

TORNADO DEVASTATES TWO OKLAHOMA TOWNS OVER 150 ARE DEAD

GREEN AND COMANCHE COUNTIES IN PATH OF THE STORM—TOWNS OF SNYDER AND OLUSTEE SUFFER MOST SERIOUS EFFECTS

RELIEF TRAINS HURRYING TO THE SCENE

Accurate Estimate of the Damage and Loss of Life Is Impossible Because of Interrupted Communications. Snyder Is Worst Sufferer.

One of the most disastrous tornadoes in the history of the Southwest passed through Southern Oklahoma between 8 and 9 o'clock Wednesday night. Reports of the loss of life and damage wrought are as yet uncertain and probably much exaggerated.

The latest information which has been received comes from the agent of the Frisco system at Snyder, J. M. Egan, who was injured in the storm. In a brief message to Vice President and General Manager Fickinger of the Frisco, with headquarters at Fort Worth, Mr. Egan says seventy-five persons were killed and fifty injured at Snyder, twelve business houses and forty residences wrecked. Egan's message is practically the only complete and reliable information that has come from Snyder since the storm.

The Telegram's correspondent at Vernon, where relief trains have been sent to Snyder, practically confirms Egan's story, giving the list of dead at Snyder at seventy-five and the injured at 150. The Vernon correspondent gives additional information of the storm at Olustee, O. T., where thirty persons are reported to have been killed and many injured.

Telegrams of inquiry to towns in the vicinity of Snyder bring only uncertain rumors in reply, and definite information is apparently impossible to obtain.

LATER—The Telegram's correspondent at Hobart has just succeeded in establishing communication with Snyder. His estimate of the dead, gained from survivors, places the list at more than one hundred.

OLUSTEE DEATH LIST WILL REACH THIRTY

Special to The Telegram. VERNON, Texas, May 11.—A disastrous tornado swept through the southern part of Greer and Comanche counties, Okla., last night, between 8 and 9 o'clock.

The towns of Snyder and Olustee were directly in the path of the storm. Olustee is eight miles from Quanah. Only one house remained standing there. The number of dead at Olustee will reach thirty.

At Snyder, Okla., twelve business houses and forty residences were demolished. The list of dead will reach seventy-five. At least 150 are injured. Relief trains have been sent from Vernon to the stricken town.

The dead: J. B. RALSTON, living near Olustee, Okla. FRED RALSTON, son of J. B. Ralston. Injured: Miss Jessie Ralston.

The Ralstons formerly lived in Vernon. John S. Wood, B. E. Dunlap and several others from Altus, Okla., who left that place on a fishing excursion just before the storm broke, are missing.

Snyder is a town of about 2,500 inhabitants in Kiowa county, Okla., in the Kiowa and Comanche Indian country opened to white settlement in 1901. The town was laid out largely by the St. Louis and San Francisco railway at the junction of two of its lines, and the company erected important buildings there. Snyder is the division point for the Quanah division of the road. The town was named for Bryan Snyder, passenger traffic manager of the system.

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 11.—The first news of the storm was received about midnight.

Soon thereafter before any details had been received, telegraph and telephone wires went down. Immediately trains were ordered out from all available points, starting from Hobart, Chickasha, I. T., Guthrie, Oklahoma City and other towns. Every train carried doctors, nurses and any person capable of rendering aid. The first relief train sent from Hobart, thirty-two miles north of Snyder, reached the stricken town just before daylight.

Every one on board began at once work of relief. On every hand they found wreckage and the streets almost obliterated by piles of demolished houses. In all directions evidences of the terrible havoc of the storm were apparent. The dead and dying lay about the streets, in yards and mixed up with wreckage, while those who escaped ran hither and thither in excited attempts to bring order out of the terrible chaos and render what meager aid they might. The storm was not confined to Snyder. On the way to the stricken town dead and injured were passed in plain sight of the relief trains, but these were passed by in the efforts of the rescuers to reach Snyder, where there was greater need of their services.

The first man to reach Snyder and return to the telegraph point was the station agent at Mountain Park, another neighboring town. He had walked into Snyder, reaching there by daylight, and after taking a hasty view of the situation and without gathering any exact details of the storm's effects, returned to Mountain Park.

This man reported the town partially destroyed, and asserted that the list of dead would reach somewhere between 300 and 400. The injured, he said, were to be seen everywhere, and their number would undoubtedly reach into hundreds. While the tornado seems to have been widespread, rumors that other towns of southwestern Oklahoma had been destroyed are declared by telephone exchanges to be incorrect. However, there is no question that much damage to property and loss of life has occurred in the outlying districts. The same tornado struck Quinlan, in Woodward county, on the Santa Fe railroad, destroying several houses and at that point at least three persons, Mrs. O. W. Cox and her two sons, are known to have been killed.

The tornado struck Snyder from the southwest, traveling north until within about 100 yards from the Oklahoma City and Western railroad, where it took a northeasterly course through the business portion of the town.

North of the track not a building is left standing. Coming as it did while most of the inhabitants of Snyder were asleep, but few had warning of their danger.

FRISCO GETS NEWS FROM ITS AGENT

His Estimate of the Dead at Snyder is Seventy-five. Injured Number Fifty

At 11 o'clock this morning Vice President Fickinger of the Frisco received a private message from Agent Egan of the Frisco at Snyder, in which he gives additional information regarding the results of the tornado, which he states struck the town at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday night. Egan says that twelve business houses and forty residences were demolished and seventy-five people killed. Fifty were injured.

The Frisco sustained considerable damage to property. Seven cars were blown from the tracks and turned completely upside down. The round house and coal chutes were demolished.

Mr. Egan sustained slight injuries. Superintendent Dolan of the Denver road is advised by the agent at Quanah that he has information that only eight houses are left standing in Snyder and that the town is literally devastated.

His estimate of the dead and injured is about three hundred. He says the Frisco has sent out a special wrecking train from Quanah to clear the track of the company, which is straddled with the debris, in order that trains can enter the town. The special train carried physicians, nurses and others, who will assist in giving relief to the injured.

The Denver's information from Quanah says that Alice, located near Snyder, was also struck by the tornado and badly damaged and that a number of people are killed and many houses demolished.

Alice is thirty-five miles from Quanah. FORT WORTH INTERESTED

D. L. Patterson, local agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad at the stock yards, left for Snyder this morning. His family lives there. Not being able to hear from them he believes they are victims of the cyclone.

Mrs. Royal Ferris of Dallas asks Vice President Hovey of the Rock Island to locate her brother, Dr. C. E. Brown, who is supposed to have lost his life in the Snyder disaster.

Miss Jessie Barlow, a niece of Mrs. L. R. Fitzgerald of this city and a niece of Mrs. Cox Stephens of Arlington, lives at Snyder. They have received no word from her.

Mrs. J. W. Adams of 400 Lamar street this morning received a telegram from her nephew, Earl Adams, sent from Lawton, Okla., who was to have been in Snyder last night, saying that he had missed the cyclone and is safe. Mr. Adams is traveling in Oklahoma for the Texas Manufacturing Company.

ONE TENTH OF SNYDER'S POPULATION IS WIPED OUT

Special to The Telegram. HOBART, Okla., May 11.—Snyder, a city of 1,000 inhabitants, was almost completely wiped off the map at 9 o'clock last night.

Over one hundred lost their lives either outright or later died in an hospital. There is not a building left in the city which is not more or less damaged and over seven-eighths of the buildings are a total loss.

The storm was a tornado of the worst variety. It swept down on the town just after dark.

There is not a building left standing on the north side of the track or west of the postoffice. The Frisco round house, two gins, the compress and three hotels were totally destroyed by the storm.

Relief trains were run into the devastated city from Hobart and Quanah and the injured are now receiving the best attention. Drs. Holland, York, Gother, Lloyd and Lowell went down from Hobart and are there, and have been laboring incessantly to relieve the affected, which number into the hundreds.

Every building standing was converted into either a hospital or a morgue. Your correspondent is now writing in a building which contains sixty-seven dead bodies and wagons and relief parties are bringing in more.

The storm came from a southerly direction and covered a width of about a half mile, totally demolishing everything in its wake for ten miles southwest and three miles northeast of Snyder. Whole families are wiped out.

The Passengers lost seven in their family. W. H. Hibbard, superintendent of schools, was killed, also his wife, three children and father and mother.

CHICKASHA REPORT SAYS 75 ARE DEAD

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 11.—All attempts to get news of the tornado which swept the entire town of Snyder away last night have proven unsuccessful as far as details are concerned.

It was learned from Chickasha at noon today that seventy-five persons were killed and 352 injured. The business portion of town was completely swept away. The telegraph and telephone wires are down for several miles around the place and all communication with the outside world is shut off.

The storm came up last night after a heavy rain. Snyder is a small town with about 1,500 population. It is located in Kiowa county, southwestern Oklahoma. The Frisco roundhouse and depot were blown away. Special relief trains have been run to Snyder from Oklahoma City, Lawton, El Reno and Enid with nurses and physicians. Up to noon today it was utterly impossible to get any information of the names of those killed and injured.

BREAK REPORTED AMONG STRIKERS

Declared That Chicago Hay and Feed Drivers Want to Resume Work

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—A break in the ranks of the strikers today is alleged to have occurred in the refusal of the hay and feed drivers to observe the boycott. Deliveries were being made by union drivers to all the "struck" firms. The excuse on which this action is being taken is that humanity demands it. The feed drivers claim they do not wish to stand by and see horses starve to death.

It is declared by observers, however, that this is merely a subterfuge to cover the real attitude of the drivers, who do not favor the strike and are anxious to go to work.

MACKENZIE HEADS NEW ASSOCIATION

American Stock Growers at Denver Elect Officers and Adopt Constitution

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—The American Stock Growers' Association, which was organized on Jan. 15 of this year by seceders from the National Live Stock Association and is now holding its first annual convention here, adopted a constitution and by-laws yesterday. The new association is to be composed of growers and dealers in cattle, sheep and horses. The following officers were elected:

President, Murdo MacKenzie of Trinidad, Colo.; first vice president, E. A. DeKielles of Denver; second vice president, James Boardman of Helena, Mont.

The president was authorized to appoint an executive committee which will appoint a secretary and treasurer.

S. H. Cowan of Fort Worth, Texas, spoke yesterday afternoon on "Legislation Needed by the Live Stock Industry." The greater part of his address was an attack on the railroads. He said the commission advocated by President Roosevelt was the only fair method of securing fair rates.

that the injunction should be granted as prayed for.

Justices Harlan, Brewer and Day dissented.

On April 14, 1901, more than four years ago, Frank Hagerman, acting as attorney for the Chicago Board of Trade, brought a suit in the United States district court to enjoin the Christie Commission Company from using the quotations of the Chicago Board of Trade. The court was also asked to enjoin the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies from furnishing the quotations.

Christie brought suit against the Chicago Board of Trade, alleging that it was violating a law which required the payment to the collector of internal revenue of a small percentage on each transaction, and there were several cases that finally resolved themselves into one suit on the question of enjoining Christie from using Chicago quotations.

The case was decided against the Christie Commission Company and found its way to the United States supreme court, where the decision rendered seems to sustain all the contentions of the Chicago people. In the meantime there have been repeated efforts to prevent Christie getting his quotations by telegraph.

FIRST BODIES RECOVERED

TWO HOURS AFTER WRECK

Early this morning persons who escaped from the wreck begun flocking to the newspaper offices to ask that it be published that they escaped injury so that their friends might be relieved of anxiety. Among these was Charles W. Stanglion, superintendent of the Brotherhood of Car Inspectors, Car Builders and Railroad Mechanics of America. His home is in Baltimore.

Samuel Shubert of New York, manager of the Lyric theater, jumped out of his berth and ran out of the train just in time to escape being burned to death. He was taken to the Commonwealth hotel.

At 4:30 o'clock this morning the first two bodies of those that were pinned in the wreckage were recovered. They were so badly charred that they could not be recognized, but it is believed that they were women.

While the fire was still raging fiercely the burning bodies of the dead could be seen still lying in the berths.

At 4:45 o'clock this morning it was authoritatively ascertained that the entire train of nine cars and the engine were destroyed. Nine freight cars were also destroyed and three others derailed and wrecked.

Y. M. C. A. WILL BUILD AT ONCE

Plans for $30,000 Structure Being Made—Lot Sale Clears Debt

Plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building to be placed on the lot at the northwest corner of Texas and Monroe streets, secured Wednesday afternoon from G. H. Day, as announced in The Telegram, are now nearing completion and it is announced that work on the structure, which will be erected at a cost of $30,000, will be begun within a short time. Some money yet remains to be secured by subscription to insure the completion of the building, but Secretary Jones is confident this will be raised by the time the contracts can be let. The present cottage building on the property will be sold and removed to make way for the new building, which, with the rapid shifting of the business center of the city to Throckmorton street, from which Monroe extends, will within a short time place it in an ideal relative position. Discussing the recent sale of the old lot at Seventh and Taylor streets and the purchase of the new site, Secretary Jones said: "The completion of the sale of the old lot to the First Methodist church and the purchase of the Captain Day property financial shape. The lot sold on Seventh and Taylor streets was entirely satisfactory to all as a location, but it was found after a six months' canvass that money enough to erect a suitable building and pay the debts of the association could not be secured. "By the sale of the old property, which was much larger than was necessary for the use of the association, and the purchase of a lot of suitable size, the association has relieved of its debts, which were about eight thousand dollars; has a location as good as before and nearly four thousand dollars additional as a result of the sale, to be added to the amount raised by subscription and to be used in the erection of a building. "The directors of the association are conservative business men and they were unanimous in deciding that the sale of the old lot would be to the best interests of the work. If there had been no debt on the lot sold, or if enough money to pay the debt and erect a suitable building had been in sight, then there would have been no sale."

"STORMY" JORDAN DEAD IN IOWA

Eccentric Saloon Keeper Considers Glass of Water "The Best in the House" OTTUMWA, Iowa, May 11.—"Stormy" Jordan, whose spectacular career as a saloon keeper won him a national reputation, is dead at his home here. Jordan's given name was Kinsley, but the nickname "Stormy" was the only one by which he was always known. Jordan came to Ottumwa in 1860. After working some time in the packing house here, he opened a little saloon in a basement on South Vine street, and over the door he placed a sign, which read: "The Road to Hell is a little saloon." Many a man who went into "Stormy's" dingy little barroom and called for the best in the house was surprised when the eccentric Jordan quietly placed a glass of water on the bar in front of him. It was in this little room that John L. Sullivan met "Stormy." Sullivan called for a cigar. Jordan placed a box before him and when Sullivan asked the price, "Stormy" in his usual gruff voice said: "A dollar a piece." Laying down a $20 gold piece Sullivan said: "I'll take the box," and walked out. Several years later, Jordan built the Corn Exchange saloon, the finest in the city, and was running it when the prohibition law went into effect, July 4, 1884. A brewery in Lawrence, Ky., brought suit in the United States court against the state for damages and Judge John Gibbons of Chicago, then living in Keokuk, acting for Jordan, advised him to do likewise. Suit was accordingly brought before Judge Love in the United States court in Keokuk. Despite the efforts of the state officers here to close Jordan's saloon, he was permitted to run until the suit was decided. In this way he was enabled to have the only saloon in Iowa. He had it until a short time before the prohibition law was repealed, as the case brought in the United States court was appealed to the supreme court and many years passed before it was decided against him. During his residence in Ottumwa Jordan served three terms as city councilman. He was 73 years old and leaves a widow and seven children. "Stormy" Jordan was a character in the play, "The Missourian," by Wade Mountfort, formerly of Kansas City, and Nain Grute. The Telegram accepts advertising on a guarantee that it has a larger city circulation in Fort Worth than any other paper.

ICING CASE HEARING BEGUN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 11.—The interstate commerce commission yesterday began the hearing of evidence in the Michigan fruit case. A compromise offered by the Armour car lines to reduce the charge for icing cars in the Michigan fruit belt, if the Chicago commission merchants would drop the investigation, was rejected, after a lengthy discussion, prior to the taking of testimony. What is conceded to be a severe blow to the Armour car lines was struck by A. D. Shaw, representing the Michigan Central railroad, when he announced yesterday that the Michigan Central railroad would carry out the suggestions of the commission in every detail and would carry the Michigan fruit products and charge only the cost price for icing. Randall S. Powell, representing the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association, announced that the jobbers insisted upon the publication of a rate per hundred pounds, which would include icing charges. Mr. Shaw offered strenuous objections to the demands of the jobbers.

GIRL EXPELLED FOR PLAYING BASEBALL

Is Pitcher of a Boys' Team, and Chose to Study in Kansas City Academy KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—The talent of Ruth Egan, daughter of Patrick Egan, a stonemason, who lives at 2609 Bellevue avenue, for baseball playing has caused her expulsion from the Academy of the Sacred Heart, where she attended school. The girl is the pitcher of a team made up of boys excepting herself. She is 12 years old and unusually strong and healthy. Her parents say they have tried to make her stop playing baseball, but have not been successful. Her teachers at the academy said yesterday the girl had been expelled not because she was not a good scholar, but because she persisted in playing baseball with boys, and this they considered in ill keeping with the modesty and reserve taught the girls of the school.

BIG RANCH DEAL MADE

Kokernot of this city bought of Jackson & Harwood of Alpine a splendid ranch in that section, comprised of 22,000 acres school and 48,900 acres of school land leases. It is said the price paid was $1,500 per acre. The land is well watered. Mr. Kokernot bought from the same parties 1,500 head of cows and calves and 600 head of black nudes cattle at $15.50 per head. D. M. Livingston has sold to George Schleicher of Cuero 1,150 acres of the J. M. Houston land in DeWitt county for about $15,000. This is one of the finest grass lands in southwest Texas.

HOOPSKIRTS AGAIN TO BE THE RAGE

CHICAGO, May 11.—Hoopskirts again have made their appearance in Chicago. The latest coming out of the ante-bellum article was at the weekly meeting of the Chicago Dressmakers' Club at the Grand hotel. Mme. M. J. Mosac, president of the club, had a spiral design of hoopskirt which she demonstrated on the form of Miss Anna Schubert, a model. "I will show that this hoopskirt is not the old-fashioned hoopskirt of this city, but of course we can't say how far it will develop," said Mme. Mosac, as she led Miss Anna to a chair and seated her with comfort, her skirt still on the floor in front. "The old sort you know, used to fly up in front, but that was before dressmaking got to be an art as it is today." The dressmakers say the hoopskirt is going to be all the rage in Chicago in a short time.

GROWING DEFICIT CAUSING ALARM

Too Much Money Is Spent by United States Government. Revenue Is Needed

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Administration officials do not hesitate to express their concern at the growing treasury deficit. The excess of expenditures over receipts for the present fiscal year reached the surprising sum of $30,118,434 a few days ago. At this time last year there was an excess of receipts over expenditures of $2,412,005. There are only two months and one week of the fiscal year, and treasury officials now have no hope that this deficit will grow less. So that they are disappointed and surprised at the situation is expressing it mildly. The deficit for the first three weeks of the month of April was $5,640,255. It is not expected to be so large as this in May and June, but under present conditions it is thought that the deficit for the year will reach at least $35,000,000. Meanwhile official junkets are going on at a rate never before known in the government's history. The eyes of the administration are just beginning to open to the fact, and Secretary of the Treasury Shaw today put his foot down hard on a proposed trip of senators, representatives and other officials to Alaska on a revenue cutter. The rivers and harbors committee has just finished a trip to the West Indies on a government transport. At the same time Secretary Morton was entertaining a party on the Dolphin, including Speaker Cannon and Senator Hale, in Cuban waters. Preparations are now going on for Secretary Taft's party to the Philippines, which is the most pretentious excursion of this character ever undertaken. The party will include two score of persons made up largely of senators and representatives. In addition to this, five carloads of officials will be taken across the continent to Portland, Ore., in June to attend the opening of the exposition there, all at the government's expense. Members of this party applied to the treasury for a revenue cutter to take them to Alaska for the purpose of "investigation." Secretary Shaw has decided not to grant the request. The enormous treasury deficit means the beginning of a campaign in the late summer and early fall on the part of President Roosevelt and administration officials for legislation that will increase the government revenues.

Hall County Court Matters

MEMPHIS, Texas, May 11.—In the district court here this week Orion Brown was given two years in the penitentiary on a charge of horse theft. He testified that he was under 16 years of age, hence the verdict. The case of Robert Carroll, a negro, charged with attacking a young white woman at Wellington a short time ago, was set for Friday, May 12. This case was moved here from Collingsworth county by District Judge Huff. Considerable excitement prevails here about the case, but several sheriffs will be here from neighboring counties to assist Sheriff Moore and a number of leading citizens will be sworn in as deputies and no trouble is anticipated. THE NEGRO IN THE SOUTH

William E. Curtis of Washington has been spending some time recently in the south, studying social, economic and political conditions, and has drawn some interesting conclusions concerning the present status of the negro in this section. In a public expression on the subject he says:

"It will surprise people to learn that one negro out of every ten, counting men, women and children, either owns a farm of his own or cultivates one on shares. Not more than one in four of this population is an adult man, hence those competent to farm number 639,543. The negro population in the south is 7,922,969, and the number living in the country districts is 6,558,173. We know by the census that 746,717 farms are operated by negroes. Of these 557,174 are rented, 187,737 are owned by the negroes who work them, and 1,774 are managed by negroes on salary for white owners. This means that nearly one-half of the adult negroes in the south are operating farms."

"There are twelve saving banks owned and operated by negroes in the southern states, three at Richmond, two at Birmingham, Vicksburg, Little Rock, Nashville, Jacksonville, Pine Bluff, Ark., Mount Bayou, Miss., Kingston and Muskogee, La. All of these banks are prosperous and have large deposits that might be invested in homes and farms and expended in the education of their children and the betterment of their own condition—yet an examination of the census statistics shows that a certain portion of them are pushing ahead, much faster than their white neighbors give them credit for, and are making respectable and useful citizens. It is also true that this progress and success are due almost entirely to education, and that the school house is the anchor that prevents the race from degenerating. Education is just as necessary for the black man and woman as for the white man and woman, and the educated colored man has a wide field of usefulness among the members of his own race as teacher, teacher and leader in the paths of usefulness."

There are many negro property owners throughout the south, and some of them have grown very prosperous, owning in some instances the same old plantations in which the earlier parts of their lives were spent as slaves. And the people of the south do not envy these industrious and worthy members of the race the property that has come upon them, but rejoice to see it. There is a bond of sympathy and friendship existing between the southern people and the negro race that the hand of time can never efface. There may be race trouble and talk of the race problem, but the fact remains that the ties existing between the races are such that they cannot be easily overcome.

Illustrative of this feeling, a few years ago an old Confederate soldier who had settled in west Texas, after coming to this state at the close of the war, met with some temporary reverses, and news of his misfortune reached the ears of an old negro labor in Louisiana who belonged to him before the war. This old negro had always conducted himself properly and possessed the confidence and esteem of the white people among whom he resided. He had managed to accumulate a little farm through dint of much hard labor and the exercise of frugality, and from the operation of that little farm he had saved the sum of $300. When the news of his old master's financial difficulties reached him he went to the bank where he had his little savings deposited, drew the money out and sent it to the old Confederate in west Texas, with a touching little note to the effect that he sympathized with him in his troubles and took the liberty of extending all the help that he was able to send. While the money was returned to the old negro, there went with it a letter that explained the deep appreciation of its tender.

There are many such incidents that have transpired in the south, and the hearts of southern people will ever be warm toward all those members of the negro race who know and maintain their place and who have remained true to southern traditions and customs. Some negroes are lazy and shiftless, addicted to the perpetration of crime for which they pay a fearful penalty, but all the race is not bad. They are a simple people, easily imposed upon, and generally loyal to their white people. All over the south they are gradually accumulating little homes, and are esteemed as useful citizens. The south needs the negro, and the negro needs the south. In some instances he does not measure up to the requirements of the situation, but he furnishes a class of labor that could not be obtained elsewhere at the price. The cheapness of the negro labor in the south has done much to stimulate the production of cotton—the great southern staple, and it is but justice to them to admit that they occupy a very important position in our domestic economy. As long as the south depends upon its cotton crop, it must also depend upon the negro for its cultivation.

The people of Texas are still indulging in the fond hope that the legislature may yet get through and adjourn. They recently hanged a man in the state of Missouri, and it is a hopeful sign for the future, as it is believed to have reduced the republican vote in that state just that much.

People are wondering how the mayor of Chicago managed to extend the freedom of that city to President Roosevelt, when freedom was locked out by the republicans. It is believed that he managed to do this by the use of a very simple device.

The New York legislature has passed an anti-tip bill, and the disposition to compel employers to pay for their labor seems to be extending all over the country.

A Cuban congressman has recently loked the stuffing out of a minor government employe, and this serves to remind us very forcibly of the rapidity with which our island neighbors seem to be acquiring American ways.

It is said that members of the New York state legislature are charging John D. Rockefeller as high as $40,000 each for some of the votes he needs in his business, and it is doubtless done with the idea that Standard Oil money always comes easy.

When Senator Elkins and his investigating committee have permitted the railroads to write all of the report that is due in the pending investigation into the situation by the senate committee, perhaps they will allow the shippers to stand off at a distance and see the report filed.

As soon as Admiral Rojestvensky gets through with his advertising campaign it is presumed he will be ready to do a small per cent of fighting. And the experience of the British fisher folk goes to prove that the admiral is a man to be avoided, even under the most favorable circumstances.

Major Harrod has arrived in New Orleans from Panama, and gives it as his opinion that the great canal will be completed within the next few years. This will be gratifying news to the people of Texas, who expect much material benefit from the completion of this great enterprise. In fact, all the southern states will profit greatly from its construction and will welcome the day of its completion.

It has cost the state of New York more than $100,000 to attempt to convict a poor show girl three times on a charge of murder. That is a pretty stiff price to pay for notoriety acquired by the prosecuting attorney, who doubtless imagines if he could secure the conviction of the woman he would immediately be heralded to the world as one of the greatest criminal lawyers of modern times. Officers of the law should not be permitted to make plays to the galleries.

The call for the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association has been issued. The distinguished aspirants for equal privileges with men will assemble at Portland, Ore., on June 28, and continue in session until it has been definitely determined which one of the dear girls shall have the last word. Susan B. Anthony, Carrie Chapman Catt and others have their names attached to the official call, but we fail to note the name of Grover Cleveland among the list of distinguished celebrities who will be present.

Among the new enterprises reported in Texas by the Chattanooga Tradesman for the week, are waterworks to cost $30,000 at Jacksonville; grain elevator at Iowa Park; a $500,000 mining company at El Paso; waterworks at Denton; cotton gin at Rosebud; waterworks at Handley; a $50,000 mining company at San Antonio; sugar mill and refinery at Mumford; a $2,000,000 electrical company at Galveston, and a canning factory at Denison. Texas is just on the verge of considerable industrial activity, and when the new state banking laws become operative there is going to be renewed activity.

Consistency of Governor Latham made brilliantly manifest when he signed a bill increasing the salary of district judges, thereby placing additional burdens on the state without compensatory benefits, and urging the legislature to increase the tax on the people. In future campaigns when his new headquarters in Dallas, and he will immediately assume charge of the work. There is nothing in the matter discussed in the Fort Worth paper. It is really a joke."—Dallas Times-Herald.

There is a whole lot of stuff appearing in the morning papers that has to be explained either as a joke or passed up without any attempt at explanation. And the reading public is rapidly learning to turn to the afternoon papers not only for news while it is news, but for facts that can be absolutely relied upon.

There are new reports to the effect that the senate commerce committee which has been hearing complaints and arguments for and against ratemaking power for the interstate commerce commission, declares that there will be no rate-making power given to the commission, and that even the Esch-Townsend bill is doomed to defeat. It is stated that President Roosevelt can't get a rate-making law through congress. The gentlemen who think they control the country, and can make, shape or displace public sentiment at will, may have to take another tack. President Roosevelt has been away from Washington over a month, he has had a good rest, and he has grown enthusiastic about the "simple life." There will be some strenuous business about the White House when he returns, and it is never safe to predict anything with which President Roosevelt may be connected, until after the thing is finally disposed of.—Sherman Register.

Reports from Washington indicate determination on the part of the senate interstate commerce committee to make a report on the rate question that will be so one-sided and in favor of the railroads as to almost amount to scandal. But that fact will not cause any let up in the efforts of the people to obtain the desired relief. President Roosevelt is standing pat on this reform proposition and has the entire country behind him. Senator Elkins and his little coterie of railway statesmen are going to find there is much more in the existing situation than they have been able to detect on the surface. The people are going to have relief.

Baron des Planches says he is enraptured with Texas, and that probably the best section of the state he has visited lies between San Antonio and Laredo. He thinks it is peculiarly adapted to the intensive farmer, like his countrymen, who wish to always raise a ready-cash crop. The baron's estimate is probably correct. The only thing that has prevented the earlier and more complete development of the section to which he referred has been the lack of moisture. That question was solved, however, when it was discovered that practically the whole territory could be irrigated by means of wells that give an everlasting flow of water. As evidence of the success that has attended the efforts at irrigation it may be observed that two solid trains of onions, consisting of eighteen cars each, recently pulled out from San Antonio to the north, and that every one of the onions came from Laredo and points on the International road between here and Laredo.—San Antonio Express.

The production of onions down in the Laredo country is but an incident illustrating the progress and development of Texas. What Laredo is doing with onions, East Texas is doing with fruit and truck farming. South Texas is doing with rice. West Texas is doing with stock farming and North Texas is doing with alfalfa and all the staple crops. All over the state there is rapid development, and as this development is as diversified as are the wonderful resources of the state, our people are rapidly becoming prosperous and thrifty as they deserve. The people of Texas are just beginning to awaken to the possibilities of the situation.

It is alarming to know the number of young men who are throwing their lives away by loitering on the streets of the towns and cities of the country. Scarcely a paper is picked up but contains a note of warning to these young men who live without aspiration, and the whose lives could be made of some use to the world, but on the contrary are lounging on the sidewalks, laughing, yelling, using vulgar and obscene language. When a lady passes they make some vile remark, while away their time in idleness and depend on some one else for support. They are the source of crime, theft and murder, often being accredited to their nefarious practice of loitering. A justice of the peace in a neighboring town has published a warning to these boys, and unless they heed it they will be given a position on the county road. There is no excuse for vagrancy and if it takes the law to get these young men to work, then we most heartily endorse the means and say enforce it.—Karnes County News.

Loafing has become a disease with many free-born American citizens, and the longer it is indulged in the harder it is to overcome. Loafing begets viciousness, and that fact is being recognized in all the larger cities and towns by very promptly arresting all chronic loafers as vagrants. In Fort Worth this is now the rule, and it has already exerted a very wholesome effect upon the local situation.

Consistency of Governor Latham made brilliantly manifest when he signed a bill increasing the salary of district judges, thereby placing additional burdens on the state without compensatory benefits, and urging the legislature to increase the tax on the people. In future campaigns when

STEEPS SELL HIGH KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—H. C. Harding of Amarillo, Texas, manager of the L X ranch, located in Potter county, Texas, arrived at the yards this morning from a trip to Chase county, Kansas, where he has delivered a string of 3,500 head of 4-year-old steers, to be pastured this summer. "Fully one-third fewer cattle have been brought out of Texas this spring to the Kansas pasture fields than last spring," said Mr. Harding, "but all that have been brought up are in fine shape and are bound to come to market fat and in the best of condition. The Texas cowmen are feeling good this spring over their prospects for a good year, and many steers have been sold recently at higher prices than we have been receiving for many years. A short time ago I sold 700 head of 4-year-old steers at $23 per head, delivered on the cars. That is a good price, when we look back to last spring and to other years when $22 and thereabouts would have been a good price for 4-year-old steers. And then the steers that I sold at that price brought more than steers of the same age would have brought before, the cattle this spring were fatter and heavier."

LOCAL SWITCHING CHARGES The state railroad commission has issued the following authorization of switching charges by the Fort Worth Belt railroad: On loaded cars switched by the Fort Worth Belt railway between its junction with other lines and points on or reached by it, $1.50, except on live stock in North Fort Worth, for which the charge shall be 10 cents per car; provided, first, that on cars switched between points on or reached by the Belt railway and its junction with the Texas and Pacific railway, and which are destined to or from points on the Texas and Pacific railway, Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway of Texas or the International and Great Northern railway, the charge shall be 32 cents per car, except on live stock, which shall be $1.50 per car; and provided, second, that the above charges on live stock in all cases and on all competitive business, the switching charges herein provided for the Fort Worth Belt railway shall be absorbed by the lines transporting the shipments to or from Fort Worth. This order shall take effect June 1.

honesty an exponent of democracy, there is danger that Governor Latham's political ghost will envelop the audience and give them cold feet.—Beaumont Journal.

Many Texas people were disappointed in the action of the governor in approving the bill providing for an increase in the salaries of district judges. It was quite generally believed he would veto the measure for the double reason that the condition of the state treasury is not such as to warrant any increase in official salaries, and the further fact that there was no real demand for this additional expenditure.

A beautiful Georgia lady, Vice-President of the East End Palmets Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience: "You certainly have produced the best medicine for suffering women that is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law brought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Sore Throat Prescription after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and found no relief. I had little faith in the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. My life and vitality seemed to come with each succeeding day, until, in a few weeks, I was in fine health, and a happy, hearty woman. My boy is now two years old, and thanks to your splendid medicine, I am enjoying perfect health. If at any time I feel tired or in need of a tonic, a few doses of your 'Prescription' recuperates me at once. My address is No. 511 Jones Street, East, Savannah, Ga. Mrs. W. S. Williams. To Dr. R. V. PANTHERS TAKE SWEET REVENGE

Last Game of Series With Temple Annexed by Capt.

Wills' Blues

"Two home runs and not a man on the bases either time," mused Cy Mulkey on the car coming to town after Wednesday's game at Haines Park. It was enough to muse about. By the narrowest margin, after the juiciest taking of slugging, stealing and chance-taking served on the local grounds since the season opened, the Panthers took the last game of the series with Temple by a score of 5 to 4.

George Blackburn, the Secretary Taft of Captain Shelton's cabinet, pitcher, third baseman, utility man, field captain and player of the game since the days when over the fence was out, handed out short-temper curves for the visitors. Ballew was in the box for the Panthers. He held the visitors down to five hits, two of which made glad the hearts of little boys waiting outside the left field fence and scored for four bases each.

A big crowd mingled seeing the game. Had the crowd known what was going to be turned loose, it would have been there. But lowering clouds and muggy weather kept people away.

CY HITS THE SCORE BOARD

Burke opened for the visitors by popping out to Burleson. Mulkey drove a two-bagger to the score board, making the ball bounce into the space that afterwards, recorded his run. Shelton died at first and Blackburn's single scored Cy. Sullivan put Adams' fly to sleep. One run.

Sullivan died going to first. Hubbard rapped out a clean two-bagger to Single. McGinnis, who played most of the game for the visitors, caught Burleson's fly and nabbed Hubbard off second. No runs.

BAFFLING BALLEW GETS BUSY

In the second Ballew fanned Powell. Vitter filed out to Horn and Kitchens fanned. No runs.

McGinnis and Vitter retired Horn and Wills. Boles filed out to Adams. No runs.

CY'S SLEEP COST BASE

In the third McGinnis filed out to Poindexter. Boles caught Burke's fly. Mulkey walked, but was caught napping at first by Ballew and Wills. No runs.

Poindexter filed out to Burke. Bates walked. Ballew filed out to Kitchens. Sullivan singled and Hubbard died going to first. No runs.

MCGINNIS PLAYS A SOLO

In the fourth, Shelton filed out to Horn. Blackburn filed out to Burleson. Boles and Wills retired Adams. No runs.

McGinnis assisted Vitter to send Burleson back to the bench, then he caught Horn's fly and followed up by nailing Wills at first. No runs.

A HOME RUN, THAT'S ALL

Powell opened the fifth with a smashing home run over the score board. Then Vitter popped out to Boles. Kitchens popped out to Wills and McGinnis repeated Vitter's foul. One run.

Boles died going to first. Kitchens' error let Poindexter go safe and Dee immediately stole second, going to third on the wild throw to head him off at second. Bates filed out to Adams. Ballew died going first.

THINGS BEGIN TO HAPPEN

In the sixth Burke died going first. Mulkey filed out to Burleson. Shelton walked and Blackburn filed out to Poindexter. No runs.

It was Sullivan who started things for Fort Worth. A smashing two-bagger to center made things look bright for the Panthers. Hubbard walked. Then Burleson, who walks into the box like a high school graduate coming out on the stage for the first time, played a pretty single to center, scoring Sullivan. Horn picked out a hole between second and first, drove a single through it, and Hubbard scored. Horn stole second. Wills' single to left scored Burleson. Boles broke his bat in two and died at first, advancing Wills and Horn. Then Poindexter doubled to left, scoring Horn and Wills. Bates died going first and Ballew filed out to Adams. Five runs.

VISITORS SCORE AGAIN

In the seventh Adams filed out to Poindexter. Powell singled and stole second. Vitter went safe on Hubbard's error, which let Powell in. Kitchens error, which let Powell in. McGinnis popped a foul into Bates' mit. One run. Sullivan died going first. Shelton's error save Hubbard. Burleson singled to center. Horn died going first. Wills fanned. No runs.

A HOME RUN ONCE AGAIN YET

In the eighth after Burke and Mulkey had filed out to Boles, Shelton drove a homer over left field fence. Blackburn singled, but Adams died going first. One run.

Vitter retired Boles unassisted. Kitchens' error let Poindexter go safe, but for the second time in the game, but for the second time to steal second resulted in his being caught by Powell's long throw. Bates filed out to Adams. No runs.

NOTHING DOING

In the ninth, Boles and Wills retired Powell, Burleson and Wills did the same for Vitter and Wills killed off Kitchens unassisted. No runs.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Just before the game opened yesterday Match split a finger and Bates went in as substitute catcher. He did a good job.

Kitchens ought to take something for that sleepy feeling. While watching a runner go first he let an easy ball roll by him into the high grass yesterday.

"Excuse me," said Bates politely after he took off his mask in the fifth inning, when only two men were out, thinking three outs had been made. With such manners from behind the slab, what's the game coming to?

The diamond was fairly fast yesterday. The outfield still needs a shave.

No more games at home until the 20th.

GROCERS DEFY SULLEN SKIES

Have Their Annual Parade and Leave for Lake Erie to Spend the Day

In spite of threatening weather this morning the parade of the grocers and butchers took place, preparatory to the annual picnic of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association, which was held at Handley today.

Lead by a band, 200 grocery men, all wearing white straw hats, marched in line on Main and Houston streets, afterwards taking the Interurban for Lake Erie. About twenty young women, employees of the Royal Liquid Coffee Company, all carrying canes and wearing straw hats, took part in the parade.

Practically all of the grocery stores and butcher shops are closed today, so that proprietors and employes can take part in the day's outing at Handley.

Reports from Lake Erie say that a day of sport is being enjoyed. Lunch was served from baskets, athletic games, including a boys' girls' fat man's race and many other features, were held.

The festivities will end with a program dance at the Lake Erie pavilion tonight.

TEXAS DEALERS DEFEND RATES

Say Objection to Long Standing Tariff Due to Texas Mills' Improvement

Ebert G. Rall, one of the leading grain dealers in Fort Worth, is outspoken in his views of the proposition before the interstate commerce commission at Chicago for investment on complaint from millers in the Missouri river cities that there is discrimination on the part of the railroads on shipments of grain and grain products in favor of Texas and Louisiana.

The rate on corn meal from Kansas City to South Texas is 6 1/2 cents, while the rate on corn from the same origin to the same destination is 2 1/2 cents.

The millers in Missouri who are pushing the investigation maintain that the difference in the rates between the corn and the product of corn is nothing short of discrimination, with the advantage in favor of Texas. The statement is made that the mills in Missouri have been shipping mill products as well as flour to Texas for twenty years when they can get it here at just as reasonable rates and just as good product.

"There is no reason why Texas should not be able to ship in the grain, both wheat and corn, and market the product without depending on outside mills," said Mr. Rall. "The mills in this state are the equal of any in the older states and can make just as good flour and meal as can be manufactured anywhere. Then why pay the big freight rate to bring in the product when a lower rate will bring in the grain?"

"The trouble seems to be that Texas, as the years go by, is getting better able to provide for home consumption, and this naturally reduces the revenues to outside manufacturers, whose shipments are curtailed to a considerable degree. This is the kick," said Mr. Rall.

PIONEERS WILL GATHER MAY 24

Edward Terrell, First Trader in This City, Will Be Among Number

The pioneers of Tarrant county are making preparations for a reunion on May 24—Confederate day.

There will be quite a number of the old settlers, those who came here when the country was in the toils of the redman, and who have lived here almost continuously since. In attendance, among them Edward S. Terrell of Graham. Young county, who is one of the oldest men in this part of the state and who is possibly the oldest man in the state today.

Judge C. C. Cummings has been at work on the plan to bring these old people together on Confederate day and he says that his efforts have been quite successful. They are to be assembled in the basement of the court house on the morning of May 24 at 10 o'clock.

Edward Terrell is now 92 years of age and is quite active and in good health at this extreme age. He will be accompanied to Fort Worth by his son, George, who is an elderly man himself.

The senior Terrell was born in Tennessee in 1812 and located in this county in 1841, and in company with John Link, established the first trading post in this city, which was only a frontier hamlet at that time. Terrell was captured by the Indians one day and carried away, but by a ruse that he would bring them great quantities of flour the Indians turned him loose and he returned home.

It is believed that former Governor Frank Lubbock is the next oldest man in the state, his age being 90 years. Hon. John Reagan at the time of his death, was 87 years old.

PUBLIC UTILITY BILL Some discussion has arisen as to the constitutionality of the senate substitute for what is known as the Robertson public utility bill passed at the regular session of the present legislature, and Senator Hawkins, who suggested the idea of giving the courts jurisdiction of such matters, and who drafted a bill which was accepted as a basis for the senate substitute bill on this question, said yesterday: "When I proposed this bill, which is now the law in effect, as the committee made but few changes, I did not know that any such statute had ever been enacted, but on investigation I find that Massachusetts has a law in many respects very similar, which has been sustained by the supreme court of that state in the case of Jaurin.

G. S. EXTENSION PLANS OUTLINED

Part of Bond Issue to Pay Cost of Building Into City of Fort Worth

At a late meeting of the directors of the Colorado and Southern railroad radical measures for carrying out plans that will make the line a through one from the northwest to the gulf coast were adopted.

It was decided to incorporate the road in another state and ask the stockholders to issue $100,000,000 of bonds at the meeting to be held at Denver, June 15.

Of the $100,000,000 in bonds, $37,000,000 is for the purpose of refunding underlying bonds and $17,000,000 is intended for taking over the Fort Worth and Denver City railway, buying the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad and for building 165 miles of new road.

This construction will, in part, be the gap between Fort Worth and Cleburne and from Mexia south to Houston. As has been stated, the extension into this city will be accomplished by building from Cleburne to a point twelve miles south of Fort Worth.

As a result of the stockholders meeting it is likely that the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek road will be added to the merger.

The plans of the Younkman-Hawley syndicate will, in a measure cause a regrouping of railroad interests over a large territory in the south and southwest.

Nothing definite looking to carrying out of these plans may not be expected before the June meeting of the stockholders.

INSPECTING SANTA FE J. E. Hurley, the successor of General Manager Mudge of the Santa Fe, is making his first inspection trip over the western division, accompanied by several officials of the company. The inspection has been under way since the first of the present month.

FRISCO MEETINGS Changes Made in Texas and Rio Grande Properties The stockholders of the St. Louis, San Francisco and Texas railroad were to have held a meeting Wednesday for the election of officers for the ensuing year and to transact other business, but as there was not a full attendance little was done other than to make two changes in the directory of the company.

Colonel Charles H. Younkman was chosen as a director to succeed Judge H. D. McDonald of Paris, while C. R. Gary is succeeded by R. R. Hammond. The directors of this company will hold another meeting Saturday, at which officers will be elected, but it is stated at Frisco headquarters that there will probably be no changes made in the present list of officials.

There was also a meeting of directors of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande Railroad company held Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of electing a successor to the late Colonel H. C. Holloway, who was a director in the company at the time of his death. Colonel C. H. Younkman was chosen as Colonel Holloway's successor. This was all the business transacted at this meeting.

ROCK ISLAND OFFICERS Party Comes from New Orleans Next Saturday It is learned here today that a party of Rock Island officials, who are reported to be in New Orleans today, will arrive in Fort Worth Saturday morning. They will not remain long.

In the party are Ben L. Winchell, president of the board; President J. D. Iverson, Second Vice President Biddle and Third Vice President Mudge, who recently went with the Rock Island from the Santa Fe. This will be Mr. Mudge's first trip to Fort Worth.

The party is on an extensive trip of inspection of the company lines in the south and southeast.

LETTER TO M. P. BEWLEY Dear Sir: You understand grinding wheat, buckwheat, rye, oats and corn. We understand grinding white-lead and white-zinc. The two sorts of grinding are not much alike. Very different in the mill, and you manage them differently—we know very little about your work; don't need to; we'd rather depend on you.

But we paint your house and mill, and outbuildings; perhaps you'd be obliged to know about grinding paint for some people mix their paint with a stick in a tub.

We use lead-and-zinc—nothing else. And our zinc is as tough as your oats. Tub mixers imagine they mix it. They can't. They can't. Takes grinding to mix lead-and-zinc.

They are both white; when are they thoroughly mixed? Tub-mixers don't know it; but tub-mixed lead-and-zinc is a streak of one alongside of a streak of the other.

We grind as you grind; and our paint is lead-and-zinc ground together, mixed intimately; it is neither lead nor zinc, but lead-and-zinc; the lead is lost, and the zinc is lost; each lost in the other; both lost in the mixture. Lead chalks and zinc necks; lead-and-zinc ground together hang on and protect each other.

We take care of your mill outside; you take care of it inside. Yours truly, F. W. DEVON & CO. P. S.—Brown and Vera sell our paint.

CITY BRIEFS

OUTLINES RULES AMONG DEMOCRATS

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—Honoring and honoring by his political foes, but personal friends, President Roosevelt last night was the chief guest at a magnificent banquet tendered him by the Iroquois Club, the leading democratic organization of Illinois. Surrounded by men who fought no against in two national campaigns, who deplored many of his avowed policies and have frowned on some of his political actions, the president was cheered and the echo as he entered and left the banquet hall, was applauded with enthusiasm throughout his address, and at its close was given to understand that in his case political differences were not a personal issue.

The banquet, which was from first to last an evening given entirely by democrats to the leader of their political opponents and many of the kindly personal references made by the speakers of the democratic faith, deeply touched the president. In his manner and words he evinced throughout the evening a deep gratification at the warmth of his reception from the men who have fought him in political battles before now and are ready to fight him again if they considered it necessary.

The menu was long and fully one and a half hours were consumed before its end was reached. At 9 o'clock President Gunther called the guests to order and delivered a brief address of welcome to the president.

President Gunther, at the close of his address, introduced as toastmaster of the evening James Hamilton Lewis.

When at the conclusion of the address of Governor Deneen Mr. Lewis arose to introduce President Roosevelt he was at first given no opportunity to speak, the entire assembly was on its feet, waving handkerchiefs, napping and cheering with vigor. When his voice could be heard, Mr. Lewis introduced the president, who spoke as follows:

"Among the most vital questions that have come up for solution because of the extraordinary industrial development of this country, as of all the modern world, are the questions of capital and labor and the questions resulting from the effect upon the public or the organization into masses of both capital and labor.

"I believe thoroughly in each kind of organization, but I recognize that if either kind of organization does what is wrong, the increase in its power for efficiency that has resulted from the combination means the increase in its power to do harm, and that therefore, corporations—that is, organized capital—and union—that is, organized labor—must alike be held to a peculiar responsibility to the public at large and that from each alike we have the right to demand not only obedience to the law, but service to the public. (Applause.)

"I will take up first the question of organized capital. When this nation was created such a thing as a modern corporation not only did not exist, but could not be imagined. That is especially true of the great modern corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

"Now, gentlemen, let me in the first place, insist upon this fact, that we should keep ever before us that the men who have built up the great railway systems of the country like the other men who have built up the great industries of the country have as a rule—there are exceptions—but have as a rule, made their fortunes as incidents to benefiting and not to harming the country.

"While acknowledging in the frankest manner the benefits that have come from the development of these great industrial enterprises, I also feel that we must recognize that the time has now come when it is essential in the interests of the public that there should be exercised a more vigorous supervision and regulation over them.

"The state can properly deal with the corporation doing business within its own limits. The state can not deal at all with corporations doing business in other states and it is an enormous and most dangerous task to leave it in the public on one state to create a corporation of gigantic size which shall do all its work in a number of other states and perhaps with the scantiest regard to the interests of the states in which it actually does work. (Applause.)

"Personally, I believe that the Federal government must take an increasing control over corporations.

"Now for the other side of the question. There have been a great many republics before our time and again and again those republics have split upon the rock of disaster. The greatest and most dangerous rock in the course of any republic, the rock of class hatred.

"The government is not and never shall be the government of plutocracy. This government is not and never will be the government of a mob. (Great applause.)

"I believe in corporations. They are indispensable instruments of our modern industrialism, but I believe that they should be supervised and regulated and that they should act for the interest of the community as a whole. So I believe in unions. But I believe the union, like the individual, must be kept to strict accountability to the power of the law. (Applause and cheers and cries of 'Good, good'.)

"Mayor Dunne, as president of the United States, and therefore as representative of the people of this country, I give you as a matter of course, my hearty support in upholding the law, in keeping order, in putting down violence whether a mob or by an individual. (Cheers and waving handkerchiefs.) And there need not be the slightest apprehension in your hearts, the most timid that ever the mob spirit will triumph in this country. (Cheers.)

Heavy Onion Shipments Ten car loads of onions were brought to the city on the International and Great Northern road from South Texas today. Here the onions are distributed for shipment to northern markets. For the past ten days onion shipments from the southern part of the state have been heavy, averaging almost ten cars daily. HEAVY RAINFALL FLOODS STREETS

Half an Inch Precipitation Occurred in This City in Less Than Five Minutes

One of the heaviest rains in the history of the city occurred shortly before 11 o'clock this morning. Between 10:50 and 10:55 a. m. 46 inches of rain fell, being nearly half an inch of precipitation in a little more than five minutes. From 10:20 a. m. till 11 o'clock the total precipitation was .70 inches.

Accompanied by thunder and lightning sprinkling rain began at 10:20 o'clock, increasing in intensity toward 10:30, reaching its highest point at 10:50 o'clock. In the few moments of heavy rain gutters were running like streams and water was streaming from housetops and drain pipes. Several cellars in the city were flooded.

Texas has been generally cloudy today with high temperatures and rain. The Texas and Pacific reports rain as far west as Baird.

General scattered showers fell over the cotton region Wednesday, and heavy precipitation occurred at Lumberton and Raleigh, N. C.

The only rain of importance which fell in Texas Wednesday occurred at Ballinger, where .54 inches is reported.

Prospects today are for heavy rains all over the state.

STRAIN TOO GREAT. The strain and struggle of busy life causes nine-tenths of the daily aches and pains and kidney sufferings of humanity. The busy folks—who work hard and rest little, who think hard and sleep little, are those who overtax the kidneys most. To overwork the kidneys is to congest and clog them—to disturb and hinder them in their great work of filtering the blood. Busy men and women are too apt to neglect sick kidneys. In spite of aches and pains and urinary disorders they go on overworking until the kidneys give out. There is no middle road for the kidney sufferer. He must either help and cure the kidneys, or go the downward course towards fatal diabetes and Bright's Disease. There is no standing still. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. This great kidney specific has restored thousands of kidney sufferers to complete and permanent health. It is indicated for the kidneys and for the kidneys only. Watch for Symptoms of Kidney Disease. Regard Backache as a Danger Signal. Test the Urine. Help the Kidneys Do Their Work. Cure Them When They Are Sick. HOW TO TELL—There are many symptoms to tell you of sick kidneys. First, the many aches or pains—Dull aching in the small of the back. Sharp pains when stooping or lifting. Rheumatic aching in the muscles. Neuralgic pains in the nerves. Headaches, sideaches, gout, sciatica. And the urinary symptoms, some apparent, some found by simple tests—Frequent passages day and night. Scanty passages, or a stoppage. Red, thick, and ill-smelling urine. Cloudy or brick-dust sediment. Greasy, frothy or staining urine. Other common symptoms are: Puffy eyes, swollen limbs. Pallid, waxy complexion. Drowsiness, lack of energy, languor. Dizziness, "spots" before the eyes. Weak heart; debility, indigestion. There is only one thing to do when any of these symptoms appear, and that is to cure the kidneys. No need to experiment. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured hundreds of people in your own city. Their testimony proves it.
