

REBEL VESSEL AGAIN AT SEA

Kniaz Potemkin Suddenly Leaves Theodosia, Eluding Warships Sent After It

PURSUING FLEET TOO LATE

One Rumor Says Mutineers Are Headed for Lividia to Bombard Palace

ST. PETERSBURG, July 7, 12:40 p. m.—The Kniaz Potemkin escaped from Theodosia before the Black Sea fleet arrived there from Sevastopol and as the fleet did not put into Theodosia it is presumed the warships are in pursuit of the Kniaz Potemkin.

The advice received by the admiralty, however, are meager and most conflicting. It is considered possible "Ensign and Quartermaster" Alexieff, who commands the Kniaz Potemkin, was advised of the fleet's coming and left Theodosia.

At any rate, it is clear she sailed from a British ship which she subsequently released, and then sailed away.

Reports as to the direction taken by the Kniaz Potemkin do not agree. Admiral Wierenski, chief of the general staff of the navy, informed the Associated Press one report said she sailed westward in the direction of Lividia, raising the suspicion that the intention of her crew is to bombard the emperor's summer palace.

Another rumor said that when the Kniaz Potemkin was last seen she was headed southeast, as if bound for the Caucasus littoral. This was subsequently supplemented by the report from Sevastopol that the Kniaz Potemkin put into Tuapse, half way to the Poti and had been captured, in some mysterious fashion, by the soldiers. The torpedo boat destroyer Smeltchiv, manned by a crew of officers and blue jackets who volunteered to sink the mutineer, reached Theodosia several hours after the Kniaz Potemkin departed, and after hurriedly coaling, the Smeltchiv put to sea, presumably in pursuit of the rebel battleship.

THEODOSIA NOT BOMBARDED

THEODOSIA, July 7.—Reports sent from Odessa to London newspapers regarding the bombardment of Theodosia are untrue. Order is fully maintained in the town by the troops. Before leaving Theodosia the Kniaz Potemkin sighted a British collier, which she followed seaward and from which she took a quantity of coal.

BONDHOLDERS WIN BIG MINING SUIT

Austin Consolidated Coal Company Loses Action Involving $120,000 Mortgage

AUSTIN, Texas, July 7.—In the case of R. J. Swenson et al against the Austin Consolidated Coal Company, which has been pending in the courts since 1898, a judgment for the plaintiff was entered yesterday by Judge Mackay in the federal court. This is quite a celebrated case and involves the Texas bricket and lignite mines in Millam county.

The suit was brought to foreclose a mortgage for $120,000 to satisfy the bondholders, of which Swenson is one, owning seventeen of the bonds of the Austin Consolidated Coal Company. Swenson also at the time the suit was brought made the mortgagee of the company with A. N. Leitner of this city. The bondholders are located all over the country. A formal decree in favor of the bondholders will be entered in a few days by the court, foreclosing the mortgage. The court appointed Fred C. Von Rosenberg of Austin special master in chancery with authority to make a sale of the property to satisfy the judgment.

AUSTIN YOUTH HELD AS FEVER SUSPECT

E. P. Penick Went to Panama Several Months Ago, But Soon Resigned

AUSTIN, Texas, July 7.—The Associated Press dispatches yesterday morning announced in a dispatch from New York that three suspected cases of yellow fever from the Panama canal zone were removed from the steamer Advance when it reached the quarantine station in New York yesterday. One of the suspects mentioned is E. P. Penick of this city, son of E. P. Penick, the well known Austin insurance man. Young Penick left Austin several months ago for Panama, having accepted a position as roddman in the employ of the government. Soon after reaching Panama he had been promised a promotion with a corresponding increase in salary, which failed to materialize, and Penick resigned his position and was en route to his home here when detained at quarantine at New York.

CLEBURNE, Texas, July 7.—The stock of bankrupt goods belonging to the Favorite Dry Goods Company was sold at auction by Trustee R. S. Phillips, and was purchased by T. S. Bradford of Dallas, paying $24,525 spot cash.

There were five bidders on the stock, including Mr. Heard of Denton, Mr. Scott of Madill, I. T., the American Dry Goods Company of Cleburne and others. The stock, which is said to be a good clean assortment of general dry goods, invoices about $48,000, and was appraised by the appointment commission at 50 per cent of $24,000.

SECRETARY HAY OWNED PARK IN COLORADO

Wife Discovered It While He Was Writing Concluding Chapters of "Life of Lincoln"

Special to The Telegram.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7.—It is not generally known, but the late Secretary of State Hay owns much valuable property in Colorado near this city. It consists of 550 acres located near Manitou and known as "Crystal Park."

The late secretary and his family came to Colorado in 1888 and spent the summer at Manitou. Colonel Hay came here seeking quiet and seclusion in order that he might put the finishing touches upon "The Life of Lincoln," which he was writing at that time.

While Mrs. Hay and the children were burro riding over the mountains she discovered the spot which was later purchased by her husband, and while thousands of visitors come to Colorado every year and half a million people live in this state it is said that possibly not more than a few score of people know where "Crystal Park" is located, and that the finishing pages of Mr. Hay's book on Lincoln were written here. The park is about two hundred feet in width and one mile long, with picturesque rocks rising to a great height on either side. In it grow beautiful and stately pines and evergreens. As if to accentuate the picture of loneliness and desertion, two desolated old cabins stand in the vale, giving shelter at times to the venturesome tourists in case of storms.

"Crystal Park" took its name from the fact that beds of beautiful crystals were found there.

Major Augustus L. Hay, a brother of the late secretary, an officer of the famous Ninth regiment who saw much service in the mountains following the civil war, also spent much time in Colorado in pioneer days.

His sister, Mrs. Mary Walfolk, was also a resident of Denver for twenty years.

Supposed to Have Been Left by Dennis O'Keefe, Who Died in Texas

NEW YORK, July 7.—Thomas O'Keefe, a Greentown, N. Y., farmer, has learned that he is one of the heirs to a fortune of $55,000,000, supposed to have been left by Dennis O'Keefe, his cousin, who died some years ago in Texas. The information came from a lawyer in Ireland, who had been searching for heirs in the neighborhood of Kilsbush, Ireland, where Dennis O'Keefe lived until 1864, when he sailed for America.

Thomas O'Keefe is about 65 years old, he has placed his affairs in the hands of Douglas Conklin, cashier of the bank of Huntington.

ALLIGATOR IN CREEK

Workmen at San Antonio Make Unusual Discovery

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 7.—A young alligator was discovered in the San Antonio river on Wednesday by the workmen under River Commissioner F. G. Gentry. The discovery was made at the crossing of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway over the creek on Laredo street. The alligator was basking on a log in the stream and when disturbed sank into a pool of rather deep water close to the log. It is thought by the men who discovered the reptile that his capture would be easily accomplished. This is one of the very few alligators that have been found in this vicinity. A few years ago one or two small ones were in San Antonio river.

The alligator is a really good scavenger and it is an open question whether the one in the San Antonio creek is not an object for police protection rather than a creature for the sportsman to seek.

TEXAS LAW MODEL FOR OTHER STATES

Railroad Commission of Washington Works Under Similar Statute

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 7.—J. W. Lysons of Tacoma writes the railroad commission of Texas that Washington has just organized a railway commission and requests the Texas tribunal to send the law under which it was formed and any other suggestions that may be calculated to aid it in its labors.

The Texas law, Mr. Lysons said in his letter, was the very best in the United States and the Washington act would be very much like the Texas law.

This is a great compliment to Texas and Texas lawmakers, and is a much higher compliment when considered in connection with the further fact that Arkansas, Louisiana, Wisconsin and Indiana have modeled their statutes after the Texas bill and that these states have adopted in a great measure the methods of railway control of the Texas commission.

STATE DEPARTMENT RECEIPTS

In response to a question from The Telegram asked yesterday as to the receipts of the department for the six months ending June 30, 1905, Secretary of State O. K. Shannon said: "I am glad you asked for this information, and will not only give it to you for the present, but for the two years previous."

"Receipts for June 30, 1903, $179,311; receipts for June 30, 1904, $172,474; receipts for June 30, 1905, $248,061. From these figures it will be seen that the receipts of the department for the time ending June 30, 1905, exceed the receipts for the time ending June 30, 1903, by $68,750 and for June 30, 1904, by $75,687."

HOLDS SHERIFFS' RECORD

Captain J. P. Kirk of Ballinger, Sheriff of Runtless county, was here yesterday, having business in the comptroller's office and general land office. He is a native of Fayette county and a cousin of the late Senator Judge Le Follet Kirk, the popular county judge of Washington county, and subsequently promoted to the district bench.

Captain Kirk enjoys some other rare distinctions. He was elected sheriff of Runtless county in 1890, and was at that time the youngest man in Texas who held that office. He has been re-elected in every election since that time, has held the office continuously for fifteen years and has therefore perhaps held the office for a longer period than any man in the state.

SAM HOUSTON NORMAL

During the twenty-six years of the school the attendance is given as 7,040. The average attendance for the twenty-six years is 271.

The course of study, list of graduates is contained in the pamphlet, as is also the qualifications of matriculants and mode of entering the school.

PASTEUR INSTITUTE PROVING A SUCCESS

Two Jefferson County Boys, Bitten by Mad Dog, Are Discharged As Cured

AUSTIN, Texas, July 7.—That the Pasteur Institute, which is a department of the State Insane Asylum here, is proving a success is evidenced by the fact that three weeks ago, L. D. and N. M. Meredith, sons of Colonel John Meredith, the Travis county jailer, came here from Nederland, Jefferson county, to be treated for a serious bite which they had received from a dog affected with hydrophobia, yesterday they were released and returned to their headquarters cured.

Their condition was serious when they came here, but under the careful treatment of the specialists at the institute, they have entirely recovered and returned to their work.

PRESIDENT'S GLASSES MAY BE DISCARDED

Occulist Says His Eyesight is Getting Stronger with Remarkable Rapidity

BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—President Roosevelt's eyes are wonderfully improving, in spite of all that they have to go through to stand the "strenuous pace," declared Dr. John Morgan. "I have attended all the Roosevelts for their eye troubles and find that the president's are rapidly improving. The rumor that the president strained his eyes in the Cuban campaign is all bosh. I have attended the Roosevelts long enough to know that their optic weakness is hereditary. The president came to me while on his last Massachusetts trip to have his glasses changed and have weaker ones substituted. In a short while he may overcome all requirements for wearing vision stretchers."

BIG EXPRESS COMPANY WILL FIGHT TAXES

Claims Exemption on Grounds That it Was Incorporated Under Colorado Laws

Special to The Telegram.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7.—An important point that has a bearing on the taxation of many states was recently raised by the Wells-Fargo Express Company in a suit filed in the Federal court in San Francisco against Tax Collector Scott of California.

The company claims it is a Colorado corporation and that as it is taxed in this state, it is immune from taxation in California.

The case is of utmost importance insofar as it has a bearing on the taxation of every state in which the express company operates. If the company wins its suit it means that no state, except Colorado, in which incorporation took place, can impose any taxes.

The records of the office of secretary of state of Colorado show that the company was incorporated in this state in 1866 by special legislative enactment, as fourteen times a day, and it sometimes has as many as four coffins aboard. In fact, there is so much yellow fever about that they keep ten graves always ready for cases of emergency.

"The working clerical force on the isthmus is about 90 per cent. The district superintendent I know has worked for seventeen clerks and has so far only five. The government seems to be delaying the paying off of the men. Forty-one of my mates were waiting for their money in order to catch this steamer, but only six got it in time to sail."

Miss A. A. Robinson of New York, who had been a hospital nurse on the isthmus, also returned on the Advance. She said she had been about a year in the isthmus and was very glad to be back again. "The supply of nurses," she said, "is beginning to fall off and the conditions that prevail, is not sufficient. Sickness there is increasing and conditions generally becoming worse."

ROOSEVELT'S RELATIVE ON A RISKY RIDE

NEW YORK, July 7.—For the first time since Rallsul's raids on the road from Tangier to Fez, two American tourists have undertaken the journey to the Moorish court by the direct overland route, says the Tangier correspondent of the Herald. They are James Roosevelt, a relative of the president, and J. C. White, son of the American ambassador to Italy.

They are bearers of letters of introduction to several court dignitaries.

COTTON SELLS AT 10 1/4

Fifty Bales Are Marketed in Streets of Bonham

BONHAM, Texas, July 7.—About fifty bales of cotton were marketed on the streets yesterday, the top of the market being 10 1/4. This sudden rise in the price of the staple is due to the government report of July 3, which reported shows the bad condition of the growing cotton.

DEAD TRAINS BUSY ON THE CANAL STRIP

Measles, Yellow Fever, Smallpox and Other Diseases Claim Victims by Score

NEW YORK, July 7.—George G. Maclock, of Louisville, Ky., superintendent of a dock at Cristobal, was among the passengers on the Advance, which arrived here from Panama today. Mr. Maclock said:

"Things are very bad at the isthmus. The diseases prevalent are measles, black measles, smallpox, yellow fever, Chagres fever and malaria and there was one case of bubonic plague. The dead trains run from Colon to Monkey Hill, a mile and a half south of Colon, 1866 by special legislative enactment, as fourteen times a day, and it sometimes has as many as four coffins aboard. In fact, there is so much yellow fever about that they keep ten graves always ready for cases of emergency."

HONOR BODY OF NAVAL HERO

Elaborate Ceremonies Mark Arrival of John Paul Jones' Remains at Cherbourg

FRENCH TROOPS SALUTE

Final Exercises Will Be Held Saturday and Squadron Will Start Home

CHERBOURG, July 7.—The funeral train bearing the body of Admiral Paul Jones and 500 American sailors and marines arrived here from Paris at 7:30 a. m. An enormous crowd surrounded the railroad station and witnessed the removal of the body to the mortuary chapel erected on the wharf of the American steamship line. The chapel was beautifully decorated with palms, flags and escutcheons from the naval arsenal.

American Consul Hannelville and many French officers took part in the ceremonies. The American sailors and marines were drawn up in battalion form, facing the twenty-fifth regiment of French infantry. The body was borne between the saluting French and American forces to the catafalque, where it was covered with flags and flowers, the band of the United States flagship Brooklyn playing the national anthem. The townspeople then defiled before the coffin, respectfully uncovering as they did so. The ceremony of transferring the body of the admiral on board the Brooklyn will take place at noon tomorrow and the squadron will sail at 6 o'clock in the evening for the United States.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., July 7.—Row, James E. G. Sawyer of Williamstown has received a letter from Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, now following the trail of her husband who died while exploring Labrador, in which she says, has inadvertently met A. Wilton Wallace who was with her husband when he died, and who is again exploring Labrador.

When Wallace returned to this country, there was some friction between him and his dead companion's wife and after he had announced his intention of making a second trip, Mrs. Hubbard started out herself but kept her plans from Wallace.

The letter states that at Gillisport, Wallace turned toward the North-west river. Mr. Hubbard remained to complete her final arrangements before entering the interior.

MASSACHUSETTS MAN EXPLAINS DUAL PERSONALITY AS RESULT OF READING 'BOOK'

BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—That he was crazed by reading Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is the reason ascribed for the dual life of respectability and crookedness led by John C. Harker of Somerville, who has pleaded guilty to breaking with criminal intent into the house of Professor Kingsley of Tufts College. He was held in $1,000 for the grand jury. Many burglaries are laid to him.

The arrest of Harker created a sensation in West Somerville, where for the last four years he has been employed as night watchman at the Sprague & Hathaway plant. He received a good salary and stood high in the community.

The Cambridge police believe that Harker is responsible for fifteen burglaries in North Cambridge.

CLEBURNE DOCTOR HURT

Fell From Division Fence at Fort Worth Stock Yards

CLEBURNE, Texas, July 7.—On Wednesday morning Dr. J. D. Osborn, one of the best known physicians and surgeons in this part of the state, went to Fort Worth to make arrangements to ship some cattle. He had a number of fine beef cattle on his ranch and had intended to ship the cattle to Fort Worth on Thursday. He went a day ahead to arrange for the reception of the cattle at the stock yards. While at the stock yards on Wednesday morning he happened to a serious accident. While up on a high division fence, he became overbalanced, and instead of falling he jumped. He struck the ground with great force, his weight coming down on the left ankle. The two large bones in the left ankle were crushed or broken, and the ligaments of the ankle were ruptured. He was immediately removed to the St. Joseph's infirmary, where the bones were set, and where the best of attention was shown him.

The accident happened at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning and Dr. E. B. Osborn did not get notification, and only found it out when his father was brought in on the 6:20 p. m. Santa Fe train.

PEACE PATRIOT STAYS SUFFERING

Story of Independence Day Need of Poor Family Leads to Prompt Assistance by Modest Helper

Independence Day The Telegram printed the story of an unfortunate family reduced to hunger and want because of illness of the father. There are five little children in the family and the mother for four weeks has been bravely trying to care for these little ones and nurse her husband back to health. Here has been a hard fight and today, although the father is considerably better and approaching good health, the family is in a state of destitution that seems impossible to conceive of in a community of this size.

The Telegram's story met with one response. One man, who refuses to give his name, walked into the office and handed over $2, asked that it be sent to the suffering family. This was done. The messenger that took the money to the family had a difficult time finding them. They are living in a little house of two small rooms, located along the side of a road known as Steadman street.

Stedman street is described in the city directory as the first street west of Chambers avenue. But this description is misleading. Instead of being a street, properly lined off, it is a road running around a branch for about half a mile. The best way to reach it is to take an Evans avenue car and get off when the car turns south at Boaz street. Then there is a narrow road, a road running around a branch for about half a mile. The best way to reach it is to take an Evans avenue car and get off when the car turns south at Boaz street. Then there is a narrow road, a road running around a branch for about half a mile.

That was not the route taken by the messenger. He went over hills, across a creek and through a woody place that is almost like a forest. Arriving at the house he found the family and their condition had not been exaggerated. The father, weak and wan, was propped up in a chair and the mother in another chair was nursing an infant. On the floor the four other children were huddled together on a comfort, their only bed. The picture was one to touch the most sympathetic person and the grateful look that came into the eyes of the man and woman as the little offering was handed to them was enough to melt a heart of stone. There is a pitiful condition, in need of food and clothing and fuel.

RAILROAD NEWS

R. A. Thompson, engineer of the Texas railroad commission, has prepared a statement showing the number of miles of railroad built in the state during the first six months of the present year, ending June 30. The total mileage built during the period, according to Mr. Thompson's report, is 98.6. This, however, shows a discrepancy of twenty-five miles, as compared with the official report of the Railway Age, which shows 123 miles already built.

Mr. Thompson's report shows that the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico road has been the most assiduous of all the roads in the state. During the first half of 1905, according to his figures, the road has built 46.8 miles and during the year ending June 30, 1905, has constructed 107.4 miles out of a total of 165.7 miles built by all roads in the state during the year.

Following is his report in full: Railroad mileage constructed in Texas during the six months ending on June 30, 1905:

Table with 2 columns: Railroad Name, Miles. Includes St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico, Nacogdoches Southern railway, Jasper and Eastern railway, Kirbyville east, etc.

Total railroad mileage constructed in Texas during the first six months of the year, 1905, is 98.6 miles. This is the greatest amount of building done in any one state, North Dakota being second with 88.1 miles built by three lines.

Railroad Age also shows by comparative figures that the total building done in the first six months of the present year, 1,284.49 miles, is less than for any year since 1898, when it was 1,181. In 1904, during the same period, it was 1,327. This is more than six times the amount of building done in any one state, North Dakota being second with 88.1 miles built by three lines.

FRISCO LEASES BUILDINGS

Quarters Secured in San Antonio in Corner of Alamo Plaza

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 7.—The ground floor of the building at the corner of Alamo Plaza and Crockett street has been leased by the Rock Island-Frisco interests and will be occupied by them on Feb. 1, 1906.

In railroad circles it is generally understood that his place will be utilized as the city passenger, freight and ticket office when the merger of the Frisco, Mexican Central and Sap is effected.

The building is now occupied by Henry's saloon, and is opposite the city offices of the Southern Pacific.

The offices of the Rock Island-Frisco are now located on Commerce street, just beyond the bridge, and the fact that the offices are to be moved up to "railroad row" is taken to indicate that the interests of these roads are hereafter to be much more important and require a larger space for operation.

In railroad circles no one doubts that the Sap was to become a part of the Frisco-Mexican Central interests, and that the new quarters will be utilized for the city passenger, freight and ticket offices.

It was also stated today that the work of extension of the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico road to Galveston would be abandoned, that road using the tracks and trackage right of the Sap to Houston and Galveston instead of building an independent line, as had been contemplated.

TRUMBULL TO HEAD ROAD Colorado Southern President Connected with California Line

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 7.—Frank Trumbull, president of the Colorado and Southern railroad, is to become president of a new road to be built in California and known as the California Western Railway and Navigation Company. The line will be constructed from Fort Bragg to a connection with the California Northern coast, near the town of San Francisco and Sherwood, 152 miles.

The new road is independent of the Colorado and Southern and Mr. Trumbull is to be personally interested in the line. It is to be financed by Chicago capitalists, and the line is to reach the logging camps of the redwood timber district in Northwestern California.

PURE BLOOD INSURES A CLEAR SKIN

When Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Pimples, or other skin diseases make their appearance it is a sure sign that the blood is filled with humors and burning acids. These being forced through the pores and glands burn and blister the skin, producing the eruptions which are usually accompanied with intense itching, and are disfiguring and humiliating.

Years ago my blood was bad, as evidenced by skin eruptions on different parts of the body, and other symptoms, so I concluded to try S. S. S., knowing it to be highly spoken of. After using a number of bottles I do not remember how just how much my blood was thoroughly purified and enriched and I was relieved of all eruptions and manifestations of impure blood. I believe S. S. S. to be an excellent blood medicine, and any one in need of such a medicine would do well to use it. They will find it a perfect cure as it proved to be in my case. MRS. C. E. SHOEMAKER, Alliance, O., 616 E. Patterson St.

While external treatment relieves temporarily it does not reach the real cause of the disease, because it does not go into the blood. S. S. S., a perfect blood purifier, neutralizes these acids and humors, and by strengthening and toning up the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, the natural channels of bodily waste, disposes of them instead of allowing them to be forced through the surface of the skin. S. S. S. is PURELY VEGETABLE, the greatest of building up the entire system, increasing the appetite and helping the digestion. S. S. S. cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Only by keeping the blood pure can we hope to have a clear skin. The concrete pier on the Fort Worth and Denver City road at Alvord was washed out Wednesday during the heavy rains in that country. The pier was part of the new work that has been done by the Denver road and was in a small creek. The creek rose to an unprecedented height during the day and carried the masonry away. Chief Bidder, however, gives the age, color, time of service and present condition of each animal.

Moreland has filed a resolution asking that the Rosen Heights and Northern Texas Traction Companies be instructed to properly repair all tracks in the corporate limits; and unless they comply with instructions within sixty days, the city engineer be authorized to make the necessary repairs at the expense of the companies.
Contract of H. K. McCollum and F. V. Crandall for paving Throckmorton street from Eighth to Tenth streets, will be brought before the council tonight.

BADLY INJURED MAN STILL UNCONSCIOUS
John V. Douglass Lies in Precarious Condition at Sanitarium—Doctor Believes He Will Recover
John V. Douglass, who was struck by a passing car while coming to this city from Lake Erie on the night of July 4, is still lying in an unconscious condition at the Protestant Sanitarium, having failed to revive since the accident. Despite his failure to regain consciousness, however, his physician believes he will recover.
Douglass, whose injury was reported in The Telegram of July 5, is a night train dispatcher for the Frisco and was coming from Lake Erie with his family in order to take up his "trick" when the accident occurred. His home is at 422 Lipscomb street.

Turkish Incident Closed
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7.—The American protests against the indignity to which A. A. Gargulif, the first dragoon of the legion, was subjected by the police, have brought prompt redress. The sultan immediately after he became aware of the situation sent Gall Bey to call on Minister Lelishman at Prinkipos Island, to express to him his most sincere regrets and announce that the spy had been instantly dismissed. The incident is thus closed.

TEXAS SETS A HOT PACE

There have been a number of theories advanced as to the causes leading to the overwhelming defeat of the Russian navy in the Sea of Japan by the doughy Admiral Togo, but it seems that every theory and hypothesis heretofore advanced is manifest error.

The story comes from Russia and has been repeated again and again that the Japanese used submarine bases in the late naval battle in the Sea of Japan and the same explanation was made of Russian naval disasters in front of Port Arthur.

It was in 1894 that a queer genius with a knack for many things appeared in Fort Worth. He had been connected in some capacity with the naval department of the government, and his ideas all ran seaward.

tern's expose of the cause of the great naval victory.

These matters serve to show, however, that it is a cold day when Texas gets left.

WILL THE LAW BE ENFORCED?

There is a question in the minds of a great many people as to the sincerity of the national administration in the indictment and prosecution of the men and corporations comprised in what is popularly designated as the beef trust.

But when the investigation conducted by the government was pushed with a virility that almost bordered on persecution there came something of a conviction in the public mind that the investigation meant something, and indictments would be found if there was anything substantial uncovered upon which to base them.

It is true that the packers are trying to evade the just penalty of their alleged action by invoking a technicality, and claiming they cannot be tried on a criminal charge for violation of the injunction that was placed upon them by a federal court.

Means have been found in Chicago for sending working men to jail for the violation of a federal court injunction, and that federal law is no more elastic in one respect than another.

The federal government has gone too deeply into the so-called beef trust situation to show the white feather at this juncture, and if it genuinely desired to do so public sentiment would interpose an insurmountable barrier.

perative necessity and must be had at any cost.

Commissioner Garfield now no doubt wishes for leave to file a supplemental report.

Whitehall Reid, formerly editor of the New York Tribune, who has been appointed ambassador to England, only draws a salary of $17,500 per annum and pays $20,000 house rent.

The members of the Texas state legislature are not falling over themselves in an effort to hold a free session for the purpose of correcting the Terrell election law.

Cattle producers are again complaining of the market prices paid for beef on the hoof.

Rosen Heights and Arlington Heights both want the new interurban line that is to be built to Mineral Wells.

Next Sunday's Telegram will be well worth the total price of an entire week's subscription.

Colonel Tom Campbell will evidently make the race for governor of Texas with no railway passes concealed about his person.

A small girl was taken violently ill from an overindulgence in turpie fruit.

"Woman," said the dejected young man, "is a disappointment and a fraud."

A husband is ashamed to be affectionate in public; a woman not to be.

A girl will always resist flirting if there are no men or boys anywhere around.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

The Index believes that the building of an interurban line into this city will not only enhance the value of real estate 50 per cent, but will add at least two thousand people to the city.

The building of that interurban line will be a great event for Mineral Wells, and the people of that little city who stand in the way of the enterprise are working against their own interests.

Hogg evidently does not take as serious the suggestion that he be selected to succeed Hay as secretary of state in Roosevelt's cabinet.

Fort Worth citizens are rather reluctantly subscribing to the bonus for the interurban line to Mineral Wells.

Cotton has just advanced more than one cent per pound, which will be a great thing for the poor speculators who have been so rudely manipulated by the cotton producers of the country.

into center but was left on first when Walsh struck out.

Temple did no better. Mulkey who was given a trip to first, being hit by Walsh, went out a moment later on a fielder's choice with two men already out.

In their half of the fifth Fort Worth tied the score and added new zest to the game. Moran was first up and showed Sheehan the gaping wound on his finger causing a change of decision and his landing on first field fence. Moran and Wilson putting tallies across the plate while Butler died at third. A strike out by Mauch and Burleson's fly to center again stopped the run getting.

Things remained even until the seventh and Temple then proceeded to cinch the game. Burke walked. Block went out on a fly to Boles. Lewis then dropped one into a safe place in left center and Coyle followed with a hard one which Willis turned loose, letting Burke in. Excitement then was given a stimulus through Lewis being caught off third, but left safe on a bad throw by Walsh to Moran. Lewis then proceeded to score, while a strike out and a foul fly ended the business part of the game.

The Panthers made a feeble effort in the eighth when Burleson got one safely out of the diamond and attempted to come home on a fly by Willis, but dying at the plate. Then again in the ninth another stir was given. Moran walked and kept on going on passed balls by catcher to third. Wicker, however, who had batted in place of Walsh, had fled out and Butler going the same route after Wilson fanned, completed the funeral arrangements.

PANTHERS LOSE TO THE BOLL WEEVILS

Walsh Poorly Supported, But Loose Playing Is Not Confined to Home Team

Temple proved too much for Fort Worth in a surprising and exciting game of ball at Haines park Thursday afternoon, the final score being 5 to 2.

Poor support of Walsh, coupled with his own looseness in the third inning and close decisions by Sheehan all played a part in winning the game for the Boll Weevils. Sheehan, however, was impartial, making close decisions each way.

Things started in a promising way for Fort Worth, an earned run in the third on Wilson's hit, which Cavanaugh could not reach, followed by Boles' two-bagger to right.

Temple, however, who had last bats, turned into the run getting business herself, and with seven men up crossed the plate for three tallies on four hits, with the accompaniment of errors and loose playing.

Burke, who opened up their half of the inning, being hit by Walsh. Block went out on one to Walsh, advancing Burke. Lewis then got one over first and before the surprise had ended Coyle was credited with a hit to left. Melver a double to right and Shelton a single to left and three runs were scored up with consolation only in Melver being caught at the plate on a pretty throw from Wilson to Mauch. Clayton fouled out to Wilson and called a trace.

The fourth inning was an hiatus. Burleson, who played right field, fouled behind the plate and Hubbard followed with an easy one to right. Willis, who appeared to have found his batting eye somewhere, lined a single

NORTH FORT WORTH AND ROSEN HEIGHTS

After having been almost completely demolished by the storm of May 21, the North Fort Worth Baptist church has been replaced by an entirely new structure. Services will be held in the new building for the first time next Sunday. The new building is a great improvement over the former structure and of a different style of architecture.

WATER MAINS UNSETTLED

The contemplated changes in the laying of the water mains for the water works have never been definitely decided upon. Mayor Pritchard has filed notice of veto of the council's action in recommending changes. The committee is to report at the next meeting of the council and Mayor Pritchard's veto is to be read, provided the report of the committee calls for any great change.

From what can be learned the water works committee will recommend the change of mains from Main street between Twentieth and Twenty-third, to Grand avenue. Changes as recommended by City Engineer Hall for Salhoun and Rusk streets will not be considered.

The idea is to make all changes for serving the greater number of residents with water without extra expense. Beneficial changes calling for no extra expenditure will not be subject to the mayor's veto.

HOW RUSSIANS INSTIGATED WHOLESALE MURDER OF JEWS

Some Inside History on the Massacres at Jitomir, Revealed by Investigation—"Hooligans Incited by Police"

The massacre of Jews at Jitomir, in the province of Volhynia, has been investigated by the Russian Liberal Association for the purpose of endeavoring to fix the cause and blame for the murders. This article, which was prepared for The Telegram by the investigating commissioner of the Russian Liberal Association, takes the story of the massacre through the first day. Another article will tell the story of the atrocities through the second day to the end of the massacre.

(Written for the Newspaper Enterprise Association by the Special Commissioner of the Russian Liberal Association.) JITOMIR, June 7.—Coming horrors were felt in Jitomir long in advance of the massacre.

The Christian population talked aloud of a girl who was killed by the Jews for their Easter, of Jews who sold documents relative to the war for the benefit of Japan and her "red-headed allies" (England and America). The Jews were openly accused of the internal unrest as well as the Russo-Japanese war. The war is highly unpopular in Volhynia province and the reactionary party used this fact in order to increase the feeling of hatred toward the Jews, who were declared to be the authors of the disasters in Manchuria.

In March the so-called "black sotnia," composed of the vilest and basest elements of Jitomir, was organized by the police commissary of the first district, Kuyaroff, assisted by Rakusa, a firearm merchant; Barschewsky, an official, and a certain Chubinsky. Proclamations were spread everywhere: "Kill the students, school boys and dirty Jews!"

On April 18 Assistant Commissary Anderson organized young peasants and delivered an address to them against the Jews, asking the peasants to arrange a "patriotic" demonstration which might impress the "dirty villains."

BLACK SOTNIA'S DEBUT

A few skirmishes occurred every day after this meeting. Two days afterward a child was murdered; some passersby were beaten with sticks, or an old man was wounded.

The municipality of Jitomir became uneasy, but police assured the public that everything would be quiet. Rumors of the most alarming character were spreading; the Jews began to organize in self-defense. The massacre were expected on Easter Sunday and Monday. The Jewish artisans subscribed $7,000 to buy weapons. The two holidays, however, passed quietly and the optimistic Jews began to laugh at the committee of self-defense.

But on May 4 the police themselves began to take measures. It was reported that the "black sotnia" would march on the next day with a blue banner with an inscription, "Death to the Jews." The Jewish population was panic-stricken; the committee of self-defense put out patrols recommending the Jews to avoid any encounters with the hooligans. The latter became more and more insolent, but the Jews were conceding in all ways possible.

BOMBARDED THEIR BOATS

On May 6 about twenty-five boats were going down the River Teteroff. In ten of them only Jews were sitting. Suddenly several Russian peasants appeared on the left bank of the river, which is known by the name of Pavlikovka, and where the Jewish population is very dense.

On the right bank of the River Teteroff there is only a village, Pysytschi, where no one was present at that hour, as May 6 is St. George's day, and the peasants go into the open field. The peasants who appeared in Pavlikovka began to insult the Jews. One of the Jews insulted them in return. The peasants then threw stones at the boats, whereupon a Jew fired in the air from a revolver. The peasants ran away. After a quarter of an hour forty men, led by a blacksmith, who was armed with a rifle, began to throw stones at the boats and fired several shots.

The peasants of Pysytschi village soon returned from the field, climbed up "Three Brothers" hill and threw stones at the people below.

OFFICER'S FUTILE APPEAL

Among the people was an officer, M. Fenklevich. Judging the situation to be very serious, he hurried up to the governor of Volhynia to ask that repressive measures be taken. He met a patrol on the way and sent it to the river. After attempting in vain to see the governor, Fenklevich wired to the governor general that massacre had begun and that the local governor was inactive.

Meanwhile the Jews, about one thousand strong, were massing near Andrew mountain. Suddenly a mounted patrol sent by Fenklevich charged the mob. A boy was crushed by a horse and the mob allowed the soldiers to pass, when one of the soldiers fell on the ground. The rest of the patrol showed their whips (mazalkas) to the Jews, raised their comrades and disappeared.

After a short time the chief of police himself appeared and shouted, "Dirty Jews! Get away!" Two shots were heard in the vicinity; the chief of police thought it was an attempt on his life. On the Andrew mountain he addressed the peasants, asking them to be quiet. The peasants replied: "The Jews want to kill us, they beat the police, they want to kill you. We cannot remain silent!"

WOMEN STARTED PILLAGE

At 6 p. m. about forty hooligans were surrounded on Andrew mountain by two companies of infantry and held prisoners. Their wives and mothers demanded that they be set free, threatening otherwise to smash everything in the town, and began to fulfill their threats.

Several houses were pillaged, when about two hundred Jews rushed toward the hooligans. They were met with a shower of stones, and fired in return.

Suddenly a volley was discharged by the troops at the Jews. An indescribable panic ensued, and the Jews dispersed immediately.

After a while it was stated the troops had fired into the air. It was quiet afterward, people became more reasonable and groups of Jews gathered to discuss the situation, while the chief of police induced the roughs to return home. Things could have been easily arranged at that hour, so the Jews decided to confer with the chief of police and ask for energetic measures in order to prevent any excesses.

After some argument the chief of police said: "Go home and tell the Jews in the mob to separate. Then I shall restore order. I shall take the arrested hooligans to the police station."

CALLED THEM NAUGHTY

When the arrested peasants passed near the Jews, some of them broke from the police and hit the Jews, but the latter did not retaliate. At the police station the chief of police set free the peasants, telling them they should behave themselves, as it was "rather unfair" to produce disorders.

On that first day one Jew was killed, six Jews were wounded and five peasants were wounded.

ATAXIA FOUR YEARS

FOLLOWS MALARIA CONTRACTED IN SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

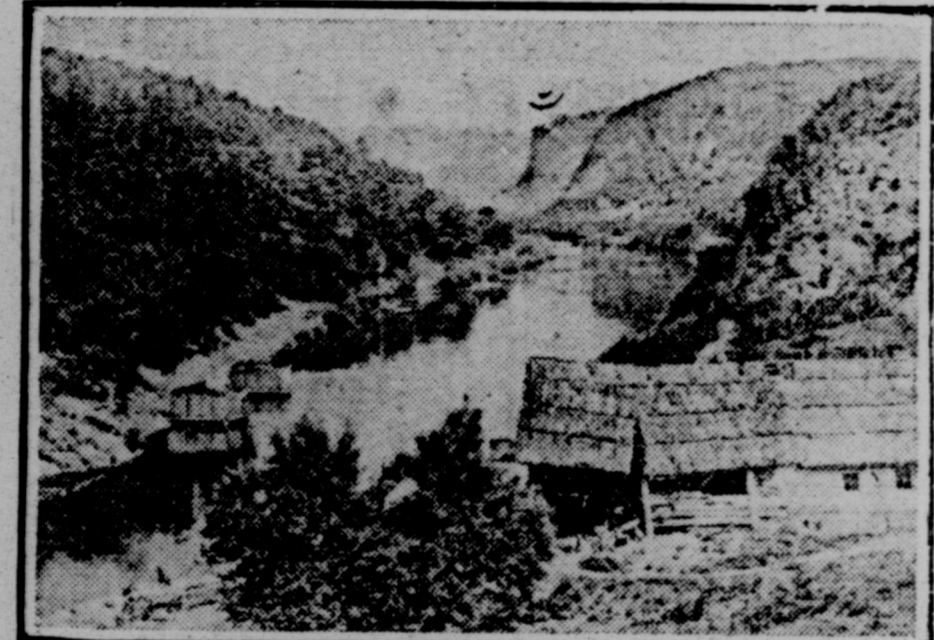

Victim Had Become Helpless When He Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but Was Cured in Four Months.

Because he did not know that there is a remedy for ataxia, Mr. Ariel endured four years of weakness, pain and the misery of thinking his case incurable. "At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war," he says, "I went with Company B, Eighth Regiment, M. V. M., into camp at Chickamauga, and while there my system became thoroughly poisoned with malaria. When I was mustered out, I carried that disease home with me. After a while locomotor ataxia appeared."

"How did the ataxia begin?" "I first noticed a pain in my ankles and knee joints. This was followed by a numb feeling in my legs. At times I had to drag myself around; my legs would shake or become perfectly dead. I had constant trouble in getting about in the dark. I kept a light burning in my room at night as I could not balance myself in the darkness. Even with the aid of a light I wobbled, and would reach out and catch hold of chairs to prevent myself from falling?"

"How long were you a sufferer?" "Four years in all. During the last three years I was confined to bed, sometimes for a week, again for three or four weeks at a time. When I was lying down the pain in my back was frequently so severe that I had to be helped up and put in a chair to get a little relief. I had considerable pain in my bowels and no control over my kidneys. The worst of all was that the doctor could give me no hope of recovery."

"How were you cured?" "I read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured locomotor ataxia and one or two friends spoke to me about them. In the fall of 1908 I began to take them for myself and I had not used more than one box before I found that the pains in my knees and ankles were greatly relieved. Four months afterward I became a perfectly well man, and I am today enjoying the best of health." Mr. Edward H. Ariel lives at No. 43 Powwow street, Amesbury, Mass. Every sufferer from locomotor ataxia should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills without delay. Any druggist can supply them.

THE MAKING OF A GENTLE

her teeth to clean them. She had left home without brushing her teeth. You have seen women take from the hair a hairpin and with it give their scalp a vigorous little dig. There may have been a hair out of place, there may have been a—there are numberless reasons why the scalp may need attention. But the gentleman does not allow herself such liberties in public.

"I'll be comfortable even if I'm not a gentleman," snaps some one.

The gentleman is quite comfortable. She merely frightens every hair and makes herself comfortable and "ready" before she leaves home.

The gentleman is dainty in speech. She avoids vulgarities and speaks quietly and sincerely.

The gentleman is dainty about her teeth. She never laughs roughly. And you will notice that she does not cover her mouth with her hand either in speaking or laughing. This is one of the most common of the undainty things that women do, this fumbling with the fingers about the mouth, face or chin. Keep the hands away from the face. If they had been needed in talking they would have grown near the mouth.

We all know the woman who sets her little finger into her ear and digs frantically.

Then there is the woman who, when standing, allows her weight to sag to one leg, and preps her hand on her hip.

To be a gentleman is what each of us desires.

Of course, wealth and education combined should make a gentleman. Sometimes they do.

All of us may not acquire either wealth or education, but any one of us may become a gentleman, for she is the dainty woman. That is the whole story.

Not a week ago I saw, standing upon a street corner, waiting for a car, a well-dressed, handsome woman. She looked the gentleman, but suddenly she turned the tip of her tongue over

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—Loss of strength, extreme nervousness shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had ovarian trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well.

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, don't neglect yourself. Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Letters to the Telegram

THE SOLICITOR QUESTION

Editor of The Telegram.

I am somewhat surprised to note that there has been no response to the editorial in your paper of the 24th ult., quoting from an editorial which had appeared previously in the esteemed San Antonio Express about the taking off of solicitors by the commission firms engaged in business at the Fort Worth stock yards.

For some reason it appears that both your paper and the Express have jumped to the conclusion that the agitation in favor of taking off solicitors by the commission firms at Fort Worth is a very good sign of too much unanimity between the commission men and the packers, and then also that it would be a violation of the anti-trust laws of this state for the commission men to dispose of their solicitors.

I am of the opinion that if your papers were as familiar with this question as you generally propose to be about any matter which you discuss in your columns the editorials referred to would not be as one sided as they seem to me to be. As to the matter of unanimity between the packers and the commission men, when this question came up before the exchange here this week and the vote was about to be taken it was seen that the vote was going to be very close, and as some of those interested with the packers and the stock yards interests held memberships in the exchange and were entitled to vote, those against the proposition sought these members and prevailed upon them to cast their vote against it, thus defeating the will of a majority of the commission men. After the meeting was over the matter was explained to these people fully and the stock yards and packing house people say that on a proposition of this kind they will hereafter refrain from voting not meddling with a matter that belongs solely to the commission men any more than they would allow a commission man to dictate to them what price they should sell their meat for or any other matter of policy connected with their business. I was not present at this meeting but an reliably informed that out of the fifteen or sixteen commission firms there were only about three or four that voted against the proposition and the rest of the votes were made up by the packers and stock yards interests. There may have been unanimity on this question but

You would not have noticed it if you had been present at this meeting, not by a good deal.

Your papers seem to be laboring under the impression that it would be a great set back to the Fort Worth market, this dropping off of solicitors. Would it be out of place right here to ask if you are entirely honest in this opinion or if the dropping of some 50 men off the payrolls of the commission firms with an average salary and expense account of $250 per month does not cut some ice. You know that a good many of these men make their headquarters in San Antonio a good part of the time each year and we will not fall out with the Express if this is their reason for objecting to this proposition, but if it is it would look much better for them to come from under cover and say so. Otherwise we will say that they have the interests of the Fort Worth market at heart to the exclusion of all others to a very gratifying extent.

It appears right here that what the Express would prefer would be for their friends to get the best prices for their goods, no matter if they had to ship them to Honolulu to get them to laws of Texas but I think I can truthfully say that there is no desire on the part of anybody connected with the commission firms at the Fort Worth market to antagonize any of the laws of this state.

This is strictly a matter of retrenchment in expenses on the part of the commission firms. All the firms north of St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago have already dropped their solicitors. The impression that all the men employed by the firms at Fort Worth market exclusively is incorrect as it would be to think that these men solicited orders for a shoe factory in St. Louis. Everybody knows who is posted that the greater proportion of the cattle solicited out of the Fort Worth market never come to Fort Worth, much less sell here. Most of them go direct to St. Louis or Kansas City by the train load where they handle them in that quantity. Of course they are instrumental in sending quite a lot of cattle to Fort Worth first and last, but I am free to believe that Fort Worth would get all the cattle they needed if never a man traveled out of Fort Worth for the reason as everybody knows that all Texas shippers of large lots of cattle are either from the Indian Territory and Oklahoma shippers as well want to come to Fort Worth and will do so when prices are comparatively the same and when we have the facilities for handling them. The packers do not want train loads of cattle at a time from the same shipper and of like quality, or if they do it is very seldom. Every day there are cattle forwarded from here either by speculators or original shippers to northern markets. This is not saying that the packers do not handle a big business, for they do, and our market is up to standard in every respect, but it is not as large as either Kansas City, St. Louis or Chicago and for that reason, as stated, great numbers of cattle never come here. These solicitors go after the train loads and they are often told man not to ship to Fort Worth if they do to ship here, as they are posted on conditions as I have given them above. As a matter of fact you can say that the majority of solicitors out of this market are strictly speaking soliciting for northern markets and not for Fort Worth. Believing that they talked for Fort Worth first, last and all the time it was very commendable indeed in the packers to write from a single firm to stand the expense of advertising in this market, which the latter are perfectly willing to do, but they desire to have their own way as to how and to what extent they will do it.

Do not make your readers believe that with solicitors off the road all competition will be dead between the commission firms, the packers, the market and others. If all the firms at present have five solicitors each at a cost of $250 per month, all butting into each other and squabbling over every shipment of stock from a single firm to a train load, the fun might be a little faster at the shipping point, but that is not what the shipper wants. He wants the last cent his cattle will bring him in money, and as the transition from stock to bank account takes place at the stock yards, does it not occur to you that the object of his concern is at the place of market rather than in holding in his hand something for which two men or a dozen, several of whom are his personal friends, all swearing to sell them for the highest price, are begging, the ultimate result being to secure this particular shipment for the solicitor's particular firm and thus earn his so much per cent.

Competition is at present as close on this market between the commission firms in their desire to secure the best price for their particular shipment as in any other line of business, if that can be, and with this rule in effect the center of action would be transferred entirely to this most important point, necessarily resulting in better salesmen, better yardmen, more efficient office help, and if possible more prompt attention in every way.

It has only been very late that the majority of these men came to the conclusion that it would be their only means of making reasonable profit in their business to cut off solicitors, and a careful study of conditions will show a fair-minded reader that what is saved in the way of hiring solicitors will only be spent in other ways with perhaps a little saving, and so to GALVESTON'S AUDITORIUM GALVESTON, Texas, July 4.—The Telegram: In the sound of the sad sea waves, Galveston has built a model auditorium, which I wish our people could see. I am told that the seating capacity is something over 1,500, and the acoustic properties are of the highest class. There is stage with drop curtains and scenery that would do credit to an up-to-date opera house, and yet the cost was not much above 5,000 round American dollars. The possession of this auditorium forever settles the convention claims of Galveston, so what is the matter with Fort Worth following her example and putting up the wherewith to build something creditable for us? Noting the efforts of The Telegram to get this auditorium, I have questioned the Galveston people in regard to "ways and means" to that matter of money getting.

I find in the first place that the people here are more united than ours are on the subject of every public enterprise—that there is neither jealousy nor friction when it comes to any public entertainment, and better still, that when any scheme is on foot for the advancement of Galveston, the club and society women of the town enter heart and soul into it, carry it to a successful finish, and see that it is patronized. When this matter of the auditorium was before the people, an extravaganza, "America," was rendered by local talent, and over $1,500 in cash was the result. This clear of all expenses. I asked if the boys matter in getting it up; if a begging committee hawked the tickets about the streets; if the merchants were forced to bankrupt themselves to reward the ticket sellers, etc. My informant emphasized, "No, sir; the general public went down in their pockets and paid their 50-cent pieces at the door, and walked in with their heads up in the air, proud of the fact that their home town was getting an indispensable adjunct to her phenomenal prosperity."

When it came to raise Galveston's profits for the St. Louis exposition, Mrs. W. F. Beers, a prominent club woman of this city, and certain specialties from "Wizard of Oz" and "Babes in Toyland" and with the assistance of the public children, gave an entertainment which netted over $1,400 in cash. I believe that if the general public of Fort Worth will work in harmony with The Telegram in its battle for an auditorium, that success is bound to crown their efforts, and that such towns as Dallas, San Antonio, Mineral Wells and Galveston will cease to control the gathering, which by right belong to the railroad center of Texas. M. WARREN.

CANE BELT LEASED

AUSTIN, Texas, July 7.—During the regular session of the Twenty-ninth legislature an act was passed authorizing the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad Company to purchase or lease the Cane Belt line and merge it into that system. It was generally supposed when the

The Great Bankrupt Sale MOVES RAPIDLY ON You can't stop a good thing. You can growl, and make a big noise, have full page ads, and all such like. You can get the good people to come ONCE, by quoting three or four articles at an absurd price, and rob them on something they know nothing of. You can get a one day's rush—that's all. Like chaff before the wind, your business is gone again. At this Bankrupt Sale, business is growing in volume. Each day the old customer comes back and brings a new one with her. Everything in the store has been knifed; we want the room. By the looks of things we will have it soon. The goods are moving—the price does it. Remember, tomorrow—John B. bill passed that the terms of the purchase of the Cane Belt by the Santa Fe had already been agreed to, and that the passage of the act would only enable the interested parties to close negotiations. In this, however, public judgment was in error in that the Santa Fe will not acquire the Cane Belt by purchase at all. Yesterday a lease contract was filed with the railroad commission by the terms of which the Santa Fe merely leases the Cane Belt for a period of fifty years from July 1, 1905. The contract is very lengthy and gives the lessor absolute control of the property of the lessee for the time specified.

DRAMATIC ART IS APPLIED TO BIBLE

Miss Lula Simon of This City Creates Stir in Literary Centers of East by Her Renditions Miss Lella Simon of this city, who will read at the city hall Monday night under the auspices of R. E. Lee Camp, United Confederate Veterans, has attained a reputation in the east as a dramatic reader of the bible and its classic tales.

Miss Lella Simon of This City Creates Speaking of her work in that city the Boston Globe says: Miss Lella Simon, who has introduced a dramatic novelty into a number of Boston pulpits by narrating bible stories in a manner which has won and vivid, has won much praise from ministerial sources for her original methods of making the sacred volume a popular book. The idea of presenting biblical narratives in a way that should illuminate them for the average person who puts his bible upon the table and seldom opens it, came to Miss Simon when she was a student under Professor Richard G. Moulton of Chicago University, who was delivering a course of university extension lectures in the literary study of the bible.

Afterward a series of dramatic readings introducing old and new testament characters was specially arranged for her by Miss Florence Eaton, who is not only a graduate of Smith College, but who also holds a woman's certificate from Oxford University, England. The program which Miss Simon carries out includes a number of vivid pictures from the lives of Joseph,

RAILROAD SPECIALS

CHEAPEST RATES TO COLORADO EVER KNOWN. In view of the intense interest in Colorado's attractions this season, and the rather extraordinary demands for a cheap rate excursion for the benefit of vacationists, the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Houston and Texas Central roads have announced a rate from all Texas points to Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver and return, of but three-fourths of one fare for the round trip; tickets to be on sale July 9 and 10, with a limit of sixty days, and to be good for stop-over privileges at all points between Trinidad and Denver, in either or both directions.

This is really an extraordinary arrangement and one which will at once appeal to hundreds who could not visit that most interesting section under the higher rates ordinarily effective.

Anticipating an appreciation of the conditions related, it is understood the lines mentioned will have occasion to add considerable extra equipment to their trains of the 9th and 10th, including a tourist sleeper, and that arrangements to that end are perfected.

Rate from Houston will be $24.15; from Fort Worth, $18; and from all other points correspondingly low.

Tourist sleeper rates from Fort Worth will be $2.50 per double berth, which may be used by two persons without extra cost.

For full information apply to your nearest agent or address, A. L. Fisher, traveling agent, 823 Main street, Kansas City, Mo.

TAILORS' GOOSE

SAVES HIS LIFE

J. Cohen Attacked in His Shop, Drives Off Assaultants With Irons.

J. Cohen, who keeps a small tailor shop at 212 Main street, exhibits three knife wounds this morning, and says that he was attacked by five men Thursday night, three of whom held him while the fourth wielded the knife. The fifth man, he says, took no part in the affray.

Grabbing his tailor's irons, Cohen finally drove his assaultants from the shop. The sheriff's office has been notified of the matter and arrests will probably be made today.

According to Cohen's statement the trouble was due to the fact that he refused to allow a man credit on a suit which he made for him. The tailor says that the man came on July 4, paid part of $15 due on the suit and demanded that he be credited for the rest. Cohen refused to do this without security. He returned the money to the man and retained the suit.

Thursday night Cohen returned to his shop about dark to see if it was locked securely. Near the doorway, according to his statement, were five men. They said they wanted to see him and when he went in his shop they entered. It was then that the fight took place when the knife was driven into the tailor's left knee and twice into his scalp.

"One man yelled, 'Grab the suit, while we kill him,'" said Cohen this morning. "But I got my irons," said Cohen, "and I yelled for the police. They didn't get the suit. In going to spend $50.00 he said in conclusion, 'in prosecuting.'"

FACTORY CLUB DIRECTORS MEET

Judge N. B. Moore Elected Director and Active Membership Campaign Ordered by Organization

President Booth and directors of the Factory Club, at the club meeting Thursday night, were appointed a special committee to solicit members for the club and next week an energetic campaign will be started. It is the purpose of the club to run the membership up to 1,000 before the end of the year. With this end in view, the city will be divided into districts and each director will be given a district to thoroughly canvass for new members. Every business house and industrial institution in the city will be visited with the hope of bringing it into the membership of the club. The Factory Club, at this time, is doing a great deal of work in the interest of Fort Worth and it is desired to have as many members in it as possible in order that this work may be broadened and strengthened.

At the meeting Thursday night Judge N. B. Moore was elected a director of the club to succeed J. N. Winters, resigned. Little business of importance was transacted. Secretary Butler read a number of communications, among them one from a local firm which stated a desire to double its capital stock, incorporate and issue stock. This matter was referred to the investigating committee for a report.

Secretary Butler told the meeting that he had received a number of letters from persons submitting designs for the Factory Club's insignia. None of these have been opened, but all will be held until next Monday night, when the directors will open them and select the one they think most appropriate. The successful design will win for its creator a ten dollar bill.

One Bottle of Burnett's Vanilla Extract is better than three of the doubtful kind. Its purity and great strength make it the most economical brand. Always ask for Burnett's Vanilla.

PENNY WISE BUT POUND FOOLISH

Small Expenditure in Telegram Liner Results in Quick Return on the Investment

Conclusive evidence that The Telegram Liner, the popular little advertisements, bring immediate results is shown in the case of a woman who lives on the South side. After permitting a $15 room to remain vacant for over a month, not being able to find a suitable tenant, she invested 25 cents in a Telegram Liner. Result, she had the room rented the next morning. Scores of persons, desiring a room such as she had for rent, read the Liner in The Telegram and called the woman up over the phone that same afternoon. She had no trouble in selecting a renter from the long list of applicants. Telegram Liners do bring results.

The foregoing case—one of hundreds—shows this beyond a doubt. If you have a room to rent or a house to sell or a horse to sell; if you want to buy a piano, a cow or a music box, invest a small sum in Telegram Liners and your trouble is dissolved.
