Telephone communication with that city has been interrupted by the strikers. Work is being resumed at some of the factories.

20,000 OUT IN MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Jan. 28.—All the newspapers appeared today. Factory inspectors have reported 20,000 persons still out on strike.

Work is being resumed at almost all the mills which have been closed; but on the other hand, some of the large mills, including Propoff's, where the men were paid yesterday, still are out. The situation is not causing alarm, although there is some anxiety regarding the possibility of a disturbance tomorrow.

WITTE WANTS INVESTIGATION

Committee of Ministers, However, Rejects Proposal

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—At the last meeting of the committee of ministers, President Witte, according to the Russ, emphasized the necessity for a committee to discuss and formulate its views on the recent events at the capital. He considered that an inquiry into their causes and initiation and measures to prevent their recurrence was imperative. After a discussion, however, the committee rejected Mr. Witte's suggestions on the ground that such action was not within its jurisdiction.

RUSSIANS RETREATING

Withdrawing From East Coast of Korea to Mountain Pass

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Russians, fearing an attack from the sea, have, says a Herald dispatch, from Gensan, destroyed their telegraph supply stations on the east coast of Korea.

In the meantime the Russian main body retired in a northerly direction, leaving only a few scouting parties behind. These are now gradually falling back on a base where they have large quantities of supplies already stored.

JAPANESE SEIZE AN AMERICAN VESSEL

Was Loaded With Cargo of Provisions and Forage and on the Way to Vladivostok

TOKIO, Jan. 28, 2 p. m.—The American steamer M. S. Dollar, en route for Vladivostok with a cargo of provisions and forage, was seized yesterday by the Japanese in the Pacific ocean, east of Hokkaido Island.

A dispatch from London, dated Jan. 25, stated that a steamer with a black funnel encircled with two red bands was ashore at Vladivostok, and it was supposed to be the M. S. Dollar, sailing from San Francisco on Dec. 31, but no details of an accident to the big steamer had been received. It is deemed possible that she had been run ashore purposely to avoid capture by Japanese warships.

The M. S. Dollar was formerly a British steamer, Arlan, built in 1890 at Newcastle, England. She was subsequently sold to the Dollar Steamship Company of San Francisco.

The London dispatch further states that the M. S. Dollar had been posted on the overdue board in that city at a rate of thirty guineas.

In San Francisco the vessel had been posted as overdue with a rate of 30 per cent quoted for reinsurance.

HOUSTON CHARTER IS NEARLY READY

Provides for Elective Commission to Succeed Council and Mayor

Special to The Telegram.

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 28.—Within the next week a bill will be introduced in the state legislature providing for a new charter for the city of Houston and the placing of this city under an elective commission. The charter is now in the hands of the city council receiving its finishing touches. It provides for the abolishment of all ward lines and the election at large of a mayor and four aldermen, these five having the power to appoint and create such officers and offices as they deem necessary for the control and management of the affairs of the city. The salary of the mayor is fixed at $4,000 per year and that of the aldermen at $2,000.

Mayor Jackson, whose term will not expire until April, 1906, has agreed to resign immediately upon the enactment of the new charter and the citizens, through a committee, have requested that the legislature declare all offices vacant and the commission operative within forty days after the enactment of the charter into law, election to be held on or before that time. The present aldermen are contesting this point and when this is settled the charter will go before the legislature. State chairman of the democratic executive committee, Hon. Frank Andrews, was chairman of the committee that demanded the immediate operation of the elective commission.

To Pipe Oil to Houston From Humble Fields

The bringing in of the second gusher in the Humble oil field, fourteen miles northeast of Houston, has renewed the oil excitement and the first franchise for the pipe line from the oil fields to Houston was granted by the county commissioners last Friday in special session. The grant went to a Houston company, though there were three other competitors for the privilege. This city is fast becoming the oil center of the state and with the completion of the pipe line at least two new refineries will be constructed along with an immense amount of tankage. The first car of oil from the new field reached the city on Friday and is pronounced of excellent quality.

BOY DEFENDING MOTHER STABBED

May Die as Result of Wounds Inflicted by Resent-ing Insults

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—While attempting to protect his mother from the insults of a man who accosted her on the street, 19-year-old Richard Lewis was stabbed and dangerously wounded while in the Bowery today. John McKeen, who went to Lewis' assistance, was also stabbed twice in the side, but his injuries are not serious.

Both injured men and Lewis' mother have identified as their assailant a man now under arrest, who declared himself to the police as Michael Tokmee, a laborer, 25 years old.

While the surgeons were examining Lewis and McKeen in a hotel near the scene of the stabbing, a thief who entered the room with the curious crowd which collected, stole McKeen's vest, which contained a roll of bills amounting to more than $200.

Head of Western Jockey Club's Rival Says Secretary and Treasurer Will Be Elected Feb. 4

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 28.—Edward Corrigan, the temporary president of the American Jockey Club, the new turf organization formed at a meeting of race track owners in Hot Springs, has reached Memphis. Speaking of the new organization, Mr. Corrigan said:

"As far as we have agreed and talked matters over the intention is that each jockey club shall elect its own representatives, who will serve such club at all meetings and will have a vote in all the affairs of the governing body. There will be a secretary and treasurer elected at the next meeting, which will be held in Hot Springs on Feb. 4.

"The representatives of each track will meet annually for the purpose of allowing racing dates to the association under its jurisdiction. There will also be a committee of three of the most prominent turf men we can get to act as a board of appeal, before whom all protests as to dates can be referred, and its decision will be final. The persons favorably spoken of to constitute this board are Captain S. S. Brown, T. C. McDowell of Lexington, Ky., and Hon. Julius Fleischmann of Cincinnati. It was also agreed at the meeting in Hot Springs that each jockey club in selecting its representatives be required to send a reputable person.

SMILES HELD A TRAIN

Conductor Waits Thirty Minutes in Nebraska While Girl Is Made a Bride

NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 28.—There are smiles and smiles, but it must take a good one to break up a railroad schedule. The unique spectacle of a railroad train stopping at a station and waiting a half hour beyond schedule time for the performance of a marriage ceremony of two of the passengers took place at Humphrey, Neb., when N. G. Gardner and Miss Lucille Hemp, formerly of Boise City, Idaho, but now of Gregory, S. D., were married. The bride's smiles had hypnotized the trainmen.

"DIXIE" NOT POPULAR

Concludes Ohlean Trying to Secure Monument for Author

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 29.—There is no love for "Dixie" in the south. Such is the conclusion reached from a statement by A. M. Stadler of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, chairman of the local committee in this town of Dan Emmett's birth, charged with the collection of funds for that famous minstrel's monument. Out of more than 1,500 letters one answer only of any kind was received, and that was a small contribution in cash from the Crowley high school of Crowley, La. These letters were sent out throughout the whole south. The plea was made that the memory of the man who wrote the war song of the Confederacy should not die.

WU TING FANG EXILED

A DAY OF RECKONING MUST COME

STATE'S FINANCES NOT SO INVOLVED AS FEARED

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 28.—Speaking in round numbers, the amount of money the Twenty-ninth legislature will be asked to appropriate for the support of the state government and its institutions for the next two years is $6,300,000. In addition to this handsome sum $881,000, the present deficit, must be provided for, which makes it necessary for the legislature to raise in some way $7,181,000.

The estimated receipts of the government for the next two years under the present rate is $6,462,800. It will thus be seen that if the business of the state runs on the present basis the shortage will be two years hence $1,414,200.

"WIZARD" BURBANK TO GET $10,000 A YEAR

Carnegie's Gift Will Enable Him to Devote all His Time to Perfecting Agricultural Experiments

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—It has been announced that the sum of $10,000 allotted by the trustees of the Carnegie Institute to Luther Burbank, the California agriculturist, will be paid to him in annual installments of $10,000. This sum will enable Burbank to devote his entire attention for that period to his experiments with new grasses and vegetables, and it is expected that he will relinquish temporarily his business interests.

Many important discoveries have been made by the Californian at his home in Santa Rosa during the past twenty-five years. He has worked along the line of seeking imperfect products in fruits, flowers, etc., in order to make them of full value. He claims there is "no weed which will not sooner or later respond liberally to good cultivation and persistent selection."

Fireman Won After Desperate Struggle in Swaying Cab

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 28.—While pulling a train of thirty loaded freight cars from Colliers, W. Va., to Pittsburg, Charles Kull, the engineer, became temporarily deranged and letting the engine out to its last notch gave battle to his fireman, Perry McKinley, who sought to bring the train to a standstill.

The unfortunate engineer was brought to Pittsburg and placed in the west Pennsylvania hospital, where his sanity will be looked into by experts. Recently Kull refused new charges, his engine going through a switch and hanging with him over a precipice. It is thought this settled his mind.

Oyama reports that he defeated the Russians at Chen Chieh Pao. The engagement at Heikou Tai was progressing when the field marshal reported.

The official telegram does not disclose the object of the Russians, and does not indicate the prospects of a general engagement. Oyama's report is as follows: "The enemy on the right of the Hun river began activity Jan. 25. Over one corps advanced from the district south of Chengtsu toward Heikou Tai and Chen Chieh Pao. Our army assumed the offensive Jan. 26. Our detachment repulsed a division of the enemy at Chen Chieh Pao. The Russians retired to Liu Tai Ke. ### TO CLOSE OIL MILLS

WACO, Texas, Jan. 28.—It is understood that the cotton seed oil mills in this section will begin closing down at once now, as the supply of material has about to wait for another crop before operations in some departments can be resumed. A high grade of output has been reported in most cases, as the seed came to hand in perfect condition, there having been practically no rain to cause damage or deterioration.

BANKERS TO HIRE TRAIN TO PORTLAND

Plan Outlined at Convention Held in Temple Enthusiastically Received by Association Members

TEMPLE, Tex., Jan. 25.—It developed at the convention of the Fourth District Bankers' Association held here Wednesday that the state bankers' convention, which is to meet in Dallas in June will probably charter a special train to the Pacific coast, the ultimate destination being Portland, Ore.

The attitude assumed by the bankers of Texas toward the state bank amendment to the constitution was made apparent here at the bankers' convention yesterday, when the following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, further, That the law to be passed, we believe, should conform substantially to the national bank act of the United States, with such changes and additions as may better suit the conditions prevailing in Texas, making the law as safe and liberal in its features and details as possible, consistent with safe and progressive banking methods.

PARALLEL LINES FROM LOUISIANA Frisco to Build Between New Orleans and Houston Through Edgard

Some big stories are being published as to Frisco plans in Texas and the south-west in the near future. In fact, it has been sent out broadcast that between $3,000,000 and $10,000,000 are to be expended in prosecuting new lines and extending old ones, making advantageous connections and pushing the system into new territory.

While this work is being done in Texas similar reports reach here that the Frisco system is not going to be idle in the state of Louisiana, and will make considerable improvements there. President A. J. Davidson has been in New Orleans some time looking after the Frisco's interests there, preliminary to the company's trains running into that city.

The Frisco is to enter New Orleans from the north, but how it will leave that city in a westerly direction is a matter of much conjecture just at this time. However, the general opinion is that the Frisco will use the tracks of the Texas and Pacific and that their trains will be ferried across the river from the Third district to Gretna and use this route as far as Edgard, and from there take a south-westerly direction to Baldwin.

There is a well-founded report that the Frisco is going to parallel the Southern Pacific from Edgard to Houston, Texas, where connection will be made with its own line to Bay City, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Matamoros, Tampico and the City of Mexico.

Water for the use of the round house is now being piped into the city from a first well when the shops are enlarged and additional water will be brought from both wells, as they are to be connected by a tunnel. It is believed that the water running into the two wells comes from a spring, and is said to be fine for railroad use.

Missouri Pacific Line and Will be in Operation Next Fall It is announced that the Missouri Pacific extension from Joplin to Whitesboro, Texas, is being put through as fast as possible, and by September next the road will be completed. When completed this line will give the Missouri Pacific a through line from Joplin through the Indian Territory and Texas.

AMERICAN PORK IS IN DEMAND "The extension of the market for American live stock products, including all sorts of canned goods, would be immediately followed, in my belief, by higher prices for American cattle and hogs, especially for the latter, for Europe always will consume more American pork than American beef. The Frenchman and the German is not in general a beef eater like the Englishman. The packers at present are restricted in their output. There is plenty of stock and prices correspondingly are low."

AROUND THE WORLD IN A 35 FOOT BOAT

When William K. Vanderbilt brought to this side of the water his famous turbine yacht Tarentula, it carried as skipper an enterprising mariner, one A. L. Napper, born in Brighton, England, and raised pretty much all over the world.

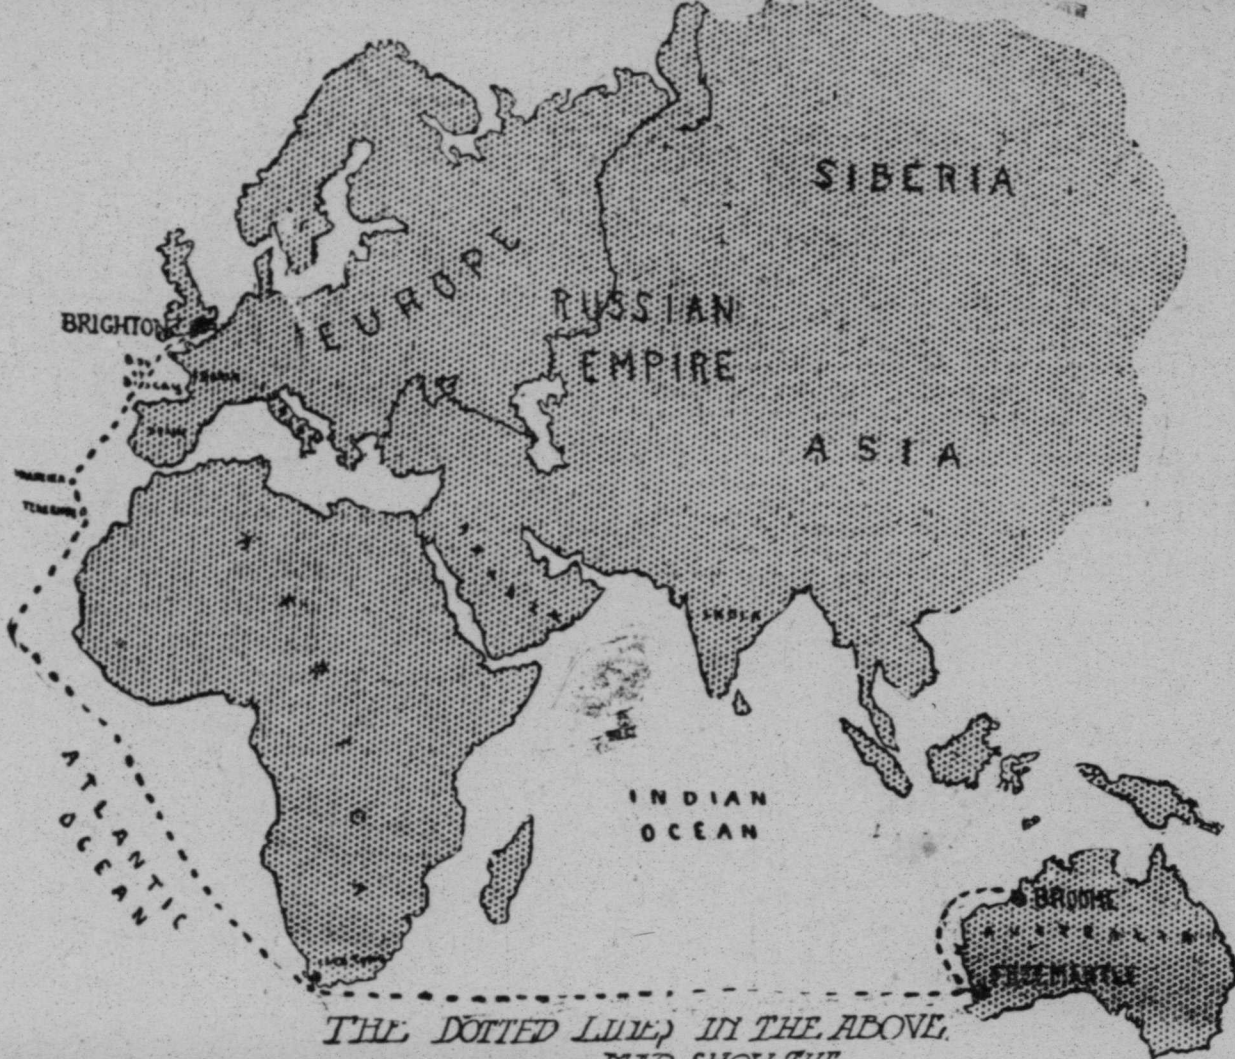

Napper, who is 32 years old now and who shipped as a cabin boy when only 12 years of age, started the second week in September on a voyage that, for sheer daring, has never been surpassed in the history of shipping. Napper and a young companion named Langford, who has also knocked about different parts of the five oceans since a little lad, are now well on their way past the Spanish coast, bound first of all for the little port of Freemantle, Australia, and incidentally intend to cover in their 10-ton cutter, only 35 feet in length, the entire round of the universe.

To any sort of a sailor the proposition seems little short of madness, while even the veriest landlubber must pause aghast at the idea of braving the waves of every ocean on the earth in a tiny 35-foot boat, capable only of carrying a crew of two and provisions of the skimpiest sort for that number for three months. Yet Al Napper and Jack Langford have always borne the reputation of being wise in sea lore and handy aboard the finest of private yachts. Only one other such voyage has ever been attempted and that was by Captain Slocum, a veteran of the old New England fisheries, who started in a 40-foot yawl named the Spray, 18 months ago. Captain Slocum, after frightful experiences from hunger, thirst and terrible injuries received at the hands of savages in the South Sea Islands, finally gave up his trip after reaching South Africa.

Napper and Langford, the two modern Vikings of Brighton, however, claim that their 35-foot cutter will certainly succeed where no man has ever made good before. The Brighton underwent a thorough refitting process for weeks and was replanked and recaulked. The two small masts were also cut down so that the stretch of canvas could be handled by a single man. Two of the most ingenious devices carried aboard for the sake of safety are a dinghy and a floating anchor, both the inventions and patents of Napper himself.

The dinghy has been constructed with a flat bottom to enable it to be carried standing flat on the deck and thereby dispensing with the cumbersome davits. The floating deep-sea anchor is constructed with a spur 15 feet long, attached to which is a triangular-shaped canvas sail weighted at the bottom with shot. This contrivance is made especially for outlying any storms which may be met with in mid-channel, when the water is too deep to allow the ordinary anchor to be lowered. The deep-sea anchor is let out at the stern of the craft and the action of the water on it while in this position holds the boat practically motionless.

Meat, sugar, tea, vegetables and biscuits enough to last the daring voyagers until Christmas will be carried, which means that everything will have to be packed on board in seamanlike fashion, or else the accommodations will be inadequate on such a small craft.

As shown in the map, the route to be taken from Brighton is through the Bay of Biscay and the Atlantic Ocean to Cape Town, and then a run of 5,000 miles without touching land will have to be made from the Cape to Freemantle, Australia. The proposed ports of call are Madeira, Tenerife, Cape Verde Islands and Cape Town. After a short stay at Freemantle the adventures confidently count on striking their way boldly on an 8,000-mile voyage to the little-known islands off the west coast of South America.

This course will cause them to steer their little 35-footer through the waters where Robinson Crusoe was washed ashore by the mighty imagination of Daniel Defoe. If the wind and the waves, starvation and privation spare the two plucky Englishmen during the voyage, far more dangerous and certainly equally as venturesome as that of Columbus himself, the little Brighton will have to avoid the eager canoes of countless cannibals who live on the recumbent shores of these South Sea Islands. Touching probably at Valparaiso, Chili, Napper and Langford may be expected to next attempt the always hazardous rounding of Cape Horn, passing within eyeshot of the famous Terra del Fuego lands or the Fire Islands, thus up the eastern coast of South America, touching probably at a dozen ports before reaching Rio de Janeiro, in Brazil. Then will come the last desperate home stretch across the wild waves of the Atlantic and a final beat up the Channel to Brighton.

In sporting parlance, the odds against the success of this plucky but desperate attempt to put a girdle around the globe in a little craft not much larger than the ordinary lifeboat on an ocean steamer are about 1,000 to 1 against the hardy mariners. Still, Napper and Langford shook their heads when the odds were quoted and apparently in the most confident frames of mind pulled up their sea anchor at Brighton and are now somewhere near the north coast of Africa on the first loop of their unprecedented journey.

CULTIVATE YOUR WIFE'S FRIENDSHIP.

There are few men so ignorant of the chances and turns in human life as not to realize that one of the most available assets of success is Friendship. Many a man has gone to the top through the countless little shoves upward he has received from a friend here and a friend there, hardly noticeable at the time. Yet many of these successful men are unhappy from the mere fact that, while having made hundreds and perhaps thousands of friends, he has never focused the glance of his friendship sufficiently near his own heart and hearth as to make a friend of his wife.

If a man has a good wife he has the best friend it is possible to have. A man's best friend, says Emerson, is his wife. A wife of good sense and good heart, whom he loves, and who loves him, in woman there is at once a subtle delicacy of tact and a plain soundness of judgment which are rarely combined to an equal degree in man. A woman, if she be really your friend, will have a sensitive regard for your character, honor, and reputation. She will seldom counsel you to do a shabby thing, for a woman always desires to be proud of you. At the same time, her constitutional timidity makes her more cautious than your male friend. She, therefore, seldom counsels you to do an imprudent deed.

A wife best shows her friendship by clipping off from her husband's moral nature little twigs that are growing in the wrong direction. If a woman is silly she will affectionately tell him so. If he declares that he will do anything absurd, she will endeavor to prevent him doing so. If Dr. Johnson's wife had lived there would have been no hoarding up of orange peel, no walking along the streets, no eating and drinking with disgusting voracity. If Goldsmith had been married he would never have written that ridiculous and memorable coat.

ROYAL DUBLIN SOCIETY

HRH THE PRINCE OF WALES VICE PATRON OF THE SOCIETY

HRH KING EDWARD PATRON OF THE SOCIETY

The evicted tenant and the flinty-hearted landlord, with their accompanying pictures of desolation, brutality and despair, may be said as general truths to be things of the past in good old Ireland. The Irish Land Bill, so happily financed and pushed through Parliament by the Conservative party, under the wise guidance of Prime Minister Balfour, backed by the intelligent growth of intelligent public opinion in Ireland itself, had much to do with this happy result. In fact, the suicidal policy which the Little Englanders had pursued toward Ireland for so many generations had come so near denuding of inhabitants what should have been one of the most populous and prosperous of countries that even horny-headed John Bull had at last become aghast at the results of the traditional policy toward the Emerald Isle. But, while the eloquent taunts and bitter denunciations of the "Oliver Cromwell" methods in Ireland, practiced in Ireland by the Irish members, did much toward arousing the clearer-headed Britains to the needs and dangers that cover almost every square mile of Irish soil, perhaps no other factor aided more in giving at last to the free-born Irish the same rights that every native-born Englishman claims for his own than the Royal Dublin Society.

Yet the Royal Dublin Society was never more royal than it was Dublin. Its chief patron is His Majesty King Edward; the vice patron of the society, His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, while over 50 of the British nobility and richer gentry have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in attempting to better the condition of Irish tenants.

The Royal Dublin Society, from a meager beginning, with a membership of 14 Irish gentlemen, in 1781, has now grown to a huge Irish organization, mustering over 4,000 members, and whose net income, after all expenses have been paid up to the twelve months ending June 1, 1904, was over half a million dollars.

The design of the founders of the wonderful organization was comprehensive and ambitious in the extreme. It was not merely their wish to improve agriculture, to increase the public interest in science and to better the condition of art, but they announced that they wished to promote "improvements of all kinds." The men who aspired thus to be public benefactors on a large scale were Judge Ward, Sir Thomas Molyneux, Rev. Dr. Whitcomb, Drs. Stephens, Magnaten, Madden and Le-hunte and Messrs. Thomas Upton, John Pratt, Richard Warburton, Thomas Prior, Arthur Dobbs, William Maple and Isaac Walton. These gentlemen, it is all in order to consider in what way they might best set out to effect that vast amelioration of the world's condition, met on June 25, 1781, in the room of the Philosophical Society, Trinity College, Dublin. And at that meeting it was decided to form a society to be called "The Dublin Society for Improving Husbandry, Manufactures and Other Useful Arts and Sciences."

The first eight meetings of the infant society were held in the room in which it was born, but subsequently the meetings were held in the committee rooms of the Parliament House. At the meetings, which were held on alternate Thursdays during the season, papers were read and discussed. The first paper was read on September 30, 1781, by Mr. Thomas Prior, who propounded "A New Method of Draining Marshy and Boggy Lands"—a very sensible paper to begin with in the circumstances.

Shaw Court, in Dame street (long since demolished), was the home of the society from 1782 to 1789, when more commodious premises at 114 Grafton street were taken. A large building in Hawkins street and Fowlter street was erected by the society for its own use, but was not long occupied. Leinster House, in Kildare street, was purchased in 1825. Five years later, in 1830, the prefix "Royal" was added to the name of the society on George IV becoming patron and granting a royal charter.

Of the work done by the society for the improvement of "Husbandry, Manufactures and Other Useful Arts and Sciences" there is not space here to speak. There were premiums of large amount offered every year for the encouragement of agriculture, manufactures, science and art, even the sale of porter being made the subject of special prizes.

It was not until 1866 that the idea of a National Irish Horse Show was mooted. In that year a committee of the Royal Agricultural Society, which had been formed for the purpose of organizing such a show, approached the Royal Dublin Society with a view to holding the show on their premises in Kildare street. This permission was readily granted, and in the autumn the first show was held. It was on July 28, 29 and 30, 1868, at the Kildare street premises, and was a great success. In all 368 horses were entered and the payments for admission amounted to £283.

The most pleasing part of the Royal Dublin Society is the fact that despite its royal patronage it has always been dominated by men most ardently devoted to the true interests of Ireland. Its beautiful grounds are the gathering place for the best men and women in Ireland, without reference to social rank, while the membership of the association is made up of men of both Liberal and Conservative politics. Thus at the Royal Dublin Society has always been found a unit of measures strongly desired by the people of Ireland themselves. It is one of the most notable associations in Europe, and it is but fair to say that possibly nowhere outside of the tight little Emerald Isle could so large an aggregate of such varying types of men remain consistently banded together for a single purpose for nearly 200 years.

AMERICAN STOCKGROWERS

The several live stock conventions in Denver last week seemed to demonstrate very clearly that the stockmen of this country are badly in need of an actual stockman with brains and ability as a leader and organizer to bring them together under one powerful organization.

The Colorado paper seems to lose sight of the fact that the Texas attorney referred to was in attendance upon the Denver convention not in his individual capacity, but as the representative of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas.

The Rhode Island legislature is trying to break up the custom of tipping Pullman porters in that state. If the Pullman porter is as lordly in Little Rhody as he is out here in the booming west, it is not surprising that legislative methods are being devised to bring him down to the level of the common herd.

Commander Perry's new ship will be ready to start to the north pole early in March, and the indications are that when the hardy explorer has reached his destination it will only be to find that the Russian bear has preceded him.

Secretary of the Navy Morton talks to congress about the necessity for a big appropriation for the navy as unconcernedly as he does to the public concerning Santa Fe rebates. Mr. Morton seems to have learned a great deal about the American navy in a very short time.

It is now believed that the difficulty experienced in the attempt to elect a republican senator in the state of Missouri is largely the result of inexperience. It has been so long since Missouri republicans did anything like that they seem to be laboring at a great disadvantage.

other words, every man engaged in live stock growing may become a member and have a vote, whereas, under the National representation is by association.

"After we had organized and the other people saw we had the best of it, there were tilters made looking to a compromise and a getting together. We have no objection to packers joining our organization, but they must come as stock growers and not as packers. Nelson Morris, the big packer, joined our organization, but he is a big stock grower, and as a stock grower he came in. The executive committee will meet in Denver May 9, and on that date the central committee of the National will also meet there, and we may get together. But there is one thing, and that is we are going to stand by President Roosevelt in his investigation of the packers, and are not going to do anything that would give the appearance that we are not heartily in sympathy with his action along that line."

Mr. Theodore Price of New York tells the farmers that the best thing they can do is to sell their cotton, and he also insists that it is folly to preach the doctrine of reduced acreage. If it was not generally known that Mr. Theodore Price has to have cheap cotton in order to cash his contracts and realize his profits, his admonitions to the producer might not fall on such deaf ears. The man with an ax to grind is always looked upon with more or less suspicion.

President Roosevelt will come to Texas some time between March 25 and April 5, for the avowed purpose of shooting jackrabbits and other things. If he could arrange to hit Fort Worth March 21, when the cattlemen's convention and fat stock show are in full bloom, he would be assured the time of his life. Better hurry up on that program just a little, Mr. President.

Live stock receipts are showing an annual falling off at Kansas City and this fact serves to explain why Kansas City makes a wry face every time she has occasion to look in the direction of Fort Worth.

The anti-free pass bill will not be discussed in the state senate until next week. The solons seem disposed to take hold of the free pass proposition with much caution.

OF INTEREST TO CATTLEMEN

COWAN AT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The cattlemen of the southwest have joined other shippers in the protest against existing traffic conditions. A delegation of the cattlemen were before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce to present their side of the controversy over the rate question. S. H. Cowan of Texas made the most important statement. Said he:

"My people want a chance to live and prosper. They see no reason why they should pay $20 more a car for this movement of cattle than they did in 1898, or for ten years before that time.

"The cattle business is in a serious condition. The railroad people say they have a right to share in the prosperity of the country. I say they should share also in the adversity of the people from whom they make their profits.

"The conditions demand remedy—and we cannot expect it from the railroads. Railroad rates are fixed for the purpose of making money—and for no other purpose. Railroad men adopt those measures that will make for their companies the largest dividends in the long run. It is absurd to think any body of traffic men or will fix rates more just or reasonable than a commission representing the whole people."

Mr. Cowan discussed "the injured party," where rates are unreasonable. That unfortunate person, he said, is exceedingly hard to find, for the reason that in most cases the burden falls upon the small consumer.

"Whoever is able to fix the price of his commodity is able to add the freight," he said. "It makes no difference to the Steel trust, or the Beef trust, or the Sugar trust, whether charges are increased or lowered. They simply fix the price and add the freight. The producer of cattle, vegetables or grain has no such privilege. He cannot fix prices, and therefore must bear the burden of increased rates.

"People of this country do not realize to what extent the railroads because they have combined for their own profit and their own advantage. The law is intended to prohibit that, it is true, but the thing is done. There is not the slightest competition today between the railroads of the southwest in shipments of cattle to Kansas City and Chicago."

Mr. Cowan said there could be no dispute about the fact that everybody wanted rebates abolished. The railroads and the people generally, he stated, are a unit on that proposition. The railroads because of increased profits, and the people because they interfere with the ordinary man's chance for a square deal.

PRICES ARE ADVANCING

Richard Walsh, manager of the Palo Verde ranch in Armstrong county, and vice president of the Texas Cattlemen's Association, was a visitor in Fort Worth Friday. Mr. Walsh is discussing the cattle conditions of the Panhandle country.

"I think the market is in fair condition for the kind of stuff offered," said Edgar Keer of Exton, Fannin county, who shipped several cars of mixed cattle and hogs to the Fort Worth market Friday. "Hogs are especially in demand at the present time and the farmers down our way are going to devote much more time to them hereafter than to cattle. There is a good deal more money in raising hogs for the Fort Worth market by the Fannin county men than in cattle, where we are handicapped with no range and only a limited amount of pasture. The grass has been fairly good all winter, but as everything is pastured we have little chance to raise much market stuff."

BUTCHER STUFF SCARCE

"Good butcher stuff is very scarce at the present time in Fannin county," said W. C. Miller of Kennedale this morning. The farmers are not raising much market stuff, but are using the land for agricultural purposes, they find that there is more profit in it. They are keeping only a few milk cows and devoting their time to other pursuits. I guess I get over the country about as much as any man in it, as I am constantly buying for the market, but I have failed to find so far this year very much market stuff. Especially is this so when one looks for butcher cattle. They are as scarce as hen's teeth now."

SMALL BREEDERS DISCOURAGED

C. P. Clark of Rockwall shipped to the Fort Worth market on Friday three cars of steers and calves. In speaking of the cattle conditions in that part of the state he said:

"There is a great scarcity of cattle at the present time, as the cattlemen are cleaning out their herds. The pastures have all been fenced in and the open range is a thing of the past for us there. Cattle have done well so far and the grass has been in fair shape, but the market has not been what any of us wished to see it. Most of the cattlemen are discouraged at the present time, but all are hopeful for a better future."

OUTLOOK FOR WINTER

"Cattle will go through the winter all right, if the weather does not get any colder than it has been out our way," said R. Estelle of Aspermont, Stonewall county, this morning. "The range has so far this year been in fairly good condition and the cattle are in fine shape. The only thing that I have to regret is the fact that the market is not what it should be at the present time, but I think that as there is a scarcity of cattle this condition can not last long."

CATTLE GETTING SCARCE

W. F. Gill, Greenview, Hunt county, was on the market Friday with a car of mixed stuff. "The range in our part of the country has been very bad. There is not much grass and most all the cattlemen are feeding. Cattle are becoming very scarce on account of these conditions. Not much attention is being paid to hogs either. I don't know why this is, but I suppose that the land will be used for farming instead and that the men will only keep enough of both to accommodate their personal needs. I think the cattle market here is holding its own and that it is as fair at this time of the year as one could expect."

STOCKMEN CLEANING UP

"Only a car of mixed stuff and a low market," replied E. Harrison of Carbon, Eastland county, this morning. "The range is only fair at the present time and cattle are not in a condition to brag about. Most of the cattle raisers are cleaning out their stock and are selling most of their fit stuff. This is perhaps one reason why the market is what it is at the present time. A stock law in our country has hastened this. There is no grass and all are feeding. At the present price of feed this is found to be unprofitable now. Yes, we all expect to get to the convention for a cattlemen is expected to get to this, if he never comes to Fort Worth at any other time of the year."

"When cattlemen in the southwest learn," said A. B. Statton of St. Clair, Mo., a raiser of fine Hereford cattle, who was a visitor at the Fort Worth market today, "that good cattle are just as easy to raise and can be done so as cheaply in the long run as scrub stuff, they will have learned a very valuable lesson and one which will do away with much of this so-called tendency of the market to go down and stay there. You take a car of good stuff here and I will wager that the owner gets a far better price for it than the man who ships in almost any old thing that he can pick up and then, too, his cost of raising has been as much and he has a smaller return. There is no profit in the scrub cattle business in the southwest and such is the case anywhere cattle are raised for market."

"I am glad to note that many of the larger ranchmen are and have been for some time trying to improve the grade of their herds, which is a splendid indication that this constant talk about the improvement of stock for a higher grade and better prices is being heeded. That is the only solution of this serious problem and the only way that it possibly can be solved by the ranchmen. And I think that all the cattlemen throughout the southwest are daily beginning to realize this fact."

Governor Douglas of Massachusetts, in the executive office, is using the same fair methods which he has ever employed in his private business. His employees never went on a strike, because he treated them fairly, and it has only required a few days in office for him to bring about a settlement of the cotton mill strike, which has been on for nearly a year. It would be well for other states, in times of labor disturbances, to have a governor like Douglas.—Austin Tribune.

Governor Douglas was able to settle the Fall River strike through the medium of arbitration, and the fact that he was able to do so after the strike had been in progress for more than six months goes to prove that confidence in the arbitrator is a great essential in the adjudication of such troubles. It is always better to settle a strike by such methods than to resort to violence.

You may say that the "knocker" does no harm because he is of little force, and his "sphere of influence" is limited. True enough, his "little hammer" don't affect you. But it is about like this: You hear a worthless cur bark, but if you don't see him it might, for all you know, be a thousand dollar Irish setter. Same with the "knocker"—for all the stranger knows he might be a man of standing and influence in the community. The stranger has to know him before he has his correct weight and measure. It only takes a few minutes to do this, but some big damage has been done in a very brief space of time.—Corpus Christi Caller.

The knocker usually has no influence save with the stranger, and that individual soon takes a tumble to the truth worth of the man with the hammer. It is true that this class of people often do a town some injury, but no method has yet been devised for their suppression, and they are permitted to knock until their knocker gets sore. The man with a personal grievance is about the worst form of knocker. He imagines the whole world is ready to stand up in his behalf when he gets his hammer out and proceeds with the unfolding of his little tale of woe, but in the end he only finds that his has been but a case of badly misdirected energy.

The new settlers will be thick in the Panhandle this year. The heavy snows and rains have insured a fine grain and forage crop and plenty will be all over the corner. That is what brings settlers, practical farmers, and that is what the Panhandle needs.—Amarillo Herald. And new settlers are just exactly what Texas needs in her business. No state in the union offers such great inducements to the homeseeker, and no other state is enjoying such a great influx of desirable immigration. The movement in the direction of Texas is becoming so marked that a number of the older states are becoming seriously alarmed.

"THE RUNAWAYS"

There is going to be a grand and astonishing performance at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Jan. 31, when Arthur Dunn and "The Runaways" will be seen again in that elaborate New York Casino musical extravaganza. The astonishingly beautiful and wonderful "Runaways" will come in when the famous Poney ballet is seen in the sensational radium dances, which is one of the new features of "The Runaways" this season. As so little is generally known regarding this late discovery it might be stated that the costumes worn by the dancers are coated with a thick paste, the ingredients of which are unknown except to a scientist residing in Italy.

The costumes thus coated emit no light until subjected to a series of powerful calcium jets, when the solution of their coating radiates and remains luminous in the darkness for different periods of time.

When first presented in London and New York city the radium dance created a sensation and it is safe to predict a great reception for "The Runaway" pony ballet. In addition there will be two hours of clever comedy, beautiful music, and the famous Casino show girls will be seen in the gorgeous gowns which have made them the talk of the continent.

JOHN GRIFFITH'S MACBETH

The announcement of the coming engagement in this city of John Griffith on Wednesday matinee and night, Feb. 1, at Greenwall's opera house, carries with it a great deal of interest to the best class of theater goers and this interest is intensified by the fact that he will present Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, "Macbeth." Mr. Griffith's presentation of it will have most adequate aid in the very excellent company he has selected, and the splendid fire-proofed scenic equipment furnished by his management. Many novel and thrilling electrical effects and chemical illusions have been added. Mr. Griffith is personally a most interesting character, a combination of the mental and physical—in appearance he suggests the peerless Edwin Forrest and has the frame and strength of the champion pugilist, James J. Jeffries, while he is one of the greatest students of the day of classic literature.

"SERGEANT KITTY"

Tom Hadaway, one of the comedians in the "Sergeant Kitty" company, which will furnish amusement for theater goers of this city on Thursday night, Feb. 2, at Greenwall's opera house has a pair of legs that, while they would not gain first prize at a physical culture show, certainly afford a great deal of fun for audiences that witness performances of this comic opera. Hadaway's legs seem to be entirely without joints and they are apparently of as little use to him at times as the curl in a dog's tail. Hadaway is funny in his manners, his facial contortions and his dancing, but his legs have been selected by many critics as the funniest part of his make-up.

Girl Judges Disagree and Chairman Decides Favoring Boon Conferred by Printing Press Over Engine

That the invention of the printing press has proved of greater benefit to mankind than that of the steam engine was determined by young readers of The Telegram at the first ward school Friday afternoon.

Six boys of the seventh grade argued the question, the twelve young ladies in the class acting as judges. At the conclusion of the arguments the judges were evenly divided as to the respective boons conferred and a decision favoring the printing press was rendered by Chairman David Evans.

Arguments on both sides were ably presented, Henry Lilley, John Therrell and Roy Harrison upholding the value of the steam engine while Ardon Judd, Wallace Smith and William Scott appeared for the printer's art.

Pain in the Head

Is a danger signal, warning you that the brain nerves are exhausted—irritated, and are undergoing an unnatural strain.

Frequent and prolonged attacks of pain weaken the generative power of the nerve cells of the brain, and lead to loss of memory, melancholy, spasms, epilepsy, and frequently insanity.

When the brain nerves are weakened they are unable to supply sufficient nerve force to the nerves that control the lungs, heart, stomach and other organs, and these organs are thus robbed of energy, and unable to meet the demands upon them, and they get sick.

Stop the head pains with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the influence upon your general health will be greater than you can realize.

"I want to tell you how thankful I am for Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. From a child I have been subject to sick headaches, and never found any lasting relief until I received a sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills while in Geneva, N. Y. They cured me, and I usually throw off my pain, so I can go about my home duties."

made, and the sale of all the lands belonging to estates of deceased Indians and marshals will be placed under his direct control and what serves to make it even more effective is the fact that his rulings will be final in all instances. People who have all their investments in agricultural lands are wrought up over the matter and are seeking to defeat the bill. Letters received here by a law firm from Senators Bailey and Money state that they are opposed to the bill and express the belief that any bill carrying such radical measures can never pass the United States senate. In case the measure should become a law, its constitutionality will be attacked at once by those whose interests are jeopardized. Lobbyists will be sent to Washington to work against the bill, and to reserve the business equilibrium of the country the commercial bodies in the wholesale centers will be asked to exert their influence against the passage of the bill.

CONFUSION OVER BILL FOR JUVENILE COURT

Measure to Which Texas Chiefs of Police Are Committed Not Yet Introduced at Austin

WACO, Texas, Jan. 28.—Some confusion arose at Austin over a measure introduced at Washington regulating the manner of trial of children in the petty courts. It was thought by some of the police chiefs of Texas that this was their measure for the establishment of an industrial school for children and incorrigibles who had not become steeped in crime or hardened by actual contact with the courts, and as there was some opposition to the measure which has been introduced, steps were taken by the city marshals and police chiefs to see where the trouble was. It was soon found that there had been a confusion of measures, and the bill to which the city marshals and chiefs are committed has not yet been introduced. It is understood that it will be introduced soon by Representative Haralson of Erath county, at which time a committee from the Chiefs of Police and City Marshals' Association will visit Austin to explain what is wanted.

City Marshal John Dellins of Waco, speaking of the measure which Representative Haralson will introduce, said it was not intended to such to provide plans for dealing with hardened youth as to prevent children from becoming so demoralized, through taking action earlier and sending children to this school in cases where parents or guardians allow them to run loose in all kinds of company, associate with criminals, etc. Under the proposed bill it would be possible to send children to the school before they actually committed crime and were resting under the odium of conviction.

WAR TROPHY HAS HISTORIC RECORD

Santa Anna's Silver Basin Was Used by Sam Houston to Dress Wound

A movement is on foot to have placed in the Carnegie library collection an interesting relic of the Mexican war, which is preserved in this county. The relic, Santa Anna's silver wash basin, is at present in the possession of Mrs. Josephine Ryan.

Speaking of the matter, Judge J. C. Terrell said:

"There is innate in the human mind a regard for relics and curios carried by some, even to the extent of quasi-worship.

"I believe in encouraging such regard? I do, when the end favors altruism or patriotism.

"Just after the war with Mexico, I remember when traveling on the Mississippi river below St. Louis, all the passengers were on deck to get a better view of 'Old White', General Zachary Taylor's war horse, grazing in a pasture. What child visits the national capital without a sight of General Washington's well worn clothes and his camp tent used at Valley Forge, and the wall papering at Mount Vernon done by General Lafayette's own hands?

"Right here in Tarrant county Mrs. Josephine Ryan, the step-granddaughter of Captain E. M. Daggett, owns the silver wash basin captured from General Santa Anna by Daggett in the Mexican war in 1847. Captain Daggett commanded a cavalry company in the famous Jack Hays Texas regiment at the time.

"In 1857 General Houston and Hardin R. Runnels were candidates for governor of Texas. Runnels was the nominee of the democratic Waco convention, of which Daggett was a member, while Houston ran independently. General Houston and Lewis T. Wigfall (who spoke in behalf of Runnels) met in discussion at Birdville in this county but passed the night in Fort Worth. Runnels accepted the hospitality of Colonel Nat Terry while Captain Daggett entertained General Houston. Houston's wound in the leg, received in the battle of San Jacinto in 1835, was a running sore, and in fact never healed. It needed frequent dressing and Captain Daggett used Santa Anna's silver wash bowl that night and with his own hands dressed the wound. Nevertheless, Captain Daggett voted for Runnels, although he was a dear lover of Houston. General Houston was not then forgiven by the people of Texas for presenting to the United States senate the petition of ten thousand vice regents of heaven (preachers) for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia and in the ports, arsenals and dock yards of the United States.

"Surely this relic hallowed by such memories should be deposited in our Carnegie library with the curios preserved by Captain M. B. Loyd, Judge A. W. Terrell and other donors to be seen of all.

"True, we have the face of Captain Daggett on our city seal, but his name could also be perpetuated by presenting this historic relic as indicated."

PLANS ACCEPTED FOR NEW HOTEL

Drawings Completed for 100-Room Building to Be Erected at Once

This city is to have a new 100-room modern, up-to-date hotel, the preliminary work for the same having already been consummated.

There is on display in the office of D. G. Hays in this city a draft of the building, which is to be four stories high, with a basement. It will be built of brick, with granite stone trimmings, making it one of the prettiest buildings in the city. The plans and specifications for the hotel have been drawn by Sanguinet & Staats. The improvements will represent an expenditure of $100,000.

The persons backing the enterprise live in New York and Fort Worth, but for the time being their names are withheld.

The statement is made by one of those interested that work will commence on the building in time to have it completed by January of next year.

The hotel proper has already been leased to Dallas persons. It will be conducted on the European plan, an up-to-date cafe being provided. The hotel will have a Main street frontage of seventy-five feet and will run back to an alley 100 feet. While the exact site is not made public its location will be in Main street, above Fourth street.

The building will be fire-proof, will be equipped with fire escapes and will otherwise be provided with all modern improvements. There will be only one store room on the first floor and that is already rented.

NEW METHOD OF PAYING POLL TAX

WACO, Texas, Jan. 28.—As the time draws near for closing up the matter of paying poll taxes more people are coming in, and payments are being made more rapidly. Despite the law that each man shall pay his own poll taxes, means have been found by two or three persons locally to furnish the money with which poll taxes are paid. A note is made out, payable to the person furnishing the money. This note running six months at 8 per cent interest, and the transaction is made in the form of a loan. The person receiving the money gets it in the form of a check, but that check is marked so that it can only be used in paying poll tax and cannot be diverted from its purpose.

COTTON

attributed to covering by shorts and heavy buying by Wilson interests at New York.

Little disposition to sell was shown by the commission houses, at New York, however.

Some selling orders being apparent around 83. The temperature view of the situation taken by the convention here and the declaration that some falling off must be expected by the farmers before the results of their holding and reduction campaign are apparent has done much to strengthen belief in their sincerity and is having a good effect.

Now the market opened easy on a less favorable Liverpool cable than was expected at 6.57c. The opening, however, was the low point for the day, the advance being a steady one until the close.

My followed with a steady advance, the bulls having a good day's work.

THOMAS' COTTON LETTER

(By Private Wire to M. H. Thomas & Co.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 28.—Wheat market was 3/4c lower, Market in southwest continues to reflect a drying up of offerings.

Northwest receipts about same as last year, but authorities in the trade here predict an early decrease, claiming receipts now are from country houses.

Primary markets continue to report an improvement in the cash demand. Broome hall estimates world's shipments at about five million bushels.

Our market today has been slow, though at times somewhat nervous, with but 1/2c range all through the session.

The action of the market seems strong to us and we see no occasion as yet to change our views.

We feel, while the market continues in its present rut, it would be unwise to get enthusiastic on the short side.

It takes but little selling to bring about an over-sold condition. It still looks like a scalping market and likely to continue with good swings in either direction.

Corn was 1/2c lower. Corn has been far from active, but what little business has been done was at the expense of prices.

To us it looks like a scalping market at the moment. We feel any increase in the shipping demand will bring moderately higher prices and an increase of outside interest.

At the moment the market is very professional. We see nothing new in the situation.

Provisions 2 1/2 to 1c lower. Hog market closed 5c to 10c lower, the larger receipts of hogs and late estimates for Monday and next week all combined to induce liquidation on a moderate scale in this market and some fresh short selling.

We cannot hope for any sustained improvement until hogs cease to come to market in such large volume. The best we can hope for is a scalping market.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 28.—Wheat closed 3-16c above yesterday, the change for the week showing a net advance of 1-8c.

July followed May steadily, the difference between the options being about maintained. Little activity was noted, the business seeming to be confined to near trading.

Today's advance started shortly after the opening, its steadiness being shown by the fact the opening and close were low and high points respectively.

The advance is considered a healthy one in view of reports of decreased holdings in the southwest, and little change in the situation is expected to develop over Sunday.

DIPLOMACY REVIVAL IS WELL RECEIVED

The revival of Victorien Sardou's "Diplomacy" at the Greenwall opera house last night brought keen enjoyment to all lovers of the drama at its best.

The play, itself a masterpiece, found expression in a company of rare merit. Seldom does a play requiring so much from its actors and actresses equal her.

Howard Kyle, whose reputation was made long ago, had the role of Henry Beauleur, a part calling for negative acting of the highest quality.

Kyle creates the impression that he is a diplomat by such quiet skill that most of his friends have been misled into the belief that he has not been given an adequate opportunity to display his powers of acting, and that the part is too small for him.

The work required of him during the "electrical" charged scene between Captain Julian and Count Orloff, gives him ample opportunity to appear at his best.

Suzanne Santje as "Dora" interprets that difficult role admirably. Her changes from the impetuous selfishness to the characteristics of gently womanhood show both artistic sense and careful training.

Lynn Pratt as Captain Julian Beauleur injects a vigor and manliness into his skillful acting.

To us it looks like a scalping market at the moment. We feel any increase in the shipping demand will bring moderately higher prices and an increase of outside interest.

A few West Side bargains that are genuine. A corner lot 90x100 feet on which is a seven-room house with all conveniences, barn and necessary outhouses, Fifth street, west of Main, and situated in the heart of the best residence section. This is an exceedingly cheap proposition, the ground alone being worth the money.

A six-room cottage, with hall, bath and all modern conveniences, rooms very large and tall ceiling, together with good outhouses, which are roomy and substantially built, on corner lot 80x120, beautifully terraced, cement walks and iron fence, nice shade and shrubbery. This property should sell for $4,500, but for a few days only we can shade $4,000 a little.

Seven-room two-story house two halls, new and modern, convenient to two car lines, all conveniences, lot 60x150. This property is easily worth $3,900; can get quick action at $2,750. The three propositions above submitted are all conveniently located on the W. T. Side and are the best to be had for the money. We can arrange terms provided a reasonable cash payment is made.

We are offering some exceptionally "good things" in vacant and residence property on the South Side that prospective buyers can not afford to overlook. Should you be interested in West Pennsylvania avenue, Prewitt street or Quality Hill vacant property call on or phone us.
