Ministers, Doctors and Temperance Workers

Use and Recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the Only Effective Cure for Lung, Stomach and Nervous Diseases

"I THANK GOD THERE IS SUCH A MEDICINE," WRITES REV. DR. McLEOD, an active minister for 50 years. "For more than 40 years I had been afflicted with dyspepsia and nervous prostration. At times I was so run down I could not attend to my ministerial duties. Could neither eat nor sleep. I began taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It gave me strength, helped my digestion, settled my nerves, and I gained 10 pounds in one month. I recommend those who are weak, broken down, nervous, to take 'Duffy's'." Greenleaf, Mich., January 22, 1904.

DR. BOWNE PRESCRIBED "DUFFY'S" 25 YEARS. "I have found that in pneumonia, grip and other exhausting diseases my patients never fail to respond favorably to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Taken as directed it is found to relieve and permanently cure consumption." Dr. E. H. Bowne, Kingston, N. J., Aug. 3, 1894.

MR. THOMAS MORAN TEMPERANCE WORKER, SAYS:—"I have lived in Rochester, N. Y., for almost 70 years and people know I am a strict temperance man, but I unhesitatingly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for the great good it did me during my illness. Two months ago I was so weak from bronchitis I could not raise my head. I had a low fever and all the symptoms of a relapse. The doctor ordered my whiskey, and I would not be living today but for its use. It made me strong, vigorous—better than I have been in years." July 26, 1904.

For over half a century men and women prominent in the affairs of the nation have been using and endorsing Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the one certain cure and preventive of disease. The opinions of a few of them are published in a booklet which we mail anyone free on request.

JOHNSON GRASS WON

Fought Strange Underground Battle With Potato

Proof of a strange underground battle between a Johnson grass root and an Irish potato has been sent to The Telegram by C. W. Wilson of Kennedale. The Johnson grass and the potato stalk grew side by side, but after one of the potatoes on the roots of the latter plant had attained the size of a large walnut, the Johnson grass root decided to spread. The potato was directly in the grass root's path, and the latter tried to push it out of the road. Failing in this, instead of going around the obstruction, as most roots would have done, the Johnson grass root acquired a blunt point and pushed its way directly through the tuber. The specimen sent by Mr. Wilson shows the root completely through the potato, which naturally stopped growing after being so effectively transfixed.

"You can just make up your mind that no endearment has ever been so good," declared the handsome young thing. "I know just how to handle them."

The party will travel in two special Pullmans, arriving at Colorado Springs July 12, via the Rock Island, at which point they will remain for two months. A side trip will be made to Portland, Ore., via Salt Lake City, Ogden and San Francisco, from which place the remainder of the trip will be made by water, spending six days going and returning on the Pacific ocean.

Announcement has been made that a contract for the construction of the tunnels through the Sierra Nevada mountains has been let by the Southern Pacific company, and that work on them will soon begin. There are to be five tunnels in all, and the main one will be five miles long.

The contract calls for the expenditure of over $25,000,000.

MOTHERS! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marbling of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty is but a shadow. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful to its subjects than the bearing of a child than any other natural function.

is essential in the proper management of every case of labor; it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo, and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.

It is a liniment, it is harmless, it is potent, it is priceless in its results, it is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Our back of priceless value sent free to all women.

ROADS BUILDING INTO COAL FIELDS

Cisco Veins to Be Reached by Three Spurs—Other Railroad News

Newly developed coal fields near Cisco, in Eastland county, have incited interest by three railroads that are very anxious to build to them without unnecessary delay. These roads are the Texas and Pacific, the Texas Central and the Frisco, and already these companies have looked over the field with a view to building spurs to the mines which are being developed by Messrs. Frank Kaiser and J. A. Van Doren of Fort Worth.

The coal vein is the largest in the state, reaching fifty-four inches and the quality of coal the very best. These gentlemen have just opened up the mines which are located about three miles from Cisco and thus far the quality of coal uncovered has proved to be good.

The mines are down 300 feet with a perfect wall and roof affording excellent facilities for satisfactory operation. A large force of miners is at work, but Messrs. Kaiser and Van Doren are now preparing to increase the working force about double the present number.

SANTA FE PLANS

Road to Have Double Trans-Continental Line

F. M. Murphy, president of the Santa Fe, recently has made the statement that the Santa Fe will have a double transcontinental line from Chicago to Los Angeles within the next three years, and that the Helen cut-off now being constructed, will form a part of that double line. It is said that the tracks will parallel each other, and where mileage can be saved cut-offs will be used. By the end of the present year the Santa Fe will have more than 300 miles of double track in active operation. Second tracks are now being built as follows: To finish the gap between Joliet and Chicago, between several points in Missouri, several points in Missouri, aggregating forty miles; to complete the Emporia cut-off, east, west and south of Newton, Kan., and on both sides of Raton mountains in Colorado and New Mexico.

H. & T. C. Expects to Reduce Running Time

Work of laying eighty-pound steel on the Fort Worth division of the Houston and Texas Central is being rapidly pushed and in a short time the running time will be related and put in first-class condition. There is only about fifteen miles more to be replaced below Waxahatchie.

When completed the Central will have its entire line of 274 miles laid with eighty-pound steel. It is the intention of the company to reduce the running time between Fort Worth and Houston when the line has been put in shape. Local Passenger Agent Ed Pennington says that it is not expected that the new schedule being maintained by the New York Central and Lake Shore will be made by the Central, but the running time will be greatly reduced.

WHO PAYS EQUITABLE CO.'S WAR EXPENSES?

Looks Like the Bill Is Up to the Policy Holders

NEW YORK, June 20.—Out of the dust and fuss and racket of the Equitable insurance row there comes a still, small, but penetrating and convincing report that the policy holders are to foot the bill.

While the giants were struggling, on-lookers, including the policy holders, were so interested that thought of the bill of costs never entered their minds. Seeing

In the country and executing expensive maneuvers to win the war, the speculators a little envious that they had not similar resources to bring to bear in their contests.

The appointment of the three trustees to have supreme authority seems to have brought the row to an end. Now it is stated that the expenses of the fighters are to be charged to the society, which means the policy holders. Estimates of the amount of the war fund, or indemnity, or whatever it may be called, all hover around the $1,000,000 mark.

There is another item of $1,000,000 or more that is to be charged up to the policy holders. It is the money paid by Ryan and his associates to Hyde for control of the Equitable stock. The par value of that stock is $20,000. Its market value is $100,000. Dividends on the stock are limited to 7 per cent per year.

Estimates of the amount paid by Ryan and his friends for the stock vary from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. Nobody has said less than a million. Now the financiers are wondering how Ryan et al. are to get their money back. They cannot realize it from the stock. They cannot manipulate the funds of the society to their own advantage and secure reimbursement in that way. There isn't anybody harboring the suspicion that Ryan et al. have as philanthropists, donated this money to rescue the policy holders from Hyde. Not they. Not by a long shot nor a jugful.

Yet they are to be reimbursed. How? Easy. By charging the purchase price up to the policy holders. Two avenues to this end are under consideration. One contemplates action by the legislature authorizing Ryan et al. to dig the amount of the purchase out of the big surplus fund of the Equitable. The other provides for an assessment on the 600,000 Equitable policy holders. One of these plans will be carried through. Either will be satisfactory to Mr. Ryan and his associates.

FEED YOUNG GIRLS

Must Have Right Food While Growing

Parents should be taken at the critical period when the young girl is just merging into womanhood that the diet shall contain all that is upbuilding, and nothing harmful.

At that age the structure is being formed and if formed of a healthy, sturdy character, health and happiness will follow; on the other hand unhealthy cells may be built in and a sick condition slowly supervene which, if not checked, may ripen into a chronic disease and cause life-long suffering.

A young lady says:

"Coffee began to have such an effect on my stomach a few years ago, that I was compelled to quit using it. It brought on headaches, pains in my muscles, and nervousness.

"I tried to use tea in its stead, but found its effects even worse than those I suffered from coffee. Then for a long time I drank milk alone at my meals, but it never helped me physically, and at last it failed on me. A friend came to the rescue with the suggestion that I try Postum Coffee.

"I did so, only to find at first, that I didn't fancy it. But I had heard of so many persons who had been benefited by its use that I persevered, and when I had it brewed right found it grateful in flavor and soothing and strengthening to my stomach. I can find no words to express my feeling of what I owe to Postum Food Coffee!"

"In every respect it has worked a wonderful improvement—the headaches, nervousness, the pains in my side and back, all the distressing symptoms yielded to the magic power of Postum. My brain seems also to share in the betterment of my physical condition; it seems keener, more alert and brighter. I am, in short, in better health now than I ever was before, and I am sure I owe it to the use of your Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

TOUR OF TEXAS IS PLANNED FOR ELKS

Five Specials Will Be Placed at Disposal of Coming National Delegates

A. M. Hall, traveling passenger agent for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, was in the city Monday visiting various people in an effort to interest them in assisting Dallas to secure the 1908 grand lodge convention of the Elks, which will meet this year at Buffalo, N. Y., July 11 to 12.

Mr. Hall says that the plan is to send a large and representative delegation to Buffalo. The principal inducement to offer for the national meeting for Texas is a free trip over the entire state, the arrangements for which have already been completed. The trip will require five full trains of from eight to nine coaches each. There will be approximately about 2,500 or 3,000 Elks who will visit the state.

The trip will start from Dallas and will end at Fort Worth, where the party will disband and leave for their respective homes. The arrangements for this

TOWN CELEBRATES A HERO'S MARTYRDOM

Captured After Hot Fight, Col. Wm. Crawford Was Tortured to Death

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio, June 20.—An Indian story, blood-curdling as any that ever thrilled the juvenile reader of yellowbacks, and real as anything in history, forms the basis of an annual June celebration in this city.

Colonel William Crawford was the hero. He was a Virginian, a friend and associate of Washington. He engaged in surveying with Washington and served with him in Braddock's expedition against Fort Duquesne. He was a leading figure in the Pontiac Indian war.

In the revolution Crawford was colonel of the Fifth Virginia regiment. He took part in the battle of Long Island, crossed the Delaware through the ice with Washington, and served in the battle of Princeton.

In 1782, although he had resigned from the army, Colonel Crawford complied with the request of Washington that he lead a military force against the Indians that were devastating the western frontier. His services were especially desired because of his experience in Indian fighting and his qualities as a commander developed in the revolution.

Men, women and children had been tortured and murdered, and the settlers were in a panic. Colonel Crawford's force was organized in Pennsylvania. In March they set out for Indian Town, afterward the site of Upper Sandusky. Their orders were to make the march of 150 miles quickly as possible and to destroy Indian Town. Wyandottos and Logawans were the foes pitted against Crawford's men. The latter were on horseback.

During the march scouts were thrown out and vigilant watch maintained, but there was no clash. On June 4 the force beat the prisoner with rods and flogging, and threw the bloody scalp in his face.

Crawford at last fell to the ground insensible. Then the awful ceremony was completed by the burning of his body.

Dr. Knight witnessed the death of Crawford, and was to have met a like fate the next day, but succeeded in making his escape.

A county was named in Crawford's honor when Ohio was organized as a state. Exercises are held yearly to commemorate his services and terrible sacrifice for his country.

Corla Labatt, Katie Lackey, Frances Yester, Negro primary, two years—Miss C. V. Butler.

Of those receiving certificates twelve are already teachers in the schools and thirteen are of the normal class, taught by the teachers from February to the end of the session.

had penetrated the chief settlement of the Wyandottos, only three miles from Indian Town. Still there was no sign of the hostiles. On the following day Colonel Crawford and his men were suddenly surrounded by the Indians. The historic battle of Battle Island was fought.

The whites cut their way through the ranks of the Indians, but in doing so became scattered. When the main body of the survivors reached Indian Town they found that Colonel Crawford, Dr. Knight and one of the guides were missing.

Crawford and Knight were in the hands of the Indians. They were doomed to death with torture the most horrible that could be conceived by savage minds. For four days they were paraded, targets for taunts and blows.

Finally Colonel Crawford's execution was decided upon. Indians from all the country round assembled to participate in the event. Simon Girty, a white man living with the Indians, and a former friend of Crawford's was there. He had great influence with the Indians, his work might have saved Crawford, but he refused to intercede.

Death by fire was sentence. A post was erected, and near it flames were kindled. Colonel Crawford was stripped naked and his hands tied behind his back. To these cords a rope perhaps six feet long was attached, and the other end was tied to the post. With the preliminaries settled, squaws began the torture

In Miserable Condition For Years.

Hon. John A. Heilman, 8388 Flora Ave., Kansas City, Mo., City Assessor for twenty-two years, writes:

"I am very grateful for what Pe-ru-na has done for me. My health was run down and broken, the result of kidney and bladder trouble. I was in a miserable condition for a good many years. Pe-ru-na was recommended to me and after using it a few days I began to improve, and kept on improving until I was finally well again. It is a blessing to have good health."

BOTH the kidneys and bladder are subject to catarrh. Catarrh of the kidneys results in a derangement of these very important organs, poisoning the system with retained acids and excretory products. Catarrh of the kidneys very soon produces catarrh of the bladder. The urine becomes highly acid and irritates the mucous lining of the bladder until it produces that condition known as 'cystitis,' in other words, catarrh of the bladder.

These cases are very promptly and permanently cured by the use of Pe-ru-na. Pe-ru-na cures catarrh wherever located, whether in the kidneys, bladder or any other organ.

Should you be in need of special instructions regarding the treatment of your case, write at once to Dr. J. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, and your letter will receive a confidential and prompt reply.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, Boston, Mass., says: "Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck, and shoulders, discharging matter of such offensiveness to sight and smell, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.

Complete Treatment for Every Humour from Pimples to Scrofula

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single act is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disgusting skin, scalp, and blood humours, with loss of hair, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors, Boston. Send for "How to Cure Every Humour."

GET COUNCIL THIS AFTERNOON SESSION

Bond Interest Allowance Requires Special Meeting Today—Funds Secured

For the purpose of allowing payment for July bond interest a meeting of the city council will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Interest to the amount of $21,370 will be paid. In order to pay this money it has been necessary for the council to borrow $17,000 from the New York Securities and Trust, negotiations having been conducted Monday by telegraph. The money is to be loaned for six months at 6 per cent, the trust company to hold the bond coupons as security. City Auditor Nunnally in speaking of the matter this morning said that the city's interest fund is in a much better condition this year than in 1904. On April 1, 1905, there was $4,000 in the interest fund, while at the same time in 1904 there was an overdraft on the fund of $44,000. It was necessary last year for the council to borrow money for the payment of July, August, September and October interest, while this year, according to the statements of the city assessor, loans for July and August alone will be sufficient, as after that the city will have sufficient funds without borrowing. In 1906 it is estimated no loan will be required.

OFFICER SHOTS NEGRO

Bullet Traverses Forearm Without Striking Bones

Shortly after midnight Monday, John Armstrong, a negro, was shot through the left arm by Patrol Driver Taggart. The bullet entered near the thumb, traversed the arm along the bone and came out above the elbow. The injured man was taken to police headquarters, where the city physician dressed the arm. Statements made by Patrol Driver Taggart, who shot the man, are to the effect that the negro was raising a disturbance on Jennings avenue, near the postoffice. On being warned the officer alleges the negro struck him with an umbrella and then grabbed his pistol. Taggart then shot with the foregoing result. A charge of drunkenness was preferred against the negro.

CAN LOU DILLON GO A MILE IN 1:55?

President of Chicago Driving Club Predicts New Record Before Season Ends

CHICAGO, June 20.—Whispering, as if he feared some one would hear him, Fred G. Hartwell, president of the Gentlemen's Driving Club of Chicago, sat in his office in the Fisher building and declared that Lou Dillon, the trotting champion, would lower the world's record to 1:55 before she retired from the turf. "Bud Doble, who drove her all winter in California, actually cried when the little mare was shipped away," said Mr. Hartwell. "He begged Mr. Billings to leave her there, promising to drive her a mile in 1:55 before October. Doble has driven some of the greatest horses the world has ever known, but he said he never held the reins of anything that could go like Lou Dillon. He has already sent her along this year in 2:11. "When he got down from her sulky the first day she was out on the track, tears filled his eyes. He said he hated to see her go away. Doble fell in love with the little queen and begged Mr. Billings to leave her in his care for the summer. If anything was to happen to Lou Mr. Doble would be one of the mourners. There is no question but what she will be sent against her record of 1:58 1/2, made at Memphis Oct. 24, 1903. She will be matined shortly. I think by July 4 you will hear from her." Mr. Hartwell said that word had been received from Doc Tanner at Cleveland to the effect that Lou was doing well and had been given five miles' work. She is being sent right along in her training.

The Evolution of Range Cattle Was Slow Process in Texas

By WILLIAM KUYKENDALL, Tilden, Texas

A quarter of a century ago the question of grading up our native range herds by the use of sires of the improved beef breeds began to agitate the minds of the Texas cattlemen. The benefits to accrue from this innovation were rather regarded as theories more than as demonstrable facts. Since the capacity of our ranges to sustain a class of high-grade cattle was practically untried, the majority of those identified with the cattle business were incredulous as to the advisability of introducing blue blood into our range herds, insisting that it would destroy their rustling qualities and render them totally unsuitable to meet prevailing range conditions.

A few, however, of greater faith in the sustaining qualities of our succulent grasses and impressed by the urgent necessity of producing a better grade of beef cattle began, in a limited way, to introduce improved blood into their herds, by the importation of northern-bred sires, from time to time, thus, in the course of events demonstrating that a high class of beef cattle could be produced upon ranges.

These early pioneers in the matter of improving our native range herds were frequently confronted by many discouraging conditions, chief of which was not in the acclimatization of northern bred animals, as little was known at that period in regard to the nature of splenic fever, known as Texas fever, which was frequently sustained from this cause. Aside from these financial discouragements the prejudice, the most wide margin evidence by these reports between the selling prices of the well-bred steer and the inferior sorts surly convince the most incredulous.

It is a mooted question how many cross of pure blood may be safely taken upon native cattle without impairing their range qualities. I confess that I am unable to answer this question. I have myself used no scrub sires since 1879, and have for the past twenty years used only registered Short-horn sires. As yet I note no unfavorable development in my small herd. Three or four crosses on the native cow by good Short-horn bulls produce a very desirable beef animal, possessing in a marked degree the valuable characteristics of the pure breed.

Though myself partial to the Short-horn, I am not so purblind as not to freely admit the many excellent beef qualities of both the Hereford and Polled Angus. He who pins his faith to either of these well tried breeds, and uses ordinary intelligence in the management of his herd, will surely receive a satisfactory reward for his enterprise.

SOCIETY GAMBLERS TO BE DRIVEN OUT

Local Officials Will Investigate Condition at French Lick, Ind.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 20.—While Governor Hanly has made no announcement of his purpose to take action as to complaints of gambling at Tom Tisgart's French Lick resort, and may have some doubt of his powers in the premises, it is known that he intends to call the local officers in consultation, and see what can be done.

There never has been any question regarding the openness with which gambling is conducted at French Lick, and even the management does not deny that a man may get any kind of a game there he wants, and may play to any limit he may please, but they say that the French Lick Hotel Company does not have any part in the games, does not receive a percentage, but merely gets a rental for the rooms in which the gambling is conducted.

For the present, at least, the governor's efforts will be directed to securing from the officers of Orange county a promise to investigate and call the attention of the grand jury to violations of the law, if the facts are as alleged, and if this does not bring results he may try some other plan.

BISHOP CALLS SOCIETY WOMEN "IDLE PESTS"

Urges Members of Graduating Class to Earn Their Own Livings

NEW YORK, June 20.—Society women are discussing with interest the remarks of Right Rev. M. J. O'Connor, Roman Catholic bishop of New Jersey, made in the course of a baccalaureate sermon delivered at the forty-fifth commencement exercises of St. Elizabeth's female college at Madison, N. J. The bishop, after a general discussion of the use of modern education of women, said: "If I were asked to give advice as to the most important step in your preparation for the arduous and exacting duties of life, I would say, first, that every woman, no matter what her wealth or position in society, should at least for a time become self-supporting in some field of modern usefulness, should make her own living independently, at least for a time.

"If I were asked to suggest a field, I should point to teaching as the noblest profession and that in which she may be of most use to humanity, but in the broad fields of activity now fortunately open to women there are many ways in which she may become self-supporting, and at the same time fit herself more perfectly for the highest and noblest of all duties, the woman's true sphere—the home.

"Above all things, I would warn you against becoming that greatest of modern pests, the idle society woman, who devotes her time to the performance of what she calls social duties or following after social pleasures."

Open Range Not Conducive to Cattle Improvement

By FRANK NUSOM, Charco, Texas

The open range has never been conducive to the improvement of cattle. Owing to the system of indiscriminate rounding up, driving and branding, commonly practiced at that time in the history of the industry in the southwest, there was no inducement to herd owners to make any effort to improve their herds, either by selection or the introduction of new blood. However, in the early 70s conditions arose which threatened ruin to the business as carried on at that time and some of our progressive cattle raisers, realizing that the days of free range were numbered and believing that in order to continue in the business they would be compelled to own their range so as to better control and protect their interests, began to buy up land, the introduction of wire for fencing purposes making it practicable to fence their lands at a cost that was not prohibitive. Soon others followed and before many years had elapsed there was no open range in southwest Texas and the whole system of handling cattle was changed with great benefit to the country at large. From this time dates the improvement of cattle in southwest Texas. For a number of years the grading process was very slow, owing to the fact that material for that purpose was not always available and when available was very often not desirable, Texas having about that time become a dumping ground for inferior cattle from the northern states. Our people as a rule knew nothing of improved cattle and were victimized to an alarming extent, and anything with a small, slender neck, and whether red, blue, black or brindle, was called a Short-horn and in many instances sold as a pure-bred. Fortunately, however, for the stock interest a few meritorious Short-horn bulls were brought in and distributed throughout the country, and wherever these survived the fever they accomplished wonders in the improvement of the native cattle of the country in that immediate vicinity, their increase being largely sold to neighboring ranches, and while the improvement from these sources was not so great still it was very considerable and contributed in no small degree to overcome the evil effects of the introduction of so many delicate, inferior cattle, which, if they were so fortunate as to survive the fever would perhaps linger for a year or two and finally succumb to the great detriment of the Short-horn breed and to the industry at large, as the cry was soon raised that even the first cross from the improved breeds would not live and thrive on grass alone. This opinion largely prevailed for many years, and still prevails to a limited extent; this more than any other influence has been the great deterrent factor in the general improvement of the range cattle of Texas. A few, however, have never lost faith and have pressed forward from the first, using every available means for the improvement of their herds and have attained very satisfactory results. I cite a case in point: A little herd of Short-horn cows, which started many years ago from native Texas cows. The foundation was well laid by the use of a Short-horn bull of good quality. These cattle have had one cross of Devon blood—about eight years ago he fed his crop of steers the winter after they were 1 year old, these were shipped the next spring as 2 year olds, some of them being short, and weighed 920 pounds in Chicago. A few days ago I had the pleasure of seeing account sales of nine cows out of this herd, shipped off grass to Fort Worth to fill out a car of steers. Four of these were 3-year-old heifers and yet the nine head averaged over 1,000 pounds in Fort Worth. Does anyone need a better argument than this to prove that we can raise good cattle in Texas? I think not. For a number of years the Short-horn was the only improved breed to be found in southwest Texas and was an almost universal favorite. Finally, a few Devons and Herefords were introduced. The Devons as a general rule were discarded principally on account of their small size, although their hardiness and general adaptability to range conditions was generally recognized. The Herefords, although larger and equally as well adapted to range conditions, did not meet with much greater favor for a long time, being so dissimilar in their general makeup to the Short-horn, with which all were acquainted, and which was generally adopted as the standard by which to judge all other brands. A few of them, however, were finally sold and scattered through the country and wherever placed the result proved so satisfactory, their rustling qualities were so great, their adaptability to any and all conditions and their value as herd improvers has been so marked that they have gradually fought their way into general favor and now bid fair to take premier position among the best breeds of the country in a few years.

Our Texas Cattle Are Not What They Should Be

By J. D. WULFJEN, Colorado, Texas

As you requested an article on improvement of our cattle, will say that it looks almost useless to say anything more about improving our live stock interest in Texas after so much has been said on the subject. But the facts in the case are that nearly all our cattle show improvement, yet we still have thousands of cattle all over our country that are not what they should be, while many of our breeders took time by the fence and went to work in earnest to raise the grade of their cattle to a higher plane, and did so by using the best bulls in their herds that they they could get, while a great many were content with only ordinary grade males and of course the results were disappointing as a rule; while others selected altogether on color and to some extent missed their expectations, as color don't weigh. While I like a good color, it is only one of the marks of good breeding. To improve a herd one should use that class of cattle that will meet the demands of the feeder, who is looking for an early maturing, well-developed, deep color bullock, let him be a Durham, Hereford or Black Muley, just so they are a fine specimen of their breed, and are always willing to pay for them, and to let the other man feed out the lower class of cattle. Now, my idea is for each breeder to be sure that he has his males well bred and developed, if he does cost a few dollars more, for he is half of the herd when it comes to raising the grade of the cattle and when the grade is raised the value is also raised in the same ratio. And as it costs no more to raise and provide for the better class of cattle that will mature one or two years earlier, it certainly would be a great saving to the producer, as he would get a better price much sooner, and thereby be enabled to carry more stock on his range than he could expect for a longer period of time for maturing, leaving out the pleasure of looking at a fine bunch of cattle as they come around the feed box with their majestic appearance. Now, my advice to all breeders who have not already done so, is not to be content with just as good bulls, but get the best, by going to some good breeder that raises the best and cares for them in a way to develop and bring out their best qualities, which will show itself under reasonable conditions. Texas has now got her grass lands too high to raise cheap cattle on; that has passed. Just as sure as the railroad has supplanted the old ox teams, and took charge of the freight business and sent the old ox to the slaughter house, as conditions change and new methods come in use we have to adopt them in the cattle industry just as in all other things, and to try raising a low type of cattle on Texas soil now at the present price of land and water, is just about as big a failure as it would be for me to put an old horse car on the track and ask you to ride on it over the city of Fort Worth, while the electric car goes whizzing by, at a high rate of speed. Now, I only have this suggestion to make with regard to grading up our cattle, and that is for each breeder to be sure to get better males next time, and change them every three years, and be sure that the next change is and better, and don't mix your Durham, Hereford and Black Muley together, for in my judgment there is nothing gained by mixing up the different breeds of cattle. Remember the old adage, stick to your bush if you want mellow persimmons or in will get your eating apparatus set for whistling.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality. Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion. It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs. Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine. "During the past winter I had two attacks of 'L' which left me very weak, and in bad condition. I was so nervous I could not sleep. My wife, after trying different remedies, sent for a doctor. The doctor was out, and a neighbor recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and she brought home a bottle. I had not slept for some time and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nervine the pain was not so severe, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved. HENRY M. SMITH, Underhill, Vt. Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. First Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

MINISTER LOOMIS ACQUITTED
WASHINGTON, June 20.—It can be stated on official authority the Loomis-Bowen case has not only been settled finally so far as the administration is concerned, but settled in favor of Mr. Loomis. The charges against Mr. Loomis for which Minister Bowen practically stood sponsor are declared to be without sufficient foundation, in fact not to be worthy of further consideration. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea is simply liquid electricity. It is a part of your body, bringing new blood, strength and new vigor. It makes you well and keeps you well. J. P. Brashear.

BARGAIN CARNIVAL Lasts 10 Days

Burton-Peel Dry Goods Co.

MID-SUMMER CARNIVAL SALE!

Stronger Attractions Daily

The true test of a sale is not the beginning, with its attendant excitement and enthusiasm, but the days following, when merit reaps its reward. When the truth of the announcements is borne out by experience; when the merchandise finds its way into the homes of the people and induces others to come and seek bargains as good. The steady, unabated trading at a store is the true test, and if we may judge by today's sale, this Midsummer Carnival Sale has been a grand success, without a parallel. Tomorrow's attractions fully sustain what the past has led you to expect.

HE RAISES QUEEN BEES BY ARTIFICIAL MEANS

Ohio Man Improves on Nature and Makes Money From Novel Industry

BY A. S. NEALE.

BELLEUE, Ohio, June 20.—Beating Dame Nature at her own game is a little trick H. M. Quirin, a Bellevue, Ohio, bee keeper, has turned on the old lady in the matter of rearing queen bees. He has not only been able to duplicate the natural methods, but to do so on an immensely increased scale. Mr. Quirin is the only man who is known to be successfully hatching out queen bees by artificial methods. There are no kings in bee land. The queen is supreme. Everything centers around her. She gathers no honey, not even enough for her own sustenance. Her food is "royal jelly," a pre-digested preparation that only the chefs of the royal cuisine know how to prepare, and which no common citizen dares partake of. The queen's sole occupation is laying eggs. Every citizen of the realm is her offspring. No accusation of race suicide can be brought against her either, for the daily birth rate is from 2,000 to 4,000 during the busy summer months. When a beekeeper wants to change his strain of bees he only needs to buy a queen of the desired breed, execute the present ruler and crown the prospective queen will develop into nothing but a worker. When the larva is six days old it refuses to eat any more food and then the end of the cell is capped over. Six or seven days later the cap is pushed off the cell and the new queen emerges.

Mr. Quirin's artificial method begins within two and never longer than four hours after the worker larva has been hatched from the egg. A row of large artificially made queen cells are placed in a frame. Into each of these cells he puts one of the young worker larvae. From some naturally formed queen cell a supply of "royal jelly" is secured, and a small drop placed in each cell. The frame of cells is then placed in a hive of workers. The bees come along, see a lot of queens started, and at once proceed to manufacture royal jelly and feed the prospective rulers. They also fill up the spaces between the queen cells with wax in order to make them more secure.

As soon as all the cells are capped over the frame is again removed from the hive and placed in a specially arranged incubator, where the temperature is maintained, and by the end of the seventh day all queens are out. It is no easy matter to control 500 queens in one incubator, every one of whom is a born scrapper, so it is necessary to cage each one as soon as hatched, in little wire bottles. In a short time they are moved to roomier quarters, and when 10 to 12 days old are ready to ship.

By his artificial process, Quirin is enabled at all times to meet orders for queens without carrying a large stock. Within 13 days he can produce 1,500 queens, all of which will be ready to ship a few days later. Nearly all the queens sold are the daughters of a queen that Mr. Quirin would not sell for $200. This queen has proved to be exceptionally prolific and her bees are splendid honey gatherers.

Mr. Quirin ships queens all over the world. Bee keepers of New Zealand, Japan, Australia and all parts of Europe and America are his customers. The queen's palace car is made from a small block of wood. Three holes are bored almost through this block, forming three connected apartments. In one of these is placed enough food to feed the queen and her dozen worker attendants during the journey. Arrived at her new home, the queen cage is placed inside the hive where she is to be introduced, but she is not liberated for two or three days. By that time the bees have become acquainted with her through the screen covering of the cage, and will be ready to give her a royal welcome when released.

A large part of Mr. Quirin's income is net profit. He finds it impossible to secure competent help and so attends to his work alone. During the winter season he manufactures enough supplies for the coming season, and also prints his own advertising matter.

ARREST MADE HERE

Serious Charge Preferred Against Packing House Man

His arrest was authorized by Sheriff John W. Tobin of Bexar county.

Young Perez was locked up in the county jail Monday night and will be taken to San Antonio tonight by Sheriff Tobin, who reached Fort Worth this morning.

Great Britain, between 1857 and 1880, lost 148,906 acres by encroachment of the sea. Even this loss is small compared with others in times past. Thus, according to a survey in the time of Edward I, the Duchy of Cornwall had 1,500,000 acres.

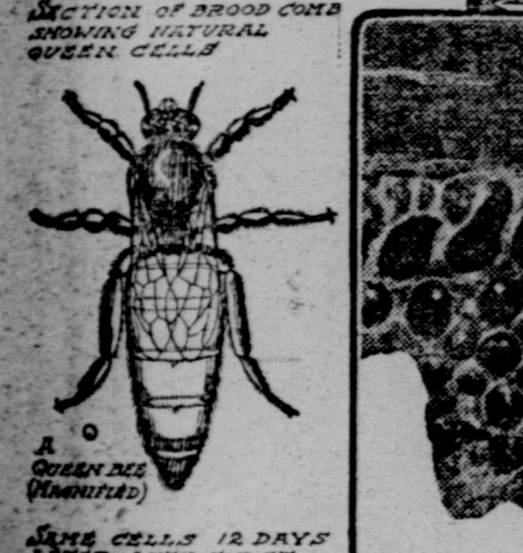

but a survey in recent years gives it only 829,500 acres. Whole villages in some cases have been slowly undermined and swept away, as in the case of Dunwich, where only a ruined church on the edge of a cliff remains.

One of the most curious orders given in the British navy is "All hands black faces," a supply of pigment for the purpose being carried by each warship. When a night surprise is intended it is not only the vessels that are made as little visible as possible, even the faces of the men must be blackened, for, when powerful night glasses are used, the showing of a white face is far more palpable than any landsman would suppose.

The woman with homely features will not lack attractiveness if her hair is crowned with an abundance of beautiful hair. But, on the other hand, the finest contour of female face loses much of its attractiveness if the hair is scanty or looks diseased. The dandruff microbe causes dull, brittle or lustrous hair with later dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this enemy of beauty and permits the hair to grow as nature intended. A delightful hair dressing. Gives wonderful results. No oil or dye.

WILD MEXICAN CATTLE

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., June 19.—It is not generally known that in the high Sierra Madre westward from the Mormon colony of Pachuca, there is quite a number of wild cattle which have been hunted just as other game in that section. The Mormons, particularly, have killed off a great many of them in the last few years. It seems that these cattle are the remains, and the increase of a herd of graded stock, principally bulls, which were being taken through the mountains some 15 years or more ago, and was stampeded by the Indians. Scattered in the mountains the cattle soon became as wild as deer. They are said to make the finest kind of beef will all the good qualities of wild meat.

Cotton Acreage Increased—Oats Making from Fifty to Seventy-Five Bushels to the Acre MEMPHIS, Texas, June 20.—The crop prospects in this county are finer now than they ever were before at this time of year. The acreage of cotton has been greatly increased this year over last and it is growing rapidly. Cotton is several weeks earlier than it was last year and is putting on forms nicely. The prospects are that the Panhandle and Hall county especially will break the record this year on the yield of cotton per acre.

HAGENBARTH MAKES REDUCTION

"Within a few years Texas will be buying cotton baffle from Mexico," said Frank J. Hagenbarth, who has large interests in Chihuahua ad Sonora. "The duty will not handicap trade with Mexico when the time is ripe. I venture the prediction that Sonora and Chihuahua will furnish Texas with feed lots with feeders. We are going right along breeding up our cattle and increasing the output. Conditions have been very favorable, our ranges being green at this time when verdure is usually scarce. The whole southwest has been abundantly supplied with humidity this year and if we could depend on a continuance of it we could effect a radical change our methods."

Dan Black, Ohio Feeder

At the time of the last International at Chicago two lots of cattle among the show pens in the yards interested many visitors. One of these consisted of fifteen head of 2-year-old Texas-bred high-grade Hereford steers, the other of a car load of calves of the same general breeding. The former was the grand champion car load lot of the St. Louis Exposition the same season and was fed and exhibited by D. W. Black of Ross county, Ohio. The other was the champion car lot of range steer calves of the International, and these had been bought by Mr. Black to be shipped to his farm for feeding during the next year. In view of the fact that Mr. Black has an international reputation as a feeder of fat cattle, that he has won the grand championship against some of the best American feeders, it is only natural that these cattle should have attracted unusual interest in the yards.

The International show occurred during the freezing days of early winter. Changing the scene, let me take the reader to different surroundings. It is down in Ross County, Ohio. There is a rich blue-grass pasture of eight acres, through which flows a small creek. Hereford plenty of good water for stock. An every day sort of barn crowns a slight hill, and near by at the foot of the slope, adjacent to comfortable shade trees, is a self-feeder. Over in the lush grass stand seventeen Texas-bred grade Hereford steers, looking with quiet curiosity on Dan Black, the writer, and an Ohio State University live stock student. These were the calves of last winter at Chicago, as smooth and well-fed, a bunch as you might wish to see. We had come to pay our respects to the man and his cattle. These handsome steers, full of Hereford quality and style and promise of the future, necessarily required much examination, comparison and discussion.

As a rule the successful man is an educational medium for his fellows. Others profit by his experience. There is reason in what he does and he accomplishes where many others fail. But the wise man builds in part on the experience of the successful. Then wherein lies the success of our host as a feeder? Mr. Black is not a breeder. He has kept a pure-bred Hereford breeding herd, but at the present time his stock consists of 185 head of steers, a Jersey family cow and two grade Hereford cows with calves at foot. His business is feeding and fattening cattle. He buys range calves all over the state. These come from Texas and are of superior breeding and selection. The point is important that he only buys select feeders. As we drove about among the cattle in various fields, on several occasions he commented on individuals that he ought not to have and must get rid of as not up to his standard. He has a type and does not wish to feed stock outside of that class. You know what that type is—broad-backed, thick-framed, deep-bedded, short-legged Herefords of quality. I noticed that mellow skins predominated here. Excessive depth of neck and abundance of dewlap seemed to meet with much disfavor. The calves are taken to Ohio from the range in October and at once go on to grass. They are also taught to eat a little shelled corn and bran from the first, perhaps a pound a day. Within a month a 300-pound calf may be getting three pounds of grain a day with all the pasture or roughage he will consume. The general policy for average feeders is to feed about one pound of grain to 100 pounds live weight. This grain to consist of corn and bran and perhaps some oilmeal. If oats are cheap they will be used. The favorite roughage is shredded cornstover and clover hay. During the winter the young steers are given the feed named. The grain being increased with increase in size of the animals.

When the calves go on to grass about May 1 they weigh around 850 pounds and will be fed sixteen to seventeen pounds of grain a day. Mr. Black is a great believer in green feed, and endeavors to have some sowing corn always ready by July 5, and he keeps green feed before his stock as long as it lasts. Along in August, September and October the heaviest amount of grain is being fed, so that in dry weather in fly time the steers may be getting thirty pounds a day each of grain, representing a mixture for the show steers of twenty pounds of clear cornmeal, five pounds of bran and five pounds of oilmeal. This grain will vary some in proportion, according to appetite of the cattle. More bran would be given in a change. For regular market steers less grain would be fed.

Should these cattle be carried into 2-year-olds they would go through the sec-

With the CATTLEMEN

COOKE COUNTY CATTLE

"But few cattle are left in the Gainesville country," said J. J. Raber, who was in Fort Worth Monday looking after cattle interests. "Most all the country is now devoted to farming. There is some grass land left, and that is well covered with a good growth of grass, the cattle that have been kept in the country up to this time have fared well and there are no complaints to register.

"We had a splendid rain a few days ago, and crops are looking fine in that neighborhood. Good cereal crops will be raised, unless something unforeseen happens to prevent it."

IN McLENNAN COUNTY

B. Y. McMorrough of West was in Fort Worth Monday and stated to a representative of The Telegram and Stockman-Journal that the range conditions in that country was never better. "We have plenty of water at this time, but the supply is becoming exhausted, and we must have a rain soon or we will suffer from drought," said Mr. McMorrough.

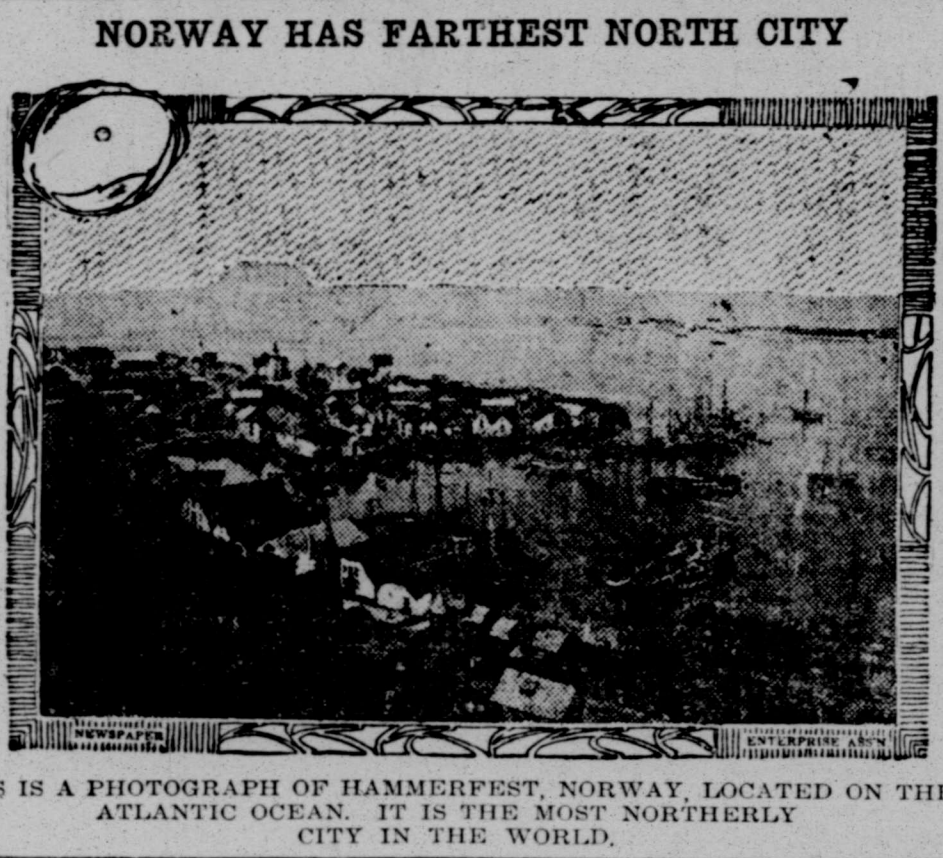

"We have not had a rain since May, one little shower last week was the only rainfall since that time, and this shower was so light that it did not relieve the situation in the least.

The cotton crop is practically ruined, the boll weevil has committed great depredations already, it is no unusual sight to see three and four squares underneath a single stalk. The dry weather will, of course, kill the weevils in these squares that have fallen, and this will reduce the number that will be present to prey upon the next crop, but even then, I fear that the cotton proposition will never be of much value in this section for many years to come, unless some remedy can be found to check the spread of the weevil. We have a good corn crop, and it is fortunate for the farmers that we have, for this is altogether a cotton and corn country, and the failure of the cotton crop makes the farmers dependent upon the corn.

"Reports from all through this section say that live stock are doing well and that there are more cattle on feed here this year than for several years past. The price of cattle has encouraged the farmers to raise more live stock, and for this reason many of them retained all they had for a basis to increase their herds."

IN ROBERTSON COUNTY

T. H. Whitley of Hearne, Texas, was at the Fort Worth yards Monday with a small bunch of his stock. He stated that "Of course we have but few cattle in our section," said Mr. Whitley, "but what few we have are doing well and the price offered has tempted many to hold for next year.

"This is a farming country, and the crops are all in fair condition. Corn is behind to a great extent, but the large crop of oats will make up for this. Wheat is not so well as it might be."

REPORTS GOOD GRASS

J. Baggott of Eastland was at the Fort Worth yards Monday with a bunch of cattle from his section. He reports grass in fine condition, and plenty of rain. No large sales have been reported from this district for some time, and but little trading is being carried on. Cattle are pretty well shipped out.

INDIAN TERRITORY CONDITIONS

"We have had plenty of rain this season and the best range in many years," said J. M. Lewis of Ryan, I. T., who was at the Fort Worth yards Monday with a string of stuff from the territory. "There are lots of cattle in that country at this time," continued Mr. Lewis, "and they are moving fast for this season of the year. While no large sales have been reported, many buyers have collected about all the loose stuff there is and will finish the shipping this month. A good crop of calves has made the stockmen feel very much pleased at the results of the season.

"Stock has commanded a very satisfactory price in the main, and I do not think that many cattlemen have complaints to make. Of course there could have been better prices, but the slight improvement over last year has more than satisfied them with the situation."

STOCKING WITH CALVES

George D. Bernard of El Paso was in Fort Worth Monday looking for calves with which to stock a new section of his Mexico ranch, which he recently purchased. Mr. Bernard's ranch lies in the northern part of Mexico, not far from the boundary line.

"I am going to stock this new section with young calves," said Mr. Bernard. "The younger the better. I am of the opinion that three or four thousand cheap calves will grow into money just as fast as any other kind of cattle investments, if not a great deal faster.

"I have made arrangements with several commission men to pick me up a few cheap calves from time to time. I am going to fill it with the very cheapest I can find for the simple reason that I will not be able to pay close attention to the ranch, and I am going to allow them to look after themselves in a measure.

"The only difficulty I have so far experienced has been in obtaining sufficient water, but just at this time there is a plenty, and should the supply give out I suppose that I will have to sink wells and put in a gasoline engine. I tried windmills on one part of the ranch a few years ago, but they would not do the work. It lies in between two ranges of hills, and there is not enough strong wind to keep the mills going; but I find the engines more satisfactory on the whole, as I have three now on the ranch; the foreman starts them in the morning and closes them down in the evening, that is, when the water supply is sufficient that day running will keep the supply up, but there has been times in the past when the three engines have run day and night to keep the dirt tanks filled.

"The land is so dry that the dirt tanks lose much of the water pumped into them, but I have never found anything else able to stand the hot sun, that did not cost too much money in the first place."

HER WEAKNESS GONE

HOT FLASHES AND SINKING SPELLS CONQUERED AT LAST.

"I had been bothered for several years," said Mrs. Murphy, "by stomach disorder, and finally I became very weak and nervous. Flashes of heat would pass over me, and I would feel as if I was sinking down. At such times I could not do any household work, but would have to lie down, and afterwards I would have very trying nervous spells."

"Didn't you have a doctor?" she was asked.

"Yes, I consulted several doctors but my health did not improve. One day a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She assured me that they had proved of the greatest benefit in the case of her daughter. In fact, she praised them so enthusiastically that my husband got me a box."

"And what was the result?"

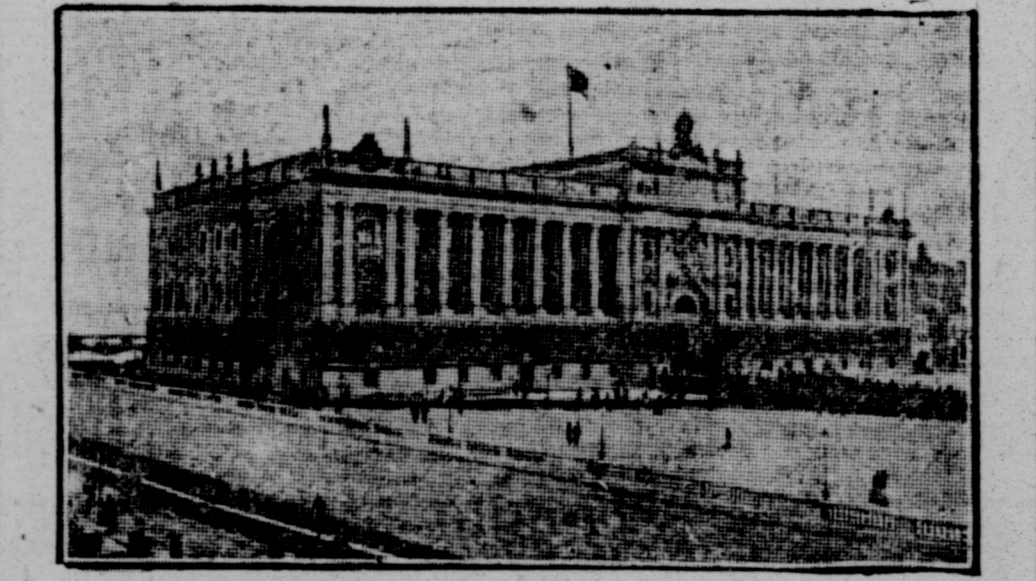

"Before I had taken half of the first box my condition was greatly improved. The quickness with which they reached and relieved all my troubles was really surprising. After I had used only three boxes I had no more heat-flashes or weak spells. Thanks to them, I have become a well woman."

Mrs. Mary D. Murphy lives at No. 1903 Force street, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the remedy which she found so satisfactory, furnish directly to the blood the elements that give vigor to every tissue of the body. They can be depended on to revive failing strength, and to banish nervousness. Their tonic properties are absolutely unsurpassed.

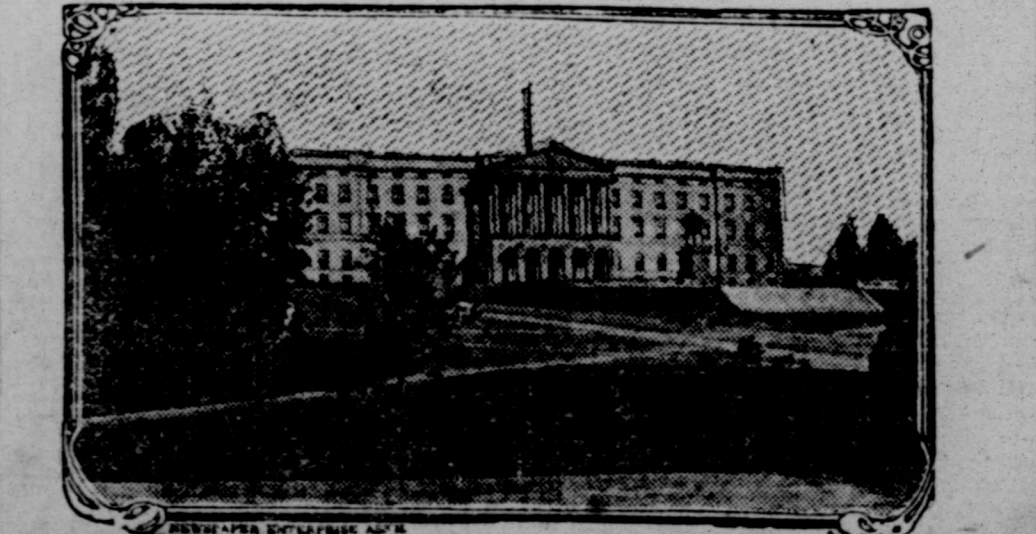

As soon as there is drag, or dizziness, or pallor, or poor circulation, or disordered digestion, or restlessness, or pains, or irregularities of any kind these famous pills should be used. They have cured the most obstinate cases of anaemia, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous prostration and even partial paralysis.

If you desire information specially suited to your own case write directly to the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Every woman should have a copy of Dr. Williams' "Plain Talks to Women," which will be mailed free to any address on request. Any druggist can supply the pills.

HE RESIGNED WHEN ROOSEVELT ASKED HIM

MELVILLE W. MILLER.
Newspaper Enterprise Association.
Assistant Secretary of the Interior Melville W. Miller, who has resigned at the request of the president, was a newspaper man from Lafayette, Ind. He had held the position a little over two years. His job was to pass on pension appeal cases. He had rushed so many cases through and had reversed so many adverse decisions that he was becoming very unpopular with the old soldier element.
The president's reasons for demanding his resignation have not been given.

JAPAN READY BY AUGUST

President Roosevelt informed by Japanese Minister
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the White House yesterday to inform the president that the Japanese plenipotentiaries would be able to reach Washington on the first of August, if it was deemed desirable for them to be here by that time. The personnel of the mission has not yet been announced.
When the president returned to the executive offices after receiving Mr. Takahira he found Count Cassin awaiting him. The information brought by the Japanese minister was communicated to the count, who is cabling his government to find out when the Russian mission will arrive. When this is known it will be possible to decide a date for the conference. The general belief is that it will convene about the middle of August.

IN REEVES COUNTY

Pecos Times.
Pecos had a very heavy rain last Sunday night. The gauge showed that and one-half inches of rain fell, the water in the streets of the main part of town was from six inches to two feet deep. Quite a number of the store buildings leaked and spoiled a considerable amount of goods, the heaviest losses being Woods Bros., who had about $200 worth of embroideries, insertions and other goods damaged.
Bob Willis was brought in from the U ranch yesterday morning. His horse fell and Bob was unable to extricate himself in time to keep the horse from rolling over him. He sustained a broken leg—the left one just above the ankle and also had his collar bone broken on the left side. Dr. Camp reduced the fractures and he is doing as well as could be expected. Bob has many friends who hope to soon see him out and around again.
One of the biggest land and cattle deals in this section for some time was completed on June 7 whereby J. H. Nations becomes the owner of the Neighbors ranch and stock in Pecos county below Fort Stockton, $95,000 being the consideration. The cattle brought $12 around and the horses $30 around. There are some things like two hundred sections of land in the lease hold. Of the cattle there were 3,000 head and about 40 head of saddle horses.

Saturday J. M. Humphrey of Odessa shipped via Pecos 67 cars of cattle to Red Water Tanks and Rapid City, S. D., 67 cars of steers.
Sunday, Lake, Tonds & Company shipped out over the Pecos Valley 20 cars of two-year-old steers to Everett, S. D.
Tuesday, Soaper Cattle Company shipped to T. N. Matthews, Gillet, Wyo., 17 cars of yearlings, two and three-year-old steers.
Tom Boxley and T. Wells delivered this morning to the Edwards, 275 head of two and three-year-old steers.

IN NOLAN COUNTY

Sweetwater Reporter.
J. S. Arledge returned this week from San Angelo with a bunch of 350 fine cattle which he placed on his ranch in the southern part of the county.
Gaines Preston, who went to Bovina with cattle a short time ago, had the misfortune of getting his leg badly hurt while handling cattle. He is getting along nicely but it will be some time before he is entirely well.
One of the saddest occurrences in the history of Sweetwater was the death of one of its oldest and best known citizens, M. C. Preston. Mr. Preston had gone to Hersford, Texas, with cattle and was suddenly taken with appendicitis, living only 36 hours after the attack, although the two attending physicians did all that medical aid could do. His body was shipped back to Sweetwater and interred in the Sweetwater cemetery.

RESTOCKING ARIZONA RANGE

Burro Creek in Mohave county, Arizona, which was well stripped of cattle during the drought of five years ago, has remained minus cattle enough to eat its sparse range grass until very lately, when a large number have been driven in from other parts, where water was less abundant. The thirty miles of the Burro creek range is now one solid mass of green grass, and to say that it is up to the bridle-bits is a mild expression for the term. Burro creek has always furnished an abundance of water for stock even in a very dry season, but at this time the creek is running bank full, with no signs of but little limitation to the

CHESS CHAMPION TO VISIT FORT WORTH
Emanuel Lasker Will Make Attempt to Checkmate Local Players

This city is to be visited by the champion chess player of the world in the near future—possibly in July.
Otto Monnig is in receipt of a letter from Emanuel Lasker, reputed chess champion of the world, who is now residing in New York city, asking if the chess devotees of Fort Worth will undertake to arrange for an informal reception should he include Fort Worth in a circuit of the west which he is contemplating.
Mr. Lasker, who is about 37 years of age, is an accomplished scholar and has the reputation of being a most entertaining lecturer. His plan is to deliver a lecture on the royal game and then give an exhibition of simultaneous play.
His appearance here will probably excite general interest, for while he is a past master at chess his broad culture and genial nature make him companionable to all classes. He is a graduate of medicine, a linguist and essentially a student.
The matter of bringing Mr. Lasker to Fort Worth is in the hands of several of the leading local chess players who are in correspondence with him. It is thought he can be induced to come here during July.
Mr. Lasker will also probably visit Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, Austin, Beaumont, Waco and Dallas.
He is generally accredited with being a more brilliant player than Harry Pillsbury, who has frequently appeared before local players.

TRADE NOTES AND ITEMS

Don't keep a breeding male confined too closely, even in a small lot. He should have a small pasture to himself, where he can have plenty of exercise.
The man who weans his pigs on the installment plan has not a bad idea. He weans two of the best then in a few days takes away two others, leaving the runt to do the "drying off" act.
The Allenton (Pa.) Morning Call of May 31 contains an account of the sale of a Jersey bull for $10,000. The bull was disposed of at a public sale and came near becoming the property of W. R. Spann of Dallas. Mr. Spann's last bid being $9,600.

The sheep men are making grand money throughout Arizona at this time, and will for some time to come. One source of rich returns for the sheepmen will be in the wool clip and another in the fat that the sheep will put on in the present green ranges.
Animals in their natural state practice in-breeding. But it is the in-breeding by best sires. As spring approaches the weak are driven off by the strong, and the strong sire heads the flock, no difference what the relationship. Science need not fear to practice the same.

Heavy marketing of cows seems to be a feature of the cattle market. That is the good way to cut down supply and raise values, there is over-supply as buyers claim, and as is indicated by values.
Talk pork-growing to an average east Texan, and he will look at you with scorn. He has not learned that the pig of profit is not grown on corn. This does not apply to the east Texan about Grapeland. He is above the average. They shipped twenty-three cars of mighty nice black pigs from Grapeland last year, off their cow pea patches.

DELAY IN PEACE EFFORTS

Japanese Minister Leaves Washington For a Few Days
WASHINGTON, June 20.—Mr. Takahira, Japanese minister, left Washington today for Tufts College in Massachusetts to deliver an address. In view of the absence of the president for the next few days, no developments in the peace negotiations are expected.
It is understood that if the plenipotentiaries adjourn to a summer resort as is expected, unless Washington has unprecedented August weather, none of the diplomats representing neutral powers will follow them.
Renewed activity of the war party in Russia does not cause alarm here, because the general realization that the president in his initial representations to the emperor and in subsequent communications has dealt directly with the emperor, and Count Lamdorff has served only as a means of communication.
No doubt it is felt here that the emperor will stand firm in his decision to discuss peace with Japan in good faith and in an earnest effort to bring it about.

A prominent cattleman this week told the writer that a mule of his had been bitten by a rattlesnake. He killed the snake and took out the gall bladder and emptied the contents on the wound. The fluid was instantly absorbed and the result was that the mule was entirely cured without being stopped from work.
We asked a well known physician about the efficacy of the snake's gall as an antidote for the poison, and he said it was quite possible from a scientific standpoint that this is a valuable remedy if used properly in time.
