

STOESSEL TO BE OFFERED... COMMAND OF RUSSIAN WORKMEN... AGAINST FORCES OF THE CZAR

Special Cable to The Telegram. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—There is a persistent rumor that the people will wait the arrival of General Stoessel from Japan and then proclaim him dictator. It is said that he will accept the leadership, for he smarts under his orders to return and face court martial for surrendering Port Arthur.

General Stoessel sailed from Japan last week. Today's unusual quiet following the riotous scenes of yesterday gives strength to the rumor.

When it was announced that General Stoessel would have to stand court martial, general expressions of popular indignation were heard. The movement now on foot to ask him to lead the forces of the workmen, while being made with greatest secrecy, is said to be gaining strength hourly.

MILITARY IS IN CONTROL

Strikers Entering Central Part of the City Sluggily—Still in Ugly Mood. Leaders Caution Quiet

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—12:45 p. m.—The military was in complete possession of the city this morning and quiet prevailed in all sections. After the last volleys in the Vassilostoff quarter at midnight the men abandoned the few barricades which they had held until that hour and retired. Word was passed around by the leaders to remain quiet for the present.

The people are generally nervous and apprehensive and keep indoors. The strikers looking weary and haggard after the excitement of yesterday collected in sullen little groups in the vicinity of their various headquarters.

They are in an ugly mood and broke out in curses when ever the soldiers marched by. An early morning tour by the correspondent of the Associated Press showed a cordon of troops barred the central part of the city from the big industrial sections. The bridges are held by the guards of regiments.

The troops, most of which had been withdrawn from the only office in the center of the city during the night, were reported during the afternoon to be assembled in considerable strength at the principal points. Traffic across the bridges and the usual paths over the ice is interrupted. Street cars, including electric lines, are running over the frozen Neva, steepest as well as heavy vehicles circulating freely.

FATHER GAPON MISSING Rumors were current that the strikers proposed to proclaim a general attack on property and a reign of anarchy, but labor leaders denied this in the most vigorous terms. One of Father Gapon's lieutenants declared the leaders of the strike had resolved to preach the gospel of armed resistance and overthrow of anarchy, but that it did not carry. It is the threat of pillage or attack on property. The police have not been able to locate Father Gapon, they are searching for him everywhere. His whereabouts is known to only about a dozen trusted lieutenants through whom he issues orders. No newspapers have appeared since Friday except the Official Messenger containing the government decrees, which are printed under military protection at the office of the State Bank, where the bank notes are issued. The official accounts of yesterday's affair are posted on all bulletin boards. Strikers who passed upon them. It is reported that a meeting in the early hours this morning some strike leaders discussed the advisability of sending delegations to various embassies to appeal for foreign powers for protection, but no decision was taken at least no deputations had appeared at any embassies up to noon.

TEXAS MAN SAYS CZAR IS DEAD

Declares He Has Received Nihilistic Cablegram Announcing That Plot to Assassinate Russian Ruler Has Been Successful

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 23.—(Special.) Baron Vladimir Friesen, a resident of this city, this morning exhibited to a Telegram representative what he claims is a cipher cablegram announcing the death of Czar Nicholas by the hands of nihilists. Friesen says a meeting of Russians was held in New Orleans forty days ago and he was drawn for the assassination of the czar, and Friesen says he drew No. 2. He says No. 1 left for St. Petersburg and the cablegram today with only the letters "D." and "R." is nihilist cabalistic sign meaning that the czar is dead. He believes the Russian nobility is trying to put Grand Duke Vladimir on the throne.

Into A Crowd Like This Russian Soldiers Fired

THE ABOVE PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN AT THE ENTRANCE OF ST. PETERSBURG CATHEDRAL GIVES AN ACCURATE IDEA OF HOW THE CROWD OF WORKING MEN, THEIR WIVES AND CHILDREN, IN PALACE SQUARE SUNDAY AFTERNOON, APPEARED JUST BEFORE THE SOLDIERS WERE GIVEN THE ORDER TO FIRE. ACCORDING TO THE DISPATCHES SHOTS WERE DISCHARGED AT PROSTRATE WOMEN AND CHILDREN AS WELL AS MEN.

CHILDREN SHOT LIKE DOGS

Story of Massacre Reveals Brutality Unparalleled in History of Modern Times—Even Crucifix Not Regarded as Sacred by Czar's Soldiers

Riots, fires, massacres, hurried marching of troops to defend the palace of Russia's emperor, excited gatherings of working men, furious assaults on the soldiers gathered to prevent the progress of mobs, cold-blooded butchery of unarmed and defenseless men, women and children—these were some of the events which marked Sunday in St. Petersburg, the day set for the mass meeting of workmen in the Palace Square to present their request for relief from industrial conditions to the czar.

Reports of the results following the attempted assemblage of working men vary so widely that it will be days before a correct summary can be made. Perhaps the exact figures will never be known. Accounts of the number of persons killed by the czar's troops vary from the total of seventy-six given in the Official Messenger, to several thousand, the latter number being given by correspondents of various continental newspapers. The story of events leading up to yesterday's riots is known to most Telegram readers who have watched the rapid progress of events following the apparently incipient strike of some 50,000 iron workers at St. Petersburg yesterday early in the week. General strikes throughout the city quickly followed the iron workers' movement and soon nearly every industry of the Russian capital was affected with 100,000 working men out of work, many industries paralyzed, the streets filled with bands of strikers and their sympathizers, and the city terrorized.

EMPEROR PROSTRATE

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—(By Associated Press.)—Emperor Nicholas is completely prostrated by grief. He is represented to be almost in a state of collapse over the situation. Meantime, everything awaits his decision. All the schools are closed. The window in Grand Duke Sergius' St. Petersburg palace was broken by the mob during the night. In spite of little credulity placed in the Houston man's statement, he is secretly celebrating.

ST. PETERSBURG QUIET... REPORTED CLASH DENIED

MILITARY REPORTED TO BE IN COMPLETE CONTROL—RUMORED CZAR IS ABOUT TO PROCLAIM CITY IN A STATE OF SIEGE—POPULACE EXCITED

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23, 6:25 p. m.—No clashes between the strikers and troops occurred during the afternoon. There was a report of troops firing in the crowds in Nevsky Prospect, but it turned out to be incorrect. The city is quiet, but the populace generally is fearful lest there be another outbreak at any time.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—It is rumored Emperor Nicholas will issue a manifesto tomorrow declaring St. Petersburg in a state of siege.

CITY QUIET DURING MORNING

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23, 10:00 a. m.—In the center of the city all is quiet at present, but ferment continues in the outlying industrial quarters. During the night the police made house visits, warning householders that the rioters are threatening to divide into squads and sack the town.

The Official Messenger announces that up to 8 o'clock last night the total killed was seventy-six, wounded 233. The paper adds that the same precautionary measures used yesterday have been adopted for today.

TWENTY-ONE HUNDRED KILLED

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Special dispatches to the Tribune indicate that the total list of working men killed in yesterday's riots is 2,100, with nearly 5,000 wounded. The figures in detail are as follows: At the Morskai gate 1,000 men were killed and 1,500 wounded. At the Varva gate 300 were killed and 500 wounded. At the Nevski gate 500 were killed and 700 wounded. The Vassili district 200 were killed and 500 wounded. In various other parts of the city 100 were killed and 1,700 wounded. Very few of the strikers were armed.

ered. The crowd destroyed the telegraph wires and knocked down poles. Municipal buildings in the Second district were attacked and demolished. In the evening five shops in the St. Petersburg Square were plundered.

LIKE FRENCH REVOLUTION

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The news of the bloody events in St. Petersburg has caused a profound sensation here. The newspapers issued special editions throughout the evening, giving dramatic details of the street fighting, and these were eagerly read and discussed in the boulevards, at the theaters and in other public places, the tragedy being the universal subject of comment. The newspaper offices were surrounded by crowds awaiting bulletins. Officials here have received advice practically the same as that made public. The general view, including that of officials, is one of deep apprehension that the events of yesterday may precipitate in Russia a period of revolution such as France has witnessed.

OFFICIAL ACCOUNT MILD

Attaches Blame for Sunday's Political Collisions to Political Agitators, Rather Than Striking Workmen

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The story of events immediately preceding and during yesterday's outbreak, as viewed by official eyes, is given in the Official Messenger as follows: "All attempts of factory inspectors to pacify workers and every worker from a number of the large factories joined a strike, which spread quickly and extended to nearly all the works in the city. At the same time the demands of the men increased and these were formulated in writing mostly by Father Gapon. The employers discussed the demands and decided if some of them were satisfied it could not fall to ruin industry, while other questions were referred to be examined and partly conceded. Furthermore, willingness was expressed to negotiate with the men, but not with the strikers' organization.

"The workmen refused to agree to it and violated negotiations between the masters and men in different factories. As the strike had been conducted without disturbance of public order no repressive measures were adopted and not a single person was arrested. Agitation by the Women's Association, however, was soon joined by agitation in revolutionary circles.

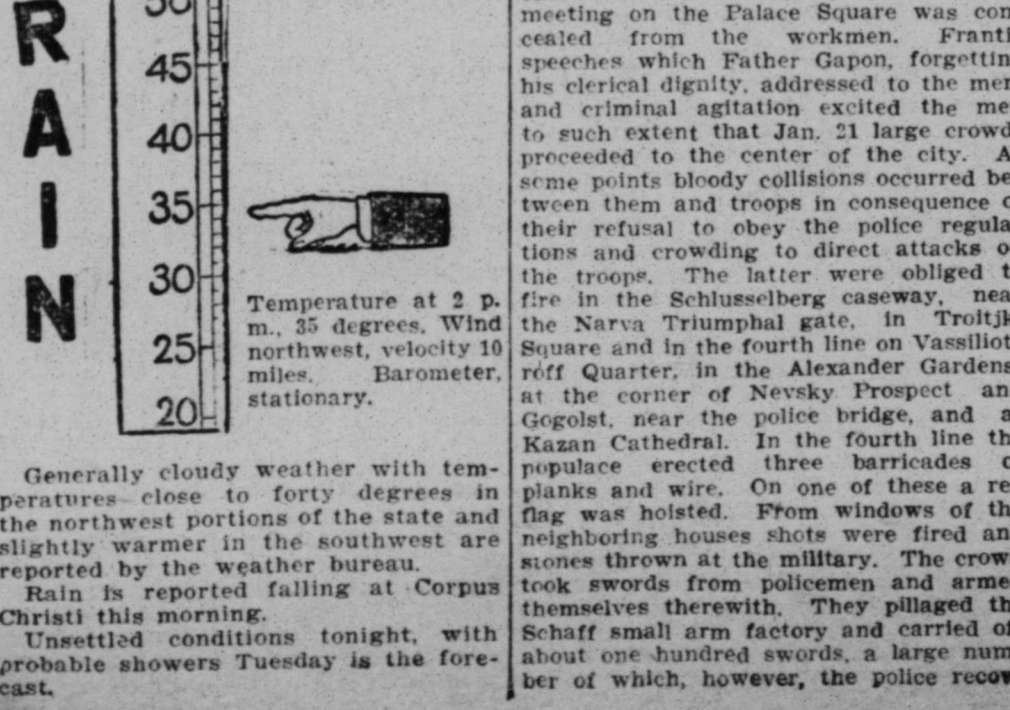

"On the morning of Jan. 21 the Workmen's Association, led by Father Gapon, appeared with open revolutionary banners. On Sunday Father Gapon drew up a petition of the workmen to the emperor, which contained, beside demands in behalf of the men, insolent demands of a political character. Among the workmen verbal and written notifications were circulated, urging the necessity for a meeting, Jan. 22, on the Palace Square, in order, through Father Gapon, to submit the petition to the emperor.

"One of the demands was political of character and the real purpose of the meeting on the Palace Square was concealed from the workmen. Frantic speeches which Father Gapon, forgetting his clerical dignity, addressed to the men, and criminal agitation excited the men to such extent that Jan. 21 large crowds proceeded to the center of the city. At some points bloody collisions occurred between them and troops in consequence of their refusal to obey the police regulations and crowding to direct attacks on the troops. The latter were obliged to fire in the Schussenberg caseway, near the Narva Triumphal gate, in Troitskiy Square and in the fourth line on Vassilostoff Quarter, in the Alexander Gardens; at the corner of Nevsky Prospect and Gogol street, the police bridge, and at Kazan Cathedral. In the fourth line the populace erected three barricades of planks and wire. On one of these a red flag was hoisted. From windows of the neighboring houses shots were fired and stones thrown at the military. The crowd took swords from policemen and armed themselves therewith. They pillaged the Schaff small arm factory and carried off about one hundred swords, a large number of which, however, the police recom-

posed. The crowd destroyed the telegraph wires and knocked down poles. Municipal buildings in the Second district were attacked and demolished. In the evening five shops in the St. Petersburg Square were plundered.

"The prevailing tone here is one of awe at the magnitude of the horror. The socialist journals do not disguise a strong sentiment in favor of the people and of indignation against the course of the government.

Offer to Kidney Sufferers

I Will Give You a Full Dollar's Worth of My Restorative Free to Try Without Cost or Deposit or Promise to Pay

I could not make this offer—a full dollar's worth free if mine were an ordinary kidney remedy. It is not. It treats not the kidneys themselves, but the nerves that control them. The cause of kidney trouble lies ALWAYS in these nerves. The only way to cure kidney trouble is by thinning and vitalizing and restoring kidney nerves. That is exactly what the Shoop's Restorative does—therefore I can make this offer with in knowledge that every kidney makes this trial will be "nerves." I do not mean the nerves of feeling, thought, action, the automatic nerves, which are unguided and unseen, cannot control them. You are away from them. Yet when they are well; when they are taken and die—then a book on the Kidneys sent when you write. This fully and clearly how these "nerves" that every kidney makes, but each of the other side my offer that strangers to may know. It is not intended to know who have used my need no further evidence, who have not heard of hearing delayed or doubted. I say and ask, "I will send you which your druggist will fill dollar bottle—and he will to me. There are no conditions—simply write me order Book 2 on the Kidneys, which must Book 3 on the Kidneys, which must Book 4 for Women, which must Book 5 for Men, which must Book 6 on Rheumatism.

PENNSYLVANIA CITY STIRRED BY ROUSING GRAFT CRUSADE

ALLEGHENY, Pa., Jan. 23.—This city is the most recent to experience an "anti-graft" upheaval. It began with systematic raids on speak-easies and disorderly houses, in which half a hundred arrests were made. Then followed arrests of "men higher up." Thomas B. Scandrett, director of public safety; Melvin H. Campbell, superintendent of police, and James Wilson, day captain in the police force, have all been arrested. Scandrett and Campbell are specially charged with conspiracy, Wilson with extortion.

TAXATION LEADS IN WEEK'S WORK

Question of Revenue Is Paramount Before Legislature for Next Six Days

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 23.—The effort to get revenue, or rather the announcement that the present session of the Texas legislature must provide the means for getting revenue, is being used as an excuse and explanation for the presence of so many peculiar and wholly unnecessary bills in either house of the present legislature. It is urged in defense of this unusual activity in the line of so-called "drastic measures" that the legislators are trying to ferret out some means of getting more revenue without in any manner increasing the ad valorem tax, and that in their efforts in that direction they are introducing all these peculiar and unnecessary measures, and that if there is any mistake being made that it is of the head and not the heart.

While this explanation is offered in most every particular, it is rather noteworthy that all the local option and prohibition measures generally, if enacted into laws, would not only not increase the revenues but would serve to cut them down so materially that it would be most difficult to represent what is lost in that direction by levying special taxes in other directions. There are many who are in a position to prove at the proper time that the presence of local option in Texas is responsible in a large measure for much of the present financial embarrassment of the state by cutting down the revenues from that source very appreciably and yet it has not worked any real benefit to any one save the outside whisky dealer, who has been doing a lucrative business shipping into these precincts without paying any state, county or city tax for the privilege. It is these facts that are to be presented in season that lead many of the members to express the opinion that if the revenue problem is to be solved by the members of the present session that it is highly advisable that they go backwards as well as forward and see what the local option proposition represents in these counties that have it and see to what extent Texas in general has been made to suffer in the way in tax burdens by reason of the presence of local option in sections of the state. These facts as well as the consideration of the old story of taxing life and fire insurance companies and other corporate interests of the character additional tax that will have to come out of the pockets of the people in the end have all opened up a discussion that may result in a more thorough and general understanding of existing conditions and their relationship to the people than a great many of the members now fully appreciate.

UP THIS WEEK
This week will open up all this taxation question in the house committee rooms and members, as well as outsiders, will have full opportunity of expressing themselves and hearing others express themselves upon this most important question. Taxation has long been conceded to be one of the most intricate problems that confronts a legislative body and that such a fact is duly appreciated by the members of the present legislature is explained by their action in the premises, both as regards those who seek to add to the revenue by bills that they think will meet the emergency and by those who are here willing to learn and profit by the advice given by those who are in a position to discuss intelligently upon the subject, and it is to this latter class of the members, who, by the by, are largely in the majority, that the business interests and the citizens generally are looking for an unravelling of the present very difficult situation regarding the deficiency and the outlook for future revenues.

COMMITTEES BUSY

PEOPLE OPPOSE PROPOSED MERGER

Petitions Being Circulated in Counties Traversed by the Southern Pacific

Decided opposition is developing among the people who live on the branch lines of the Southern Pacific to the proposed merger bill of that company, and a petition is now being circulated in nearly every county along the different roads to secure the names of people who oppose the merger of the lines. The counties reached by the lines which are proposed to be consolidated are Bee, Victoria, Wharton, De Witt, Goliad, Jackson, Calhoun and Gonzales.

One of the reasons for the opposition is the charge that when the New York, Texas and Mexico was built the people, under the contract, subscribed liberally on promise of the location of the machine shops at Victoria. It is believed that the Southern Pacific will encounter decided opposition in its move to consolidate when the matter comes before the legislature during this winter.

SPECIAL CELEBRY TRAINS
New Traffic Through This State Swells Railroad Earnings

Special celebrity trains are now running via El Paso between Los Angeles and Chicago and Los Angeles and New York city over the Southern Pacific and the Rock Island roads, the schedule being between the former cities from six to seven days, and between the latter cities ten days. A year ago the output of the celebrity fields around Smeltzer amounted to from fifteen to eighteen cars daily. At the present time it is from twenty-five to thirty cars of celebrities, and the growing of celery is being increased every year. The celery business is beginning to create much attention from the railroads, which see in its transportation large returns in the way of tariffs. Around there are more than 2,700 acres of land entirely devoted to celery culture and the yield for the present season, by a conservative estimate, is placed at from 1,800 to 2,000 cars.

"TEN MEN WHO OWN THE COUNTRY"

Says Thomas W. Lawson in His Latest Broadside Against the Trusts

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Thomas W. Lawson of Boston issues another broadside against the Standard Oil group of millions, termed by him "the system," in his latest installment of "Financial Plunder," in Everybody's Magazine for February. In this installment Mr. Lawson begins "The Story of Amalgamation." He starts the "story" with a description of the financial system of the country and in the manner in which "the system" is gradually getting legal control of the entire country. He shows that "the system" is gaining its astounding power and robbing the people of their millions by using the people's deposits in banks, insurance companies and other institutions against themselves.

"You may ask if I desire to convey the idea that the great financial institutions and trusts of this country, which have their head centers in Wall street, are all concerned in the conspiracy to rob the people of their savings," he writes. "You think, doubtless, that so sweeping a statement goes beyond the truth. I desire to go on record right here in declaring that such financial institutions which in any way are engaged in taking from the people the money that is their surplus earnings on their capital, for the ostensible purpose of safeguarding it, or putting it in use for them, or exchanging it for stocks, bonds, policies, or other paper evidences of worth, are a part of the machine for the plundering of the people.

"This is a terrible charge. I am well aware, but it is based upon a thorough knowledge of the subject, and made with a full appreciation of its gravity. I do not mean to say that all men who handle and control the different institutions mentioned have guilty knowledge of the bearing of their actions. Many of them are of pure mind and most honest intentions, and are quite incapable of participating voluntarily in a conspiracy to wrong any one.

CONGREGATION PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENTS
Night Opening Will Be Only Change From Usual Routine—Estimated 3,000 Receipts Will Be Issued

The plan of sending a man on the street to collect poll taxes has met with such poor success that it has been abandoned by both city and county. From now on the only change from the usual routine will be the evening opening of the offices. In order that all persons employed during the day may have ample opportunity to pay their poll tax, the city assessor and collector's office will remain open until 9 p. m., beginning today. This regulation will be observed until the closing of the tax rolls on the last day of this month.

RECEIVING BIDS ON WELL
Work on Additional Water Supply Will Be Pushed Without Delay—Contractors Investigate

In accordance with the instructions of the city council, City Engineer Hawley and H. L. Calhoun, secretary of the water works department, are making preparations for the boring of an additional well near the site of the experimental one that is being drilled west of the city. Bids are being received at present and the contract will be awarded in the near future. The new well will be of gigantic proportions, sixteen inches being the contemplated diameter measurement of the hole. City Engineer Hawley has been in conference today with parties seeing the contract for the work and explaining the requirements.

We Paid $100,000

For Liquozone, Yet We Give You a 50c Bottle Free

We paid $100,000 for the American rights to Liquozone, the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. We cured all kinds of germ diseases with it—thousands of the most difficult cases obtainable. We proved that in germ troubles it always accomplishes what medicine cannot do. Now we ask you to try it—try it at our expense. Test it as we did; see what it does. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do. You will use it, not only to get well, but to keep well. And it will save nearly all of your sickness.

Kills Inside Germs
Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and four-to-days' time. This process has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquozone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that we have spent over one million dollars to supply the first bottle free to each sick one we learned of.

Unknown Hand Has Ruffled The Course of Their Love

Mrs. Jordan is a beautiful society woman of Macon, Ga. She has been betrothed for some time to Don Luis F. Corea, Nicaraguan minister to the United States. Even since the engagement was announced stories have been persistently circulated by some unknown person to the effect that Senor Corea is of negro descent. This Corea vehemently denies, and a few days ago he announced that if he could find out who was circulating the stories he "would make things warm for him." It is said that Mrs. Jordan's relatives have investigated the stories, found them to be without foundation, and are willing that the marriage take place.

AMUSEMENTS
Following a busy theatrical week, which ended Saturday night with Thomas Jefferson and an excellent company presenting "Rip Van Winkle," comes a week considerably lighter in point of number of attractions, but strong in quality. "The Princess Chie," which comes Wednesday and Thursday nights and Thursday matinee, at Greenwall's, has always pleased ever since Marguerita Sylva first sung the title role here. Sophie Brandt comes a stranger to Fort Worth, but with the reputation of many laurels abroad and in the east where she has sung thus far this season.

MISS COGHLAN AND SARDOU
When Victorien Sardou wrote "Diplomacy" he did not have Miss Rose Coghlan in mind, but since the first production of the play in this country some years ago, no one can possibly think of the Sardou masterpiece without calling to mind the great actress who interpreted it, nor think of Miss Coghlan without recalling the drama that set her in the front rank. Lester Wallace brought her, a mere girl, from London, to originate the part of the Russian spy, and she so far exceeded his highest expectations that the merits of the other actors in the piece were obscured. William Winter, Alan Dale, Aubrey Davis and all the other leading critics of this country have repeatedly given Miss Coghlan the palm. For the new year the actress has decided to make a grand revival of the drama, associating with herself Howard Kyle, the former star of "Naughty Nell," in the part opposite that of Zicka. They will bring a strong company here to Greenwall's opera house Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee, Jan. 27-28, and the two stars are sure of a warm reception recalling the best days of the legitimate drama.

Work on Additional Water Supply Will Be Pushed Without Delay—Contractors Investigate

In accordance with the instructions of the city council, City Engineer Hawley and H. L. Calhoun, secretary of the water works department, are making preparations for the boring of an additional well near the site of the experimental one that is being drilled west of the city. Bids are being received at present and the contract will be awarded in the near future. The new well will be of gigantic proportions, sixteen inches being the contemplated diameter measurement of the hole. City Engineer Hawley has been in conference today with parties seeing the contract for the work and explaining the requirements.

TO CONSIDER CHURCH PLANS

Quarterly Conference of Mulkey Memorial Congregation Will Arrange for Larger Structure
Plans for a new church building will be submitted to the quarterly conference that will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the Mulkey Memorial church. The old church building, which has stood for about fifteen years, has become inadequate in its seating capacity and a new building is to be constructed at once near the site of the present church. The new building will have a seating capacity on the ground floor of about one thousand people and a balcony that will hold several hundred more.

New Yorkers Plan Extensive Fishing Grounds at Tampico
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Norman McLeod, a retired capitalist, John J. Reid of the police department and Melvin J. Rice, president of the firm of McLeod & Company, importers of jute and hemp, all of this city, have decided to form a fishing and hunting club of New Yorkers to locate headquarters at Tampico, Mex.

A number of cottages are to be built for the accommodation of the members who desire to spend the winter in that seaport. Annual trips are to be made there. At present most of the lovers of fishing in New York are going to Florida or places along the Texas gulf coast. The Tampico fishing grounds are said to be the greatest in the world.

Curse Drink

White Ribben
White Ribben Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for all alcoholic drinks, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, a "tippler," a social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for the patient to get any pleasure from alcoholic liquors after using White Ribben Remedy. It has made many thousands of permanent cures, and in addition restores the victim to normal health, strengthening the nerve, increasing the will power and determination to resist temptation.

Indorsed by Members of a Woman's Christian Temperance Union.
Mrs. Anna Moore, Press Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Los Angeles, Cal., states: "I have tested White Ribben Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the results have been many. I cheerfully recommend after using White Ribben Remedy, and advise every woman to give it to any relative suffering from alcoholism."

THE TWELFTH DISTRICT

The figures just sent out from Austin showing the vote of the different counties cast in the late election for Governor Lanham may be used to foreshadow some warm times in congressional conventions in this the Twelfth district.

As will be remembered, since the present alignment of the district was created Parker and Tarrant counties have habitually voted together on congressional matters and the remainder of the district has been constantly in opposition to them.

The vote in the recent election was very small and all the counties have their representation reduced, so that now Parker and Tarrant together have nineteen votes and the remainder of the district the same number, indicating a tie vote in convention.

The vote in the recent election was very small and all the counties have their representation reduced, so that now Parker and Tarrant together have nineteen votes and the remainder of the district the same number, indicating a tie vote in convention.

Johnson county, 2,277 votes, 7 votes in convention. Parker, 1,826, 6. Tarrant, 4,050, 13. Hood, 574, 1. Somervell, 277, 1. Erath, 1,764, 5. Comanche, 1,535, 5.

In this list Tarrant loses 4, Parker 2, Hood 1, Erath 4, Comanche 2; Johnson holds her own with 7 and Somervell still has the 1 she was entitled to last year—Cleburne Enterprise.

From a study of the figures given as the total vote in the next congressional convention held in this district it will be apparent that Tarrant and Parker have really lost nothing so far as their relative strength is concerned. On the contrary, while the remainder of the district had a majority of one vote in the previous lining up of the opposing forces, now it is an even break should Tarrant and Parker conclude to again line up together in a congressional contest. This puts Tarrant and Parker counties really in better shape than before, notwithstanding both lost strength as a result of the falling off in the vote of the late election.

It is rather bad taste for the newspapers of the district to begin the work of lining up certain counties in the district against other counties. It is now more than a year until there will be any congressional contest on the tapis, and that is a long time to hold a combination together for a preliminary skirmish. We do not know what is going to happen during the interim. Every county in the district may have a favorite son to enter in the list, and the best thing to do at this particular juncture is to lay low and saw wood.

It is presumed that Johnson county will again enter her standing candidate, but the actual campaign may well be delayed until some time next year, as the people have grown a little bit weary of so much politics.

When the time comes around for the choosing of a congressional candidate in the district the district should unite in selecting for that very important position the very best material that presents itself. They should not stop to ask if the candidate of Tarrant, Parker, Hood, Johnson, or any other county in the district. The first question should be is he the best man of the total offering for the place? If that question is decided in the affirmative, then the democracy of the district should get in behind the best man for the place and nominate and elect him, without any regard for the scheme of arraying certain counties in the district against certain other counties.

The man elected to congress from the Twelfth district goes there to represent the people of the entire district, and is elected by the whole people of the Twelfth district. The Telegram wants to see the next contest pitched on proper lines, and the shriveled localism embodied in the idea of arraying one county against another entirely eliminated. This thing of naming a democratic candidate for congress from the Twelfth district is not the time and opportunity of playing for even. It is the time and place where the people of the entire district are presumed to get together and nominate the best material that offers for the position. If the best material this next time comes from Johnson county, it is the duty of the people to nominate the Johnson county man. If Tarrant county offers the best material, then the nomination should again come to Tarrant county. It is a congressman the people want, not an opportunity to play for even on any old score.

In England last year, including all the British Isles, only five passengers were killed in railway accidents. In the United States 235 were killed and 2,154 injured. Is it any wonder that congress is looking into the situation in this country? If reasonable care is productive of such good results in the old country the same methods might well be employed in this country.

It is now asserted that Senator Quay's seat in the United States senate, now occupied by Senator Knox, was sold to the Standard Oil, Pennsylvania railway and United States Steel Companies. The Pittsburgh Times says that State Senator William Flinn offered one million dollars for the place, but the other interests must have bid more.

Ellis county, Texas, raised 420,000 bales of cotton last year, in spite of the fact that the boll weevil was doing business in Texas. And an Ellis county cotton mill will run until May on the orders already in hand for its product. Ellis county seems capable of dealing with the cotton problem.

Secretary Hay has been assured by the powers that they have no designs on the integrity of China, but it will be remembered that Russia has all along said the very same thing. If Russia had really had no designs on China the war with Japan would not now be in progress.

In the attempted regulation of the railways President Roosevelt may be treading very closely on democratic preserves, but at the same time he must realize that all the people of the country are with him in his efforts to effect this great reform.

That long delayed report from the bureau of commerce and labor on the beef trust is expected to be made this week, according to the promise of Commissioner Garfield, and the public is very anxious to hear the result of that long and tedious investigation.

The long fight that has been made by New Mexico for admission as a state shows no signs of abatement. If those good people desire to become citizens of the United States they should petition congress for annexation to Texas.

New Jersey is out of debt and has no state tax. This fine showing is the net result of having mothered all the trusts in the country for the republican party. "Incorporated under the laws of New Jersey" is the ear-mark they all bear.

Postmaster General Wynne is to be United States consul at London when he delivers to Mr. Cortelyou the job he has so obligingly held for him since before the recent general election.

Mr. Bryan should be particular and not attempt to shape the democrats along too radical lines. When a proposition gets too drastic the people are not disposed to stay with it.

The farmers who are disposed to burn their cotton should stop and reflect on the proposition that they are the only sufferers in such procedure, and there is absolutely nothing to be gained. No man who thinks twice on this proposition will be led into such a foolish error.

The neat inscription to the effect that the Lord hates a liar, which was displayed by Eugene Ware when he was pension commissioner has been painted out by his successor. Is one to infer from this that liars are now to have an inning in the pension department at Washington?

The citizens of Rosen Heights have taken legal steps to determine whether or not they have been legally annexed by North Fort Worth. In the district court will now be fought the battle which is to determine the future of the situation.

Things in Colorado have come to a pretty pass when even a live stock convention can not be held in that state without breaking up in a big row. Strenuously seems to command a continued premium up in that region.

Governor Pennypacker of Pennsylvania says that he does not read the newspapers, and that being the case, the public can not understand the animus of the row he is kicking up in an effort to suppress the newspapers.

The fact that all the members of the impeachment board at Washington are not in favor of impeaching Judge Swayne of Florida, may be attributable to the fact that some of them have a fellow-feeling for him.

The Cuban senate has appropriated the sum of $300,000 to be used in cleaning up the island, but the methods employed will be vastly different from that used by Spain in an attempt to do work of the same name.

The state legislature is getting down to the consideration of important legislation in a very conservative manner. There seems to be no rush about anything but the introduction of bills.

Next week the state legislature will get through the formality of electing Hon. Charles A. Culberson to the position again accorded him in the United States senate by the people of Texas.

The czar of Russia doubtless thought of that bomb-proof house that is owned by President Castro of Venezuela when grape shot were recently hurtling in his close vicinity.

The newly elected senator from the state of California is said to be a man of parts—one part Southern Pacific and the other part Standard Oil.

There are said to be 8,000 living authors in the United States, and the most of them are believed to be citizens of Indiana.

Out in West Texas the farmers are holding their cotton so tight that the ties are reported to be cracking.

WOMEN WHO CHARM HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mr. Chas. F. Brown, Vice-President of the Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes: "For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, and worn out with pain and weakness. I one day noticed a statement by a woman suffering as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it. At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the womb trouble, and I felt like a new woman. I am sure it will make every suffering woman strong, well and happy, as it has me." Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleanings From the Exchanges

The consideration of agricultural matters will engage much of the time and attention of the forthcoming legislature. It is meet and proper that such should be the case. Texas is today growing in its agricultural interests very rapidly. In fact quite as much of it now working in the fact being paid to this particular line of industry than any one not acquainted with the facts would appreciate. The state of Texas, in fact, has not in the past looked after its agricultural interests as much as it should have done. The time is ripe to make amends for the past. The farmer should have his department in the state government. It should be properly equipped and given sufficient funds to operate on in a businesslike and beneficial way. There is no reason why this should not be among the first acts of the present legislature. The farming classes should be required to demand this action. The legislature should make the provisions without its being demanded.—Austin Statesman.

The agricultural department of the state government at Austin has never been of much practical benefit to the farmers of Texas, from the fact it has not been conducted along practical lines. One season's work at the State Agricultural and Mechanical station is worth more than is accomplished by the department at Austin during all the time of its existence. There should be a general shaking up of that department to relieve it of its ennui and inertia.

Representative Rosser Thomas of Panola county announces that he has prepared a bill and is now working in the interest of its passage, which will be presented to the next legislature—making it a penal offense for any person to solicit orders for intoxicating liquors in prohibition districts of the state. Senator C. M. Chambers of this city has also prepared a document somewhat similar to the Thomas bill, as have several other members of the senate and house. Chambers and Thomas are both influential members of that body and the passage of an act placing at least certain restrictions on the solicitors may be looked forward to with no small degree of certainty by the people of the dry districts.—Clarks-ville Times.

The effort being made by liquor men to evade the local option laws through the softening of business in local option territory is going to cause some very drastic legislation by the present legislature. When the people of a community vote what they consider an evil out of that community they generally mean business, and will not suffer any outside interference with its enforcement.

The big packeries of Armour and Swift at Fort Worth complain that they have lost their business to some extent on the hog market. In spite of this latter fact, the truth remains that the south, a land of ease and plenty and comfort and good fellowship, lies at our door, within a day's travel. Some of us know the south along the main lines of railway. Take the word of one admirer of it, get away from the railway, explore the south as Davy Crockett did, and you will never regret that experience. You will return with your eyes opened to very many things. Perhaps you may forget your days of excellent upland and marsh shooting in your wonder that this beautiful and lovable part of America is not a part of the United States today; and you will first to assert that this condition of unregeneration, so-called, is not the fault of the south, but of the north. Yet the south is the coming portion of the United States of America. It is the next west. Visit it, travel across it, talk with its people. Do it now. You will never regret it so long as you live. E. Hough, in January Field and Stream.

tation to the contrary notwithstanding, has the others distanced by the usual conventional method of measuring distances in cities—a block—Terrell Transcript.

Texas saved the day for the cattlemen at Denver and it is but another incident illustrating the fact that this great state is but beginning to realize her own power and importance.

Governor Lanham's message is a good piece of composition, entirely free from sensations. In fact, the only thing that will have a tendency to jar is the recommendation that the ad valorem tax be raised to 25 cents. This, however, is ameliorated by the statement that it should go back to 20 cents in another year. Governor Lanham always proceeds along the path of the high road with a business man, and both eyes open.—Corsicana Sun.

Governor Lanham's message has been praised as a very strong and statesman-like document, and it has been reviled as the weakest that has ever emanated from a Texas state executive. The fling the governor made at the residents of cities in dubbing them as tax-dodgers as a sop to the farmer, will be entirely overcome by his advocacy of a big general raise in the tax rate.

Arlington is midway between two of the largest and most aggressive cities in the state, Dallas and Fort Worth. The tendency would naturally be for these two towns to sap the very life blood from the midway town, thus located between the two fires. But Arlington business men are made of the stuff that builds towns and as a result the "pull" works the other way, and Arlington is one of the best little towns in all the country. In another column will be found a record of its growth during 1904. A remarkable showing, truly—Cedar Hill Times.

Arlington is one of the best towns of its size in the state of Texas, and the reason for that lies in the fact that Arlington is located in Tarrant county. There are no dead ones in Tarrant county, and progress and development is the rule clear up to the Dallas county line.

The helpless insanity wards of the great state of Texas cry out to the legislature for relief from conditions that are almost unendurable and are crying shame and disgrace to the state.—Denison Herald.

There are hundreds of people bereft of their reason confined in county jails all over Texas, from the fact that room can not be made for them in the different asylums. Such a condition is a shame and a reproach upon Texas humanity, and it is a situation that should be promptly remedied by the present legislature.

An effort is being made to abolish the present grand jury system. While there may be, at rare intervals, cases on record where the grand jury has been used by designing and "unscrupulous" men to besmirch the character and standing of personal enemies, there are thousands of cases where violators of the law would have gone entirely unapprehended but for the present system. "The big twelve" may be given a rest, but not until a better and even more reliable system for the apprehension of criminals has been designed.—Clarks-ville Times.

There should be no effort to abolish the grand jury system without the adoption of some adequate method of reaching the transgressor of the law. But at the same time there should be some method devised whereby the man who is innocent should not be compelled to bear the odium of an indictment that can not be made to stick.

MAGAZINES

THE SOUTH THE NEXT WEST Of all the corners of this great and beautiful land of America, I confess perhaps the greatest fondness for that corner which is least known, the portion of the United States south of the Ohio river. Did I call this a portion of the United States? Politically it is not so, but that is not the fault of the south but of the north. It always seemed to me, in that spirit of boyhood love of fair play which I brought from the battle grounds of the little red school houses, that after a fellow was whipped and had "battered" enough, he ought to be allowed to get up. We whipped the south, took her surrender, and then brutally never allowed her to get up again! Politically, we have kept the south out of the United States just so far as we could. We have imposed conditions which the south could not accept and live. We have asked her to come in and sit at our table, but we have locked the front door and hidden the key, and left the south out in the cold, not a real part of the United States. And yet, here is one of the dearest, sweetest and noblest parts of all our country. Here is the very place where the old Americanism exists today—the only place. And if we do not know the south, nor nearly so well as Davy Crockett did after his journey through the wilderness places, more is the shame and pity for us.

As the southern states have been the last home of the genuine Americanism—just as they were the original and natural home for gentle living—so they have been the last to change in the ways of what we call modern progress, which latter is to some of us a somewhat hateful thing, and to some more hateful than to the sportsman and the outdoor man, who cannot find it in his soul to subscribe to the modern creed of success, so-called. The south has been the last to change in the matters of game supply. She still has abundant facilities for sport left to her. We do not all of us know this; nor do all of us reflect that the greatest lure-lands on the game of the south have been made by northern men.

In spite of this latter fact, the truth remains that the south, a land of ease and plenty and comfort and good fellowship, lies at our door, within a day's travel. Some of us know the south along the main lines of railway. Take the word of one admirer of it, get away from the railway, explore the south as Davy Crockett did, and you will never regret that experience. You will return with your eyes opened to very many things. Perhaps you may forget your days of excellent upland and marsh shooting in your wonder that this beautiful and lovable part of America is not a part of the United States today; and you will first to assert that this condition of unregeneration, so-called, is not the fault of the south, but of the north. Yet the south is the coming portion of the United States of America. It is the next west. Visit it, travel across it, talk with its people. Do it now. You will never regret it so long as you live. E. ## TIP O'NEILL NEW HEAD WESTERN BALL LEAGUE

OAKLAND, Jan. 23.—Norris O'Neill known to the baseball world as "Tip" O'Neill, who has just been chosen president of the Western Baseball league, will leave for Chicago about Feb. 1, to assume his new duties. Mr. O'Neill will be stationed in Chicago during his term of office, attending to the affairs of the league from there.

President O'Neill was born in Pennsylvania and is about 40 years old. He has made his home in Oakland for many years, having played with the Oakland baseball club in the late '80s and early '90s.

O'Neill learned the first rudiments of the game at Hamilton College, Clinton, New York, where he attended school. He played behind the bat and was considered the best catcher that the college ever had.

Professional managers heard of Tip's ability, and he was sought by several clubs. Being a good batter, he was made an infielder by force of circumstances. He first played in the Southern league, where he made good from the start. He was first with the New Orleans club and then went to Charleston, Columbus and Montgomery, in turn. From the Southern league he went to Kalamazoo, Mich.; Waterbury, Conn.; Wilmington, Del.; and Buffalo, New York.

He then came to coast, joining the Oakland club. He at once took with the fans and was put in charge of the team.

Posenberg is playing fast billiards in practice.

POLO CLUB MAY CROSS
The Hurlingham Polo Club of England is to be invited to send a team to this country this year and next year an American team will be sent to Great Britain. This was decided on at a meeting of the Polo Association committee held this week. It was intended that the English team should be brought to this country to play a game after the open championship at Van Cortlandt Park last fall, but an injury to Walter Buckmaster caused the foreigners to give up the trip.

ALL-AMERICANS TO PLAY HERE

Manager Feegles Seeking to Arrange Series with Big

League Baseball Stars
Manager Feegles of the Panthers is endeavoring to make arrangements for a series of exhibition games in this city with a team of American and National League stars, comprising some of the foremost players on the diamond.

This all-American team is now playing in Cuba. From there they will go to Mexico. Their return to the north will be made by rail and the plan is to have them stop here en route and meet the Panthers.

The combination is known as the All-American Baseball Club, and is under the management of E. B. Lamar. Those who make up the team are: Jackitsch, Brooklyn National League; Moorehead, Brooklyn National; Doscher, Brooklyn National; Maley, Brooklyn National; Duff, New York American; Vinson, Cleveland American; George Davis, Chicago American; Wilson, Washington American; and Barberich, Washington American.

The team is to leave Havana Feb. 12 and proposes to play in Merida from Feb. 16 to 21. Arrangements are being made also to play at Vera Cruz and Orizaba between the dates of Feb. 25 and March 2. The team is to play in the City of Mexico from March 4 to 12, to be lined up against a team selected from among the best local players in that city.

CORNELL UNDECIDED ON ENTERING REGATTA

Coach Courtney Still Considering Participation in American Henley—Many American Yachts Going Abroad
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The report that Cornell has decided to enter a junior crew in the American Henley at Philadelphia on May 27 is at least premature. The Cornell navy has received an invitation to enter a crew for the regatta of the American Rowing Association, but no action has been taken on the subject. Coach Courtney and the rowing authorities are still considering the matter. It is not likely that an answer will be given for at least two weeks. If Cornell takes part in the American Henley it will be necessary to drop the annual Memorial day regatta on Lake Cayuga, while if the latter event is held by the Cornell navy it is certain that a second crew will not compete at Philadelphia.

of 1905, will in all probability have with him a former college teammate in the person of Leo Walsh, who has made a crack record at St. Edward's as a twister. Manager Feegles is now conducting negotiations with Walsh, who is at Austin, and is hopeful of securing his signature to a Panther contract.

Hubbard, who came from the same institution, has made a fine record and batted .369 during the past season. Through error he was represented in The Telegram as batting only .105, explanation being given that an injury prevented his maintaining his early season record. This first record was shown in the table of percentages.

FAVORITES WIN AT HOT SPRINGS

Twenty-Three Take First Money Out of Forty-Two Races in One Week

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Hutch McCarren and his 2-year-olds, Mint Boy and Roseburg, may be said to have furnished the sensations of last week's racing at Essex Park. Mint Boy, with 125 pounds up and ridden by Foy, the stable jockey, was an odds-on favorite in the first race on Tuesday, was almost left at the post, and McCarren took occasion to say things about Starter Mars Cassidy.

This reached the ears of the judges, who fined him $100, with a caution that any repetition of the offense would result in barring him and his horses from the Essex Park track for the remainder of the meeting. Before the gossips had ceased wagging their tongues over the incident he sprang another sensation with his 2-year-old colt Roseburg, a swell looking chestnut son of Hapsburg and Florida Rose. This is the youngest your correspondent told of a week ago as being able to "loose" Mint Boy, which had already won twice and was generally thought to be the best of the 2-year-olds uncovered so far.

McCarren chose the Country Club stakes, a race worth $2,100 for 2-year-olds at three furlongs, as the occasion for cutting loose the youngster. Never having started, the colt received neither penalties nor allowances and carried his full scale weight of 118 pounds. Turning into the stretch he ran out, going all the way to the outside, but he displayed such an amazing burst of speed in the last furlong that he passed most of his rivals with consummate ease and only just failed to beat the more lightly weighted Lady Charada, owned by James Arthur.

Lady Charada, although she had run three times and never finished in the money, was mentioned in last week's review of the racing here as probably one of the two best fillies of all those that had sported silk. She made good by winning the stake at her next start. At that she need not be expected to win any great fame, for with the exception of Roseburg none of the 2-year-olds appear likely to earn much distinction. Mint Boy and Port Worth, a bay colt by Portland-Pennycuik, are speedy and undoubtedly will pay their way. The latter won a race for maidens handsomely on Friday, it being his second start, but he was cut down; though not badly. When he recovers and gets into form he will pay to follow in ordinary company.

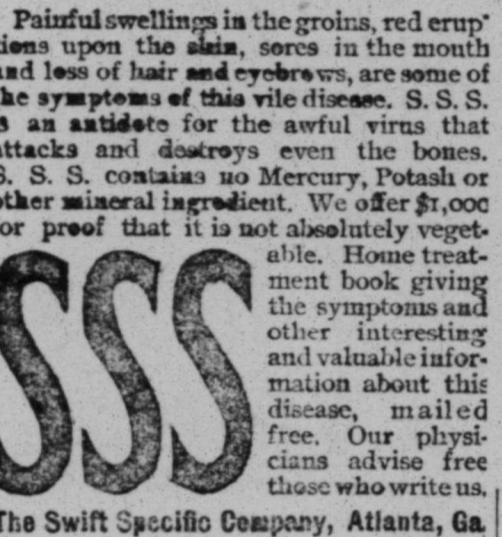

When Roseburg came into the paddock for the stake race both forelegs were bandaged heavily, and before going to the post the bandages were removed and his legs rubbed with ether. It left the colt better in a quandary whether McCarren was just "stalling" for a better price or the colt was sound, though apparently his legs are clean and strong and his ankles and pasterns quite good.

FAVORITES RUNNING WELL
Tuesday brought the first disqualification of the meeting when Amorous, the favorite in the third race, lost first money by fouling the 20 to 1 shot Billy Moore, the old gelding running a good race in the soft going. The previous race had been won by a 23 to 1 shot, Voltair, and the ring was awfully glad to get such a break in the constant winning of favorites or second choices. The percentage of winning favorites is unusually high. Of the forty-two races run in the last seven days twenty-three have been won by the first choice in the betting, and the books have not had a good time. However, it has been the means of increasing the public play considerably, which in turn has induced more books to cut in and made things a good deal more lively in the ring. The bad weather of the first week knocked the meeting badly, and when Monday broke chilly and wet only eight books cut in for the play. Wednesday—they cut in every two days now—again only eight went on the weather and track still being bad. But by Friday the weather was perfect, the attendance had increased considerably, and the number of books jumped up to thirteen for the last two days of the week. There seemed to be enough business for them all, too, and the heavy bettors cut loose, finding there was a chance to get their money on without scaring prices down to nothing.

When the outsider, Voltair, won an apprentice named Macey scored his maiden win and was given a little ovation out of the ordinary by the horsemen, the reason being that he is a son of Gus Macey, a trotting horse of note.

DREAD OF HUMANITY

I am compelled by a sense of gratitude to tell you the great good your remedy has done me in a case of Contagious Blood Poison. Among other symptoms I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism, and got almost past going. The disease got a firm hold upon my system; my blood was thoroughly poisoned with the virus. I lost in weight, was run down, had sore throat, eruptions, spots and other evidences of the disease. I was truly in a bad shape when I began the use of S. S. S., but the persistent use of it brought me out of my trouble safe and sound, and I have the courage to publicly testify to the virtues of your great blood remedy, S. S. S., and to recommend it to all blood-poison sufferers, sincerely believing if it is taken according to directions, and given a fair trial, it will thoroughly eliminate every particle of the virus. ## A VIEW OF TOM LAWSON'S "THOUGHT DEN."

Copyright 1904 by THOS. W. LAWSON BY THOS. E. WOTT—IN HIS OFFICE

It is a small room, but it contains enough material to establish a small art gallery and library, to say nothing of a brokerage office or editor's sanctum. The mystery that instantly appeals to the visiting stranger is, where does Mr. Lawson find space on his desk to write?

Between clusters of rare cut flowers in vases are three magnificent bronze equestrian statues, exhibited at the Paris world show. One, symbolizing destruction, rests at one end of the mahogany desk; another in the center, is a miniature statue of Frederick the Great, and the third represents General George Washington. An immense bronze inkwell, which Lawson ordered at a cost of several thousand dollars, is fashioned to illustrate the tradition of Wall street. Bronze bears and bulls are contesting position, and the lambs are getting the worst of the scramble, as usual. The walls of the room are littered with oil paintings of Lawson's race horses and prize dogs, and tucked away in nooks and corners in all parts of the room are indiscriminate batches of papers, memoranda, photographs of the Lawson family, small works of art by brush and chisel, rare editions of books, ticker tape, manuscript and what-not that finds its way into offices.

It is here that Thomas W. Lawson does most of his work and plans his fights against the powers of American finance. "While my revelations of the methods of the 'System' have been circulating throughout the United States, the 'System' has been engaged at its old trick of inflating the prices of its favorite stocks and bonds and spreading its nets for another gigantic plundering of the people," says Lawson in the February installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine. "In the stock market and in the high ways and by-ways and resting places of finance for months past nothing has been heard but fairy tales of great earnings of railroads and industrials, fairy tales of new ore in old mines, fairy tales of great finanal forces covering toward colossal combinations. "These are the lures of the 'System's' hirelings, the decoy calls of the market tout and the financial tipster whose part it is to mould opinion and urge the people to the shambles. Before my eyes, with a blind and audacious defiance of my warnings, the old game was rigged in full view of the audience and the old players began their venerable antics. In the meantime the 'System' attended to its own role in the conspiracy—supplying out of its banks and trust companies the public's money for the gamblers to make the game with. Then began the artificial process of working up the market; stocks gradually climbed higher and higher. Amalgamated ascended from the forties into the fifties and the sixties and even into the eighties; steel assumed the appearance of life and grew from 19 slowly upward into the twenties and thirties. Every day in the stock exchange hundreds of thousands of shares changed hands back and forth among the professionals who lustily played their parts in this financial melodrama. The good old myths of great fortunes made by lucky investors began to reappear in the papers. Sales increased; values jumped rather than climbed. The trap was set; the market made. The wily manipulators rubbed their hands gleefully. The public began to bite, to buy. It was then only a matter of sining up the wool crop before beginning the shearing."

D. Snodgrass, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the district court, to be held in and for the county of Tarrant, at the court house thereof, in the city of Fort Worth, on the second Monday of February, A. D. 1906, the same being the 13th day of said month, then and there to answer the petition of R. Vickery as plaintiff, filed in said court on the 14th day of January, A. D. 1905, against J. D. Snodgrass as defendant. Said suit being numbered 2368, the nature of which demand is as follows, to-wit: That on the 1st day of November, 1901, plaintiff conveyed to defendant, J. D. Snodgrass, part of blocks Nos. 54 and 55 of Glenwood addition to city of Fort Worth, Texas, being 84 feet north and south by 500 feet east and west out of the southwest corner of block No. 54, and a strip 17 1/2 by 600 feet off the north side of block No. 55, as part consideration for said conveyance said Snodgrass executed and delivered to plaintiff his certain promissory note for the sum of $875, bearing 8 per cent interest, payable quarterly, beginning Dec. 1, 1901, said note being secured by a vendor's lien upon said above described premises. Said note also provides for 10 per cent additional if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. That plaintiff has demanded the payment of said note, but the same remains due and unpaid, except the sum of $130; that the balance due now is the sum of $523.66, together with $33.90 interest, and plaintiff prays for judgment for said amount and for foreclosure of its vendor's lien on said premises, and general and special relief. Herein fail not, but have you then and there before said court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Witness, Jno. A. ORATOR STIRS CROWD The fashionable hotels on either side of the Grand Morskai were crowded, but the doors were locked, except to well-known visitors.

Then the soldiers moved off and disappeared down the street, the crowds shrieking, "Murderous dogs!" but quickly vanished before them.

"Comrades, we came humbly and peacefully to meet the emperor and lay our grievances before him, but the emperor refuses to see us and instead soldiers were sent to shoot us down.

"Down with the emperor!" shouted the crowd. "We have suffered under the sway of the Chinovniks. He hoped for redress, but hope is no longer possible; we can win our rights only by fighting."

"To arms!" was the thunderous response. The crowd, now aroused to a state of frenzy at the sight of the wounded, who were being brought out of the drug store and placed in an ambulance, saluted them as martyrs.

CROWD IN FRENZY The wildest element in the crowd now got the upper hand and proceeded to attack every officer in sight.

With All Expenses Paid

Starts Today With Forty-Seven Contestants Entered from Towns Throughout Oklahoma, Indian Territory, and Texas

One of the beautiful scenes along the Colorado Midland line. This will be viewed by the young ladies who are successful in winning in the contest.

Since the contest was announced two weeks ago names and votes have been pouring into The Telegram office in large numbers. Miss Mabel Bea Vert of Durant, I. T., is at the head of the list and has 15,000 votes; Miss Addie Harper, Palestine's popular contestant, holds second place with 14,500 votes; Miss Ruth Lyons of Hennessey, Okla., is in third place with 14,500; Miss Eurma Bez De Check of Anadarko, Okla., is in fourth place with 14,000; Miss Edna Ghent of Geary, Okla., has fifth place with 14,000; Miss Sallie Dowell of McKinney, Texas, is in sixth place with 14,000; Miss Madge Skelton of Muskogee, I. T., is in seventh place with 13,500; Miss Ruby Durr of Calvert, Texas, is in eighth place with 13,500; Miss Mamie Stewart of Bryan, Texas, is in ninth place with 13,500, and Miss Dee Rooks of Lawton, Okla., is in tenth place with 13,500.

A very few subscriptions would furnish votes enough to place any one of the nominees in the lead. Many will take advantage of the conditions of the contest by voting before Saturday, Feb. 25. A yearly subscription will count a large number of votes for your favorite.

The forty-seven young ladies who have entered this Great Colorado Contest have many friends who are not only willing but enthusiastic in helping them to win one of these grand free trips. This has been manifested by the large number of votes that have been received from contestants and their friends since the announcement was made two weeks ago.

Contest Starts Today, Jan. 23d
