

$1,500,000 FIRE IN INDIANAPOLIS

Spectacular Blaze Gotten Under Control After Four Hours' Fight

MANY LIVES THREATENED

Explosions of Oil and Fireworks Add to the Danger. Fireman Injured

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 20.—Four hours last night the wholesale district bounded by Georgia and Meridian streets, Jackson Place and the Union Depot sheds was menaced by a fire, which started in the wholesale warehouses of the Fahney & McCrea Millinery Company.

At 9:30 o'clock three general alarms brought into action every department in the city and suburbs. When the fire was brought under control eight buildings, among which were three hotels, had been completely destroyed, causing a loss estimated at $1,500,000. One fireman was hurt by falling walls.

SEVERE EXPLOSION
In the A. Kiefer Drug Company's rooms many barrels of oils and explosives were stored, and in the Delmetz Company's wholesale house, where a season's stock of fireworks were located, several serious explosions occurred.

One fireman sustained a broken leg, and in the rush to escape from their perilous position near the falling walls hundreds of spectators who thronged the space in front of the Union Station train sheds and for several minutes the efforts of the firemen were centered in that direction.

The flames which spread across Louisiana street were communicated to the roof of the Union Station train sheds and for several minutes the efforts of the firemen were centered in that direction.

The fire, which was one of the most spectacular in the history of the city, was under full headway before an alarm was sounded. By the time the first company reached the scene the millinery house was almost completely gutted and the fire had spread to the Kiefer Drug Company's building. Simultaneously the flames broke out in Jackson Place, which bounds the Fahney & McCrea building on the west, and almost instantly the flames were communicated to the St. Nicholas hotel and the Griffiths Bros' millinery house in Jackson Place, and the Savoy hotel in Louisiana street.

The occupants of the hotels, many of whom had not retired, escaped without injury.

EMBERS FILLED AIR
Repeated explosions in the burning section sent skywards a veritable storm of burning embers, which, fanned by a stiff breeze from the southeast, were carried into the retail districts, where they fell, still burning, upon the roofs of the principal houses.

For half an hour it was doubtful whether or not the firemen could cope with the flames on account of a tottering wall which threatened to crush in the buildings to the north, allowing the flames to spread to the warehouse of Hagen & Geddes, wholesale grocers. When the wall collapsed in the alley without damaging the buildings occupied by Thompson & Co., the flames were apparently brought under control, and several departments were dispatched to their stations to await possible calls from the districts menaced by flying embers.

Following are the principal losses as estimated by a prominent insurance man: Fahney & McCrea, building $125,000; loss on stock $260,000; insurance $200,000.

A. Kiefer Drug Company, building $70,000, stock $225,000, insurance $245,000; Griffiths Bros., building $50,000, stock $150,000, insurance $150,000.

E. C. Dolmetsch Co., building $50,000, stock $40,000, insurance $65,000; Sherman House, building $45,000, stock $10,000, insurance $35,000.

Savoy hotel, building $20,000, stock $10,000, insurance $15,000; St. Charles, building $12,000, stock $10,000, insurance $11,000.

Mur Millinery Company, building $5,000, stock $10,000, insurance $13,000. Total loss, $1,100,000.

MILLIONAIRES HEAR SCATHING CHARGES AT BANQUET IN CHICAGO

Minnesota and Iowa Governors Spare No Words in Arraignment of Trusts

'PEOPLE ARE SLAVES'

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota and Governor A. B. Cummins of Iowa, speaking to a group of Chicago's wealthiest men at the banquet of the Merchants' Club Saturday night, voiced their opinions of "the trust ridden, corporation-owned government" of the United States freely and scathingly. Their listeners at the banquet tables aggregated an approximate wealth of $500,000,000. Never before have Chicago millionaires listened to such unpleasant truths set before them so bare.

Marvin Hult, president of the Chicago and Northwestern company; Harold F. McCormick, John V. Farwell Jr., A. C. Bartlett, John D. Norton and more than a hundred men identified with the interests which Governor Johnson and Governor Cummins so bitterly arraigned—the trusts, the railroads, the private car lines and other public corporations.

Governor Johnson said in part: "For fifty years the people of this nation have been voluntary slaves of a political and partisan system which has been the means of almost wrecking the very foundations of our government. Three months ago the voice of the people was lifted for the president of the republic and he was swept into the presidential chair by a tidal wave that was almost equivalent to an unanimous choice. Today the great captains of industries, who did so much to bring about the result, are arrayed in a solid phalanx for the control of the national congress to defeat the very ends of justice, as he understands them, and as the American people understand them in him. The people stand amazed as they behold the conflict."

"For years we have deliberately stultified ourselves. The great northwest, under the lash of the party whip, has subscribed to a tariff doctrine wholly inconsistent with its needs and interests. Candidates for congress, elected on the promise of tariff revision and reform, have gone to the nation's capital to aid the friends of high tariff to revise these fraudulent people upward and still higher on the royal highway of trust paternalism.

Governor Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, while not so strenuous in his attacks on trusts and corporations, followed closely the views of Governor Johnson. He said in part:

"Competition is an attainment. It is a law of the survival of the fittest. Monopoly is an intolerable condition. Neither the buyer nor the seller has a right to determine the price of anything. If we reach the point where competition is destroyed socially has no appeal save to the intervention of the state. Among the great monopolies competition has been destroyed absolutely. You'll not get competition by standing pat. You will get it by turning your attention to the progress of the hour. Every man must be given a chance. Every man must be given an equal opportunity. The rebates and all other forms of railroad discriminations are responsible for more danger than all other things combined. You cannot preserve things industrial competition unless every man can use the railroads on the same terms. There is not one railway man here who does not believe that the practice of giving rebates should cease."

Strong Wind Handicaps Firemen—Flames Start in Drug Store

TYLER, Texas, Feb. 20.—This city was visited Saturday night by one of the most destructive conflagrations in many years. At 11:45 p. m. the alarm was turned on from Harris Brothers' drug store, located on the northwest corner of the square, where the fire is supposed to have originated on the second floor from a defective flue. This floor was occupied mostly by physicians. There was a strong wind blowing and a heavy, cold rain following, which naturally handicapped the firemen. The streets were a complete slush of water and mud, which also interfered with the firemen.

In all, six buildings and their contents were entirely destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $150,000. The burned area is in the center of the business district. The buildings were occupied by the Harris Brothers Drug Company, the Columbia Dry Goods Company, Harris Exchange bank, the Southern Printing Company, Mrs. March's millinery establishment, and Foman, a merchant tailor.

The losses, with insurance, as nearly as can be obtained, are as follows:
Columbia Dry Goods Company, stock estimated at $77,000; insurance, $40,000.

Foman, tailor, stock, $4,000; insurance, $1,250.

Harris Exchange bank, fixtures, $2,000; fully insured.
The vaults in the bank are intact, and no loss will accrue. The bank will re-open for business as soon as temporary quarters can be had.

NEW JERSEY FLYER WRECKED ONE KILLED; FIFTY INJURED

Entire Train, Running at High Rate of Speed, Leaves Rails and Plunges Over Embankment

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 20.—The east-bound train, known as the Middletown Flyer on the Erie railroad, jumped the track today between Fairlawn and Warren, at a point on the Bergen county branch, three miles east of here. One girl was killed and it is believed between forty-five and fifty persons were injured, some seriously.

The dead:
MISS GRACE MATTHEWS of Middletown, N. Y.
An unidentified woman is suffering from a fractured skull and may die.

The entire train of five cars was derailed, but the locomotive remained on the track.

A special train with physicians and nurses was hurried to the scene of the accident, and the victims will be taken to Jersey City.

The exact cause of the accident is not known, but it is believed it was caused by the breaking of a flange on one of the cars.

The first of the injured to reach Paterson was a man named Montgomery Sufferin. He was only slightly hurt. He said: "We were running at a high rate of speed when the accident happened. The whole train except the engine went off the rails onto the ties and then toppled down an embankment. The first car turned completely over and lay bottom upwards at the bottom of the ditch, while three other cars turned over on their sides."

"The train was well loaded and a large number of persons were injured and one girl was killed. The work of rescuing the injured began quickly by those who escaped unharmed and by persons living in the vicinity of the accident. As soon as I reached a telephone office I asked for assistance. When I left the scene of the wreck almost all the injured seemed to be able to walk. About 1,000 feet of track was torn up."

Doctors were driven from Paterson to Fairlawn in an ambulance; six doctors were taken from Jersey City on a special train, and five went from the same place on another train. Others went from Paterson and Hackensack.

Three relief trains were rushed to the scene, one going from Jersey City, another from Paterson and a third from Waldwick.

Official Statement

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The official statement from the office of the Erie in this city said there was a wreck today of a commuters' train, which ran from Middletown to Jersey City. Near Fairlawn all five cars jumped the track, but the locomotive remained on the rails. It is supposed the wreck was caused by the breaking of a flange on one of the cars.

Reports at 11 o'clock say one was killed and forty-four injured, and that the latter are being brought to Jersey City on a relief train.

Physicians were rushed to the scene of the wreck from all directions. Seven doctors were driven from Paterson to Fairlawn in an ambulance; six doctors were taken from Jersey City on a special train, and five went from the same place on another train. Others went from Paterson and Hackensack.

Sunday Fight in Ring at Juarez Almost Ends Fatally—Crushed Against Walls

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 20.—Rafael Arana, known as Joana's Chica, has met with injure *for life. He sustained a broken leg, his spine was fractured and his side was gored.

The fight was under the management of Felix Robert, a French matador, who himself dispatched two of the six bulls killed. It was the fifth bull that caused the excitement. "Cayo" went at the bull in the midst of cheers that fairly shook the amphitheater. He had been trained as one of Spain's most noted matadors.

Scarcely had he made the death plunge at the bull when the infuriated animal "side-stepped" quickly, charged and caught him on his horns. Rolling about the ring bellowing and pawing with rage, the animal first tossed him to the right and then to the left, and finally crushed him against the walls. A panic ensued, only the gendarmes avoiding a rush that might have injured many persons.

ORIENT OFFICERS VISIT THIS CITY

Portion of Road to Be Placed in Operation This Spring. Repair Work Here

Vice President R. L. McCauley, Treasurer Thomas Trammel, Director Daugherty and Chief Engineer C. H. Webster of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient, spent Sunday in this city, going from here to Dallas this morning. The party will return to Fort Worth this afternoon, and will take the Texas and Pacific train tonight for Sweetwater. Chief Engineer Webster stated while here that between sixteen and seventeen miles of track have been completed north from Sweetwater, and that the work of construction will be kept up just as fast as the material can be unloaded. The company has enough ties on hand to complete about sixty miles of track and sufficient steel for about fifteen miles more, with more constructional material in sight. It is the intention to put about thirty miles of the road in operation north from Sweetwater during the early spring, and just as soon as this much of the track is completed it will be placed in commission. This thirty-mile stretch will take the line to Clear Fork, about 120 miles from Red river. An engineer that has been in use by the construction gang at Sweetwater has been brought to Fort Worth and placed in the Texas and Pacific shops for repairs. While here Sunday Chief Engineer Webster employed Frank Dooley as clerk and stenographer. He will leave with the party for Sweetwater tonight. Mr. McCauley is very sanguine regarding the construction of the line, not only in Texas, but in other states and also in Mexico. He thinks with fair success the road will be completed through to the coast within the allotted time by President Stilwell.

She received a letter from "Henry Kyle," asking her to come to Cincinnati. She did so and they were married on April 27, 1898. The woman says they came to Chicago to reside. She left him once because he compelled her to work for him, but after she had returned to Baltimore he wrote love letters and she sent him money. Finally she returned to him. Before she left him the second time she says he threatened to kill her. Mrs. Kyle says she was told the man had another wife and that she then charged him with bigamy.

PEABODY CONTEST TESTIMONY ENDS

Committee Will Present Its Report to State Legislature March 1. DENVER, Col., Feb. 20.—The hearing of testimony in former Governor Peabody's contest for the office of governor has closed. Briefs will be submitted to the contest committee this week by both sides, and the committee is required under the rules adopted by the general assembly to present its report and recommendations March 1, to Lieutenant Governor McDonald, president of the joint session of the legislature when the contest will be finally decided. The convention will receive the report March 2, and will then determine how much time shall be allowed for argument. Thirty days have been consumed in hearing evidence in the case, and the expenses of the contest to be borne by the state will amount to more than $60,000. On the face of the returns as canvassed Governor Adams' majority was 9,774. Mr. Peabody asked to have the entire vote of 134 Denver precincts and several precincts outside the city thrown out in consequence of frauds. Handwriting experts testifying for Peabody claimed to have found 7,327 bogus ballots, among those in the Denver boxes which they examined. Ninety-eight voters have appeared in person before the contest committee and identified their ballots among those classed as bogus by the experts, and Adams attorney's claim to have proven about 500 such ballots genuine by the deposition of the persons to whom they are credited on the poll books. Should the contest committee decide to reject the 104 Denver precincts, Adams' attorneys will endeavor to have similar action as to a number of precincts in Las Animas and Huerfano counties, which were carried by Peabody. With this end in view the expert testimony will be similar to that given in regard to the Denver ballots. Governor Adams disapproves of the

Traction Company Has No Changes in View—Says Its Weak Point Attacked. "As far as I know no change will be made in the present system of running our cars," said Manager Haines of the Traction Company this morning. "Of course people will complain—there is always some one ready to do this, but we will continue to run our cars according to the present schedule. The bad weather has not given us a fair chance to test the efficiency of the new system and the complaints are all coming from a weak point, without giving us credit for the advantages. Naturally, a change will make it inconvenient for some, but we are endeavoring to give the best service in general and to satisfy the greatest number of people. This we have done in changing the system, and while there are a few that are somewhat inconvenienced there are triple the number who are benefited. We are doing the best we can in making the change and just because we rub one or two persons the wrong way it is no sign that we are affording a poor car service to the general public. We shall continue to run cars according to the present system."

TEXAS LEAGUE TO REMAIN IN CLASS D

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20.—Nothing but absolutely necessary legislation is the order in the house this week. The legislation so far as can be indicated in advance will consist of the completion of the naval appropriation bill on Monday and the consideration of the river and harbor and sundry civil appropriation bills, a program which will occupy the week. The statehood bill is to be considered in conference during the week, but there is nothing to indicate that an agreement will be reached before the session is in its last moments. The public buildings bill is to be a matter of contest during the week between the committee on rules and those members of the house who are enthusiastic in its report. A combined movement on the speaker has been organized for the purpose of securing a rule for the passage of the bill. SENATE FORECAST. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20.—The senate will begin the week with consideration of the resolution to appoint conferees on the statehood bill. The committee expects from the important senate amendments a sharp contest will ensue. The Swayne trial will be resumed Monday at 2 o'clock, and it is expected the termination of the proceedings will be deferred for a great while. The prosecution will introduce only one or two more witnesses, and it is announced the defense will not call a large number. The postoffice appropriation bill will be taken up early in the week, and this and other supply bills will be kept as well to the front as possible during the entire week. Senator W. A. Hanger, who returned to his home from Austin Friday, because of illness, is still confined to his bed. Inquiries at his residence, however, showed that he is feeling much better and expects to return to the legislature within a few days. HOLLISTER'S Rocky Mountain Tea Nuggets. AN EXPENSIVE LESSON

Stockmen of the southwest have learned some valuable lessons from their own and their neighbors' experiences during the recent severe storm. To many it has been a costly lesson, for their losses have ranged from a few dollars to thousands of dollars.

Of course it is impossible for the stockman who operates on a large scale to provide against every possible emergency—as impossible as it is for the residents of the Kaw valley to provide against loss from a repetition of the flood of 1903.

Peace plans are being discussed by the czar and his official family, but the nature of the proposition has not been made public. Conditions in Russia are in such shape that peace with Japan seems almost an imperative necessity.

It is now reported that the Frisco desires to purchase the Dallas branch of the Texas and New Orleans railway, and if this is true that line will become an important link in the plans of Colonel Yoakum for the development of his system in Texas.

A sensation has been sprung in the West Virginia legislature by the charges that the present governor of that state appointed the former governor secretary of state upon the condition that the fees of the office were to be equally divided.

While Sam Rosen is asking for more time in which to complete his street railway line to the union depot, other companies are preparing to build more lines of street railway in the city and its suburbs.

around. But out here in Texas, the greatest cattle country on earth, we stick to the old ruts. Perhaps a few more years will bring the proper and necessary change.

Texas cattlemen as a rule are very progressive people, but they have not yet adopted the progressive ideas that dominate those engaged in the same line of business in less favored localities.

Northern statesmen are beginning to take a much broader view of the south and southern conditions than was the case formerly. Recent speeches by the president of the United States and other prominent leaders in the republican party breathe a spirit that would do credit to a man born and raised in the south.

Arrangements have been perfected for the display of cattle from above the state quarantine line at the Fat Stock show in this city next month, and this will insure a much more representative display of all the best stock the state is producing.

General Gripenberg has returned to St. Petersburg after resigning his command in the Russian army, and says his resignation was influenced by the incompetency of General Kuropatkin.

The sleet and snow of Saturday was general all over North Texas, and would have amounted to several inches had it not been for the fact that so much of it melted when it reached the earth.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes Nerve Force

Nerve Force rules the world. Health—the satisfaction of living,—is the right of every man and woman born into the world.

Health is a question of keeping all the organs of the body working together in fine, smooth, harmony. The force that rules them all—that makes them work as nature meant and makes them keep in harmony—is Nerve Force.

Without Nerve Force there can be no health at all—no success—no joy in living. The center of life is in the nerves. The real root of health or sickness is found in the condition of the nerves.

Neglect the nerves and they will make you feel this neglect in many ways, they control all of the organs of the body and must be kept healthy and strong to do their work properly.

This is why Paine's Celery Compound is able to bring health in so many different forms. Paine's Celery Compound feeds and nourishes the nerves. It makes new Nerve Force.

It makes the heart beat true and evenly, it makes the brain clear and vigorous. The Nerve Force does this all, and Paine's Celery Compound makes the Nerve Force.

Doctors know and value this prescription and make constant use of it in their practice. Its effect is almost instantaneous—the nourishment and vigor given to the nerve system by Paine's Celery Compound is felt at once.

The patient feels this at once and gains confidence by it. The Nerve Force begins at once to make each organ of the body do the work that nature expects of it.

Two days' treatment with Paine's Celery Compound will prove its marvelous power. Remember this,—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University, and all reputable druggists sell and recommend it.

teaches us that nature abhors a vacuum, and it is but natural that public sentiment should respond to nature's immutable law by seeking to show its sympathy in the taxing of every vacuum that can be readily located.

The saying "you can fool all the people sometimes, you can fool some of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time," which is generally attributed to President Lincoln as his author, was recently submitted to the librarian of congress to find it in Lincoln's speeches or writings.

The fact that the expression quoted did not originate with Mr. Lincoln robs it of none of its truth and virtue. Perhaps Mr. Barnum originated the truism from his long experience in dealing with the people in the show business.

A LEGACY of HATE

By LOUIS TRACY Copyright, 1904, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

After a quarrel with his cousin David, Sir Alan Hume-Frazer is found murdered at Beechcroft hall, near Stowmarket. David, after being acquitted at the trial, requests Reginald Brett, lawyer-detective, to find the real murderer and clear his name in order that he may marry Helen Layton.

Sir Alan was the fifth baronet to die suddenly at Beechcroft. At the time of the murder, David, in a dream, saw the death of the first Hume-Frazer, re-enacted. He relates the dream to Brett.

David and Brett visit Beechcroft, now occupied by Sir Alan's sister, Margaret, and her Italian husband, Signor Capella. Capella secretly loves Helen Layton. He quarrels with David and leaves the house.

The Italian meets Helen, declares his love and attempt to caress her. David appears and soundly thrashes him. Brett learns that Capella is familiar with Japanese weapons like the one used to kill Sir Alan.

CHAPTER VI (Continued). "Exactly. Nellie at first hardly realized its significance. Then she hastily told Capella to take it away, but not before she noticed that he seemed to understand the dreadful thing. It is fastened in its sheath by a hidden spring, and he knew exactly how to open it. Any person not accustomed to such weapons would endeavor to pull it out by main force."

"WHY, MR. BRETT, ISN'T THE MAKE-UP GOOD?"

Brett did not press Mrs. Eastham to pursue her theory. It was plain that she regarded the Italian as a man who might conceivably have murdered the brother of the girl he afterwards married. Sir Alan's death gave Margaret a fortune and the Italian seemed not to have married for love.

The men remained to luncheon. Before the meal ended Miss Layton joined them. Brett looked at his watch. "Fifty minutes!" he said. "David, but the old lady was quick-ham, who marveled at the coolness of the meeting between the girl and the man who had just murdered her husband."

"That will require a special sitting," he said. "Have you met before?" she cried. "Dearest," said the girl, kissing her; "do you mean to say they have not told you what happened in the park?"

"That will require a special sitting," said Brett gayly. "Meanwhile, I am going to the Hall. I suppose you do not care to accompany me, Hume?"

The reply was so emphatic that it created further merriment. "Well, tell me quickly what this new secret is," exclaimed Mrs. Eastham, "because in five minutes I must have a long talk with my cook. She has to prepare pies and pastry sufficient to feed nearly a hundred school children next Monday, and it is a matter of much calculation."

"I know that good old soul would be tactful," he said to himself. "Now I wonder how Winter made such a colossal mistake as to imagine that Hume murdered his cousin. He was sure of the affections of a delightful girl; he could not succeed to the property; he has declined to take up the title. What reason could he have for committing such a crime?"

Then a man walked up the road—a man dressed like a farmer or grazier, round, strongly built, cheerful-looking. He halted opposite Mrs. Eastham's house, where the lawyer still stood drawing on his gloves.

like the continent and settle our quarrel like a gentleman, not like a hired bravo?" "What quarrel?" "Mr. Brett, you are not so stupid. David Hume, notwithstanding his past, may still be deemed a man of honor in some respects. He treated me grossly this morning. Will he fight me, or must I treat him as a cur?"

Brett, without invitation, seated himself. He produced a cigarette and lit it, adding greatly to Capella's irritation by his provoking calmness. "Really," he said at last, "you amuse me."

"Silence!" he cried imperatively, when the Italian would have broken out into a torrent of expostulations. "Listen to me, you vain fool!"

"This method of address had the rare merit of achieving its object. Capella was reduced to a condition of speechless rage. "You consider yourself the aggrieved person, I suppose," went on the Englishman, subsiding into a state of contemptuous placidity.

"You neglect your wife, make love to an honorable and pure-minded girl, stoop to the use of unworthy taunts and even criminal innuendoes, lose such control of your passion as to law sacrilegious hands upon Helen Layton, and yet you resent the well-merited punishment administered to you by her affianced husband. Were I a surgeon, Mr. Capella, I might take an anatomical interest in your brain. As it is, I regard you as a psychological study in latter-day blackguardism. Do you understand me?"

"Perfectly. You have not yet answered my question. Will Hume fight?" "I should say that nothing would give him greater pleasure."

"Then you will arrange this matter? I can send a friend to you?" "And if you do, I will send the police to you, thus possibly anticipating matters somewhat."

"What do you mean?" "I mean that my sole purpose in life just now is to lay hands on the man who killed Sir Alan Hume-Frazer. Until that end is achieved, I will take good care that your crude ideas of honor are dealt with, as they were today, by the toe of a boot."

Capella gave that snarling smile of his, and toyed impatiently with his moustache. "Your object in life does not concern me. Your courts tried their best to hang the man who was responsible for his cousin's death, and failed. I take it you decline this proffered duel?"

"Yes." "Then I will fight David Hume in my own way. You have rejected the fair alternative on his behalf. Caramba! We shall see now who wins. He will never marry Helen."

"What did you mean just now when you said that he was responsible for his cousin's death? Is that an Italian way of describing a cold-blooded murder?" "James!" he shouted. "The footman entered."

"Take this gentleman to your mistress. I have done with him." "For the present only," added Brett. The astonished servant led him along a corridor and knocked at a door hidden by a silk curtain. Mrs. Capella rose to receive her visitor. She was very pale now, as quite calm.

"Davie did not come with you?" she said, when Brett was seated near to her in an alcove formed by an oriel window. "No. He is with Miss Layton."

"Ah, I am not sorry. I prefer to talk with you alone." "I have just talked with your husband," said Brett, abruptly. She exhibited no marked sign of emotion, but he thought he detected a frightened look in her eyes.

"Why do you tell me?" "The reason is obvious. You ought to know all that goes on. There was a quarrel this morning between him and David Hume. Your husband wished to arrange a duel. I promised him a visit from the police if I heard any more of such nonsense."

"A duel! More bloodshed!" she whispered. "Do not have any alarm for either of them. They are quite safe. But your husband is a somewhat curious person. He is prone to strong and sudden hatreds—and attachments."

Margaret pressed her hands to her face. She could no longer bear the torture of make-believe quiescence. "Oh, what shall I do?" she wailed. "I am the most miserable woman in England today, and I might have been the happiest!" "Why are you miserable, Mrs. Capella?" asked Brett, gently. "I cannot tell you. Perhaps it is owing to my own folly. Are you sure that David and Helen intend to get married?" "Yes."

"Then, for heaven's sake, let the wedding take place. Let them leave Beechcroft and its associations forever." "That cannot be until Hume's character is cleared from the odium attached to it."

"You mean my brother's death. But that has been settled by the courts. David was declared 'Not guilty.' Surely that will suffice! No good purpose can be gained by reopening an inquiry closed by the law."

F. D. COMEFORD ENDORSED

Constituents of Illinois Legislature Who Charged Colleagues With Bribery, Stand by Him

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Former Representative Frank D. Comford of the Second senatorial district, whose recent trial and expulsion from membership in the Illinois general assembly, created a sensation, has been endorsed by a large number of residents of his district for re-election at a special election to be held in April.

All this occurred at a meeting held tonight in a large hall in Mr. Comford's district. It has been arranged for by friends of the deposed representative, who considered him unjustly treated. The hall was packed with members of both political parties.

Mr. Comford and others made addresses, and a resolution was adopted with great enthusiasm, denouncing the legislature for its hasty and ill-vised action.

A non-partisan committee of five was appointed to wait upon Mr. Comford next week and tender him the unanimous support of the district for re-election.

Mr. Comford, after the meeting, expressed himself as greatly pleased that his action had been taken and said he felt sure at the time all the people at the meeting were vindicating and upholding him.

DES MOINES MURDER TRIAL NEARS END

State's Attorney Has Piled Up Strong Case Against Man Accused of Killing Mabel Schofield

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 20.—Unless the defense is able to shatter the state's evidence literally piled up in one of the most skillfully handled and stubbornly fought cases in the criminal court of Iowa, Charles Thomas, accused of the cold-blooded murder of Mabel Schofield, whose drugged body was found in the Des Moines river five years ago, will find the hangman's noose dangerously close to his neck.

Twice in five years has the defendant faced a court of justice with his life at the stake. Three years ago, after a committee representing the people of two counties had vainly endeavored to secure an indictment, Thomas was arrested upon a warrant sworn to in a local magistrate's court. The trial was a farce and at the close of the state's testimony or that portion of it which the magistrate deemed it advisable to admit, the defendant was discharged. Undaunted, the committee raised additional funds and secured the indictment of the defendant at the hands of a grand jury. Not until two months ago, however, were they rewarded, and after five years it is believed a brutal outrage and heinous murder of an innocent girl is about to be avenged.

The state has found a man who sold Thomas strychnine, the poison which that girl was given; it has found three witnesses who saw him at his father's home, where it is claimed his victim's body was concealed until night came and he removed it to the river. The defense claimed that at this time he was driving a hack for a funeral. Half a dozen leading physicians have testified that the girl died before her body reached the water, thus refuting the suicide theory. Witnesses have been found that say Thomas made contradictory statements to them in effort to explain his whereabouts when the girl was supposed to have been murdered. Notwithstanding these apparently unrefutable facts, it will be the effect of the defense to prove that he was driving a hack to a funeral and that girl was supposed to have been murdered.

INHERITED SCROFULA

When a child I had a very severe attack of Diphtheria, which came near proving fatal. Upon recovery the glands of the neck were very much enlarged, and after the free use of iodine, the right one was reduced to its normal size, but the left one continued to grow—very slowly at first, until it was about the size of a goose egg, which began to press on the wind-pipe, causing difficult breathing, and became very painful. An incision was made and a large quantity of pus discharged. The gland was removed, or as much as could with safety be taken out. For ten years I wore a little piece of cloth about an inch long in my neck to keep the place open. During this time I had to have it cut open by the doctor every time I took cold or the opening clogged. In the Spring or early Summer of 1884 I was persuaded by my wife to use S. S. S., which I did, strictly in accordance with directions. I took twenty-six large bottles, and was entirely cured, for I have not suffered since that time.

Three Million Homes

Know What Liquozone Can Do. Who Else Will Try It Free?

We Paid $100,000

We judge from our records that one home in five, the country over, has some one whom Liquozone has cured. Some have been cured of little ills; some know that their lives have been saved by it. And most of those homes still use Liquozone daily, as we do, to keep well.

Those homes are scattered everywhere. Your neighbors and friends live in some of them. If you will only ask about Liquozone there are plenty to tell you about it. Why will you suffer with any germ disease while millions know how to end it?

Don't you realize that a product which is used like this must have remarkable merit? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquozone. We have published no testimonials, no evidence of cures. We have simply asked the sick to let us buy the first bottle—to let the product itself prove what it can do. And we ask that of you, if you need it. If you are still using drugs to cure germ troubles, let us, at our expense, show you something better.

What Liquozone Is

Liquozone is a product which, in the past two years has sprung into worldwide use in the treatment of germ diseases. It is now used by the sick of all nations; by physicians and hospitals everywhere. It is daily used in millions of homes in America.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. No drugs, no alcohol—nothing but the gas enters into it. The process of making takes 14 days, and requires immense apparatus. At the end of two weeks we get one cubic inch of Liquozone for each 1,250 cubic inches of gas used. The attainment of this product has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The main result is, to get into a liquid, and thus into the blood, a powerful, yet harmless germicide. And the product is so helpful—so good for you under any condition—that even a well person feels its instant benefit.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone, and the rights in other countries have sold for proportionate sums. We mention this fact to indicate the value of Liquozone—the value to you. Men have never before paid such a price for any discovery used in the cure of sickness.

We need not tell you that we proved Liquozone well before buying it. For years it was tested through physicians and hospitals, in this country and others. It was employed in every stage of every germ disease; in all the most difficult cases obtainable. With thousands of sick ones, considered incurable, we proved that it did what medicine could not do. Then, and then only, did we pay the price.

Since then we have spent nearly $2,000,000 to make Liquozone known. We have bought the first bottle and given it free to every sick one we learned of. These people, old and young, and the others told others. The result is that Liquozone is now more widely employed than any medicine ever was. And no one can doubt that it is doing more for sick humanity than all the drugs in use combined.

Kills Inside Germs

The greatest value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it kills germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. And no man knows another way to do it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. For that reason, medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Liquozone is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. Yet it is not only harmless but of wonderful benefit—better than anything else in the world for you. No one is so well that he cannot be helped by it.

The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. To the human body Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying—the most beneficial, the most helpful thing possible. But to germs it is certain destruction; and these facts are true of nothing else in existence.

In nervous debility Liquozone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases; all due to germs or to the poisons which germs create. These are the diseases to which medicine does not apply, for drugs cannot kill inside germs.

All that medicine can do for these troubles is to act as a tonic, aiding Nature to overcome the germs. But those results are indirect and uncertain, depending on the patient's condition. A cure is always doubtful when drugs are used, and some of these diseases medicine never cures.

Liquozone alone can destroy the cause of these troubles. It goes wherever the blood goes, so that no germ can escape it. The results are almost inevitable. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone. "Incurable" diseases are cured by it. In any stage of any disease in this list the results are so certain that we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guaranty.

WITH THE CATTLEMEN

CONSIDER PRICES HIGH

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 20.—J. R. Stinson of Colorado left last night for home, after looking over this country for the past three weeks trying to purchase several thousand head of steers. Mr. Stinson says he can buy steers better than the money in the Panhandle, and has gone there to buy.

John H. Riley of Colorado also left last night for home, saying that steers are out of proportion in price in this country to those in the Panhandle.

"Why will our cattlemen allow legitimate buyers to get away from them, especially when these men are offering, I understand, $11 for good yearling steers and $14.50 for good 2s, after the experience of last year, when there was a very limited demand for steers at $10 to $13," said a cattleman to a reporter today.

"Some of the most successful cattlemen around Marfa have sold steers for even less money and have made money on the deals," he continued.

LIVE STOCK CENSUS

The following facts from the Federal live stock census, just made public will be of interest to our readers:

STANDING OF THE STATES
Beef cattle, Iowa.....	3,467,507
Milk cows, New York.....	1,721,541
All kinds of cattle, Iowa.....	4,803,339
Hogs, Iowa.....	7,290,625
Sheep, Montana.....	5,638,967
Horses, Texas.....	1,277,768
Mules and asses, Florida.....	291,038

HIGHEST VALUE PER HEAD

Beef cattle, Wyoming.....	$21.33
Milk cows, Rhode Island.....	41.70
Hogs, Rhode Island.....	12.22
Sheep, New Jersey.....	4.36
Horses, Massachusetts.....	110.45
Mules and asses, Florida.....	120.87

LOWEST VALUE PER HEAD

Beef cattle, Alabama.....	$7.82
Milk cows, Arkansas.....	17.27
Hogs, Florida.....	3.49
Sheep, Mississippi.....	1.57
Horses, New Mexico.....	22.68
Mules and asses, Utah.....	22.29

Iowa stands easily in the lead in the number of beef cattle, with Texas second and Kansas third.

New York is the greatest dairy state in the union and the census shows that there are 1,721,541 cows giving milk in that state. The supply from that number of cows would make a good sized river.

Iowa has over seven million hogs, or nearly twice as many as her nearest competitor, which is Illinois. Missouri is third on the list as a swine producing state.

In sheep Montana still maintains the lead, with 5,638,967. Wyoming comes second, with Idaho third. New Mexico was third last year.

Texas stands first in horses, having 1,277,768. Illinois is a close second with 1,232,304.

Missouri has a great reputation for mules, but is short of Texas in that industry. Missouri has 243,466 and Mississippi is close after with 219,902.

The matter of valuation per head brings out some interesting comparisons. Beef cattle are worth more per head in Wyoming than in any other state. This is explained on the ground that the range cattle are better bred than ever before and there are fewer inferior cattle on the range now in proportion to the good ones than in many of the corn growing states.

Last year Illinois showed up the strongest on cattle values, but this year is 50c per head under Wyoming, and is second place, with New Jersey third.

Little Rhode Island, with about enough stuff to supply the Chicago market one day, is the highest in value for both milk cows and hogs. Dairy cows are worth $41.70 in Rhode Island and the 12,000 porkers in that state are estimated to be worth $12.22 each. In Iowa hogs are given a valuation of $6.71 and in Illinois $6.74.

Farmers down in Alabama have evidently not given much time to breeding up cattle. Mr. Hyde put a value on the Alabama steer of $7.82 and there are those who have seen these critters that think the valuation is plenty high enough.

Arkansas has to be distinguished for something, and so has the poorest milk cows in the country. They are worth only $1.57 apiece. Arkansas is also long on razor-back hogs, but is excelled in this respect by Florida, where the hogs are worth only $3.40. Delaware took the booby prize on hogs last year with a valuation of $3.20.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD

Members of W. C. T. U. Listen to Address by Rev. Mr. Boye, Upon Frances Willard

Memorial services were held Sunday evening at St. Paul's Methodist church, corner Seventh and Lamar streets, by the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in honor of Miss Frances Willard, the founder of the society.

Rev. J. F. Boye, pastor of the church, who had known Miss Willard when he was a student a number of years ago at Evanston, Ill., spoke of the life of the woman from a personal side and told of many things that exemplified her noble character and her womanliness. He wished always to remember Miss Willard, he said, as he had known her, when he was a student at Northwestern University.

Mrs. Castor, who presided at the meeting, explained the object and stated that such memorial services were being held all over the country to aid in carrying on the good work of Miss Willard's legacy. The funds are to be used in aiding those parts of the nation which most needed assistance in opposing the sale of liquor. It was stated that the contributions of the evening were for that purpose.

The program of the service was: Organ voluntary. Singing by the choir. Devotional Psalm and prayer, by Mrs. Jack Spang. Quotations from Miss Willard, by members of the audience.

"An Appreciation of Miss Willard; Her Services to the Church, Country and Humanity," by Rev. J. F. Boye. Reading by Miss Higgenbotham. Solo by Miss Bessie Craig. Reading, "In Memoriam," by Mr. Gaines.

"Frances Willard's Message to the Womanhood of the Age," by Mr. Luse. Solo, "Afterward," by Miss Pruett. Reading, "Love and Do," by Miss Henderson. Reading by Miss Boone.

Explanation of memorial services by Mrs. Castor. Collection. Benediction.
Dr. Ray, Osteopath, telephone 653.

Mr. Pankey spoke of memorial plans. The committee, which is composed of Messrs. Cummings, Jackson and McConnell, was instructed to perfect arrangements for observance of the day the first Sunday in March.

Commander Taylor called attention to the fact that the annual election of officers for the camp will take place March 5. The application of W. E. Jones was received by the camp Sunday and will be acted on at the next meeting. He was a private in Company E, Sixteenth brigade, Donalson's division, Harden's corps.
