RUSSIANS SEE NO SIGN OF PEACE

Czar's Conference with Minis- ters Continues Without Manifest Results

JAPS GETTING PRISONERS

Transfer from Port Arthur. Gen. Fock Praised for Standing by Men

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 9, 2:10 a. m.—The conferences which Emperor Nicholas has been holding with members of the council of the empire, M. Witte, and the other ministers and advisers on the internal and external situation, have not yet been concluded, but nothing has occurred which would indicate that the government is prepared to depart from its present program of continuing the war to the bitter end. Nevertheless, talk of peace was heard Sunday in many quarters, the foundation for it being ascribed to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff's alleged position in favor of such a course on the ground that, aside from the humiliation to military prestige involved, it would only mean the relinquishment of Manchuria, to which Russia already is formally pledged. There is no confirmation of this statement of Count Lamsdorff's position beyond the general knowledge that he always belonged to the peace party. It is quite probable that peace talk gossip has been produced by the arrival of foreign papers, as it receives no encouragement in responsible quarters here. The belief which existed in exceptionally well informed diplomatic circles that Japan would follow the fall of Port Arthur with moderate peace propositions has not been realized. Up to the present time nothing has reached the government either through the United States or other channels.

SEA COMMISSION OPENS HEARING

Inquiry into Russians' Firing on Baltic Fleet Begun at Paris

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The international commission appointed to inquire into the North Sea incident had its opening session at the foreign office today. Admirals Von Spain (Austria) and Donbassoff (Russia) were present. The latter's statement was officially announced, thus making permanent Admiral Kazenakoff's retirement on account of illness. Admiral Fournier (France) was unanimously chosen permanent president. In the course of his speech of acceptance Admiral Fournier said he hoped the commission would be inspired with the same moderation and wisdom which induced Emperor Nicholas and King Edward to refer the question to arbitration.

MANY TOPICS TO BE DISCUSSED BY BOARD

National Trade Organization Will Hold One of Most Important Annual Meet- ings in History Next Week

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9.—The National Board of Trade will assemble in this city Jan. 17 for its annual meeting. It promises to be one of the most important sessions held by that organization of late years by reason of resolutions which will be presented for consideration enlarging the powers of the interstate commission, arbitration between Russia and Japan, reciprocity with Canada, reorganization of the consular service, a course of high commercial training in public schools of governmental inspection of grain, national trade mark label, reduction of tariff duties on goods imported from the Philippines, national supervision of roads, governmental control of postal rates, national road between Chesapeake bay and the Delaware river, will entertain the report of the delegates. Additional resolutions probably will be introduced by the different boards of trade and exchanges throughout the country. Resolutions for the upbuilding of the American market subsidy will be presented. Milwaukee being among several boards which will oppose the subsidy. Several boards favor legislation that will permit pooling and traffic arrangements.

HOTEL KEEPERS SEEK REPEAL OF GAME LAW

Have Framed Measure for Presentation to Legislature, Claiming Failure to Serve Guests Birds Harmful

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 9.—The hotel and restaurant men of Texas have framed and will have presented at the coming session of the legislature a bill calling for the repeal of the game law of Texas and making practically an all year open season. The bill will also provide for the shipment and sale of game beyond the county line in which it will be killed. The law, if passed, would put the game laws about as they were ten years ago. Inability to serve game to guests because of the present laws is assigned as the cause for the attack upon the present measure. Some hotel men, however, urge that the present laws be causing a considerable effect on the legislature. There were twice as many members in town last night as there have been on any Sunday in any session in recent years. The number of members who did not leave Jefferson City for Sunday is surprising and many of them are detained here as a result of Folk's threat of prosecution.

OLD-TIME ACTRESS DEAD

Nellie Cummings Supported McCullough and Barrett

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 9.—Nellie Cummings, an old time actress of note, died here today in poor circumstances. She was the leading lady for John McCullough and Lawrence Barrett at the Old California theater in this city during the palmy days of the drama. After that time she drifted east, playing with many companies, notably that of Richard Mansfield, Frederick Warde and Edna Wallace Hopper. She had been playing brief engagements of late until her health broke down.

MISSOURI'S VOTE CASE

Electors All Republican for First Time in Thirty-Seven Years

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—For the first time since 1868 the electoral vote of Missouri was cast today for republican presidential and vice presidential candidates, Theodore Roosevelt for president, and Charles W. Fairbanks for vice president, received the full vote of the electors, who met and canvassed the vote of the state.

WAR OFFICE CLERK'S FIGURES STARTLING

Totalled Losses in Russo-Japanese Con- flict to End of 1904 at Over Ten Million

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9.—In despair the war department has given up trying to get an accurate line on the total of casualties in the Russo-Japanese war. At the outbreak of hostilities in the Far East a war department clerk of German birth and unsophisticated mind started to make a record from the press reports of the losses. He forgot to take into consideration the fact that the Russians call a battle by one name and the Japanese by another, and that official reports struggle in days after the first news and are frequently confused with latter events. At the end of 1904 the clerk began to foot up his figures and found that they showed that the Russians had lost 4,397,000 men and the Japanese 5,778,000 men.

BRIEF HONEYMOON HAS STRANGE END

Brother of Tobacco Trust's Head Taken to New York Sanitarium

JEROME INVESTIGATING

Witnesses Are Summoned Be- fore Grand Jury to Ex- plain Actions

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Announcement was made last night on which it seemed to be authoritative information that the district attorney's office will in all probability take up the case of Brodie L. Duke, who Saturday was placed in a sanitarium, after having been separated only a few weeks ago. For several days numerous detectives have been working on the mysterious case and sensational developments are promised. District Attorney Jerome says that he would do everything in his power to clear the entire matter. Brodie L. Duke is a brother of Benj. S. Duke, head of the tobacco trust. For the past two weeks Mr. Duke has been living at the Park Avenue hotel with his bride, formerly Miss Alice Webb, who is the daughter of Mr. Webb of the investment concern of Taylor, Webb & Company, Chicago. His marriage to Miss Webb occurred two months ago, and it is said was bitterly opposed by his son and brother but Mr. Duke carried out his plan. Just who had Duke, committed to the hospital is not revealed. When searched at Bellevue hospital, where he was first taken, it is stated that $40,000 worth of trust bonds were found in his pockets. It is reported that his commitment was due to the fact that he signed a check for $4,400 in favor of his wife and her lawyer, George H. Mallory. Mr. Mallory says he had no information as to the list of securities found in the possession of Mr. Duke. Among them were bonds of the cities of New Orleans and Durham, N. C., stock of ### the Commonwealth Cotton Company and various bank stocks in Durham and other southern cities. The face value of these securities was $10,000, with notes and a check bearing face value of $10,000 additional. Among the docu- ments is the prospectus of the Texas- Cuba Tobacco Company, which is said to have thousands of acres of arable land at Nacogdoches, Texas. In con- nection with this enterprise large cap- ital has been necessary.

MRS. CHADWICK'S ASSETS

Nathan Loesser, Receiver, Says They Have Been Overestimated

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Nathan E. Loesser of Cleveland, receiver of the estate of Mrs. Chadwick, was in Buffalo yesterday on his way home from New York, where he had been making an investigation in connection with the Chadwick estate. Mr. Loesser said that he fears that the amount of assets of the estate so far in hand has been grossly exaggerated. "The property which I have in my possession now including the household effects and house, which if sold would bring about $100,000. There is a real estate mortgage of $35,000 on that and a chattel mortgage of $7,000."

JERUSALEM, Jan. 9.—The Greek Christian Christmas observance in the Grotto of the Nativity at Bethlehem was marked by a sharp fight between the Greek and Latin clergy arising from old-time jealousy regarding the protection of the Grotto. The Greek patriarch was celebrating midnight mass when Franciscan monks created disturbance. A collision ensued, resulting in some bloodshed. The governor had to be summoned to quell the rioting.

(Senator Benj. R. Tillman of North Carolina, himself a planter, is probably the most famous of the present day sons of the south. The tremendous slump in the price of cotton has been the greatest shock the south has received in many years, and various plans, among them cotton bonfires, have been suggested as a means of restoring the market value of the staple. The Newspaper Enterprise Association asked Senator Tillman for a comment on the situation, and herewith is his article.—Editor.)

A company will at once be organized to secure options on the coal land and begin extensive operations.

STATESMEN FILL AUSTIN

Opening of Legislature Will Be on Anniversary of 1852 Extra Session

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 9.—(Special)—The democratic presidential electors met here this morning. Kieberg of the Fifteenth district and Heiner of the Twelfth district being absent. The vacancies were not filled and the electors adjourned until 2 o'clock. "Babe" Henderson seems to lead as official messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

The town is swarming with senators, representatives and candidates for office. W. D. Williams of Fort Worth for chairman of the committee on revenue and taxation; Harris of Galveston for judiciary No. 1 and Murray Wilson for finance have been chosen.

THE SPEAKERSHIP

Like the gathering of "Highland clans from brake and bush," the members of the senate and house of the Twenty-ninth legislature are assembling.

Most of the hotels are now fairly crowded with members and candidates for office, and logrolling, buttonholing and private confidential confabs are the order of the morning, evening and night.

F. W. Seabury, the only candidate for speaker, of course, is the center of attraction and he is invited to step aside for a private word with some member with almost every breath he draws. Mr. Seabury preserves his equilibrium admirably, and treats all with marked courtesy.

John L. Brown of Karnes county, who made such a rushing fight in the Twenty-ninth legislature for a constitutional convention, is much in evidence in the push and will be in evidence when the noise comes together.

C. C. Glenn of Austin county, prominent member of the last house and candidate for congress in the Houston district in the primaries July 9, 1904, is also among the arrivals last night. Mr. Glenn is a teacher in the public schools of the state and is slated for the chairmanship of the committee on education.

All the members will be here tonight to answer "here" tomorrow when the roll is called.

Meets on Anniversary of Fourth Legislature

It is an historical coincidence worthy of notice that the extra session of the Fourth legislature convened in Austin Jan. 10, 1852, the same day on which the Twenty-ninth will convene in 1905. P. Hansborough Bell was governor at this time, John A. Green, president of the senate and D. C. Dickson speaker of the house.

Another coincidence worthy of note is the Twelfth Legislature convened Jan. 10, 1871. E. J. Davis was governor, Don Campbell the president of the senate, and L. H. Evans speaker of the house of representatives.

It will thus be seen that three times in fifty-two years the Texas legislature has met Jan. 10, 1852, 1871 and 1905.

The Twenty-fifth legislature fixed the second Tuesday in January as the day on which the legislature shall meet, and as the organization of the body is always interesting it may not be amiss to state the mode of organization.

Those receiving certificates of election to the senate or house and those senators whose terms of office shall not have expired, shall only be competent to organize the senate and house of representatives.

For the purpose of organization, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to preside at each recurring session.

He shall attend at the time and place designated, appoint a clerk who shall be the chief clerk of the house the preceding session, if he be present, to keep a record of the proceedings.

The clerk, under the direction of the secretary of state, shall call all the counties in alphabetical order. When the counties are called and the members-elect appear and present their credentials, it is the duty of the clerk to administer the oath prescribed by the constitution.

When an election for speaker shall have been had, the speaker-elect shall immediately take the chair and the house proceed to its further organization by electing the necessary officers, chief clerk, journal clerk, sergeant-at-arms, door-keeper and others.

The statute provides that should there be no secretary of state, or in case he is absent or unable to attend from any cause, the attorney general shall attend and perform the duties prescribed.

Owing to the condition of Secretary of State Currier's voice, Attorney General R. V. Davidson will preside over the house tomorrow until the speaker is elected.

Legislators Fill Capitol Anticipating Opening Day

The state house was the mecca to which nearly all the senators, representatives and candidates now in Austin made pilgrimages Saturday. The senate chamber and representative hall were carefully inspected, seats examined and acoustic properties tested.

The roll of senators and members of the house of the Twenty-eighth legislature was called by some one who could call over the rolls from memory, and "Mr. President" and "Mr. Speaker" were addressed many times, just for the fun of having their sonorous voices fill those beautiful halls.

Many of the new members spent much time admiring the picture of Houston, Austin, Rusk, "Three-legged Willie," Bowie and other famous men that adorn the walls of both halls, while the battle of San Jacinto came in for a good share of attention and admiration.

The old members, familiar with those works of art, swung around the circle shaking hands with their friends in the departments.

The candidates were also in evidence.

ANTHRACITE COAL DEPOSIT FOUND BY WHITECAPPERS

Ordered to Leave Country Within Three Days on Pen- alty of Being Hung

HILLSBORO, Texas, Jan. 9.—F. W. Willett of near Amarillo has been warned by whitecappers to leave the country on penalty of being hung if he remains. He is prosecuting witness in some criminal cases and thinks notice was left by persons interested. Sheriff Satterfield is working on the case, but has made no arrests as yet.

Willett received the notification on a slip of paper. The writing was disguised so carefully that little aid is expected from it in solving the mystery. Instead of heading the warning, he at once notified the authorities and declares he can not be frightened by such actions.

The community is thoroughly aroused. Prosecution of the pending cases will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

ROOSEVELT WRONG SO IS VARDAMAN

Dr. Caldwell Preaches Sermon Contrasting Their Ideas as Regards the Negro

Dr. William Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered a sermon Sunday on "The Idealization of Life," during which he contrasted the ideas of Governor Vardaman and President Roosevelt in regard to the negro. The comparison drawn by Dr. Caldwell was broad and partial to neither Roosevelt nor Vardaman.

"The idealistic view of things," said the minister, "is in danger of omitting some practical facts which are essential to reality, just as the realistic view often fails to see the spiritual facts. A view through a telescope may give an imperfect view because details do not appear. But there is even more danger in using a microscope because the field of vision is so narrow, and there is no perspective. These two views may then give us two extremes.

"We have two such in Mr. Roosevelt and Governor Vardaman of Mississippi. Each of these men seems to hold a wrong view of the negro. Mr. Vardaman got into office by opposing negro education on the old terms. But the state of Mississippi is too wise to carry out the propositions of his election platform. The crude realistic view of Governor Vardaman is so partial, so unethical, so fundamentally opposed to the gospel that it places Mr. Vardaman in the role of the so-called false prophet of the Old Testament—a prophet who did not intend to be false, but one who planted himself on a platform not founded on ethical thought, righteousness, nor real love."

Dr. Caldwell said that neither Roosevelt nor Vardaman were right. "Vardaman looks on the negro as a servant and he sees only the material side of the problem. He does not consider that his own ancestors drank out of human skulls only a few years ago. The negro has not reached the point where social equality can be considered for a moment, but he has reached the point where his industrial, economical and social conditions should be improved.

"The president on the other hand, has idealized the negro to such an extent that he does not see the real conditions. He expects more of the negro than he will get within the next century or two. The social condition of the negro is not good and it can only be bettered by education, and what Mr. Roosevelt forgets—time."

PASTOR PREACHES AS ROBBER WORKS

Rev. J. W. Gillen Returns from Service to Find His House Ransacked by Thief

While the family of Rev. J. W. Gillen were attending the evening services Sunday at the Broadway Baptist church, of which he is the pastor, an entrance was effected to their residence, 310 St. Louis avenue, and the house thoroughly ransacked, a small revolver, however, being the only article taken.

Upon returning from the service Rev. Gillen found the door of his house overturned and at once began an investigation, showing that entrance had been effected by cutting through a screen door and then picking the lock of the inner door.

Although all parts of the house had been gone over, a large quantity of silverware in full view was passed over by the thieves, the forcing of drawers leading to the belief that they were searching for money or papers.

Rev. Gillen reported the loss to the police this morning. Up to a late hour this afternoon no arrests had been made.

CITY MARSHAL REA FAVORS CURFEW LAW

Says Former Ordinance Declared Ineffective by Courts Should be Replaced by Effective One

In regard to the enforcement of a curfew law as urged by the W. C. T. U., Chief Rea stated this morning that though there had been such an ordinance, it had been overthrown by the courts and was ineffective.

Chief Rea, who was one of the promoters and supporters of the old ordinance, declares he would approve of a new one, which could not be thrown out by the courts. He says he appreciates the need of such an ordinance, and cited several instances where boys of tender age had been ruined through playing on the streets after night. This, he says, would have been averted had such a law been in effect.

Local Poultry fanciers will exhibit Fine Birds in North Texas Association Show

Local poultry owners will have a large and excellent list of entries at the poultry show to be opened by the North Texas Poultry Association at the Dallas Fair Grounds Tuesday.

One of the largest local exhibitors will be W. J. Warriner, who has sent ten prize winners, Brown Leghorns, to be exhibited at the show. These birds have already secured prizes in state exhibitions at Houston and San Antonio and are expected to bring prizes to this city again.

Although the Fort Worth poultry organization is not officially connected with the organization conducting the exhibition, much interest is displayed by its members and it is considered likely several additional shipments of chickens for entry will be made today.

The show will be continued Jan. 10, 11, 12 and 13.

TO BUILD $50,000 CHURCH

First Methodist Congregation Resolves to Expend at Least That Amount for a New Structure

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist church, Fourth and Jones streets, it was officially declared by the members to erect a church building in this city to cost not less than $50,000, and possibly more than that sum will be expended in the erection of what is to be one of the handsomest church buildings in Fort Worth.

The intention of the First Methodist congregation to build a new church was announced exclusively in The Telegram several weeks ago.

The regular quarterly conference will be held in this city within the next week and then definite steps will be taken to carry out the resolutions adopted at yesterday afternoon's meeting.

Dr. Alonzo Monk will have charge of the service, which will be held at 10 o'clock, demonstrating his ability in this work by collecting $12,000 for the Polytechnic College in a few hours.

Plans for the building were not adopted and it is thought that when the new building is erected the members of the present church may select a new location for the building. Throckmorton street has been pointed out as a desirable place to build a church, however they may favor a new church on the present location.

RETURNED MISSIONARY PREDICTS JAP VICTORY

Declares Mikado's Triumph Will Be Followed by Opening of All Orient to Christian Religion

Miss Blunt, a returned missionary from Japan, gave an interesting lecture on conditions in Japan, at the Tabernacle Christian church Sunday night.

Miss Blunt believes as many others that the result of the war will be a victorious achievement for the Japanese, also that a Japanese victory during the present war means the spreading of Christianity throughout the orient.

She explained the religion of the country and the "eight thousand god" doctrine of the Japanese.

Miss Blunt will give an illustrated address on Japan Friday night at the Tabernacle Christian church, corner of Fifth and Throckmorton streets, using slides made from photographs taken by herself.

To Be Sick A Dollar's Worth Free

You deposit nothing. You risk nothing. You promise nothing. There is nothing to pay either now or later. I want everyone, everywhere, who has not my remedy to make this test.

For mine is no ordinary remedy. It represents thirty years of experiment—thirty years at bedside—in laboratories—at hospitals. Thirty years of the richest experience a physician can have. I tell below wherein Dr. Shoop's Restorative differs, radically, from other medicines.

My offer is as broad as humanity itself. For sickness knows no distinction in its ravages. And the restless patient on a downy couch is no more welcome than the wasting sufferer who frets through the lagging hours in a dismal hotel.

I want no reference—no security. The poor have the same opportunity as the rich. To one and all I say "Merely write and ask." Simply say that you have never tried my remedy—for I must limit my offer to strangers—those who have used Dr. Shoop's Restorative need no additional evidence of its worth. I will send you an order on your druggist. He will give you free, the full dollar package.

INSIDE NERVES!

Sickness loses half its terrors when we strip medicine of its MYSTERY. For most all forms of sickness start in the same way. The nerves are weak. Not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

But the nerves that, unguided and unknown, night and day, keep your heart in motion—control your digestive apparatus—regulate your liver—operate your kidneys.

These are the nerves that wear out and break down.

It does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart—the disordered liver—the rebellious stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves that control them. There you will find the seat of the trouble.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ or deaden the pain—but it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well.

POLITICAL APATHY

There is complaint being made that the people of Texas are not taking the requisite interest in political matters, and the complaint does not emanate from those hasty candidates for office who have already offered themselves as a living sacrifice upon the altars of their country, but from those who imagine they can see a loss of patriotism and a lack of appreciation of what goes to constitute good citizenship.

Not the least of the problems confronting Texas, and perhaps as well every other state in the Union, is that of arousing and maintaining a more lively interest in political affairs. Most of the evils that we complain of are due directly to apathy—or, it were better to say, to the negligence of those people for whom it is nothing less than willful neglect when the people fail to give serious and constant attention to all principles and policies of government.

Half the crimes we impute to politicians are only the sins of people who do not only do not vote, but who do not concern themselves with the problems of our government, national, state and municipal. Those who do not appreciate the high privilege of voting, at least, are the sins of people who do not only do not vote, but who do not concern themselves with the problems of our government, national, state and municipal.

Japan says she is too busy pressing war measures to now talk of peace, and Russia seems to be actuated by the same spirit. It is now morally certain that the Port Arthur incident will not pave the way for an early cessation of hostilities, as had been generally hoped.

The interstate commerce commission has granted the Santa Fe railway another hearing in the Colorado Fuel and Iron case, in response to a demand made by President Ripley. The railway people have their backs up in such a manner as to indicate that they have no fear of any further disclosures.

Abilene is to furnish a candidate for the civil court of appeals next year, to succeed Judge Stephens of Weatherford, who is universally recognized as one of the ablest men on the Texas bench. It is to be hoped the campaign will be deferred for another year.

When Thomas K. Niedringhaus slides into the seat formerly occupied by Senator Cockrell of Missouri the entire nation will be afforded an opportunity to discern how the mighty has fallen. Mr. Niedringhaus' chief claim to distinction lies in the fact that he is the republican chairman for the state of Missouri.

nominee and platform in the late contest, and it is puerile to expect it. They must have something to contend for and the next campaign will demonstrate the soundness of the theory. One blast from William J. Bryan's democratic horn will set the democratic machinery of the entire state in motion, and there will be such an awakening all along the line as will surprise even the natives. The country will wonder where so many Texas democrats have come from, and they will march up to the polls in a solid phalanx in the old Texas democratic way, deposit their ballots and roll up the democratic majority that has so long been the wonder and admiration of every other democratic state in the union. Texas democracy has been apathetic, but it will awaken and enthuse with the proper kind of treatment.

President Roosevelt and the congress of the United States are rapidly coming to the point where there is to be a radical bifurcation in the path they have heretofore trod together. The president wants tariff revision and railway regulation, while the other leaders of his party desire neither. It is but natural under such circumstances that a clash should come sooner or later. Congress complains that the president is trying to force legislation instead of contenting himself with the customary method of suggestion.

Representative Maynard of Virginia has introduced a bill to raise the salary of the president of the United States to $75,000 per annum, and grant a pension of $25,000 per annum for life after a president retires from the executive chair. Few men who have occupied the presidential chair of this nation would consent to accept the charity involved in the pension idea and such a measure would be a great mistake.

Texas farmers are holding public meetings and resolving that they will decrease the cotton acreage of the state this year to the extent of about twenty-five per cent. And those who are not attending the meetings are resolving at home that they will double their acreage in order to get the benefit of the high prices that are to result from the decreased acreage. Such is the way of the world.

Colorado republicans have weakened on the plot to seat Peabody as governor of that state, and will permit Governor Adams to occupy the seat to which he was elected. The decent republicans of the state much prefer the democratic administration to another term of Peabodyism.

Japan says she is too busy pressing war measures to now talk of peace, and Russia seems to be actuated by the same spirit. It is now morally certain that the Port Arthur incident will not pave the way for an early cessation of hostilities, as had been generally hoped.

The interstate commerce commission has granted the Santa Fe railway another hearing in the Colorado Fuel and Iron case, in response to a demand made by President Ripley. The railway people have their backs up in such a manner as to indicate that they have no fear of any further disclosures.

Mr. Niedringhaus' chief claim to distinction lies in the fact that he is the republican chairman for the state of Missouri.

Secretary of the Navy Morton says that the Santa Fe Railway Company did grant rebates in the Colorado Iron and Fuel business, and President Ripley must have forgotten that fact when he wired the interstate commerce commission such a peremptory demand for another investigation.

tion, then Fort Worth should pay what she has promised to pay the engineer who established the system. On the contrary, if the promised goods have not been delivered, then Fort Worth should only pay for what she has received.

The supreme court of the United States adjourned for three days after hearing ten minutes' argument on the beef trust case by Attorney General Moody. Friends of the measure are fearful that two hours' argument by the head of the department of justice may have the effect of putting the court entirely out of business.

Death came in the hour of triumph to Theodore Thomas, the world famous musician and director of the Chicago orchestra. On Dec. 15 he realized his life ambition in the dedication of the new Chicago Orchestra Hall, built at a cost of $300,000, by popular subscription.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, John R. McLean's newspaper, announces that it will no longer be a democratic organ. Organs are rapidly going out of style, and perhaps the Enquirer will follow the lead of the Chicago Chronicle and transform itself into a republican calloppe.

The efforts contemplated to secure the amending of the city charter by the present session of the state legislature have not been abandoned. The matter has been placed in the hands of a proper committee, with the power to act in the premises as is necessary.

President Stanley of Clark University says there are 250,000 words in the English language. Perhaps if he was to hear two women in animated conversation for about fifteen minutes he would be willing to increase the estimate.

The postal receipts at Fort Worth for the month of December show an increase of $2,456.50 over the receipts for the same month last year. This within itself shows that Fort Worth is a constantly growing proposition.

County Attorney McLean is not discouraged in his fight against the pool room interests, and has definitely determined that he will exhaust all the machinery of the law before he will admit there are statutes of the state of Texas that can not be enforced.

The business world is getting very tired of Tom Lawson. His latest diatribes are failing to accomplish the purpose for which they were evidently intended, and the world is coming to regard him as an agitator with a very dull axe to grind.

The advocates of the ship subsidy bill are hard at work in Washington in the effort to induce congress to perpetrate this great steal upon the people. It is needless to add that it is a stanch republican measure.

Two new school houses to be erected in this city serves to show that the educational advantages and facilities of Fort Worth will continue to be modern and in keeping with the spirit of the times.

John Barrett says that the price of a shirt in Panama is $13, but when it is known that a shirt is all that is required in polite society in the newly established republic, the price does not seem out of proportion.

Senator Hanger's idea of restricting the saloon area of the city is a good and timely one. Especially is it proper that the saloon should be cut out of the residence districts and confined to the business portion of the city.

Lieutenant U. S. Grant III, grandson of the late President Grant, has been detailed to the White House as military aid to the president, and has entered upon the discharge of his new duties.

William J. Bryan was introduced to a Memphis audience a few evenings ago as the next president of the United States, and he took no steps to dispute the assertion.

Advices from Austin indicate that lobbyists are already flocking to the city in large numbers, and the Third House promises to be fully as large and interesting as usual.

The sewing machine agents of the country have gone on a strike, and the good housewives of the country can now with perfect safety proceed to tie up the bad biting dogs.

If the democrats and republicans of the state of Colorado both proceed with the work of seating their gubernatorial candidates, the executive chair is liable to be just a little bit crowded.

Fort Worth canines can now draw a breath of genuine relief. The official office of dog-catcher has been temporarily suspended by the city council.

The flag of the Rising Sun has now taken the place of that of the Retreating Bear on the defenses at Port Arthur.

Gleanings From the Exchanges

A scientist of the University of Chicago makes the statement that life is the result of chemical and physical forces uniting under certain conditions, and also says that it is only a question of time till life will be produced in the laboratories of the students. But then the public have gotten so used to statements like this one from the Chicago University that no special attention will be given it.—Terrell Transcript.

Life is very largely what the individual makes it. We are created and come into the world not of our own volition, but as an act of the Creator of the Universe, who has reserved to Himself the secrets of the creation. Chicago University may wheedle a few more millions out of John D. Rockefeller on the assumption that it can create life, but in the end it will be found that God Almighty is still exercising a monopoly along this particular line.

Captain Sam Evans, a Tarrant county pioneer, died Monday, aged 73. Of him it is said that he never took a drink of liquor, never used tobacco in any form and was an equal show over outside ones. A member of any church.—Boyd Index.

Captain Evans may not have been a Christian as the world knows the term, but there are few men left in the world who led any purer or better life than he did. He may not have carried the church brand, but his life and example embodied nothing but what was good, pure and noble.

If you are loyal to Texas, why not prove it in your purchases? While the state has comparatively few factories, those we have ought by all means be given preference when their products are just as good and just as cheap. Not alone should our merchants live up to such a policy, but every consumer should stickle for home-made goods and refuse to patronize merchants who will not give Texas factories as low an equal show over outside ones. Such a policy not only means the keeping of millions of Texas money in Texas, but it means better markets for our raw material, more labor for our working people and opportunities for the younger generation to learn useful trades. Let a wonderful revolution could be effected almost instantly if every Texas family would discuss this policy around the fire-side and resolve to follow it in every purchase.—Waco Review.

But there are a whole lot of Texans who are not loyal to Texas institutions. They run down their home enterprises and constitute themselves walking advertisements for some foreign institution. This is all wrong and should be promptly remedied. Stand by the home enterprises and build up the home community should be the general rule.

That the south is desirous of a visit from President Roosevelt can not be questioned in the face of the strong invitations sent him and particularly when the Confederate camps press upon him their desire in the premises. In fact everybody hopes Mr. Roosevelt will visit the south and every Texan wants him to be the Lone Star State's guest. If the president is as broad as the people of the south his visit will be profitable to him and this section. When he comes let it not be for a day but for days. Let him really see the people, come in contact with them and know them.—Corsicana Sun.

There is no doubt but that President Roosevelt will be a much broader and better man after his southern trip than he was before. He can not come in direct contact with the southern people—the most hospitable people on earth—and not be benefited thereby. And the south will know and appreciate the president, but the better for his coming.

The Chronicle sincerely trusts that the bankers and commission merchants of Texas will prove equal to the present emergency and come bravely to the help of the farmers who have made the great cotton crop of Texas. They are indebted to the farmers for their prosperity. Every dollar in their banks and to their credit represents the toil and sweat of those who are now in the field, and whose very industry and energy has proved to be their grievous undoing.—Houston Chronicle.

Practically every business interest in the state has expressed a willingness to help the farmer in the cotton situation. Even the politicians and street corner loafers are leading him with great gobs of advice, which cost him nothing.

Congress is slated for Mexico it is said, and this is supposed to mean his early retirement from the public field, but it would not be wise to bank on this. Congress has been a decided success as the representative of the United States in China and that in most troublesome times. His wisdom and energy and diplomatic skill were called out in those Boxer troubles and in no particular was he found wanting. His appointment to Mexico may be for the purpose of putting American affairs there in a better condition and securing for Americans in business in Mexico some rights that are not given the American business men resident in that republic, rather than for an early shelving of the man. Roosevelt has expressed himself on more than one occasion as desiring only the best men available, and if Congress is not in that class it is something that the history of his career as a diplomat has not developed.—San Antonio Light.

The appointment of Conger as ambassador to Mexico will put the fond ambition of James G. Lowdown of Abilene out of commission, but Mr. Lowdown will have the consolation of realizing that he aimed high, even if he did fall short of the landing.

Fort Worth is taking hold of the fat stock show enterprise with a magnificent energy and it will be a success, since that city does nothing by halves. The show will come of some time next month.—Tyler Courier.

The fat stock show will be held in this city when the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas is in annual convention, which will be in March. But Fort Worth has taken hold of the enterprise in a manner which already indicates it will be a big success. That is the way Fort Worth does things.

Rheumatism, more painful in this climate than any other affliction, cured by Prescription No. 2351, by Elmer & Amend. E. F. SCHMIDT, Houston, Texas, Sole Agent.

(Through lack of space the following social items were crowded out of The Sunday Telegram.)

The hospitality that tradition says should usher in the new year, was beautifully expressed by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wharton Saturday on the eve of first day of the new year; and to their friend who shared with them the good wishes of the day. There was happy returns of good will and admiration for all the welcoming that were shown in the decorations and the congenial company of the house party.

The guests of the reception were from 3 to 5, but callers continued to come until much later, even while the house party danced the old year out guests arrived to add another word of good wishes for every happiness for the Wharton household.

Mrs. Keeler's cheerful voice and hearty hand clasp met the callers at the door of the old English hall with its Queen Anne fireplace with shining brass andirons, broad oaken staircase, the open grand piano, vines and plants glowing lights from the hall to the parlor, where were Mr. and Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. Wharton's mother, Mrs. Tom Wagner of Decatur, and Miss Grace Hollingsworth was a merry conductor. Roses, deep and glowing and a wreath that hung in cheerful festoon across the mantel mirror.

The southern smilax used on the curtains had one generous spray above with two smaller ones supporting it from below.

Mrs. R. R. Thompson, J. E. Mitchell, Winfield Scott and E. W. Tempel were in the dining room, where were served the ices and cakes, a bed of modest lilacs of the valley set on a tiffany shade over the groups of brilliant lights.

The incandescents had green shades. In this room strands of ferns extended from the center lights to the corners of the ceiling. The marble alcove had numerous jardiniere of palms and ferns.

From the parlor Dr. Miller invited across the hall to the coffee room which was the center of the billiard room. Mrs. Hardwick gave them a word of greeting on the way—and Mrs. Thompson at the door of the coffee room invited into that charming retreat. On a table stood trays of delicious sandwiches and three oriental maids, Misses Nita Hunter, Nita Barton, Juanita Hollingsworth, drew the beverages of the Turk from a handsome coffee urn. Mrs. Miller, the coffee room was E. W. Tempel.

By the high fireplace of colonial days, framed in holly and smilax and the tiffany shades in red assisted the red lights of the incandescents to make a most brilliant color. The holly there were vases filled with long stemmed American beauty roses.

In the punch room were Misses Varfont, Helen Waples and Annabel Penland. The punch bowl stood in a table half hidden by narcissus fern, and gals leaves.

Mr. R. E. L. Miller was chief assistant to Mrs. Wharton and was very pleasant to the guests at different rooms during the reception.

In the evening there were added to the house party a number of young men for a cotillion, which was danced on the third floor, which was waxed floors, art made an ideal ball room. Misses Tracy, Mrs. Elmer, Grace Elmer and Anderson were added to the young ladies for the evening, the men present being Messrs. McLean, Miller, Andrews, Colby, Moore, Reimers, McGreevey, Grady, Luckett, Wellesly and Reynolds.

Miss Brown entertained with luncheon Wednesday in honor of several visiting young ladies. There were dainty place favors, card partitions and table decorations with carnations and ferns. The guests were Misses Hassard, Nell, Elizabeth Nail, Henderson of Troy, Ala., Wilkinson of Birmingham, Ala., Matthews of Abilene, Cover of Ohio, Mrs. C. T. Burns of Albany and Mrs. R. E. Lyons.

Interest has been growing for the Colonial ball that the ladies of All Saint's Hospital association will give next Thursday evening in the club rooms of the Elks. The list of patrons of the ball has been published from time to time indicates the popularity of the ball and the charity hospital. One hundred ladies have already announced their intention of wearing colonial costumes and others will probably be added when the evening comes.

Nothing pleasanter of the holiday season's gaiety was enjoyed by society folk than the informal tea given by Mrs. Hertzford Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Fort-Smith and Mrs. House of Houston. The guests, though numbering more than a hundred all of them invited informally, came early and many remained until the latest hour permitted. The hostess and the guests of honor Mrs. Fort-Smith were in the parlors, the others of the house party in hall, dining-room and library. Beautiful vases were filled with carnations and the merry mistletoe hung just as it should in holiday times.

In the dining-room the tea table with its attractive settings had Mrs. Glen Walker at one end and Mrs. W. R. Thompson at the other to serve and welcome everybody happily.

During the afternoon Mrs. Groom, Miss Samuel and Miss Edgington sang several songs and contributed to the attractions of the cheery occasion. The house party besides the ladies receiving in the parlors were Mesdames Winfield Scott, W. R. Thompson, E. W. Tempel, Glen Walker, Saunders, Wardlaw, Gross, Davis, Newby, Olive Edgington Scott; Misses Stripling, Edgington, Labatt, Saunders, Jenkins, Tarlton, Nash and Samuel.

The Sans Parlei were discovered dancing in the Imperial club rooms Friday evening, and when asked about it said they got into the habit Christmas week. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Owyne, Mr. and Mrs. Cheatham, Mr. and Mrs. Gensbacher, Misses Warren, Penland, Wells, Williams, Hosmer, Branch, Crowley, Dincege, Alvord, McAfee and Honea, and Messrs. Stauder, Honea, King, Lea, A. Gensbacher, Ashmore, J. Gensbacher, Cronshaw, Stewart and Cheatham.

W. J. Estes invited a number of his musical friends to the Arion studio last Friday evening to meet again one of Fort Worth's dear girls, Miss Pearl Calhoun, who adds the gift of song to a charming girlhood that wins friends everywhere. Miss Calhoun is now living in Paris, where her talents are being more and more appreciated. She delighted with several selections, and for each received hearty encore. Also singing for the guests was Miss Marion Zane-Cetti, who

INHERITED SCROFULA

When a child I had a very severe attack of Diphtheria, which came near proving fatal. Upon recovery the glands of the neck were very much enlarged, and after the free use of iodine, the right one was reduced to its normal size, but the left one continued to grow—very slowly at first, until it was about the size of a goose egg, which began to press on the wind-pipe, causing difficult breathing, and became very painful. An incision was made and a large quantity of pus discharged. The gland was removed, or as much as could with safety be taken out. For ten years I wore a little piece of cloth about an inch long in my neck to keep the place open. During this time I had to have it cut open by the doctor every time it took cold or the opening clogged. In the Spring of early Summer of 1881, I was persuaded by my wife to use S. S. S., which I did, strictly in accordance with directions. I took twenty-six large bottles, and was entirely cured, for I have not suffered since that time. B. S. RAGLAND, Royal Bag Mfg. Co., Charleston, S. C.

Only a constitutional remedy can reach an hereditary disease like Scrofula. When the blood is restored to a normal condition and the scrofulous deposits are carried off there is a gradual return to health. S. S. S. is well known as a blood purifier and tonic. W. L. Cafe, assistant superintendent of the railway service of this the Eleventh division, has been in the railway service and in the various ways of that time he has seen many changes in the services and in the various ways of handling mail. Who dropped the Arkansas as a postal clerk on a run in Arkansas the old iron boxes formerly used by the government for the safe handling of mail were disappearing and in their place were the leather pouches, which now have gone into a four years' contract, run on a strict economy principle.

"In this day and time the government said the veteran railway mail man, and that is one reason more than any other why the old leather pouches have passed to the days gone by. The government has found that in handling mail a leather pouch weighs more than a canvas one by several pounds. Now the government makes its contracts with the railroads and the pouches are weighed as well. That meant that the public had to pay the railroads for hauling heavy pouches, which, if one will stop to think means a very considerable expense in a four years' contract, when a difference of several pounds are figured on a pouch for the year around."

"Of course the old leather pouches are tougher than the canvas ones, but it takes less to carry the additional weight of the leather ones. Those leather sacks are about the stoutest thing a man can handle. They are as durable as anything can be. When was a clerk on a run I came across a postmaster over in Arkansas who had been punching a hole in a certain leather pouch every time it passed through his hands. He told me that he had been in office for years and that the sack would never wear out at all. In time the sack was put out of service, as it was so badly damaged with the holes that it was useless, but it wasn't from wear, you can bet on that."

Reports of an oil strike in Marion county, has been brought to this city by Colonel E. W. Taylor, who, accompanied by Attorney John W. Wray, returned Saturday from a trip to east Texas. During their absence, visiting Jefferson, Colonel Taylor had been in the oil fields.

Colonel Taylor stated that while he was in Jefferson the news was received that a gusher of oil came in which set the whole town on fire with enthusiasm. The oil was discovered at a point about fifteen miles from Jefferson, at what is known as Potter's Point. The place was named in honor of Bob Potter, who was secretary of state under President Burnet, who was at the head of the government of Texas when a republic.

Colonel Taylor states that he owns about 2,000 acres near the scene of the discovery of oil and naturally he feels highly elated over the find.

"Conditions are very much changed in Jefferson from what they once were when I lived in that place," said the colonel. "The iron industry that was very prosperous once is practically a thing of the past, and very little is being done with the iron deposits that abound there in great quantities."

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. It is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is, that germs are vegetables, and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Liquozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it.

The results are inevitable for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases
 These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end and forever. That is inevitable.

50c Bottle Free
 If you need Liquozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please, accept it today; for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Liquozone costs 50c and $1.

LEW DOCKSTADER
 Fresh from a month's engagement at a prominent Broadway, New York theater, Lew Dockstader's great minstrel company will be seen at Greenwall's opera house tonight.

The Lew Dockstader company numbers nearly seventy people, many of that company being top-notchers of minstrelsy.

This will be an engagement not of the ordinary, for this is without a doubt the greatest minstrel organization that America has ever seen. Lew Dockstader has accumulated a vast amount of wealth in the minstrel business by giving the public more than his money's worth, and this season he has put on the road a company that cannot be excelled for number and talent.

Minstrelsy is one form of amusement that never tires any one if produced by the original Lew Dockstader method. It appeals to all classes of people and when given in the form that Lew Dockstader always presents it can not fail to be popular among the masses. Lew Dockstader has not slighted the vocal contentment of the performance, and has selected ten of the best solo vocalists that money could secure and in addition has a splendid chorus of voices capable of grand operatic work.

People have no idea of the amount of money taken in by a successful theatrical or amusement enterprise. In fact, the exact figures are never given, for more reasons than one. Lately, however, the organization gave the exact figures taken in during a run of three weeks at a prominent Broadway, New York theater.

Lew Dockstader's Great Minstrel Company played an engagement of a month at the Herald Square theater, and before the engagement started, every one predicted that it would be a huge financial failure. Mr. Dockstader was sanguine about the success of the engagement, but he agreed to publish the exact figures taken in for the first three weeks that the company played at this theater. It was the understanding that these figures would be published no matter how small they were. The figures were given and vouched for by the treasurer of the theater. The exact amount taken in for three weeks was $21,654, an average of considerable over $10,000 a week. These figures are authenticated by the box office statements, and when the exact figures taken in for full amusement enterprise will take during a run.

The newspapers were unanimous in their praise of the organization, and the Lew Dockstader Minstrel Company could have remained on Broadway for the rest

"SANDY BOTTOM"
 The attraction at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Jan. 10, will be John Crittenden Webb's beautiful story of backwoods folks in the "Sandy Bottom" country in southeastern Arkansas, amid the hills and vales of probably the most homelike region in that part of the United States.

"Sandy Bottom" is one of the natural plays that leaves a strong and favorable impression wherever it is presented. Its naturalness disarms critics and the spectator yields himself to its irresistible power over his laughter and tears.

"SIDE TRACKED"
 "Side Tracked" will be the attraction at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday night, Jan. 11, curtain raising promptly at 8 p. m., and immediately after the curtain drops on "Side Tracked" it will rise again on Conan Doyle's detective play, again on Conan Doyle's detective play, Holmes as the leading character Wednesday night, Jan. 11. This play has proven a boon to its managers and the author, not only financially, but artistically, and the theater goers of Fort Worth will have an opportunity of seeing the original company and production.

"IN LOUISIANA"
 The Monroe News strays and favorable in his presentation of the beautiful play, "In Louisiana," at Sugar's theater, Saturday night, was greeted by a fine and very appreciative audience. The scene of the story is laid on Bayou La Fourche, one of the most picturesque, enchanting and romantic sections of Louisiana, and the story is beautifully told and unfolded in the play. A number of new and costly specialties, easily above the average, were introduced between acts and kept the audience in a splendid humor.

"In Louisiana" comes to Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 14.

"A FRIEND OF THE FAMILY"
 "A Friend of the Family," which will be presented at Greenwall's opera house Monday matinee and night, Jan. 15, is a comedy full of complicated situations, with strong scenes and a dialogue that is interesting, given in a brisk manner by a capable company of players. No farce, no matter how clever, would prove a pleasing evening's entertainment were it not for the success of "A Friend of the Family" is due to the manner in which it is enacted.

FIGHTING GAME TO BE REVIVED

Governor Douglas of Massachusetts Said to Be in Favor of Boxing Matches

TURF WAR SEEMS ASSURED

Corrigan and Followers Turn Down Western Jockey Club Mandates

BY CHIP

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The deep black gloom that has enshrouded the fight game in Chicago since its sudden death locally a few short weeks ago has been in a measure abated by encouraging news from the east. It is reliably reported from Boston that Massachusetts' new governor, Douglas, has the right kind of blood in his veins and is therefore favorably disposed toward a revival of the sport in that city, while from New York comes word that a boxing bill will soon be introduced in the state legislature by Senator Frawley, an old-time friend of the manly art, and there is good reason to believe that it will pass.

If either or both of these efforts pan out, it will mean, probably a general rekindling of the fight flame throughout the country. Especially will this prove true in the case of New York city, as witness the general prosperity and wide-openness enjoyed while the game last flourished there.

Meanwhile Chicago pugns are doing the best they can. A few have migrated, incidentally Buddy Ryan, the welterweight champion, who has gone to Philadelphia to meet all comers at his weight. He already has a go in prospect there with Fred Douglas, a good man from the south. Other Windy City pugns are seeking fights in the "bush" hereabouts, which, while not paying them what they had been accustomed to receive before the ax fell, are nevertheless a heap better than nothing doing. Abe Attell, for instance, meets Joe Cherry at Saginaw, Mich., on Jan. 20. Cherry recently took a beating from Harry Forbes, whose scalp hangs on Attell's belt, so it really looks like a little easy coin for the clever Hebrew.

Outlook on Coast

Seems Somewhat Mixed
Out on the coast things seem a trifle mixed and the changes each day with kaleidoscopic swiftness and variety. It seems to be settled finally that Marvin Hart cannot secure a meeting with Champion Jeffries via the Jack Johnson route. According to some of the dispatches, local hospitality to Billy Pierce, who represented Hart in signing the articles for the prospective go with Johnson, caused the fizzle, but this will hardly be for a bona fide reason. The real truth, it is more than probable, is that the match from the outset looked so much like a frame-up for Hart and was accepted as such in a good many quarters, that the club managers saw a great light and acted accordingly.

In place of the heavyweights, Joe Gans and Jimmy Gardner will come together, the fight occurring on the 27th of this month. Although the lightweight championship is said to hang on the outcome of the battle, it is a well known fact that neither man can fight within three or four pounds of the true lightweight limit, and come anywhere his real form. Hence it is strongly suspected that the boys will really meet at catchweights, per private arrangement, and if this be the case, with both men at concert pitch, the go will be a dazzling exhibition.

Young Gardner, for the past year, since his decisive defeat of Buddy Ryan, has been generally regarded as Gans' logical opponent for whatever honors the negro may claim to be the possessor, and although he will meet probably the best man in the world at the weight, he can lick him if anyone can.

Gans passed through Chicago last Thursday and looked to be in great shape. He appeared to be confident of trimming Gardner, though admitting the Lowell boy might act refractory during the process. Gans expressed himself as anxious for another crack at Jimmy Britt, claiming he was sick and in generally bad shape on the occasion of their previous meeting.

Britt has become very hard to catch, however. He has refused good offers for return matches with both Battling

Corrigan and Followers

To Begin Turf War

A turf war of royal proportions seems inevitable. Several turf magnates, under the leadership of old Ed Corrigan, known everywhere as the "Master of Hawthorne" and for a generation a most potent factor in the racing world, have pooled their issues and have virtually completed plans for a new western turf body, which, of course, will wage relentless combat with the heretofore dominant organization, the Western Jockey Club.

Mr. Corrigan and his followers claim the older body is already beaten. They assert they have a big majority of western horse owners with them in their fight and will have contesting tracks in every city in which their opponents are now represented.

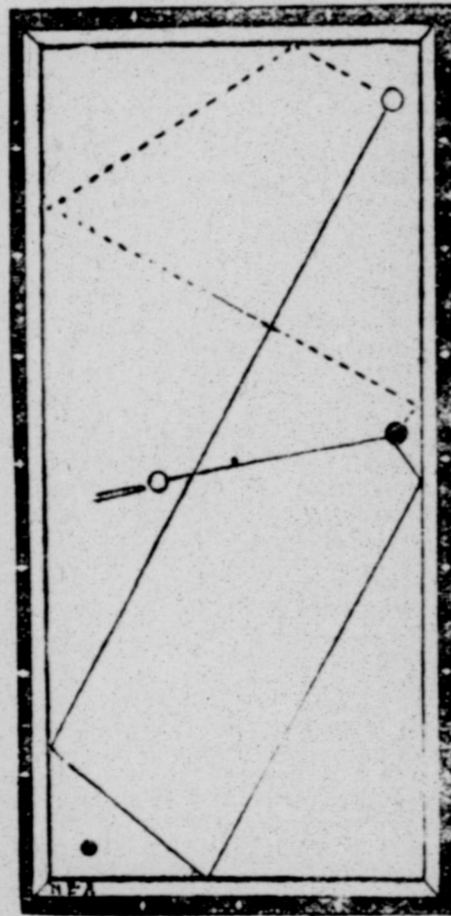

The cause of the uprising looks like a righteous one. The Western Jockey Club, at its last meeting, juggled the racing dates to be given out in a manner that pleased no one except a few of the ruling spirits. Especially was this true in the case of the Louisville and Hot Springs tracks, while dates were refused outright to the new track at New Orleans, in which Mr. Corrigan is largely interested, for no other reason, apparently, than they wanted that city kept sacred to the track now operating there and which is owned by certain influential officials of the Western Jockey Club.

Whoever may win out, one thing is almost certain. The racing game in the west will be dealt a blow from which it will not recover for many moons. The Chicago tracks, which existed last summer only through exceedingly clever manipulation of "backsheep" and "pulls," will have a yet harder time of it this season to keep alive, if, indeed, they are allowed to run at all. And without Chicago, racing in the west will amount to very little, as is universally recognized.

It is the old story, which has been exemplified so many times in racing and pugilism, of the insiders fighting among themselves and eventually winding up the melee by shutting up everything good and tight. In the meantime, however, we will hope for the best, for without both racing and boxing, what's the use of living, anyhow?

CORBETT'S GOSSIP

BY JAS. J. CORBETT.

(Copyright, 1905, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
Champion Jeffries can stand more punishment than any two fighters that ever stepped into a ring. No matter what part of his anatomy you pick out to attack, he gives you the same cordial reception. So wonderful is his ability to take punishment that I believe he could knock out half the heavyweights in the country without doing much fighting himself.

That Cost Iron
Stomach of Jeff's
I shall not forget the first experience I had with him in this line. It was on the occasion of our first battle at New York. My trainers and I had studied his makeup and his methods of fighting as closely as men possibly could. We came to the conclusion that his stomach was the one point that would affect him if it could be reached. Of course, his crouch had to be taken into consideration, but we thought it was possible to get to him. For weeks I practiced fighting and landing blows on the solar plexus.

When I stepped in the ring at Coney Island I had my mind made up to spend a great deal of time and attention on the big fellow's bellows, and if possible beat him down.

This is just what Jeffries wanted. Blow after blow reached his stomach, and my seconds kept telling me to keep it up. I was hitting him regular. But, to my astonishment, he kept coming to me with as much energy as ever. He did not seem to mind my blows at all. Finally I landed a terrific punch that would have taken the fight out of any man for a short time at least. Jeff smiled and pretended to be hanging on, and the first thing I knew he sent one back to me with interest.

I heard one of his seconds say: "If Corbett keeps that up long, it will be all over sure." Well, I was wise enough to see that my tactics weren't getting what I expected, so I began directing my attention to other parts of his enormous body.

Since then I have learned that Jim's stomach is practically unharbable. He has given conclusive proof that the organism of his stomach is perfect.

Another thing about Jeffries' makeup that always caused me a great deal of amusement. His jaw has never been affected by a swing or a blow. In all his fights he has received as many blows on the jaw as he gave. Those blows hurt the audience more than they hurt him. Fitz landed on him time and time again with those heavy swings, but to the best of my knowledge the big fellow's head has never been knocked back.

What Corbett Thinks of Tommy Ryan
Tommy Ryan has been the subject of a great deal of unfavorable criticism of late because of the seto with Root at Philadelphia. However, I still stick by the statement that many have no doubt heard me make. I think Ryan, for his weight and height, the greatest fighting machine I have ever seen. He has everything that the words "ring generalship" include. He has a wonderful punch for a lad of his size. He carries a sleep tablet in both fists, and when he is right, he is the ideal fighter.

I shall never forget the first time I saw Ryan. I was on my way east from Frisco and stopped off in Chicago. I met Lou Houseman, who insisted that I put on the gloves with a youngster who had plenty of promise and was a willing waker.

We made out way to an old fire engine house, where a little gymnasium had been fitted up for Ryan and other fighters. His manner attracted my attention and I determined to give him a good trying out. If ever I was surprised it was on this occasion. Ryan had not been taught much, but intuitively he was a fighter. In other words he was born a ring star. His showing was remarkable and I told Houseman then and there that he had discovered a wonderful fighter.

This talk about Ryan may sound extravagant to some of the ring enthusiasts, but I believe almost any fight of prominence will bear me out in these statements.

The last time I saw Ryan was when I was training for my last big fight. He was then far from being a well man and as far as I know he has never completely recovered.

A Beggar's Criticism of Corbett
Fighters as a rule are the most generous class in the world. Their money comes in large bunch and they give it away and spend it freely. I remember, however, when I was given a severe calling down by a beggar, while walking down Broadway with an acquaintance one day.

I got into the habit that all fighters do after I won from Sullivan at New Orleans. I thought that every beggar ought to receive some attention, and seldom passed one without handing him a coin. On this occasion I happened to strike a son of the Emerald Isle, who was in hard straits. I ran my hand down into my pocket for a coin. I couldn't find anything but a penny and I didn't have time to get change for a $10 bill—the smallest and largest piece of money I had in my pocket. So I handed the old chap the coin. He took it and by this time my friend was interested in him. "How did you come to be so poor?"

Great Interest in the Champions
Great interest was taken in fights fifteen or sixteen years ago. I was just starting out in the game and naturally was as much interested as any youngster could be. I was not alone, however. Back in 1889 when John L. Sullivan fought his memorable battle with Jake Kilrain in the far-off Mississippi valley, I was in a small town in California where there was nothing in those days but a one-horse telegraph station on a small railroad.

As the time for the fight approached, the telegraph operator became more important than any other person in the country.

I knew the hotelkeeper at the place and was one of the few who was allowed to stand in the little 8x6 telegraph office when the returns were expected. Outside, people for miles around, crowded the little place and looked at the operator, who would be the first to learn the outcome of the battle.

No detailed report was received. Noon rolled around and suddenly the operator jumped from his chair, exclaiming, "Sullivan wins."

A cheer went up from the crowd as they heard the announcement. The fight had gone seventy-five rounds.

Later on, before that, when a champion was first known of, down until today, you find interest in the fighting game as widespread as in a national election. In towns far from the centers of civilization you find people today better informed on the life of Jimmy Britt than on the lately elected vice president.

Young Cyclist Ahead of Schedule on $5,000 Wager
C. M. Darling and C. C. Murphy, two young men of Jackson, Mich., making a bicycle tour of the United States on a wager of $5,000, passed through this city Sunday.

They have already covered twenty states and two territories, or 7,504 miles. They have had a varied experience and have been compelled to walk 550 miles of the distance by the breaking of their wheels. They make their expenses by selling aluminum souvenirs, provided by the terms of the wager.

At present they are two days ahead of their schedule.

POLICEMAN KILLS BOX CAR ROBBER

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 9.—A Mexican was discovered robbing a box car here Saturday and fired at the officer surprising him. The policeman returned the fire, killing the Mexican instantly. Box car robberies have been of nightly occurrence and the railroads have suffered heavily.

Tramps are suspected of doing it and they are being rounded up and run out of town daily to the east. The reservation was reopened tonight after being closed for a month, scattering the habitues over all sections of the city.

MARRET CLASSES AND GRADES OF CATTLE

Heifers of the stocker class range in weight from 500 to 700 pounds. Very few choice stock heifers are offered on the markets, and Professor Mumford omitted this class in his exhibit.

Stock heifers are bought to be shipped to the country, both for feed lot and breeding purposes. Good heifers show considerable beef blood and possess good, square frames.

Medium heifers show less breeding and in general are notably thinner in flesh and lighter than good heifers. They lack the blocky frames possessed by the better class of stockers.

Common heifers lack both quality and condition. They are lighter weight than the better grades and show evidence of dairy rather than beef blood, and do not finish into high-class beefs.

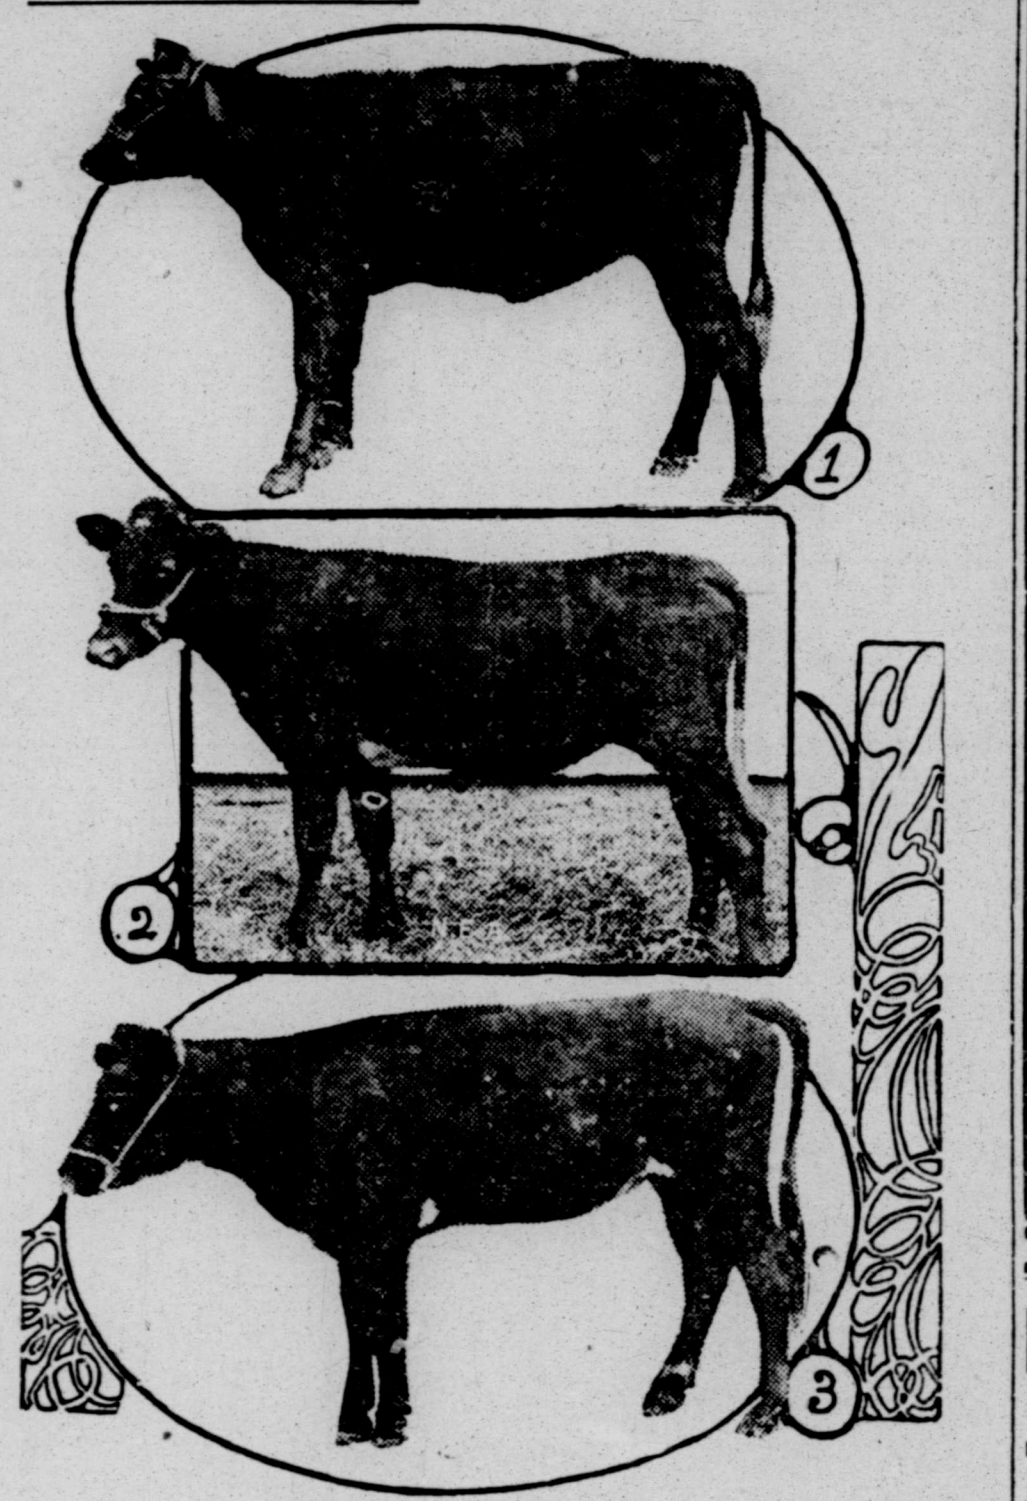

At all the large markets of the country there is a difference in cattle marketed, depending on the quality, condition, age and weight of the various animals that reach these markets. This difference has led to the classification of the various market animals, which is very well understood by dealers in the markets, but not generally known by farmers who do not do business at the stock yards frequently.

Without a thorough understanding of market and feed lot requirements the feeder is groping in the dark. His work is largely guesswork, rather than an intelligent and well-directed effort.

To enlighten the public on this question of market classification, Professor Herbert W. Mumford, chief in animal husbandry of Illinois experiment station, published an illustrated bulletin describing the various market classes of cattle. This was the first work of this kind done, and this bulletin caused a great deal of favorable comment from stockmen in all parts of the country.

To give a practical object lesson in this work, Professor Mumford selected an example of each of the various market classes which the Illinois station exhibited at the St. Louis fair during the cattle show. A similar exhibit was made at the recent international, where it proved to be one of the most interesting features of the show.

Professor Mumford and the Illinois station deserve a great deal of credit for the investigations along this important line. In speaking of the exhibit at the International, Hon. Eugene Grubb of Colorado said: "It would be worth $1,000 to every cattleman to study this exhibit of Professor Mumford's." Professor C. D. Smith of Michigan said: "I would like to see this exhibit made at every farmer's institute in the country this winter." Professor C. S. Plumb of Ohio said: "It is one of the greatest educators of the show."

EXAMPLES OF STOCK HEIFER CLASS
No. 1. GOOD STOCK HEIFER. No. 2. MEDIUM STOCK HEIFER. No. 3. COMMON STOCK HEIFER.

Realizing the importance of this work to the cattle grower, the Newspaper Enterprise Association has secured a set of photographs of the animals representing the different classes in the Illinois lot, and publishes them now for the first time, together with the weight and value of each individual by expert cattle dealers of the Chicago stock yards, and represented their worth in Chicago on Nov. 26 measures will receive attention each day during the morning hour, including the omnibus claims bill, for which Senator Warren stands sponsor. The bill comprises more than 200 pages, but the senator already has succeeded in having it read by utilizing odd hours, and thus has put a large and important part of the work of consideration to the rear. There will be an effort made to get through the bill providing for the compensation of American fishermen whose vessels were seized previous to the arbitration of 1922. This measure is in the hands of Senator Fulton, who will press it as an act of justice to men whom he thinks have been discriminated against.

WILL CUT TIME OF TRUCK TRAINS

Santa Fe Schedule to Chicago from South Texas
Fifty Hours

TO BOOM IMMIGRATION
Joint Meeting Railroad Agents Called to Encourage Homeseekers

The Santa Fe will knock fifty hours off the truck train schedule between South Texas and Chicago, according to L. C. Hill, horticultural and agricultural representative of the road, who is in the city today on his way to Ardmore, where he goes to attend a meeting of vast importance.

On that day a large number of railroad agents will hold a joint meeting at Ardmore to discuss means of inducing homeseekers to come to Texas to engage in the fruit and truck business. He expects the result of this meeting will be favorable in inducing people to locate in the state and engage in the small truck growing business.

From Ardmore he will go to New Orleans, to be present at a meeting of the National League of Commission Merchants. There will be on hand representatives from every state in the union, and his object in being present is to represent Texas before the members of the league as one of the best states for the production of produce in the United States. He will attempt to show them that it will be to their interest to look to Texas for their supplies during the year 1930. Heretofore these merchants have depended upon the production of produce in the southeastern states. He proposes to show them that Texas is the natural point to look to for produce and fruits.

He will hold up to them the unparalleled railroad facilities offered by Texas roads, which is not to be compared with other state in the south. The Santa Fe, he will show, has the only through line from Galveston to Chicago without relying on connection, and that with the new fast freight schedule now being arranged freight of this character will be carried through from any South Texas point to Chicago in seventy hours. The time now between these points is 120 hours.

Agricultural Agent Hill also states that by Jan. 20 the Santa Fe will have a New Orleans connection, which will be furnished by the line now being built from Kirbyville, Texas to a connection with a small line which will put the Santa Fe into New Orleans over its own rails.

Not only is the Santa Fe reaching for the Gulf at New Orleans, but will eventually construct a line that will give the company through connection via Temple and San Angelo to a point on its line in West Texas, thus reducing the distance to California points about 600 miles. When these improvements are made the Santa Fe will have the shortest route from the southeast to California.

Agricultural Agent Hill says there is quite a considerable inquiry being made of the Santa Fe for data regarding truck and fruit lands along that route and he looks for considerable buying during the present year by newcomers who want to change their present locations and come to Texas.

THANKFUL FOR SUFFERING

Rev. Mr. Limbaugh Declares Pain and Trouble Greatest Blessing of God to His Children

Rev. D. C. Limbaugh, pastor of the Unitarian church, preached the third of his series of sermons on Theism, yesterday morning at the Spiritualist Temple on Taylor street, expressing thankfulness for pain, trouble and suffering.

The question for discussion was "Whether the necessary evils, sufferings and pains of life are consistent with the goodness of God."

Rev. Mr. Limbaugh spoke of the various ways of solving this problem.

"The orthodox," said Rev. Mr. Limbaugh, "solve this problem by saying that these necessary pains of life are the work of the evil one and that they are alien to the purpose of God. If this was so, God would be less mighty than the Devil. The Christian Scientists close their eyes, and like the Buddhist, say that all pains and evils are a dream; the Materialist says that it is simply blind nature taking its course and tearing all with tooth and claw. But we must give a different solution to this question of we would see truth as it should be seen."

He spoke of the thousand imaginary pains of the world, disposing of them in the following language: "We pity the little ragged waif on the street—we pity him. We had better pity ourselves. He is ragged, but he is not a slave to fashion; he is not a slave to creed or to anything to which we are slaves. We pity the wild beasts who are eaten by other wild beasts. But it has been demonstrated that there is no pain attendant on the killing of one beast by another. Then we are always pitying the savage and the barbarian, because they live in huts and eat raw food. The savage has not yet climbed to our plane of civilization, he does not suffer as we do. He is happy."

Rev. Mr. Limbaugh then spoke of the real pains of life, and said that these pains were sent us in mercy by the wisdom of God. "Because," he said, "we would all be dead in a few months if it were not for pain. Pain is a danger signal. We could not be happy without it. We know nothing except by contrasts. There is no pleasure without pain, no long without short. We should all thank God for his great blessing, as children—pain, suffering and trouble."

The fourth of this series of sermons will be preached next Sunday. The question for discussion will be in regard to the dissatisfactions and disappointments of life. On the following Sunday the last of the series will be delivered. The subject will be "Death."

MEMORIAL SERVICE FEB. 1

Lee Camp Veterans Will Pay Fitting Tribute to Their Deceased Comrades

Former Chaplain Pankey opened the proceedings of Lee camp Sunday afternoon. The cool weather kept many of the old veterans by their firesides.

The minutes were read by Assistant Adjutant Kirtley, after which the memorial committee reported that services will be held Feb. 1. A list of the dead has been prepared by Adjutant McConnell. The services are to be held in the hall of the camp at 2 o'clock, all other business being suspended on that day.

Commander Taylor referred to the death of Captain Sam Evans, and suggested that a committee be named to prepare resolutions. The committee appointed is Judge C. C. Cummings, Judge J. C. Terrell, Thomas Cross and E. W. Yeates. Their report will be made at the next meeting.

Historian Cummings recommended that the camp adopt rules for conducting meetings. Judge Cummings then read a list of rules proposed to be observed in deliberations of the camp. On motion they were referred to the revision committee. It was also decided to have the old by-laws governing the camp codified and revised.

Judge C. C. Cummings was made the revision committee. The report of the committee is to be made on March 1.

Duke Goodman reported that some one had sent him $20 for the camp. This was turned over to the adjutant to be used in charity work among the indigent members.

Adjutant McConnell stated that on next Sunday dues became payable. Duke Goodman stated that two gifts are to be delivered on Jan. 19 to Mrs. Jourdan and Mrs. Higbee, president and vice president of the Daughters' chapter.

The name of E. J. Parrent was offered for membership. The applicant enlisted May 18, 1861, at San Antonio as a private in Company D, First regiment, state troops. He took part in many of the leading conflicts of the war. The application was referred according to usual routine.
