FIGHTERS STOP TO BURY SLAIN AT PORT ARTHUR

First Armistice Declared Since War Began Extends Over Period of Six Hours

RUSSIANS IN DANGER

Situation, Since Capture of 203 Metre Hill Admitted to Be Exceedingly Grave

TOKIO, Dec. 3.-The first armistice between combatants at Port Arthur was declared on Dec. 2, for the purpose of burying the dead. It lasted for a period of six hours.

RUSSIA SEEKS STEAMERS ANTWERP, Dec. 3.-Russia is reported to be again seeking steamers to dispatch provisions and ammunition to Vladivostok. It is stated in shipping circles here offers have been made as high as $22.50 per ton, including the risk of capture.

SITUATION NEAR MUKDEN

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 3, 2:30 a. m. -The situation of the armies below Mukden is again attracting attention, but the movements are very puzzling. The war office is inclined to reticence. General Rennenkampff has hotly pursued a Japanese detachment below Sintsintin as far sian scouts have explored the Hun river below Liao Yang. All the passes fell in Rennenkampff's hands. The Japanese apparently falled to show their old-time form, and official as well as unofficial dispatches indicate that the edge has been taken off the Japanese fighting capabilities by the cold weather.

It is the general opinion in military circles that the present situation can not continue much longer, but it is alleged that a frontal attack against fortified positions along Shakhe river is bound to be disastrous to whichever side attempting it. Any serious advance to be successful, it is believed at the war office, must be accompanied by a wide strategic turning movement, as the armies are too close for tactical flanking operations.

Among some of the best informed officials, it is said, suspicion exists that Field Marshal Oyama is trying to work Kuroki around east of Sintsintin with a view to with the object of again trying a desuch a move has yet appeared.

It is believed he can not possibly hold a position so far south as the Taitse river.

FLEET TO MAKE SORTIE

TOKIO, Dec. 3 .- (Noon.) -The general opinion here is that the Port Arthur fleet will attempt to make a sortie when the harbor becomes untenable or when the Russian plans for escape mature. It is evident that most of the ships are badly damaged and unfit for service but some have fighting power. The Russians continue mine clearing operations, manifestly for the purpose of preserving an avenue of escape.

PORT ARTHUR'S FALL NOW THOUGHT AT HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 3.-With confirmation of the news that the Japanese have occupied 203-Meter Hill and the retempted its recapture, officials at the war office are beginning to prepare themselves for the inevitable. Golden Hill and Liaoti Hill are higher and dominate 203-Meter Hill, but the officials say that if the Japanese succeeded in mounting heavy charge exploded and was overcome. # SENSATIONS IN CHADWICK CASE MULTIPLY DAILY

All Sorts of Rumors Circulated Against Cleveland Woman Now in New York

MYSTERY UNEXPLAINED

Solution Expected to Follow Appointment of Receiver for Her Affairs

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.-Complications continue to multiply in the strange case of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, the Cleveland, Ohio, woman whose tangled financial affairs have brought her into note during the past week. From the moment the light of publicity was turned in her direction by the suit of Herbert D. Newton, the Brookline, Mass., man who sought to recover losses aggregating nearly $200,000, every day has added one or more new and sensational features to the case.

Now, with her affairs practically taken out of her hands, through the appointment of a receiver in the Cleveland court yesterday, it seems that the solution of the mysterious affair can not be long deferred. At the same time the rumor continues to be persistently busy and all sorts of reports are rife.

One of the stories was that an attachment on whatever personal property she may have within the city is threatened to dressmaker. A check on the Wade Park Banking Company of Cleveland for $10,-000, which, had been given in part payment of the account had gone to protest, it was said, and when this was learned the creditor at once began arrangements to secure the claim by filing an attachment. That the papers were not served during the night was said to be due only to the fact that the creditor's attorney was not successful in finding a magistrate who could issue the necessary warrant. Another statement made today, but without any official authority, was that part of Mrs. Chadwick's assets consisted of $5,000,000 in notes indorsed by prominent and very wealthy men.

NEWTON SUIT CONTINUED CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 3.-The suit brought by Herbert D. Newton of Brookline, Mass., against Mrs. Cassie Chadwick was again continued by Judge Bab-cock today. Attorneys representing both Mr. Newton and Mrs. Chadwick were in court and requested the hearing to go over for a week. A. E. Stearns of the counsel representing Mr. Newton said the entire matter would be doubtless settled out of court

The estimate of 12,162,000 bales was a surprise, marking by close to a milion, the largest crop yet raised.

Prices fell from 48 to 58 points within a few minutes of reading of the report, representing about $2.50 per bale. Many excited country bankers were on the floor. They had been lending money on the basis of 8 cents and above. January tumbled to 7.88, March to 8.02 and May to 8.04. When slight recoveries from these figures were made in the battle at ringside prices fluctuated so rapidly that long after 11 o'clock the market was still in a highly troubled state.

Only the fact that the ginners' report had indicated a bearish report, enabling the bulls to protect themselves, saved the market from a very much heavier slump.

THE PROMOTION OF COGHLAN Rear Admiral Joseph B. Coghlan, wh

has just succeeded Rear Admiral Frederick Rodgers as commandant of th tain of the Raleigh, when that ship wa a part of Dewey's Manila squadron, Captain Coghlan's hearty performance of the work that fell to him commended him to the American people. In 1899, shortly after the return of the American squadron to home waters, came the regrettable incident of the Union League Club dinner at which Captain Coghlan sang a com version of "Hoch der Kaiser." For this indiscretion he was reduced one point of the lists.

This handleap Captain Coghlan so overcame. Promoted to rear admiral in 1902, last year he was placed in com mand of the Caribbean squadron of the North Atlantic fleet. Since his return from that service he has been assigned to shore duty. Rear Admiral Coghlan is a Kentuckian, having been born in Frankfort just fifty years ago .- From "The World at Large" in the Metropolitan Magazine for December.

THE RED BOOK

"Cavalleria Montaniana," is the name of a clever story which Edward Breck has written for the December Red Book. It relates the experiences which befell Colonel Bill Graywood of Butte, legislator and mining millionaire, when he came in contact with the Earl of Graywood in London, and discovered strange things about the English title and estates. It is a real story with a plot, and more than worth the reading. The illustrations are by Gustavus C. Widney.

"IVAN THE TERRIBLE"

"Ivan the Terrible," by K. Waliszewski whose able work in the biographical and critical field has made his name well known to hundreds of readers through translations, has just been published by J. B. Lippincott Company, in a large octavo volume of over 400 pages, with index. The translator in this case is Lady Mary Loyd and the book is furnished with a portrait of Ivan the Terrible. Mr. Waliszewski devotes himself to Russia in the sixteenth century, to the country, people, political social, and intellectual life, and to habits and customs. He addresses himself directly to the youth of Ivan, touching upon him as the first Russian czar, and following him through the early reforms, the taking of Kazan, the conquest of Livonia, the struggle for the empire of the Baltic, concluding with a consideration of the political and intellectual evolution the Anglomania of Ivan the Terrible, th Polish invasion, and the conquest of Si-There are two chapters on the court of Ivan the Terrible, on his private book is furnished with a bibliography and constitutes one of the most important as well as one of the most entertaining con tributions to the field of biography.

THE WHIMS OF ALEXIEF It appears from a private letter which has reached a Russian from a well-informed compatriot in Mukden the reason of the execration with which the Viceroy Alexeiff is regarded by the Russians in the east is to be found in the absolutely ruthless manner in which he places his personal comfort above the interests of his country.

While the admiral was at Mukden the station master was strictly prohibited from giving the usual signals-which, by the way, are uncommonly loud and nunerous on Russian lines-to indicate the impending departure of the trains. 'the dwelling of the viceroy was in the immediate neighborhood of the station, and the admiral greatly objected to all noises. On another occasion, traffic along the secpended, both for military and freight trains, in order that a special train bearing the viceroy's chiropodist might not be

Judge Reagan says: "By uniting two short connections into one the commission and the railway companies are enabled to make freight passe sover two or more connect ing lines, each may charge its local short line rates, unless prevented by law o authorized regulations. But when such connecting lines are consolidated the cheaper long line rate is applied. It also reduces the number of annual reports of raflway companies, which are to be considered and acted on by the commission and it reduces the labor and expense to the railroad companies by reducing the number of annual reports they are re quired to make, the number of offices number of accounts which must be made, and thus further enables them to cheapen freight rates. And by these means both the patrons of the road and the railway companies are benefited. It must be understood that this applies to continuous ing of freight rates. The making of freight rates under the laws of Texas is stock and bonds of the railroads, and the assumption that they are is improper and

KENTUCKY DISTILLERS AGENTS KANSAS CITY, MO. LOCK BOX 567

NORTH FORT WORTH, Dec. 3 .- A good steady to strong market prevailed in the cattle division today. The supply was large for Saturday, being 1,000 cattle and 1,100 calves, totalling 2,100 head, against ,064 last week Saturday, 596 the first Saturday in November and 230 the corresponding Saturday in 1903.

The supply of steers was small. Of choice fed there was none. Feeders constituted the total. All that were in were wanted at steady to strong figures. Feeder men begin to see money in good steers at $3, which was the best price paid toda; Some feeders sold at $2.50.

The cow supply brought nothing choice The packer demand for canners absorbe the supply at prices prevailing yesterda; unless a load or two, showing a litt flesh, brought a dime more than th same grade on Friday.

Bulls remained steady. The calf supply exceeded the cattle rul but choice vealers were only scattered around. They sold higher than Frida on a market displaying animation.

Hogs were in to the number of 1.00 The quality was mainly of the bacon va riety, very few heavy weights occupying the pens. These latter were in stron demand and bidding opened a nick higher than yesterday. The light so suffered somewhat, being 5c off for th day. Pigs sold steady. Heavy hos brought $4.62\% for the best with a rang of $4.40 to $4.50 for the bulk. Top light sold at $4.40, bulk going at $4.25. Be pigs sold at $4; others at $3.80.

WEEK'S MARKET REVIEW

satisfactory basis than when it opened, healthier tone prevailing in both catt The week's total receipts of cattle will reach 27,526, against 20,811 last week, 17,-

367 the first week in November, and 12, 607 for the corresponding week in 1903. The large run of cattle in the early part of the week developed a downward tren in both steers and cows. This was cor rected later by receipts of a better grad of stuff, both steers and cows. steers, averaging 1,100 pounds, sold at th beginning of the week at $3.40. Abou the same weights called for $3.25 o Wednesday. These were No. 1 feeders The remaining days of the week saw fe cattle coming to the pens, and thes brought $4 on Friday, averaging 1,165 Steers with slightly less feeding sold quarter less. The steer market closed th week stronger on feeders and light killers Cows had a hard time of it in the firs half of the week. The receipts wer enormous, and prices sagged from th start. With the reduction, the packin houses took hold freely, killing near thousand a day each, and so relieved th strain on the market. A betterment is quality began Thursday, and prices ad vanced a dime on thin cows and more or better ones, so that the tone was stronge at the close, and prices better maintained Killing cows are selling around $2.50, wit canners between $1.65 and $2.10. Week' close sees cows 15c higher.

The bull market has remained stead throughout the week. While the supply of calves has been large for the week, the price on choic vealers has remained steady at $4. Other varieties have fluctuated with the supply The week ends with a supply of 1,000 i the pens. This is the largest run since Monday, nevertheless the trade in calves partook of the steady character observ-able in all other sorts of cattle, closing 25c 31.... 96 3.80 higher for the week. Hogs were in good supply for the week, 1.... 100 the pens holding 5,188 against 5,962 the 24.... 114 3.85 week before, 7,004 the first week in November and 3.585 the corresponding week in 1903. The quality has steadily decreased during the week. Monday's market showed hogs averaging 278. Today's best weights were 213. The week's opening price was $4.70. Today's best figures were $4.55. Probably hogs of equal weight and finish with Monday's would, have brought $4.65. The market, therefore. shows a decline of a nickel for the week, with a stronger tone at the close. Sheep have remained steady for the week, with very few sales. TODAY'S RECEIPTS

WAGES High-Priced Workmen in Chicago Will

Suffer Reductions CHICAGO, Dec. 3.-When the plate mill Monday an unusual rearrangement of the workers' wage will be put into effect. Those of the highly paid men will be reduced and the wages of the unskilled men will be raised. The equalizing process, it is expected, will be carired later all through the great plant in South Chicago.

At the shutdown a year ago the pay of all classes of workers was cut, but not in the same proportion. The men receiving large wages lost 30 to 50 per cent and those getting small pay were cut a smaller percentage. Many of the laborers were however, brought down to $1.40 and $1.50 a day. Now they have been informed hey will get $1.85 and $2. Practically all the men whose wages run over $4 a day expect to suffer in the new arrangement.

Appointment of New Assistant City Attorney Postponed for Two Weeks

"The Telegram can announce to the people of Fort Worth that work will comnence on the Rosen street car line on Throckmorton street to Eighth street possibly Monday morning next," was the statement made by Sam Rosen immediately after adjournment of Friday night's meeting of the city council, which finally passed the amended ordinance that has been pending some time before that body. The Rosen street car ordinance was the principal business before the council and before it was finally passed there was

When the proposition was put to a rote every councilman but Alderman Ward voted for it, and his opposition, he said, was based on the fact that the majority of his Second ward constituents wanted the line built on the streets previously mentioned in the ordinance. This was Mr. Ward's only objection to the line's going down Throckmorton street to

Eighth, instead of to Fourth street. Previous to the passage of the amended ordinance two petitions signed by property owners along the two proposed routes were read by the secretary. One was by those who wanted the line to cross on Fourth street and the other by those affected by the crossing on Eighth street. Alderman Waggoman told the council that the committee had given the matter due consideration, but preferred that the eouncil as a whole pass upon the matter Alderman Moreland moved that the mended ordinance be passed. The amendments are of such a nature as not to alter the intent and purpose of the origfnal ordinance, and also provide that Rusk street is to be put in as good condition from Eighth to Fourth as it was before the tracks had been laid.

On Eighth street the drainage would be satisfactory. The vote on the ordinance resulted in its being adopted by 8 to 1. Alderman Ward voted in the negative.

She is thought by Justice Moore and six months after her second visit which will be the theatrical offering at brooding on one subject. However that may be, her melancholy never left her, Dec. 7 and 8.

The United States frigate Pensacola, ordered to Brazil, was getting up anchor. Lieutenant Edward Fletcher and his fiancee, Grace Banning, were standing in a corner of the deck speaking the last hurried parting words. "From all I can learn, sweetheart," be said, "we'll get back here within six months, and when we do"-

"Darling, I tell you I'll be here with the ship, no matter what happens."

There was a signal for visitors to leave the ship, a long impassioned embrace between the lovers, and Miss Banning went ashore. As the vessel moved out she stood on the dock waying to her lover till after she could no longer distinguish him, then turned away and dragged herself home.

On reaching Rio, Lieutenant Fletcher was ordered to command a boat's crew to go ashore and bring off supplies. The passage was not considered dangerous, but a stron; wind and tide, de-At the moment a gigantic wave dashed against her side, capsized her, and the young commander and every man of his crew were drowned.

The shock to Grace Banning at hearing of her lover's death well nigh upset her reason. At first she cried to him piteously to come back to her; that he had promised to come back with the ship. Then she fell into a stupor, a lack of interest in everything about her. In vain her mother endeavored to provide her with such occupation and amusement as would divert her mind. All in vain. She constantly brooded over the last scene between her and her lover, especially the words spoken by each, always ending, Just exactly how the manner should im "Darling, I tell you I'll be here with the ship, no matter what happens."

Mrs. Banning was pained to notice that her daughter was keeping track of the Pensacola. That ship on touchheart was in the ship sailing around sheds of the Northern Texas Traction for it to return that she might again stand in the corner where she had bidden what had proved a last farewell. When the ship reached China she befiled by W. A. Coutant, Virgil Parker and gan to appear more cheerful. It was as if her lover was aboard and, having sailed over half the globe, would now have entered upon the return. Mrs. Banning, not realizing the cause of the change in Grace, began to hope that she was mending and even looked about for a suitable party with whom she might make a match for her. She knew Grace would never marry for love and, being indifferent as to whom she married, might he influenced to take a rich husband.

At last it was announced that the ship Pensacola was due. She did not arrive on time, and Grace seemed troubled. When she arrived Grace was in a flutter, acting as one about to be reunited with a lover instead of with the ship on which he had sailed.

Then came invitations for a ball given by the officers on board the ship. Dec. 5, at Greenwall's opera house, by Mrs. Banning reproved the servant Frederick Warde and Kathryn Kidder, who unwittingly gave the cards to Grace, but was thunderstruck when her daughter told her that she would attend the ball. Finding that she could not dissuade her, the mother consented, with a faint hope that the visit under such different circumstances from the last might break the spell.

On the night of the entertainment the ship was brilliantly illuminated, while a marine band furnished music. The decks were in possession of the dancers. Mrs. Banning kept an eye on her daughter for awhile, but Grace seemed to stand up so well under the strain that her mother soon gave over watching her. Then Grace was missing. She had walked, on the arm of a naval officer, to the corner where she had parted with her lover. That corner was now in the light, and couples were walking past it to and fro.

Suddenly Grace's form quivered, she threw up her arms and exclaimed: "Ned! Oh, Ned! I knew you would be here!" She started forward with outstretched arms, but soon sank in a swoon.

AMUSEMENTS

A George Ade attraction which came here under the name of "Peggy From Paris" left a dark brown taste in the minds of the theater goers, but another one, "The Sultan of Sulu," comes along as the comforting, cooling drink of cracked ice and water, in the "gray dawn of the morning after."
"Peggy From Paris" was heralded as a great thing because weorge Ade was the author, but this proved to be a fable in reality as much as one in slang. But "To you, darling?" he asked anxiousthe "Sultan of Sulu" makes up for it because the "Sultan" is a good thing from beginning to end. In fact it is about one of the best here this season. George Ade made a ten-strike when he arranged this opera so that in the midst of the revelry, peace? No, I'll be here with the ship, dancing, singing and delightful entertainng of the life of the island of Sulu, he arranges that the officers and soldiers wearing the uniform of the United States army should spring to the center of the stage and accomplish at once and in fact the occupation of the far eastern pos-session, where royalty had ruled, where slavery had been followed and where polygamy had been practiced.

The audience is enjoying the singing of the girls, the dancing of the sultan's wives and the kow-towing of the slaves, but when the soldiers come into the midst of all this, the Stars and Stripes are seen the Krag-Jorgensens are levelled, the khaki and the blue are worn, and in the name of the United States of America the conditions change, patriotism asserts itself, and from the throat of every one omes a cheer for the red, white and blue, while the orchestra plays the "Stars and Stripes Forever."

"The company presenting "The Sultan of Sulu" is about the strongest here this season. Thomas Whiffen as the Sultan is spite the oarsmen's efforts to keep the the leading comedian of the play, and boat steady, carried her bow around so throughout the action of the opera his that she fell into the trough of the sea. sayings and his doings provoke the has an excellent make-up, and his mannerisms are those peculiarly his own. He signs in excellent voice, and his enunciation is not only exact, but it carries a humor with it. His song of "R-e-m-o-r-s-e." which is dedicated to an experience of the night before with American cocktails, and is rendered during the "gray dawn of the morning after," makes a big hit, and brought forth much applause last night. Walter A. Lawrence, lieutenant of the regular army, has easily the best voice of those in the supporting company, and his singing of "Hike," with the chorus, of "Engaged in a Sort of Way" with Miss Williams, and "There's Nothing New to Say," was enjoyed to the fullest extent. George O'Donnell, the colonel of volunteers, had the appearance of the proud officer of the army, and sings well, but his speech is rather less entertaining prove, is hard to say, but it might be a iittle different action so that it would not grate harshly. However, he is of excellent material in the support, even with that slight criticism.

Miss Williams, as the typical American ing at Rio received orders to proceed girl, is pretty, well gowned and has a around "the Horn" to San Francisco, sweet voice which charms. There is not thence to Hongkong. Grace watched is sweetness, and it is better to strain the the government reports. Indeed, her ear of the listener and have that strain ness than to strain the voice of the singer and have the coarser tone which would follow. Miss Williams is charming in and out of the lime-light, and but one fault could be found-she does not speak her words as plainly as might be possible. Miss Nellie Nichols is a charming little reature with vivacity and life, and sings beautifully, dancing gracefully. She was a favorite of the audience throughout. Miss May Montford assumed the dignifled poise of a distinguished woman lawyer from America, and really it appeared that the dignity was most natural and omfortable to her.

The chorus is the strongest here this season and not an ugly face or badly proportioned form inthe number. In fact there were so many good looking girls in the crowd that one might believe the ranks of the singers had been recruited in Fort Worth. The costuming of the opera was gorgeous and the setting was grand. The company is giving a matinee this afternoon and will close the engagement

A dul aching pain seated itself in my back, and in spite of plasters and different remedies that I used the trouble still remained. I had read a great deal about Doans Kidney Pills being good for the kidneys and I procured a box. They relieved the difficulty with the kidney secretions and the backache which had annoyed me so much disappeared entirely and up to date there

SHIPPING SHOWS GAIN

Marked Improvement in Business From

American Ports NEW YORK, Dec. 3 .- Marked improve ment has been shown in shipping business from American ports to Europe during the last three weeks, acording to the Journal of Commerce, and the depression which has prevailed for many months is believed by mercantile interests here to have been supplanted. Increasingly active demand for grain accommodation on the regular steamers was the first to attract attention and rates for this class of cargo have in many instances advanced 100 per cent from the merely nominal figures previously cur-

The advances in general cargo rates to Europe have not been as pronounced as the advances in grain rates. Many large steamers which have been laid up for some time are now being
