HIS STORY READS LIKE DEADWOOD DICK

Escaped Convict Said to Be in New York, Has Had Thrilling Perils in Galore

NEW YORK, July 4.—Edward Guerin, for whom police and secret service detectives have been searching since May 1, is said by the World to be in New York City.

Guerin was serving a life sentence in the French penal colony on Devil's Island. He had been sentenced in Paris in 1901 for robbing the American Express Company there of $6,000. He had robbed the bank of Lyons, France, ten years before of $10,000. The French government giving him the maximum penalty, which was life.

In prison he met Tom O'Brien, an American murderer, and the two planned an escape. The chance came to O'Brien, but he failed and died later with Guerin at his side. In 1904 Guerin became ill and was transferred to the mainland, French Guiana. On May 1 Guerin was outside the lines and on his way through the swamps provided with food and armed. The fugitive was captured and robbed by Indians before he got to Dutch Guiana, 400 miles north. The Indians left him for dead on the outskirts of Hararodilo, in Dutch Guiana. Here he was found by two Americans, who fed and clothed him and at Georgetown, in British Guiana, he was treated by a physician until he was able to sail under the name of James Harrison for New York.

Seven weeks ago Guerin, reduced to a skeleton, arrived in New York. At the same time the state department was apprised of Guerin's escape and an agent was sent to find him. The agent failed to locate him.

THIEF STOLE DEPUTY SHERIFF'S HORSE

Committed Bold Robbery, But Nerve Failed While He Was Getting Away

DUBLIN, Texas, July 4.—A horse theft of unusual boldness was perpetrated Saturday night, almost in the heart of town. Sunday morning when Deputy Sheriff Will Fulkerson went out to the lot to feed, he found his fine sorrel buggy and saddle horse missing. The horse was in the lot at 11 o'clock the previous night. An investigation revealed the fact the thief had obtained Mr. Fulkerson's horse and harness, hitched him to the buggy of D. H. Hurl, who lives near the depot, and the tracks showed that he had driven in the direction of the oil mill, afterward bearing toward Alexander.

Mr. Fulkerson immediately got on the track, and that he was on the trail of the thief, was afterwards ascertained when it was learned that a party driving a horse which suited the description of the stolen animal had passed through Alexander about daylight, and this was further shown when it was reported that the horse, still hitched to the buggy, had been found in the pasture of Charles Rogers, near Wilson, early Sunday morning. It is supposed that the thief was not well acquainted with the country, and getting tangled up on the roads, failed to put much distance between himself and Dublin before daylight came as he had estimated.

AN ENDOWMENT FOR RELIEF WORK

An Unknown Atlanta Man Donates a Quarter of a Million

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 4.—It is the intention of the executive committee on ministerial education and relief of the southern Presbyterian church to make the $100,000 gift of the Atlanta man announced yesterday the nucleus of the endowment of a quarter million for ministerial relief. Rev. H. H. Sweets, secretary of the committee, said today that the committee had for some time $25,000 intended for this purpose and since the donation of $100,000 has been received several other large contributions have been sent in. He is hopeful that the $100,000 gift will be made before long. The name of the donor is withheld for the present.

FAVORABLE CONDITIONS

Weather at Henley, England, Ideal for Boat Races

HENLEY, England, July 4.—Brilliant weather, great attendance ashore and arfoat and fair rowing conditions marked the opening of Great Britain's annual water festival.

Outside the Grand Challenge Cup, in which the Vespers of Philadelphia and a Belgian crew are competing in there is little interest in the regatta. The first heat was decided as follows: Leader beat Jesus College, Cambridge, by a length and three-quarters. Time, 7 minutes 26 seconds.

The Belgian crew beat the Thames Rowing Club easily. Time, 16 minutes 18 seconds. The Vespers beat Christ College of Cambridge by a length. Time, 7 minutes 12 seconds.

FATHER OF THE ONLY BILLIONAIRE

Wm. A. Rockefeller Discovered in Iowa, But Denies His Identity Despite Proof

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 4.—William A. Rockefeller, the aged father of John D. Rockefeller, and against whom the virtual accusation of being a horsethief is made in a recent magazine article by Ida Tarbell, has been discovered in Sioux City. It is believed he has returned from a secret visit to his billionaire son.

An old man of 80 or more years arrived on the Milwaukee train and departed for Tripps, S. D. His grip was stamped "W. A. R.," his railway transportation, an annual pass, bore the name of William A. Rockefeller, and his face bore a perfect resemblance to the senior Rockefeller which appears in a current magazine article. But the man, a spectacle salesman, steadfastly denied that he was Rockefeller and declared that his name was Ransom. When his attention was called to the circumstances regarding his annual pass, he merely shrugged his shoulders and said it was strange if he did not know his own name.

"Where do you reside?" he was asked.

"I don't reside anywhere," he responded. "I just travel as my fancy pleases. I sell gold and silver spectacles for a livelihood and have always managed to make a living without asking for help from anyone."

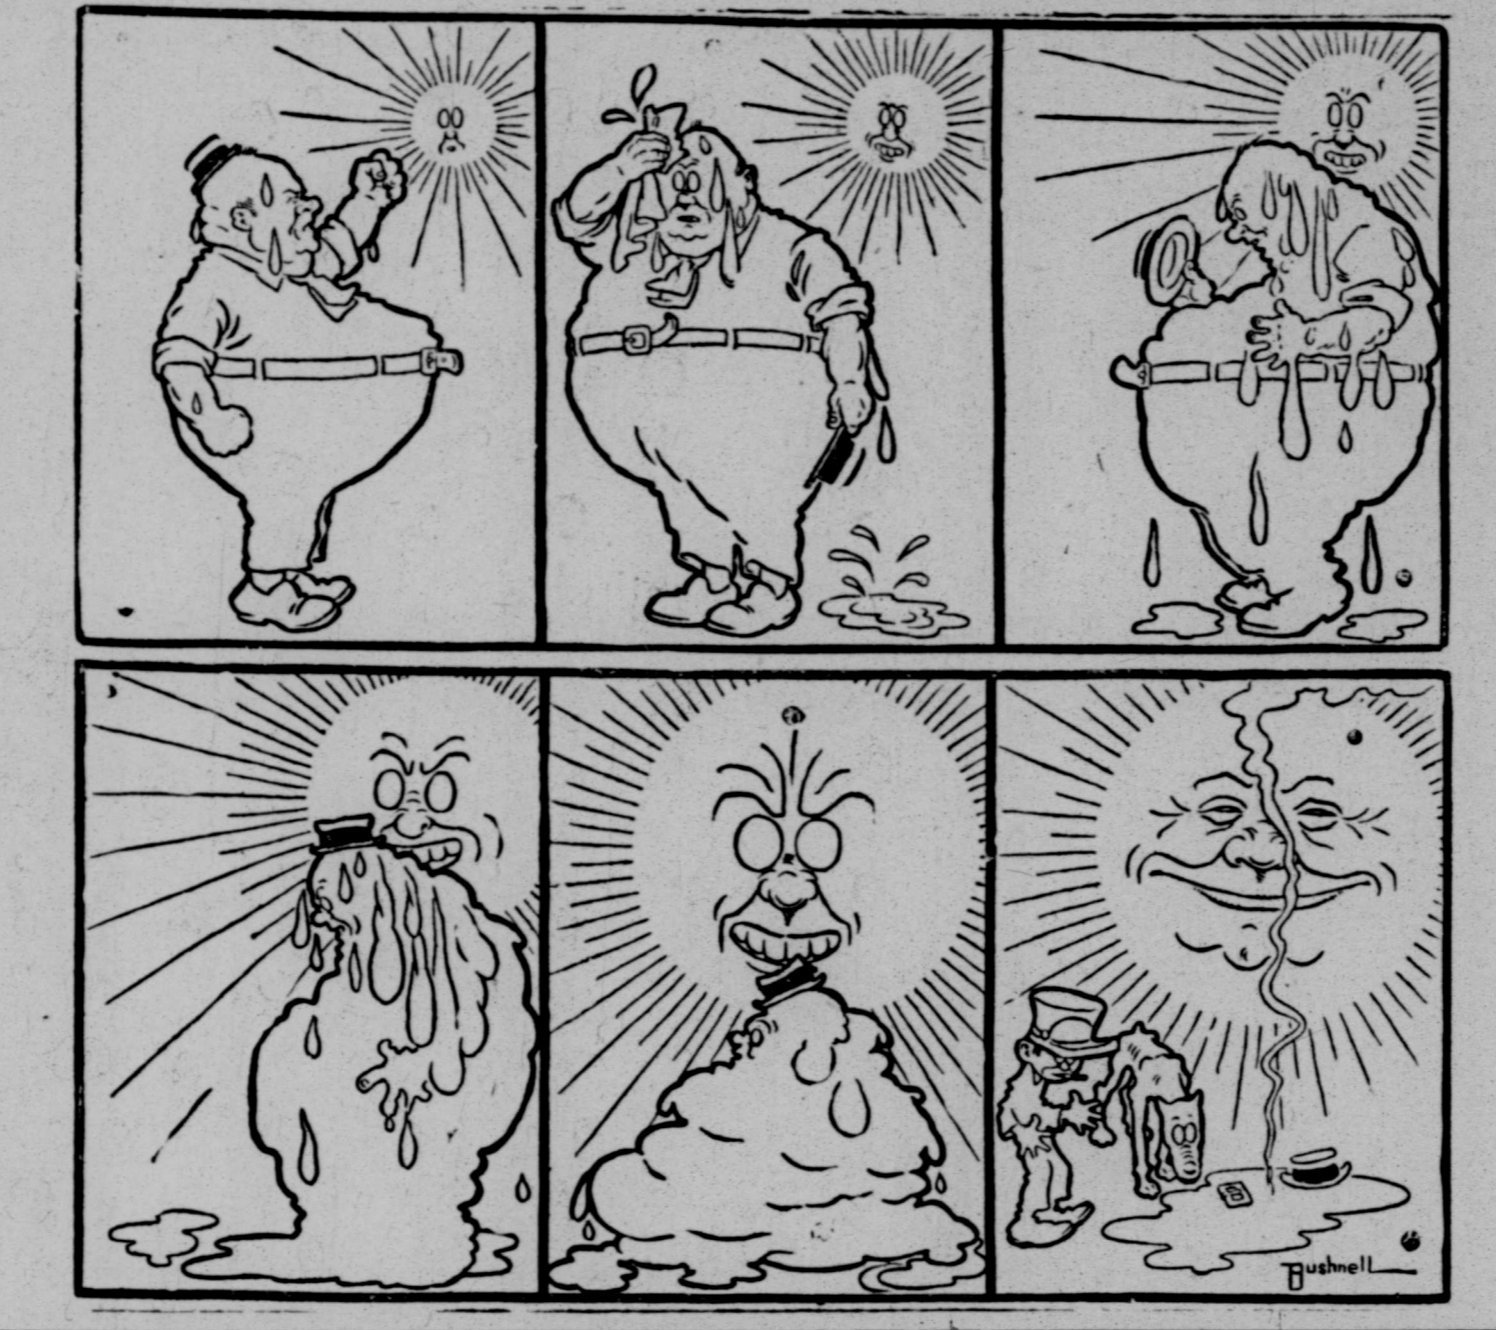

"One thing is certain," he continued, "I have none of the Rockefeller traits. I don't care money and power. I prefer a care-free existence such as I have always enjoyed and now enjoy. I never hoarded money in my life and never tried to grind it out of anyone."

TEXAS TWELFTH IN RURAL DELIVERY

Lone Star State Second in the South—Fourth Congressional District Leads

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The annual report of the fourth assistant postmaster general on the rural free delivery system for the fiscal year ending June 30, made public yesterday, shows that Texas is second on the list in the number of rural free delivery routes operated in the southern states, and twelfth on the list embracing the entire United States.

The greatest number of routes operated in the country is in Illinois, and the greatest number in the southern states is in Tennessee.

The total number of petitions for rural free delivery routes referred to the department for action from Texas during the year was 2,141; the total number adversely reported 518; the routes in operation at the close of the fiscal year 1,320, and the petitions for service still pending on July 1, 303.

The greatest number of petitions for rural free delivery was received from the Third congressional district, the report showing 279 petitions, and the least number from the Fifteenth congressional district, which filed only two petitions.

The report shows decidedly slow action on the part of the department on the petitions from the southern states for the establishment of more rural free delivery routes. Texas suffers notably in this respect. It has the greatest number of petitions now pending before the department awaiting action, save North Carolina, with a record of 347.

It was said at the department that no discrimination was made against the south in the matter of these establishments, though the report would seemingly bear out this impression, and that the apparent neglect of the department in acting upon the petitions from the southern states grew out of the fact that that section of the country was the last to enter the field in petitioning for rural free delivery routes.

A large number of delegates will be on hand and an elaborate program will be carried out.

VERDICT OF GUILTY FOR MITCHELL

Senator Is Convicted of Receiving Pay for Federal Practice While in Office

PORTLAND, Ore., July 4.—The jury in the case of the United States against Senator John H. Mitchell returned a verdict of guilty, as charged, at 11 o'clock last night.

The charge was that Senator Mitchell, while occupying his public position, accepted a pecuniary compensation for practicing before the federal departments at Washington, which, under the federal statutes constitutes a crime.

There has been little belief in the city that a verdict would be reached, and when the hours wore away and the jury hung far into the night, hope even among the remaining few in the court room had ebbed to the lowest stage. A few minutes before 11 o'clock the hallif, as he had been a number of times before, was summoned to the jury room. A moment later he reappeared and communicated to those in waiting the news that the jury had agreed. Judge De Haven, the attorneys and the aged senator were summoned and quickly appeared. Judge De Haven ascended the bench without removing his overcoat, and directed that the jury be brought in.

They filed in and took their places in the jury box.

Captain Shadden, clerk of the court, read the verdict from the foreman and read it amid the crash and rattle of fireworks exploding in the streets on all four sides of the court house.

Port Shadden spoke low and because of the din without only two sentences of the verdict were audible, "Guilty as charged," and "recommended to the mercy of the court."

Severe and evidently unexpected as the sentence was, Senator Mitchell showed by no outward sign, save the ghastly pallor of his face and the nervous stoking of his beard, that he felt the blow. As Captain Shadden concluded, Judge De Haven said:

"Gentlemen, is this your verdict?"

"It is," responded the foreman.

Clerk Shadden polled the jury and Judge De Haven directed that it be discharged. When these proceedings were complete Judge Bennett arose and on the part of Senator Mitchell moved a new trial.

Judge De Haven directed that the motion be continued until next Monday and declared court adjourned.

STILL TRYING FOR ARMISTICE

Roosevelt Using Best Efforts to Bring About Temporary Cessation of Hostilities

ST. PETERSBURG, July 4, 1:30 p. m.—With the completing of the arrangements for the Washington peace meeting, President Roosevelt has resumed his efforts of bringing about an armistice.

No light is thrown on the exact status of the negotiations and the character of the communications passing between the Russian and the Japanese governments and Washington. The matter is an exceedingly delicate one, but the outlook for success is nevertheless from all the information obtainable, not unpromising.

If Japan is ready to sheath the sword, until the Washington meeting develops whether a basis for peace is possible, Russia's consent seems assured.

In diplomatic circles it is felt that Great Britain could render service by giving timely advice to her ally, but so far as is known, she is not supporting President Roosevelt's efforts. Should the president be able to successfully arrange the preliminaries it appears certain that actual negotiations for an armistice will be concluded directly between Field Marshal Oyama and General Linvich on the battlefield in Manchuria.

AIRSHIP SAILING ACROSS FRANCE

First Stage of Voyage by M. LeBaudy's New Craft, Successful

NEW YORK, July 4.—The airship constructed by M. LeBaudy has begun its voyage from Paris to the eastern frontier of France, according to a Paris cable to the Herald.

The stages of the journey have been arranged by M. Bertheux, the minister of war, and the airship is placed under the command of Colonel E. Boutteux, director of the military aeronautic bureau at Chalais. After making the ascent Colonel Boutteux from the airship reconnoitered the environs of Meaux and indicated a place for a descent on the race course, where two wagons with tubes of hydrogen, ordered from a factory at Meaux, were in waiting.

At a quarter to 4 o'clock in the morning the departure was made from Meaux, and after an excellent voyage in the air the descent was made at 20 minutes past 6 o'clock, the ninety-five kilometers being covered in two hours and thirty-five minutes.

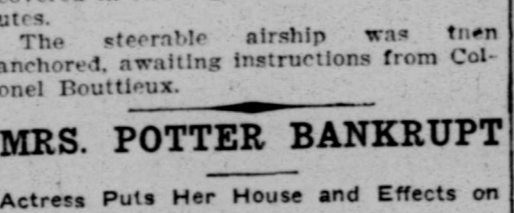

The steerable airship was then anchored, awaiting instructions from Colonel Boutteux.

AT 70 HE WEDS HIS WIFE'S MAID

George Baum Was Converted With Provision She Would Accept Him

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—With elaborate ceremonies, George Baum, a wealthy 70-year-old widower who lives at No. 1918 Girard avenue, married in the Church of the Gesù his housekeeper, Elizabeth Johnson, a father comely woman, 28 years old.

The bride came into the Baum household as a maid while the former Mrs. Baum was living. The rich man's first wife thought there was "no one like Elizabeth." The girl was a devout Catholic, and persuaded Mrs. Baum, who had fallen from the faith, to return to the fold. The crowning achievement of Miss Johnson's missionary work was the conversion of the old widower, who she continued to serve after Mrs. Baum's death, to the Catholic faith. Indeed, it is said, that she made that the condition of accepting his proposal of marriage.

More than 1,000 guests were at the wedding. The chance of the church was a scene of great beauty when the wedding party entered. Flowers and palms were ranged about in abundance and incandescent lights were numerous.

Neither the bride nor the bridegroom would give out the names of the bridesmaids or the ushers, or say where the honeymoon would be spent. "This is strictly a private matter," said Mr. Baum, "and I intend to keep it my business."

MAN THOUGHT DEAD FOUND AFTER 14 YEARS

Was Held Prisoner in Columbia and Not Allowed to Communicate With Relatives

NEW YORK, July 4.—After spending fourteen years in prison in Columbia, Frank Holley, formerly of New York, is on his way back to this country.

An aged mother and a woman to whom he was engaged are awaiting his arrival. They believed Holley to be dead for fourteen years until they received a letter from him some months ago.

Holley was employed by the Englewood Drilling Company of New York. He was an expert driller and received a large salary. His wife had died a year before, leaving with him two sons and a daughter. He became engaged to a young woman in New York, when the Englewood Drilling Company made him an offer to go to Columbia. He accepted and with his fiancée, planned for a wedding on his return. Columbia was in the throes of an uprising on his arrival.

Letters received from Holley said that he was going into the interior of Columbia. Nothing more was heard from him until some months ago, when he wrote telling of his imprisonment and saying that he had not been taken care of by any of the factions of the revolutionists.

"KILL THE CATS" SAYS PROF. HODGE

Massachusetts Biologist Declares Tabbies and Toms Are the Worst Enemies of Bird Life

NEW YORK, July 4.—Professor Clifton Hodge, biologist at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., has come out concerning the extermination of all cats by municipalities, declaring that they are the worst enemies of bird life. "We need the German method of cat traps, like those that in one year killed 30,000 cats in Hamburg," said Professor Hodge.

The new commission was constituted on lines which made red tape impossible. The energy with which it took hold made it evident that the old way of blocking the canal would not work, and the new plan was tried of having away every man who was essential to the success of the work.

Most notable among these were Chairman Shonts, Colonel Edwards and Chief Engineer Wallace. Shonts' application of his hustling railroad methods to the canal work made it evident that the canal was to be built in earnest.

The placing in authority of Edwards, an army officer, who had made a record for cutting red tape while in charge of the insular bureau, was another had omelet for the foes of the canal. The unexplained energy with which he entered upon his work convinced them that there was something in it. Edwards was an army officer, who could not be got away from anything except an act of congress.

The change of front on Wallace's part was so sudden as to astonish the administration. As he was leaving for Panama he said to a prominent member of the administration:

"The conditions under the new commission are so delightful that I am afraid to pinch myself for fear I will wake up at the close of the congressional session. Colonel Hepburn and several other members of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce visited the canal zone, came back, and revealed these conditions to their colleagues, not on the floor of the house, but in private. The result was the passage by the house of a billousting the canal zone. The senate, which is the home of the transcontinental railroad influence, blocked this bill and permitted it to die.

The president refused to allow the canal work to be held up in any such way. Despite the action of the senate he removed the old commission and appointed a new one. He was much criticised at the time for defying congress, and setting himself above the lawmaking power, but his friends say that those who criticised him had no idea of the malign influences with which he was confronted.

CLEVELAND SEEKING FOR MORE LIGHT

He Consults Former Attorney General as to Legality of Equitable Connections

NEW YORK, July 4.—Grover Cleveland has started an investigation of himself. He is anxious to find out whether the appointment of himself, Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and Mr. Westinghouse as commissioners of the Equitable trust stock is all right. He desired light on a situation which he himself considers doubtful, and Cleveland obtained the services of former Attorney General Wynne MacVeagh of Pennsylvania, who was a member of his first cabinet.

Trustee Cleveland called Mr. MacVeagh to his Princeton home today and had a long confab with him, at which he told the former attorney general that he wanted him to look into the whole Equitable situation. He asked Mr. MacVeagh to ascertain all the facts in regard to the Hyde sale of stock to Thomas F. Ryan, and to find out just what the legal status of the trustee is.

Cleveland's action is due to the threats made by minority stockholders to attack by court action the right of the trustees to elect directors.

As the result of advice which it is said MacVeagh gave to Cleveland, the names of the nine men who were recommended to the board of trustees of the Equitable for election as representatives of the policy holders will be withdrawn and the trustees will proceed no further until the tangle as to their rights is unraveled.

After his conference with Mr. Cleveland, Mr. MacVeagh hurried over to New York today and went to the office of Attorney General Julius Mayer, and there he and Mr. Mayer were in consultation for nearly two hours. His purpose, it is said, was to talk over the situation and get the attorney general's opinion on the situation.

Mr. Mayer declined to discuss Mr. MacVeagh's visit and refused to either affirm or deny when he was asked if there was not a possibility of the rights of the trustees under the Ryan-Hyde deal being assailed.

It was learned from another source, however, that the attorney general expressed the opinion to Mr. MacVeagh that the general law of 1892, which permits policy holders to become directors of a life insurance company, does not supersede the charter of the Equitable society, granted in 1859, which expressly provides that the directors, in order to qualify, must each be a holder of record of at least five shares of stock.

PLOT TO DELAY Isthmian Canal

Believe Opponents of Project Got Place for Wallace to Hinder the Work

TEMPT CHAIRMAN SHOUTS

New Engineer Must Take a Pledge to Stick by Service Until Ditch Is Built

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Evidence of a deliberate and carefully planned conspiracy to break up the Panama canal commission and delay as long as possible the construction of the canal is before the administration. The taking away of Chief Engineer Wallace is only part of it.

Before the offer was made to Wallace a position with an imposing salary was offered to Chairman Shonts. His reply was, "Having promised to sit in this game I will play my part to the end."

Wallace did not prove to be of such Spartan stuff. He either knew or suspected that Shonts was to be or had been approached, for it is said on indubitable authority that before going to the isthmus he urged Shonts not to accept any position tendered to him. Shonts is said to have replied that there was no danger, and at that time no one in the government service suspected that Wallace would be the first to fall.

Solitude for Railroads

Under the old commission red tape was every move. Wallace was bound hand and foot, and neither he nor anybody else could make a move. Some of the members of the old commission were close to senators who have never been enthusiastic for a canal or anything which could injure the transcontinental railroad. A suspicion that the inaction of the old commission was not entirely due to incompetence was one of the reasons the president so summarily removed it from office.

The new commission was constituted on lines which made red tape impossible. The energy with which it took hold made it evident that the old way of blocking the canal would not work, and the new plan was tried of having away every man who was essential to the success of the work.

Most notable among these were Chairman Shonts, Colonel Edwards and Chief Engineer Wallace. Shonts' application of his hustling railroad methods to the canal work made it evident that the canal was to be built in earnest.

Eleanora Duse Ill

Mr. Otto A. Fleissner's KIDNEYS WERE DISEASED BY CATARRH

Pe-ru-na Promptly Cured Him.

Mr. Otto A. Fleissner, Rainier Grand Hotel, Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Otto A. Fleissner, American Epicurean, formerly chef at Col. W. J. Cody, (Buffalo Bill), now chef at the Rainier Grand Hotel, Seattle, Wash., writes: "I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble until life did not seem worth living. I had tried many medicines but did not get any relief until I took Peru-na. It was really wonderful how much better I was after I had used this medicine only a week. I did not expect that it would help me permanently, but as long as it was doing me good I continued to use it. At the end of six months I found to my relief, that it had rid my system of all poisons, and that I was cured to stay cured. You certainly have a splendid medicine and I gladly endorse it."

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease. Pe-ru-na Removes the Cause of the Kidney Trouble.

Catarrh of the kidneys may arise from the spread of catarrh from other organs, or it may arise from some irritation of the kidneys directly in the organs themselves. It may also result from a cold.

Whatever the cause, the kidneys cease to eliminate the urea poisons from the blood and allow the escape of nutritious serum, and a rapid decline in health and strength is the result.

If allowed to continue, it develops into Bright's Disease or diabetes.

Pe-ru-na promptly cures the catarrh, when all of these disagreeable symptoms disappear.

BEDBUGS SPREAD SMALL POX PLAGUE

San Antonio Physician Says They Play Role Similar to Fever Mosquitoes

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 1.—What is considered a valuable medical discovery has just been announced by Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell, city bacteriologist of San Antonio, who has had charge of the city's curative hospital for over two years. Dr. Campbell is confident he has finally discovered how smallpox is communicated to one person from another; how it may be completely eradicated, and how smallpox patients may be saved from becoming disfigured by the pitting of this disease.

the hypodermic syringe, or by the inoculation caused by the healthy subject being bitten by the Cimex Lectularius, the common bedbug, which has previously bitten the smallpox victim. This insect, one of the most common known, has until now been considered merely as an annoying pest, but not in the least dangerous to human life; thus, while the dreaded smallpox was ravaging cities, no one thought of looking to this pest for the cause of the spread of the disease.

Some Position as the Stegomyia. In the most emphatic terms Dr. Campbell states that the bedbug occupies the same position with reference to smallpox as does the Stegomyia Fasciata mosquito to yellow fever, or the Anopheles mosquito to malaria. In yellow fever, as has now been conclusively demonstrated, the disease is communicated by means of the Stegomyia Fasciata mosquito biting the yellow fever victim and then biting the healthy subject, and in so doing, the healthy subject is inoculated with the germs of yellow fever; while the bedbug, in nearly the same manner, inoculates the subject with the infection, believed to be a protozoan or haemaphysate. Having engorged itself with the infected blood of a smallpox victim, the bedbug has only to bite the healthy subject to communicate to him the dreaded disease, and thus the smallpox is spread in a mysterious but rapid manner.

It is claimed that Dr. Campbell has also demonstrated that the horrible disfiguring of the patient by pitting in smallpox cases, is not due directly to the action of the smallpox protozoa or haemaphysate itself, but to the scabrous catch-

A PAIR OF KINGS

KING EDWARD and KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN, REVIEWING THE TROOPS AT ALDERSHOT DURING THE RECENT VISIT OF THE LATTER TO ENGLAND.

GOING! GOING!! GONE!!!

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The ORIGINAL remedy that "kills the Dandruff Germ." The Rabbit and the Guinea-Pig Prof. Unna, the world's greatest dermatologist (ask your doctor about him) was the first to discover the microbic and contagious nature of the true dandruff. His discovery was verified by Dr. Sabourand of Paris, who decided a rabbit with human dandruff flakes. Also by Lassar and Bishop who took dandruff scales from a student who was losing his hair, and having made a pomade of them with vaseline rubbed the same upon a guinea pig and the pig became bald. Newbro's Herpicide is the original dandruff germ destroyer. It kills the microbe growth and permits the hair to grow as nature intended. A wonderful hair-saver. A delightful dressing. Stops itching instantly.

exia—this being the reason why some victims are horribly pitted, while others, who have contracted smallpox at the same time and in the same place, and the same person, are scarcely pitted. Dr. Campbell asserts that if this ecchymia be eliminated by the prompt administration of proper remedies, a cure will inevitably follow, and the pitting either entirely prevented or it will be reduced to a minimum, but in nearly all cases it can be entirely prevented, as many persons living in this city can attest.

NEWSBOYS REACH TOP OF LADDER

Opportunities Received in Work Has Often Led to Life of Commercial Activity

Among his other advantages, the newsboy of today has that greatest of all—opportunity. Almost continually opportunity knocks at his door in the shape of meetings with great men and women, and if the life stories of some of the country's leading men were known, their start could be traced to the time when they sold a paper to some man with an appreciation of intelligence and shrewdness. He may only have started in as an errand boy or a telephone boy or something like that, but whatever he did, it was the stepping-stone to better things, due primarily to his having been a "newsie" and having attracted the attention of some one.

In the ranks of Americans, some dead, many of them living, there are scores who got their first taste of commercial life when they slipped a bundle of papers under their arms and went cantering up the street, yelling in strident tones, "Paper, all 'bout de molder." The ex-newsboy is to be found in almost every walk of life, standing with his shoulder up against the chap that went from Lord Fauntleroy to Tuxedos and from the private tutor to the big university, thence into the world of strife. In almost every one of these comparisons the newsboy holds his own in a manner such as to stamp him powerful. The graduate of the "extry" school is found among the ministers, lawyers, editors, politicians, actors, inventors, financiers and industrialists.

Some of the country's great men who were at one time or another in their lives newsies are: Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of electricity; Peter Cooper, New York's great philanthropist; Henry George, the famous social economist; Richard Croker, former master of Tammany Hall; Dry Dollar Tim Sullivan of New York, national head of the Eagles, state senator and king of the Bowery; Charles M. Schwab, millionaire steel magnate; David Belasco, one of the leading American dramatists and theatrical managers; John Mitchell, leader of the United Mine Workers of America; Joseph Pulitzer, owner of the New York World; A. M. Palmer, who, during life, was looked upon as one of the greatest theatrical managers the world ever saw; John McCullough, founder of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat; and Festus J. Wade, one of the leading financiers of the country. These are only a few, selected at random, but there are hundreds of others who can trace their start in life to the day they began selling papers.

GREAT NAMES FOUND ON PRISON RECORDS

Texas Penitentiary Has Sheltered Men Who Bore Titles Famous in History

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, July 4.—In the executive office there is kept a mammoth book containing the names of all persons who have been convicted of felony and sentenced to the penitentiary since 1850.

The book containing the names of those convicted previous to that year has become misplaced and cannot be found. It was lost, it is supposed, in the hurry and confusion incident to the removal of the records when the old capital burned in 1855.

A study of the names of the convicts on the present record reveals some very amusing, and at the same time remarkable coincidences. It shows that there have been, and are now confined in the state penitentiary convicts who bear the name of the most renowned men in the history of the world, as will be seen from the following: John Adams, murder in the second degree. Daniel Boone, horse theft. John Brown, bribery and murder in the second degree. Henry Clay, assault. Let J. Davidson, horse theft. Stephen Douglas, horse theft. Ben Franklin, manslaughter and burglary. Florence Greely, hog theft. Alexander Hamilton, forfeiture of $500 bond. Wade Hampton, assault with intent to murder. William Henry Harrison, burglary. Andrew Jackson, theft of cattle, and assault to murder. Peter Jackson, assault with intent to murder. Stonewall Jackson, murder in the second degree, and theft. Frank James, assault with intent to murder. Thomas Jefferson, forgery in five cases. Albert Sydney Johnston, cow theft. Andy Johnson, assault and theft. Joseph E. Johnston, assault with intent to murder. Richard Johnston, aggravated assault. Sam Johnson, murder in second degree, theft, burglary, murder and theft. Sam Jones, burglary. Oliver Goldsmith, burglary and horse theft. William McKinley, violating local option law. W. McVeigh, horse theft. Tom Moore, horse theft. Milton Noble, carrying pistol unlawfully. John Randolph, murder in the second degree. Charles Read, burglary. Tom Reed, murder in the first degree. John Marshall, theft over $20. Norah Webster, robbery. John Wesley, theft over $20. George Washington, murder, assault to murder and burglary. This study recalls a quotation from Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, "What's in a name? that which we call a rose. By another name, would smell as sweet."

WHAT SNAP IS At a meeting of the Actors' Fund of America Daniel Frohman talked about playwrighting. "To succeed," said Mr. Frohman, "a play must have snap. Literary men, when they write plays, forget this fact. They create dramas of literary but of no dramatic worth. Snap is everything. A literary man asked me the other day to tell him what snap was. I described a play to him—a one-act play—that was full of snap. "This play opens," I explained, "in a drawing room, with a man and woman seated side by side on a sofa, embracing each other passionately. "Into the drawing room stalks a man with a grip and an umbrella. Of course, the husband, unexpectedly, returned. "The husband no sooner sees the couple on the sofa than he whips out a revolver and kills them both—her first, him afterward. "Then he puts on his glasses, and, looking about him, suddenly gives a great start. "Good heavens!" he exclaims, "I'm on the wrong floor!"—Exchange.

DOUBLE-HEADER PLAYED
HOUSTON, Texas, July 4.—At a meeting of the South Texas Baseball League Monday night it was decided to make the season a double one and the present series will be wound up next Saturday with Houston as the winner thereof.

Protest was made by Houston, but San Antonio and Beaumont wanted it so badly that Houston finally yielded. A peculiar thing was the decision to play off the postponed series of games of the first series during the second half. President Gorham decided it could not be done, but the magnates decided that they could and would, and it was done by unanimous vote. President Gorham was given plenary power in the punishment of fractious players. San Antonio has twelve postponed games and each of the other clubs eight.

INVOKING A TECHNICALITY
The big packing concerns under indictment at Chicago charged with operating in restraint of trade, have evolved a new idea to save their bacon in the emergency that confronts them.

The indictments returned by the Federal grand jury against the heads of the big packing industries may fall flat. Attorneys of the beef barons today assert that the indictment proceedings are irregular and that they will not hold in court.

The novel spectacle of defendants charged with criminal offenses seeking to restrain the prosecution from proving any violations of the law by them may be seen in the United States circuit court probably before Judge Grosscup before the end of the month.

Attorney Miller stated today that the action seeking an injunction would be common, but not without precedent, cases being on record in several instances supporting the contemplated move by the packers.

The form of the action has not been thought out," said Mr. Miller. "It is a well-settled rule of law that where a plaintiff goes into a court of equity seeking an injunction and obtains it, the same plaintiff can not institute criminal proceedings against the defendant.

Whether or not the government will be able to proceed with the trial of the men under indictment is not known, but it is presumed that the department of justice has gone over the situation sufficiently to know what can be done in the premises.

There is one Texas product that is noted the world over for its excellence and is always in great demand. We refer to the Texas pecan, which is shipped out of the state every year by the carload and the supply never equals the demand.

along the streams, but that here natural methods of propagation have more greatly prevailed in streams overflowing and drifting the nuts and covering them with silt.

There are many natural groves along streams, started, no doubt, by nut-eating birds, or rodents, as he buries them, showing that many other uplands will grow pecans successfully if once planted.

In the region known as the timber belt, an area almost as large as any of the other states, the pecan will grow very successfully on any soil—valley or upland.

As a rough estimate, we would say that the area of land in Texas on which the pecan will thrive, without crowding, is 20,000,000 acres. This vast area will grow half a bushel per acre, or an annual income of $5 per acre as an annual income.

Where the pecan grows today, after man has denuded the land of perhaps three acres, to where one is left, is rising along the banks of streams and ridge lands, where the plow cannot reach to cultivate with profit.

Now, these groves of wild pecans are not considered worth anything when a tract of land is purchased. They are thrown in, the same as oak or other timber. Hence it will be readily seen that Texas offers an inviting field for investment along these lines.

The world was surprised at the result of Admiral Rojestvensky's encounter with the Japanese fleet in the sea of Japan, when the entire Russian fleet was wiped out with such trifling loss on the part of the victors.

Since the defeat and capture of Rojestvensky other incidents have transpired which serve to illustrate the pitiful weakness of the Russian navy.

Two vessels of the Black Sea fleet multiplied and bade the whole fleet and Russian government defiance. One of them steamed up and down the line of sister battleships flying the red flag brazenly and openly, and instead of receiving a broadside from her sister ships, the admiral gave hasty orders for the entire fleet to leave the harbor and beat a precipitate retreat.

When these facts are considered it is clear that there is nothing to be apprehended from the Russian navy now or in the future. It is just about the weakest and most impotent thing afloat, and its officers are miserably afraid of their own shadow.

It is becoming more and more apparent that real conditions in Russia are not known by the outside world. Revolution and anarchy are getting such a foothold that the future seems almost absolutely devoid of hope so far as the present dynasty is concerned.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

Tom Lawson is to make speeches in several western states this summer, and if he can talk as fluently as he writes perhaps there are political possibilities ahead of him.

Secretary Wilson is trying, so it is said, to find that cotton leak. But what's the use? Won't the president tell him that the scandal attaches to the department and not to individuals?

The way that 200,000 pounds of wool sold the other day is a fair criterion of the fact that it pays to be a wool grower at the present time.

The fellow who adopts questionable means in the conduct of his business, no matter how smooth he may be in his dishonest tricks, is sure to have his proper measure taken finally.

The Dallas News is afraid big rows will result in democratic conventions if the "error" in the new election law is not corrected.

Some Texans have very promptly suggested to President Roosevelt that J. Stormstoss Hog would make a suitable successor for the late John Hay as secretary of state.

Reports from Taylor indicate that the boll weevils that have been so much in evidence in the cotton fields of that section have almost totally disappeared.

There have been a number of indictments returned in Chicago on matters growing out of the recent big strike in that city and the indications are that when another strike is called in the Windy City it will be called on different lines and conducted in a different manner from some of those that have been pulled off there in the past.

In passing through Granbury the other day, William J. Bryan said he did not think he could afford to again be a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

The county attorney of Tarrant county says the stock law is in full force and effect. That declaration ought to be sufficient to put the town cow entirely out of business.

Fort Worth citizens are taking hold of that Mineral Wells Interurban project with a display of much of the old-time Fort Worth spirit.

What is the use in having rows if proper and easy means can be found to avoid them? There is a growing suspicion that the change was made in the election law for the purpose of promoting rows.

It is an unappealing outrage that the unfortunate inmate should be kept confined in county jails. There are now in the Bexar county jail ten insane persons, three of whom are women.

The same unfortunate condition prevails all over the state. The asylums are crowded to their full capacity and the unfortunates who have committed no crime are confined in county jails just as if they were felons.

Several years ago, when neither Dallas nor Tarrant counties had anything like the taxable wealth of Harris county, both of those counties built splendid court houses, which are now the pride of the people.

During the recent talk to Boston college students Lieutenant Governor Curtis Guild told the following story: "I was once invited to take part in a political rally in western Massachusetts. The presiding officer was a tall and lanky farmer of the backwoods type. In opening the meeting he said: 'Ladies and gentlemen: Your committee did their level best to get some great and famous men to come and speak to you tonight, but being unsuccessful, they were obliged to ask me to do so for these gentlemen—namely them—but I trust you will give them the same hearty applause which you would have given the speakers whom you would like to have heard and whom we would like to have gotten. "It is very wrong for one woman to try to get another woman's servants away from her," said the Rev. Anna Shaw of the American Woman's Suffrage Association. "It is very wrong, and it creates a good deal of feeling. Two ladies of my acquaintance lived near each other and were the best of friends. Put the first envied the second her cook. She actually went to see this cook one morning, and offered her more money than she was getting. But the loyal cook declined to change her place. "The Rev. Mr. Livingston of Georgia tells this one, says the Brooklyn Eagle: 'A friend of mine died in one of the small towns of Georgia,' said Mr. Livingston, 'has many proteges among the people in the mountain country near. Several years ago there was a long dry spell in Georgia. At about the beginning of it the wife of one of the mountaineers died. The disconsolate husband followed her to the grave and was the last to leave the burial grounds. His footprints remained large and distinct in the clay beside the grave. Six weeks afterward my friend drove out to see how the widower was doing. He was found sitting in the doorway of his cabin, staring hopelessly at the cloudless sky. 'Ef hit would only turn in an rain,' he said, 'I wouldn't ask nothin' of nobody.' 'The dry weather is bad for the crops,' the visitor remarked. 'Tain't crops,' said the widower, 'hit's Miss Selmy Johnson. She swears she won't marry me till it rains.' 'Why not?' the visitor asked. 'She swears it wouldn't be showin' proper respect for my first wife by marryin' my tracks in the graveyard if washed out. I shore do wish hit would turn in an rain. I been countin' her six weeks. Good Lord, a man can't wait on the weather forever.'"

THE PATRIOTS OF PEACE

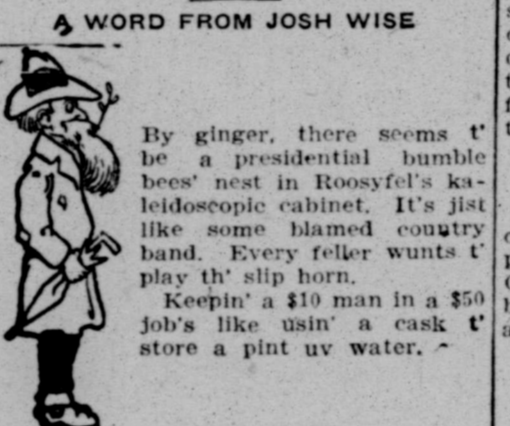

Remember what Sherman said about war? It also applies to independence Day and the popping, roaring, cracking, whooping, exploding that drives some folks almost to insanity and means that we are a nation of patriots and are ever so glad of it that every year we burn tons of powder and maim, mutilate and cripple between 4000 and 5000 human beings—mostly boys.

And the popular idea of patriotism is war. We are glad we fought or that our ancestors fought, and the hair bristles on the back of our necks, and we feel, by hokey, that we can fight again and that the foreigners from London Town to Vladivostok had better keep off the toes of your Uncle Samuel. Huh!

All right. The navy is growing and we are spending millions for target practice and more millions for great guns. But let's hope hard that there will never be another war, and that widows and orphans will never again be made in a strife with other nations or at home. God grant it, is the prayer of the millions.

A patriot isn't necessarily a soldier. A man doesn't have to storm a form to prove that he loves his country. That kind of bravery is fine. It gets in the papers and there is a thrill of pride even in the later days when flowers are strewn on graves and women in black weep. But don't you forget that there are more patriots today than ever before. There are millions of them. They are behind countries and in shops; they are running locomotives and tilling farms. They are not thinking much about war. They have no hatred in their hearts. And how is it that they are patriots? Because they are trying to do their full duty as American citizens. That is how. They toil till their backs are stooped and their hands gnarled and knotted. They rear homes and honor good women. They bring up children and educate them. They do not hesitate to deny themselves to the end that those who come after them shall find greater opportunity and fill a better place in the affairs of the world than did their parents. They are the fathers and mothers of progress. They are the bone and blood and sinew that make the nation strong. They are the living exponents of charity, decency, energy and human love, and they are stronger than the combined armies and navies of the world. And so, while the explosions in memory of '76 shake the earth, be glad that you are a worthy member of that great army, 'The Patriots of Peace. GOD GUIDE THEM ALL.

THE COLORADO COUNTRY

"I have never known the Colorado country to be in better condition than at present," said Earl Morrison of Colorado City. "Ranch conditions could not be better than they are now, and everything is in prime shape."

"I believe that he Hereford grade is best in this respect, than any other breed. In the flesh, their markings are more distinct, and while it is true that they are easy to breed down, at the same time I have known an eighth to the John Harlow mark of the full breed. This is not often the case."

"Oz my ranch in Mexico I have some fine Herefords, but it is almost impossible to raise them in that country. The Texas worry the Herefords more than any other breed I know of, and I believe they succumb sooner to fever."

"But this constitutes their chief fault, while there are a great many things to be said in their praise. There isn't any cow on earth that will rust harder than a Hereford. They fatten quickly, shrink less in shipping and hold their weight under adverse conditions."

JEWELLERS WANT CARAT STAMP ACT

Will Ask Congress to Prevent Improper Marking-of Watches

In order that reputable dealers and manufacturers may unite in opposing the manufacture of low carat jewelry which is marked with a high carat stamp, a leading watch company has sent out circular letters asking the co-operation of dealers in having a national stamp act passed at the next session of congress.

Adolph Friedman, a well known local pawn broker, has received one of these letters, and according to instructions has written to Congressman Edward E. Vreeland, Salamanca, N. Y., commending the passage of the act.

Mr. Friedman, in speaking of the matter this morning, said: "It is the intention of reputable dealers to have a bill passed making it a crime to mark this cheap jewelry with high carat marks. A bill of this character will protect both the public and the dealer.

Manufacture of cheap watches and jewelry which are exported to South American countries, is causing dealers there to fight shy of American goods of that character."

Injured Man Endangered on the Way to Hospital by Small Boys

Fire crackers thrown under an ambulance conveying an injured man to St. Joseph's Infirmary threatened a serious accident this morning.

The horses became frightened and attempted to bolt and presence of mind of the driver narrowly averted an accident. The scene occurred on South Main street, near the corner of Railroad avenue.

Gay Bartoo, the injured man in the vehicle at the time, is an employe of Swift & Co., who was seriously scalded on both legs below the knee in the accident.

The explosion occurred at 4 o'clock.

Police have been notified of boys carelessly throwing fire crackers, and though no arrests had been made at noon, an investigation is being made. A number of boys were about the scene of the occurrence, but no identification was made of the throwing of the explosives.

Residents in the neighborhood are aroused over the incident and declare an ordinance should be made of the boys if caught.

Numerous reports were received from various parts of the city of teams frightened in similar manner. No serious run-aways, however, occurred.

Strelow resisted and ran, and one of the four shot him dead.

Harry Hind, 6 years of age, probably was fatally hurt by Katie Huss, 15 years of age, who was struck in the right knee by a bullet fired by Patrolman Lewis, who was trying to disperse a crowd which had objected to the shooting of a live torpedoes on the street car tracks.

CHURCH AND STATE PART IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 4.—The bill for the separation of church and state passed the chamber of deputies last night by the decisive vote of 341 to 233.

The result was greeted by government cheering and opposition hisses and there was great excitement. When the result was officially given out there was renewed clamor, participated in by those in the crowded galleries and lobbies, as well as by those on the floor of the chamber.

This most important legislation affecting the long established social and religious conditions of France becomes an accomplished fact, so far as the chamber of deputies is concerned.

HART KNOCKS OUT CHICAGO MAN

Wins Pugilistic Championship in Twelve Rounds at Reno, Nevada

RENO, Nev., July 4.—In a furious twelve-round fight that was witnessed by an excited crowd of 5,000 people, Marvin Hart of Louisville knocked out Jack Root of Chicago here yesterday. The contest took place in the great arena a mile east of here and for nearly an hour the men fought under a sun that was almost oppressive.

The decisive blow was landed by Hart in the twelfth round. Root, who was tired but still fighting gamely, led hard for the head with the left and as he missed, Hart sent a terrific right down to the pit of the stomach. The blow was heard all over the immense arena, and when Root fell gasping for breath, the spectators knew that he would never rise within the count.

As the eighth second of the seconds clock raised himself on his hands with his mouth open, dragged himself on his knees and then collapsed. His seconds carried him to his corner, where he recovered in about three minutes.

"It was a square fight and I have no complaint to make," he said weakly after he had revived. "The best man won."

The fight was attended by about 5,000 people. They paid all the way from $5 to $10 apiece for seeing the battle. There was a liberal sprinkling of women in attendance. The men stepped into the ring-side about twenty paces apart in weight, and fought for ten minutes. Root weighed 190. The feature of the fight, aside from the battle itself, was the initial appearance of one, who acted as arbiter, for which function he was paid $1,000. Harry Corbett, the stakeholder, was at the ringside with the club's $5,000 in his pocket. This was split on the basis of 65 per cent to the winner and 35 per cent to the loser. The seconds of the victor were Battling Nelson, Teddy Alexander and Paddy Mackay. Bill Gallagher of San Francisco held the watch for Root.

The seconds of Hart were Jack McCormack, Deputy Thompson, Jack Roberts and Lee Updyke. Timekeeper, Al Updyke.

The recent marriage of a couple of cripples, each having only half the proper complement of arms and legs, was noted by the press as a "curious incident." But who notes the marriages which occur daily in which both parties are cripples in health.
Crippled health means, as a rule, insufficient nutrition, and lack of nutrition points to disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tract. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures such diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and enables the perfect nourishment of the body, and so builds it up in sound health and strength.

FATAL RECORD OF FOURTH BEGINS

First Deaths Come Early as Result of Carelessness With Revolvers

CHICAGO, July 4.—One man dead, a boy probably fatally wounded, two other men shot and a boy hurt by a cannon cracker were early contributions of victims to the Fourth of July celebration in Chicago.

Charles Strelow, 19 years old, was shot and killed by one of four unidentified men, all of whom escaped. Strelow, who was with several friends, had fired one shot from a revolver, when the first shot was fired. The party immediately demanded that the party submit to search. Strelow resisted and ran, and one of the four shot him dead.

Harry Hind, 6 years of age, probably was fatally hurt by Katie Huss, 15 years of age, who was struck in the right knee by a bullet fired by Patrolman Lewis, who was trying to disperse a crowd which had objected to the shooting of a live torpedoes on the street car tracks.

William J. O'Brien, 27 years old, was struck in the left foot by a stray bullet.

Theodore Hunter, 13 years old, was injured severely by a cannon cracker which exploded in his left hand prematurely.

CHURCH AND STATE PART IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 4.—The bill for the separation of church and state passed the chamber of deputies last night by the decisive vote of 341 to 233.

The result was greeted by government cheering and opposition hisses and there was great excitement. When the result was officially given out there was renewed clamor, participated in by those in the crowded galleries and lobbies, as well as by those on the floor of the chamber.

This most important legislation affecting the long established social and religious conditions of France becomes an accomplished fact, so far as the chamber of deputies is concerned.

HART KNOCKS OUT CHICAGO MAN

Wins Pugilistic Championship in Twelve Rounds at Reno, Nevada

RENO, Nev., July 4.—In a furious twelve-round fight that was witnessed by an excited crowd of 5,000 people, Marvin Hart of Louisville knocked out Jack Root of Chicago here yesterday. The contest took place in the great arena a mile east of here and for nearly an hour the men fought under a sun that was almost oppressive.

The decisive blow was landed by Hart in the twelfth round. Root, who was tired but still fighting gamely, led hard for the head with the left and as he missed, Hart sent a terrific right down to the pit of the stomach. The blow was heard all over the immense arena, and when Root fell gasping for breath, the spectators knew that he would never rise within the count.

As the eighth second of the seconds clock raised himself on his hands with his mouth open, dragged himself on his knees and then collapsed. His seconds carried him to his corner, where he recovered in about three minutes.

"It was a square fight and I have no complaint to make," he said weakly after he had revived. "The best man won."

The fight was attended by about 5,000 people. They paid all the way from $5 to $10 apiece for seeing the battle. There was a liberal sprinkling of women in attendance. The men stepped into the ring-side about twenty paces apart in weight, and fought for ten minutes. Root weighed 190. The feature of the fight, aside from the battle itself, was the initial appearance of one, who acted as arbiter, for which function he was paid $1,000. The case of Samuel Greason, the woman's negro paramour, which has been before the board for more than two years, was stricken from the list. CONDEMNNS SPEED WAR

Washington Gladden Says Risks Are Unwarranted

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 4.—Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden preached at the First Congregational church on the 'Speed Craze.' After referring to the craze for speed in cycling and automobile, and its attendant risks and consequences, Dr. Gladden said: 'This greed of velocity has worse still to answer for. The recent reckless speeding of railway trains is part of the craze. I cannot believe that any real interest of man is secured by these furious schedules. They are a fruit of the distemper of the times. They involve risks and peril to trainmen as well as to passengers, which are, I believe, wholly unwarranted by any normal human demand.'

INDEPENDENCE DAY ONE OF PLEASURE

Citizens of Fort Worth Flock to the Parks and Places of Amusement

Independence Day is being observed in the city of Fort Worth in various and sundry ways. Aside from the principal feature, the small boy with his fire cracker, many forms of amusement are open to the public.

In the sporting line two baseball games are an opportunity for celebration. The Panthers and Temple Ball Novelets are scheduled for a double header at Haines park, while at Lake Erie the A. & L. August team and the Armour players fight it out this afternoon. Another sporting event is the shoot of the Fort Worth Gun Club.

At Rosen Heights, The Pike was thrown open to the public this morning. Those who wish to see the two-headed lady, ride on the merry-go-round and take in the shows are spending a busy day there.

Germans of this city and Dallas are holding a celebration at Hermann park this afternoon. A joint concert is being given by the Teutonia Singing Society of this city and the Froshin Society of Dallas. Later in the day athletic contests, including various foot races, are scheduled to take place.

State mail carriers are holding their annual meeting in the city today and are having exercises at Grunewald's park. Hundreds of families taking advantage of the holiday, are spending the day picnicking in the woods. Numerous fishing parties went up the river.

Tonight the display of fireworks throughout the city promises to surpass former years.

Heavily loaded cars leaving for Lake Erie all day insure an almost record-breaking crowd at that resort, which has been specially decorated with bunting, flags and myriad tri-colored lights in honor of the day. Performance by the Albert Taylor Stock Company and the usual amusements of the park are being enjoyed.

LIVE WIRE HAS ANOTHER VICTIM

Eddie Burns, Young Negro, Is Killed on Roof of Dundee Building

Coming in contact with an electrically charged guy wire on the roof of the Dundee building shortly before 8 o'clock Monday night, Eddie Burnett, a young negro boy living in East Fourth street, was instantly electrocuted. Justice Rowland held an inquest, rendering a verdict of death due to electric shock.

Burnett, according to statements made by his father, went to the building to deliver some flowers. While the janitor was sweeping, he and another young negro, Willie Evans, went up on the roof to get a view of the city. Eddie stumbled over the guy wire and was shocked to death.

The death of the negro Monday night makes two fatalities by electrocution in the city in one day. M. T. Terry, a young white man, having been killed in the morning at Main and Front streets.

BIG MARKET PLANNED

Company Chartered and May Work With Auditorium Committee

Word was received in this city Monday night that the Fort Worth Market Company had been granted a charter at Austin with a capital stock of $20,000, of which $15,000 is paid up. The company has paid out the indebtedness on the market square west of the court house and will at once take up the building of a market house.

R. L. Crowder said this morning that an effort will be made to have an auditorium built in connection with the market house. Building of the auditorium now projected in connection with the market house, he said, would be entirely acceptable to them. The matter will be brought before the county commissioners.

A plan of this sort was first discussed in this city at a meeting of farmers and citizens, rough plans and estimates for the building being prepared.

Hospital Chartered

All Saints' hospital of this city has been chartered at Austin, Misses M. D. Beegs, M. J. Evans and E. M. Ellis and others being named as incorporators. The hospital is chartered with no capital stock. The work of erecting this hospital was commenced several years ago, but for lack of funds it has never been completed. Work has been resumed recently and it is thought that it will soon be completed.

Early Morning Dance

The Entre Nous Club of this city celebrated the Fourth by the most unique society event this season. Leaving the city for Lake Erie at 5:30 a. m., an early morning zerman was danced after which breakfast was served on the pavilion veranda.

With the rising sun casting its rays over the waters of Lake Erie a happy young crowd indulged in a dainty breakfast, drinking in the crisp morning air and sipping fragrant coffee.

The dance was strictly a club affair, only members attending.

EXPERTS ARE PUZZLED

All Efforts to Cure Strange Cattle Disease Fail

No decision has yet been reached in regard to the character of the peculiar disease which attacked a herd of milch cows, belonging to E. G. McPeak of this city. Though veterinarians and live stock experts have made thorough investigation and a post mortem examination has been made on one animal, no announcement as to what the disease is has ever been made.

M. M. Hanks of Quanah, member of the state sanitary live stock commission, who was in the city Monday, said: "While I have never learned just what the disease is, I have determined that it is neither fatal or contagious and that is as far as I am interested in the matter officially."

The cattle in question through still having slight swellings in the flank and throat, in which manner the malady made itself evident, are otherwise perfectly healthy.

THE NINE LIVES OF A STORE

"The Only One of a Cat's Nine Lives Which It Cannot Afford to Lose is the Ninth."

1. STORE LOCATION: Important, but not vital. Most any poor location may be turned into a good one.
2. FIXTURES: Should be "right," but particular kinds are not indispensable.
3. STOCK: Must be up-to-date; must have intrinsic worth, aptness to human needs.
4. SALESMANSHIP: Clerks should glow with good nature and know people as well as goods.
5. DELIVERY SYSTEM: Should make the store "near-by" to every home in city.
6. DIRECTION: One head and many "helping heads," all in perfect accord.
7. RIGHT PRICING: Stock purchases when prices are "cheap," and always with local demands in mind.
8. RIGHT SELLING: Fair profits on most things—losses on some when occasion demands.
9. PUBLICITY: The "keystone of the arch." If not ample, if not intelligent, if not continuous—the store fails.

A STORE MUST BE AS CAREFUL OF ITS NINTH LIFE AS IS THE CAT. THE OTHER EIGHT LIVES SHOULD NOT BE IMPERILED, NOR IMPAIRED; BUT THE NINTH LIFE SHOULD CARRY THE HEAVIEST INSURANCE.
