

TOGO LOSES NOT A SINGLE SHIP

Japanese Victory Gained Without Serious Damage to Any of the Battleships or Cruisers - Russian Casualties Will Go to Enormous Figure

TOKIO, May 29.—The big sea battle is regarded as the greatest modern naval fight. Practically all the information received came in brief wireless messages transmitted when possible after the fight and during the pursuit. Admiral Togo has gone northward and the navy department does not expect extended reports until the fighting is finished.

TOGO'S LOSS INSIGNIFICANT Reports thus far received indicate that Admiral Togo obtained a victory without loss or serious damage of a single battleship or cruiser. His casualties are not reported, but are insignificant. It is believed that the Russian casualties are heavy, although the Japanese appear to have reached a large number.

PRISONERS AT SASEBO The captured ships with prisoners and wounded are arriving at Sasebo. A number of the Russian prisoners were landed on the Tsu Islands. Three hundred are believed to be from the transport Ural and have been landed on the Iwami coast. The political effect of the battle and its influence on commerce has been already felt. At noon today the navy department notified shipping men that the sea was free.

There was a scene of wild enthusiasm on the stock exchange this afternoon. Prices in some instances were the highest since the war began. The emperor, prince and ministers are dispatching congratulations to Admiral Togo, who, it is expected, will be given high rank and other imperial honors.

TOGO A DEMI-GOD Already a popular idol he has become a demi-god in the popular estimation. It is also expected that Vice Admiral Kamimura, Rear Admiral Kataoka and the other commanders will be honored.

ROJESTVENSKY CRITICISED Foreign observers sharply criticize Admiral Rojestvensky and Rear Admiral Nebogatoff, despite the meagerness of the knowledge of the details and conditions which governed them. Admiral Rojestvensky is criticized for not sending his light cruisers and transports by the northern straits, his failure to arrange a cooperation with the Vladivostok squadron and his battle formation, which consisted of all the strong ships on the starboard column and the weaker craft on the port column.

Rear Admiral Nebogatoff's courage in surrendering to the Japanese is apparently without a fight is questioned, although, it is admitted that his ships were evidently badly battered Saturday.

LITTLE DETAILED NEWS Beyond the results, little is known here of Admiral Togo's stunning victory over Admiral Rojestvensky. Rojestvensky reached Quelpart Island, Korea, early Saturday and headed for the Tsu Islands. The exact number of vessels in his fleet is not clear, but he had his main fighting vessels with a number of light cruisers and transports. The disposition of the Japanese fleet appears to have been an ideal one.

TOGO WAS PATIENT Admiral Togo had waited for weeks in the vicinity of the Tsu Islands, refusing to be lured away and to forfeit his advantage. The longer he waited, the more Admiral Togo with the battleships and Vice Admiral Kamimura with the cruisers. Rear Admiral Kataoka with the light squadron first attacked Rojestvensky. The order and circumstances of the attack are not clear. According to one report, Kamimura went outside the straits and lured Rojestvensky, preventing his retreat. When Rojestvensky encountered Admiral Togo there appears to have been a running fight to the northeastward Saturday afternoon.

RUSSIANS PRESSED HARD There was a series of desperate and successful torpedo attacks Saturday night and a resumption of the battle on Sunday. Togo pressing the Russian fleet toward the southeast coast of Korea. The fate of Admiral Rojestvensky is doubtful. It is thought that probably he escaped to Vladivostok. Pending the conclusion of the Japanese pursuit and the identification of the three vessels which Russian prisoners report were sunk, and the determination of the condition of the damaged ships, which escaped to the northward, it is impossible to tell the remaining strength of the Russians, but the most liberal allowance leaves the Japanese overwhelmingly masters of the sea. Only fragmentary tidings of the victory have been in circulation in Tokio since Saturday night.

STRAIN AT TOKIO OVER The people were confident, but official confirmation of their beliefs and hopes thrilled the people as nothing has since the hostilities began. The long voyage of Admiral Rojestvensky, the equality on paper of the strength of the fleets, the irritation caused by reported violations of neutrality, the apparent certainty of a formidable section of the Russian fleet would reach Vladivostok, the vital bearing of the contest on the war and possibly the future of the empire, created intense strain, which Admiral Togo's victory ends instantly.

FARMERS NEED HELP WACO, Texas, May 30.—A delegation of farmers yesterday appeared before Mayor J. B. Baker and asked him to suspend street work for the present if possible, as labor is badly needed in the country in getting the seeds from crops. Mayor Baker conferred with the heads of all city departments, and asked the police officers to lend every possible aid in getting help for farmers. He turned over about a dozen city prisoners to be used in chopping, and will aid in any other way possible.

EMPEROR GETS OFFICIAL NEWS

Rumored That Several Russian Vessels Have Safely Reached Vladivostok

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30, noon.—A long cipher dispatch reached Emperor Nicholas during the night, but the contents have not yet been made public.

It is officially stated that several of the fast Russian ships have succeeded in shaking off their pursuers and have reached Vladivostok and the government is now in possession of its own version of the naval disaster of Saturday and Sunday in the Straits of Korea.

HOLD BACK THE NEWS Nevertheless, it appears to be in a quandary as how best to break the news to the country. There was a war council held at Tsarskoe Selo last night, at which the emperor urged the issue of an imperial manifesto, but nothing has yet been decided.

So far as the newspapers are concerned the public might believe that Rojestvensky has achieved a great victory. The censor passed all vague rumors favorable to the Russians, but blue penciled everything indicating a Russian disaster.

RUSSIA STILL IGNORANT While disastrous news has spread like wildfire by word of mouth over the capital, and was quickly telegraphed privately to the big centers by anti-government leaders, the country can not be said to be still in a state of ignorance as to what happened. Editors of liberal papers here being conversant with the contents of the Tokio dispatches, warn their readers in a roundabout fashion against harboring false hopes, based upon the dispatches which appear in the news columns.

The Bourse Gazette quite openly declares it to be a sin to conceal the fact that all hope of Russia obtaining the mastery of the sea has vanished, adding: "Significance of the collapse of this hope is self evident."

NO GRAFT IN JAPAN

Dr. David Starr Jordan Gives the Japanese Excellent Recommendation

CHICAGO, May 30.—"Graft is a thing entirely unknown in Japan," said David Starr Jordan, president Leland Stanford University, last night, addressing one of the meetings preliminary to the regular session of the congress of religion. "I venture to say," continued Dr. Jordan, "that in the present war not $100 of the Japanese war funds has been stolen, and on the other hand I presume that not one dollar in twenty, if one in a hundred, on the side of the Russians ever reached its proper destination. I heard only of one dishonest Japanese while in that country, and he was one whose morals had been contaminated by residence abroad."

Dr. Jordan's lecture was largely upon Shintoism, the chief religion in Japan, which he said is not an ancestor worship, but the spirit of the living so that ancestors need not be ashamed of their descendants.

WENT DOWN QUICKLY

Captain Roshinoff Tells of Destruction of the Admiral Nakhimoff

TOKIO, May 30.—Captain Roshinoff, commander of the Russian armored cruiser Admiral Nakhimoff and other survivors, have been brought to Meiji. The Admiral Nakhimoff was sunk near Tsu Island Saturday, seemingly by a mine or a submarine vessel.

Captain Roshinoff says that his vessel was entering the straits with the fleet. Suddenly there was a tremendous explosion and the Admiral Nakhimoff speedily sank, carrying down a majority of her crew.

Captain Roshinoff reached a damaged steam launch and was picked up on Sunday. The other survivors used life belts and were rescued by fishermen.

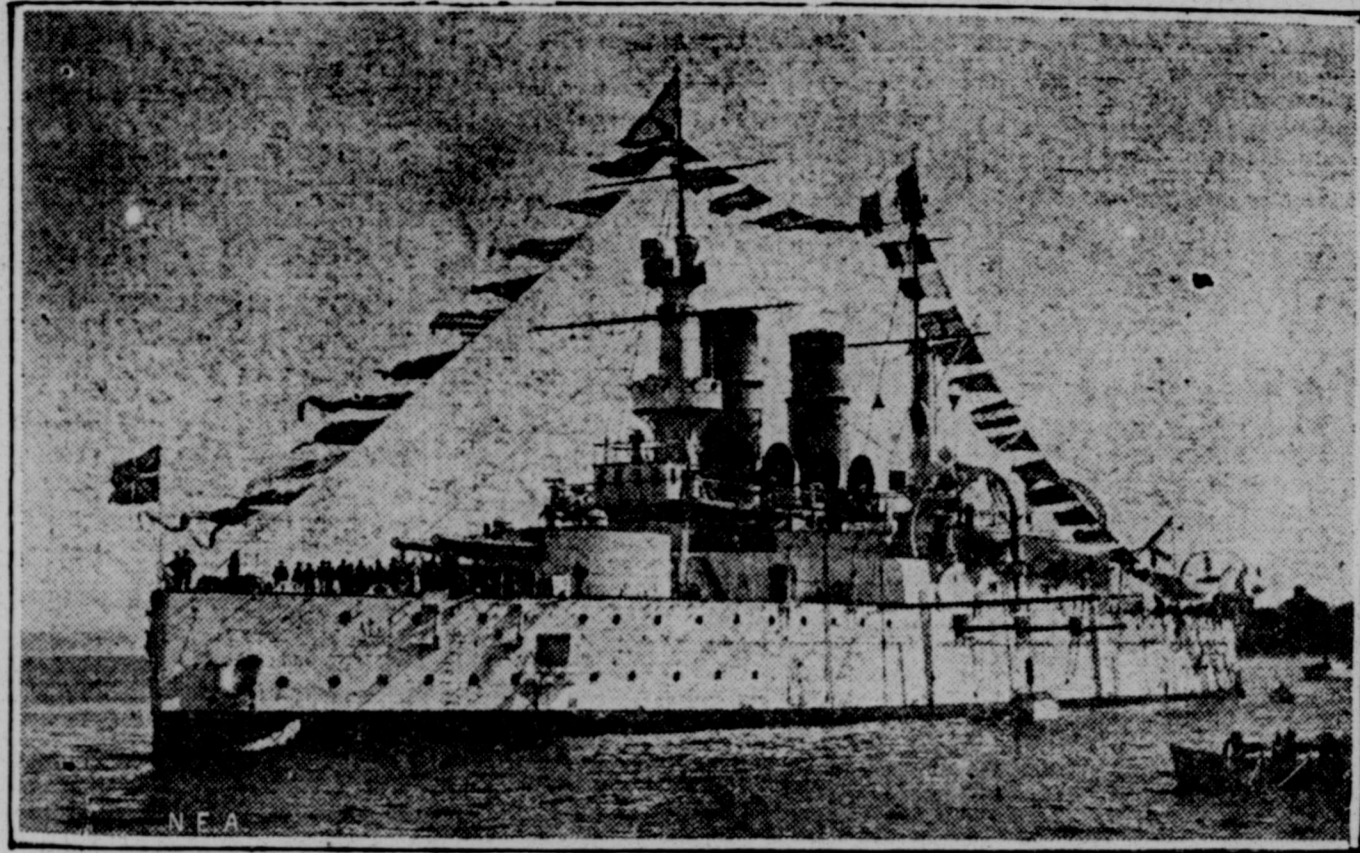

It is impossible to determine the particular manner of the destruction of the individual Russian ships. It is reported that submarine vessels and specially laid mines were used, but a satisfactory confirmation of this is not obtainable.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Czarina Prepares to Leave Russian Capital if Necessity Requires

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—The situation here over the defeat of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet is critical. Fearful lest the depressing news may cause new outbreaks among the rioters and the possibility of a revolution has caused the czarina to prepare for hasty flight to Denmark if it comes to the worst.

RUSSIAN FLAGSHIP WHICH WAS SUNK

ILL FATED FLAGSHIP KNIJAZ SOUVAROFF WHICH WAS SUNK. ADMIRAL ROJESTVENSKY WAS WOUNDED, BUT ESCAPED IN A TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER.

ROJESTVENSKY IS NOT DEAD

St. Petersburg Claims He Is Wounded and Has Reached Vladivostok, While Tokio Makes Equally Strong Claims That He Is a Prisoner

(Copyright, 1905, by the Hearst News Service.)

PARIS, May 30.—According to stories sent to the Paris papers by the St. Petersburg correspondents, some of the smaller vessels of the shattered Russian fleet have reached Vladivostok.

Among them, it is said, is the torpedo boat destroyer Buiny, with Admiral Rojestvensky on board. The names of the ships which have reached that port are not given and the report is received with some reserve.

Another report has it that the Russian admiral is dead. Another is that he was captured.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—At last news has been received here of the battle in Tsui Shima Straits. The cruiser Almaz has eluded the Japanese and reached Vladivostok. Her commander, Captain Chagrin, has sent a long report to the admiralty telling of the disaster. While it has not been made public in full, it is known that it describes the sinking of the Kniiaz Souvaroff and the wounding of Admiral Rojestvensky. The admiral, according to Captain Chagrin, was picked up by a Russian destroyer, if she has reached Vladivostok as reported from Paris, the admiralty professes ignorance of the fact.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—Admiral Rojestvensky has arrived at Vladivostok on board the torpedo boat destroyer Buiny. During the battle he sustained a severe wound in the head.

TOKIO, May 30.—An official statement is made here that Admiral Rojestvensky has been captured by the Japanese and that he is seriously wounded.

TOKIO, May 29.—Reports received from Admiral Togo at the Japanese headquarters, first report, received on the morning of May 27, immediately upon the receipt of the report that the Russian squadron was in sight our combined squadron started for the attack. The weather is fine today, but with heavy seas.

"Second report, received night of May 27: Our combined squadron attacked Russian squadron today near Okinoshima (southeast of Tsushima) and defeated it, sinking at least four ships and inflicting heavy damage upon others.

"The damage to our squadron is insignificant. Our destroyers and torpedo flotillas delivered attack after sunset.

"Third report, received Monday, May 29: The main force of our combined squadron has continued the pursuit since the 27th and attacked on the 28th near flanker rocks (northeast of Okinoshima), a group of war vessels, consisting of Nicolai I, battleship; Orel, battleship; Saryavin, Apraxin and the Izumrud. The Izumrud died, while the four remaining vessels surrendered."

MORE TALK OF PEACE

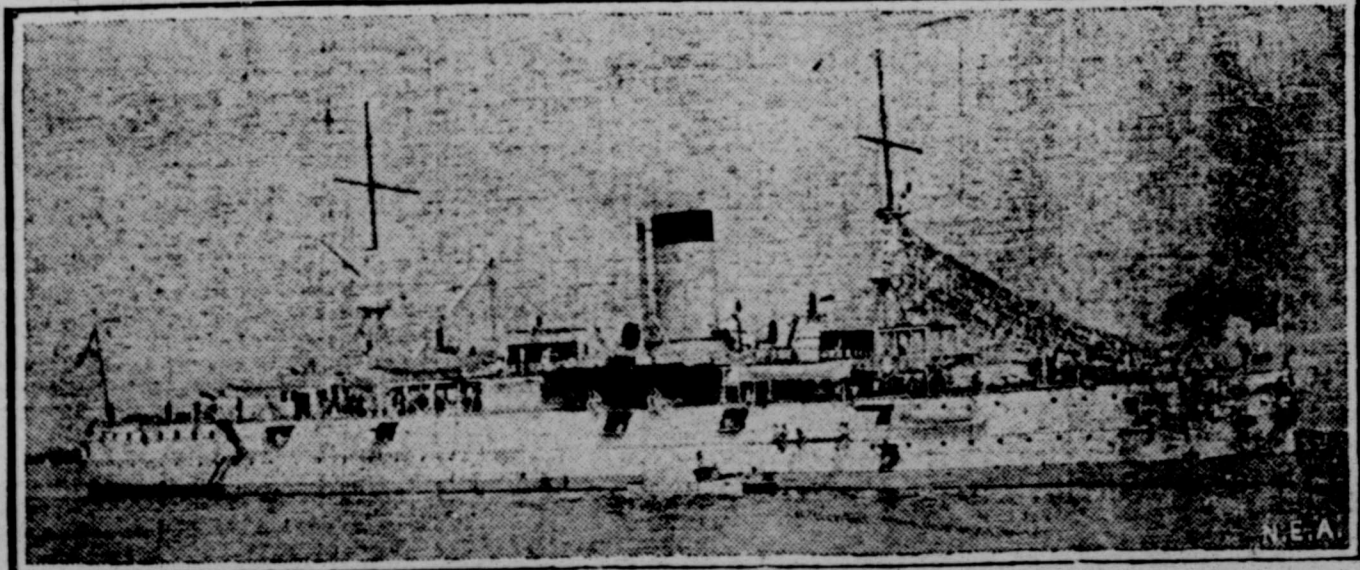

PARIS, May 30.—Secretary Hay and M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, are said to have conferred today about peace.

Nothing was made public regarding the result of the conference. It is thought Secretary Hay is acting under advices received from Washington.

RUSSIAN TROOPS BURNING HOUSES

Chinese Fleeing From Troops, Who Destroy Houses for Fuel

GUNSHU PASS, Saturday, May 27.—Rains which began falling here three days ago have ceased.

General skirmishing has continued for the past fortnight. Arriving troops, on leaving the trains, find themselves in a sea of mud.

The country in the immediate rear of the Russian army wears the same aspect as did the rear of the old positions which the Russians occupied in the south, being completely denuded of forage.

Many Chinese have fled from their houses, and wherever troops have camped these houses have been torn down and used for fire wood. Interest in the attitude of the Mongolians continues.

It is asserted that a state of rebellion exists among local prince ruling eastern tribes. But few native traders with goods are arriving at interior cities from Simintin, but are using the only remaining trade route for Northern Manchuria since the loss of Simintin to the Russians, which is by way of Kiaochow over which the traders are already very active. The defense of the railways are so complete that it practically amounts to a block-house system. All foreign naval attaches have been excluded from Vladivostok by order of the government.

PRINCE LEOPOLD IN CAMP

The principal activity is now the Japanese cavalry, which is unusually bold, now sustained by General Mishchenko on the west, but the army appears to be disappointed in expectation of a larger movement from Fakoman. Border warfare along the frontiers of Mongolia is dangerous in the extreme.

Prince Leopold of Prussia arrived here today to visit the Russian positions. He was received by General Linevitch at Godzmadan and afterwards proceeded to the south.

TIE LING, May 30.—News of the great victory won by the Japanese fleet over Admiral Togo has been received by Oyama's army in the field.

There was great rejoicing among the soldiers over the defeat of the Russian armada and the huzzahs of the little brown men in the field equaled almost the awful din of the Mukden battle.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—The report that the Kniiaz Souvaroff, the flagship of the Russian fleet, which was defeated by the Japanese in the Straits of Korea, had sunk and that Admiral Rojestvensky was wounded and had been placed on board a torpedo boat destroyer, is confirmed.

The whereabouts of the destroyer are not known. The Kniiaz Souvaroff was a first-class battleship and was completed only last year. She was built at St. Petersburg, was 13,516 tons displacement and had a speed of eighteen knots. Her armament consisted of four twelve-inch guns, twelve six-inch guns, twenty three-inch guns and twenty three-pounders, in addition to six small rapid-fire guns. She had six torpedo tubes and had a crew numbering 740 officers and men.

Pursuit of the Northward Fleeing Russians Keeps Up

TOKIO, May 29.—(Delayed in transmission.)—Admiral Togo continues his great sweep to the northward in pursuit of the remnant of the Russian fleet. Complete reports will probably increase the extent of the Russian disaster, the fastest of the fleeing ships should reach Vladivostok tonight (Monday), the slower ones Tuesday or Wednesday.

It will be Thursday before complete results of the battle are known. At the end of the week Admiral Togo's fleet is expected to reassemble and until then it only will be possible to secure approximate details.

STRIKE SITUATION IS QUIET TODAY

Both Sides Observing a Truce in Windy City Because of Memorial Day

CHICAGO, May 30.—The teamsters' strike is suffering from ennui. It has reached a stage where both sides declare themselves satisfied with the situation and the public awaits either a renewal of the settlement schemes or a further spread in unheralded directions.

All phases and features of the strike have experienced a lull today, owing to it being a legal holiday. Most of the places of business affected by the strike have closed and the teaming interests in the main did not attempt to make any deliveries.

THE BIG ROW CONTINUES

Rioters and Policemen at Chicago in a Battle of Clubs

CHICAGO, May 30.—A crowd of more than 500 persons armed with clubs and other weapons surrounded three wagons owned by a lumber company last night. The non-union drivers and special policemen who were guarding them were attacked. Nine men were arrested charged with assault and disorderly conduct.

While the wagons were passing along North Halstead street, a number of persons ran into the street and seized the bridles of the horses. Attempts were made to pull the drivers from their wagons. Then policemen with drawn clubs fought and clubbed the rioters. Many of the strike sympathizers were cut and bruised by stones intended for the police and non-union drivers.

LOCK OUT OF TEAMSTERS

CHICAGO, May 30.—Thirty-five sash, door and blind manufacturers affiliated with the Planning Mill Men's Association today decided to lockout the drivers. A vote had been taken by the members to force deliveries whether the orders came from strike affected houses or not. The lockout affects 200 teamsters.

BOLES ESTABLISHES NEW PITCHING RECORD

Strikes Out Fifteen Batters in Nine Innings Without Giving a Single Hit

Fifteen strike outs; no hits. This phenomenal record made by Boles at Haines park Monday afternoon, coupled with hard hitting by the Panthers, tell the whole story of the first game of the Austin series, terminating in a score of 9 to 0 for Ward's ball tossers.

WALTER BOLES

"Who's going to pitch for you today?" asked Manager George Clark of the Austin bunch of Ward shortly before the game.

"Hard luck, that's too bad," responded sympathetic Mr. Clark as he was informed the Panthers were up against the predicament of putting their shortstop in the box. Hope the hard luck continues.

The game from start to finish was a rousing one. While Boles served up an ideal pitcher's game for the seasoned fans, the Panther batters loosened up with an old time slugging match highly suited to the taste of the women rooters who applauded every swat.

"Guess we'll have to let them in every day, if it makes the boys play like that," said Manager Ward, as he took a last fond look at the Senatorial goose eggs on the board.

FIRST INNING

Things opened up for a real ball game the minute Tackaberry's prize game was delivered at the plate. Deskin drew four hits, while Boles was getting the kinks straightened out in his arm and remembered he wasn't lining them across to Wills. Deskin then proceeded to get gay and was out in a pretty game of tag, you're it, along the line, with Wills. Boles joined the affair from short, holding the ball at the decisive moment. Boles then started his record breaking act, fanning Clayton and Stovall.

PANTHERS BREAK LOOSE

Just to show that two out of three from Dallas doesn't count, Fort Worth opened up as soon as they came to the bat. Sullivan picked out the bad ones—to let go by. Hubbard then gave a performance of his speciality, sacrificing, and Butler secured the third baseman into an error upon which he reached the initial bag and Sully got within one stage of home.

BUTLER then made sure of getting his picture in the score cards, celebrating his first appearance in the Panther blue, by driving a clean, unsullied hit to center upon which Sully and Burleson waltzed across the trapezoid. Bates drove one at Taylor before he could recover from the surprise, and though Butler secured the second out, he got to first before O'Connor could stretch to the ball. Wills then fanned after making Harris participate in the game to the extent of a bump on the head though he sat on the bench and did not get in the official line-up. Score 2 to 0.

MORE RUNS

Austin participated in the second long enough to give Boles his usual strike outs and let Burleson make a fine catch of a foul against a net that protects the bleachers from Sully's vicious throws in the direction of the grandstand. Pointexter appeared in a prelude entitled "How Easy to Catch," and Blasingim proceeded to show that he hadn't fooled Uncle Billy by sending a Texas League over to Boles. Boles, who was still angry at Tackaberry for helping Deskin to walk in the first, took revenge by sampling the umpire's nether garments with a hot one that made him act the jackknife in a mumbly effort to reach the plate. Before the umpire persona Blasingim had gone to third, Tackaberry had not forgotten the rules, however, and made him crawl-fish to second. Sully next put some ginger into one and reached for home, the error of short advancing both runners. Hubbard sent one with the same label to the keeper of second, scoring Blasingim. Everybody thought of Burleson's drives the day before and awaited developments at second, ordering him to strike. Butler then made Boles' chances doubly sure, putting one over first and scoring Boles and Sully. Bates who is now appearing in a light-colored change act in the Ward-Feckles troupe, drove one at Taylor, and though he was caught, which Butler was caught at home. Four more runs equals six.

INTERMISSION

Even Mike O'Connor couldn't get his lamps on the spheroid, going out easily from Burleson over. Hartman and Taylor then proceeded to fan out on a total of seven balls thrown to them. Combined. Here Boles and Blasingim worked in unison using the quick pitch to perfection and getting strikes across the platter before the Senatorial swatters could rise to it. Blasingim went out on two flies and an easy one to second in the aforesaid order in which their names do herein appear.

THREE MORE

More work for the score boy was developed in the fourth. Austin gave Boles an opportunity to continue his strike out pitching, though Clayton talked him fairly out of a pass only to die on a fielder's choice. Boles then secured the former favor with the gauzy grand stand, being hit by one of Taylor's wild ones. Sully abandoned his precise attitude long enough to send one over short and Hubbard sacrificed again, sending both men up. Burleson then remembered he had a batting record to make good and lost one dollar and twenty-five cents' worth of good horsehide over the left field fence, clearing up the bags and putting three more over the top line of the score board. Burley, however, forgot it was ladies' day and offered the fair fans by refusing to lift his cap. Maybe he's bald.

Butler received punishment but Tackaberry, who had found out how hard the card decided he was not stung sufficiently to earn a free trip and made him try to earn his passage. He failed to get in hard enough licks, however, going out from second to first and being followed by Bates from pitcher over. Two plus four plus three is or nine. Mr. Ward doesn't care which way you count it.

THE REST

Four and one-half other and sundry innings contributed to form the complete game record, which brought second and place one step nearer in the rag race. None of these, however, contained baseball fitted to appear in the same society with the opening sessions, the fans spending the rest of the time chuckling at Boles' strike outs climbed to past and in the lead of the

ON THE BENCH

Fort Worth lost another chance to score in the sixth when the "squeeze" with Sully on third and Burleson up would have meant a run. Try it, Wills. A double in uniform again. A double in uniform again. Wills' fly to right helped to shorten Austin's agony. Bates looks good anywhere. Sullivan got into center and robbed Burleson of the thing that ever thought of being a hit. Even O'Connor couldn't find anything to say. Harris is obeying orders to nurse his arm.

TEMPLE & CORSICANA 4

CORSICANA, Texas, May 30.—Temple took a fall out of the Oilers yesterday by the score of 6 to 4. Errors were abundant and costly. Huddleston opened in the box for Corsicana but was touched up so freely that he was replaced by Pilgrim. The score:

DALLAS LOSES TO WACO

WACO, Texas, May 30.—Hard hitting on the pitcher's part in the sixth took the game from Dallas yesterday. The score was 5 to 2. The visitors had poor luck in finding Pitcher Rodebaugh in the box.

Dallas got her two only runs in the second inning as a result of two singles and a wild throw of the home pitcher. Waco tied the score in the third inning, however, and then butchered Porter, the Dallas box artist, for three runs in the sixth.

PRISONER CAUGHT IN MID-STREAM Officers Standing on Bank With Drawn Sixshooters Bring Him to the Bank

BASE BALL! FORT WORTH VS. AUSTIN Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Haines Park, 4:30 p. m. Monday—Ladies Free

Pursued by deputy sheriffs and realizing that he would not be able to escape, Nolan Ferrell, a white man, jumped into the Trinity river near Douglas Park, Monday afternoon, and remained under water as long as possible in an effort to escape.

According to the inspector for Brady, Brownwood and Santa Anna all classes of stock are in fine condition and range good.

On the bank stood Officers Wren and Scott with their six-shooters drawn, ready in case of an emergency, but Ferrell, when informed that if he attempted to escape to the opposite side of the river he would be crippled, threw up his hands, waded out of the water and gave himself up.

THE ORIGIN OF MEMORIAL DAY

This is the nation's Memorial Day. The time when loving hands place the garlands of love upon the tomb of those who gave their lives for what they believed to be the call of duty, both North and South.

When the war was over, in the South, where under warmer skies and with more poetic temperament, symbols and emblems are better understood than in the practical North.

Ohio banks are continuing to fail, but the responsibility for the situation cannot be ascribed to Cassie L Chadwick. That very able Ohio financier has been temporarily retired from business.

President Roosevelt declines to become mixed up in the Equitable row. Having just indulged in several big bear fights, the president is now in a position to realize when he has had enough.

That special session of congress that is to be convened in October is going to be a genuine corker. The fight between the president and his party is going to be interesting from start to finish.

Nearly all of the Rockefeller family are said to be in a very troubled state of mind, and under the existing circumstances it is but natural they should be feeling a little rocky.

Both Philadelphia and New Orleans are in the throes of attempted municipal reform, but reformation is found to be an up-hill proceeding in both cities.

Secretary Taft seems to be still sitting on the lid of that Bowen-Loomis controversy, and is not letting much escape him.

The new banking bill does not go into effect until August, and that is just in time for the usual September business boom.

Keep your eye skinned for the next Sunday Telegram. It will be a number well worthy your careful consideration.

The Chicago strike, which was to have been settled several days ago, is very much like Texas weather for the past month—it remains unsettled.

Secretary Taft now seems to have left the president sitting on the lid after the determination to purchase Panama canal supplies abroad has been rescinded.

Denison seems to have already solved the problem of navigating Red river. The Annie P. seems to be a winner.

If these windstorms continue much longer in Texas some of our people may feel constrained to dig storm holes.

The boy who is raised on the street is generally elected to represent his county sooner or later in the state penitentiary.

If you are not a member of the Fort Worth Home Industry and Factory Club, why not?

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

It seems that in Texas lawmakers in charge at Austin fixed up several acts to suit themselves. When an act didn't go through just as they wanted it, they changed it to suit their ideas, and got it into the statutes that way, without its having passed the legislature at all.

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again," seems to have been the inspiration that served as the guiding star for members of the legislature who failed to get what they wanted in a legitimate manner. And they left their footprints behind them.

The Laredo Times says: "The blacksmith never ceases hammering until the iron is perfectly shaped. The same persistence might be successfully applied to many other vocations."

Except that of knocking. The man who gets out his hammer for the sole purpose of knocking some institution against which he has a grievance, should be set upon with a dull, sickening thud.

It is reported that Colonel W. J. Bryan is going to tour the world to study economic conditions elsewhere. This is well inasmuch as it will serve to keep Billy's mind occupied, and he won't get into more trouble any time soon.

Colonel Bryan has not the facility for getting himself into trouble as he has for making trouble for the Republican party. He is going abroad for the purpose of leading by bear.

Again we see The Fort Worth Telegram, a paper claiming to be for the masses handling the beef trust very gingerly, especially the Texas part.—Quann Observer.

The Observer must see through very dark glasses. The Telegram has printed more matter concerning the fight made on the beef trust than any other daily paper in Texas.

The president is considering the question as to whether he has a right to order an investigation of the insurance business. If he gives willing ear to all the petitions that are brought before him he will soon be engaged in the task of investigating family lies, as well as in the work of trust-busting.—San Antonio Express.

The whole country seems to be going mad on the subject of government investigation. Unless there is an early halt called we will soon have United States marshals investigating the continued precipitation that is injuring the crops of Texas.

President Roosevelt's declaration in Nebraska that he positively will not accept another nomination for the presidency ought to be accepted as "conclusive at least for a year" or two.—Corsicana Courier-Light.

The West Virginia democrats have nominated a young brother of Uncle Henry Gassaway Davis for congress. The young man is only 77 years of age.—Bonham Favorite.

But he is reported to be well developed for his age. There is a great deal in a young man's development.

The afternoon papers are coming to the front these days. Just at present their principal work seems to consist in contradicting all that the morning papers had to say, especially in regard to the war news.—Terrell Transcript.

The afternoon papers are the real newspapers. They print the news while it is news and leave ancient history to the morning papers and last year's almanacs.

Many Texas county seats, even in remote parts, have fine court houses, especially where there is building stone.—Sherman Democrat.

There are court houses in small west Texas towns that would be creditable to cities of 25,000 population. They were built in boom days, when every county seat expected to be the Chicago of the west.

Mullhall is sued for $20,000 because he was too quick with his six-shooter and it may be found that the best way to reach the pistol-toter is through his pocket-book.—Gainesville Messenger.

The infliction of the extreme penalty of the law upon every man who carries a six-shooter would soon put a very effective quietus upon the custom.

Proceedings to prevent a young couple from marrying, when they have made up their minds on the subject, seldom ever succeed. An injunction in such cases means the wasting of time and breath.—Tyler Courier.

When a young couple make up their minds that they are going to commit matrimony there is but one thing to do and that is to stand out of the way of the bridal procession.

Taft proposes two remedies for the necessary deficit: Either devise new methods of raising revenue, or revise the tariff. It is safe to say that the latter alternative will be tried last.—San Antonio Gazette.

The tariff question is one the republican party is in no hurry to tackle, from the fact that revision in the form of reduction is already being demanded by the people.

Indeed you have befriended me," she cried, "and I were an ungrateful creature not to be obliged to you. May I not know my preserver's name, so that my brother may express our thanks to you?"

"Caryl Franks, I am called, and if you will deign to accept my escort to where you wish, I am at your service."

"She thanked me prettily, and we proceeded to the street, but there we found the maid awaiting her mistress, pale and terrified."

"Mademoiselle rated her soundly for the cowardly desertion, then rather abruptly, it seemed to me, declined my further escort. "As for me, I debated whether or not I should get out of England with all possible dispatch, and so try and save my neck, or return to the prince and throw myself upon his mercy. The bolder course seemed the best, and I made my way upstairs again, sheepishly enough, to be quite truthful. I found his royal highness both conscious and wrathful, seated at the table before a glass of port. He gave me a scowl as I entered. "I hope your royal highness is quite recovered," I ventured recklessly.

"Fore Gad, no thanks to you if I am," he retorted. "What made you leave me? and who the devil struck me that coward's blow?"

"Heavens!" thought I, "he doesn't know 'twas me." I seized my chance, however, like a true soldier of fortune. I breathed hard and pretended to have just returned from violent effort of some sort. "God knows, sir," I gasped. "Your highness must forgive me for deserting you, but I tried to run the rascals down. Three men they were with masked faces, and they all but knifed you lay. They could run lick the devil, too, and slipped me in a maze of alleys. Thank God your highness is unhurt. I returned the instant I could, running all the way."

"He swallowed the lie without a question. "And the wench?" he demanded. "She vanished like a sprite, sir, where I can not say."

Julia Ward Howe, Author of the Stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic," Writes Her "Hymn of Peace"—Secured Exclusively for The N. E. A.

"From the empty sound of fame, From the heeds of robed world, From the popular acclaim On the Lord's sacred birthright world"

The New Hymn.

With echoes of a time long past, With images that never decay, With grief in mould of glory cast, Draws near our Decoration day.

Hushed be the hum of toil and thrift, Unheard the boast of ease and wealth; A distant music should uplift The pulse of man's diviner health.

Sound, Bugle, but no more to call The gathering legions to their task, Flowers bloom your brightest, though you fall Where sculptured stone a burial mask.

With noiseless footsteps on their come, With aspect solemn and severe As answering taps of muffled drum, The heroes of the Past appear.

Oh! silent Phalanx! did we heed The deathless message that you bring, Armed should we be for every need, Trained for great Duty's marshalling.

"We who our blooming manhood gave To keep our Country's promise true Salute you, from each warrior grave Our pledge of brotherhood renew."

"Never for empty sound of fame, Never for heeds of sordid gold, Never for popular acclaim Be the Land's sacred birthright sold."

"Be this the lesson of our fight, So plain that man may, reading, run: Rise ever up for human right, And rest in God when Right has won."

Battle Hymn of the Republic.

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord; He is tramping out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored; He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword; His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps; They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damp; I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps; His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel writ in burnish'd rows of steel; "As ye deal with my condemn'd, so with you my grace shall deal; Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel, Since God is marching on."

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat; He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment-seat; Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet! Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea, With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me; As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free, While God is marching on.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

Knee deep in the scarlet poppies, Waist high in the waving corn, At the edge of the silver streamlet They met by chance one morn. He was a Union soldier, In blue and buttons gay, And she was a Southern maiden In a slabby gown of gray.

She looked at his stalwart shoulders, And faced with his healthy tan, He looked at her cheeks of roses, And so the tale began. The poppies yet were sleeping, And who was to hinder, pray, If the blue clad soldier captured A kiss from the girl in gray?

Every night of duty He stole from the lines of blue, To meet her under the live oak In the moonlight and the dew, And lo! when the lugle sounded And the regiment marched away, He left a ring and a promise With the sweet little maid in gray.

After the war was over And the battle flags were furled, And the peaceful snow of the orchards Faded the weary world, He came again to the village In the heart of the fragrant May— The bells rang out for a bridal, And the blue was wed to the gray. —Leslie's Weekly.

LIFE OF KING PETER MENACED

Open Threats to Assassinate the Two-Year Ruler of Serbia and He Is Advised to Run for it—Bloodshed Feared on the Anniversary of the Killing of Alexander and Draga—The Masses Aroused Over Fate of Actress, Who Was Driven to Suicide by the King

Special to The Telegram.

BELGRADE, Serbia, May 27.—As the anniversary of the murder of King Alexander and Queen Draga, June 11, approaches, public clamor against the king's government and particularly against King Peter himself increases.

It is nothing uncommon now for the newspapers and politicians to call on the king to abdicate. When Peter appears on the streets it is to see the sullen faces of the subjects over whom he has ruled less than two years and to hear their murmurings and even ribald shouts. Bold characters in the streets discuss his assassination and the Belgrade newspaper, Pravda, has even predicted it in thinly veiled language by saying it fears that the anniversary of the Alexander-Draga murder "will not pass without bloodshed."

Another newspaper, the Narodni Tisty, in large type warns King Peter to leave the country if he wishes to save his life.

The Oppozitia compares his majesty to a tramp who was never meant to stay in one place.

Nearly every newspaper in Serbia denounces the king in more or less severe tones. Peter's unpopularity with the higher classes and the newspapers has been aggravated within the last two or three weeks by his vacillatory policy regarding a proposed government loan.

But the bitter resentment of the masses comes from a deeper cause. The crown prince, George, was much smitten with a popular actress. Fearing that his son would be the victim of another Draga and unable to break the prince of the attachment, it is charged that the king by a systematic course of persecution drove the young woman to suicide.

IMPORTANT DECISION IS HANDED DOWN

Special Assessment Made by Houston Council Not Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, Texas, May 30.—It has been a long time since the supreme court of Texas handed down an opinion of more far-reaching importance or general interest than was handed down last Thursday in the case of the city of Houston, appellant, against Radial E. Stewart, appellee, from Harris county.

The opinion of the court was in answer to questions certified from the court of civil appeals from the First supreme judicial district.

The record discloses that under the charter of the city of Houston, the city paved the streets upon which a portion of the Stewart property abutted, assessed this property under the front foot rule for its proportion of the cost of the improvement and collected such tax from the defendant's testator, then the owner of the property.

Acting under an amendment to the charter of the city of Houston, the city council passed an ordinance which provides in substance, the issuance of certificates to the owners of the property, reciting the amounts paid by them for the improvements of the streets in front of their property, also the amounts paid by them for the improvement of the streets in front of their property, citing the amounts paid by each in front of their property under the front foot rule and certifying that such property was entitled to a credit for the amount of said payments against the city of Houston, which might thereafter be levied upon it, but providing that only one-twentieth of such amount could be credited against the taxes levied for any one year.

Under this ordinance certificates were issued to the defendants for the pavements of the streets in front of their property, upon which a portion of the taxes claimed in this suit were alleged to be due.

It is interesting to note in this immediate connection, that these certificates refer to the charter amendment, and the ordinance under which they were issued. The certificates had coupons attached and recited that they could only be received in payment of taxes on the property described.

The appellant assailed these certificates on the ground that the amendment to the charter under which the ordinance was passed was unconstitutional.

The opinion of the court sets out in much detail, and in a most exhaustive way the grounds upon which this unconstitutional action was held, and answers the questions propounded by the court of civil appeals which, substantially stated, is, had the city council of Houston a right to raise the appellant's assessment, and to issue these refunding paving certificates.

The court held that the section of the charter referred to is not unconstitutional. The sum authorized to be refunded was not a debt if in the meaning of Art. 11, Sec. 5 and 7 of the constitution of the state. It did not grow out of any contract between the parties, but originated from the collection of assessment made by the city upon the property of the person to whom it was to be returned, and, for sound reason, the city was authorized by the state to return the sum.

The assessment made for street improvement was based on policy that was thereafter abandoned and the plan of improvement of the streets of the city by taxation adopted. It would be great injustice to property holders who had already paid for improvement of streets in front of their property, to subject them to taxation for a general system of improvements from which they could receive no benefit without restoring to them that which they had already paid to city for that purpose. It was within the power of the legislature to authorize the city to make an equitable adjustment of these matters so as to equalize the burden upon the property of its citizens.

It is objected that the section of the charter in question is unconstitutional, because it authorized the city to receive in payment of taxes certificates of indebtedness, whereas the constitution forbids that taxes should be paid in anything but money. Arts. 11 Sec. 4, which contains this language, "shall be collectible only in current money," applies only to cities of 10,000 population or less. There is no such provision in Sec. 5 of that article which regulates the subject of taxation in cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants. The city of Houston contains a population of more than 10,000, therefore the prohibitory clause relied upon does not apply to that city.

The charter provision and ordinance providing for adjustment of board of appraisers is not unconstitutional. The section of the charter referred to did not create a new office but conferred upon the aldermen, when selected, a power which might have been given to entire council. When appointed on board of equalization they continue to be aldermen and perform their work of equalization as aldermen of the city; there was no violation of this clause of Art. 15, Sec. 40, of the constitution, which says, "no person shall hold or exercise at the same time, more than one civil office of employment." There is no constitutional prohibition against conferring power upon any officer, except that the authority vested in the officer of one department of the government shall not be conferred upon those of another department; the facts do not bring this case within any prohibition of the constitution.

Every city in Texas of more than 10,000 inhabitants is intensely interested in the decision of the court since they have all inaugurated a system of street paving, to cover the expense of which paving certificates will be issued. The supreme court holds that these are valid, and that city councils are fully authorized to recognize them.

GEO. ANGELL'S OPINION OF MR. ROOSEVELT

President of Massachusetts Societly Wants the President Prosecuted

BOSTON, May 30.—George Angell, the venerable president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and editor of Our Dumb Animals, whose paper was ruled out of a Washington public school because of its criticisms of President Roosevelt's recent hunting trip, does not take back a word he said, and in an interview declared: "I consider President Roosevelt an educated bulldog, with the humane side of his make-up lacking. I have always opposed him holding the various important offices that he has held on the ground that some time he would get us into dangerous war, as, in my opinion, he got us into the Spanish war."

He would prosecute him to the full extent of the law, unless, as president, he should be exempt from prosecution.

"What a lead example President Roosevelt sets to the youth of our country by this hunting expedition," continued Mr. Angell. "He teaches them to believe that hunting and war and bloodshed are the chief things in life. The president has good qualities, but his humane education has been neglected."

"And yet I do not mean to say that Mr. Roosevelt is not a very capable man. With his humane side developed he would be one of the greatest presidents we have ever had."

"I bear no ill will at all against the superintendent of schools in Washington for forbidding the issue of my paper in the schools. All Washington is controlled by the government, and he was probably acting under orders from some one higher up, perhaps the president. But it does not bother me in the least."

DIDN'T SHOOT CAGED BEAR

WASHINGTON, May 30.—George Angell, of Boston, was wrong in accusing President Roosevelt of shooting a caged bear on his recent trip. All the bears shot were animals found in their native haunts by the president and his party.

At one town in Colorado the inhabitants planned a reception and parade in honor of the president's arrival. The parade was to have a bear in a cage at its head. As a grand climax to the affair, the bear was to be turned loose for the hunters.

This program was instantly frowned upon by the president when he heard of it, and no such made-to-order sport took place. This probably is the affair Mr. Angell mistakenly speaks about.

IMPORTANT DECISION IS HANDED DOWN

Special Assessment Made by Houston Council Not Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, Texas, May 30.—It has been a long time since the supreme court of Texas handed down an opinion of more far-reaching importance or general interest than was handed down last Thursday in the case of the city of Houston, appellant, against Radial E. Stewart, appellee, from Harris county.

The opinion of the court was in answer to questions certified from the court of civil appeals from the First supreme judicial district.

The record discloses that under the charter of the city of Houston, the city paved the streets upon which a portion of the Stewart property abutted, assessed this property under the front foot rule for its proportion of the cost of the improvement and collected such tax from the defendant's testator, then the owner of the property.

W. S. Price, carpenter of 701 West Weatherford streets, says: "Up to April, 1902, I had kidney complaint in a very advanced stage, which was characterized by continual pains across the small of my back and an unnatural condition of the kidney secretions. At that time I took a course of treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Weaver's drug store. They proved to be by far the best remedy I ever used for kidney ailments. I made the fact known through my Fort Worth papers that I derived great benefit from using Doan's Kidney Pills, and I know of more than one friend and acquaintance who has profited by my experience. It is a pleasure to endorse a preparation which so thoroughly fulfills the representations made for it, and which offers immunity from pain to a person who has suffered from excited or weakened kidneys. The test of a year's time has given me more confidence in 'them than before'."

Arrest Bridgroom on Complaint of Bride's Father That Girl's Age Was Misrepresented

Wille Green, a negro, was married and arrested Monday. Green secured a license by swearing that Ruth Nelson, whom he married, was 18 years old. The father of the woman appeared on the scene and swore in a warrant that his daughter was not yet 16.

FENCE PROPOSED FOR ROOSEVELT'S TREE

Offer of Protection for Elm on Carnegie Library Lawn Meets Objection—To Be Settled Tonight

Among other matters which will be brought up at the annual meeting of the directors of the Carnegie library this evening is that of the erection of a permanent fence about the small tree on the lawn, which was planted by President Roosevelt.

The committee which had charge of entertaining the president while he was in the city, reports that it has about $30 of the funds left over. It is the desire to donate this sum for an iron decorative fence for the tree.

The Texas Anchor Fence company has already constructed the fence, allowing a $50 one for $30. After the construction of the fence some objection was raised to its being put up and it has been retained by the Anchor Fence Company pending settlement of the matter, which will probably be reached tonight.

DEATHS

J. H. LUCKETT, aged 70 years, died at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence of his brother, A. P. Luckett, 929 Link street. Death was indirectly caused by a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Luckett was unmarried and was a native of Tennessee. He had lived in this city with his brother for the past ten years. In addition to the brother in this city, Mr. Luckett is survived by a brother, T. B. Luckett, of Clarksville, Tenn.; H. R. Luckett, of Bastrop, Texas; Henry Luckett of Toyah, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. L. Moore of Stanton, Va.

The body was taken to Austin, Texas, this morning for interment in the family burial ground.

Weak Stomach.

A weak stomach is most frequently caused by the overworked and exhausted nervous system. The power that runs the stomach is the nerve force sent to it from the brain through the nerves. When the nerves are weak or exhausted the supply of energy is insufficient and the action of the stomach is impaired, and results in imperfect digestion—dyspepsia.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine increases nerve force. It strengthens and builds up nerve tissue, gives vigor to the nerves and muscles of the stomach; this produces a healthy activity. Nervine allays the inflammation, heals the membranes, and makes the stomach strong and healthy. There is nothing that so quickly gives energy to the whole system as Restorative Nervine.

"I can't say enough for Dr. Miles' Nervine. I don't know what it will do for others, but it certainly cured me stomach trouble, and how I am as well as I ever was. Two physicians failed to relieve me, but in three or four days after taking Nervine I was much relieved. Four bottles made me a sound man, at the cost of $4.00." JAMES E. KATZ, Detroit, Mich. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

COTTON REDUCTION FOUND BY DEALER

Estimates Greatest Reduction in Central Texas—Conditions Bullish

A traveling representative of one of the leading cotton dealers in Fort Worth, who has just returned to the city from an extended trip, reports that it is his opinion the cotton reduction will be about 20 per cent, generally, but in the Haskell district he estimates that there will be a slight increase in the acreage over last season, due to the fact much new land is going into cotton.

He estimates that the greatest reduction will be in Central Texas, on account of the damage expected to follow the appearance of the boll weevil this year. His analysis from the Oklahoma country is to the effect that the reduction in that territory will be greatly reduced this year, but to what extent is not yet known and probably will not be until the government report is issued next month.

Planting, he says, is not nearly over in Texas and the territory, due to heavy and continuous rains. It is estimated that the crop will be from three to four weeks late, which will in the nature of things, make this season's crop a dangerous one extending into the frost period. It will depend largely on the condition of the weather from now on as to cotton results, and at this time it is mere conjecture as to what the outcome will be touching cotton, he says.

At this time, he continued, there is a decided bullish tendency everywhere. The prospects of the near end of the Japanese-Russian war, which will open up a new market in the Orient, a discussion in connection with the known decrease in acreage portends higher cotton.

The government acreage last year was 31,000,000, and it is now believed the acreage this season will be about 26,000,000. However, this is largely problematical and can only be definitely known when the end of the season is reached. The opinion is general, however, here that the acreage will be in the neighborhood of 28,000,000.

MODERN ART THE BEST

Application of Scientific Principles Discussed by J. W. Moran

J. W. Moran of Chicago lectured in the room of the Wednesday Club in the Carnegie library this morning on art subjects, devoting much of the time to a discussion of the application of scientific principles of art work, drawing the conclusion that as a result the tendency of modern art was in advance of the work of the early artists.

The lecture was largely attended, those present availing themselves of an opportunity to question the speaker freely. Following the lecture Mr. Moran paid a high compliment to those present and their appreciation of the arguments presented.

Another lecture will be delivered Wednesday on beginning of art, being followed by lectures on American and Dutch art on succeeding days.

It was announced this morning that all persons interested in the topics will be welcomed at the lectures.

POSTAL CLERKS NAME OFFICERS

Regular Meeting of Fort Worth Branch Held at Federal Building

At a meeting of the Railway Postal Clerks of Fort Worth, held Wednesday afternoon, in the federal building, officers were nominated and elected.

R. Bruce Crow was unanimously nominated and endorsed for division secretary of the Eleventh division. W. A. Farrell was re-elected president of Fort Worth branch, S. Matthews elected vice president and W. A. Letchworth branch secretary. J. A. Heartzell of Dallas was endorsed for delegate to the annual convention to be held in Cincinnati, Oct. 1 in September.

A committee of three will be selected to look to the entertainment features of Fort Worth branch together with the ladies' auxiliary.

An address was delivered at the meeting by Superintendent S. M. Gaines of the Eleventh division, railway mail service.

CLUB TOOK NO ACTION

Third Ward Organization Not Asking Opening of Street

As a correction of an announcement which appeared in The Telegram some weeks ago, the officers of the Third Ward Democratic Club announce that they appointed no committee to wait on City Engineer Hawley in regard to the opening of West Ninth street.

Citizens of the Third ward, however, have presented a petition to the city council asking that the street be opened. This petition has been referred to the streets and alleys committee of the council.

Washout Causes Delay

Washouts on the Rock Island near Paul's Valley, I. T., have thrown the schedule to this city from the morning just twenty-four hours behind. The train from the north, due here at 7:40 Monday night, will not arrive until that time tonight. As a result of this train No. 14, which is the return trip of the train mentioned, leaving here at 8:35 a. m., was annulled this morning.

Sloan Apartment Plans

Drawings for the Sloan apartment to be built on the southwest corner Seventh and Throckmorton streets, are being displayed in A. & L. PLANS READY FOR RAILROAD SHOPS

Announcement of Improvements in This City by Frisco Receive Confirmation

Blue prints have been prepared for the Frisco shops to be built in this city as announced exclusively in The Telegram of Wednesday, and active work on the improvements will no doubt commence. The shops are to be located in the southwest part of the city, where the yards are now established.

The Frisco formerly had machine shops in this city, but two years ago moved the machinery to Sherman, where it was installed in the shops there. The prediction was then made that the Frisco was making a mistake, and the present plans of the company to re-establish the shops here show that the company evidently realized that an error had been made.

Contingent extension of the Frisco to San Antonio from Brady has no doubt convinced the company that shops will be needed nearer to the center of the system than at Sherman, and the present move to locate them at Fort Worth is the result of this condition.

With a line running through from Denison to San Antonio there will be demand for enlarged shop and yardage facilities in this city, the most important point on the line between the two terminals.

The company has small shops already located in this city, but they are not of sufficient capacity to handle the business of the company in Texas, which is rapidly increasing. From an unofficial source it is learned that the Frisco will spend at least $100,000 in the new machine shops.

DEMAND FACTS

About What You Eat When it comes to food, demand to know the facts about what goes into your stomach.

Not only that it is pure but that you are not deceived in the description of its contents and condition. Some flaked breakfast foods that have thus far failed, are now being advertised in close imitation of the Grape-Nuts advertising, thinking in that way to finally make a success of the failure.

But false statements of the merits of human food will never on earth build up a business. These flaked foods are not pre-digested. They are not fully cooked and the starch in them is starch still and has not been turned to sugar as claimed.

Chemical analysis tells the truth and the analysis of the famous chemists of the world show Grape-Nuts the only prepared breakfast food in which the starch part of the wheat and barley is broken down into sugar and therefore ready for immediate digestion. Why is this true? All the thin rolled flake foods are made by soaking the grains of wheat or oats in water, then rolling, drying and packing. These operations do not cook or pre-digest the starch.

Contrasted with this pretense, observe the care, method and skill in making Grape-Nuts.

The barley is soaked about one hundred hours, then it is slowly warmed for some days and sprouted, the diastase being developed and part of the starch turned to sugar (and later on all of it), then the grains are baked and the sprouts stripped off. Then comes grinding, sifting and mixing with the cream colored flour, made from white and macaroni wheat. This mixture must be skillfully made in right proportions. This blended flour contains just the ingredients demanded by nature to rebuild the soft gray substance of the brain.

It certainly would not do to mix in drugs, for there is a certain failure sure to come to the person depending on drugs to digest food. They may be good for a temporary expedient, but pure food and digestible food is the only final resort and safe way. So to change the remaining starch part and prepare the other elements in this blended flour it is made up into massive loaves like bread, the inside being dark cream color and quite sticky to the touch. These loaves are sliced and again go through long cooking at certain temperatures. Then the rock-hard slices are each one carefully inspected and ground ready for packing and use, having gone through 10 or 12 hours in the different operations.

When finished, each little granule will show a sparkling substance on its surface. A magnifying glass will bring out the granules and devoting pieces of pure dextrose sugar, not put on "or poured over" (as the head of a large Sanitarium once stated in his paper, thus exposing his appalling ignorance of food processes) but this sugar exudes from the interior of each as the starch is slowly turned to sugar in the process of manufacture. This kind of sugar is exactly like what is found in the human intestines, provided the starch of the grains, potatoes, bread, rice, cake, etc., has been perfectly digested. But many are weak in the form of digestion and yet need the starches, so Grape-Nuts supplies them pre-digested and ready to go quickly into the blood.

Visitors are shown freely through the works and can follow the steps of making Grape-Nuts from the grain to the finished product. The proportions of different kinds of flour, and the temperatures are not disclosed and it seems impossible for others to steal these secrets of the makers. But we are in every corner of the immense pure food factories. People who care for results from choicely selected food, those who want the food to rebuild the soft gray substance in brain and nerves, let us give the go, the vigor, the life, will understand why the imitators who try to copy the announcements about Grape-Nuts have failed in the past.

There's a reason for Grape-Nuts and a profound one.

If sick get well by eating BITTER NUT BREAD, and if well stay so by eating BITTER NUT BREAD.

Must Come.

As inevitable as the changing seasons of the year is the change which comes to every woman. And just as one anticipates the change of other seasons it is wise to anticipate this change of season and prepare for it. In this way the discomforts and disasters suffered by many women at the period of change can be avoided or overcome.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine for every season of woman's life, will entirely meet the needs of women at this period of change. It cures the physical changes of life, relieves anxiety and depression usually associated with this critical period. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces refreshing sleep.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

J. S. Carlisle, Esq., of Manchester, Collier Co. Tenn., writes: "I have been using your medicine for the last sixteen or eighteen years in my private practice. I am superintendent of the Coffee County Poor-house and Asylum, and your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' are the best medicines for the diseases for which they are recommended, that I ever used. They saved my wife's life at the time of 'change of life.' I have been recommending your medicine to many afflicted women and have also guaranteed that if it did not cure I would pay back the money for it. I have told our druggists that if the people came back and said 'Pierce's medicines did not give satisfaction, I will give them $500.' I have never found anything to equal 'Pierce's Prescription' for diseases of women."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 21 cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE TEACHER'S FOE

A LIFE ALWAYS THREATENED BY NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

One Who Broke Down from Six Years of Overwork Tells How She Escaped Misery of Enforced Idleness.

"I had been teaching in the city schools steadily for six years," said Miss James, whose recent return to the work from which she was driven by nervous collapse has attracted attention. "They were greatly overcrowded, especially in the primary department of which I had charge, and I had been doing the work of two teachers. The strain was too much for my nerves and two years ago the crisis came."

"I was prostrated mentally and physically, sent in my resignation and never expected to be able to resume work. It seemed to me then that I was the most miserable woman on earth. I was tortured by nervous headaches, worn out by inability to sleep, and had so little blood that I was as white as chalk."

"After my active life, it was hard to bear idleness, and terribly discouraging to keep paying out the savings of years for medicines which did me no good."

"How did you get back your health?"

"A bare chance and a lot of faith led me to a cure. After I had suffered for many months, and when I was on the very verge of despair, I happened to read an account of some cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The statements were so convincing that I would help me. Most people, I think, buy only one box for a trial, but I purchased six boxes at once, and when I had used them up, I was indeed well and had no need of more medicine."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enriched my thin blood, gave me back my sleep, restored my appetite, gave me strength to walk long distances without fatigue, in fact freed me from all my numerous ailments. I have already taught for several months, and I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Miss Margaret M. James is now living at No. 123 Clay street, Dayton, Ohio. Many of her fellow teachers have also used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are enthusiastic about their merits. Good digestion, strength, ambition, and full spirits quickly follow their use, and are sold in every drug store in the world.

GIRL SAVES CITY A LOSS

Quickly Withdrew Canton Funds Just Before Bank Falls

CANTON, O., May 30.—Miss Florence Bidwell, 18 years old, daughter of the city treasurer, and in charge of that office during the illness of her father, saved $30,000 for the city by her quick wit Wednesday. She was informed that the Canton State Bank was in trouble. Quietly going over to the bank she asked for all the available cash on hand. She was given $30,000, and a clerk helped carry it to city hall. Twenty minutes later the bank closed. The story came out when the money was presented for deposit in another bank.

Church Feast Observance

Observance of the Rogation days preceding Ascension Day Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday being also observed as fast days in the Episcopal church. Holy communion will be celebrated at St. Andrew's parish Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.
