CHADWICK SAYS HE IS IGNORANT OF WIFE'S DEALS

Overwhelmed by Grief at the Developments in the Case Against His Wife

GOES TO CLEVELAND TODAY

Accompanies Sheriff Barry as Friend and Is Not Placed Under Arrest

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick reached here on the Pretoria this morning and will go to Cleveland on the Pennsylvania railroad this afternoon. He will not be placed under arrest at all, but will go as the guest of Sheriff Edwin D. Barry, who is an old friend. "There was no arrest or even detention," Mr. Barry said.

Dr. Chadwick, who had previously been informed of his indictment and probable arrest, consented to return to Cleveland without formality.

TALKS AFTER ARRIVAL

Dr. Chadwick gave the Associated Press a long interview on his arrival. In reply to questions he said: "I am shocked by the recent turn of events. I am innocent of all the charges against me. I can not believe that the dreadful things printed by the papers are true. I am entirely without information as to the cause, except what I read in papers and what you have been good enough to tell me, so I can say nothing of the awful charges against my wife."

"Oh, this is awful, awful. My life the last few weeks has been a living death. There was no man will ever go through what I have."

"My daughter Mary, poor little darling, I love her with my life. When I recovered from my illness in Paris my financial resources made it necessary for me to travel in a second cabin. I insisted she go in the first, but the noble girl refused and has kept at my side, cheering me in my dark hours of trouble and spending to me more and more what a splendid woman she is."

"Oh, this is a dreadful calamity. I had no idea that such a fate was mine."

"I know little of Mrs. Chadwick's financial affairs and until I find out the details will say nothing."

Dr. Chadwick and the Associated Press dispatch from Cleveland that Mrs. Chadwick had been measured by the Bertillon system. As he finished reading he groaned aloud and as he turned to the correspondent tears rolled down his cheeks. The doctor, already ill and sore at heart, is completely overwhelmed at the revelation and consequent developments.

"That is the last straw," he said, "measuring her in that way. Oh, that I had brought to this."

NEW SENSATION IN FRAUD CASE

U. S. District Attorney for Oregon Is Removed by the President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The president today directed the removal from office of John H. Hall, United States district attorney for Oregon. Mr. Hall has been prosecuting officer for the government in the land fraud cases and his removal is made in connection with them.

DENVER INVESTIGATION TO BE SWEEPING ONE

Court Asks Attorney to Prepare Order Broad Enough to Reach All Fraud and Submit It For Approval

DENVER, Dec. 31.—The court order issued for the opening of Denver ballot boxes in the recent election will be made so broad as to permit the fullest investigation of all sorts in the election. Attorneys for the rival candidates asked the court to make an order such that the investigation might be complete and were invited to present such an order and present it Tuesday morning for approval. A special guard will be placed over the registration books pending the investigation.

Governor Peabody said regarding the court decision: "I am more than pleased to open every ballot box in every box in the state is that not a point in favor of opening the boxes by the supreme court? It takes the matter away from politicians."

"There is confidence among the public in what the supreme court does, and it is through confidence in the state, it will settle every question who is elected. I consider the decision of the court an eminently wise and just one."

WASHINGTON FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—The forecast for the southwest is as follows: Arkansas—Tonight and Sunday increasing cloudiness; probably some rain; warm tonight. Oklahoma and Indian Territory—Tonight and Sunday, unsettled weather with some rain. West Texas—Tonight and Sunday rain.

"PERNICIOUS ACTIVITY" COST HIM HIS JOB

JAS. C. KELLER.

President National Association of Letter Carriers, removed from his position in the Cleveland, Ohio, postoffice by Postmaster General Wynne, for "pernicious activity" in recent campaigns and insubordination. The "pernicious activity" consisted of working to get the salaries of letter carriers raised through certain congressmen, to whom he pledged the support of his organization during election. The insubordination was a refusal to report for work when ordered to do so.

DR. CHADWICK IN NEW YORK: MET BY SHERIFF BARRY

Refuses to Talk on Any Subject, But Trembles When Charge of Forgery Locks Self in Stateroom

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick of Cleveland, who is under indictment in Cleveland with his wife, Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, on a charge of uttering a forgery, reached here today on the steamer Pretoria of the Hamburg-American line.

Dr. Chadwick and his daughter occupied one of the poorer state rooms in the second cabin. An Associated Press reporter met Dr. Chadwick in the cabin and delivered to him some mail for Miss Chadwick.

Dr. Chadwick was reading a newspaper which had been handed him. Upon approaching New York, the Cleveland physician, who had appeared nervous during the voyage, became more nervous and the approach of the Associated Press representative caused him great trepidation.

When asked for an interview Dr. Chadwick exclaimed brusquely: "I decline to talk on any subject."

Later he was informed of his indictment, trembling markedly, Dr. Chadwick said: "I have heard nothing of this matter and will say nothing until I get some authoritative information." He then darted into the cabin of his daughter across the companionway and locked the door and remained in close conference with Miss Chadwick until the arrival of Sheriff Edwin B. Barry of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, who had a warrant for his arrest.

MAY IRWIN OFFERS NAN PATTERSON BAIL

Calls at Tombs in Person and Volunteers to Furnish Bond to Amount of $50,000—Jerome Is Silent

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—May Irwin, the actress, has offered to furnish bail in any amount up to $50,000 for the release of Nan Patterson from the Tombs, where she is now held charged with the murder of Caesar Young.

Miss Irwin called personally at the Tombs prison Friday and left a letter addressed to the former show girl. The announcement followed a few minutes after Miss Irwin went away. When District Attorney Jerome's attention was called to the offer of bail he said he had no statement to make and was not prepared to say what course the prosecution would take.

Miss Patterson's bail before the recent mistrial was $20,000, but after the jury's disagreement she was bound without bail.

NEW YEAR OPENS WELL

New York Reports Cheerful Financial Outlook

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Prices have advanced steadily and substantially during the past week of the year. The money market has been surprisingly easy and hopes are entertained of large investment demand for securities after the turn of the year. The uneasiness due to last month's break in the market has subsided and the rise in prices has brought out scant offerings. News of industrial and business conditions has been uniformly favorable and confidence in the improvement in values of securities has been fostered. The result is a cheerful and hopeful closing of the year in financial circles.

FIREMEN WIN IN THRILLING FIGHT

Spectacular Blaze in Chicago Today Threatens Business District

LOSS WILL REACH $500,000

Walls of Wrecked Buildings Crash Down Through Surrounding Dwellings

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Fire today destroyed a seven-story building on West Van Buren street occupied by the Cash Buyers' Union. The loss is about $500,000. The fire was discovered on the second floor of the building. It spread rapidly and the fire soon assumed large proportions. Fearing the whole district was in danger a second alarm was sent in closely followed by a series of extra calls for additional men and apparatus.

SPREADS QUICKLY

When the fire penetrated to the adjoining building occupied by the Seno Manufacturing Company, a four-story structure, the firemen were ordered to the roofs of adjacent buildings to fight the flames. Within a few minutes the flames wrecked the structure and then spread to Boston Rubber Paint Company.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

With a detonation that was heard for squares an explosion in the basement of the Cash Buyers' Union building tore up the streets and sidewalk, throwing firemen into the air and catching live wires on the Van Buren street electric line down. Fortunately none of the firemen were injured. Crushed down through the frail walls of the structure adjoining, the towering walls of the Peninsular Stove Company and of the Cash Buyers' Union tumbled and collapsed. Series of small explosions followed in the Van Buren street, 146 and 148 West Van Buren street, was occupied like a shell by falling walls.

ESCAPE WITH LIVES

Inmates had been awakened early and escaped to the street, but were unable to save any of their clothing. Stable occupied by Fortune Bros. Brewing Company were gutted. There was a small panic on the Metropolitan Elevated railway when the motorman rushed cars through the smoke and passengers attempted to get out but were held in check by the guards. When the explosion occurred, windows in residences across the street were shattered and chimneys thrown down. Firemen who were in the path of the falling walls escaped death by leaping into a hole that had been dug at the side of the frame building.

POLICE UPHEAVAL IN SAN ANTONIO

City Detective Surrenders Commission and Police Board Orders Investigation Following Indictments

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 31.—Frank Malbaum, a city detective, has surrendered his commission and a rigid investigation has been ordered by the police commission following indictments returned by the grand jury.

Among the indictments is one against Mrs. Maggie Malbaum, wife of Frank Malbaum.

She is charged with swindling under the amount of $50. The charge is the result of the complaint made several weeks ago by Anton Halamaus, a pawnbroker on Commerce street, who told Constable Stevens and District Attorney Bee that fake diamonds had been worked off on him as real ones and that he had loaned an aggregate of $250 on such stones.

A thorough investigation of the police department will be made by the police commission.

INSANITY DEFENSE FOR MRS. CHADWICK

Examinations by Experts Thought to Point to This Line at Trial—Bertillon Measurements Taken

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 31.—It is now believed that a plea of insanity will go set up for Mrs. Chadwick when the cases against her are called for trial.

Dr. C. J. Aldrich, an expert, called to see her Friday, stating that he was acting under instructions for her counsel. By the order of the United States marshal he was refused admittance. Dr. Eysman, superintendent of the Massion state asylum, has also made an examination of the woman.

BRYAN TO MEET HOGG

GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 31.—Hon. William Jennings Bryan is now enjoying a duck hunting expedition along Galveston Bay, accompanied by Colonel W. L. Moody of this city. At the conclusion of the hunting trip he will go directly to Columbia to spend a few hours with ex-Governor Hogg and will then start for Lincoln, Neb., leaving Houston Monday afternoon. Bryan, who is looking in the best of physical condition, in conversation here declared his failure to see anything fatal to the democratic party in the recent defeat. He expressed himself as perfectly satisfied that the bills aimed at a cutting down of the democratic representation in the south would be easily defeated.

JAPANESE HONORING A DEAD HERO

FUNERAL CORTEGE OF AN OFFICER OF THE JAPANESE ARMY PASSING THROUGH THE STREETS OF TOKYO. THE PORTRAIT OF THE DEAD SOLDIER IS BEING BORNE ALOFT IN THE PROCESSION. THIS WAS A FUNERAL OF THIS CHARACTER WHICH ADMIRAL TOGO, ACCORDING TO AN ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH TO THE TELEGRAM, ATTENDED TODAY.

FLOOD IN SUBWAY CHECKED IN TIME

Passengers on Train in New York's Big Tunnel Have

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Quick work by a gang of men with picks and shovels early today prevented a repetition of the flood in the subway which occurred two weeks ago through the bursting of a water main.

A thirty-six-inch pipe burst near One hundred and forty-fifth street and Broadway and threw a stream of water high in the air. In a moment it was pouring into the subway station and a dozen passengers made a timely escape on a train, suffering only a slight wetting. Men were hurried to the scene and succeeded in diverting the flood in another direction by building a dam. Cellars all about were flooded and the water reached a depth of eighteen inches in the street.

About the break the water boiled into a foam as it came from the ground, and then took a course down grade as far as One hundred and thirty-seventh street and toward the Hudson river. Trolley cars were soon filled and traffic along upper Broadway came to a stop. All along in the side streets between One hundred and thirty-seventh and One hundred and fortieth streets, houses on both sides were soon flooded by the thousands of tons of water. Tenants took alarm and began to pack their belongings preparatory to moving out. Many thought it would be unsafe to even remain in their homes and started to leave only to find that the water was too deep to make wading safe. Not a cellar from Broadway to the river was left dry.

Assistance was called from the water department, but on the arrival of the workmen it was found they had no key large enough to shut the gates controlling the main, and it was more than an hour before the water finally stopped flowing.

The entire water supply of the city below Harlem and above Thirty-fourth street, will be affected. The main which broke is one of the two pressure service mains, which supplies the entire section west of Broadway.

BANK OFFICIALS FACE ALTERATION CHARGES

President and Cashier Arrested Because of Raised Figures—Bank Was Closed Following Chadwick Rumor

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 31.—President C. M. Traver and Cashier Little of the First National bank of Conneaut have been arrested by the federal authorities. The cashier is charged with a false entry in the bank books, making the sum of $23,665 read $22,665. President Traver is charged as an accomplice in the transaction.

Both men appeared before the United States commissioner and entered bail in the sum of $10,000 each for appearance next February.

The First National bank of Conneaut closed its doors nearly two weeks ago after a run upon it the preceding day. The bank has a capital stock of $50,000. The cause of the run, the bankers said at the time, was that the report had gained currency that Mrs. Chadwick had succeeded in securing large loans from it. The bank officials deny holding any Chadwick paper.

NEW WIRELESS STATION

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 31.—F. G. McPeak, state manager for the DeForest Wireless Telegraph system, has announced that a larger and more complete station will shortly be erected here, capable of handling long service business. The present equipment here will be shipped to Galveston to fill the contract with the Mallory line, all of whose telegrams will be equipped with wireless instruments.

RIOTS IN POLAND GROW IN EXTENT

Churches Wrecked by Dynamite and Revolutionary

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—A letter to the Lokal Anzeiger from Cracow described an attack recently made with dynamite on the Russian church at Rason, Russian Poland. The church walls and graves were destroyed. Military forces surrounded all public buildings of the place within an hour and a crowd numbering 1,600 people gathered on the scene singing revolutionary songs. A red flag was hoisted and cries were heard of "Long live independent Poland."

Pistols were fired and presently a military force appeared under command of Colonel Belfort, who rushed in a state of intoxication from the officers' club and immediately ordered the troops to fire on the crowd. A workman shot the colonel dead and his adjutants bayoneted the assassin and then brained him with the butts of their rifles.

Many persons were injured, and many arrests made. Order was finally restored toward morning.

At Lodez and other towns troops guard the churches to prevent their desecration.

A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Czestochowa, Russian Poland, where the monument to Emperor Alexander II, was recently destroyed by dynamite, says the ferment there continues and that the police are searching houses at night for anarchists.

WIRED MOTHER; THEN DIED

Young Man Expires From Lung Disease in Smoking Apartment of Sleeping Car

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 31.—After wiring to his mother in New Orleans that he was dying, Burleigh Perkins, a young man of 27 years, lay down in the smoking room of the sleeping car Phenix, running between San Antonio and Houston, yesterday and expired.

The fact of his death was not ascertained until hours afterward. As he was lying naturally as though asleep, the trainmen hesitated to arouse him. Before reaching Houston the fact was ascertained and Justice Matthews met the train at the station.

The young man was a sufferer with an affection of the lungs and had been in Del Rio and San Antonio in the hope of recovery. Thursday night, hopeless of same, he started back to his friends a few miles from Houston he sent the message. It was to the effect that he was rapidly growing weaker and could not live for many hours. Then he reentered the sleeping car and quietly lay down in the smoking compartment. Upon his finger was a signet ring of the Sima Chi fraternity, and from effects in his possession it is stated that the young man was a graduate of Yale College.

His mother lives in New Orleans. His brother is a practicing attorney in the same city. It is probable that they will come to Houston to take charge of the remains.

ROPEERS AT GOLIAD

GOLIAD, Texas, Dec. 31.—The second day's roping contest had nineteen entries. First money, $200, went to Sam Dickens, Beville, time 32 seconds; second money, $75, Will Rutledge, Kernes City, time 37 1/2 seconds; third money, J. M. Pettus, Goliad, time 47 seconds. Freeman Lott, Goliad, roped the steer had to be thrown four times, and was tied in 1 minute and 17 seconds.

MORSE WILLING TO TELL STORY

New York Banker Connected With Dodge Case Now

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Morse of this city, whose matrimonial affairs attracted much attention through the arrest of Charles F. Dodge (Mrs. Morse's former husband) on charges of perjury, are in London, according to a dispatch from that city. Morse, who is a wealthy banker and was formerly president of the American Ice Company, is perfectly willing to return to New York at once, according to his friends, should his lawyer say it is necessary for him to appear before the grand jury in the perjury case of Dodge. Mrs. Morse has already made some affidavits in the case and these are now on the way to New York. In spite of the legal tangle of divorces and annulled decrees the correspondent adds the couple still consider themselves legally wedded.

MOVING BOG CAUSES DAMAGE IN IRELAND

Peculiar Phenomenon Witnessed in County Roscommon—Villagers Narrowly Escape With Their Lives

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Graphic details are being received of the devastation caused by a moving bog in the county of Roscommon, Ireland, says a Herald dispatch from London.

The bog, which is known as the Cloonshever, is three miles from Castlerock. When it began to slide it moved three-quarters of a mile in a few days, covering everything in its way with peat and water to the depth of eight or ten feet.

According to reports from the scene the peasants are surrounded on all sides with miles of bog and water. The inhabitants of Cloonshever, a village in the valley of about fifty-one cottages, barely escaped with their lives, the bog being moved upon them unawares. Many of the peasants' houses have a number of chimneys, wholly disappeared, while all that is to be seen of the others is the chimney tops.

Here and there a leafless tree marks the spot from which well-tilled farms have disappeared practically forever.

At one point there is a lake of ten or twelve acres, which had been formed in the last few days by pent-up mountain streams. Unless some means is speedily adopted to drain off this water it will undermine the entire country.

A letter states that the lake is steadily extending upward toward a number of houses on the rising ground. The lake attached to the holdings has already been covered over by the creeping bog.

NINETY-NINE YEARS FOR WIFE MURDERER

Defendant Who Has Been Subject to Epileptic Attacks, Declares He Had no Knowledge of Committing Crime

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 31.—W. T. Allen, convicted of murdering his wife July 7, 1903, was sentenced to ninety-nine years' imprisonment in the district court Friday. The verdict of the jury fixing the ninety-nine years sentence was reached by the jury two weeks ago. The crime was committed at the home of the son of Allen and his victim, Albert DeClare, that he was beside himself and did not know what he was doing when the crime was committed. He has suffered from epileptic attacks since he was a boy.

TO BUILD COLONY AS CHRIST WOULD

Business Man and Railroad Official Completing Deal for Necessary Land

WILL BE OPENED TO ALL

Projector Now Operates Stores on Christian Lines and Has Small Fortune

MARION, Ind., Dec. 31.—To found a colony as Christ would do it. To build and conduct a city as Christ would do it, is the scheme of A. F. Norton of Marion, who has thirteen department stores in Marion and surrounding towns that he conducts as he says Christ would conduct them. He sells for cash, receiving a small profit, refuses to sell tobacco, cigars or anything that would be an injury to anyone.

Norton has conducted a number of railroad excursions as he thinks Christ would conduct them. He closes all of his stores when he conducts an excursion to some lake or city for a day, taking all of his employees with him. He has also conducted excursions to California, and while taking his party across the continent the officials of the Union Pacific Railroad Company were attracted by his business methods and he was appointed land and passenger agent for the company for Indiana.

EXPLAINS HIS PLANS

Norton has decided to purchase a large tract of land in the state of Washington consisting of many thousands of acres.

When asked about his scheme he talked enthusiastically. He said: "I have been working on the deal for some time and have my plans about completed. I will purchase enough land so that large fertile farms can be sold to members of the colony. I have not decided on the name to be given the town, but have several names in mind. The town will be free from the sale of liquor and tobacco. The deeds for all land will contain a clause making the sale of liquors on the land a forfeiture of title. My colony would not be a success if the sale of intoxicants was permitted. We seek no success as bitter enemies. If a man would succeed he must think of this. The people in my colony must live as they believe Christ would have them live."

When asked what class of people he would invite to live in his colony he said: "I would prefer people who are clean, energetic and liberal-hearted. I would give the downfallen a chance to do and live right. There is hope of saving all. Recently I employed a man who had failed to hold a position with anyone because they believed him to be incompetent and irresponsible. There has been a marked improvement in him. I believe he will prove to be competent and responsible. A man can not fall so low that there is no hope of raising him."

When asked if he would prohibit the use of tobacco in his colony, he said he would not, but that he would encourage the use of it by employing men who did not use it, as he believed a total abstainer was more competent than one who used the weed.

WACO TEAM SELECTED

Majority of the Players Are from Eastern States

WACO, Texas, Dec. 31.—The committee to arrange for complying with the obligations entered into between the State League and the Waco Base Ball Association met yesterday and nearly completed its work. TWO FIREMEN KILLED

Chicago Traction Company - Barns Destroyed—Loss $150,000

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Fire last night completely destroyed the repair barns of the Chicago Union Traction Company at Fortieth and Western avenue, entailing a loss of $150,000.

Two firemen were killed and two others and one spectator were injured by falling walls.

The dead are Captain Paul Dick and John Payne.

The injured are Charles Anderson, fireman, cut on face; Captain P. Miller, fireman, crushed about body; August Kraut, severely hurt about shoulders.

HEAD SPLIT OPEN

Negro Saloon Keeper Found Fatally Wounded in Place of Business

BEAUMONT, Texas, Dec. 31.—Jim Wright, a negro who runs a saloon on Concord road, in the suburbs, was found in his place of business at 4 o'clock this morning with his head split open, apparently with an ax. He died at 10 o'clock this morning.

A negro named Wright, his business partner, and Smith, another negro, have been arrested. Wright was last seen this morning at 1 o'clock. Officers believe he was murdered and robbed. The weapon used had been taken away.

This your head to the left?

Then there's no use trying. It's too late! Nothing in the world can make hair grow on a bald scalp that has been smooth and shiny for years. It's too late! No use trying now!

Or is this yours to the right?

Good. Only look out for dandruff! It leads straight to baldness. But there's use trying now, for Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff, keeps the scalp clean and healthy, and checks falling hair.

FIGHT TO FINISH M'LEAN DECLARES

County Attorney Says He Is Determined Gambling Shall Be Stopped

As announced in Friday's Telegram, a vigorous gambling crusade will mark the New Year in county official circles.

Following the recent orders to close the gambling houses, County Attorney McLean now announces the pool rooms must go, even if it becomes necessary to make separate indictments against each patron laying a wager on a race.

Speaking of the matter he said: "Regardless of whether the room where the race returns are received in this city is a pool room or a room where commissions are accepted on the races, it must—

It shall issue warrants," he continued, "for the arrest of every man who lays a bet on a horse race in this city. Betting on horse races is a violation of the law. I shall continue this work until I have either stopped the practice or have the dockets so burdened with cases that but little time will be left to other cases."

"To be brief, plain, emphatic and unequivocal, laying bets on races in Fort Worth must end shall stop."

"With the Texas laws framed as they are today, the practice is unlawful. The man who violates a law by wagering on the outcome of horse races is just as guilty of an offense as is the man who wagers another man's money and robs him of his wealth or the man who deliberately blows open a vault to obtain what is inside."

"I trust that those who are engaged in this business will look at the matter in a matter-of-fact way and assist me in my intentions. If they don't, we will accomplish the same end, the only difference being that some one may get run over."

ASK CENSUS FOR FARMERS

Congress Will be Petitioned to Supply Periodical Information on World's Consumption of Cotton

Oswald Wilson, secretary of the National Cotton Association, went to Dallas this morning to attend the cotton meeting which convened at the Oriental hotel at 10 o'clock.

It was predicted by Mr. Wilson that the attendance would be quite large, judging from the reports he had previously received from points over the state. Many matters of interest to cotton growers are to be discussed in the meeting. One subject that comes up will be an effort to have the federal government assist the cotton growers in an attempt to arrive at the total demands of the world for the staple and in order to ascertain the cotton consumption of this country. Mr. Wilson will introduce a resolution in the meeting calling on congress to pass a bill making provision for statistical reports on the consumption as well as the production of cotton.

Mr. Wilson says that if the resolution is favorably acted upon by congress such action will greatly facilitate the matter of determining the cotton needs of the world by the producers. He says that of the two reports that of cotton consumption is the most important.

Mr. Wilson, referring to the contention that there is an over production, states there exists a perplexing

THE FINNIGAN BALL

"Finnigan's Ball" played to a small house at Greenwall's opera house last night. The farce is a conglomeration of extracts from World's Fair spectacular productions and Pike Joke Fred Wilson, who had the part of the Widow Garrity was easily the best laugh producer of the cast.

WILLIAM GILLETTE'S "SHERLOCK HOLMES"

It is not to be marvelled at that such an exponent of all that is lofty in stage art, as William Gillette, should have selected such a subject for the theme of his play, built upon Sir Doyle's hero. It was Mr. Gillette who conceived the idea of enlarging upon this strangely fascinating character, so as to make him succumb to the love charms of Alice Faulkner, against whom his services as a detective had been engaged.

"GLITTERING GLORIA"

Messrs. Play and Ryley will offer Miss Dorothy Morton in their latest importation from Wyndham's Theater, London, entitled "Glittering Gloria," at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Jan. 3. The piece was first produced in America at Daly's Theater, New York, and its production here will be identical with that presentation.

"THE WIZARD OF OZ"

"The Wizard of Oz" proves to be about the strongest spectacular attraction that the American stage has known in recent years, and the theater is invariably crowded with delighted youngsters who revel in the grotesquery of the Scarecrow and his partner, the irresistibly funny Tin Woodman. Both of these clever drolls perform prodigies of humor that would alone make the fortune of "The Wizard of Oz."

PAUL GILMORE

Paul Gilmore, who appears in the stellar role of Lord Lumley, otherwise known as "Jack" in Jules Murry's famous production of "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," at Greenwall's opera house on Thursday matinee and night, Jan. 5, is a young actor, who has risen rapidly to the rank of a star. Not quite 30 years of age, he has appeared in the leading roles of some of the most prominent metropolitan successes.

CATTLE MOVEMENT ACTIVE

Much Shipping Now in Progress From West Texas—Heavy Feeding Operations Begun at El Paso

According to reports there is a big demand for West Texas cattle, the center of movement to market from that section of the state is quite heavy just now, while the shipments from other sections of the state seem to be very light. There is said to be a much larger demand than supply for cattle in that section of the state. The shipping season is now in full swing, and the number of cattle fattened for market at El Paso this season. One bunch of 2,000 head is to be placed on feed this winter at El Paso and equally as many at Bisbee. The reason for the increase of shipping is that the cattle are now being fed on alfalfa and other high quality feeds.

NEW LINE IN PANHANDLE

Enthusiastic Meeting of Persons Interested Held in Henrietta. HENRIETTA, Tex., Dec. 31.—Persons interested in the building of the Red River and Southwestern railway held a rousing meeting at the banking house of W. B. Worsham & Company in this city. The line was represented from Abilene to Red River. W. B. Worsham occupied the chair and intimated that the time had arrived to build the road. The country along the line is rapidly filling up and is in a very favorable position to receive the line.

NEW STEAMER LINE

Mobile and Ohio Plans to Touch Mexican Ports. The Mobile and Ohio have under consideration plans for the establishment of a line of passenger and freight steamers to ply between Mobile, Havana and Mexican ports. It is proposed to run the boats in connection with the road and to ford tourists a water route to Mexico, with return privileges by land.

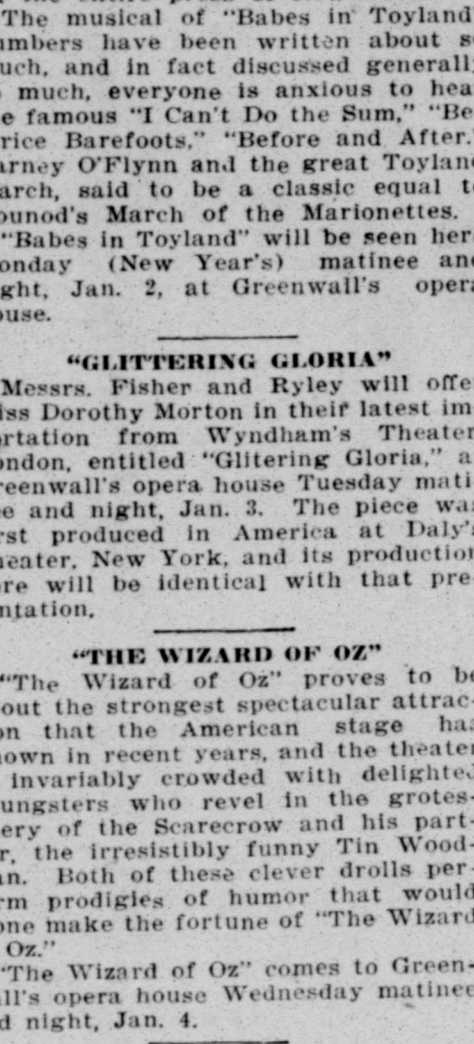

ROCK ISLAND GETS CONTRACT

Will Carry Mail From Chicago to Pacific Coast. The Rock Island Railroad Company has recently secured an important mail-carrying contract from the government over the Santa Fe Company. The contract calls for carrying the transcontinental mails from Chicago and Kansas City via El Paso to the Pacific coast. Heretofore the Santa Fe Company had the monopoly of the mail business between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

Dear Sir: Since I was in the Army, I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power were fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root, and I wrote asking for advice. I began Swamp-Root only a short time, and I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this, I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am,

Very truly yours, I. C. RICHARDSON.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but it promptly cures kidney, liver and bladder troubles, the symptoms of which are—obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, worn-out feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, salivary glandular or Bile duct disease, indigestion, or any other ailment.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—In order to prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Fort Worth Daily Telegram. The genuineness of this offer is guaranteed.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN NAVY YARD DRY DOCK

Incidences Suspected Cause of Two Small Blazes at Sprague Island, Philadelphia—Causes Doubled

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 31.—Hundreds of marines and sailors, buckets in hand, have aided the navy yards fire department and the crew of the government tug Modoc in fighting two small fires of mysterious origin at League Island, sparks from which threatened to destroy the great dry dock in course of construction.

The fires started within an hour of each other on the platform of a towering wooden crane on the bank to the west of the dry dock. The crane, 175 feet high, was saved by a party of marines who climbed up the blazing structure and fought the fire at close range.

Four marines were overcome by smoke and two sailors from the Denver, in their eagerness to reach the scene, fell into the river. They were rescued.

Rear Admiral Diekins, the commandant, probably will appoint a board of inquiry and have a thorough investigation made as to the cause of the fires. The marine guard was at once doubled.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO HOLD MEETING

Stated That Charge of Serious Nature Will Be Made Against Lawyers

Members of the Fort Worth bar are to be considered at the annual meeting of that body Monday morning.

The exact nature of the charges and the persons against whom they are made is not yet disclosed. Judge Hunter, who, as first vice president of the organization, issued the official call, will say that the charges concern unprofessional conduct.

The meeting will be held in the court of civil appeals room at the court house. In addition to the charges, the election of officers for 1935 will be taken up. Judge Tarleton, the president of the association, has removed to Austin to accept a professorship, and a successor will be named.

DR. BACON SAUNDERS BUYS OFFICE BUILDING

Triangular Structure at Ninth and Houston Streets to Be Eventually Replaced by Larger One

Dr. Bacon Saunders has purchased the triangular two-story building at the corner of Ninth and Houston streets formerly owned by John D. Trice of Hopkinsville, Ky., for $18,475.

The building has a frontage of 82 feet 6 inches on Houston and comprises three storerooms. The greatest depth at any one point is eighty feet, gradually coming to a point at the intersection of Ninth and Houston streets and Jennings avenue. Dr. Saunders states that he hopes eventually to replace the structure with a large modern building, but that he has no plans of that sort for the present.

RUSSIANS REFUSE TO BELIEVE ALLIANCE

Alleged Plan to Unite England and America Treated as Rumor to Strengthen Japan and Alarm Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 31.—Russian papers are beginning to discuss British continental reports of the alleged Anglo-American alliance, but consider they have not any solid foundation, as they represent more British anxiety to have it appear that such an alliance is in prospect than the deliberate purpose of the United States to abandon her traditional policy.

The Gazette declares the commercial rivalry between the two countries renders a lasting agreement impossible, but the papers say it may be that a temporary truce is being sought as an alliance for political purposes to strengthen Japan and intimidate Russia.

It is said that the European press seems to have taken the matter seriously and become alarmed, but that Russians will not be intimidated. The paper remarks: "It is a touching sight to see Jonathan stretching across the sea to John Bull, both indulging in mephistophelian laughter which seems to have escaped European observers."

THE PROPER SPIRIT

There are many people in the north and east who affect to believe that it is impossible for the negro to get justice in the south. That down in certain sections of the country it is fashionable to barbecue a negro just for the pleasure of seeing him squirm, and that various forms of devilry are practiced of which the negro is the victim, without any attempt being made to give him the benefit of the protection that is guaranteed him under the laws of the state in which he resides. The state of Mississippi has been often held up as a shining example of negro oppression, and the mobs that have operated in that state since the days of reconstruction have been used in the north and east to incite sectional animosity and keep aflame the fires of hate. But even in Mississippi a new leaf has been turned over and the mob spirit has received a set back from which it will never recover.

In Lincoln county there has been a great deal of what has been designated as whitecapping, and the court has undertaken the work of suppressing the operators. A number of the malefactors have been tried, convicted and sent to the penitentiary. There are 300 of these cases on the docket, and Judge Wilkinson, who is presiding, has kept the grand jury and the court busy for several weeks, the court holding that every man charged with writing notices to negroes to leave the country, shooting into their houses or in any way interfering with them should stand trial. Lining up the accused, the judge read them a lecture, telling them they would have to go to trial on the law and evidence. "If guilty, you will get full penalty; if it makes every woman a widow in Lincoln county," said the judge. "Whitecapping in Lincoln county," he continued, "must stop. This present experience is just a little chastisement, but the next time we are going to bust the hide." Turning to the accused, who were members of the Farmers' League, he continued:

"Every man who meets at night in the woods beside the road, whether he takes an obligation or not, violates the law. The assembly is unlawful, the place is unlawful. A man is not a white man who takes the oath of the whitecappers' organization. His skin may be white, but his heart is black. But not every man who went into the league has a black heart. Many of you are sorry. A lot of you have said so, and nobody will ever again get you into any organization that can not meet in broad day, in the court house or in a church. A man who takes this Farmers' League obligation violates his oath as a citizen. Colored people are entitled to the protection of the law, but this does not mean that they shall be other than negroes. Work, pay your debts do not be saucy or impudent, mind your own business, and you will be all right. Do not get biggity because we are sending some white men to the state penitentiary for killing a negro. The bad effect of this whitecap business is on the life of every man who has joined. If you should take a negro out and shoot or hang him it would not make much difference, if it stopped there. The negro who is shot or hanged is in a heap better fix than the man who does the deed. Death is soon over, so far as the mortal part is concerned, but the perpetrator goes along with a black conscience and a seared heart to eke out a miserable existence. There is no way on earth to remove the scar. I want Lincoln county's school teachers to quit coming up here to draw their salaries unless they can give me good characters of the children in their charge. And now as a representative of the law and not with any intent to threaten, nor with any bragado, but as a fact, I say to you who have been concerned in this whitecapping, that you have got to quit. Not 'will you quit?' please quit, but 'you have got to quit.' The Lord help you to quit."

This energetic action was followed by three penitentiary convictions, one for life, one for fifty years and the other for twenty-five years, and shows what the courts can do in the suppression of lawlessness when they go about it in the proper manner. Mob law, which is an outrage upon law and order, can be prevented in all cases, except in certain extreme occurrences, if the courts of the country will but undertake the enforcement of the law in a fearless and absolutely impartial manner. It is the uncertainty and delay in the application of the law that thoroughly arouses the mob spirit. When an outraged and enraged populace knows that the victim of its anger is to be speedily tried and adequately punished according to the heinousness of the offense, there is no sane man who desires to take the enforcement of the law into his own hands and have the blood of the victim laid to his door.

The thing for the courts to do is to afford speedy trials and thereby remove the ordinary incentive for mob violence. And while they are guaranteeing the negro the fullest measure of safety within their province, they should also guarantee the populace that no guilty negro shall escape the full penalty of any infraction of the law. Make the law feared and respected by both white and black, and the problem will be very nearly solved. It will be solved so far as the whitecapping and kindred devilry is concerned, and the anger of the people will vent itself in extreme cases—in such cases as the guilty one knows the penalty is death before he commits the crime. In those cases it were idle to attempt to curb public resentment, for the outraged public will continue to constitute itself court, jury and executioner. But in other cases it is different, and the action of this Mississippi judge will have a most salutary effect if generally emulated.

Let us have an end to mob rule in the south. Let us inculcate and enforce a proper and wholesome respect for the majesty of the law—not of such a nature as will protect the negro in his race, but such as will cause him to be as apprehensive of its violation as are the men who have been too prone to take the enforcement of the law into their own hands.

It is said that F. W. Seabury of Brownsville has a catch on election as speaker of the next lower house of the state legislature. It is to be hoped that he will provide the honorable body with such a force of competent help as will obviate the distressing errors that have crept into previous sessions of the body. Qualification and not political pull should be the guide in all legislative appointments.

Indianapolis Masons have just made Senator Fairbanks a master Mason by administering the three degrees in one day. It is surprising that the senator should be in such haste to ride the goat through all the cities at one time, when so much of his life had been spent without the benefits of the order.

The telegraph companies doing business in this city could adopt no more suitable method of celebrating the New Year than by putting on a corps of boys as messengers. Girl messengers may be able to do the work all right, but it is not proper and suitable work for little girls.

The action of the supreme court of the state of Colorado in ordering the opening and investigation of every ballot box used in the city of Denver in the recent election, will be applauded by fair-minded men everywhere. If there has been any let all the facts be known and the guilt fastened where it legitimately belongs.

Secretary of the Navy Paul Morton is again rumored to be on the verge of resigning from the cabinet. He gave up a railway job that paid him the sum of $25,000 per annum for his present one, which only pays about one-third that sum, and for that reason no doubt it is believed he will soon return to railroading.

In a few days now we will know what Governor Lanham intends to say to the state legislature. He should not consume all the space in a dissertation on the treasury deficit, but should squeeze in a few remarks on the free pass evil and nepotism.

Senator Ekins of West Virginia agrees with the president on the proposition that the railway rate question should be speedily settled, but is not in favor of clothing the interstate commerce commission with the desired power. None of the railway senators are.

Wealthy citizens of West Virginia have offered to furnish bail for San Patterson, the Florida girl charged with the killing of Caesar Young, and state publicly that the offer is induced by their belief in her innocence. DR. ADLER, DR. PARKHURST AND DR. SAVAGE ON ABBOTT'S SERMON

By Marlen E. Pew Staff Correspondence of the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The idea of God being an "Intelligent Energy," as enunciated by Dr. Abbott measures up generally to the belief of the day as held by the more advanced preachers, notably those outside of any particular denominationalism. In fact, it is very nearly exactly that of the men without a set creed, the men who have gone beyond their ordination in any one set of working religious principles of their own.

Perhaps the most representative of these preachers is Felix Adler, Ph. D., L. L. D., at the present time leader of the society for ethical culture—a body whose congregations in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Brooklyn and others of the smaller cities number well up in the thousands—a singularly appropriate commentary and parallel of the recently announced views of Dr. Abbott.

Dr. Adler is the successor of the little religious cult established in New York by Brooks Frothingham, who, like Dr. Abbott, broke away from the Congregationalist fold. Dr. Adler's views have been until today he is the most conservative leader of agnosticism in this country, practically the only one of the agnostics, in fact, who has assumed a somewhat codified creed.

God as the Unknown Cause, instead of as the Intelligent Energy, is a stumbling block to the agnostic. Dr. Adler is understood to mean that what he terms the Unknown Cause, from which all things proceed, is ever present, as Dr. Abbott declares his Intelligent Energy is.

In many points, the religious idea of Dr. Abbott bears a striking similarity to that of the Unitarians, a sect of the Church of the Messiah, best representing this portion of the denomination—Dr. Abbott's Harvard address, according to their profession, did not even create the stir that disturbed the rest of the clergy generally.

Dr. Savage, who has a habit himself of now and then startling the religious world with a new religious point of view, as, for instance, that every mother is a Madonna, and the birth of every child is a virgin birth, spoken in his Christmas sermon this week, has scant praise for Dr. Abbott, indeed, he says, is not even a pioneer, but has followed in others' footsteps.

"We Unitarians," said Dr. Savage, when asked for some comment upon the Abbott sermon, "have been preaching just the sort of thing that Dr. Abbott gave forth to the students at Harvard university."

"The peculiar thing is that what we have been preaching has in no sense been taken as a new religious thought, either by those within the Unitarian fold or those outside—has not been so looked upon now for many years. Yet, strangely enough, when some one else happens along and says the selfsame thing we have already been speaking from our pulpits, the public somehow claims the thing as wholly new."

"Dr. Abbott is only one of the many who are taking the ground that we have held now for many years." "The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian church, over the prominence Dr. Abbott gave to the theory of evolution in his Cambridge address, Dr. Parkhurst was found looking through the Abbott sermon in the study of his home at 133 East Thirty-Fifth street. He characterized briefly the inference from Dr. Abbott's sermon that the evolution theory was to be considered as having superseded the idea of the creation.

"It is stupid," said Dr. Parkhurst, "to speak of evolution as a principal force underlying the manifestation of nature. There must have been something from which to unfold—something that made evolution possible."

Others of the clergymen more or less identified with advanced thought in religion are quite in sympathy with Dr. Abbott and his latest religious pronouncement.

Gleanings From the Exchanges

When the farmers pay 10 per cent interest on the advances on their cotton and pay the charge of 25 cents a month for storage and hold the same for a year in order to get the difference that is figured will come in with a shorter crop, where does the cotton raiser make himself good? He pays about $5 a bale per annum this way, not rating his insurance, and has all the uncertainties of the situation to meet. It is no doubt a good thing for the man who advances the money, but is it a dazzling proposition for the farmer himself. That is the what.—San Antonio Light.

The farmer is up against it in the cotton for the farmer himself? That is the what, turn events now take. It is an unfortunate condition, but it now seems that no relief is in sight.

If the farmers had sold their cotton when they gathered it there would be plenty of money in the country and some to spare for Christmas. The price was then 10 or 11 cents.—Mineral Wells Index.

But the farmers listened to the advice of those who thought they saw an opportunity to force cotton perhaps beyond its real value, and as a result they have lost very heavily. Common sense should always teach a man that the best time to sell an article is when it commands an almost sure depreciation in value.

The fact that the cities of Texas are full of all kinds of robbers, thugs and hold-up men and that the police are driving them on as fast as they can locate them should cause extra diligence in the smaller towns. A man who is too mean to live in Dallas has no right to exist anywhere.—Brownwood Bulletin.

It would seem that the smaller cities of Texas are on to Dallas and are preparing to give the forced emigrants from that town a warm reception. The Bulletin is right. A man who is too mean to live in Dallas is not fit to live anywhere.

Our packing houses in Texas are complaining of lack of hogs for slaughtering purposes. If it should occur to the packeries to wipe out a part of the difference between the price paid for hogs and the price demanded for hog products—should the packeries stumble onto this idea, they'll be surprised at the rapidity of the increase of hog receipts.—Bonham Favorite.

READY TO START AT HOT SPRINGS

Essex Park Improvements Are Completed at Cost of More Than $100,000

HOT SPRINGS, Dec. 31.—A week from today the Hot Springs winter racing season of ten weeks will open at Essex Park, and it will be a very different looking race course from what its patrons made farewell to nine months ago, when the inaugural race meeting among the Ozark hills came to a close and was pronounced a success. Instead of a hurriedly constructed, make-shift layout, the new Essex Park is a modern, well appointed and thoroughly equipped racing plant surpassing many a one located near a much larger center of population. Almost everything about it is new, or else an improvement on what was in use last winter, and it will open on Jan. 7, a practically new race course. A lot of finishing up and straightening out remains to be done, but Owner William Shannon says his race track will be in apple pie order for the opening of the season.

"This is the second time I have superintended the construction of Essex Park race course," remarked Humphrey Devereaux, president of the Hot Springs Jockey Club, standing in front of the paddock today and contemplating with evident satisfaction the whole scene from the new thirty thousand gallon water tank eighty feet up in the air, away beyond the $25,000 club house to the new stables at the head of the Ozark chute, over which the opening race of the meeting will be run by a field of two-year-old fillies in a three furlong straightway dash.

"This is the second time I have built Essex Park," repeated Mr. Devereaux, who has enjoyed a highly successful career as a civil engineer, "but it has been a very different job this time to what it was a year ago, and it does not look like the same place." When President Devereaux pushed through the construction of Essex Park as it was a year ago he found a white elephant on his hands. He had fulfilled his contract and done as good a job as he could at the figure, but the promoters were unable to make good. He had to take over the plant, put up some more of his own money, and run off the meeting as best he could. He woke up one morning to find himself in a humble way one of the racing magnates of the middle west. It was a new game for him, but he went through with it, and in spite of getting the worst of it here and there he cleared $11,000 on the little meeting of twenty-one days. Having achieved that much success, he drew a long breath and looked about him. Pretty soon William T. Shannon stepped in and bought the bulk of the stock in the Hot Springs Jockey Club, and at once he began to form plans for making an up-to-date racing plant out of the merry-go-round. The new Essex Park is the result, and these two good reasons to survey their property completed all their plans. But they have done all the practical work necessary to thoroughly equip a modern race track, and the embellishments and beautifying, the landscape gardening, lawns and fountains will come before next winter.

The rebuilding of Essex Park has cost William Shannon $105,000 since he purchased a controlling interest last spring. Also it has consumed eight months of Humphrey Devereaux's time and received the benefit of all his civil engineering knowledge and skill. To tell all that has been accomplished would be to describe in detail the creation of an American race course. Here are some of the chief improvements: New club house $25,000 Enlarging and remodeling grandstand 15,000 Rebuilding and widening mile track, and constructing Ozark chute and Stadium course 15,000 New stables, kitchens, work-shops, etc. 14,000 New water system throughout Essex Park 11,000 Extending drainage and sewerage system 8,000 The new paddock 6,000 Among the other improvements and innovations are a new judge's stand, a new timer's stand, Shannon's electrical apparatus for announcing results of races in three places at once, a new combination of the board, two thousand new chairs, new plumbing everywhere, new booths for the ring, new fencing around the park, new gates, and a host of other things.

The new water system includes two gravel reservoirs, through which the water passes before it is pumped up into the $2,200 tank that is perched away up in the air near the head of the Stadium course. The new track is ten feet wider on the turns and fifty feet wider on the back stretch. It will be fast and safe. The railroads are making thorough preparations for handling the crowds. It is announced the special trains will run to the track in ten minutes.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the city engineer, until 3 o'clock p. m., on Friday, Jan. 6, 1905, and then publicly opened, for the construction of two brick school buildings, one for the Fifth ward and one for the Eighth ward of Fort Worth, Texas. Plans and specifications for the work are on file in the city engineer's office, and at the office of S. Wemyss Smith, architect, "huddle building." Certified check, $1,000, payable to Thos. J. Powell, mayor, must accompany the bid. The city reserves the right to reject any or all bids. THOS. J. POWELL, Mayor. JOHN B. HAWLEY, City Engineer. Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 29, 1904.

MEXICAN AMBASSADOR TO BE TWICE HONORED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31.—David E. Thompson of Nebraska, now minister to Brazil, will about Sept. 1 be transferred as ambassador to Mexico, succeeding Edwin H. Conger, who soon will go from China to Mexico. It is understood to be Mr. Conger's intention to resign after about six months' service at his new post, and become a candidate for governor of Iowa. Frank H. Maceon, now consul general to Berlin, will succeed John K. Gowdy as consul general to Paris and John Lewis Griffith of Indianapolis, Ind., will succeed Mr. Maceon at Berlin.

JAS. J. CORBETT TO PLAY HAMLET

Has a Hunch He Can Do the Melancholy Dane to Astonishment of "Wise" Ones

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 31.—James J. Corbett, the man who plucked the laurel wreath from the head of the militant John L. Sullivan, will play Hamlet. The former champion has taken to the stage seriously and in a short time the bill boards will be flashing forth the announcement that the former champion will enact the part of the melancholy Dane. Hereafter "Gentleman Jim" will not be a pugilist-actor. He will be an actor-pugilist. Mr. Corbett is an original gentleman. He does not believe in doing things as they are usually done. For example, he graduated into the championship from behind the wicket of a bank window. Theatrical fame has not been usually attained through the prize ring, but Mr. Corbett modestly believes he is equal to the occasion. The actor-pugilist has not thought out the details of his presentation of Hamlet. He is working out his creation now. However, he may be relied upon to give an original conception of the character which will make Booth and Mansfield look to their laurels. The former champion says he still has his punch. He trains every summer, and when Laertes gets gay in the Corbett presentation of Hamlet that gentleman may be expected to get a left hook in the jaw which will convince him that fencing is out-of-date exercise, and what he will do his royal father is liable to set his Danish majesty back quite a ways. ANTI-TRUST SUITS DISMISSED BY COURT

Proceedings Begun in Montana Against Packing Houses and Harvester Company Beyond Jurisdiction

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 31.—The state supreme court has dismissed the proceedings begun by Attorney General Donovan against the International Harvester Company and four Chicago packing houses to restrain them from carrying on business in the state on the ground that they were violating the anti-trust law of Montana. Counsel for the companies contended that the court lacked jurisdiction, and the court sustained this contention.

DISCOVER RELATIONSHIP

One Stolen by Mexican Bandits Twenty-nine Years Ago While Living in Texas

CLEVELAND, Okla., Dec. 31.—Two men, each seeing in the other something that suggested a former acquaintance, stopped in the street near the First National bank building here and one said: "It seems to me that I ought to know you." "That's just what I was thinking about you," replied the other in broken English. "My name is Simmons," said the first speaker. "And so is mine," was the reply. The two men made the surprising discovery that they were brothers who had never seen each other. They were Paul Simmons and Otto Simmons, sons of I. F. Simmons of Stroud, Okla. Twenty-nine years ago the Simmons family was living at the foot of Jim Ned mountain in Jack county, Texas. Mr. Simmons was in charge of a large ranch and spent most of his time on the herd line. One day a crowd of Mexican desperadoes known as the "Eagle Chiefs" came to the ranch in Mr. Simmons's absence. Mrs. Simmons was at the spring getting a pail of water, and there was nobody in sight except Paul, a boy of 7. The desperadoes took the boy and got away before they were discovered. They carried the boy with them to Mexico, and there placed him in care of an old man, who reared him. The boy was trained to Mexican customs, and when old enough to work was used as a servant. Paul

MAN RISKS LIFE TO GAIN LIBERTY

City Prisoner Leaps in Front of Moving Car in Effort to Effect Escape

Louis Tobasco, a city prisoner, hurled himself under an Interurban car Friday evening in a second desperate attempt to escape from the officers. The prisoner had apparently hoped to land on the fender of the rapidly moving car and in this way gain his liberty, but falling short in the leap, his body fell under the car. He was dragged several rods before the car could be stopped and received a broken arm, several dislocated ribs and severe cuts and bruises. Tobasco, wearing an iron pick clamped around his ankle, was in an open wagon with other prisoners being brought back to the calaboose for the night after a day's work on the streets. As the big Interurban car came along Front street near the car barn, moving at a rate of about fifteen miles an hour, he stood up in the wagon and before the guards could interfere dived headlong at the front of the car. It was at first thought he was attempting to kill himself, but his efforts to retain his hold on the fender showed his true purpose. In falling under the car he was struck by the air brake, causing his principal injuries. Toonaco, who is working out a vagrancy fine of $8.95, made another attempt to escape the evening before, breaking into a run as the prisoners were being returned to the calaboose. After a hot race he was recaptured at Ninth and Cherry streets.

CELLA DENIES RUMOR

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 31.—Louis Cella, one of the largest factors in the local racing syndicate, which controls the tracks sanctioned by the Western Jockey Club, said last night that Mr. Lambert did not in any way act for the syndicate in the purchase of the Union Jockey Club property. "My understanding is that Mr. Lambert intends to hold harness meetings and that he has been acting throughout with this in view."

STUNNING NEW STYLES FOR 1905

MANY GLEVER IDEAS THAT CAN BE ADAPTED BY THE HOME DRESS-MAKER

COSTUME DESIGNS FROM PHILIPSBORN & CO HAT STYLES FROM JAMES MCGREERY & CO. NEW YORK.

SIMPLICITY OF THE NEW FASHIONS

The fashions of the long ago are the ones that the fashion-wise have decided will rule in the new year. That makes its bow next week.

But those styles of the long ago have been taken in hand by Madame La Mode, and she has given to them just that fascinating little touch of modernity, that subtle something that brings them right up to our own day and our own time, which she alone knows so well how to do. Just in what her magic touch consists, or just how it is manifested, even the cleverest of her devotees cannot always explain. But there it is and we all of us recognize it, although for the life of us we could not put a finger on any one spot and say, "Here it is!"

While there be those who say that fashions are only for the rich, the opening of the new year and the first exhibition of the new styles will speedily and emphatically contradict this envious cry, for never have style and economy run hand in hand as they are going to in the days that are just to come.

Indeed, fashion and a visible economy are declared enemies, but in the new order of things this is to be reversed, and the fashions, while they will demand a liberal allowance of materials for their exploitation, are of such a line and character that the home dressmaker—be she professional or amateur—can turn out a stunning frock, right up to the moment in the matter of style.

Nowadays it is quite a fad among the society leaders, and especially so among the younger set, to be able to design original and individual styles for their own frocks and wraps and other wardrobe possessions. With all of the other quaint revivals in fashions the cult of the needle—and this for practical rather than for fanciful purposes—is encouraged, and many a millionaire belle displays with pride the lingerie blouse with its intricate needlework that she has made all herself, entirely unassisted by dressmaker or seamstress.

So the girl who sews is following the fashionable fad this year; and she might just as well put in her time making some one or another of the fascinating party frocks that are displayed on this page. They have all of them been selected with especial reference to their reproduction by the amateur, and with a goodly stock of patience and perseverance, combined with a little know-how, she can have two gowns, at least, for what one otherwise cost her.

Those who study the changing phases of fashion have discovered that the waist line is now the important point in the costume, that the fit of both corsage and skirt must be correct, and that the dainty curves of the figure are sharply silhouetted in the new styles. The first move will be to get waist and skirt foundation things cut to measure, and this can be obtained from any good dressmaker for a small sum. Featherbones are run into the waist on the machine in a few minutes, and the latest productions show an extra line of bones between the seams, this to hold the deep crush girdle snugly to the figure, so that every fascinating curve and line is made the most of. A mere trifle, this little item, but it is one that originates from Paris and makes for a stunning style when correctly carried out.

The skirt cut, too, is different from what it used to be; and here is where several of the secrets of the great French couturiers who make the fashions will come into play for the amateur. No matter what the outer material of her party frock may be, she should manage to have a silk or a satin foundation skirt. For evening wear, when she can have but one, white is far and away the best selection. This is gored to fit over the hips with not even a dart, so smooth must it lie. The gored part extends to below the knee, where the circular flounce appears. Here is where the Paquin flounce comes into play, and it is seen at its best made from a featherweight haircloth, woven just to the correct curve, so that there is no superfluous fullness. This is used as an interlining, and the foundation skirt, drop skirt, petticoat, or whatever you wish to call it, is finished in the usual way with a velvet binding.

The foundation attained—and this is the most important part—then comes the task of making the outer frock. Here handwork is the correct thing, although the oscillating stitch of the sewing machine may be used for the less conspicuous parts. The shoulder is much shorter than it used to be, the sleeve has all of the fullness above the elbow, and the latest Parisian fancy of the moment is for the half sleeve. When the girl has a pretty dimpled elbow then she wisely cuts her sleeve to display it; otherwise the sleeve comes over the bend of the elbow, and has a more or less full and long ruffle for a finish, according to the size and shape of the arm. A plump arm looks best in a full ruffle, while the slender arm makes a more shapely appearance gleaming forth from a somewhat scanty ruffle.

All of the filmy nets, the silk gauzes and organzies, the sheer and shimmery crepe de chine, and the novel radium silk are offered at prices which bring them well within the purse of average size. But it must be remembered that with the vogue of the voluminous modes the quantity of material must be increased. In the double width organza crepe eight yards will be necessary, and the same of the yard and a quarter wide nets and malines; while in the single width goods sixteen yards of plain and eighteen yards of figured material will be necessary. In all of those sheer goods any scantiness of material or any scrimping of the necessary fullness will result in dire failure, and the style had better not be attempted at all unless it is generously carried out.

While the transparent yoke is graciously merciful to the girl with a skinny neck and bony shoulders, the girl who can wear a décolletage with good effect would better take advantage of her opportunities, for all the latest importations from Paris display a décolletage that slips off the shoulders, but is drawn modestly high. Indeed, a perfectly straight line is the correct one across the chest.

The wearing of a hat with a decolette gown is a piquant style that first originated with an American girl. She wore it when she went to Europe, and the Parisiennes and the Londoners took it up with enthusiasm. Over there the vogue of restaurant dining is countenanced by the leaders of the haut monde, and dinner at some one or another of the fashionable restaurants is counted among Madame's and Mademoiselle's most successful appearances during each week, and is noted in the society columns as such.

Gloves are taking to themselves new manner of wearing and importance. With the elbow sleeve that is the correct thing for afternoon as well as for evening wear the mousquetaire glove is the correct thing. Luckily for the girl to whom expense is an important item, Dame Fashion declares that these must be of glace kid rather than the more delicate suede ones, and their lease of respectability is far longer. Quite a vogue has arisen for the pale lavender glove, just the very faintest tint, one that cannot sometimes be distinguished from a pearl color. These are worn with white and cream gowns, but when pink or red enters into the trimming scheme, then the smart lavender tint must be foregone, and either a white or mauve-glove worn instead. The long black glace kid is worn with all sorts of costumes, and promises to become quite a fad ere long. Another point where economy and style will combine. Of course fans and fan chains are part of the party costume; and here is where individual taste will rule. The fan chains are being shown in delightfully artistic designs at a comparatively small cost, all of the Byzantine effects copies of Cellini metal work, early Italian-wrought metals and other artistic sources of inspiration are obtainable today for a sum that makes one stare when the source of the design is considered.

As for the fans themselves, any airy trifle is in good style. There are large fans and small fans, and fans of intermediate and often indeterminate style. There are dainty little flower fans that may be purchased for fifty cents; and there are huge ostrich feather affairs, mounted upon carved pearl and amber and ivory, the cost of which will run up into three figures. And the best of it is that the one is just as fashionable as the other.

For the girl under twenty-five (by the way, do they ever get any older and remain girls?) simplicity is the keynote, and inexpensiveness the rule. Elaboration of any kind is not considered in good taste for her, that is all of it left to the matrons. For her are the girlish sashes that are made with a long featherbone in the center to effect the long, straight front, and the sash tied in rather short loops in the back, the ends hanging to pretty nearly the edge of the skirt.

And for her, too, is the all-around length skirt, and especially for dancing. The older members of society may wear a train, but none of it for her; she considers it the property of her elders.

THE XXTH CENTURY SEWING MACHINE

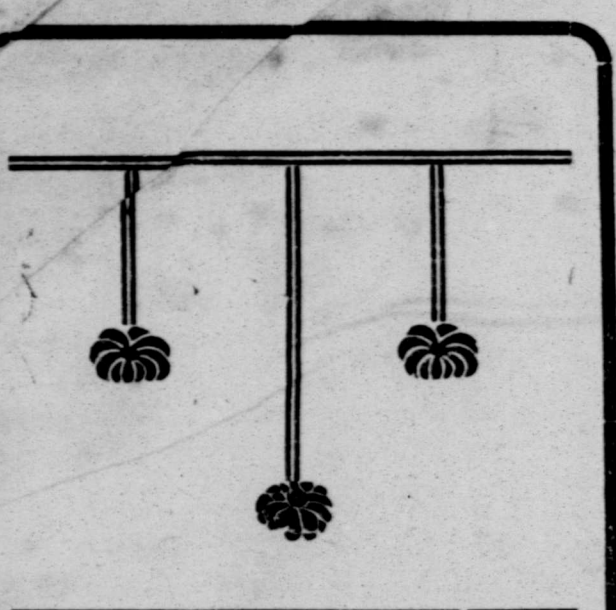

¶ The highest type of FAMILY SEWING MACHINE—the embodiment of SIMPLICITY and UTILITY—the ACME of CONVENIENCE.

¶ We have already referred to one of its many valuable and unique features—THE AUTOMATIC TENSION RELEASER. A word now concerning another strong point—THE NEEDLE BAR. This is only half the usual length. Think what that means!—reduction of weight and increased ease of motion, contributing to make it, amongst other improvements, the LIGHTEST RUNNING of all machines.

OPPORTUNITIES for investment in business property were never so good as at present. Trading for the past ninety days has been very quiet, but with the exceedingly good foundation for values of Fort Worth property, and based upon unusual growth in population and industrial development, and considering the prosperous condition of the state, and the very bright outlook for the future, Fort Worth business property is very cheap. There is plenty of room for speculation in this real estate at present prices, which the demand for property the coming year will abundantly show.

WE NOW HAVE three unusually and remarkably good propositions in Main street business property to offer at this time.
