FORT WORTH, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1904

VOL. XXI, NO. 129

KAT FLER WRECKED TODAY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—The northbound Missouri, Kansas and Texas flyer from Texas and Oklahoma was wrecked near Parsons this morning. One person was killed and ten injured, two seriously.

The dead: JOHN FARRELL, fireman, of Parsons, Kan.

The injured: N. W. Wilson, colored, porter, Hillsboro, Texas; probably fatally. L. D. Montgomery, Dallas, Texas, internal, serious.

Among the other hurt are Chester Gonter, Bryan, Texas; A. F. Slightman, St. Louis; George Miltmore, Illinois; J. E. W. Fogel, Quincy, Ill.; A. W. Edmondson, Bryan, Texas; G. S. Seymour, Hillsboro, Ill.

The train was running forty miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The tender jumped the track, carrying the engine, baggage car, combination baggage and mail car, combination smoker and coach and two regular coaches. All the coaches remained upright. The engine was in the position of the wreck, which was badly damaged. Five remaining cars kept the track and the passengers in them escaped with bruises and a severe shaking up.

ST. LOUIS MO., Nov. 11.—At Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway headquarters it is stated the wreck at South Mound, Kan., occurred to passenger train No. 5, southbound for Texas and Oklahoma points, and not to No. 110, northbound.

LESLIE FEARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Nelson A. Miles, Lieutenant General, U. S. A., retired, says today:

"So long as heroic deeds and great sacrifice, indomitable courage, fortitude and tenacity are honored and revered, recorded in story and song and written upon the enduring pages of history, the courage and will the scenes that have been enacted at Port Arthur be mentioned as one of the events in military history.

"It will take its place among the annals of war, either mythical or historical, which give an account of the courage and bitter sieges of Troy, Babylon, Carthage, Jerusalem, Constantinople, Sevastopol, Plevna, Vicksburg, Richmond, Metz, Paris and in some respects far surpasses in tenacity of endurance that of any that has preceded it, for never has a garrison been under such a prolonged fire of the most destructive engines of war from land batteries and battleships.

"It has been attacked by a most powerful army, skillfully handled. The attacking force has manifested all the courage and discipline and loyalty to the oldest dynasty of the world has only been equaled by their blind fanaticism.

"On the other hand, the fortitude of the Russian garrison will ever be one of the glories of that race and nation.

"Much depends upon the skill and character of the commander. Stoessel appears to be the man most suited to the hour. He has written his name high upon the scroll of fame. He has inspired his command with his own undaunted spirit.

"How much longer it can endure, it is impossible to anticipate. Summoned many times to surrender, an equal number of times it has defied the elements of death.

"There must, however, be an end to its endurance. If that garrison shall be massacred at the close of that long and desperate struggle, as there is a chance that it may, it will be a blot upon the record of their conquerors. How long it will take Russia to retake Port Arthur is a still more serious problem.

"The general results of the campaign thus far have given the advantage of position to the Japanese. They have gained a certain amount of territory at a fearful cost, but will have gained no great strategic advantage until they succeed in taking Port Arthur.

"Marshal Oyama impresses me as a man very much after the Von Moltke type. He has conducted a most skillful offensive campaign, yet up to the present time there is no Metz or Sedan in the record of his achievements.

"Kuropatkin has skillfully withdrawn his army from one position to another until he is now able to hold the Japanese armies at bay in the snows of Siberia.

"Still the Japanese have the advantage of being able to rapidly reinforce their depleted ranks. They have a short line of communication; their physical strength is over 8,000,000 men capable of bearing arms.

"They certainly ought to have 600,000 men in the field at the present time and by June next can have at least a million of men, and then not have as large a force in proportion to their population as we put into the field during our civil war.

"On the other hand there is no reason why Russia should not put a force of equal or superior strength in the field. Of course it is expensive and it might seem difficult, yet 90 per cent of the railroads in this country are only single track.

"The two armies are the largest that have been in the snows since Moscow, and if it continues six months longer, the Beri-Beri and pneumonia may prove as destructive as hostile bullets.

"A peace that would be just, humane and satisfactory to the world and ought to be beneficial to the two countries, is perfectly practicable, but not immediately probable. Like all wars, it must continue until the resources of both nations are exhausted.

"The expenditures already involved will impoverish the two countries for the next fifty years. Like other wars, it must continue in the sacrifice of the young men of the two nations, and after that, will follow negotiations, conciliatory overtures and peaceful arbitrations, and the dark curtain will fall at the close of the drama of death."

RUSSIA'S JUDICIAL ADVISER
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—Baron Taudé, who is connected with the foreign office, has been designated as Russian judicial adviser to the international commission which will inquire into the North Sea incident.

MUKDEN, Nov. 11.—There was a heavy exchange of artillery fire yesterday at the Russian right center. The Russian batteries began shelling the Japanese trenches and the Japanese batteries responded. During last night Russian volunteers dislodged a detachment of Japanese infantry from the trenches in front of Lone Tree Hill. The Japanese continue to show activity on the left flank, without, however, making any important movement. Comfortable dugouts are being built along the Russian lines and the soldiers seem to think they will winter where they are. The idea Field Marshal Oyama contemplates an attempt to take Mukden is not generally entertained.

HEROIC NURSES OF
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—The bravery of the Russian Red Cross nurses is vividly illustrated by the following letter from a soldier:

"While the fight (Taschichno) was going on, our wounded were being carried off to the field hospital. Three women went right into the firing line, and I can tell you, compared with our men, who were frightened at the first fight, they seemed like angels who feared nothing. When I got hit, I lay on my back, thinking every minute, 'Now I'm dead.' A beautiful lady came up and gave me water, saying, 'Bledni' (poor fellow). A shell burst not ten yards off, and a piece went through her skirt, but she seemed no more frightened than if it was a stone.

"One woman stood quite close to the trench while the Japs were tearing on at us, but she stood there, though I can tell you bullets were flying, until the Japs drew off, and then came into the trench and helped the poor men. One man groaned and cried, and seeing he was only a boy, she said, 'Now don't cry, and you will have a kiss.'"

STRAUSS SAYS ENGLAND
WILL INTERFERE
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The former minister to Turkey, Oscar S. Strauss, a member of The Hague tribunal, expresses the belief that a sudden termination of hostilities in the Far East is possible in the near future. "I have long had the impression," he said, "that we will wake up some morning and find that through the good offices of Great Britain, with the tacit consent of the signatory powers to the treaty of Berlin, an arrangement has been agreed upon by which the near eastern and far eastern questions have been settled by one stroke. That is to say, Russia will have come to an agreement with Great Britain, and secondarily with the signatory powers, for having free access to the sea through the Dardanelles in return for a Japanese agreement adjusting the Afghan boundary and Great Britain's domination of the Persian Gulf will be granted, and that in the Far East Japan's sphere of influence will be recognized in Korea, while Manchuria, with certain rights to Japan secured, will remain to China. This done the peace of the world will be insured certainly for our generation, and by the end of that time the nations will have become so accustomed to availing themselves of The Hague tribunal that wars will be largely eliminated."

NOT CONCERNED WITH THE TALK OF PEACE
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—It is considered the Russian newspapers will ignore Lord Lansdowne's suggestion regarding the Russo-Japanese arbitration. They appear to be more concerned with utterances on the subject of the punishment of Russian naval officers concerned in the North Sea incident, which they regard as premature, declaring it will be time enough to talk of punishment when the commission establishes their culpability.

BARON HAYASHI SAYS
AFTER FORTRESS FALLS
LONDON, Nov. 11.—A dispatch to the Associated Press from Washington confirms the statement made there in the dispatches that Japan indicated a willingness to entertain peace suggestions from President Roosevelt or King Edward, increased much interest here. Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister, said today: "After the fall of Port Arthur the Japanese would, I believe, be ready to treat for peace, on no higher essential basis than Russia evacuate Manchuria. Japan also agreeing to a similar evacuation. Two great difficulties in the way of any suggestion of peace are, first, the apparent opposition of Emperor Nicholas and his present advisers to the establishment of a Russian kind; second, the preservation of Russian prestige. When a nation's prestige is not gone, is severely impaired, it is a difficult matter even with best intentions to preserve it."

The Associated Press learns Queen Alexandra has been in constant communication with the dowager empress of Russia and Emperor Nicholas himself during the last few days. This is interpreted here as a hopeful sign and possibly will lead, though not in the immediate future, to the establishment of some modus vivendi whereby steps looking to arbitration might be initiated without offense to Russia. The reiteration of the American state department's determination not to intervene except on request from both belligerents tallies with the official attitude of the British government, but it is thought before long some method may privately be devised whereby this diplomatic barrier may be overcome. Baron Hayashi this morning had no news from Port Arthur and discredited rumors of its capitulation.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 11.—The American legation here addressed a note to the porte, demanding reparation for the recent attack near Aleppo by brigands upon a caravan belonging to the American house of MacAndrews & Forbes of Smyrna. The raid resulted in the killing of six caravans of camels and carrying off by hand of sixty camels and a considerable sum of money. The legation insists upon the arrest and punishment of the brigands, and the adoption of efficacious measures for the prevention of a recurrence of the outrage.

NO PROGRESS IN RELIGION IS A STATEMENT

On Manhattan Island It Is Said There Has Been a Failure to Go Forward and the Baptists Very Slow

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Pessimism as to religious progress on Manhattan Island has been expressed by several speakers at the twelfth annual meeting of the New York City Baptist Missionary society. Baptist conditions in New York were declared to be much worse than those of any other Protestant body. It was asserted that there exists in the body little interest, little denominational pride and little growth.

One of the speakers declared that there exists a spirit of irreligion, indifference to holy things, the putting of the material above the spiritual, and vulgar, ostentatious display of wealth which can well cause us to tremble.

The report of the treasurer showed a deficit of nearly $1,000, though the society was shown to have had a yearly income of more than $95,000.

REIGN OF TERROR AND TOWN IS CAPTURED

Bad Men in Fayette County,
West Virginia, Organize an Armed Band and Fight the Citizens and Officers

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 11.—As a result of the killing of Constable Walter Jackson in Montgomery by Policeman Elliott Wednesday and the subsequent capture of the town by four brothers, Jackson at the head of about forty of their friends, a reign of terror exists.

The mayor being helpless, appealed to Sheriff Daniels yesterday. When Sheriff Daniels and John Rolfe were killed by Ed Jackson yesterday, the saloons were at once closed and Governor White was asked to send troops. The governor replied he would hold troops in readiness but advised forming a large posse. If the posse met with serious resistance troops will be sent to their relief. The Jacksons and followers escaped to the mountain strongholds with which they are familiar. Ernest and Bob Jackson were arrested and brought to this city by a deputy sheriff and others. They are jailed here. A posse headed by Marshal Harrison B. Ash of Thurmond, is scouring the mountains near Montgomery. Two bloodhounds arrived from Dayton, Ohio. They were placed on the trail today. Officials in Montgomery fear further trouble, as the sentiment against the slayer of Daniels is very strong. Before the murder of Daniels sentiment was with the Jacksons against Policeman Elliott. The latter is in custody of Chief Hundley, who came here. They stopped at the Ruffner hotel, a relative of Jackson appeared at the hotel and attempted to reach the room of the policeman. He was prevented by attacks.

Thurmond is up the Kanawha river, east of Charleston, and is reached by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. It is a small mountain town, surrounded by the rough variety. Murderers getting into the mountains could prevent capture for days, and if they have friends who are looking out for them starvation could be kept off by secretly providing food.

Reports from the posse are that Ed Jackson was chased into a cave last night, when it was decided to wait for daylight for the capture. Although the place was surrounded during the night, it was not captured and is reported at large at noon today, when the posse had increased to 350. Meantime the friends of Jackson are reported to be openly organizing around Montgomery, swearing vengeance if Jackson is lynched or killed without being given a trial.

Excitement for miles around Montgomery is intense because trouble is expected after the capture of Jackson. Deputy Sheriffs are being sworn in from adjacent counties, and rapidly and hastened to prevent lynching or any violence if Jackson is taken alive and also to prevent any attempt of Jackson's friends to rescue the prisoner. Those who terrorized the hamlet of Montgomery yesterday with Jackson's brothers are being feared again today, while many citizens are away with the posse. A reward of $10,000 is being offered for Jackson, dead or alive.

JEWES IN RUSSIA ARE WELL PLEASED

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—Russian Jews are greatly pleased with the receipt of Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky to the deputation of their coreligionists on which occasion it was announced the ideal at which he is aiming is the equality of all elements of the population of the empire. Evidences also exist tending to show the purpose of the reverse of the Van Plevne policy regarding the Armenian church property and management of Armenian schools, which will again become independent, and it is believed this will be followed by a restoration of the church funds.

TO GIVE HOME FOR INDIGNANT TEACHERS

Senator Redfield Proctor Offers to Supplement the Fund
Which Was Created by Miss
Ruggles

RUTLAND, Vt., Nov. 11.—Senator Redfield Proctor has announced that he will give $10,000 in cash and the house in this city in which he was born, valued at $10,000, for the establishment of a home for indigent and worthy public school teachers who have passed the age of usefulness.

It is probable that this sum will be combined with a fund of $30,000 which was left by Lucy Ruggles of Bennington in the care of Charles H. Darling, assistant secretary of the navy, for the same purpose and that an additional amount will be appropriated by the state.

WITH SAVAGES SHE WILL GO ON JOURNEY

American Girl to Marry Governor of the Igorrote Village and Go to Live Among the Head Hunters

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—The strangest bridal tour any bride ever had will be that of Miss Salie Gallagher, of Louisville, Ky., who is to be married to Dr. T. K. Hunt, governor of the Igorrote Village at the World's Fair, before the close of the exposition. It will be a journey of over 10,000 miles over land and sea, with 75 savages as traveling companions, and the destination will be the haunts of the head-hunting Igorotes in the mountains of Luzon, where the feet of a white woman have not hitherto trod.

The wedding journey will be in keeping with the courtship and its setting. It has taken place amid the make-believe scenes of the mimic Luzon at the fair, and both the courtship and the representation of eastern life have been the fit settings to the realities that are to follow.

Miss Gallagher has been acting as Dr. Hunt's stenographer for several months. He got a divorce from his former wife after the exposition opened.

MILLION DOLLAR ART COLLECTION FOR SALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—One of the largest art sales in recent years will be held in this city late in January or early in February, when the Waggaman collection will be auctioned off. The sale has been ordered by the trustees in bankruptcy, who are in possession of the property which is part of the estate of Thomas E. Waggaman of Washington until recently a trustee of the Catholic University at Washington.

There are more than 3,000 articles in the collection, including some hundreds of paintings and specimens of ceramic art from modern to early times. It cost Mr. Waggaman about $500,000, and required thirty years to make the collection, which is now valued at $1,000,000.

TWO THOUSAND FOR DRINKS IN TWO WEEKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Lying at the Central Emergency Hospital with his life slowly ebbing away, is Sherman Harris, a recent arrival in this city. Although claiming to be a man of wealth, Harris was brought from a second class lodging house on Third street last night, supposedly suffering from an overdose of opium, but the doctors say that he is not dying from the drug.

Last night Harris stated that since he had come to San Francisco, two weeks ago, he had spent $2,000 in drink, and alcoholism, the physicians say, will cause the man's death. Immediately after being treated at the Emergency Harris became unconscious, so that it was impossible to learn anything more of his past life.

He is a well preserved man of 35 and appears to be a man of means. The surgeons are of the opinion that he has not long been a victim of the opium habit, as he has much superfluous flesh and has none of the symptoms of the habitual user of drugs.

WOMAN GOES FIFTEEN HUNDRED MILES TO VOTE

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Nov. 10.—Few women in this country have manifested sufficient interest in exercising their right of franchise to go 1,500 miles to vote, but such a distinction is enjoyed by Mrs. Catherine Porter of this city, who started last week for her home in Wyoming to cast her ballot for President Roosevelt.

Mrs. Porter is employed in the Indian agency here. She believes in republican principles and thinks that it is as much the duty of a woman to vote when given the privilege as it is of a man.

TOM TAGGART

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Thomas Taggart, chairman of the democratic national committee, has no intention of resigning his post, according to a statement today. Mr. Taggart said today that he has no intention of resigning his post, according to a statement today. Mr. Taggart said today that he has no intention of resigning his post, according to a statement today.

DEMOCRATS CONCEDE IT PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 11.—

The democrats have conceded everything to the republicans in West Virginia, including five congressmen and the legislature. The only dispute is on the size of the majority of Dawson for governor. The republicans claim it will be 10,000. The democrats say 5,000.

ADAMS DEFEATS PEABODY
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 11.—The News, democratic, today says: While the returns of the vote for state officers apart from governor are far from complete, the News has compiled tables that seem to show the election of the entire republican state ticket, except Peabody, and of the republican congressmen. A considerable number of counties are estimated on the best possible advice, and there is a chance that Mrs. Grenfell, democratic candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, may pull through on the seventh vote in her favor.

The state senate is democratic by a good majority, but the complexion of the house is in doubt.

"The plurality of Adams over Peabody for governor amounts to 3,646.

CONGRATULATES ROOSEVELT

VIENNA, Nov. 11.—Emperor Francis Joseph has telegraphed President Roosevelt his congratulations on the latter's electoral victory.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN

DENVER, Nov. 11.—The democrats now concede the election of three republican congressmen in Colorado. The revised returns give Franklin E. Proctor (Rep.) a majority of 2,976 over John F. Shroth, 2,785 plurality for R. W. Benyone (Rep.) in the first district and 6,026 plurality for H. M. Hogg (Rep.) in the second district.

THE OFFICIAL COUNT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—Official counting of ballots in Baltimore and counties of Maryland were resumed today and will continue uninterruptedly until finished. It will be tomorrow or Monday before the count of this city is completed. In twenty-three counties of the state about one-third has been counted and it will probably be late tomorrow or Monday before all of them are heard from. So far the Roosevelt plurality keeps about 100 ahead with indications that ex-Governor Frank Brown (Dem.) has been chosen elector with seven republican electors. Should the final figures show a plurality for Parker it is almost certain that Chas. J. Bonaparte (Rep.) will be one of the electors with seven democrats. Congressman Jackson, who on the face of the returns in the first congressional district was defeated by Thomas A. Smith, (Dem.), announced that he will contest the seat on the ground of fraud.

When Jim Jeffries, the pugilist, visited the dismantled cruiser Lena at Marj Island on October 6 the Russians gave him an ovation, and he was toasted in the wardrobe. The captain and all the officers embraced him at parting.

A BIG FIRE IN DALLAS TODAY

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 11.—Fire destroyed the three-story building of W. A. Green & Co., dry goods, at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The stock is valued at $35,000, with at least two-thirds of loss covered by $37,000 insurance. The blaze originated on the third floor and the building was in flames in a short time. A general alarm was turned in and the firemen succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading in that congested business district. The building was valued at $12,000, with $9,000 insurance.

SIDLIGHTS ON LIFE OF RUSSIAN SOLDIER

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 11.—Although the vast majority of Russians are totally illiterate, those who can write often show considerable skill in describing incidents of camp life in battle. The following are good specimens of letters from the front:

"The Japs," writes Private Lubimof, "are cunning and shift well, but are more hideous than the Frans. In fact, they look like German dwarfs, stained yellow. They have no beards, and grow moustaches like horsehair, which my fingers itched to pull out. However, as the first Jap I came near to wanted to shoot me, I pulled out his life instead."

"We march all day and fight all night, for the moment it gets dark the Japs are on us," writes Corporal Engelhardt, referring to the retreat near Wafangtien. "Hundreds of our men are cut up by a Jap's night when we were all asleep, there was a roar, and a whole crowd of yelling 'dikari' (savages) rushed among us. We had no time to fall into line, and it was a matter of each man for himself."

"I was before one rushed at me with his bayonet, but luckily he tripped over Davuloff, who was lying dead, and sprawled into my arms. Not having my bayonet, I stuck a knife into his throat. Now there isn't a Jap left here. I rushed out, and shot, shot, shot, at all Japs quite close. They killed thirty of our men and wounded many more before making off. We killed seventeen, so got the worst of the next time."

Some soldiers become enthusiastic over the joys of home life. According to Cossack Dementieff, "All of us wish this war were over. Then we could get back to our good meals, tobacco and wives. Ah, how I miss them! Now there isn't a single cigarette in the battalion."

Apparently cigarettes are the great necessity of the Russian Tommy, for the following relate:

"At Taschichao, Piotr got a whole caseful of cigarettes from the body of a dead Jap. One of our men said, 'Don't smoke them, that's not a Christian act. The Jap's dead, and you can't smoke dead men's cigarettes.' This argument got hold of Piotr, so he burned the cigarettes to the man's said piously, then he buried them. You may imagine the funeral we had! Even the skeleton wasn't left. The man who tricked poor Piotr smoked five on end, and gave me two."

MUNICIPAL MUSEUM TO BE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A municipal museum, said to be the first of the kind in America, is planned for Chicago by a new organization, of which Prof. George E. Vincent of the university of Chicago is president.

It is intended to start the collection with some of the exhibits at the St. Louis exposition, and to purchase the progressive administration of great cities. It is expected that much of the material will be donated, but the most valuable exhibits, including models from Germany, illustrative of sanitation and pure works, architectural and city buildings in general, will have to be purchased. A representative is now at the exposition seeking material.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE STATE SUPREME COURT

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 11.—The following proceedings were had in the supreme court today:

Applications granted: S. D. Rainey vs. Red River, Texas and Southern Railway Company et al., from Tarrant county.

THIEVES LOCKED IN BOX CAR BY CONDUCTOR

He Discovered Them Committing a Robbery and Kept Them Safe Until Officers Could Be Had

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 11.—Two box car thieves who are believed to belong to a gang of organized rogues who have been robbing the box cars of the Kansas City Southern, were arrested by Officer Ben Gilliland, after having been nailed up in a car they were trying to rob, and brought to this city.

It has been the custom of box car thieves to rob a train while it is in motion, as detection is then less liable, and the scheme is worked by stationing one or two men about two miles from a picked station while the others enter a car of a train that is headed that way.

The two robbers who tried this trick on Conductor Williams of train No. 30, got badly left. The conductor saw them when they got on a flat car of his train at Pickering and ordered them off. They complied and no more was thought of the affair until the train was within a few miles of this city.

He called a brakeman and with his aid nailed up the car. The men became furious at this and swore they would get out, but when the train pulled into the yard they were prisoners and Officer Gilliland got them out through the roof of the car.

"DUG OUT PETE" IS A RIVAL OF DR. DOWIE

He Says All Men Are Liars And He Wants to Persuade the People of the World to Be Truthful

COLFAX, Wash., Nov. 11.—Dowie and others of the newer brand of prophets have a rival in the person of "Dug-Out Pete," herald of the millennium and apostle of the truth, whose real name is Henry Blot and claims Roslyn, Wash., as his home.

"Dug-Out" was in this section lately and dug into the people with a lengthy tale of his search for truth and the final discovery of the source of this much abused and little used article. Like a true prophet he began his researches early—twenty long years ago—and, according to his story, he is now 26.

"Dug-Out" theory is that all men are liars, that each man knows that the other is a liar, that every man when he lies is perfectly aware of the fact that he lies, and that an understanding of these conditions will result in the abolishment of lies, and from then on truth will reign universal and the millennium will come.

"Dug-Out" said he would go from here to Roslyn, where more credence will be given his words than was given here. At Roslyn he will also do a few stunts such as curing the insane, giving a child the understanding of a man and so on.

BOARD OF TRADE DIRECTORS TO MEET TODAY

Officers Are to Be Selected and in December There Will Be a Meeting for Discussion of Work for Coming Year

The recently elected directors of the Fort Worth Board of Trade will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the rooms of the board for the selection of officers for the ensuing year. It is expected that the attendance will be quite large and that there will be no change in the present officials is certain.

Jacob Washer has filled the position of president acceptably to the members of the board. Captain E. B. Faddock made a secretary that it would be hard to beat. That both deserve a re-election is conceded by those well posted on the situation.

Other matters besides the election of officers will come up today for consideration, but on December 6 the board will discuss matters that are of vital interest to every citizen of Fort Worth—matters having reference to street improvements.

It is the desire of the board to accomplish much more for the good of the city during the coming year than has been done in the year just closed, which has been very satisfactory so far as the work of the board goes.

Every up to date city maintains a board of trade through which improvements are made that cannot be accomplished through any other source. Special efforts are to be directed to the establishment during the next twelve months of small manufacturing plants, says the secretary, and to this end efforts are to be directed.

Already several small companies have been persuaded to come here and it is believed that if extraordinary efforts are made quite a showing can be made in this direction before the close of the year 1905.

HILL STREET BRIDGE

The people of Fort Worth should be proud of the efforts of the city officials, and especially those of City Engineer Hawley, because of the result in the Hill street bridge matter. It appears that soon after the accident the railroads were disposed to replace the bridge with a wooden structure, but the officials held them off and a plan which originated with City Engineer Hawley has at last been accepted by the interested parties and a concrete structure will be put up. It will provide a safe, convenient and lasting thoroughfare in that section of the city.

FOR LEGISLATIVE PURPOSES

The Telegram was the first paper in Texas to publish information from Austin to the effect that both Governor Hogg and Governor Sayers had applied to the state railroad commission for information bearing on railway consolidation measures and in the last issue of the Austin Statesman we find the following corroborative testimony:

The railroad commission has received letter from both ex-Governor J. S. Hogg and J. D. Sayers recently which are presumed to present some features of the consolidation of Texas railroads. The commission is disposed to attach considerable importance to these communications on account of the prominence of the authors. Governor Hogg was attorney general of the state for four years and governor for four, and Governor Sayers represented this district in congress for a number of sessions and was governor for two years.

It is understood that the letter of Governor Sayers is more in the nature of an inquiry than otherwise, while Governor Hogg's professedly seeks information and makes some charges at the same time. His letter is supposed to be in line substantially with the several railroad consolidation speeches he has made during the present campaign in the state.

The commission has given no intimation of how it will reply to the communications of these two eminent Texans, but it has been learned the matter has been considered, the reply formulated in a general way and the details committed to Commissioner Colquitt, who is preparing it with his usual painstaking and care. The general election will be held in Texas next Tuesday and this correspondence can not therefore be used for or against any candidate for election on that day, so it is assumed that the facts and figures brought to light in the letters of Governors Hogg and Sayers and the reply of the commission will be held in reserve to be used during the Twenty-ninth legislature should a proposition to consolidate any more Texas lines come before that body.

Governor Sayers is doubtless preparing to defend some of the consolidation measures passed during his incumbency of the gubernatorial chair, while Governor Hogg is doubtless preparing to back up his claims of an increase in the bonded indebtedness of various lines, which have been questioned quite often since the claim was first launched by the gentleman. If such is the case, it will be very gratifying to the people generally, who are very anxious for such additional information as will serve to demonstrate the truth of the claim. The belief has been general that Governor Hogg must have something tangible upon which to base his claim of increase and if he is able to dig up the required evidence it will be a source of profound satisfaction to his friends.

The probabilities are that the governor intends to be among the number who visit Austin during the coming session of the state legislature to look after such little matters of railway consolidation as may be upon the tapis. He believes that there is evidence to be obtained that will back him up in his public utterances concerning the effects of consolidation, and when he goes to Austin as the champion of anti-consolidation he will be prepared to demonstrate the truth of his contentions. Just what light the railway commission can throw on the situation that has not already been made public is not clear. If any consolidations have been effected which involved any increase actually in the bonded indebtedness of the two merged lines, such facts should already have been made public.

While there may be something tangible upon which Governor Hogg has based his assertions, there are many who believe he will be utterly unable to demonstrate it. It is believed that while in some instances the effect may have been somewhat in the nature of an increase, insofar as the making of freight rates are concerned, yet in a literal sense there has been nothing of the kind. In a recent conversation with one of Governor Hogg's own friends, The Telegram was assured the governor would not be able to substantiate his claims. That his allegations were denied in toto by the railway commission, and he would be utterly unable to obtain anything from that source that would establish the fact that there had been any real increase in bonded indebtedness as a result of consolidation.

The state legislature will meet in January, when several measures of this kind will unquestionably come up for consideration. It is probable that every phase of the situation will be thoroughly threshed over at that time, and if there is any kind or many kinds of a bug under the chip, the insect will be brought out into plain view. Governor Hogg is getting ready to back up his claims, and Governor Sayers is preparing to protect himself from any bricks that may be thrown in his direction. The prospect for a good old lively scrap when the lawmakers get together next is becoming quite promising.

EXTRADITION TREATIES

Much adverse criticism is being expressed in Texas and other states of the union to the present extradition treaty between the United States and Mexico, and the belief is that if it is not amended so as to mean something to this country it should be abolished altogether, for as it is at this time it is little better than nothing.

At the present time District Attorney Estes of West Texas is preparing a record of seven different cases in which extradition has been asked and in which none of the prisoners have ever been delivered to this country. These records are to be sent to the committee on foreign relations of the next congress.

It is said that in all seven cases the state authorities have positive evidence of the guilt of the parties, but it is said that the Mexican authorities have always found a loophole in the treaty to justify their refusal in turning the prisoners over to the United States authorities.

Special attention of the committee on foreign relations will be called to the Guerrero and Campos cases. These defendants are still wanted at El Paso, this state, on criminal charges. The situation of treaty relations between this country and that of the Mexican government has reached a point where it is proposed to have the federal government at Washington make an investigation.

THE CONFEDERATE HOME

There is a peculiar case reported from the Confederate Home, at Austin, which involves the dishonorable discharge of one of the old veterans from that institution for alleged insubordination and criticism of the administration. That home has been provided as a haven of refuge for the heroes who wore the gray, and who have since that time become incapacitated for work. It was provided these men not as a charity, but as their due, in token of Texas appreciation of the valor displayed on fields of battle in that long and hopeless struggle for the Lost Cause.

According to the report that comes from Austin the purposes of the home are not being followed exactly through the denial of its shelter to an old and infirm man who was childish enough to prattle some things concerning the administration that grated on the ears of the management. Is it possible that these old fellows who followed the Stars and Bars on many a glorious field, are now under the direction of one too strict in the matter of discipline? Have they given up the freedom of the world to enter upon a life that has no freedom? The fact of a man's admission into the Confederate home is ample evidence that he has earned the right to its shelter and protection, and that act of seeking to dishonorably discharge an old man for talking a little too much is a shame upon its management.

It might be all right in a case of this kind to reduce the old fellow's chewing tobacco for a day or two, but to say that the old hero with an honorable war record shall be discharged dishonorably from an institution the state has provided for him, and for which the people suffer themselves to be taxed to sustain, is too puerile to be seriously considered. The Confederate home does not belong to the administration. It is not the province of the administration to thus disgrace one of its inmates. That institution is the property of the indigent Confederate soldiers of Texas, given them as a token of appreciation by the people of Texas, who honor them for what they are. They will not submit to one of their number thus being disgraced as slave to the plumpness of honor of the administration. Not much. They will demand that justice be done their old comrades, and justice will be done him.

If there are any reasons why that Hill street bridge recently destroyed should not be replaced, ample time has certainly been afforded to file them. Fort Worth demands that the work of replacing the structure shall begin in the immediate future. There is no necessity for any further delay, and delays of this character are truly dangerous.

If Sam Rosen desires to change the route of a portion of his line through this city, and run his cars down a different street from that originally contemplated, he should be granted the desired privilege. Sam Rosen is a man who does things.

The Williams intangible asset bill will be one of the leading measures of reform in taxation matters that will be considered by the legislature at its January session. It is believed the bill will pass, but it is sure to wake up some very active opposition.

The earth is now settling itself to again bear the force of another fall of Port Arthur.

Backache Caused by Kidney Disease

Miss Estelle Blanchard, of New Orleans, Lived Years in Agony from Backache Caused by Kidney Trouble. She Says She Was Completely Cured by Warner's Safe Cure.

MISS ESTELLE BLANCHARD.

"For years I suffered from backache and piercing pains in the side, caused by kidney trouble, which threatened my life. The doctors said it was Bright's disease. My liver was also affected. Nothing seemed to reach my trouble. We had a friend who was cured of chronic kidney trouble by Warner's Safe Cure, and she persuaded me to try it. At the end of the first week I was greatly relieved, the pains in my back were not so frequent or so severe. After taking three bottles I was cured. This occurred about a year ago, and I have never had the slightest trouble since."—Estelle Blanchard, 1133 Columbus Ave., New Orleans, La., April 16, '04.

Pains in back, head and side; restlessness at night; poor digestion, female ills, etc., are never-failing signs of kidney disease. If you have any of these symptoms EXAMINE YOUR URINE.

It's an infallible test of kidney disease. If your morning urine, on standing 24 hours, contains a sediment, is cloudy, or shows floating particles, your kidneys are seriously diseased and must be treated at once. There is only one remedy that can be used with absolute safety and confidence—Warner's Safe Cure, put up for years at 1133 Columbus Ave., N. Y., by the Warner Safe Cure Co., and sold at all drug stores, 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

The south's cotton crop last year put $20 per capita in the country, more than it had ever placed here before. Now if we could devise ways and means to get all the money for the farmers, instead of the market gamblers getting a large slice of it, there would be no question about the degree of southern prosperity.—Denison Herald.

The cotton growers seem to have devised a method of cutting the speculators off from their clabber this season, and it is remarkable that the plan was not called into requisition long ago.

One of the Chicago University professors is trying to figure out that poor cooking is largely responsible for the many divorces in the country. According to the information at hand, however, it would seem as though the absence from home and said cooking is the real cause, Austin Statesman.

The way to a man's heart is said to be through the devious windings of his bread basket, but poor cooking is not a cause of the divorce habit. It is best accounted for in the haste with which young people act without stopping to figure on the consequences.

The Canadian liberals believe in government ownership of railroads—that is, the government is about to build one. Canadian conservatives are opposed to the project, but were swept off the face of the earth.—Dallas Times-Herald.

There is no doubt but that the tendency of the times is toward the government ownership of railroads and other public utilities. We may call this a populist tendency if we choose, but the railroads themselves are rapidly crystallizing this sentiment through their own actions.

Angelina and Nacogdoches counties, Texas, are producing a grade of tobacco which is pronounced by the agricultural department at Washington to be equal to the Havana product for cigar purposes. Grand Old Texas will soon be able to supply all the wants of man.—Omaha Bee.

The people of Texas are just beginning to learn what they can do along the lines of crop diversification, and they are surprised at the actual results. Texas contains many possibilities that have as yet been hardly dreamed of.

THE YELLOW HOLLY

BY FERGUS HUME, AUTHOR OF "THE MYSTERY OF A HANSON CAB," ETC. Copyright, 1903, by G. W. Dillingham Co.

SYNOPSIS. A social gathering is held in London. George Brendon attends. Mrs. Jersey, the landlady of a boarding house, is hostess. Brendon spends the night with Leonard Train, a boarder. Mrs. Jersey is killed in the night and there is mystery as to her death and cause of murder. Police are baffled. Brendon is in love with Dorothy Train. Her mother has other plans for the daughter. She tries to fasten crime on Brendon. Lord Derrington, who later proves to be Brendon's grandfather, employs Bawdsey, a detective, to shadow Brendon. Lola Velez, a Spanish dancer, whom Brendon had to fancy, loves him and wishes to marry him. He wants to marry Dorothy Train, if he can prove his birth. Lord Derrington at first hates him, but later admires him in preference to his recognized heir. The story is one of folly on the part of Derrington's son, who married below his rank. Brendon searched for records of his parents' marriage to prove his legitimacy, which he succeeds in doing later. The detective proves a friend to Brendon. He is in love with Lola, who is sent to prison for a crime. Brendon gets from her Mrs. Jersey's written confession. It solves the secret of his parentage. It tells a story of unrequited love, romance and intrigue. The solution of the murder of Mrs. Jersey is still unsolved. Many have been suspected. Brendon is given his proper place in society. Lord Derrington's chosen heir proves to be a weak, wretched man. The "Yellow Holly" seems to be the link connecting the murderer of several crimes. (Continued from Yesterday.)

As it was, she came sailing in with the prettiest air in the world and held out both hands. "My dear Lord Derrington, how well you are looking! How"—here her astonished eyes fell on George. "You!" said Mrs. Ward, agast. "Mr. Brendon, and here?"

"Not Mr. Brendon," said Derrington, enjoying her confusion, "but my grandson, George Vane."

Dorothy, who had remained below to give some instructions to the footman, entered the room just in time to hear this announcement. She flew to her lover. "My dearest George, I am glad, glad, so glad, and before them all she kissed him. Mrs. Ward screamed: "Dorothy! What manners!"

"Very good manners," said Derrington coolly, "seeing that they are natural. Well, Mrs. Ward, George, my grandson and heir," added the old man with emphasis, "has something to say to you."

"Really, I shall be most happy to hear it."

George took his cue. "I have to ask you for the hand of your daughter Dorothy," he said.

"Really," said Mrs. Ward again, "I don't know. I fancied that Walter, you see"—And she cast her eyes on the neat little man.

"Oh, I scratch," said Walter, in his elegant way. "There's no fighting against George. He has all the luck."

"You call him George?"

"Yes, shouldn't I? He's my cousin, the head of the house?"

"When I go to my long home," finished Derrington. "Well, Mrs. Ward, do you consent to the match?"

"Do, mother," said Dorothy imploringly.

stop talking here all day." She rustled over to Dorothy. "My darling, I must go and do some shopping. No; you can stay here. I will call again in an hour."

CHAPTER XXIV. It was the next day that George went to see Ireland. At the door he was informed that Ireland had been very ill with his heart and that the doctor had been called in. Nevertheless Ireland would not obey the advice of his physician and stay in bed. He was up and dressed as usual and in his study.

George entered the large room and saw his former guardian seated at his desk as usual. The man looked very ill. His large, placid face was extremely pale, there were dark circles under his eyes, and he even seemed to have grown gaunt. His clothes hung loosely on him, and he did not rise when George entered.

"Excuse me, George," he said, with an attempt at cheerfulness, "but I am not so well as I might be."

"You are looking ill—very ill," said George, taking his seat.

Ireland nodded. "I can't live long," he remarked in his heavy voice. "So the doctor informs me. My heart is extremely weak. It's as bad as it will can be. For the last few days I have deviated sadly from my usual habits. I have not taken a walk, and my system of life is quite upset. It's the beginning of the end." He paused and sighed. "You are looking well, George."

"I have every reason to. Mrs. Ward has consented to my marriage."

"With her daughter? How is that?"

"Well, the church where my parents were married has been discovered. The marriage has been proved beyond a doubt. My grandfather has seen the copy of the certificate and now holds it."

"Is he pleased?"

"Very pleased. He is now as friendly toward me as he has been hitherto hostile."

Ireland nodded, breathing heavily. "I thought he would be. He and I had a long talk about you on the day I called. That was when I saw Mrs. Ward and—"

"You can go on," said George, seeing his hesitation. "I know the whole story."

"What story?" asked Ireland suspiciously.

"The story of what happened at San Remo. Mrs. Ward I know was Violet Howard, and her sister Jenny is Miss Bull."

had called to see Mrs. Jersey, and how she had managed to steal the confession. "It was from reading it," finished George, "that she learned of the church in which my parents were married. Desiring that I should marry her, and thinking I would not do so were my birth proved, she went to the church to destroy the registers. She was caught with torn leaves and arrested."

"Arrested?"

"Yes. I wonder you did not see the case reported in the papers."

"I have been too ill to read the papers lately," said Ireland, looking round the room in rather a helpless way. "And none of my servants told me. What happened?"

"Oh, Lola was left off with a small fine. She is now back dancing at her music hall. She gave the confession to me."

"Did any one else see it—the authorities?"

"No. You can set your mind at rest, Mr. Ireland. I got it from Lola before she was taken to prison. No one had seen it but myself and Lord Derrington."

Ireland drew a long breath of relief. "You made a strange remark just now, George," he said, not looking at the young man. "You told me to set my mind at rest. Why did you say that?"

"I have read the confession," said George quietly.

"Then you know?"

"I know that my father's death was due to an accident."

"What! Did that wretched woman tell the truth?"

"She told the truth."

"And she did not accuse me of having murdered your father?"

"No. She did not. I suppose she thought it was as well to go to her long home with as few sins as possible on her conscience."

"Thank God for that," said Ireland. "George," he said in faltering tones, "I have suffered greatly on account of that most unhappy accident. Your father and I were not very good friends, as I found it difficult to forgive him for having taken from me the woman I loved. But at San Remo we got on better together. I stifled my resentment so that I might see as much of you as possible, George. Knowing that I was not on good terms with Vane, I thought that Mrs. Jersey might have accused me of the crime. She did try to get money out of me."

FRANK OF SOME SCHOOL BOYS DISCOVERED

Football Which Was Buried by the Student Body of Polytechnic College Has Been Disinterred

"Good friend, for Poly's sake for ever, To dig the dust enclosed here, Bless he who spares these bones, Cursed by he who moves my bones."

Some person or persons who had no respect for the above epitaph have maliciously desecrated in the past twenty-four hours the grave of the football, once the cherished friend of all Polytechnic college, which was so tenderly laid to its eternal rest in the very center of the college's historic football field last Saturday afternoon amid the sobbing of the entire student body and the heartrending wails of the "varsity" team.

Who committed the crime or the motive for it is not known. The first information to reach President H. A. Boaz of the college or Captain Cavens, the leader of the former football spirit, was given over the telephone this morning from The Telegram. The information conveyed was picked up by a conversation overheard on a street car late last night and was a substance that a plan was on foot by some one to steal the body and desecrate the grave on account of the opposition of the faculty to any of the student playing football, they being desirous of having a game on Thanksgiving Day.

When Captain Cavens received the information he went at once to the grave and found that the grave had been disturbed. The tombstone, on which the verse given above had been inscribed, was missing, and upon closer inspection it was found that the famous old pispkin had been carried away by the ghouls.

Information regarding the desecration of the grave was carried about the school at every opportunity during the morning hours and on every side was there declarations of vengeance. If the guilty party or parties are caught. The grave reposer to the school sentiments that no outsider who has never attended a college or university can understand. To them it is their all in all in college spirit and they will be unto the guilty culprits, whoever they may be, if discovered.

AMUSEMENTS

The "Millionaire Tramp" was the attraction at Greenwall's opera house last night. It played to a small audience.

HARRY BERESFORD
An engagement that should interest all of the better class of theater goers is that of Harry Beresford in his continuous laugh "Our New Man" Saturday, to be seen on the local stage. This young man possesses undoubted versatility and delights his auditors with his genuine humor and natural style of acting. In this play he has opportunities that give to him the right to be classed among the great peers of mimicry such as the late Roland Reed, Stuart Robson, William H. Crane and Nat Goodwin. The part with which Mr. Beresford has surrounded himself, we are told, is one of unusual excellence and contains the names of many persons prominent as farceurs on the stage of today. Appropriate scenery aids in the presentation and an evening of much real enjoyment may be anticipated by those who will be fortunate enough to be present at this engagement.

"THE FORBIDDEN LAND"

If the success of a comic opera can be forecast by the enthusiastic acclamations that have preceded it from other cities, then the new Tibetan comic opera "The Forbidden Land," at Greenwall's opera house Monday night, November 14, is sure of capturing local theater goers when it appears here.

"THE VILLAGE PARSON"

"The Village Parson," a domestic drama in four acts will be given at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday afternoon and night, November 16. The play has been constructed in a most thorough manner, the plot being strong and exceptionally well conceived. The characters are in the most of an exacting kind, and call for clever dramatic work from the members of the company to that beautiful drama "Human Hearts," both being under the same ownership. In "The Village Parson," the most natural scenes and situations take place, and that it leaves a lasting and favorable remembrance.

Best Way to Get Good "Copy"
Not everyone knows what food to turn to in case of sickness or decline in health.
A man in Elgin, Ill. says: "My attention was first called to Grape-Nuts some time ago when Brother, who is an editor in Chicago, broke down from overwork and nervous prostration set in and then paralysis."
"The expert specialist (the physician in charge) gave me special instruction as to the food and put him on Grape-Nuts and cream."
"He began to recuperate quickly and there was a very marked showing of the strength and value of the food. He soon got well and has been at his work ever since, and never shows any further signs of breaking down all before, but he is well and properly fed and his brain and nerves kept nourished with the right kind of food—that is Grape-Nuts and cream." CITIZENS WANT A WATCHMAN AT ADAMS STREET

Council Granted a Petition and the Frisco Was Instructed to Provide the Proper Safeguard
Citizens in the neighborhood of the Adams street crossing of the railroad tracks are complaining of the failure of the Frisco road to place a watchman at the crossing as ordered by the city council.

A petition from the citizens was filed with the city secretary August 5 asking the council to compel a watchman by the Frisco at the crossing. This petition was referred to the street and alley committee in the usual routine of business and was returned by them at the succeeding session of the council with the recommendation that the petition be granted. The city council then adopted the report of the committee, after which notification was sent to the Frisco of the action taken by City Secretary Montgomery.

At the Frisco offices all questions regarding the matter are referred to Vice President Fickinger who is absent from the city, it being stated that no one else is authorized to discuss the situation. All questions as to the placing of a watchman at the Adams street crossing are referred to the same source.
Vice President Fickinger is expected to return in a few days.
The Adams street crossing intersects the railroad tracks at the Fort Worth and Rio Grande found house and is largely used by the citizens on the South side, being the only available crossing between the viaduct and the Hill street crossing which is now about to be erected.

City Secretary Montgomery stated yesterday that shortly after the action taken by the city council, he notified Vice President Fickinger. No reply was received and later a man called at the city hall asking about the matter and seeking the position of watchman at the point. He was sent to the Frisco officials and later came back seeking a copy of the council action to take with him. With this he returned to the Frisco and a few days later the city secretary received a communication stating that the notice of munition had been received by Mr. Fickinger.

NORTH FORT WORTH ROSEN HEIGHTS STOCK YARDS

Nash Furniture Company.

The suggestion of a volunteer fire department for North Fort Worth, as contained in The Telegram of yesterday afternoon, is meeting with great favor in that city and was the main topic discussed there last night.
Property owners and business men in all sections of the municipality favor the idea and feel that the city has grown to sufficient proportions to have a valuable company of that sort.
The young men of the city who would be the ones most depended upon to make the company a success are also talking of the matter enthusiastically and plans are being discussed for the calling of a meeting during the coming week for the taking of some definite action.
As far as can be learned there exists no opposition to turning over the fire fighting apparatus to such a volunteer company when formed so that the item of expense will not enter materially into the proposition.
The social features of such an organization are also a source of much benefit to a community as well as to the individual members and it is pointed out that by the addition of an economical amount of fire hose when the water works system is installed, North Fort Worth would have fire fighting facilities equal to any city of its size and such as to materially effect insurance rates on property.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

The regular monthly tea given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the North Fort Worth Christian church was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Munsey on Lincoln avenue.
City Attorney Valentine of North Fort Worth accompanied by Ed Aiken and Ed Eullis formed a hunting party which visited Bedford yesterday, returning home last night with good results.
Work on the switch connecting the packing house extension with the regular line has been almost completed and cars will be soon put in service direct to the packing houses.

FOOT BALL GAME PAINTED POLES SAURDAY TO BE FOR TELEPHONES SOCIAL EVENT

Elks and Entre Nous Are Practicing for the Event—Prizes Will Be Given to Elks if Victorious

The Elks and Entre Nous football teams are making great preparations for their game next Saturday afternoon at Haines' Park. One of the loyal members of the Elks who is anxious to see the team defeat the other fellows has hung up as a prize to the man who makes the first touchdown for the team an elegant solid ivory elk's tooth with the insignia of the order in gold. The design is a very pretty one and much to be desired. Another prize offered the players is a watch box with an Elk's head in solid ivory with the lodge insignia on it. This prize is to be given to the team if it wins and the man who gets the job is to draw it, all of the team to have a try in the drawing.
The Entre Nous, on the other hand, are offering no prizes and saying mighty little, but behind closed doors they are doing considerable practicing and claimed that the Elks will be mightily surprised when the game is all over and the score counted.
Both sides are in fact doing much practicing and expect to make the victors win the battle in true style. The ladies have promised to turn out and assist in making the game the society event of sports for the year. A good time is in store for all Saturdays.
Both teams are showing marked improvement as a result of the hard practices in which they have indulged and as all the men are reported in first class shape, the football enthusiasts are promised a treat.
The Elks will likely average 165 pounds, as they line up on the field, the Entre Nous being probably five pounds lighter per man. Despite this slight advantage in weight however, the Entre Nous boys feel confident of flying the Old Gold and Black over the Purple and White of the Elks.
The final line-up for the game, as announced today is:
Entre Nous..... Elks
Edwards..... center.....Malle
Reynolds..... right guard.....McKay
Stewart..... right tackle.....J. Hyman
Patterson..... right end.....Van Zandt
Stiller..... left guard.....B. Hyman
Bennett..... left end.....Hull
Grammer..... quarterback.....Griffith
A. Campbell..... right half.....Atkins
B. Campbell..... left half.....Spencer
Anderson..... fullback.....Phillips

CENTURIES OLD

The disease which has wrought more suffering, degradation and disgrace upon the human race is the same to-day that it was centuries ago. It is called Contagious Blood Poison, "The Bad Disease," and is given other names, but among all nations is regarded as the blackest and vilest of all human diseases. It goes from bad to worse; the little sores that first appear are soon followed by others; the glands of the groin swell and inflame, a red eruption breaks out on the body, the mouth and throat become ulcerated, the hair and eye-brows drop out, and ugly yellow blotches make their appearance, and if the disease is not checked at this stage, every bone, muscle, tissue and nerve in the body becomes infected with the poison, and from the roots of the hair to the soles of the feet there is not a sound spot anywhere. To cure this awful contagion the blood must first be purified, and nothing will do this so quickly and surely as S. S. S., which has been known for years as an antidote for the poisonous virus of Contagious Blood Poison. Mercury and potash may check it for a time, but it comes back in a still more aggravated form. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a mineral ingredient. Write for our home-treatment book, and learn all about Contagious Blood Poison and how to treat it. No charge for medical advice.

PAGET INCOME AS PERIL TO JUST NOW SON OF DR. WISE TAKES OF THE PASSPORTS

The Society Woman of England Is About to Lose a Part of Seventy-five Thousand a Year

Granting of the Privileges by Russia Indicates a Revolution in the Government Has Taken Place

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Arthur Paget, daughter of the late Baron Stevens of New York, defendant in a suit brought by the trustees under her father's will, was heard before Justice Farwell today. The action was taken respecting the sum of $60,000, which the trustees said had been taken from the capital and not from the income.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—"In my opinion, the granting by Russia of passport rights to American Jews traveling in her domains is indicative of a revolution in the government's policy toward its Jewish subjects," declared Leo Wise, editor of the American Israelite and member of the board of delegates on Jewish religious and civil rights, which had interested the president in the subject.

Mrs. Paget and her husband, General Paget, contested the right of the trustees to reduce the income. One bone of contention was the sum of $25,000, which one of her late trustees kept in a safe in the shape of securities and some of which ultimately passed into Mrs. Paget's hands.

"It was not a mere stiff-necked obstinacy that for so many years prompted the government of the czar to pursue a closed door policy against Jews of whatever nationality. Russia is not so benighted as to be blind to the fact that she could not with decency grant to foreign Jews rights denied to people of the same faith residing within her territories. As is well known, Jews resident in Russia are not allowed to travel beyond the prescribed pale."

The attorney who appeared in the interests of Mrs. Paget and her husband under their marriage settlement said his clients naturally were indignant at the action of the trustees appointed since the transaction took place. He pointed out it was a serious matter for a lady with an income of $75,000 a year to have that income suddenly and considerably reduced.

"In accordance with the favored nation clause in its treaties with the various powers, Russia will be obliged to open her doors to Jews of whatever nationality. Under these circumstances she can not continue her ancient policy of repression of the Jews in her own domains and maintain her self-respect."

The judge pointed a way out of the difficulty by suggesting the taking out of a life policy to cover the amount involved, but it was pointed out by counsel that there was a difficulty in the way of that as Mrs. Paget recently met with a serious accident.

"The passport question has been agitated in this country for 25 years, my father, the late Dr. Isaac M. Wise, having begun it. During Hayes' administration he sent me to Washington to confer with the president, the secretary of state and the foreign relations committee of both houses of congress. Our negotiations came to naught. Since that time a number of trips by authorized Jewish bodies were made to the capital on the same mission and with the same results. It is significant that Russia's new attitude should have been taken shortly after Prince Mirsky assumed the position made vacant by the assassination of the minister of the interior, Von Plehve."

FARM LAND NEAR WACO IS ADVANCING

WACO, Texas, Nov. 10.—It is stated that the price of farm-lands in this section have advanced from 18 to 25 per cent in the past three weeks, though no one seems to know just why this is the case. Demand for farms of medium size near the city has been good, and a number of sales have been pulled off by local real estate men. One real estate man said that he was unable to explain this condition, but that it was undoubtedly a fact. Possibly the extra demand for good farms has been in a measure responsible, and it looks as though a few of the larger farms might be cut up into smaller tracts to meet the tendency toward smaller farms. A good many property owners in Waco are trying their hand at farming on a limited scale, and this results in sales of tracts of reasonable size frequently.

Sharks are causing no end of trouble these days for the fishermen along the New England coast. Several of the fishing boats have had their travel lines chewed off by rapacious fish as they made for the bait. Hundreds of feet of good line have been lost this summer. Not only do they lose their lines and baits, but there is the loss of the bait and the many fish which would have been taken had the lines not been chewed off.

AN OBJECT LESSON IN A RESTAURANT

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large number of hearty, vigorous old men at the tables; men whose ages run from sixty to eighty years; many of them bald and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or senile? Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something. If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating, you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled health foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a juicy roast of beef, a properly turned loin of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers. There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee and many other good things are rank noxious, but these cadaverous sickly looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories. The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantity, any wholesome food will be promptly digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain foods cause distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydrochloric acid, diastase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly and thus giving the stomach a much needed rest and an appetite for the next meal. Of people who travel, nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the traveling public for years have pinned their faith to Stuart's Tablets. All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full-sized packages and any druggist from Maine to California, if in his opinion were asked, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

Tomorrow, Saturday, November 12, positively last day of the great sale. A. & L. August.

CUPID CURES WHEN PHYSICIANS HAVE ALWAYS FAILED

He Told Her He Would Marry Her if She Walked, and the Bedridden Woman Tries to Accomplish the Feat

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 10.—A most remarkable case of matrimony has taken place near Danville, Miss. Peni Durham, who had been bedridden for fifteen years, and for the greater part of the time was unable to walk on account of her paralysis, got up Sunday for the first time in many years and walked to the altar to be married to William Harper.

Mr. Harper was a widower, having married a sister of Miss Durham. He felt a deep interest in his sister-in-law and some time ago told her that if she would get up and walk he would marry her. She, soon made the effort and was able to take the first step she had taken in years. Harper was as good as his word and as soon as her strength was sufficient he married her. The bride is about 35 and the groom ten years her senior. The skill of all the physicians in the whole country thereabouts had been exhausted in a vain effort to cure the young woman.

WRITING A STORY OF HER IMPRISONMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—In a sunlit room overlooking green lawns and daintily furnished in a manner tended to soothe mind and body a woman past 40 was absorbed this afternoon in the most terrible chapter in the life of Mrs. Florence Maybrick. It had to do with the cell in an English prison in which Mrs. Maybrick could not shut out the sounds of workmen building gallows on which she was to hang. The writer was Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who is preparing in the home of Dr. Helen Densmore in Brookline, a history of the famous "Maybrick case."

Through this book Mrs. Maybrick hopes to vindicate herself and regain her two children, a girl, now 18, and a youth of 24. They still believe their mother guilty and she has not seen them since she was thrust into prison more than fifteen years ago. She will call her story "A Tragedy of Justice." She will tell the world that her husband, James Maybrick, died of natural causes and that the evidence which came so near bringing her to the gallows was manufactured by English police.

EARTHQUAKE IN CHILE NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Several earthquakes have been felt in the northern provinces, says a Herald dispatch from Valparaiso de Chile. Many houses were damaged in Tacna and Arica. In Negreiros several houses were thrown down. Four men were injured by falling walls. There are about 650,000 people in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania, and 420,000 of them are foreign born. Of the latter fully 50,000 can not read or write.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Thompson, of Lillydale, N. Y., Grand Worthy Wise Templar, and Member of W. C. T. U., tells how she recovered from a serious illness by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am one of the many of your grateful friends who have been cured through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and who can to-day thank you for the fine health I enjoy. When I was thirty-five years old, I suffered severe backache and frequent bearing-down pains; in fact, I had womb trouble. I was very anxious to get well, and reading of the cures your Compound had made, I decided to try it. I took only six bottles, but it built me up and cured me entirely of all my troubles. My family and relatives were naturally as gratified as I was. My niece had heart trouble and nervous prostration, and was considered incurable. She took your Vegetable Compound and it cured her in a short time, and she became well and strong, and her home to her great joy and her husband's delight was blessed with a baby. I know of a number of others who have been cured of different kinds of female trouble, and am satisfied that your Compound is the best medicine for sick women."—MRS. ELIZABETH H. THOMPSON, Box 105, Lillydale, N. Y.

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are continually writing letters of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham, until she has hundreds of thousands of letters from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Here is another letter which proves conclusively that there is no other medicine to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with poor health for over seven years, not sick enough to stay in bed, and not well enough to enjoy life and attend to my daily duties properly. I was growing thin, my complexion was sallow, and I was easily upset and irritable. "One of my neighbors advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I procured a bottle. A great change for the better took place within a week, and I decided to keep up the treatment. "Within two months I was like a changed woman, my health good, my step light, my eyes bright, my complexion vastly improved, and I felt once more like a young girl. I wonder now how I ever endured the misery. I would not spend another year like it for a fortune. "I appreciate my good health, and give all the praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. M. TILIA, 407 Haberstein St., Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of such letters.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Captain Meyers, having declared his crew was mutinous, and that he had no control over the men, deputy United States marshals have visited the ship S. A. Wood to serve a writ for an unpaid towing bill. On rowing to the boat just outside the government breakwater they say they found a drunken crew, which resented interference, and that the mate threatened to stab Marshal Currier and throw him overboard. The officials returned for reinforcements, seized the ship, placed a custodian in charge and arrested the mate, George Smith.

THE MARKETS

NORTH FORT WORTH, Nov. 11.—With a moderate run of cattle in the yards prices continued steady. The early supply consisted of about fifty cars or 1,350 cattle and 150 calves. On this trading is based. Forty cars additional were due to arrive after dinner, about 1,000 more head, making the total supply around 2,600 head, as against 2,411 head one week ago, 1,777 a month ago and 2,984 the corresponding day in 1903. Steers were not numerous; in fact, the good kinds were scarce; feeders were more in evidence than the beef varieties and the demand was about up with the week. Sales were made at steady prices the ruling figures being level for the week. Top price on beefs $3.65, the bulk going between $1.75 and $2.85. Feeders sold around $1.75. In butcher stuff the supply was also moderate, no extra cows coming in. A few loads of good heifers were on sale and the prices on these took a slightly upward turn. Cow prices closed the week steady with Thursday, or about 15 cents higher than for the first week in the month. High sales were $3.35, the bulk going between $1.75 and $2.85. Feeders sold around $1.75. The calf supply was short. The demand, however, has not improved for the week. Common calves sell from $1.50 up, the choice veals bringing as high as $3.00. Extreme dullness characterized the hog market, buyers declining to bid except at a decline of a dime. This salesmen were unwilling to concede and selling held off until after the noon hour. The supply consisted of nine loads, chiefly from Oklahoma, around 600 head. The same day last week receipts were 951, a month ago 402 and a year ago 873. Prices declined 5 to 10 cents from yesterday, the best sale being $5.00 on a load averaging 220 pounds; bulk sold between $4.00 and $4.85. The market closed 10 cents lower for the day. In almost every portion of the Bible we find the spirit of prophecy encouraged. We find schools of the prophets established for such a purpose and indications that the relations were held in high repute by God's chosen people. The most important verse in the Bible that is used in support of palmistry is the seventh verse of the thirty-seventh chapter of Job. "God placed signs or seals in the hands of man that all men might know their works." Among other verses of the Bible that seem to bear relation to the point may be mentioned: "Length of days lays in her right hand, and riches and honor in her left."—Prov. 3:16. "What evil is in mine hand."—1st Samuel 26:18. Among famous believers in the science may be mentioned Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar, Cardinal Richelieu, Napoleon Bonaparte, Cromwell, Sir Walter Scott, Marie Antoinette, Balzac, Victor Hugo, Dumas, Gladstone and Queen Victoria. Our own George Washington and Abraham Lincoln expressed general admiration for this eminent science.

TEACHERS TO HAVE AN INSTITUTE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Superintendent Hogg Urges the Parents to Attend and Get Acquainted With Those Instructing Their Children

Much interest is being manifested in the teachers' institutes to be held tomorrow morning and it is expected there will be a large attendance at both those of the city and of the county schools.

The teaching force of the city schools now numbers 116 and a special request has been made that the parents of the city attend tomorrow's institute and become personally acquainted with the force that is training up their children to become good citizens.

An interesting feature of the institute will be an address on "Old Fashioned Spelling," by M. A. Spoons. Incidentally Superintendent Hogg is a partisan of the old blue book method and an interesting discussion along this line is expected.

TEXAS BAPTISTS RAISE MONEY TO GIVE HOME

Thirty-five Thousand Dollars Is Pledged for the Support of the Buckner Institution for Orphans

WACO, Texas, Nov. 11.—Yesterday and last night were busy seasons in the Baptist general convention of Texas, and from the time the meeting was called to order by Dr. R. C. Buckner yesterday morning at 10 o'clock until the present there has been but little time for rest. The opening exercises yesterday were preceded by devotional exercises in the Carroll chapel, led by Rev. W. B. Kendall of Terrell, and a song service conducted by R. H. Coleman of Dallas. This was followed by earnest remarks by Rev. L. T. Mays of Houston relative to Christ's faith in His people, and an appeal to those present to show their faith in Christ.

When the convention was called to order prayer was delivered by Rev. Sid Williams of San Antonio, and at this time there were between two and three thousand people present. Organization then followed by the election of Dr. R. C. Buckner as president and the other officers mentioned yesterday. Dr. B. H. Dement of Waco then delivered the address of welcome, referring to a number of matters of interest to the denomination and speaking in appropriate terms. He was followed by Rev. L. R. Scarborough of Abilene, who delivered the response. His address was also timely and appropriate.

Rev. Forest Smith then delivered the conference sermon, which was eloquent and made a deep impression on the audience.

In the afternoon there were several short talks, but the main interest centered in the report of the executive committee, which covered almost every phase of the Baptist activities, and some recommendations were made. There was discussion upon these matters during the afternoon session, and at night Dr. R. C. Buckner of Buckner's Orphans' Home submitted his report of the workings of this institution, showing the work accomplished, future possibilities, needs of the institution, etc.

A collection was taken for Buckner Orphans' Home last night and $35,000 was secured. There was much praise of this institution.

"Today is educational day at the convention, and the various schools and colleges of the denomination in Texas are being mentioned on all sides. The entire student body of Baylor Female college at Belton came to Waco on a special train this morning. Baylor university has the morning and the other schools will have the afternoon, while Rev. B. H. Carroll will deliver a strong discourse to-night on "Endowment." Much is expected from this discourse.

The report of Dr. J. M. Carroll, secretary of the commission, was a feature to-day, and some recommendations contained therein will be acted on during the convention. The report is under three heads, namely, the endowment of Baylor university, the correlated schools and other educational questions of a miscellaneous though important character. The report shows that in the endowment of Baylor university about $90,000 had been raised up to a short time ago, a part of this paid by Mr. Rockefeller, who has several thousand dollars yet in store as soon as Baylor shall have raised a certain amount to claim the Rockefeller subscription by next March at latest.

In the question of the correlated schools it is stated in the report that something must be done to meet the growth and needs of these schools, as enlargements and betterments are needed all around, owing to increased work and attendance. Under the miscellaneous head it was suggested that the powers of the educational commission should be enlarged to meet emergencies and existing conditions or some steps taken to handle the situation. This will command action from the convention, and the day has been an interesting one in the convention.

meeting might accomplish. Mr. Newell was at once ready to talk. He briefly spoke of the arid western lands in the various states, not meaning Texas, for Texas owns her own land, while the other states do not, and told how the money gotten from the sale of public lands was used in irrigating and reclaiming arid and waste lands. He also mentioned how by this method the government had made it possible for lands which were formerly utterly useless to become productive and valuable. He said the meeting would do more good for the development of this land than anything else and meant, if the suggestions made by the congress were carried out, to give new land to thousands of homeseekers.

J. B. Thornburn, the secretary of agriculture of Oklahoma, in speaking of the congress, said that in Southwestern Oklahoma are thousands of acres of land, which, if irrigated, would mean much for the territory. He will attend the convention backed up by a delegation of forty from the territory, asking for the passage of a resolution by the congress to have the government assist in the reclamation of this land. On some of it some cotton is now raised, but if irrigated, fruits, alfalfa and small grains could be grown also, increasing the land's value many times its present worth.

Mr. Schuller, the industrial commissioner of the Frisco, spoke of the developments along the system and said that the Frisco was ready at any time to assist Fort Worth in any way possible in getting the new industries. He also mentioned the fact that Fort Worth is making the most rapid growth of any city in the southwest and believed she would soon lead in industries, as well as population. In which his statement was backed by Mr. Anderson of the same department of the road.

The party were all a pleasant lot of men bent on benefiting by their presence at the congress the further development of the southwest. They are, while traveling, gathering data concerning the various cities and their needs in the industrial line, with the intention of aiding wherever possible.

The annoyance of having dessert that is "just a little off" in flavor is obviated by always using Burnett's Vanilla Extract. Try it.

TWO PRECINCTS YET TO BE REPORTED

Only two remaining precincts, Crowley and Haslett, are yet to be heard from, which will complete the returns of this county.

The returns thus far indicate that all three amendments to the constitution have carried by large majorities.

TRAIN LOAD OF FRUIT FROM THE WEST

The first heavy shipments of California lemons and oranges is expected to reach this city either Sunday or Monday. A whole train load is headed this way for Missouri points and comes from the northern part of California, which is one of the peculiar climatic conditions of the western state. The oranges there, as well as the lemons, ripen in the northern part of the state before they do in the southern part, owing to the climate.

The shipment will deliver a number of cars here for cold storage and local use. The fruit is said to be of the finest quality and to be the best shipped so far this year. Never before this season has a train load of California fruit passed through Fort Worth and the prospects are that there will not be many more. While the crop is short, yet there is enough of the fruit for the winter trade at fair prices.

The last car of California Cornishiehon grapes are now on the way to Fort Worth from the California shipping centers. This, like the other fruit from that state this season, has not been as plentiful as in former years, but those willing to pay the slight increase in price during the season have been able, with the exception of the flood period, to get some of the luscious fruit.

CAPT. LYTLE GETS A TELEGRAM OF INQUIRY

Captain John T. Lytle, secretary of the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas, this morning received the following telegram from an old friend in San Antonio: San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 10.—John T. O. S. NEWELL.
As the Captain was an ardent Parker man and still has confidence in his man, he sent the following reply by wire: Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 11.—O. S. Newell, San Antonio: Refer you to Tom Taggart. But I have heard of a man named Parker plowing in a field in New York.

My Clothing Stock will have to raise me $10,000 within the next thirty days—and this is
HOW I WILL DO IT
Reduce the price on every article in my house, at 25 per cent less than cost. My loss on the Clothing Stock will be more than doubled by profits on the oil.

A STARTLING TEST
To save a life Dr. T. G. Merritt of North Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes: "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in fourteen months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c, at Matt S. Blanton & Co., Reeves' Pharmacy and W. J. Fisher.
