stabbed him," she cried. "I hope I have killed him. For the past months he has been speaking ill of me to neighbors and has tried to induce me to run away from my husband because he remonstrated with Bitoli. I stabbed him today because he had seized me by the throat."

The Japanese government is placing large orders for metal and woodworking machinery in this country. The machines are intended for use in the imperial arsenals, shipbuilding yards, locomotive works, etc. One single order placed a few days ago included 199 lathes.

PARIS

PARIS, Texas, Nov. 7.—A posse from Woodland, Red River county, was here last night, armed with shotguns, searching for a farmer against whom a 13-year-old girl had sworn out a complaint charging criminal assault. With the aid of the police he was captured this morning and taken to Clarksville. Excitement is said to be high at Woodland.

MRS. REGINALD PIDCOCKE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

WACO, Texas, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Reginald Pidcocke, who was Miss Lula McWilliams until a few weeks ago, was killed about noon today, it is said by an accidental shot from a shot gun. The coroner is now investigating the

CHILD WIFE IS SPANKED AND LEAVES HOME

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 7.—There will be a large vote tomorrow. A large negro vote will be polled. The democrats will carry the state by 40,000.

UNIVERSITY TEAM IN WRECK THIS MORNING

Fort Worth Football Players on a Train Which Is Ditched but no One Is Injured by the Accident

The Fort Worth University football team while en route to Sherman to play Austin College, was in a wreck this morning on the Houston and Texas Central, none of them, however, being injured.

The wreck was caused by the tender on the locomotive jumping the track south of McKinney on a sharp curve. The passengers were all badly shaken up but none injured. The train was No. 5 from Dallas in charge of Conductor Barclay and Engineer Clapton.

Immediately after the accident Coach Mills of the University wired the The Telegram that the wreck was slight and all the Fort Worth men safe and confident of winning the game at Sherman.

The team left this city this morning in the best of spirits, going to Dallas over the interurban, boarding the Central train at that place. The regular team together with several subs and a small delegation of students made the trip.

AT NINETEEN SHE IS THREE TIMES A BRIDE

Twice Divorced She Takes Her Third Spouse the Day After Former Wedding Is Annulled by the Court

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Matrimony and divorce have played fast and loose with a young woman who is barely out of her teens.

Married at 15, divorced one year later, remarried when she was but 13, again divorced, she was, for the third time in her brief life, married today.

When a mere slip of a girl Grace Ray wedded Dr. J. L. Kent of this city, a year later he became an inmate of the state penitentiary and she was divorced.

Three years later she was led to the altar by Henry W. Grim, also of this city.

Yesterday her suit for divorce from Grim was terminated by Judge Kohler granting her the relief she sought.

Today the young woman left this city for Canton, accompanied by C. A. Fox, cashier of the American Cereal Company, and treasurer of the Safety Gas Burner Company, a new East Akron corporation. There she signed her third application for a marriage license and, shortly afterwards, became Mrs. Fox.

POSSE HUNTS FOR FARMER IN PARIS

PARIS, Texas, Nov. 7.—A posse from Woodland, Red River county, was here last night, armed with shotguns, searching for a farmer against whom a 13-year-old girl had sworn out a complaint charging criminal assault. With the aid of the police he was captured this morning and taken to Clarksville. Excitement is said to be high at Woodland.

MATCHMAKER NOW AFTER BALANCE OF FEE

He Says He Arranged Wedding for His Grandfather and for This Service Was Never Paid for His Trouble

ENGLISH, Ind., Nov. 7.—David A. Cole, grandson of David Cole, the wealthiest resident of Crawford county, Indiana, who died a year ago, has filed a remarkable suit against the estate of his grandfather, claiming that $194 is still due him for his services in arranging a marriage between his grandfather and Mrs. Sarah Brown.

Cole alleges his grandfather was in love with the Widow Brown, and promised to pay him $200 if he succeeded in making a match between them. Cole declares that through his efforts the couple were married and lived happily together until the death of his grandfather. He alleges that after the marriage the grandfather gave him $5, but failed to pay the balance of the $194.

PARKER IS WORKING ON FARM

ESOPUS, Nov. 7.—Judge Parker resumed supervision of farm work today in apparent zest. He exhibited almost boyish delight in getting back to outdoor life after a busy week of campaigning. He read all the New York papers before breakfast, dictated a number of letters and then took a long horseback ride. The judge will drive to Kingston early tomorrow to cast his ballot.

IN NEW JERSEY

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—The campaign in New Jersey has been heated. Both sides are claiming the state, with chances favoring the republicans.

IN SOUTH DAKOTA

GRAND FORKS, S. D., Nov. 7.—No claims are made in South Dakota by either side.

IN ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 7.—There will be a large vote tomorrow. A large negro vote will be polled. The democrats will carry the state by 40,000.

IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—Texas will roll up the usual large majority for Parker. A full democratic congressional delegation will be elected.

One Million Dollars Have Been Spent to Give Liquozone Free to the Sick

We have bought a 50c bottle of Liquozone—and given it free to each of 1,800,000 sick ones. And we have spent over $1,000,000, in one year, to announce and fulfill this offer. May we buy you a bottle, to show you the wonderful product which warrants an offer like that?

Before we bought the rights to Liquozone, we tested it for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We proved it in all kinds of germs diseases—in thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. And we cured with it nearly every disease which was considered incurable.

We knew then that the product was of vital worth to humanity. We knew that everywhere there was sickness which Liquozone alone could cure, and suffering which nothing but Liquozone could stop. We knew that thousands died daily whom Liquozone could save.

But what was the best way to quickly let the sick ones know it? How could we get this help to them at once? How could we best convince them that Liquozone did what medicine never could do?

We decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to every sick one we learned of. We would let the product itself prove its power. So we published this offer, again and again, in nearly every newspaper in America.

The result is that millions use Liquozone now. Your own neighbors, wherever you are, can tell you about it. And half the people one meets, in any part of America, know some one whom Liquozone has cured.

What Liquozone Is

Liquozone is not a medicine. It is not made by compounding acids or drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. Each cubic inch of Liquozone requires the use of 1,250 cubic inches of gas.

Kills Inside Germs

The great value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it does what oxygen does. Oxygen is the vital part of air, the very source of vitality, the most essential element of life. It is the blood food, the nerve food, the scavenger of the blood. It is oxygen that turns the blue blood to red in the lungs; that eliminates the waste tissue, and builds up the new. Too little oxygen always causes lack of vitality. An excess of it gives strength to every function of Nature.

Oxygen is also a germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and an excess of oxygen—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Liquozone acts like oxygen. But it does more than oxygen, because it is stable. It carries its virtues into the blood to go wherever the blood goes. It is a remarkable tonic—the best thing in the world for you. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it can not kill.

The discoverer of Liquozone has solved the great problem of killing germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. And there is no other way. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it can not be taken internally. Liquozone is the only way that any man knows to end the cause of any germ disease.

Nine Nations

Now use Liquozone. The product is more widely employed than any medicine ever was; more widely prescribed by the better physicians. And no one can doubt that it is doing more for sick humanity than all the drugs in use combined.

We paid $100,000 for the American rights to Liquozone, and the British rights for a similar sum. Those are the highest prices ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We tell you this fact because it illustrates the value of Liquozone. A product whose rights can bring a price like that must have very great merit—must be of very great worth to humanity.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases; all due to germs, or the poisons which germs create. These are the diseases to which medicine does not apply, for the drugs can not kill inside germs.

All that medicine can do for these troubles is to act as a tonic, aiding Nature to overcome the germs. But those results are indirect and uncertain. They depend on the patient's condition. When drugs were prescribed for these troubles, nobody knew of germs. Now every good physician knows that they call for a germicide.

Liquozone alone can destroy the cause of these troubles. It goes wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it, and we have found no disease germ which can resist it. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. In any stage of any disease in this list the results are so certain that we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guaranty.

FRANK LUBBOCK NEW LEADER OF EXECUTIVES

A Living ex-Governor Who Had Personal Acquaintance with Presidents and Governors of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 7.—There are some side lights that may be turned on which makes today one of the many interesting anniversaries in Texas history. On the 7th of November, 1861, a few months after the people of the north and south had grappled each other in a struggle that cost a million human lives, and a billion in money, Colonel F. R. Lubbock was inaugurated governor of Texas.

The event is interesting from every point of view, and from some very remarkable. Governor Lubbock was then 45 years old, and notwithstanding he saw hard service in the field, was a member of President Jefferson Davis' staff, was captured by the Federal soldiers, and for a time incarcerated in Fortress Monroe, he is still alive, in the enjoyment of good health, full intellectual vigor and a reasonable amount of physical strength, and will cast his vote tomorrow for S. W. T. Lanham, the twentieth governor of the state.

Governor Lubbock enjoys distinction in one respect enjoyed by no other man on earth, and that is he is the only man alive who was governor of a state north or south during the Civil war. He was inaugurated, having had only seven governors, J. Pinckney Henderson, George F. Wood, P. Hansborough Bell, E. M. Pease, H. R. Rannels, Sam Houston and Edward Clark. Texas had four presidents, David G. Burnett, Sam Houston, M. B. Lamar and Anson Jones, and he enjoyed the same personal relations with the four presidents of the Republic of Texas that he enjoyed with the twenty-one governors of the state.

There is another very remarkable distinction Governor Lubbock enjoys. Including himself Texas has had twenty-two governors, and he was personally acquainted and enjoyed intimate social relations with them all, from J. Pinckney Henderson, the first in 1845, to S. W. T. Lanham, the last, in 1904, covering a period of fifty-eight years, the entire life of the state.

This is a rare privilege for any one man to enjoy, but it is not all that is vouchsafed to Governor Lubbock. He came to Texas in 1836, and espoused the cause of the colonists soon after they had achieved their independence. Afterward the republic was divided into four presidents, David G. Burnett, Sam Houston, M. B. Lamar and Anson Jones, and he enjoyed the same personal relations with the four presidents of the Republic of Texas that he enjoyed with the twenty-one governors of the state.

It is therefore very doubtful if there is another person on earth who knew every ruler the republic or state ever had during their combined existence of sixty-eight years.

Speaking of the forty-third anniversary of Governor Lubbock's inauguration as the eighth governor of Texas, and apropos to the election tomorrow, recalls the fact that today, November 7, is the anniversary of the election of 1845, when the republic was first organized, and an entire democratic delegation returned. Today is, therefore, the twenty-eighth anniversary when Texas passed, in a national as well as state sense, from republicanism to democratic control. In other words, politically speaking, when Texas returned to the house of its fathers.

RHEUMATISM JOINTS AND MUSCLES SWOLLEN AND STIFF

A disease so painful and far-reaching in its effects upon the human system as Rheumatism, must have a deep and well-laid foundation. It originates and develops in the blood, and, like other diseases of the blood, is frequently inherited. The poisonous acids with which the blood is charged circulate through the system, breaking down the health, irritating the nerves, settling in joints and muscles, and causing the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to Rheumatism. Unless the blood is purified, joints and muscles become coated with the acid matter and are rendered stiff and sore, and the nerves completely wrecked.

I had a severe attack of inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctor had done me no good. They changed medicines every week, and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I left off their medicine and had S. S. S. I had no more pain, and my elbow joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was getting discouraged, when I saw S. S. S. in the paper. It was helping me, continued, and to-day I am sound, well man.

1955 Mt. Vernon Ave. R. H. CHAPMAN. Rheumatism, being a constitutional blood disease, requires internal treatment. Liniments, plasters and such things as are applied outwardly, give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the recognized greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, and in no disease does it act so promptly and beneficially as Rheumatism, neutralizing the acids and restoring the blood to a pure, healthy condition and invigorating and toning up the nerves and all parts of the system. It is guaranteed strictly vegetable. Write us should you desire medical advice, which will cost you nothing.

Farmers Took Their Cotton to Arlington and Received Only Eighty-five Cents a Bale More for Their Trouble

CAPT. PADDOCK'S IDEA

He Believes It Is Useless to Try to Make This a Market, Because the Merchants of Fort Worth Do Not Operate General Merchandise Stores

Secretary B. B. Paddock of the Fort Worth Board of Trade was seen this morning and asked his ideas regarding the members of the Farmers' Union going to Arlington to sell their cotton, after first getting prices on their staple in this city.

It will be recalled that some twelve or fifteen farmers were here Friday with sixty-five bales of cotton. They invited bids on the same and were offered 2 3/4 cents. They were not satisfied with these figures and communicated with Arlington, and were asked to bring their cotton there by the merchants, who paid them 3 1/2 cents.

Captain Paddock, in comparing the prices offered by Fort Worth and Arlington, said that the farmers realized 1 1/2 points more in Arlington than in Fort Worth, or a total of about 35 cents a bale more than if they had sold in Fort Worth. This amount, he said, was not enough more to justify the farmers in hauling from here to Arlington, considering the time it takes to go from here to Arlington by wagon and the wear and tear on their teams and wagons.

Speaking of the former sale of cotton at Arlington, Captain Paddock said that the farmers received only 15 cents per bale more for their staple at Arlington than they would have realized in Fort Worth.

One reason the farmers go to Arlington to sell their cotton is the fact that the merchants there buy the offerings, which is not the case in Fort Worth, and can not be, according to the captain's opinion of the matter, as farmers desire to buy their goods from a general merchandise store, and there are no such establishments in this city. Farmers, he says, prefer to do their trading in a store that carries every class of goods. This, he says, saves the farmer from tramping over a large city in order to find what they want in the way of purchases.

Captain Paddock is not a believer in the fact that Fort Worth can ever be made a great cotton market, just because of the fact that farmers will go where they are able to make their purchases from a general merchandising store, and this they can not do in Fort Worth.

The farmers, he says, do not value their time, neither do they care for the troubles of driving their teams twelve or fifteen miles further in order to derive a few cents more per bale for their cotton. But in the long run, the farmers are not benefited by this action. The country merchant, it is figured, can afford to pay the farmer a few more points than are offered by Fort Worth buyers, for they will in turn sell the farmer his goods on which he receives a good margin, and then dispose of his cotton to the exporter at about the figures that were originally offered the producer of the staple. Even at these figures he makes money, besides getting the business of the farmer in the

AN OIL STRIKE AT BEDFORD IS REPORTED

Claim Is Made that a Paying Flow Results from the Test Made on the land of J. C. Martin

Word was received in Fort Worth yesterday that oil has been struck in the well being bored by the Bedford Mining and Oil Company, on land owned by J. C. Martin of this city, situated near Bedford, the quality of which is reported to be first-class.

The well is down about 1,100 feet, and during the time it was being bored two flows of water were struck, the first at a depth of 600 feet, and the latter at or near the bottom. The well has been cased down to the first flow, and arrangements are now being made to case the balance of the well. This will be necessary in order to shut out the water, which now materially interferes with developing the oil.

It is learned here that the flow of oil is sufficiently strong to force itself up through more than 1,000 feet of water, and is plainly visible on the surface as the water runs from the opening of the well.

Eight or nine months have been consumed in sinking the well.

The flow of water from the first strata at the time it was struck showed about 5,000 gallons per hour. This water is now running from the top of the well, from the outside of the casing, and is a fine quality of artesian water. The second flow of water is tainted with sulphur.

The owners of the property believe that they have found oil in sufficient quantity to justify thorough development and work on the well will be continued at once.

INJURED BOY SAYS LADY CHAUFFEUR HIT HIM

Lad Blames Accident at Seventh and Houston Streets Upon Car Owned by W. G. Turner—His Statement

Jack Bennett, a bright little lad, aged 8 years, was run into by an automobile at Seventh and Houston streets shortly after noon today and painfully although not seriously injured.

According to the boy's statement, the automobile was driven by a woman who never stopped, but continued up Houston street. Eyewitnesses reported that the machine carried license No. 8, issued to W. G. Turner.

The lad's only injury was a bruise and flesh wound upon his leg. He was removed to the City Drug Store and after having the wound dressed, returned to his home, 204 East Daggett avenue.

W. G. Turner when found at the Country Club this afternoon stated that although he narrowly missed a boy at the corner designated, his machine did not strike him. He stated that the boy had crossed in front of a trolley car but stopped before getting in the path of the machine.

Mr. Turner stated that he was in the machine himself.

As soon as the Telegram communicated by phone with Mr. Turner at the Country Club, he left his dinner and ran his auto directly to this office where he learned the nature of the boy and his address and went at once to the boy's home to see about the affair.

Mr. Turner was approaching Seventh street under complete control, Mr. Turner. "The car was crossing at the time and I had all power off and was merely coasting. I saw the boy dodge as the car passed and my machine passed him, but there was no indication to me that I struck him. Had I done so I would have stopped at once to see the extent of the injury. I was much surprised when I received the telephone message at the club that a boy had been hit and my machine was charged with it. I certainly would not strike a person and not stop to see the extent of the injury. If the boy was hit by my machine it could have only been by the fender."

PRAYER CUSTOMS IN TIBET ARE EXPLAINED

Wallace Munro, Business Manager for the "Forbidden Land," Talks of the Country He Visited

Wallace Munro, business manager of "The Forbidden Land" Comic Opera Company, is in the city, making his arrangements for his company's appearance here next Monday night, November 14.

Mr. Munro is a Scotchman who served seven years in the Sixth Inniskiller Dragoons of the British army, and was one of the expedition that went into Kharfoum to the relief of General (Chinese) Gordon in 1884, but unfortunately, owing to a political blunder, the relief arrived ten hours too late, the brave Gordon having been assassinated the day prior to their arrival.

Mr. Munro spent several months on the Indian-Tibet frontier, and is well posted upon the peculiar customs and traits of the people that Guy F. Stealy has taken as his subjects for his new opera, "Speaking of the Inhabitants of 'The Forbidden Land,'" Mr. Munro says: "The prayer devices utilized by the Tibetans are among the world's greatest curiosities, and for ingenuity and novelty are so far in advance of their other rites and observances that wonder is expressed as to the date of their origin. The Tibetan worship by mechanism. He has his prayer wheels, his prayer stones, his prayer flags, in fact, every device is resorted to, to eliminate the necessity of a mental or physical appeal to deity. One of the most popular methods of prayer is to have the prayer grinder passed in front of the door like an organ grinder, and for an Anna grind out a beautifully long and eloquent spiritual appeal. Another fancy is to construct a prayer wheel somewhat upon the same scale as our own old-fashioned water wheels, and by deftly

Harsha and the pastor. A full attendance is urged. PRIMARY MAY BE HELD DECEMBER

The indication is that at the meeting of the city democratic committee at 5 o'clock this afternoon it will be deemed to have the primary for the nomination of candidates to be voted on in the city election next year some time in December.

The reason for holding the primary so early is made plain by the fact that it is the desire of the party managers to get out as large a vote as possible. If the election is held prior to January 1 those who hold poll tax receipts issued before February 1 of this year will be allowed to vote. If it is held after January 1 the voter must have a poll tax receipt issued since October 1 of this year.

As next year is an off year, and there will be no state, district or national elections during 1905, the chances are the payment of poll taxes before February 1 will be very light. With this view of the matter it is very probable the city committee, expecting a big vote at the primaries, will have the date fixed some time in December.

It has been suggested that an election held prior to January 1 is illegal. On this question the attorney general has been communicated with and the following reply has been received: "In my reply to your favor of the 4th inst. you are advised that there is no legal objection to holding your city primary election in December. See section 84 of the election law, which provides that the primary election must be held not less than twenty days prior to the city or town election."

This opinion is signed by T. S. Johnson, office assistant of the attorney general.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Fort Worth Telegram will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given at the office, Eighth and Throckmorton streets, Fort Worth, Tex.

The Telegram absolutely guarantees a much larger paid daily circulation in the city of Fort Worth and surrounding territory than any other daily newspaper printed.

THIS SHOULD BE RELIEF

It is now thirty-one days since the Hill street bridge was torn away and not a move has been made by the railroads responsible for the accident to replace it.

With this bridge out the people in that section of the city must go a long way around to cross from the South Side of the tracks of the railroad companies to the North Side.

While this is being mentioned The Telegram would also call attention to the fact that the Thurbur brick people have failed to provide the special brick designed by City Engineer Hawley for use on Main and Houston streets along the street railway tracks.

THE ROSEN FRANCHISE

Sam Rosen will ask the city council to change his franchise so that instead of the cars turning at the corner of Fourth and Throckmorton streets, running on Fourth to Rusk and on Rusk to Eighth, that the line can be laid on Throckmorton to Eighth, on Eighth to Rusk and thence south on Rusk.

THE ELECTION TOMORROW

Tomorrow, Tuesday, is election day all over the United States, and in the majority of states a complete ticket is to be elected ranging from president to constable.

In the election tomorrow there are three important constitutional amendments to be voted upon, none of which are self-operative. If they are adopted by the people, the legislature will be required to pass the necessary measures to put them into effect.

The second amendment permits the legislature to vote a pension of $3 per month to indigent Confederate soldiers, provided the total shall not exceed $500,000 per annum, and to maintain the Confederate home at an expense not to exceed $100,000 each year. The third amendment authorizes the chartering of corporations for the transaction of a banking business under legislative safeguards, as under the present constitution banks can only be incorporated under the national banking act.

Some of the boll weevil experts tell us that this pest is here to stay and it looks like an assured fact. Farmers in the weevil districts are trying to get around the situation by the early planting and maturing of the crop.

The Texas cotton crop has about been gathered, except out in the western portion of the state, where the crop is always late.

Judge Parker seems to have found a tender spot in Roosevelt's hide when he gave him that dose of trust contribution medicine.

San Antonio has acquired a spasm of virtue and closed all the gambling houses in that city. The Telegram has strong hopes that the Alamo City may become a decent and law-abiding town at some time in the future.

Now that the political campaign is closed for this season, Fort Worth will go right on growing as before.

The democrats kept their trump card until the very last moment, and when they sprung it, it made the republicans get up on their hind legs and howl.

The democratic party may go down in national defeat tomorrow, but it has the satisfaction at this moment of knowing that it has done its duty by the people.

Tomorrow will tell the story of who is to control the destinies of this great republic for the next two years, the people or the trusts.

Russia claims she will be able to prove that the North Sea incident was instigated by Japan, and Russia can be depended upon to prove any old thing if the necessary time is given her.

General Stoessel, in command at Fort Arthur, is reported to have been wounded in the leg, and his racing capacity is consequently considerably diminished.

Perhaps the railways will be ready to take some action on that Hill street bridge before independence is granted to the Filipinos.

President Roosevelt's horse evidently shied at the hole in the Federal constitution the other day that had been made by his rider, and refused to again trample on that time-honored compact.

There is one state the democrats are free to concede to the republicans without any question. That is the doubtful state they have all been in since Parker began to point out their trust manipulations.

Miss Pauline Astor, the only daughter of the expatriated American who has fastened himself on England, has married an Englishman by the name of Capt. Spender-Clay.

The republican press is harping all over the country on what it is pleased to term the mistakes of Parker.

Senator Knox of Pennsylvania came very near telling the whole truth and nothing but the truth when he said in a recent speech: "In all things President Roosevelt and the party have been true to their trust."

Senator Beveridge of Indiana tells young men why they should vote the republican ticket, and the advice will perhaps be heeded by some men who are too young to know any better.

West Virginia is really the most doubtful of the doubtful states, so far as the republicans are concerned.

Judge Parker has taken the public sufficiently into his confidence to announce that he has hopes of being elected.

Chairman Cortelyou of the republican national committee has established such a reputation for reticence that he is known among the eastern newspaper men as Chairman Can't-tell-you.

ago when his horse threw him. The remark he made on that occasion do not pertain to the campaign, however.

There is one kind of sign that always inspires confidence in the republican heart during a national election. It is made as follows: $

Tom Taggart is not running for office in the state of Indiana. He is only trying to run the republican party to its hole in that state.

If you have not paid your poll tax and can not vote next Tuesday, you can partially appreciate the condition of the man who enjoyed a great privilege and lost it.

The poll of Greater New York by the Brooklyn Eagle indicates that Parker will carry the city by 182,022, and if that is the case it is all off with Bright Eyes.

There are nine presidential tickets in the field this year, and it looks like that ought to be enough to give any man his first choice.

The great trouble with Mr. Roosevelt is that he has revised the constitution without any authority from the people.

The democrats of the country may be defeated in the national election next week, but it can not be noticed that they are keeping the republicans very busy.

The Farmers' Union seems to be giving Fort Worth the marble heart in the disposition of its cotton this fall. There must be a reason for this.

We have a clean political campaign in Texas this year, and tomorrow the Terrell election law will give us a clean election.

There are thousands of good people now coming into this state looking for homes, and Texas welcomes each and every one of them.

Texas will go democratic tomorrow by the usual brutal majority. That is a settled fact.

Sleanings From the ...Exchanges...

A comprehensive scheme of taxation should be evolved and enacted into law by the coming legislature, a system that will insure the full rendition of all personal property, a scheme that will compel rendition at actual value of property to be taxed, a scheme which will promptly detect and properly punish its violators.

The state of Texas is at the point where it is absolutely essential that methods be devised for raising more revenue, and that revenue must come out of the pockets of the people. If there is taxable property in Texas shirking its responsibilities in that respect, it should be yanked into the open.

Blessed is the man who sitteth not in the councils of the republicans, nor standeth in the way of penitent socialist, nor whose delight is in going up to the poll with poll tax receipt in hand and voting the straight democratic ticket.—Bonham News.

Such a man constitutes the very salt of the earth, and Texas is to be congratulated on the fact that she possesses so many of them.

A Chicago judge last week fined a woman $300 for talking about a neighbor. That man was hitting right at the very vitals of church sewing societies and he should be careful.—Austin Statesman.

Talking about our neighbors is an unfortunate habit we all have, and the women are not the only culprits. There is a too general disposition in every community to indulge in backbiting, and if we were all fined every time we indulged in the practice the majority of us would spend the greater part of our time doing penance.

Governor Toole of Montana will honor requisitions from the governor of Colorado when convinced that the courts are in full swing and not subservient to the military power. Governor Toole is eminently correct in his ruling. The constitution of the United States guarantees a person accused of crime a fair trial by a jury of his peers. General Sherman Bell isn't the constitution of the United States.—Dallas Times-Herald.

No; General Sherman Bell is not the constitution of the United States. President Theodore Roosevelt finishes out the constitution where General Sherman Bell leaves off.

That cotton conference which met in Houston a few days ago declared that "the boll weevil has come to Texas to stay." And planters in eastern states who have been fearing a visit from the weevil hope he will stay here.—San Antonio Express.

And Texas hopes he will emigrate. Mr. Boll Weevil is one of a class of citizenship Texas does not need in her business. The cost of his maintenance comes entirely too high.

This is mighty fine weather for sowing wheat and farmers should take advantage of it by all means. A good big wheat crop next year would be of incalculable value to this country next year. Sow wheat. If you have already sown, sow a little more, it won't hurt anything.—Honey Grove Citizen.

It is a mighty good time now to turn from politics to wheat. The political campaign is over, and while Texas has not experienced any of the excitement incident to the doubtful states, yet there has been a great deal of time lost in talking politics. Wheat is bringing a good price, Texas has fine wheat lands, and it is a good time to turn from politics to wheat.

I will tell him nothings, and now go, for I have to see a great gentleman. I was quite happy.

"Did she not miss the confession?" "No! I said nothing of wanting that. It was in my pocket. The blue envelope was on the table. She never thought but what it was within. Then she asked me to say nothing to any one about San Remo, and we part quite happy.

"You left the dagger behind?" "It was on the floors where I threw it. I wished to get away with the confessions lest she should call me thieves. I did not wait for to take the dagger. I departed. That is all."

"Humph!" said George. The story seemed likely enough. After letting Lola out of the house Mrs. Jersey then came to see if he and Train were in bed. Expecting Lord Derrington and knowing from Lola who he was, she no doubt expected George to interrupt the interview.

George returned to town with the confession of Mrs. Jersey in his pocket. On arriving at the Liverpool street station he wrote a note to Kowalski telling him of Lola's plight and advising him to engage counsel for her defense.

"I walked by the walls. It was after 10 o'clock. I walk round and round the squares, and I then see a red light. The door open—it was open, and many people came out of the houses. The fat lady was on the steps, waving her hands—so." Lola waved her hand. "A crowd was around. I came into the crowd, and when the fat lady was down shaking with the handshake I did slip into the house."

"That was clever of you," said George, wondering at the dexterity with which Lola had managed to enter without exciting suspicion. "And then what did you do? Did you meet any one?"

"Ah, but no. I ran into a place. There was a room with a light, and that I did go into—"

"Mrs. Jersey's sitting room," murmured George. "Yes?" "I was afraid to be thrown out, my dear, and I hid behind a curtain of the window. The fat lady she did come in and close the door. She talked to herself of Lord Derrington coming, and did seem enraged at him wishing to come—do you understand?"

"Yes. What then?" "She took from a box—" "A green box, Lola?" "Yes, a green box—she did take a blue envelope, and she looked at a paper—a white paper she took from the envelope. She laughed, and said that milor would love to have this. I say to myself behind the curtains: 'It is the confessions, I will have it.' Then she did put it in the envelopes and leave it on the tables. It was near me. I could steal!"

"And you did?" said George impatiently. "But no, my George. I did try, and madame she saw my arm. With a cry she leaped to the doors. I come out and say that I wish to talk of the deaths of Monsieur Vanes. She turns most white, and did not cry no more. Then she ask me what I want. I told madame I was of San Remo, and did talk of my dear mother, and of her love for Monsieur Vane. But this pig woman insult my mother. I become enraged, I bring my dagger and wave it so." Again Lola made a dramatic gesture. "I say that I kill her. She fall on her knees and hide her face. Then I did take the confessions out of the blue envelopes and hide it."

"That was very clever of you, Lola. Did Mrs. Jersey see?" "Ah, but no she did not. I take it when she was with the eyes covered. Then having all what I was desired, and seeing her so afraid, I had the contempt look. I say, 'There, there,' and I throw the dagger at her feet. Then I go to the door and say I would depart. She beg me to stop. I did stop, and we talk of San Remo and of my mother. I say that you were my love, and that Monsieur Vane was the father of you—"

"Then she knew who I was on that night?" "Ah, yes, but she did. I say you wish to see her the next day. She say,

"I will tell him nothings, and now go, for I have to see a great gentleman. I was quite happy."

"Did she not miss the confession?" "No! I said nothing of wanting that. It was in my pocket. The blue envelope was on the table. She never thought but what it was within. Then she asked me to say nothing to any one about San Remo, and we part quite happy. She allowed me out of the door and closed it again, oh, so softly. I saw her no more."

TELEGRAM PRIZE WINNERS RETURN FROM TRIP TO THE WORLD'S FAIR

Thirteen young ladies, tired, but happy, reached Fort Worth late Saturday evening from St. Louis, arriving on the Cotton Belt. Each of the party wore a long red stamper, which read:

WE'RE FROM TEXAS. FORT WORTH TELEGRAM.

The party was composed of the young women who went to the fair on a ten day's trip at the expense of The Telegram. They were the winners in a popularity contest and represented various towns in the state of Texas. The party left Fort Worth Thursday morning, October 26, on the Cotton Belt. St. Louis was reached the next afternoon, nearly on time as a stop watch could split a second. Many of the young women had never been out of the state of Texas before, and it needed no very considerable stretch of imagination to appreciate the pleasure that was in store for the members of the party. The party had gathered in Fort Worth, and while here had received every courtesy and attention at the Metropolitan hotel and cafe, and had tasted of the hospitality of Greenwall's opera house in a box party on Wednesday evening, and had enjoyed a tally-ho ride in Purvis & Colp's big yellow wagon. At St. Louis the party, which headquarters at the American hotel, which stands immediately adjoining the principal entrance to the fair grounds, and received careful attention from Manager Lauber and his employees.

The week's stay at St. Louis was made the most of. Not a minute was wasted that could be devoted to sight-seeing. The day time was spent within the grounds and buildings, and the evenings on the Pike. Every building on the grounds was visited, either hurriedly or slowly, according to the demands of the exhibits. Every show on the Pike was visited and some of them a second time. Nothing that was worth seeing was missed. One of the evenings was spent at the Odéon theater in witnessing the Kralitz show. To attempt a detailed account of the things that held the constant attention of the party would be to write a book in many volumes. The young ladies have some things to say on their own account, and space is here with given to letters from them, received by the management.

The Telegram Company promised that this party would be taken to the fair at no expense to the members, and to take good care of them throughout the entire trip. The letters will show that The Telegram not only fulfilled every promise, but did much more. And The Telegram Company, through its representatives who were members of the party, can but say that the good care taken of the young ladies was due to the character of the members of the party. Not the slightest thing happened to mar the pleasure of the trip. It was one of education, interest and happiness throughout.

The young ladies have all returned to their homes, with the exception of Miss Hollingsworth of Temple and Miss Wilson of Taylor, who are visiting relatives in the city. Miss McDermett of Baird is visiting relatives and will remain here during the fall and winter, having entered the Fort Worth high school.

LETTERS FROM MEMBERS OF PARTY

To The Fort Worth Telegram Co. I wish to tell you all about my delightful trip to the World's Fair, St. Louis, Mo., which I won in a contest given by your valuable paper, which is one of THE papers of the south. Thirteen girls met in Fort Worth on Wednesday morning, October 26. We at once proceeded to The Telegram office. Everything there was explained to us in detail and we were delighted to be selected by the entire Telegram force. Leaving there we repaired to the Metropolitan hotel, where dinner fit for royalty was served us in the private dining room. In the afternoon we were treated to a tally-ho ride and, with horns and tin horns, contributed by our Sir Knight, James Hays Quarles, managing editor of The Telegram, we made the welkin ring. That night we were taken to Greenwall's opera house, where we witnessed a very attractive melodrama, entitled, "Woman Against Woman." It was a very emotional play and most of us girls had covered faces throughout the performance.

The next morning, amid cheers and screams of laughter, the Cotton Belt train bore away its happy cargo of Telegram girls, to the land of beauty and fun. The train, with all its employees, was ours, and our journey to St. Louis was all that could be desired. Arriving at the Union Station we boarded the Wahash Shuttle train, and were taken at once to the American hotel; there we rested for a few minutes only, and then took a downtown car to view the great city of St. Louis.

We took in the fair thoroughly. The buildings were beautiful, so much to be seen and so much to be learned by visiting them. The Pike holds all the fun, the night we were treated to a box party at the Odéon theater, where we had the pleasure of witnessing the great spectacular production, "Louisiana." It was simply grand. Words can not express the splendor of it all. Nothing that could add to our pleasure and comfort was left unattended for by our wise and thoughtful chaperons, Messrs. C. D. Reimers, the publisher, and W. H. Calkins, circulation manager of The Telegram. They have won for themselves the admiration and highest regard of all of the thirteen girls. Never can we forget how royally they treated us. If they should happen to forget they ought to be—well, you know.

Well may we all say we have never spent a week so instructive and so full of interest and fun. We had Palace accommodations to and from St. Louis at The Telegram's expense. When we entered the contest you promised us a great deal but what you really did for us exceeds all your promises a hundred-fold.

You know girls imagine great things and build air castles. Well, we received all the good things bargained for thrice over. A more jovial and congenial crowd I have never known. When we started our chaperons were men, but they returned home "boys."

Respectfully, FLORENCE HOLLINGSWORTH, Temple, Texas.

MISS CORA McDERMETT To The Telegram.

I arrived at Fort Worth Wednesday morning and was met by the chaperon of the party, W. H. Calkins, who escorted me to the Metropolitan hotel, where I met the other girls. We were nicely entertained there until Thursday morning. We enjoyed a tally-ho ride Wednesday afternoon and a box party at Greenwall's opera house in the evening. The trip to St. Louis was enlivened with regulation bells, composed by some of the crowd, and with tin horns. The best time of all, of course, was after we arrived in St. Louis. The Pike was very fine indeed, and was enjoyed very much by all the crowd. "Creation," "Hereafter," "Under and Over the Sea" and the "Baby Incubator" were the most interesting. I appreciated the music which we heard in "Under and Over the Sea" very much, but the buildings were the most interesting to me, for they were so beneficial. Our own state building is magnificent. We registered there and received badges from the hostess, Mrs. Saunders. We were in St. Louis seven days, during which time we stopped at the American hotel, and were well entertained by Messrs. Reimers and Calkins, who chaperoned the party. This trip will never be forgotten by me, and all my thanks to Mr. Calkins can never be expressed. The young ladies all won my love and admiration, and I can truly say that the whole trip was heartily enjoyed. I also wish to thank my friends who assisted me in the contest, and wish to say that their kindness will never be forgotten.

Cordially yours, CORA McDERMETT, Baird, Texas.

MISS IDA LOCKWOOD To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.

I am on my way home, after spending nearly two weeks at the World's Fair at St. Louis. Nine girls won a free trip with all expenses paid, given by your valuable paper. We all arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday, October 26, and were entertained at the Metropolitan hotel. In the afternoon we were taken for a tally-ho ride and in the evening were entertained at a box party at Greenwall's opera house. The next morning we left for the fair, the most enjoyable trip that I have ever had the pleasure of taking. The courtesies shown us by Mr. Reimers and Mr. Calkins, also the Cotton Belt trainmen and the people at the American hotel in St. Louis, will never be forgotten.

It is impossible for me to mention the many interesting things seen on the Pike and the buildings representing so many different countries. It is something I will never forget, and I only wish my friends to know how much I enjoyed the trip, especially to those who were so kind to take me on the trip—I can never thank them sufficiently. I feel doubly repaid for the little work I did in order to win the trip. We saw all the best shows on the Pike and the most interesting buildings, and the fine art exhibit. Again, thank you for your unflinching courtesies and the pleasure and profit that has come to me in my trip to the great fair, a similar occasion which may never fall to my lot again. I must remain with a heart full of gratitude.

Very respectfully, IDA LOCKWOOD, Sealy, Texas.

MISS LENA SKILES To The Fort Worth Telegram Company:

Being awarded one of the prizes in the contest which your valuable paper conducted and in which you gave nine round trip tickets to St. Louis, with all the expenses paid for one week, I have this to say of my trip.

I arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday, October 26, and was met at the station by your Mr. Calkins and two of the ladies of The Telegram. They conducted me to the Metropolitan Hotel, where I met the remainder of the party. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon our party was entertained with a tally-ho ride. We returned to the Metropolitan Hotel about 5:30 o'clock, where a delightful dinner was served to us. In the evening we were entertained at a box party at Greenwall's opera house.

On the morning of October 27 we departed over the Cotton Belt Railroad for St. Louis, arriving on time, after a trip that was full of courtesies bestowed upon us by all the trainmen. When we arrived at St. Louis we went to the American Hotel, which was selected on account of the convenience to the grounds, and where we were given delightful meals and rooms.

It will be impossible for me to go into details of the many wonderful things that I saw on the grounds, the buildings and on the Pike. We had the pleasure of seeing all the shows on the Pike, as well as "Louisiana" at the Odéon Theater, and all at the expense of The Telegram. It was too good to us; nothing left undone that could have added to our pleasure and comfort, and expense was not spared in seeing that our every want was supplied. Every promise made us was even more than carefully fulfilled, and in closing this brief note to you I do so with the feeling of gratitude that is impossible to express. I thank you as well as those of my friends who made it possible for me to be one of this merry party. Wishing The Telegram continued success, I am sincerely yours, LENA SKILES, Denton, Texas.

MISS FANNIE WILSON To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.

I arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday morning, October 26, and was met at the station by some of the party who took me to the Metropolitan hotel, where we were entertained royally, and after lunch went for a fine tally-ho ride. After dinner the party was taken to the theater. We left Fort Worth Thursday morning, at 10:15 o'clock. The trip was a very enjoyable one. Our crowd consisted of thirteen girls, and our chaperons. We arrived in St. Louis Friday afternoon, registered at the American hotel and were taken to the city. After dinner we started our visit at the big fair with some of the best features of the Pike. The following day we took in the state buildings. We visited our own state building and registered and were received with great hospitality. Day after day we took in buildings and exhibits. Words can not express the enjoyment derived from meeting all of the young ladies and our chaperone, Mr. Calkins. No expense was spared in showing us a good time.

I can truly say I have never enjoyed a trip so thoroughly as this one, and I am sure it will never be forgotten by any of the party. I also wish to thank my friends for helping me throughout the contest, which made it possible for me to take this trip.

Sincerely yours, FANNIE WILSON, Taylor, Texas.

MISS CALLIE McAFEE To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.

It was a beautiful day in October when my party of fifteen left Fort Worth for a trip to the Great World's Fair at St. Louis.

It was indeed a happy party, and we made ourselves very prominent by blowing horns at every station and causing a great deal of excitement. When we arrived in St. Louis we registered at the American hotel, and then took a car for the city and spent several hours sight-seeing. In the evening we went to the fair grounds and witnessed quite a number of shows on the Pike, and also had several exciting rides, one was on the Scenic railway, the other being that of Shooting the Chutes. During the day we visited many buildings of importance and also several of the state buildings, one of the first being the Texas building, which was indeed very beautiful. We all registered there and were received with great hospitality. On Thursday evening we were afforded the pleasure of seeing that great World's Fair spectacular production, "Louisiana," which was presented at the Odéon theater. The scenery and the gorgeous costumes displayed by the troupe is ever to be remembered. The trip as a whole was enjoyed beyond expression and my gratitude is due to your circulation manager, W. H. Calkins. Wishing The Telegram much success and again thanking you for the hospitality shown me, I remain, Yours very truly, CALLIE McAFEE, Sherman, Texas.

MISS CORA BARRON To The Fort Worth Telegram Company: When I arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday, October 26 I was met by your Mr. Hargrove and several of the girls. We were then taken to the Metropolitan Hotel, where all of our party were being entertained. In the afternoon we were all taken for a tally-ho ride. James Hays Quarles, managing editor of The Telegram, treated all of us to a horn and we cheerfully blew it until every one in hearing distance of the jolly crowd fully realized that we were in the city, as one of our yells expressed it. "We're out for a time, we don't give a snap." Hurrah, Hurrah, for The Telegram! After our ride we returned to the hotel and enjoyed ourselves at dinner. We were then escorted to the theater at Greenwall's opera house, where we were entertained at a box party.

Next morning we were honored by the presence of a large crowd of our friends to see us off. Our trip was unusually pleasant. Early the next morning we were awakened from our peaceful slumber to see the Mississippi river, which we crossed on a boat. Our ride through Illinois up the river was especially charming. We arrived in St. Louis Friday afternoon and registered at the American hotel, which is only a two minutes' walk to the World's Fair grounds. Each night we went strolling on the Pike and witnessed all of the most interesting attractions. The Battle of Santiago was very attractive and scientifically shown. The Baby Incubator was one of the wonderful attractions we saw. It goes to prove that the world is getting ahead of itself. Under and Over the Sea was a descriptive piece of art. Our ride on the Shooting the Chutes and the Scenic Railway were too exciting to tell about. During the day we took in the big buildings, all of which displayed great science and beauty. The Philippine Reservation and Boer War were very interesting and instructive features of the fair. We took several rides to the city. One morning we went through the Amusements, the Brewery and one evening we were taken to see that spectacular production, "Louisiana," which was given at the Odéon Theater.

Messrs. Reimers and Calkins left nothing undone; they even did much more for us than they promised, and I would advise every girl that has the opportunity to be one of The Telegram contestants to accept it, for if they win it is worth a great deal to them.

In closing this hurried note, which but too feebly expresses my feelings, I find it still harder to give expression to the gratitude I shall always hold for The Telegram Company and the particular representatives who accompanied our party and for those friends who made it possible for me to have become a member of the party. I can only say, "Thank you all from the bottom of my heart." Truly yours, CORA BARRON, Cameron, Texas.

MISS EFFIE WILLIAMS To The Telegram:

I am back home again after nearly two weeks' absence, most of which I spent in St. Louis at the World's Fair in company with the winners in your World's Fair Contest, one of whom I had anticipated having a very pleasant trip and I am not saying nearly enough more than realize the fact that I certainly have had a very happy trip and certainly have had your unfailing courtesies and the generous and kind attentions extended to me and to our party through your Mr. Calkins, who was in charge of our pleasures and am sure that I am not an easy one considering the fact that there was thirteen girls in the crowd. I do so with a feeling of gratitude that I cannot express and in attempting to do so I want also to remember my many friends at home who made it possible for me to witness this splendid trip. What I saw at St. Louis I cannot tell you here. I never again expect to see anything that has made such an impression on me. Above all, I remember the pleasure received from your hands; from the Cotton Belt railroad; the American hotel, where we stopped; the officials at the fair and so many others.

With many thanks I beg to remain, Yours very truly, EFFIE WILLIAMS, Caldwell, Texas.

MISS RUBY ROBERSON To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.:

A party of thirteen girls met in Fort Worth Wednesday, October 26, and we were entertained at the Metropolitan hotel. We spent the day and night in Fort Worth very pleasantly. In the afternoon we were taken for a tally-ho ride and in the evening we were entertained at a box party at Greenwall's opera house. Our tally-ho ride lasted until 5 and we then went to the hotel for supper. On Thursday morning at 10:20 we left for St. Louis for one week of fun and a glorious good time. We arrived in St. Louis on Friday afternoon, while there we were entertained at the American Hotel. We were certainly treated royally by your Mr. Reimers and Mr. Calkins. They did everything they promised and I feel doubly repaid for all the work I did while in the contest. We were taken to all the shows of importance on the Pike. Those that were visited were Creation, Hale's Fire Fighters, Trip From New York to the North Pole, Battle of Santiago, the Baby Incubator and a lot of others. But the best of all was the great World's Fair spectacular production, "Louisiana," which was given at the Odéon Theater. It was simply grand. There were more than two hundred people on the stage at one time. We left St. Louis Friday afternoon. We certainly had a jolly crowd and I must say that our chaperons could not be excited and I assure you that any girl will never be sorry to enter a contest in your valuable paper. Three cheers for The Telegram. Yours truly, RUBY ROBERSON, Grand Saline, Texas.

MISS KATIE GOODHUE To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.:

In regard to my trip to the fair at your expense, it was one of the most delightful and instructive vacations that I have had the pleasure of enjoying and I will never forget The Telegram for all that it has done for me. We were entertained at the Metropolitan hotel while in Fort Worth. On Wednesday afternoon we were taken for a tally-ho ride and in the evening we were chaperoned at a box party at Greenwall's opera house. It is impossible to try to describe the great number of interesting things I saw at the fair, words cannot express them, and I never again expect to see anything that has made such an impression on me. Thanking Mr. Calkins for the interest he took in showing us such a good time, I remain, KATIE GOODHUE, Fort Worth, Texas.

MISS GERTRUDE MORGAN To The Fort Worth Telegram Co.:

I write this brief note to you to tell you how much I enjoyed my trip to the fair at your expense and enjoyable time that I received at your hands while in Fort Worth. I arrived in Fort Worth Wednesday morning and a party of twelve girls with Mr. Calkins as their chaperon met me at the station, where we at once repaired to the Metropolitan hotel. At 3 o'clock p. m. we started for a tally-ho ride. There were fifteen girls and five young men in the party. We had a fine time riding around the city blowing our horns and giving our Telegram yells. In the evening we were entertained at Greenwall's opera house, the lucky contestants of the Fort Worth Telegram. On the morning of the 28th we boarded the Cotton Belt train for St. Louis. Loud demonstrations of The Telegram yell and shrieks of tin horns were echoing at the union station and all other stations between St. Louis and Fort Worth. Arriving at St. Louis we registered at the American hotel, had lunch and took a street car ride about the city. In the afternoon we were taken for a portion by Mr. Calkins and arriving at the hotel at 6 p. m., where we had dinner and then went to the World's Fair grounds, which were only a two minutes walk from our hotel. When all of the girls entered the grounds and saw the grand illuminations of the beautiful buildings the admiration was general. The first night we took in a number of the best attractions on the Pike, our creation being the first. This is an illusion of the creation of the world, taken from the bible. There were others equally as good. We visited all the buildings of importance, registered at the Texas building, and received the Texas hospitality. Among other attractions that we enjoyed so much on the Pike was a ride on the Scenic Railway and Shooting the Chutes. You cannot imagine the peculiar and exciting feeling that you have when your boat takes the plunge into the water. We were entertained at the Odéon theater where we saw "Louisiana." As the curtain rose the illumination of the stage and the costumes worn by those on the stage was something wonderful. There were so many grand sights we saw that I cannot recall them now. We were entertained royally and shall always remember your kindness and many courtesies received. Sincerely yours, GERTRUDE MORGAN, Hillsboro, Texas.

The other members of the party were: Ethel Bell, Marshall; Effie Williams, Caldwell; Cora Barron, Cameron; Ida Lockwood, Sealy; Lena Skyles, Denton; Ruby Roberson, Grand Saline. Misses Clara Goodhue, Katie Goodhue, Callie McAfee and Gertrude Morgan, employees of The Telegram, were also members of the party.

the rails and prevent the ruts which now leave the rails at a height of several inches from the adjoining surface, collecting pools of water from the street sprinkling and threatening to tear the wheels from vehicles. As with a gravel road, the first rut is the signal for a general destruction and the traffic over the broken places in the paving has wrought great havoc with the brick paving, so that in some places large portions of it will have to be replaced. With the arrival of the brick the work of repairing will at once be begun, so that the streets may again be put in condition for safety to vehicles. I WANT an agent in this city, one who can sell to the shop and trainmen, an article they use daily. As it is a union product, I prefer for such agency a disabled man of any of the brotherhoods or unions, or a son or daughter of a widow of one of these. If I can get an agent of this class I will offer them the means of an excellent livelihood. W. E. Kennedy, 1523 N. Jersey avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

CLARENCE OUSLEY TALKS OF DUTY

At Trinity Church Last Night He Discussed Patriotism in Time of Peace as Well as in Time of War

Clarence Ousley, last night discussed "Voting as a Duty," at Trinity Episcopal church, declaring in the course of his remarks that he had never heard a single good excuse for failure to cast a ballot.

The ballot box, he declared, stood at the beginning of all peace duties, especially in the case of a republic. Continuing he said: "Officials are just what we make them. So are the acts of the government. They are the will of those who participate in the elections."

Referring to the election in this state as in reality a matter of mere formality, he showed the argument that therefore there was no need to vote to be erroneous. It is a matter of common knowledge, he declared, that Tarrant county will in all probability put forward a candidate for governor at the next election and describing the method of the choice of the chief executive he showed the necessity of a full vote at the coming elections.

As a sectional reason for performance of the voting duty he cited the movement on foot to have the congressional representation of the state based upon their voting strength rather than their population. This measure, he stated, would be seriously presented at the next session of congress and urged that it was the duty of the citizens to see that by their neglect a light vote was not polled seeming to substantiate the claim that a portion of the citizenship was disfranchised.

Declaring that no good excuse had ever been given for not voting, he analyzed several of the more common and taking up the uselessness claim of a minority party man declared he should vote his convictions even if alone, that others might be encouraged by his example and that the cause he believed right might be furthered.

Taking up strictly local affairs, he cited the present contest for chief of police and declared it the duty of every citizen to take a part in the struggle and see that the man he thought best was placed in the position having so much to do with the moral atmosphere of the community in which the citizens and their families must reside.

Gertrude Ewing Company The Gertrude Ewing Company comes to Greenwall's opera house for two nights, tonight and tomorrow.

Harry Beresford Harry Beresford, who has been praised by the critics in the most flattering terms, will shortly appear at our local playhouse in the comedy-farce, said to be a continuous laugh-producer.

play. Those who were familiar with Miss Ewing's stage career expected something above the ordinary in the way of popular price attractions and they were not disappointed. Miss Ewing's artistic tastes were evidenced in the stage settings and costumes and the general atmosphere of refinement which distinguished both play and players.

AL G. FIELD'S MINSTRELS Al G. Field's Minstrels will be at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday matinee and night, November 9. The Galveston News says of this organization: The announcement of the coming of Al Field's Minstrels is a sign for every one to make preparations to go.

It is difficult to do justice to all that Al Field offers to the public. The present presentation, "In the Shadow of St. Paul's," was a musical gem; the moonlight scene, introducing moving clouds and rippling water, was unique; the quartet was a hit, and the two Avolos in acrobatic feats were well received.

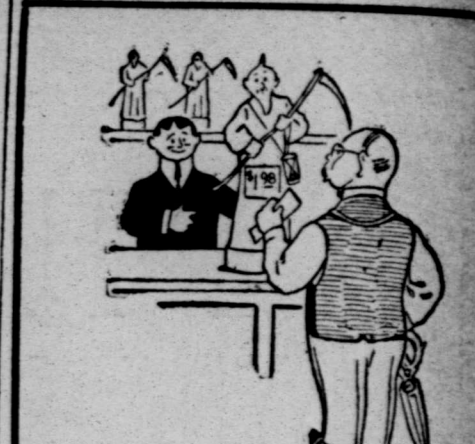

"A MILLIONAIRE TRAMP" A Millionaire Tramp, which appears at Greenwall's opera house Thursday night, November 10, is claimed to be one of the best comedies on the road. The story of the play deals principally with the troubles and scrapes of the tramp, Jay Pierpont, through the comedy-drama of his life, a fall from fine raiment to the rags and tatters, etc.

Other countries have their outcasts and vagrants, but none of them have anything like the American tramp. He is an oddity and imitable in his originality and nerve. The "Millionaire Tramp" is the King Bee of them all.

COL. J. M. MALLET OF CLEBURNE IS A VISITOR

Commander of the Camp at His Home Makes a Talk to the Veterans in This City at the Meeting Yesterday

The regular meeting of Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans, was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The session was presided over by Commander E. W. Taylor. For the first time in many weeks Adjutant W. M. McConnell was at his desk.

Chaplain J. I. Wright opened the proceedings with prayer, after which the minutes of the former meeting were read by Assistant Adjutant Kirtley.

It was announced that on Thanksgiving day Julia Jackson chapter will give a dinner, to which invitations will be sent. It was stated that similar dinners will follow until all veterans have been invited and tendered this courtesy.

Mrs. Jordan, president of Julia Jackson chapter, presented to the camp a check for $25. This money is to go to the relief fund.

The camp returned its thanks. Adjutant McConnell was authorized to indite a letter to the chapter, returning its thanks for the liberal donation.

At this juncture Judge Terrell noted that Colonel J. M. Mallet, commander of Pat Cleburne Camp of Cleburne, was present and asked that he be escorted to a seat on the platform, which was done.

It was stated that tickets for the old fiddlers' contest at the city hall on November 11 were being sold pretty generally and that the prospects for a good attendance were excellent.

Mrs. Jordan read a program that is to be followed out on that occasion. Colonel Mallet was introduced to the camp and addressed the members briefly. He said he never prepared a speech. He always makes them straight from the shoulder—just as he did when fighting Yankees. The Colonel said that the Confederate soldier was the greatest fighter history has ever produced.

The meeting of Sons yesterday. In fact, on account of the seeming neglect of members to turn out, the first steps looking to a disbandment of the camp were taken yesterday. It was announced that at next Sunday's meeting the question will be debated and final action taken.
