DEATH COMES TO HONORED TEXAN

Judge J. H. Reagan Dies at His Home in Palestine at Age of 86 Years

HAD BEEN ILL THREE DAYS

Was Sole Surviving Member of Confederate Cabinet—Funeral Wednesday

PALESTINE, Texas, March 6.—Judge John H. Reagan, the sole surviving member of the Confederate cabinet, died of pneumonia after a brief illness at Palestine this morning, aged 86 years.

Because of his advanced age, the death of Judge Reagan was not unexpected. He was in the city Thursday transacting business.

When he returned home the family physician was called in. Judge Reagan complaining of trouble in his lungs. On Sunday pneumonia set in and Judge Reagan grew rapidly worse.

Gathered in the death chamber were his wife, daughter and son-in-law. Hundreds of telegrams of condolence are being received here from all parts of the United States. The funeral takes place at Palestine Wednesday afternoon.

John H. Reagan was born in Sevier county, Tennessee, October 8, 1818. His education advantages were meager, but he studied law with such diligence that he was soon licensed to practice. He came to Texas in May, 1839, and settled in the eastern portion of the state. From 1839 to 1843 he served as deputy surveyor of public lands. In 1847 he was elected to represent his county in the lower house of the legislature. In 1852 he was elected a district judge, but resigned and returned to private life. In 1856 he was again elected district judge and the following year was elected a member of the Thirty-fifth congress, representing the first district of Texas. In 1859 he was re-elected to the Thirty-sixth congress. He was elected to the second convention held in Texas in 1861 and was sent to the provincial congress of the Confederacy at Richmond. President Davis appointed him postmaster general March 6, 1861, which position he occupied until the downfall of the Confederate states of North America. During this period Mr. Reagan was at one time secretary of the treasury.

After the war he resumed the practice of law and engaged in farming. He was a member of the constitutional convention called in 1875 and was later sent to the United States congress for six consecutive terms, extending from the Forty-fourth to the Forty-ninth congress, inclusive. In 1887 he was elected by the legislature to succeed S. B. Maxey and took his seat March 4, 1887. At the adjournment of the Twenty-second legislature in 1891 he was solicited by Governor James S. Hogg to accept the chairmanship of the state railroad commission. Although his term as senator would not expire until 1893 and his re-election was practically certain, he accepted the position, which he filled with distinguished ability until November, 1900. Since his retirement he has lived quietly at his home in Palestine. Last year Judge Reagan was selected a delegate to the democratic national convention in St. Louis, the last public office he performed before his death.

NEITHER HOUSE HOLDS SESSION

Committee Work Only Legislative Business in Austin This Morning

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—The house committee on revenue and taxation today reported favorably the House bill revising the methods of levying taxes by increasing the number of deputies allowed tax collectors and assessors.

The same committee killed Hancock's and Elliott's bill levying an occupation tax on trading stamp establishments, also killed Davis' of Falls bill increasing the poll tax from $1.75 to $2.

Neither house nor senate was in session this morning.

DEAD AND WOUNDED NUMBER OVER 63,000

Russians Admit 23,000 Losses and Estimate Oyama's Casualties at Nearly Twice That Amount

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6, 2:57 p. m.—The Associated Press has just learned General Kuropatkin has launched a blow at Field Marshal Oyama's left center just east of the railroad. Fighting is desperate along almost the entire line. Kuropatkin's almost the entire line, wounded up to last night were placed at 23,500. Oyama is believed already to have lost fully 40,000 men. The Japanese army, according to the prisoners, is greatly exhausted and they repeat the story that some of General Nogi's men have not had any food for two days.

MOORE CASE IS RESUMED TODAY

Juror Metz Able to Serve and Cross-Examination of Glover Is Resumed

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—The Moore bribery case was resumed this morning in the Fifty-third district court, Juror N. P. Metz being well enough to resume his place on the jury. On account of the illness of Judge Penn, R. L. Batts of the firm of Batts & Gregory, resumed the cross-examination of Frank Glover, who was on the stand when court adjourned Friday. The defense attempted to show by the witness that he attempted to blackmail Kirby, but such a course was objected to by the prosecution. The witness said:

"I have realized since the transaction relative to the Kirby Lumber Company cases, that it was against the law."

He denied that he had occupied boxes at the theater since the beginning of this suit for the purpose of making himself conspicuous. The witness denied that he tried to "hold up" Kirby, but testified of having gone to Houston and tried to borrow $25,000 from Kirby.

The witness said he was told by Kirby to go to Eagle; that Eagle had said that witness was certainly entitled to that sum; that Kirby had told witness that he would be pleased to loan him that sum, but that he was hard pressed himself.

Witness admitted that after that time he had felt bitter toward Kirby, that he did not think Kirby was a man true to his friends as Kirby had promised witness commercial aid if he got the cases dismissed.

After some further cross-examination, the court took a recess to 2 p. m.

NEW PHASE IN GAMBLING LAW

Waco Judge Suggests Method of Getting at Gamblers in Saloon Buildings

WACO, Texas, March 6.—Judge Sam Scott of the Fifty-fourth district court, in his charge to the grand jury this morning dwelt on the best plan to pursue in dealing with gambling. He said that he had made a close study of the matter and had come to the conclusion that the proper way to proceed in such cases was to file proceedings against saloon keepers where gambling was in the same building; that the law provided that the "premises" of saloon men should be free of certain things, gambling included, and that word "premises" means the entire building, upstairs and down, no matter whether the saloon men own the building or not. The charge puts a new phase on the gambling problem. It is thought, here.

STRYCHNINE CAUSED DEATH

San Francisco Call Says Proof of Mrs. Stanford's Death from Poison Is Positive

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 6.—The Call says today that the local authorities have positive assurance in information by cable from Honolulu that Mrs. Stanford's death was directly due to strychnine poisoning. The stomach, kidneys and heart upon examination, it is said, were found in very healthy condition and much above the average in a woman of Mrs. Stanford's age. There was, however, a swelling of the heart, the report says, that could only be produced in death resulting from strychnine poisoning. No trace of strychnine was found by the chemists in the stomach, yet all agree there is no longer any doubt of the cause of the death of Mrs. Stanford.

Not Due to Indigestion

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 6.—The Examiner today published a Honolulu dispatch to the effect that poisoning is indicated by the thick fluid blood found in the intestines by surgeon who performed the autopsy on Mrs. Stanford's body. The autopsy also is said to have shown the stomach contained only water, which proves, it is claimed, death was not due to acute indigestion.

FIERCE BATTLE STILL RAGES

300 POUND GHOST A HARD FIGHTER

Young Virginian Makes Sensational Expose of New York Medium

NEW YORK, March 6.—Calvert Berwick, a native of Virginia, has caused a sensational exposure of a "Materializing medium" in the latter's Lexington avenue apartments. In the midst of a seance in a crowded room the medium, a woman weighing 300 pounds, was dragged shrieking from her cabinet and tossed into the center of the circle of dupes.

She fought like a trapped tiger. Furniture was smashed, men knocked down and glass broken before the woman and two husbands were finally subdued. Then three gas jets were lighted and the medium was found gasping in the center of the room, clad in a mass of gauze, coated with phosphorescent paint. Half her spiritual garb and her head piece were in the possession of Berwick.

According to the Virginian his mother, a resident of this city, has lost thousands of dollars in investments made through the advice of the spirits and Berwick stated that he intended to prosecute criminally and civilly, the mediums responsible for the loss.

The exposure was one of the most sensational and complete ever made in this city. Berwick's cousin, Harrison Grindley, was with him at the seance and struck a light while the fight was going on in the cabinet. Immediately half a dozen or more confederates attacked the quick succession and after great effort the woman was dragged into the light. About her hung a mass of cheap cheese cloth liberally smeared with the phosphorescent paint, while a remarkable looking head piece had been torn away by Berwick.

It was found to consist of the top of an old felt hat with the brim cut off, around which had been wound yards of the cheap cloth.

A piece of old silk had been cut and sewed to form a mask for the face. This was just transparent enough to give the outline of the features beneath.

A tinkling music box which had been wound up just before, played "Peace Abide With Thee" during the fight.

COLD BATH KILLS NEGRO AGED 111

James Madison Carried Messages from Battlefield of New Orleans for General Jackson

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 6.—James Madison, the negro who claimed to be 111 years of age and who carried messages from the battlefield of New Orleans between Generals Jackson and Chambers, the latter his master, died at the county poor house, the result of a cold bath.

Madison told the attendants that he had not taken a cold bath in thirty-five years. A new suit of clothing had been given him and he took a cold bath before he put it on. He caught cold and died of pneumonia.

Work on Ships Stopped

HAMBURG, March 6.—The fitting out of the Hamburg-America steamers Belgravia, Phoenixia, and other vessels, chartered by Russia, or sold to the Russian East Asiatic line, has seemingly ceased. No explanation has been furnished on this cessation of work.

JAPS CROSS SHAKHE AND HOLD 2 MILES OF FRONT

GENERAL KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN FIELD, via Fusan, March 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Russians today are using sixteen guns placed in position opposite Witosan and are shelling the Japanese artillery position, villages on the plain occupied by troops and roads' whereon supply trains are passing to the front, but with no results.

Among the telling work of the Japanese army, done by its infantry in the fights, no episode of the war surpasses the achievement of the force, which, on the night of March 2, gained a footing across the Shakhe river and is now holding two miles of front, after crawling up bare stony hills like leeches.

The Russian trenches are plainly visible, the soldiers moving about freely. Both sides suspended hostilities for three or four hours at midday from midnight to morning.

A terrific uproar is caused by sounds of cannonading and rifle fire. The Japanese are proving as good winter campaigners in every respect as the Russians, a question upon which there has been formerly considerable doubt.

PASTOR SUMMONED BY GRAND JURY

Rev. R. E. Chandler, Who Visited Local Underworld, Gets Subpoena Today

Rev. R. E. Chandler, pastor of the Cannon Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church, who recently made a personal tour of the underworld of Fort Worth, accompanied by a reporter for The Telegram, was this morning served with a subpoena to attend the sessions of the grand jury, the paper being served during the holding of the meeting of the Fort Worth Ministers' Association.

Discussion of the social evil occupied almost the entire time of the meeting held this morning. The session was held behind closed doors and all information further than that the party fight will be maintained was refused.

That action had been asked of the grand jury by the pastors' association was denied.

Rev. Mr. Chandler, who visited various parts of the city on the night of Feb. 25, and the result of whose observations were published exclusively in The Telegram of the next morning, made an official report of the trip at the next session of the association. After adjournment until the following day for further consideration, the association appointed a committee of pastors, with Dr. Monk as chairman, to outline a course of action. This report, which is withheld, made this morning. The action of the grand jury, it is said, will not affect the action to be taken by the pastors.

HIGHER WAGES FOR U. S. STEEL EMPLOYEES

General Increase Expected to Become Effective on the First Day of April

NEW YORK, March 6.—A high official of the United States steel corporation said today that a general increase of the wages of the employees of that company was under consideration. The average amount of the increase has not been determined upon, but it is practically certain that a large part of the employees of the concern will be adjusted with the readjustment of the wage scale. No official announcement is expected before April 1, when the new schedule will probably become effective.

NEW TRIAL OVERRULED

Engineer Recovers $10,000 From I. and G. N. Railroad

WACO, Texas, March 6.—A motion for new trial has been overruled and notice of appeal given in the case of Benjamin Van Hoesen against the International and Great Northern Railway Company, district court. Van Hoesen recovered against the road in the sum of $10,000 in a damage suit in which he sought to get $40,000, alleging that while he was an engineer on the road a post was put up temporarily close to the track and that said post was not marked or designated in any way as being dangerous, and that he put his head out of the cab window in the discharge of his duty and he was struck by the post and dangerously and permanently injured, the accident occurring near Mart in this county.

Greatest Conflict of Modern Times Is Now in Progress

NEITHER SIDE WINNING

Both of Kuropatkin's Wings Bent Back, but He Still Holds Ground

ST. PETERSBURG, March 6, 2:50 p. m.—The result of the greatest battle of modern times is expected to be determined today or tomorrow. Two of the largest armies of recent times, both in men and guns, are now locked in death struggle, and although General Kuropatkin evidently has made every preparation to cover his retreat by removing the accumulated stores and munitions to the northward, it is now the opinion of military men here that one side or the other cannot escape overwhelming disaster.

Both Russian Wings Are Bent Backward

With both wings bent backward, Kuropatkin's position appears to be desperate but the issue is still in the balance. News of the victory for him is only regarded as possible by breaking through the enveloping line, and news of his concentrated offensive is hourly awaited. Unless Kuropatkin can strike and strike hard it is realized he must lose.

Field Marshal Oyama's strategy in this battle is now clear. He started and amazed the war office by the marvelous daring of General Kuroki's advance against the extreme Russian left and the series of blows delivered at the center, where no less than thirteen separate attacks have been launched by the imperial guards ten miles east of Putloff hill, but it is now realized the heavy blows at the left were intended to mark the real turning movement, which came like a bolt from a clear sky out of the west.

Kuropolatkin Trapped by Turning Movement

Kuropolatkin fell into the trap. The situation seemed an exact duplicate to that at Liao Yang and the Russian commander-in-chief hastened to mass his forces to meet Kuroki. Friday the whole situation was suddenly reversed when with lightning rapidity the Japanese turning operation began on the plain between the Hun and Liao rivers. In order to succeed Oyama threw the neutrality of China to the winds. General Nogi with the Port Arthur veterans moved up the right bank of the Hun and fell like an avalanche upon the weakened Russian right, doubling it back in confusion, the Japanese advance being co-ordinated with the advance straight from the west of a Japanese column of 40,000 men, which circled around or through Chinese neutral territory. Although rumors of the presence of the latter column westward of Mukden were circulated as long ago as Tuesday Kuropolatkin evidently was taken by surprise, possibly refusing to believe the Japanese would thus openly fling Chinese neutrality to the winds. At any rate not until Saturday night was he able to shift sufficient reinforcements west to stem the tide, when the Japanese were within sight of Mukden, but the latest advices are to the effect that the Japanese, exhausted by the tremendous effort, have everywhere stopped and now Kuropolatkin's hour has come. The Japanese lines extend over thirty miles, while Kuropolatkin's are constantly contracting. Besides he has the advantage for offensive operating in the interior of his lines. Military critics declare Oyama has not great enough superiority to take the risks.

Total Forces Engaged Number 750,000

According to the war office, Oyama has over 70,000 men in excess of Kuropolatkin, whose forces total about 340,000. Should Oyama succeed, critics declare he will prove himself a master of military science and establish a reputation for military genius of the first magnitude. But unless he can completely crush Kuropolatkin's right they say Oyama is in imminent danger of having his own left cut off and destroyed.

GRAIN RATE WAR TO END

Chicago Report Says Normal Tariffs Will Be Restored April 1—Kansas City to Gulf 17 Cents

On April 1 the western grain rate war will cease, according to a Chicago report. On that date the normal tariffs will be restored.

In addition to the agreement to restore rates the lines decided that if at any time any road became dissatisfied with conditions or rates it would not take action without notification.

This agreement, if maintained by the roads interested, means the end of the so-called "midnight" tariffs.

The rates as restored give Chicago and the seaboard a better chance at western grain than they have hitherto had.

MEMORIAL DAY AT VETERANS' CAMP

Services Held in Memory of Deceased Members—1905

Officers Elected

There was a double attraction at the Sunday meeting of Lee camp, United Confederate Veterans—the election of officers for the ensuing year and the holding of memorial services for deceased members of the order.

A report was made by the committee which was appointed to look after a demoted Confederate veteran, who has been in the country jail for many months.

The various committees appointed to report on the deaths of comrades Duke Goodman, John B. Simpson and David Boaz offered their reports and were discharged.

W. M. McConnell, William Barr and Dan Parker were appointed to draft resolutions on the death of W. D. Hall, who was once a member of Lee camp.

The memorial services began by Adjutant McConnell reading the list of the members who have died during the past year.

When the eulogies had been completed the entire list of the dead of the camp was read as follows: John C. Anglin, W. H. Askew, Thomas H. Andrews, Joe Brannon, C. A. Betts, J. H. Bursey, D. L. Blankenship, John Carter, John W. Clark, J. T. Clements, M. S. Carmine, John W. Clack, S. J. Darcy, Henry Dennis, Henry T. Ellis, J. B. Conkling, J. T. Burt, J. L. Hancock, Thomas M. Forbes, S. P. JOHN S. LONG.

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the Great Neurologist, Warns Americans Who Neglect Their Nerves.

"In busy centers the number of deaths due to nervous causes has increased twenty per cent in forty years. One-fourth of the deaths in cities to-day are from nervous diseases."—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

The clean, rich nerve-force that was behind the health and happiness of thousands upon thousands is literally burning itself up like the dry wick of an empty lamp.

Can men who go to their work in the morning tired and with lax spirits give to their own affairs the electric touch of confidence and power upon which success depends?

Can mothers worn out and nervous, plodding dully or ill-tempered through the routine of homekeeping, bring into the family life that precious spirit of hopefulness and happiness without which the word "home" seems a mockery?

When you feel exhausted—when you grow tired sooner than you should—when you lose patience with the irritating cares of daily life—when you feel discouraged—when you feel that your hopes and ambitions are not as high as they used to be—when you spend a sleepless night—when you get up almost as weary as when you went to bed—when you are worried.

These are all signs that your nerve forces are burning low.

Neglect the nerves and they will make you feel this neglect in many ways, they control all of the organs of the body and must be kept healthy and strong to do their work properly—tired nerves cannot keep the organs of the body working in that harmony which is essential to health.

This is why Paine's Celery Compound is able to bring health in so many different forms. Paine's Celery Compound feeds and nourishes the nerves. It makes new Nerve Force. It makes pure, rich blood, a clean active liver, a stomach that acts quietly and strongly upon all the food that is given to it, bowels that throw away promptly and surely all the ashes from life's engine room.

It makes the heart beat true and evenly, it makes the brain clear and vigorous.

The Nerve Force does this all, and Paine's Celery Compound makes the Nerve Force.

Rest of all it makes that buoyant life-spirit, the thrill of health, that is the secret of happiness and the keystone of individual success.

Without Nerve Force there can be no health at all—no success—no joy in living.

John S. Long's case is simply one of thousands upon thousands. An average case and an object lesson to the average person.

"For nervousness and stomach troubles Paine's Celery Compound is the medicine. I was almost a physical wreck when I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound, and now I am as healthy as any man in the world, and I owe it all to Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle I took helped me wonderfully, and by the time the second was used I was a well man, and I can cheerfully recommend it to any one as being the best medicine I have ever used."

THE BEEF TRUST

The published report of Commissioner Garfield on the beef trust investigation has been something of a disappointment to the stock interests of the country, but it is clear that all the facts discovered during that investigation have not been made public.

Commissioner Garfield presents the facts which demonstrate beyond peradventure that the packers, or some of them, are still engaged in bearing the cost of live stock and in bulging the prices of dressed meat. The report shows in great detail the methods pursued by the packers in stifling competition at both ends of the line—first in the purchase of stock and next in the selling of meat.

Commissioner Garfield does show that rebates were paid to packers by many railroads. But all these payments were made prior to the injunction. It is said by officials of the department of justice that some of the biggest packers have conscientiously endeavored to obey the law and orders of the court since Judge Grosscup's injunction.

The hole in the state treasury has been temporarily filled, but that does not imply that the state will now be able to continue on a cash basis. The receipts have simply run a little bit ahead of expenditures, but the expenditures may be confidently expected to again soon be in the lead.

That Garfield report of the beef trust investigation reads like it might have been prepared under the packers' own supervision. The cattlemen of the country are surprised that Mr. Garfield should have found that the packing business was being operated at a loss, when he was expected to do that thing for the live stock interests.

The inauguration of Roosevelt and Fairbanks is said to have been one of the most imposing events ever witnessed in Washington, and the new administration starts out under the most favorable auspices. The greatest danger to the president seems to be from members of his own party.

Reports from the east indicate that there is a steady growth in the popularity of William J. Bryan, and men who have bitterly opposed his policies in the past are becoming outspoken in their admiration of the man and his policies. Mr. Bryan will be a factor in the next presidential campaign that will have to be reckoned with.

The tax measures are to be considered and threshed over at Austin this week, and the state legislature should remember that justice demands that there be no raise in the ad valorem tax until methods have been devised for bringing other interests squarely into line.

Governor Lanham is taking no hand in legislative matters at Austin, contenting himself with attending to the affairs of his office and leaving the legislature to pursue the even tenor of its way untrammelled.

It is only a little more than two weeks until we will have the cattle-men and Fat Stock Show with us, and the indications all clearly denote that Fort Worth will be called upon to entertain one of the largest crowds in all her past history.

The Japs do not appear willing to give the Russians the solace of that one desired victory, but are fighting just as determinedly as if the fate of their empire depended upon their every effort.

Members of the state legislature are expressing the opinion that the present session will be considerably prolonged, and the people are willing, for it will be infinitely cheaper than an extra session.

Dallas is happy over the Trinity appropriation passed by congress, but her happiness is somewhat dulled by realizing that before the congressional appropriation is available the city must first come up with $66,000.

President Roosevelt may now with a very becoming mien no longer consider himself an accident.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 6.—Congressman Elliott of South Carolina says this is absolutely true. Two years ago the civil war an aged colored man asked his master if he could be made a justice of the peace.

Congressman Kyle of Ohio tells of an army officer who never was known to have "cold feet," but he was tender-footed, albeit not a "tenderfoot" in any sense of the word. He couldn't even wear socks which had been washed, because they rubbed and chafed his delicate cuticles.

Congressman Adams of Philadelphia says that in a well-known hospital, the head nurse was concluding a day's work and hurrying in every way because she had an engagement to go to the theater that evening. She had begun work at half past seven that morning and was to leave duty at half past seven o'clock in the evening.

Miss Williams did not look at the name of the patient, nor see anything on the permit except the signature of the superintendent, as she flew down stairs and found herself face to face with a prosperous, well-to-do man of 50 years or more, who sat by the door of the reception room, looking the picture of health.

Miss Williams gave a grant of displeasure, took the card and read the name and address of "Edith Cook, president First National bank," and she almost fainted when she read the permit, which added to the printed words these in ink: "I have seen that Mr. Cook has immediate access to the room of his nephew, as the busy man has no time to lose and catch his train back to New York."

A LEGACY of HATE

By LOUIS TRACY Copyright, 1904, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.

SYNOPSIS.

After a quarrel with his cousin David, Sir Alan Hume-Fraser is found murdered at Beechcroft Hall, near Stowmarket. Acquitted of the charge of murder, David requests Reginald Brett, lawyer-detective, to find the real murderer. They visit Beechcroft, now occupied by the late baronet's sister, Margaret, and her Italian husband, Signor Capella. Capella secretly loves Helen Layton, David's fiancée. He quarrels with David, leaves the house and later meets Helen, declares his love and attempts to carry her. David appears and soundly thrashes him. Brett learns that Capella is familiar with Japanese weapons, like the one used to kill Sir Alan.

Winter, a Scotland Yard detective, finds a man who saw the real murderer of Sir Alan and shows Brett a typewritten note supposed to have been written by the guilty person. Capella leaves suddenly on a secret mission to Naples, followed by Holden, one of Brett's men. Mr. Jiro, a Japanese, who knows more than he tells, is asked to translate an inscription on the weapon used by Sir Alan's slayer.

The man was tall and strongly built. He moved with the ease of an athlete. He walked with a long, swinging stride, yet carried himself erect. He was attired in a navy blue serge suit and a bowler hat.

At 10 yards' distance Brett knew that the other man was the whom he sought, the murderer of Sir Alan Hume-Fraser, the human ogre whose mission on earth seemed to be the extinction of all who bore that hated name. It is idle to deny that Brett was startled by this unexpected encounter.

THE PUTS TOGETHER A SMALL ELECTRIC MACHINE AND I TAKE IT APART.

Not until he made the discovery did he remember that he was carrying the stick rescued from the mud of Northumberland avenue. The knowledge gave him an additional thrill. Would this dangerous personage recognize his own stick?

In no sense did Brett exaggerate the risk he encountered. The individual who could stab Sir Alan to death with a knife like a toy, hurl a stalwart sailor into the middle of a street without perceptible effort, and bring down a horse and cab at the precise instant and in the exact spot determined upon after a second's thought, was no ordinary opponent.

Truly a fiendish-looking Hume-Fraser, a Satanic impersonation of a fine human type. For the first and only time in his life Brett regretted that he did not carry a revolver when engaged in his semi-professional affairs.

The lawyer wore the conventional frock-coat and tall hat of society. His was a face once seen not easily forgotten, the outlines classic and finely chiseled, the habitual expression thoughtful, preoccupied, the prevalent idea conveyed being tenacious strength. Quite an unusual person in Middle street, Kensington.

CHAPTER XXIV. WHERE DID MARGARET GO? In the Kensington Park road he halted a hansom and drove home. Winter awaited him. The lawyer walked to a sideboard, produced a decanter of brandy, and helped himself to a stiff dose.

tions. The woman is weighted with a secret. I am sorry for her. I prefer to allow events as supplied by others to unravel the skein. Secondly, Jiro and his wife, and all who visit them or whom they visit, must be watched incessantly. Get all the facts required for this operation in its fullest sense. You, with one trusted associate, must keep a close eye on No. 37 Middle street. On no account obtrude yourself personally into affairs there. Rather miss 20 opportunities than scare that man by one false move. Do you understand me thoroughly?"

"I am to see and not be seen. If I cannot do the one without the other, I must do neither."

"Exactly." They heard a loud rat-tat on the outer door. Smith entered with a telegram. It was in the typed capitals usually associated with continental messages. It read: "I am."

"Johnson leaves Naples tonight with others. I travel same train.—Holden." The lawyer surveyed the simple words with an intensity that indicated his desire to wrest from their context its hidden significance.

"What does he mean by 'others'?" Who is Capella bringing with him?" "Witnesses," volunteered Winter.

"Just so; but witnessed in what cause?" "How—the how can I tell?" "Now, mark you, Capella wishes to be rid of his wife, by death or legal separation. He thinks he wants to marry Miss Layton. He is convinced that something within his power, if done effectively, will bring about these events. He can shunt Mrs. Capella, and so disgust Miss Layton with the Hume-Fraser that she will turn to the next ardent and sympathetic wooer that presents himself. He knew the points of his case, and went to Naples to procure proofs. He has obtained them. They are chiefly living persons. He is bringing them to England, and their testimony will convict Mrs. Capella of some wrongdoing, either voluntarily or involuntarily. Holden thinks Mrs. Capella has accomplished, and thinks it is unnecessary to remain longer in Naples. He is right. I tell you, Winter, I like Holden."

"And I tell you, Mr. Brett, I couldn't make out Holden's telegram in that fashion. When shall I see you next?" "At 7 p. m. the day after tomorrow," he said. "Until then my address is 'Hotel Metropole, Brighton.'"

Cleanings From the Exchanges

Vote buying is so common in the state of Indiana that a special law enacted providing a penalty of six months' imprisonment with a fine of not less than $50 for this offense. The elections in the northern states are not what they should be, but it is to the credit of the lawmakers of such states that they are continuing to frame laws designed to protect their elections and make them more decent.

Indiana should send down to Texas and get a copy of the Terrell election law. There was a time when the voice of the people did not prevail in this state, but it is happily past, and Texas is setting the world a fine example in the matter of pure and wholesome elections.

There seems to be considerable discussion as to whether or not platform demands are binding, whether legislators elected on a certain platform should endeavor to enact those demands into laws or not, which naturally brings up the inquiry: "What are political platforms for?" If they mean nothing, what is the democratic party in Texas? It can represent absolutely nothing but a bunch of office holders and office seekers whose only platform demand can be: "We want the job." Why ask the support of the people on a platform that "we stand for" the measure enumerated in the platform when it is untrue? If the platform means nothing, then there can be no party, for the party stands for nothing, represents nothing. All the platform necessary is the actual truth, which is and always was "I want the job."

That is a plain statement of facts which should be constantly borne in mind by all men who are elected to office on the democratic ticket in Texas. Platforms are made as an enunciation of party principles, and the man elected to office on such declaration of principles is false to his party when he sets them at naught.

Don't make fun of the man with a hobby. It may be that that very hobby will be the means of the world getting something of great good. All people that have contributed to the sum of human knowledge had a hobby. The man who ranks as an inventor had a hobby once; the minister who gets up in his pulpit has his hobby; the man who sells you goods has the same. In fact, those that do anything at all have a hobby. You may call it by some other name, but the hobby is still there.—Terrell Transcript.

The man without a hobby is of not much force in this world. It is the individual who sets his pegs many steps ahead and works to them that accomplishes things in this day and time. Men are compelled to have hobbies in order to succeed, and the closer they stick to those hobbies the greater the measure of their success will be, while the man who has no specific aim in life never accomplishes anything.

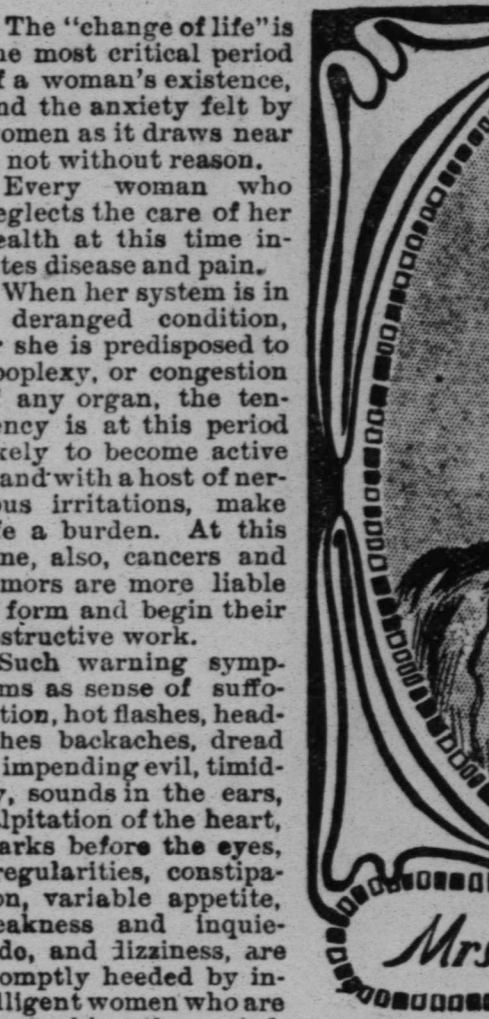

Upon Emperor William's request the so-called equestrian festival planned by patriotic society recently has been set up. The costumes were to be of so rich a character that the emperor thought it would be too expensive for the officers to participate. The Kaiser is endeavoring to lessen luxury in the army.

THE TURN OF LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experience.

"The 'change of life' is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain. When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dizziness, impeding evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquisitiveness, and liziness, are promptly headed by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected. These symptoms are all just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried thousands of women safely through this crisis. For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the Change of Life. My womb was badly swollen, my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the Change of Life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester-town, Md.

Another Woman's Case. "During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the womb. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared. "I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for any woman at this time of life. It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

John L. Sullivan Interviewed

BY JACOB WALDECK AND R. W. SATTERFIELD. Special Correspondence to The Telegram. ST. LOUIS, March 6.—"I can train down to 220 pounds in six or eight months," said John L. Sullivan in talking of his challenge to Corbett, Jeffries and Fitzsimmons.

Half a day's chase of the ex-champion has finally located him in the cooling room of a palatial Turkish bath house.

shows lines implanted there by the strenuous life the gladiator has led. His voice is deep and rumbling as in the days of his glory.

When Sullivan began the Turkish bath feature of his training in the middle of February he weighed 280 pounds. He says he is going to take off sixty pounds. "They'll say you are too old to fight," was suggested.

"Nothing to it," he answered (with a tendency to acting. It's a long time before he'd be an actor. Actors are born, not made.

"With him out, I'll fight any man I can get. I can't any more than get beat."

Sullivan's manager says that on the tour the former champion will take on all comers for four rounds. Sullivan said he proposed to give a monologue and sparring exhibition.

In a recent reply to a challenge by Fitzsimmons, allegedly to be backed with a deposit of $5,000, Sullivan said the money barred him from accepting it. In his "flurry" days that would have been a mere bagatelle.

"In the eight months' trip I made in 1883-4," said Sullivan, "we cleared $290,000. All Smith was in with me on that. I've made more than a million."

Then a dream of his greatness came to him and he added: "On that trip we offered $1,000 to any man not stopped in four rounds, and nobody got the money. Yes, it was the only trip of the kind there has ever been made, you can gamble on that. I knocked out more than 100 men."

As to the celebrities he has met Sullivan said: "Roosevelt? Yes, I know him personally. He is an all right fellow. He likes the game. I met King Edward in 1887, when he was prince of Wales. Met him personally? Sure. I talked with him a couple of hours. He was a democratic fellow. I sparred before him at a private exhibition with about 250 people present."

"Nothing to it," he said of Jiu Jitsu. "We've had it here for 100 years. Any of our wrestlers know them bonebracking holds, but don't use 'em, because they don't want to break bones. You can do things with that Jap system if you can get the holds. But how are you going to get the holds?"

He sides with the Japs in the big war. "It's a cruel thing," he said, "and ought to be arbitrated. There's no use in slaughtering all those good people."

John L. said his recent illness was trifling, and that he is now enjoying fine health.

The parasitic enemy of the codling moth recently brought from Europe and now being experimented with in California is thriving there greatly under the care of the state horticultural commission.

"ROOSEVELT IS AN ALL RIGHT FELLOW"

He talked confidently of ring exploits to come. He may have been influenced, though, by the fact that he had planned a starting trip to last a couple of months.

They say his age is 46 years. He looks ten years older. His hair and mustache are perfectly white. His eyebrows are dark. His face is strong, though it deep growl. "I'm 46. Fitzsimmons is 43 and has done some good fighting since he passed 40. Mace at 40 and Goss at 43 put up good fights.

"I'm going after all the big fellows. They can't turn me down.

"Corbett was the one I was after, but he says he is done with the ring and will

SUNDAY SOCIAL DINGS SET TONGUES WAGGING

Members of Washington's Official Set Shocked by Recent Entertainments

BY H. GILSON GARDNER. Special Correspondence to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, March 6.—Sunday social dings by persons in high official life have set Washington's smart set by the ears. Big afternoon receptions, at which carriages and automobiles congregate by the score, and at which there is music and sometimes dancing, have shocked the church-going element and started all kinds of talk.

The new secretary of the navy and his wife are among the chief offenders. The Mertons began Sunday entertaining immediately upon their arrival from Chicago, and the last function of this sort was made more offensive to the objection by the fact that cards were formally issued, and that there was music and other forms of entertainment.

Then, to add to the awfulness of it, the British ambassador and Lady Durand gave a Sunday evening levee, the festive sounds of which penetrated to the Church of the Covenant, where pious songs were jarred by secular strains. And all about Dupont circle the hoots of the leather-lunged flunkies resounded as they called the carriages for departing guests.

The Reginald De Kovens have, for some time, been almost alone in this practice of the Sunday afternoon entertaining, but being so musical and hailing from Chicago, they were set down by the pious as "quaker" and "holier" and little was thought about it. It was only when a member of the Roosevelt cabinet prominent socially in the diplomatic world, began to entertain regularly, and on quite an extensive scale, that the matter became a subject of general comment. There were plenty to follow in the wake of such large craft as the Mertons and the Durands, and within the past three Sunday soirees have become quite "the thing" among dinner, reception and calling make the Sabbath one of the liveliest days in the week.

The offense of Sunday entertaining is brought out in stronger relief by the fact that Washington is, on the whole, a church-going city. The president frowns recently Sunday levity. He is very circumspect himself, and goes regularly to the German Lutheran church at Fifteenth and P streets, while Mrs. Roosevelt attends Episcopal services at St. John's. Mrs. and Judge Taft are attendants at St. John's. Mrs. Shaw is a strict Methodist, and sent regrets to the most recent Morton affair. The Wilsons are Presbyterians, and both Moody and Metcalf are very circumspect in their Sunday observances. Mrs. Hay would as soon think of going on the vaudeville stage as of giving or attending a reception on Sunday afternoon. The Mertons are well known for their philanthropy and liberal contributions to all charitable purposes, but have not identified themselves with any church organization in Washington.

The vice president-elect and Mrs. Fairbanks are Presbyterians. The former Indiana senator was one of the deacons in a Presbyterian church in Indianapolis, and at the time of his election to the office his check lifted the church mortgage. Mrs. Fairbanks is not averse to having a friend or two in to dinner or in the afternoon on Sunday, but she does not countenance noisy or miscellaneous entertaining. Mrs. Robert J. Wayne is a devout Roman Catholic, and considers six days in the week sufficient for the social labors.

A great cause of offense to the Sunday observance critics was an affair given recently at the Chevy Chase club, just outside the city, in honor of Miss Morton. The party, it is said, danced all afternoon, and then returned in tally-hoes, making more than the necessary amount of noise on the way, and winding up with gay dings at the British embassy, within earshot of St. Matthew's, where vespers were in progress.

Dr. Tunis Hamlin, an outspoken divine of this city, has made this topic recently at the Chevy Chase club, just outside the city, in honor of Miss Morton. The party, it is said, danced all afternoon, and then returned in tally-hoes, making more than the necessary amount of noise on the way, and winding up with gay dings at the British embassy, within earshot of St. Matthew's, where vespers were in progress.

THOUSANDS RAISED FOR NEW BUILDING

First Methodist Church Fund Increased to $45,300 at Sunday Services

Those who attended Sunday morning services at the First Methodist church at a late luncheon, for services were not concluded until fifteen minutes to 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The long service was occasioned by an effort of Dr. Alonzo Monk, the pastor, to increase the new church building fund. The money secured, which, together with $1,800 subscribed at the evening service, brings the total fund to about $45,300. Up to Sunday's services the total was about $28,000.

The first subscriptions asked for by Dr. Monk were in amounts of $1,500 each, the contributions for this sum being Mrs. W. T. Scott, H. B. Francis and H. W. Williams. The Sunday school also pledged the same amount.

Those who gave $1,000 each were: J. B. Baker, J. E. Bomar, A. J. Anderson and wife, B. P. Sprinkle, Dr. C. P. Brewer, R. P. Woltz, Q. T. Moreland, W. G. Newby and wife, Judge T. H. Conner and the young women's building society.

J. B. Daniels subscribed $750. There were sixteen subscriptions to the amount of $500 each, and eighteen in the sum of $300 each.

The balance was subscribed in sums ranging from $250 to $250.

It is understood that the preliminary arrangements for building will soon be under way.

The site has not yet been decided finally. Many of the congregation prefer to build on the old lots, but others think that if the church is more centrally located, the results will be much more satisfactory.

SCHOOL FUND RAISED

Between $500 and $600 was raised at the morning services of the First Methodist church, corner Third and Taylor streets, yesterday for the endowment fund of Baylor University at Waco. An appeal to the large congregation was made for the contribution by Dr. J. M. Torrell, financial agent of the school. In the evening an excellent musical program was given by the regular choir. Both services were largely attended.

ELKS' SPELER ANNOUNCES SHOW

Withholds Choice Bits of Entertainment as Surprise for Those Attending

Tonight is the night of the Elks Imperial Minstrels. Tonight is the night when a number of society girls and members of the local lodge of Elks Club will do stunts before what promises to be one of the largest assemblies ever gathered at Greenwall's opera house.

Songs have been rehearsed, dances danced, in fact, all preparations including the burnt cork and groaning have been made, and everything is in readiness for the show with its cast of 50 people.

The audience will be given lots of fun tonight. Local performers always afford a deal of amusement, and when this is given with a burnt cork dressing it is a foregone conclusion that the audience will get its money's worth. Special light effects and the concentration of the calcium on the stars will give the real stacy effect and tend to increase stage fright. The audience is requested to applaud with the hands only. Suspicious packages and baskets must be checked before entering the building.

The program to be given tonight is a fine one, but inasmuch as the Elks wish to surprise everyone they are not announcing all the funny things that the interlocutor will say or the stunts that the end men will do.

Among the songs which will come floating out over the footlights are: "Miss Rose McNeal".....M. A. Elliott "Beansy".....Clint Draper "Glorious".....Roy Vance "Make a Fuss Over Me".....Bob May "My Mercedes".....W. C. Emberson "In the Deep, Cold Sea".....H. Hubbar "Shame on You".....Rosee Carrick "Lindy Lou".....By the End Men

IMPROVEMENT IS BEGUN

Hotel Addition

L. L. Hawes today began razing the old structures on the property bounded by Eighth, Ninth, Rusk and Main streets, which has been used by Mr. Hawes as a coal yard.

This work is preparatory to the improvements to be made on the Metropolitan hotel, to which are to be added an additional 100 rooms.

From $75,000 to $100,000 will be expended in putting a third story on the present building and constructing a three-story annex to the building on the east half of the block.

Convention Directory

A brief directory containing information of value to visitors at the coming cattle-men's convention is being compiled. It will be printed on bond paper with art covers in two colors and will contain all street car connections, local depots and how to reach them, leading official and public buildings, railway time tables and a list of distances to Texas towns from Fort Worth. Several thousand of these directories are to be gratuitously distributed among the visitors, beginning on the first day of the convention.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills For Pale People.

She says: "When I reached the turn of life I had chills and fever. My whole system was out of order and I was dizzy and nervous. Physicians' treatment did me no good but I was cured and gained fifteen pounds by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

From early girlhood to late in life, disorders incident to the development and maturity of womanhood can be relieved and cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Are not health and happiness worth trying for?

Your Druggist Sells the Pills.

THE BEST TONIC

When the system gets debilitated and in a run-down condition it needs a tonic and there has never been one discovered that is the equal of S. S. S. It is especially adapted for a systemic remedy, because it contains no strong minerals to derange the stomach and digestion, and affect the liver and bowels. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks selected for their purifying and healing qualities, and possesses just the properties that are needed to restore to the body strong robust health. When the blood becomes impure and clogged with waste matters and poisons the body does not receive sufficient nourishment and suffers from debility, weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion and many other disagreeable symptoms of a disordered blood circulation, and if it is not corrected some form of malignant fever or other dangerous disorder will follow. S. S. S. builds up the broken down constitution, clears the blood of all poisons and impurities and makes it strong and healthy. The nerves are restored to a calm restful state, refreshing sleep is had again, the appetite returns and the whole system is toned up by this great remedy. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic and acts promptly in this run-down depleted condition of the system. Book on the blood and medical advice furnished by our physicians, without charge.

I have used your S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent tonic to build up the general health and give tone and strength to the system. I have used other things highly recommended, but S. S. S. did more good than anything else combined. It gives a splendid appetite, refreshing sleep, and the system undergoes a general building up under its invigorating influence. 548 Woodland Ave., Warren, O. MRS. KATZ BECK.

JOHANN HOCH INDICTED

Charged with Murder of Mrs. Mary Walker-Hoch
CHICAGO, March 6.—The grand jury Saturday returned a true bill charging Johann Hoch with the murder of Mrs. Mary Walker-Hoch. The much married man was already resting under two indictments for bigamy, the evidence concerning which practically assured his sentence to the penitentiary.

The indictments returned today, however call for the death penalty for the willful murder of his wife, who is alleged to have died of arsenical poisoning a month after her marriage.

Residents of the South side are indignant over the matter and declare they are determined to catch the miscreants.

Children Have Holiday

Contrary to expectations, the work of moving the Fifth ward school building from the old site so that work could be begun on the new structure, was not finished this morning and the pupils were sent home for another day's vacation. Workmen continued the work of moving this morning, finishing in time for preparations to be begun on the foundation of the new building. The new structure will be finished in September. School will be held for the remainder of this term in the wooden structures which have been moved to the north of the school ground.

WALL STREET OPENS DULL

Latter Advances Are Shown Through All the List, Canadian Pacific Being Strong Feature in Roads

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 6.—The stock market opened rather dull but advanced were shown through the list. Canadian Pacific was the strong feature in the railroad department, being bought in rather large blocks, Montreal being credited with most of the buying. The market was up to 1.42 7-8 during the first part of the morning session and held its advance well. Louisville and Nashville was in splendid request, the Gates contingent again taking on the stock and predicting much higher prices. Mexican Central was well bought, on a repetition of the rumors of a change in the control of the road. Union Pacific was weak on heavy selling of a profit taking character by firm holders. Southern Pacific was weak in sympathy with Union Pacific, but the selling was largely by those who bought lower down. The balance of the Pacific was strong, Missouri Pacific being especially in good demand with buying by a new house, which was thought to represent the Goulds, Texas and Pacific was bid up to 40, the highest for some time.

The coalers were rather dull. Pennsylvania was a weak feature early, selling off to Saturday's low, 1.42 1-4, but later, on good buying by Pittsburg, rallied and held firm. The balance of this class of stocks, while dull, were taken on in moderate sized blocks by strong interests, the absence of anything antagonistic to these interests in the inaugural address, seemingly had a good effect in restoring confidence. Metropolitan was strong and active early, making an advance of $1.50 per share from Saturday's closing, but later sold off to 1.24. The industrials were irregular. Sugar opened higher, but on rather heavy profit taking by impatient holders became weak, and sold off to below Saturday's closing, being quoted at 1.47 1-4 toward the end of the morning session. Tennessee Coal was very erratic. This stock opened unchanged, sold off quick to $7, at which point excellent support appeared and the price was gradually forced up to 90. As yet there has been no official confirmation of the merger, but the proposed merger of the Southern Iron properties had been abandoned. People's Gas and Amalgamated Copper were dull and featureless, with prices changes narrow.

Sales to noon were 523,300. The afternoon session started dull, with the bulk of operation of a professional nature. The decision in the Northern Securities case, which was favorable to the Hill-Morgan interests, seems to have been fully discounted, as it had no perceptible effect on the market. As the session wore on, considerable activity developed. Union Pacific was in good demand and a good advance resulted. After selling at 1.56 1/2 early, this stock strengthened and advanced to 1.58 in the last hour of trading. Union Pacific also took on considerable strength, notwithstanding the supreme court decision was against the holders of this stock. There was excellent buying of Union by the same interests who have been accumulating the stock for the last month, causing an advance to the 7-8, or 1 3/4 above Saturday's closing figures. There was some selling at this point, causing a small set-back. Southern Pacific advanced in sympathy with Union Pacific, the buying, however, was not of such a good character as that in Union Pacific. St. Paul developed strength late in the session and regained all of the early loss. Missouri Pacific moved with considerable profit taking and advancing to 1.10 1-8 and then selling off to 1.09 3-8, at which latter point support was extended and a fractional rally ensued.

The industrials under the leadership of Tennessee Coal developed strength at the beginning of the last hour of trading. The above mentioned was bid up to 90 7-8, Amalgamated to 78 and the supreme court decision was in favor of the industrials, with the exception of Sugar, showed gains over Saturday's closing. Toward the close there was a bear raid, the railroad Canadian being the heaviest sufferer. Pacific was notable exception. The latter closed at 1.43, or an advance of 2 5-8 over Saturday. The closing was very nervous and irregular.

WHEAT CLOSES STEADY

Opening Lower, But Good Buying From Southwest Strengthens Market. Corn Closes Unchanged

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, March 6.—Notwithstanding very strong cables from Liverpool, wheat opened lower, and on selling by frightened longs, May sold off to $1.15 1/2 @ 1/4. At this point good buying orders were sent into the market, coming from the southwest as well as from local bulls and a good rally took place, May being bid up to $1.16. The market ruled irregular for the balance of the session, but the bulls seemed to be in control of the situation, and it did not take much of a demonstration on their part to start covering by shorts. Receipts were larger than expected, but no contract grade was reported. The visible supply showed a decrease of 963,000 under last year. This was offset, however, by unfavorable news from Argentina, it being reported that the crop there would not come up to expectations and that Europe would be forced to draw largely on this country for supplies. The market closed steady with a slight decline from Saturday's final figures, May being quoted at $1.15 1/2.

Corn opened fractionally lower, in sympathy with wheat, but there was strong support extended from the very start. Houses with southern connections were large buyers of both May and July, and the price was bid up to 48 3/4 for the first named month. Statistics show that the domestic consumption of corn the past winter has been the greatest ever known, and the demand from abroad has been exceptionally good. This cereal is in a strong position and is held by strong people, therefore it would not be surprising to the trade to witness an advance of 2 or 3 cents per bushel at any time. There was considerable profit taking on the increase in the visible supply, but all offerings were well taken. The advance was not maintained, however, and the closing was practically unchanged from Saturday.

Oats opened lower, but developed considerable strength in the early trading and scored new high levels for this movement, May selling at 32 3/4 and July at 32 1/2. The market held firm throughout, although transactions were not on a large scale, and closed with an advance of 1/8 over Saturday.

Provisions were lower early on large hog receipts and lower prices at the yards. Excellent buying, thought to come from the packers, was noticeable early in the session and a good advance ensued, pork being the largest gainer. May hog closed at $12.50, an advance of 12 1/2 from Saturday's final figures. The closing was strong and at the top prices of the day.

Former Cables From Liverpool Make Opening Quotations 3 to 5 Points Higher—May Go Higher

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 6.—With strong cables from Liverpool than expected our market opened steady and 3 to 5 points up, ruling strong all through the early part of the session, May commanding the strongest undertone and selling as high as 7.52. Viewing the market in comparison with the past few days it was a little erratic, but not enough to disturb either the bull or bear element to an extent that would inspire caution. The action in the close of the English market, which was 4 points over yesterday, created a little further buying, which, however, soon gave way in the interest of liquidation and gave evidence of a summer market with a limited amount of business and miniature transactions. Since this interval, when May and July stood at 7.47 and 7.43 respectively, quiet has prevailed, and the action of the course of prices demonstrates that the value of business was light, which facts closing unchanged to one point up. Upland middling unchanged at 7.85 with a quiet but steady tone. Sales 300 bales.

LIVERPOOL SPOT COTTON (By Private Wire to M. H. Thomas & Co.) LIVERPOOL, March 6.—The spot cotton market was steady in tone, with a fair demand. Spots were quoted at 4.93 for middling. Sales 10,000 bales. Receipts 100 bales, all American.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKETS

Nearly 2,500 Head of Cattle Received. Good Run of Hattie Hogs

NORTH FORT WORTH, March 6.—About the usual Monday run of cattle appeared, 2,489 head, compared with 2,924 Monday of last week, 1,889 the same day in February and 2,489 the corresponding day a year ago.

A good proportion of the supply was made up of South Texas grass steers. Quite a number of fed cattle came in by rail and the equal of ten carloads came on foot from local feed lots. The resulting market was very active, and sales were made on a basis stronger than the close of the week. The grass steers sold at $3.70, a price considered 15c better than similar steers sold a week ago.

Fed steers sold at $4.10@3.60; feeders at $2.85@3. As usual on the first day of the market week the supply of cows was large, and a good lot of fed stuff made its appearance. Buyers have been looking for good cows for some days, and they swooped down on the supply with a raise of a dime in bids. A quick clearance was made, with best cows at $3.50, bulk at $2.50@2.75, mediums at $2.75@2.25, and canners at $1.40@1.80.

For a wonder, the bull, stag and oxen trade was lively and active. Prices advanced, mainly on account of the quality of offerings. Feeder bulls are no higher. Extra sold at $2.25; stags at $3.15, and oxen sold at $3.10.

Two loads of calves, with the usual run of odds and ends made up the day's supply. Sales were slow and somewhat draggy. Tops, $3.50.

HOGS The run of hogs was good, both in size and quality, 2,600 against 2,065 Monday last week, 1,422 the same day in February and 2,292 the corresponding day in 1904.

The bulk of the run was made up of heavy hogs, both from Texas and Oklahoma, although about a quarter of the run consisted of east Texas hogs.

From the start the market was active at steady prices with Saturday, and the supply was soon closed out. Top hogs sold at $4.75, bulk at $4.00@5.05, and pigs at $4@4.25.

Special to The Telegram. PALESTINE, Texas, March 6.—John H. Reagan, the only surviving member of President Jefferson Davis' cabinet, died at his country home, Fort Houston near Palestine, this morning at 5:30 o'clock.

Judge Reagan was taken ill Friday with a chill and though ill two days few of his friends knew of his illness, and his death was very unexpected.

Sunday he received many callers, who became anxious, but until evening there was little realization of his serious condition.

Symptoms of pneumonia developed together with spitting blood, and he became unconscious. Telegrams are pouring in from statesmen, prominent business men and Confederate veterans from all parts of the United States.

The funeral takes place Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. Rev. Willis of the Methodist church will conduct the services at the home. Governor Lanham, Chairman Storey and other members of the railroad commission and other state officials will attend, also Generals Cabell of Dallas, Edgar of Galveston.

John H. Reagan Camp issued orders this morning for all camps to attend from Texas. The funeral will be the largest in the history of Texas. Judge Reagan's book of memoirs is fortunately completed and in the hands of the publishers. The surviving members of his family are: John Reagan of Elkhart, Texas, Jefferson Reagan of Dallas, Mesdames Mable Ferguson of Palestine, Mrs. John Donnelly of Rusk and Lieutenant Mills Reagan of the United States army, now in the Philippines, to whom the sad message was cabled. Business will be suspended here Wednesday.

CITY NEWS

J. D. Daffan of Dallas in here today. The women of the Benevolent Home Association will meet at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Carter, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Born, to D. W. Gossett and wife at 214 North Hampton street, a fourteen-pound boy, March 3.

The funeral of Miss Mary Gray will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Peach street Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bridges have returned to Fort Worth after an absence of ten months. They have been in California and Oregon for the benefit of Mrs. Bridges' health.

Sixty-five men are now working on the conduit line which will extend from the experimental wells west of the city to the Meade reservoir at the water works. Forces of men are working at both ends, one squad working from the water works west, while the other is working toward the city from the wells. Secretary Calhoun of the water works department announces that he is in need of thirty more laborers to carry on the work.

Braumont Celebrating BRAUMONT, Texas, March 6.—Braumont is jubilant over the passage of the rivers and harbors bill, which carries $511,000 for a canal through Sabine Lake. President Averill of the Chamber of Commerce has started a movement to present Congressman Cooper with a suitable testimonial. A grand jubilation is also to be arranged.

The following is a Chicago boy's composition on "The Crocodile": "The crocodile is a large animal that inhabits the Nile and loves to go on the sandy beach to bask in the sunshine and lay eggs. It looks some like a dachshund, only there is more of it at the ends and it is bigger. There was a crocodile once that escaped from a circus. It roamed o'er the country, seeking in vain for pigs and small children to devour, and died of starvation in great anguish. You can ride on the back of a crocodile, but it is more comfortable to use a saddle. It is usually quiet, but is terrible when aroused. We all ought to be thankful we are not a crocodile."

THE MONTANA RANGE All reports from the ranges seem to agree that the winter has been easy on cattle and that the mortality is confined to old cows and very weak stock. While some cattle are reported in poor flesh after the snow and extreme cold, it is generally believed that the worst of the winter is now over and the present warm spell will give them a chance to pick up strength to resist any further tribulations Old Boreas may have in store for this season.—Miles City Stock Growers' Journal.

Food Hints

Discriminating users do not buy Egg-O. See solely because it retails for 10 cents instead of 15 cents as most flaked wheat foods, but because they find by actual use that it is so superior in every way.

SUNDAY CLOSING BEING ENFORCED

Twenty Warrants Sworn Out Today on Complaints of Failure to Observe Law

Twenty warrants were today sworn out in the county attorney's office against keepers charging them with Sunday opening. The warrants will be served today.

In this connection it is reported that warrants charging the conduct of disorderly house in connection with certain saloons will also be issued.

GRAND JURY TO MEET

The grand jury of the Forty-eighth district court is to be re-assembled today.

There are a number of matters to be presented to this body, one of which is the case against William Taylor, colored, who has confessed to the theft of a horse and buggy.

WILL OF ZACK CASTLEBERRY

The will of the late W. Zack Castleberry, member of the county commissioners' court, was today filed in the county court for probate.

The will was executed Jan. 30, 1905, and leaves the estate to the wife of the deceased.

BOYS IN COURT

Three small white boys and a negro lad were brought before County Judge R. F. Milam this morning on various charges, including vagrancy, theft and assault.

Judge Milam gave Will Kidwell of Dallas, 10 years old, and Carl Merritt, aged 9 years, of Galveston, a long lecture and after charging them to never appear again in Fort Worth, released them. The boys agreed to leave Fort Worth at once.

L. R. Williams of Mansfield, charged with assault, was fined $25. Charley Hickman, colored, refused to plead guilty to theft and will fight his case.

Judge Milam said that he was constantly called upon to pass judgment upon this class of juvenile offenders, which was a distasteful task.

DISTRICT COURT

All cases in the Seventeenth district court, docketed for today, were disposed of either by a continuance or agreement. Judge Dunklin of the Forty-eighth dis-

PERFECT GAME OPENS 1905 BALL SEASON

Two Thousand Fans See St. Louis Browns Win Fast Game by Score of 4-3—Local Team Shows Up Well

Fort Worth may not have outplayed the St. Louis Browns in the initial game of the season, but it at least demonstrated that Manager Ward has secured a good corps of material only needing a good spring training and the automatic knowledge of what to do, which comes alone with perfected team work to land the Panthers around the top when the 1905 flag is being clutched.

ROBINSON A FIND
Robinson of San Angelo stood out as a probable find in Sunday's game. From the time he put out a clean two-bagger, made third on a pitcher's blunder and walked home as Murphy sent another double with brother George following after it, he made his nest with the Fort Worth fans. His steady work with the bat and willingness on all chances showing that Patty Mauch will have to do some hustling when he arrives from Milwaukee.

Practice scores count for little, but a defeat by St. Louis at four to three is encouraging when it is noticed that Fort Worth, which was supposed to get the colts lying up against a much larger percentage of regular Browns than did the Dallas team. Even the St. Louis fans seldom have an opportunity of seeing Howell, Barney, Pelly and Fred Glade in one game, and these, taken with Hynes, Dick Padden and Joe Suggden, gave the visitors a practically whole regular aggregation.

THROWING ERRATIC
Interest of the 2,000 fans whom the perfect day and long baseball fast drew to Haines Park centered largely in the local players, none of whom could be charged with offenses except for erratic throwing. This tendency was directly responsible for the winning run, scored in the seventh inning.

Hynes, who was reticent in comic opera brigand pantaloons, made a clean single over second, advancing on a neat bunt by Howell. Pelly fouled to Hubbard and Padden, whom the bleachers dubbed the lucky man, drew a pass to first in the slow handling of a drive, putting Hynes on third. Padden trotted to second in a tagging game which rapidly shifted to the third base line, where Hynes took advantage of a throw glancing off into the crowd from the bag, and slid home. Padden played the game with the skill of an old timer, his timing of his running aiding Hynes materially.

FORT WORTH RAN SOME, TOO
Fort Worth did some run getting herself in the seventh. Glade split the game with Buchanan to the entire satisfaction of the Texas sluggers. Burns sent a hot one inside the first base line and landed on second as Robbins was thrown out at first. Johnson, who decided pitching in, hit by Christianman, was the next man up and showed that a pitcher does not necessarily end the run getting, by rapping out a hot liner on which Burns, however, was afraid to risk home. He came in a moment later on a hit by Murphy. Christianman, who was keeping this moving by sending

VIADUCT IS COMPLETED
Unknown Woman First Person to Cross New Concrete Crossing Over Railroad Tracks

The Hill street viaduct is finished and will be opened to traffic Tuesday morning. Also at that time the Traction company will run cars across connecting with the Eighth avenue line.

City Engineer Hawley announced this morning that all work on the viaduct was finished with the exception of some gravel and cement work of minor importance. The Traction company has already laid its tracks across the bridge but has not fixed it in place yet. This work will be done as soon as possible and cars will be running regularly on Wednesday.

The first person to cross the viaduct was a woman who drove across Saturday night when the barriers were temporarily removed. Her identity cannot be learned.

The viaduct, replacing the wooden structure crossing the Frisco and Texas and Pacific tracks was torn down by a wrecking train. The present artistic structure was designed by City Engineer Hawley and erected at the expense of the railroads and Traction company.

GANS WANTS TO BRIT NELSON

Latter Would Prefer Britt, but May Take on Negro at 133 Pounds

BY W. W. NAUGHTON.
NEW YORK, March 6.—If the various obstacles which beset the sport of the ring at this writing are cleared away Manager Al Herford will do his best to send Joe Gans to the front as "Batling" Nelson's next opponent. Herford is puffed up like a pouter-pigeon over the warm greeting Gans received from last Tuesday night's fight crowd and emboldened by such convincing proofs of his protegee's popularity he is determined to scare up a battle for Gans if one is to be had.

Herford will have a hard row to hoe, at that. To begin with, Nelson has said that if it is made to appear to him that Gans is the man he ought to hook up with he will fight that Gans box at 133 pounds ring-side weight. Unless the dapper Baltimore manager can utilize his persuasive power in such a way as to have Nelson change these terms there will be small chance of arousing interest in a Nelson-Gans match. The sports of San Francisco have seen how Gans strips and boxes at 133 pounds and are thoroughly convinced that the notch is too low for him.

Nelson is frank enough to say that he would prefer Britt to Gans, as he considers the native son a less dangerous customer than the colored pugilist. Britt has already placed himself on record to the effect that he will never fight Gans again, so that it can readily be seen that Herford is confronted with a bleak prospect.

There is just this much in his favor, however. The inner circle of fight lovers regard a Nelson-Gans match more favorably than they do a return date between Britt and Nelson. The connoisseurs referred to feel that, under conditions which will insure each man being at his best, a scrap between the Dane and the colored lad would prove one of the most exciting struggles seen in a San Francisco ring in years.

It may be that Herford may be able to turn the grapple of the experts to account in bringing pressure to bear on Nelson and the promoters, but it must be said that the odds appear to be against him.

Ah Wing, whose principal cranial ornaments are a battoween queue and a brace of cauliflower ears, is apt to take a fall out of Young Corbett the first time he meets him. It appears that some one sent out a story that Wing was cooking for Corbett while the latter was in training at San Rafael. As a matter of fact Wing has never been in the vicinity of Young Corbett's camp. The late Chinese wants to be rated as a champion and not as a chef. He blames Corbett for the libel and says it has simply "a play for cheap advertising."

"The idea of saying I was making flapjacks for that kid," said Wing with a snort. "Why, I challenged him and not as a chef. He blames Corbett for the libel and says it has simply 'a play for cheap advertising.'"

Wing, by the way, is a full-fledged native son. He was born at Auburn, in this state, and has the somewhat doubtful distinction of being a schoolmate of Young Weber, who was recently convicted of murdering the entire Weber family.

Wing has several brothers and sisters and they are all fairly well educated. His eldest sister took him to task recently for following the fighting game.

"It isn't a nice business, and I don't think there is any money in it," she argued.

"Oh, I don't know," replied Ah Wing. "I'm buying $30,000 flats. I guess I'll stay with it while."

Matters are in such shape now that it is risky to hazard an opinion as to what is ahead in the boxing line. Even before this can be sent over the wires the legislature in session in Sacramento may decide that this state is entitled to a rest from the sport of the glove.

But even if that cloud rolls by others are gathering. The San Francisco Club has secured the March permit and has announced that, Sacramento willing, it will match Martin Hart and Jack Johnson. The Yosemite, which expected the permit and which had made arrangements for a Nelson-Britt contest, is supposed to be getting ready to spring a surprise or a mine or something.

A week from now we will be better able to tell where we are at.

who died at St. Joseph's infirmary Thursday night, was buried in Oakwood cemetery Sunday afternoon. Thirty celestials followed the body to the grave.

Before the closing of the coffin at Robertson's undertaking rooms, a dime was placed on the body to pay its entrance fee into the other world. A box of cigarettes, candy, nuts, raisins and matches was also put in the coffin so that the departed might not want for food and comforts on his long journey.

At the grave small candles were burned and a chorus of incense swang, spreading the smell of sandal wood over the cemetery. A bottle of whisky was then produced, together with a small bowl. The bowl each Chinaman filled in turn, emptying the contents on the ground at the foot of the grave. This concluded the ceremony.

Wah Hop, a brother of the late Chung Pi, made the announcement that the body will be disinterred later and shipped to China.

Dear Sir: It costs two or three times as much to put paint on as to buy it. A gallon of poor paint costs as much as a gallon of good, for the work, and a gallon of poor don't go half as far. Poor paint lasts half or a third or a quarter as long as good; and protects wood and iron a half or a third or a quarter as well as good.

Do you buy good paint or poor? You don't know any poor? Why, the market is full of it!

abilities and the exercise of this knowledge. Dr. Sperry's topic was the "Science of Living." His main object apparently, being to point out the influences which retard longevity, with stress on the theory that immortality has a direct bearing on the physical being. Climatic conditions, according to Dr. Sperry, have been reduced to statistics, proving beyond doubt that both torrid and frigid atmosphere tend to shorten existence. All the longevity worth mentioning, it was claimed, existed in the temperate zone.

In relation to the destructive force of evil habits, Dr. Sperry spoke at length and his scathing treatment of drink, tobacco and opium was said to be derived from personal association with victims.
