and Those of His Party Go on Record-Breaking Tour of World's Greatest Exposition

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 26.—President Roosevelt's special train arrived at the Willows, Ill., a few miles east of St. Louis, at 3 o'clock this morning.

Instead of going over the Eads bridge and through the tunnel beneath several of the downtown streets of St. Louis, which would have been unpleasant for the party, the president's special went by way of the Willows, a station near East St. Louis, Ill., where the Vandalla tracks cross those of the Illinois Transfer Company, over which the train was taken to the east approach of the Merchants bridge, across that structure and then down the elevated terminal railway tracks along the Mississippi river to the St. Louis terminal yards.

Two hundred and fifty men with lanterns guarded the tracks. Fifty of the men were uniformed policemen and the others employees of the St. Louis Terminal Company.

From The Willows to the World's Fair grounds, a distance of fifteen miles, the men were close enough together to see each others' lanterns.

At every switch two special watchmen were stationed.
From the terminal yards the special was taken through the Union Station yards, where it arrived at 3:40 a. m. to Union boulevard, the junction of the Wash and Rock Island railways, where the special train was taken in charge by the latter company and brought to the Administration entrance to the exposition grounds. From the Administration entrance the special train was taken to the side track on the north side of the Transportation Palace, where it was parked at 4:55 a. m.

At 5 o'clock the President and his party breakfasted in the car, which was surrounded by a great crowd of World's Fair visitors.

Shortly after breakfast had been finished, President Francis, Mayor Wells and a committee of exposition officials and directors, appeared at the car to pay their respects to the chief executive.

Carriages were then taken and the party proceeded to the Liberal Art building, which was the first place to be seen.

Two battalions of the Eighth United States cavalry from Jefferson Barracks, under the command of Colonel Anderson, and a platoon of mounted police, preceded the carriages. Another platoon of mounted police brought up the rear, and kept back the immense crowd anxious to keep pace with the party.

The route of the procession was thronged with people, who gave the president an ovation and kept him busy replying to cheers.

PRESIDENT'S DAY
HAD CLEAR SKIES

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—President's day at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition was bright with clear skies and a brisk wind had just sufficient sharpness to send the blood tingling through the veins. It was ideal weather for carrying out the strenuous program arranged by the nation's chief executive, who proposes to acquire on one day a comprehensive idea of the greatest exposition in the history of the world.

Although President Roosevelt was not officially greeted by the exposition management until after 9 o'clock, the grounds were thronged long before that hour and every car line terminating at the World's Fair poured its hundreds every hour into the approaches to the exposition gates.

The presidential special train arrived at St. Louis at 3:40 this morning and was taken at once to the World's Fair grounds. When the train arrived at the destination two companies of the Sixteenth Infantry, United States army, who had been awaiting it, went on guard and no one was allowed to approach within 100 feet of the darkened Pullman. The distinguished party was early sitting, preparing for their day of record-breaking sight seeing.

In the party were President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Secretary and Mrs. Leah and Surgeon General Rixey of the United States navy.

After a short time spent in sight seeing President Roosevelt reviewed the military. The bodies of troops in the reviewing line were the Sixteenth United States Infantry, the Ninth United States Cavalry, the Eighth United States Cavalry and the Philippine scouts and the constabulary headed by respective bands.

TWO PRISONERS HELD
BY DENTON SHERIFF

DENTON, Texas, Nov. 26.—Sheriff Fry was called to Lewisville this past week and returned, bringing with him two prisoners, one of whom was charged with attempted criminal assault and the other with burglary. Will Read, one of the prisoners, who is a man about 32 years old, is alleged to have attempted an assault upon the person of his cousin, a young girl about 16 years of age. George Logan, prisoner No. 2, is charged with burglarizing the general merchandise store of J. R. Yorkley at the postoffice of Shiloh in Denton county. A number of the missing articles taken from the store were found upon his person or in his possession.

TO BE EQUALLY DIVIDED
CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Delegates to the annual educational conference of the United Presbyterian church held here have decided that the appropriations to be made hereafter by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church be equally divided among the seven institutions of the church, with educational advancement as a basis. This will give three-fourths of two-thirds to the colleges and one-fourth to the seminaries, the latter sum to be divided according to attendance.

YOUNG FARMER IS SHOT AND KILLED

The Shooter Takes a Horse and Saddle and Starts to Leave the Country Soon
After the Crime

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 26.—Yesterday afternoon Sam Brown, a young farmer, was shot and killed about one mile from Red Oak. A number of the missing articles taken from the store were found upon his person or in his possession.

The murdered man was about 22 years old and was raised in the Red Oak community. The man who did the shooting had been working in that community a few months. He will no doubt make a desperate effort to make his escape from the country as it is known that he stole a saddle from one man and a horse from another immediately after he committed the crime. Young Brown was a nephew of Dr. W. E. Fristoe of this city, ex-county health officer of this city.

His death was due to a gunshot wound received by Dr. W. E. Fristoe of this city, ex-county health officer of this city.

At daylight on December 2, another large force of men will begin to tear up the tracks and lay tracks connecting the main line with each of the exhibit buildings.
A bond has been filed with the United States government through the treasury department by the World's Fair Terminal Railway making it a common carrier which will facilitate the removal of the exhibits as freight cars can be dispatched direct from the exposition grounds to their destinations.

The engineers will receive $190 and

JUDGE IS SEVERE ON VIOLATIONS OF LIQUOR LAW

ARDMORE, I. T., Nov. 26.—Despite the severity of the federal statutes against the introduction and sale of whisky in the Indian Territory, the law is frequently violated. The sale of whisky in joints, in drug stores and by pedlers has become a common violation. The frequency of the violation of the law has attracted the attention of the courts and strenuous efforts are being made to stop the traffic.

Upon the recent convening of the United States court at Chickasha, Judge Joseph T. Dickerson gave the following special charge to the grand jury:
"The condition of the criminal docket in this district is alarming. I find that a very large per cent of the criminal cases can be traced to the violation of the intoxicating liquor laws and the gambling laws of the territory. Gambling dens are the places where the crimes are planned. Intoxicating liquor is used as a stimulant to brace the criminal in his robbery and murder. The joint, saloon or drug store where intoxicating liquor is sold is not only a violation of the law, but also a den of iniquity. They are the vagrants' haunt and robbers' and murderers' home."

"I therefore most respectfully ask your careful attention to this class of cases, whether sold by drug stores, joints or pedlers; whether sold under some specific name or sold as bitters, or sold without any name or with some euphonious name that means nothing. The question is, does the beverage intoxicate? Is it intoxicating?"

"Let no case, where the evidence shows there has been a violation of law, either in the selling of intoxicating liquor or any kind of gambling, go unprosecuted if the evidence is sufficient to convince you that there could be a conviction."

THE CONFESSION
OF FAITH NOW
DISCARDED

Stir Caused by an Announcement
From Pittsburg That Professors Do Not Have to Accept the Doctrine

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Considerable stir has been caused in church circles by reports from Pittsburg to the effect that announcement had been made there at a society function attended by 100 ministers that Union Theological Seminary had discarded the Westminster Confession of Faith and that the faculty of the seminary had accepted one of their own by a unanimous vote. It was also reported that in connection with this, gifts to the seminary of $250,000 were also announced.

The Rev. Thomas H. Hastings, of the Union Theological seminary, when told of the reports from Pittsburg, made the following reply:
"I don't believe there is a word of truth in the statement that the Union Theological seminary has discarded the Westminster confession of faith. There was a resolution passed by the board of the seminary not long ago whereby members of the faculty were not bound to embrace the confession of faith when accepting a professorship."

Another member of the faculty said that newly appointed professors adopted the Westminster confession of faith in a general way and he could not see how the confession of faith could be discarded when there was really no rigid confession to discard. Reports of the $250,000 gift also lacked confirmation.

It was said that the seminary now represents a distinctly denominational body, but rests upon a broad evangelical platform. Formerly its affiliations were Presbyterian, but now, though many of its professors are of that faith, a candidate for a professor's chair is only required to be of good standing in one of the evangelical denominations.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—Rev. Dr. Schaeff, professor of church history at the Western Theological Seminary, at Allegheny City, today confirmed the report that the Union Theological Seminary of New York has discarded the Westminster confession of faith and had unanimously adopted the new creed.

Mr. Schaeff, who recently returned from New York, said the action was taken last week when the board of directors received two gifts of $125,000 each. The Westminster confession of faith is said to be a part of the charter of the seminary and the members of the board have been obliged to sign that charter.

CHILD FALLS INTO POT OF BOILING WATER

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 26.—A little son of Dick Taylor of Midlothian fell into a pot of boiling water a day or two ago and was badly scalded.

Probably the only thing that saved his life was the fact that the pot contained very little water. He fell backward into the vessel and was scalded from the back half way to his knees. His injuries, while extremely painful, are not necessarily dangerous.

SHIPMENT OF TURKEYS
WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 26.—Last week J. E. Loyd of Italy shipped to St. Louis 3,800 pounds of turkeys. They were dressed and for two days he kept twenty men killing and dressing them for shipment. This was the largest shipment of turkeys ever made from that place. The price of turkeys have been unusually high this year. The last few days prior to Thanksgiving it was impossible to get a large fat gobbler in this city for less than $1.20.

THE JEWS TENDERED HIM A RECEPTION

KISHINEFF, Nov. 26.—The Jews of Kishineff and other parts of Bessarabia tendered a reception in the synagogue here today to Prince Orousoff, on the occasion of the latter's departure to assume the governorship of Tver, and presented him with an address and a Bible. The prince, who was greatly touched, expressed deep respect for this mark of sympathy from the Jews.

MAN PATTERSON
TRIAL IS NOW
RESUMED

Jurors Had a Rest, But the Attorneys Spent the Holidays Working on Testimony Concerning the Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—After a respite of two days on account of the Thanksgiving holiday, the trial of Nan Patterson for the murder of "Caesar" Young was resumed today in the criminal branch of the supreme court. Although the members of the jury and the defendant gave themselves over to complete rest during the interval afforded by the recess, the attorneys in the case took advantage of the intermission in an entirely different way. All their energies were exerted towards bringing closer together the material points upon which depends success or failure of their case.

One of the stories which has gained wide circulation and which, if true, will undoubtedly add materially to the sensational side of the trial, is that J. Morgan Smith, Nan Patterson's brother-in-law, who fled after he had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, has been found and is locked up at the police headquarters. This report was later denied by the police, however.

The testimony thus far produced has been leading up to what the prosecution declares is the motive for the crime, and with the beginning of today's session it was expected that Assistant District Attorney Rand would begin to unfold crucially the important features of his case.

WACO, Texas, Nov. 26.—John Owens, a negro living at Rosenthal, this county, was jailed this morning charged with a horrible atrocity. His step-daughter, a girl 14 years old, last night gave birth to a child and Owens was charged with killing and burying it, the charge being murder. The place of burial is known only to Owens, his wife and step-daughter. Both say they tried to keep him from injuring the child and neighbors heard it crying. A rigid investigation is on. The murder was committed, it is supposed, to conceal the girl's condition.

Citizen of Beaumont Is After a Valuable Piece of Land
Which Is the Entire River
Front of the Neches

APPLICATION IS FILED

If Patent Issues Will Own the Property on Which a Railroad, Several Lumber and Rice Mills and Numerous Residences Are Built

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 26.—When the application of W. H. P. McFadden of Beaumont to purchase a strip of land about 150 feet wide and about three miles in length long the Neches river was received by Judge Terrell, commissioner of the general land office, a very careful investigation of the situation was made and he was strongly inclined to turn the application down, and so informed Mr. McFadden.

Judge Terrell was inclined to this conclusion because the original field notes to the Veach survey, the tract on which the city of Beaumont is situated, and the land involved in this case appeared to be in Spanish and when translated called for the river margin and bayou as one of the boundaries. If this had been the case the line of the Veach survey would have gone to the river and there could not have been, in the very nature of things, any open or public land.

He pursued the investigation in the land office and finds the first conclusion was somewhat erroneous and that the original field notes are in English and antedate the Spanish. These English field notes after giving course and distance call for the margin of the river, then deflect skirting this margin a good part of the length of this line. Between the line run on this margin and the Spanish there is a strip of land about 150 feet wide, to which the state appears to have made no conveyance, and Judge Terrell is now inclined to the opinion that he will have to let patent issue to Mr. McFadden, but is not fully decided.

It is believed that the reason the field notes did not call for the river is that in 1835 at the time the survey was made this strip was a low and valueless marsh after giving course and distance did not include it in the survey because it would have deprived him of better land on higher ground.

Now, however, it is as valuable as any land in Jefferson county. The track of the Texas and New Orleans railway is on it, some of the largest rice and lumber mills are also located on it, as well as some private residences and other valuable industries.

The attorneys in the Texas and New Orleans railway are taking part in this highly interesting and important transaction, because if title is acquired by a private individual or other corporation the road will be very seriously handicapped.

Judge Terrell is consulting with the attorney general, and moving very cautiously because he realizes that very grave questions are involved, but says as an officer of the court he will follow the law whenever satisfied in his mind as to what it provides in such cases.

DIFFERENCES ARE SETTLED BY AN ARBITRATION

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—A threatened split in the steel rail pool caused by differences between the United States Steel Corporation and the Lackawanna Steel Company of Buffalo has been settled by arbitration, according to the Herald. After each interest had endeavored to arrange the dispute it is said a mutual agreement was made for adjudication by an arbitrator named by both companies. It is stated that the umpire has just handed down his decision practically favoring the steel corporation and the other members of the steel rail pool.

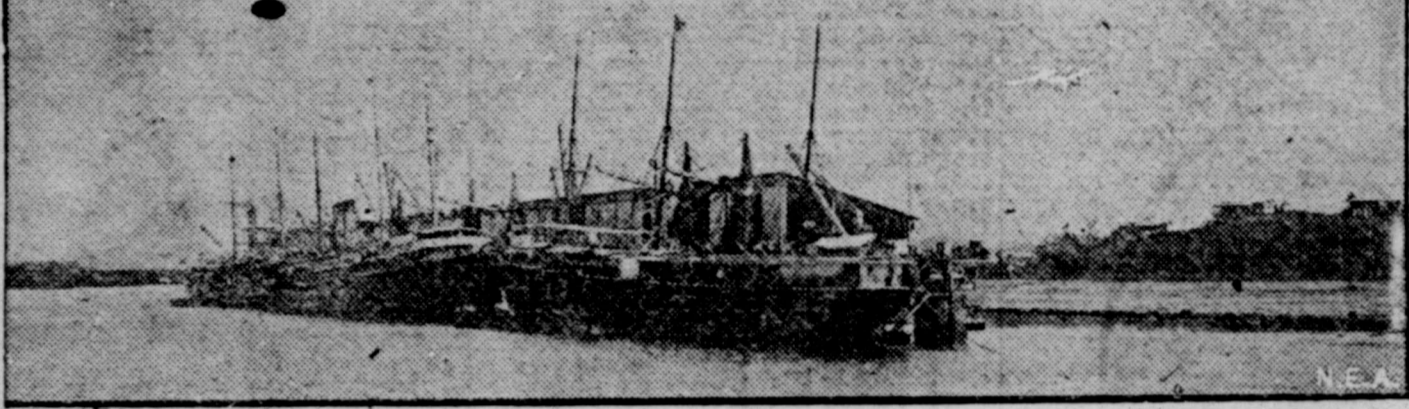

The question at issue between the Lackawanna Steel Company and the other makers of rails is understood to have been in relation to the tonnage to which the Lackawanna company believed itself entitled. The Lackawanna demanded 17 1/2 per cent of the entire tonnage of the country. The other manufacturers, after conferences to effect a compromise, finally agreed to allot a tonnage of 15 per cent to the Lackawanna. The latter stood firm on its demand, pointing out that its rail mill capacity was practically 600,000 tons a year, or about 20 per cent of the country's output and that the management had done to the extreme limit in lowering their tonnage demand to 17 1/2 per cent. It was at this stage that arbitration was suggested and both sides were agreeable.

PANAMA'S WILD FIRST INDEPENDENCE DAY

(Written for The Telegram by Marlen E. Few, Staff Correspondent of the Newspaper Enterprise Association—Copyright, 1904, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
CITY OF PANAMA, Nov. 19.—This sun-warmed land never before witnessed anything to compare with the furious six-day celebration of the nation's first birth-day. By day and night the whirlwind of patriotic demonstration continued unrestrained in the cities of Colon and Panama. Neither the scorching sun nor floods of rain daunted.

The police were ordered to make no arrests except for grave offenses and the natives set a wild gait which grew apace until the flags were lowered on the governor's palaces to note the end of the fête.

Then begins the monotonous bang of a tom-tom, the plaintive notes of an accordion, and the rustle of palm-leaf fans against thumbs keeping time with the music. The dancers come flocking, half smothered in masks and vari-colored dress. Every man carries a lighted candle.

orgies. Still the ceremonies had the touch of civilization and republican patriotism about them, but this was queerly blended with the customs of ancient Spain, wild Indian ways and negro ritual.

Hardly an inhabited building along the line of the old railroad or in the cities lacked decoration. Everywhere the stars and stripes hung limp in the dry, hot air, side by side with the red, white and blue blocks in the Panamanian national emblem.

not an instant's halting. It would seem that the dancers would fall from sheer exhaustion. A rank and fetid odor arises from the perspiring throng. The music is drowned out by the guttural shouts of the men and hair-raising screams of the women. The painted faces become tense from excitement.

At the public markets the poor of the cities, being given meat and bread by the government, presented a rare scene of poverty, reeking with indescribable forms of disease and filth.

Gov. Davis took no part in the celebration. He is not popular among the natives, due to his strict discipline and his disregard for time-honored customs where they conflict with his idea of law and order in the zone. He is in mourning over the death of his wife and took no part in the ceremonies.

Thousands of Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Almost every one, from personal experience, knows that the effects of any kind of severe physical strain are felt, first of all, in the small of the back—in other words, in those Vital Organs, the Kidneys. This is as true in the case of the very powerful as it is with one of less strength, and it is especially true whenever the kidneys are weak or out of order.

DIDN'T KNOW I HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE

Desperate attempts are made to keep the quarters clean, but it is uphill work due to the filthy surroundings, the old shacks themselves and lack of proper equipment.

trouble about quarters is due to our inability to buy land. I have offered four times the value of land and it has been refused. We have plans made for quarters, but they are held up, due to the high real estate rates. I hope that before long this matter will be regulated. I suppose there is some discontent, but we are certainly doing the best we can.

THE MARKETS

THE MARKETS

NORTH FORT WORTH, Nov. 26.—The usual Saturday run of cattle was more than doubled today, and particularly in the matter of calves, some thirteen cars of the latter coming to the pens. The total for the day was around 3,000, against 1,245 for the same day last week. The corresponding Saturday in November, 1903.

No extra quality came into the steer pens, though some good ones were held over from Friday. Buying opened at figures steady with yesterday. A couple of loads driven in from the Sansom feed lots late Friday afternoon sold after the market close the same day at $3.90. Nothing so good as these was shown today. Cows constituted the bulk of the butcher stock run and were selling steady. Packers did not appear anxious to buy, but were taking a liberal supply for the end of the week.

Bulls appeared in no great numbers, and the principal trade appeared to be in feeders, also at steady prices. The abnormal supply of calves caused no drop in the market, as most of these came in with privilege of other markets. Cautious buying was the feature of the trade with prices unchanged.

The hog supply was around 100 shy on the Saturday's average—300 head against 457 the same day last week, 267 the same day last month and 262 the corresponding Saturday in 1903.

The quality was generally inferior, though the hogs were of good weight. One load, however, was of extra good form and substance and brought the high price of the day. The supply of pigs was limited. Market started off with liberal buying, steady with yesterday, and an outlet for 25 was reached before 10 o'clock.

Top prices were $4.70 on heavies, $4.60 on lights and $4.10 on pigs. Bulk on heavy packers $4.65, on light butchers, $4.25, on pigs $4.07 1/2.

The receipts of cattle this week have laid over all previous records by a considerable number, reaching 21,955, against 20,997 for the previous week, 14,244 for the same week in October and 14,503 for the corresponding week in November, 1903.

Speaking generally, the week closes with all classes of cattle steady to strong with the exception of cows. Killing steers may be counted as strictly steady. Feeder steers of good quality a trifle stronger in price with steadiness ruling the trade in thin-fleshed feeders.

All classes of cows are lower for the week. Feeder bulls are stronger than on Monday, with bologna bulls holding steady.

The run of calves was shorted in the first days of the week, but picked up in the latter days. Though not equalling last week's, or last month's run. The week closes with choice veals selling 25c higher, and heavy calves quoted as steady.

The hog run shows an increase in numbers and weights, though the supply of lights and pigs has kept pace with packing hogs. For the week 6,106 came in, compared with 5,569 for the preceding week, 4,711 in the same week in 1903 and 3,480 for the Thanksgiving week in 1903. Heavy hogs show a decline of 1/2 cents for the week, with light butchers steady and pigs exhibiting a decline of 20c.

One load of sheep came on the market, five fat ewes and lambs. They sold readily at $4.25 for the ewes, averaging 133 pounds, and $5 for the lambs, averaging seventy-four pounds.

COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The annual report of Secretary Hester of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange will be issued Monday. Among other things it will show $58,000,000 passed through the exchange during the past year in cotton ginned to date in 1904. Those figures do not represent all the transactions of the exchange, but they give an idea of the magnitude of business it does.

(By private wire to M. H. Thomas & Company.)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—Cotton—Trading was active during the past week as a result of publishing of a series of bulletins on amount of cotton ginned to date in 1904, but as the reports to the census department indicated a much larger percentage ginned than expected, probably about 3,000,000 more than last year's 6,815,000 spot and contract values were lower from 9% to 10% in futures. Those figures do not represent all the transactions of the exchange, but they give an idea of the magnitude of business it does.

The average production of lint per acre during the past few years averaged 150 pounds for the same period averaged 150 pounds and the indicated yield on this basis is 12,300,000. The popular estimate for the government figures, however, is about 11,500,000. It would seem that an observation of 11,500,000 bales will yield in excess of 12,300,000 bales will be necessary to force values to a lower level but the facts at hand, and after making all due allowances, probabilities are that the official estimate crop will be in keeping, if not exceed, popular expectations.

Some object to the invitation on the grounds that the New England and southern manufacturers' associations are not concerned in it. It has also been urged by some Lancashire manufacturers that the invitation is in opposition to the British Cotton Growers' Association. This suggestion, however, does not seem to have great support.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Wheat—Minneapolis stocks increase 841,000, total now grades 2,794,000. Minneapolis reported a big flour sale but unable to get the amount. Some little improvement noted in clearances. The trade expectations quite a decrease in the world's shipments on Monday and a more favorable visible increase. Market ruled in a narrow rut all through the day. The principal factor continues to be uncertainty over Argentine conditions and strength in foreign markets. While the tone was heavy at the close, the weak brought a rather strength, and action of the market would indicate was caused by profit taking on a desire to be even on the market over Sunday. While there is some little improvement in the cash situation and some sales of flour are reported it will take a continuation of these factors on a large scale to maintain present prices for wheat. This critical period for the Argentine crop and will be for at least a month yet. This factor will determine an extensive short selling until positive as surfaces come to hand that weather conditions are favorable for harvest. It is a good trading market and we expect to see good selling up and down. We rather feel it is still advisable to take profits when in sight.
Corn—Heavy offering of December corn by prominent cash corn concern caused a sharp set-back in this option. Underlying conditions in this market have not materially changed. Receipts continue to be liberal and the quality somewhat inferior to early arrivals. The May option seems to receive support on declines. We continue to feel the short in government corn much company and rather feel purchases of May corn on breaks will bring moderate profits.

STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The week in the stock market was replete with interesting events, not the least of these being the call by the government on the secretary of the treasury, causing a flurry in money prices in the general list. Recoveries came at the week's end. In some instances, notably the United States Steel stocks and bonds, new high records were recorded. Trading was moderately large, though commission houses reported little increase of public demand. The opinion prevails that considerable liquidation has taken place in the past fortnight and that the short interest has increased. The week brought numerous offerings of new bond issues.

Conditions in the steel and iron trade show steady improvement and is attested by higher prices for products. Reports agree that mercantile interests in almost every section are satisfied, and that the demands from this source will be met without a material advance in the rate for iron money. Railroad returns generally are better.

LASSITER HOME INSERTED BY BURGLARS
Several pieces of jewelry and a quantity of money were secured by burglars who entered the residence of General Attorney N. H. Lassiter of the Rock Island road last night. The residence of Mr. Lassiter is situated at 1008 Penn street and so far as can be learned no other homes in the neighborhood were entered by the burglars.
Great reticence is being displayed in regard to the case and further information than that the robbers secured the booty as above stated, cannot be gained.
Members of the family refuse to discuss the case in detail but admit the robbery. The loss was not discovered until the family arose, the burglars guarding their movements so closely that no one was aroused. No trace of the means used to secure an entrance can be found and it is believed to have been effected by skeleton keys.
Mr. Lassiter is in Dallas today, but is reported to have been home at the time of the burglary.

ATTORNEY GENERAL TO BRING SUIT AGAINST ROAD
Commission Finds That Houston, East and West Texas Sells to Southern Pacific in Violation of Law
AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 26.—The railroad commission this morning dismissed the charge of illegal issue of bonds against the Houston East and Texas Railway Company, but adjudged the road guilty of selling its stock to the Southern Pacific in violation of the constitution, and directed the attorney general to bring such suits against it as deemed necessary to protect the state.
The commission issued a notice that it would institute the charges against the Southern Pacific on Dec. 13 of the illegal ownership of stock of the Central Texas and New Orleans, which was a virtual absorption of these lines, contrary to law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The most expensive single garment which has yet been worn to the opera is Mrs. Adolph Lewishohn's $28,000 sable coat.
Twenty-eight thousand dollars for a single perishable coat, subject to the moth that corrupt as well as the thieves that break through and steal.
Some there were at the opera who saw the $28,000 coat that affirmed it was the most expensive single garment in the world. This, however, the Mr. Merz says, is not strictly true. One leading tradesman said that he was engaged in a transaction for a $31,000 one. He said that his customer had not been willing to go above the $28,000 mark but that it was impossible to furnish her with the coat she wanted, exclusive of the work of making it, for less than $31,000.
Mrs. Lewisohn refuses to have anything to say in regard to the garment. She has been more deeply interested with gifts to the Baron de Hirsch Training school, the Hebrew Training School for Girls and Columbia University than with the purchase of expensive garments.

BEEF MEN QUITTING

Many of the eastern breeders of pure bred beef breeds of cattle are complaining of the dullness of trade. In fact, some of them say there is absolutely nothing doing, and they can not see much that is hopeful in the situation for the future.

That the time to begin or the time to hold on is when others are quitting is a fact too well known to be advocated here. The men who hold to their stuff in the face of continued discouragements and who never weaken in the face of adversity are the people who will win in the end.

Missouri republicans express themselves as very much gratified at the action of the president in giving an appointment to Senator Cockrell, and they are doubtless wise in their opinion.

It is stated that Nelson A. Miles will be made adjutant general of the Massachusetts volunteer militia as soon as Governor Douglas is inaugurated. It will be thought by the world to know that even those who are not expected, there is to be no further curbing of that proud martial spirit.

The German newspapers are highly pleased with the speech of the president at the unveiling of the statue of Frederick the Great, and are now saying some very nice things about America.

Russia is said to be on the verge of a very grave internal disaster, as a consequence of popular clamor for the right of the people to make the laws. When the revolution once breaks out in Russia it is going to be one of the most bloody the world has ever known.

Congress meets in December, and good Queen Lili, formerly the most august personage in the Hawaiian Islands, has already arrived in this country to look after a little claim that she is trying to worry out of your Uncle Sam.

tion to quit the business in many instances, and men are quitting, in the majority of instances it amounts simply to curtailment of the production to fit the surroundings. In other words, the production of beef animal throughout the range country may now be said to be undergoing a process of readjustment.

When the market is in the business to stay is trying to adjust his affairs to fit future developments and place it generally on a more satisfactory basis. The cattle industry will ever be one of the state's leading industries, but it must conform to changed conditions and get in line with the spirit of the times.

Taking this view of the situation, the future does not seem as dark as is indicated upon the horizon. It is true that a weeding out process is in progress, but that is to the advantage of the men who remain in the business.

"And for that reason, if for no other, we may look out for squalls," Kent asserted. "Jasper G. Bucks has a long memory; and just now the fates have been kind to him."

"shook his head." "Received, 3:45, p. m.; Forwarded, 4:15, p. m. That will cost somebody his job. What do we do?"

"We get busy at the drop of the hat. Luckily, we have the news, though I'll bet high it wasn't Hawk's fault that this message came through with no more than eight hours' delay. Get into your clothes, man! The minutes are precious, now!"

Loring began to dress while Kent walked the floor in a hot fit of impatience. "The mastodon cheek of the thing!" he kept repeating, until Loring pulled him down with another quiet remark.

"Tell me what we have to do, David. I am a little lame in law matters." "Do? We have to appear in Judge MacFarlane's court tomorrow afternoon prepared to show that this thing is only a hold-up with a blank cartilage. Hawk meant to take a snap judgment. He counted on throwing the whole thing up against Hunnicott, knowing perfectly well that a little local attorney at a way-station couldn't begin to secure the necessary affidavits."

Loring paused with one end of his collar flying loose. "Let me understand," he said. "Do we have to disprove these charges by affidavits?"

"Certainly; that is the proper rejoinder—the only one, in fact," said Kent; then, as a great doubt laid hold of him and shook him: "You don't mean to say there is any doubt about our ability to do it?"

"Oh, no; I suppose not, if it comes to a showdown. But I was thinking of your man Hunnicott. Doesn't it occur to you that he is in just about as good fix to secure those affidavits in Gaston as we are here, David?"

"Good Lord! Do you mean that we have to send to Boston for our ammunition?" "Haven't we? Don't you see how nicely the thing is timed? Ten days later our Trans-Western reorganization would be complete, and we could swear our own officers on the spot. These people know what they are about."

Kent was walking the floor again, but now the strength of the man was coming uppermost. "Never mind; we'll wire Boston, and then we'll go what we can here. Could you get me to Gaston on a special engine in three hours?"

The Difference in Cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cause doctors' bills many times this.

is the most economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and insures perfect, wholesome food. When ordering of the grocer always call for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder by name for good health and good food. It makes the finest cake, puddings, flapjacks, biscuits and bread.

NOTE.—There are many imitation baking powders which are sold from five cents to twenty-five cents a pound. They should be carefully avoided as they are made from alum and are unhealthy.

Cleanings From the Exchanges

The Paris News in speaking of legislators who accept passes from the railroads, is of the opinion that the legislator who accepts a valuable consideration from a railroad for which he gives no return does the railroad an injustice.

And the legislator who accepts a valuable consideration from the railway and gives the expected return, does the people of Texas an injustice. Under these circumstances it is clear that the duty of the legislator is to steer clear of any situation that involves obligation to the railroads.

According to Superintendent Hesseguite, of the Frisco, Texas cattle shipped to the north are weak and half starved, and die in the cars in large numbers. That is what he swore before the interstate commerce commission, and that will make him very popular with Texas cattlemen, no doubt.

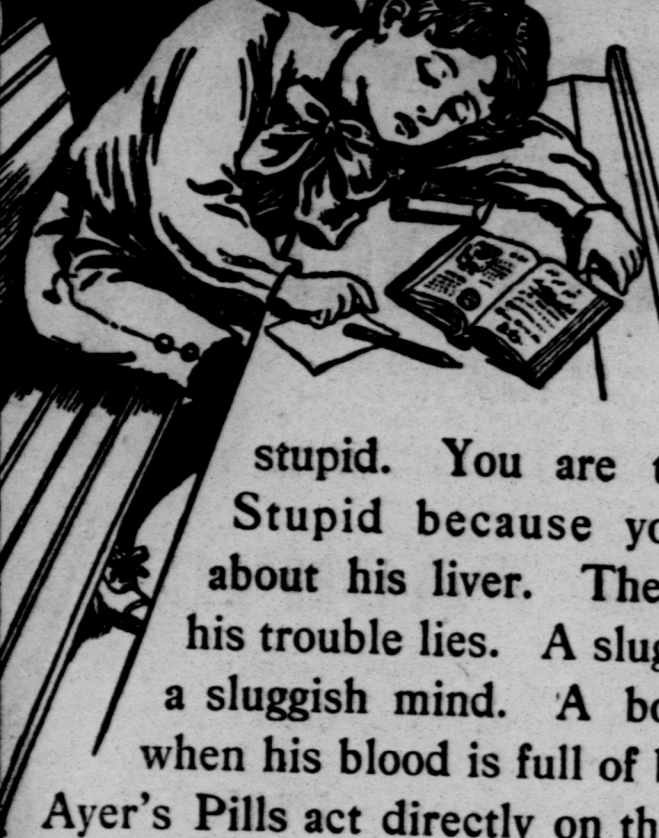

Texas cattlemen admit that their cattle are often in the condition ascribed to them by the Frisco superintendent, but they contend it is the result of the long time taken by the railways to get them to market. They say heifer yearlings are grandmothers by the time they reach Chicago from the Texas range country.

Without wishing to appear officious, the Times-Herald would suggest to Governor Lanham that he get a clear, definite line of conduct for the legislature to pursue on the subject of taxation and make it the one theme of his forthcoming message. The average member of the legislature is busy with his own concerns; he has neither the time nor the opportunity to go into the study of this question in all of its ramifications.

Exactly; and that is why the result of the recent election is so galling to the late re-organizers of the democratic party. They got just as close to the republican platform as possible, and then when it was all over professed amazement over the act of the people in choosing the real thing instead of a weak imitation.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY W. T. FOSTER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbances to cross continent 28 to Dec. 2, warm wave 27 to Dec. 1, cool wave 30 to Dec. 4. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 2, cross west to Rockies by close of 5, great central valleys 4 to 6, eastern states 7. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 2, great central valleys 4, eastern states. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 5, great central valleys 7, eastern states 9. This disturbance will close out a period of several days that will average about a little above normal temperature an dull inaugurate a downward tendency that will culminate about middle of December in the coldest weather of the month. The cool wave mentioned above will be a general cold wave not very severe but accompanied by rains south and snows north. After this cold wave has gone by temperature will recover to about normal, a little above and then again plunge heading downward to the bottom, causing the week of which 14 and 15 will be central days to average very cold for this season.

First half of December will bring a very considerable amount of rain southern and as much snow in northern states. From 14 to 24 temperatures will make a great rise and rainfall will be generally deficient.

Since within last bulletin I find that the Christmas holidays will probably not be attended by continued warm weather and my next bulletin will make particular reference to that period. I am now perfecting my calculations of crop-weather for 1905 and my conclusions will be given to the public during the winter through papers that regularly publish my weather forecasts. I hope the friends of my work will make a special effort to extend the circulation of this paper and that everyone interested in the crops of next year may be benefited.

Cold wave predicted to cover the route, Manitoba to Cincinnati, Nov. 8 to 10 and then northeastward, was on exact time.

THE CIVIC LEAGUE

Meeting at Courthouse Last Night Results in Some Very Plain Talk From a Number of Citizens

WANT ELECTIVE RIGHTS

Sense of Meeting That the Appointive Power Be Taken From Council—Judge Harris Says He Does Not Want Guessing at Water Meter

If the desires of the members of the Fifth Ward Civic League and the Citizens' Club are ever realized it will mean the revolutionizing of municipal methods in the city of Fort Worth, from a political standpoint, and to this end the joint meeting last night at the courthouse of the above organizations, which were formed several months ago, directed its efforts.

The meeting was called to order by L. M. Whitsitt, president of the Civic League, who stated the object for which the members of the two clubs were called together. It was the desire of the meeting, who has ever had an eye for "the main chance," desires both matrimony and the cozy fortune. A unique compromise is effected whereby Belle's lawyer provides his client with a little country bride, so that he can gain the inheritance. The baronet is never to live with his wife "decovention," and in due course, by paying liberally, is to divorce her and then to wed Madame de Semiano. The denouement of this situation is very funny and entirely unexpected. "The New York Times" said: "Full of clever entanglements and delicious revelations of character."

"JAMES BOYS IN MISSOURI" Everywhere it has been presented the sensational melodrama, "The James Boys in Missouri," has made an instantaneous hit and played to houses jammed to the doors. The wonderful stage effects are alone worth seeing, to say nothing of the dramatic worth of the production. The play is absolutely clean and has nothing of the suggestive about it. One of the most wonderful effects of the remarkable bit of stage setting for the Blue Cut train robbery, a full train of cars appearing on the stage. The play abounds with sensational climaxes. "The James Boys in Missouri" will appear at Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, Nov. 28.

"TWELFTH NIGHT" The appearance of Joseph Shipman's company of Shakespearean players headed by the brilliant young star, Miss Charlotte Burnett, at Greenwall's opera house, Tuesday matinee and night, Nov. 29, for the performance of that sparkling Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night," is a matter for congratulation and promises to be the red letter event of the local season.

Mr. Shipman has never disappointed his public, but has at all times supplied refined and delightful entertainment. His companies have been of the first order of excellence and his productions artistic, and when necessary massive.

The present production of "Twelfth Night" is the biggest of the many this enterprising young American manager has made.

For his star, Mr. Shipman has secured the services of Miss Charlotte Burnett, a lady who has had a thorough schooling in the best New York companies, notably those of Richard Mansfield and Julia Marlowe. Miss Burnett is giving a highly appreciable performance of Viola and is supported by an almost "all-star" cast, including George Seybolt, John L. Saphire, Otto F. Andrie, F. J. McCarty, Irene Eckels and others equally well known.

Mr. Shipman's praiseworthy attempt to vindicate the superiority of Shakespearean comedy over the horseplay of modern farce is, in its successful issue, one of the many symptoms, which show the public taste is wholesome at the core.

FUJI—A TYPICAL JAPANESE HORSE
Fuji was on board. Fuji is my horse, and he had come down by rail. He is Japanese and a stallion—as most Japanese horses are. He has a bushy wayward mane by the strands of which you can box the compass with great accuracy, and a bushy forelock that is just as wayward. His head, physiognomy and general traits will come in better when later they get an opportunity to display. All I knew then of Fuji was that he had nearly gripped all over and in a little while her pain was gone, it was like magic. For a few meals she used a little coffee and then a wrangling began in her stomach each time, so finally she gave up coffee altogether and used Postum one. Better and better she got, and grew stronger and finally all the old disease left.

...mum salary for all city officials, leaving discretion in the hands of the city council as to exact compensation in each case.

Fifth—A provision providing for a franchise tax on corporations seeking to obtain from the city franchises or removal of any of same for the operation of public utilities.

Sixth—A provision looking to the exemption from taxes, for a certain period of time, factories and large industrial enterprises seeking to locate in the city. We believe this provision, even though an amendment to the state constitution may be necessary to give it effect.

Regret was expressed that neither Senator W. A. Ganger nor Representative W. L. Williams would be present at the meeting, both of these gentlemen having been asked to attend.

Professor Farris then proceeded to discuss the resolutions in an energetic manner, and he had no hesitancy in calling them by their true name, nepotism.

He spoke heartily in favor of the adoption of every resolution submitted by the committee. The committee were Messrs. W. L. Farris, J. H. Sears, M. B. Harris, Albert J. Haskin and T. J. Dooley.

Professor Farris said: "We are after the organic law of this city, and if possible we intend to have it built upon broader lines. I favor the election of all heads of departments in the city government by a direct vote of the people, and I favor a separate department of school affairs from that of the city government. Affairs in this city have reached the point where the people can no longer tolerate the practice of nepotism. I am an advocate of these principles, the object of which can not be denied by the thinking class of the citizenship of Fort Worth. Fort Worth was not made for two families—it belongs to the whole people. We favor a provision in the city charter to exempt taxation as an inducement for the location here of manufacturing enterprises, and if Fort Worth is ever to be built up as a great manufacturing center it must be done by encouraging factories, and to encourage them I favor the extension of the franchise period, or at least long enough for these enterprises to become well established. If such cities as New Orleans can do this certainly Fort Worth can. Did you know that the franchise of the gas company in Fort Worth does not expire for eleven years yet? Well, it is a fact, and already that company is moving heaven and earth to have the present city council renew their franchise. That company realizes the fact that it is the only company that reaches the 100,000 population, which it will no doubt do in the course of ten or eleven years, a franchise will be worth much, hence the present efforts of that company. We have got to be awake to our interests as citizens. The committee has submitted a few measures which we expect to make a determined fight for. Did you know that Fort Worth is rapidly expanding? All around the city thriving suburbs are springing up until Fort Worth is being termed in like Fort Arthur with adequate and proper sewerage and water protection, with no possible relief in sight, but with a danger confronting the people of the entire city from an epidemic that may do dire work. For these reasons the citizens have organized and intend pushing the same until we are safe from destruction."

FRANK B. STANLEY
Frank B. Stanley was the next speaker. He stated that he had dropped in to see and hear what was going on, and not to make a talk, but added that he felt an interest in the measures under consideration by the meeting. He said: "The people have labored under a misapprehension that they had anything to say as to the government of this city. The people are given an opportunity to vote for a mayor and city marshal, who have been selected for them. That is all. We have fallen into the habit of putting the entire power in the hands of a few men who can use the laws as they choose. I think the move a timely and good one for Fort Worth. I had read several statements in the papers about Postum Food Coffee my mind was soon made up, and it was in the fall of 1901 that I got a package of Postum, asking my wife to try it. "She said she did not believe it would help her, and so it was laid aside and she suffered all the winter, drinking coffee all the time until about the first of May when she was in terrible distress. TIMBER SUPPLY

A CENTURY'S DECREASE

Ninety-five Per Cent Is the Reduction in One Hundred Years—Skillful Treatment of Timber Lands Is Needed to Prevent Total Destruction

The timber industry of the United States, counting logging, sawmilling and planing, represents a capital of $611,000,000, giving employment to over one million of people and an annual wage of over $100,000,000. The manufactured and the raw product upon the market annually represents $566,000,000.

But this gigantic industry is approaching a crisis. The future lumber supply is a problem of grave features now up before the nation for solution. A few private individuals have been solving the problem for themselves, but the result is only a few acres of forest here and there on the larger southern plantations.

A national bureau of forestry has been established with the idea of planting and preserving the forests on the public domains. To further these ends appropriations have been made, and the work of forest cultivation and preservation has been going on with the government behind. "Thou shalt not" has been stamped upon millions of acres of the public lands within the past three years.

Trained men acquainted with the soils and climates suited to the life of certain forest trees are constantly at work planting, cultivating and mapping out forest reservations for the future timber supply. These are government property, maintained by government patronage, and their future dispositions are solely in the hands of the federal government. The forest acreage under direct government control Jan. 1, 1904, amounted to 63,095,254.

By examination of the map, taking the shaded portions as the acreage and location of the timber supply today, it will be seen that a relatively small area is offered as a possible source of future lumber. This area once extended from the Ohio river to the Atlantic, and southwest to the interior of Texas. Today scarcely 5 per cent of this once vast timber acreage is left. Forty per cent has been destroyed by forest fires, 40 per cent being made into lumber and fuel. The remainder has practically been consumed in clearings.

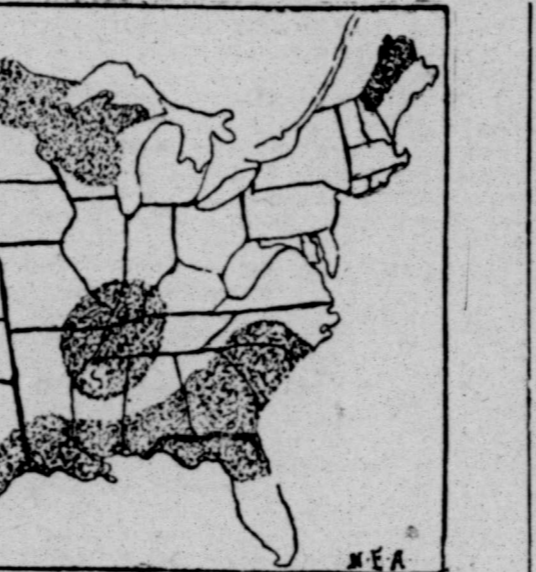

A cup-over 5 per cent remains. The map shows a little space in Maine that supplies much pine and spruce lumber, some oak and maple. On the west borders of the great lakes an area of some magnitude is seen from which most of the lumber supply of the north is drawn. The egg-shaped area between the lakes and gulf represents the probable southern supply of severe oak, poplar and maple. The gulf coast area has a mixed supply of pine, hemlock, oak, hickory, walnut, poplar and woods suitable for shingles and barrel staves. The area in the northwest and along the Pacific coast varies in lumber possibilities all the way from the redwoods of California to the arbutus-like cedars of Washington and Oregon. All classes of lumber is to be found in this region.

Forest fires have done immense damage during the past few years. In 1902 Oregon and Washington had a forest fire that burned over 600,000 acres and destroyed $12,000,000 worth of timber. In 1903 the Adirondacks of New York had a forest fire that destroyed timber to the amount of $3,500,000. Maine had one fire that consumed $1,000,000 worth of timber. Michigan, Wisconsin, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana have been immense sufferers from forest fires, millions of dollars not covering the losses.

So important has become the timber problem that at present there are three technical schools maintained for the purpose of studying forestry. It has become a science. Yale, Harvard, Ann Arbor, the University of Nebraska and numerous other schools have incorporated forestry as an elective course of study, and 45 state institutions have lectures regularly on forestry in the yearly programs.

"Thou shalt not" has been stamped upon millions of acres of the public lands within the past three years.

Trained men acquainted with the soils and climates suited to the life of certain forest trees are constantly at work planting, cultivating and mapping out forest reservations for the future timber supply. These are government property, maintained by government patronage, and their future dispositions are solely in the hands of the federal government. The forest acreage under direct government control Jan. 1, 1904, amounted to 63,095,254.

By examination of the map, taking the shaded portions as the acreage and location of the timber supply today, it will be seen that a relatively small area is offered as a possible source of future lumber. This area once extended from the Ohio river to the Atlantic, and southwest to the interior of Texas. Today scarcely 5 per cent of this once vast timber acreage is left. Forty per cent has been destroyed by forest fires, 40 per cent being made into lumber and fuel. The remainder has practically been consumed in clearings.

A cup-over 5 per cent remains. The map shows a little space in Maine that supplies much pine and spruce lumber, some oak and maple. On the west borders of the great lakes an area of some magnitude is seen from which most of the lumber supply of the north is drawn. The egg-shaped area between the lakes and gulf represents the probable southern supply of severe oak, poplar and maple. The gulf coast

THE BASKET BALL RULES CHANGE THIS MONTH

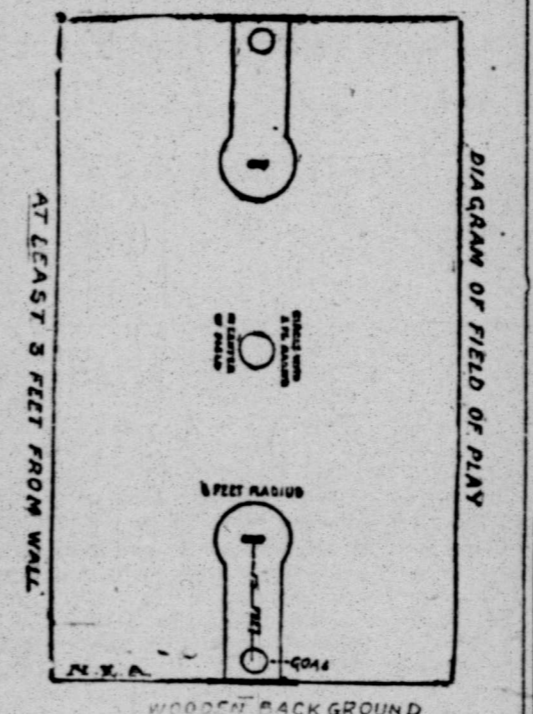

Much Local Interest Among Players of the Game Regarding the Amendments Which Go Into Effect

There is much interest among local basket ball players regarding the changes in the rules.

Up to the present the basket ball rules have been amended each season by additions and omissions in various places. This year, however, the rules have been rearranged, and many rules bear different numbers and are not found in the same successive order. The first new feature is that the rules became effective Nov. 1, 1904. In referring to the basket, the word "basket" is now used in contradistinction to "goal."

The minimum size of playing space (2,400 square feet) is omitted in rule 1, section 1. Rule 3, section 1, requires a background of wood at least three-quarters of an inch thick for the baskets. Screens are no longer permitted. An important, if not the most important, change is rule 11, section 19, prohibiting more than one player of each team from tackling the ball at the same time. A "dribble" is now only counted such when a player advances more than two steps while rolling or bouncing the ball. The rule that in a dribble both hands shall not be used simultaneously more than once is still effective. Under rule 11, section 17, a man is not out of bounds if only one foot is outside. Players may be changed at any time during the game (new rule 11, section 26). Last year's rules as well as the new rules, authorized the referee to award one point to a man fouled by an opponent while trying for goal.

There was some doubt formerly as to whether the team whose player was fouled should also have a free throw for goal. The new rules add that "this shall not interfere with a free throw for goal from foul line," thus making it possible to secure four points on this one play. If while being fouled the player throws the goal two points are scored, one point is awarded by the referee, and the player is allowed an additional free throw for the foul, giving him an opportunity of scoring one point more if he throws the foul goal. Under the old rules, if a player threw a goal from outside and missed the basket the ball went to the center, while under the new rules the ball continues in play.

Under rule 12, sections 1 and 4, the referee is required to promptly disqualify any player using profane or abusive language.

A PROFESSIONAL RIDER DIES NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A wireless telegraph dispatch received here today reported the death of Jimmy Michael, a professional bicycle rider, on board the steamship Lassavote.

FASHIONS FOR THE CHILDREN COPIED FROM MOTHER'S WARDROBE

Big nodding bonnets, tiny short full petticoats, and woolly coats make the wee women of today cunning miniatures of their 1830 sisters. Hats for children of from 4 to 7 are no longer seen, but curly heads and health are protected by velvet bonnets, snugly tied under chubby chins. Big scoop bonnets of velvet are what the small maids are wearing as the wintry days come on, and the wee faces are wonderfully attractive, peering from under a full frimousse of velvet, lined with a delicate shade of silk. These bonnets either match the cloak in color and fabric, or are in decided contrast. The favorite color for the small blond is deep wine red, or a rich brown if her eyes and hair harmonize with that fashionable tone. White velvet, pale blue and rose pink are the colors for the little girls who have different bonnets for different occasions. These are decked with a bunch of tips of the same delicate hue, or a single big nodding rose, placed in the middle of the bonnet. The economical mother wisely chooses black velvet for her small daughter's coat, and buys a bonnet of the same serviceable color and material. Both the coat and bonnet may be lightened by a touch of silk becoming to the little one. Strings of the bonnet's tone or matching the silk are tied under the chin. If the lining is pale blue a huge American beauty rose placed on the left side of the bonnet is attractive and gay, or if the facing is pink, then the same is true of a blushing pink rose. A large white bonnet is becoming to the wee girl. Besides the velvet cloaks for this winter for small people there is a revival of imitation fur. The curly astrakhan lamb is well reproduced in a good woolen material and makes a splendid wearing coat for all occasions. When trimmed with handsome big buttons it is sufficiently dressy to satisfy any child. Ermine is another fur that has been copied into wool, and is charming in little cloaks. Beaver in soft warm brown tones is excellent for a school girl's cloak. For the little girls under 8 these are made to come to the hem of the frock. They are loose and full, resembling in line and form those of the grown-ups, with bagging sleeves and broad round collars.

BETTER THAN SPANKING Spanking does not cure children of urine difficulties. If it did there would be few children that would do it. There is a constitutional cause for this. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 422, Notre Dame, Ind., will send her home treatment to any mother. She asks no money. Write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it.
