Declares He Wants No Alterations in Treaties Now Before Senate

THREATENS VETO POWERS

Says Substitution of Word "Treaty" for "Agreement" Weakens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Roosevelt has addressed a letter to Senator Cullom, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, stating that the action of that committee in amending the arbitration treaties by substituting for the word "agreement" the word "treaty," is, in his opinion, not a step forward, but a step backward.

If the word "treaty" is substituted the treaties would amount to a specific announcement against the whole principle of a general arbitration treaty. The president also says that if, in his judgment, the amendment nullifies the proposed treaty it seems to him that it is no less clearly his duty to refrain from endeavoring to secure the ratification of the amended treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Secretary Hay today signed with Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, an arbitration between the United States and Japan identical with those signed with other nations.

AT LEAST 5 DEAD IN MEXICO WRECK

Passenger Train on National Railroad, Crashes Into a Freight on Siding

LAREDO, Texas, Feb. 11.—In a wreck on the National Railway of Mexico, which occurred on the San Luis Potosi division between the towns of Cameros and Laventura, 285 miles south of this city, five persons are believed to have lost their lives and seventeen others, including the engineers of both trains, were badly injured.

As train No. 4, which left this city yesterday morning, was going through the mountain region beyond Saltillo, near the historic battleground of Buena Vista, it crashed into a northbound freight train which had taken a siding for the purpose of permitting the passenger to pass. The train was running at a speed of about thirty-five miles per hour and collided with the freight train with such terrific force that the second car, which was used for second and third-class passengers, was completely telescoped.

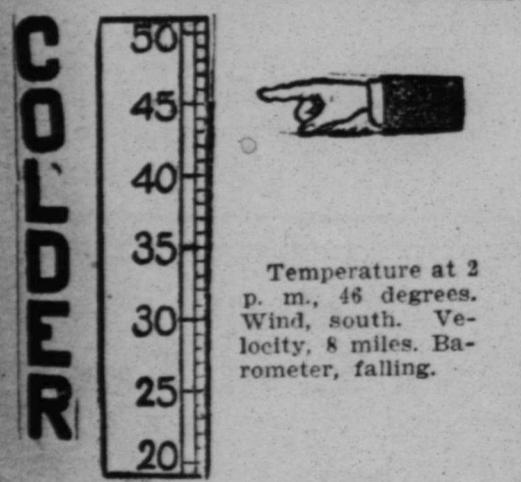

The accident occurred at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, but so quiet was the matter kept that no inkling of the wreck was learned by the officials of the northern division until a late hour yesterday.

The officials in this city claim to be without any details of the wreck, and beyond acknowledging that a wreck occurred and one passenger was killed and one injured, they would make no statement.

Later information regarding the wreck is to the effect that the freight train had been pulled beyond the siding, where it had been arranged to meet the southbound passenger, and was again backing on to the siding when the passenger train crashed into the freight.

The Wells-Fargo express messenger on last night's incoming train states that he saw five dead bodies, those of two women, a child, the coal passer and the engineer of the freight train. He

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Judgment in the sum of $14,480 has been entered by Judge Charles Donnelly, sitting at Waukegan, against Dr. V. V. Price and former Senator William E. Mason and Cutbert W. Laing of Chicago, all of whom were adjudged guilty of constructive fraud in connection with the financial affairs of Mr. Laing's daughter, Mrs. Clara Malcolm of Ann Arbor, Mich.

The constructive fraud in question was in obtaining a release on a special real estate bond given by Laing, who was trustee of the trust, to his daughter and her husband, Laing. It was set forth in court, greatly depleted his daughter's fortune by mismanagement or by misapplication of funds.

Under the decision, as explained by Mr. Mason, both he and Mr. Price are liable as bondsmen. An appeal was taken.

Mr. McLean was seen after he had conferred with that official and authorized the statement that he will not relinquish the custody of Bachman, but on the contrary will prosecute him to the fullest extent of the law. "We will let the law take its course," he said.

SWAYNE CASE COMMENCED

Senate Takes Up Impeachment Proceedings Against Federal Judge. To Hold Short Sessions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The senate yesterday heard the first witness, called in connection with the impeachment proceedings against Judge Swayne of Florida, and thus entered upon the real work of the trial.

The statement of the case on behalf of the house was made by Manager Palmer, who went over the various charges against Judge Swayne and said it was the expectation of the managers that all of them would be proven.

When the hour arrived for reconvening the senate was prepared to proceed with the trial and inviting the house to be present. Chairs for members of the house were then placed in the rear of the senate chamber and many of them were occupied.

The sergeant at arms had then his attorneys, ex-Senators Higgins and Thurston, and took his seat between them at the table set apart for their use.

On motion of Mr. Fairbanks the senate adopted an order for daily sittings in the impeachment proceedings, beginning at 2 o'clock and closing at 5 p. m., and providing for the daily printing of the report of the proceedings.

The witnesses had been summoned, as directed, and that many of them had arrived in the city.

The first witness sworn was Benjamin S. Liddon of Marlane, Fla., who was called to testify under the physical condition of Major Joseph H. Durkee of that city, who had been summoned as a witness and had failed to respond on the ground of illness. Mr. Liddon said that he had seen Major Durkee engaged in business. Mr. Palmer, on behalf of the house, asked that an attachment for Durkee be issued and the chair took the request under consideration.

At 1:30 p. m. Mr. Palmer took the floor to make his opening statement outlining what he expected to prove in the proceedings. He reviewed the several charges and was proceeding to arraign the respondent in connection with the use of a private car of a Florida railway and to show that the judge's plea to the senate does not correspond with his statement before a house committee, when Mr. Thurston objected, saying that under the law, the testimony given before a congressional committee is not used in a criminal proceeding.

The presiding officer sustained the objection.

Mr. Palmer contended that there should be no hesitation about convicting Judge Swayne, saying that a minister of the law should not be a violator of the law.

Mr. Palmer concluded at 3 o'clock, closed with a plea for justice, saying that the case had been instituted by the house of representatives in the name of all the people, who demanded that the judicial system be kept unsullied and pure.

Payne W. Chase was the first witness called, who, in 1898, was a clerk in a hotel in Tyler, Texas. He made a statement regarding Judge Swayne's expenses while holding court in Texas. The next witness was Mrs. Susan L. Downs of Waco, Texas, who testified on the same subject.

Mr. Higgins asked for an attachment to compel the attendance of Louis Paquet of New Orleans as a witness. There being no other witnesses present, the senate, as a court, adjourned at 3:40 and immediately went into executive session.

During the day the following bills were passed: Amending the law prescribing the qualifications of directors of national banks, and making Texas City, Texas, a sub-port of entry.

EXPLORERS MISSING SINCE LAST APRIL

Charles Rabot, a member of the committee of the Society of Geography in Paris, intends to organize another searching party to ascertain its fate.

BABY'S NAME COST A FORTUNE TO PITTSBURG

CRONES' DAUGHTER

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Sarah Eleanor Flower, wife of Dr. W. S. Flower of Pittsburgh and daughter of Charles Lockhart, will receive about $3,000,000 as her share of her father's estate instead of the $300,000 with which he cut her off by his will. The brothers and sisters of Mrs. Flower did not favor the will of their father by which he practically disinherited a daughter because she married a poor physician, and there was a meeting of the four brothers and sisters at which it was agreed to offer an equal share of the vast Lockhart estate to Mrs. Flower. The brothers are James H. Lockhart and John M. Lockhart, the sisters Mrs. Janet W. McCune and Mrs. Lee Mason.

This will mean the voluntary surrender of about $7,500,000 by each of the four children favored by Mr. Lockhart, but each will have left about $300,000, since the estate left by the deceased Standard Oil man now appears to have been about $15,000,000.

NEVER FORGAVE SLIGHT

The story of how Mrs. Flower incurred the final and lasting displeasure of her father was told during the day by a member of the family. It was generally supposed that Mr. Lockhart and his daughter Eleanor had been reconciled before his death, but it was not known by many close to the family until the will came out that there had been another and most serious rupture.

When Sarah Eleanor Lockhart decided to marry Dr. Flower she chose a Wednesday evening when she declined to accompany her father to prayer meeting, but wrapped him up well, bundled him in the carriage and sent him to church. Then she slipped quietly away with her heart and hearted got married. Mr. Lockhart declared afterward that he would never forgive her and said harsh things about Dr. Flower. He forgave her later, however, and all was well until her first child was born and named.

REVEALS CAUSE OF DISPLEASURE

Dr. Flower who chose a Wednesday evening when she declined to accompany her father to prayer meeting, but wrapped him up well, bundled him in the carriage and sent him to church. Then she slipped quietly away with her heart and hearted got married. Mr. Lockhart declared afterward that he would never forgive her and said harsh things about Dr. Flower. He forgave her later, however, and all was well until her first child was born and named.

FAILED TO NAME CHILD FOR HIM

The daughter who had eloped failed to recognize her father or the Lockhart family in christening the child and this made Mr. Lockhart so angry that he refused to have anything more to do with the daughter, and soon after made the will which cut her off with $300,000 in trust. The story of the first reconciliation between father and daughter was also told. The father had ordered Mrs. Flower not to come home, but she came occasionally to see the family when she thought he was not there. One day Mrs. Flower had called and when lunch time arrived she arose to go, as she felt she would not be welcome at her father's table. He happened to be at home that day for lunch and she said: "Sarah, since you are here you might as well stay for luncheon," and she did.

ATTENDED FATHER IN LAST ILLNESS

After that Mrs. Flower was a frequent caller at the house and she and her father seemed to have forgotten their differences. During the last several months of his life Mrs. Flower was often at the home of her father and during his last illness she assisted the other members of the family in administering to his wants and comfort. There was then the belief that he would provide for his daughter equally with his other children, and the fact that he did not do so caused great surprise to all who knew the father and daughter.

It appears that his chagrin at not having his daughter's child named for him hurt deeper than anyone knew.

Should there be a contest and the will be broken Mrs. Flower would receive one-fifth of the estate and the legacies mentioned in the will would fall. Should the contest result in sustaining the will, the great estate by the members, but from what has been heard it is not thought the legislature will interfere in the matter, but leave the commission to use its own judgment and taste as to where the monument will be placed.

This monument selected the state cemetery, and the foundation has been built at a cost of four or five hundred dollars. The time for the completion of the monument has been extended twice and the last extension expires March 1, 1905.

The commission is not inclined to change the location, believing as they do that the state cemetery is the proper place for this mark of respect to this eminent soldier of Texas and the Confederacy.

There is some talk of introducing a resolution in the legislature compelling the commission to make the change. The matter has not been discussed to any great extent by the members, but from what has been heard it is not thought the legislature will interfere in the matter, but leave the commission to use its own judgment and taste as to where the monument will be placed.

DIVERSIFICATION APPROVED

Secretary Wilson of the National Cotton Association Reports Letters from Railroad and Individuals

Secretary Wilson of the National Cotton Association announces that he has received several letters from railroad managers in Texas to the effect that they were preparing to co-operate with the association in pushing the diversification project.

Today he is busy sending out letters and instructions regarding the "button" proposition to the bankers of Texas and elsewhere, under the resolution passed this week by the Texas Bankers' Association at its meeting held at Austin. These instructions are sent to J. W. Butler of Clifton, who is secretary of the association.

Secretary Wilson says he expects that the fund to be raised by the means of the sale of buttons to the bankers throughout the southern states will reach approximately $5,000 for the present year, which sum, he says, will be sufficient to carry on the work in behalf of diversification of crops.

Mr. Wilson was in Dallas Friday and found the bankers there alive to the work in hand and reports they will do all they can to further the efforts of the National Association. Many of the banks subscribed for 200 buttons.

Letters have been pouring into association headquarters from the various states in the south, to the effect that the work is being pushed vigorously. These letters have come from Harry F. Knapp of Camden, Ark., who is to undertake the work of organizing thoroughly that state; DeWitt McMurray, editor of the Semi-Weekly Dallas News; M. C. Calkin, vice president of the association at Augusta, Ga.; J. A. B. Lovett of Bloomsville, Ala., and L. B. Irwin of Stillwater, Okla., all of whom are very enthusiastic in the undertaking of the association. Many report that the work is rapidly spreading.

STANDARD OIL GIVES HIM MILLIONS

That the estate of Charles Lockhart will reach $15,000,000 is believed by many with whom he was intimately associated. About twenty years ago William Thaw, then closely connected in business with Mr. Lockhart, sold to a mutual friend of Mr. Lockhart was worth $10,000,000. After that he steadily added to the amount, and it is believed that he more than trebled the fortune he had twenty years ago. He received from the Standard Oil Company $4,250,000 each quarter, or $17,000,000 a year. This has been going on for a number of years. He was also the owner of a large amount of real estate in New York city.

TO MOVE MONUMENT OF SYDNEY JOHNSTON

Not Thought Legislature Will Interfere With Committee to Which Site Selection Was Left

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 11.—In regard to changing the location of the Albert Sydney Johnston monument from the state cemetery to the capitol campus, it may be stated that the Twenty-seventh legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 for this purpose, and the governor and governor of public buildings and grounds, and the president of the Daughters of the Confederacy the power and duty of selecting the site.

This commission selected the state cemetery, and the foundation has been built at a cost of four or five hundred dollars. The time for the completion of the monument has been extended twice and the last extension expires March 1, 1905.

The commission is not inclined to change the location, believing as they do that the state cemetery is the proper place for this mark of respect to this eminent soldier of Texas and the Confederacy.

GRAND OPERA IN ENGLISH PLEASES

Large Audience at Greenwall's Delighted With Company in "Tannhauser"

TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS

"Carmen" This Afternoon and Double Bill Tonight Closes Musical Festival

More than "Tannhauser" awoke in a realm of beauty, enchanting melodies and exquisite harmonies when the curtain rose at Greenwall's opera house last night opening the engagement of the Savage Grand Opera Company in Fort Worth and marking the first presentation of Wagner's immortal work in English before a Fort Worth audience.

A term so wide as grand opera could not do other than leave a large portion of last night's audience in doubt as to what they might expect from "Tannhauser" for the first time. But as the beauty of the story was unfolded with art and richness of tone which Wagner endowed it, and with all the dramatic skill which Savage's artists possess, emotions of curiosity, or even wonderment, gave way to that of admiration alone.

In putting grand opera into English Mr. Savage long ago won the praise and enthusiastic support of the eastern musical world. In bringing his company to Texas he deserves the support of every music-lover in the state.

Let night's production could not be compared with anything that has preceded it here. It was above comparison. With solists possessing the dramatic instinct so necessary for operatic work, together with superb vocal equipment, a well trained chorus, an orchestra keenly alive to the needs of the most intelligent interpretation, with a gorgeous scenic investiture demanded by so pretentious a production, the Savage company has ventured into the southern territory.

A house filled from gallery to orchestra railing last night, another this afternoon and the prospects of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Il Pagliacci" tonight are bright. Confidence in Fort Worth musical appreciation was not misplaced.

Chunks of Ice Weighing 100 Pounds Drop from Brooklyn Bridge

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Iceicles on the cables and trestles of the bridges across the East river have been a source of great danger since the rain of Thursday night and the police finally were compelled to close the Brooklyn bridge to foot passengers.

Some of the icicles were many feet in length and weighed more than one hundred pounds. Loosened by the sun's rays, they fell frequently and imperiled the lives of those on board passing ferry boats who insisted on remaining outside the cabins.

In one instance a chunk of falling ice struck a horse harnessed to a wagon on the deck of a boat. The animal became frightened and plunged into the East river. He fell on a large cake of ice and was rescued after much effort.

MRS. CHADWICK'S DEBTS SCHEDULED

List Thus Far Totals Only $63,310. But Is Far From Being Complete

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 11.—Receiver Looser has filed a list of the creditors of Mrs. Chadwick together with the amount due each as far as known in the United States bankruptcy court. While it is understood, unofficially that Mrs. Chadwick's debts will aggregate close to $2,000,000, the claims thus far presented to the receiver foot up a total of $63,310.

The list shows that the sums due the big creditors are not known. Among the latter are the following:

Iri Reynolds, Cleveland, contracted in 1903-4, money loaned, amount unknown.

Herbert Newton, Brookline, Mass., contracted at Brookline in 1903-4, money loaned, amount unknown.

C. T. Beckwith, Oberlin, Ohio, contracted at Oberlin, 1903-4, money loaned, amount unknown.

Citizens Bank, Oberlin, contracted at Oberlin, Ohio, in 1903-4, money loaned, amount unknown.

J. W. Friend, Pittsburg, Pa., contracted at Pittsburg in 1903-4, money loaned, amount unknown.

According to common report the claim of J. W. Friend of Pittsburg amounts to $800,000, which he loaned to Mrs. Chadwick. No official statement, however, concerning this claim is available. He is represented in the matter by a prominent local legal firm.

Among some of the other debts owed by Mrs. Chadwick included in Receiver Looser's list are the following:

Leon Rossels, Brussels, Belgium, for merchandise, $11,580.

Adrian de Leveau, Paris, France, accepted draft for merchandise, $5,562.

Kirkpatrick & Co., New York, jewelry, $25,000.

Scores of other creditors' names are given, who hold claims running from a few dollars up to $1,000.

Mrs. Chadwick and her attorneys refused to furnish any information concerning her creditors and in the absence of such assistance, Receiver Looser filed the list for her so far as obtainable. The names of other creditors and the amount due them will be added as fast as they become available.

The correspondent adds that when Minister von Plevhe was assassinated he was carrying an order to the emperor for his signature authorizing a requisition for M. Witte's papers. It looks, therefore, the correspondent says, as though the new interior administration is beginning just where Von Plevhe left off.

HOUSE FIRM ON STATEHOOD BILL

Republicans in Conference Declare Joint Provision or None Must Pass

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The republicans of the house of representatives have decided in conference that the house statehood provision shall prevail or no statehood legislation will be enacted by the present congress. The resolution which it is said sets forth the position, and which was adopted by a vote of 112 to 23 after three hours' debate yesterday, is as follows:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that the action and policy of the republican caucus held April 15, 1904, touching the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territories as one state, and New Mexico and Arizona as one state, as provided in the bill of the house, No. 1474, which bill has been amended by the senate and is now pending in the house committee on territories, be insisted upon, and that we insist upon such preliminary proceedings as can be had by a majority of the house or a special order by the majority of the house under which the aforesaid policy of the republicans of the house will be worked out."

Speaker Cannon is the author of this resolution.

The statement was made that no republican member of the house can now consider himself free to support the senate statehood provision.

There is some talk among house members that the senate might accept the house bill and negotiations with this end in view have been in progress. To make it impossible for the house committee to take any action until some understanding has been reached, the committee yesterday adjourned to meet at the call of the chairman and no meeting will be held until a call shall be issued.

ENGAGEMENT CLOSE TONIGHT

Bizet's "Carmen" drew a packed house at Greenwall's this afternoon, popular prices and the more popular nature of the opera, attracting even larger crowds than "Tannhauser."

Tonight the engagement ends with Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," probably one of the most popular of all grand operas, and "Il Pagliacci," making a remarkably strong double bill.

JUDGES CONDEMN POLL TAX RULE

Recommend Abolishment of Separate Receipts in County and Small Cities

When the County Judges and County Commissioners' Association of the state concluded its session here at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon a street car was given the visitors to the stock yards and the packing house district, most of the members taking advantage of the opportunity to see the sights and learn something of the manner in which modern and up-to-date packing houses conduct their business. Many of the officials left for their homes Friday night.

Before adjournment of the convention a number of resolutions were submitted by the resolutions committee and adopted. Among some of the most important resolutions was one asking the state legislature to enact a law for the creation of a state board of equalization for the purpose of securing a just and fair assessment of all valuations of property.

Another resolution seeks the provision of an adequate fund by the state legislature of about 15 cents on the $100 valuation of all property. A resolution was also adopted seeking to amend the probate law so as to expedite the disposition of such cases.

Touching needed amendments to the Terrell election law, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we recommend to the legislature that election supplies should be furnished each county by the secretary of state at a cost not to exceed $4 per set, to be paid by the county. Be it further

Resolved, That we recommend the abolishment of separate poll tax receipts in county districts and in cities of less than 5,000 inhabitants and that in lieu thereof the tax collector be required to furnish certified copies alphabetically arranged to the judges of election of all poll tax payers in their respective voting precincts.

Regarding needed legislation for the proper care of idiots and lunatics, a resolution was adopted asking the state legislature to make an appropriation sufficient to provide for the erection of an institution for the care of lunatics and idiots.

Another important resolution adopted was the following:

Whereas, the state and counties are losing thousands of dollars of taxes due on personal property by non-residents by reason of the failure of the statutes to fix the venue of suits brought to collect such taxes in the counties to which said taxes are due; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this convention petition and pray our senators and representatives to amend article 5,212A of the revised statutes as to fix the venue of all suits brought by district and county attorneys for the collection of taxes due by non-residents on personal property in the county to which said taxes are due and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to said legislators.

When the report of the resolutions committee was received and accepted the convention adjourned to meet at Mineral Wells in August.

SHE DANCES HER WAY TO SOCIAL PREFERMENT

FANCY DANCING IS AN IMPORTANT ITEM IN THE EDUCATION OF A BEAUTY

BY MARGARET VANCE GUERNEY

CURVES AND AN ALLURING GRACE.

HER INITIAL CURTESY.

CAPTIVATING POSE COMMANDS ATTENTION.

HER POISE IS PERFECTION.

IN THE SPANISH CACHUCA.

DANCING AN ITEM TO GRACEFULNESS

The girl who can dance, and dance attractively, is always sure of any number of invitations to festive little dinners among her own set; to house parties in the country over the week-end, or longer, and to all sorts of festivities and entertainments in the summer time. From a roughing-it time in the Adirondack camp to a cruise on a well-appointed steam yacht, with all the stretch of invitations that will fit in well between.

Doubtless there is something in what old Francioli, the famous ballet master, used to say. He claimed that all of his best pupils—and they were not all professionals, by any means—were invariably interesting conversationalists. "Twinkling tongue and a twinkling wit usually go with twinkling toes," the old man used to announce with a sly smile; and there is no doubt that his pupils well bore out the truth of his observation. The physical exercises involved in learning dancing seem to limber the tongue, and on the brain, and give the air of alertness that is fetching in the extreme.

One has only to go back to the days of the old-time Company, not so many years ago, either, to recall the first entree of the craze for skirt dancing. The same old Italian master already quoted, Francioli, was responsible for the best dancers of that famous many.

For the girl who would go and do likewise the first thing is to find out whether she has any sense of rhythm in her composition. Let her hum some dance air and try an original step or two with it. The habanera from "Carmen" is a dance that can be interpreted in a thousand different ways, it is only the rhythm of it that remains the same throughout. So humming this air let her try before her mirror just what she can do with it. If she finds that she cannot really and truly lose herself in the mazes that this alluring music compels up, then she would better renounce the ambition to be a dancer, and seek her métier elsewhere.

But for the girl who has a strong sense of rhythm, she who is swayed by music, to whom the motion of music appeals, she would better lose no time in putting herself under the instruction of some good teacher. All of the larger towns nowadays have some teacher or other who is competent to give at least the first lessons; and with a good foundation a really clever girl can do much toward her own development.

There is a series of stunts—one can hardly call them by any other name, they are so simple and so disconnected—which Maitre Francioli used to start off the new pupils with. Dressed in what were known as practice clothes, consisting of a pair of unbleached muslin bloomers, each leg of which is covered with ruffles and left to flare instead of being caught in at the knee, almost any kind of a sleeveless bodice, stockings and a pair of heeled shoes with the most flexible of soles, no corsets and a belt so loose that the maitre himself used to try it by pushing both his fists inside of it at the small of one's back; that constituted the would-be dancer's practice costume.

First the pupils stand back up against a door. The back of the head, the hips and the heels are all supposed to touch the door, and the chin and the toes to be on a straight level. The head has to be held at an upward angle. "Look haughty and smile," is a frequent adjuration, and the arms are supposed to droop, carelessly and unconsidered at the sides.

The military walk, the glide, the Creole slide and the haut monde or high society, are the titles of some of the styles of walking which are supposed to be introductory to the dancing lessons. Of course it is taken for granted that the pupil has already mastered the social dances, the waltz, the polka, lancers and others; and if she has not, she is turned over to an assistant and told to learn them with the least possible delay.

The bending exercises are important as a preliminary, and the pupil is taught to bend the body gracefully at every conceivable angle, standing first on both feet, afterward on one only. Next come the exercises for arm and leg. The latter is taken first. After raising them selves "heel-and-toe" fashion in unison, next it is done alternately, and the effect of seeing a large class doing this in rows is enough to make the onlooker feel seasick. Next the knee is stiffened, and the whole leg is held straight out until the toe is at the level of the waistline. This is not so easy as it looks, and takes a little time to acquire.

Now, with the foot in this position, the pupil is expected to turn a complete circle. At first she will have to hop to do this, but pretty soon she will be able to turn so gently and gradually on the other that she will seem to move as on a pivot, the foot describing the circle, and she must maintain a pleasing smile all the time. The old-time masters insisted upon this "smile that won't come off"; but their present-day successors are not overly strenuous in demanding it.

And with this pivot exercise there comes the first intimations of what part the arms are expected to take in the dance. The beginner wildly and awkwardly throws and flings her arms in all directions, hoping against hope that she may maintain her balance in this wise. But pretty soon she heeds the shouted directions of the master, and begins to see that her arms are expected to do their share in making the poetry of motion which the dance demands.

All of this is done without the slightest musical accompaniment; but when the votary of dancing gets this far she has already mastered the preliminaries. We shall not touch here upon the breathing exercises, the stretching stunts and the like which are regarded as essential in the coming premiere ballerina's course of instruction; they are quite another story.

One of the prettiest of the first lessons is a waltz tout seules, that is, without a partner. Here is where the girl with any originality in her is bound to show it. The conventional trois temps, or glide waltz is played, and the pupil executes it. At first the conventional movement is followed, and then she is told to use her arms in consonance with the motion, next to interpolate some stated steps, then some original ones; and finally she is told to make a study on that one particular piece of music, and perform it at the next class.

After all, to the girl with temperament, an ear for music and a sense of rhythm, the fancy dance becomes a thing of instinct rather than learning. Society smiles upon the fancy dance done in the conventional evening gown; and the graceful management of her draperies will be half the battle won for the dancer. The Lenten season will see a lot of the ballet teachers pretty busy, for the supposed seclusion from social contact during that time will be turned to dancing opportunities by many a society belle.

LIGHT CATTLE LOSSES

When the bad weather of last week was at its height and the whole face of the earth was covered with sleet, snow and ice for seven days, there was quite general apprehension that the great live stock industry of the country would suffer severely. This apprehension was intensified to a considerable extent by reports that came in from the range country to the effect that a few half-grown cattle in good condition had been found frozen to death in the pastures. It was known that the storm was general, covering practically all the cattle producing section of the state, and the ground was so completely covered with ice, that it was known to be impossible for cattle to obtain any sustenance except that which was provided by their owners. And this was not all. The tanks and water holes were frozen so hard and tight that it was impossible for the suffering animals to obtain any water, and when cattle are shut off from both feed and water and are absolutely without any form of protection, it is a matter of impossibility to prevent serious losses if these conditions prevail for any length of time.

Fortunately for the cattle industry of Texas, the great majority of the cattle were in prime condition at the beginning of the storm period. There had been good summer and fall grass and they had taken on flesh in such manner as to be well prepared for just such a season as the one through which they have just passed. When the bad weather came they were full of life and vitality, and they stood the storm in a manner that was truly remarkable. The losses have been trivial in comparison with what was generally anticipated, and that accounts for the smile of satisfaction irradiating the faces of our cattlemen. It cannot be denied that there was some loss of cattle. Such a period of bad weather—the worst in twenty years—could not pass without levying more or less tribute upon the cattle industry. But while it was a remarkable spell of weather, its results were also remarkable from the fact that heavy losses were not more general.

It is probable that the heavy use of feed had much to do with averting what seemed to be an impending catastrophe. All over the range country the ranchmen hauled out large quantities of all kinds of feed that had been provided in anticipation of just such an emergency. The fact that the two preceding winters had been comparatively mild had served to put the long-headed cowman on notice that a continuation of such conditions could not be expected forever. That while nature had been wondrous kind for the past two years, she was liable to slip an eccentric and dish out the other extreme on practically a moment's notice, and they set about to prepare for it. The big cotton crop raised in west Texas last season was a god-send in furnishing the amount of seed that has been used in feeding during this emergency. The big ranches out west have hauled thousands of bushels of cotton seed hundreds of miles and stored them for this winter. When the cold weather came wagons were put to work hauling these seed out on the range and they served to keep the fires of life burning in many bovine frames that would otherwise now be dotting the prairies as a former asset.

Conversation with leading ranchmen for the past few days reveals the fact that while all are pleased with results so far, there still exists some apprehension as to the future. All cattle have come out of the storm period weakened and considerably less in flesh. If there is no more real bad weather they will be able to make it through until spring in fairly good shape, but the net result of the week's bad weather depends largely on the character of the weather that is yet to come. There now remains but about six weeks of the period when losses are to be expected. The fine season already in the ground insures an abundance of early spring grass, and if no bad weather intervenes before grass comes the country is still safe from the standpoint of the cowman. But no man knows how to figure on February and March weather. It is sometimes good, but it has been known to be very bad.

Losses so far reported seem to have been confined principally to old and thin stuff, and there was not much of this class of cattle remaining on the ranches. Texas ranchmen have been engaged in the cleaning up process for the past two years, and it is no doubt fortunate for them that such has been the case. Had this character of stuff not been shipped out to market earlier in the season when conditions were more favorable, the list of fatalities resultant from the recent blizzard would have been greatly augmented. As it is, no one has yet been seriously hurt, and the majority of the herds are looking much better since the weather cleared than the average ranchman really expected.

JUDICIAL SALARIES

The state senate has passed the Hill bill, which increases the salaries of district judges to $3,500 per annum, and there are other bills pending to raise all the salaries of the judiciary, except county judges in just about the same proportion. In the state of Texas we have 63 district judges, and they are now drawing salaries of $2,500 each; there are two judges of the criminal district court drawing the same salary; there are three supreme court judges drawing $4,000 each annually; there are three appeals judges, each drawing $4,000 annually, and fifteen civil appeals judges, who are drawing $3,500 each annually. This shows that the state of Texas is today paying out the very large sum of $238,200 per annum to the legal gentlemen she has honored with positions on her bench, and a measure that seeks to increase this amount by more than $100,000 per annum seems strangely out of place at this time.

Members of the state legislature are today wrestling with the problem of raising sufficient revenue to place the finances of the state on a cash basis, and after much discussion and mature deliberation it has been determined there must be a considerable increase in the tax rate in order that the state may be able to pay present salaries. Representatives of practically every interest in the state have already appeared before the legislature and urged that it is unfair and unjust to impose any more tax. The people all over the state are displeased that conditions have arisen which seem to demand an increase in taxation at a time when the cost of living is more than at any time since the days of reconstruction, and surely, the legislature will carefully consider public sentiment before it rushes into the adoption of any measure that will call for the imposition of additional burdens upon the masses.

The only reason urged for this attempted raise of salaries is that the cost of living has so increased that the judges can no longer indulge in terrapin and canvasback and lay any of their stipend away for a rainy day, hence, it is necessary that the state shall extort more money from the pockets of the masses in order that the judiciary may wax fat financially. Sight has apparently been lost of the fact that while the judiciary may be paying a little more for its way of living, the common people, from whose pockets this additional money must be wrung, are also suffering from this additional cost of living. The judiciary pays no more for a sack of flour and a pound of bacon than the boys who live in the forks of the creek, and it is not right to thus seek to lighten the burdens of those who are at least fairly opulent at the cost of those who are already bowed down with the weight of their many burdens.

If there was any legal method of raising the salaries of the judiciary from a tax laid upon the ranks of those from whom it is recruited, and who are instrumental in the present movement, The Telegram would be most heartily in favor of the increase. But just at this time the people of the state of Texas are in no condition to submit to any such action, and those who are engaged in the effort should understand and appreciate the fact. Texas judges can manage to worry along until times grow better on the salaries they are now receiving. If the pending measures are passed by both branches of the legislature, the governor can perform no greater public service than to promptly exercise the right of veto.

Some man with a nose for poking into ancient things, has discovered that the mosquito malarial theory was known back in primeval days, and insists that the world of today knows nothing new concerning this pestiferous insect. Perhaps not, and we are not hankering after any closer acquaintance or more detailed information.

Now that the decision of the United States supreme court in the beef trust case has been handed down, the Washington Post suggests that the combination no doubt feels a little "cowed." It is to be hoped that such is the case, and that hereafter it will "steer" clear of all future market manipulations, and no longer try to "hog" the universe.

Leading citizens of New Mexico are holding public meetings and declaring that they do not want statehood, as they are not yet ready for it. Can anyone tell just what New Mexico is really ready for? Perhaps she seeks to convince the world that she is satisfied with Jerry Simpson.

The fact has already been demonstrated that the democratic party cannot fly with its eastern wing doing all the flapping. The west and south furnish the true wings of the democratic bird, and the east will hereafter constitute only a few tail feathers.

North Fort Worth is to have a new $30,000 public school building, and this only goes to prove that the real Fort Worth spirit is pervading the ambitious little city that is rapidly springing up just beyond our northern limits.

WITH THE CATTLEMEN

FEEDING CATTLE MOLASSES

M. N. French, who is employed at the stock yards, has the following to say regarding the feeding of molasses to cattle:
"J. P. French & Son have been using molasses in their feeding at Temple for three years, and the result of their experience is to convince them of the good effects of it. Three years ago they fed 800 cattle on a ration of meal, hulls and molasses, and another bunch on the same proportion of meal and hulls without molasses. The bunch on meal and hulls were fed 120 days. After eighty days one of them showed the effect of the meal, and after 107 days ten of them began to go backward. The gain in this bunch in 120 days was but little more than 200 pounds per head. Of those fed with meal, hulls and molasses, none showed any bad effects from the meal. At the end of their feeding we found the following gains: 550 head gained 347 pounds, 200 head gained 356 pounds, and 100 head gained 399 pounds. They were all sold together, so that we could not tell whether the molasses steers sold any better than the others."

"The next year we fed 550 head, 600 with molasses and 250 on the same ration with the molasses left out. These cattle were all of the same brand and all looked alike. The advantage in point of gain was in favor of the molasses fed steers, about the same as the year before. This time they were sold separately, and the molasses steers brought 20 cents more per hundred weight than the others."
"J. P. French & Son now have on feed 950 steers, and profiting by experience, all of them are getting molasses. Not only do they put on more flesh and sell more per hundred weight, but they are cleaner and smoother. We find, too, that the molasses holds the feed together. On a windy day more or less of the meal and hulls is generally blown away, but when mixed with molasses it is not lost that way."

"The cattle now on feed will average about 1,400. Some of them will be at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show."
In addition to French & Son, other Texans are feeding molasses to stock for exhibition at the Fat Stock show.

Among these are J. F. Hovenkamp, Charles E. Hicks, Colonel H. C. Holloway, Sterling Clark, Swenson Bros., D. F. Sansom & Co., and Tom Slack. Colonel Wade Hampton, who introduced the blackstrap here, is feeding hogs for the show.

BIG CATTLE SUIT
Judge Fries went up to Denver on Saturday night, where he has a case for Jim McAdams against some Kansas banks. The suits for $30,000 claimed by McAdams on cattle formerly owned by Al Yantis, on which the bank had a lien, but allowed the cattle to be sold to Colorado, where they did not record the mortgage. The lower courts gave McAdams $5,000 in a former hearing, but it is hoped to get the full $30,000 in the supreme court.—Childress Post.

CATTLE RAISERS' MEETING
From the present indications the meeting of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association at Fort Worth, Texas, March 21, promises to be one of the best attended meetings held by this great organization in years. Most of the cattlemen anticipate better prices for cattle than have prevailed during the fall season, the prospect for grass is reported good for most sections and the cattlemen are in better spirits.
The Fat Stock show held in connection with the meeting will draw hundreds of visitors and will undoubtedly bring out some splendid exhibits of fine stock.

The Texas Cattle Raisers' association has a membership of about 1,600 and is the richest and most powerful organization of cattle growers in the world. While the membership is mostly in Texas there are members of the association in New Mexico, Kansas, Colorado, Indian Territory and other states.—Farm and Ranch.

THE ARIZONA RANGE
February weather thus far is exactly what the cattlemen of the southwest wanted to see. The rain began to fall early Thursday morning, in a gentle soaking way that will add to the prosperity of the ranges and farms of Arizona.—Phoenix Stockman.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY W. T. FOSTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 17 to 20 warm waves to 19, eastern states 18 to 23. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 22, cross west of Rockies by close of 23, great central valleys 24 to 26, eastern states 27. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 22, great central valleys 24, eastern states 25. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 25, great central valleys 28, eastern states 29.

This disturbance will bring a great warm wave of short duration and will be followed by a great fall in temperature for a few days that will average unusually cold. The cold wave that will reach meridian 90 about 22 will bring the coldest weather of the month. This cold weather will be less severe in the upper Missouri valley and Texas than in other sections, and will not reach the Pacific coast. It will be very cold in upper Ohio valley, all the Alleghenies and all the eastern states.

This disturbance will be most severe on the Pacific slope not far from 21, and will decrease in intensity as it moves eastward. Immediately following 11 the storms will be severe, but decreasing in force. My critics will not refer to my complete success in forecasting the period of great storms that clustered around Jan. 25. That forecast was timely and to the point.

Looking over the probable crop weather of 1905 it appears advisable to plant cotton late in order to avoid some of the bad effects of the coming drought in the cotton belt. I expect frost to come very late next fall and that late growth of cotton will bring best results.
Best rain for rice, before it is large enough to flood, are expected about first and middle of May. Rice planters will do well to plant so that these rains will do most good. In the low lands of our Gulf coast, where cotton can be produced by irrigation, that crop will pay this year on the Pacific slope the crop expected because of the coming drought.

Cleanings From the Exchanges

The Hon. A. J. Houston is going to contest, by gracious, and test the efficacy of the Texas poll tax law. The majority against Houston was 8,000. If there had been no poll tax law it would have been twice as great.—Houston Post.

There ought to be something done to his own constituency, but that of the entire state. Two features should be incorporated in such a bill, one setting the price of each blank form and blank book furnished the counties; the other requiring all supplies that can be furnished by local printing offices to be purchased of the local office. The price being fixed by the state at a fair price for the supplies removes all danger of excessive charges by any one. The big stationery houses of the cities and of other states are garnering immense sums of money for stationery that ought to remain in the county where used.—Athens Review.

Mr. Houston doubtless thinks that a little matter of 8,000 majority is not much for a son of Sam Houston to overcome, but he is going to find he cannot break into congress that way. Congress will not do the work he evidently expects that body to perform.

There ought to be something done to

A CASE OF IT

Many More Like it in Fort Worth
The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Fort Worth. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you can not ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence: Mrs. Myrtle Sinclair, wife of J. M. Sinclair of 415 North Royal avenue, who is employed at the water works, says: "The tests of twelve months' time have proven to me that Doan's Kidney Pills make permanent cures. I just as enthusiastically endorse them today, in the month of April, 1905, as I did in April, 1902. At that time we had given our little boy, now 13 years old, a course of treatment for attacks from which he had suffered for several years. He had a weakness of the kidneys which was very annoying and distressing in its symptoms. He seemed to have no ambition—and was weak and languid and never cared to get out and play like other children. Sometimes he was so bad that he could not attend school, and although we have given hundreds of dollars for physicians and tried remedy after remedy, nothing gave him any relief. We felt very disheartened and thought that we were going to lose him. Doan's Kidney Pills saved his life. Mr. E. J. Jenkins advised us to try them and was so emphatic about it that I followed his advice and got a box at Weaver's drug store. The child looked all about four boxes when we considered him cured and up to the present time, now a year after, there has been no recurrence, which proves to my mind that when Doan's Kidney Pills are used the cure is permanent."

It cost a man $500 to kiss a Cleveland girl on the street. He said he thought he was in heaven at the time, which would have a tendency to make the $500 be of little consequence.—Austin Statesman.
If it fearful to contemplate what the coat in this case might have been if the man had kissed that girl on the mouth. Five hundred dollars constitutes a small sum to levy upon a man who has no more gumption than to kiss a girl on the street when she has ripe red lips handy. He ought to have been fined at least twice the amount as a warning to others of his kind.
The member of the legislature that has got the nerve to get up and get passed a bill regulating the purchase of stationery for county purposes will serve not only compel all county printing to be done in Texas printing houses. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have annually gone to build up big St. Louis concerns that should have been spent in Texas. And these big outside concerns cannot only organize commissioners' courts of newly convened counties under mesquite trees and sell them $4,000 worth of stationery at one whack, but they also manage to sell the average clerk such large supplies twice each year as to keep the home printer entirely out of the supply business. This is all wrong and should be promptly remedied in some way.

The men who are giving free coal to the poor may refuse to give their names to the public, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that the Recorder of their deeds and misdeeds reckons their contributions to the utmost farthing when He sets down the good action on the credit side of the eternal ledger.—Gainesville Messenger.

The sweetest and greatest charity in the world is that which is given entirely without ostentation, and that is the manner in which the true philanthropist usually dispenses his favors. The man who parades his good deeds can usually be regarded pretty safely as an individual with an ax to grind and entitled to little real credit for what he does now or hereafter.

While out sleighing the other day a Fort Worth young lady had one of her ears to freeze. If it was her left ear, then her escort is wholly to blame and his carelessness is unpardonable.—Denison Herald.
The young lady's escort was a young man from Denison. No Fort Worth young man would have permitted the left ear of a young lady to freeze while sleigh riding.

The man who owns a small farm is indeed monarch of all he surveys. He can be independent of everything save death and the tax collector. He will make the mistake of his life whenever he parts with that piece of land to go to town. He can educate his children right there on that farm. It is nonsense to suppose that an education can only be had at college. Horace Greeley educated himself. Many of the successful men in American life did the same thing. Hold on to the farm. Encourage the boys to read newspapers and magazines and to work puzzles around the fireside, and they will come out all right in the matter of an education. Hold on to the farm.—McKinney Gazette.

The man who owns a small farm and keeps it well tilled is the kind of man who is worth a great deal to the community in which he resides, for his independence is a constant incentive to others to emulate his example. When the people are fully anchored to the soil there is nothing more conducive to a stable prosperity. They are not only home-builders, but also country-dependers.

The friends of W. B. Fitzhugh are pleased with the many favorable comments his work in the legislature is receiving from the press all over the state. His record so far has uniformly been on the right side of every question that has come before the house. He has not introduced any bill so far, but has fought the iniquitous measures introduced and favored those which stood for the betterment of the conditions in the state. In talking to a Journal reporter Saturday while he was at home, he said that he intended to introduce his first bill this week, one looking to the establishment of separate compartments for negroes and whites on interurban cars.—Arlington Journal.

ANCIENT LINE REBUILT

Coast to Coast Road Utilizes First Central American Tracks

The Great Northern Railroad Company in Guatemala is now actively repairing and reconstructing the old line from Puerto Barrios to a point about one hundred miles from the coast. This section of the road, which is intended to eventually be completed to Guatemala City, was built about eighty years ago, but was allowed to fall into decay. About half the distance to the capital city has been built, but the engineering difficulties of the unfinished part are very great on account of the mountainous country. Many bridges will be needed over the Montagua river, recently destroyed by floods.
When the Great Northern railway reaches Guatemala City there will be a continuous line from coast to coast, the Guatemala Central having been in operation for several years from the capital to San Jose, on the Pacific coast. The latter road has added very largely to its equipment during the past year.
Guatemala is thus making a strong ef-

ORIENT BUYS TERMINALS

President Stillwell Announces They Will Be Completed This Year

President Stillwell of the Mexico and Orient Railroad Company has announced that the contract for the construction of the terminals of the company at Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., has been awarded. The Orient Company recently bought 300 acres of land in both these cities to be used for terminal purposes.

The contract calls for the construction of seven miles of track and the erection of terminal buildings. When completed the company will have direct connection with all railroads entering these two cities and will have a belt line around Kansas City. This work is to be completed by the end of the present year, and with the purchase of the land will involve the expenditure of $3,000,000.

Track laying on the Orient's line in both the United States and the Republic of Mexico is reported to be progressing rapidly.

ICE CAKES CAUSE HAVOC

Losses at Rockaway Beach Already Reach
$50,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Much damage has been done to summer cottages, wharves, landings and boat houses along Rockaway Beach by the heavy ice and the action of the tide. Losses already have reached $50,000 and when the spring thaws occur it will be greatly increased.
The ice freezing thickly around the piles upon which the cottages are built has been gradually raised by the tides, carrying piles and all upward. In consequence cottages have been tilted on one end and some have already almost been overturned. Wharves have been uprooted while frail boat houses have been demolished.
At some points the blocks of ice are four or five feet thick.

MARKET REVIEW

NORTH FORT WORTH, Feb. 11.—With only thirteen cars in the pens and none due to arrive, the cattle supply looked small, even for a Saturday, 500 head by rail.

The lack of steers in the pens and the urgency of an outside buyer brought in four cars from a feed pen. These sold at $3, a price strong for the week.

Cows made up the bulk of the day's run, and they were chiefly common to medium. The market on these was steady, packers being willing to take about everything in sight, and the supply was soon sold out in jack-pot lots.

The supply of calves was confined to mixed lots and sold steadily with the week, the principal active demand coming from speculators. Steers, $4.75; bulk of heavies, $2.40.

HOGS The hog market opened with 500 in the pens, which were helped by later arrivals to 650, against 1,315 at the end of the last week, 1,334 on the same Saturday last month and 731 the corresponding day in 1904.

The quality was reasonably good, about half the run coming from Oklahoma. Selling began early to a strong and active market, extra heavy hogs selling at $5, with the bulk at $4.40 to $4.25.

"I am 65 years old, and have been a great sufferer from headache all my life. One of Dr. Miles' circulars was left at my door, and what it contained about headache interested me, so that I determined to invest a dollar in their make of shot, and go gunning for that headache. The first charge brought it down, but I continued to shoot until the thing was shot so full of holes that I believe it will never come to life again. AMUSEMENTS

LILLIAN REED AS FI FI
The clever performance given by Lillian Reed in the Kansas City girl, as FI FI in "A Chinese Honeymoon," is one of the notable successes of the present theatrical season. Miss Reed was practically unknown to the theater folk in the east at the early part of the season, but her work as the English slave in the famous international comedy opera, following as she does the clever Miss Barry and the equally clever Miss Claude, has made her one of the stars of the present theatrical season. Miss Reed is but four feet six inches high and weighs just 89 pounds. She says in the opera, "there isn't much of her, but she can highly recommend what there is." Miss Reed in "A Chinese Honeymoon" is the attraction at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Feb. 14.

CHAUNCEY OLCOTT
Chauncey Olcott, who is touring the south for the first time, comes to Greenwall's opera house Wednesday and Thursday nights, Feb. 15 and 16, presenting his new play, entitled "Terence," a dramatization of Mrs. E. M. Croker's most popular novel of that name, by Mrs. Edmund Nash Morgan. The play is in four acts, and the scenes are laid in Ballybay, Shule and Dublin, Ireland, and the story deals with a man by birth, who, for a purpose of his own, is driving the mail coach from Shule to Ballybay. Mr. Olcott has written and composed a number of new songs for the play, which no doubt will reach the high rank attained by his many previous songs. The production is under the personal supervision of Augustus Pitou, and will be correctly and superbly staged and presented by an excellent company.

CRESTON CLARKE
"Monsieur Beauchaire," which, mainly due to the perfection of Richard Mansfield's production, has proved as widespread as a stage entertainment as did Booth Tarkington's admirable book, will once more renew acquaintance with Creston Clarke, son of John Sleeper Clarke, and nephew of Edwin Booth. Mr. Clarke has a host of ardent admirers here who will gladly welcome him in a play of such healthful quality, and who will be equally delighted with the details of the sumptuous stage furniture that Manager Jules Murray has provided. Creston Clarke comes to Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Feb. 18.

RAILROAD SERVICES
Dr. Caldwell issues invitation to Special Sunday Night Meeting. Special invitations have been sent out by Dr. William Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, to all railroads in Fort Worth, inviting them to be present at the services to be held Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, as the service is especially intended for them. The invitation was neatly printed and is an innovation in the direction to inaugurate an unusual attendance on divine service.

ATTENDANCE MEDALS TO BE AWARDED PUPILS

Scholars of Tabernacle Sunday School Will Be Decorated at Services Sunday.

Presentation of twenty medals to scholars of the Tabernacle Sunday school, who have not missed attending Sunday school during the entire year will occur Sunday. To encourage attendance the plan of giving medals has been in vogue in the Sunday school for five years, and has been found very satisfactory. For the first year the scholar receives a medal; the second year a bar; the third and fourth years additional bars, and on the fifth year a small rose diamond inserted in a bar.

At the present time there are eighty scholars in the fifth-year class. They will receive diamonds on Easter day. The scholars who will receive medals Sunday are: Jessie Massey, David Miller, Hattie Varble, Hazel Morrell, Violet Bradford, Frank Elston, Lee Belle Mullins, Nellie Mullins, Mabel Boone, Pattie Jackson, Myrtle Doss, Marie Cauker, Edith Cauker, Joe Cauker, Anna Belle Jordan, Edith Miller, Herbert Calhoun, George Woodman and Stacy Rogers. Cora Stewart and Winifred Whitehurst will receive bars.

WEATHER

FORECAST

East Texas, north: Tonight, rain, colder; cold wave in extreme west portion, with temperature 20 Sunday.
East Texas, south: Tonight, rain, colder in west portion; warmer on east coast; Sunday rain, colder.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
D. S. Landis issued the following statement of weather conditions this morning:

A vast area of low pressure dominates the southwest quarter of the country, having steep gradient energy over the southern Rocky mountain plateau. Snow is falling from Utah to the Lakes, extending southward to middle Kansas, and rain is falling over the Gulf states in general, especially along the Gulf coast. The country is cloudy, except in the upper Missouri valley, where temperatures are 30 degrees to 40 degrees below zero. This high pressure area is headed to the southeast.

RATES FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN SOUGHT

Residents at Stop No. 6 Seek Alternative to Incorporation for School Purposes.

Residents living near Stop No. 6 on the Interurban who have been considering plans of incorporation for school purposes, will abandon that movement temporarily and endeavor to secure reduced rates from the Northern Texas Traction Company for school children, so that they may attend the schools in this city. The round trip now for the school children who are compelled to come to Fort Worth to secure the benefit of schools is 29 cents. There are about forty-five children attending school here who live at Stop No. 6. The place is growing rapidly and it is believed that before long there will be more than twice the number of children living at that point.

General Passenger Agent Forbes of the Traction Company says that no request for the reduction has yet been made to the company.

Though comment is made by the Economist on a score or more of advertisements, the only reproduction is that of the Fair. Very laudatory comment is made on the originality and uniqueness of the design and a bit of the bouquet is likewise given for the Telegram's typographical execution of Mr. Brown's ideas.

The falling of a guy wire across the heated trolley wire of the Traction Company at the corner of the main and front streets this morning created excitement.

A FELLOW FEELING

Why She Felt Lenient Towards the Drunkard.

A great deal depends on the point of view. A good temperance woman was led, in a very peculiar way, to revise her somewhat harsh judgment of the poor devil who cannot resist his cups and she is now more charitable. She writes:

"For many years I was a great sufferer from asthma. Finally my health got so poor that I found I could not lie down, but walked the floor whilst others slept. I got so nervous I could not rest anywhere.

"Specialists told me that I must give up the use of coffee—the main thing that I always thought gave me some relief. I consulted our family physician, and he, being a coffee fiend himself, told me to pay no attention to their advice. Coffee had such a charm for me that in passing a restaurant I could not resist a whiff of the fragrance I could not resist a cup. I felt very lenient towards the drunkard who could not pass the saloon. Friends often urged me to try Postum, but I turned a deaf ear, saying 'That may do for people to whom coffee is harmful, but not for me—coffee and I will never part.'"

"At last, however, I bought a package of Postum, although I was sure I could not drink it. I prepared it as directed, and served it for breakfast. Well, bitter as I was against it, I must say that never before had I tasted a more delicious cup of coffee! From that day to this (more than two years) I have never had a desire for the old coffee. My health soon returned, the asthma disappeared, I began to sleep well and in a short time I gained 20 pounds in weight.

"One day I handed my physician the tablets he had prescribed for me, telling him I had no use for them. He stayed for dinner. When I passed him his coffee cup he remarked 'I am glad to see you were sensible enough not to let yourself be persuaded that coffee was harmful. This is the best cup of coffee I ever drank,' he continued: 'The trouble is, so few people know how to make good coffee.' When he got his second cup I told him I was drinking Postum. He was incredulous, but I convinced him, and now he uses nothing but Postum in his home and has greatly improved in health.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRESENT LEGISLATURE DUPLICATES RECORDS OF ITS PREDECESSOR

Number of Bills Introduced and Disposed of Almost the Same

DEBATE ON WAGE BILL

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 11.—The $5 per diem life of the house was just half spent yesterday. It convened Jan. 10, and yesterday evening, Feb. 10, the first half of the sixty day session was over.

A comparison of the work accomplished by the house of the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth legislatures for the same time will doubtless be read with interest.

On the 30th day of the Twenty-eighth legislature 389 bills had been introduced; in the Twenty-ninth, 439; joint resolutions, Twenty-eighth 15, Twenty-ninth 15; local and senate bills finally passed, Twenty-eighth 15, Twenty-ninth 15; committee reports and enrolled bills, Twenty-eighth 257, Twenty-ninth 285; house general bills finally disposed of, Twenty-eighth 15, Twenty-ninth 28; bills ordered engrossed, Twenty-eighth 7, Twenty-ninth 10; senate general bills finally passed, Twenty-eighth 9, Twenty-ninth 7; senate bills passed to a third reading, Twenty-eighth 1, Twenty-ninth 7.

It will thus be noticed that fifty more bills have been introduced in the Twenty-ninth than in the Twenty-eighth, four less joint resolutions, the number of local and senate bills disposed of being the same; of committee reports and enrolled bills the Twenty-ninth exceeded the Twenty-eighth by 12, while the Twenty-ninth exceeded the Twenty-eighth in general bills finally disposed of by 13.

Thus it will be seen that in the amount of work done, mileage used and per diem drawn, the house of the Twenty-ninth committee, reported adversely by a majority and favorably with amendments by the minority, and ordered printed by the house, read second time and ordered engrossed Feb. 3.

Mr. Harris commenced his argument in support of the measure a few minutes past 2 o'clock and concluded at half past 2. He pleaded for its final passage in the name of the defenseless women and suffering children of the country, and as one of the means that the government could and should employ to rescue and relieve the weaker class from the pains and pangs of penury.

Mr. Harris' argument covered the whole range of man's malleable rights, the duty of government and the obligations of civilized life, and concluding said you may defeat the bill and prevent its passage, but you can not kill the principle.

Following Mr. Harris, Mr. Cobbs of Bexar took the floor and in an address full of impassioned eloquence assailed the proposition as being contrary and subversive of the principles of individual liberty and an interdiction of the freedom of the citizen in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness and the enjoyment of property.

"Besides this," Mr. Cobbs said, "the constitution, Federal and state, as well as the decision of our courts are full of the doctrine of the right and liberty of contract, and legislatures have no power to interfere with or limit this organic right."

Mr. Heslip closed this debate, which lasted for four hours, and to the exclusion of everything else, by saying: "Good could not be legislated into men, but evil could law say what a citizen should do with his property. If this law passes some future body will point to it as an outrageous infringement of the personal rights of the citizen and so further and put the shackles on which takes away their last right."

Mr. Brown of Karnes favored certain amendments for the purpose of perfecting the bill in the event of its passage, but made a vigorous argument against the measure as a general proposition. Mr. Hill of Hill asked the house to pass bill, which he said was desired by 90 per cent of the laboring people of the state. As to its constitutionality, Mr. Graham said: "The measure is not in the interest of the laboring man, but in the interest of the laboring man." Mr. Callan said, "but is in the interest of all the people."

Mr. Love of Dallas, the author of the bill, said the argument of the gentleman from Bexar in opposition to the measure was the most sophistical and remarkable he had ever heard in all his history at the bar.

WHITE PLAGUES BEING OVERCOME

Dr. McLean Declares It Will Soon Be Matter of History, in Library Lecture

Dr. J. H. McLean spoke before a large number of children and parents at the Carnegie public library Saturday evening on the subject of germs and bacteria, in the course of which he declared the white plague, consumption, is being lessened in its mortality and that some day it will be a matter of history if the legislators and afflicted ones listen to professional advice.

After discussing the forms of life as vegetable or animal, he said: "Bacteria, germs, micro-organisms, etc., belong to the vegetable class, though they are in many ways resembling animals. These minute organisms are exceedingly small, 1-25,000 of an inch being the average size. They are composed of a soft jelly like substance, surrounded by a firm more solid, though of delicate character. They consist of one cell and divide by dividing in two, then four, etc. So rapid is this growth that a single organism has increased to 16,000,000 in twenty-four hours.

The chief diseases due to bacteria are: Tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, cholera, tetanus, leprosy and blood diseases.

"Having learned that bacteria cause disease, how shall we get rid of them and guard against their evil influences? Increase the resisting power of our systems by eating, sleeping and exercising regularly, avoid injury, impure air, contaminated water and poisons; see that all animals, man and beast, who are affected with these diseases are isolated; use fumigation, disinfection and other sanitary precautions.

"The spitting habit, lax health officers, cranks who doubt the efficacy of sanitary methods and ignorant people who have infectious and contagious diseases do much toward making it difficult to control disease.

Science has done much to prevent the spread of disease and as a result of this the death rate has been lowered and the average life of man increased.
