Negro Suspected of Applying for Teamster's Place, At- tacked and Beaten

POLICE GUARD STABLES

Non-union Men Fear Violence at the Hands of Many Displaced Workmen

CHICAGO, April 28.—Scenes of violence in connection with the strike began promptly today, the first being when a colored teamster was seen to enter the Monroe street barns of A. M. Forbes' Carriage Company, whose teamsters joined the ranks of the strikers yesterday. He was later seen to leave the stables. Several pickets gave the word that he had applied for a position as teamster in the stables. Thereupon the negro was followed by strike sympathizers. At Desplaines street he was overtaken by his pursuers. The fugitive attempted to defend himself from the mob, which quickly gathered, but he was kicked and beaten into insensibility. The arrival of a squad of police put an end to the disturbance. The injured man was taken to a hospital, where he was found to be severely cut and bruised about the head and body, but not necessarily serious. The greatest number of union pickets were stationed today about the stables of the Employers' Teaming Company, in Eighteenth street near State street. Several non-union teamsters are housed in this company's stables. A special detail of police was sent to the stables to protect the non-union men, as it is feared that the most serious disturbances will occur in the vicinity of these stables.

MOVEMENT TO BE WIDE

Proposed to Call Out Every Union Em- ploye in City, in Order to Gain Victory

CHICAGO, Ill., April 28.—The Chicago Federation of Labor, with assurances of strong financial and physical help from affiliated bodies outside of Chicago, has announced its plan for bringing on the greatest strike in history. It is proposed to call out every union employe in Chicago, in whatever capacity employed, and put them at work as pickets, if necessary, to win the cause of the teamsters. The fight, which threatens to become international and eventually end with the arrival of Federal troops, is unique in that it started from the garment workers' demands for a renewal of the scale and the closed shop, last November. The proprietors refused to grant the demands, and a strike was ordered. It made poor progress and would have dropped out of sight but for frequent assaults and cases of brutality upon non-union workers. Finally the garment workers demanded that the Federation of Labor take up their falling cause. It was agreed that the strike must be won to save the federation from disintegration. The Teamsters' Union, with no grievance of any character and contracts running for three years, were chosen as the instrument to win the strike.

Two days ago, seeing the futility of continuing the strike, the teamsters decided to call it off. When they applied for their positions, they were informed that no man who had struck was to be taken part in riots would ever be re-employed. This led to a conference at which all the unions, realizing that it was life and death struggle, decided to fight it out. There are 250,000 union employes in Chicago, and every one will be called out, according to the plan. At present only the garment workers and teamsters are on a strike. This involves the principal wholesale and retail houses, all the express companies, all the delivery wagons. The strike of 900 express drivers paves the way for bringing in Federal troops. With all teaming stopped or badly crippled, business will be paralyzed.

BELGIAN EXPOSITION NOT YET COMPLETED

Has Been Built to Commemorate Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of Country's Independence

LIEGE, Belgium, April 28.—The international exhibition in celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Belgian independence was opened here Thursday by Prince Albert of Flanders in the presence of the diplomatic corps, the civil and military authorities and a considerable number of visitors. Some time must elapse before the exhibition will be near completion. The buildings generally are handsome, and the grounds, covering 170 acres at the junction of the rivers Meuse and Ourthe, are tastefully laid out.

Lottery Tickets Seized

MOBILE, Ala., April 28.—On information from Federal authorities at San Francisco warrants were issued by the United States court for the seizure of a package of lottery tickets of the Mexican State lottery, shipped by Southern Express to L. Jackson of this city, and also for the seizure of lottery papers in the office of Jackson. United States Marshal Dean secured the tickets on the warrant, and raided Jackson's place, where lists of past drawings, blank applications for tickets and names of hundreds of patrons and printed matter were secured and removed to the Marshal's office.

THREE HURT IN TERRITORY WRECK

J. B. Anderson of This City, Postal Clerk on Train, Is Brought Home Today

Three persons were injured and several badly shaken up as a result of a head-on collision between Rock Island train No. 13, due in this city at 7:15 Thursday evening, and a freight train, which occurred just north of Ninckah, I.T., Thursday afternoon. J. B. Anderson of 450 St. Louis avenue, this city, a postal clerk running on the passenger train, was cut about the head and also sustained bruises on his left arm. Mr. Anderson arrived in the city this morning. The conductor of the passenger train was injured about the legs, necessitating his being taken to his home at Caldwell, Kan. The express messenger, whose name is not known here, was also injured. No cause for the accident is given.

T. Jones, another local postal clerk, who was on the train, was not hurt. An engine and three freight cars of the Cotton Belt were derailed this morning at Carrollton, a small station between here and Dallas. A wrecking crew was immediately sent to the scene. The Cotton Belt and Frisco, who use the same track to Dallas on account of the derailment, used the Texas and Pacific tracks to Dallas today.

WALLER SHERIFF REFUSES TO QUIT

Resignation Was Requested by Citizens Committee After Hempstead Tragedy

HEMPSTEAD, Texas, April 28.—Justice A. J. Harvey, assisted by County Attorney Will Cooke, is still investigating Monday night's tragedy in which four of Waller county's leading citizens were killed. James C. Lipscomb, sheriff of Waller county, has declined to accede to the decision of a committee of citizens from over the county, who asked his resignation, in view of existing conditions. The meeting, which was made up of a dozen representative citizens from different portions over the county, was held at the court house.

Mr. Lipscomb contends that he is in no wise responsible for the happenings of last Monday night, and furthermore that there is no demand for his resignation on the part of the people of Waller county. Mr. Lipscomb was at Hallettsville the night of the tragedy.

Roland Brown, who was shot in the breast during the court house tragedy, is reported much better and it is believed his recovery will be rapid. Miss Mary Brown, daughter of Captain Brown, whose wedding had been announced for Wednesday, was quietly married to George M. Blackburn of Ryan, I. T., at her home on that date by Rev. J. H. Brown, rector of the local Episcopal church.

In connection with the tragedy of Monday State Rangers have arrested Vincent Urban, charged with being an accomplice to the murder of John M. Pinckney. He waived examination and gave bail of $2,500 to appear before the grand jury of the October term of the district court. He gave bond.

R. E. Tompkins was arrested, charged with the murder of Captain P. M. Brown and was bound over to the grand jury of the sum of $2,500, which was also readily given.

TERRITORY CATTLE TAXES MUST BE PAID

Court Sustains Charge of 25c a Head and Collections Are Being Strictly Enforced

ARDMORE, I. T., April 28.—There is now no alternative for the stockmen of the Chickasaw Nation. They must pay the tribal tax of 25 cents on the head. The tribal tax has decided in favor of the collection of the tax and the Federal government has assumed the control of the collection.

Three hundred head of cattle belonging to a stockman, named Brown, at Lindsay, are rounded up at Marlow and unless the tax and the penalty for delay or refusal of $1 per head is paid at once the cattle will be driven from the Indian Territory. Dr. C. F. Sullivan of Lone Grove was in Ardmore recently to secure the release of his cattle from the possession of the Indian police, who held them for delinquent taxes. The usual tax and an additional penalty of $1 per head were paid before the cattle were returned to the owner.

The authorities are determined to collect the tax and there is no alternative for the cattlemen.

TO CONTEST ELECTION OF ST. LOUIS MAYOR

Defeated Republican Candidate Begins Proceedings Against Successful Opponent

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—Contest proceedings have been prepared by Judge John A. Talty, defeated republican candidate for mayor, against Mayor Edna Wells, and filed in the circuit court, it is said, as soon as the notice of contest, which has been filed in the sheriff's office, is served upon Mayor Wells. A list of 1,500 alleged fraudulent voters is made part of the record. Mayor Wells' official plurality was 1,306.

MAN KILLED BY CHARGED WIRE

Body of R. O. Williams Found Lying in Field Late Thurs- day Afternoon

R. O. Williams, aged 22 years, an employe of the Ladd Dairy Company, at whose establishment on Sycamore creek east of the city he made his home, was found dead Thursday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock, having been killed by a heavily charged electric wire connecting the dairy company motor with the Northern Texas Traction Company's wires near Stop 1 on the interurban.

The wire was wound about his arm and had severely burned him. Williams had gone out Thursday morning to repair the line and to hunt, leaving about 8 o'clock. Not having returned at 1 o'clock Mr. Ladd started out to hunt him, finding the body, which had evidently been dead some time. Justice John Terrell was summoned and rendered a verdict of death by contact with a live wire.

Williams, who was originally from Georgia, came to this city in October, 1904, since which time he has been employed by the dairy company. A mother and sister in Corsicana are said to survive. He had no relatives here. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

GLADDEN TO ANSWER ROCKEFELLER'S REPLY

Cleveland Clergyman Says He Will Investigate Statements Made by Starr

BOSTON, Mass., April 28.—Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden of Columbus, Ohio, moderator of the National Council of the Congregational church of the United States, left for the West yesterday, after a day's visit in this city, where he read a paper before a committee of clergymen in protest against the acceptance of a gift from John D. Rockefeller by the American board.

In an interview Dr. Gladden said that he intended to carry on what he terms a congregation of education on the subject of receiving money for religious or missionary purposes, as suggested by the Rockefeller gift.

Referring to the report that the American Missionary Association, the Congregational Home Mission organization, was about to receive money from Mr. Rockefeller, Dr. Gladden said he has just received a letter from President Bradford of the association in which the latter had declared that money had not been solicited from Mr. Rockefeller, nor had Mr. Rockefeller offered any. Dr. Gladden said that after his return to Columbus he would look up questions raised by Starr J. Murphy, counsel for Mr. Rockefeller, who on Tuesday criticized Dr. Gladden for making charges involving Mr. Rockefeller.

CRAIGHEAD KILLING TO BE INVESTIGATED

Governor of Louisiana Directs Special Inquiry Into Case of Man Shot in Jail

SHREVEPORT, La., April 28.—The killing of Dick Craighead, the convicted murderer of Mrs. Ike McKee and little son, in the jail at Homer by a mob Wednesday morning will be made the subject of a special investigation according to a message received in the city from Governor Blanchard.

Public opinion in Homer and Claiborne parish is strong in condemning the lynchings, recalling the fact that the prisoner removed from the jail at Shreveport until given ample guarantee that Craighead would be safe from mob violence. The names of four men said to have been the executors of the mob's will are in the custody of Sheriff Kirkpatrick, three of the men having been recognized by Craighead, and the fourth by another prisoner. No arrest has been made.

An assurance that he would be present, if health permitted, has been received from ex-Governor James A. Hogg. Other prominent men friendly to organized labor are being addressed for the purpose of having on that day the best public speakers that can be secured.

The new committee, at once met and elected as chairman, Frank Sworr of the electrical workers; secretary, C. W. Woodman of the Typographical Union; and treasurer, G. E. Allinger of the Plumbers' Union.

Paternal delegates were elected to the Farmers' Union by the assembly. They are Metz of the Leather Workers, Delmage of the Cigar Makers and Woodman of the Typographical Union.

CARNEGIE ENDOWS $10,000,000 FUND FOR AGED TEACHERS

Steel Magnate Provides An- nual Income of $500,000 to Be Used in Annuities

NEW FIELD FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, April 28.—A gift of $10,000,000 by Andrew Carnegie to provide annuities for college professors who are not able to continue active service, has been announced by Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City Bank of New York.

Professors in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland will share in the distribution of the income of the fund. United States Steel Corporation 5 per cent first mortgage bonds for $100,000,000 have been transferred to a board of trustees and steps will be taken to organize a corporation to receive the donation.

The bonds which Mr. Carnegie has so generously donated have a market value of $11,000,000 and will produce an annual income of $500,000.

Mr. Carnegie's letter to the trustees is dated April 18. It follows in part: "I have reached the conclusion that the least rewarded of all professions is that of the teacher in our higher educational institutions. New York city generously and very wisely proposes providing pensions for teachers in her public schools, and also for her policemen. Very few, indeed, of our colleges are able to do so. The consequences are grievous. Able men hesitate to adopt teaching as a career, and many old professors whose places should be occupied by younger men, cannot be retired."

I have therefore transferred to you and your successors, as trustees, $10,000,000 5 per cent first mortgage bonds of the United States Steel Corporation, the revenue from which is to provide retiring pensions for the teachers in universities, colleges and technical schools in our own country, Canada and Newfoundland, under such conditions as you may adopt from time to time. Expert calculations show that the revenue will be ample for the purpose.

The fund applies to the three classes of institutions named, without regard to race, sex, creed or color. We have, however, to recognize that state and colonial governments which have established or mainly support universities, colleges or technical schools in our own country, shall remain exclusively with the state. I cannot, therefore, presume to include them.

There is another class which states do not aid, their constitutions in some cases even forbidding it, namely, sectarian institutions. Many of these, established long ago, were truly sectarian, but today are free to all men of all creeds or of none—such are not to be considered sectarian now. Only such as are under control of a sect, or require trustees (or a majority thereof), officers, faculty or students to belong to any specific sect, or which impose any theological test, are to be excluded.

Trustees shall hold office for five years and be eligible for re-election. I hope this fund may do much for the cause of higher education and to remove a source of deep and constant anxiety to the poorest-paid and yet one of the highest professions. Gratefully yours, ANDREW CARNEGIE.

The trustees include many of the best-known educators on the American continent.

FITZHUGH LEE CRITICALLY ILL

Stricken With Apoplexy While on His Way From Bos- ton to Washington

WASHINGTON, April 28.—General Fitzhugh Lee, while on the way from Boston to Washington, was stricken with apoplexy shortly after the train left Harlem river. His left side is affected. The train, which reached Washington at 10 o'clock, was met by Secretary of War Taft, the surgeon general of the army, and Dr. Lemon, physician of the Pennsylvania railroad. A physician was with General Lee on the train.

The news of General Lee's condition had preceded him to Washington, and many of his army and personal friends were at the Pennsylvania station to meet him. Included among them were Major Michie of the army general staff; Major Keane and Major Mason of the medical department; Dr. St. George Tucker of George Washington University; Major Robert Hunter of Virginia; Holmes Conrad of Virginia, and B. H. Fowler.

Dr. Tucker invited General Lee to occupy quarters at his residence here. The general was conscious and received Dr. Tucker in his car when the invitation was extended.

He replied smilingly: "I am in charge of Dr. Keane, and he says I must go to the hospital, and I guess I will have to acquiesce."

Mrs. Lee, who is at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., with her daughter, has been notified, and has also his son, George, who is at San Francisco preparing to sail for the Philippines. The other son, who is in the Philippines, has been cabled of his father's condition.

A physician was taken aboard the train at Jersey City. At Philadelphia he gave place to another, who accompanied the general to Baltimore, where still another was taken aboard and made the trip to Washington. Since the first stroke no change for the worse has taken place.

General Lee has been spending a few days in Boston and was returning to Washington on his way to join Mrs. Lee when attacked.

A physician of the medical corps of the army announced at 1 o'clock this afternoon, on leaving the bedside of General Lee, there was no apparent change in his condition; that General Lee is conscious, but it is impossible to tell what the outcome will be for several hours. His entire left side is paralyzed.

KAMRANH BAY, via Saigon, Cochinchina, April 28.—The Russian squadron, with transports, left its last stopping place Wednesday evening for an unknown destination. The warships were provisioned for six months and it is thought here they are bound for Vladivostok by way of the Pacific ocean.

Four German colliers arrived at Kamranh Bay too late to proceed with the squadron, but they subsequently sailed in the same direction in an effort to catch up with it.

Vice Admiral Nebogatoff's division was expected to arrive yesterday in Indo-Chinese waters, where it is believed the admiral will receive instructions regarding the place where he is to effect a junction with Admiral Rojestvensky, whose squadron, beside twenty-five warships, includes a repair ship and water tank ship.

RUSSIANS BEGIN EASTER FASTING

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—Three days of hard fasting preceding Easter, accompanied by solemn services commemorating of Christ's passion, began today. Business of every character has ceased, and all the government departments are closed. Alarming reports circulated during the last few days apparently had little effect on the crowds which thronged the churches where the tragedy of Calvary was vividly re-enacted. The day also marked the observance of the traditional ceremony of freeing the birds, lighting bonfires and placing holy bread in bins, but the bright sunshine did not fail to make a deep impression on the superstitious in the midst of the gloomy forebodings of evil, being the augury of drought and crop failure, which in Russia is synonymous with famine and disaster. The diplomatic corps, including Ambassador Meyer, attended the services at St. Isaac's cathedral. Every member of the orthodox church took communion today, the emperor and imperial family attending the service and taking sacrament at the Chapel Alexandra in the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo.

THE CURB MARKET'S GREATEST SWINDLE

By S. A. NELSON

(Copyright, 1900, by the Frank Leslie Publishing House.)

Many rogues have trod the shady side of Wall street; great in their ingenuity, great in their achievements, and great in the way they fought themselves out of or into jail. There is an irresistible fascination about Wall street for the rogue, though the "dead line" of the newspaper police stories, which say that no rogue is ever allowed rogues. They travel singly, in pairs and in gangs, and represent a dozen different types. More than one seemingly respectable office building harbors nests of them. These soldiers of fortune include some highly-polished villains, who, unfortunately, are never found out. They maintain what appears to be excellent social and financial standing; and, if the veneer is a trifle thin in places, it is not apparent to other than those who have had personal contact with and chipped the veneer until the truth was revealed for the very few to see and wonder thereat.

From the leader of this little army of adventurers to the cheap swindling speculator, who offers a supposedly confiding broker a New York draft on an alleged Spokane, Wash., bank account, is a long leap. The central figure of this story, however, did not represent either type. Still, he was a leader. He had no social status, it is true; but he had brains and money, and always played for heavy stakes.

Albert Yarnell was of French descent and probably 38 years of age. Of middle stature, robust build, rather coarse features, and a wearer of eyeglasses, he was not a person to attract attention offhand. To study his face one would first need the incentive of knowing the man and his deeds. You would then say, perhaps, that the man was nothing good nor bad to look upon, but that the face lacked cultivation. The eyes were blue, the forehead and chin broad, well formed and strong. It just missed the finishing touches that would have made a strong, manly and attractive personality. In financial affairs Yarnell was absolutely lacking in sense of morality. He respected no one, least of all himself. He gloied in his ingenuity as a rogue, and would leave rob a widow as a banker. Both had been his victims, and if the jail doors yawned for him he smugly contemplated them—generally at a distance—although there had been times when they had been dangerously near to closing in upon him.

A partner in a Yarnell operation had said of him upon one occasion: "Stick a pin in that fellow and you'll get ice water." That was another rogue's description of an absolutely cold-blooded wretch who had no friends, wanted none, and helped the state with his evidence whenever it suited his convenience. He would take a weak man, use him as a tool, squeeze him dry, wind criminal cords around him, and then thrust him into the hands of a district attorney looking for a victim.

A partner in a Yarnell operation had said of him upon one occasion: "Stick a pin in that fellow and you'll get ice water." That was another rogue's description of an absolutely cold-blooded wretch who had no friends, wanted

Yarnell was versed in criminal law as far as it pertained to high finance. He knew its highways and byways. In his legal calculations he differentiated with a fine eye and a clever brain regarding results; would they induce criminal prosecutions by the state, or civil suits by individuals? He always preferred the latter. He retained two lawyers. One was a companion rogue, whose clients were by all odds the checkers that ever worked upon the cupids of the public and disgraced God's great earth. When he was retained, to use his own words, he had to be "declared in" on the deal; that is to say, he wanted and demanded a liberal share of the profit plan so as were no profits, of course he charged his fees nevertheless. The other combined corporation with criminal law, and only accepted criminals as clients, because he was a spend-thrift, and Yarnell's retainers were of handsome proportions.

In 1899, when several hundred thousand men were riotously drunk with stock speculation; when an over-capitalized trolley road that was not earning the fraction of a cent in the form of dividends sold at 125c a share; when another, worn out, bankrupt and ready for a receiver, was quoted at $312; when electric shares sold at prices inflated to the point of bursting; when industrial stock promotions amounted to a couple of billions; Yarnell threaded his way down Broad street and surveyed the curb market. A prince of schemers, he had a new scheme, and he knew that it would be richly productive for Albert Yarnell. To work out his come profit plan so as the lion's share of the spoils, while his partners received the minimum, was the basis of the ideas shifting about in his knave's head.

"The curb," or outside security market, is the haven of the stock expert. Scores of brokers meet in Broad street every day and trade in the middle of that thoroughfare along the curbstones; hence the name. They buy and sell those stocks and bonds which for one reason or another are not dealt in on the exchange, and the number is large. Most of the brokers are young fellows serving their apprenticeship and representing stock exchange firms. Others are older and richer, and represent themselves. All have a code of business honor, but, like the regulations of the stock exchange, their laws for the protection of principal and client are unwritten. Thus the curb market is rather an elastic proposition. Yarnell proposed to stretch it, and he did.

On this afternoon, as he looked over that cypress collection of brokers, he was thinking of the boom in electrical stocks. They were having a glorious day. A thinking of the boom in electrical stocks, on a new basis—they offered you 100 shares of the Electric Balloon Company, per value $100 a share, and called for the subscription money in small installments. You bought 100 shares of Balloon, paid in $500, or $5 a share, and the promoters ran the quotations up several hundred per cent, just to tickle the subscribers. If you had the cunning of a fox, you sold out quickly; but the public were not then in a selling mood, although the stocks in question stood for inventions that were purely experimental in character.

Yarnell had determined to float the Electric Ax Company, and to float the stock into the tin boxes of some of the leading brokerage firms on the street. Seemingly this was an absolutely impossible task. Catch a Wall street veteran asleep? And his scheme, so difficult in conception, so simple in execution, had the stamp of criminal genius.

Colds

Don't trifle with a cold; no one can tell what the end may be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from neglected colds. Nothing can be compared with as a quick cure for colds and grip, and by its use the more serious diseases may be avoided.

Yarnell called his confederates together, and this is what they did: They rented an office in a fine building, painted the Electric Ax Company sign on the door in pretty gilt letters, bought a worthless electrical invention, which is not a difficult thing to do, selected a list of directors and officers' names, with and without authorization (for getting directors is a simple matter), capitalized and incorporated the company in New Jersey with several millions of mythical capital, and proceeded to print an engraved stock cerstand a margin transaction. It is necessary that the reader should understand just what a margin transaction is. If you buy a house and lot for $10,000 and mortgage it for $8,000 you are buying on a margin of 20 per cent, represented by your $2,000 equity. If you buy $10,000 worth of stock on a margin of 20 per cent, or $2,000, your equity becomes your margin in the stock, and your broker borrows the remaining $8,000 to carry it, or, in other words, it is mortgaged to that amount.

As Yarnell's agents traded, they made acquaintances and friends. One day when the melon was ripe for cutting, each of the agents received a letter which read much in this way:

"Cutting & Co., Bankers & Brokers, 200 Wall Street, New York, April 4, 1899—My Dear Hamilton: I am glad to hear that your health is improving. I know that the rest would benefit you. When do you expect to return? You really should be here, as you are missing unusual opportunities. We have never had a better market in which to trade. I met Governor Flower at the Lawyers' Club today and he assures me that Brooklyn Rapid Transit will sell at 150, but take my advice and keep out of it. Stick to more conservative securities. I advise you to buy St. Paul, Union Pacific common and St. Paul Union Pacific preferred; you can give the St. Paul to your wife. The Union Pacific will pay a dividend in twelve months, and the Atchison preferred will be placed on a 5 per cent basis in the same time.

"And by the way—you remember John Morse? Well, he is the power behind Electric Ax, a new but sound curb security. If you were here I would certainly urge you to take on 200 or 300 shares, as private trials I have witnessed demonstrate conclusively the success of an invention that will be immensely profitable.

"My regards to your family when you write to them. Mrs. Cutting tells me that she met Mrs. Hamilton in Paris in February. Very sincerely yours,

"JOHN CUTTING."

"You're lucky to have such a friend," said Mr. Hamilton's broker, as he read the forged letter.

"Do you trade in industrials?" asked Hamilton abruptly.

"Sometimes—on a 20 per cent margin."

"Well, it seems to me that after that letter I ought to get a couple of hundred at least. I don't take much stock in tips, but Cutting is one of my favorite's oldest friends. You know who Cutting is?"

"Of course. One of the oldest bankers in New York."

"Well, wire your New York correspondents, and see what they think of Electric Ax." The reply was: "Electric Ax has been rapidly advancing. It is 80 bid, $1 asked. Don't know much about it. Looks all right."

"HUDSON & TAYLOR."

Back clicked a hurry-up order: "Buy Electric Ax at 80 1/2 on a 20 per cent margin for one of our customers. He is buying on a tip from John Cutting."

"STOUT & THOMAS."

From New York was returned this dispatch: "We have bought for your account and risk 300 Electric Ax at 80 1/2."

"HUDSON & TAYLOR."

The deal was going through without friction. Now its status was:

Each of the five confederates had $7,000 up as margin, making a total of $35,000; each of the five had persuaded brokers to buy 300 shares of Electric Ax at 80. Their brokers had bought in the open market 1,500 shares of Ax at $80 a share, or $120,000 in the aggregate. Yarnell and his confederates had the brokers' money; they had $37,500 of his. Yarnell's gross profit by the deal was $82,500. The very day the last lot of stock was delivered Yarnell telegraphed a cipher message to his dummy speculators, telling them to fly. In the meantime he had disposed of $40,000 of worthless stock to country investors, and the great game was over.

To fold up the Electric Ax tent and steal quietly away was the last act. The typewriters were immediately discharged, the rented machines returned, the name came off the office door, the office furniture disappeared, and in twelve hours not a remnant of the Electric Ax Company remained.

In a few days a telegram of inquiry to New York was followed by a commotion. Electric Ax had been offered on the curb from $80 down to $1, with no support. The brokers who ten days before had been furiously bidding $80 for it had disappeared. Five out-of-town brokers boarded trains and traveled in haste to Wall street. But the birds had flown.

In May Mr. Yarnell closed his city home—the big fire one—and sailed for Europe. He did not visit the exposition, preferring to avoid the Americans who crowded Paris, for he required a considerable period of rest.

DR. OSLER ADVOCATES UNION OF PHYSICIANS Says It is Time Homeopaths and Allopaths Forget Their Differences

BALTIMORE, Md., April 28.—In his farewell address to the medical profession of Maryland before leaving for his post as regius professor in the University of Oxford, Dr. William Osler urged the fusion of medical colleges in this and other cities of the country.

Medicine means more hope for humanity than anything else, he said, and combination and reciprocity are the great needs. Reciprocity between the state boards should be attained, he believed, so that the doctor's activities should not be limited in moving from state to state.

"It is time," he continued, "that the homeopathic brethren were coming into the fold. A difference in drugs should no longer separate men with the same hope. The original quarrel is ours, but the homeopaths should not allow themselves to be separated by a glibbieth that is incompatible with their practice today."

The most dangerous foe to medical science is apathy. Thirty-five per cent of deaths in a community are due to apathy, which goes to counterbalance the advance of medicine in the last century.

PATTERSON TRIAL INTEREST GROWS

Appearance of Prisoner's Sister for Prosecution Surprises Counsel

NEW YORK, April 28.—The story told by Mrs. J. Morgan Smith on the witness stand yesterday afternoon and the prospect of her cross examination by counsel for the defense today served to intensify the interest in the case of Nan Patterson. The appearance of Mrs. Smith as a witness for the prosecution came in the nature of a surprise to the defense, Mr. Levy has said. He professed to be very well satisfied with the move, however, and said that the cross examination of the witness would afford an opportunity to place before the jury evidence which could not be produced any other way. He also believes the direct testimony of Mrs. Smith has only served to strengthen the case of the prisoner, as it supports many important details of the testimony given by Miss Patterson herself at the last trial, a portion of which was read to the jury yesterday.

YOUNG'S WIDOW IN TEARS

Nan Patterson's Eyes Drop When She Sees Widow of Man She Loved

NEW YORK, April 28.—While there were no features sensational, the trial of Nan Patterson, charged with the shooting of Caesar Young, interesting today in many points brought out.

Mrs. Margaret Young, widow of Caesar Young, was on the stand, and as she testified her eyes were filled with tears. Nan Patterson dropped her eyes when she saw the widow and did not raise them again until recess. J. D. Miller, Young's partner, was another witness, and told of the relations between Young and Nan Patterson.

The prosecution endeavored to introduce in evidence a letter purporting to show that Miss Patterson had had other admirers at the time she professed to be devoted to Young. This letter, however, was not admitted as evidence. The letter Mrs. J. Morgan Smith, sister of the defendant, wrote to Caesar Young, in which she said Miss Patterson was "frantic," and which was admitted at the previous trial, was also ruled out. The conspiracy charge against the Smiths was based on the letter.

Mrs. J. Morgan Smith was recalled and told of her visit to California in the spring of 1903, where she saw her sister and Young together. A year later, when Mrs. Smith saw Miss Patterson in New York, she found her in a highly nervous condition. She was hysterical and crying, appeared to be laboring under a nervous strain and "almost frantic."

Under examination Mrs. Smith told of Miss Patterson's expectation of marrying Young, that Miss Patterson secured a divorce with such a purpose in mind and that the arrangement with Young was postponed because of influence brought to bear on Young by his wife and partner.

said, she gave the law firm of Levy & Unger about one hundred letters Young had written to her sister. May 1, 1904, Leslie Coggins, a friend of Young's, dined with Mrs. Smith at her home and told Mrs. Smith that Young was coming to New York. Coggins said Young was not going to marry Miss Patterson. When Mrs. Smith told her sister this she became "frantic and perturbed."

Mrs. Smith continued: "She said that Caesar could not fool her that way. It was impossible for him to do such a thing."

Mrs. Smith acknowledged writing the letter intercepted by Mrs. Young. The relations of Coggins with Miss Patterson were brought out, when Mrs. Smith said: "He told me he wanted to marry Nan."

Coming down to the day Young was shot, the prosecution asked:

"Were you awake when your sister came home early on the morning of June 4?"

"I was. She told me she had been with Young and that he was going away. She was perfectly normal."

"No; she was quite tranquil."

CAPTAIN TELLS WHY HE REFUSED AID TO ROOSEVELT'S YACHT

Says He Had Perishable Cargo and President's Vessel Was in No Danger

HAD NO TOWING GEAR

NEW YORK, April 28.—Because he considered the yacht in no immediate danger, had a perishable cargo which would make any delay of his own dangerous, and had no towing gear are the reasons given by Captain Hotville of the fruit steamer Otter for his failure to go to the assistance of President Roosevelt's yacht Sylph when she was lying disabled south of Bodie's Island.

The Otter has arrived here from Banes, Cuba, and for the first time since the incident Captain Hotville has had an opportunity to give his version of the affair.

He said: "We were steaming along under full headway when I sighted flare-lights on the vessel ahead. This vessel was about eight miles off land and sixteen miles south of Bodie's Island. The night was clear and the weather good. As we approached I pulled the bell to stop the engine, the wire broke and before I could communicate with the engine room we were out of range of hearing. As soon as the wire broke I made ready to hail the distressed craft. The hall came:

"Will you stop us out?"

"I cannot. Drop your anchor; you are in sixteen fathoms of water. I'll report you at Cape Henry."

"I reported the ship's distress to a pilot and told him to send a tug. We had a perishable cargo on board, the yacht was in no danger and as I had no towing gear I did the best thing I could under the circumstances."

UNION SERVICES TO BE CONTINUED

Rev. R. E. Chandler conducted service at the Texas and Pacific shops at noon in the union evangelical series. A number of the working men devoted a part of the dinner hour to the worship of God. Services at the tabernacle this morning and afternoon were in charge of Rev. G. W. Ray. The speaker at this evening's meeting will be Rev. J. W. Caldwell.

It was decided this morning to continue the services one week longer, lasting throughout the whole of next week.

Dr. Monk was the speaker Thursday evening, telling during the sermon that the only way to get rid of sin was through faith in Jesus Christ. In the course of his talk he said that living in sin was the worst form of murder—self-destruction and moral suicide.

In conclusion the minister asked for a confession of Christ from members of the congregation by their rising in their seats. Almost as a body those present stood up.

TELEPHONE BUILDING PLANS BEING DRAWN

Division Superintendent J. F. Henderson of the Southwestern Telephone Company said this morning that the new building to be erected by the company at Tenth and Throckmorton streets, will consist of three stories and a basement. Engineer's outlines of requirements have been made, but plans for the building will be made by a local architect. The building will be 40 by 95 feet, and will have a switchboard with room for 9,600 lines. Local exchange boards will be on the third floor, and long distance on the second. Offices and machinery will be placed on the first floor, and the basement used for heating apparatus and storage. The building will likely be in service by January, 1905.

AN OMNIBUS ANNOUNCEMENT

Over in the state of Georgia the editor of a country newspaper recently announced as a candidate for office. In his announcement the newspaper man simply stated he was a candidate for office without going into details or particulars. He intimated he would be willing to accept the office of mayor of his town, justice of the peace, go to congress, fill the probate judgeship or any thing else the people were willing to confer upon him.

The Georgia candidacy is a receptive candidacy. There is nothing implied but a desire for office and a willingness to accept any old office the people may desire to give. The Georgia man is a patriot. Having felt the fire of political ambition sizzling under his shirt front, he comes to the front in an effort to appease the longing that has arisen in his heart for a term at the pie counter. The Georgia man has something of a prototype out here in Sunny Texas. Representative J. J. Blount of Palestine is a patriot moulded largely along the same patriotic lines. Representative Blount feels the fire of a consuming ambition within his manly breast to serve his people and his country. He desires to rise above the petty position of East Texas squirrel protector in the state legislature, and in a broader field give the people of his state the direct benefit of his shining abilities. But Representative Blount is undecided as to the waters in which he will do his political fishing. He might be induced to cast his hook into the gubernatorial pool, or find contentment in throwing a pinhook into the congressional hole. In a very remarkable and characteristic address addressed to the people of the state of Texas, Representative Blount says:

To the People of Texas.—Inasmuch as it has gone forth broadcast that I will be a candidate for governor by the solicitation of many good people, I have to say to my many friends, if I am a friend to any one, I am a friend to death; and further, I want to say I am a friend to T. M. Campbell of Palestine, and the cause of our friendship will soon be known to the people, as I am invited to speak in Fort Worth May 8, on the subject of fraternity and the true worth of a friend. I wish to say if the Hon. T. M. Campbell was not a candidate, I would be, but under no circumstances will I consent to desert my best friend. I will stick to my friends—the working people—as I am sticking to my best friend, Hon. T. M. Campbell. Whether in or out of office, I am the same today, tomorrow and forever, if I know myself. I would rather dig grub and be true to my friends than to hold any office in opposition to one of my best friends. I don't need any office. My only object is to serve my God and my country, as the people may see fit. I have done the best I could in my present office. I am a candidate for congress in the Seventh congressional district and nothing but the will of the people can change the program. Yours for good government.

If for any reason whatever Hon. T. M. Campbell should withdraw from the race, or if it should become apparent that the people throughout the state desire that he should become a candidate, then I will probably enter the race and the voters of Texas will have an opportunity to know my views on all public questions, for I will hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may. J. J. BLOUNT.

There is a feature of this address to the people of the state of Texas that should be brought to the immediate attention of Colonel Tom Campbell, for it is a positive cue to keep the other Palestine man in such a state of suspense. If Colonel Tom has designs on the gubernatorial office he should come immediately into the open, in order that Representative Blount may concentrate his efforts on the congressional situation. If he is not to be a candidate, then he should get out of the way and make an opening for his friend.

And Representative Blount is "a friend to death." This does not imply necessarily that the distinguished gentleman is a dead one or that he is specially enamored of the pale steed. While the language employed is somewhat ambiguous, yet it is clear that Representative Blount only means that he is true to his friends to the end of all earthly things. The advent of the gentleman in this city and his speech on May 8 will be looked for with much interest by Fort Worth people. It is true this city is the home of another distinguished candidate for gubernatorial honors, but that will detract nothing from the welcome that will be accorded Representative Blount. The man who does not need office, but who seeks it as a moral duty to his people is a rare avia.

In his testimony before the interstate commerce commission hearing that is now in progress in Washington, W. D. Hines, formerly connected with the Louisville and Nashville railway, brought out a new point that will no doubt occasion considerable discussion. The matter under discussion pertained to differentials, and Senator Deliver asked if it was not an indorsement of the interstate commerce commission that there had been unanimously submitted to the committee the matter of arbitration of differentials between Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. The witness replied that these communities were willing that the commission should be the arbitrator and the railroads were also satisfied. But New Orleans, with its enterprise and energy and its railroads, might not be satisfied. If the commission had power to fix rates it should be compelled to fix a specific or minimum rate or the differential would be destroyed. If a minimum or specific rate were fixed, then competition would be destroyed. If the government should assume the power to fix rates it would also have to assume the responsibility for the welfare of communities which had an unfavorable natural location, just as the railroads now do.

It is not necessary to kill any more Texas congressmen in order to enforce the local option laws in the state of Texas where local option has been adopted. Local officers whose duty it is to enforce all laws must enforce local option laws along with the rest, no matter how distasteful such enforcement may be to the officer. Because an officer may be at heart an anti is no reason why he should neglect to perform his sworn duty. The majority of the people in a community have the right to say whether or not saloons shall exist in that community, and when they declare for or against the saloon, there is nothing remaining for the officers elected by the same people to do but to properly enforce the law without fear or favor.

The railways of the state are said to be consulting together in the matter of the rumored fighting of the new tax measures passed by the regular session of the state legislature, and if the report is true, it shows a lack of the usual railway acumen. Fighting those tax measures will only intensify public sentiment against the railways, and inflamed public sentiment is always blind to the demands of justice. And the railways should bear in mind the fact that it has been necessary for all interests in this state to submit to an increase in taxation. Even the horny-handed son of toil has been compelled to stand his just proportion. Certainly, the railways are no better than other Texas institutions.

The new banking law, which provides for the establishment of state banks in Texas, does not go into effect until July 14, but it is probable that during the interim arrangements will be made for the establishment of many banking institutions under its provisions, and these will be in operation just as soon as possible after the law goes into effect. There has been much demand for institutions of the kind, and it is expected that the new arrangement will result in much good to the state. Much Texas capital that has heretofore been in hiding will now come out into the open and provide more adequate financial resources.

The extra session of the state legislature is to have the pleasure of another wrangle over the Terrell election law. The law was one that consumed much time that was frittered away in the regular session, and the governor has sent it in to the extra session as a matter to be passed upon. If it can be taken up at the point where it was when death overtook it in the regular session, it ought to be pushed through without much loss of time, but it is probable that its enemies will find opportunity to again load it with such a number of objectionable amendments that the long fight over it will be continued until the very last moment.

If the governor authorized the creation of a deficiency in the construction of a laundry plant for the Abilene epileptic colony, then the deficiency thus created should be wiped out by the prompt discharge of the obligation. The state of Texas does not desire to appear in the guise of repudiating any just obligation. The state had the benefit of the plant, and it is right that it should be paid for.

San Antonio has been in the throes of a spring carnival for several days, and strange to relate, no visitors have been killed by the discharge of firearms in the hands of distinguished San Antonio citizens. The San Antonio tamale must be losing some of its blood-warming qualities.

While the newspapers of the world are planning all sorts of things for the Russian fleet and doing all in their power to hurry up the expected collision, old Togo seems to be sawing wood on the Japanese end of the situation and preparing to make the blow count that he is preparing to strike. The general impression is that actualities will not be much longer delayed.

General Miles is being suggested by New England interests as the head of the Equitable Life Insurance Company when it is re-organized. It is probable that young James Hazen Hyde will resent this suggestion as a piece of gross impertinence.

DON'T CHASE THE MEN

By Dolly Blythe.

Someone has asked me what a girl can do where sweetheart's affection changes slowly but surely to mere good will, or when he, after calling steadily for a year, suddenly grows cold and stays away.

Well, there is just one thing to do.

DOLLY BLYTHE.

No, there are two things to do. One, be glad; two, forget him. Never chase him. It is a hard thing to forget a sweetheart? Yes, but not so hard as it sounds. I know a beautiful, black-haired woman of 50, who has a beautiful little girl and a handsome boy, and is about as happy as any human being can be. The other day she told me that when she was 18 she lost a sweetheart. "Why," she said, laughing, "I had read of hair turning white in a single night, through terrible suffering, and the morning after my sweetheart left me for the last time I was actually surprised that my hair was not gray. I cried and cried, and every time I looked in the glass I was disgusted with myself because I wasn't getting pale and wrinkled. But I wasn't; I was as rosy and fresh as ever. My appetite was good. So I braved it, and (here she blushed like a girl) I braved up and found another beau." And that beau is now her devoted husband.

"But what does your husband think about your trying to break your heart over another man?" I asked. "Oh, he never thinks to mention it now. Of course, we used to talk about it. But you see my first little love affair was only just a little practice for the great love of my life."

It may be a little hard to try to be glad. But consider for a moment. What you were to win the man know he was to get away. Let him go, be glad. Forget him.

Why a Jag's a "Jag"

THE LEARNED NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES MAKES DIAGRAMS AND TAKES MEASUREMENTS OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF JAGS—FEEDING ALCOHOL TO THE HEARTS OF FROGS AND ANIMALS—EXPERIMENTS ON THE USE OF ALCOHOL.

BY GIBSON GARDNER

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 28.—What effect has alcohol on the human heart? Does it stimulate or depress its action? The medical department of the University of Pennsylvania teaches that alcohol is a heart stimulant; the Johns Hopkins University medical department is teaching that it is a sedative.

To determine this question by scientific experiment, the National Academy of Sciences appropriated a special sum and appointed Drs. C. H. Wood and Daniel M. Hoyt to carry on a series of inquiries. The results of their labor have just been reported to the academy.

The apparatus employed was illustrated by a diagram. On the one hand were two jars, one filled with blood, and the other with food fluid by which the heart was fed and kept alive. Two pipes connected the jars with the heart of the frog or other animal used. Then from the outgoing valve of the heart another pipe was connected leading to a third jar. The heart, thus, with its beating, served as a pump, drawing the liquid from the blood jar and emptying it into the third jar.

It was found that the heart pumped over a certain definite amount of blood every five minutes. At the end of this period of time a new jar would be put under the waste pipe, and by measuring the blood it was found that the action of the heart was perfectly regular.

Then all that was necessary to do was to put a certain percentage of alcohol into the food liquid bottle, and see if the heart pumped more or less blood in the next five minutes. It was found that if the pump was pumped more, the increase being as much as 50 to 75 per cent. All kinds of frog, fish and snake hearts were used, and the results were uniform.

Next it was desired to see if this result could be verified in the human being. It seemed to show that taking alcohol into the stomach made the heart beat not faster, but stronger, sending more blood into all the arteries and branches. In other words alcohol stimulated the heart.

If the same action were produced on the human system, Dr. Wood reasoned, the result would be that any part of the human body—the leg, arm or finger—would be swelled by the injection of more blood into it. Next, to try if such were the case, so an instrument called a "plathysmograph" was rigged up by which the forearm may be incased in a water jacket with a tube arrangement showing any decrease or increase in the bulk, by a rise or fall of water in the tube.

With his arm in such a jacket the man who assisted as the subject of this experiment was given a series of "jags." First he was dosed with whisky, and it was found at once that the arm grew in bulk. This confirmed the doctor in the main conclusion of his experiment.

Next he tried a series of experiments with different sorts of "jags," illustrating each with a plotted curve showing its speed in coming on and going off.

After whisky, the man was given a champagne jag, with his arm done up in the "plathysmograph." In this it appeared that the jag was quicker in its operation and sooner over. It was plotted as a shorter and sharper curve than the whisky jag. The whisky jag takes quite a time to begin, but it lasts and lets down with a more gentle slant. Beer plots a longer and more gentle curve than champagne or whisky, and never gets so sharp as the rest.

The doctors did not conclude that the brain was necessarily stimulated because of the added volume of blood. But they informed the academy that they were entirely convinced that the brain is supplied with a larger flow of blood as a result of the action of alcohol, and that its normal action, or intoxication, is due to that physical phenomenon.

Cleanings From the Exchanges

No more general rainfall ever occurred in this state than the one of Sunday night, and it was as copious as it was general. While doing some damage in spots, particularly where hail fell, it has been beneficial on the whole, soaking things good and plenty before the coming of the summer heats and droughts in this southwest. Streams and springs are as full as a prohibition candidate in a wet town and there is grass and to spare on all the ranges. The warmth and the dryness are all that are now required to perfect the work that has been so backward this peculiar spring. If only the rains had washed the spots off the sun all will be well. No more peculiar season has this country noted since the weather bureau went into business.—San Antonio Light.

The rain of Sunday night was unusually heavy all over the state, and has resulted in placing such a season in the ground as will insure abundant crops throughout the agricultural districts. While planting has been greatly retarded, the amount of moisture now in the ground assures rapid growth of all vegetation, and the outlook for a good crop year in Texas is unusually good in spite of the temporary disadvantages. When Texas has plenty of moisture there is always an abundant crop yield.

It speaks well for a man when, in important respects, he becomes big enough and independent enough to rise above his party that has become bound by the decrees of self-exalted and designing men. It speaks well for the party man when he is not a partisan, but a true patriot whose heart beats in sympathy with the great mass of the people, and whose purpose is broad and unselfish, as shown in both his speech and his conduct.—Tyler Courier.

It speaks well for the future of this great country of ours that our leading public men generally are showing a disposition to rise above party ties and stand for the good of the country as a whole. The tendency of the times seems to be strongly against partisan politics.

Strange things politics. It's a peculiar coincidence that the republican president who received the largest majority ever given a candidate in the United States is exhibiting more democratic traits than any president who has held the office for the past forty-five years, and at the same time a mayor of the second city in America who was elected on a democratic ticket in spite of a standing republican plurality was so chosen because he was unalterably pledged to a socialist plat-limited degree of gossip.—Karnes County News.

People very often form unjust conclusions relative to matters that are being whispered in a community from the mere fact that there is a bare possibility of truth. They do not take into consideration any mitigating circumstances or possibility of doubt, but accept rumor as a fact. In this way great injustice is often done and those who are really innocent are made to suffer. Gossip is a very poor article in any person's stock of trade and the safest plan is to let the other fellow retail all the gossip that is in circulation.

The man who can meet adversity with a smile and buckle down to work that much harder is the man who will eventually succeed, no matter what obstacles beset his path. The man who despairs and "chucks" it up couldn't attain success if a signboard stood in his path, pointing the way. It takes the hard knocks of adversity, the experiences of misfortune and failure to mend the weak spots in his armor. History shows that the man who has attained the pinnacle of fame and fortune had felt the hand of adversity in his early career. He who takes life easy, without exerting himself to succeed or to ward off failure, may enjoy life in a way but he can never have the satisfaction of knowing and feeling the sweets of success.—Hallettsville Herald.

Adversity often proves a great advantage to the man of grit and determination, from the fact that it teaches its victim to be more conservative in his undertakings and nerves him to renewed effort. When a man gets into his fighting clothes and is inspired by the determination to overcome adversity, he generally puts up the fight of his life and will win nine times out of ten.

One of the best rules adopted by the railroads recently is the order to conductors to allow traveling men to occupy but one seat unless they pay for more. A number of traveling men had become so selfish that they would turn two seats to face each other, fill one with luggage and the other with hat and overcoat, and then go into the smoker and occupy two more, though they had paid for but one seat, and it reduced rates. This practice is to be stopped and the traveling man restricted to the one seat which he has bought and no more. They will, no doubt, raise a great kick at this, but they have no more right to occupy more than one seat in a coach than in a theater or opera. Thus the railroads have adopted one good rule that all honest men who travel will heartily applaud.—Brenham Banner.

The rule made by the railroads for the traveling man should also include the traveling woman. Bird cages, parrots, lap dogs, Saratoga trunks, millinery establishments and other bulky paraphernalia usually carried by the traveling female should be relegated to the baggage coach ahead.

A STUNNING EVENING FROCK

A most striking combination is found in an imported gown of chintilly lace. The gown is of lace, but the bodice is covered with a cherry colored velvet jacket, decollete, with redingote skirt effect. The buttons which ornament the jacket are covered with lace over white. The gown is an oddity and it is doubtful whether the style will be adopted by American women.

Champion Wrestler's Great Strength

John J. Zimmer, Amateur Champion Middleweight Wrestler, Says His Wonderful Strength Is Due to Regular Use of That Marvelous Tonic and Invigorator, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

He Writes: "All the Medals I have won in athletics and honors I have gained on the wrestling mat I owe to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

JOHN J. ZIMMER.

Gentlemen: All the medals that I have won in athletics and the honors that I have gained on the track and on the wrestling mat I owe to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began to take your medicine four years ago, when I was a mere stripling and very much run down in health and weak in body. I had been bedridden for four months and the doctors thought I would not recover, when an athletic instructor, a neighbor of ours, took me in charge. He stopped all medicine and gave me Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and with the aid of massage brought me back to normal health. Since that time I have trained regularly in the gymnasium and have known no medicine except Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.—JOHN J. ZIMMER, Amateur Champion Wrestler.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Is the greatest strength builder and tonic stimulant known to medicine. It attacks the seat of the disease, drives it out and rebuilds the weakened tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner.

"Duffy's" is the only cure and preventive of consumption, pneumonia, grip, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fevers and all wasting, weakening, diseased conditions. It makes the young strong and healthy. In use 50 years. Write for free copy of medical booklet, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

CAUTION—Get the genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, sold by all druggists and grocers throughout the world in sealed bottles only—price $1.00. See that the "Old Chemist" trade-mark is on the label, and that there is a strap over the cork. Refuse substitutes and bogus so-called "Duffy's" Pure Malt Whiskey, offered by unreliable dealers.

EDUCATION BOARD ACTS FAVORABLY UPON FORT WORTH UNIVERSITY PLAN

Committee Named to Visit This City and Investigate, Preparatory to Loan

COMMITTEE IS SATISFIED

W. G. Turner, one of the committee appointed by the Board of Trade and Fort Worth University to confer with the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education Society of Cincinnati, Ohio, regarding the raising of $100,000 for the improvement of Fort Worth University, returned to this city Thursday and announced that a committee has been appointed by the society to visit this city and make a personal investigation, which is believed to be preliminary to granting the funds sought.

Speaking of the matter Mr. Turner said that the action taken was all asked of the board by the committee and that conditions appeared most favorable to ultimate success.

A telegram from Dr. MacAdam received by Fort Worth University also reports the movement meeting with favor and the coming of the committee. No date for the arrival of the committee in this city has yet been announced.

Members of the committee who went to Cincinnati are Dr. MacAdam, president of Fort Worth University; W. T. Bomar, president of the Board of Trade; J. E. Mitchell and W. G. Turner. Other members of the committee are expected to return to this city the beginning of next week.

FT. WORTH LOSES AGAIN IN TENTH

Victory Goes to Dallas for the Second Time in One Extra Inning

DALLAS, Texas, April 23.—Fort Worth was again defeated by Dallas yesterday in a repetition of the tenning performance and with the score 4 to 3 in favor of Maloney's men. The score was tied in the ninth inning—three to three—but in the tenth Doyle went to first, was advanced by Andrea, scoring on a hit by Ury.

The men from Pantherville got their first two runs in the sixth, when Gate hit one to short and ran safe to the first bag on Jackson's fumble. Poindexter was handed free passage to first and finally Burleson singled and Bridge fumbled, giving Fort Worth two tallies.

Ballew was in the box for Fort Worth.

FREIGHT MAN REPLIES TO FT. WORTH ATTORNEY

Missouri Pacific Officer Criticizes Statement Made by S. H. Cowan

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—Walker D. Hines continued his statement before the senate committee on interstate commerce yesterday. Criticizing the Esch-Townsend bill, he said that measures imposed upon the interstate commerce commission a task which it could not possibly perform, because it would have time to do all the work.

It had been referred to as the anti-rebate bill, yet it had no provision to prevent rebates. In fact, it would interfere with the anti-rebate operations of the Elkins act, because everything was left to the commission. Rebates could now be prevented by injunctions, but the Esch-Townsend bill provided that the commission could begin proceedings, which would take much time. It would take so long to change rates after they were once fixed by the commission that secret changes and rebates were almost sure to follow.

The Esch-Townsend bill made no provision for regulating private car lines, one of the subjects referred to in the president's message. Rebates, continued Mr. Hines, were stopped to a large extent after the passage of the interstate commerce act, but there had been a relaxation and rebates became common. The Elkins act had resulted in checking rebates, but unless the law is rigidly enforced rebates would again be given.

Mr. Hines claimed that the interstate commerce commission had not been sufficiently vigorous in prosecutions of roads which granted rebates. He also expressed the opinion that the commission should have authority to send an expert to examine the books, papers and accounts of carriers and shippers; also that district attorneys should begin actions for violations of law on complaint of the commission or by direction of the attorney general.

Mr. Hines denied that it was necessary to create a rate-making board in order to avoid government ownership.

When Mr. Hines concluded P. V. Yates, a machinery manufacturer of Beloit, Wis., objected to the commission fixing rates.

because the conviction of an unjust rate would take too long.

A. C. Lincoln, general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, said it was impossible to fix rates by any set rule. Rates were made by conditions, by competition between carriers, competition between markets, the necessity of finding markets for surplus products and supply deficiencies on products which occur from time to time. The rate-making power must be elastic.

Mr. Lincoln spoke of the condition in Arkansas, where the state commission fixes a mileage rate for the whole state, and where, on traffic wholly within the state, the rate per mile was the same on all roads. There were complaints from manufacturers, who claimed that they were unable to compete with manufacturers outside of the state, and who said they suffered because there was no responsibility in rates. Fluctuations of export rates on farm products, Mr. Lincoln asserted, made successful government rate-making impossible. Surplus grain must be moved to the seaboard, regardless of rates.

He replied at some length to the statement of S. H. Cowan, who had said before the committee that there were overcharges on live stock. Special cars, and necessary, live stock trains have the right of way over all trains, except passenger trains; stock cannot be kept in cars longer than twenty-eight hours, and, sometimes, in the case of the railroads, is of course not now legislated, but there is a ready to meet any action that may be taken by the railroad commission.

While no positive announcement has been made here explaining the present visit to San Antonio by local railroad representatives, it is intimated that it has to do with the recent reduction of the tariff on cotton to Houston and Galveston of 5 cents per 100 pounds.

It has previously been announced that the railroads would make an attempt to resist the carrying into effect of this ruling of the railroad commission, and the meeting to be held at San Antonio will no doubt be given over to a discussion of this matter.

Estimates already made indicate that the effect of the cotton tariff reduction will mean that the railroads will lose fully half a million dollars annually. Just what action will be taken in the case of the railroads is of course not now known, but there is a rumor that an attempt will be made to prevent the effectiveness of the ruling by an injunction.

Charles J. McKenna was unanimously appointed to the position of county auditor Thursday afternoon late by District Judges Irby Dinklin and M. E. Smith and County Judge R. F. ## WITH THE CATTLEMEN

RAILWAY MEN GOING

DENVER, April 28.—After the exciting times at the stock convention in Denver last January, it seemed to many people that the packers and railroad men would never again be seen where stockmen were gathered, but the stockmen have been most anxious to make the packers and railroad officials understand that they were fighting for a principle and personally delighted to meet these gentlemen at their meetings. In other words, they like to entertain but have no desire for any partnership arrangement. Secretary de Ricles has been sending out invitations to a large number of prominent railroad men and packers, and they are all showing a commendable desire to be present at the May meeting in Denver. Nelson Morris, who, by the way, is a member of the new organization, will be here again and it is probable that both Swift and Armour will be represented. "The railroads are showing more interest in this meeting than in the January event. Some of the replies received by Mr. de Ricles are as follows:

W. C. Stith, Freight Traffic Manager M. E. Ry Co.—"I am certainly very much obliged to you for your cordial invitation to the convention of the American Stock Growers' Association, which will be held in Denver on May 9, and provided I can arrange my engagements, I shall be very glad indeed to attend."

W. B. Biddle, Third Vice President C. R. I. and P. Ry. Co.—"I have yours of April 1, and would say that it will give me a great deal of pleasure to be in Denver on the date named, and meet my old friends in the cattle business. I quite agree with you that these conferences tend to better the situation in a great many ways. So far as I know now I shall probably be able to be there; if not, I will advise you in advance."

D. B. Keeler, Vice President and Traffic Manager F. W. and D. C. Ry. Co.—"I have your letter of April 1 and appreciate very much your invitation to be present at the meeting of the American Stock Growers' Association, to be held in Denver on May 9. I certainly shall be there if it is possible for me to do so. Of course, I cannot tell positively at this time what the situation will be then."

B. Campbell, Fourth Vice President G. N. Ry. Co.—"If it is within the limits of reasonable possibility for me to do so, I will be glad to attend. Thanking you for the courteous invitation."

E. L. Sargent, General Freight Agent T. and P. Ry. Co.—"I appreciate the spirit in which the invitation is offered and will endeavor to personally be present. Of course, some important matter might come up which will prevent me, but I trust that my anticipation of making your acquaintance may be realized."

D. Miller, First Vice President C. B. and Q. Ry. Co.—"I cannot say so far in advance if it will be possible for me to be in Denver on the date named. I would like very much, however, to meet our friends who will be there on that occasion, and will endeavor to arrange to do so."

caslon, and will endeavor to arrange to do so."

MONTANA LIVE STOCK

MILES CITY, Mont., April 28.—The report of W. G. Prentiss, secretary of the Montana Stock Growers' Association, which met in this city last week, showed that there was a total cash balance on hand April 1, 1904, of $23,606.38; that receipts during the year amounted to $45,668.14. Of these receipts $48,143.14 were from stray receipts and $5,525 from annual dues. The disbursements amounted to $50,762.51, leaving a balance on hand April 1, 1905, of $22,511.99. Of the disbursements during the year $44,315.96 was paid toward the strays.

The secretary further says the inspection reports for the year 1904 as published by the board of stock commissioners are interesting and hence are summarized here: Total number of cattle shipped out of state and used at home, 238,775; total number of strays paid owners through the association, 1,638; total number paid direct to owners by commission houses, 19,578; number of cattle sold for Levi Lester estate at last year's sale, 37,984; number of stray horses restored to owners, 10,655; number of inspectors employed during the year, 33; number of arrests during year, 121; number of cattle killed on railroads, 1,023.

SOUTH DAKOTA CATTLE

A Deadwood dispatch says: Harris Franklin, general manager of the Golden Reward Mining Company, has returned from the east. Several weeks ago, while buying the large cattle interests of the west, he was stricken with blindness in one eye. He is now entirely cured. Mr. Franklin states that cattle conditions for the Black Hills will be unusually fine this season. The price will be much higher than last year, which Mr. Franklin states will be due to the demand for range cattle. Already the price at present is $1.25 to $1.50 higher than a month ago. Contrary to the published statements, Mr. Franklin asserts that there will be as many cattle brought north from Texas as usual, and the price will be about the same as last year. Mr. Franklin purchased the entire herd of the Lester estate, there being about 15,000 cattle in the herd. These cattle will be sold again on the range, where they belong, and will not be taken to the Franklin ranges. Harris Franklin is reputed to be the wealthiest man in South Dakota, having made his wealth in the Golden Reward mine and in the cattle business.

SOUTH TEXAS CATTLE

Felix Shaw purchased last week from Beever & Hines of Frio county 2,200 stock cattle at $13 per head, calves not counted. Mr. Shaw also leased the pasture from Beever & Hines in which these cattle are located.—San Antonio Stockman.

to remain, have returned to their homes, disappointed. When the parade has taken place under such circumstances, it has been at the expense of time required to properly give the performance. Those of the people who have gone to the place of exhibition, expecting the circus to be open on time, were compelled to await the return of the parade and stand in the broiling sun or rain until the cages were placed, and they, too, worn and weary from waiting. The circus of today is too big to give parades, and every manager of a large show will tell you so."

BRODHEAD HEIR GOES TO MILWAUKEE

Unable to Tell How Much Estate Has Been Affected by Bigelow Failure in Milwaukee

NEW YORK, April 28.—John B. Brodhead of Kingston, N. Y., one of the heirs to the Brodhead estate of which Frank G. Bigelow of Milwaukee was a trustee, has just started for Wisconsin from this city. Concerning the affairs of the estate, he said:

"Various statements have already been attributed concerning the Bigelow failure. I have made none until the present. Edward Brodhead, who was my uncle, died in 1890, leaving about $1,400,000. About $500,000 was shortly thereafter distributed under the provisions of the will. The balance with a present value of about $600,000 was put under trusteeship for the benefit of myself and my children. The surviving beneficiaries aside from myself, are my children, John C. Brodhead Jr. and Charles Brodhead of Kingston; Abraham D. Brodhead of New Falls, N. Y.; and Margaret A. F. Brodhead, together with the widow of my deceased son, Mrs. W. T. Brodhead and her daughter Cornelia.

"The estate included real estate valued approximately at $700,000 and $1,000,000 in bank stocks. Besides this was about $100,000 in cash derived from the sale of real estate and other resources in the hands of Mr. Bigelow.

"I am advised by my lawyers in Milwaukee that the real estate is intact, but I have read in the press dispatches, which say that Bigelow made use of the stocks. Of the cash I may only assume that it was deposited in the bank to the credit of the beneficiaries under the trust. It will probably take a little time to discover the status of the cash and securities."

BIG CIRCUS WILL OMIT THE STREET PARADES

J. A. Bailey of Barnum & Bailey Says Show is Now Too Large For Famous Feature

NEW YORK, April 28.—J. A. Bailey, sole manager of the Barnum & Bailey greatest shows on earth, officially announces, "that the street parades will be omitted this year. The fact that the show is now too big to give street processions; the knowledge that the limit of special cars railroads are willing to handle has been reached; and the time required to place in position the enormous apparatus utilized in the 'Dip of Death,' the 'Quadruple Act and Paradox,' and many other sensational features, have all been factors in forcing this conclusion. A careful investigation has also led him to believe that the circus parade is no longer popular, on account of late arrivals of the show, inclement weather, unavoidable long waits and the consequent delay of the afternoon performance."

Mr. Bailey says: "Well, it's just this way: I am omitting parades this season for reasons that have been accumulating for years. In the first place people outside the business have no conception of what a problem the giving of a parade is. It is the greatest difficulty we have to contend with. When it rains very hard, it is not given. When the show arrives in town late—as it often does—the people become fatigued standing in the hot summer sun for hours with a lot of hungry children, while, again, others unable

OLD SORES OFFENSIVE-DANGEROUS

Nothing is more offensive than an old sore that refuses to heal. Patiently, day after day, it is treated and nursed, every salve, powder, etc., that is heard of is tried, but does no good, until the very sight of it grows offensive to the sufferer and he becomes disgusted and morbid. They are not only offensive, but dangerous, because the same germ that produces cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore. The cause is in the blood and as long as it remains the sore will be there and continue to grow worse and more destructive. The fact that thousands of old sores have been cut out and yet they returned, is indisputable evidence that the blood is diseased and responsible for the sore or ulcer.

Some years ago my blood became poisoned, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left of their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated I would be, neither have the sores ever broken out again. JOHN W. ## J. W. THOMASON FEDERAL HELD

Remains Interred a Short Time After Recovery of Body From Trinity River

The funeral of J. W. Thomason, whose death occurred last Monday and whose body was found Thursday afternoon, as reported in The Telegram, was held at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of L. P. Robertson, a short time after the remains had been brought to this city.

Although the services were necessarily held without previous announcement, the body was followed to Oakwood cemetery by a large number of persons, including members of the police department and sheriff's office, at the time Mr. Thomason had been connected with them. Members of the Police Benevolent Association also attended the services.

The body was recovered, after having been found floating in the water half immersed, midway between dam No. 3 and dam No. 2. The cost of the body had caught to a barb wire fence across the stream, in this manner holding it. The body had been in the water nearly eighty hours.

There is some controversy as to who found the body. H. B. Barr, Horace Woods, Tom Williams, Ed Compton and Bert Adams assert that they, in a boat, first came on the corpse at 1:35 o'clock. Charles Washburn, a negro, says that he saw it first at 1:10 o'clock, and then gave the alarm. The reward offered for the finding of the body expired Wednesday night.

Notice of the find was given by firing a pistol several times and a crowd soon collected. Lance Thomason, brother of Mr. Thomason, gave instructions to put the body in the boat, and it was then carried to a place a short distance above the second dam, just south of the Texas and Pacific railroad bridge. Justice Rowland and a large gathering of people were on hand when the boat made landing.

Judge Rowland held no inquest, deeming one not necessary. Among those who were assembled on the river bank was Chief of Police Maddox, together with a number of the policemen and several officers, with whom Mr. Thomason was associated in life. On being brought to town the body was immediately taken to a house and prepared for burial.

As reported in The Telegram, Mr. Thomason was swept over the Trinity river dam early Monday morning while on a fishing trip with Samuel Johnson, John Johnson and Robert Dillard of this city. Mr. Thomason and John Johnson were in the boat fishing, Johnson saying to himself by grabbing a projecting tree limb, as the boat was carried over the dam, over which the water was several feet deep as a result of the heavy rains of the night preceding.

Doctor Brigham Says MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes: "It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties. My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some time ago, my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength.

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it honest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR RAIN AND COOLER

Cooler Weather and Scattered Showers Predicted by Weather Man—Humidity Still High

"Unsettled conditions tonight, with scattered showers; colder Saturday with probable rain," is the weather forecast today.

No rain of importance fell over the cotton belt Thursday. Muggy cloudy conditions, with high temperatures, prevailed. Except for a very light shower at Kerrville Thursday and a trace of rain at Beville, no rain fell in the state of Texas. Showers are reported at Galveston this morning, however.

Temperatures throughout the state yesterday ranged from a maximum of 88 degrees at Henrietta, Houston and San Antonio to a minimum of 62 degrees reached in the two first named places. The maximum given was the highest for the United States, Texas being the only state in which it was reached.

Repetition of yesterday's weather conditions was felt in the city this morning. The combination of a temperature in the middle seventies with a humidity of 92 per cent, made the atmosphere close and disagreeable, seeming warmer than it really was.

MINERAL WELLS LINE PROJECTED

Effort Will Be Made to Form Connection With Arlington Heights Line

While in Mineral Wells a representative of The Telegram ascertained that the citizens of that place have under consideration a proposition, that if carried out, will mean the construction of an interurban electric railroad between Fort Worth via Springtown, Azle and several other small places, to Mineral Wells, a distance of about fifty-two miles.

For more than two years the matter of building an interurban road between the two places has been discussed and representatives of the Northern Texas Traction Company have investigated the proposition, but thus far no definite steps have been taken. In the meantime citizens living in Mineral Wells and Springtown have never ceased to agitate the project and as a result they have been able now to interest parties in the enterprise which will no doubt be consummated in the near future.

While no names can be given at this time, those backing the project are said to be financially able to build and equip the line on short order, and this it is learned will be done in the near future.

The promoters of the enterprise hope to interest the Louisiana syndicate that recently purchased the Arlington Heights property and have them permit an extension from Arlington Heights to the Confederate Park, Azle and Springtown to Mineral Wells. It is understood here that the Arlington Heights company is about ready to begin the construction of the car line from Fort Worth to that suburb.

OPERATING EXPENSES

Important Cost Changes Shown by Commission Report

The preliminary report of the interstate commerce commission giving the earnings of practically all the railroads of the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, shows some important changes in the cost of conducting the railroad business. The figures show the result of the operation of 299,000 miles against 295,313 miles for the preceding year. The totals are as follows:

Gross earnings, $1,966,638,824; operating expenses, $1,332,382,948; income from operation, $634,255,876. The gross earnings of 1904 were $1,900,846,907, showing an increase for 1904 of about $65,000,000. Operating expenses were $1,332,383,948 in 1904, as against $1,257,538,852 in 1903. The ratio of operating expenses thus increased from 66.16 per cent in 1903 to 67.75 per cent in 1904.

GRIP'S UGLY SEQUEL

KNEES STIFF, HANDS HELPLESS, RHEUMATISM NEAR HEART.

Mrs. Van Scoy Experiences Dangerous After-Effects from Grip and Learsus Value of a Blood Remedy.

The grip leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration, and even consumption.

The story told by scores of victims of the grip is substantially the same. One was tortured by terrible pains at the base of the skull; another was left tired, faint and in every way wretched from anemia or scapitosis of blood; another had horrible headaches, was nervous and couldn't sleep; another was left with weak lungs, difficulty in breathing and acute neuralgia. In every case relief was sought in vain until the great blood-builder and nerve-tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, was used. For quickness and thoroughness of action nothing is known that will approach it.

Mrs. Van Scoy makes a statement that supports this claim. She says: "I had a severe attack of grip and, before I had fully recovered, rheumatism set in and tormented me for three months. I was in a badly run-down state. Soon after it began I was so lame for a week that I could hardly walk. It kept growing steadily worse and at last I had to give up completely and for three weeks I was obliged to keep my bed. My knees were so stiff I couldn't bend them, and my hands were perfectly helpless. Then the pains began to threaten my heart and thoroughly alarmed me.

"While I was suffering in this way I chanced to run across a little book that told about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The statements in it impressed me and led me to buy a box. These pills proved the very thing I needed. Improvement set in as soon as I began to take them, and it was very marked by the time I had finished the first box. Four boxes made me a well woman."

Mrs. Laura M. Van Scoy lives at No. 20 Thorpe street, Danbury, Conn. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally well adapted for any other of the diseases that follow in the train of grip. They are sold by all druggists.

AUTOMOBILES BARRED FROM CHINATOWN

Not Because They Disturb Inhabitants, But Because of Danger in Case of Fire

NEW YORK, April 28.—Big sight-seeing automobiles will be barred from the streets of Chinatown hereafter by order of Police Commissioner McAdoo, who recently expressed himself rather freely on the subject of slumming. No attempt will be made to prevent the sightseers from entering Chinatown afoot, but they will be compelled to leave their conveyances a short distance away on the Bowery. In announcing the new rule, the commissioner holds the cars are so large that fire fighting apparatus cannot pass them in the narrow streets of the Celestial quarter and that in case of fire lives would be endangered by the presence of the cars.

SPRING CATARRH Disease. Changeable Weather Causes Catarrh.

The changeable weather of Spring, with its warm days and cold nights, is responsible for a great increase in the number of cases of catarrh. It is now that Hyomel, the only guaranteed treatment for catarrh that cures without stomach dosing, should be used in every home.

For more than a century physicians have been sending persons suffering from Catarrh to Egypt, Colorado or Australia, where the pure, healing air would cure the disease. For one person who could take this trip, thousands have been compelled to stay at home and continue their daily toil. To these sufferers who could not change their climatic conditions, we offer Hyomel, a method by which pure air impregnated with Nature's own remedies for the cure of catarrh, can be inhaled by every sufferer in his or her home.

Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its healing, volatile, antiseptic fragrance reaches the lungs and air passages as no stomach dosing possibly can do. It gives immediate relief and makes lasting cures.

The complete outfit, consisting of the inhaler, medicine dropper and bottle of Hyomel, costs only one dollar, and extra bottles of Hyomel, if needed, can be procured for fifty cents.

Proof that the Hyomel treatment will do all that is claimed for it is found in the guarantee under which R. A. Anderson sells it, an agreement to pay back the price, if the purchaser can say that Hyomel has not given satisfaction.

WIZARD BURBANK MAKES NEW FRUIT

Grows on Potato Vines, Has White Meat, and Is Said to Be Luscious

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 23.—The Examiner today says: Luther Burbank of Santa Rosa has succeeded in producing another wonderful creation, which comes under the head of his potato experiments and is known as "potato fruit."

Mr. Burbank names the potato fruit "tamatato." When compared with the tomato, the potato is smaller in size and the fruit is smaller in size and the flavor is that of a fruit rather than vegetable.

Mr. Burbank speaks of the creation of the potato as resulting from turning plant life in the opposite direction. "Instead of cultivating tubers, we now cultivate the fruit and the tubers are a secondary consideration," he says, "the fruit on the vine being the main object."

Mr. Burbank has now some 10,000 varieties of potatoes, with which he is experimenting, most of them being hybrid seedlings of his own creation.

COTTON FUTURES FIRMER

Steady Demand for Spots Given As Cause for Advance—Price Turns Bull

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 23.—Strength developed in the cotton market from the opening this morning, the price advancing from 6.95c steadily until 7.25c had been reached in the May option. Later there was a slight reaction, but firmness ruled throughout the session.

In addition to the steady demand for spots, the announcement of Theo. H. Price, the famous bear leader, that he had turned bull, probably had some effect in raising future quotations.

Price says he has turned bull because he learned at the recent New England spinners' convention that eastern mills are well engaged with orders well into 1909, and that spinners have been making profits of from $10 to $15 a bale on early deliveries.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKET

Cattle Trading Dull—Receipts Fair—Hogs Ten Cents Lower—Receipts Light

NORTH FORT WORTH, April 23.—Extreme dullness characterized the cattle market, and hogs opened 10c lower. Cattle receipts were fifty-seven cars, or around 1,600 head, against 2,500 Friday of last week, 778 the same day in March and 1,644 for the corresponding day in 1904.

The cattle supply was mostly grassers of thin to medium quality, on which there was no demand. Up to about the noon hour no steer sales were reported. Later sales of grassers were made at $3.75, with a load of beef steers at $4.

Cows were mostly in mixed lots, with common to medium grassers in the lead as to numbers. Enquiry for cows was slack on the part of the trade and prices ruled 16c lower. Best cows sold at $3.50, with the bulk at $2 @ $3.

The calf trade was slow and dull along with the rest of the cattle market. The recent decline has taken all snap out of the market. Top veal sales were at $3, with heavy calves between $2 and $2.75.

HOGS The opening bell found 1,200 hogs in the pens, against 1,265 Friday of last week, 2,357 the same day in March, and 1,360 the corresponding day of the week in 1904.

Opening bids were 10c lower than yesterday, or about steady with the worst sales of Thursday. Nightly considered, the market today shows about 50c decline during the week on heavy packers. Light hogs are in worse plight, while pigs are only a quarter lower.

Selling was very drab, and but few transactions had been made by noon. Top hogs sold at $5.10, with mediums around $5 and best pigs at $4.25.

Four doubles, three singles and a piece of a load represented the sheep supply. Prices ran 5c lower in sympathy with the shrink in the cattle and hog markets. One double sold at $4.75, the sheep averaging at 99 pounds.

PYTHIANS PLAN BELL MEMORIAL

Grand Lodge Committee to Consider Erection of Monument Named MINERAL WELLS, Texas, April 28.—At the afternoon session of the Knights of Pythias grand lodge yesterday the committee on finance brought in the following reports: Adversely on the appropriation of $500 donation to the Pythian paper. The committee recommended that the per capita tax be $1 annually, payable 50c semi-annually. Grand keeper of records and seal's bond was fixed at $5,000, and the bond of the grand master of exchequer at $7,400. The reports were adopted. The committee on state of the order recommended that no official organ be selected. The judicial committee recommended that the minimum age be placed at 18. The report brought forth considerable discussion. The matter was referred back to subordinate lodges. Fee for transfer card is not abolished, but remains at $1. The matter of six months' term of subordinate lodge officers was referred back to the committee to frame an amendment. A committee was appointed to consider the matter of erection of a monument to F. J. Bell, and recommended that a suitable monument be erected by the order as a tribute to the memory of Mr. Bell, and recommended an appropriation of $500. Also that the widow of Mr. Bell have the right to have her name placed on the monument at her death. The grand statutes were amended so that subordinate lodges will elect officers semi-annually, except keeper of records and seal, master of finance and master of exchequer. This does not go into effect until January, 1906. Resolutions were adopted instructing the grand trustees to have plans made and an estimate on the cost of a building for the home and to report at the next meeting of the grand lodge. The grand lodge officers for the ensuing term were installed. Grand Chancellor Thoms stated that with the aid of every knight the coming year would be the banner one for Knights of Pythias. He told the members not to forget the Rathbone Sisters, and not to forget the endowment rank. The grand chancellor appointed his standing committees and the grand lodge adjourned. A smoked was given the Knights of Pythias at Gibson Park last night and a grand ball at the Hawthorn Social Athletic Club by the citizens. RATHBONE SISTERS NAME OFFICERS The Rathbone Sisters elected the following officers yesterday: Mrs. S. P. Buster of Childress, past grand chief; Mrs. E. Putnam, Weatherford, grand chief; Mrs. Irene Stett, Cuero, grand secretary; Mrs. Everett, Palestine, grand junior manager; Mrs. G. H. Sanderfer, Lyra, manager; Mrs. Ola Humason, Lufkin, protector; Mrs. Heard, San Angelo, grand guard. Trustees, Mrs. Brown of El Paso, Mrs. Houssels, Childress, Supreme representative, Mrs. H. C. ### SCHOOL PLANS TO BE READY MONDAY

North Fort Worth Board Will Then Ask Bids on Construction of New Building A meeting of the members of the North Fort Worth school board was held last evening. An appropriation was made for the salaries of the teachers for the month just closed. Applications were filed, which are to be voted on May 6, for the members of the board. Those filing applications were R. R. Daniels, J. A. Dryden and J. W. Moore, all of whom were elected about four months ago as members of the board and who drew the short term. The board at the request of a number of citizens, at the name of F. P. Hopkins to fill the place of J. G. Smith, who was elected at the election early this year, but who failed to qualify. Plans and specifications for the proposed new school building were not sufficiently completed to present to the board last evening. The architect promised the board they would be in shape by Monday and it is probable that request for bids will be asked for then. Members holding over until next year are: J. J. Lydon, J. W. Moore, J. G. Capps and J. B. Collier, they having drawn the long terms. The school term at the Rosen Heights school closed for the year Thursday, after a most successful session. Principal C. A. Quillen and the teachers, Misses Boyd and Christian, together with the pupils of the school, are celebrating the opening of their vacation by a picnic at the Nine-Mile bridge. About 150 pupils have been in attendance at the school during the term. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Rosen Heights Methodist Episcopal church will hold an ice cream supper tonight at the church. Rev. Mr. Christian of Fort Worth University will conduct services at the Rosen Heights Methodist Episcopal church, succeeding Rev. H. G. Beck, who has gone to Oklahoma. Grocers who carry Burnett's Vanilla need not worry about pure food laws. No state board has ever questioned its purity.

LON BARKLEY KEEPING TAB

Says Estimate of Shipments Ridiculed by Cattlemen is Being Borne Out by Figures

About two months ago L. M. Barkley of this city, as reported in The Telegram, estimated that there would be a quarter of a million cattle going to the pastures from South and Southwest Texas. These figures were disputed by several prominent stockmen who maintained that the number would not reach 100,000 head. Mr. Barkley now states that he has kept a record of the cattle movement which now reaches more than 200,000, and the shipping season will not end for two weeks yet. Last week the movement from the San Angelo country alone was 53,000. Dallas has had a very hard time raising that Trinity river subscription, and with no desire to appear impertinent, The Telegram would modestly ask what has become of that returned Rock Island bonus money? It ought to be ample for the purpose.
