REVOLUTIONISTS CONTROL SHIP

Russian Chief of Naval Staff Says Kniaz Potemkine Sailors Are Merely Tools

STILL AT THEODOSIA

Inhabitants of City Flee—Capture of Mutineers Up to Admiral Chouknin

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—Inquiry at the admiralty this morning failed to confirm the report current last night that the Kniaz Potemkine had already left Theodosia. Admiral Weirenus, chief of the naval staff, informed the Associated Press that according to the latest advice the battleship was still at Theodosia.

"What will be done?" asked the correspondent. "We cannot tell you," was the reply. "The whole affair is in the hands of Vice Admiral Chouknin, and he has not communicated his plans to the admiralty. The Kniaz Potemkine was due to leave Theodosia yesterday afternoon. They should now be arriving at Sevastopol."

"Do you think upon the arrival of Vice Admiral Chouknin the dispatch of the squadron will be made to try and capture the Kniaz Potemkine?" "We do not know what he will do. In my opinion the easier and promptest solution would be to send a torpedo boat to sink her, and I have advocated that course all along. The situation is very grave. The ship is not in the hands of the crew, but is in the hands of a revolutionary committee which went on board at Odessa. They have issued a high-sounding manifesto to the powers. They wanted to be considered as insurgents. I presume their next step will be to ask for recognition as belligerents. They have their heads set for nothing and will stop at nothing. In the eyes of the law they are outlaws and pirates. The first thing necessary is to make an example of the crew and restore discipline in the Black Sea fleet."

Admiral Weirenus said there is no truth in the report from Vienna that four hundred Russian sailors had destroyed a cruiser and had sought refuge on board a British steamer bound for Constantinople. No Russian cruiser, the admiral added, had been destroyed so far as he knew.

SAILORS WANT TO GO HOME

VALEJO, Cal., July 6.—More than 100 members of the crew of the Russian cruiser Lena, which is interned at the Mare Island navy yard, made a demand upon Commander Genter, in charge of the vessel, that they be accorded the same privileges as those granted enlisted men on the Russian ships interned at Manila, that all the crew except enough men to man the ship be paroled and allowed to return to their homes in Russia.

MUTINEERS ISSUE MANIFESTO

THEODOSIA, Crimea, July 6.—The mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine yesterday formally raised the standard of rebellion and issued the following declaration:

"The crew of the Kniaz Potemkine notify the foreign powers that the decisive struggle has begun against the Russian government. We consider it to be our duty to declare that we guarantee the complete inviolability of foreign ships navigating the Black Sea, as well as inviolability of foreign ports."

BRITISH VESSEL LOWERED FLAG

After Threatening to Shoot the Collector of an American Port

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 6.—A protest has been filed with the Canadian minister of marine by Captain Simmons of the Canadian schooner Acaela, because the port collector, Duane Bump, compelled him to lower the British flag on his vessel in the harbor at Charlotte on July 4.

MAN LIVES WITH BULLET IN HIS HEART

Case of Harvey Mowak of New York Puzzles Surgeons

NEW YORK, July 6.—Surgeons in a local hospital are puzzled over the case of Harvey Mowak, who, during an altercation on a ferryboat on the Fourth of July, was shot by a fellow passenger.

TURNER E. HUBBY OF WACO PREVENTED BY FEVER

WACO, Texas, July 6.—After taking part in a portion of the great American handicap shoot at Indianapolis, Turner E. Hubby of this city came home quite ill with malarial fever. He is some better now, however. He did not get to shoot for the cup at all, owing to his condition, but made a record of forty straight on targets while he had high fever.

HONKING GOOSE SAVES FOUR LIVES

Squawks Alarm of Fire in Time to Awake Sleeping Families and Prevent Tragedy

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 6.—By squawking at the proper time early yesterday morning a fat white goose saved the lives of four persons. Instead of being killed and eaten, as was intended, the goose will live if Dr. E. W. Lindley has anything to say.

TEAMSTERS TAKE DRASTIC MEASURES

Will Endeavor to Force Union Men to Contribute to Support

CHICAGO, July 6.—Continuation of the teamsters' strike seemed today to depend upon the success of an effort to obtain contributions to the strike fund.

The teamsters' joint council had appointed a committee of twenty-five of the striking teamsters, empowered to stop every union teamster at work in Chicago and ascertain if he had paid his weekly contribution of $1 to support the strikers.

PATRICK TO APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

Condemned Man to Make Last Effort to Save Himself from Murderer's Fate

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is announced that Albert T. Patrick, who is awaiting execution for the murder of William Marsh Rice, the Texas millionaire, has instructed his counsel, David B. Hill, to take his case to the United States supreme court.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR

St. Louis Fair Did Not Affect Railroad Business

WACO, Texas, July 6.—"The railroad business of Texas would be poor this summer on account of the large number of Texans who attended the St. Louis fair last year, but there has been a surprising business and a decided movement this year," said a prominent local railroad man.

U. S. MARINES GET OVATION IN PARIS

Crowd Uncovers While Band Plays National Anthem and Cheers Sigbee's Jackies

PARIS, July 6.—The unusual sight of a detachment of United States sailors and marines swarming through the central thoroughfares of Paris today aroused great interest and brought out an enthusiastic ovation from the crowds along the line of march.

TEXAS TO CALIFORNIA

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, July 6.—Governor Lanham today received a telegram from Weatherford to the effect that his son, New Lanham, who has been ill several weeks with fever, was in a serious condition, and that he was threatened with appendicitis, and that a difficult surgical operation would have to be undertaken by the doctor.

SENATOR ACQUITTED

Jury Finds A. W. Covington Not Guilty of Bribery

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 6.—A verdict of "not guilty" was returned by the jury in the trial of Senator A. W. Covington, on a charge of accepting a bribe of $6,000 on the bill appropriating $600,000 for the completion of the new state capital. Immediately after the verdict was announced the prosecution entered a nolle prosequi in the remaining charges against Senator Covington, that of accepting a bribe of $1,000 and a gold watch for his vote on the Reulenthal district court bill.

EXPERT ADVOCATES SMALLER FARMS

Government Representative Says Texans Lose by Trying to Work Too Much Land

Special to The Telegram. WACO, Texas, July 6.—J. L. Quicksall, a government representative in the agricultural department who travels over the state and urges farmers to diversify and thoroughly cultivate their land, stated when asked about the matter that though one of the greatest difficulties in Texas was that farmers would overcrop themselves, the result being that in many cases large areas made but little owing to defective cultivation. He strongly advised that smaller tracts be cultivated and that the land be plowed right along, not waiting for it to get very dry if it needs working. Thorough cultivation, as urged by the government, will, he thinks, work great changes, and many farmers have already adopted this plan. The best crops seen by Mr. Quicksall were about Gonzales, Luling and Lockhart in South Texas, while in Johnson county the crops were also excellent. Some other sections have very good crops, but these are the best noted. He says that little has been heard of the boll weevil as yet, but of course this pest may make itself felt at any time.

ONE DEAD AND TWO WOUNDED

Result of Knife Wounds Received in Affray at Wynnewood

ARDMORE, I. T., July 6.—John Walner, aged 45, was stabbed to death at Wynnewood last night.

Bob Walner, his nephew, has been placed under arrest and taken to Pauls Valley for an examining trial.

John Walner and Jesse Knox engaged in business together and Bob Walner while intoxicated quarreled with and attacked the two men with a knife. John Walner died in five minutes from his wounds and Jesse Knox is in a critical condition and may die. Bob Knox, a brother of Jesse, who came to his rescue, also received slight injuries.

John Walner was the oldest resident of Wynnewood, having built the first residence in the town.

WILL PLEAD GUILTY

Defendants in Oregon Land Fraud Cases Accept Indictment

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—In the Federal court yesterday the case against Congressman Binger Hermann, indicted in connection with the land frauds in this state, was placed at the bottom of the calendar.

In the matter of the indictment and trial of S. A. D. Pater, Marie Ware, Emma L. Watson and State Senator F. E. Mays, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, it was announced that the first three had agreed to plead guilty, leaving Mays the only one not admitting his guilt.

CROWD AT PORTLAND

Nearly 55,000 People Saw Fair on the Fourth of July

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—Nearly 55,000 persons passed through the gates of the Lewis and Clarke Exposition yesterday, making the day a record-breaking one so far as attendance is concerned.

EDGE OF CYCLONE VISITS THIS CITY

High Wind With Heavy Rain and Lightning Cause Property Damage

Fort Worth Wednesday night received the tail end of the storm that wrought such havoc during the afternoon in the vicinity of Nocona and Montague.

The wind blew at the rate of thirty-six miles an hour, knocking down fences and out-houses northwest of the city. Rain came down in liberal quantity, .60 of an inch falling between 7:35 o'clock and 8 o'clock.

Main street, from Third to Ninth, on the west side, was covered with a sheet of water that partly submerged the street car tracks and, in some places, even overflowed the sidewalks. The storm gratings were all opened, but they were insufficient to drain off the rapidly falling water and the street for some time had the appearance of a lake.

Telephone and lightning equipment was considerably damaged by lightning and wind. No wires or poles were knocked down, but several fuses in the office of the Southwestern Telephone Company were injured by lightning and a great many crosses resulted from the rain and wind, causing the service to be crippled for a brief period.

Patrons of the Fort Worth Light and Power Company were informed that a book full of repair calls had been turned in and that they would be reached in turn.

Street railway companies were also victims of the storm. For a brief period cars of the Rosen Heights Company and the Northern Texas Traction Company in North Fort Worth were put out of commission because of trouble caused by the wind, rain and lightning.

Weather Observer Landis received no reports on the storm in the vicinity of Nocona, but says that the disturbance in Fort Worth may have been a part of the cyclonic disturbance in the country northwest of here. He says he observed the movement of the clouds and winds and that it was in the direction of the storm center, which would seem to indicate an unusual disturbance in that vicinity. The clouds were of a greenish yellow hue at the base, indicating an abundance of water.

Reports from North Fort Worth and Rosen Heights would seem to indicate that the wind storm of Tuesday night reached those sections in unusual strength. The old Rosen Heights Land Company's office, with several other small buildings, were moved from their base, a portion of the baseball park fence was blown down and a number of cottages demolished. Sam Rosen, speaking of Tuesday's storm, said: "I was unable to sleep that night. My horse roared like a cradle in the winds and I thought for a time that it would surely go over."

BALL PLAYERS FIGHT ON BASE

Hunter of Houston and Newman of San Antonio Spoil Game

Special to The Telegram. HOUSTON, Texas, July 6.—On pleas of guilty two scrapping first basemen, Hunter of Houston and Newman of the San Antonio team, were fined five dollars and costs by the city judge today. The two spoiled a fine game of ball yesterday by a fist fight on first base.

JEWELS MISSING HEIRESS ACCUSED

Annie Grant of Chicago Faces Low Courts of Eastland

LONDON, July 6.—"Annie Grant" of Chicago, claiming to be an heiress, was committed today to the police court to stand trial at Old Bailey on the charge of stealing a pearl necklace worth $10,000 from Christie's auction rooms.

MONTAGUE COUNTY SWEEP BY STORM THIRTY-FIVE DEAD

Wind of Hurricane Violence Traverses Path Fourteen Miles Long and One to Three Miles Wide, Leaving Death and Destruction in Its Wake

FARMING COMMUNITY DEVASTATED

Churches and Courthouse in Montague Damaged and Many Buildings Unroofed—Relief Parties Aiding Physicians—Heavy Windstorm at Jacksboro

Special to The Telegram. MONTAGUE, Texas, July 6.—Latest reports from the section of Montague county which was swept by a disastrous wind storm late yesterday afternoon, give the number of dead at approximately thirty-five with at least that many injured.

The dead: MRS. C. C. SHACKLEFORD, LINNIE SHACKLEFORD, MRS. S. L. TUMBLESON AND THREE CHILDREN, CLABE WHITE, MRS. IRB WILLIAMS, H. G. EARL, G. H. EARL, SADIE EARL, INFANT CHILD OF LAWRENCE BELLOW, MRS. CHARLEY WILLIAMS.

Injured: JAMES SIMPSON, MISS ALICE SIMPSON, MISS MOORE, arm broken, MISS POTTS, fatally, C. R. CHRISTIAN and family, J. M. STEWARD and family, C. H. WILLIAMS, leg broken, MISS NANNIE AUSTIN, seriously, J. B. WOOD and son FRANK, the latter seriously, MRS. JESSE, R. G. SHACKLEFORD and wife, Z. W. SHACKLEFORD and wife, C. C. SHACKLEFORD, sustained injuries at the head, FOUR OF HIS CHILDREN also sustained severe injuries, A CHILD of Mrs. Mary Lester is thought to be fatally injured.

The storm passed over a strip of thickly settled farming country about fourteen miles long and from one to three miles wide. From best obtainable accounts it began four miles west of Nocona and moved southeast, its violence being largely abated soon after passing Montague.

Luckily no towns were directly in its path, although Montague suffered from heavy wind, the southern edge of the town receiving the greatest force of the gale.

In Montague the Methodist church is a total loss, the court house is damaged to the extent of $2,000 and the Christian and Catholic churches were more or less damaged. Hardly a tin roof in the town was left in place.

NOT LIKE A TORNADO

From all reports that have reached here the storm was not a tornado, judging from its width and the effects. All of the trees and buildings blown down in its path fell in one direction and there was no evidence of the twisting motion usually accompanying tornadoes.

LASTED THIRTY MINUTES

The storm began about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and lasted thirty minutes. Shortly after it was over reports of great destruction in the surrounding country began coming in and physicians and citizens at once hurried to give relief. Drs. Yeakley and Younger of Bowie also hurried to the storm-swept district and lent their assistance in caring for the wounded.

STARTED WEST OF NOCONA

Special to The Telegram. NOCONA, Texas, July 6.—At least sixteen are dead in the country near here and as many are injured as the result of the terrific storm which struck this section late yesterday afternoon. Reports are yet meager; physicians who hurried to the country as soon as the news began coming in have not yet returned with full particulars.

Nocona fortunately escaped damage from the wind and no one was injured here. The storm here was accompanied by a flood of rain, continuous lightning and much hail. Crops are seriously damaged.

Nocona is located on the Dallas and Henrietta branch of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas road, twenty miles from Henrietta, twenty-five miles from Gainesville, twelve miles from St. Jo and about five miles northwest from Montague, the county seat of the county.

HEAVY WIND AT JACKSBORO

JACKSBORO, Texas, July 6.—At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the worst wind storm ever known in this country struck Jacksboro, injuring several people, tearing down all signs and awnings and wrecking most windmills and towers of all kinds. It removed the Baptist church from its foundation and about twenty other buildings, turned over and destroyed all out-houses, completely demolished three houses, swept Nichol's wagon yard into the creek, destroying all vehicles contained therein, unroofed the cotton gin, destroyed the seedhouses of the oil mill, blew the Eastburn windmill from its tower down through the roof of E. E. Young's drug store, flooded the building, and disappeared. It is impossible to estimate the loss.

The injured are: Mrs. Travis Calhoun, seriously; Travis Calhoun, Mrs. Thomas F. Horton and Henry Veaser, colored, and family.

The wind came from the northwest, accompanied by the heaviest downpour of rain ever known here. All light and phone wires are down.

LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives depend on us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the great suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That we would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore—mark well this fact—a liniment, by name, has been devised, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition.

This liniment is for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during accouchement, but also to rally from this ordeal and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. It is not irritating to the most sensitive surfaces, and is applicable to all cases. It is not enough to call it Mother's Friend—it is the friend of the whole family. $1.00, all druggists. Book "Motherhood" free.

FLOOD DEVASTATED NATURAL PARADISE

Guanajuato, Where Hundreds Were Lost, Most Beautiful Spot in America

CITY OF MEXICO, July 6.—Guanajuato, Mexico, now the center of an inland sea, almost ruined by the great cloud-burst that overpowered her Saturday, is noted as the center of Mexico's treasure house. She is situated in the center of the gold and silver mining region, 140 miles to the northwest of Mexico City. For 500 years or more her mines have which flows along the lower edge of the town is also rich in gold and silver. It has produced 500,000 tons of ore per year for 800 years.

The real power of Guanajuato began when Cortez came to Mexico with his conquering hosts. His men deserted to the pines, and since then they have been continuously worked by European and American capital. American investors have secured practical control of the workings within the past ten years. Governor Herrick of Ohio is largely interested in the Valenciana mine, which has a record production of $300,000,000. New Yorkers and Chicagoans also have vast holdings in the district.

Guanajuato is at the end of a branch of the Mexican Central railway, connecting it with the United States on the north and Central America on the south. It is the capital of the state of the same name, and is governed much after the fashion of an American capital city.

As a picture spot it is said to have no equal in the western hemisphere. Surrounded by the mountain ranges which yield her wealth, she nestles in a heights, and the ancient altars on which human lives were offered to the sun remain as monuments to the races that have vanished. Beneath the city are extensive catacombs, remains of ancient mines and sacrificial chambers. In them still are found the skulls of contemporaries of Montezuma and the forgotten kings of the Toltecs.

Within the past century her population has grown to near 100,000 souls, all more or less dependent on the mines for their livelihood. Withal, Guanajuato is one of the richest cities in all Mexico. It was there that the uprising against Spanish rule was financed, and the leaders of the revolution, who gave up their fortunes and their lives for Mexican liberty, came nearly all from Guanajuato.

Nearly 30,000 Americans reside in the town, engineers and the like in the mining systems, and it is feared that they have suffered from the flood.

Sixty thousand applications have been made for employment on the Paris "tube" (underground railway), which is not to be opened for traffic before next summer.

HEART MADE TO BEAT HOURS AFTER DEATH

German Medical World Discussing Remarkable Experiment of Physicians

BERLIN, July 6.—The German medical world is excitedly talking some experiments just made by Drs. Dencke and Adams of Hamburg.

A murderer was guillotined at 8:02 a. m. her blood to the extent of two quarts was collected and at once defibrinated. At 8:12 o'clock chest was cut open and weak contractions and twitchings of the heart were noticeable. At 8:15 o'clock the heart was removed from the body and passed through a weak solution of muric acid to clear it of all fluids and render the organ absolutely dead and nerveless.

It was then treated with what is known to physicians as Locke's solution, and immediate, well-regulated movement began to be perceptible. At 8:32 o'clock the heart was supplied with defibrinated blood mixed with another solution and slightly heated. Immediately it began quite extraordinary powerful beats, and two hours after the woman was beheaded her heart was vibrating in a lively, if weak fashion. But, little by little, its contractions became weaker, and at 11:34 o'clock it was incapable of further action. For three hours, therefore, action had been kept up.

If the heart, say Drs. Dencke and Adams, why not the brain? And if the brain can be influenced after death, then speech may be produced.

ALCOHOL GREATEST SUICIDE CAUSE

London Coroner Tabulates Figures on Self-Destruction—Unrequited Love Ranks High

LONDON, July 6.—Dr. Wynn Westcott, coroner for the northeastern district of London, whose observation of the motives and methods of suicides during the last twenty years has been at least as intimate as that of any man living, last night lectured upon the subject before the Medico-Legal Society.

"What makes a suicide? It is not," said the doctor, "a question of cowardice or bravery, or of the presence or absence of Christian principles. Suicides are not deterred by the law, and their brains are frequently indistinguishable from the brains of other persons."

"The most usual causes of suicide are disease, poverty, alcoholism, a fit of passion, or an attack of pain, or disappointed love. The higher the standard of education the greater the number of suicides. Nations possessing the largest number of daily papers always produce the greatest number of suicides.

"Soldiers and sailors commit suicide more frequently than civilians. The rate among prisoners is high.

"Men commit suicide three times more often than women. The heaviest percentage occurs between 40 and 50 years of age, and the rate is rapid. Child suicide is increasing; this is due to the strain of modern education. Below the age of 20 most of the suicides are females.

"Bachelors commit suicide more often than spinsters; widows more often than widowers; divorced men more often than divorced women.

"Chronic alcoholism is the most general cause of suicide. Incurable disease comes next."

CHIEF OF POLICE DRAWS DEAD LINE

Resorts on Business Streets Served With Notices to Move Out

According to statements made by Chief of Police Maddox, occupants of fifty houses of ill-repute in Main and Houston streets have been notified to move to the lower part of the city.

"It is had enough to have a red light district at best," said Chief Maddox, "but when vice is carried on in the business district it is time to call a halt. I have notified occupants of the places on Main and Houston streets to move to the lower part of the city. If they refuse, I will enforce the order, arresting every person who refuses to obey instructions."

Mr. Maddox said that officers are instructed to see that the order is carried out to the letter.

GOVERNOR HOGG HAS ACCEPTED

Will Address the State Meeting of the Farmers' Union at Waco Next Month

DALLAS, Texas, July 6.—Farmer W. A. Shaw, secretary of the executive committee of the Farmers' Union, has announced that he has received a letter from ex-Governor James S. Hogg accepting the invitation to speak at the state meeting of the Farmers' Union, which will be held at Waco next month.

The following was the text of the letter received from Governor Hogg: "Columbia, Texas, June 30.—Dear Sir: Yes, the Lord permitting, I will attend the state meeting of the Farmers' Union at Waco and make a speech. Set the day and let me know. These people need all the encouragement that can be given them, and I am willing to run any risk of health to do my part of the work. I am slowly recovering and hope to be well soon."

The state meeting of the Farmers' Union will be held August 8 to 12. One day will be known as "open day," when the general public will be allowed to hear the speeches of prominent men. Governor Hogg will speak on this day. The Waco arrangements committee have secured Padgett Park for the public gathering.

Farmer Shaw will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Farmers' Union in Williamson county July 8 and he will confer with the members of the committee in regard to the final arrangements for the Waco meeting.

H. H. ROGERS A CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST?

Rumor Says Oil Magnate Has Become Follower of Mrs. Eddy's Teachings

NEW YORK, July 6.—All Wall street believes H. H. Rogers has become a Christian Scientist. Rumor is persistent today, although no confirmation could be obtained from Rogers or members of the Church of Christ, Scientist. How the rumor came into being was strange, although some hold its inception was in 25 Broadway.

All over the financial district were persons who held that Rogers had joined the ranks of "Science" and H. Carroll Wilson, spokesman for Scientists in New York, was besieged by inquiries.

When asked about it he said: "I never heard it intimated that Rogers was to join us until today. I have been asked by many persons, but what truth there may be in the rumor I cannot say. I think if he has joined any one of our five churches in Manhattan I would have known of it. It may be he has quietly adopted our belief without as yet identifying himself with any particular church."

Lawson has not yet been heard from on the question of Rogers' alleged conversion.

FRANCE HONORS AMERICAN HERO

Body of John Paul Jones Covered with the Flags of the Two Nations at Paris

PARIS, July 6.—Another link in the chain of friendship binding together the great republics of the new and old worlds was forged today when officially France united with representatives of the United States in paying respect to the memory of the great American admiral, Paul Jones. The program of ceremonies accompanying the transfer of the admiral's remains to the custody of the American naval authorities for conveyance to the United States occupied the greater part of the day and attracted unlimited attention in the French capital.

An American naval escort of more than five hundred officers and men from the American squadron at Cherbourg arrived in Paris by special train at an early hour this morning. The visitors were met at the Invalides railroad station by a detachment of French troops, who acted as escort to the barracks of the military school, which the government placed at the disposal of the United States sailors and marines. At 3:30 this afternoon Admiral Sigsbee, his staff and entire naval contingent proceeded to the American church, on the avenue de l'Alma, where the ceremonies of the delivery of Admiral Paul Jones' body to the representatives of the American government took place. The church was thronged with distinguished French naval and civil officers, several members of the cabinet and representatives of several patriotic societies.

The body lay in state in the chancel of the church, the casket being covered with the national flags of the United States and France and a number of handsome floral emblems. General Horace Porter, former ambassador to France, as custodian of the body, the recovery of which was due entirely to his efforts, made a brief address previous to turning over the body to Francis B. Loomis, the special representative of the United States government. He later in turn addressed Rear Admiral Sigsbee, commander of the American escorting squadron, to transport the body to the United States. A salute was fired as eight American marines shouldered the coffin and carried it to an artillery caisson, on which it was publicly conveyed to the Esplanade of the Invalides. The route of the procession was through the Champ Elysees and across the Alexander bridge, halting before the tomb of Napoleon. Houses all along the route displayed the American colors and the sidewalks were thronged with sightseers, who stood with bared heads as the procession passed.

Arriving before the tomb of Napoleon the coffin was deposited on a high catafalque, surrounded by flags and flowers, and an entire division of French troops passed in review before

AMERICANS GET BIG CONTRACTS

Will Ship Electric Plants Complete to Japan and Italy

NEW YORK, July 6.—American interests have obtained a contract for the electrification of an Italian railroad and also have closed contracts for electrical equipment to be installed in Japan. The value of these contracts is about $2,000,000.

The Japanese contracts are for equipment of the Kanazawa electric light company. A large hydro-electric plant is to be built at Kanazawa.

The complete plant will be shipped overland by way of the Pacific coast.

IN COLONEL'S TOWN Things Happen

From the home of the famous "Keyhole Keeyarth of Cartersville," away south, comes an enthusiastic letter about Postum.

"I was in very delicate health, suffering from indigestion and a nervous trouble so severe that I could hardly sleep. The doctor ordered me to discontinue the use of the old kind of coffee, which was like poison to me, producing such extreme disturbance that I could not control myself. But such was my love for it that I could not get my own consent to give up for some time, and continued to suffer till my father one day brought me a package of Postum Food Coffee.

"I had the new food drink carefully prepared according to directions, and gave it a fair trial. It proved to have a rich flavor and made a healthy, wholesome and delightful drink. To my taste the addition of cream greatly improves it.

"My health began to improve as soon as the drug effect of the old coffee was removed and the Postum Coffee had time to make its influence felt. My nervous troubles were speedily relieved and the sleep which the old coffee drove from my pillow always came to soothe and strengthen me after I had drunk Postum.

"In very short time I began to sleep better than I had for years before. I have used Postum Coffee for several years and like it better and find it more beneficial than when I first began. It is an unspeakable joy to be relieved of the old distress and sickness. Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

ROOT MENTIONED TO SUCCEED HAY

Former War Secretary Would Be Popular at Head of the State Department

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—If he can be induced to accept the place, Ellhu Root of New York, former secretary of war, will be the successor of the late John Hay in the cabinet of President Roosevelt. This is the impression in Washington, as a result of a telegram received by Acting Secretary of State Pelre from Secretary Loeb announcing that the president had designated Mr. Root as representative of the department of state at the funeral ceremony in Cleveland.

It is known here that Mr. Roosevelt gladly would recall Mr. Root to public service. In case the latter would find it impossible to accept the office, undoubtedly the president will consult him in regard to Mr. Hay's successor.

Mr. Root was ambitious to be chief of the department of state, and had Mr. Root retired two years ago, undoubtedly the higher office would have been tendered the then secretary of war. When Mr. Hay was at Sunapee lake during the Boxer revolt in 1900, Mr. Root was charged by President McKinley with the conduct of the state department, and he displayed a capacity for the work equal to that he had exhibited in the transactions relating to the insular possessions of the United States.

When diplomats here learned of the possibility of Mr. Root's appointment general satisfaction was expressed. They look upon him as particularly well informed on the international situation.

Since Mr. Hay's illness Mr. Roosevelt has been acting as his own secretary of state, and it is suggested that there is no need of haste in making the appointment. In this connection it is recalled that when Mr. Payne died while serving as postmaster general the president asked Attorney General Moody for an opinion as to whether he would have to make a permanent appointment at once. Mr. Moody replied that the chief executive was not prohibited by the constitution from temporarily appointing or designating another officer of the government to perform the duties of the vacant office until a successor could be appointed.

It is not believed, however, the president will make any temporary designation, although the opinion of Mr. Moody was resurrected by officials today, presumably under instructions from Oyster Bay. There are so many important questions pending that he desires, it is said, to have the assistance and advice of an official who especially and exclusively studies international affairs.

Within the next two months the question of peace between Russia and Japan and the conditions upon which the war shall terminate will be settled. The probability of revolution in Russia, which will arise therefrom, the necessity of effecting a solution of the controversy with Venezuela, the tariff discussion with Germany—these are only a few of the important matters with which the new secretary of state will have to deal.

Officials here who believe they know the bent of the president's mind are confident that he will endeavor to have a new secretary of state at his elbow within the shortest possible time.

Miss Genevive May, 1817 S. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind., Member Second High School Alumni Ass'n, writes:

"Peruna is the finest regulator of a disordered stomach I have ever found. It certainly deserves high praise, for it is skillfully prepared.

"I was in a terrible condition from a neglected case of catarrh of the stomach. My food had long ceased to be of any good and only distressed me after eating. I was nauseated, had heartburn and headaches, and felt run down completely. But in two weeks after I took Peruna I was a changed person. A few bottles of the medicine made a great change and in three months my stomach was cleared of catarrh and my entire system in a better condition."

The BACK WARNS YOU

A Weak, a Lame, or an Aching Back is Nature's Warning That the Kidneys Are Sick

Cure Them With Doan's Kidney Pills.

Backache and urinary troubles are danger signals sent to tell you that the kidneys are clogged and congested; that the system is rapidly filling up with uric acid and other poisonous waste that should be passed off in the urine.

Healthy kidneys filter out of the blood every day more than an ounce of poison. But when the kidneys are sick, this filtering process is so hindered or suspended, so the body can never be freed when the kidneys are ill; and it is because so many people neglect sick kidneys that kidney diseases are causing more deaths than any other human ailment.

It is easy to cure any form of kidney trouble with Doan's Kidney Pills before it reaches a fatal stage, and there are many symptoms to tell you when you have kidney disorders.

The most common of these symptoms are:

- Pain in the small of the back, hips, or sides; pain when stooping or lying.
- Headaches and dizzy spells.
- Nervousness, languor.
- Too copious or too scanty discharges of urine.
- Thick, cloudy, discolored and ill-smelling urine, with deposits of sediment.
- Having to get out of bed at night to pass urine, etc.

The blood carries the urinous waste to every part of the body. It gets into the nervous system and causes neuralgia or sciatica; it gets into the muscles and causes rheumatic pains and gout; it weakens the lungs and irritates the heart, causing the heart to flutter and palpitate; it crystallizes into gravel and stones in the bladder and kidneys.

You lapse into a general run-down and languid condition and drift every day toward diabetes and Bright's disease.

You may have only one of the above symptoms, or you may have several; but danger lurks in every one, and you should begin treating the kidneys at once with Doan's Kidney Pills.

This great specific is composed of simple vegetable elements which are absorbed immediately by the kidneys and act on the kidneys alone. It heats and cures diseased tissues, allays inflammation and congestion, and restores normal kidney action.

NINE INNINGS WITHOUT RUNS Darkness Ends Superb Pitchers' Battle Between Mitchell and Christianman After nine full innings of perfect ball playing in which neither side scored, Umpire Sheehan called the Fort Worth-Temple game Wednesday afternoon on account of darkness.

Even then heavy gusts of an approaching storm were blowing over the field and the fans who braved the cloudy weather had barely gotten well started on the return trip to town when the storm swooped down. Many remained on the cars, while others became drenched in trying to dash to protecting awnings.

The game from start to finish was a pitcher's battle, with honors in favor of Christianman, who got off without a single hit and gave but one pass to first.

Fort Worth got another man on the bases in the sixth when Willis reached first on a hit, not brilliant, and advanced on Christianman's out. Moran fanned and Wilson foul field ending this chance.

A Candidate With an Issue
When the announcement was made that Colonel Tom Campbell of Palestine would be a candidate for the office of governor of Texas it was freely predicted that there would be considerable pyrotechnics and ginger added to the campaign.

There are others
The time when Texas was dominated by one or two big morning papers has passed, and valuable newspaper properties are being built up in a number of Texas towns and cities.

With the cattlemen
The Telegram thinks the Sherman paper does the News an injustice in the above in its reference to its state press column. It is not envy or fear of advertising competition that influences the News.

Interurban will be built
It seems to be a pretty well settled fact that the projected interurban line between this city and Mineral Wells will be built.

Range is passing
"The range is a thing of the past," said W. E. Skinner, general manager of the International Live Stock Exposition, who was in St. Paul making arrangements for the coming year.

Cattle in Cuba
Frank G. Carpenter quotes Frank Steinert, American consul general in Cuba, in the Chicago Record-Herald as follows: "Cuba is one of the best cattle countries in the world."

Wet in South Dakota
A Belle Fourche, S. D., dispatch says: A long season of wet weather has prevailed throughout the western part of South Dakota. The range was never pled to pay a little more than their total gross receipts for the mere privilege of doing business in Texas. The declaration against working state convicts in competition with honest labor is the same declaration that is always made as a check of taffy to the labor vote, and the colonel's ready adoption of the general plan of procedure merely serves to show that he is up to the times in formulating a political platform. His reference to the nefariousness of the free pass system shows the gentleman to be in strict accord with the democratic party of the state in its ineffectual efforts to abolish this great evil.

The most important part of the Campbell declaration of principles, however, lies in his attitude toward the railways. His denunciation of the plan adopted to bring about a better understanding between the railways and the people of the state goes to show that Colonel Campbell does not intend to figure for the people as a railway candidate. It further shows that his campaign is going to be largely pitched along the line of antagonism toward the railways. The remainder of the Campbell declaration of principles is in accord with the tenets and traditions of the democratic party, both state and national.

There is lots of talk of railroad building in Texas, and there is lots of fine Texas territory yet remaining in which railroads might be constructed to great advantage.

Of the 3,890 convicts in the state prisons according to statistics, not a single newspaper man or printer is to be found. Is this because newspaper men are so good, or because they are too smooth to be caught up with?

There are no newspaper men in the state penitentiary from the fact they are too busy warning other people to have time to indulge in such procedure as would place them in durance vile. The newspaper man sets the balance of the world a good example in this respect.

Perhaps Willis Moore is correct in saying that the weather forecasters are as often right in telling what is going to happen as the doctors are in a diagnosis, but it would have been diplomatic in him to conceal the fact—the medics feel irritated at the comparison.—El Paso Herald.

If the medical profession were no better guessers than the scientists in charge of the weather bureau human mortality would show an alarming increase. When the doctor is in doubt he lays it all on heart failure, while the weather man has no such haven of refuge to get behind.

Here is something for boys and girls to remember: The average educated man's salary is $1,000 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $40,000 in a life time. The average day laborer makes $1.50 a day. In 30 days in a year, or $450 a year. In 30 years he earns $13,500. The difference, Alarmists declare that the indifference of women to the domestic attainments is driving the home out of existence. Sociologists suggest elaborate schemes for luring the wage-earning woman from the typewriter and glove counter back to the bread board and pantry.

No conclusion could be wider of the mark than this. I have talked with scores of girls and women who, though apparently content to stand behind counters or toll in offices, confessed to a real hatred for such life and an intense longing for a quiet domestic existence.

Every womanly woman prefers home life to any other life. The love of domesticity is woven into the very fiber of her being. She would gladly keep house for her father's sake if she could. But she cannot. Circumstances will not permit her to do it.

If sentiment answered for currency, well and good. But it doesn't, as the wife with a stinging husband knows to her sorrow. She finds it impossible to reconcile her beautiful beliefs about the joy of home-making with the stinging fact that she must depend upon her husband's whims for the price of a new hat or dress and must enter into lengthy explanations and apologies whenever she makes a purchase he counts too expensive.

Let the men who cry that women are crowding them out of business look at the question squarely. If housekeeping is the most admirable of all the professions in the world, why does it not deserve to be put on the same monetary plane with other admirable professions?

Mercenary? Not a bit. A blow to sentiment? No. A stimulus to sentiment, rather.

Let men recognize the right to financial independence of the women who keep their homes and train their children, and it will soon be seen what sort of existence it is that women rarely prefer.

Until men do this it is useless to cry out about the young women with good positions who refuse to marry and who thus aid in abolishing the home.

Let the men solve this problem. It is theirs.

are showing the results of plenty to eat without traveling miles for it. Water holes that a month ago were dry as a bone are now running over, and have been for two weeks.

It is expected that the shipments of cattle from Montana this year will be unusually large. For two years they have been comparatively small, due to the fact that the winter has not been in the best condition, owing to poor ranges, and the poor prices last year also had the effect of retarding shipments.

Thousands of cattle that were due to be shipped last year were not shipped this season. Montana will send a large proportion of big steers to the market, many of the hold-overs being 4, 5 and 6 years old. It is not expected that shipments will be large until August, when the cattle will begin to get hard.

The first shipments of western cattle this year will go from Wyoming.

It's gettin' so you can't tell from a man's hands whether he's a workin' man or an automobilist.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

The turning over of that Retriever plantation near the mouth of the Brazos for actual sugar cane should mean a whole lot to that lower valley region around Velasco. There are 7,000 acres in the plantation and it will be reorganized and new mills and machinery introduced to make it one of the finest sugar properties in the south. The price paid for the property was $100,000 in cash and $25,000 in stock of the new organization. This will thoroughly equip—San Antonio Light.

It is said that Texas has more sugar land than is contained in the state of Louisiana, and it is expected that the production of sugar will soon increase to the point where it will become one of the state's leading industries.

A clerk in the comptroller's office at Austin refused promotion with an increase of salary. This is the first instance on record where a clerk had refused to accept an increase in salary and promotion. The clerk says he is satisfied with his present position.—Gainesville Hesperian.

That clerk deserves a medal. He is one among the few in the various state departments at Austin who are satisfied with their present surroundings and do not think they should have free entrance into the state treasury.

Commissioner Garfield has maintained an unbroken silence ever since the report of the Chicago grand jury, which returned eleven indictments against beef trust magnates. He doubtless feels like the little boy that ran over—San Antonio Express.

Commissioner Garfield has already had his say, and it fell very flat so far as public appreciation is concerned. There will yet be some sensational developments with regard to the Garfield report, which will cause it to be still further discredited.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The Telegram is probably right, and the sensationalism may develop in connection with the trial of those beef trust magnates against whom indictments were recently returned by that Chicago grand jury.—San Antonio Express.

The matter referred to by The Telegram has not yet materialized to the extent that it can be made public, but Texas will figure in the further refutation of the Garfield report.

Colonel John H. Kirby of Houston notified Kalamity Bonner that he did not want the Harpoon sent to him another time. He returned the last copy by express to Ka, and the latter proceeded to read John Henry a lecture on how to behave. Since his acquittal on the charge of bribery, Colonel Kirby has assumed a defiant attitude toward a number of his old associates who did not aid him when he was on trial.—Tyler Courier.

The Kirby and Moore cases at Austin appear to have left some heartburns among men who were bosom friends before the matter came up in the courts, and it would seem from the Tyler paper's remarks that the situation has grown a little bit acute.

There is something for boys and girls to remember: The average educated man's salary is $1,000 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $40,000 in a life time. The average day laborer makes $1.50 a day. In 30 days in a year, or $450 a year. In 30 years he earns $13,500. The difference,

Judge Alexander Watkins Terrell is still mourning the evil fate that overtook his election law. In a Fourth of July speech he referred to the measure as "a clerk-made law." And still there are members of the state legislature who argue that no correction of the law is necessary.

MILLIONS OF RATS
IN WYOMING CANYON
Wonderful Animal Fortress
Found in Wild Region Never
Before Visited by Man

LARAMIE, Wyo., July 6.—Paul Pascoe, a ranchman of the Laramie plains, made the discovery Friday of what could almost be called a mountain rat fortress. Mr. Pascoe was hunting wolves, which have been harassing his sheep, and had penetrated into a deep canyon in the Laramie foothills, which had apparently seldom or never been visited by man.

The canyon, which was perhaps a mile long, ending in a cul-de-sac, but only averaging sixty feet in breadth, was covered with a thick growth of low shrubs, through which were noticeable numerous narrow tracks, or paths, beaten hard, while in several places were small patches of marshy ground. The whole length and breadth of the canyon was pervaded by what Mr. Pascoe thought at first was the smell of bears, and he brought out in readiness for instant use, but found out the cause when he saw mountain rats scampering before him in great numbers.

Half way down the canyon Mr. Pascoe noticed that the tracks in the brush all converged to one side, and following them, he presently discovered the entrance to a cave concealed by the shrubs. Entering the cave, he heard a rush of apparently thousands of feet disappear into side passages in all directions. Mr. Pascoe made a torch from a pitch pine root on the canyon side, and started to explore the cave, which he found extended under the limestone ledge for a great distance, with numbers of side galleries. The floor of the cave was thickly covered with articles of all descriptions, the inhabitants of the cave being evidently well worthy of the name, given to the species of mountaineers, of "pack" rats. Tin cans were there by the hundred, there were quantities of food, and a black and white shoe (among them those of a small baby), several articles of wearing apparel, several knives, spoons and forks, several books and among other things, a hammer and about two inches of a gold watch chain. The ranchman penetrated into the cave for 200 feet, and everywhere and as far as he could see beyond the floor was littered with articles that the rats had packed there, although there is no human habitation except sheep camps, within sixteen miles.

The side galleries, of which there were many, some of them too small for a man to enter, were all rendered impassable for any animal, and even for a man, unless he wore very thick boots. Mr. Pascoe discovered a black and white pet of spines from the prickly pear, every spine having been carried there by the rats. In several of the galleries which he explored, Mr. Pascoe found numerous nests of rats, all made and comfortable with the stems of their numbers, and he feared an attack. As a matter of fact, the rats were so close to him before he reached the mouth of the cave again that he could only keep them off by vigorous waving of his torch. An examination of the canyon disclosed the fact that there were two other caves in it, equal in extent to the first, and each crowded with rats.

Mr. Pascoe noted a streak four feet thick and apparently of great extent of what he took to be some black mineral, but an examination of a specimen which he brought away with him showed the fact that it was composed of the excrement of rats, changed by pressure and time into almost the hardness of rock and having the appearance of ore. The deposit shows that the cave must have been the abode of a very large number for ages, and that earthquakes must have changed the conformation of the racks in that time.

SQUIRTEL BURNING
OIL UPON A GIRL
Boston Man Arrested on Charge of Persecrating Fiendish Joke with Kerose and Watch

BOSTON, July 6.—For squirting burning oil from his mouth and seriously injuring Miss Josephine Driscoll, aged 17, of 234 C street, John Rockett, who reigned in the South Boston court on a peculiar charge, that of assault and battery with a mouthful of kerosene. He was given six months in the house of correction by Judge Fallon. The side of Miss Driscoll's face is so badly burned that the eye is affected and may be permanently injured.

Rockett lives at 70 Bolton street. He and some of his companions have had trouble with Mrs. Donovan. Pascoe noticed a streak four feet thick and apparently of great extent of what he took to be some black mineral, but an examination of a specimen which he brought away with him showed the fact that it was composed of the excrement of rats, changed by pressure and time into almost the hardness of rock and having the appearance of ore.

Millions of Rats
In Wyoming Canyon
Wonderful Animal Fortress
Found in Wild Region Never
Before Visited by Man

Laramie, Wyo., July 6.—Paul Pascoe, a ranchman of the Laramie plains, made the discovery Friday of what could almost be called a mountain rat fortress. Mr. Pascoe was hunting wolves, which have been harassing his sheep, and had penetrated into a deep canyon in the Laramie foothills, which had apparently seldom or never been visited by man.

The canyon, which was perhaps a mile long, ending in a cul-de-sac, but only averaging sixty feet in breadth, was covered with a thick growth of low shrubs, through which were noticeable numerous narrow tracks, or paths, beaten hard, while in several places were small patches of marshy ground. The whole length and breadth of the canyon was pervaded by what Mr. Pascoe thought at first was the smell of bears, and he brought out in readiness for instant use, but found out the cause when he saw mountain rats scampering before him in great numbers.

Half way down the canyon Mr. Pascoe noticed that the tracks in the brush all converged to one side, and following them, he presently discovered the entrance to a cave concealed by the shrubs. Entering the cave, he heard a rush of apparently thousands of feet disappear into side passages in all directions. Mr. Pascoe made a torch from a pitch pine root on the canyon side, and started to explore the cave, which he found extended under the limestone ledge for a great distance, with numbers of side galleries. The floor of the cave was thickly covered with articles of all descriptions, the inhabitants of the cave being evidently well worthy of the name, given to the species of mountaineers, of "pack" rats. Tin cans were there by the hundred, there were quantities of food, and a black and white shoe (among them those of a small baby), several articles of wearing apparel, several knives, spoons and forks, several books and among other things, a hammer and about two inches of a gold watch chain. The ranchman penetrated into the cave for 200 feet, and everywhere and as far as he could see beyond the floor was littered with articles that the rats had packed there, although there is no human habitation except sheep camps, within sixteen miles.

The side galleries, of which there were many, some of them too small for a man to enter, were all rendered impassable for any animal, and even for a man, unless he wore very thick boots. Mr. Pascoe discovered a black and white pet of spines from the prickly pear, every spine having been carried there by the rats. In several of the galleries which he explored, Mr. Pascoe found numerous nests of rats, all made and comfortable with the stems of their numbers, and he feared an attack. As a matter of fact, the rats were so close to him before he reached the mouth of the cave again that he could only keep them off by vigorous waving of his torch. An examination of the canyon disclosed the fact that there were two other caves in it, equal in extent to the first, and each crowded with rats.

Mr. Pascoe noted a streak four feet thick and apparently of great extent of what he took to be some black mineral, but an examination of a specimen which he brought away with him showed the fact that it was composed of the excrement of rats, changed by pressure and time into almost the hardness of rock and having the appearance of ore. SCHOOL LAND DISPUTE AMICABLY ADJUSTED
Reported That Major Hume of Austin Will Get Possession of 30,000 Acres
Special to The Telegram.
SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 6.—W. H. Conway of Bliss, Okla., of the famous 101 ranch, which gained considerable notoriety recently by entertaining the members of the National Editorial Association with a buffalo hunt and barbecue, was here this week and closed a deal with Boyton & Privett, lessees of the "Texas Mule School," a noted group of trained mules originating at San Angelo. Conway proposes to give a wild west show with cowboys, broncho busters, this trained mule show and Indians. He intends, he said, to give exactly 101 shows.
The Washington county school land of 30,000 acres, which has been in dispute between Charles Metcalf and the Washington county commissioners, Metcalf refusing to vacate, has at last been settled. The matter was compromised out of court and it is reported that Metcalf will vacate and give possession to Major George L. Hume of Austin, the new principal owner of the X. Q. Z. ranch, succeeds Metcalf as manager of the ranch.
There has been little shipment of fat stuff to market. The stuff was not in as fine condition as the cattlemen thought it would be by this time and they are waiting for a few weeks, hoping, meantime, that the market will raise. All the fat range muttons, however, have gone out and there will be no more shipments of fat sheep this season. Next year there will be a few of the wool buyers who are exceedingly morose and disagreeable, but Mr. Littlehale is a genial, sociable gentleman.
Oscar Cain shipped a car of fat calves to St. Louis, W. Todd shipped two cars fat calves to the same market. J.

W. Todd shipped a car of horses, fine range animals, to Galveston.
J. D. Surges brought in from Sherwood 160 tons of wool, which he had with him and had them dipped at the dipping vat here. The immersion in Beaumont oil will remove the ticks and the cows will then be taken back to the ranch. Ticker cattle can not improve and these cows were bothered so that they were pulled down very thin.
Addie D. Warren of Hillsboro is now ranching near Sorona. He is stocking the ranch with 400 head of fine Durham cattle, which Sid Martin is bringing from Hillsboro.
Conditions through this section are very good at present, although at the present time a good rain would be beneficial. There will be a good cotton crop if present condition hold out.
Dr. Ray, Osteopath, telephone 553.

Wheat, Rye, Oats and Barley—Harvesting these crops has been almost entirely completed, and threshing is now in progress. This work has, however, been interrupted by showery weather. Considerable damage to grain in shock has resulted from the rains.
Rice and Sugar Cane.—The rice crop is now practically all in the ground. A large part of it is up, and is doing well under the favorable conditions which prevailed during the past week. Sugar cane has during the past week.
Miscellaneous.—There has been some improvement in gardens during the week, but in localities they are poor. The potato crop is fair. The cotton crop has revived by the recent rains, and is now in good condition. Haying was interrupted by showers. Forage crops are doing well and are being picked in some places. Rice is doing well. In some localities the fruit crop is poor, but generally it is good.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF PRODUCTION OF OIL
Texas Now Ranks Second in Production of Oil, California Alone Producing More

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 6.—In the Oil Investors' Journal is published for the first time the government report on the production of oil in all the states in 1904, with the data as to Texas and Louisiana in detail. The Journal has the following:
Advance sheets of statistics covering the production of petroleum in the United States in 1904 have been received by the Oil Investors' Journal from F. H. Oilphant of the United States geological survey, under whose direction the figures were compiled. The completed report is now in the hands of the authorities at Washington and will be printed and made ready for distribution at an early date.
According to Mr. Oilphant's figures, which represent the actual runs of oil, Texas ranks second in the list of petroleum-producing states in 1904, with an output of 22,241,413 barrels. The average price received for Texas crude petroleum was 36.7c per barrel, and the value of the entire output was $8,156,220.

Only one state shows a yield in excess of Texas, and that is California, which is credited with 29,649,434 barrels. The average price for the California product is put at 27.9c, and the total value at about $8,265,434.
In 1895 Texas produced only fifty barrels of petroleum. The discovery of oil in California in 1896 increased the output in that year to 1,450 barrels, and in 1897 to 65,975 barrels. In 1898 the production of the state was 546,070 barrels, in 1899 it was 669,013 barrels, and in 1900 it was 236,029 barrels. Spindletop in 1901 increased the state's production to 4,392,658 barrels, and the figures would have been greatly in excess of this amount if there had been facilities for marketing the surplus. The output of the gushers in 1902 Texas jumped to second place in the list of petroleum-producing states, having a production of 18,982,658 barrels. Ohio was in first place with 21,042,821 barrels. California was third, with 13,984,268 barrels.
The following year witnessed a shifting of place, California leading with a production of 21,282,472 barrels, second with 20,489,286, and Texas third with 17,555,572 barrels. Louisiana was in ninth place, with 917,771 barrels.
In 1904 Texas changed places with Ohio, while California remained in the lead. Ohio showed a further decrease, compared with 1902 and 1903, the total yield of that state being 18,876,631 barrels. The petroleum produced in Ohio, however, is of a higher grade and more valuable than the product of either California or Texas, most of which is heavy oil, desirable for fuel use. The output of the Ohio fields in 1904 was sold at an average price of $2,730,515, while the combined production of California, Louisiana and Texas amounting to 58,502,266 barrels, was valued at $17,490,259.

TEXAS CROP CONDITIONS
But Slight Improvement Made in Cotton as Result of Continued Showery Weather
GALVESTON, Texas, July 6.—Following is the government's weekly crop bulletin report for the week ending July 3, 1905:
Warm weather prevailed during the week. Showery conditions continued from the previous week, and heavy rains occurred in many sections, and in all districts except the western and northwestern. In these the rains were lighter. During the middle of the week the weather was generally fair, with occasional light showers. The heavy rains following those of the previous week made the soil too wet for cultivation in many sections, and fields are again becoming foul. Where the soil was not too wet farm work was carried on vigorously, and in those sections crops are generally clean.
Improvement in the average condition of cotton during the past week, and the crop is now generally growing well. Some damage was caused by heavy rains in some northern, however, and the interruption of cultivation has been somewhat detrimental. Many fields are now foul and badly in need of cultivation. In some localities the growth of the plant is good, but in many sections it is so that this too rapid growth will prevent the proper fruitage. Considerable of the crop remains to be chopped. Early cotton is blooming in northern counties, and some of the best picked in the extreme south. The boll weevil has become active over a larger area, and the rains have caused an increase in their number. Except in a few sections, however, the damage is reported not to be great. Other pests are also causing some damage.
Corn.—The weather during the past week was generally favorable for the growth of the crop. In some localities early corn will be a poor crop, over most of the state a fair to good crop is assured. It is now in roasting ears in some sections, and the harvesting is in progress south. Some of the corn which was cut was injured for fodder by the rain. Much late corn has been planted, and some is being picked in some places.
Wheat, Rye, Oats and Barley.—Harvesting these crops has been almost entirely completed, and threshing is now in progress. This work has, however, been interrupted by showery weather. Considerable damage to grain in shock has resulted from the rains.
Rice and Sugar Cane.—The rice crop is now practically all in the ground. A large part of it is up, and is doing well under the favorable conditions which prevailed during the past week. Sugar cane has during the past week.
Miscellaneous.—There has been some improvement in gardens during the week, but in localities they are poor. The potato crop is fair. The cotton crop has revived by the recent rains, and is now in good condition. Haying was interrupted by showers. Forage crops are doing well and are being picked in some places. Rice is doing well. In some localities the fruit crop is poor, but generally it is good.

HAGLER RANCH STRUCK

Renters Families Reported Killed in Telegram Sent Here
First news of the terrific storm at Nocoma and Montague was received in this city Wednesday night shortly before 8 o'clock, by John S. Hagler, who has a 2,500-acre stock farm southwest of Nocoma. The message received by him contained but brief details of the storm, notifying him of the death of two renters' families. One of the renters, Sam Tomlinson, had a wife and three children, all of whom were killed. The other renter, named Lester, had a wife and several children. This message received here said that three houses on the farm had been blown away.

AMUSEMENTS

LAKE ERIE THEATER
On account of the very inclement weather the Albert Taylor Company did not give a performance last night. This afternoon they will present the beautiful comedy, "recreant Valley," and tonight William Gillette's great laugh-provoking comedy, "The Private Secretary," will be presented. Mr. Taylor as Professor Robert Spaulding has made a great hit wherever he has appeared. The supporting cast is very strong. THE MAN ABOUT TOWN J. M. Floyd of Handley, who was in Fort Worth Tuesday afternoon, says that the recent heavy rains have wrought serious crop damage along the Interurban, but that despite the fact that the wind storms which have also been detrimental, he declares good returns are being received from potato crops which have been raised in many places. Sweet potatoes in many cases he says have followed the regular Irish potato crop. Along the Interurban this morning loose dirt was seen washed in many places over the plants in lower parts of fields, the recent storms having been general from this city to Dallas. H. H. Harvey, who until recently had a freight run out of Big Springs on the Texas and Pacific, who was in Fort Worth Tuesday, is a warm supporter of fast train service. This he declares is equally as safe as slow running, provided the roadbed be kept in good condition and clear. He believes the Twentieth Century Limited disaster will have but little effect in the steady reduction of schedules. The oldest flag in existence is that of Denmark, which dates from 1219.
