

ELECTION BULLETINS AT TELEGRAM BUILDING TONIGHT---ALL ARE INVITED

PLEASANT WEATHER HEAVY VOTE ALL OVER

Reports From Every State Indicate That Ideal Conditions Surround the Election and That in Every State the Polling Indicates a Large Ballot—Some States Will Poll the Largest Vote Every Recorded—Trouble at Some of the Booths in New York City—Election Commission Appoints Many Deputies to Challenge Those Who Are Illegally Registered—Much Interest Being Taken to Bring Out Voters

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Throughout the entire day ideal weather prevails today. From Maine down the coast line and back into the interior it is sunny and crisp and as a rule an extremely heavy vote is being polled. This is particularly true in the rural districts where the long spell of dry weather has put the roads in excellent condition and enabled the voters to reach the polls with ease. In fact, up to noon today reports indicate good weather extends over the entire country and leads experts at headquarters to predict the vote cast will be the heaviest in many elections. In New York state the weather conditions and earnest efforts of both parties to get the voters out early is having a decided effect and from many places up the state it was reported a third of the vote had been cast by 9 o'clock. An unusually heavy vote is reported in every city and town heard from during the morning. Workers for republicans and democrats are active in getting out the vote.

AT WACO
WACO, Texas, Nov. 8.—The general election opened up on time this morning over the county of McLennan as elsewhere and reports at 12 o'clock indicate that a very good vote is being polled. Many think the vote will exceed the vote in the last presidential election very noticeably. The prohibitionists are voting the regular county ticket here, as they say the men are acceptable in practically all cases, and they have no county ticket. Special provision for counting rapidly having been made, there should not be much delay in getting the result of the election, though some of the boxes have no telephone connection.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Almost perfect weather conditions prevailed in Greater New York and early in the day indications pointed to a heavy vote in today's election. From the moment the polls opened at 6 o'clock booths in many election districts were filled and lines of men stood awaiting their turn to deposit their ballot. While the order prevailed in most sections of the city, trouble began in some quarters almost at the start and arrests for alleged illegal voting began almost simultaneously with the opening of the polls. In some cases arrests were accompanied by disorderly demonstrations and at least two persons, a policeman and a citizen, were injured before the voting had been in progress twenty minutes.

AT CINCINNATI
CINCINNATI, Nov. 8.—With delightful fair weather and a temperature of 40 degrees there were a large number of voters at the opening of the polls, indicating that the vote will be heavy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The first surprise of the day was sprung by State Superintendent of Elections Morgan when he distributed nearly three thousand deputies, representing his office, throughout the election districts of the great city. It had been expected that the superintendent of elections is authorized to appoint would be reinforced today by about two hundred men, including a large number of secret service agents, whose whole attention would be directed toward holders of alleged illegal naturalization papers. It developed today, however, Mr. Morgan found under a section of the metropolitan election district laws the state superintendent or any of his deputies is empowered to call on any person to assist him in the performance of his duty. This law raised practically all restrictions regarding the appointment of deputies and 2,000 more deputies were sworn in.

AT BALTIMORE
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—In Baltimore the polls opened at 6 o'clock, at which hour many voters were already at the precinct booths, ready to cast ballots. Reports indicate that the vote will be heavy in the city and state in consequence of campaign enthusiasm aroused during the week and fine weather that prevails.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The presence of the deputies was early in evidence and hundreds of men were challenged during the first few hours. Each of the deputies was supplied with a list of registered voters who are to be challenged. This list included the name of every person whose right to register was challenged and proved that the challenges had not been withdrawn. Hundreds of other names have also been placed on the list as the result of investigations conducted by Morgan's officers since the registers were closed.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—In Baltimore the polls opened at 6 o'clock, at which hour many voters were already at the precinct booths, ready to cast ballots. Reports indicate that the vote will be heavy in the city and state in consequence of campaign enthusiasm aroused during the week and fine weather that prevails.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The first trouble reported was in the turbulent Eighth assembly district on the lower East Side. At one polling place a gang of fifty or seventy-five men apparently acting upon a prearranged plan surrounded the polling place and began to make it unpleasant for the policemen on guard there. Finally they rushed the booth and began to jostle the officer who stood at the door. Other policemen came to the assistance of the assaulted officer and the mob finally dispersed. In the melee one policeman and one of the assailants were injured. Similar disturbances in which the police had to drive off other gangs occurred at other polling places in the district.

SPECIAL ELECTION EDITION

The Telegram will issue a special election edition Wednesday morning for distribution to the city subscribers of the paper. No effort will be made to cover the regular news service of the day, but its columns will be devoted to showing the result of the voting in the various states of the Union. The election news which is to be served The Telegram will be by a direct private wire into the office of the paper, maintained at great expense by an arrangement with the Postal Telegraph Company, and it is expected that by the time the early morning hour arrives when the paper is issued that the result will be generally known.

JUDGE BELL WILL BE ASKED TO LOOK AT HILL STREET BRIDGE

Attorney General Bell is in town and an effort will be made before his return to Austin to have him investigate personally the Hill street crossing affair with a view to forcing some action upon the part of the railroads. No answer has been received from Judge Beckham's letter to the attorney general, which was published exclusively in The Telegram, and up until noon today, Mr. Bell had not called upon Judge Beckham in regard to the matter.

It is thought, however, he will scarcely return to Austin without the courtesy of a call and acknowledgment of the receipt of the communication. The object of his visit here is primarily to cast his vote, but the general opinion is that the delay in answering Judge Beckham's letter was due to the contemplated trip here and personal interview.

Citizens in the neighborhood where the crossing was wont to be before its destruction express the hope that the attorney general will visit the site in person and gain a correct idea of the conditions existing, blocking traffic and street car service and feel that these conditions when once realized will show the necessity for immediate action under the direction of the Texas statutes.

LIAO YANG, Sept. 12.—The Chinese city of Liao Yang is the largest and most interesting place we have seen in the weeks' northern march.

Liao Yang is more than a mile square, and like every other city or village we have seen, it is surrounded by an immense wall of brick about fifty feet high.

A WILDERNESS OF ROOFS. The most interesting feature of Liao Yang, is its great pagoda which stands in the center of the city towards the railroad station.

ANOMALIES OF TRADE. The shops are not easy to distinguish; it is almost impossible for a stranger to know where to buy things.

JAPS CREATE A CHANGE. There has been a great change in Liao Yang street life since the Japanese army occupied the town.

THE FOREIGN ATTACHES. The uniforms are not alike, but the broad band which the riders wear on their sleeves, bears curiously at the houses.

SHELLED THE RUSSIANS. LIAO YANG, Sept. 2.—There seems to be some misapprehension regarding what the Japanese really did before and after they captured this town.

GREAT GUNS ARE NEXT. With a rumble and plenty of yelling, eight strange horses come into view, dragging behind them a big gun.

DID LITTLE LOOTING. That there was some looting by the Japanese soldiers there can be no denying.

LIAO YANG'S GREAT PAGODA. The most interesting, and by far the most artistic feature of Liao Yang, is its great pagoda which stands in the center of the city towards the railroad station.

THE RED CROSS MEN. And here come a couple of hundred men wearing bayonets, but carrying no guns. The red cross on their arms tells that their mission is one of aid and assistance.

The Player Folk
 For a short time after 8 o'clock last night there was standing room for sale at Greenwall's opera house, but later it was not to be had. They crowded the place from drop curtain to swinging doors, and ushers had their hands full looking after the comfort of the patrons of the house. The attraction was "Hearts and Dollars," by the Gertrude Ewing Company and a very pleasing performance was given. This popular priced company is well known here and always draws a large crowd. It is a strong company and the presentation of the drama was in line with excellent ability.
 Manager Greenwall expects tonight to have as large a crowd. He has arranged to display election bulletins and has a leased wire in the opera house. From the stage the bulletins will be read to the audience. The company tonight will present "Slaves of the Orient."
AL. G. FIELD MINSTRELS
 When Sir Arthur Sullivan died he left no contribution to the world of music that will endure so long as the anthem "The Lost Chord," which stands pre-eminent among the latter day English compositions and which is significant as being one of the most notable worthy works of contemporaneous genius. One of the most delightful features of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels is the rendition of this immortal anthem by Mr. Reese Prosser, the romantic tenor, assisted by a surprised choir of nearly a score of voices and surrounded by an atmosphere and environment which give an added attraction to Mr. Prosser's singing. The scene is a reproduction of the interior of St. Paul's church in England in London and so faithfully is the copy that those who have visited this famous house of worship will recognize it. Mr. Prosser's rendition of "The Lost Chord," assisted by a choir of trained voices placed in an environment most appropriate and most effective, will long live in the memory. The number has been one of the great successes of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. It is an especial feature in the scenic surprise "The Evolution of Minstrelsy."

 Al. G. Field Minstrels will be at the Greenwall's opera house Wednesday matinee and night, Nov. 9.

TANNERY IS TO DO WORK IN THIS CITY

Neighbors Are Complaining in Anticipation of Bad Smell. Manager Says There Will Be No Odor

John Armstrong, acting as manager for the T. R. James & Sons, makers of horse collars and leather goods, in the 1099 block on East Leuda street, in the old Texas Fixture Company building, has started on the ground floor of the building the installation of tanks and machinery for the purpose of a tannery. The neighbors of the location of the city are complaining, and claim that the smell arising from the tannery will be injurious to their health and to the value of the property.
 Mr. Armstrong was visited this morning by The Telegram and asked concerning the plant and the wails of his neighbors. He said:
 "The plant here will handle about two hundred hides a week. The fresh hide has no more smell to it than what one meets with in a butcher shop. We can not use bad hides. If they are tainted they are absolutely worthless for the making of good leather. We have here already fourteen vats in which to cure the hides. In these vats is nothing that will emit a bad odor. In tanning we use the latest processes. Oak and hemlock bark and the quercubra root, an herb gotten from South America, none of which has a smell other than that of tea when steeped. With these we use lime and salt, and all of these treatments are antiseptic and are disinfectants. They are not obnoxious to the nostrils and are considered to be very healthy, especially where there are contagious diseases.
 "I do not see how anyone could complain as we will not make any disagreeable odors, and will keep our place as clean as one can possibly do. The leather we make will be used by the James company, who have the second story of the building. For our drain water we are having built a cess pool, which will hold the wash water. This water is only strengthened with lime and salt and is pure as the city water."
 Neighbors, when approached upon the subject, said they had not as yet run across any bad odor, but that they had been told that in a short time, when the tannery got into full operation that the smell would be something fierce. They wished to have the nuisance abated, if it was to become one, before it was too late, and that was why they had asked The Telegram to investigate.
 Mr. Armstrong told The Telegram that the reason many tanneries had a disagreeable odor was on account of the use of chicken manure for the curing of the hides, but that the plant which he was establishing would have a more modern process and there would be no need of such usage of this manure, and thus there would be a decided lack of bad odor.

ROBINSON-POWELL
 At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday evening the beauty, bravery and brightness of Big Springs filled the Christian church to witness the ceremony which gave in marriage Lillie Powell to Mr. Robinson. The beautiful bride is the youngest daughter of Can Powell and has been raised in this city and has a warm place in the hearts of all with whom she has come in contact. Mr. Robinson is an efficient and old time employe of the Texas and Pacific railroad here and has won the confidence and esteem of all who came to know him. The bride has many friends and acquaintances in this city. L. A. Dale performed the ceremony.

THE DESIGNER
 "A Magazine of Real Use to Woman"
 December Number—Out To-day 10c.
 I think the best Christmas present that a dollar will buy for the Woman in the Home is a year's subscription to The Designer. It isn't that The Designer is the only magazine that this sum will purchase but there is a cozy, homelike, and attractively practical atmosphere about The Designer which I do not think is to be found in any other publication in this country.
 The next twelve numbers will be far the best in the portrayal of fashions that we have ever issued; best in its departmental treatment; best in its artistic features. You can get a fair idea of what next year's Designer will be from the Christmas number which your newsdealer puts on sale to-day.
 The winter fashions are temptingly shown and are appropriately augmented by several pages of charming party costumes for ladies, misses and little girls. Pages of things to give at Christmas and how to make them. Bright Christmas stories; a holiday play for amateur production, and an illustrated article on "Making Up for Private Theatricals" besides the first paper of a notable series "In the Interest of Beauty" under the title of "The Lady and the Lunch" which takes up a subject too often treated with carelessness. The departments edited by our readers are of more than usual interest.

A CABOOSE IS A RESIDENCE IF MADE SO
 Courts Hold That if a Man Lives in a Railroad Car He Is Entitled to Vote as a Resident

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—One of the oldest cases ever before the election board was that of James Gillespie, who had registered from a railroad car situated on a side track, and the board of revision struck his name from the pollbook on the ground that a car can not be a permanent residence under the law. Attorney Wheelock's opinion was that Gillespie was properly registered, and the railroad man appealed the case to the county court.
 When Judge Carter took the matter up Gillespie explained that he was working on the tracks and boarded at the cabooses which had been switched near the scene of operations. The examination showed that the side track on which the car stands was cut off from the main line, so at present it is impossible to move the car.
 Judge Carter held that under the circumstances the car was "a permanent residence," and Gillespie's name was restored to the voting list.

NORTH FORT WORTH ROSEN HEIGHTS STOCK YARDS

Nash Furniture Company.
With the arrival of heavy timbers work will commence actively today on the erection of the first combination grain elevator and chopper mill in this section, the new enterprise having as its backers two prominent capitalists and business men of Sanger.

The elevator and chopper is being erected on Twenty-first street in North Fort Worth, on the cotton belt siding, and will cover a ground space of thirty-two feet square, with a height of eighty-seven feet. In addition to this main structure separate buildings will be provided for the boiler rooms and warehouse purposes. The plant is being erected by the Abbott Machine Company of this city, the members of which were largely instrumental in securing the industry for this place. Quite a large number of men will be employed in the chopper mill, adding to the population of North Fort Worth.

Charles Henderson and E. M. Rogers, both of Sanger, are the backers of the enterprise.

VOTING PLACE CHANGED
The polling place in North Fort Worth was changed yesterday from the school house to the city hall, and the voters are accordingly depositing their ballots today at the latter place.

The change was made with the permission of the county committee to avoid interference with the holding of the school sessions, which have already been delayed this year through the burning of the school building.

By reason of the change it is not likely the council meeting will be held tonight, the counting of ballots probably lasting until a late hour, and causing the council chamber to be in use. No matters of pressing importance are to come before the body, with the exception of payments for city officers and it is therefore likely the aldermen will join the crowd at The Telegram office and watch the election returns tonight.

MARION SANSON'S RESIDENCE
A handsome $10,000 residence is being erected by Marion Sanson about one mile north of the Rosen Heights car line, which will be one of the most beautiful and commodious residences north of the Trinity river. The home is rapidly nearing completion, although it is not yet known just when it will be ready for occupancy. The home is being built by Ben Godwin, who built the stock yards.

ROSEN HEIGHTS FIRE
A destructive fire, supposed to have been of incendiary origin, gutted Haddaway's drug store and the adjoining grocery store on Rosen Heights Sunday night. The blaze appeared to have originated on the outside of the drug store, and the city officials are making a thorough investigation of the arson rumor.

The losses will amount to several thousand dollars, partially covered by insurance.

AL. FIELD WILL NOT MANAGE THE CIRCUS

G. H. Atkinson, formerly dramatic critic of the Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch, but now press agent for the Al. G. Field Greater Midwest circus, was in this city today in the interest of his show.

"Is there anything in the rumor that Mr. Field will own and manage the Forepaugh circus?" was asked of this gentleman.

"No, I believe not. The Forepaugh-Sells circus will be owned and operated by a Columbus, Ohio, stock company next season. Mr. Field will own some stock in the amusement enterprise, but he will have no active interest in it. He will give his individual attention to his minstrels in the future as in the past."

Winter fashions as set forth in the Designer for December are stylish and essentially practical, and are suggested by three pages of charming party costumes which will prove acceptable at this season when dainty raiment is in active demand.

"Points on Dressmaking," a valuable department of the magazine, gives explicit directions for making fur, velvets and muffs of new design, and its sister department, "Lessons in Millinery," tells how to make an exquisite evening hat. The Designer caters to the woman who sews, and in addition to the above features contains this month two valuable gifts in which dainty needlework is a necessary factor. In the literary portion of the magazine is a holiday play for amateur production entitled "The Snow Man," "A Christmas Party," an exquisite poem, "At Bethlehem," and two short stories, "A Christmas Romance" and "How Dorothy Found Santa Claus."

"Making Up for Private Theatricals" is an article which will be highly appreciated by amateur actors, who seldom pay sufficient attention to this very important part of the stage business, while "The Lady and the Lunch," the first installment of the valuable series, "In the Interest of Beauty," discourses on a subject too often treated with carelessness. "A Christmas Alphabet Supper" is an original idea for entertainment, and droll and pretty schemes for the presentation of gifts and decoration of the Yule tree are supplied in generous quantity. In fact, the December Designer is just what a magazine should be at this season: brimful of good will to all men, with a strong leaning toward the woman contingent.

THE CHRISTMAS DELINEATOR
The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed in every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way that makes their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of love songs from the Wagner operas, rendered into English by Richard de Gallienne and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the Composers' Series, relating the Romance

BEST LINIMENT ON EARTH
Henry D. Baldwin, superintendent city water works, Shullsburg, Wis., writes: "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by H. T. Pangburn & Co.

of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life in an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of F. Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum and Grace MacGowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needlework and the Cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to woman's interests within and without the home.

Twenty-three new members were added to the Texas State Humane Society last night at the meeting held in the mayor's office in the city hall.

A report made of the work already carried on showed the report of 16 cases of cruelty, the investigation of 8 and the presentation of one to the grand jury.

To further the work begun, it was decided to have special officers appointed and W. R. Booth was appointed to appear at the next session of the city council and request the appointment of Dr. Neal and Dr. F. R. Greer as such officers without pay.

Requests were received from Cleburne and Royce City for aid in organizing at those points and Dr. Neal was requested to visit both cities.

Here is one case of it:
J. B. Peightal, passenger brakeman on the Houston and Texas Central Railroad, living in the Register block at Fifth and Rusk streets, well known on the run between Fort Worth and Ennis, says: "About a year ago I gave out for physician a testimonial about the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, which have completely cured me of an annoying pain in my back, which I have every reason to believe was caused by a weakness of the kidneys, due to the constant jarring and jolting of the railroad cars on which I spent a great part of my time. I can add nothing to my original statement except this: No words which I could compose would be strong enough in their favor. Since making that statement I have suffered with a slight attack of recurrence. I resorted to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and they warded off the trouble even more quickly and effectually than they did when I first began using them. And I have had no trouble since. My advice to every kidney sufferer in Fort Worth is to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Weaver's drug store and give them a fair and honest trial. I know that they will be delighted with the results."

Mrs. Anderson, a prominent society woman of Jacksonville, Fla., daughter of Recorder of Deeds, West, who witnessed her signature to the following letter, praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—There are but few wives and mothers who have not at times endured agonies and such pain as only women know. I wish such women knew the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a remarkable medicine, different in action from any I ever knew and thoroughly reliable.

"I have seen cases where women doctored for years without permanent benefit, who were cured in less than three months after taking your Vegetable Compound, while others who were chronic and incurable came out cured, happy, and in perfect health after a thorough treatment with this medicine. I have never used it myself without gaining great benefit. A few doses restores my strength and appetite, and tones up the entire system. Your medicine has been tried and found true, hence I fully endorse it."—MRS. R. A. ANDERSON, 225 Washington St., Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Reed, 2425 E. Cumberland St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you the good I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I have been a great sufferer with female trouble, trying different doctors and medicines with no benefit. Two years ago I went under an operation, and it left me in a very weak condition. I had stomach trouble, backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, and was very nervous; in fact, I ached all over. I find yours is the only medicine that reaches such troubles, and would cheerfully recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove, beyond a question, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble at once by removing the cause and restoring the organs to a healthy and normal condition. If in doubt, write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., as thousands do. Her advice is free and helpful.

No other medicine for women in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any substitute.

Polls Open This Morning and Voting Is Quiet in This City, Very Little Interest Being Shown—List of Booths

THE BULLETINS TONIGHT

Telegram Will Show the Result on the Voting in All States on a Big Canvas—Moving Pictures Between Bulletins—The Public Invited

Eight and Throckmorton streets will tonight be the center of population for North Texas. Standing room only and not too much of that will be the order of the night, for at that point the most complete election returns ever received in Texas will be bulletined for the benefit of the public from the moment of the first returns from the east, where the polls are held in advance of those here, until the last doubt as to the result of the election has passed.

A special wire direct to eastern points and Indiana, with branches also to all pivotal points, will receive the returns inside The Telegram building by means of a large stereoscopic apparatus. This service has been secured with great exertion and at a large cost, but The Telegram is determined that in this matter all other things it shall give the public the first and most complete reports.

An additional attractive feature to the election returns tonight is the securing of the splendid moving picture material of the Louisiana Cane Products Company of Plaquemine, La., owners of the celebrated pure Delta Cane Syrup. Between returns those who visit The Telegram building will be entertained by their pictures.

Around the corner on Throckmorton street, the Southwestern Telephone Company will also bulletin their wire service as rapidly as received, so that those taking up their positions at Eighth and Throckmorton will have the opportunity of witnessing the two most complete election reports ever shown in the state of Texas.

Throughout the city the vote is being called in a quiet and orderly fashion, the strict rules of the Terrell law being rigidly enforced by the election officers.

Although the vote will not be a very heavy one, in many wards the officers are anxious to see the interest, however, centering on the vote cast, and the number of such votes that will be received by the justices of the peace candidates and constable candidate on the republican ticket.
